Illegal walkout seeks wage increase

Public workers strike in Massachusetts

BOSTON (UPI) — Thousands of state employees staged an illegal strike against Massachusetts today demanding higher wages. State officials immediately went to court to try to end the first such walkout in its history.

Less than four hours after the start of the strike by the state's 50,000 unionized employees, the Labor Relations Commission asked the Superior Court for an injunction to force employees back to work.

There were scattered reports of violence, but no reports of serious injuries or arrests.

There was no immediate indication if Labor Relations Commissioner James S. Cooper would ask the court to fine or imprison union officials.

Court action followed Gov. Michael S. Dukakis' vow to seek an immediate injunction to end the strike. There were indications the walkout had expanded to some nonunion state employees, while some union employees remained at work.

Corrections officials declared a "state of emergency" in state prisons to allow involuntary holdover of guards on the night shift. Critical services for the state's more than 10,000 mental and physically ill patients suffered cutbacks, but officials said adequate care was provided.

About 160 nonunion employees at the University of Massachusetts Medical School hospital walked off in sympathy with the strikers.

Scattered incidents marked the beginning of the strike which was called Sunday by the Alliance, a coalition of unions representing organized state employees. State law two years ago gave state employees the right to collective bargaining, but banned strikes.

Involving Buckland area

Fire protection dispute trial start delayed

The Buckland fire protection lawsuit, which was to go to trial today in Hartford County Superior Court, appears to have been delayed because Judge Edward Hamill hasn't finished hearing another case.

There was no word at The Herald's deadline on whether the case might come up this afternoon. The lawsuit — seeking determination of who has jurisdiction for fire protection in the Buckland area of Manchester — was to begin today with filing of documents with the court.

It was anticipated that witnesses, not yet named, would begin to give testimony Tuesday. Estimates were that the trial would last all week.

The lawsuit is being brought by the Eighth Utilities District against the State Police were called to the Monson State Hospital when pickets reportedly hit two cars with baseball bats. Randy Stabach was treated and released at a local hospital for injuries suffered when he was struck by van.

Town of Manchester to determine who — the district or the town — has jurisdiction for fire protection in Buckland. The district claims a Nov. 27 referendum gave it the authority to expand its boundaries to include the Buckland area. The town contends the district boundaries can't be extended without town permission.

A new town firehouse within the Buckland area is under construction and near completion. Last October, a Superior Court judge rejected a request for a temporary injunction to stop the firehouse construction.

The district filed its lawsuit against the town in January. In April, the town filed a countersuit seeking $500,000 in damages.

Still pending, but not in court, is a challenge to the district's November referendum on expansion to Buckland. Town Fire Fighter Robert Bychowski's complaint about alleged illegal electioneering by district firemen is being investigated by the state Election Commission.

Manchester graduates 632 tonight

Manchester High School will graduate 632 seniors tonight. Plans are to have the ceremonies outdoors at Memorial Field.

However, in case of rain, the graduation will be held inside Clarke Arena. Admission will be by ticket only.

The auditorium and cafeteria will be open for guests, but for broadcast only, if anyone wants to hear the ceremony.

Any last minute change in plans will be announced over radio stations WINF, WTIC and WDRG.

Gilbert Hunt, head of the high school English department, will be the guest speaker. The Round Table Singers will perform during the program.

Local police deferring action on blue laws

Manchester Police say they're waiting for court interpretations before considering any action under Connecticut's recently amended Sunday closing laws.

Patrol Capt. Richard Sartor said today the local department won't try to enforce the laws until there's a court ruling on an apparent loophole in the state's Blue Laws.

Sartor said police didn't receive any complaints Sunday about decisions by at least four large supermarkets to open for business. Two local Mott's Shop-Rite Supermarkets, the Finest Supermarket and the A & P store took advantage of the loophole Sunday and remained open.

Local independent grocers remained open Sunday, as they have in the past, including Supreme Foods, Highland Park Market and Pinehurst Grocery. The only major non-food store open Sunday, as it was for some time, was Treasure City.

The first known complaint of illegal sales under the new Sunday closing law occurred in Newington, but police there delayed action on enforcement until they get clarification of the law.

Management of the Treasure City Department Store in Newington filed a complaint against Two Guys, a similar store, being open on Sunday.

Doubts about the new closing law were raised by discovery, after Gov. Ella Grasso signed the measure, of a loophole which apparently allows large supermarkets to stay open and sell everything they normally do.

The law was intended to allow only small stores to stay open on Sunday, selling a limited number of items, according to legislators.

A New Britain Common Pleas Court judge ruled the previous Blue Laws unconstitutional because they were too vague and were enforced selectively. That ruling doesn't bear directly on the new law, but reflected doubt on it.

A little light conversation

Bob Usab and Bob Mansfield discuss the lighter side of life as they look through a sea of fellow graduates during commencement exercises Saturday at Coventry High School.

Coventry awards diplomas to 113 graduating seniors

By LINDA LOVERING

Coventry High School's first Saturday afternoon commencement was held on the school lawn where 113 students received diplomas under cloudy skies.

Mrs. Joan Lewis, chairman of the Board of Education, presented the diplomas.

Of the 1976 graduating class, Dr. Arnold E. Elman, superintendent of schools, said, "They are a warm, sincere, open, industrious group."

Sincerity seemed to be the theme of this graduation. Graduate Steven Dickau suffered severe injuries in a car accident earlier this year. Dickau was given a standing ovation by his classmates as he received his diploma. He was presented with a contribution to help defray medical expenses. The money was raised by the senior class.

Catherine Mohan, class copresident, welcomed the audience. Miss Mohan said, "I would like to congratulate you. Without you, there would be no one to share the memories of the past and no one to share the dreams of the future. So I welcome you not only to the finish of many happy memories, but to the beginning of a new future. For you are all a part of our past and now we welcome you to be a part of our future."

The graduating class presented gifts to Coventry High School. They include a 15-ft. "patriot" sign, for the gymnasium wall, a Bicentennial flag.

Italian vote heavy

ROME (UPI) — Italians voted in record numbers today in a national election showdown between the Washington-backed Christian Democrats and the West's most powerful communist party.

Taking advantage of beautiful weather throughout the peninsula, many Italians preferred Sunday to go the beaches and mountain resorts.

But today they came back in a last-minute rush that topped the record vote of 35.3 million set in regional elections one year ago.

The vote, among the most important in postwar Europe, will decide whether the Christian Democrats, who have ruled alone or in coalition for 31 years, will remain dominant or give way to a communist party that hopes to benefit from government scandals, economic crisis and its own generally sound record in local government.

Motorcyclist dies of injuries

East Hartford man killed in auto crash near park

A 22-year-old East Hartford man was killed in the Sunday morning crash of his sports car on W. Middle Tpke. and a young motorcyclist, seriously hurt in a crash June 12 with a town fire engine, died Saturday night at Manchester Memorial Hospital, authorities said.

John Grasso, 22, of 11 Ralph Rd., East Hartford, died at Manchester Memorial Hospital at about 4 a.m. Sunday from injuries he suffered in a 2 a.m. crash near Wickham Park, police said.

Police said Grasso's small sports car, westbound on W. Middle Tpke., crossed into the eastbound lane, went off the road and struck a tree. Grasso received first aid at the scene from fire fighters and ambulance personnel.

The accident is still under investigation.

Paul J. Botticello, 17, of 15 Dudley St., the motorcyclist, hurt June 12, died at about 10:15 p.m. Saturday at the hospital, police said. Botticello, who suffered serious, multiple injuries in the crash, had been in critical condition in the Intensive Care Unit for a week.

The June 12 crash occurred at the intersection of Waddell Rd. and W. Center St. at about 5:25 p.m. Police said Botticello was headed north on Waddell Rd. when his cycle hit the side of the town's Engine No. 5, which was westbound on W. Center St. responding to an alarm on Spencer St.

The engine, driven by Fire Fighter Anthony Salafia, was proceeding against a red light with its siren and lights on, authorities said. That accident is still being investigated.

