

I lost a great friend last week with the passing of William Simpson of the Herald's advertising department.

He was a unique man in that he had but one mood—happy. It was reflected every day as he'd breeze into the office with a cheery greeting.

It was Bill who was instrumental in my taking up golf, and many times he tried (unsuccessfully) to teach me to play pool at the Washington Social Club.

He was a giant of a man in a world which sometimes seems to be too full of little people. Bill had no problems, and if he did, we never knew. His enthusiasm for life rubbed off on the rest of us, and I dare say, made us better people.

He'll be sorely missed. What better memory can a man leave his friends but that when they think of him, they smile.

The count down

Well, we're into the count down at my house with only four more days before the young lady of the family, her girlfriend and her maid head for Nassau aboard the S.S. Oceanic.

There was a wild shopping spree Saturday (for my daughter, that is) and she came home armed with a new striking bikini, a multi-colored never-go-on-a-cruise without painter's pants.

Well, I couldn't figure out whether she was planning on making a little pocket money by doing a little deck work during the week, or hanging out a scaffold covering a few rust spots while we berthed in Nassau.

Betty's notebook

By Betty Ryder

Anyway, obviously these are just the things one takes on a cruise. If I lose track of her onboard during the week, I bet I'll find she's been recruited by the maintenance crew.

Her enthusiasm has finally pepped me up, and I'm cramming the freezer with goodies so the men of the family won't starve while we're away.

Funny, they'll manage just fine

(they always do) but the minute I get back I'll know I'm home because just after they say "Hi, mom, did you have a good trip," they'll add "What's to eat."

Poor darlings. None of them is wasting away—but to listen to them you'd think starvation had set in. Come to think of it—a couple of them could use it.

Anyway, we'll come home armed with strawberries from Nassau's straw market and souvenirs for all. Had a nice note from William Connors, Manager of the Bahamas Ministry of Tourism in Nassau, inviting us to visit him at his offices and be his guest on a tour of the island. We probably would have taken one anyway, but it's always nice to be with someone who can tell it like it is, firsthand.

He also promised I could get some recipes, so will pass those along to you later in "Your Neighbor's Kitchen."

Mother's Day

Around the world, no matter what the language, the word "mother" means love. And on Mother's Day countless families show their loving gratitude by sending cards and giving gifts.

In the 38 developing countries where CARE operates, needy mothers and their families need more than love to survive daily hardships. They must have food and vital rural development projects to work their way out of poverty.

A contribution to CARE in your mother's name, or any woman dear to you, will send destitute mothers and their families overseas food, aid for food-growing and other such projects.

For example, $2 serves 12 children a daily bowl of nourishing porridge for a month; $10 provides a group of needy farmers' two full days' expert training and supervision to grow more food; $15 keeps a hard-working CARE-MEDICO nurse on duty a full day treating patients and training other nurses.

Contributions may be sent to Mother's Day Plan, CARE Tri-State Regional office, 860 First Ave., New York, N.Y. 10016. Give your name and address, the name and address of each woman honored, and instructions for card handling. If you wish cards mailed directly, state how each is to be signed. Make checks out to CARE, Inc. Order early to assure card delivery in time for Mother's Day, May 9.

Ford, Carter, Jackson

Jimmy Carter, Henry Jackson and President Ford scored important victories in Tuesday's Wisconsin and New York primaries.

Democratic Carter, the former Georgia governor who was almost unknown at the start of the political year, swept from behind early today to win his sixth primary by some 9,000 votes and leave liberal Udall without a victory to date.

Udall, Carter and Hubert Humphrey ganged up to deny him the clearcut majority of delegates he had predicted.

Ford defeated GOP challenger Ronald Reagan in Wisconsin and need only ask for a Rockefeller state of delegates which was in New York. It was a solid rebound from the President's loss to Reagan in the North Carolina primary.

Carter noted that Udall—who claimed a "how sweet it is" Wisconsin victory Tuesday night and then had to swallow the bitter pill of defeat on a late surge of rural Carter votes—had campaigned in the state for months.

Wisconsin people learned about me and about my stands on the issues the last 10 days," said Carter.

"Winning in New York carries a tremendous psychological impact," said Jackson. "I would say we're going to do very well in Pennsylvania. We're going to win it."

Rebounding from his only primary defeat, Ford whipped Ronald Reagan in the Wisconsin primary. In New York, an uncommitted state of machine delegates—loyal to Vice President Nelson Rockefeller but Ford's for the asking in a showdown with Reagan—swert to victory.

Legion considering alternative plan for Mt. Nebo baseball facility

By SOL R. COHEN
Herald Reporter
The American Legion baseball committee is considering a town proposal which would provide it with playing facilities for its program this summer.

Because of the need of Mt. Nebo's Moriarty Field for the rec department's summer program, the American Legion team has been denied use of the field this year. It has been asking the Manchester Board of Directors to countermand the rec department decision (as the board did last year) and to permit Legion play at Mt. Nebo.

Tuesday night, the directors heard appeals from top American Legion officials and received a 575-signature petition, requesting use of the field. A half-hour meeting of Legion officials, rec department officials (Mel Siebold and Carl Silver) and Advisory Rec Board members was held in the Probate Courtroom, where the town proposal was explained. The Legion committee will discuss it and will come to a decision.

The proposal is in three parts: 1. The town would make the Manchester High School baseball field available for Legion play. It would relinquish the field for the youth soccer program planned for the field this summer. Part of the soccer program would be moved to Manchester Community College's Field and the rest relocated

Teacher pact could cost 6.9% during first year

By DOUG BEVINS
Herald Reporter
The Board of Education and the Manchester Education Association (MEA) have reached a tentative two-year contract settlement calling for salary increases of 4.75 per cent the first year and 5 per cent the second year.

Asst. School Supt. Wilson Deakin, negotiator for the school board, and high school teacher Lee Hay, negotiator for the MEA, announced the financial details today. The MEA represents Manchester's 550 public school teachers.

Both Deakin and Hay said the tentative agreement, reached late Monday, is a fair settlement. The two-year contract is subject to school board and MEA ratification April 25 and final approval later by the town Board of Directors.

The tentative economic package called for in the agreement will be 6.9 per cent for 1976-1977 and 7.2 per cent for 1977-1978. Those figures include the increased cost of teacher increments, which varies from 2.1 to 2.2 per cent each year.

The tentative agreement does not include provisions for automatic cost-of-living salary increases nor for a reopening of wage negotiations for the second year of the contract.

Both Deakin and Hay said the tentative agreement came at a date much sooner than in recent years. Both attributed the successful negotiations to a more realistic approach to contract talks this year.

Deakin said the 6.9 per cent first-year increase is within estimates made by the Board of Education when negotiations started in December. He estimated the first-year cost will be about $20,000 less than budgeted in the school board's 1976-1977 spending plan.

Indications were that the school board's original estimate of 1976-1977 increases was 7.2 per cent. The tentative settlement also includes apparently major changes in procedures for teacher layoff and recall and for limits on the class load of secondary school teachers. Details of those changes weren't revealed today.

Hay said the MEA had originally sought a contract which would link salary hikes to cost-of-living increases. The compromise which ruled out that provision was offset by gains on the layoff procedures, he said.

"Money is important," Hay said, "but so are our jobs." He said the layoff procedure changes were a big step, considering anticipated effects of declining student enrollment in Manchester.

Hay said the MEA negotiating committee would unanimously recommend ratification of the agreement. Both he and Deakin expected approval of the two-year pact.

The MEA is the largest labor group with contracts with the Board of Education and it's the first group to reach agreement with the school board this year.

Deakin said he's still talking with the five other groups: school nurses, educational secretaries, custodians, administrators and paraprofessionals (teacher aides). Tentative agreement with the nurses and secretaries is expected next week, Deakin said. He reported good progress in talks with the custodians and said negotiations with the administrators and paraprofessionals has just started.

ECHS honor group inducts 23

EMTs help out at road race

Emergency Medical Technicians Ken Cusson (left) and Graham MacDonald check over Wendy Felletter after she ran in Sunday's Lions Club student road race at Mt. Nebo. Cusson and MacDonald, both town fire fighters, are among a group of 12 volunteers who man the Manchester Disaster Control ambulance at town athletic events. The second-hand vehicle, purchased by the town two years ago to fill a gap in the emergency planning program, rolls for standby duty at midweek football games, scholastic football and wrestling contests, road races and walkathons. The town pays operating and maintenance costs but no salaries; all time is donated by the volunteers. Ambulance equipment was used to check many youngster's in Sunday's race, but there were no calls for emergency transportation. (Photo by Rick Skoglund)

Fundraising effort nets $307,654

American Shakespeare Theatre reopens season June 8 in Stratford

STRATFORD (UPI) — The American Shakespeare Theatre will start its season June 8 now that it has raised the $300,000 needed to keep it open. Harold Shaw, the board chairman of the financially troubled theatre, which began a fund-raising drive nine weeks ago, said Tuesday contributions amounting to $307,654 had been received. He credited the theatre's survival to the thousands of people who sent in donations under $100, as well as corporate gifts, the largest of which was $15,000. Shaw said the plays and players to be presented this summer would be announced in about two weeks. The theatre still needs $275,000 to meet budgetary needs for 1976, and an additional $275,000 to fulfill last year's requirements for the Ford Foundation matching grant program. Shaw called the cancellation of this year's student season a tragedy and said the theatre is committed to reinstating the student program in 1977. "We view that educational program as important as any single thing we do at this theatre," he said. As Shaw sees it, the outpouring of small contributions may mean there is a new constituency for the arts in the United States. "The man on the street has been sending in his dollar, or five or ten dollar bill to help save the theatre," he said. "School children from all over Connecticut and New York have been carrying on events, ranging from a flower show to class tributes to the theatre." He said that while foundations, corporations, wealthy individuals, and the government have supported cultural institutions over the years, there has not been a concerted effort to reach the general public for small contributions.

