AGANA, Guam (UPI) — An Air Manila plane chartered by an American construction company crashed and exploded today on takeoff from Guam airport, killing 46 persons.

Airport authorities said there were no survivors among the 46 persons on the Lockheed Electra aircraft. The 46th victim was an unidentified local man who was killed on the ground when the plane hit his vehicle.

Officials said all of the passengers on the chartered aircraft were Filipino contract workers. Nine were under contract with the U.S. Federal Aviation Authority and the rest worked for a private company.

Gov. Grasso criticized on finances

HARTFORD (UPI) — Republican Senate Minority Leader Lawrence Donatelli, R-Hamden, says Gov. Ella T. Grasso's handling of the state's finances has been marked by "confusion" and "panic."

Donatelli, ranking Republican on the legislature's Finance Committee, said Thursday he was convinced she did not have a grasp on the state's fiscal situation.

He said the governor's handling of the state budget was marked by "confusion, panic, erratic behavior" and cover-up activities that is widening the credibility gap between her administration and the public.

"People are asking with incredulity and anger why the governor and her financial advisors speak of deficits and surpluses in alternating fashion almost on a monthly basis," he said.

State officials, who had predicted the state would have a small deficit, announced at week ends would be a $7.6 million surplus instead.

State Comptroller Edward Caldwell Thursday increased the projected surplus to $81 million.

Winners meet 'Squirt'

Eighth District Dalmatian handler Ken Roback and Fire Lt. Chris Marvin bring a fire engine and the department mascot to Robertson School to meet Mary-Jo Heine and Stephen Garofalo, fifth grade students who won the department's name-the-dog contest, a featured part of the District's recent spring fire prevention program. The two students, who submitted the winning name of "Squirt," will ride the engine with firemen in Manchester's Bicentennial Parade on June 12.

Brown backers raise $7,000 for campaign

The state coordinator of Gov. Jerry Brown's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination revealed today that more than $7,000 was collected in seven days in Connecticut for the California governor's campaign.

Democrat Squatrito of Manchester, who coordinates the campaign from E. Center St. office, said, "The funds collected in Connecticut qualify this state as one of the 20 states needed by Gov. Brown to qualify for federal matching funds. A minimum of $5,000 is needed in each of the 20 states and it appears we'll make it."

He urged those interested in contributing to Gov. Brown's campaign to forward contributions to Brown for President, 465 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90010.

Squatrito said Gov. Brown is expected to visit Connecticut June 11, with a late afternoon appearance at a reception in the Hartford Hilton Hotel.

Gov. Grasso given petition urging I-84 completion

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Ella T. Grasso has been given a petition with 1,200 signatures asking Interstate 84 be completed through Eastern Connecticut.

The petition was given Mrs. Grasso at a meeting Wednesday with proponents of the estimated $240 million project. The road would link Hartford and Providence, R.I.

Windham First Selectman Eugene Lariviere and Willimantic Mayor Arnold Beach were among those meeting with Mrs. Grasso. She has met with both sides on the controversial highway project.

The petition came from persons in the Windham area in the northeastern corner of the state.

Mrs. Grasso has received a report from highway opponents indicating that the petition came from persons in the northeast corner of the state.

Town asked to aid Squire Village family life program

A Squire Village task force has been formed to develop a program to replace the family life program at the village which has been terminated because of budget constraints.

The original program was funded in part by funds provided by the community services division of Manchester Community College.

A group of community and social agency representatives making up the task force has met to develop an outreach program which would begin to fill the void caused by the termination of the Squire Village program.

Recommendations include recognition of Squire Village as a part of the total Manchester community, and sharing of responsibility in the development and implementation of programs by public and private agencies along with the residents.

The main concerns of the task force are maintaining communication with the residents through a kind of newsletter, continuing existing programs for the elderly, providing recreation programs, serving families and servicing the task force will meet sometime this month.

Members of the task force represent Child and Family Services, Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), Youth Services, Community Child Guidance Clinic, Manchester Community College, Manchester Homeemaker Service, Regional Occupational Training Center, Manchester Area Council of Churches, Crossroads, School Social Work Department, and Department of Human Services.

Nancy McGrath from Squire Village is chairman of a steering committee consisting of Janice Chisholm, also from Squire Village; Jennie Talbot from Youth Services; Sue Hodge, school social work department; and Lynn Boggess, a Manchester resident, who will be responsible for coordinating the initial effort and the summer program.

The task force will also be made up of representatives from the existing Village Squire Women's Group, Program for the Elderly, and the Tenants' Association, Mini-School.

New justice for oldest settlers?

When the Indian signed treaties in the 19th century that were to last "as long as the grass grows and the rivers run," he didn't foresee the white man's 20th-century technology, which can change the rivers in their courses or slow them to a trickle.

An area of central Arizona, which has been irrigated and farmed by American Indians for 2,000 years, according to archeological estimates, is gradually reverting to arid desert. For 30,000 Pima, Papago and Mohave-Apache Indians, organized into five tribal communities, it has become a question of how much longer they will be able to grow grass or any other crop with the water they have left.