Elsewhere in Connecticut, at least four persons were killed in weekend accidents on state highways, police said.

Two persons were killed Saturday and three others were injured when a car crossed the centerline and hit an oncoming vehicle on Rt. 6 in Columbia. Killed were Ramon Altieri, 57, of Southbridge, Mass., the driver, and Gilberto Sarraga of Hartford.

In East Lyme, Alan T. Hamilton, 29, was killed Saturday in a head-on collision with a tractor-trailer on I-95, police said. The truck driver was treated for minor injuries.

Richard C. Page, 46, of Southington was killed Saturday when he was struck by a car while crossing Woodford Ave. in Plainville, police said.

State lawmakers considering vetoed legislation today

HARTFORD (UPI) Lawmakers today returned to the Capitol to consider 16 bills they passed at the recently ended legislative session that were vetoed by Gov. Ella T. Grasso.

It was unlikely any of the vetoed measures would muster the two-thirds support in both houses needed to override Mrs. Grasso's veto, legislative leaders said.

Last year the lawmakers overrode five of the 19 bills vetoed by the governor.

The major piece of legislation vetoed this year by Mrs. Grasso was a bill relaxing penalties for sale and possession of marijuana and other drugs.

House Speaker James J. Kennelly,

D-Hartford, says some lawmakers have been talking about trying to muster the strength to override the marijuana veto, but he considers that possibility "very doubtful."

The marijuana bill passed the House 72-64 and the Senate 18-12. It takes 101 of the 151 members of the House and 24 of the 36 senators to override the veto.

In her veto message Mrs. Grasso said she could not sign the bill because it did not differentiate between sellers of large and small amounts of drugs.

Senate Minority Leader Lewis B. Rome, R-Bloomfield, said he doesn't see any "fervor" among lawmakers to pump new life into the vetoed bills. Kennelly and Senate President Pro

Tem Joseph Fauliso, D-Hartford, said lawmakers have told them they wanted another vote on the following bills returned unsigned by the governor that would have:

—Permitted local police to wear the same wide-brimmed hats worn by the state police.

—Create a new commission to oversee state student financial aid programs.

—Prevent certain state employees from getting credit toward state retirement from military time.

—Exempt the Connecticut Public Transportation Authority from a number of state regulations.

—Increase the amount of property a nonresident must own to be eligible to vote in town meetings.

Opinion
Costly victory for consumers

As if Americans were not already displaying an increasing propensity of suing each other at the drop of a tort, the U.S. Supreme Court has now given them the right to sue an airline if it bumps them off a flight for which they have a reservation.
In the case in question, Allegheny Airlines made the mistake of doing just that to a fellow named Ralph Nader, who is not known for suffering corporate high-handedness in silence.
The airlines, of course, did not start the practice of over-booking flights because they like to push customers around. It was because a lot of people apparently hedge their travel plans by making multiple reservations with two or more airlines to assure themselves of a seat with one of them. Since there is nothing to stop them from continuing to do this, the consequence presumably will be more empty seats on more flights and less revenue to the carriers, and somebody will have to pay for it.
Mr. Nader has thus scored another victory for the ordinary consumer, but like many of his victories, it is going to cost the ordinary consumer.

The same is true with all kinds of personal injury litigation: Somebody has to pay the bill — first, the sued airline or manufacturer or municipality or insurance company, but ultimately and always the fee-paying, tax-paying, premium-paying private citizen.
This is nowhere more obvious than in the area of automobile and property insurance. Quarter-million-dollar court settlements are not uncommon today, says DeForest W. Abel Jr., president of one of the nation's oldest mutual insurers of automobiles. With an average premium payment of $300, just one such settlement consumes the entire annual premium payments of more than 833 policyholders.

The right of association not a new concept

WASHINGTON — "The associational right which our system honors permits all-white, all-black, all-brown and all-yellow clubs to be formed."
Who said that? No sir and ma'am, not President Ford. The statement was uttered in 1972 by that famous doctrine liberal and protector of civil rights, William O. Douglas, who was then a member of the Supreme Court.
I do not recall any great outpouring of liberal wrath when Douglas thus reaffirmed the constitutional right of association. But those who always hailed Douglas as a saint sent among us to save our souls have been jumping all over Gerald Ford for saying that segregated private schools have a right to reject students because of their race.
Ford is on pretty good personal ground. He says he's opposed to such discrimination by private schools, and notes that his own children attended integrated public and private schools — which is more than some of our more notable bleeding-heart politicians can say.
But Ford is defending that freedom so dear to the consciences of his attackers — the freedom of the individual. He "would hope" people would not operate nor send their children to segregated schools, but he thinks "individuals do have some rights where they are willing to make the choice and pay the price."

The President of course is right. Segregation because of race may be distasteful, but nothing in the Constitution forbids that it be practiced privately.
Indeed, it might be said that Ford's position is more liberal than was that of Justice Douglas. Parents, he said, should have the right to send their children to segregated private schools so long as the schools are not getting federal funds or tax advantages. Compare this stand with that taken by Douglas in a case involving private clubs.
In that case, the Supreme Court found that the fact a private club dispensed liquor under a state license was not enough to constitute "state action" that would bring the club under the mandate of the 14th Amendment. Some people would argue that granting a liquor license to a club sounds like "state action," but Douglas and the rest of the majority rejected that argument.
So what is a private school if not taxpayers' money is involved it is also legal.

Fundamentalism's new day in court

DAYTON, TENN. — "All people are descended from monkeys," one of the comic strips says, "only some people show it more."
And everyone laughs. Except in Dayton. "God created man in his own image," is the way the story is told locally. "But man created God in his."
It's not that the citizens of Dayton are killjoys. It's just that for a half century the jokes about creation have been on them. Now they may be having the last laugh, or at least last smile.
This is the town where, in 1925, Clarence Darrow debated William Jennings Bryan at the legendary trial regarding the question of human origin. The subject was John T. Scopes, a high school biology teacher who purposely broke a Tennessee law forbidding the teaching of evolution. His guilt was never in question. The good purpose of the law was, in some eyes Darrow humiliated the idea of Godly creation, and destroyed the supernatural hypothesis forever.
It turns out, however, that the faithful have never been swayed. And the resurgence of American religious interest has once again opened the discussion as to whether man is a fortunate mutation of accidental or a special and immutable blessing. Arguing articles are appearing in scholarly journals. Fundamentalist groups are dispatching believers to debate the masses in the universities. And, apparently, millions of people who are thinking anew about evolution vs. creativity agree with Bryan: "The choice is between God and Baa!"

nation does not believe the Bible on this point, it must wonder if there are other misrepresentations in the written word of God. Did the author of Genesis lie? Then how about Matthew, Mark, Luke and John? Creationists say people who seek earthly evidence against heavenly gospel have no good future.
In Dayton such belief is pervasive. Even in an age when the gals endorse on the local movie screens, the majority of residents believe in the

Reflections

Hal Turkington
Managing Editor
Manchester High School will graduate a class tonight. If weather permits, exercises will be on Memorial Field; if not, in Clarke Arena.
We find differences and similarities in graduations today and in our day. Size is a difference; we had 251 in 1941, and tonight's class numbers 632.
Our graduation was in the morning in the State Theater. Each classmate received two tickets, and they were for parents. Tonight, if outdoors, you can easily find yourself a seat in the bleachers; if indoors, there aren't enough seats to go around.
Our procession started at the old high school on Main St. and we walked to the theater, as you can see in the photo. Girls were on the outside as we marched on the west side of the street, but only because they would use the righthand aisles of the theater to get to their seats.
Graduates today walk from the high school to Memorial Field and up the single aisle on the football field to their seats.
Our recessional took us back to the school and tonight the grads also go back to the school.
To one really gets his own diploma when he shakes the hand of the School Board member presenting them.
In our day, weather permitting, we would form a circle on the front lawn and then pass the diplomas around until we got our own. The circle became smaller and smaller.
Tonight, the grads will find tables with the letters of the alphabet on them; they find the table with the letter to their last name and someone will give them their diploma.

