Schaffer beats Irwin, faces Weicker battle

By GREG PEARSON
(Herald Reporter)

Secretary of the State Gloria Schaffer won an easy victory Sunday at the Democratic state convention, and Manchester delegates anticipate a similar outcome in November, although they admit that battle will be much tougher.

Mrs. Schaffer received 1,114 votes in the race for the party's nomination for U.S. Senator. Her only opponent, former U.S. Congressman and former Norwalk mayor Donald Irwin, received 60 votes. The loser needed at least 20 per cent of the total to force a primary.

When the final vote was announced, Irwin moved that the vote be made unanimous in favor of Mrs. Schaffer. The motion was passed by the cheering, Schaffer-sign-carrying crowd in Bushnell Memorial.

Mrs. Schaffer now faces a stiffer fight — trying to unseat incumbent Senator Lowell Weicker in November.

The Manchester delegation gave 17 of its 21 votes to the winner. Three votes went to Irwin and one passed. "I think she'll do quite well," delegate Jim Murphy said when asked what Mrs. Schaffer's chances are in November. "She has the abilities, the qualities and the support. And she's a woman," Murphy said.

Paul Phillips, recognizing the secretary of the state's in-party support, said he was surprised Irwin didn't give in even before a roll call vote of the delegates was taken.

He said the contest between Mrs. Schaffer and Weicker will be a "tough battle."

"I believe she's going to beat him, though. With the strong Democratic national ticket, the victory will be carried right down the line," Phillips said.

Daniel Cole was one of the Manchester delegates who voted for Irwin. "I thought he had the better plan for defeating Weicker," he said.

But, Cole feels Mrs. Schaffer also has a solid chance of winning. "She's quite a battler," he said.

Another of the Manchester delegation who voted for Irwin was not quite so optimistic about Mrs. Schaffer in November.

"Schaffer doesn't stand a chance," said Frank Stamler.

The convention was a friendly one with little fighting between delegates. Round after round of applause was given for speakers and attending Democratic dignitaries, including former governors John Dempsey and Wilbert Snow, U.S. Senator Abraham Ribicoff and Governor Ella Grasso.

The biggest ovation, however, went to Chester Bowles, former governor who is now confined to a wheel chair. His wife gave a seconding speech for Mrs. Schaffer. She said she was acting as a "pinch hitter" for her husband.

The emphasis throughout the day was on the secretary of the state. Schaffer signs and stickers were everywhere.

The day began with a Schaffer-sponsored breakfast on the capitol lawn and ended with the singing of "God Bless America" immediately after her speech.

In her speech, she attacked Weicker and his past votes on oil price controls. She mentioned the senator's voting in favor of removing oil price controls and said, "Since his election in 1970, Lowell Weicker has been out of touch with issues of crucial concern to the people of Connecticut."

Manchester delegate Richard LaPointe praised the speech. "She's hitting at the points that the common man is looking at — where's the money going and why is it so expensive to live."

Democratic Town Chairman Theodore Cummings was pleased with the entire convention.

"There's no complacency here. Nobody thinks we've got it made. We're going to work hard," he said.

"The Democrats have a very strong, unified party that is going to go out and vote big for national and state tickets," Cumming said.

Delegate Phillips called the convention "terrific" and said, "It's a carry over from the national convention. This keeps things rolling."

State Democrats to pick leader

By PETER A. BROWN

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Tonight is the moment of truth for the election of a new chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee.

The much-publicized fight between incumbent William O'Neill and Hartford Town Chairman Peter Kelly has shaken the traditionally unified state Democratic party.

The committee will vote tonight, but the uncertainty surrounding the result is because the number of votes each candidate claims can't possibly be correct.

O'Neill, abandoned in the power struggle by Gov. Ella T. Grasso who appointed him to the post 15 months ago, says his vote total is in the "mid 30's."

Kelly, the choice of Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter and Mrs. Grasso, says he has enough votes to win the job without the about 10 votes both contenders admit are controlled by New Haven County Sheriff Henry Healy Jr.

Healy apparently is hoping to become a kingmaker or a compromise candidate in the case of a deadlock.

With 72 members of the state committee, 37 votes is the magic number. But taking the "mid 30's" O'Neill claims, the minimum 37 Kelly needs to be sure of winning and Healy's 10 adds to about 82 — 10 more than actually exist.

Either of the candidates could be overestimating his strength in an effort to convince uncommitted committee members to jump on the winning side.

Also, some state committee members — caught in a dilemma and wanting to avoid an intraparty fight — may have given pledges of support to more than one candidate.

Police get clues on kidnaping

CHOWCHILLA, Calif. (UPI) — A mystery man has provided authorities with information that could lead to identification of two of the armed gunmen who kidnaped 26 school children and their bus driver.

Alameda County Sheriff's Lieutenant Ed Volpe said Sunday night that names and photographs of the two suspects could be obtained within 48 hours based on information given detectives by a Sonora, Calif., man.

The information, Volpe said, pinpoints where the suspects were "on specific dates within the last year."

In the hunt for the kidnapers, authorities discovered the two vans used to haul the victims to their underground cavern prison were purchased at a military surplus firm.

Manchester Republicans laud Ford talk

By GREG PEARSON
(Herald Reporter)

Manchester representatives to the Republican State Convention spoke enthusiastically about President Ford's speech to the delegation Saturday afternoon.

Ford spoke to the convention about the past accomplishments of his administration and the need for future party unity, and the state Republicans followed the unity theme by giving him all 35 of their national delegates.

"In his speech, Ford showed the campaigner he can be," Republican Town Chairman Thomas F. Ferguson said.

Delegate George T. LaBonne called the Ford speech "an emphatic showing of leadership."

"He finally said things we were waiting for him to say," Vivian Ferguson, a delegate, said, noting that Ford definitively said he will not go to war. He also seemed to allude to Watergate when he spoke of morality in his administration and said, since he took office, "we have broken the back of tragedy to trust, from fear to faith in America."

"He showed a great deal of strength and character," Mrs. Ferguson said. "If he keeps on going that way, he won't have any trouble," she said.

Ford pointed to the economic situation as one of his accomplishments. "Since the bottom of the recession last year, 3,400,000 of our fellow Americans have found new jobs or gotten their old ones back. We have broken the back of recession," he told the delegates gathered in Hartford's Bushnell Memorial.

