EAST HARTFORD - Mrs. Maria Damm Lutzen, 80, of 991 Forbes St. died Wednesday at a West Hartford convalescent home. She was the wife of Martin A. Lutzen.

Moth clouds hold threat
CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) - Two years ago, Northeast radar-watchers spotted a thick cloud, 25 miles long and three miles deep, drifting down from Canada.

Rev. Richard P. Carter
The Rev. Richard P. Carter, 74, of Phoenix, Ariz., a former interim minister in Coventry and East Hartford, died Tuesday in Scottsdale, Ariz. He was the husband of Mrs. Elizabeth Carter.

Mrs. Lutzen was born in Denmark and had lived in East Hartford for the past 35 years.
Other survivors are four sons, Edward M. Lutzen of East Hartford, and George Lutzen, Martin Lutzen and Norman P. Lutzen, all of Manchester; 2 daughters, Madeline Territo of East Hartford and Mrs. Ethel Dickson of Manchester; 16 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren.

Town and police present their fact-finding cases

Wednesday's fact-finding session between the town and the police union provided a chance for both sides to present their case, but no further steps toward a settlement were taken.
"Fac-finding is the third step in 'impass resolution proceedings,' when a contract cannot be agreed upon for municipal employees. Step 1 is negotiation, Step 2 is mediation, and the final step, after fact-finding, is binding arbitration.

Both sides will now wait for the report of state appointed fact-finder Dr. Roscoe Orlando, who also attended yesterday's session.

1,000 soldiers join rebellion in Uganda

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) - More than 1,000 Ugandan soldiers reportedly have joined the growing rebellion against President Idi Amin and the government today imposed strict gasoline rationing because of dwindling supplies.
Diplomatic observers in Nairobi said the deteriorating economic, military and political situation in Uganda presented Amin with his most serious crisis since he grabbed power in a bloodless coup in January, 1971.

country's highest policymaking body, is studying the proposals, the report said.
Independent military observers said there undoubtedly was unrest in Uganda's army but doubted it was as widespread as local news reports indicated.
The gasoline rationing plan, effective immediately, banned all private motoring. The country's dwindling reserves - estimated to last no more than a few days - were allocated to government vehicles, buses, doctors and schools.

Blood supply short

FARMINGTON (UPI) - The state's hospitals need 540 pints of blood a day, but the Red Cross says it is only getting donations of about 325 pints a day, resulting in a shortage of blood.

The routing of scheduling blood-mobility was broken during the strike (by Red Cross employees last fall) and many of our chapters haven't gotten back to their quotas," said Mrs. Amy Hovey, director of donor recruitment.
An emergency blood shortage has been declared. Bloodmobiles will be at state headquarters on Rt. 4, next to the entrance to the University of Connecticut Health Center, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. through Saturday.

Sewer line work starts

Repair work is being done today on a sewer line on Pine St.
Water and Sewer Administrator Frank T. Jodanis said there has been stoppage in one of the sewer lines on the street.
Previous attempts to repair the problem have failed, so workmen began digging up the line today.
Jodanis said he was hopeful the repair work would just be a one-day job.

Wealthy trio sought in bus kidnap case

SAN LEANDRO, Calif. (UPI) - Three young men from wealthy families, described by police as armed and dangerous, were hunted today in connection with the kidnaping of 29 children and their driver from a school bus in Chowchilla.
An all-points bulletin was flashed to law enforcement agencies across the country Thursday night, ordering the arrest of the trio "on probable cause" for last week's abduction in the small San Joaquin Valley town of Chowchilla.

Yacavone, Glassman win renomination

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter
State Representatives Muriel Yacavone and Abraham Glassman were both nominated to run for reelection at Democratic conventions Thursday night.
Mrs. Yacavone, who represents the Ninth Assembly District, won the party nomination after an opponent, Stephen Barron, withdrew his name from the race.
Mrs. Yacavone of East Hartford has been a member of the Assembly since 1971. In her acceptance speech, she asked for party unity and said she hoped progress would be made in the next year toward tax reform, direct primaries for state offices and better health insurance for all state residents.

Ford veto upheld on military bases

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Liberal and conservative lawmakers joined in a rare Senate coalition to uphold President Ford's veto of a $3.3 billion military construction bill.
In one half-hour periphrastic Senate session, D-D-Iowa, William Proxmire, D-Wis., Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., Patrick Leahy, D-Vt., Gary Hart, D-Colo., Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., Richard Schweiker, R-Pa., and Charles Percy, R-Ill.
On the basis of President Ford's record of asking for higher and higher military budgets each year... we can be certain he is not going to shut down anything unless it is blatantly superfluous to the needs of national defense," McGovern said.

Power rate hike sought

HARTFORD (UPI) - Two Northeast utility firms have asked for rate hikes of $50 million and that could increase monthly electric and natural gas bills by more than $2 for nearly one million consumers.
The seven-inch thick application, filed Thursday, asked for increases of $39.4 million for the Connecticut Light & Power Co. and $16.89 million for the Hartford Electric Light Co.
In the application Northeast Utilities said the monthly bill for a residential customer of CL&P using 500 kilowatts a month would go up $2.32. The monthly bill for a similar HELCO customer would increase by $2.14.

Five killed in crash in Lebanon

LEBANON (UPI) - Five persons, including a mother and her two young children, were killed and three others were injured seriously Thursday when a car and truck collided head-on.
State police said an east-bound Chevrolet with five occupants and a pickup truck heading west with three occupants collided at about 4:30 p.m. on a rural Rte. 16 curve, about five miles east of Colchester Center.
A mother and her two children were killed. Two other children were seriously injured. Two men in the truck were killed and the third was seriously injured.

