State

WILLIMANTIC - A federal mediator said there will be no more talks unless striking nurses and Windham Community Memorial Hospital officials change their bargaining positions. The statement followed separate meetings with both sides Friday.

HARTFORD - The Education and Public Health and Safety Committees of the Legislature decided Friday to conduct an inquiry of the goals and operations of the University of Connecticut Medical Center in Farmington. One of the allegations raised is the waste of money at the multi-million dollar facility.

HARTFORD - Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., reportedly will slow down his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination but has scheduled visits to Connecticut May 7 and 8 to campaign for votes in the May 11th Democratic primary.

Regional

BOSTON - Canadian-American imposition of a protected fishing zone stretching 200-miles into the North Atlantic may be illegal and unenforceable, academics told a Council on Canadian Studies Friday. The study contends the plan would only work with cooperation of other Atlantic nations CONCORD, N.H. Following charges Friday by the Justice Department that New Hampshire violated a federal law by mailing lottery tickets across state line in Maine, New Hampshire officials charged the federal government with trying to build a "Berlin Wall" around the state. The suit followed complaints by Maine lottery officials and is the first filed against any of the 13 states conducting lotteries.

NEWPORT, R.I. - Without any fanfare or boasting, until now. Newport has quietly become the "lobster capital of the United States," according to Natural Resources Director Dennis J. Murphy, who reported 2.1 millions pound of lobster, nearly twice that of the top port in Maine, were landed at Newport in 1975.

National

NEW YORK - After 46 years, Lowell Thomas, 84, is giving up his evening radio news broadcast on CBS to devote more time to television and other interests. His first radio broadcast was 51 years ago for KDKA, Pittsburgh.

WASHINGTON - The Environmental Protection Agency Friday reported traces of asbestos, a potential cause of cancer, have been found in the drinking water supplies of five major cities — Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta, San Francisco and Seattle.

Truck driver saves lives of couple trapped in fire

By DOUG BEVINS Herald Reporter

A Glastonbury truckdriver is credited with saving the lives of an elderly couple trapped in an intense house fire on Hudson St. Friday.

Authorities said rapid action by Richard A. Arnold of Glastonbury probably saved the lives of Harold and Tryphena Beebe of 74 Hudson St., who remained hospitalized in serious condition today.

Arnold, 41, was driving on Summit St. at about 11 a.m. when he heard screams and saw smoke pouring from upstairs windows of the twofamily dwelling. He stopped his truck, ran inside and rescued the cou-

Beebe, 83, suffered facial and arm burns; his wife, 80, suffered facial burns, and Arnold suffered minor burns and smoke inhalation. Arnold was treated at Manchester Memorial Hospital and released; the Beebes were admitted.

The initial emergency call went to Eighth District fire fighters at 11:08 p.m. and the frame house was fully involved with fire as the first-men and apparatus arrived within a minute

Three firemen who are Emergency Medical Technicians tended to the injured as other fire fighters attacked the mass of flames with six hose lines. Fire authorities said the blaze was "knocked down" quickly but was

Judge Shea says modern society turning to courts for solutions

By DOUG BEVINS

Herald Reporter We're living in an age in which our traditional institutions are under attack, Superior Court Judge John F. Shea Jr. says, and people are turning more and more to the courts to solve their problems.

Judge Shea, speaking at Friday's Law Day ceremony at the Manchester Municipal Building, said many of the problems brought to courts used to be handled by other branches of government problems, he said. The problems were thrust on the courts by widespread dissatisfaction with the other branches of government.

Perhaps courts should leave those problems to the other branches of government, Shea said, noting there is a lot of criticism that courts are legislating instead of just adjudicating.

Shea called upon everyone in the respect for the law and the courts. legal system -not just lawyers, judges and police -to support the law. The support is needed, he said, so the system can continue to protect individual rights and maintain the American tradition of liberty and justice under law.

The highlight of Friday's ceremony was presentation of the Manchester Bar Association's Liberty Bell Award to Sgt. Patricia Graves, youth services officer for the Manchester Police Department.

