Gold medal winner displays award

By SOL R. COHEN

With Manchester's caucus of registered Democrats only a day away (Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Manchester High School), backers of Democratic presidential hopefuls are intensifying their efforts on behalf of their candidates.

Tuesday's caucus is to choose slates of 21 or more delegates for each of the candidates whose names will appear on the May 11 Democratic primary, plus a slate for those Democrats uncommitted to any candidate.

Actually, votes will be cast May 11 for the slates of delegates (with the designation shown for who their candidate is). By Democratic rules, any slate that doesn't get at least 15 per cent of the votes cast will have its votes taken from it and given to the uncommitted slate.

Each slate (including the uncommitted) which receives at least 15 per cent of the votes cast May 11 is guaranteed delegate representation to a subsequent June 12 Congressional District convention, where delegates will be chosen to the Democratic National Convention. Conventions will be held in all six Congressional Districts, where 51 delegates will be named to the July national convention.

The national delegates will be chosen in the same proportion as the results of the May 11 primary bear to the total vote cast that day in all 169 towns in Connecticut.

Because of the complicated process evolved for the preferential primary and for the eventual naming of 51 national delegates, party officials are taking the process step by step, with the first step Tuesday night's caucus, when 21-delegate slates are named for each candidate and the non-candidates.

John J. Sullivan, temporary coordinator for the uncommitted Democrats, said, "We are loaded with talent."

"We have top vote getters in State

Rep. Dave Barry, State Rep. Fran Mahoney, Town Director Phyllis Jackson, Town Clerk Edward Tomkiel and Deputy Sheriff Clarence Foley. We also have District Chairmen Alfred Campbell, Joseph Gervais, Pascal Mastrangelo, Frank Stambler and other leading town Democrats, who have the know how in any type of election."

The uncommitted Democrats at their meetings stress getting out the vote.

Most of them feel the uncommitted delegates to the Democratic National Convention in New York this summer will play a big role in electing the Democratic nominee for president, said Sullivan. What he didn't say but what has become common knowledge is that most of the uncommitted are ready to back Sen. Hubert Humphrey is he becomes a candidate.

John Pelkey and James Cunningham. Dr. Walter Schardt, coordinator of the effort for Sen. Frank Church, said the Idaho senator's name definitely will be on the May 11 preferential primary, but Robert Chisholm, who is heading the Fred Harris drive, said no effort will be made to place his candidate's name on the ballot.

Dr. Schardt is seeking registered Democrats interested in the Church candidacy and in being on his 21-delegate slate to call him (Dr. Schardt at 649-0320 or 649-6110, or attend Tuesday night's caucus).

Active committees have been working on behalf of Jimmy Carter, Henry Jackson, Ellen McCormack and Morris Udall and are preparing delegate slates.

L. Spencer Cain, coordinator for the Udall campaign, said a slate of 26 delegates will be chosen Tuesday on behalf of the Arizona congressman. He invites all those interested to attend Tuesday's caucus.

Cain announced the appointment of the following chairmen of groups who may be contacted for information: Leo Juran and Ed Laski — Businessmen for Udall, Stella Braun — Senior Citizens for Udall, James Hyland and Karen Laski — Students for Udall. Erlen Jacobs Palmer is coordinator for the voting districts and Shirley Juran is telephone coordinator.

Governors to discuss education, air service

FARMINGTON (UPI) — Education, regional air service and several other matters are on the agenda for the New England Governor's conference today.

Five governors were sure they would attend. Gov. Michael S. Dukakis of Massachusetts said developments in strife-torn Boston would determine his attendance at the combined meeting of the conference and its planning arm, the New England Regional Commission. Expected to attend were Govs. Ella Grasso of Connecticut, Meldrim Thomson of New Hampshire, James Longley of Maine, Philip Noel of Rhode Island, and Thomas Salmon of Vermont.

Staff aides said there was no particular significance to the selection of the site, although the conference has not met in Connecticut in recent years. They said it was part of an effort to increase the group's visibility.

The meeting was scheduled for 10 a.m., with an executive session at the Barney House, and a business meeting after lunch to cover:

— Review of the New England Board of Higher Education's program to make it easier for students to take programs at other state schools in the region.

— Possible subsidies for air service to small airports.

— Ideas to attract new industry to the region.

— Ideas to attract new industry to the region.

Democrats mount blitz for Pennsylvania votes

By GENE BERNHARDT

United Press International Henry Jackson, Jimmy Carter and Morris Udall mounted an election-eve handshaking and TV advertising blitz to capture Tuesday's crucial Pennsylvania primary.

Carter and Jackson were thought to be in a dead-heat for the statewide popularity vote while the Washington State Senator was expected to capture a majority of the 134 delegates at stake. Udall mounted an intensive drive in an effort to finish at least second in the preferential vote.

Alabama Gov. George Wallace is the fourth Democratic candidate but has done little campaigning in the state and is expected to finish fourth. President Ford is the lone entry in the Republican primary.

Jackson, noting that imports have cut deeply into Keystone State industries, proposed eliminating some tax breaks given American businesses which operate from abroad.

He toured the Harrisburg Steel Co. and said if elected he would eliminate tax deferrals on foreign income of U.S. businesses and modify the foreign tax credit to change the dollar-for-dollar credit to a simple deduction for foreign taxes paid.

"The tax laws that deal with multinational corporation encourage our corporations to send American jobs abroad," he said, citing a cutback at the Harrisburg plant from 800 jobs to 400 "chiefly because of severe competition from imports."

Jackson said an independent study commissioned by the State Department "concluded that multinational corporations exported over 1 million American jobs between 1966 and 1973."

Carter, meantime, scheduled a speech at the Liberty Bell before traveling to visit a plant in Allentown and make a speech at the University of Scranton.

