Indiana vote crucial to Ford and Reagan

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Ford says he is the underdog in two of today's three primary matches against Ronald Reagan but he says he hopes to break Reagan's momentum with a victory in their "crucial" clash in Indiana.

Ford characterized himself as the likely loser in conservative Alabama and Georgia but he said he thought his chances "are very, very good" in Indiana, which borders his home state of Michigan. The District of Columbia also holds a primary today, but Reagan did not run delegates in that race.

PZC members considering the rezoning site, Paris declined to withdraw, saying he could act fairly as in the past, and Sielfert upheld Paris' decision.

Connolly lives in Willimantic but will soon move to Coventry. The appointment came after a one-hour and 15 minute executive session.

His salary will be $17,200 with a review in six months. The council had not planned to make Connolly acting town manager. But Elizabeth Rychling, town clerk and acting town manager, asked to be relieved immediately.

Eighth District directors pare preliminary budget to $252,000

By SOL R. COHEN
Herald Reporter
The route to its mid-June annual meeting, when district voters formally will adopt a 1977 budget, the Eighth District board of directors Monday night sliced about $25,000 from the preliminary budget proposed and pegged the total temporarily at about $227,000 — down about $17,000 from the current budget.

Expecting a large turnout, the directors had scheduled the hearing in the Whitton Library Auditorium.
Prior to the annual meeting, the board will review the line items in the budget. Each mill in the budget is the equivalent of $5,000 in tax revenue. During the hearing, one taxpayer asked for a clarification and correction of a situation relating to district taxes. He said he is billed for sewage taxes on his car, even though there are no sewage lines in his street. He said many others are billed that way and suggested that some government processes could be adapted to a computerized system.
Such a study could be financed by about half of the reserve fund which is about $18,000.
The town would have the option of accepting the analyst's report and continuing with the changeover of certain departments to computerization, using the full amount of the reserve fund, or rejecting the analyst's recommendation, which would still leave about half of the reserve fund still available.

Some health inspections on behalf of the federal government.
Louis Halpryn, 45, of Manchester, is executive director of the Connecticut Association of Health Care Facilities, whose 250 members are owners and administrators of nursing homes in the state.
He resigned last Dec. 31 from his $24,000 a year job as director of the state Health Department's Division of Hospitals and Health Care.
The division is in charge of licensing and inspecting health care facilities in the state. It also conducts district officials and will outline the benefits district residents enjoy. The cost for preparing it was approved Monday night.

Most of the $25,000 cut in the proposed budget was in the public works portion — $23,000. Cut was a proposed $19,700 for a jet, sewer-cleaning truck ($2,700 was added for renting one for 1976-77 use), $4,000 for the nine months' salary of a proposed new employee, $1,000 from contingency, and several other items.
Cut from the fire budget was $1,450. Because the Manchester Board of Directors is recommending a 15 per cent hike in water rates and rejecting the 30 per cent hike recommended by Town Manager Robert Weiss, the estimated cost of water charges was cut by $2,000. A $550 increase in insurance costs was the only other change in the fire budget.
Several changes in the administration budget reduced it by $1,840. This budget has $5,000 for legal fees for 1976-77, compared to $1,500 in the current year. The increase is attributed almost completely to the court action relating to fire-service jurisdiction in Buckland.
It is the consensus of the directors that the tentative budget could be handled under the existing four mill tax rate (two mills for fire service and two mills for sewage service), and any cut in the tax rate would require an equivalent cut in the budget. Each mill in the budget is the equivalent of $5,000 in tax revenue.

