Flag raising at Nathan Hale School

For the first time, Nathan Hale School flies an authentic Bicentennial flag beneath the U.S. flag, presented to the school by U.S. Rep. William Cotter. Holding the U.S. flag is Steven Brown while Michael Luzzi pulls the lanyard. Donald Sumislaski and Joseph Pereira, right, guide the Bicentennial flag. School principal Leo Diana and some of the school students watch. Nathan Hale School was named a Connecticut Bicentennial School along with Green, South and Waddell Schools. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Increasing student job interest sparks occupational education

Manchester family dies in plane crash

A Manchester family was killed Sunday in a plane crash in Arizona. A family of four was in a small plane that went down in northeastern Arizona on a Navajo Indian reserva-

Identified in the wreck were Bryan Krause, 35, of 10 Ralph Rd.; his wife, Yvone, 31, and their two daughters, Heidi, 11, and Sharon, 10.

The plane, flown by Krause, left from Farmington, N.M., sometime Sunday morning en route to Oljato, Utah, near Monument Valley.

The wreckage was discovered about 1 p.m. by tribal rangers. Investigators say Krause rented the plane last week in Albuquerque, N.M. The cause of the crash is being investigated.

Krause was a graduate of Manchester High School and graduated from Wentworth Institute of Technology in Boston where he was band leader and played first solo

He served for five years as a pilot also a graduate of Manchester High with the U.S. Navy. Since leaving the Navy in 1967, he has been a pilot for Trans World Airlines.

DEAR ABBY: With regard to finding partners through advertising and computer matching. I admit to being a loser, but the experience was so amusing, it was worth it.

I was preparing lunch for a gentleman who had been "matched" with me by a computer dating service, when I noticed a nice-looking man standing in front of my house, apparently looking for the house number. I went outside and eagerly greeted him with: "Oh, I've been waiting for you!"

The man quietly replied, "Madame, I don't know why.
I'm the dog catcher, looking for dogs."
I went back into the house and laughed so hard and for so long that I completely forgot the chicken I had been broiling! When the right man arrived and I served him the burned broiled chicken, he insisted he liked burned chicken, but he was a server and health and the server are server are health and the server are server are health and the server are server and the server are server are server and the server are server are server and the server are server and the server are server as a server as a server are server as a server as a server are server as a server as a server are server as a serve but he never came back.
Incidentally, I'm 52, still single and have more friends HAPPY AND BUSY IN L.A.

DEAR HAPPY: Right! Any man "looking for dogs" men regularly, but we have one small problem.

We work in the Chicago loop and would like to meet some young policemen. We are looking for a more mature, responsible type of man, which are the qualities we feel policemen possess. How should we approach them? INTERESTED IN CHICAGO

DEAR INTERESTED: You should "approach" police-men as you would any man—carefully. Why not buy tickets to the next policemen's ball and try your luck in a relaxed

DEAR ABBY: I am 20, am happily married and have a 2-year-old daughter. Sounds terrific? It is! Now for my problem: I was pregnant when I got married. My husband was my first and only, and it wasn't just a casual thing. We were in love and planning to get married I realize that I'm not the only girl this has happened to, but my mother has made me feel so guilty about it, it still She throws it up to me constantly, which makes me feel even guiltier. If she would just say, "I forgive you," it would help me so much, but she won't.

FOREVER SORRY DEAR FOREVER: God is the one who forgives us. Your mother has no such power. If you've asked for the Lord's forgiveness, consider yourself forgiven, and forget your