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Rep. Anthony Moffett, D-Conn., once again has asked his Republican opponent to engage in political debate, with a written invitation.
A spokesman for Moffett, who is seeking a second term, said the congressman sent a registered letter to Waterbury lawyer Thomas Upson, the GOP candidate, requesting debates in four locations within the 6th Congressional District.
Moffett requested a debate in a speech Tuesday but Upson reportedly said he would not take the invitation seriously until it was invited in writing.

Hospitals objecting to budget guidelines

Manchester Memorial Hospital is one of the state's 25 general hospitals that may take the Commission on Hospitals and Health Care (CHHC) to court if the commission adopts proposed guidelines for hospital budget control.
Hospital Administrator Edward Kenney has sent a letter to each commission member strongly objecting to the proposed regulations and urging that public hearings be held.
F. Bernard Forand, commission executive director, said because the CHHC is in a time bind, the controls will have an emergency clause taking an effect immediately when adopted next Tuesday without public hearings.

Single-family homes show increase in year

The number of building permits issued for single-family homes in Manchester during the 1975-76 fiscal year was the most since 1969 and almost double the total in 1974-75.
Chief Building Inspector Francis J. Conti called this an encouraging sign. He said this might be an indication that people are moving away from apartment living and back into houses.
The number of homes issued permits has fallen since 1969. During the 1974-75 fiscal year, only 86 building permits were issued for single-family structures. The 1975-76 fiscal year, however, saw the number of permits for homes jump to 160 for single-family homes.
Conti also noted that the number of permits issued for apartments in 1975-76 was no where near totals of past years. Only seven permits were issued during the recently ended year for condominium buildings.
Conti said he was disappointed in the number of permits issued for

Hospital needs blood

The statewide shortage of blood is being felt at Manchester Memorial Hospital. The hospital is extremely short on blood types O-plus, O-minus, A-minus and B-minus with no units available aside from those specifically set aside for use today.
Other hospitals in the state report situations ranging from shortage in all blood types, very bad overall situation, spot shortages, usual summer shortage, to "hand to mouth" shortage.
Yale-New Haven Hospital reports that it is extremely short, has almost canceled elective surgery as of Thursday morning, and has been keeping people working overnight to process blood.
The Connecticut Hospital Association has joined the call of the Connecticut Red Cross Blood Center in Farmington for potential donors to come forward in the special emergency blood drives.

The lighter side Eine Kleine Schlafenmusik

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A party of eight hikers from this area recently spent a week backpacking in the White Mountains of New Hampshire.
By day they lunched over rocks and hills and occasional templed hills provided by the Appalachian Trail Club. At night, they recuperated in huts provided by the Appalachian Mountain Club.
One night long past bedtime a sprained member of the group lay twitching in his bunk, reliving the symphony of snores that his fellow hikers were performing for his enjoyment. Suddenly, out of the darkness, a thought struck him.

Psychiatrists, he mused, have developed all sorts of theories that explain what dreams mean. Yet hardly any research has been done in the field of snore interpretation.
I resolved on that spot that when I returned to the flatlands I would look into this matter. For the alpine insomnia sufferer to come above was none other than y'r 'mb' c' r' s' p' n' d' n' t.
Following is a summary of my findings.
To the extent that scientists have studied snoring at all, they have treated it as a physical phenomenon. Air rushing through a sleeper's open mouth vibrates the soft palate, they say, producing sound.
As oral tissues become dry, lips, cheeks and nostrils also may begin to vibrate, thus intensifying the volume by several decibels.
By falling to go beyond this rudimentary inquiry, psychologists may be overlooking an important subconscious manifestation.
The key point here is that people only snore when they are asleep. And since they are unconscious at the time, it may be inferred that snores are an attempt to express or give vent to subconscious emotions.

Signed Fred suggested that dreams are a disguised form of wish fulfillment in which symbols represent concepts the dreamer cannot picture directly.
Snoring also may involve the use of symbols, with each snort and whoosh having some meaning.

Note that the snort is short and the whoosh is long, like the dot and dash symbols used in the Morse Code.
A snorer, for example, may start with a series of four snorts, followed by a single snort. Then he switches to snort-whoosh-snort-snort, followed by snort-whoosh-whoosh-snort.
Putting this sequence into Morse Code letters, it spells out HELP.

sequence, it may mean he is subconsciously calling for help.
Putting it another way, if a person consciously rejects something he subconsciously desires, he may go to bed at night and snore about it.
This theory, of course, can only be proved or disproved through scientific research. But if ever you are caught in a snoring crossfire, thinking about it may help you make it through the night.

Opinion

Bipartisan economic confusion reigns

Like the Republicans, the Democrats are in erratic search of an economic program.

There is no problem with pious generalities — less unemployment, tax reform, greater exports, trust busting, getting the able-bodied off welfare, slashing government waste, bringing the bureaucracy into line.

In this, Democratic high-sounding rhetoric is as like Republican pronouncements as two peas in a pod.

It's getting down to details that all are like blind men walking down a foggy alley with no exits.

On unemployment, the Democrats have only a government-financed employment bill so expensive and so disruptive of the economy that some of its most influential endorers are backing away. There is good reason to believe that the proposal was introduced only with the certainty President Ford would veto.

In essence, the bill would guarantee a government job to hundreds of thousands at rates higher than much of private industry could afford for unskilled and semiskilled labor. Ever research by sympathetic scholars indicates the result would be double-digit inflation through.

Jimmy Carter has come up with the thought that private industry could somehow be encouraged to provide more jobs, but has offered no more than patchwork thoughts on the subject, that is, a temporary government subsidy on wages of those about to be let go. He does suggest an end to double taxation.