House votes to repeal motorcycle helmet law

HARTFORD (UPI) - The House today planned an unusual Saturday session to clear its desks of several major bills in preparation for the mandatory adjournment Wednesday. Among them was the controversial overhaul of the state's higher educa-

Several bills were approved by the House Friday and sent to Gov. Ella T. Grasso for her signature, including measures cracking down on incompetent and disabled doctors and repealing the law requiring motorcyclists to wear helmets.

Under the "sick doctors" bill the Connecticut Medical Examining Board could suspend or revoke a physician's license for a specific list impairments including alcoholism, drug addiction, and loss of competence. The five-member panel would be expanded to nine members by adding two doctors and two consumer representatives, one of them a

"This measure will mean better care for all citizens of Connecticut," said Rep. John H. Morrison, D-Enfield. Mrs. Grasso has said she would sign the bill into law.

Rep. Richard J. Balducci, D-Newington, said a measure eliminating the federal power to withhold federal funds from states without helmet laws is on President Ford's desk and is expected to be signed within 10 days.

A 17-year-old West Hartford youth was killed in a motorcycle accident recently because he was not wearing a helmet, said Rep. Robert D. Shea, D-West Hartford

The helmet law has saved lives and prevented disfigurement, according to Rep. Francis W. Ciampi, D-Waterbury.

Without this helmet law, dear god, what protection do our children have?" he said.

Opponents of the repeal measure, which passed 119-19, said it was part of a state effort to "protect people from themselves" which was destined to fail. They also said helmets interfered with sight and 30 years.

I went completely to pieces and foolishly took up with a man shortly afterwards. I was lost and lonely, and he provided the tenderness and consolation I desperately needed at the time. It was mostly a sexual attraction, and it lasted only a few months.

After we broke up, I met a very fine, 72-year-old After we broke up, I met a very line, 72-year-old gentleman who was everything a woman could want in a husband. He proposed marriage and I accepted. Then I told him about my brief affair, thinking he would understand. Well, he didn't! Instead, he said he couldn't marry me knowing that I was "second-hand" merchandise.

I told him that in all the years of my marriage, I never looked at another man, but he said it didn't matter—my affair after my husband's death was something he could never forzive.

Abby, don't you think he is wrong to hold that against me? I didn't even know him when this happened. I love him and want to marry him, but I cannot understand his attitude. Please advise. HEAVY-HEARTED

DEAR HEAVY: I think he's wrong. But you could be lucky to have found out how unforgiving and unfair he is.

I'm sure you realize how foolish you were to discuss your past with him, Don't make that mistake again. DEAR ABBY: When I first heard about topless swimsuits for girls, I thought it was just a lot of talk, but yesterday I actually saw one for sale in a store!

If women would consider wearing a topless swimsuit in public, we have reached a new low in our civilization—even lower than the decadence that preceded the fall of the Roman empire.

Topless swimsuite! Have we lost all sense of decency?

DEAR MOTHER: The bottoms.

DEAR ABBY: I am in my middle 70s. Since my wife's death 10 years ago, I have been seeing a very lovely married woman who is now in her middle 30s. She is married to a man who barely makes a living for her I am making out my will and want to provide generously for this woman who has given me so much happiness. How can I do so without casting a shadow on her reputation or NAMELESS, PLEASE

DEAR NAMELESS: Talk to your lawyer, and then discuss it with the woman. Remembering someone in a will isn't necessarily an admission of a romantic involvement. DEAR ABBY: Can you stand one more letter about the myna bird who was taught to use dirty words? Eeny meeny myna moe Grab a myna by the toe

DEAR DICK: I heard that on the release of the hit single DEAR DICK: I heard that on the release of the hit single, "Love Rollercoaster," there is a blood-curdling scream in the background. I heard that during the recording, a girl was murdered in the next room and the scream was only heard when the record came out. I listened to the record and heard that scream and it nearly scared me out of my drawers. Is that the real story behind the scream? P. ANDERSON, Clarksville. Tean.

