News summary

Compiled from United Press International

State

NEW LONDON — Four Coast Guard Academy cadets, who appealed a finding they had cheated on a physics laboratory experiment, may learn the outcome of the appeal this week.

HARTFORD — The state Department of Environmental Protection said Monday air pollution worsened in 1975 after four years of steady improvement.

HARTFORD — A ruling which limited the scope of a lawsuit challenging control of New Haven's daily newspapers and their purchase of the Hartford Times has been upheld by the state Supreme Court.

Regional

CHATHAM, Mass. — New England governors and eastern Canada premiers agreed Monday they need action from their national governments to help solve energy supply problems.

BOSTON — Two Boston professors said Monday a youngster rumored to have been raised by monkeys in Africa was mentally retarded and brought up in various institutions.

National

WEST POINT, N. Y. — West Point's cheating scandal now touches nearly one-fifth of the junior class following formal charges against another 34 cadets Monday.

LOS ANGELES — Symbionese Liberation Army members William and Emily Harris lost an appeal Monday to delay their trial for a year on grounds of their connection with Patricia Hearst.

DETROIT — Two Americans who met in Paris with North Vietnamese officials still believe American prisoners of war are alive in Vietnam despite a denial by the Vietnamese government.

IDAHO FALLS — The fury of the Teton Dam flood is spent, leaving this agriculturally rich valley a sea of mud, thousands of homes broken shells and at least seven persons dead. At least 153 persons are missing in the wake of Saturday's disaster, but many may have found refuge with friends and relatives but others may be buried in the mud. Damages is estimated as high as $500 million.

WASHINGTON — The scramble is on for the post of House majority leader, which will be vacant if Rep. Thomas O'Neill, D-Mass., moves up to Carl Albert's job as speaker.

NEWARK, N. J. — A 41-year-old woman who headed the campaign to free Rubin "Hurricane" Carter from prison says the former boxer beat her up in a Maryland motel. Carter denies the charge brought by Carolyn Kelly, a bail bondswoman, Monday. Carter was freed from prison several weeks ago pending a retrial for the murder of three persons in a Patterson bar in 1966.

International

LONDON — The British pound, bolstered by $5.3 billion in standby credit from 10 major trading nations, soared another 4 cents on the London money market today to hit $1.80. It had dropped to an all-time low of $1.70 last week.

SANTIAGO, Chile — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger opened his appearance at the Organization of American States general assembly with a plea for peace.

On Lebanese war

Arab leaders plan summit

CAIRO (UPI) — Syria has decided to join an Arab foreign ministers' emergency conference tonight on collective action to halt the all-out war that has engulfed Lebanon, a spokesman for the Arab League said.

The Damascus government advised it was sending a "high level" delegation to the session of the 20-nation Arab League, the spokesman said. The Cairo meeting, called at the request of the Palestine Liberation Organization, was moved up a day "in view of the steady deterioration of the Lebanon situation and intensified fighting," Arab League Secretary-General Mahmoud Riad said.

Syria's decision was a surprise to League officials, who had expected a boycott of the conference in line with Damascus' apparent determination to continue unilateral military intervention. Syria also is opposed to collective Arab peace-making efforts.

PLO officials said an immediate cease-fire and unconditional withdrawal of Syrian troops from Lebanon headed the list of demands they would submit to the conference.

Arab League officials said the Syrians may have thought it more advisable to come to Cairo and defend their role in Lebanon against charges — mainly from the Palestinians, Egypt and Iraq — that liquidation of the PLO was the invading troops' goal.

Including Syria, 17 of the Arab League nations have agreed to attend the conference. No word has been received yet from Lebanon, Jordan or Libya, the officials said.

The Palestinian delegation, which will be led by Farouk Kaddoumi, chief of the PLO's political department, also will press for collective Arab action to preserve Lebanon's unity as well as the Palestinian guerrilla movement, the official said.

"We want the conference to stop the bloodletting in Lebanon with joint action, using all political and military means," said Ribhi Awad, Cairo representative of Al Fatah, the largest Palestinian guerrilla group.

However, Arab diplomatic sources said the conference was not expected to opt for concerted military measures while Syrian troops remained in Lebanon, but might consider the dispatch of peacekeeping forces if the Syrians withdrew.

PLO chairman Yasser Arafat, in a cable to Arab kings and presidents, said: "A criminal massacre is being carried out against the Lebanese and Palestinian peoples. The Syrian air force, artillery and rockets are killing hundreds of innocent lives. We appeal to you to work for ending this massacre."

Arab diplomatic sources said they expected Syria to boycott the conference and did not know if Lebanon would attend. Other governments that have not announced a stand included Jordan, Libya and Tunisia.

To meet at Whiton auditorium

Directors to tour Community Y

By SOL R. COHEN

Herald Reporter
The Board of Directors tonight is taking the rare action of moving its meeting out of the Manchester Municipal Building. It will be in Whiton Library Auditorium, with the gavel scheduled to fall at 8.

At 7, the directors will tour the Community Y facilities, used by the town for its rec program. The tour is to inspect the plumbing system with its defective pipes. A request from the Y's board of trustees asks for a town expenditure (estimated at about $7,000) for replacing the 45-year-old water pipes. Should they burst, extensive damage could be done to the bowling alleys and, possibly, the gym. In the expectation that the directors will approve the expenditure, the town manager is preparing bid specifications for the work.

At its 8 p.m. meeting, the board, by all indications, may reject a proposed restaurant-licensing or-inance; approve a 15 per cent hike in water rates (plus a 10.2 per cent hike in sewer rates); and approve assessments for sanitary sewers already installed in the west end of Linwood Dr. and in E. Middle Tpke., from Plaza Dr. to Ludlow Rd. It is expected, also, to approve four additional appropriations, all to be funded by grants, fees or available surplus.

Still on the agenda, after tabling actions month after month, are the proposed appointments of five Republicans to the Citizens Advisory Committee, a Republican to the Disaster Control Advisory Council, a Republican and a Democrat to the Human Relations Commission and a Democrat to the Commission on Aging.

One of the items to be discussed and possibly referred for more information as to details is a request from South Windsor for dumping its solid waste in Manchester's disposal area (for a term of up to a year and at a per-ton charge).

Silt dredged from under bridge

Town highway personnel last week dredged the silt from under the Olcott St. Bridge — a routine maintenance task done about every two years. The silt accumulated because of storms, runoffs from streets and the erosion of banks along Hop Brook. The bridge was replaced about two years ago, after it was damaged during a severe rainfall.

Dead heat finish possible in Ford and Reagan contest

By CLAY F. RICHARDS
United Press International
President Ford and Ronald Reagan could end the long and sometimes raucous primary season today close to a dead heat. On the Democratic side three Western liberals have one last big chance to stop Jimmy Carter.

This is the day California, Ohio and New Jersey elect 540 Democratic and 331 Republican delegates — about one-third the number needed to win the presidential nomination in both parties.

California, the biggest prize, is expected to go for two men who have served as its governor — Democrat Edmund G. Brown Jr., and Reagan, his Republican predecessor.

That leaves New Jersey and especially Ohio as the major battlegrounds, and Ford and Carter are favored in both states.