Rep. Udall to campaign in Connecticut Saturday

HARTFORD (UPI) — Rep. Morris K. Udall, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, will make a campaign tour of Connecticut Saturday, his office said Tuesday. Amy Brennan, Udall's state coordinator, said Udall would fly into New Haven that morning, open campaign headquarters there and speak to an endorsing convention of the Caucus of Concerned Democrats in nearby West Haven. He will then go to Bloomfield for a fund raising picnic for Democrats from the greater Hartford area, she said. He will depart for Michigan later in the day, she said. Udall has named coordinators in all 169 towns in Connecticut, the first step towards getting on the ballot in each town in the state. Connecticut will have the first presidential primary in its history May 11, held by the Democratic party by mandate of the national committee.

Art works displayed

Manchester's elementary school students have created a diversity of art works which are on display in the windows of Watkins Store on Main St. The annual art exhibit includes works by students from kindergarten through Grade 12. A small window display features works of art pertaining only to the Bicentennial. The exhibit will be on display through April 20.

Music groups schedule combined rehearsals

Music rehearsals of former Beethoven Club members and the Old Guard will be held April 13, 27 and May 25 in Luther Hall at Emanuel Lutheran Church. The rehearsals, directed by James McKay, will be held after the regular Old Guard meeting. The group will combine with the choir of the Manchester Lodge of Masons in preparation for the lodge's centennial celebration. Combined rehearsals will begin April 24 at 2 p.m. in Luther Hall and continue each Saturday through May 29. There will be a dress rehearsal May 31 at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple.

Angola: Too little and much too late

History may well decide that the United States was tried in Angola and found wanting, though it remains highly problematical that a sudden infusion of American money could have prevented the former Portuguese colony from falling, as we are told it has, into the Kremlin's lap.

The immediate upshot of the Angolan debacle, however, has left this country in the position of posturing, in the person of its Secretary of State, about certain unspecified consequences of the Russians and their Cuban minions ever try anything like that again. We are talking softly, but with no visible stick in hand.

Already, a school of thought based on the proposition that the United States "lost" Angola, even as it once "lost" China, has been heard from. It is alleged, for refusing to vote more millions for Angola, after it was revealed that some $30 million had already been secretly funneled to anti-Marxist forces in that country. No less than President Ford himself accused Congress of gutlessness.

It may indeed be that Congress, and the nation at large, has learned to well the lessons of Vietnam. But it is also the fact that Angola was virtually sprung on the American people overnight. By the time they were alerted to the danger, the takeover of Angola was almost a fait accompli, and it is a tribute to the good sense of Americans, not a sign of failure of nerve, that they perceived that it was too late for Angola and that what the President proposed doing was at once too little and too much.

The time for Secretary of State Kissinger to have been concerned about the fate of Angola was when the guerrilla war there — later turned civil war — was just beginning.

The time to have expressed our support for the anti-Communist factions in Angola was several years ago, when Portugal still exercised enough control over its colony to have helped establish a native government with a view toward early independence.

But of course we did not pressure Portugal and its, at that time, authoritarian regime because we needed this ally on the southern flank of NATO as a bastion against — what else? — communism. Any suggestion that there was a larger issue involved would have been met with some scorn from Mr. Kissinger as an example of ignorance about the realities of geopolitical strategy.

If now we have lost an African bastion against communism, however, it is not because of the gutlessness of Congress but because of a strangely shortsighted foreign policy which we continue to pursue — in Africa and elsewhere in the world.

We can next expect to "lose" white-ruled Rhodesia, and to again be left muttering vague threats against the Communists abroad, and at home indulging in new recriminations against ourselves.

Scene from here By Sol R. Cohen

To smoke or not to smoke

Speaking of smoking and the different ways for quitting the habit, there's this story about the inveterate and compulsive cigar smoker — he smoked about 10 a day and his friends seldom saw him without one.

Then, they suddenly began to notice something different about him — no smoke whirling about his face, in fact, no cigar clutched between his teeth.

"How come?" asked one, as he lit up an after-lunch cigarette.

"It's my wife," answered the cigar smoker. "She's got this whim about me smoking."

"You mean to tell me you stopped smoking because of a whim of your wife?"

"You don't know my wife," replied the unhappy man. "She's got a whim of iron."

Smokers quit smoking for all kinds of reasons and wives' whims are as good reasons as any, although they never seemed to sway me.

I remember back in the days when I was a three-pack-a-day smoker, I'd fight back at my wife's gentle hints.

If she hid all of the ashtrays once lying around, I'd take one of her best pieces of china and use it for an ashtray. If she opened the windows of the car in sub-freezing temperature, I'd go along with the gag — I'd shut off the car heater. Or, if she brought to my attention the Public Health announcements against smoking, I'd go out to the kitchen for a drink during those TV commercials.

And, to keep her from knowing I bought cigarettes by the carton, I acquired the habit of keeping them locked in the trunk of my car, — taking out one pack at a time, as I needed it.

That habit, however, almost (but not quite) made me quit the smoking habit.

What happened was that one morning I drove to work, parked the car and got out. Next, I opened the trunk of the car and took out a pack of cigarettes.

Nothing unusual about that. Well, what was unusual was that I slammed shut the trunk door — with my car keys laying on the floor of the trunk.

No real tragedy. I've got a duplicate set of keys at home. All I had to do was call my wife, and tell her why, and then my neighbor, and tell him why. My wife found the duplicate keys where I said they'd be and my neighbor dropped them off on his way to work.

Why then did it almost (but not quite) make me stop smoking? Nice of you to ask. It's because my horoscope that day said something would happen that could change the whole course of my life — if I let it. I didn't let it — not then, anyway. A couple of years later I did quit smoking, but that's a story in itself.

My experience led a warning which I'll pass on to every smoker who drives a car.

To guarantee that you'll never lock your car keys inside the trunk — stop smoking.

There's an old folk saying that goes something like this:

"A man's worst enemies can't wish on him what he can think up himself."

Or, how about this one:

"A man doesn't know that which he doesn't know."

Let there be a final day for Nixon's agony

(To The Reader: I delirated for some days before writing the following column. The question was whether I should give added exposure to the allegations in the Woodward-Bernstein book. I decided it was important to say a word on behalf of compassion.)

WASHINGTON — Richard Nixon was born too late. Had he been around more than 1,376 years ago, he might have encountered a Man named Christ and found compassion.

I like to think that most of us Americans, while rejecting everything about the Richard Nixon of Watergate, yet would leave this man in peace. He has been disgraced — the only President ever forced to quit the office. In the name of simple justice, that should be enough for the nation he wounded.

But, no. Apologizing all the way to the bank, the two Washington reporters who were the stars of the vital Watergate expose, have written a sequel to their book, "All The President's Men." It is titled "The Final Days," and excerpts have been enlightening such solid matter with tasteless explications into peephole, psycho-journalism.

Fang! This anecdotal stuff is tasteless. It offends. It is an unjustified invasion of the right of privacy that should be extended even to a President and his wife.

Oh, the garbage is titillating to some minds. And certainly Woodward-Bernstein are not pioneers in the kind of journalism. But some of the stuff they have written can hardly be classified as contributing to the much-abused right of the public "to know."

Has the public the right to read the claim that the Nixons had not had sexual relations for 14 years? I don't think so.

Has the public the right to read an allegation that in the darkest days of the crisis Mrs. Nixon used to creep downstairs to the pantry to pilfer booze for an afternoon of private drinking? I don't think so.

Has the public the right to read that David Eisenhower, Nixon's son-in-law, reportedly told somebody he was waiting for Nixon to "go bananas"? I don't think so.

Has the public the right to read a report that Gen. Alexander Haig, a high Nixon confidant, "joked that Nixon and Bebe Rebozo had a homosexual relationship"? Blast* such slime!

The authors write about Nixon, on one of those last days, compelling Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to kneel and pray with him. They write that a weeping Nixon, still on his knees, pounded the carpet with his fists, crying: "What have I done? What has happened?" Whatever Woodward-Bernstein's intention, the effect is to ridicule a human being driven to prayer by his troubles. Imagine, the passage seems to say, a guy like Nixon praying! Well, imagine a rakehell like Saul of Tarsus praying!

The public's right to know EVERYTHING is damned. In humanity's name, if not in God's, let there be "The Final Day" of Richard Nixon's agony.

How can you say to your brother, Brother, let me take out the splinter that is in your eye, when you cannot see the plank in your own? Hypocrite! Take the plank out of your own eye first, and then you will see clearly enough to take out the splinter that is in your brother's eye. Luke 6:39-42

Budget increase opposed

To the editor,
The Board of Education has approved a budget for next year of $14,000,000 an increase of over 9 per cent higher than last year. They also recommend we not only accept based students at a reduced rate of $600 per student, but also increase the number based into our school system at the same rate.

The town manager cuts school budget $300,000 leaving and increase close to 7 per cent higher than last year.

Superintendent of schools says a decline of student enrollment of approximately 40 students will not reduce budget.

The town manager recommends a tax hike of 5.38 per cent mills reflecting and increase of 11.8 per cent in property taxes.

The present estimates per pupil cost for education is approximately $1,323 and will increase to $1,459 in the present budget is approved.

Therefore I recommend that the school board stop catering to a superintendent of schools who can't reduce his budget in a shrinking student enrollment and find one who can.

I suggest the school board stop catering to the PTA who seem to be more interested in how much wage increase and fringe benefits the teachers receive, then finding dedicated teachers more interested in the education of their students.

State and federal subsidies are not gifts to be squandered by town school boards or managers. These subsidies were initiated to alleviate the burden of the over taxes property owners.

Whatever happened to limiting budget increases to grand list increases? Our present manager came into our town with this promise. He now proposes a 11.8 per cent tax hike for the already over burdened property owner.

Therefore I strongly recommend that the board of directors either find a new manager who can keep the budgets in line with the grand list, or revert to a strong full-time mayor directly responsible to the taxpayer.

Sincerely yours,
Walter A. Bareisa

Citizen complaints aired at session

A variety of comments and complaints were registered by Manchester residents Tuesday at the Board of Directors' semi-monthly comment session. In charge was GOP Director Vivian Ferguson.