Town data system plan completed

Republican Edward Wilson, who was rejected last November by a 5 to 4 vote of the Board of Directors for membership on the Human Resources Commission, has withdrawn his name from consideration.
The 4 votes for confirmation were by the three minority Republicans and Mayor Matt Moriarty Jr., Democrat.
In a letter to the Republican directors, Wilson, who was defeated last November in a try for the Board of Directors, wrote, "Please do not construe this letter as my retreat from politics, for I am now more determined than ever to prevent a one-party system in Manchester and, although I have lost the battle, I have not lost the war."
He commended Moriarty

for voting with the Republicans for his confirmation.
He stated, "In the opinion of over five thousand voters last November I was well-qualified to hold the position of a town director, however, in the opinion of only five people on the Board of Directors, who are controlled by the Democratic chairman, I was deemed not qualified to hold, as they put it, such a sensitive position."

Betty's notebook

By Betty Ryder
I had a telephone call a week or so ago from a woman who had just returned from Puerto Rico, the same weekend my daughter and I had returned from Nassau.
On the golf course she was talking with a fellow golfer and when she said she was from Manchester, the woman asked to be remembered to me.
It turns out the woman only said "Say hello, from Molly from Saskatchewan, Canada."
Well, would you believe I can't remember ever meeting a Molly from Saskatchewan. Isn't that awful! This may be the mystery of my life!

Panaro-Everett

Checking out the grocery bags as I arrived in the kitchen, one inquisitive one said, "What's this?" And, I proudly answered, "Liver."
Well, the reception was cool after that, and I was informed that no matter how I "doctored" it up, whether with bacon or onions, or both, it was no go.
I tried some of my mother's old persuasive wiles and said "It makes you grow tall," and "you really need it — it's full of iron."
As one of the nearly six-footers looked down on his diminutive mother, he said, "I'm tall enough and it's so full of iron you can't chew it!"
Well, I immediately thought of the old ruse my mother used to use when we protested eating food that was supposed to be so good for us. She'd beam sweetly and declare, "You either eat it or wear it."
Well, we never wore it. Can't you just see my brother going around with liver hanging over one ear? We always managed to chew just enough (the rest we hid under the mashed potatoes) and made a quick escape from the dining table.
Anyway, my great purchases in not going to waste. Grandpa said he'd love it. But, given he's already six-foot-two.
Seminar on Canada
The Canadian Government Office of Tourism has invited me, along with area travel agents to a dinner seminar tonight at the Ramada Inn in East Hartford.
Frank Galipeau (perhaps you remember him from one of our travel shows on Canada) is the host and will show films on vacations in Canada.
Sounds like fun. I've only been to Canada once, (about a year ago) when the Montreal Modes (fashion shows) were flying a few editors in from New York City for the weekend. It certainly is a beautiful country — the little bit I got to see. Perhaps I'll get back one day for a more extensive visit. I hope so.

Opinion

Great ripoff of 1976

The Federal Elections Commission law under which the taxpayer, through a Form 1040 checkoff, underwrites part of the campaign expenses for presidential elections is a bad law.

We have had misgivings about it ever since it was first conceived and enacted a few years ago. We were not surprised that the U.S. Supreme Court found the method of naming commission members was invalid.

But what really has convinced us that his law is merely a glorified ripoff was Sen. Henry Jackson's announcement that he was quitting the campaign because he had run out of money.

What he was criticizing was the Congress for not acting quickly enough to remedy the Supreme Court demand that the commission members be appointed solely by the President. This laxity has meant no federal funds to match private funds have been disbursed for several weeks.

Connecticut Jackson chairman, Rep. Robert N. Giaimo, Democrat, said Sunday at Windsor Locks that "The Federal Election Commission, that means the federal government, owes the Jackson campaign as of the end of March over $400,000." He added the failure of Congress to reform the commission was "disgraceful."

Sen. Jackson says he is quitting active campaigning not because Jimmy Carter trounced him handily in Pennsylvania despite heavy Democratic leadership and organized labor backing for Sen. Jackson; but because of the lack of tax dollars.

How cynical can you get? If that in itself isn't enough for the people to demand full repeal of his silly law, please note Sen. Jackson, like several other earlier dropouts with even less realistic chances for the nomination, is just quitting active campaigning and is not formally and officially withdrawing from the race.