With Reagan favored to capture all 167 California delegates, and Ford out in front for most of the 97 in Ohio and 77 in New Jersey, the GOP primary season could end in a virtual deadlock. The President held a 823-690 edge in delegates going into today, with 1,130 needed for nomination.

On the Democratic side Carter was far ahead with 911 delegates. Despite the fact he was expected to get only 20 per cent of California's 280 delegates, he was favored to win many of Ohio's 152 and New Jersey's 108.

That means he could pick up more than 200 additional delegates, putting him well over the 1,100 mark in his quest for the 1,505 needed for nomination.

As the candidates headed into the home stretch, issues were dropped and the rhetoric turned increasingly to personal attacks on opponents.

"You don't want a candidate for president who can't win," Ford yelled into a microphone to a crowd of 14,000 in Dayton.

In California, Reagan said Ford's television commercials labeled him a warmonger and were "totally dishonest."

In Ohio, before his last-hour swing to New Jersey, Carter accused Morris Udall of conducting a negative campaign and not concentrating on the issues.

Udall, who bought a series of television commercials depicting Carter as taking one position in one part of the country and another position to a different audience, predicted he would finish a strong second in the race.

Frank Church said he had been unable to campaign extensively in the state and indicated he thought Carter would win it.

Brown campaigned in New Jersey where he hoped to dull another "uncommitted" coup against Carter, as he did in Rhode Island last week. Brown pushed uncommitted slates that favor either him or Hubert Humphrey — or both.

Suit alleges discrimination by UTC against older workers

HARTFORD (UPI) — Connecticut's largest employer, United Technologies Corp., has been charged in a multi-million dollar federal class action suit with discriminating against its older workers.

The suit filed Monday against the giant jet engine manufacturer was brought on behalf of Willard A. Osborne of West Hartford, and Kenneth H. Pelgrim, of Santa Barbara, Calif., and all other persons similarly situated.

The federal court action claims the company's predecessor, United Aircraft International Corp., "pursuant to a plan of age discrimination beginning in or about 1974," effected the resignations, retirements, transfers, demotions, and discharges of about 43 professional employees.

The suit said the positions made vacant "were consistently filled by persons 40 years of age or younger."

Furthermore, the suit said, the vacancies were "accomplished in such a manner as to keep concealed from all professional employees the existence of a plan to eliminate older professional employees."

A company spokesman said the suit was "without foundation and without merit."

United Aircraft Corp., the state's largest employer, formally changed its name in May 1975 to United Technologies Corp.

The suit filed by Attorney Ryszard S. Mrotek detailed what purported to be the employment history of the two men.

The amount of damages sought was not specified, but Mrotek said it was a "multi-million dollar suit."

Pelgrim, it said, was hired by a division of United Aircraft in 1963 as a sales engineer. He was then 46.

He became the director of sales for Europe in 1972 and in July, 1974, he was told to return to the United States for reassignment. In August, 1974, he was told his employment was being terminated, and he remained on the payroll until Feb. 27, 1975.

The suit said Pelgrim performed his duties with distinction.

Osborne was 40 when he was hired in 1962 as a market analyst and advanced to a managerial post in 1974 when, the suit alleges, he was demoted because of his age — at the time, 53.

The demotion came after two, five-minute conferences with a new senior vice president and later Osborne was offered a position as a deputy to a vice president in the company's Sikorsky Division at Stratford.

Osborne found when he reported to Sikorsky, his job title had been changed and in June, 1975, he was demoted to senior analyst. A pay cut came in October, 1975, and his employment was terminated in November, 1975 the suit said.

The suit said Osborne had a good employment record with the company.

The two have filed a similar age discrimination complaint with the Connecticut Human Rights Commission.

The Herald will publish parade orders Saturday

The Herald will print a complete schedule of Bicentennial parade orders in the Saturday edition. This will help parade-goers to identify each unit as it passes.

Saturday's Herald will be printed at 9 a.m. and delivered late morning.

Be sure to reserve your copy of The Herald Saturday for all late parade information.

Bicentennial float under construction

Designing and constructing a float are not easy tasks, according to reports from the Army and Navy Club. A replica of the Statue of Liberty stands at what will be the front of the club's float in Manchester's June 12 Bicentennial Parade as Daryn Conderino, left, Tom Conran, Red Grout, Don Ponticelli, Stan Zima, Ken Jarvis and Bernie Banavage plan the remainder of the float. ### Utilities ask rate hike totaling $57 million

HARTFORD (UPI) - Nearly one million Connecticut consumers will be hit with electricity and natural gas rate hikes totaling $57 million if rate increases are approved for two Northeast Utility firms.

The conglomerate Monday gave the state Public Utility Control Authority "letters of intent" saying that within 60 days two of its firms, Connecticut Light & Power and Hartford Electric Light, will file official rate applications.

An $84 million rate hike given to the two utilities in 1974 was recently declared illegal by a Court of Common Pleas judge and is now under appeal in Superior Court.

A coalition of consumer groups plans to seek a Superior Court injunction against the proposed increases until the UPA rate hike controversy is settled, the Connecticut Citizens Action Group said late Monday.

CL&P will seek a $39.5 million hike to increase its total revenues by about 10 per cent. NU spokesman said $35.8 million would be in electricity rate increases and $3.7 million in natural gas hikes.

HELCO will ask for $17.5 million, a revenue increase of about eight per cent, with $15.6 million in electricity rates and $1.9 million in natural gas rates.

A breakdown of how the rate hikes would affect consumers will not be available until CL&P and HELCO file their official rate hike applications.

An NU spokesman said the firms have not sought rate hikes in two years, and they needed the extra revenues to strengthen their credit and improve the quality of their stocks to make them more attractive to investors.

"The company has not sought rate relief for more than two years and the proposed increase will be less than the impact of general inflation during this two year period," CL&P and HELCO said in their "letters of intent."

The letters said the decision to seek rate hikes was made "only after being satisfied that every reasonable effort is being made to continue to control our operating costs and reducing our capital expenditures."

NU estimated that it will need revenues in excess of $1 billion between now and 1980 for capital construction projects.

Through CL&P and HELCO, NU serves more than 600,000 persons in virtually the entire state with the exception of the New Haven and Bridgeport areas.

Those two areas receive electricity from United Illuminating Inc., which has a rate increase request of its own pending. A PUCA spokesman said a decision on U's request was expected later this month, although it wasn't legally due until August.

UI in March asked for an about $15 million rate increase, which would mean about a seven per cent increase in residential customers' bills.

HELCO will ask for $17.5 million, a revenue increase of about eight per cent, with $15.6 million in electricity rates and $1.9 million in natural gas rates.

A breakdown of how the rate hikes would affect consumers will not be available until CL&P and HELCO file their official rate hike applications.

Court favors Nader in 'bumping' issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Thanks to consumer advocate Ralph Nader, the Supreme Court is forcing the airline industry to take a hard look at its habit of occasionally "bumping" a passenger with a confirmed reservation.

An industry spokesman told UPI individual carriers will have to decide whether to penalize travelers who do not show up at departure time or continue to overbook as they now do and take a chance on lawsuits like Nader's.

The Civil Aeronautics Board is examining the overbooking practice, which allows the airlines to take account of "no shows" and at the same time permit passengers full refunds on unused tickets.