He also said inflation has been "cut in half" since he took office in August 1974.

The President arrived shortly before 12:30 to deliver his 20-minute address. When his motorcade pulled up in front of the hall, there was, among the people lined along the street, a throng chanting, "We Want Reagan."

Inside the auditorium, however, the balloons said "Ford," the signs read, "Connecticut loves you Jerry," and the chants were all, "We Want Ford."

In his speech, Ford promised to keep American forces out of war and to keep the military budget at a high level.

"I have proposed the two largest defense budgets in history, reversing the trend of the last decade. A strong military capability is the strongest assurance of peace," he said.

He also proposed two changes to income taxes — increasing the personal exemption from $750 to $1,000 per person and increasing the estate tax exemption from $60,000 to $150,000.

"Our middle-class taxpayers need a break. They've been shortchanged in the past," he told the applauding audience.

Carol Kuehl, an alternate delegate, praised Ford for backing his proposals with the steps he'll take to accomplish them.

"He told us our boys would not go to war. Then, he explained how he would do it by building up national defense," she said. "That's rare in a political speech."

"When I listened to Ford and the things he proposed, I thought about how the Democrats stood up at the end of their convention and sang 'We Shall Overcome.' Well, we can now stand up and say, 'We did overcome.'"

Delegate Wallace Irish Jr. felt Ford was a bit overzealous in making proposals during his speech.

"He's trying to take on super-human tasks. I think he's got to be more himself," Irish said.

"He's got a good record. Nobody can argue he wasn't President when the country came out of the recession," he added.

U.S. Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr. won renomination from the party over state Sen. George L. Gunther of Stratford. A third candidate, former U.S. Representative Al Morano, removed his name from nomination before voting began.

Gunther and Morano were both considered conservative, protest candidates.

Weicker won by an 862-112 vote. Thus, Gunther fell short of the 20 per cent vote needed to force a primary.

The Manchester delegation voted 15-1 for Weicker and most spoke in glowing terms about him.

"I adore him," said State Central Committee member Elnor Hashim, who was selected an alternate from the 1st District to the Republican National Convention. "I think he's going to attract voters from independents and Democrats as well as Republicans," she said.

Delegate Carl Zinsser said, "I don't care who the Democrats put up, nobody's going to beat Weicker."

HARTFORD (UPI) — Diane Creamer says racial discrimination — she is white — is the reason she was fired from her teaching job with the Hartford Urban League.

She says she was fired six weeks ago after working for the league for more than a year. She said she had been the only white teacher at Project Matthew, a program for students without high school diplomas.

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (UPI) — Starting today, persons who deposit cash at any of the state's 12 Off Track Betting Parlors will be able to place telephone bets using the money, according to the Commission on Special Revenue. The cash will be accepted between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. The commission said the money would be credited almost immediately to the depositor's account.

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — President Ford may have won the hearts of all 35 Connecticut Republican National Convention delegates, but he may have lost the hearts of 17 persons whose cars were towed. Police wanted to avoid an auto accident like the one the president suffered last fall in Hartford. They towed 17 cars from Jewell St. Saturday, some belonging to men living in the YMCA there. "I've got no malice toward the President, but why does my street all of a sudden become a low zone because he's going to pass that way?" said Lawrence McCann, whose car was towed.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Connecticut's Dorothy Hamill, 19, 1976 Winter Olympic gold medal winner for skating, will appear in New Haven, Oct. 5 and Hartford next Jan. 25 with the Ice Capades show. The 1974 and 1976 world figure skating champion begins her tour in Pittsburgh on Sept. 15, according to ice show officials.

BOSTON (UPI) — A four-year study will be conducted to test the effectiveness of a drug developed to treat patients suffering a virus that can cause blindness.

The drug, known as Ara-AMP, will be administered in eyedrops to approximately 200 patients. The treatment was developed as a result of research at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary by Dr. Deborah Pavan-Langston.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chief of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod says he will not make a decision on the fate of the ousted seminary head, Dr. John Tietjen, in the case that has divided the 2.8 million-member church.

Dr. J.A.O. Preuss said during the weekend he is touring the Tietjen area case over to Dr. Theodore Nickel, third vice president of the synod, for possibly a final decision in the doctrinal charges against Tietjen.

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israel has ended the 28-year link of the Israeli pound to the U.S. dollar in favor of a floating rate based on a "basket" of five currencies.

"The goal is to prevent, or at least to interfere, with currency speculation as well as to help our exports," said Amnon Gafni, director general of the finance ministry.

The winner is...Lowell Weicker. As expected, Weicker was renominated as the Republican candidate for U.S. Senate at this weekend's state convention. President Gerald R. Ford, who spoke to the convention Saturday, holds up Weicker's hand. (Herald photo by Dunn)

Ford, Reagan vie for added votes

By DEAN REYNOLDS
 United Press International
 During the next four weeks, Ronald Reagan and Gerald Ford will vie for that elusive fifth point of support that could end their increasingly bitter struggle for the Republican presidential nomination and allow the full-time pursuit of Jimmy Carter and his unified Democratic party.

Webber hits decision on racing bids or leaning to him while 1,062 were eliminated or leaning to Reagan. There are 99 uncommitted votes.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — The chairman of the legislative committee that handles laws regarding legalized gambling says the Connecticut gaming commission may be feeding the fears of those legislators who fear further gambling.

It is unquestionably from that pile of delegates that a victory for Ford or Reagan will emerge. Both men could boast of productive delegate harvests during last weekend as a wedge for more support.

The President drew to within 32 votes of the 1,130 needed for nomination in Kansas City by sweeping all 35 of Connecticut's delegates. But the windfall was tempered by Reagan's 20-4 shutout of Ford among Utah delegates on the same day.

While the Republicans were jockeying for position, Carter, the Democratic nominee, had a quiet time at home in Plains, Ga., stopping to teach a Sunday school class, and relaxing for the most part.

Reagan's campaign treasurer, Robert Lipshutz, said the campaign would live within the $21.8 million in federal funds allocated to him.

Carter and his running mate, Sen. Walter Mondale of Minnesota, also are expected to meet soon, although no date has been set. The Democratic campaign will remain publicly inactive through much of August, according to Carter spokesmen.