Why? By keeping his candidacy on the books, he hopes to get some more federal matching funds if and when the revised FEC bill goes to the President and the President signs it.

The ripoff is not only that many candidates who did have a ghost of chance have lived pretty high along the primary trail these few months, but that they intend to continue to do so in order to pay off debts even though they no longer have even the remotest chance of getting the nomination.

Public financing of political campaigns does work in some countries like Great Britain. The unfortunate thing is that the United States version is not anything like Britain's where the expenditures are controlled and the duration of the campaign is a few short weeks thus protecting the taxpayer from a prolonged drain on the election fund.

If the revised bill goes to the President we hope he vetoes it. Clearly the attitude taken by Sen. Jackson and some of the earlier dropouts in the Democratic primaries indicate that the present federal campaign funding law is being abused. It will be further abused if organized labor is exempted from its provisions as is now proposed.

As we have stated before the real answer to dependence on fat cat contributors is shorter campaigns and over-all spending ceilings. It is ridiculous that presidential primary campaigning should span practically two years and that several million dollars has to be spent in wooing a handful of voters in one state, then again in another, and another from early in the year until almost to convention time. If we are going to have primaries, make them national and on one date.

We fear the federal funding scheme rather than correcting the abuses of campaign financing of the past is merely opening the door to greater abuses with the tempting millions of a federal slush fund. And lord help us, if we open the door to financing congressional campaigns, too.

We ought to thank Sen. Jackson for so dramatically demonstrating us the Great Ripoff of 1976, the Federal Elections Reform Act.

No tax increase budget urged

To the editor,
Our town manager has revised his recommended tax hike of 5.98 mills. Down to 4.3 mills. About one-third reduction on his original recommendation.

I now feel it is up to our board of directors to trim the budget by the other two-thirds and recommend a no tax increase budget.

Sincerely yours,
Wall Baresia

Rooney praised

To the editor,
The upholding of Chief Lannan's decision, by Mr. Weiss, to reduce Brian Rooney from sergeant to patrolman prompts me to write.
I have known Brian for a number of years. Grew up in the same neighborhood and watched as he advanced from patrolman to sergeant on one of the finest police organizations in the State of Connecticut.

At all times he conducted himself as the gentleman he is. It is a shame such severity was used in this case and it saddens me to see the Manchester Police Force lose a man from this position with the degree of personal excellence that Brian exemplified.

Sincerely,
Joe Henderson

Student behavior praised

To the editor,
Because people are quick to criticize and slow to praise, I hope you will publish this letter. During the past two years my wife and I chaperoned two dances at Manchester High School sponsored by the Sand Parents and featuring the Nitty Fifty Boys. Both dances were extremely well attended by hundreds of high school students.

I believe it is worthy of note that not one "incident" occurred at either dance to the best of my knowledge. Everyone behaved properly and the general atmosphere was excellent. Hopefully this will serve as a source of some reassurance for those whose faith in young people is occasionally shaken.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs.

Members of Congress rated on defense votes

By Lee Roderick
The Herald's
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Based on voting records in 1975, the current Congress "very well" may be the most anti-defense Congress in this century.

That conclusion is from the National Security Council (NSC), a leading independent research organization specializing in defense matters. Furthermore, according to the NSC's newly released analysis, a growing number of senators and representatives are voting consistently out of step with the wishes of most Americans, as measured by a public opinion survey by a respected polling organization.

"Votes in Congress," says the NSC, "can either help assure our survival as a free nation or fatally cripple our ability to resist tyranny." The group adds that no Congress prior to the current one has done such things as abandoning South Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos and Angola to the Communists, scrapping America's only missile defense system, and abolishing the House Committee on Internal Security, and leaking every CIA secret entrusted to it.

On 10 key defense-related issues in the House and 10 in the Senate in 1975, according to the NSC, the 535 members of Congress registered a mean score of 70 per cent (half of the members scored higher than 70, and the other half lower). This was the lowest mean score since the group started its analysis in 1970.