Udall was handshaking on street corners in Philadelphia, Erie and Johnstown before an evening Democratic rally in Pittsburgh and a scheduled fundraising appeal on national television (ABC) tonight. He scheduled another five-minute appeal for Thursday night (CBS) but a poor showing in Tuesday's primary could reduce the value of that one.

All four candidates, plus Sen. Frank Church of Idaho who is not entered in the Pennsylvania primary, during a televised interview (ABC's Issues and Answers) broadcast Sunday from Philadelphia blamed the lack of federal matching funds for crippling their campaign efforts.

Udall and Jackson particularly criticized President Ford for his threat to veto a restructured campaign reform bill that is expected to clear Congress and go to the White House by the end of this week.

Even if Ford signs the measure, matching funds will not flow again until Ford nominates six members to the reorganized Federal Election Commission and the Senate confirms them.

Portuguese socialists fall short of majority

LISBON, Portugal (UPI) — The Socialists took a solid lead today in Portugal's first free legislative elections in half a century but fell short of the majority they wanted in order to rule alone.

With more than 80 per cent of the votes counted, the Socialists had 35 per cent of the vote for an 11 per cent margin over their nearest competitor, the left-of-center Popular Democrats.

The Socialist climb was matched on the right by the conservative Center Democratic Social party squeezing past the Communists for third place. With most precincts in conservative northern Portugal left to report, both the conservatives and the Communists were in the 15 per cent of the vote range.

The indecisive results in elections threatening a new political crisis. Even as the results were pouring in, squabbling broke out among party leaders over the shape of Portugal's future government.

Socialist leader Mario Soares insisted his party would either rule alone as a minority government or go into opposition.

Francisco sa Carneiro, leader of the left-of-center Popular Democrats, demanded an immediate cabinet reshuffle and ouster of Communists from the current coalition. Communist leader Alvaro Cunhal said that would be unconstitutional.

The party leaders spoke at news conferences that lasted until dawn as early returns made it increasingly evident that the 6.5 million voters would pick no clear winner.

Boy at race killed; youth dies in crash

An Andover boy and a Hebron man were killed in unrelated accidents Sunday. Michael Massey, 11, died at the W.W. Backus Hospital in Norwich about two hours after being admitted and Philip Morin, 18 was pronounced dead-on-arrival at Windham Memorial Hospital.

Massey was a spectator at the Tri-State Four Wheelers race. The course went through the woods and fields of the Beckwith Brothers

Farm in Franklin. The accident happened about noon and the boy died about 2:15 p.m.

The driver of the race car was Diana Mahaffey, 25, of Newton, N.J. No charges have been filed against her. Police said she panicked after her jeep's accelerator linkage became stuck at the end of the three-mile course.

'Blue law' changes expected

By PETER A. BROWN
HARTFORD (UPI) — The Connecticut Legislature this week appears ready to modify and even possibly repeal the state's centuries-old ban on sale of most consumer goods on Sundays.

The House last week passed a total repeal of the statute after narrowly defeating a compromise that would have modified the law to allow those places of business with five or fewer employees to operate on Sunday.

"I'm optimistic about total repeal," said Sen. Louis Ciccarello, D-Norwalk, who chairs the legislature's General Laws Committee, which authored the proposal. "It has the best chance this year that it ever has."

But Sen. George W. Hannon, D-East Hartford, doesn't see it that way.

"The House version has little chance of passage; we'll probably wind up passing an amendment to open it up in some areas," he said. Opposing repeal are members of both the Democratic and Republican leadership, although the issue is a nonpartisan one.

Senate Majority Leader Joseph I. Lieberman, D-New Haven, will introduce an amendment similar to the one that lost in the House which is aimed at allowing smaller stores to open, but insuring the giants remain closed.

Senate President Pro Tem Joseph Fauliso, D-Hartford, has for years opposed changing the laws. But he indicated he was waiting to see proposed compromises before making a decision.

Action by the Senate, which killed the bill decisively last year, will probably come this week, perhaps today, as the legislature scurries to meet the constitutionally imposed, May 5, adjournment date.

Gov. Ella T. Grasso has declined to say if she will sign the bill, but an administration source — indicating the governor thought there was little chance the Senate would approve repeal — said she probably would sign a compromise.

Opponents of the prohibition against Sunday sales, known as the "blue laws" because of the color of the paper on which they originally were written, say the current law is unenforceable.

"One of the reasons I probably will vote for repeal is that the laws are impossible to enforce," said Senate Minority Leader Lewis B. Rome, D-Bloomfield.

Police in some towns enforce the prohibition against Sunday sales while in other communities they do not, he said.

Those arguing against the change say they are worried about the prospect of workers being forced to report on Sunday, a day they say should be reserved for the family.

The laws were originated by the Puritan settlers of New Haven more than three centuries ago because of the biblical injunction against working on the Sabbath.

Police seek armed robber

A knife-wielding man, still being sought by police, held up Dairy Mart store at 398 Spencer St. Saturday night, saying "I wouldn't do this if it wasn't necessary."

Manchester Police said the incident, which occurred at about 8:30 p.m., resulted in the theft of $20 in cash.

The store clerk told police the robber entered the store, came to the counter and asked for $20 from the cash register.

The clerk asked what the man meant, and the robber pulled a knife from his pocket and displayed it to the clerk.

The clerk complied with the demand for $20, and the man turned and walked away. As he left the store, he turned around and offered his explanation for the holdup.

Police said the man was described as a white male, in his early to mid-20s, about 150 pounds, five-foot-eight, wearing a blue knit hat, a blue coat and light blue pants.

Police, called to the store minutes after the holdup, searched the area unsuccessfully. A suspect hitchhiking on Center St. a short time later, but he was released after a search.

Richard P. Vanhout, 21, of 22D Jefferson St. was in satisfactory condition today at Manchester Memorial Hospital, suffering from injuries in a traffic accident Saturday night, authorities said.