A Keeney St. property owner wanted to know when he'll be able to hook into the sanitary sewer pipes placed on his street and when the pipe will be tied into the trunk line leading to Folly Brook.

A second Keeney St. man complained of beer bottles and beer cans littering his property Friday and Saturday nights. He said he counts as many as 25 a weekend and said they are thrown from cars going to and from the old Nike Site.

The same man complained of the poor condition of the Keeney St. pavement.

A Henry St. property owner complained of surface water on his property and said that a recently placed catch basin hasn't corrected the situation. He said the flooding problem has caused him to buy four new oil burners since 1947.

A Tolland Tpk. resident complained of the heavy truck traffic on his street since a hot-dog stand was converted into a 24-hour truck stop. He said the trucks use Tolland Tpk. instead of the highway and recommended they should be forbidden on Tolland Tpk. at least between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m.

A Cambridge St. woman complained of trap rock and other debris in a private parking lot at Cambridge and Main Sts. She said the trap rock causes the elderly to fall.

A woman who resides on Hillcrest Rd. complained of young people using the restroom in a building near Center Park. She suggested portable restrooms for their use in Center Park.

A man who resides on Thomas Dr. complained of unregistered private and commercial vehicles, plus a camp trailer, parked in neighboring yards.

A man who resides on Highland St. said he's opposed to construction of the Buckland Firehouse and wants the Democratic Party investigated for authorizing its construction.

The same man said he feels the police department is over-stuffed and is doing little work other than record-keeping. He said he's opposed to a proposal for providing a physical education program in the early primary grades.

And, five residents of different streets near St. James School complained of school buses parked on Church St. while waiting to load pupils. They said the buses block streets and intersections and cause other problems. They recommended that the buses be parked in the school's parking lot while waiting for and loading the pupils.

Boy Scout camping retreat scheduled for later this month

The Algonquin District Catholic Committee on Scouting will sponsor its seventh annual Boy Scout weekend camping retreat April 23, 24 and 25 at Holy Apostle Seminary, Cromwell.

The retreat will be conducted by the Rev. Norman M. VanCor, a member of the Holy Apostle faculty, and Eugene Bowski, who will be ordained a deacon, as well as other priests and seminarians.

Father VanCor is also the director of the Perpetual Mass enrollment at Holy Apostle. After acceptance by the missionaries of the Holy Apostle, he studied at their novitiate in Peru and at the Catholic University, Washington, D.C. He was ordained in 1973 and served as the retreat master in 1974.

Bowski, a graduate of Holy Apostle Seminary, has been studying for the past three years at the Theological Institute in Washington. He will be ordained a deacon April 11 at Holy Apostle. A former scoutmaster, he has participated in each of the past six retreats.

The scouts will camp in tents by troops or in a provisional troop for individual scouts attending the retreat without their leader. Men of Manchester Chapter of the Holy Family Retreat League will assist in preparing and serving the meals and the cleaning up afterwards.

About 150 scouts are expected to attend the retreat, according to Frank Keegan, retreat chairman. Last year, the Holy Family Retreat League presented crosses to 26 scouts who had attended four or more retreats. All scouts attending the retreat will be awarded the official scout retreat badge.

The theme of this year's retreat is "Follow the Rugged Road." The program, which will include a review of our freedoms, is designed to guide the scouts to a better understanding of themselves, their families and their neighbors.

The retreat will conclude April 25 with a Field Mass at 11 a.m. to which the families of the scouts are invited. Any scout or parent wishing further information or a reservation should either contact his scoutmaster or the retreat chairman, 649-274.

'Full employment' bill criticized

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration told Congress Tuesday that a Democratic-sponsored "full employment" bill promises much more than it would achieve.

Assistant Labor Secretary William H. Kolberg expressed "serious reservations" about whether the bill's goal to reduce unemployment from its present 7.5 per cent to 3 per cent within four years could be met, at least without causing high inflation.

The bill, introduced by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins, D-Calif., calls for steps to reduce unemployment through the private enterprise economy.

To the extent the goal isn't reached, it provides that the government will provide a job to any able bodied adult American unable to find work.

Kolberg told a House education and labor subcommittee the proposal, if enacted, "would be another instance where the government over promised and under performed."

"This would contribute further to cynicism about the very ability of government to carry out effectively economic programs," he said.

Local people named to advisory panel

Two Manchester residents have been appointed to the Juvenile Justice Advisory Committee to the Connecticut Justice Commission by Gov. Ella Grasso.

Receiving the appointments are Robert J. Digan, Manchester's youth services coordinator, and Miss Barbara Ann Candales.

The role of the committee is to advise the Justice Commission on the preparation and administration of programs for juvenile justice, delinquency prevention and rehabilitation.

Carter group to meet

An organizational meeting of Jimmy Carter supporters is planned for Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Jimmy Carter state headquarters, 104 E. Center St.

Former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter is a leading contender for the Democratic nomination for president.

Manchester Deputy Mayor John Thompson, local coordinator in Carter's campaign, said the meeting is for all persons interested in assisting in the campaign. "All are welcome — Democrats, Republicans and unaffiliated," said Thompson.

"Jimmy Carter's appeal crosses party lines."

Rham's '1776' a sellout

Hebron The Trygon Players of Rham High School here is again doing the unusual and again is doing it well. Under the direction of Ron Ouellette now in his third year at Rham, they are producing "1776," a Broadway musical about the birth of the nation. Due to royalties, costumes, and other expenses, the production is costing them $5,000 for four performances. "We expect to have a net gain," said Ouellette today. Last Friday's show was a near sellout. Saturday the auditorium at Rham was packed. Ouellette fully expects now to sell out both shows this coming Friday and Saturday nights due to the quality of the production.

Donna Fairfield is associate director and Kenneth Corder is technical director. Production staff included: Jason Osborn as stage manager, Liz MacArthur as house manager, Val Schwarzman as business manager, Karen Robinson for publicity, Patrick Tattle as set director, Michael Maltzan as lighting director, and Alison MacDonald as property master. Also, Susan Carter as art director, Carmel Calzazo as seamstress, Kim Tow for make up, Jennifer Harger for costumes, and many crew workers for different departments. Drums and lites opened the show bringing the audience back to the uncertain times just before the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Yeomans is first selectman of Andover.

Church notes its seniors

Hebron Twenty-three persons have been members of the First Congregational Church for more than 50 years. Their membership totals 1,380 years. They are: Philip S. Clar, 88 years; Mrs. Eleanor Lord Champe, Mrs. Genevieve Little Martin, and Miss Florence Smith, 65 years; Albert W. Hilding, Mrs. Ebel Porter Hilding, Mrs. Bertha Porter Ward, Mrs. Ebel Rogers Brehant, Lucius W. Robinson, and Mrs. Ruth Griffin Canfield, 60 years; Herbert Porter, 59 years; and Fred Brehant and the Rev. Howard Champe (honorary), 56 years. Also, Mrs. Mildred Hough Fillmore, 55 years; Clarence Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Porter, 54 years; Mrs. Helen Hough Bevin, 53 years; and Mrs. Annie Bailey Hewitt, Miss J. Edna Latham, Mrs. Annie Palmer Smith and Mrs. Irene Reilly Wright, 51 years.

Two town dump talks scheduled

Bolton Bolton officials have been invited by David Yeomans to meet with Andover officials to discuss the disposal area situation. Bolton First Selectman David Dreselly told his Board of Selectmen Tuesday. Yeomans is first selectman of Andover. James Rogers, a citizen at the Bolton meeting Tuesday, asked the selectmen to sit with town counsel and concerned citizens before sitting with Andover. Rogers asked a bipartisan committee of townspeople be allowed to attend the meeting of both towns' leaders. Dreselly said he would check with Yeomans.

Dreselly said townspeople, town engineers, and the state Department of Environmental Protection all favor 100 per cent towntown pickup. The Board of Selectmen and Richard Morra, former first selectman, said there have been efforts on Bolton's part to continue discussions with Andover but felt the town should be in a better position. Rogers said many residents in both towns felt the two towns should continue sharing. Yeomans said today he did not feel the Andover townspeople have changed their minds. A Town Meeting might extend the contract with Bolton, he said. Manchester's Board of Directors Tuesday did not discuss a request by Bolton for its use of Manchester's Disposal Area. It will be discussed next Tuesday.

Biebel to speak at Republican dinner

Covertry Republican State Chairman Frederick Biebel will speak at a dinner hosted by the Republican Town Committee Friday, April 23 at the Church Community House on Rt. 4A. An old-fashioned roast beef meal will be catered by the Coventry Grange at 7 p.m. For tickets, call Mrs. Bentz Bank of Wrights Mill Rd., James Ladd of South St. East, or any member of the town committee. Everett Frost will chair a "teacup auction" after the dinner assisted by Robert Viny and Hiram Tattle. Residents who plan to attend are urged to contribute articles to the auction committee as soon as possible. Ruth Smith is serving as coordinator. Gertrude Haven is treasurer, Doreen Wery is in charge of out-of-town tickets, and Claire Connolly will handle publicity. Former tax collector Pauline Little will be honored for her years of outstanding service to the Republican Party. She has been in charge of campaign headquarters at many past elections and has trained campaign workers. A resident of Old Eagleville Rd., Mrs. Little is a former member of the town committee.

Chamber board favors manager form

South Windsor The South Windsor Chamber of Commerce board of directors voted recently to support the present town manager form of government. The chamber vote should inspire a "vote of confidence" atmosphere needed now as the town seeks quality applicants for the town manager position, said Chamber President John Borissowich. The chamber wants to retain professional guidance in town government by a trained town manager on a full-time basis. The town manager form affords flexible change whenever warranted against the more complex removal required of an elected official, he said. It also retains continuity in government, not always realized by possible Elected Official changes every few years, he said.