"Correct" positions, in the NSC's view, were those corresponding to opinions on general defense issues by a majority of Americans. Those opinions, in turn, were determined by the Opinion Research Corporation in a national scientific sampling of public opinion during May 1975. Most citizens, according to that poll, believe the U.S. should have greater military strength than the Soviet Union and that the U.S. should keep strategic arms agreements, and would pay $20 billion more a year, if necessary, to regain military superiority if it should be lost.

The 10 key national security votes in the Senate selected for analysis by the NSC included aid to Angola, funds for the nation's weapons systems including the proposed B1 bomber, cruise missile, and MarV (maneuverable re-entry vehicle).

Today's thought

No words can ever fully express the beauty of a soul, bared in repentance before God. Emptied of all its impurities and sin, it stands ready to receive its just dues.

Ms. Devanas was charged with three counts of possession of a controlled substance and two counts of possession of prescription-legend drugs. Authorities said small quantities of suspected marijuana and of three types of suspected amphetamines (speed) were seized in the drug raid.

Ms. Devanas was released on a $500 non-surety bond for appearance May 17 in Common Pleas Court 12, East Hartford.

• Two Manchester boys, one age 14 and the other age 15, referred to Juvenile Court on charges stemming from a recent break into a home on Sanford Rd. Fox Hill tower open on weekend

Vernon
Under the direction of the Vernon Historical Society and the Vernon Jaycees, cleanup crews worked Saturday and Sunday at the Memorial Tower on Fox Hill in observance of Heritage Days sponsored by the Bicentennial Commission.

Vandalism to the tower forced town officials to close it to the public. This weekend was the first time in two years the public was allowed to go to the top and see as far as Hartford despite the poor visibility on Saturday.

The present tower was built in the years of 1877-1879 as a memorial to veterans of all wars.

However, the tower now standing was not the first. In a history of Vernon written by Miss Hazel Lutz, she said Fox Hill was used as a lookout by the Podunk Indians. On a clear day the hill commands a broad view of the Connecticut River Valley and even beyond.

The first tower was erected in 1876 of wood, 25 feet square at its base and extending 60 feet into the air tapering up to a 10-foot square platform at its top.

The tower was blown over by a severe blizzard in 1880 and for almost 60 years Fox Hill was without a tower.

The "new" tower stretches 72 feet into the air and the walkway leading to it is 220-feet long. The tower itself is constructed of stones picked up in Vernon.

The cost was about $75,000. The Works Projects Administration supplied the labor and materials.

Roland Violette, president of the Jaycees, said he hopes interest will continue among the townspeople to clean up the area around the tower and to have it used as a family picnic area.

Mayor Thomas Benoit, the Rockville Area Chamber of Commerce and the Rockville Fire Department have helped the

Kehoe sues town for polluting

South Windsor
South Windsor was served with notice as a suit requesting injunction against pollution by the Strong Road Landfill Area.

The suit was filed Monday by Atty. Daniel P. Covattaugh on behalf of John Kehoe Jr., 427 Strong Rd. The suit claims unhealthy, unsightly and obnoxious conditions which have depreciated his property.

The suit indicates Kehoe excavated a ditch along the edge of the landfill. The ditch has been maintained and collects leachate pollutants which come from the landfill and are discharged regularly into the brook.

Kehoe has complained several times to the town and has had tests done on his well water and brook in an effort to show they are being polluted by the landfill.

Kehoe asks $25,000 in damages, $5,000 in exemplary damages and an injunction against the conditions of the landfill area.

South Windsor has received an order from the state Department of Environmental Protection to close the Strong Road Landfill by Sept. 1.

The town is now negotiating an entrance into a regional waste disposal plan, however snags in the plan have caused delay.

Meanwhile, Town Atty. Thomas Dennis filed requests for a one year extension for the landfill.

Council meets tonight

Vernon
The Town Council will conduct a public hearing and a special town meeting tonight to act on $43,294 from Instant Lottery funds to the Board of Education.