Gowns are similar, white for the gals, maroon for the fellas.
But there the similarity vanishes! We wore shirts and ties, jackets, and shoes under our gowns. Girls wore dresses, stockings and shoes.
If you could take a peak under gowns tonight, you probably will find girls wearing shorts and halters, if it's hot; some may wear swim suits if their after-graduation party takes them to the shore. Footwear will range from sandals to go-a-heads to sneakers.
The fellas won't wear anything more fancier. Some will have on T-shirts or leisure shirts; you might find some wearing shorts; it will be casual footwear, too.
Our Somahnjis was photographed by just about everyone in the class. We wonder how many of today's graduates even find the time to get their copies signed by classmates — all 632 of them.
Many of tonight's graduates will leave their seats to sing one last time with the Round Table Singers. We did.
Music will be by an organist; we used the orchestra.
Tears will flow when tassels are moved.
A car chain will roll through town, horns blaring symbolizing the end of secondary school education.
Somebody this class will reflect upon tonight, as we reflect today upon a memory of 35 years.

Principal Edson M. Bailey leads the 330 graduates in the June 1955 class along Main St. to the State Theater for exercises.

Simon receives Martin award

Michael Simon, a Manchester High School senior, has received a public service award from the Manchester Scholarship Foundation.
He was recently awarded the Richard Martin Public Service Award which is given in recognition of his service to school and community.
The MSF, by special arrangement with Mrs. Richard Martin, administers this award in an effort to recognize individual qualities which promote the public interest. The award was established to honor the late Richard Martin who was Manchester's Town manager for 13 years, and who served also as state water commissioner and in other offices and agencies concerned with public affairs.

Volunteers sought for Camp Kennedy

With Manchester's Camp Kennedy ready to open next Monday (June 28) for its 13th consecutive year, Camp Director Harry F. Smith issued a call today for additional volunteer counselors — especially for the last two sessions. The camp will operate for three sessions of two weeks each, closing Aug. 6. Smith said volunteers may sign up Thursday and Friday at 10 a.m., when orientation sessions for volunteers and staff are held at the camp site. A total of 21 counselors have signed up, with the following six the latest: Diane Genovasi, Bernie Alemany, Barbara Slaby, Lynn Alemany, Robert Bohadik and Sara Gorman.

New students register

New students who will be attending Manchester High School next year should report to the high school administration office for registration and to the guidance office for programming of courses after June 23 between 8:30 and 11 a.m. and 1 to 2:30 p.m.

Selectmen criticize financiers

Andover
The Board of Selectmen this week severely criticized the Board of Finance for amassing its power after the 1976-1977 budget was approved in May. At the annual budget meeting residents voted to cut the budget by $8,500. The finance board did not reduce the tax rate. Instead it reduced the amount of money from cash surplus that would be used to reduce the budget.

Houley announces his candidacy for re-election

By BARBARA RICHMOND
Herald Reporter
35th District Democrats gathered in Vernon last week to hear State Sen. Robert Houley announce his candidacy for re-election. Houley, who has served as state senator for six years, not controversially, recalled the first time he ran for the post in 1968. He said the Democratic party in what was the old 35th District, had not won this senate seat since the 1923 Roosevelt landslide and they were looking for a candidate. He said he called Leo B. Flaherty Jr., who was the Democratic town clerk, and asked, "What's a state senator?"

Obituaries

Josephine M. Lindsay
Miss Josephine Mae Lindsay, 89, of 574 Wehrell St. died Sunday in a local convalescent home.

Miss Lindsay was born March 19, 1917, in Wilmington, Del., and lived in South Weymouth, Mass., and Amesbury, N.H., before coming to Manchester two years ago.

She was a former school teacher in South Weymouth.

Survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Annie P. Leighton of Manchester and Mrs. Jean T. Costigan of Venice, Fla.

The funeral is Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. from the John F. Tierney Funeral Home, 219 W. Center St., with a Mass at 11 at the Church of the Assumption. Burial will be in St. James Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9 p.m.

The family suggests that friends wishing to make memorial gifts to the Church of the Assumption Building Fund.

Paul J. Botticello
Paul James Botticello, 17, of 15 Dudley St. died Saturday night as the result of head and body injuries received when his motorcycle crashed into a town fire truck June 13.

He was born July 11, 1958, in Manchester where he lived all his life. He was a junior at Manchester High School.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Botticello; a brother, Henry J. Botticello, at home; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Frances Koper of Norwich, and his paternal grandfather, Henry Botticello of Manchester.

The funeral is Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. from the John F. Tierney Funeral Home, 219 W. Center St., with a Mass at 10 at the Church of the Assumption. Burial will be in St. James Cemetery.

Delegate gap narrows in Ford-Reagan race

By ELIZABETH WHEATON
United Press International
With the delegate gap narrowing between President Ford and Ronald Reagan, the possibility looms that the winner will not be known until the final actually is called in Kansas City in August.

By UPI's tabulation, Ford - after losing a net of 16 in the weekend delegate selection processes of four states - now has 1,023 to Reagan's 1,076.

But some of the support for both men is said to be so soft that the actual standing is little more than an approximation.

Some states have firm rules binding delegates to support the candidate to which they are committed during the selection process. Others do not, and supporters of both Ford and Reagan are said to be soliciting delegates who officially "belong" to the other.

Both Ford and Reagan look to up-close delegate selection in Connecticut, Colorado, Minnesota, Montana, New Mexico, North Dakota, Utah and Idaho - and both predict victory.

Others say the remaining 161 delegates will put neither candidate over the 1,130 mark.

The Democrats have no such problems. Their rules committee, in fact, is talking about delegates for the 1980 convention.

Jimmy Carter, who spoke to two religious conventions Saturday and then taught Sunday school in Plains, Ga., Sunday, gained 20 more delegates in Texas plus 43 more in New York who were previously for Henry Jackson.

Carter now has at least 1,650 delegates, 145 more than needed for the nomination.

The Democratic Rules Committee met in Washington and unanimously approved a proposal to give minorities a stronger voice in party affairs without resorting to a quota system.

But Carter's supporters led a successful fight against a proposal to require an equal representation of men and women at the convention next month in New York.

House Minority leader John Rhodes, R-Ariz., GOP convention chairman, speculated the Republican nomination could go beyond one ballot at the convention if some states decided to withhold their votes during the roll call.

He didn't think it would happen, he said in an interview Sunday on CBS-TV's "Face the Nation," but, "It is possible and I'm researching it now."

State to buy railroad right-of-ways
HARTFORD (UPI) - Three segments of abandoned railroad right-of-way owned by the Penn Central Transportation Co. will be bought by the state, Gov. Ella T. Grasso said today.

Mrs. Grasso also called on the firm to halt its plans to remove track from a section of the rail line between Rocky Hill and North Cromwell. Penn Central has told the state it would be used to buy the three segments. The three segments to be bought.

Friends call at the funeral home Tuesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Thomas M. O'Brien
COLUMBIA - Thomas M. O'Brien, 59, of Pine St., a retired Connecticut state police major, died Saturday at Windham County Memorial Hospital, Willimantic.

He was born in Hartford and lived in Columbia the past 10 years.

He was with the state police for 28 years until his retirement in 1972.

He was a member of the board of directors of the Manchester Child Guidance Clinic.

Other survivors are his wife, three daughters, two other sons, a brother, three sisters and nine grandchildren.

The funeral is Tuesday at 9:15 a.m. from the Potter Funeral Home, 456 Jackson St., Willimantic, with a Mass at 10 at St. Columba's Church in Columbia. Burial will be in Center Cemetery, Columbia.

There are no calling hours.

The family suggests that friends wishing to make memorial gifts to the Community Health Services, Rt. 6, Columbia.