Inaction is a pleasure unavailable to the Republicans.

While both Ford and Reagan relaxed Sunday, both men's staffs were mapping plans to woo the uncommitted.

Ford has a series of meetings with uncommitted delegates from New York and New Jersey later in the week and a trip to Mississippi to meet that state's officially uncommitted state also is being considered.

Many foreigners ready to flea from Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Hundreds of Americans and other foreign nationals today prepared to flee Beirut in what may be the last organized evacuation of foreigners from the ravaged city.

But despite a new wave of assaults in the capital and the countryside, it appeared more than 1,000 Americans decided to take their chances and stay behind.

Left-wing and right-wing reports said fresh Syrian troops and about 30 more Syrian tanks crossed into Lebanon today and some units moved up to Beirut positions at Safat, 15 miles east of Beirut, and toward leftist outposts around Ainourah, further north.

The troop movements appeared to support the Christian offensive against Ainourah and the Palestinian refugee camp of Tal Zaatar in Beirut.

Heavy fighting raged inside Tal Zaatar, besieged by Christian militiamen for four weeks.

Both the Palestinians and the rightists claimed advances in the house-to-house battle, but the defenders managed to hang on through another day of concentrated attacks.

Firebomb kills six in Detroit family

DETROIT (UPI) — A firebomb thrown a southwest Detroit home into an inferno Sunday, killing six members of Mrs. Mary Broome's family and seriously injuring two others in what police said may have been a neighborhood feud.

Police today were holding nine persons in connection with the firebombing.

The heat was so intense that one breath of it would collapse a lung and kill you in a matter of seconds," said homicide Lt. Robert Bishop.

Patti Broome, 16, who escaped with her two sisters by climbing out a second story window and down a ladder supplied by a neighbor, said two men in the neighborhood had threatened to "blow up" her family's house.

Police said several families had moved out of the neighborhood, partly because of trouble with the Broomes.

None of the neighbors would say what started the feud but several said the Broome children often fought with other children and harassed adults.

Police report

A theft of the Dairy Mart store, 368 Spencer St., resulted in the loss of about $2,400 worth of goods and change, police said.

The theft was reported to police on Sunday. A meat slicer, valued at $1,100, and about $1,195 worth of cigarette cartons were taken, according to police. Also missing was $115 worth of change from a cash register in the store.

Police said entrance was gained by prying open a rear, steel door.

Police made three arrests in connection with an attempted theft from Treasure City. Charged with third-degree larceny were Leroy Snipe, 21, James Long, 26, and Edwin L. Hicks, 30, all of Hartford. Police said Long was also charged with third-degree assault. Court date for all is Aug. 9.

A theft of four watches from Arthur's Drug Store on Main St. was reported by police. Estimated value of the missing items was listed as $180.

A number of breaks into homes were reported by police.

A portable television set was taken from a Crestwood Dr. home, police said.

An Avondale Rd. home was missing $125 in cash, and no list of missing items has yet been made for a break into an Adams St. home.

Tools valued at $75 were taken from a van owned by Russell Perkins of 137 Hilliard St., police said.

Among arrests made and summonses issued by Manchester Police were:
 • Mark R. DeSimone, 16, of 66 Walnut St., charged with operating a motor vehicle while his license is under suspension and operating with defective equipment. Court date is Aug. 10.
 • David A. Calderado, 16, of Williamite, charged with following at an improper distance, in a Saturday afternoon accident.
 • Jerry G. Foresti, 29, of 97 Wells St., charged with following too closely, in an accident on Broad St. Saturday afternoon.
 • Carol A. Bellis, 17, of Talcottville, charged with third-degree forgery. Court date is Aug. 2.
 • Horace E. Palozie, 51, of 226 New State Rd., charged with third-degree criminal mischief. Court date is Aug. 16.
 • John Dunphy Jr., 28, of 105 Benton St., and Jeffrey A. Heim, 17, of East Hartford, both charged with breach of the peace following an incident on W. Middle Tpk., early last Saturday evening. Court date for both is Aug. 9.
 • Jeffrey G. Fazzino, 19, of East Hartford, charged with third-degree assault. Court date is Aug. 9.

Road deaths drop

HARTFORD (UPI) — Pac Saturday said highway fatalities decreased by 15 percent — from 202 persons killed on Connecticut highways in January and July 1977 to 171 persons this year.

Pac warned motorists to be especially mindful of the national speed limit of 55 miles per hour since said traffic is expected to be heavier than usual during this bicentennial summer.

Of the 27 motorcycle accidents this year, only 16 were known to have been properly licensed to operate a motorcycle, he said.

Blue laws enforced

YARMOUTH, Mass. (UPI) — Police went grocery shopping Sunday. But their purchases are more likely to turn up in court rather than on the dinner table.

Yarmouth police said they would seek complaints today against the owners of four stores in alleged violation of the state's Blue Laws, which regulate Sunday sales.

Police said the stores were Fruitland, Lake's Supermarket Inc., Peterson's Market and Ring Brothers Supermarket.

Arthur Luke said two police officers entered his store Sunday morning.

"They purchased some meat and other items and had the clerk ring up the sales," Luke said. "Then they asked the cashier what day it was, and the time, and showed a badge."

Edward Peterson said police purchased some items at his store.

"They didn't say anything about the Blue Laws, but if my understanding, I'll be called in court."

Edward Ring, another owner, said "the larger stores" were responsible for the police action.

"They don't want to stay open on Sunday because of union rules," Ring said of the larger stores. "They'd have to pay their workers overtime."

Yarmouth selectmen last week received a petition signed by 44 persons who requested police enforce the Sunday sales laws. The selectmen then asked the police to take action.

Selectman Howard W. Marchant said the petition probably was the work of competing stores, "particularly the big ones," which object to the smaller ones staying open.

"They're unionized, and if they have to pay time and a half, it'll be expensive," Marchant said. "I think they probably did it."

Violation of the laws can result in a warning, a fine or closing of a store. Luke apparently will fight further if any such action is taken against him.

UConn gets lung grant

FARMINGTON (UPI) — The University of Connecticut Health Center has received a $726,114 grant to begin a research program on inflammatory lung diseases.

The five-year grant will be run in conjunction with St. Francis Hospital in Hartford and Hartford Hospital, officials said.