Council refuses to buy plans

South Windsor The Town Council Monday night stopped talk of spending $25,000 for preliminary plans for the new Fire House I. A straw vote at the public hearing preceding the council meeting showed 19 opposed to the spending of money for architectural drawings prior to referendum. Twenty-nine persons voted in favor. The council believed the vote showed enough opposition that the preliminary expenditure could be avoided.

November, the project could go to bid immediately. Those residents opposed to the expenditure questioned the feasibility of spending tax dollars for plans when the land purchase details have yet to be concluded. Nancy Calfyn, spokesman for South Windsor Association of Citizens (SWAC), submitted a letter from the group opposing the expenditure. The new Fire House I will replace the old Fire House I on Ellington Rd. which has been termed "unsafe."

Princess Farida born at Fairlane

South Windsor A princess of the horse world was born March 19 at Fairlane Farms on Avery St. The filly's owners, Davis and Sandra Lane, say she does not yet have an official name. They call her Farida. Her mother is Gartarde, an Arabian like her father. The father is Fakher El Neous which means in Egyptian "Pride of the Faith." He is the last Arabian of a famous line in Egypt. His American owner got him out of Egypt on the last ship to go through the Suez Canal in 1967 between the Israelis and Egyptians, said Mrs. Lane. Fakher's owner has bought Farida from the Lanes due to the filly's quality. She wants to show Farida as an example of Fakher's potential as a sire, said Mrs. Lane. The Lanes' Gartarde will be bred for the third time to Fakher next week, said Mrs. Lane. A colt by the mare and stallion born several years ago is owned by people in Oregon, she said. The Lanes have three other Arabian horses on their farm. They care for them with the help of their children Sheryl, 12, Jonathan, 10, and Karen, 8. Their horses are not for racing but for show. The Lane children went to a recent horse show in Glastonbury where they took several prizes. "It's interesting, sometimes profitable, and heart breaking," said Mrs. Lane about the family hobby. "They're beautiful horses."

Benoit explains parlor law work

Vermon Stanley Terault, speaking for residents petitioning for an ordinance to govern massage parlors, asked Mayor Thomas Benoit Tuesday night to enlighten him on the problems encountered with a proposed ordinance. Mayor Benoit said after the proposed ordinance went to a public hearing about a year ago, questions were raised as to whether or not it would be enforceable and stand up in court. He said he has obtained copies of East Hartford's ordinance concerning the same area and the council members will review it for discussion at the next council meeting April 20. The town now has four such massage parlors, some in residential zones and it is this to which the petitioners object most. Terault said zoning should prevent such parlors in residential areas. He said public hearings should be conducted on all such requests. He then added, if this would appear to be discriminating against massage parlors, then there should be public hearings for any type of new establishment.

Discharged Tuesday: Chester Burdick.

Students present a salute

East Hartford When Marlene Smith of Wauwaloa, Wis. wrote a choral reading for her fourth grade Bicentennial program and had it printed in "Instructor" magazine, she hoped to inspire other teachers. She did just that. Last week Angela Spositi's second graders at Burnside school performed "A Salute to America" for their schoolmates and the PTA. Miss Spositi used the choral reading with scenes from "The Spirit of '76" to the flag raising on the moon. Each scene had spirited singing of patriotic songs by the Burnside chorus. Between scenes, slides of America were shown. Rose Gottfried, music teacher, directed the chorus and Donald Hallquist, supervisor of music, accompanied the group. The program was recorded and the tape and pictures of each scene will be sent to Miss Smith and her fourth graders in Wauwaloa.

Council drops theater option

Vermon Mayor Thomas Benoit, Tuesday night, reversed his feelings about purchase of the Rockville Cinema building at this time, and asked the council to release the option to buy. The council approved this action which the mayor explained he felt was necessary in view of the hardships of the town's budget. He said, "I can't see buying this property now." Mayor Benoit originally hoped the building could be purchased and be used as a cultural arts center by various groups in town. His idea had the backing of several groups and they will pursue the matter further.

Area police report

COVENTRY Coventry Police and members of the South Coventry Fire Department were called to Coventry High School Tuesday about 1:30 p.m. because of a bomb threat. The school was evacuated. The principal was called by someone who sounded like a "young male" saying that a bomb had been set in the school to go off at 1:35 p.m. Police and firemen made a thorough search but found no bomb. SOUTH WINDSOR South Windsor Police are investigating the report of a break Tuesday night into an apartment at 7 Candewood Dr. Police said a color TV, fur coat and some jewelry were taken. The TV was recovered where it had been left in the building. The value of the coat and jewelry is estimated at $900.

First Cummisk land plan kept

Coventry The Town Council's ad hoc committee on the Cummisk property recommends its development proceed as approved at a special Town Meeting. Namely, the front house and a portion of the land not to exceed one acre be sold and the remainder of the property be developed as a cemetery and possibly for recreation. The committee also recommends a 50-foot right-of-way be retained along the southern portion of the property and run from Rt. 31 to the back. The town bought the 18-acre property for $75,000 last year. The committee also urged the sale agreement for the house or the property should include an easement over the right-of-way for a driveway. Also the town should retain a conservation easement to the bank of the pond on the property to be sold to insure that the bank is not disturbed. The second house on the property is to be retained as a possible home for the cemetery caretaker. Finally, the committee urged the

Deadline nears for state taxes

April 15 is the deadline for filing the state Capital Gains and Dividends Tax returns, according to a reminder from Tax Commissioner Gerald J. Heffernan. Both taxes are levied at the rate of seven per cent. Both taxes apply only to people who are Connecticut residents. The Capital Gains Tax is owed by an individual whose 1975 net capital gain, after the 50 per cent long-term deduction, was more than $100. A husband and wife must pay the tax if their combined net capital gain in 1975 was more than $200 and they file a joint federal income tax return. Connecticut residents who had a 1975 adjusted gross income of more than $20,000 must pay the state Dividends Tax on dividends "received, accrued or credited" in calendar year 1975. Heffernan said. On the other hand, Heffernan said, if a Connecticut resident's total adjusted gross income in 1975 was less than $20,000, there is no tax owed on that person's 1975 dividends, no matter what the amount of those dividends. In that case, the individual does not have to file a Dividends Tax return. Heffernan said that, for most taxpayers, capital gains and dividends reported for federal income tax purposes are subject to the Connecticut tax. Capital Gains and Dividends Tax return forms and instructions are available at the state Tax Department, 92 Farmington Ave., Hartford, town and city halls; U.S. Internal Revenue Service (IRS) offices; and at most bank branch offices.

First IRS payment is due on April 15

Many Connecticut citizens who do not have enough taxes withheld are required to pay their first installment of estimated 1976 federal income taxes no later than April 15. The total estimated tax due may be paid in four equal installments, April 15, June 15, Sept. 15, and Jan. 17. "Many taxpayers realize that they meet the requirements for filing a tax declaration at this time of year," said Albert C. Shuckra, acting district director for IRS in Connecticut. "Generally, when the taxpayers will owe IRS more than $100 not covered by withholding, they should file a declaration of estimated tax. A Form 1040-ES voucher must accompany the first installment." Taxpayers who filed a declaration of estimated tax last year should have received an estimated tax package in the mail, which includes four declaration vouchers and preaddressed envelopes for making the 1976 declaration and payments. Also included in the package are a worksheet and instructions. Taxpayers who are required to file, and did not receive an estimated tax package in the mail, can obtain it at IRS offices. Taxpayers who filed a declaration of estimated tax and Declaration of Estimated Tax is available free from the Connecticut IRS District Office, Hartford, telephone 244-2700.

Homeowners' rates up

An average 5.5 per cent increase in homeowners and tenants insurance rates in Connecticut has been initiated by The Travelers Insurance Co., Hartford. The increases, according to Frank E. Walton, Travelers senior vice president, were made necessary by the increasing severity and frequency of claims. The new rates became effective April 1.

'Buck-A-Cup' due soon

Several Manchester area restaurants are participating in the annual "Buck-A-Cup" fundraising effort of the state's Easter Seal Society, scheduled April 15 throughout Connecticut. The promotion, which benefits the handicapped, enlists more than 800 restaurants, coffee shops and food chains throughout the state to sell "Buck-A-Cup" lapel pins to April 15, the "Coffee Day for Crippled Children." The volunteer effort is sponsored jointly by the Associated Restaurants of Connecticut. Local firms participating in the event include Holiday Inns, Friendly Ice Cream, A.C. Peterson Ice Cream, Bess Eaton Donuts, Dunkin' Donuts, Howard Johnson's Restaurants and Kentucky Fried Chicken. The "Buck-A-Cup" lapel pins, which went on sale last week, go for $1. The pin entitles the bearer to all the coffee he can drink on April 15. Coffee Day contributions help provide rehabilitation treatments to children and adults at Connecticut's seven Easter Seal Rehabilitation Centers in Bridgeport, Hartford, Meriden, New Haven, Stamford, Uncasville, Waterbury and the Hemlocks Outdoor Education Center in Hebron.

Salaries in all major sports, to one man's thinking, are way out of proportion. For example, the average salary in the National Basketball Association is $110,000, the highest for any league sport.

Rookie pitcher Jones selected by Red Sox

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (UPI) — Rick Jones made it, but some other major league hopefuls were disappointed this time.

Jones, 20, a left-handed pitcher who spent the last season in the minors, impressed Boston Red Sox manager Darrell Johnson during spring training and will be kept as a reliever when the regular season opens.

"I'm not surprised," Jones said Tuesday after learning of his success. "The coaches in the Florida Instructional League last fall told me I had a good chance to make it this year." Meanwhile, veteran reliever Diego Segui was given his unconditional release and four other players were moved down as the Red Sox set their 25-man roster. Left-handed reliever Jim Burton, who lost the seventh game of the 1975 World Series, went to Pawtucket of the International League. To reach the opening day limit of 25 players, the Sox also demoted catcher Tim Blackwell and outfielder John Balaz.

Johnson said utility infielder Bob Heise either would be sent to Pawtucket or placed on the disabled list.