Mrs. Helen Graham
Mrs. Helen Stanke Graham, 58, of Wethersfield, died Sunday in St. Francis Hospital, Hartford. She was the sister of Mrs. Mildred Malachuk.

The funeral is Tuesday at 9:15 a.m. from the Rose Hill Funeral Home, 580 Elm St., Rocky Hill, with a Mass at 10 at Corpus Christi Church, South St. and West Rd., Vernon.

The joint force - a battalion of Libyan and a battalion of Syrian troops - crossed into eastern Lebanon early this morning and moved unopposed southwest across the Bekaa valley to Sidon and then along the main coastal highway into the capital from the Syrian-controlled approach at Khadde.

The renewed fighting during the night left another convoy of about 50 foreigners seeking to get out via an overland route to Damascus stranded at the British embassy. Beirut's uplown western coast.

President Ford ordered the naval rescue of 118 Americans and 107 others Sunday after fighting centered plans for a land convoy.

The evacuation by a U.S. Navy landing craft came off without a hitch - but diplomats chided what they called Washington's "overly dramatized presentation" of the dangers involved in evacuating a fraction of the 1,400 Americans here.

Some here dubbed the evacuation "Operation Iowa Primary" - a reference to Ford's attempts to pick up delegates in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

Syrian-Libyan force takes Beirut's airport

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) - A joint force of Syrian and Libyan troops arrived in Beirut today and took over the shell-battered international airport in a bid to enforce the latest truce and stem fighting that flared with the U.S. evacuation of 263 Americans and Europeans from Lebanon.

Witnesses confirmed the first rescue of a 1,000-man advance peace-keeping force arrived at the airport at 1:30 p.m. (6:30 a.m. EDT) and began taking up positions between Palestinian and Syrian forces fighting along the airport road.

The joint force - a battalion of Libyan and a battalion of Syrian troops - crossed into eastern Lebanon early this morning and moved unopposed southwest across the Bekaa valley to Sidon and then along the main coastal highway into the capital from the Syrian-controlled approach at Khadde.

Bennet seeks band uniforms

Of the 75 Bennet Junior High School band uniforms ordered a few years ago, there are only 60 accounted for in the latest inventory.

Band Director Michael Ortilite said there will be a shortage of uniforms next year if he has a full band.

He said he may possibly have 77 players in the band next year.

Those who still have uniforms at home, even if they've had them for a few years, are urged to return them at any time to the main office at Bennet.

Yanks playing great baseball on road

NEW YORK (UPI) - Bowie Kuhn and reliever Sparky Lyle pitched to a pennant in 1960. "We're getting key hits and good pitching," Martin said. "You can't win without this combination. I just wish we had this kind of record at home."

The key hit Sunday was delivered by Thurman Munson, whose two-run single highlighted a five-run third inning that sent Chicago to its 10th straight loss.

The good pitching was supplied by Dock Ellis and reliever Sparky Lyle, who pitched in all six victories and picked up his 12th save, tops in the league. The victory for Ellis, acquired from Pittsburgh in the off-season, was his fourth in a row and seventh in 11 decisions.

In other American League games, Oakland outslugged Milwaukee 7-5, Cleveland outslugged Kansas City 11-8, Detroit topped Minnesota 7-3, Boston edged California 4-3 in 11 innings and Baltimore blanked Texas 2-0.

A's 7, Brewers 5. Don Baylor snapped a fifth-inning tie with a solo homer and Stan Bahnsen and Jim Todd combined for 4 2/3 innings of one-run relief to give the A's their fourth win in six games since Finley's speech.

Finley's speech. Milwaukee's Bill Travers, attempting to become the AL's first nine-game winner, took his fourth loss.

Indians 11, Royals 8. Ray Fosse, who had only 12 RBIs in 1975, drove in four runs and rookie Orlando Gonzalez knocked in the first two runs of his major league career to lead Cleveland past Kansas City. Jim Bibby hurled four shutout innings to gain his third victory.

Tigers 7, Twins 3. Jason Thompson drove in four runs with a three-run homer and a running single to pace Detroit over Minnesota. Rookie sensation Mark Fidrych improved his record to 6-1 but needed relief help from John Hiller for the first time in seven starts.

Mike Cuellar tossed a three-hitter to extend Baltimore's longest winning streak of the year to six games. Cuellar walked two and struck out six in pitching his second straight complete game victory and raising his record to 4-7. The loss was the fifth straight for Texas.

American League

ANAHEIM (UPI) - Tom Murphy says there is more satisfaction in saving a game than in winning one.

The hurler prevailed through the 10th and 11th innings Sunday as the Boston Red Sox narrowly defeated the California Angels 4-3.

It was Murphy's second win in the series against his former team.

"The win Friday night was my first in over a year. Now I've won two in three days. That ought to carry me to 1977," he quipped.

"I'd rather have saves than win the game," Murphy said. "Wins mean you're lucky in a game. A team has to score a lot of runs.

"I'd just as soon come in and protect the lead. That way I know I've done something. It takes more skill to get a save. You can't tell me that about home runs."

Bobby Bonds hit his second solo homer in as many games, giving him eight for the season. His last one was a grand slam May 15 against Minnesota.

"I hit my home runs in bunches," he said.

Bonds had gone 32 games and 126 at bats without a homer.

Southpaw Frank Tanana's next appearance on the mound was still up in the air Sunday. He was slated to pitch Saturday, but a sore throwing arm forced manager Dick Williams to schedule him for a Tuesday assignment.

What's more, he made it plain he's going to try not to remember this one, either.

Mattack had been hammered for seven runs and nine hits in three innings Sunday at the San Francisco Giants whipped the Mets 9-2. The loss was his second of the season against eight victories.

"You have to run into days like that," said Mattack. "And I know enough to forget it."

"Actually," he added, "they hit good pitches in a lot of our defensive actions. It was just one of those things."

The Mets, however, are now two games under .500 and drifting out of the National League's Eastern Division race. They are 13 1/2 games behind the first-place Philadelphia Phillies and 5 1/2 behind the second-place Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Mets' big problem is lack of power - despite the presence of major league home run leader Dave Kingman in their lineup - and the Giants' Ed Hallett and Randy Moffitt made pitching against them look easy Sunday. Hallett allowed five hits and both New York runs in seven innings and Moffitt closed out the game with two singles innings.

Hallett also drove in three runs with a pair of singles as he raised his season record to 5-10.

"I gotta call the commissioner and eat his tail out," Finley said cockily in his Chicago office. "I'm gonna tell him what I'm gonna do. I'm gonna be man enough to call him. But he won't answer the phone. He won't be there."

Finley, who likened Kuhn to a "village idiot" after the commissioner voided the sale of Rudi and Fingers to the Boston Red Sox and Blue to the New York Yankees, continued to refuse to play the three stars because it would indicate his acceptance of Kuhn's edict.

Rudi told A's Manager Chuck Tanner he had a telegram from the commissioner that he could suit up.

"He can't be in the lineup," Finley said. "Let these guys suit up, but don't play them. Keep them in the dugout on ice."