On trust busting, the Democrats are in complete disarray. The word has spread through the ranks of the Democratic leadership that one way or another the oil companies have joined in a conspiracy. And that they must be broken up — vertically, horizontally, or crossways. Pick your Democratic bigwig here and take your choice. Carter leans toward a look at horizontal busting, taking the companies out of coal, uranium, geothermal energy — and presumably solar power.

The Republicans are just as confused, but for different reasons. They haven't the foggiest idea what they want to do about the big oil firms. The little operators seem to be betting on Reagan.

Democratic and Republican leaders are earnestly touting increases in U.S. energy production. And plans flow like rivers out of every doorway. But there's no agreement on any of the proposals.

Virtually none of the plans are based on sound engineering and geological studies. So that we have no assurance those being serious considered would be anything more than giant boondoggles, even more costly and counterproductive than some of the ill-conceived anti-pollution regulations, designed with the best of intentions to meet real needs, but so poorly researched they end up doing more harm than good.

Tax reform is in a class by itself. All Democrats and Republicans want to close tax loopholes — all loopholes, that is, except those which benefit them and their constituents.

Democrat Carter, interestingly enough, has proposed a plan so similar to that of Republican Treasury Secretary William Simon you would think they had worked it out together — the general elimination of deductions and a strong reduction in rates. But Carter has already been forced to back away from this approach, and Simon has no support to speak of for his proposal where it counts.

On government reform, neither Democrats nor Republicans, speak with one voice. Carter, President Ford and Ronald Reagan want to eliminate bureaus, rejigger the regulatory agencies and wipe out outdated programs. Not so Democrats and Republicans in Congress. In the end, in these matters, Congress makes the decisions, not the president.

Some administrations back a prestigious commission under the chairmanship of former President Herbert Hoover, was set up with these same ends in view. Despite strong bipartisan support, the commission and its works faded away. A series of other commissions followed. All were applauded; little action was taken.

Today's thought

The pardon that will not go away

By HELEN THOMAS

UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford said he pardoned his predecessor, Richard M. Nixon, in the "national interest" and "I would do it again."

He undoubtedly has been surprised how many times the subject came up while he was on the primary campaign trail. There were placard reminders. Sometimes Nixon in the offing held up by a small cluster of protesters. And always the question of why the pardon within a month after he became President.

During his confirmation hearings for the vice presidency, Ford had answered the hypothetical question of a Nixon pardon before his resignation, saying "the American people would never stand for it."

Ford has never publicly indicated any regrets over the pardon. If anything, his response has been very assertive, and in some ways defiant. He believed that it would all blow over and the American people would put Watergate behind him.

Those things, and probably more, influenced his decision to give the pardon one month after he was in office.

The American people will decide whether it is a valid issue, Ford told a news conference recently. On the question of Watergate, Ford feels he is on safe ground, pointing out that he was not a member of the Nixon administration. He also is moving affirmatively to support legislation for a special prosecutor to independently investigate any corrupt practices by the nation's public officials. Because of his awareness that his past association with Nixon — who selected him to be President — might be a political handicap, Ford openly acknowledged on the campaign trail that he was deliberately avoiding the use of Nixon's name.

His popularity polls immediately fell and from that time on Ford has never regained the across-the-board acceptance he had in August, 1974, when he told the country that the "long nightmare is over."

Perhaps for lack of further explanation, the pardon remains unforgivable in some segments of American society. Among some intellectuals and legal experts the question will remain — what was he pardoned for?

The pardon issue dominated Jimmy Carter's first formal news conference since his acceptance of the Democratic presidential nomination. The Democrats' vice presidential nominee, Walter Mondale, also attacked the pardon.

Ford also is being criticized on that score by GOP challenger Ronald Reagan, who says that the President is politically vulnerable because of his action. The acceptance speeches of both Carter and Mondale appeared to indicate that Watergate and the pardon will not be ignored in the heat of the campaign battle. The heavy applause at the Democratic convention when the two subjects were mentioned shows that the memory lingers on.

Knowing is enough

To the editor,
I must congratulate you and the men of your department on doing a great job in rescuing Mrs. Milfitt. You surely deserve a pat on the back, as you should have, and indeed, it always gives me a good feeling inside knowing that I've helped someone in their time of need, and in my case that is sufficient.

PHILADELPHIA, July 23 — The Pennsylvania convention will meet from 9 a.m. to noon, Monday through Friday.
The legislature was adopting a proposal made as early as 1775 by Benjamin Franklin. Congress informed Gen. Washington their "confidence in his judgment" was so high that they would offer no advice on his disposition of the Army in New York.

Sex will never be unpopular with the masses

WASHINGTON — To date, I have not thought it worth my while to comment on what some of my colleagues perceive as sexual scandals in Washington.

One reason is that none of the accused members of Congress has been convicted of anything (except, although Rep. Wayne Hays of Ohio is charged by Miss Ray and some of the media with the misuse of public funds).

But the principal reason my typewriter has turned away from Eros is that I am not sure we should judge our public men (and women) more sternly than we judge private citizens. In the private sector, sexual liaisons are considered an individual's private business, except by the scandal sheets; they may be immoral, depending on the point of view, but except in some of the Republic's backwaters, they are not lawless.

The late Sen. Henry Ashurst of Arizona, one of the most sensible men ever to sit in the Congress, once made a speech. Its essence was, as he put it, that "You can preach sermons against sex, you can pass laws against it, you can denounce it editorially, but you ain't ever going to make it unpopular with the masses. It's an affair with Miss (or Mrs.) Z.

Is Wayne Hays guilty of paying Elizabeth Ray $14,000 a year in public funds solely for sexual favors? Then he's a thief and should go to jail — although the allegations say that he was a cheap date and Miss Ray easily bought.