This tragedy, which has changed once-prosperous, self-sufficient Indian farmers into destitute, welfare-dependent people, was brought about by the theft of their water in violation of rights and supposedly guaranteed them by the U.S. government, charges the Association on American Indian Affairs.

For the past 100 years, says the association, the Department of the Interior has repeatedly subverted treaties, statutes, executive orders and federal court decisions to the benefit of commercial and industrial interests and non-Indian farmers.

Now at last, following lengthy hearings last October by the Senate Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, a bill has been introduced in the Senate to settle once and for all the complex question of the water rights of the five tribes "and to promote their economic self-sufficiency through farming and irrigated agriculture." This is S.3298, introduced by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Essentially, the bill would authorize and direct the personality when he dismissed him as "Lord Buckley" in declaring her candidacy for his Senate seat. Said Mrs. Abzug, "We can no longer afford to regard the United States Senate as a kind of House of Lords, where economic aristocrats preach sacrifice to the rest of us."

WASHINGTON — The late, beloved Bob Conscience once said of New York's Sen. James Buckley, "I like Jim; he's always been kind to us stable boys."

The acquisition would take place over a number of years, allowing ample time for the amortization of investments and orderly decisions on the part of non-Indian water users.

At the same time, the government proposes to spend $1 billion to rescue no more than 151 white-owned farms, whose run-off has been contributing to the pollution of the lower Colorado. This is the estimated construction and operating cost of the Wellton-Mohawk desalinization plant designed to fulfill treaty obligations with Mexico regarding Colorado River quality.

Under S.3298, the Secretary of the Interior would also be authorized to retire these farms, paying just compensation to their owners, and the expensive desalinization plant would not be necessary.

S.3298 "could well be the most important piece of American Indian natural resource legislation ever passed," says the Association on American Indian Affairs, "and celebrate this Bicentennial year with the start of a new era of justice for our first Americans."

Andrew Tully

A Buckley spokesman laughed. "What can I say except thank you, Bella dear, for calling my man noble. Voters like a candidate with class. Classy or not, Jim Buckley indisputably is a man of strong character, a rugged individualist. He votes as he pleases, aloof from the exigencies of politics. Only a Buckley could have stood firm against federal aid to New York City until the city came up with a fiscal recovery program. He voted against federal subsidies for mass transit that probably would have saved the city's 35-cent fare. He voted against minimum wage legislation.

The Democrats think they can beat Buckley's election as they did in a race as this is read. "Buckley is one of the most unrepresentative and worst Senators we've ever had," says Mrs. Abzug. Her opinion is shared by five other candidates for the Democratic nomination, including former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, and by Daniel Patrick Moynihan, the former UN ambassador, who may have jumped into a race as this is read.

Police report

A Wetherell St. woman, returning home Thursday night after walking her dog, surprised a burglar who assaulted her with a knife and then fled. Manchester Police reported.

Police said the woman was walking home at about 11:15 and saw someone in her garage. She asked the intruder what he was doing and he said he was looking at a motorcycle which had been advertised for sale.

The woman said she would call the owner of the motorcycle, and the man approached her, grabbed her by the wrist, pulled a small knife, and aimed at the woman's throat. He then ran away.

Police said the woman suffered a superficial "scratch" which didn't require hospital treatment. After the man was gone, it was discovered that a motorcycle engine valued at about $600 was missing from the garage, police said.

Investigation is continuing. Arrests made of suspects issued by Manchester Police included: Veronica M. Talbot, 43, of 88 Carpenter Rd., charged at 1:20 a.m. today with failure to drive in the proper lane, after a one-car accident at Main and Charter Oak Sts. Police said her car struck a utility pole at the intersection. Court appearance (not mandatory) is scheduled June 15.

Misfire suit HARTFORD (UPI) — Gregory P. Mattus, 31, of West Hartford, has filed suit against two firms because he said he suffered car and tooth damage when a 22 Magnum Marlin rifle misfired. The $75,000 Superior Court suit was filed against gun manufacturer Marlin Firearms of North Haven and ammunition maker Olin Corp. of Salisbury, La. Mattus said the rifle misfired once before he took it to Marlin, which okayed it less than a week before it misfired again.

Free land NEW HAVEN (UPI) — Federal Paperboard Co., which left the city last year, has offered to give the city 15 acres of land and the buildings on it, according to Mayor Frank Logue.

Politics: Puncturing the powerful

WASHINGTON — The Wayne Hays affair is far from a laughing matter, although admittedly there are more than a few gleeful residents here who have little sympathy for the Ohio congressman, who is Capitol Hill's most notorious bully.

At any rate, that such a powerful politician should be brought to low by the likes of Elizabeth Hay evokes memories of other public figures whose egos likewise have been pointedly punctured, albeit with far fewer consequences than now face Hays.