Vanhout, a motorcyclist, was hurt after a collision involving a car driven by Louise G. Spelas, 35, of Stafford Springs.

Ms. Spelas was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. Charges are expected to be lodged against Vanhout when he is released from the hospital, police said. Court date is May 11.

Other weekend accidents investigated by Manchester Police included:

A Saturday night accident at Main St. and Middle Tpk. involving an ambulance and a car. Police said a Manchester Ambulance Service vehicle driven by Kurt Hassett, 19, of 60 Benton St. was in collision with a car driven by Bruce S. Beck, 29, of 58 E. Middle Tpk., at about 11:45 p.m. Police said the crash occurred as the ambulance was en route to an emergency call. No charges were lodged; no one was hurt; the ambulance continued to the call.

A one-car accident at about 2 a.m. Saturday in which a car driven by Louis M. Cherrone, 25, of East Hartford hit a curb and rolled over on Spencer St. Cherrone, who wasn't hurt, was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. Court date is May 18.

Arrests made by Manchester Police included that of James M. Smith, 51, of 22C Channing Dr., charged Saturday night with third-degree assault and intoxication after a domestic disturbance. Court date is May 17.

Therists reported over the weekend included:

Shopping of two Citizen Band radios, valued at about $240, from Radio Shack, Manchester Shopping Parkade, on Saturday afternoon. Police said three men apparently concealed the radios in a laundry basket and fled by automobile before they could be apprehended.

Shopping at about $30 in building supplies by two men at the W. G. Glenney Lumber Co., No. Main St., on Saturday afternoon.

Today's thought

God of our forebears, you made some people especially able to shoulder the burdens of administering justice, leading pilgrimages, establishing schools and hospitals; so that compassion and love would have a sweeping presence here.

We give thanks, Lord, for naming people to the roles of pioneer, inventor, spokesman, dreamer, innovator. Forgive us when we do not immediately appreciate them. Keep sending us such brave and special types. We need them.

We have come to a time when everybody is a leader, and nobody is a leader. Keep us from discounting a gentle style, prevent our easy capitulation to publicity. Support abundantly those on whom we lay heavy responsibility, for the good of your people here and everywhere. Amen.

Windham nurses strike now in its sixth day

WILLIMANTIC (UPI)—Striking nurses continued their pickets today at Windham Community Memorial Hospital while no negotiations were scheduled in the six-day walkout.

The 70 nurses, members of the Connecticut Nurses Association unit 62, last Wednesday became the first in the state to call a strike against a hospital.

They walked the picket lines Sunday, waving at cars that passed the hospital's two entrances, despite the cool temperatures and the rain.

Negotiator Mary Lou Miller said Saturday a strike fund had been set up and the nonpensionary nurses were preparing for a long walkout.

Only emergency patients have been admitted since the strike began Wednesday morning. The hospital's 75 patients were being cared for by supervisors and 10 nurses who crossed the picket lines.

The first negotiating session, set up by a federal mediator Friday, broke down with both sides agreeing no progress had been made.

"We met last night and they are behind us," Ms. Miller said of the nurses. "It looks like it is going to be a long strike and we are getting ready for it."

"Everything is going well, according to Pat Dye of the hospital, who said the hospital has maintained adequate services.

The nurses are seeking increased wages, a greater role in determining their duties, and more weekends off.

Opinion

Cultural pride
a possible solution

A slip of the lip has sunk more than one presidential candidate's ship, and if his remark about "ethnic purity" doesn't scuttle Jimmie Carter, it won't be for want of his rivals trying to make the most of it.

Interestingly enough, the people who presumably should have been most offended by the Georgian's statement - black Americans - are not the ones who are keeping the controversy alive.

For the record, what Carter said in South Bend, Ind., the other day, was: "I have nothing against the community that's made up of people who are Polish or Czechoslovakian or French-Canadian or blacks who are trying to maintain the ethnic purity of their neighborhoods. This is a natural inclination on the part of people."

Later, in Indianapolis, he added: "I would never, though, condone any sort of discrimination against, say, a black family, or any other family, from moving into that neighborhood. But I don't think government ought deliberately to try to break down an ethnically oriented community - deliberately by injecting into it a member of another race."

This is contrary to the best interest of the community. It creates disharmony. It creates hatred."

Had Carter used any other word than "purity" - had he said "ethnic character," or "ethnic integrity" - at most a small squall rather than a hurricane would have broken over his head and those who were so quick to denounce him might even have reflected that what he really said was eminently worth saying.

What a departure it would have been if some of the other Democratic aspirants had risen just a bit above politics-as-usual to point out that everybody makes verbal goofs and that Carter's unfortunate choice of words should be understood in the context in which they were made.

All those who jumped on Jimmie Carter should be given ten lashes with a wet kiuski and required to read a timely and authoritative new book on the history and present status of America's white ethnic - "Pursuing the American Dream," by Richard Krickus (published by Anchor Books, also available in hardcover from Indiana University Press).

He was moved to write the book, says Krickus, by the "appalling ignorance" about working Americans (which most ethnics are) among academics, politicians, government bureaucrats, Capitol Hill aides and radical community activists. And, one might add, among George Wallace's "pointy-headed liberals" who are seldom affected by the wrenching social changes they demand of others.

One thing Krickus attempts to do is set the record straight on alleged white ethnic racism, and he cites abundant evidence to dispute the widespread notion that white workers in general and certain ethnic groups in particular are more likely to oppose black bids for racial justice than other segments of the white population.

Since the New Deal, he writes, the white ethnics have given the bulk of their votes to the Democratic party and have supported legislation vital to the welfare of needy Americans. Without their support, the progressive coalition necessary to come to grips with our nation's most pressing problems is doomed to failure.

One reason a lot of blacks still like Jimmie Carter may be that they realize what social "anchor points," to use Krickus' term, the white ethnic urban concentrations are and that the development of the same sense of community cohesiveness and cultural pride among blacks will go a long way toward solving their, and the country's problems.