By computer a carrier can predict rather accurately what percentage of reservations will not be claimed on a particular flight.

The problem is especially troublesome at Christmas holiday time when persons who don't know exactly when they will be going book on all three airlines serving Florida, the spokesman said.

Some years ago there was a "no show" penalty but passengers who "trailed so many tantrums" it was dropped, he said. Nader sued Allegheny Airlines for punitive damages on grounds of fraudulent misrepresentation after he was denied a seat in April, 1972, even though his reservation had been confirmed. As a result he missed a speaking engagement.

The Supreme Court unanimously overturned a lower court decision that the complaint must be held up until the CAB decides whether overbooking is a deceptive practice.

The court said the agency has no power to immunize the carriers from such lawsuits.

The opinion said that based on 1972 experience there is only about one chance in 2,000 that any particular passenger will be bumped on a given flight but some 82,000 confirmed ticket holders were actually denied seats that year and about 76,000 in 1973.

In other actions the court: - Narrowed its constitutional test for determining racial discrimination by requiring "a racially discriminatory purpose" as grounds for a violation. The impact is lessened because of a framework of laws protecting minorities in area such as housing, employment and public accommodations.

Ruled that states have no authority to enforce their air and water pollution laws against federally owned power plants such as the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Agreed to examine the constitutionality of a New York state law which forbids sales of non-prescription contraceptives to minors.

Opinion

Are fees federal affair?

Proposed legislation in Congress has frosted the ivy at a number of the nation's institutions of higher learning, including the Ivy League. Senate bill 2657, an amendment to the Higher Education Act, would establish federal standards, and provide federal remedies, for the fair allocation of student activity fees at every school receiving funds under the Higher Education Act.

In a strong statement presented to the Senate by the legal officers of the Ivy League Institutions and Stanford University, the proposal is characterized as "a prime example of the legal pollution which currently threatens the nation's educational environment."

If the proposal were enacted, the statement continues, student groups, which often feel that the activities fee pie has not been cut fairly, would have a federal law and a federal forum in which to pursue their grievances — at a time when the Chief Justice of the United States is already decrying the shortage of federal judges to deal with the present caseload.

"Questions as trivial as whether permission is granted to hold a bake sale could be litigated in the federal courts," the attorneys claim.

Fairness in the allocation of student activity fees is an important objective, they concede, "but not an important federal objective." While the intent of the amendment might well be adopted by individual institutions of higher learning, what they object to is "the increasing propensity of federal government to intrude randomly into day-to-day operations of our colleges and universities and descend to progressively trivial levels of the education process."

Big welfare needs big business management

WASHINGTON — Lyndon Johnson, who had real compassion for the underprivileged — "because I'm an alumnus" — nevertheless frequently worried about the growth of the welfare system.

Item: During its first 2 1/2 years of operation, the Social Security Administration's Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program overpaid its aged, blind and disabled clients by $52-million. Adult welfare rates were federalized under SSI on Jan. 1, 1974 at a cost of $6-billion a year.

Item: The massive $4.5-billion retirement and survivors insurance program has an overall error rate of 18.9 per cent. That means money is being wrongly disbursed in almost one out of five cases through overpayment, underpayment, or payment to ineligible.

Down the tubes

The familiar tubes used in radio and television receivers are falling victim to the solid-state revolution. RCA has announced that it will close its receiving tube plant in Harrison, N.J., July 30, leaving only two other American companies in this end of the electronics business.

Reason is the steadily decreasing demand for tubes in the face of the shift to solid-state devices. Industry-wide sales of tubes have declined from 442 million in 1966 to about 80 million in 1975. This is less than RCA alone sold in the heyday of the receiving tube. On a nostalgic note, Radio Electronic magazine recalls that the now obsolete plant in New Jersey was originally built by Thomas A. Edison in 1882 to produce light bulbs. It was the "Edison effect" discovered in early light bulbs that led Lee De Forest and other pioneers to develop the vacuum tubes which made possible the miracle of radio, and later, television.

Today's thought

Spurious activity... how deceptive

How difficult to be quiet. To explain, discourse or make a dust is much easier. After all, doesn't all this activity prove that we are concerned and deeply involved?

The Psalmist in Psalm 37 says "no." To wait on the Lord requires much more strength than to mobilize oneself in a feverish state and manfully bring to pass the thing our mind is set on.

Rather, to be silent or quiet before the Lord shows a deep recognition of His Sovereign control and working — to patiently, but alertly, wait on the Almighty is a trait not easily come by. But James in his pithy epistle urges us to welcome rough times — they in turn require patience to get through them. This patience (or waiting on God) provides character.

And isn't that what we are really after anyway? "For when your patience is finally in full bloom, then you will be ready for your strong in character, full and complete."

Hays scandal case rattles Capitol skeletons

Ray Cromley

WASHINGTON — A study some time back by a scholar working with the Brookings Institution gave evidence that the Senate and House of Representatives act only on wrongdoing by members which becomes so publicized as to embarrass the whole of Congress.

More disclosure of crimes — misuse of power or government funds, bribery, corruption, payroll padding and such — have been cause for action only infrequently by the courts and almost not at all by the legislators. The exceptions have been, as in the case of Adam Clayton Powell, so sensational that action could not be avoided.

With this in mind, it is logical to suppose, Rep. Wayne L. Hays, with all his power, may possibly be in for a beating. Not for his wrongdoing, of which virtually everyone on the Hill was aware, but because he failed to keep it swept under the rug.

The case of President Nixon and his aides brought no general cleanup of politicians in high places. We can conclude that punishment given Hays will not lead to a follow through on other guilty Congressmen.

To illustrate the point, let us go back to Jan. 13, 1975. On that day, Common Cause, in a series of reports on committee chairmen in the House, outlined the ways in which Hays had abused his vast powers as chairman of the House Administration Committee, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee and "ultimate controller" of staff payrolls, allocator of offices and furniture, overseer of the House Information System and...dispenser of parking spaces.

At that time Common Cause reported:

Since becoming chairman, Hays increased the number of employees on the House Administration Committee payroll from less than 50 to more than 200 — twice as many as any other House committee.

Using his power as chairman of the House Administration Committee, Hays refused to release the paycheck of a staff aide of another member because the aide was arranging for witnesses to testify for his member's bill which Hays opposed.

He personally supported. Despite these charges, in the next go around Hays was continued as chairman of the House Administration Committee and the House Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, though not without a hassle.

The point is that Hays has been able to use his power to put roadblocks in the way of those he does not like. He has also used his power to help those he favors. Those he has helped fear they won't get the same favored treatment from his successors.

In this, they are his partners, profiting from his actions. They are not about to vote him out unless extreme publicity and embarrassment forces them to act. There are also men of course, who fear that if they oppose him, and fail, reprisals will be quick and certain.

There's also another matter. Many senators and House members have skeletons in their own closets. Few want to open Pandora's Box.

Italians are to be housed properly before the winter arrives. As a volunteer worker, I have been asked what amount is appropriate. Our reply is that one's conscience and financial condition should determine the amount.

But any amount, no matter how small, will provide some assistance to the Italian victims. In closing, it must be noted that the Herald has been most kind in its coverage of the fund's progress.