But despite his reputation as the meanest man in Congress, Hays has always been an effective legislator. He got things done. If he's not a crook, he's no worse morally than a lot of his peers, and the voters of his Ohio district could do worse than keep him in.

was noticed for the crowd of spectators already here. G. Washington, for example, has already been seen numerous times, riding his mare across the lawn of Mount Vernon. There is even a nude ghost, naturally; she is altogether in the altogether and employees at the Indonesian embassy say they can't wait to be scared by her again.

The Capitol building is a favorite of ghosts here. There is reportedly a Demon Cat who roams the corridors, particularly in the basement, and many founding fathers were guided to some degree by the occult arts. George Washington, for one, was almost regularly being visited by visions, apparitions and other chilling interlopers.

So accustomed to the eerie has Washington become, actually, that the Bicentennial ghosts will hardly be noticed for the crowd of spectators already here. G. Washington, for example, has already been seen numerous times, riding his mare across the lawn of Mount Vernon. There is even a nude ghost, naturally; she is altogether in the altogether and employees at the Indonesian embassy say they can't wait to be scared by her again.

Mrs. Teresalee Bertinuso of East Windsor received the unanimous endorsement for the Democratic nomination for state representative from the 57th District at the convention Thursday night in Ellington.

Republicans hoarding surplus, says Cromie

Coventry
Richard Cromie, chairman of the Democratic Town Committee, responded Wednesday to the announcement Coventry has an un-audited $147,000 cash surplus.

Cromie accused the Town Council of underestimating town revenues on purpose and deliberately ignoring state revenues. He also urged $8,000 to be restored to the maintenance garage.

"I fear the council will choose to ignore the community needs and will stretch this surplus and the 1976-77 expected surplus, to anticipate presenting a no mill increase at the next annual budget," he said.

"What seems like good fiscal sense usually shows up and costs the town's money."

NEAT to help Rockville kids

Vernon
Neighborhood Exploratory Activity Team (NEAT) is a program planned to benefit children in the center of Rockville.

Police Chief Herman Fritz, one of the members of the group helping to plan the program, said they are trying to put together some form of activities to keep the young people busy during the summer months.

Two field trips are planned. The committee is trying to find an area in the center of Rockville where a playground can be set up.

The children will be able to play such games as whiffle ball.

Nature series planned

Vernon
The recreation department will sponsor a series of three, one-week nature study classes starting Monday.

The sessions will be open for any Vernon young people in kindergarten through Grade 6.

The second session will start Aug. 9 and the final one, Aug. 16. Each class will meet from 9 a.m. to noon, Monday through Friday.

Mrs. Virginia Gignas will direct the program assisted by Marla A. Ashback. Each class will cover two aspects of science with time devoted to plant, land and bird life. The second part will be devoted to animal life.

Students will learn to identify plants, trees, and shrubs and will also study wild plants, both flowering and nonflowering.

The animal study phase will include observation of relationships and the different habitats of local animals. The emphasis will be on exploration and field investigation.

To learn more, contact the recreation office, 26 Park Place as soon as possible.

Groups give gifts to schools

Dr. Robert Goldman, school superintendent, announced many gifts have been received by local schools from town groups.

School bus firm bills parents

Parents of 14 students in the Vernon School system have been sent letters informing them their children will be suspended from school bus until payment is received for damages received by Thralal said.

Mason Thralal of the Windsor Bus Service sent the letters. The 14 students include two from Rockville High, seven from Middle School, two from Sykes, and three from Northeast.

Thralal, in each letter, told just what the damage was and the cost for repairs. Costs run from $25 to $60 and involve damage to seat pads, seat frames, and windows.

He said the parents the Board of Education decided to suspend the students from bus service (in June) until payment for damages was received. He explained the child was given a hearing by his or her principal and suspended for his/her alleged action. They were later temporarily reinstated.

"We must now regretfully continue the suspension of your child from bus transportation until payment for damages is received," Thralal said. He urged the parents to make the payment, "so we can put this matter to rest."

Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent, said suspension from bus service does not mean suspension from school.

He said he has asked Town Attorney Martin Burke to give the Board of Education a legal opinion on this matter.

F.A. 75-609 of the state Public Education Laws states the school board "may expel any pupil whose conduct endangers persons or property, seriously disrupts the educational process or violates published board policy."

However, the law also states that any pupil who is expelled is to be given an opportunity for an alternative education program.

Antiques festival set for Saturday

Coventry
The ninth annual Nathan Hale Antiques Festival will be Saturday at the Hale Homestead on South St. from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., rain or shine.

Antiques dealers from the east coast will gather to show their wares: Furniture, porcelains, glass, pewter, silver, iron and woodware, tape, maps and prints, paintings, documents, folk art, pottery, tools, guns, weapons, lighting devices, old journals and newspapers, clocks, estate jewelry, copper and brass and more.

The festival will be on the homestead grounds. The 10-room, restored homestead, furnished with many fine family pieces including young Nathan's hunting rifle, will be open for tours during the sale.

The festival is held to raise funds to keep the homestead in good repair. The more than 125 dealers expected will set up in the meadows and orchard by the homestead, said Betty Forbes, homestead director.

Democrats pick Ahearn; no primary

55th District

By a unanimous roll call, incumbent Aloysius Ahearn won the Democratic 55th Assembly District convention nomination Thursday in Columbia.

It was expected Louis Matsikas of Marlborough would challenge Ahearn for the seat.

After being nominated Matsikas withdrew his name because he did not have the three votes necessary to call a primary.

The 55th District includes Andover, Bolton, Columbia, Hebron, Marlborough and parts of Vernon.

Noreen Steele was elected permanent chairman of the convention and Edith Pragne was elected secretary.