In any event, it is going to take more than an error in phraseology to stop any candidate who can win the allegiance of both groups.

Washington - Mrs. Peggie Ann King of Hampton, Va., is black and a former worker on the maintenance force of the kitchens at Fort Monroe, in Norfolk. She could make history by freeing what she calls "slaves of the labor unions."

Mrs. King has filed suit in the U.S. District Court in Norfolk against Gemini Food Services Inc., Public Service Employees Local Union 572 of the AFL-CIO Laborers International Union of North America, Sidney C. Ragland, president of Gemini, and Ernest McNeal, owner of Multi-Mack Inc., another food services company.

Multi-Mack was Mrs. King's employer until July 1, 1975, when Gemini took over the Fort Monroe kitchens. Gemini had signed a collective bargaining agreement with Public Service Employees Local, and Mrs. King and her co-workers were told they would be fired if they didn't join the union when Gemini moved in.

Athletic scholarship

To the editor, An athletic scholarship has been established in the name of Jack Bosworth at Bolton High School, which will be an annual award to a deserving young man who exemplifies some of Jack's many qualities in the fields of athletics and scholastic achievement.

What about Harold?

To the editor, Won't it be nice when Bolton's disposal problem is finally solved and we can all concentrate on other matters?

I am talking about Harold Hoar, owner-operator of Harold & Sons Rubbish Removal. He has been collecting Bolton's trash for many years. He deposits the trash at the Andover Disposal Area which Bolton will be unable to use after June 30.

Where does that leave Harold? He doesn't have his own site. It seems impossible for him to get one in time to bid.

Any way should he have to? The sad part, and the part that makes me angry is the rumor circulating freely throughout Bolton and several area towns.

Just in case you have not heard it, here it is.

Sincerely, Judy Smith 95 South Rd. Bolton, Conn. 06040 P.S. Mr. Dresley-Mr. Preuss-Mr. Rivers. Attend the meeting in Andover April 26. Negotiate in good faith. Prove me wrong. We will all come out winners, Andover, Bolton and Harold & Sons.

Ernie D. draws crowd after igniting Braves

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — "Who's the new superstar in the corner?" several Buffalo Braves kept asking as reporters crowded around Ernie DiGregorio.

"The new superstar" was the old Ernie D. who returned to form after a season of riding the bench just in time to lead a second-quarter surge that enabled the Braves to beat the Boston Celtics, 96-83, in a nationally televised NBA Eastern Conference semifinal playoff game Sunday.

The win cut Boston's edge to 2-1 in the best-of-seven game series.

DiGregorio took charge of the Buffalo offense just when things looked bleakest. The Braves were down the points, 32-22, midway through the second quarter and league scoring champion Bob McAdoo was sitting on the bench with three personal fouls.

But DiGregorio — passing sharply, quarterbacking the offense and leading a full-court defense — led Buffalo on a surge that saw them outscore the Celtics 21-4 and take a 41-36 lead.

Back in the game after scoring only 12 points in the first quarter, the Braves kept it close the rest of the way and depended on McAdoo, who returned to score 12 fourth-quarter points, and rookie John Shumate to put the game away down the stretch.

"But the big thing that enabled them to win," said Boston's injured forward John Havlicek, "was Ernie D. He had to be a very big key in the game."

Buffalo Coach Jack Ramsay agreed that "Ernie gave us a big jump," but said his team may have learned something when it was forced to move the ball around, unable to pass off to McAdoo while he was on the bench.

"We need team movement. As a team we have to move. We have to move our bodies and we have to move the ball," Ramsay said.

He said his team "can still play better." The only encouraging part of our two losses in Boston was that they played very well and we played poorly, but we were still in both games."

DiGregorio missed the game with 10 assists — including five in the second quarter — and eight points — all in the second quarter.

He admitted that spending much of the regular season on the bench had been "frustrating," but said the standing ovation he got when he fouled out with 2:46 left in Sunday's 5 game "was very satisfying."

He said he was "satisfied with the way I contributed to the team," but most of all he was happy with his defensive play.

"I've been working real hard at it, working my tail off," he said.

DiGregorio said the Braves were able to pick up the Celtics defensively in the backcourt because Boston was "without Havlicek as their playmaker."

Havlicek has missed two playoff games with a torn tissue in his left foot. But Boston's Dave Cowens said that was no excuse for losing.

"We have to play without the guy," said Cowens. "If you win, you win. If you lose, you lose. I can do something about losing, but I can do something about playing."

Buffalo's Randy Smith — who had 10 points and five assists in the second quarter — led all scorers with 29 points, while McAdoo had 24, Shumate 14 and Jim McMillan 12 for the Braves.

Jo Jo White led the Celtics with 26 points, Cowens had 21 and Paul Silas and Charlie Scott each scored 15.

The fourth game of the series is scheduled here Wednesday.

Carlin paces pin qualifiers

Seven qualifiers in each division will join defending champions in Sunday's quarterfinals round of the 15th Town 10-Pin Bowling Tournament at the Parkade Lanes.

Successful in last weekend's qualifying competition in the Men's Scratch Division with four-game totals were: 1. Dennis Carlin 802; 2. Bruce Moquin 791, 3. Jeff Warwick 785, 4. Alan Nelson 766, 5. Jim Magowan 754, 6. Jeff Jones 746 and 7. Dave Nelson 740.

Defending champion is Bruce Moquin.

Men's Handicap Division winners were: 1. John Clark 823, 2. Roy Wikert 813, 3. Wendall Poucher 809, 4. Lane Nelson 808, 5. Bill Avery 804, 6. Alex Brown, 7. Mary Boyko 787, 8. Last year's winner was Ron Carone.

Eagle jayvee nine downed

Seeing a six-run lead disintegrate, the East Catholic jayvee baseball team fell, 8-7, to Gilbert Saturday in Winsted. A seven-run bottom of the seventh inning turned the trick for Gilbert.