Segui, 37, has spent 14 seasons in the major leagues, the last two with Boston. The right-hander was 2-5 last season with the Red Sox. Burton, 1-2 in 29 games with Boston after being called up from Pawtucket last June, was not impressive in spring training. His spot was taken by Jones.

"Burton has been out of kilter this spring," Johnson said. "He was throwing strikes," and "if we need him against certain teams, he can start." Jones appeared in three exhibition games. He pitched four and two-thirds innings, allowing two hits, two walks and no runs.

The Red Sox defeated the Atlanta Braves, 5-4, Tuesday. Bill Lee, Tom House and Jim Willoughby pitched for Boston. Rick Burleson won the Orioles.

Elsewhere around the spring training circuit:

Back-to-back homers by Mike Iyie and Hector Torres of Jim Colborn enabled the San Diego Padres to topple the Milwaukee Brewers, 7-1.

Manny Sanguillen, Fran Taveras and Al Oliver pounded eighth-inning homers off relief ace Al Hrabosky as the Pittsburgh Pirates routed the St. Louis Cardinals, 10-6.

Steve Garvey pitched a double and two singles and Mike Marshall hurled three shutout innings of relief to spark a 6-2 victory by the Los Angeles Dodgers over the Oakland A's.

Andy Thornton drove home five runs to lead the Chicago Cubs over the Cleveland Indians, 7-5.

Don Drysdale pitched a double and two singles and Mike Marshall hurled three shutout innings of relief to spark a 6-2 victory by the Los Angeles Dodgers over the Oakland A's.

game with a home run in the ninth inning after a single by Dwight Evans.

Blackwell, a third-string catcher after Carlton Fisk returned last June, was with the Red Sox the last two seasons. He batted 192 while seeing limited action.

Balaz, obtained from California in a deal that sent pitcher Dick Drago to the Angels, showed home run prowess in spring training. But the Red Sox were set in the outfield, with five quality players.

Heise, also with Boston the past two years, had battled newly acquired Gene Michael and rookie Steve Dillard for the utility infielder spot. Both Michael and Dillard played shortstop this spring, the position the management wanted filled, but Heise was considered only a third baseman.

Playoffs Friday

HARTFORD (UPI) — The World Hockey Association playoffs will open Friday night between the New England Whalers and the Cleveland Crusaders in Hartford following the Crusaders' loss to the San Diego Mariners.

The 3-2 overtime defeat Tuesday night for Cleveland denied the team first place in the East Division and moved the Crusaders into the preliminary Eastern Division playoff against New England.

Saturday and Sunday the teams will play in Cleveland and if needed, Tuesday in Hartford.

San Diego now faces Phoenix in the West Division's best-of-five preliminary.

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (UPI) — The National Hockey League Tuesday held a meeting to find a successor to President Clarence Campbell, but made no announcement as to any results of that session.

Yogi looks at home again

MILTON RICHMAN FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Standing a few feet outside the third base line, hitting ground balls to the Yankee infielders, Yogi Berra looked perfectly at home, as if he had never been away.

"The last time was 1964," he said, calling off how long it had been since he last was with the Yankees.

He was their manager then and they fired him after the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Yanks in the World Series. Now he's one of the Yankee coaches serving under Manager Billy Martin, who used to be one of his teammates when both played for the Yankees.

"It's all new to me," said the 50-year-old hall of famer and former

Yankee catcher. "It's a different regime."

"I wouldn't be unhappy at all to spend the rest of my life in baseball," he said, bending down to pick up a ball tossed back to him by Willie Randolph. "I started playing this game when I was 10, 11 years old. I like it. Look, it's a lot better than gettin' up six or seven in the mornin' and goin' to work."

Yogi laughed and hit another ground ball to Chris Chambliss at first base.

"Feel a little strange going back to being a coach again?" a guy asked Berra.

"It doesn't bother me a bit," Yogi responded without any emotion at all. "I just after it happened, I always said I did the best I could with what I had."

Berra was referring to his firing by the Mets last August. He had managed them four seasons before he was let out.

"Do you want to manage again some day?" the same guy asked him. "You wait," Yogi said smiling. "You always listen. Expansion's coming in..."

Translated, that means what you think it means, yes, Yogi Berra would like another crack at managing some day. The season hasn't even started and some of the baseball pushers already are saying the Yanks have their next manager right where they can find him in a minute in case Billy Martin falters.

Martin and Berra have a good understanding. Yogi has always been a willing worker and a good soldier. He is not an underminer.

Cheney baseball prospects poor

Request granted

MESA, Ariz. (UPI) — Dodger relief ace Mike Marshall, who normally shies away from signing autographs feeling they lack importance, affixed his name to a youngster's baseball Tuesday, but only after the boy convinced him he didn't really want it.

"All I want is a signed baseball," the boy said. "I don't really put any importance on your autograph."

"Under those conditions," Marshall said, "I'll sign."

Prospects are not very good for the 1976 Cheney Tech baseball team and second-year Coach Jim Krone admits it.

"How will we do?" he answered rhetorically. "I feel we'll do poorly."

"We have a type of team where we are going to play a lot of freshmen. If they come along we'll win a few games but if not it's going to be an awful long season. And, in all honesty I can't expect much from freshmen right now."

Glen Cooke is slated to open in centerfield but the senior is on vacation for two weeks (Cheney is out of the week of April 12) so senior Kevin Carpenter will be in center. Chris Stecnylas, a senior, is in left and one of three freshmen, Gary Marinone, Mike Pinkin or Dave Gustamachio, will play rightfield.

Junior Dan Chapman is a reserve infielder and Junior Bob Walter is looked at as the Beavers' second pitcher. But he, like Cooke, is on vacation and won't be back until after the third game.

"We have to find a pitcher somewhere soon," Krone said forlornly. "I'm going to give Balon a try and maybe Lackard."

"Our defense is stronger than our offense right now but really we don't have a strong arm at the moment. The picture is not very good. But, if we can keep the freshmen for the next two or three years, we'll have something. These freshmen have skills and they just have to develop them," Krone concluded.

Schedule: April 9, Rham A, 13 Cromwell H, 1:30 p.m.; 15 Coventry A, 20 Bolton H, 21 Bacon Academy H, 23 Vinal Tech A, 27 East Hampton H, 30 Rocky Hill A, May 4 Portland H, 5 Rham H, 7 Cromwell A, 11 Coventry H, 12 Bolton A, 14 Bacon Academy H, 18 Vinal Tech H, 21 East Hampton A, 24 Rocky Hill H, 26 Portland A.

JV's triumph

Debuting successfully yesterday was the East Catholic jayvee baseball team with a 4-1 win over St. Thomas Aquinas at Walnut Hill Park in New Britain.

The Eagles did their best in the first three innings. Dan Hodgkins doubled in two runs in the first and Harry Graham plated two in the third with a two-bagger. Tom Boland, Kevin Martin, Craig Steernagel and Ken Brass pitched for East with Coach Al Prehelt using all 23 players.

Form juniors

MANCHESTER (UPI) — The Connecticut State Golf Association Monday announced formation of the Junior Golf Association of Connecticut. The junior group was formed in cooperation with the state section of the PGA and other golf groups and associations. The CSAA will hold a pro-am will be held May 13-14 at Farmington Woods Country Club with proceeds to help support the junior association.

Blues shock Buffalo

NEW YORK (UPI) — into the game sparked Los Angeles' victory. The goal was the fastest in Kings' playoff history. Bob Nevin scored what proved to be the game-winner on a short backhand. Los Angeles goaltender Rogie Vachon lost his bid for a shutout when Barry Gibbs scored on a 50-foot slapshot in the final period.

In the final regular season night of the World Hockey Association, Winnipeg beat Calgary, 5-3. Houston outscored Phoenix, 6-5, Quebec outlasted Toronto, 10-6, and San Diego nudged Cleveland, 3-2, in overtime.

Islanders 5, Canucks 3

Lorne Henning and Bill MacMillan scored their first Stanley Cup playoff goals and goaltender Glenn Resch earned his first victory ever against Vancouver in the Islanders' first triumph over the Canucks in more than a year. Henning's goal came when Barry Gibbs scored with the Islanders short-handed and MacMillan's tally proved to be the winner.

Maple Leafs 4, Penguins 1

Lanny McDonald's second-period goal proved to be the game-winner for Toronto, which also was aided by Bob Neely's goal and assist and Stan Weir's two assists. Stan Gilbertson spoiled goaltender Wayne Thomas' shutout try with Pittsburgh's only goal.

Three persons hurt in two-car mishap

Two drivers and one passenger suffered minor injuries in a two-car accident at W. Center and Ann Sts. Monday afternoon, police reported. George J. Naczowski, 50, of 206 Hackmatack St.; John K. Shea Jr., 37, of 130 Windemere Ave.; Ellington; and Ronald Kraatz, 30, of 23 N. Elm St. were treated at Manchester Memorial Hospital and released.

Naczowski and Kraatz were the drivers of the vehicles involved in the collision. Shea was a passenger in the Naczowski car.

Kraatz, town sanitary inspector, was driving a Town of Manchester automobile. Both cars were towed from the scene.

Kraatz was charged with failure to drive a reasonable distance apart. Court date (not mandatory) is April 27.

Five-year-old Donald J. Roy of 61D Rachel Rd. was treated for cuts and bruises Monday after he tripped on Oakland St. and was nearly hit by a station wagon, police said.

Charles R. Lake, 39, of 84D Rachel Rd., the motorist, told police he was driving south on Oakland St. when the small boy, who had been walking on the sidewalk, started across the road.

Meriden teachers begin strike

MERIDEN (UPI) - Striking teachers set up picket lines early today at Meriden's 14 schools that were opened by school officials who scheduled half day sessions for students.

A union spokesperson said picket lines began forming at 6 a.m. by teachers who vowed Tuesday to stay away from their jobs.

The vote by the Meriden Federation of Teachers, which overwhelmingly favored the strike, came after the Court of Common Council rejected on Monday the two-year contract agreed on by the school board and the teachers.