Both women are members of the Columbia Democratic Town Committee. Mrs. Steele is its chairman.

Ahearn was nominated by Richard Grant, Hebron delegate. He summarized Ahearn's background.

He said Ahearn has been called a "maverick." "If he is, let us have more of the same," he said.

Grant said Ahearn is a good representative who serves the people, not special interests.

Ahearn's nomination was seconded by Thomas Anderson, Andover

Water use ban still on

Homes in Manchester and Glastonbury that use the Manchester water supply are reminded of the partial ban on watering of lawns now in effect.

The ban permits homeowners on the even-numbered side of the street to water their lawn only on even-numbered dates, and people on the odd-numbered side of the street to water only on odd-numbered dates.

For instance, people living in a home with the house number 24 could not water their lawn today, the 23rd of July, an odd-numbered day. Saturday, the 24th, would be a day they could.

The ban is being placed because of "extreme demands during the last week" on the town's water supply, according to the water department. The department has received a number of complaints concerning lack of water, low water pressure and poor water appearance.

Problems involving a drop in water pressure often occur in the early evening when people come home from work, the water department reported.

Showers, dish washers and lawn waterers are being used by many people during the early evening, causing a drop in water pressure.

It is expected the alternate lawn watering ban will be an adequate remedy.

Tax receipts below estimates

Receipts from property taxes for the 1975-1976 fiscal year fell a bit below expected intake. Collector of Revenue James A. Turek said Thursday.

Turek said his department hoped to come within one per cent of the Board of Director's estimate for property taxes for the last fiscal year. Their estimate was $14,784,457.

The final total of receipts from property taxes, $14,578,927, fell 1.3 per cent short of the board's estimate.

Collection of delinquent taxes fell far below expectations. Turek said the estimated intake from these taxes was placed at $250,000, but only $204,473.17

Marshall Plan

The famed post-World War II Marshall Plan originated in a June 5, 1947 proposal by Secretary of State George C. Marshall to extend U.S. financial aid to all European countries "willing to assist in the task of recovery." During the next 3.5 years, Congress authorized the spending of some $12 billion on Marshall Plan aid, which was credited with restoring economic health to Western Europe.

For non-educational related sources during the 1975-76 year, the total of receipts was $16,861,924, below the estimate of $18,016,800.

In the category of educational related sources, total receipts equaled $734,723.57, more than the estimated intake of $732,824.

Thus, total revenue for the year, non-educational and educational sources, was $17,596,647.11.

Sales rep

The Cole Agency, of 99 E. Center St., has been appointed as sales representative for Special Products — Hardware Division, Emhart Industries, Inc.

A key new product of this division is the Emhart 911, a saucer-size, battery-operated smoke detector for the home or apartment, capable of early detection of the deadly products of combustion and sounding a loud alarm.

The Cole Agency will cover Connecticut, Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont.

As William M. Cole of the Cole Agency pointed out: "Safety experts rank a smoke detector, which sounds an alarm when it senses smoke before onset of a fire, as the key to a home fire-safety system. Fire chiefs and safety officials believe that wider use of smoke detectors could cut substantially the casualty toll caused by household fires — 200,000 injuries and 7,000 deaths in the United States annually."

HNC has better quarter

The second quarter earnings of Hartford National Corp. show improvement over the first quarter of 1978; however, the results were significantly below the performance of a year ago. The company reported that while loan demand remained soft and reserves have been increased, interest rates have been favorable and operating expenses have been reduced.

Hartford National Corp.'s consolidated income before securities transactions for the three months ending June 30, 1978 was $974,000, or 85 cents per share, compared to $1,571,000, or 56 cents per share during the same period last year. Income for the first quarter of 1978 was $900,000, or 32 cents per share.

Income after securities transactions was $990,000, or 35 cents per share for the second quarter of 1978, compared with $1,580,000, or 56 cents per share a year earlier.

Income before securities transactions for the first six months of 1978 was $1,874,000, or 67 cents per share, compared with $3,920,000, or $1.40 per share for the first six months of 1977.

The corporation's main subsidiary, Hartford National Bank and Trust Co., had second quarter 1978 income before securities transactions of $1,578,000, or 57 cents per share. A year ago, earnings before securities transactions were $2,480,000, or 89 cents per share.

Rogers sells Lith-Kem

Norman L. Greenman, president of Rogers Corp., announces sale of most of the assets of its wholly-owned subsidiary, Lith-Kem Corp., to Chesco Industries, Inc. of Fairfield, a specialty chemicals and graphic arts company.

Greenman said that, following termination of its presensitized plate business at the end of last year, the company decided to divest the remainder of its offset printing activities. Lith-Kem's Lymbrook, N.Y. plant will be retained and will be leased to Chesco.

Payment for the assets is a combination of cash and a note which will be paid over five years; in addition, Chesco will pay royalties on sales over a seven-year period.

Greenman also said that the divestiture will not materially affect Rogers' 1978 earnings.

P&WA in on new jet engine

EAST HARTFORD (UPI) — The state's largest employer, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Group, has won federal approval to join three European firms and develop a new jet engine which it says could support thousands of jobs.

The firm said it was not clear if the work would create new jobs or maintain the current employment level of 25,000 in its facility here.

The U. S. State Department Thursday approved the project, involving the P&WA division of United Technologies Corp., Rolls-Royce Ltd. of Great Britain, Fiat of Italy and Motoren und Turbinen Union of West Germany.

The firms will jointly develop a new commercial jet engine, the JT10D, with expected sales and service worth perhaps $2 billion, according to Pratt and Whitney.

The first of the new engines could be in operation by 1980, according to a company spokesman. The JT10D will reportedly run more quietly and burn fuel more cleanly and efficiently than present engines, he said.