The request was made by Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, for use for current fiscal year expenses to comply with the provisions set by the state that the money derived from the Instant Lottery be expended for education.

The board said appropriated funds not used by the board in this fiscal year will be returned to the general fund of the town.

The hearing and town meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Memorial Building, Park Place and will be followed by a regular meeting of the council.

Chairman George Furbish, chairman of a subcommittee on expanded fire-police facilities, will report to the council. He urges an agreement be hired to develop plans for the police station and will ask the council to spend $10,000 to do so.

The council will also act on: A letter and petition from the town and Ellington concerning sewer charges; a letter of resignation from Robert Wehrli, chairman of the Municipal Permanent Building Committee; and a letter from the Planning Commission concerning ownership of Parcel A in the High West subdivision.

The planting was done by Andover residents David Post, committee chairman, Robert Blamund, Diane Peterson, Robert Post and Roy Cody.

Taxes stay at 57 mills

Andover
Residents approved a $1,148,748 budget for fiscal 1976-1977 at the Annual Town Meeting Saturday.

The Board of Education budget was cut by $1,500. Those attending the meeting voted against that amount for the school bus account.

In the past, funds for new school buses have been appropriated each year. There is about $26,000 in the bus account.

Beatrice Kowalski, school board chairman, said the buses cost $12,000 each. The school board transportation committee is reviewing the school's bus needs.

Residents cut the auditor and town clerk budget account by $1,000. J. Russell Thompson, selectman, said area towns are paying less for their auditors.

Thompson asked to delete $900 for membership in the Capitol Region Council of Governments. Thompson said Andover did not get any great benefit from its membership, and recommended the town pull out. The

Cromie prepares own budget

Coventry
Richard Cromie, chairman of the Democratic Town Committee, has charged that the budget prepared by the Republican controlled Town Council is "dishonest."

It intentionally showed low estimates for revenues to exaggerate the financial plight of the town.

A budget prepared by Cromie and other Democrats would maintain a 71 mill rate but would increase spending for the Board of Education by $4,000 and increase spending for the general government portion of the budget by $26,000.

Cromie's budget shows additional revenues of $12,000 from the state for education reimbursement from the Instant Lottery.

It shows a $5,000 increase in the collection of delinquent taxes raising the estimate to $55,000. In previous years delinquent tax collection has run from $63,000 to $73,000.

Cromie also advocates the use of $89,721 from the town's cash surplus to help increased spending without increasing the mill rate.

"The last revenue Cromie devised came from increasing the expected tax collection rate from 95 per cent to 95 1/2 per cent to generate an additional $23,346.

The general government budget increases Cromie proposes are $3,500 in the Booth Dimock Library and $200 for the Porter Library.

One of nicest nights

One of the nicest nights out for this writer as a social function was the testimonial dinner tendered retired Manchester Country Club golf professional Alex Hackney last week.

One of Hackney's prized pupils, Ron "Red" Smith, perhaps best described the guest of honor when he said, "Alex Hackney exemplifies everything about the game of golf that we should know and love."

"He's an excellent teacher," the Maine pro added, "and he taught me things that have made me a better golfer professional." Golf to Alex was a way of life.

The former Connecticut and New England amateur champ out of Manchester served a four-year apprenticeship in the pro shop before joining the pay-for-play ranks.

Smith is head pro at the Webbnet Golf Club in Kennebunk.

While he couldn't make it on the tough PGA tour, Smith has managed to finish in the money in a number of pro events from Maine to Florida.