Clarksville, Tenn.

Several people have asked about that scream. The record, made by a group called The Ohio Players, is out as a single and on their album called "Honey." The rumor is that a girl named Esther Sgobba, who poses for album covers, went to the studio to demand money for some back work and got killed. The rumor is totally false. Esther is still around. The truth is that, during the recording, plano player Billy Beck felt that a scream would be appropriate — after all, the song is about a rollercoaster and people do scream on rollercoasters—so he just screamed.

DEAR DICK: I've been waiting for someone to write toyou and express our feelings about that X rated 3 P.M. show on Chunel 3, Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman, I can't understand the producer expecting such a show to be seen in the daytime. All they talk about is sex. I miss the afternoon movie.

THOMAS E. BRUTEN, Stockton, Ca.

That show is syndicated, which means it is up to the individual station to program it when they choose. In Los Angeles, for example, it isn't seen until 11:30 P.M. So you should complain to your local station manager.

DEAR DICK: I read a wonderful book, "Come and Get It," by Wisconsia writer Edua Ferber. I understand a movie was made of it in the 1930's. If so, who played the main parts? Also, who was the beautiful actress playing opposite Gregory Peck in "Duel In the Sun"? DONNA TECHMETER, Lena, Wis.

Yes, "Come and Get It" was made in 1936 and was a great one. It starred Joel McCrea and Frances Farmer and Walter Brennan won his first Oscar as a supporting actor for that film—incidentally, that was the first year supporting actors were honored. The "Duel In the Sun" leading lady was Jennifer

DEAR DICK: I have watched the fine TV presentations of "Rich Man, Poor Man" and have enjoyed them. But something puzzles me. On the second episode, which look place in 1950, I spotted a '55 Studebaker. And on the third show which took place in 1954, I saw a '56 Plymouth taxi. Am I

You're probably right. Nobody keeps track of what cars were used in what scenes, so there is no way now of checking, except to show the film to an expert. But those things happen, hard as they try to avoid them. Most people aren't as eagle-

DEAR DICK: Could you tell me the last lines of All In the Family's theme song, the one Archie and Edith sing. R.H. APPLETON, Taber, Alta., Can.

The line a lot of people can't seem to catch is this: "Gee, our old LaSalle ran great." The problem is few people today remember the LaSalle, which was a Cadillac competitor in the '30s. The show was so aware that the public didn't understand the line they recently had Carroll O'Connor and Jean Stapleton re-record it, enunciating very clearly, but it obviously hasn't helped much

DEAR DICK: My son and I have a bet or how much Baretta weighs. I say about 165 and my son says he weighs 200 or more. Who's right? E.J.W. & SON, Rock Falls, Ill. You're closer, Pop. Robert Blake, who plays Baretta, is 5'9" and his weight is listed at 155.

Just total disaster

WEEKEND - May 1, 1976 - Page 7

Improvement needed in television sound

By STEPHEN FORD

NEW YORK - (NEA) - While the entertainment industry continues to astonish the public with its technological miracles, such as videodiscs, remote control turntables and 3-D laser beams that go bump in the night - the primeval state of television's audio transmission leads to suspect TV sound engineers would be befuddled by gravity.

If there is ever need for rapid improvement in any facet of television, programming aside obviously, it is in the flat, stale sound emitted from that insult called your TV speaker. Ask anyone who's settled down before the video cyclops for a weekend Midnight Special and wished afterward they had turned in early.

.....8-40 TV audio engineers are the first to admit the sound from most TVs is little better than that of a $2.98 transistor radio but claim the fault lies mainly with Ma Bell, who beams most TV audio transmissions

Audio broadcasting equipment used today was originally developed 40 years ago and has never been updated. Ma Bell, the monopolistic behemoth that can beam conversations from the Moon to Washington, D.C., says it won't improve sound transmissions until TV receivers are equipped with the more sophisticated apparatus necessary for good sound reception. TV manufacturers say they won't do so unless Ma Bell proves she can deliver better audio. It's Catch 22 but unfortunately it's the consumer that suffers for their silliness.