"The JT10D is our most important commercial engine program of the future," said Bruce N. Torelli, president of Pratt and Whitney. "Its success in the international marketplace will be instrumental in our ability to provide jobs at home in the years ahead."

He said foreign sales would be aided by participation of the foreign firms, which he said was unprecedented on such scale for a commercial engine. Pratt and Whitney will control 54 per cent of the project.

Police report

The streaking fad may have died out two years ago, but police found a practitioner of the art shortly before 4 a.m. this morning and charged him with four counts, including attempted burglary.

Arrested was Ernest W. Oakes III, 22, of Rockville, who was charged with disorderly conduct, second-degree attempted burglary, criminal mischief and failure to submit to being fingerprinted.

Police reported arriving at the Broad St. Parkade to find a man standing in the doorway of the Martin Ltd. store with no clothes on.

The man said he had been streaking and his girlfriend had taken his clothes, police said.

The area was investigated by police and they found a broken window and pry marks on the door of Martin Ltd. They also said a van belonging to Flair Furniture had been broken into and the ignition had been tampered with. A screwdriver and a pair of pliers were found on the ground.

Also found were the man's clothes — in the bushes about 80 yards from where he had been streaking.

Court date for Oakes is Aug. 9.

Police reported $210 was taken from the P & L Restaurant, 550 E. Middle Tpk. Cash and change worth $160 were taken from a file cabinet and another $50 was removed from a cash register, police said.

Another break was reported at a New State Rd. apartment. Taken were six poles, skies and bindings valued at about $200.

Two rings were taken from a residence on Adams St., police said. Value of the missing rings was placed at $105. An attempted break at a Crosby Dr. home was also reported by police. No report of missing items has yet been made.

Sartor lone applicant for job

Patrol Capt. Richard Sartor is the only applicant for the deputy police chief position, Asst. Town Manager Charles McCarthy said Thursday.

Applications for the job were due by Tuesday and the one application was received by Sartor.

McCarthy said he will make a decision early next week on whether Sartor will be the post. He said, if Sartor is selected, he will probably start at the new position the same day the decision is made.

Lannan said the appointment of Sartor is not automatic. "I do have a choice. I don't have to take this man. I can accept him or I can reject him," the chief said.

He did, however, have words of praise for Sartor. "He's a bright, young man. I like the man's thinking," Lannan said.

He pointed out that when he was named chief of the man who finished second was Richard Sartor. Lannan said Sartor is "eminently qualified for the deputy position."

The chief said he was surprised there was only one application for the deputy police chief job.

"I thought one or two other candidates would apply," he said.

Trustee tells court why he voted to buy Times

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — Former trustee Henry J. Conland has testified he voted to acquire the Hartford Times because he felt doing so would advance the ideas of John D. Jackson trust fund.

Conland and Lionel S. Jackson are the target of a suit by trust beneficiaries seeking damages for the purchase of the money-losing newspaper. They also seek Jackson's removal as trustee.

Conland said Thursday the purchase "would add considerably to Mr. Jackson's philosophy in Connecticut." He said advancement of Jackson's philosophy "was the major reason" he voted to buy the Times and was one reason the trust was formed.

The trust also owns Register Publishing Co., which publishes two dailies here, the Register and the Journal Courier.

Conland's philosophy was generally regarded as conservative, especially when it came to spending tax money.