Thomas Bruenn, the president of the federation, said the 510 teachers who voted to strike are prepared to go to jail. "We'll drive ourselves and save the state the money," he said.

There are 591 teachers in Meriden and about 10,500 students.

"I don't think the Common Council really thought we would strike, but you can be sure we will picket every school," Bruenn said.

The contract turned down by the council on Monday provided $300 across-the-board raises for each year and a dental insurance plan. City aldermen said the contract would have cost $800,000 over the two-year period and they said the city cannot afford it.

Assistant School Supt. Edward Maher said the contract, worked out after more than a year of negotiations, was fair and equitable.

Other arrests made or summonses issued by Manchester Police included:

- A 15-year-old Manchester boy taken into custody after a shoplifting incident at Sears Roebuck & Co., Manchester Shopping Parkade. He was referred to juvenile authorities and released.
- Mark A. Hall, 18, of 1024 Sullivan Ave., South Windsor, charged

Washington, D.C. and New York City.

In 1943, American and British troops linked up in Tunisia during the North African campaign of World War II.

In 1947, millions of Americans were without telephone service as a nationwide strike began. It lasted 23 days.

In 1968, federal troops were ordered out in Baltimore to put down racial rioting.

A thought for the day: British poet William Wordsworth said, "Minds that have nothing to confer find little to perceive."

Police report

Tuesday morning with fourth-degree larceny (shoplifting) at Sears Roebuck & Co., Manchester Shopping Parkade. Court date is April 19.

Robin J. Luce, 23, of Merrow Rd., Tolland, charged Tuesday afternoon with third-degree assault, breach of peace and intoxication. Police said the charges involved a disturbance at an E. Middle Tpk. business. He was held overnight for court appearance today.

Fatal accident probe continues

Manchester Police said today they're still investigating a three-car accident Monday night which resulted in the death of Hugh R. Hamilton III, 31, of Woodlawn Circle, East Hartford.

Hamilton was one of the three drivers involved in the 7:10 p.m. crash on W. Middle Tpk. near Wickham Park. Police declined to release details about the collision Monday, but they gave this description of the accident today.

Hamilton was driving his small sedan west on W. Middle Tpk. and apparently crossed into the wrong (east-bound) lane. His vehicle collided head-on with an east-bound car driven by Margory D. Arnold, 47, of 167 Cooper Hill St., Manchester.

A car driven by Janice M. Cianciulli, 25, of 1325 Burnside Ave., East Hartford, came into slight contact with the other two vehicles after the head-on collision occurred, police said. Ms. Cianciulli, also westbound, had been behind Hamilton's car.

Hamilton was dead on arrival at Manchester Memorial Hospital. The other two drivers suffered minor injuries, police said.

Police said an autopsy was performed Tuesday. The case is still under investigation, authorities said, but it appears no charges will be lodged.

Figure revised

Monday night, during a public hearing on proposed Manchester budgets for 1976-77, Frank Lupien recommended limiting the school budget increase to $408,200 and not $586,300, as had been attributed to him in Tuesday's Herald.

He had arrived at the $586,300 figure by proposing the school board should get 50 per cent of the new revenue generated by the new Grand List, plus instant Lottery grants.

To reach the $408,200 figure, he took the $1,300 average yearly cost per pupil, multiplied it by the 137-pupil drop estimated for next year in the school population and deducted the $178,100 result from the $586,300 first figure.

The Board of Education has requested a $1,150,063 hike for 1976-77. Town Manager Robert Weiss is recommending an $850,063 hike.

Manchester Square Dance Club graduation

Mrs. Terry Juttner, center, is pleased to receive her diploma from Richard Wright and her dance name tag from Jeanne Wright, presidents of the Manchester Square Dance Club, Saturday at Manchester High School during the club's graduation ceremonies. She and her husband Paul were sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Covey. (Herald photo by Burtlow)

Couples earn dancing diplomas

The Manchester Square Dance Club gave diplomas to 18 couples Saturday night in ceremonies at Manchester High School's Clarke Arena. The couples recently completed a series of weekly lessons that began in October. They learned the basics of square dancing. Led in a grand march by their sponsors, the new members were introduced to the club by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McPhee, membership chairman, and presented with diplomas and badges by Presidents Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wright. Club Caller Earl Johnston, their instructor, called the dance and Russ and Anita White cued the rounds. The 1976 class of the club organized in 1966 is as follows: Mr. and Mrs. David Caron, Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Chmielecki, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Damon, Stella Grzesiak, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Miller

Hugh, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jerome, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Juttner. Also, Dr. and Mrs. Allan Leventhal, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Madore, Red Mercer and Anne Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Lee Reitberg, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. David Solomonson, Mr. and Mrs. David Spencer, and Mr. and Mrs. William Whitney. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

Dr. Johnson to head HCMA

Dr. James C. Johnson Jr. of Bloomfield will be named president of the Hartford County Medical Association tonight at the group's annual meeting at the Holiday Inn of Hartford. He will succeed Dr. Henry C. Rogers of West Hartford.

Dr. Johnson, psychiatrist, is the deputy commissioner of mental health for Connecticut. He is a past president of the Connecticut Psychiatric Society, and a fellow of the American Psychiatric Association, the Association for the Advancement of Science and the American College of Psychiatry. Dr. Johnson was elected the Hartford County Medical Association in 1961.

Grasso waiting to see budget

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Ella T. Grasso won't say what she will do if the budget proposed by the legislature's Appropriations Committee has the $10 million hole in it that some critics contend.

Mrs. Grasso told a news conference Tuesday she was waiting to see the form of the budget passed by the legislature before making a decision on whether to approve it or not. Appropriations last week, after coming through Mrs. Grasso's $1.8 billion budget for weeks, submitted a proposal that virtually duplicated the spending total recommended by the governor.

The committee plan, however, cut funding recommended by the governor for some programs and increased others.

Mrs. Grasso said despite statements by Appropriations chairmen Sen. Robert Houley, D-Vernon and Rep. John Grasso, D-Winsted, she didn't think the appropriations budget was balanced.

"I don't think they feel it's balanced," she said. "They're aware that there is some problem with it."

Critics say the gap will be caused by shortages in money targeted for the state payroll, welfare and payments to persons in state health institutions. Mrs. Grasso has pledged to end the fiscal year in balance and has said she will not accept a spending plan that would create a deficit.

Groups organize to stop nuclear waste shipments

HARTFORD (UPI) — Shipments of nuclear wastes through Connecticut will be stopped "with our bodies if necessary," says a spokesman for a group opposed to nuclear power.

James Gardner of Manchester said Tuesday he was secretary of NON (No Nuclear), made up of the Connecticut and Massachusetts Coalitions Against Nuclear Power and the Manchester chapter of the Society of Atomic Nuclear Engineers.

"In our opinion it was by the sheer luck that there was not an accident in Middletown," Gardner said. The large metal casing containing the nuclear wastes did not break and there was no leakage of radioactivity. Gardner also said the coalition will stage a rally in Hartford sometime soon to protest the shipments.

Gardner said NON sent Gov. Ella T. Grasso a telegram saying:

"We will block with our bodies if necessary further shipments of nuclear poison through our state.

Restaurant serves as workshop

By BETTY RYDER
Family/Travel Editor

From the outside, it looks like an ordinary restaurant; on the inside it does, too. But behind the scene at Bernie's Pizzeria at 699 Main St. lies the story of a businessman who believes in offering a helping hand to those less fortunate. Bernie Alemany, who resides with his wife and five children on Parker St., is cooperating with the Manchester public schools and the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation

(DVR) by allowing special education students to work at his facility. The DVR helps compensate the employer while the student is in training. As Norman Fendell, director of special education for the Town of Manchester, explains it: "Placement at Bernie's Pizzeria is an extension of our vocational education program." Ricky Downes, 18, son of Mary Downes of 86 Bissell St., is currently in training at Bernie's as a part of the three-month training program. "I wash dishes, have learned to make pizzas, and use the slicer," Ricky said.

Ricky, who works 10 hours a week at Bernie's, also helps out at the Senior Citizens Center from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. as a kitchen aide in the food service training program there. He helps in the preparation and the serving of the low-cost nutritious meals served to the elderly. Two years ago, Ricky graduated from the Project HELP (Handicapped Earning and Living Program) Food Training Program which was conducted at Manchester Community College. Alemany said: "The experience at the restaurant gives the kids a chance to get out and meet the public. They get along well with everyone and learn discipline, as well as learning how to be self-sufficient and maintain a job."

"I have two students (the other is a girl) at the restaurant now and they share 20 work hours a week," he added.

Ricky, who admits he's "really into food," would like to open his own restaurant or gift shop someday. When not flipping dough for a pizza or stacking up a grinder, he enjoys making animal models of plaster of paris.

"I have sold quite a few, and would like to get into making bigger pieces," he said.

Ricky, who has worked at the Senior Citizens Center for four years, attends Manchester High School a half hour a day. He has an individualized academic program and meets daily with a special teacher. This includes reading newspapers and recipes, opening a checking account, budgeting, public transportation and health hygiene.

Topics covered in occupational information are contacting employment agencies, conduct and appearance in job interviews, and filling out job applications. A cheerful, husky fellow with a horseshoe smile, Ricky will have the opportunity to be enrolled in the food service training program at the Regional Occupational Training Center in September. This phase of the ROTC program will be conducted in close cooperation with the Hotel and Restaurant Division of Manchester Community College.

In the meanwhile, with the help of Alemany, he is getting a headstart in the restaurant business. Summing up his involvement in the training program, Alemany said: "It's only fair to give these kids a chance. I'd like to see more businessmen join in and offer their facilities as a training ground. They (the students) are really good workers and most eager to learn. The least we can do is help."

Your neighbor's kitchen

By Betty Ryder

Weeks of planning and many hours of hard work paid off for students in the Hotel and Food Service Management Program at Manchester Community College recently, when 128 guests sat down to enjoy a sumptuous gourmet dinner at the Colony in Vernon.