Health center officials said the program was intended to train about 40 doctors from around the country to use the newest techniques in the field.

Inflammatory lung diseases destroy the structure of the lung that supports the air sacs and are caused by bacteria, viruses, molds and air pollutants.

"Our present understanding of the inflammatory mechanisms has remained static for several years," said Dr. Peter A. Ward, the health center's chief of pathology.

"This grant will allow us to train a cadre of young clinical and basic investigators in a new way of looking at these diseases. They will then populate academic and clinical centers and change the way inflammatory diseases of the lung are handled," he said.

The health center is one of the world's leading centers in the study of the body's immune system of fighting infections and rejecting transplanted tissue and organs.

New Jersey adopts income tax; will Connecticut be next?

The minority of states not using an income tax dwindled by one recently when New Jersey was "forced" into adopting one in order to finance its commitments to its public school system.

What is of interest is not the amount of the New Jersey tax but the events which finally led to its adoption. It could happen in Connecticut, too.

On July 1, New Jersey public schools were padlocked by court order because the legislature had failed to meet the state Supreme Court's deadline for funding the 1975 Public School Act, which established a new formula for financing education.

Because income tax was a bitter partisan issue, it had failed to be approved many times since 1966 and it wasn't until the court shut the schools that a compromise bill finally met with approval.

The compromise was a companion bill which provides the income tax levy of 2 to 2.5 per cent on adjusted gross income will terminate or "self-destruct" in two years, June 30, 1978.

With the Connecticut Legislative Finance Committee committed to a study this summer and fall on a state income tax, the New Jersey "self-destruct" feature certainly will be considered along the way. But the significant thing about the New Jersey chain of events which should concern us in Connecticut is that the income tax in effect was forced on New Jersey by the courts.

There is pending in the courts a challenge of Connecticut's present method of state aid which is highly vulnerable to being ruled unconstitutional since state funding does not equalize the educational cost burden.

Faced with this possible mandate from the courts, it would seem imperative Connecticut begin at once an exhaustive study of its present tax system toward the end that an income tax, should it become necessary, will be an integral part of true tax reform rather than additional burden on the taxpayers.

The lesson of New Jersey is that you cannot ignore fiscal problems forever. We in Connecticut still have a chance to possibly avert an income tax. It will take hard work and hard political decisions. But it is either that or abdicating the taxing power to the courts, which, we feel, could compound existing tax inequities of our state.

The Israeli action might have been justified in international law even if Gen. Amin had genuinely been trying, which he was not, to free the hostages without satisfying the hijackers' demands.

One precedent for the Israeli action at Entebbe was the Belgian-American airborne operation in 1965 which rescued 1,400 people from Stanleyville in the Congo, when the Congo government was powerless to help them. Other countries have done

The placebo of 'House' cleaning

WASHINGTON — The major payoff for members of the House of Representatives is in the "perks": the free airplane rides, hotel rooms, special entertainment, honorariums, inside information on money-making opportunities and a variety of assorted services — all from friendly people who hope the Congressman will vote the right way.

There are no reliable figures available but it is likely from studies I've seen that perhaps a fifth to a fourth of our Representatives take advantage of these extracurricular payoffs. With clear conscience, of course.

There was much talk on Capitol Hill after Watergate of a house-cleaning. That talk withered.

The Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) scandal revived the talk with a vengeance. There was enough sex in the story to focus national attention on what Congressmen were doing with tax money. But it appears that this matter may well end, too, with the demotion of Hays, partial emasculation of the administration Committee and a rechanneling of the route by which expense account

Herald yesterday's Jimmy Carter: Full steam ahead

25 years ago
Because of a water-pressure "emergency," caused by the current dry spell, residents of the area served by the town-owned water department are asked to use their lawn sprinklers between 4 and 9 p.m.

The Board of Directors voted to have the Town Planning Commission and the Recreation and Park Advisory Board investigate the possibility of planning for future park acquisition and to request Recreation Director John Hedlund to submit his opinion on the advisability of organizing volunteer groups to help in developing park areas.

About 1,500 Manchester homes and businesses are without electricity for more than an hour and a half in the wake of a storm which dumps 1.8 inches of rain on the town.

Reflections

While Carter had his votes, however, it was another Southerner — Congressman Barbara Jordan of Texas — who captured their hearts. Being both a black and a woman didn't hurt, of course. But Miss Jordan's powerful performance as one of the two keynote speakers stood solidly enough in its own merits.

Pointedly rejecting an attack on the feminist, Miss Jordan instead sought to cleanse her own party's soul: "We have made mistakes... in our haste to do all things for all people, we did not foresee the full consequences of our actions. And when the people raised their voices in protest, we did not listen." Later, she added that "We must provide the people with a vision of the future that is attainable. We must strike a balance between the idea that the government can do everything and the belief that the government should do nothing."

Area for mini-bike use suggested

To the editor,
Recently I almost got a mini-bike except for one lousy thing that got in my way — a place to ride it.

In other towns they have organized areas like the Y or the town sponsors a place for kids to ride mini-bikes off the street, and they can learn safely.

MACC news Nancy Carr

Whoosh! Having wiped the perspiration from my brow and put my aching feet up on the nearest chair, let me share with you the latest bulletins from the MACC Interfaith Day Camp.

First — many thanks to those of you who have brought us bathing suits. One of my treasured rights from this year is the creased brow of a most serious and earnest young male counselor holding up little girls' bathing suits and trying to determine what might be a size 8 (p.s. he finally went for help).

Many thanks to all of you who have been bringing in baked goods. I've run into friends from St. Bridget and South Methodist laden with goodies. Having no room I sampled one magnificent concoction (a cupcake stuffed with cream and hidden in the cream — M&M's), now understand the shiny eyes and hand clapping when desserts are served.

The first two days of camp we had all sizes, shapes, and ages of kind people arrive to help in the kitchen with preparing food — a virtual stampede of willing volunteers. On Wednesday, no one, absolutely not one volunteer showed up. Fortunately the bus driver (a really super young man) and the camp nurse, Linda Habern, pitched in and helped our camp manager, Irene Goss, prepare huge pans of food. We do! We do!

Since we now have over 83 children enrolled we need at least five volunteers a day to work for an hour or so in the kitchen. Here is the rest of the week's schedule.