In 1970, another Ohio Democrat, Sen. Stephen Young — a banister rooster of a man likewise famous for his excesses — received a letter from Republican Robert Levitt, then majority leader of the Ohio State House of Representatives. The letter urged Young to resign his office prematurely, so he "would be free to continue your senile meddling and ill-advised, intemperate and immoral statements" regarding the Kent State University disturbance that year. Levitt added that such action would be the "zenith" of Young's career.

Not to outdone, the Senator fired off this reply to Levitt, then had both letters reprinted in the Congressional Record: "Sir: You are an ignorant jerk or a liar. Which is it? You would be too cowardly to call me a senile meddler to my face else you might lose your false teeth. I am told you are regarded as the backside of a jackass.

That four-footed mammal also figured in another heated exchange in American politics, this time between former Rep. James Johnson of Indiana and a colleague who was in Illinois on the House floor. Johnson had called the other representative a jackass — language forbidden by House rules — and a point of order was made immediately.

Rising from his seat to apologize, Johnson said, "While I withdraw the unfortunate word, Mr. Speaker, I still insist that the gentleman from Illinois is out of order." The Illinois representative, to that, let out a scream: "How am I out of order?" "Probably a veterinary surgeon could tell you," Johnson dryly replied.

Then there was the celebrated exchange in the Senate over a century ago between Tim Alexander H. Stevens of Georgia, who stood five feet tall and weighed less than 80 pounds, and a huge western senator.

knocked down, and then kicked by a crowd. At length somebody began striking him in the face with a cinderblock, while a gathered audience cried for blood. Even if the man does live, his face will not quite survive.

It is not one-sided brutality here by any means. Blacks and whites have been equally guilty and irresponsible as regards the city's social humiliation. White simplifications have been known to stand on the edge of the black communities spilling for quick retribution. Black children have formed into gangs whose intention is to seek revenge for real or imagined white violations. Both sides have organized "martial" forces, which in essence — and I am not being rhetorical — are little more than private and self-serving militias.

Today's Thought

Did you know? — that you cannot earn God's love Are you so tangled up in "doing" that you have little energy left for "believing"? Do you believe that your "salvation" depends on what you "do"? Or, are you planning to turn to God "someday" when you're "good" enough? Fortunately for most of us, God's love doesn't depend on our goodness. Through grace, He loves us just exactly as we are. One Bible teacher likened God to a fisherman who "catches His fish before He cleans them." God wants us to believe Him so that we can receive the fullness of His love. Ask God to reveal His love to you and He will. Mrs. George W. Webb South United Methodist Church

A free country, except in Boston

BOSTON — A policeman warned me not to go into Roxbury, as he might warn me not to go into a burning building, with the alarm of one who has himself been burned. But my destination was Brookline, and Roxbury was on the way, and it is a free country, is it not? I drove into the Boston ghetto shortly before nightfall.

It is actually not so bad for a slum. Harlem has more people, the South Bronx has more rats, and, for that matter, the park adjacent to the White House in Washington may cater to more stunting bums. But Roxbury leads in tension at least, brooding about by the endless school busing dispute, and particularly in recent weeks the sight of a white man's auto is enough to bring some residents to boil.

I stopped at a light. Three kids at the curb made strange noises. I nodded, scowled and turned up my radio. Suddenly two of the lads were on my hood, and the third was pouring Pabst on windshield. "Buzz off," I said. They replied with equal eloquence. And since my window was down, and my door now opened, I had no choice but to get out and continue the debate on what was for me, old Whitey and a stranger to these parts, and my door now opened, I had no choice but to get out and continue the debate on what was for me, old Whitey and a stranger to these parts, and my door now opened, I had no choice but to get out and continue the debate on what was for me, old Whitey and a stranger to these parts,

Even I stood there with the kids, a victim of this tension was in grave condition in a hospital following an almost unbelievable nightmare in Roxbury. The man had been driving through and was pulled out of his car by several people. He was hit,

McCoy says parade route is divisive

Yernon
Noting numerous complaints from residents, churches, and others about the route of Sunday's Bicentennial parade, former mayor Frank McCoy is appealing for a change of route. McCoy, in a letter sent to Arthur Rowe, chairman of the parade committee, said, "Although the Vermont Bicentennial parade is but a few days away, I urge you and the other members of the committee to reconsider the parade route." Instead of the usual route through the center of Rockville, the parade will form at the high school and go down Rt. 83 beginning at 1 p.m. to Vernon Circle.

McCoy said the parade should not ignore the history of the town, "much of which is deeply related to Rockville and its development." He said during the 10 years he served on the Town Council and as mayor starting after the town governments were consolidated, "I constantly strove for the elimination of antagonism and divisiveness between the consolidated sections." He said, "It is not too late to change the parade route so as to celebrate the Bicentennial throughout the town."

Mayor Thomas Bennett said Thursday in his press conference McCoy's "eleventh hour" request was unfair. He said McCoy's request was politically motivated.

Bennett said he would also like to see the parade in Rockville but that the parade is just too big.