The only alternative right now is for quality-conscious local TV stations to arrange simultaneous broadcasts with nearby radio stations so the sound portion comes over the superior radio receiver riginie and Jack will costar in Poseidon AdvenPoseidon Advenbackward considering there is absolutely no reason TV can't improve its sound.

Upside-down eagle is 'Jaws'

By RUSS MacKENRICK

Here is the Bridgeport Centennial half dollar with Coin World's arrows alerting us to the first points of wear. The mintage came to 25,000 with the last thousand remaining unsold until they were wholesaled off in 1950. A recent dealer's offer for an XF was $38. A bright uncirculated brings up to $79, retail.

Stamps and coins

If you don't like the stylized eagle, turn him upside down and you will have a pretty good shark with wide-open toothless "Jaws!

Don't monkey with P. T. Barnum's head, though, or all Bridgeport will be after us. They don't know him merely as a showman and avowed "Prince of Humbugs" down there. They think of him as an author, a newspaper editor, and a real estate developer (he sold houselots at cost for a time). He was noted in Bridgeport for philanthropy - see the park they have. Also they know him as the city's mayor and a state legislator. He ran for Congress and was even asked to run for president on the Prohibition ticket.

He received mail from overseas addressed simply: "Barnum, America."

Outside Bridgeport he comes to mind mainly in terms of the songbird Jenny Lind, the midget, Tom Thumb, and Jumbo, the world's largest-ever circus elephant. This animal stood over 11 feet at the shoulder and weighed 61/2 tons. The name. Jumbo, has become part of the language and lives on to denote fair-sized eggs and olives.

Barnum was a prankster who loved to bamboozle both for business and for sport. Early in his career he had a museum in New York City where patrons got to hanging around - sometimes bringing lunches and staying overnight. He had a sign put up saying "TO THE EGRESS." The brown-baggers, expecting perhaps to see a female unicorn nursing her young, headed for that doorway and found themselves in the open air.

P. T. made and lost several fortunes, but at the end his estate came to four million and he died at 80 asking how the circus receipts were for that day.

Modeling a stamp

If you have ever stopped to read the USPS Stamp Posters at the local PO, you must have wondered about the word "Modeler" as applied to getting out new ideas. The designer designs and the engravers engrave, but what is there to model in a flat thing like a stamp?

The S. P.A. Journal clears it all up in their April number.

The term harks back to the time that engraving was the only way. Someone had to assemble the artwork and lettering into a large "working model." From this, a stamp-sized photograph was made and presented to the Postmaster General for approval. After the OK a similar photo was used by the engravers in making up the master die.

In some cases the designer, who got all the credit, gave only rough sketches and lettering notes to the modeler, who then made up the actual artwork.

There have been some changes now that gravure printing is in, but the modeler is still the working Joe who puts it all together.

Down-river post

The down-river people are at it again. The Rocky Hill Bicenters will have another Ferry Local Post label to carry a letter to South Glastonbury, or the reverse. Two cents more this year to help defray the cost of the town's events.

The USPS also requires the use of one of their products, so a total of 25 cents will get your missive that ferry ride. The new design and FDC ordering info is in the April 26 Linn's. The actual day of issue depends on the river flood conditions probably May 15.

Regular meeting

The regular meeting of the Central Connecticut Coin Club will be at the KofC Hall, 38 Main St. on Tuesday, May 4 at

MANPEX was great

Take it from overawed by the competition, and winless, the exhibits at MANPEX '76 were just great.

The top award for a club member was taken by first-time exhibitor Richard M. Hooper with "Methods and Styles of Precancels." Another gold medal was won by E. B. Bushnell with "Use of First Issue U.S. Revenue Stamps." Ed will also be represented at the International show in Philly May 29 through June 6.

At the awards banquet Saturday at Willie's, Chairman Gerry Caron got a standing ovation for his smooth-running

The speaker at the banquet, thanks to President Bob Deming, was Sister Fidelma Conway, director of the Cardinal Spellman Philatelic Museum. More on