Betty's notebook

By Betty Ryder

The weatherman played a cruel trick on us when he practically promised a nice sunny Sunday.

Now if I was sitting at home, it wouldn't matter. But, when you are deep sea fishing in old Cape Cod, it makes a difference...like about 30 degrees.

Well, let me start at the beginning, before I get into this deep subject.

A group from The Herald and some of their family and friends chartered a boat in Fairhaven, Mass. Sounds good, you say? Well, it was. But it did have its drawbacks.

Getting up at 3 Sunday morning was one of them. I made the sandwiches, etc. before waking two sons and two of their friends who were joining us.

We were so synchronized, you wouldn't believe it. Meeting was 4:30 at The Herald parking lot and we were geared to park in exactly one time.

But, when number three son lifted the styrofoam cooler (filled with soda of course) into the trunk of his car — it collapsed. Undaunted, we quickly unpacked the lunch from the cooler, popped the soda and crushed ice cubes into it, and I ran into the house for flight bag (Swissair I think it was) and tossed the sandwiches into it and off we met to our rendezvous.

Our convoy of five cars proceeded to Fairhaven with cars spaced for their hot cup of coffee in a small restaurant across the street from the dock.

Then, the moment we had been waiting for arrived: it was just after 7 and time to board the boat. Now this was no easy task since it was low tide; the dock was high and the boat was low. With the help of a few sturdy co-workers we managed to climb down the ladder, plunk down our coats and coolers, and breathe the deeply of that good old salt air.

We were soon under way (that's nautical for moving it) and we headed out between the stone sea barriers. It took about an hour.

Finally, the captain had the mate drop anchor and we settled down to some serious fishing. Actually, we were serious; the fish were only fooling.

The mate had cut up some frozen squid which by now had defrosted into a slimy mess, but we managed to grab a paper cup full, but had to care for our poor and others in need of help — I hope. But somebody's got to find somebody to run the welfare system like the Big Business it has become.

Race sanction set

Official sanction for the Thanksgiving morning Five Mile Road Race in Manchester has been approved by the Connecticut Amateur Athletic Union. Receipt of the sanction was received last week by Will Hadden, general chairman of the sponsoring Nutmeg Forest, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, Patty Torta Natalie, last year's Women's Division club champion at the Manchester Country Club, is now playing out of Greenwood in Winsted. She is a physical education teacher at Gilbert High in Winsted. Hartford Twilight League schedule this week lists Vernon at Morarty's tonight at 6 at Nebo in the loop's American Division along with Vernon, East Hartford and Langan. Jack Redmond, head pro at the Manchester Racquet Club, will gain the semifinals of the New England Public Parks Tournament before bowing. The talented southpaw player lost two tiebreakers to Doug Teeter of Ridgefield, seeded No. 1, 7-6, 7-6. Redmond was unseeded. John Healy placed 50th in a field of 150 in the NCAA Golf Tournament in Greensboro, N.C. The recent West Virginia State College, W.Va., grad posted records of 77:20-80 and 1:37 in the current Men's Division club champion at Manchester Country Club. Bob Clifford, former East Catholic High runner, has won the Olmstead Memorial Award at Williams College in cross country. He captured the squad last fall. Charles Lundberg of Manchester has lettered in lacrosse at the College of Wooster, Ohio, this spring. Lundberg is a graduate of Loomis.

National Tennis Week

Participating in National Tennis Week June 19-27 will be the Manchester Racquet Club with a junior tourney slated for boys and girls 18 and under and boys and girls 12 and under for separate events. Paul Groves of Bolton High and an Dick Gankofski of Coventry High are members of the Division S all-star baseball team which will play the Division M stars June 15 at West Haven. Dan Walker of Ellington High will be the M squad. Manchester Community College soccer coach Jim Dyer is an assistant coach with the State B soccer squad of players 16 and under. Butch Songm, much traveled quarterback with a number of professional teams, major and minor, who died last week, played against Manchester's Merchants when the locals rate in the football world in New England following World War II. Dick Siderow, winner of the British Amateur for the second time, has taken part in several Manchester Opens. Manchester High's Kelley was selected as the playdown game in the GACC baseball tourney yesterday. It takes nearly three hours to set down the multicourse court at the Hartford Civic Center which is used for Tennis play. July 7 will be the next appearance of the Boston Lobsters against Evome Goolgong who prefers to go by her maiden name) and the Pittsburgh Triangles. Rick Barry looked like a Hollywood matinee idol with the hairpiece he wore while doing the NBA playoffs. The Golden State forward is a natural and his comments on the Celtic-Cavalier playoff games were superb. He captured the Bill Hunter award for the best player in the league while Tony Sonny Hill and Mandy Rudolph were just excess baggage.

East trackmen top Tribe

Gaining the mythical town track championship yesterday was East Catholic High with an 84-59 victory over cross-town Manchester High at Pete Wigren Track.

The Eagles, recent winners of the State Class B title, wind up dual meet action with a 10-3 record while Manchester slipped below the 500 level at 6-7 for the season. Senior Cephus Nolen showed the way for East winning the 100-yard dash and the triple jump. He placed second in the 200-yard dash behind his brother, Mike. Jeff Joy was a double winner for Manchester taking the 120 and 330-yard hurdle events. Joy also took third place in the 220. Mark Skehan took the mile run, and Eric Lecko the two-mile for East while the 800-yard run went to Manchester's George Trian. Manchester sophomore Bill Moran took third in the 120-yard hurdle and third in the long jump. Bob Caffrey won the high jump and Bob Frank the long jump for the Eagles.

Sports Briefs

Oglvie honored

NEW YORK (UPI) — Detroit outfielder Ben Oglvie, who hit .500 and hit three home runs last week, was named the American League Player of the Week. Al President Lee MacPhail announced Monday.

Oglvie went 8-16 and two of the homers were game-winning blows. He also slugged 1.125 and scored the winning run in another game.

Bench tops poll

NEW YORK (UPI) — Johnny Bench, a six-time electee, caps a group of five previously elected All-Star starters and three "newcomers" in the first weekly tabulations for the National League starting lineup for the 1976 All-Star game.

Top votegetters by position are: Steve Garvey of Los Angeles at first base; Joe Morgan and Pete Rose of Cincinnati at second and third base respectively and Larry Bowa of Philadelphia at shortstop. The outfield positions are filled by Philadelphia's Greg Luzinski, St. Louis' Bake McBride and current major league home run leader Dave Kingman of the New York Mets — each bidding for his first All-Star start.

Horton out

DETROIT (UPI) — Willie Horton, the Tigers' designated hitter, was put on the 15-day disabled list after being examined at Henry Ford Hospital.

Horton, who has been in a slump ever since his right leg first started to hurt a month ago, had his foot placed in a cast and the team said there was no guarantee that Horton would be able to play when the 15 days expires.

Frissella traded

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The St. Louis Cardinals traded right-handed pitcher Danny Frissella to the Milwaukee Brewers in return for a player to be named later.

Frissella, 30, was acquired from the San Diego Padres April 8 and appeared in 18 games in relief for the Cardinals. He had no record, one save and a 3.91 earned run average.

The club also said Monday it had purchased the contract of right-handed pitcher Eddie Solomon, who has compiled a 5-2 record and a 2.73 ERA this season, from its Tulsa farm team.