Jim Dakin added three hits including two doubles, Don Martin had a bases-clearing triple and Tom Boland had a long two-bagger for the Eagles. Kevin Shehan and Harry Graham played well defensively for East, now 2-7 for the season.

In the first half of a doubleheader, the East freshman squad made a successful debut by an 11-7 count over Gilbert in Winsted.

Matt Awater received three of the first six innings allowing only one hit and one run before tiring in the seventh. Howie Furlong had a triple and single and Awater, Jim Parisi and Dave Blake had RBI blows for East. Cret Denmark and Ralph Macaroni played well in the field.

Three-foot putt saved Ziegler

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Larry Ziegler prevented a sudden death playoff Sunday with a three-foot putt in the final green that provided a one-stroke win over Victor Regalado and a two-stroke margin over the charging Tom Watson.

Ziegler, who collected the top $35,000 in the New Orleans Open, had a 69 on the first hole, but eventually would take him to Tokyo for a tournament there.

Following the top three a seven-year-old developed for fourth place. That group included Jack Nicklaus, Gene Lauer, Gibby Gilbert, Lee Elder, Jim Colbert, John Mahaffey and defending champion Billy Casper.

MCC run spree nets victories

It's doubtful that Manchester Community College got much satisfaction from its two weekend baseball victories over hopeless South Central Community College (20-0) and hapless Greater Hartford Community College (13-2).

But MCC Coach Skip Olander must be happy anyway as the wins put the Cougars back on the winning track after a two-game losing streak. The Cougars didn't put it away until the fifth inning when they exploded for 10 runs while knocking out two pitchers.

Paul Placido finished the weekend with five hits and four RBIs. Jim Blanchard rapped four hits and knocked in two runs. Jack Maloney had five RBIs despite a nagging ankle injury which hampered his base running.

NBA playoffs not any breeze

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nobody is going to breeze through the National Basketball Association playoffs this year.

The Buffalo Braves made it fact clear to the Boston Celtics Sunday with a 98-93 triumph that narrowed their deficit to 2-1 in the best-of-seven Eastern Conference semifinal series. In a Western Conference semifinal series, Seattle gave Phoenix the same message as the Sonics whipped the Suns 114-108. Phoenix now holds a 3-2 edge with the next game on its home court Tuesday.

The Detroit Pistons, who stumped defending champion Golden State at Oakland in the second game, will be looking to even that series at two games a piece tonight in Detroit. And Washington, a preseason pick to go all the way, will be fighting for its playoff life at home tonight against Cleveland, which lead 3-2.

Seattle Coach Bill Russell credited his team's victory to some advice.

"A great rebounder once told me that going for position, not the ball, was the key to rebounding," Russell explained with a sneaky smile.

"Who? Oh, I told myself."

The Sonics forwards, pushed around by the strong-arm combination of Gar Heard and Curtis Perry in four earlier games, retaliated Sunday with a superb inside game that earned Seattle a 67-52 rebound margin and an easy win. Heard and Perry combined for just four rebounds while Seattle starting

19th Hole Rudi spotlighted in Oakland cast

NEW YORK (UPI) — Reggie Jackson's departure may be the best thing that ever happened to Joe Rudi's career.

For several seasons Rudi has been sort of the unsung hero of the Oakland A's — a quiet, steady performer who plays superb defense and delivers timely hits yet seldom sees his name in the headlines.

Jackson, a close personal friend of Rudi's, was the attention grabber. An outspoken, flamboyant type who wooed the fans with his long home runs, Jackson was regaled by Oakland fans. When he was traded to Baltimore earlier this month, along with pitcher Ken Holtzman, he was mourned in the Bay Area.

Rudi, who has been the biggest mourners was Rudi.

"I don't think the guys we got from Baltimore are as good as Kenny or Reggie," Rudi said at the time. "(Mike) Torrez isn't as good a pitcher as Kenny, and (Don) Baylor is no Reggie Jackson. I don't want to take anything away from the guys we got, but..."

Flyers, Bruins advance to NHL semifinal round

NEW YORK (UPI) — The king's opening game was little wet but the middle game was good enough for checkmate.

The king — two-time defending Stanley Cup champion Philadelphia — was unexpectedly thrust into Sunday night seventh game in its quarterfinal series with Toronto, a team it knocked off in four straight contests last year.

"They told me, 'just play your game,'" said rookie center Mel Bridgman, who had two goals within 16 seconds in the second period as the Flyers broke away to a 3-1 victory.

Although the Flyers failed to beat the Leafs in Toronto in three tries, they knew the Leafs couldn't beat them at Philadelphia. After all, Philadelphia had won 36 of 40 regular season home games, the best record in the league, and won all three previous playoff games at home, too.

But for one period, the Leafs led 2-1 and started the second period with a man advantage for better than three minutes. Then came the Flyers' famous home-ice surge. Five goals in the second period, including Bridgman's two goals and one each by Don Saleski and Ross Lonsberry. Reggie Leach added the fifth goal of the period, which ended with Philadelphia on top 6-2.

In the other National Hockey League playoffs, Boston clinched its quarterfinal series with Los Angeles, winning the decisive seventh game 3-0.

Likely duel

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The Kentucky Derby shapes up as a duel between Honest Pleasure and Bold Forbes, but trainer Johnny Campo was brimming with his usual confidence as he discussed Play The Red's chances.

The round New York trainer is always filled with optimism, and long odds against Elmentor's Play The Red failed to dampen his spirit on a chilly Sunday morning.

Anticipating Saturday's 102nd running of the Kentucky Derby, Campo was one of only three trainers at the Churchill Downs barns as the field of eight began the final week of preparations for the $125,000 added classic.

EC runners place in Eastern Relays

Several members of East Catholic track team did well last Saturday in the Eastern Connecticut Relays.