Tuesday: Hot dogs, chips, celery and carrot sticks, milk, homebaked desserts — start on food for Wednesday.

Wednesday: Rocky Neck State Beach. We need kitchen helpers to make sandwiches (choice of egg salad, bologna, peanut butter and jelly), salad (jello or macaroni), chips, punch and home baked desserts.

Thursday: Ratanada for Rocky Neck. American chop suey, cucumber chunks, Italian bread, milk, homebaked desserts.

Friday: Carnival day — Pizza and cake party. All-day games, contests, prizes for everyone. Lots of fun.

Please join us if you have a free afternoon. You'll enjoy watching the children and we'll enjoy having the help.

Due to a breakdown in our Hartford end of the program the first three days we had 43 children from Manchester but only three from Hartford. Starting Thursday we had 35 children registered from the North End of Hartford — 23 from the Revitalization Corps, nine from the San Juan Center and three by special request from a social worker from the Institute for Hispanic Families.

There are a total of 48 Manchester children, most picked up by the bus at North Hale stop plus six children the bus only holds 66.

Mrs. Alan J. MacMillan

Elisa Jean Klein of Manchester and Alan John MacMillan of Willington were married June 5 at Concordia Lutheran Church in Manchester.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Klein of 152 Bradford St. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Cecelia MacMillan of St. George, Maine and the late Garfield MacMillan.

The Rev. David Rinas of Concordia Lutheran Church performed the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with white gladioli. David Almond of Manchester was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown designed with lace front bodice, long sleeves with lace cuffs, tie bow at back waist, full lace-edged skirt with ruffle at hemline. Her finger tip-length veil was attached to a Juliet cap. Her gown and veil and the gowns of the attendants were made by the bride. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, white daisies, and baby's breath.

Mrs. Nancy Sweet of Manchester was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Wasserman of West Hempstead, N.Y. and Mrs. Catherine Miskie of East Hartford, the bride's cousin. Ronald Stoppa of East Hartford served as best man. Ushers were John DiLoreto of New Britain; and William Sweet of Manchester, the bride's brother-in-law.

A reception was held at the Army & Navy Club in Manchester, after which the couple left for Vermont. They are residing in West Willington.

Mrs. MacMillan is attending the University of Connecticut. Mr. MacMillan attends graduate school at Trinity College and the University of Hartford. He is employed by Pratt & Whitney Division of United Technologies Corp. in East Hartford.

Legion receives four state awards

The Dilworth-Cornell-Quey Post of the American Legion in Manchester received four awards at the 58th Department of Connecticut convention held recently at the Hartford Hilton.

The awards are as follows: The Elliott K. Burr Memorial which is awarded to the post which sponsors the boy at Boys' State showing the most outstanding religious participation in the program for the current session. The post had sponsored John F. Sullivan.

The Hugh Graham plaque which is awarded annually to the post and its public relations chairman judged to have had the most outstanding and diversified public relations program to promote the best interest of all American Legion programs. Henry R. Wierzbicki is public relations chairman. This is the second consecutive year the local post has received that award. Programs were channeled through The Herald, WINF, and Greater Hartford Cable TV.

Honorable mention award was presented to the post and to Richard Miner, post historian, for submitting the second most outstanding history record of the current year activities.

Present for the awards presentation were Post Commander Harold Pohl and Adjutant Francis Leary, both of the Dilworth-Cornell-Quey Post.

Mrs. Lord again heads Club

Mrs. Harold Lord of 96 Grandview St. was recently elected to her second term as president of the Perennial Planters Garden Club at its annual meeting.

Other officers elected are: Mrs. Peter Swan, vice president; Mrs. Bruce Melton, secretary; and Mrs. Raymond Halsted Jr., treasurer.

Club projects for the year are the providing of floral arrangements for the Whilton Library and Christmas decorations in the library, and planning, planting and maintaining the garden at Munro Park.

There are also tentative plans for a flower arranging course for members, a Christmas auction and a theatre party.

Group seeks to save dinosaur tracks

A group of concerned citizens seeking to get state-wide support to raise funds to preserve the dinosaur tracks at Dinosaur State Park in Rocky Hill will hold an organizational meeting on Tuesday, July 27 at 7:30 p.m. at Willie's Steak House in Manchester.

Plans to form committees to instill public interest to erect a permanent structure at the park to protect the tracks. "It would make a good educational center for the children," Mrs. Newton said.

College notes

Ashley J. Saunders of 80 Francis Dr. was named to the dean's list at the University of Connecticut College of Liberal Arts and Sciences for the spring semester.

Board considers personnel

The Board of Education will hear a recommendation tonight from the administration for a replacement for the position created by the resignation of Parnys Pratt, Dean of Women, at Manchester High School. The new position will probably become another vice-principalship, School Superintendent James P. Kennedy said.

The board will also consider the resignation of Andrew Shreeves, band director at Manchester High School. He has accepted a position at Wagner College, Staten Island, N.Y. Among several appointments to be reviewed, the board will be asked to approve that of Miss Karen Krizak of Manchester to teach instrumental music at MHS replacing Shreeves. She has taught in South Windsor for four years.

In his superintendent's report, Dr. Kennedy will describe plans for a district-wide inservice on Oct. 14 conducted by Dr. Stephen Hornel of Philadelphia regarding drug, alcohol and tobacco abuse. Dr. Kennedy will also discuss time implications of new labor negotiations laws with certified groups.

Area police

VERNON David Ingraham, 18, of 43C Squire Dr., Manchester was charged over the weekend with first-degree reckless endangerment concerning damage done to two cars on Tunnel Rd.

Vernon Police said Ingraham allegedly swung a piece of a tree branch damaging the convertible top of one car and the windshield of another. He was released on a $500 non-surety bond for appearance in Common Pleas Court 19, Rockville, Aug. 11.

Timothy Foley, 22, of 8 Windsor Ave., Rockville was charged with reckless driving after police received a complaint of a pedestrian being chased by a car in the parking lot at Rockville High School. Court is Aug. 11.

William Dobson, 35, of 2 Ward St., Rockville and Bruce Nash, 34, of 228 Crystal Lake Rd., Tolland were both charged with breach of peace and interfering with a police officer during investigation of a noise at W. Main and Ward Sts.