Area towns get funds

Several area towns will be receiving Title XX (federal Social Security Act) grants to fund social services.

The money will be given to the towns through the state Department of Social Services responsible for developing a statewide plan for use of funds under Title XX.

Allocations are made on the basis of the number of people in the town who are receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children; state supplements to the federal Supplemental Security Income program for the aged, blind, or disabled; or town city general assistance.

Originally some of the grants were under $1,000 for some of the smaller towns. All however, have been raised to at least $1,000. The only area towns falling in this category are Bolton and Andover.

Other area towns and the amounts they will receive, with Vernon being the highest at $26,253, are: Coventry, $3,725; Ellington, $1,419; Hebron, $1,229; South Windsor, $3,384; and Tolland, $1,177.

Town volunteer jobs open

Coventry
The town clerk's office issued a list of vacancies on town boards and commissions.

Four members of the Board of Health have submitted letters of resignation. They are Patricia Popiela, Virginia Grabowski, Patricia Hughes and Marjorie Roach. There is one vacancy as an alternate to the Planning and Zoning Commission. It was caused by the appointment of Marilyn Richardson to a full-time position on the commission.

There is one vacancy on the Parks and Recreation Commission caused by the resignation of Sylvia Bolduc.

There is also one vacancy on the Conservation Commission caused by the resignation of Susan Felice.

Persons interested in these positions may contact either of the town committees, the town clerk or members of the Town Council.

Plans made for Rt. 6 hazards

Andover
Plans for correcting the traffic hazards at the Rt. 6 Shopping Plaza have been completed by engineers from the state highway department.

The announcement came from State Rep. Al Ahearn and First Selectman David Yeomans who have been working with James Spencer of the division.

Key improvements to the area include construction of a bypass lane on the north side of Rt. 6 and a right turn lane into the plaza on the south side.

Merrifield directs summer program

Hebron
The Recreation Commission hired Robert Merrifield as recreation director for the eight-week summer program it sponsors.

Merrifield is a teacher in the Gilead Hill School and was director last year.

The commission also hired Pam McKee as an assistant. She will be in charge of arts and crafts.

A summer movie program begins July 7 and runs eight consecutive Wednesday nights at the Gilead Hill School.

School. There will be a 25 cent charge for children and 50 cents for persons over 18.

The annual town picnic sponsored by the Recreation and Conservation Commissions will be Wednesday at 5 p.m. at Grayville Falls town park. Hot dogs and soda will be provided. Hayrides are being donated by the Bicentennial Commission.

Over 200 have registered for the summer swimming program, said Caroline Murphy, program coordinator.

Recktenwald wins science honor

South Windsor
Kristine A. Recktenwald, daughter of Mrs. Irene Recktenwald of 39 Deepwood Dr., has been awarded the Hensseler Medal from Hensseler Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y.

The medal is an honor given the 11th grade student for outstanding achievement in the study of mathematics and science during the junior year at East Catholic High School.

One junior from each of approximately 1,300 high schools is selected annually to receive this award. Each school, chosen on the basis of its superior academic standards, determines the selection procedure, with the suggestion that the medal be awarded to the junior with the highest combined average in mathematics and science.

League to help school volunteers

Vernon
Members of the Vernon League of Women Voters are gathering information for a "resource" list as a first step in coordinating a volunteer program in the Vernon Schools.

The program was approved by the Town Council Tuesday night. It has already received the approval of the Board of Education, and school administrators and principals.

The resource list will contain the names of all citizens who are willing to share a special interest or skill with school children on a one-shot or short term basis.

The league is also looking for volunteers to tutor children with learning disabilities, such as reading, for several hours each week.

Mrs. Marilyn Foley, league member, said the league is currently contacting all local clubs, organizations and businesses to determine what resources such as films, brochures, displays, tours, or speakers, are available to teachers for supplementing regular classroom instruction.

The league would then index this material by subject matter.

The league has survey sheets available. Anyone wishing more information should contact Madeleine Turk, 10 Valerie Dr., Vernon.

Area police

VERNON
Candace Tankle, of 201 Regan Rd., Vernon, was arrested Thursday on warrants charging her with three counts of issuing a bad check and one count of third-degree larceny.

The arrest was made on complaints made by Better Val-U Market, K-Mart, and the Shopping Bag. She was released for appearance in court on June 15, 1976.

Public places defined as any place to which the general public has access but doesn't necessarily mean the resignation of Sylvia Bolduc. There is also one vacancy on the Conservation Commission caused by the resignation of Susan Felice. Persons interested in these positions may contact either of the town committees, the town clerk or members of the Town Council.

Plans made for Rt. 6 hazards

Plans for correcting the traffic hazards at the Rt. 6 Shopping Plaza have been completed by engineers from the state highway department. The announcement came from State Rep. Al Ahearn and First Selectman David Yeomans who have been working with James Spencer of the division.

Comedy opens tonight

The Harlequin Review will present "Charley's Aunt" tonight and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at Bolton Elementary School. The review is the drama club's Bolton Center School. Proceeds go toward the club's field trip to a theater.