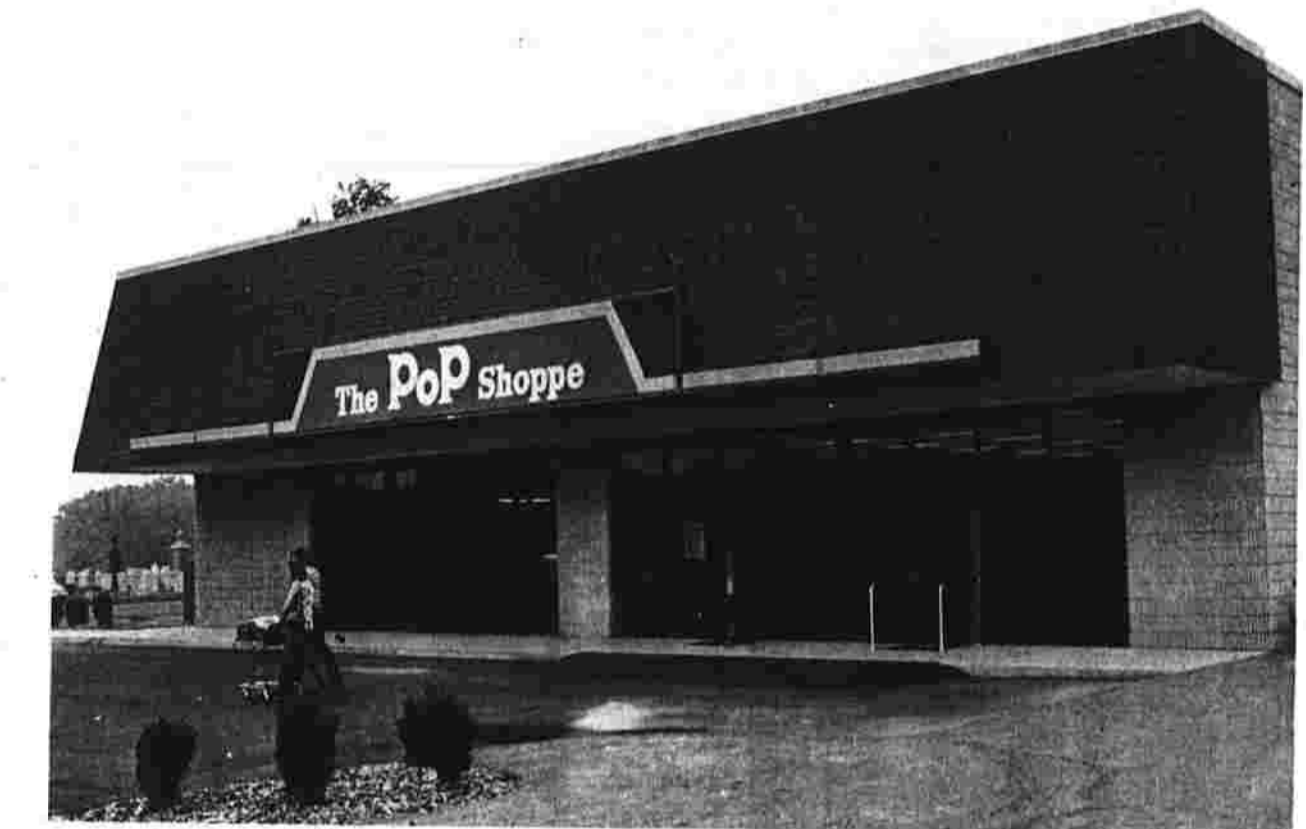

Conland repeated previous testimony by Jackson that the merger of the Times and the New Haven papers seemed a lucrative possibility because Hartford was a better market than New Haven and because of possible savings from joint operation.

Conland, 66, retired as a trustee earlier this year. A former official of the Courant and a former director of the Meriden Record, Conland now lives in Catskill, N.Y., and publishes a newspaper there.

Success to You

For funds for music shell

The Bicentennial aluminum recycling project has raised $61.95 during the past month for Manchester's proposed music shell. Making sure that all the metal left at the aluminum recycling bin at the town landfill area was aluminum, Ralph Maccaroni Jr., left, and Tom Lappen, right, checked each piece of metal in the bin. Ed Lemieux, who also helped with the project, was not at the landfill area when this photo was taken. (Carriere photo)

Committee to raise Amphitheater funds

A meeting has been scheduled Wednesday, July 28, to organize a subcommittee on direct solicitation for the Bicentennial Music Shell.

That meeting will be at 11:30 a.m. at Willie's Steak House.

The announcement is made by Francis Mahoney, Bicentennial Committee co-chairman; and by Ronald Denison, president of Manchester Community College and a member of the committee.

The committee will plan the timetable for fund raising, set a goal for start of construction, and discuss a projected schedule for use of the Manchester Amphitheater for the performing arts.

Manchester was named a Bicentennial Community when it adopted a plan for the past, the present and the future.

The past was in the form of the Bicentennial Ball; the present was the Bicentennial Parade June 12; the future is the amphitheater to provide a permanent memorial of the Bicentennial Year.

Candidates too religious

GLADSTONE, Ore. (UPI) — Presidential candidates Jimmy Carter, Gerald Ford and Ronald Reagan could be too religious for the good of the nation, according to Herald Follett, a Portland, Ore., attorney.

Lecturing at the 98th annual Seventh-day Adventist camp meeting Thursday, Follett expressed fear that the traditional separation of church and state could be endangered if the next President could not keep those responsibilities separate in his own mind.

"The public attitude since Watergate seems to be demanding that elected officials have a personal religious conviction," Follett said. "The danger could come if such leaders seek to please the majority even if it means limiting the rights of those who disagree."

"Adventists should be glad to have candidates for national leadership who are men of moral integrity and personal religious conviction, but historically, minorities have suffered most under over-zealous leaders who confuse personal conviction with state policy."

Experts plan Viking repair

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Engineers working around the clock today have a plan to free Viking 1's jammed mechanical arm in time to scoop up a soil sample to start the robot's search for life on Mars on schedule next week.

The crucial test will come Saturday when new orders will be radioed to Viking to circumvent the potentially serious trouble, apparently caused by a human planning error.

"We'll know Sunday afternoon after the data have been processed here at the control center whether or not we have fixed the problem," project director James Martin said early today.

Despite the problems, Viking 1 continued to radio data back from its desert base on the red planet. Today's schedule called for the probe's second camera to take three black and white pictures.

The retractable, 16-foot digger stopped operating during a test Thursday and Martin feared at first its failure was related to other puzzling problems that developed aboard the spacecraft during its first two days on the Mars.

The first failure knocked Viking's delicate seismometer — which measures planet quakes — out of operation, at least temporarily. It was followed by unexplained difficulties with two communications systems that were minor unless they worsened.

"We are somewhat mystified that we would have so many problems all at once," he said.

Martin said there still was a chance that the sampler arm, communications and seismometer problems were related, but he said the more likely explanation for the soil sampler arm problem was a simple one.

Engineers experimenting with a replica lander discovered that the boom had to be extended during the test further than it was on Mars to permit a locking pin to drop out of the system. If the arm did not extend far enough, the pin remained and the arm would stop.

"It is certainly a plausible and possible failure mode," he said. The way to correct it was to simply order the boom extended longer. Commands to do that will be radioed to Viking Saturday.

Engineers had to work quickly on the problem to avoid a delay in the collection of the first soil sample next Wednesday for Viking's three life detection instruments and two chemical analyzers. Martin said if the arm works Saturday, as he expects, the original schedule will be maintained.

If the problem is not corrected, the sample collection will be postponed and engineers will have to search for another solution.

If a way could not be found to operate the stainless steel sampler, it would mean Viking would not be able to carry out the life search or studies of the rusty colored Martian dirt.

The two radio problems also surfaced Thursday. Martin reported that one of two receivers was late in picking up calls from Earth the first day and did not respond at all the second day.