The annual event, sponsored by the Manchester Scholarship Foundation in cooperation with the college, featured an eight-course dinner complete with appropriate wines and was topped off by Cherries Jubilee.

Entertainment was provided by the Jarvis Trio and dance members along the Bicentennial theme were presented by Lee and Beverly Burton of Manchester.

Speaking with two of the young men working on the dinner, Joseph Sapino and Bill Gemme, it was obvious that they enjoyed the planning and preparation.

"We selected a soup, a fish dish, poultry, and veal, and a main meat dish," Bill said.

"With the fish and chicken dishes we served white wines; with the beef and veal we served red wine, he said. Michael Hiza, one of the instructors in the program at MCC, said "About 55-60 students participated in the event. There were close to 20 serving in the dining room. All of the students were from the HFSM and the Cook and Bakers Training Program at MCC."

Bill, who will graduate this year, has a job as assistant food and beverage manager at the Ramada Inn at Bradley Field in Windsor Locks. Joe, is employed by the West Side Italian Kitchen in Manchester. He also will graduate this year.

Working at the gourmet dinner depends a lot on fate, the boys admit. "We were selected from the magic hat. This method is used to allow all students an opportunity to work on an outside project," Joe said.

Hiza explained that the students also do catering for private parties, some weddings, and on occasion have served full dinners.

The quantities of food used for this particular event, Joe says was approximately 80 pounds of beef tenderloin, 45 chicken breasts, 30 pounds of Prosciutto ham, 15 pounds of crab meat, and 4 pounds of lobster.

VFW picks a Loyalty Day Queen

Flashing a regal smile, pretty Jacqueline Mutty of Glastonbury, accepts the VFW Loyalty Day Queen's crown from last year's winner, Jeanette Dupre of Manchester. Crowning took place at the Anderson-Shea Post Home. Jacqueline, who recently made her debut at the 17th annual Bal Polonaise in Hartford, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mutty of Cedar Ridge Dr. She plans to study this fall in the new Dietetic Technology Program at the University of Maine, Farmington, Maine.

Miss Manchester Candidates

Candidates for the Miss Manchester 1976 title include these three young women from the area, who will compete with four others in the Manchester Jaycee sponsored Miss Manchester Scholarship Pageant. The event will take place on Saturday night, in the Bailey Auditorium of Manchester High School. The eighth annual pageant is an official preliminary of the Miss America Pageant.

Lisa Parker, 18, is the daughter of Mrs. Leroy F. Parker of Manchester. She will graduate from East Catholic High School in June and plans on attending Bay Path Junior College in the fall. Lisa will give an explanation of her art work as her talent presentation.

Darlene Meacham is the daughter of Mrs. Joan Meacham of Stafford Springs. A 1975 graduate of Stafford High School, 18-year-old Darlene is presently attending Manchester Community College as a media major. Singing will be Darlene's presentation for the talent phase of competition.

Lisa Tremano, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tremano of

YWCA seeking summer counselors

The Nutmeg Branch of the Hartford Region YWCA is now accepting applications from young people who are interested in working as summer day camp counselors. Young women and men aged 16 and older will serve on the staff of the YWCA Day Camp, which will be held at the Community Y Building on 78 N. Main St., Manchester.

The Day Camp season will run June 28-August 20, Mondays thru Fridays 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Girls and boys aged 6 to 11 years will participate in campcraft skills, swimming, arts and crafts, sports, and field trips.

Those who wish to apply for the counselor position should visit the YWCA office or call 647-1437 for more information.

The YWCA resident camp, Camp ya-Po, in Somers, will observe its fiftieth anniversary this year in two separate celebrations. The first will be an evening buffet and reunion on Friday, April 30 at the YWCA on 135 Broad St. in Hartford. On Saturday, June 19 former staff and campers will celebrate the occasion at the camp for a Family Day. Camp ya-Po is the only YWCA resident camp in Connecticut, and has served young people since 1926.

Members of the Camp ya-Po Reunion Committee are searching for people who have attended ya-Po as campers or staff, or who have served on the Camp Committee. If you are a former ya-Po'er or know of someone who is, please phone the Hartford Region YWCA at 525-1163 and leave your name, address and phone number for the Reunion Committee; or send the information on a card to them at the YWCA, 135 Broad St., Hartford, 06105. Further information will be sent to you about the reunions.

Neighbor's Kitchen

Recipes for two of the items served are as follows:

Veal Saltimbocca
Serves four people — three patties and sauce each.
1 1/2 lb. veal cutlets
2 oz. sherry
12 oz. marinara sauce
2 oz. Brown sauce
1 lb. chopped parsley
12 thin sliced Prosciutto ham
12 medium slices Mozzarella cheese
1/2 lb. butter

Flour and saute cutlets in 1/4 pound of butter. Remove cutlets from pan and drain the butter. Place one slice of ham and cheese on each cutlet. Add the remaining ingredients to pan, return cutlets to pan, and slowly simmer in a large pan. A gentle rocking of the pan will help mix the ingredients. Once cheese is fully melted, the dish is ready to serve. Carefully remove the cutlets from the pan and cover with the sauce from the pan.

Servicemen

Navy Seaman Walter H. Springer of 11 Strant St. is serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence and recently participated in Fleet Exercise "National Week XX." The USS Independence is homeported in Norfolk, Va.

A 1969 graduate of East Grand High School in Danforth, Maine, he joined the Navy in September 1975.

Champagne has no monopoly on ship launchings, during the Prohibition, the "President Coolidge" was christened with water from the Chief Executive's Vermont farm.

Chicken Cordon Bleu with Butter and Mushroom Sauce

Serves four people:
4-5 to 6 oz. boneless chicken breasts
8 medium slices Prosciutto ham
4 medium slices of Swiss cheese
1 pound Cornflake crumbs
4 eggs
3 oz. milk
8 oz. butter
5 oz. mushrooms
1 cup oil

Genly pound each chicken breast so it is almost double in size. Use a small saucepan or meat tenderizer to pound — start at the center and work out.

Take one slice of Swiss cheese and two slices of ham and roll them together. Roll ham and cheese inside the chicken breast. Close the end of the roll by pressing together. If possible, slightly freeze the roll to help hold it together.

Mix the egg and milk to make egg wash. Flour, egg wash and cornflake and chicken in that order.

Put oil in pan and heat to frying temperature. Keep at a moderate heat as not to burn the chicken. Lightly brown the entire outside of the chicken.

Place in an oven at 350 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes or until cheese is melted.

While chickens are baking, slice mushrooms and saute in butter, hold. When chickens are done, warm butter and mushrooms and pour over the breasts.

Hadassah planning annual craft fair

The Manchester Chapter of Hadassah, will hold its second annual Craft Fair on Sunday, June 6 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Manchester Parkade.

About 150 craftsmen are expected to display items such as dolls, pottery, leather and woodwork. Only handcrafted items will be accepted.

Applications are available by contacting Mrs. Merrie Levin of Manchester at 646-6192.

Cookbook sale to aid music shell

Mrs. Elmer Odell, at left, and Mrs. John Fletcher, both of the Women's Club of Manchester, share a recipe from the club's new cookbook "Tasting Treats," a Bicentennial collection of favorite recipes. The 106-page cookbook contains helpful hints on nutritious meal planning, an herb guide, how to freeze prepared foods, and a variety of items. Proceeds from the sale of "Tasty Treats" will be used to help defray the cost of building a music shell on the campus of Manchester Community College. Books may be ordered from Mrs. Odell at 646-3355, Mrs. Fletcher, 649-3826, or Mrs. David Barry, 646-2371.

On second thought

By Jan Warren

My husband and I just returned from a visit to Texas and Mississippi, and though after one week I can't claim to be an expert, I learned some things that made me open my New England eyes wide.

First of all, hard as it is to accept, Connecticut (our beautiful, green, hilly Connecticut) is a very small part of the United States. As one man in a Stetson explained to us, it would fit neatly into the South East corner of his state with room left over for Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Texas was our first stop and we were astonished to discover that they do not on that rough frontier people go to school, read books, and see first-run movies. And though there are some Texans who will die with their boots on, most of them wear ordinary shoes with laces.

Texas do things in an exaggerated way. They serve you three eggs for breakfast, drive 90 miles to visit a neighbor, and shake your hand till it hurts.

They call little scrub-pines, trees. Their roads are flat and straight. Nobody drives 55 to stay alive. And their chili is HOT. So is their barbecue beef, their guacamole dip, their taco stew, and their jalapeno jelly. In fact, we thought that all Texas food should be taken with a big pitcher of cold beer.

When we reached Mississippi we learned about being a Yankee. I asked a lady from the Historical Society to direct us to the antebellum homes and she answered sweetly:

"There aren't any left. You damn Yankees burned 'em down!"

In Mississippi the land is green and moist and the bayous move slowly. The people also move slowly and they do things differently. They put groceries in sacks instead of bags. The buy catfish-burgers at McDonald's. They call grown men "Dabba." They say "He" instead of "Hi." They eat pea-CON pie. They sing in the church-QUAHR. And would you believe that they think WE have the funny accent!

Just when you begin to feel that you'll never make the grade down South and you'd better run home to New England where you belong, someone will give you a warm southern smile, pat you on the back and say:

"Yawl come back now!"

And, they say it like they mean it.

"Great Beef"

Consistently tender and flavorful...only Stop & Shop has it.

Top Round or Round Tip Roast $1.19

You're sure of a great roast every time you buy beef from Stop & Shop.

WHAT MAKES "GREAT BEEF" BETTER? Many other supermarkets buy USDA Choice beef as we do. But no other supermarkets have their own unique meat plant as we do. And, no other supermarkets have our special way of handling and preparing that beef. We vacuum seal whole, butcher sized sections of beef to keep them fresh and juicy for days... while they get tender and flavorful. This natural aging process makes the difference between other stores' beef and the "Great Beef," the quality protected beef, you get at Stop & Shop. Natural aging gives our steaks and roasts a consistency of quality never before possible, it takes extra time and trouble, but we think it's worth it. You will, too... every time you serve Stop & Shop's "Great Beef."