Merrifield directs summer program

The Recreation Commission hired Robert Merrifield as recreation director for the eight-week summer program it sponsors. Merrifield is a teacher in the Gilead Hill School and was director last year.

Recktenwald wins science honor

Kristine A. Recktenwald, daughter of Mrs. Irene Recktenwald of 39 Deepwood Dr., has been awarded the Hensseler Medal from Hensseler Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y.

Dump group to form

Bolton
A seven-member solid waste disposal committee to look into the problem of a long range solution for Bolton's refuse problem will be appointed by the Board of Selectmen.

The Republican and Democratic Town Committees will be asked to submit five or more names. The board will solicit names of independents.

The committee will study use of the Andover Disposal Area, a transfer station, townwide pickup and other methods of refuse disposal.

Ivi Cannon, chairman of the Democratic Town Committee, suggested geographical distribution of members be considered. The selectmen agreed.

At a recent Town Meeting she suggested a committee study the town's refuse disposal problem. Robert Morra, chairman of the Republican Town Committee, in a letter to the selectmen also suggested a committee.

Morra said he feels as the selectmen do that Andover is no solution.

He said, "We need a long range plan, one which would probably mean total pickup or a transfer station as you (selectmen) suggested all along."

Morra said he would like to see all the work done by the selectmen and the information compiled by them go to waste.

Loitering hearing set

Vernon
An ordinance to prohibit loitering in public places will be heard at a public hearing of the Town Council June 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Memorial Building.

Town Attorney Martin Burke drafted it on request of Mayor Thomas Bennett.

Police told Bennett they couldn't arrest persons for this offense without an ordinance.

The ordinance defines loitering as remaining idle in one location and includes the concepts of spending time idly, loafing, or walking about aimlessly including the colloquial expression, "hanging around."

Public places defined as any place to which the general public has access but doesn't necessarily mean

Fireworks funds are raised

Coventry
The Fireworks Committee of the Bicentennial Committee has raised the necessary $2,000 that was needed by June 1 to pay for the fireworks display on the Fourth of July weekend.

The committee had raised $1,234 as of last Friday.

Another $750 was raised at Saturday's auction, $87 was collected at the Bicentennial Booth at the fair, and another $30 was collected from the fireworks canisters around town.

PZC denies application

South Windsor
The Planning and Zoning Commission voted to deny the application of Samuel M. Siskay for an amendment to the town zoning regulations to allow the per cent of lot coverage to be increased from 30 to 45.

The application was to allow use for rental of individual self-storage spaces such as mini-warehouses.

At the same meeting the PZC voted to approve with conditions the application of T and M Building Co. for a second phase of an open space subdivision of property north of Norton Lane and South of Tumblebrook Dr. in an A-30 zone.

Pay up or else

BOLTON - Elaine Potterton, tax collector, said lien notices have been mailed to all persons delinquent with their real estate tax payments. The lien will be put on the real estate. All who did not pay their car taxes have been reported to the state Motor Vehicle Department. They cannot register until they pay.

Do not wait to pump
BOLTON - Calvin Hutchinson, sanitarian, reminds residents septic tanks should be pumped every two to four years depending on the size of the tank and the family.

The last dance
ANDOVER - The Hop River Hoppers final dance is tonight from 7:30 to 10:30 at the Andover School. Theme is "bring a flower." Happy Hal will call. Refreshments will be served and the called is invited. To learn more, call Muriel Smith, 742-8460.

PTO fair Saturday
BOLTON - The Parent Teacher Organization annual fair is Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Bolton Elementary School playground. A bicycle parade begins at 9:30 a.m. at the Town Hall. Prizes will be awarded for the best decorated. If rain, the parade will be canceled but the fair will go on.

Sever funds granted

COVENTRY - The federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) gave the town $50,104 for planning sewers here. The sewer plan will cost a total of $60,159 with federal funds supporting 75 per cent and the state 15 per cent. The town council authorized $7,300 as Coventry's share. The plans involve alternatives for water pollution control to correct septic failures on Coventry Lake. The town Sewer Authority will hold a public hearing June 23 on the problems.

Suggestion box at library
BOLTON - Friends of the Library put a suggestion box at Bentley Memorial Library. A survey on the library may be held in the fall. In the interim, FOL hopes for input through the box. To join FOL, call Joanne Neath.

Dancer to tour with U.S.O.

By BETTY RYDER
Family/Travel Editor

Pretty Mary Cadorette, Miss Connecticut 1975, has been selected as one of the five state representatives who will travel with the reigning Miss America, Tawny Godin, on the U.S.O. Miss America Tour.

Mary, who was Miss Manchester 1975 prior to winning the state pageant and representing Connecticut in Atlantic City, will join this select group of dancers and singers from last year's Miss America Pageant and will entertain U.S. servicemen at military bases in Spain, Morocco, Italy, Germany, Greece, Turkey and islands in the Aegean Sea.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kadryswatz of East Hartford, Mary will leave on July 18 for Atlantic City where she will start two weeks of rehearsals with the other five young women. The group will depart for overseas on August 1 and spend the entire month entertaining our servicemen in various singing and dancing routines.