The 4x400 relay foursome of Cephus Nolan, Mark Skehan, Mike Hennessey and Jim McCann won the Class M run with a 3:33.5 clocking. The 4x110 foursome of Peter McCann, Tom Sipples, Bill Pasek and Arnie Carter took second in Class M with a 1:47.9 clocking.

Cephus Nolan was second in the 100-meter dash and came back to take fifth in the triple jump with a leap of 41-feet, 10 1/2-inches. The trio of Nolan, Steve Whitham and Mike Evans gained third in the triple jump. Whitham placed fifth in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles.

Bob Caffrey took fifth in the high jump while the 4x880 relay team of Skehan, Hennessey, Carter and Joe Stamp placed third with an 8:24.2 clocking. The four mile relay team of Luke O'Connor, Eric Lecko, Brett Jones and Steve Colbert was sixth.

Held Friday and Saturday was an AAU Swim Meet cosponsored by Manchester State Bank and the Manchester Rec Swim Club at Manchester High. Local swimmers took many honors.

Guy Gunderson won the 100-yard butterfly and 100-yard individual medley in the open age group. Karen McArdle took second in the 200-yard butterfly and third in the 200-yard individual medley and third in the 100-yard butterfly. Sandy Marshall took second in the 200 backstroke. Chris White was third in the 200 breaststroke while Bob Michael was second in the 200 backstroke for boys.

Linda Jefferson was second in the 50 breaststroke for girls' 9-10, while on the boys' side, Jeffrey Borgie tied for third in the 50 breast and 100 back and 200 butterfly. Bob Michael took second in the 100 back and third in the 50 free.

Beth McDonald tied for first in the 100 back for girls 11-12 years old and

Don Davidson fired over hotel suite

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ted Turner owns the Atlanta Braves, and he has his thing about hotel suites. He doesn't like his help staying in them. More important, he doesn't like having to pay for them.

Turner provided a strong clue to his feelings about hotel suites last month while the Braves were training in West Palm Beach, Fla., upon walking into one occupied by Donald Davidson. Turner had promoted Davidson to vice president a few weeks after buying the club.

Davidson isn't your usual vice president. He started with the Braves as a batboy 40 years ago and has served the club as publicity director, traveling secretary, game director, and assistant to the president.

And, weighing 90 pounds and standing only four feet tall, he sticks out like a Tom Thumb.

Davidson goes with the Braves franchise.

He did until last Sunday when Ted Turner fired him.

To get back to Davidson's West Palm Beach hotel suite, Turner surveyed the three-room unit and noticed it had two beds.

"Who sleeps in all these beds?" he wanted to know.

Davidson said he used only one and explained there was no extra charge for the suite and that the club was paying the regular single room rate of $25-a-day. His explanation didn't thrill Turner much.

Last Saturday in Philadelphia the same topic came up.

Davidson, sitting in the lobby of the hotel where the Braves stay, was talking with sportswriter Wayne Minshew of the Atlanta Constitution when Turner came along. The three talked for awhile and the conversation switched to the hotel accommodations.

Turner said he didn't understand why Davidson and Bristol had to have suites, and wanted to know how much they cost.

"Mine is complimentary," said Davidson.

"How much is Bristol's?" Turner inquired.

"Forty dollars a day," said Davidson.

Candy Man just dandy

NEW YORK (UPI) — The "Candy Man" looks just dandy to the Pittsburgh Pirates again.

The "Candy Man" is John Candelaria, the 6-foot 7-inch left-hander who pitched brilliantly for the Pirates during the second half of the 1975 season and is being counted upon to be a 15-to-20 game winner this season.

As usual, the Pirates know they have the bats. They think they also have the arms necessary to win the National League's Eastern Division title and the pennant. But one of those arms almost has to belong to Candelaria.

The Houston Astros 4-2, the St. Louis Cardinals downed the San Diego Padres 3-1, and the Los Angeles Dodgers scored a 3-4, 10-inning triumph over the Chicago Cubs in other National League games.

Reids 7, Expos 0 — Dave Concepcion hit a two-run homer and Johnny Bench and Ken Griffey also drove in two runs each for the Reds.

Braves 3, Phillies 2 — Dave May's two-run homer in the sixth inning stood up as the winning blow after the Phillies rallied for two runs in the bottom of the eighth to draw within one run.

Mets 1, Astros 2 — Jon Matlack allowed three hits and two runs in six innings and Ken Sanders shut out the Astros the rest of the way to pick up the win. The Mets scored the tiebreaking run on a wild pitch by Joe Niekro in the eighth inning.

Dodgers 5, Cubs 1 — Ron Cey singled home Ted Sizemore with the winning run in the 10th inning.

Cardinals 3, Padres 1 — John Curtis yielded 10 hits, including a homer by Mike Ivie, but went the distance to his first game for the Cardinals, who defeat Stan Spillner his third straight defeat.

Dodgers 5, Cubs 1 — Ron Cey singled home Ted Sizemore with the winning run in the 10th inning.

Most important, of course, was that it was a game the Pirates didn't win with their bats.

"He showed the world that in last year's playoffs," added Murtaugh, referring to Candelaria's 14-straight performance in a losing effort against the Cincinnati

Reds. "This young man is a good one and everyone in the league knows it."

The Pirates scored all their runs in the fifth inning when Willie Stargel homered and Dave Parker, Richie Hebner, Taveras, Candelaria and Rennie Stennett singled.

"I don't think this game was anything special," commented the unflappable Candelaria, "except that it helped us snap a four-game losing streak."

The Cincinnati Reds defeated the Montreal Expos 7-0, the Atlanta Braves beat the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2, the New York Mets topped

Kids are in Kahootz

Bolton
Because minors were apparently being served liquor at the Kahootz (former Bolton Lake House), Resident State Trooper Robert Peterson received many complaints from Bolton residents.
Peterson said he did not blame the Kahootz owners. He said, "The kids were presenting false identification."