Hundley recovering

CHICAGO (UPI) — Catcher Randy Hundley of the Chicago Cubs was listed in good condition at Northwestern Memorial Hospital Monday night after undergoing surgery for the removal of a disc and the fusion of two connecting vertebrae in his neck.

Cub officials said after the operation Monday that Hundley's future playing status was still unknown.

Merrill Myers had been on the disabled list since May 1 when he suffered a cervical sprain during an altercation between the Cubs and the San Francisco Giants at Candlestick Park.

Trade winds

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox decided the outcome of their game early Monday night but suspense was building off the field.

Boston defeated its farm club, Rhode Island of the International League, 10-4, scoring five runs in the first inning.

The trading deadline is a week away and the Red Sox have yet to sign three of their top players, outfielder Fred Lynn, catcher Carlton Fisk and shortstop Rick Burdette. There were rumors pitcher Boston might consider a trade.

Orr undecided

MONTREAL (UPI) — Superstar free agent defenseman Bobby Orr stood at a crossroads of his sensational career today, pondering whether to play with the Chicago Black Hawks or the St. Louis Blues — or go into temporary retirement.

Orr, who has won more individual awards than any other player in NHL history, apparently was still being courted by the Bruins but his agent Alan Eagleson rated Boston's chances of keeping him at "zero."

Consider fate

MONTREAL (UPI) — The National Hockey League Board of Governors at their annual meeting today considered the fate of the financially troubled Kansas City Scouts and a possible move for the California Golden Seals.

The Scouts, who lost $5 million during two years of operation and had to borrow $300,000 from the NHL to complete last season, are faced with the very real threat of collapse.

Elite company

MONTREAL (UPI) — Bobby Clarke of the Philadelphia Flyers Monday joined an elite group of centers — just one, Howie Morenz — in becoming the second pivot in the history of the National Hockey League to win three Hart Trophies as the league's most valuable player.

MVP and the only player who has won it as many times in a shorter span was Bobby Orr, who took it three straight seasons beginning in 1969-70. Morenz, the first of a long line of great Montreal Canadiens, won the Hart Trophy in 1927-28, 1930-31 and 1931-32.

Dennis Potvin of the New York Islanders ended Orr's eight year hold on the Norris Trophy, Jean Ratelle of the Boston Bruins won the Lady Byng Trophy, and Bryan Trottier of the Islanders was named the Calder Trophy winner as rookie of the year.

Profitable period

HARTFORD (UPI) — Paul Silvergeld, chairman of the state gaming commission, says the turnout at the opened big slot arenas show Connecticut citizens are receptive to legalized gambling.

Silvergeld Monday presented a check for $220,000 to officials as the state's share of proceeds from the Hartford jail slot arena, which opened May 20.

AMERICAN

Gettling off to an early lead, Modern Junior of the downed Police & Fire, 12-9, last night. Jackie Taylor, Allan Shaer and Jackie Kerr were best.

The National Hockey League Players Association had urged that all incidents of fighting be met with automatic game misconducts but NHLPA officials said they were satisfied with the new rules.

The Collegians were checked on a two-biter by Bill Wisnisky in a 4-0 win at St. Thomas. Wisnisky clouted three Hartford Twilight League stars last night, was Manchester Community College. Paul Piccolo and Bud Kearney had the only local hits.

Fishing Derby catch

Two hundred fish were stocked in Salter's Pond for the Manchester State Bank's annual Children's Fishing Derby last Saturday and 32 were landed by John Flaherty, left, and Scott Aitken. The latter caught 21 and Flaherty 11 which they proudly displayed.

Alumni Junior

Ken Hill fired a one-hitter to lead Silk City to a 7-3 win over Mari-Mads last night at Cheney Tech in the season opener for Alumni Junior baseball.

Hill struck out nine and walked two. Scott LaBrec, Russ Hunter and Hill had timely hits for the winners. Losing pitcher Ray Tilden fanned nine and walked two, giving up eight hits. Dave Parks had a solid double in the second for the lone Mari-Mad hit.

Rookies signed

ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. (UPI) — Two rookies chosen in this year's collegiate draft Monday night signed a series of one-year contracts with the Buffalo Bills of the National Football League.

The team announced the signings of Dan Jilek, a fourth-round pick from Michigan, and Forry Smith, an 11th-round selection from Iowa State.

Bowling

HOME BEACH, Pa Thibodeau 183-455, Jean Archambault 190-465, Alvina Delaise 178-473, Bee Moquin 192-520, Marlene Delaise 181-484, Sue Reischerl 178-496, Lee Bean 474, Shirley Blinn 454.

Catholic campaign was disappointing

By LLEN AUSTER
Herald Sportswriter

Disappointing, frustrating, not up to expectations. Those are just a few ways to describe the 1976 East Catholic baseball season.

The Eagles, State Class M champs in 1975, weren't up to the challenge and wound up with an 8-10 record, the worst regular season docket in school history.

"Looking back, I told the kids the good parts were coming from behind and beating Xavier and Northwest (Catholic) here. But I'm not going to be hypocrite. I wasn't pleased with the season by the stretch of the imagination," expressed Coach Jim Fennell.

"As a team we didn't give 100 per cent in practice or game days. The fault falls on a lot of people and myself included. Maybe I had too much on my mind like the field," the likeable coach added.

One accomplishment was turning East's baseball diamond into a nice complex which is only

Struggling Busby defeats Detroit

NEW YORK (UPI) — For the first time in his career Steve Busby of the Kansas City Chiefs has found out what it's like to struggle.

Therefore, he was more than happy to see the Tigers rolling into town Monday night. The hard-throwing right-hander pitched two-hit ball for six innings to beat Detroit, 10-4, for just his second victory of the year.

Though the season is hardly two months old, Busby already has been on the disabled list twice because of a strained shoulder. He remained in Florida for eight days at the start of the season. He spent 17 days on the disabled list in May. The Detroit victory was his first since May 1.

The Royals are bringing Busby along gingerly and the one-time ace, who now has the fourth best record among starters on the Kansas City staff, has no complaints.

Seven solo homers as Pirates nip Reds

NEW YORK (UPI) — Monday night at Three Rivers Stadium, there was an unscheduled home-run derby for the benefit of a national television audience and, while Cincinnati's Joe Morgan walked off with the top individual prize, the Pittsburgh Pirates captured team honors by outslugging the Reds, 5-4.

A record-tying seven solo homers were hit in the game, including two by Morgan and three in one inning by the Pirates, but it was Richie Zisk's pinch-hit blast, off reliever Will McEaney, in the eighth inning that gave the Pirates the victory.

For six innings the Pirates fanned "Lumber Company" wasn't much more than kidding against Cincinnati's Jack Billingham and the "Big Red Machine" looked like a broken-down wreck at the hands of Pittsburgh's Bruce Kison. But over the last three innings, the balls sailed over the fence like they were ejected from a rocket launcher.