This will mark the 13th year the Miss America Pageant, in conjunction with the Armed Services, has sponsored the U.S.O. Troupe.

Other members of the variety show team are the Misses Maine, Georgia, Utah, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Mary, who has just completed her first year at the University of Connecticut where she hopes to major in speech pathology, is "very excited."

"I was hoping to be invited but with only five selected out of the 50 states I just kept my fingers crossed," she said.

The 19-year-old jazz dancer said she will be in final in the Miss Connecticut Pageant, but she has certainly been rewarded for her talent by being chosen to make the tour, she said.

Mary, one of seven children, tried out for the local contest sponsored by the Manchester Jaycees, in the hope of getting a scholarship. She is a graduate of East Catholic High School.

Upon her return from overseas, she and the other members of the troupe will begin rehearsing for the televised Miss America Pageant to be aired Sept. 11.

Then, according to Mary she will continue her dancing lessons with Mary Mortlock of East Hartford and get ready to open her books again at the University of Connecticut.

Would an offer of a career in jazz dancing turn her away from speech pathology?

"I'd like to finish my schooling first. But, well time will tell," she said with a twinkle in her eyes.

Speaking of luggage to take on her forthcoming tour, she winced as she said, "We can only take 66 pounds."

She is expected to be the traditional

Manchester schools to offer limited summer program

This year the Manchester public schools will again offer a limited summer school program. Registration for summer school will be from 10 a.m. to noon at Manchester High School on June 23, 24 and 25. The courses being offered are: Manchester High School — English, social studies, math, physical education. Junior high school — English, social studies and math. Students eligible for summer school are 12th graders who need to make up credits for graduation, and 9th graders who need to make up a course in order to enter high school next September. These students will receive top priority. If the budget and space permit, students who need to make up a course in order to be promoted within the grades from 7th to 12th will be taken. They must register by June 25 at the latest. They will be notified if a course is not available. The summer school will not be able to accommodate students if there are not at least 10 students registered for the course that needs to be made up, unless they are seniors or 9th graders. Only Manchester residents may apply. Summer school will be in session from June 28 until Aug. 9. All of the summer school courses, with the exception of physical education, will be in session during that period. The physical education course will be from June 28 to July 12. July 5 is a holiday.

Libby to be guest caller

Ron Libby of West Falmouth, Maine, will be guest caller Saturday at the Manchester Square Dance Club dance from 8 to 11 p.m. at Manchester High School. Russ and Anita White will cue the rounds. Libby is a full-time caller and calls for three clubs on a regular basis, including a challenge group. He has called in Bermuda, the Bahamas and Hawaii and many parts of the United States and Canada. He is known for his singing calls and his "Hash Choreography." Mr. and Mrs. Ron Jacobs have door duty for Saturday's dance. Refreshments will be served by Mr. and Mrs. Don Jorgensen, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jubenville, Mr. and Mrs. Art Kapitek and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Kaufman. Members are reminded that club dues are now payable to Mr. and Mrs. Roland Doucet, club treasurers.

Kapsia wins sewers job

Frank Kapsia & Sons of Glastonbury, with a price of $29,478, is the apparent low bidder for installing sanitary sewers from a trunk line at Folly Brook to a distance of about 1,305 linear feet. Kapsia's bid, the lowest of six submitted, is well below estimates for the job. Others who bid are: the Mather Corp. of Bloomfield, $29,837; Southeast Paving Co. of West Hartford, $34,233; Addison Construction Co. of Glastonbury, $36,430; Brewer & Horan Construction Co. of West Hartford, $50,270; and A. Dzen Construction Co. of Manchester, $74,990.

The Cheney Homestead, 106 Hartford Rd., will be open to the public from 1 to 5 p.m. every day next week except Saturday's parade day. Guest hostesses of Manchester Historical Society members will assist Mrs. Royal Isham, resident hostess, in conducting tours of the 18-room house, c. 1780. Admission is 50 cents, but young people 16 years old and younger are admitted free when accompanied by an adult. The buttery, the last room in the homestead to be restored, will be part of the tours. The 35-square Bicentennial quilt will be on exhibit. It was made by 33 women of the Town Recreation Department's program and presented to the MHS last year. A cultural or an historical building or area in town is portrayed in each of 34 squares. The center square is the town seal.