Demos caucus Tuesday

Hebron
There will be six Democratic caucuses Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Hebron Elementary School for Democratic presidential candidates.
Caucuses will be conducted for Henry Jackson, Morris Udall, Frank Church, Fred Harris, Jimmy Carter and an uncommitted slate.
The caucuses were set up by local temporary moderators. They are Howard Porter for Jackson, David Albee for Udall, Wayne Miller for Church, Cynthia Wilson for Carter, Joseph Morocco for Harris, and Aaron Rod for the uncommitted.
Each caucus will elect a permanent moderator and secretary. There will be two delegates elected at each caucus.
All registered Democrats are eligible.

Bolton Democrats to caucus

Bolton
Seven Democratic caucuses will be conducted simultaneously Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the town hall.

The Board of Education, in a 6-4 vote, has agreed to appeal a state order demanding the names of two terminated teachers be revealed. The dissenting vote was cast by Republican board member Joan Cushman. The Freedom of Information Commission ruled last week that the names of the two fired teachers are public information and should be made public under the new right-to-know law.

ANDOVER - The Board of Education will explain its 1976-77 budget at the meeting of the PTA tonight at 7:30 in the Elementary School library.

Coventry settles on 4-mill tax hike

MONICA SHEA
Correspondent
After almost nine hours of discussion Saturday, the Town Council has agreed that there will be a 4-mill tax increase for 1976-77.
The two proposed budgets plus the increase in the debt service would have required a 17-mill increase.
The 4-mill increase will mean a total budget of $2,615,700 for the Board of Education. This is about $275,000 less than the board requested.
The General Government portion of the budget will be $1,034,566 which is about $234,000 less than requested. The Town Council was unable to agree Saturday just where the cuts would come in the General Government budget and will meet again tonight at 7:30 to make the cuts.
After much discussion and figuring the council did decide that there was a surplus of about $90,000, but were not able to decide if any or how much of this surplus would be used to defray a tax increase.
One mill will generate about $43,000 in tax revenues.
There was some heavy discussion about just what the taxpayers had indicated at the public hearings that they really wanted.
Robert Olmstead said, "I think the taxpayers said they wanted no more than a 5 per cent increase in the budget, but I don't think they knew what the financial implications of that would be."
Jesse Brainard said, "The action taken at the public hearings was clearly not binding on the council. But I ask you to think, if this budget comes out in excess of a 5 per cent increase at the annual meeting, would you have allowed just a 20,000 increase for the two budgets.
Motions were made and defeated on a mill increase of 5.8 mills, 5 mills and 4 mills before a new motion of a 4-mill increase was passed. A motion was made to cut the position of road crew supervisor, but this motion was withdrawn after two conversations with the town attorney.
During the first phone conversation the attorney, Abel Schwebel informed the council that they could eliminate positions but later called back to remind them that the town was self insured for unemployment so that about 60 per cent of what was saved would have to be paid out in unemployment funds.
The Town Council was going to reassess the budget and come back at tonight's meeting prepared to make cuts.
The meeting will take place at the Board Room of the Town Hall at 7:30 p.m.

School board lists proposed cuts

Proposed for cuts is the newly implemented Health, Education and Human Development program materials. The salary for a new coordinator to replace Joel Wells has been cut from $15,000 to $13,400.
Wells resigned effective June 30.
Officials have said that while materials and the coordinator's salary will be cut, no portion of the sex education program will be eliminated.
Other possible steps for budget cuts mentioned by board officials are:
* No new teachers will be added to the school system.
* Girl's softball in the middle school may be cut.
* Sneakers will not be provided to the basketball teams.
* Cheerleader's bloomers will not be purchased.
Meanwhile, the general budget cuts have eliminated the leaf collection program, and cut back snow removal, some police overtime and new trucks and equipment.
Budget discussions for both the general government and board of education will wind up this month with public hearing and the formal adoption of a new tax mill rate.

Vernon school board to cut budget

The priority item on tonight's agenda for the Board of Education officials is to eliminate the need to layoff any teachers by not filling positions which will become vacant due to retirements and resignations.
It has been proposed to reduce the teaching supply account by $13,871 by cutting some out of each school's requests.
Another area that will probably be reduced is equipment budgets for the various schools. At the last meeting of the committee a tentative cut of $11,143 was made in this account. It also proposed to cut some $10,000 from the tuition account in the area of special education.
Mrs. Ryehling told the council, "I don't do justice to my own office now, but I will be willing to help get the budget ready. You will have to understand that I will be able to do no more than maintain the status quo."
Mrs. Ryehling also indicated to the council that she would not be willing to deal with labor relations problems.
The council established a committee of two, Robert Olmstead and William MacEwen, to determine the method to be used in finding a replacement for Allen Sandberg.
This committee is to return to the Town Council at its May 3 meeting with a report.

Fireworks display to take $3,000

Coventry
Rose Fowler, co-chairman of the Bicentennial Commission Fireworks Committee, said they are seeking funds for their first fireworks display.
"All residents, clubs and businesses are urged to donate as soon as possible. We are faced with a June 1 deadline at which time we must have $2,000."
"If the money is not raised by this time then the display must be canceled," she said.
Donations may be sent to the Heritage Savings and Loan Association, Rt. 31 or placed in firework cans from the tuition account in the area of special education.
The council established a committee of two, Robert Olmstead and William MacEwen, to determine the method to be used in finding a replacement for Allen Sandberg.
This committee is to return to the Town Council at its May 3 meeting with a report.