Short puts

One wonders how Alex Hackney ever had time to play golf as a youngster as he played hockey, soccer, football, basketball and baseball while maturing in Chicopee, Mass. He turned professional at the age of 18, 43 years ago and held membership in the PGA 29 years. The season's first hole-in-one at the Manchester Country Club was credited to Bill Roscoe on the 147-yard fifth. Ed Dik, John Karzes and Bill Stuek watched Roscoe's seven iron shot drop into the cup. The best early round of the season at Manchester was credited to Stan Hillinski. Before getting set for Hackney's dinner, the winningest club champion fashioned a three under par 69 despite hitting out of bounds on the 14th. Hillinski collected five birds in his fine round. Sitting next to the Rev. Philip Hussey at the head table I learned that the golfing pro also is a hockey player while a youngster in New Haven. Like most seriously before taking up the sport seriously, the pastor at St. Bartholomew was a caddy.

Umpires spotlighted as Indians down A's

NEW YORK (UPI) - The Oakland A's and Cleveland Indians are building the kind of rivalry that may draw fans into their ballparks and blood on the field.

A week ago in Cleveland, the two clubs became embroiled in a beanball war that cost the Indians' Buddy Bell time on the bench because of a head bruise and Oakland's Bert Campaneris some anxious moments before Manager Chuck Tanner took him out of the game.

Monday, Cleveland came to Oakland and a crowd of 19,765 turned out. The first time Bell came to bat, he was booed roundly. Conversely, when Campaneris came to bat the fans cheered him wildly.

This time, fortunately, the A's and Indians kept their tempers and instead took out their frustrations on the umpires, especially Rich Garcia, who worked behind the plate, and Lou DiMuro, who was at first.

Dennis Eckersley and Frank Robinson were ejected by Garcia, the pitcher for calling him an obscene name while walking off the mound in the third inning and the manager for waving at Garcia from the dugout in apparent disagreement on his balls and strikes calls.

DiMuro tossed out Don Baylor for kicking his helmet after being called out on a roller to short. Indians' first baseman John Lowenstein played Frank Duffy's throw on the jug and Baylor thought he was safe.

Despite all the side events, the teams managed to play the game—10 innings' worth to be exact—and to the Indians won, 5-4, thanks to a long homer by George Hendrick with one out in the top of the 10th. The A's League RBI lead with 23, and 42-31 with ace Rollie Fingers pitching, they seemed safe. But the Indians reached Fingers for singles by Alan Ashby, Rick Manning and Duane Kuiper to tie it and then Hendricks won it in the 10th.

However, there were some anxious moments before it was finally over. The A's loaded the bases in the bottom of the 10th and Dave LaRoche came on to nail Campaneris on a short fly and strike out Phil Garner to wrap up Tom Buskey's first victory and his third save. Fingers suffered his first loss after two victories.

Last in the shuffle was a three-run homer by Joe Rudi, which enabled him to take over the American League RBI lead with 23, and 42-31 with ace Rollie Fingers pitching, they seemed safe. But the Indians reached Fingers for singles by Alan Ashby, Rick Manning and Duane Kuiper to tie it and then Hendricks won it in the 10th.

The A's loaded the bases in the bottom of the 10th and Dave LaRoche came on to nail Campaneris on a short fly and strike out Phil Garner to wrap up Tom Buskey's first victory and his third save. Fingers suffered his first loss after two victories.

Last in the shuffle was a three-run homer by Joe Rudi, which enabled him to take over the American League RBI lead with 23, and 42-31 with ace Rollie Fingers pitching, they seemed safe. But the Indians reached Fingers for singles by Alan Ashby, Rick Manning and Duane Kuiper to tie it and then Hendricks won it in the 10th.

Sports in brief

Suffolk facelift
BOSTON (UPI) — Landscaping has begun at Suffolk Downs in an eight-year, $25.5-million beautification program to make the track more attractive to horsemen and fans. Vice President Richard Donovan has announced.

Five winners
HALLANDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Jockey Mickey Solomon rode five winners Monday at Gulfstream Park, one short of the track record set 23 years ago. Solomon won aboard Vival View in the first race, Miss Christine M. in the fourth, Key Baby in the sixth, Invested in the eighth and Wrecking Ball in the ninth race.

The victories gave Solomon 45 winning rides during the current Gulfstream meeting.