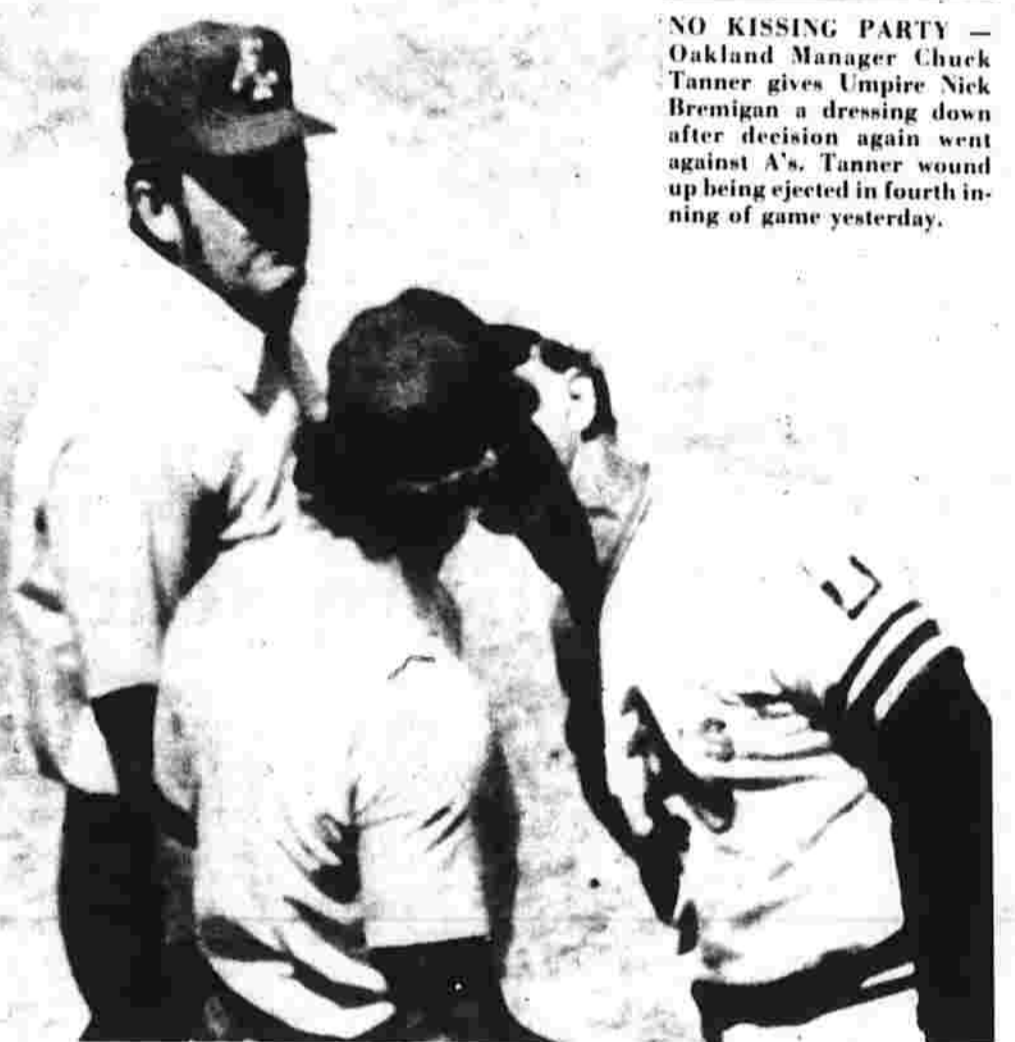

Finley noted that if any of the players got injured with the A's, and then the sales were allowed to go through, Oakland might be vulnerable to suits from the buying clubs.

Meanwhile, the A's, who have always thrived on adversity, took a pair of weekend wins to make it four victories out of six games without the three superstars.

NO KISSING PARTY - Oakland Manager Chuck Tanner gives Umpire Nick Bremigan a dressing down after decision again went against A's. Tanner wound up being ejected in fourth-inning of game yesterday.

Finley's lawyers now in motion

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - A confident Charlie Finley has ordered his lawyers to file a multimillion dollar suit as soon as possible to seek an injunction blocking Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's cancellation of Finley's $3.5 million sale of Vida Blue, Joe Rudi and Rollie Fingers.

Finley's chief attorney, Neil Papiano of Los Angeles, said the suit, charging restraint of trade, would be filed in San Francisco or Oakland.

Estimates of the damages to be demanded by the stormy Oakland A's owner ranged up to $10 million.

"I gotta call the commissioner and eat his tail out," Finley said cockily in his Chicago office. "I'm gonna tell him what I'm gonna do. I'm gonna be man enough to call him. But he won't answer the phone. He won't be there."

Finley, who likened Kuhn to a "village idiot" after the commissioner voided the sale of Rudi and Fingers to the Boston Red Sox and Blue to the New York Yankees, continued to refuse to play the three stars because it would indicate his acceptance of Kuhn's edict.

Rudi told A's Manager Chuck Tanner he had a telegram from the commissioner that he could suit up.

"He can't be in the lineup," Finley said. "Let these guys suit up, but don't play them. Keep them in the dugout on ice."

Meanwhile, the A's, who have always thrived on adversity, took a pair of weekend wins to make it four victories out of six games without the three superstars.

O'Connell sees Kuhn supported

BOSTON (UPI) - Boston General Manager Dick O'Connell says he doesn't think a court appeal will overturn the decision by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn to strip the Red Sox and New York Yankees of three players they purchased from the Oakland A's.

"I don't see how the courts can overturn the ruling," O'Connell said during the weekend. "The commissioner and the executive council control baseball and I think they have an extremely strong case."

"They have the power over baseball vested in them by a major league agreement and I don't see how the courts can find against his ruling."

O'Connell has said the Red Sox will not file suit against Kuhn, Oakland owner Charlie Finley, who netted $3.5 million from the sales, was to be in court today in San Francisco to try to have the decision overturned.

Yankees' President George Steinbrenner also planned to take legal action.

Kuhn, using his power to act "in the best interest of baseball," Friday voided the sale of outfielder Joe Rudi and pitcher Rollie Fingers to the Red Sox and the sale of pitcher Vida Blue to the New York Yankees.

Although unhappy with the decision, O'Connell defended Kuhn's strong action. "In making his decision Kuhn must have felt there was something wrong in a team trying to buy a pennant and that's why he canceled the sales," O'Connell said.

Legion wins second on White's base hit

By LEN AUSTER

Herald Sportswriter
After dropping its first four games, the Manchester American Legion baseball team has now won two straight including an eight-inning 5-4 duke over East Granby yesterday at Eagle Field.

Ed White ground rule one-hop double over the rightfield fence plated Kevin Hanlon who reached on a two-base error by rightfielder Jim Kidd with the game-winner. The win gives Manchester a 2-1 record in Zone Eight play, 2-4 overall, while East Granby is 1-3 in zone action.

Manchester ventures to Torrington Tuesday night at 7 for a non-zone tilt before facing South Windsor on the road Wednesday night at 6.

Pete Daigle, in his first starting mound assignment in over a month, tired at the finish but had enough to go the distance. His roundhouse curve was most effective at the start and he totaled nine strikeouts, four walks and allowed four hits.

East Granby did all its scoring on two-run homers. Shortstop Al Ford

ED WHITE
gave the visitors a 2-0 edge in the third with a blast over leftfield barrier and Rob Fitzgerald knotted it at 4-1 in the sixth with a towering left to dead centerfield, about 375 feet away.

Manchester scored an unearned run in the third as the pivot on a potential doubleplay ball was thrown away. It added two tallies in the fourth, Hanlon singling to center

White, Gilha, and Ballard each collected two hits. East Granby was robbed of a home run in the first inning by a brilliant catch by leftfielder Fitzgerald who leaped over the fence to save a run. Defensively, Hanlon, at the hot corner, and Brad Ingraham, at shortstop, starred for Manchester.

Brown's Tire had a most successful weekend playing four games and winning all. Saturday at Mt. Nebo, Brown's topped Tri-City, 10-1, and Natick, 5-2. Yesterday in Williamstic, the Williamstic Moose defeated Brown's by a 4-1 count and Milford by a 13-0 score.

Marge Malone and Cindy O'Neil each had two hits in the win over Tri City with Barbara Startup notching the mound victory. Gail Shimalita clubbed a grand slam homer in the sixth inning to ensure the decision over Natick.

Fran Vandermere had three straight hits in support of Jean McAdam's 9-0 win over Williamstic. Judy Lauder had two hits, Sharyn Young three and Fred Tracy 4-1-4-5, Jim Moriarty 6-0-7-53, Class B Moganoski 6-16-49, Dick Hasset 6-17-49, Los Ross Connecticut Women's Central Pitch softball team.

Mahahey was two strokes ahead of Pate, three ahead of Geiberger and four ahead of Weiskopf at the start. Pate picked up a stroke by playing the front nine in even par while Geiberger fell five back and appeared out of it.