Both were released on $500 surety bonds for court Aug. 11.

Walter Grabowski, 19, of 17 Oak St., Rockville and Cary E. Crandall, 18, of 2 Green Rd., Vernon were both charged with criminal attempt to commit larceny in connection with gas thefts from cars at Park West Apts., Rockville. Court is Aug. 11.

Allen Morse, 18, of 8 Nye St., Rockville and Kenneth Hoke, 19, of Virginia Lane, Tolland were both charged with reckless driving after their cars collided in the parking lot at Rockville High School. Court is Aug. 11.

Police said a witness said the two cars were racing in the lot when they collided. Both cars were heavily damaged. No injuries were reported. Court is Aug. 11.

South Windsor Police are investigating the complaints of four house breaks over the weekend.

Dr. Cromwell Dr. house was ransacked but it is not yet known if anything was taken. Another Crestwood Dr. home was entered by a rear sliding door and a watch valued at $80 was reported missing. An Orchard Hill Dr. home was entered through an unlocked basement window. Nothing was reported missing. And a Foster Dr. home was entered through a rear kitchen window. Reported missing was some $15 in change, two rifles, a shot gun and some ammunition.

A second cyclist, J. M. Pelegri, 19, of 9 Fox Hill Dr., Rockville, collided with the first cycle, police said. Police said Pelegri suffered minor injuries. McCormack was treated and released at Rockville General Hospital. Court is July 30.

ELLINGTON John Mancini, 26, of Hartford was charged with operating under the influence of liquor or drugs in connection with a two-car accident on Rt. 140 in Ellington.

Police said Mancini was traveling east, crossed the double line and struck a car driven by Gerald DeGray, 16, of 12 Wheelock Rd., Ellington. A passenger in DeGray's car, Lynn Corday of Vernon, was treated at Rockville General Hospital for a bruised shoulder. Court is Aug. 10.

18 complete food service program

Two area persons were among 18 employees in Connecticut health service facilities who graduated recently from a 90-hour certified training program for food service supervisors.

Myrtle M. Fontaine of 200 Charter Oak St. and Irene M. Ford of 4 Pillsbury Hill, Rockville, participated in a training program co-sponsored by the community services division of Manchester Community College (MCC) and the Connecticut Association of Health Care Facilities (CAHCF). The graduation ceremony was held at CAHCF headquarters in Talcoctville. All of the graduates are employees of nursing homes belonging to CAHCF. They completed the program in order to meet a federal requirement that nursing homes have trained food service supervisors on their staffs. The program was the first to be offered by a college in Connecticut.

In their new positions, the graduates will be responsible for meeting the special dietary needs of elderly residents and for ensuring that their employers' food service operations conform to state health department regulations.

They completed the program in order to meet a federal requirement that nursing homes have trained food service supervisors on their staffs. The program was the first to be offered by a college in Connecticut.

In their new positions, the graduates will be responsible for meeting the special dietary needs of elderly residents and for ensuring that their employers' food service operations conform to state health department regulations.

ZBA gets MacDonald's bid to build at Burr Corners

The Zoning Board of Appeals will consider several variances tonight requested by the national corporation which handles franchises for MacDonald's. The variances concern permission of construction of a MacDonald's hamburger restaurant in the Burr Corners Shopping Plaza.

Franchise Realty Interstate Corp. of the Plaza, Oak Park, Ill., has filed plans with the ZBA seeking permission to build the facility and an outdoor seating area at the northern end of the plaza near Calder's Auto Store.

The corporation is asking for use of the existing parking site, the septic system and to erect a freestanding sign.

The zoning regulations prohibit separate businesses in shopping centers from constructing individual, freestanding signs.

MacDonald's wants to put up a sign that would be visible to motorists on Interstate 98 which runs directly behind the shopping plaza.

Att'y John D. LaBelle will represent the applicants.

Another request for constructing a freestanding sign has been submitted by Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. also at the Burr Corners Shopping Plaza.

The Acadia Restaurant at 103 Tolland Tpke. is also requesting a variance which would permit erection of a 35-foot high sign.

Also on the agenda are a request from the Shell Oil Co. for permission to construct an island canopy over existing gasoline pump islands at 161 Tolland Tpke., and one from Harold Davie at 31 State Dr. for permission to build a garage with a minimum side yard allowance.

The result was a 3-2 victory over the New York Yankees to halt a 10-game losing streak and prevent the Rangers from falling into third place in the American League West.

Texas is 10 1/2 games behind first-place Kansas City and only one percentage point ahead of the surging Oakland A's.

Live rabbit's foot helped end skein

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — The Texas Rangers needed a little luck Sunday night, so they went out and got themselves the biggest rabbit's foot they could find — a live one, no less.

The rabbit, named "Struck" by the players, looked on from the dugout as Steve Hargan pitched 12 innings and totaled a career high 10 strikeouts while Juan Beniquez scored the tying run in the ninth inning and drove home the winning run with a single in the 12th.

Legion in upset victory on road

By LEN AUSTER
Herald Sports Writer
With its hitting shoes on, the Manchester American Legion baseball team unleashed a 13-hit attack to upset Windsor Locks, 12-6, in Zone Eight action yesterday at Windsor Locks High.

The victory improves Manchester's zone record to 8-5, 105 overall, while the loss drops Windsor Locks into a second place tie with Windsor, each at 10-4.

Manchester led 1-0 in the sixth against Locks starter and loser Bob Cressotti with a leadoff homer. Jeff Backofen walked and Ray Gilha followed with a two-run roundtrip to lead the American Legion to a 6-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The American Legion's leading hitter with a spiraling 365 average, Brett says he's much improved despite lacking a master plan.

"I have to go up there with an open frame of mind. What happens if I go up there thinking that I'm going to hit a home run and they pitch me out to the bullpen? I'm not going to start thinking home runs, either, because that would just mess me out."

The Royals lashed Boston starter and loser Reggie Cleveland for second-inning runs, scored three more runs in the fourth and finished by roughing up Boston reliever Bill Lee. Lee, who injured his pitching arm

Brown's ASA major champs

Comeback gains win

Capturing the 1976 Connecticut Women's ASA Major Division Slow Pitch Softball title Saturday night was Brown's ASA of Manchester with an impressive 16-1 win over Welcome Aboard of Meriden at Fitzgerald Field.