Plans for career
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dorothy Hamill, America's figure skating sweetheart and Olympic gold medalist, has indicated she will turn pro by signing an agreement with ABC to star in two entertainment specials for work. It was announced Monday.

The specials, scheduled to be aired in the last quarter of 1976 and the first three months of 1977, will represent Hamill's first performances as a pro.

Free agent
CHICAGO (UPI) — Jerry Tagge, a former star quarterback at Nebraska who last year signed with the World Football League, signed as free agent Monday with the Chicago Bears of the National Football League.

Tagge, who previously spent three years with Green Bay, had agreed to terms with General Manager Jim Finks prior to this year's NFL collective draft.

Honor Burroughs
NEW YORK (UPI) — Jeff Burroughs of the Texas Rangers, who hit three three-run homers and collected nine hits in 18 times at bat, has been named Player of the Week in the American League.

The 25-year-old Burroughs, the league's MVP in 1974, was a unanimous first place choice in the balloting.

Central golfers win
SIMSBURY (UPI) — Ford Foster, a junior at Connecticut College, has won medalist honors at the ninth annual University of Hartford Invitational Golf Tournament by shooting a three-over-par 73.

Central Connecticut State College secured a team record of 302 strokes Monday to win the Connecticut collegiate championship at the contest held on Cliffside Country Club's 6,600-yard course.

Ernie Nevers succumbs, called greatest griddler
SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (UPI) — Pop Warner called him the greatest football player of all time, and he may have been right.

In an age when to be a football player you had to go 60 minutes on offense and 60 minutes on defense, Ernie Nevers stood at the top of his class, even ahead of the legendary Jim Thorpe.

Warner, who coached both players, said that Nevers was better.

"Ernie could do everything Thorpe could do," said Warner, "and Ernie tried harder. He gave 60 minutes of himself every game."

Nevers, 72, who was active in sports all his life, died Monday from a heart condition. Funeral services will be private and his family, wife Margery and daughter Tina Gallison, ask that in lieu of flowers donations be made in his memory to the Football Hall of Fame.

His greatest day as a pro came during the 1929 season when, playing for the Chicago Cardinals, he scored a record 40 points against the Chicago Bears on a frozen field. His harvest included six touchdowns and four conversions. Nevers recalled that all the touchdowns came on power plays off tackle and that none covered more than 20 yards.

While football has changed drastically since Nevers played it, historians of the game claim he would have been an All-America and maybe even the best of all in any age because of his tenacity and dedication.

He was without a doubt the greatest football player I ever saw," says Stanford historian Don Lieben-dorfer, whose career at Stanford spanned 20 years. "He could do more things unaided than any man I ever knew. Off the field he was probably as gentle and sweet a person you'd want to meet, but in a uniform he became an animal almost impossible to stop."

Female driver set at Indy

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — The stage is set for Janet Guthrie's debut at the famed Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Officials of this ancient race, the richest in the world, gave the veteran sports car driver the green light late Monday in her bid to nail down a starting berth for the 500-mile race May 30.

First, however, she must pass a driver's test, like any other Speedway rookie.

Only 24 hours after Guthrie, 38, completed in the 200-mile big-car race at Trenton, the Speedway's chief steward, Thomas Binford, and Dick King, director of competition for the United States Auto Club, signed the papers.

They announced that Guthrie, the slender New Yorker and veteran of 13 years of sports car racing, would be permitted to take her rookie driver's test at the ancient 2 1/2-mile oval.

In fact, Guthrie was expected to be among the first drivers to get in a few laps when the track is opened for practice Saturday.

For Guthrie, as well as for the "500," it will be an historic occasion. She is the first woman nominated to compete in the million-dollar chase over at Trenton where she finished the Memorial Day holiday weekend.

Actual time trials to select the 33-car race day field open May 19. Several USAC officials, among them King, kept a watchful eye on Guthrie at Trenton where she finished 15th. A broken gear box sidelined her machine on the 70th lap.