Weiskopf made a strong bid when he started a string of three straight birdies at the 66th hole and moved into second, a stroke behind the still-leading Mahahey, at the 68th hole. But Weiskopf lost his chance at the 69th, a par three, when he first hit into the green and then almost put his ball into water on his recovery shot.

MB's Jim Tierney had three hits including a homer and Rich Michaud had a pair of blows for the Medics.

Standings: Moriarty Bros 1-1, Nichols 7-5, Medics 6-4, Ed's Arco 4-7, Carrier Chevrolet 2-1.

Chris Cheney, Pat Cosgrove, Joseph Maher and Gary Burby were triple winners in the Manchester Jaycees Junior Olympics Saturday at Manchester High. About 70 boys and girls participated in the event co-sponsored by the Manchester Jaycees and Burger King.

Pate matches Nicklaus fete in first pro year

DULUTH, Ga. (UPI) — Jerry Pate's professional golf career is starting out with a striking resemblance to that of another rookie 14 years ago, a fellow named Jack Nicklaus.

Nicklaus was a 22-year-old former U.S. Amateur champ when he won his first U.S. Open title in 1962 and propelled himself toward recognition as the top golfer in the world.

Only time will tell if Pate can match Nicklaus' many accomplishments, but the novice pro is headed in the right direction.

Pate, also a 22-year-old former U.S. Amateur champ, Sunday became the first man since Nicklaus to win a U.S. Open in his first year as a touring pro and veteran Tom Weiskopf, who tied for runnerup honors with another veteran, Al Geiberger, figures that was just for starters.

"He's got the maturity of a guy at least 27," said Weiskopf. "I'd be very surprised if he doesn't win more major championships."

Nicklaus, who finished 10 strokes back in his fabled hole-in-one as a bitter pill, especially since he had hoped to be young and seemingly inexperienced as Pate could win the Open.

"Well, I did it," said Nicklaus. "The ones who are going to win are going to win. You've got to start sometime."

Pate, co-low-amateur in last year's Open where he tied for 19th, came in this year's Open confident he could win it.

Pate won the Open in style Sunday making a birdie on the final hole to shoot a 3-under-par 277, with a final round 68, and finishing two strokes ahead of Weiskopf and Geiberger.

Pate was never in the lead until the 71st hole when John Mahahey, who had led by a seemingly commanding six strokes at the midway point of Saturday's third round, suffered the second of three straight bogies.

Pate walked beside his ball in light rough just off the 18th fairway while Weiskopf and Geiberger, in a two-man tie just ahead, parred out for 279s.

For Mahahey, who led from midway the second round all the way through the 69th hole, it was a bitter pill, especially since he had hoped to be young and seemingly inexperienced as Pate could win the Open.

"Well, I did it," said Nicklaus. "The ones who are going to win are going to win. You've got to start sometime."

Connors, Evert bookies' picks

WIMBLEDON (UPI) The Wimbledon Tennis Championships entered their 100th year Monday with bookmakers predicting Jimmy Connors of Belleville, Ill., and Chris Evert of Fort Lauderdale would give the United States another sweep of the singles crown.

Evert is the top seed. Connors is not.

English bookmakers have made Connors a 7-4 pick and Evert an even money selection to win the titles of the world's most prestigious tournament.

Connors, 23, is disappointed by the odds but only because they are so short he doesn't think it worthwhile betting on himself. He was hoping for longer odds like the 8-1 on the defending champion and top seed, Arthur Ashe of Miami 34 years old next month and 11th Nastase of Romania, third seed, who will be 30 about the same time.

There was a time in the long history of the blue ribbon classic when the white uniforms of the players when it was not quite nice to mention money or betting.

Elaine Holcomb

This week, while our executive director is on vacation, I would like to bring you up-to-date on what's happening in the Division of Christian Unity.

In February we got back into radio ministry on WINF. Under a new format of scheduling, Manchester's clergy has responded favorably to this "minute ministry." They tape a number of one-minute spots which are heard every day of the year on WINF between 6:10 and 6:25 a.m. So if you are up at that time having breakfast or on your way to work, tune in for a minute of inspiration to start your day with the right thought.

Our clergy has come up with some beautiful little messages, really too good to be missed! I understand these "spots" are also used during the day when a minute filler is needed.

We have had grace cards available for a little over a year and they've been used by a few of our restaurants in town. A letter has recently been sent out to all area restaurants asking them if they'd like to have these for use by their patrons. We are hopeful, in future months, to see more restaurants displaying grace cards. They are offered at no cost with the hope that patrons will pause to thank God for their daily bread. Graces included are Catholic, Greek Orthodox, Jewish and Protestant.

Another media ministry of this division is found daily in The Manchester Herald, usually on the editorial page, the "Today's Thought" column. With all the bad news being reported, it's always refreshing to pause and ponder a positive thought. We're especially grateful to The Herald for offering us this space and to the clergy and lay people who share their thoughts and beliefs for our strengthening.

This spring we joined with the Division of Special Ministries and planned a couple of old-fashioned hymnsings at convalescent homes. The first was well attended, but the second, falling on a beautiful warm Sunday afternoon in May, kept many away. Seven brave souls went to Green Lodge and had a nice visit with the patients there. Even though their singing left something to be desired, their spirit made up for it! One resident remarked, "You all came from different churches!" and was surprised and pleased at this simple gesture of "unity in action."

Come September, watch for our notice for the next hymnsing. You don't need to have a great voice. If you love to sing the old gospel songs and care about bringing a bit of sunshine into the lives of our shut-ins, then plan to be with us this fall to "make a joyful noise."

Our Jewish-Christian Dialogue group has been meeting over two years now and each meeting continues to be exciting and educational. There has been such growth taking place, warm friendships developed, such love and concern shown, that one wishes every person could be part of such a group.

For the Christians in the group, the insights into the history, practices and faith of Jews adds a deeper dimension to their understanding of the faith that was Christ's. For the Jews, there is a clearer understanding of Christian beliefs and practices among denominations. Similarities and differences are discussed with love and frankness, misconceptions are clarified, and a trust and openness are the rewards of each encounter.

During Brotherhood Night last February between South Church and the Temple, a play, "Jonah" was presented which left the Jewish community uptight about some of the insinuations made on the character of Jonah, namely, that in his better-than-thou attitude was seen the impression that many still carry today of the "Chosen People." Fortunately the dialogue meeting was held two nights later, and the whole matter was openly discussed and feeling vented. The Rev. Richard Waters, the writer, director and main actor of the play, was invited to come and discuss his play with the group. This he kindly consented to do, and the encounter turned out to be the most beautiful exchange of feelings and thoughts to date. He explained that his purpose in the play, which is a missionary thrust usually presented to Christian audiences, was to have the audience see themselves in Jonah's actions.

After much discussion and explaining, he acknowledged he had not realized the play could possibly be interpreted in the way it was to the Jewish Community, and after his humble apologies he agreed to rectify the play so that such misconceptions would not occur again.

At times, we are all insensitive to the feelings of others, and many times we unknowingly cause a hurt. It is for this reason, to better understand each other by knowing about each other, that we join in dialogue.

If you are interested in joining a Jewish-Christian Dialogue group, a new group is forming Sept. 30 at Concordia Lutheran Church. The present dialogue group will host this meeting to explain procedures they have used and get the new group moving. If you cannot make this meeting but are interested, please let us know.

Contest winner

Meyer's Barbecued Beef Kabobs

Heat following ingredients slightly on low just enough to blend ingredients — makes about 1½ cups.

Use for beef or veal, but especially use flank steak, cut up in cubes for skewering.