One-time barber

Did you know Willie Oleksinski was a barber while serving in the Navy in 1951? He also found time to play baseball and some of his teammates at Bainbridge were Johnny Antonelli, Sam Calderone and Danny O'Connell, all major leaguers. Springfield Civic Center will feature the George Foreman Joe Frazier fight on closed circuit television June 15. Jim Penders, East Catholic baseball coach, asks for a ruling on a designated hitter who later enters the game as a pitcher. Rule 6.10 should designate

All matches close

While not a financial success in its first two Hartford World Team Tennis matches to date, the Boston Lobsters have now played three close matches with Indiana, winning two, 29-28 and 20-26 and losing 28-24. Marcia Young, who handles publicity on a top-level scale for the Lobsters, reports the nickname was selected in a contest which produced more than 100, a fitting word for tennis and Lobster because this is one of the city's food specialties. Borg still winning PARIS (UPI) — Bjorn Borg led the favorites, including Americans Harold Solomon and Eddie Dibbs, into the third round of the $210,000 French Open tennis championships, losing only four games.

The United States now has four men in the third round, in addition to Solomon and Dibbs, there are Victor Amaya and Sherwood Stewart, Arthur Ashe and Brian Gottfried have still to play their second round matches.

Borg, the WCT champion who is top seed here, swept aside left-handed Austrian David Copper Hans Kary, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2, on the dusty center court of Roland Garros Stadium.

Borg, the WCT champion who is top seed here, swept aside left-handed Austrian David Copper Hans Kary, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2, on the dusty center court of Roland Garros Stadium.

"I played stupidly and he started playing well in the middle," said Solomon. "But then I started playing to his backhand and he started to hit a lot of drop shots which didn't work."

The power-serving Amaya defeated Germany's Hans-Juergen Plotz, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4. Stewart progressed on Wednesday.

Dibbs, who is quick of temper as he is slow of shot, threw his racquet at the umpire's chair when he dropped his serve to fall behind, 4-5, in the second set. Match official Bertie Bowron of Britain sat impassively as the missile bounced back onto the court.

Cherney COC net champ

Riccio Singles

Cherney Tech, with a point total of 818, won the second annual Charter Oak Conference Tennis Tournament yesterday at Rocky Hill High. It was the second straight year the Beavers have garnered the highest point total.

Mike Riccio of the host team took the singles title with junior Dave Bellefleur and senior Paul Strycharz, both of Cherney, taking second and third respectively.

The Beaver doubles tandem of senior Rob Caron and junior Steve Chase won this division with the Beaver duo of seniors Mike Deyorin and Gary Caravella placing third.

Host Rocky Hill was second with 788 points followed by Coventry High with 692 points. Other teams entered were Portland, Rham and Vinal Tech.

Add the name of Ed Pagani to the list of golfers at the Manchester Country Club who have scored aces.

The popular local barber saw his five iron drive on the 148-yard eighth hole settle in the cup Wednesday as Herb Stevenson and Joe Cerba looked on.

The feat was the second this season at the S. Main St. course.

High girls lose, 7-5

Bowing out of the State Softball Tournament yesterday was Manchester High, falling 7-5 to Glastonbury High in Glastonbury, Conn.

Manchester, ranked ninth in the Class 1-D division, winds up the campaign with a fine 1-5 ledger. Glastonbury plated two runs in the first three hits and two walks. The Tomahawks added a run in the second and tallied three more in the fourth inning. They added an insurance marker in the seventh.

Manchester scored three times in the second inning and one in the third on a single, double and Glastonbury miscue. But the Indians could not manage to get just one more tally in the fifth off winning pitcher M.C. McGuire.

Mary Cochran was the losing pitcher. Seven seniors — Kathi Klotzer, Karen Carpenter, Cochran, Leslie Bartlett, Sue Linsenbiger, Janice Dahm and Lori Hansen — saw their final action for Manchester.

East Catholic had it pretty much its own way in the Girls' Small Division Tennis Championship yesterday at Conard High in West Hartford.

The Eagle pair of Len White and Sue Anderson won the doubles championship and Mary Catherine Murano topped teammate Kellie White to win the singles title. East won the team title (naturally) with 22 points.

The senior doubles team of Anderson and White held service with the Weston High tandem of Jane Rohman and Tracy Swiggett in the final game and took the next three to win the first set 6-2.

Weston held service in the second set but then the East performers, the No. 2 seeds, ripped off the next six games to win the match 6-2.

Top-seeded Murano didn't give her sophomore teammate much of a chance as she took the singles crown with scores of 6-0, 6-1. Murano, a junior, breezed through her first three matches before running into Rham High's Cheryl Lack in the semifinals. They split the first two sets, Lack winning the second 7-6 in tie-breaker, before the Eaglette took charge winning the third set 6-1.

Kellie White won her first match at love against Debbie Donalds of St. Thomas Aquinas. She gave up three games to the second opponent before running into some trouble in the third match against Joel Barlow High's Kim Snyder. Snyder won the first set 6-4 before White rebounded to take the next two by scores of 7-5, 6-4. She defeated Kate Downey, also of Barlow High, in the semis 6-1, 6-4 to move into the finals against Murano.

The win was the first in two starts for Hartford Twilight League play. Racking up win No. 2 in as many games, Manchester Community College tripped up Volkswagen, 6-4, although out-hit, 10-8.

Mike McDonald stroked three hits and Ray Sullivan, Jim Baleano and Steve Galtner two as the MB's came away with 13 safeties. Bidwell scattered four hits in relief.