Still, King was quoted as saying, "She looked fine. I think she ran as strong as any other rookie has done. I watched her pretty closely."

"She did very well," said race official Johnny Rutherford, the 1974 "500" champion. "She was no problem. I was impressed the first time she ran. Now Guthrie must impress a critical jury of veteran male drivers who will follow every move of her rookie test. If she passes that one, she is ready to challenge for one of the 33 starting spots."

Free agent
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Wide receiver Joe Fabian has signed with the Los Angeles Rams as a free agent, it was announced Monday.

Female driver set at Indy

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — The stage is set for Janet Guthrie's debut at the famed Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Officials of this ancient race, the richest in the world, gave the veteran sports car driver the green light late Monday in her bid to nail down a starting berth for the 500-mile race May 30.

First, however, she must pass a driver's test, like any other Speedway rookie.

Only 24 hours after Guthrie, 38, completed in the 200-mile big-car race at Trenton, the Speedway's chief steward, Thomas Binford, and Dick King, director of competition for the United States Auto Club, signed the papers.

They announced that Guthrie, the slender New Yorker and veteran of 13 years of sports car racing, would be permitted to take her rookie driver's test at the ancient 2 1/2-mile oval.

In fact, Guthrie was expected to be among the first drivers to get in a few laps when the track is opened for practice Saturday.

For Guthrie, as well as for the "500," it will be an historic occasion. She is the first woman nominated to compete in the million-dollar chase over at Trenton where she finished the Memorial Day holiday weekend.

Actual time trials to select the 33-car race day field open May 19. Several USAC officials, among them King, kept a watchful eye on Guthrie at Trenton where she finished 15th. A broken gear box sidelined her machine on the 70th lap.

Still, King was quoted as saying, "She looked fine. I think she ran as strong as any other rookie has done. I watched her pretty closely."

"She did very well," said race official Johnny Rutherford, the 1974 "500" champion. "She was no problem. I was impressed the first time she ran. Now Guthrie must impress a critical jury of veteran male drivers who will follow every move of her rookie test. If she passes that one, she is ready to challenge for one of the 33 starting spots."

Free agent
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Wide receiver Joe Fabian has signed with the Los Angeles Rams as a free agent, it was announced Monday.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My husband is having an affair with a widow who lives right across the street. When he passes her house, he blows his lights and she flips her vestment blinds. They signal back and forth, and then he makes up excuses to get out of the house to meet her. He says they are only good friends, but I know that she is man-hungry and not at all fussy who she goes with. I also know that she likes my husband. How should I put a stop to this?

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my in-laws: When I married their son (three years ago) I had a beautiful, 2-year-old daughter who had been born out of wedlock. Debbie never saw her "real" father, so the only relatives she has are mine. My in-laws let me know from the beginning that they would never accept Debbie as their grandchild. (They even asked her to call them "Mr. and Mrs. Brown".) Abby, don't you think it's utterly ridiculous for one of my children to call my in-laws "Grandma and Grandpa," and the other "Mr. and Mrs. Brown"? This situation is tearing me apart. What do you advise? HURST IN BAYON ROUGE

DEAR HURST: Your husband while all this is going on if he puts up with it, shame on him. You have every right to avoid your in-laws and prevent them from seeing Johnny until they can treat both children equally. They are wrong, wrong, wrong!

DEAR ABBY: This is for OREGON MOTHER who complained because her adopted Oriental children attract so much attention wherever they go. Human nature is the same all over the world, Abby. We are Americans living in Taiwan temporarily for business reasons. We have two children, 3 and 4 years old, and they have had about all they can take of having their cheeks pinched and their blond hair touched. As first children they receive my annoyance, and they became upset, wondering what was "wrong" with them. But when I realized that their curiosity was natural and they didn't mean to be rude, I reacted good-humoredly and so did the children. We enjoy Dear Abby in the Stars and Stripes. It's like a daily visit home. GLORIA