DEP will give grant for Andover dump study

Bolton
The $22,000 available to Bolton from the state Bonding Commission to study a disposal site may be used for a study of the Andover Disposal Area.
The study would be of acreage not presently being used.
In order to use the funds, there must be a long-term contract between the two towns to share the disposal area and a commitment to use the site if it is found adequate.
The information was given to the Board of Selectmen by Charles Kurker, principal sanitary engineer, solid waste management state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP).
The selectmen requested the aid of Andover in having the DEP do an initial evaluation of the site before today.
The Andover Board of Selectmen has scheduled a special meeting for

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren
DEAR ABBY: Something bothers me, and I would like your opinion and the opinion of others who have dealt with this problem.

DEAR PICKY: Diplomatically tell the gentleman that has the bad habit and suggest that he be less obvious about it. Don't insist that he drop the habit unless you want to drop HIM. Old habits die hard.

DEAR WEAK: If your description of the pet is accurate, I'm with you all the way!

For Tuesday, April 27, 1976
ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today, concentrate on situations that can mean something to you materially. It's possible you could reap very large returns.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You may have a few business opportunities today, but don't let them get the best of you. Conditions brighter later on.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Though you may be a little restless in what you do for others today, it could turn out to be a sound investment in good will.

CANCER (June 21-July 23) This is a good day to talk to persons of influence who could help you. You could gain something out of this.

Sweet Adelines
BOSTON (UPI) — Three Connecticut women's barbershop quartets took the first, second and third prizes at the first annual chorus and quartet competition for the Sweet Adelines held over the weekend.

The Fine and Dandy Quartet of Stamford received the first award, the Mountain Laurel of the greater Hartford chapter placed second and Yankee Flair of Simsbury was third. The novice quartet award was won by the First Impression Quartet of the Farmington Valley chapter of Simsbury.

In the chorus competition the Yankee Maid chapter of Stamford placed first, the Mountain Laurel chapter came in third and the Farmington Valley Chapter placed fourth.

Power outage
WATERBURY (UPI) — About 500 Connecticut Light and Power, Co. customers were without power for slightly more than two hours Sunday after a car hit an electrical pole on East Main Street. Police said the driver was unharmed.

Affected by the power outage from 3:50 p.m. until 6:10 p.m. were residents of East Main, Oak and Orchard streets.

Alert is off
WINDSOR LOCKS (UPI) — The rain that started late Saturday, dousing Connecticut with a much-needed downpour, has ended the high forest fire danger in effect since April 3.

"This is the good soaking rain we've been looking for," said Charles Snyder, a state forest fire control officer. He said very little forest fire activity was reported Saturday, resulting in a discontinuation of the danger alert as of late Saturday.

Boy at race killed; youth dies at crash

Donald Beckwith, another spectator, said the jeep came out of the woods, hit a mudhole and went charging across a cornfield, missed a food stand by a few feet, hit a bump and flew into the air and either hit or landed on the spectators.

Donna Weeks, 16, of Bolton, was also hit. She was treated and released at Norwich Hospital.

Morin was a passenger in a car he owned but was being driven by Laura Descault, 19, of Marlborough.

State Police said the car was east-bound on Rt. 66 in Hebron when the driver lost control, went off the left side of the road and hit a utility pole.

Morin was pinned in the car for about 10 minutes, police said.

Police are looking for a car that reportedly stopped at the scene of the accident and then left. Police said the driver had told several people that he had seen the same car involved in an accident a few minutes before. The car was either a tan or yellow Dodge. Police are asking the driver to please contact them at Troop K in Colchester.

Miss Descault was treated and released at Windham Memorial Hospital. The car had to be towed from the scene.

BICENTENNIAL FACTS
A former slave, Phillis Wheatley, used her literary talents during the Revolution to criticize British tyranny. Born in Senegal, Africa, Phillis was "snatched" as a child and sold in 1761 to the Wheatley family of Boston, who taught her to read, write and restored her freedom. Phillis Wheatley was the first black American to publish a book of poetry, The World Almanac notes, in 1774.

Area police

Vernon

Burton F. Stratton, 34, of 200 Regan Rd., Vernon, was arrested Saturday on a Common Pleas Court warrant charging him with seven counts of risk of injury to a minor and two counts of fourth-degree sexual assault.

Police said the alleged incidents took place April 9 and 22. Stratton was arrested after police received complaints from five families in the apartment complex where he lived. Police said the alleged incidents involved children ranging in age from 8 to 12.

Stratton was held at the Community Correctional Center in Hartford and was to be presented in Common Pleas Court 19, Stafford, today.

Daniel Davis, 21, of 75 Orchard St., Rockville, was served Saturday with a re-arrest warrant in connection with a July 1975 incident. The original warrant charged him with breach of the peace, criminal mischief, and interfering with a police officer. He posted a $1,500 surety bond for appearance in Common Pleas Court 19, Rockville, May 26.

Glenn Pelletier, 21, of 106 Hartle Dr., Vernon and Bruce Stewart, 20 and Sarkis Meshejian, 21, both of Glastonbury were charged Saturday with larceny.

Police said the incident involved the removal of railroad ties from the Dobson Rd.-Elm Hill Rd. area.

CLIP & SAVE

you will stop smoking on June 8th

At Smokers, you'll smoke as much as you like until you've learned to quit calmly and comfortably... forever free of the desire to smoke. You will quit painlessly, WITHOUT scare tactics, willpower, hypnosis, or "climbing the walls." Like tens of thousands internationally, you will become a relaxed non-smoker, totally indifferent to cigarettes.

Come to a Free Introductory Session near you... and bring your cigarettes. In a few weeks you won't need them anymore.

"I was knitting a shawl when I had a close call."

Nothing can unravel plans for a leisurely afternoon in the sewing room like the distant ring of a telephone. But now things up: have an extension phone by your side. You'll enjoy the convenience of many a close call, without missing a stitch. Mom will be grateful. Grandma will be thrilled. And an extension phone costs as little as $1.35 a month, plus a one-time installation charge for all phones. Call or visit The Phone Store. Or ask any SNET installer.

Enjoy close calls. With extension phones.