The locals broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth game before White rebounded to take each of the last two innings.

Low Wellington paced MCC which led from start to finish and withstood a last inning rally to win. Wellington collected two doubles.

Conard ousts MHS in playdowns, 8-3

Like a divorcee who hasn't been receiving her alimony checks at regular intervals, Manchester High pitcher Bruce Ballard should see his teammates for non-support.

Ballard, fire-balling senior right-hander, pitched well allowing six hits but his defense broke down committing four errors which led to six unearned runs in an 8-3 setback to Conard High yesterday in West Hartford.

The loss in the playdown round of the State Baseball Tournament sends the locals to the sidelines with a 10-9 ledger. Conard, CCLC champ and six-ranked in the Class 1-D Division, advances to today's first round where it will entertain 11 seed Ferri.

Manchester took a 2-0 lead in the fourth frame against the 16-3 Chelateins. One run came home on a wild pitch and the other on an infield ground out. Both markers were unearned. Ballard walked five and struck out 10 to bring his season total to 111 strikeouts in 81 2/3 innings. Senior Bill Akamiti was in and out of trouble all afternoon, being tagged for nine safeties. But the hard-throwing right-hander, now 8-2 with a winning streak of seven, stranded 11.

Tiant checks RSox skid

BOSTON (UPI) — old right-hander gave up eight hits, struck out three and walked no one. "Better," said Boston manager Darrell Johnson with a smile as he stroked his greying hair and leaned back in his chair inside the Red Sox clubhouse.

"They were in high spirits last night," added the high-spirited manager Thursday after the Red Sox finished their most productive outing in 10 games with an 8-2 win over the New York Yankees. "We held a five-minute meeting before the game, just to try to get some perspective so we can play the game the way we know how."

"But I think a few bas hits and good pitching can do more than anything I could say." The Red Sox, led to 20 runs in their last nine games and no more than three in any one contest, chased starter Dock Ellis, 4-4, with six runs in the second inning. Luis Tiant, 7-3, handled the Yankees after giving up two first-inning runs. The 35-year-

Red Sox trade Carbo to Brewers for pair

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox have sent outfielder Bernie Carbo to an undisclosed amount of cash to the Milwaukee Brewers for relief pitcher Tom Murphy and outfielder Bobby Darwin.

All three players had been unhappy about lack of playing time. Carbo, who had three home runs in position in his last season, was batting .236 through 17 games with the Red Sox. Murphy, who had a 1.90 earned run average in 1974 for the Brewers in 1974, has pitched just 18 1/3 innings this season. He is 9-1 with a 3.36 earned run average.

Darwin, a longball hitter with four home runs in 1975, was batting .247 in 73 at-bats as a fielder for the Brewers in 1974 with Minnesota, he hit 25 homers and drove in 94 runs while batting .264.

The Red Sox had been trying to get Murphy since the winter meetings last December. "I'm happy to be going to a contender," Tom Murphy said after being traded to Milwaukee. "Boston is a club that has a chance of winning. The Brewers didn't. It was evident the Brewers were going to get rid of me. I hadn't signed a contract and really hadn't done that well."

Darwin said he hoped to play more in Boston than he had in Milwaukee but it was expected he would have the same problem Carbo experienced on the outfielder-rich Red Sox. "Of course I wasn't happy in Milwaukee because I didn't get a chance to prove I could play," said the 33-year-old former pitcher. "Except for one time, I haven't played two games a row this year. I know that if I'm going to play, I'm going to hit."

The Red Sox, however, planned to use Darwin as a designated hitter and pinch hitter. General Manager Dick O'Connell indicated veteran Denver Johnson would be dropped to make room for Darwin.

Johnson, who had a 1.90 earned run average in 1974 for the Brewers in 1974, has pitched just 18 1/3 innings this season. He is 9-1 with a 3.36 earned run average.

13-game Philadelphia road winning streak with a seven-hit, eight-strikeout performance over eight innings. Six different Cardinals batted in runs while the usually flawless Phillies committed four errors.

Asked if he felt extra pressure since a loss would have dropped the Red Sox nine games behind the Yankees, Tiant shrugged beneath his victory cigar. "I think all games are important," he said. "As long as you win, it doesn't make any difference how important a game is."

For the Yankees, leading back to New York in the second, Cooper and Fred Lynn, who also drove in a pair of runs, had three hits apiece while Rice had two.

Don Money drove home two runs with a fifth-inning triple and his seventh homer in the seventh while Robin Yount added two RBIs on a pair of sacrifice flies. Milwaukee's southpaw Bill Travers, 6-2, went the distance, spacing nine hits. Expos 7, Pirates 1.

Don Sluohouse pitched his third victory in four decisions and helped his own cause with a pair of run-scoring singles as the Expos snapped a six-game losing streak. Jim Dwyer and Gary Carter also had two RBIs each. Carter and Barry Foote had solo homers for Montreal.