- 2 tbls. wine vinegar
- ½ cup California Red Wine or (Widmer's) cream sherry
- ½ cup consommé
- ½ tsp. thyme
- ½ tsp. marjoram
- 1 tbl. chopped chives
- 1 tsp. dry mustards
- 2 tsp. catsup
- 2 tsp. brown sugar
- ½ tsp. salt
- dash pepper
- ½ tsp. Worcesters Sauce
- ¼ cup vegetable oil

Cool sauce slightly and place in a bowl with cubes of flank steak or other beef or veal. Let marinate at least 1 hour and preferably 4 hours.

Skewer beef alternating with pineapple chunks and banana chunks.
Barbeque as desire i.e. med, well,
etc.

Contest winners receive prizes

Winners in The Herald's Outdoor Cooking Contest are, from left, Mrs. Gail Meyers of Manchester, first prize $25; Mrs. Edith Muse of Manchester, third $5; and Mrs. Debra Intagliata of Coventry, second $10. Mrs. Meyers' recipe appears on the cover. Mrs. Muse's recipe for Stuffed Hamburgers and Mrs. Intagliata's recipe for Chuck Wagon Steak are printed below. All entries are published in this supplement. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Stuffed Hamburgers
 2 tsp. butter or margarine, melted
 1 1/4 cups herb-seasoned stuffing
 1 egg, beaten
 1 (4 ounce) can chopped mushrooms, drained
 1/3 cup beef broth
 1/4 cup sliced green onion
 1/4 cup chopped toasted almonds
 1 tsp. lemon juice
 3 pounds ground beef
 1 tsp. salt
 Thoroughly mix butter, stuffing, egg, mushrooms, beef broth, green onions, almonds, and lemon juice, and set aside. Combine ground beef and salt; shape into 16 patties.
 Top 8 patties with stuffing mixture, using about 1/4 cup per patty. Cover with remaining patties; pinch edges together to seal. Place patties in greased hamburger broiler. Grill over medium coals for 10 to 12 minutes on each side. Makes 8 servings.

Chuck Wagon Steak
 1 3/4 pound chuck steak
 1/4 cup water
 1 1/2 tsp. meat tenderizer
Marinade
 1/3 cup honey
 1/3 cup lemon juice
 1/2 cup soy sauce
 2 cloves garlic, crushed
 1/4 tsp. hot pepper sauce
 Combine marinade ingredients, blend well. Moistening both sides of steak with 1/4 cup water and sprinkle with meat tenderizer. Place steak on lightly oiled foil. Cover with 1/3 cup marinade mix. Seal foil and place on hot coals for about 2 hours. Remove steak and place on grill for about 30 more minutes. Baste with rest of marinade mix. Cook until steak is brown and crusty. Serves about 6 people.

Basic Barbecue Sauce

1 cup catsup
 1 tsp. curry powder
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. pepper
 Accent, shake
 4 tbsp. brown sugar
 1 tsp. dry mustard
 3-4 drops Tabasco
 Heat, stir, do not scorch. Baste over lamb or beef-kabobs, chicken, chuck, etc.

Dessert in a Bundle

Using a 9-inch sheet of aluminum wrap (heavy duty)
 Arrange 2 peach halves on the 9-inch wrap. Sprinkle with sugar, cinnamon, chopped almonds. (Optional 1 tsp. brandy or rum.)

Bring foil up and twist top to close tight. Cook on grill over a medium fire about 15 minutes.

Serve dinner with biscuits or rolls. A complete meal with no dishes if you wish to use the heavy foil for a plate.

R.J. Smith
 31 Essex St.

Barbecue Sauce

1 egg
 1/2 cup cooking oil
 1 cup cider vinegar
 1 1/2 tsps. poultry seasoning
 2 tsps. salt
 1/2 tsp. pepper

Beat egg, add oil, and beat again. Add other ingredients; stir. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly.

Use as barbecue sauce for chicken, applying liberally while chicken is cooking on outdoor grill.

Lynne McCormick
 176 Homestead St.

Strawberry Ice Cream Pie

10 marshmallows
 2 tbsps. crushed strawberries
 2 egg whites
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/4 tsp. salt
 1 qt. vanilla ice cream
 1 cup fresh strawberries
 8 unstemmed berries
 1 pie shell

Heat marshmallows with crushed strawberries slowly, folding over and over until marshmallows are half melted. Remove from heat and continue folding until mixture is smooth and fluffy. Let mixture cool. Beat egg whites until they hold a peak; add sugar slowly, beating constantly.

Add salt. Blend lightly with marshmallow mixture. Place ice cream in crumb shell, cover with sliced strawberries, and top with marshmallow meringue, swirled attractively.

Brown in a 450 degree oven for 1/2 minute or until the tips of the meringue swirls are browned. Remove pie from oven, tuck unstemmed strawberries into the swirls and serve. (Make one nine-inch pie).

Grilled Kielbasa Special

1 large Kielbasa ring
4 medium potatoes, thinly sliced
1 large onion, thinly sliced
2 bay leaves
Salt and pepper
Large square of heavy duty foil
In the center of foil place Kielbasa ring. In center of ring layer potatoes and onions, seasoning as you go along. Wrap securely — place over hot coals on medium level for one hour. Serves 5.

Mrs. John E. Whitham
4 Birch Mt. Ext. Rd.
Bolton.

Grilled Zucchini Parmesan

2 medium zucchini, thinly sliced
1 medium onion, thinly sliced
Salt and pepper
¼ cup water
¼ Parmesan cheese
heavy duty foil
Place zucchini, onion and seasonings in center of foil. Curl edges up slightly and sprinkle with water. Seal tight and place over hot coals for 20 minutes or until tender. Open top slightly and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Leave on grill for 10 minutes until cheese melts. Serves 6.

Mrs. John E. Whitham
4 Birch Mt. Ext. Rd.
Bolton

Chicken a la Caesarsore

2 to 3 pounds all purpose chickens
¼ cup olive oil
1 medium-sized onion
1 pinch hot red pepper
¼ tsp. black pepper
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. parsley, chopped
3 cloves garlic
4 bay leaves
1/3 cup white table wine
1/3 cup tomato pulp
1 ½ cups mushrooms
Cut chicken in serving size pieces. Put olive oil in chicken fryer, brown chicken over low heat until golden brown. Add sliced onion, red and black pepper, salt, parsley, sliced cloves of garlic and bay leaves. Cover pan and let it all cook for 10 minutes. Add wine and cook slowly 15 minutes. Add tomato pulp and sliced, unpeeled mushrooms, and let cook slowly for 20 minutes or until mushrooms are done. Serve hot. Makes 4-6 servings.
Delicious with noodles, dressed with melted butter and sliced nut meats.

Olive McGowan
21 Sunnyview Dr.
Vernon

Lazy-Day Onion Potatoes

1 package of onion soup mix
8 medium potatoes — peeled or washed and unpeeled
8 tsp. butter or margarine
8 tsp. water
Tin foil
Prepare potato, either peeled or unpeeled. Cut into slices. Place into tin foil. (individually) Place 1 tsp. butter, 1 tsp. onion soup mix (be sure to mix it up first) and 1 tsp. water per each potato. Place on grill and cook for ¼ to ¾ hour.
Note: These may be done in your oven also. 350 degrees for 1 hour. Also may be done individually or layered in a casserole.
Provides a tantalizing sauce and flavor for your potatoes.

June E. Wlochowski
94 Cambridge St.

Grilled Peaches 'n Berries
Select 3 large ripe peaches. Wash, pare, and halve. Remove pit. Place each peach half on a double thickness of heavy-duty aluminum foil. Fill each generously with fresh or frozen blueberries. Sprinkle with 2 tsp. brown sugar and 1 tsp. fresh lemon juice. Wrap securely. Cook on grill 18 to 20 minutes or on briquets 10 to 15 minutes, turning once. Serve one half per person.

Chinese Style Ribs
6 lbs. spareribs
Marinade
10 ozs. soy sauce
1 tbsp. orange juice concentrate, or
1 tbsp. grated orange peel
1 tbsp. sugar

Trim excess fat from ribs. Combine all marinade ingredients in large baking pan. Add ribs and turn meat frequently. Let ribs marinate for at least three hours, longer if possible.