By virtue of the triumph, the Tires advance to the regional tourney in Pittsfield next month. The losers will also make the trip.

Rebounding from an opening 11-3 loss to Welcome early Saturday, Brown's started its comeback with a 3-1 duker over Bruce's Landscaping of Fairfield.

Brown's, with one loss in the double elimination tournament, faced Welcome again and handed the visitors a 6-0 setback, its first, behind the shutout pitching of Barbara Startup.

Judy Lauder had three hits and Cindy Birdsey and Cindy Opalski two apiece in the victory.

In the championship tilt, it was no contest as Brown's, behind the sterling three-hit pitching of Startup and 12 runs in the first two innings, coasted to the title.

Sharyn Young had three hits and Marge Malone chipped in with two triples with Lauder, Gail Shimaitis, Jean McAdam, Barbara Malcomb and Startup all contributing two blows.

Another Manchester team, David's, placed fourth in the division.

Kingman ups pace

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dave Kingman, who doesn't like to talk about home runs, made an exception for No. 32 Sunday and Mickey Lolich got by with a soggy fastball to give the New York Mets a 2-0 over the Atlanta Braves.

"I had no velocity at all on the ball in the bullpen but I kept the ball down all day," Lolich said after hurling a two-hitter and his 41st career shutout. "I couldn't throw very hard but the ball was sinking so I didn't worry about throwing it hard. About 90 of the 107 pitches were fastballs.

Lolich, who has pitched better than his 5-10 record would indicate, said he was surprised at his performance after the All-Star Game layoff. "It's the first time I've pitched in eight days," he said. "I'm usually at my best every three or four days."

Kingman's towering shot in the fourth inning gave him a 32nd homer and put him ahead of Babe Ruth's pace but left him four behind Roger Maris and his asterisk.

The interest in his home run production, Kingman said, is "good for baseball and creates a lot of enthusiasm. Everything I have to do to baseball and I'm just trying to contribute to the team and to the game in every way I can."

Added Canadian Coach Jack Donohue, who was Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's high school coach in New York, "They are so intimidating. That was the most aggressive I've ever seen them play. They forced the play on Italy. They scare you."

All but one of the 12 players on the U.S. roster scored, with Adrian Dantley leading with 20 points. Mitch Kupchak 19 and Scott May 16. The Americans, who next play Puerto Rico Tuesday, led by as many as 30 points.

There were three other gold medals awarded Sunday. East German won a second gold as Uwe Fottke set a world shooting record with 573 of a possible 600 points, and the Russians also picked up a pair of golds. They won the 100-kilometer cycling race in 2 hours, 8 minutes and 53 seconds and Alexander Voronin equaled his own combined total world record of 533-3 pounds to win the flyweight title in weightlifting.

There were only two finals on the opening night swimming program, and both resulted in world records. Shortly after Bruner set his, the powerful East German women broke their own mark for the 400-meter medley relay by more than six seconds in 4:07.96.

It was the first of what could be a bumper crop of gold medals for 17-year-old Kornelbi Enoy, who won the 100-meter freestyle. This race also could be the occasion for another blonde, Shirley Babashoff, to earn her second medal in as many nights after she received a silver in the medley relay.

The other swimming finals tonight are the men's 100-meter backstroke, in which Naber is favored over East Germany's Roland Matthes, Ender's fiancee, who was Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's high school coach in New York, "They are so intimidating. That was the most aggressive I've ever seen them play. They forced the play on Italy. They scare you."

Hashim alternate delegate

Elinor Hashim of 17 Goslee Dr. has been picked as an alternate to the Republican National Convention, which starts Aug. 16 in Kansas City.

Ms. Hashim, who is a member of the Republican State Central Committee, was one of three alternate delegates selected from the First Congressional District.

Elected as delegates from the district were Selma L. Kaufman of West Hartford, John Miller of Wethersfield and Shirley Scott of Hartford. A slate of Reagan delegates did oppose the three, but was soundly defeated by voice vote. The three Reagan delegates who ran were Emery Daly, John C. Lancaster and Kevin H. Norige, all of East Hartford.

The other two delegates elected with Ms. Hashim were Elizabeth Kaplan of Bloomfield and David Pruyne of West Hartford.

Controversial call aids Phils' victory

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies are not only winning by doing things right, they are also winning by doing things differently.

The Phillies edged Los Angeles 2-1 Sunday on a controversial play that had Dodgers first baseman Steve Garvey still steaming in the clubhouse.

Mike Schmidt scored the winning run from third base with two outs in the ninth inning on an unusual play which teammate Jerry Martin was trapped in a run down between first and second base.

The bizarre rally began when Schmidt was hit by a pitch by loser Charlie Hough, 74. Greg Luzinski followed with a single, sending Schmidt to third. Martin came in to run for Luzinski before Tommy Hutton grounded to Garvey, who tagged first and began to run Martin toward second. Schmidt broke for the plate while Garvey was trying to tag Martin, who evaded the tag and returned to first safely.

as Schmidt scored. Garvey protested in vain that Martin had run out of the baseline.

"I still think he was out of the baseline," said Garvey. "When he went out he went out at least three or four feet, and the rules say you can't go more than three feet out."

In other games New York blanked Atlanta, 2-0. Cincinnati outslugged Pittsburgh 8-3, San Diego shaded Chicago 2-1, San Francisco edged St. Louis 5-4 before losing 5-4 in 10 innings, and Houston swept a doubleheader from Montreal, 7-6 in 10 innings and 14-1.

Reds 9, Pirates 8 — Pinch-hitter Mike Lum's two-run triple earned a six-run fifth inning outburst as the Reds edged Pittsburgh.

Winning now business

DUBLIN, Ohio (UPI) — Ho hum, Judy Rankin has won another golf tournament. It's becoming a business. I'm still thrilled, but it comes out different."

Rankin, the first member of the Ladies Professional Golf Association to win $100,000 in one year, shot a five-under-par 67 on the 6,250-yard Riviera Country Club course Sunday for a 54-hole score of 205, 11 shots under par.