"It looked like a driver's range with guys hitting golf balls all over the place," quipped Zisk, whose home run topped a 4-4 tie. In addition to Zisk, the Pirates got home runs from Al Oliver, Willie Stargell and Ben Robinson—all of which came in the seventh inning off Billingham. Pete Rose also homered for the Reds. Oddly, there were only two hits in the game over the first six innings, both by the Pirates, but it was Kison pitched a no-hitter through six innings before Morgan spoiled it with his first homer as the leadoff batter in the seventh. Kison was finally lifted in the eighth after giving up

National League

Cardinals 7, Astros 6
St. Louis scored five unearned runs in the first inning held on behind the relief pitching of Al Hrabosky to defeat the Astros. Shortstop Roger Metzger's error paved the way for the Cardinals' first inning assault but they scored what proved to be the winning run in the eighth on a wild pitch by reliever Gene Pentz. Chuck Johnson had a two-run homer for Houston.

Phillies 8, Dodgers 6
Greg Luzinski drove in three runs with a homer and a sacrifice fly and Mike Schmidt knocked two runs to lead

GOP backs Cohen

Coventry
The Republican Town Committee voted unanimously to endorse David Cohen of Glastonbury as the party's candidate for the Fourth Senatorial District seat presently held by Democrat David Barry.

Cohen describes himself a fiscal conservative. He has called for a cut in state spending to a level at which the state could get along on existing taxes.

The committee also endorsed U.S. Sen. Lowell Weicker for re-election. Walter Thorp will be town coordinator for Weicker. Fredrick Miller will be senior town coordinator and Douglas Whipple, junior campaign coordinator.

The town committee has moved to recommend Walter Elwell for the vacancy on the Housing Authority.

The committee also agreed to donate $100 to the Coventry High School student loan fund. This fund provides interest free loans to students going on to college or other higher education. The students are expected to return the money after completing their studies.

Area police

HEBRON

Barbara Lanterman of Amston was charged Monday with failure to obey stop sign after the school bus she was driving was involved in an accident on Rt. 316 in Hebron.

Two other cars were involved in the accident. One was driven by Wayne Leonard, 17, of Marlborough and the other by Steven Lessard, 16, of Wall St., Hebron. No court date was given.

Charles Lewis, 16 of Webster Lane, Hebron was taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital for treatment. He was a passenger in the Leonard vehicle.

COVENTRY

Russell W. Hayes, 32, of 47 Hamlin St., Manchester, was charged Monday with failure to drive a reasonable distance apart following an accident on Rt. 44A in Coventry.

The driver of the second car was Patricia Pond of North Windham. Ms. Pond and a passenger in her car, Geri Langlois of North Windham, were taken to Windham Memorial Hospital for treatment. Hayes is scheduled to appear in court on June 19, 1978, in Rockville, June 23.

VERNON

Rosalyn Novgrad of 41 Franklin St., Rockville, was charged Monday with failure to grant the right of way at a private drive after being involved in a two-car accident at the Northeast Shopping Center.

The driver of the other car was Janice Ferguson of East Hartford. She was taken to Rockville General Hospital, treated and released. Court date for Mrs. Novgrad, June 23.

ROCKVILLE

Edith Vibert, a resident of the area, said, "I don't believe it's only one vat which is broken. I've smelled this for years."

Bolt Councilmen Robert Myette and Ray Dankel called for some immediate action.

The plant has become a source of aggravation because of the malfunctioning of equipment enabling the proper processing of waste material, or sludge, into fertilizer.

A buildup of sludge has created unpleasant odors from the plant.

Officials had considered the trucking of the sludge to a treatment plant in East Hartford. But the estimated cost of trucking was between $3,000 and $4,000.

Area residents calling the problem an "emergency situation" complained the odors are so offensive they cannot sit outside and must keep

Image buys land in industrial park

Vernon
Two acres of land in the Vernon Industrial Park were approved for sale by the Town Council. The council agreed on a reduction in price to $6,500.

Image Inc., a silk-screening operation involving mostly the printing of signs, is owned by Robert and Antonette Merrigan of Vernon.

The parcel of land was described as not being the most desirable. A culvert cuts the property in half and will have to be moved by the owner and there is a sharp drop to the rear of the property.

The council was asking $8,500 for the parcel and Merrigan said it would cost him at least another $1,000 to move the culvert.

"At that price I don't know that it would be that attractive to us," Merrigan said.

Lots formerly sold in the park have gone for about $5,000 to $8,500 an acre, Merrigan said. Lonsdale Elevator that bought the acreage next to the lots in question had paid $6,500 for two acres. "That price would be attractive to us," he said.

Merrigan presently leases a building in Manchester. He said they like Vernon and are building a new home there so would prefer having their business in Vernon.

The Economic Development Commission had recommended the $8,500 price but it is the council's prerogative to set the final price.

Fashions of the 1930s

Jennifer Mahon in a sleek, vintage 1930 gown admires a wedding gown made of satin purchased at the Cheney Mills, Manchester in 1931. Both will be modeled at the Bicentennial Belles fashion show Wednesday at St. Rose School, Church St., East Hartford at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. John Cox will do the fashion comments. Mrs. Richard Blackstone, chairlady of the Bicentennial Commission, will comment on the period of each costume from colonial to mod. Town senior citizens are to be special guests. Tickets are at the door. (Herald photo by Tuller)

Housing inspector kept busy in April

Vernon
In his report for the month of April, Housing Code Inspector John Darcey, said he started the inspection of single family dwellings in April 1975 and to date a total of 519 appointments have been sent.

He said from number 281 were inspected and complied with; 27 were sent housing code notices, and of these, 9 have been corrected. He said the remaining 211 appointments were not made and he is working on them.

During this past month of April Darcey inspected 57 structures and 66 dwelling units. Violations carried over from the previous report totaled 157.

During April he found the following violations: 30 electrical; two heating; 10 plumbing; 20 structural; and five sanitary, a total of 67.

The following violations were corrected during the month: 41 electrical; two plumbing; four structural; and one sanitary. A total of 48 bringing the total outstanding violations to date of 176.

Darcey said of the 57 structures inspected, 43 were inspections of single family dwellings. The remaining 14 were inspections or complaint follow-ups.

He said he placed one caveat and released 3. He sent out eight housing code notices and 78 miscellaneous notices and received and investigated one complaint.

Register for parade

Hebron
Russell Anderson, commander of Jones-Keefe-Batson American Legion Post, urges all marching units and groups planning to have floats in the Bicentennial Day's Parade Saturday to register with him as soon as possible.

Early registration will enable the post to determine the line of march in advance of the 11 a.m. parade time.

Prizes will be awarded the best float floats and marching units.

Audrey Wasik seeks state Democrat job

South Windsor
Democratic Town Committee vice-chairman Audrey Wasik has announced plans to challenge incumbent Estelle Flanagan of Glastonbury for a seat on the Democratic State Central Committee.

Claiming a communications problem between towns, state representatives and other central committee members, Mrs. Wasik said she wants a seat in the Fourth Senatorial District.

The district takes in South Windsor, Manchester, Glastonbury, East Windsor, Coventry, Hebron, Bolton and Andover.

Serving as vice-chairman of the town committee for four years, Mrs. Wasik has been active in local politics for the past 10 years including a seat on the Board of Education.

Mrs. Wasik, a self-employed physical therapist, lives with her husband and five children on Carmen Rd. She has been a resident of South Windsor for 15 years.