Drain off liquid and broil or cook ribs on grill until brown and crusty. Note Thinly sliced country-style pork ribs may be used but adjust amount used as they yield more servings per pound.

Sweet Sauce for Ribs
1-12 oz. jar Damon plum preserves
1 bottle Major Greys Chutney
1 tsp. sugar
Mix all ingredients well and serve cold or at room temperature with ribs.

Serve with fried rice and favorite salad or green vegetable.

Susan DiYeo
91 N. Elm St.

Sunshine Salad
2 tsp. plain gelatin
1/2 cup peach juice
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup powdered sugar
1/2 cup nut meats
1 cup chopped peaches
1 cup chopped red cherries
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 cup cream (whipped)
lettuce

Soak gelatin in cold peach juice, dissolved over hot water. Add orange juice and sugar. When cold and beginning to thicken, add nut meats, chopped fruits, and mayonnaise. Add whipped cream. Pour into mold. To serve unmold on platter and surround with small crisp lettuce leaves...and enjoy!

M. Aahenbach
11 Ralph Rd.

Clambake in a bundle
1 large frozen lobster tail or (a 1 lb. fresh killed lobster.)
1 chicken leg
6 clams
1 ear of corn (only silk removed)
1 scrubbed potato (white)
1 onion
1/2 cup clam juice
Place all items in a 24-inch sheet of heavy duty aluminum wrap. Seal in wrap with double seams. Place bundle on second sheet of wrap and repeat and seal with double folds.

Place on grill, 4 inches from coals. Cook 1 hour, turning every 15 minutes. Serve with melted butter and lemon. Each bundle serves one. Works fine with lamb, beef or chicken and vegetables.

R. J. Smith
31 Essex St.

Super Burger
While cooking patties add to each patty or according to taste:
Approximately
1 teaspoon barbecue sauce
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
A pinch of minced onions
A pinch of garlic salt
A pinch of seasoning salt
With fork poke holes in patties to let flavor go through it. Turn when bottom is done.

Pork Chops
For 6 chops
1 small can Coke
1/2 cup soy sauce
3 cloves minced garlic
Marinate a few hours and broil over greyed coals 20 to 30 minutes turning and basting every 5 minutes.

Mrs. Grant Wood
Cheney Lane
Coventry

Barbecue Sauce
1/2 cup salad oil
1/2 cup soy sauce
1/2 cup ketchup
1/2 cup cider vinegar
1/2 cup water
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. garlic powder
1 tsp. onion salt
1 tsp. Italian seasoning

Boil lightly all ingredients for 5 minutes. Cool and put sauce in a wide mouth jar. Baste on steak and let steak set for about 1 hour. Also can be used on frozen steak while steak is defrosting.

This sauce will keep for months in the refrigerator.
This makes about 20 oz. of sauce.

95 Autumn St.

Silver Corn
Husk corn. Place each ear on piece of foil just large enough to lap over 1/2 inch. Spread corn with soft butter or margarine, sprinkle with salt. Wrap foil loosely around each ear. Don't seal seam, but twist ends so corn will roast instead of steam. Cook on grill 15 to 20 minutes or till tender, turning frequently.

Mrs. Mary Kvart
27 Hartland Rd.

Chicken Barbecue Sauce
1/4 cup molasses
1 medium onion, chopped
2 tsp. margarine
1 cup (8 oz.) tomato sauce
3 tsp. lemon juice
2 tsp. mild vinegar
1/4 tsp. ground cloves

Brown onion in margarine. Add remaining ingredients and simmer 10-15 minutes. Baste on chicken during cooking. Makes about 1 1/2 cups. For milder flavored sauce use Brer Rabbit Gold Label Molasses.

Mrs. Constance Grotta
82 Foxcroft Dr.

Marinated Flank Steak
Buy prime flank steak and marinate for 24 hours in the following mixture:
2 tsp. tomato paste

Chinese Chicken
2-3 lb. chickens
4 tsp. soy sauce
1/4 cup ketchup
1/4 cup water
2 tsp. vinegar
1/2 cup brown sugar
2-3 slices of onion, minced

Dash of garlic powder
Dash of Lawry's seasoned salt
Mix all ingredients but the chicken in an ovenware bowl. Keep warm on grill. Wash chicken. Rub cavity with salt. Tie legs and wings securely and place on rotisserie over hot coals. Baste chicken with sauce, using pastry brush. Cook 1-1 1/2 hours, basting frequently. Serves 8.

Mrs. Daniel T. Miller
54 Leland Dr.

2 tsp. garlic salt
1 tsp. Lawry's seasoned salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
2 cups water
2 bay leaves
4 tsp. melted butter
Blend ingredients and place steak in marinade. Turn once during 24 hour period. Broil over hot fire approximately 7 minutes per side, using marinade as basting sauce. To serve, slice on the diagonal. (Sliced mushrooms may be added to unused portion of marinade, heated, and served over steak.)

Fried Rice
2 medium size onions
7 strips bacon
4 cups cooked rice
1 can bean sprouts (approximately 15 oz.)
1 can water chestnuts (approximately 5 oz.)
3 oz. soy sauce

Chop onions and bacon. Lightly brown in heavy saucepan. Add cooked rice, soy sauce, drained bean sprouts and water chestnuts thinly sliced. Heat through and serve. Extra soy sauce may be added if desired.

Note: Bits of cooked shrimp or pork may also be added as extras.

Chicken Kabobs
2 whole chicken breasts skinned and boned
1-8 oz. can pineapple chunks
2 green pepper, sliced and parboiled
1 can water chestnuts
16 cherry tomatoes
1-6 oz. can whole mushroom crowns

Cut chicken into 1 1/4 inch pieces and marinate in the following sauce for 1 hour.

Marinade Sauce
Combine in saucepan:
1/2 cup soy sauce
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1/4 cup cooking oil
1 tsp. dry mustard
1 tsp. brown sugar
2 tsp. ground ginger
1 tsp. garlic salt
1/2 tsp. pepper

Simmer 5 minutes then cool before marinating chicken. Thread chicken pieces, pineapple chunks, parboiled green pepper slices, water chestnuts, cherry tomatoes and mushrooms alternately on skewers. Grill 20 minutes basting with remaining sauce turning every 5 minutes.

Chicken Barbecue Sauce
1 cup cooking oil
1 pint cider vinegar
3 tsp. salt
1 tsp. poultry seasoning
1 tsp. pepper
1 egg

Beat the egg, then add oil and beat again. Add other ingredients and stir. You may want to cut down on the amount of salt and vinegar added. Brush it on the chickens every few minutes while cooking. You should figure it will take 45 minutes to an hour to cook the chickens. This recipe will be enough for 5 whole chickens and can be stored in a glass jar in the refrigerator for several weeks.

Mrs. Richard Bushnell

Stuffed tomato slices with creamy chicken sauce
3 tbs. chopped onion
2 tbs. butter or margarine
3 cups soft bread crumbs
3 tbs. chopped crisp bacon
1 tsp. salt
dash of pepper
1 egg, beaten
4 tomatoes (cut in half)

Heat oven to 350° F. Cook onion in butter until soft. Add bread crumbs, chopped bacon, seasonings and beaten egg; mix well. Place a spoonful of this dressing on the cut side of tomato slices. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes makes 4 servings.

Creamy chicken sauce
1 tbs. butter or margarine
2 tbs. flour
1 can chicken with rice soup
1/2 cup milk
Melt butter in saucepan. Add flour and cook until frothy. Add soup and milk; cook until thickened. Serve over tomato slices.

Foil Frankfurters
8 frankfurters
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1/3 cup catsup
2 tsp. pickle relish
4 thin slices lemon
Cut hot dogs diagonally, about 3 times. Place 2 frankfurters in each square of foil. Combine catsup and other ingredient. Spoon on top, then place lemon slice on top. Close and seal foil packets. Grill outside. (4 servings).