That was good for a five-stroke margin over runner-up Hollis Stacy and Pat Bradley.

sewing up her fifth victory of the year Sunday, the $70,000 Borden Classic, "but I'm losing some of the elation. It's becoming a business. I'm still thrilled, but it comes out different."

Rankin, the first member of the Ladies Professional Golf Association to win $100,000 in one year, shot a five-under-par 67 on the 6,250-yard Riviera Country Club course Sunday for a 54-hole score of 205, 11 shots under par.

That was good for a five-stroke margin over runner-up Hollis Stacy and Pat Bradley.

The 31-year-old Texan, who pocketed another $100,000 for the win, had started the day in a tie with Stacy, but ran off three straight birdies on the second, third and fourth holes and led for the most part all weekend.

"I had a pretty good lead most of the day," said Rankin, "but I never did feel real good until there were only a couple of holes to play. There was so many good players out there. Rankin had five birdies in a front side of four under 32, but it was the three quick ones at the start which got her going."

"It's really amazing to have it three under and not be able to pick up at least one birdie on the side," said long-hitting Bradley, who was looking for her second victory of the year.

Graham didn't fold and handled pressure

HARRISON, N.Y. (UPI) — David Graham was supposed to fold.

He was expected to shrivel up and collapse in front of a national television audience while the golfing "Goliaths" like Johnny Miller, Tom Watson and Ben Crenshaw stomped him into the ground down the stretch and divided the loot.

After all, who was David Graham anyway? What business did he have leading the $300,000 Westchester Classic for three rounds?

Well, David Graham, who had won only one tournament on the PGA circuit in six years, showed them all Sunday that when it came down to "sitty gritty" time he could handle the pressure better than any of them.

Using his putter as a slingshot, Little David slew the big Goliaths in the final round of the tournament by finishing with a 12-under-par 272 to win by three strokes and take home the biggest paycheck of his career, $60,000.

Graham's final round of even par 71 was his worst of the four-day tournament, but it was all he needed because the guys who were supposed to make a run at him never got going.

Miller, the British Open champion whom many thought would apply the most pressure, played himself out of contention on the front nine while Crenshaw didn't make his move until it was too late.

Watson shot a good last round, a 66, but middle rounds of 72 and 73 killed his chances.

As the big names faded in the distance, it became apparent that the only way Graham could lose was to blow it himself. And that wasn't to be because Graham had told himself, that he was as good as anyone out there, so why not prove it?

"Last night I thought about the tension," the 30-year-old Aussie admitted. "I said to myself 'Why should I feel nervous? Why should I feel scared?'"

"I feel myself 'You're doing what you're supposed to be doing.' I said you came to play golf just like everyone else. You came with as good a chance as anybody. So why should you be apprehensive?"

Rather than play cautiously, Graham attacked the course early and it paid off with birdies on the fourth and fifth holes. He bogeyed the sixth and eighth holes to finish the front nine in even-par 36, but he knew that if he matched par the rest of the way he would be hard to catch.

"I didn't know if I could get (the lead) into the clubhouse but nobody really made a run at me. I thought if I could get through 11 and 12 I'd be able to finish all right. Fortunately it was windy again today and that kept the scores down," said Graham.

As it turned out, the most serious challenge to Graham were made by two other relative unknowns, Mike Wynn and Fuzzy Zoeller.

Students welcomed to Virginia

South Windsor
 Two South Windsor High School students, Bernie Prusaczyk Jr. and Joan Cope, were the Connecticut representatives at Price Edward Academy in Farmville, Va.

A week-long schedule was planned for students from the 13 original colonies.

Beginning with a dance, the Bicentennial students were welcomed to Farmville in grand style and then assigned to host families.

Stretched across the Main St. was a sign declaring "Welcome Thirteen Colonies."

Following the Bicentennial week the group left for Jamestown, Yorktown and Williamsburg. They were honored at the state Bicentennial headquarters in Yorktown by the executive secretary of the Virginia Bicentennial Commission.

Tuesday, following a luncheon as guests of the Chamber of Commerce, the students toured the Price Edward Academy founded in 1776. Also included on the bus agenda for the students was a tour of the capitol and of Richmond and the governor's mansion.

Schools entice outside students

Bolton
 Tuition fees for all Bolton schools were reduced by almost half the present rate at a recent Board of Education meeting.

Beginning in September, tuition to Bolton High School will be $800 per year. The previous rate was from $1,300 to $1,400.

Tuition to Bolton Elementary School or Bolton Charter School will be $700.

William Vogel, chairman of the board, said, "The tuition reduction is an attempt to encourage the enrollment of students from outside of Bolton."

He said inquiries were received in the past but the large tuition fees discouraged students and their parents. Raymond Allen, superintendent of schools, said, "There is room at all grade levels at the high school for additional students while still maintaining small class size."

Allen said the smallness of the school's enrollment is one of its strongest assets.

In September there will be about 250 BHS students.

Allen said teachers and the principal get to know all the students.

McKeever seeking 57th District seat

Ellington
 Daniel L. McKeever of Geraldine Dr., Ellington, announced today that he will seek the nomination to run for representative from the 57th Assembly District on the Republican ticket.

McKeever said he made the decision over the weekend after being urged by town committee chairman from the three towns he will represent, Ellington, Vernon, and East Windsor. He said he talked with the chairman at the state convention in Hartford.

McKeever served a two-year term in the same position from 1972 to 1974. He said he knows of no opposition to his nomination at this time. The Republican convention is Tuesday night in Ellington at the Town Hall.

McKeever is a retired Air Force lieutenant colonel, was born in Boston, Mass., and attended Tufts and George Washington University and several Air Force professional schools.

He was, up to a few years ago, employed as a financial analyst and forecaster in the spare parts sales department, United Technologies Corp. He is presently associated with the Town Crier real estate office in Ellington.

Dear Abby

Dear Abby: Six years ago I married a divorced man whose sons came to live with us because their "real" mother thought they would be better off with their father. (They were then 11 and 13.)

DEAR ABBY: I have long held the view that giving birth to a child does not make a woman a mother any more than owning a piano makes a person a musician.

DEAR ABBY: I have a severe hearing loss. Six years ago I bought a hearing aid and experimented with it for a long time. I finally gave it up because it magnified background noises.

DEAR ABBY: I have a young couple expecting our first child in two weeks. Our best friends had their first child in the baby!