The Herald regrets

BOLTON—The Herald regrets any inconvenience to Bolton and Andover parents and school staff due to an error in Monday's issue. It was inadvertently reported there would be no school for Kindergarten students in Bolton today as students entering Kindergarten in September would be visiting school. The item should have appeared as an Andover news item.

Bolton students on BC Dean's List

BOLTON—Robin Murdoch and Michael Ryba have been named to the Dean's List at Boston College. Both are first year students. She is in pre-law majoring in political science. He is a pre-med student majoring in biology. Both graduated in 1975 from Bolton High School. She is a cheerleader at BC. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Murdoch of South Rd. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ryba of North Rd.

Quarryville fire and drum corps

VERNON—The Quarryville Junior Ancients, a life and drum corps formed in Bolton in 1972 and consisting of young people with the average age 11, marched in the Vernon Bicentennial Parade Sunday at the head of the Quarryville Congregational Church contingent. The group is not called the Quarryville fire and drum corps as listed in The Herald Monday. The church and the corps are friends but have different names.

Gifted program reviewed

BOLTON—A discussion of the gifted program in the school system will be Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school library. The meeting will review the program in the past year and discuss its plans. All interested parents and residents are invited.

PTO meeting tonight

HEBRON—The Parent Teacher Organization will meet tonight at 8 at Gilead Hill School. Agenda items include how to spend PTO money and whether to form an arts committee. Parents are invited. Refreshments will be served.

OES meeting

Summer library program goes west

Vernon
Children will register for the bi-weekly programs according to the grade they have completed this year.

The "free sessions" on the alternating weeks are scheduled for Tuesday through Thursday, July 13-15 and July 27-29, 10 a.m. to noon and 2 to 4 p.m. No age groups are assigned to these sessions and children may come anytime during the designated hours.

In addition to the regular sessions, special programs are planned for each age group.

July 16 a Davy Crockett film will be shown and July 30, films on the journey westward and the Gold Rush. The films are open to all Vernon children and free tickets will be at the library one week in advance.

Registrations for the reading program must be done in person by parents for pre-schoolers and Grades K-3 and by parents or children for Grades 4-6. To learn more, call Ms. Smith 872-4710.

Odors offend residents

South Windsor
JUDY KUEHNEL
Residents in the area of South Windsor sewerage treatment plant, Monday night called for "some immediate action" to alleviate what they called "offensive odors" caused by improper functioning of the plant.

Atty. Pat Cavanaugh, speaking for residents in the area, said, "We don't want excuses, we want action."

The plant has become a source of aggravation because of the malfunctioning of equipment enabling the proper processing of waste material, or sludge, into fertilizer.

A buildup of sludge has created unpleasant odors from the plant.

Officials had considered the trucking of the sludge to a treatment plant in East Hartford. But the estimated cost of trucking was between $3,000 and $4,000.

Construction costs $968,715 for Month

The estimated cost of Manchester construction last month was about 11.5 per cent below year ago and 30.5 per cent below two years ago, a report by Chief Building Inspector Francis Costi indicates.

The totals were $968,715 for May 1976, compared to $1,094,589 for May 1975 and $1,395,307 for May 1974.

The 1975 total included a $336,000 permit for 28 apartments on Charles Dr., a $144,000 permit for an industrial building on Progress Dr. and a $50,000 permit for a self-service gasoline station on W. Middle Tpk.

The 1974 total included a $57,000 permit for a motel off Tolland Tpk.

Permits last month included a total of $14,745 for 9 condominium units on Cliffside Dr.; for 11 one-family dwellings, 2 two-family dwellings, 1 bank drive-in facility, 13 tool sheds, 13 swimming pools, 29 fences, 4 signs, 3 demolitions, 45 alterations, and additions, and 69 electrical, 38 heating and 29 plumbing projects.

Zoning amendments adopted by agency

Manchester's Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) Monday night adopted a variety of zoning regulation amendments and revised its description of the Central Business District (CBD) Zone in downtown Manchester.

The PZC's unanimous decision was reached after a short public hearing attended by only one person: Kenneth Burkamp, developer of the planned Manchester Mall at 811 Main St.

Burkamp, planning to convert the old Jaffe & Podvora Building to a mini-mall and hotel, raised questions about one of the regulation amendments being considered: A change in the definition of "hotel."

The new definition, as proposed and adopted by the PZC, describes "hotel" as "a commercial building or group of buildings originally designed and built for the purpose of providing sleeping accommodations for hire, primarily used by transients who are lodged with or without meals."

Burkamp asked the PZC to revise the definition to provide for existing buildings which are renovated to become hotels. PZC members declined to change the wording, but Potter said the revision was made because several existing lots were split by the zoning boundary.

Cheney Tech prom royalty

Andrew West, senior at Howell Cheney Regional Vocational Technical School, and his date, Ceba Lupien, wear the regal prom held Friday at Flano's Restaurant in Bolton. West is in the foreground and Lupien is behind him.

The zoning map revision of the CBD Zone follows old CBD lines but clarifies the east and west limits of the zone. Town Planner J. Eric Potter said the revision was made because several existing lots were split by the zoning boundary.

The other amendments approved by the PZC Monday night revise or add definitions of "motel," "rooming house," "apartments," and "group dwellings."

The amendments also specify that hotels and motels in Business 2 and 3 Zones must have at least 16 units. Also, rooming houses have been prohibited in any zone while "over-night cabins" will be allowed.

More than 100 attend Cheney Tech prom

About 130 students, friends and staff members of Howell Cheney Regional Vocational Technical School danced to the music of the Al Jarvis Orchestra Friday night at Flano's Restaurant Bolton. The occasion was the school's senior prom.

Reigning over the evening's activities were Andrew West, Cheney Tech senior, and Ceba Lupien as King and Queen of the prom.

During the evening, a silver tray was presented by the senior class to Lennart Johnson, guidance counselor, who is retiring in December.

Director John Garofalo was given a marble and gold desk set by the senior class, the class that began as freshmen in Garofalo's first year as director of Cheney Tech.

Other gifts were presented to class advisors in appreciation of their services. Gifts presented were a gold watch to James Krone, a gold pen set to Harold Collins, and a gold lighter to Alan Skinner.

The final event in the year for the senior class will be graduation which takes place Friday at 7 p.m. on the lawn behind the school.

Man fleeing police kills man in truck

BRIDGEPORT (UPI) — A Bridgeport man, lying in a hospital bed in critical condition, today faced a murder charge for allegedly running a man with his car while fleeing police.

Authorities said Hector Vasquez, 19, was fleeing police Monday after allegedly burglarizing a home when he rammed a United Illuminating Co. van and killed lineman Robert Shea, 44, of Stratford. Two persons injured in the accident were in critical condition and four others were reported fair by hospital officials.

Police said Vasquez would be charged with murder under a state law which implicates the driver of a car involved in a fatal crash after leaving the scene of a felony.

Police said a passenger in Vasquez's car, James Diaz, 17, of Bridgeport, was also in critical condition at St. Vincent's Hospital with multiple injuries. Daniel Portley, 41, of Trumbull, driver of the van, was in fair condition at Bridgeport Hospital with multiple injuries.

Three other passengers in Vasquez's car were hospitalized in fair condition. They were Jose Diaz, 22, of Bridgeport, John Berrio, 16, of Bridgeport, and Modesto Diaz, 16, of Bridgeport.