Richter heads YMCA board

Donald P. Richter of 140 Boulder Rd. has been elected president of the board of directors of the YMCA of Metropolitan Hartford, Inc., one of the 50 largest associations in the United States.

Atty. Richter is senior partner in the Hartford law firm of Marthas, Cullins, Richter and Pinney. In 1974, he was named to the Manchester advisory board of First Federal Savings and Loan and appointed a trustee of Suffield Academy. He also serves as a trustee for several other organizations.

News of senior citizens

Hello there, and although our third annual Variety Show is now history, I can assure you that is far the most memorable.

On Friday evening the cast, including myself, waited in our dressing rooms sort of sweating it out, and wondering just what type of reception we were soon to receive.

Every once in a while someone would pop their head out of the doorway to keep us posted on how the attendance was coming along.

members who felt this was their way of showing their appreciation to the Board of Directors and the townspeople, for giving them their own Senior Center, and they therefore didn't have to run to the directors asking for funds to make these purchases.

OK, so we rest a few months before we start in again, and old Melvis says thank again for taking a personal interest in our seniors.

Setback games

Now let's see what was happening here at the center, and we start with last Friday afternoon when we had 46 players for set-back games with the following winners:

Michael DeSimone, 138; Wesley Frost, 127; John Gally, 125; Alice Morrissette, 125; Jennie Fogarty, Sam Schors, and Ernestine Donnelly, 122; Beas Noonan, 121; Mabel Loomis and Lyla Steele, 119; Betty Jesanis, 119; and Clarence Duhring, 118.

On Monday in the morning we had a nice turnout for our kitchen social games. In the afternoon we had 14 tables for pinocle with the lucky winners:

Marjorie McLean, 726; Mary Nackowski, 711; Gladys Seelye, 703; Robina Carroll, 695; Catherine Gleeson and Marie Hebenstret, 669; Inez Mahoney, 665; Renee Maire, 662; Sue Kerr, 655; Jenny Fogarty, 652; Ernestine Donnelly, 651; Ann Young, 647; Olive Houghtaling, 645; and Sam Schors, 643.

Film Thursday

Let's see, tomorrow we have what should be a very interesting program for you, Marilyn Douglas from Boston to tell us that she is ill with flu bug, and canceled her engagement, so in her place we have purchased a film to show you instead. It is called "Three for the Show," with Betty Grable, Marge and Gower Champion, and Jack Lemmon starring in it.

Hey, this is definitely the final call for the Canyonlands-Las Vegas trip which is scheduled for takeoff on May 18. So for you folks who are still undecided, then maybe this will help by seeing the beautiful sunrise in the morning, and sunset in a majestic part of our country, plus some other fantastic scenery. All this, and much more, so quit thinking about it, and sign up. Final payment is due by April 10. Details and departure time will be mentioned in this column a little later on.

Buy piano

The monies will go a long way to help us keep our fine food program going; also, to purchase a very important and much-needed piano. The one we have was sort of used long before we got it some seven years ago and is now has just about had it. It gave us great pleasure for all these years, and had to be operated on (tuned up) every so often. So you can see, the monies for any of our fund-raising projects help to improve our center, and through these funds over the years, have purchased just about all the furniture in the building.

It also enabled us to purchase a large bus, and many other items of value for the members who take advantage of the center. All this was done by the Social security

Q. I am 69 and get Social Security benefits, but I still work. Back in January I sent a report to Social Security telling them how much I thought I'd earn this year. I have already earned more than I said I would. Do I have to make another report?

A. Yes. If you do not report the change in your estimated earnings, you may get Social Security benefits not due you and then have to pay back some money at the end of the year. Your benefits won't be affected if you earn $2,760 or less for the year. If you earn over $2,760 for the year, your benefits will be reduced $1 for each $2 over $2,760. But no matter how much you earn for the year, you'll get your full benefit for any month in which you neither earn over $20 nor do substantial work in your own business. You can report estimated earnings changes on the postcard sent to you. If you don't have the postcard, you can call any Social Security office and the people there will help you make the report.

Q. I have Medicare and I was wondering: Can I get help with the cost of some major dental work I plan to have done?

A. Medicare does not help pay for dental services. However, if you need to be hospitalized during the dental procedures, Medicare hospital insurance may help pay for your hospital expenses, even though the dentist's services are not covered. Medicare does help pay for dental care involving surgery of the jaw and related structures, or setting fractures of the jaw.

Q. I know my children can get Social Security benefits on their father's work record, but what happens if I become disabled or die? Can they get payments based on my work?

A. Yes. Under the law, children are considered to be dependent on both parents, and can get benefits when either parent becomes disabled or retires or dies after having worked long enough under Social Security.

Q. I am 69 and have very little income, but I own my home. Will I have to give up my home to get Supplemental Security income payments?

A. No. The Federal government does not put liens on people's homes because they get Supplemental Security income payments.

Camp Kennedy opens June 28

The opening date is still 12 weeks away for Camp Kennedy but plans already are in the works for its 13th year of operation.

Orientation days for volunteers will be June 24 and June 25 at the campsite, off Dartmouth Rd.

There will be no camp on July 4 and no camp on those days when it is raining at the time the bus starts on its scheduled run.

Theresa Kloo wins $5,000 in Lottery

A Manchester resident has become the winner of a $5,000 prize with a weekly Connecticut Lottery ticket.

Theresa Kloo, 86, of Foxcroft Dr. scored a $2,500 prize on March 25. Her prize was doubled to $5,000 since she also matched the week's lucky color.

All weekly lottery winners of prizes from $5 to $5,000 have a chance to be chosen as a jackpot finalist. Should Ms. Kloo be drawn as a finalist, she will complete for a $200,000 prize on "Double Play," the lottery's televised game show.

"Double Play" is broadcast at 7:30 p.m. each Thursday over WFSB-TV, Channel 3.

Mail order firms under FTC rules

Relief is now at hand for consumers who have ordered merchandise by mail in the past and have suffered endless delays in receiving it. A new Federal Trade Commission regulation, effective Feb. 2, requires mail order firms to either deliver merchandise on time or allow consumers to cancel their orders and receive a prompt refund.

The regulation covers almost all goods sold by mail. The major exceptions are seeds, growing plants and photo processing orders. With regard to magazines, only the initial issue of the subscription is covered.

Answers to questions of general interest will appear in this column. Address questions to: "Of Consumer Concern," Department of Consumer Protection, State Office Building, Hartford, Conn. 06155.

Aircraft industry topic for society

The last 1975-76 program of the Manchester Historical Society will be a slide-illustrated lecture on the history of the aircraft industry in Connecticut since early in this century. The speaker will be Robert H. Stepanek of 10 Christine Dr., East Hartford.

The meeting will be Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Whiton Memorial Library auditorium.

Stepanek has been employed for 22 years by the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Division of United Technologies in East Hartford. He is currently a supervisor in production engineering. He received a degree in engineering from Ohio Northern University.

He is a charter member of the Connecticut Aeronautical Historical Association. Since its organization in 1960 he has been a director and president. His wife is CAHA's secretary.

Stepanek is now the group's vice president for history and information and edits the newsletter. In the course of his research for CAHA's oral history project, he has interviewed early pilots and others influential in the aircraft industry. Several slides in his talk are copies of extremely rare photographs.

Charles Hamilton's Curtiss Flyer is shown being pushed into position before taking off on the first public flight of an airplane in Connecticut. The event occurred in New Britain in 1910.

About town

St. Mary's Episcopal Church will have the liturgy of spiritual healing Thursday at 10 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. at the church.

Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church will have a Lenten service tonight at 7:30 at the church.

The Presbyterian Church will have a prayer meeting tonight at 7:30 at the church.

First Church of Christ, Scientist will have a meeting tonight at 8 at the church, 447 N. Main St., which will include testimonies by students of Christian Science. The public is invited.

The Rev. Ronald Fournier will lead a Lenten service tonight at 7:30 in the Emanuel Lutheran Church sanctuary. The theme of the service is "Confidence-Fulfillment."

Safety For Sitters

Whoever you hire as a baby sitter takes on a legal responsibility for the safety of your child. But turnabout is fair play. You too take on a legal responsibility for the safety of your sitter.

One couple had a four-year-old son with a violent temper. One evening they went to the movies, leaving him in the care of an unsuspecting new sitter. Soon after their departure the boy knocked the woman over, fracturing her arm.

Sued later for damages, the parents said they were not liable because they were not at home when the incident occurred. But the court ordered them to pay the woman's claim. Since they were aware of their son's peculiar disposition, said the court, they should have given her fair warning of the danger.

Generally speaking, you are obliged to warn a sitter of hazards she is not likely to discover for herself: a slippery floor, a rickety chair, a faulty appliance, a temperamental pet.

But not a non-temperamental pet. In another case a baby sitter was badly scratched by the family cat. But she failed to collect damages because she could not prove that the cat was any more ferocious than the average member of the species.

And a sitter bitten on the arm by a three-year-old girl lost her claim because the child had never been a biter before.

Furthermore, sitters themselves must take reasonable precautions for their own safety.

One teenage sitter suffered burns when a terry cloth towel, which she used to lift a pot from a hot stove, caught fire.

She complained afterward that the family should have had a pot holder available for her use. But the court said the parents might fairly assume that she would be more careful in handling a flammable fabric.

A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the Connecticut Bar Association.

Fire safety

The flammable liquids that we use in our home each week are as dangerous as a bomb. Examples of these are gasoline, paint thinners, paint, charcoal lighter, kerosene and aerosol spray cans. Any of these can burst into flame from too much heat or a small spark. The most dangerous aspect of these liquids are the deadly vapors that they give off. Vapors can float along the air for quite a distance. If they find an open flame, an explosion and fire will result. Read the label and warning on any possible flammable liquid you buy.

Never dispose of flammable liquids by pouring them down a storm drain. If you have a quantity of flammable liquids to dispose of, consult the Fire Department if you do not know what to do with it.