Decorations stolen

Several flags have been stolen and a few bunting displays vandalized along the Main St. route of Manchester's Saturday Bicentennial Parade, Parade Chairman Wallace Irish said today.

Irish said displays of bunting at the Hartford National Bank & Trust Co., B.D. Pearl & Son, and the Wolverson Agency have been ripped down by vandals.

Eight of the 100 flags along Main St. are missing, he said. Irish noted that the flag display covers the entire length of Main St., not just in downtown Manchester, for the first time ever.

DAR plans picnic

Ms. C.E. Carlson, state regent, and Mrs. Ben Sasportat, former state regent and national vice-president general of the daughters of the American Revolution will be guests at the annual picnic of Orford Parish Chapter, DAR, Thursday at noon at the home of Mrs. Edna Drinkwater, 1632 Tolland Tpk.

Members are reminded to bring articles for a white elephant auction.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Henry Mallett, Mrs. Robert Lappen, Miss Fay Lyon, Mrs. Pierre Martency, Mrs. Frederic Baker and Mrs. Harold Warren.

Correction

Miss Sally (Packard) Robb, a descendant of Daniel Packard who answered the Lexington alarm and fought at Bunker Hill, was named an honorary marshal of Manchester's June 12 Bicentennial Parade and not Miss Hazel Robb as reported in Monday's Herald.

MPHNA defining ways to cut back budget

The Manchester Public Health Nursing Association will define in dollar terms what services can be reduced to meet the $89,000 budget granted by the town Board of Directors. The MPHNA had originally requested $125,000.

The MPHNA met Monday night to discuss budget trimming with a sub-committee of the town board and the advisory board of health.

In determining its priorities, the MPHNA was encouraged by the sub-committee to coordinate its efforts with the town health director.

Included in the list of items the MPHNA is considering revising are:

- Maintaining a seven-nurse staff instead of the eight nurses the agency had a year ago.
- Elimination of the vision and hearing clinics in favor of having them conducted by a civic organization.
- Eliminating the monthly scheduled TB clinic or having it less frequently.
- Getting other towns participating in a regular chest clinic to share in nurse attendance. MPHNA has always supplied one of its nurses for the clinic.
- The MPHNA's budget reduction is not intended to reduce its existing direct nursing services.
- Mrs. Vivian Ferguson, a member of the sub-committee, suggested that the MPHNA and the advisory board of health work together and determine how they can coordinate their efforts.
- Mrs. Lois Lewis, MPHNA director, said she will discuss her program mission with Dr. Alice Turek, town health director, and finalize her report within the next two weeks so that the new MPHNA program can be implemented July 1.

Affirmative Action aide alternatives proposed

As a substitute for hiring an equal opportunity coordinator, the town is proposing three moves to comply with affirmative action and fair housing requirements of federal Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Town Manager Robert Weiss has informed HUD of the town's decision not to hire a coordinator, a decision made by the Board of Directors because of budget considerations.

As an alternative, Weiss said in a letter to HUD officials, the town will try to adopt and implement an affirmative action plan, a plan which works toward the hiring of minorities.

As a second measure, the town will ask the Human Relations Commission to assume direct responsibility for handling complaints on housing and employment discrimination. The commission has favored having administrative assistance in the monitoring process.

The commission argued that it had been charged with that responsibility by the ordinance which set it up. The commission has favored having administrative assistance in the monitoring process.

cooperate with the Conference of Churches and the League of Women Voters in sponsoring a series of programs this fall on equal employment and fair housing in Manchester and the Hartford region.

The town has been under HUD pressure to provide assurance of fair housing and affirmative action toward minority hiring and its application for Community Development Block Grants.

In the past, some members of the Board of Directors have resisted an effort by the Human Relations Commission to assume a role in monitoring an affirmative action plan.

OSHA violations
NORTH HAVEN (UPI) — The U.S. Labor Department has fined Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Division a total of $14,745 for allegedly violating 51 provisions of the Occupational Safety and Health Act.

The department said most of the violations resulted from the company's failure to prevent unqualified workers from going into electrical panel boxes, charged with up to 440 volts.

The department said the practice at the plant, a division of United Technologies Corp., previously had caused the death of an employee.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: One of the reasons I used to love to go to church was the organ music. Well, our organist moved out of town, and now a piano player is playing the organ. It is punishment to me, it is oblivion.

She is such a pleasant and willing person that nobody wants to complain, but if they don't get rid of her and get an organist, he'll quit coming to church, and so will several of my friends.

Our clergyman must be tone deaf. So what's the solution? This is a small town. No name, please.

CHURCHGOER DEAR GOER: You and the others who share your view should talk to the clergyman and suggest that he consider getting an organist - or educate the piano player.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't put me down and call me a starchy-eyed dreamer, but I have a terrific crush on my doctor. I am a happily married young woman with a perfectly good husband and two beautiful children. So why is this doctor on my mind all the time?

I told my husband about it and even asked him if maybe I should change doctors, and he said he wouldn't do any good - that I would probably develop a crush on the next one. And he's right, he says. It's nothing unusual because most women are in love with their doctor. Is that true?

I am sure your doctor does have a clue that I have this wild crush on him, and I know there's no chance of his becoming interested in me, but that doesn't change my feelings about him.

Any suggestions? GOT A CRUSH

DEAR GOT: Not every woman has a crush on her doctor. It's not unusual to mistake feelings of gratitude, admiration, respect and hero-worship for romantic love. Analyze your feelings and recognize them for what they are before your next appointment, or your doctor won't be able to get an accurate history of your normal blood pressure, pulse and heartbeat.

DEAR ABBY: Perhaps I am overreacting, but I don't think so. After 38 years of a wonderful marriage, my husband passed away. Later, and especially at Christmas, I received a large number of cards addressed to "Mrs. Agnes Smith." I even received some lovely stationery with "MRS. AGNES SMITH" printed on it.

It is like a knife cutting off the last tie with my late husband. Isn't it proper to be addressed as "Mrs. Harold Smith"? I realize that for business purposes, my legal name is "Mrs. Harold Smith," but socially, until and unless I remarry, I am "Mrs. Harold Smith," am I not?

Perhaps if you publish this, some of my friends will realize how deeply they have hurt me. MRS. HAROLD SMITH

DEAR MRS. SMITH: You are indeed Mrs. Harold Smith, and should be addressed as such socially.

Astro-graph

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

Wednesday, June 9, 1976 ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your adventurous spirit could lead you astray today, if you engage in any form of speculation that is not a something-for-nothing day.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) In receiving an important agreement today, don't be more generous than your counterpart. It is best to hold water unless each give equally.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You may volunteer to do something for another today, hoping you'll later reap more than you've sown. It just won't work out that way.

CANCER (June 21-July 20) Waste not, want not is an old and wise saying. You probably won't need it today, and will be extravagant with your resources and those of associates.

LEO (July 21-Aug. 22) You may get targets for yourself today that far exceed your capabilities. Be realistic in assessing your talents and skills.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) To win you're tempted to play the game of one-upmanship when others tell you of their achievements. You won't appreciate being upstaged by anyone.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your expense whims could get the better of you today, if you let yourself go all out in your purchases. You don't need a price you can't afford.