The second difficulty involved a transmitter Viking uses to talk to its orbiting mothercraft, which in turn relays the signals to Earth. The transmitter disobeyed orders from its computers and used low instead of high power to communicate with the lander.

SUMMER YOUTH SCENE

Compiled and Written By Summer Activities in Manchester (SAM).

Rock comes to Mt. Nebo

Heavy rock music will seize the stage at Mt. Nebo tomorrow night as Louisiana Purchase, a five-man band from Colchester, puts on its show. Playing what the band leader calls "hard metal rock," they will feature tunes by Aerosmith, Blue Oyster Cult, Johnny Winter, Robin Trower, ZZ Top, and Deep Purple.

Chris Green, who plays rhythm guitar for the band, says that the group has found a style that it likes and won't change just to suit the whims of popularity. Although it sometimes makes it more difficult for the band, Green says they do not play "Top 40" hits except for a few in club engagements.

Louisiana Purchase has been around in southern Connecticut. They were the 1975 winners of the Norwich Battle of Rock, achieving the only perfect score in the contest's history. They have played extensively around New London, in high schools, beer fests, and yacht clubs.

Their act will include special effects and lighting, providing the kind of show you can sit and listen to, as well as Green, the band consists of Virgil Thomas on drums, John Wotus on lead guitar, and Eric Petrides handling vocals.

As with all SAM concerts, this one starts at 8 p.m. and there is no admission charge.

SAM makes history

SAM's 1976 summer theater is ready and rolling forward with a revolutionary war spoof that finds Betsy Ross' boyfriend Fred upset because his girl spends all her time on some flag and won't talk with him anymore.

When the spies in Colonial clothes and plastic dark glasses start lurking in the wings, the stage is set for some counter-revolutionary capers. And through the whole thing an absurd huge dog jumps around and licks everybody.

The play, entitled "And That's the Way It Was?" will start appearing next week, and will tour area playgrounds the first week in August. Already during rehearsals outside the East Side Rec, the players draw a small but appreciative audience of young people. The troupe is also scheduled to play for groups like convalescent homes.

The production is being directed by Bill Brindamour. Handling music is Robert Redford plays a straw-haired jock out to have a good time and Barbara Streisand plays a frizzy-haired Communist. The two join forces in a romantic love story of two opposites. Get the hint?

The movie will be shown Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. at Mt. Nebo. As usual, there is no admission charge.

Champ-Haldeman

Paula Kay Haldeman and Frank W. Champ Jr., both of Manchester, were married June 19 at St. Mary's Church in Manchester.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Ronald Haldeman of 21 Westminster Rd. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Gupion of 44 George Dr., Vernon.

The Rev. Ronald E. Haldeman and the Rev. Stephen Jacobsen of St. Mary's Church celebrated the nuptial Mass and performed the double-ring ceremony. Ronald Rothornel of Manchester was organist. Soloists were Connie Terrio of Manchester, and Harry Haldeman, the bride's brother, of Manchester.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Quiana knit gown designed with shirred bodice, lace yolk, long sleeves, standup collar, cuffs trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent, high-rise waistline, and circular skirt extending to a full chapel-length train. She carried a cascade bouquet of white sweetheart roses and daisies with blue statice and ivy.

Miss Maureen Guzik of Manchester served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Nancy Nancy Neuth of Baltimore, Md.; and Mrs. William Champ of Coventry, the bride's sister-in-law. Miss Jennifer Haldeman of Ohio, the bride's cousin, was junior bridesmaid.

William Champ of Coventry was the bride's best man. Ushers were Daniel Champ of Vernon, the bridegroom's brother; Harry Haldeman of Manchester, the bride's brother; and Jeffrey Haldeman of Columbus, Ohio, the bride's cousin.

A reception was held at Willie's Steak House in Manchester after which the couple left for Cape Cod, and general headaches is Margaret Blish, Jill Gagon, Maureen Murphy, Ann Putira and Mary Sinnanon are working on sets for the play. Wendy Q. Horwitz is helping with costumes.

The acting cast consists of Lauren Betsy Ross; Lance Tatro playing Fred, Betsy's boyfriend; Dave Smith and Chris Wickie as the big dumb dog named Bunker Hill; Heather Cole, Mary Sinnanon and George Sweetnam as spies; and Patty Frank and Mindy Setzler alternating as the barmaid.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I was engaged to be married to a beautiful woman, when my business failed. When I went broke, my fiancée started dating other men. She came right out and told me that she couldn't stand the thought of being poor. I'd like to go to the best places, which I can't afford right now.

She has money and could well afford to take us both out, but she refuses to spend her own money. She lets other men wine and dine her, but afterward she comes to my place for her love.

Am I wrong to still love this woman? At times I feel like a big fool, but I can't help myself.

STUD

DEAR STUD: It's not "wrong" to love anyone. Your problem is that you feel that you are being used. And you are. Unless, of course, you are getting as much out of the relationship as she is.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were divorced a month ago after 36 years of marriage. One week after the divorce was final, he announced that he was going to marry a young woman with whom he has been going for nearly 10 years.

We have a 35-year-old married son who, I know, disapproved of the way his father has treated me, and he's said he has no intention of becoming friendly with his father. Feeling as he does, should he attend the wedding? And what should his feelings be? How should he act toward his father and his new wife?

EX-WIFE

DEAR EX: How your own "feels" and how he should behave toward his father and the new wife is for you to decide.

DEAR ABBY: A bachelor wrote to say that whenever he applied for a job, as soon as they learned that he was over 30 and unmarried they lost interest in him. He claimed that his single status also made him suspect as a homosexual— which he is not.

ABBY, as a personnel manager for many years, I have interviewed hundreds of job applicants, and if two equally qualified men apply for a job and one is married and the other is single, the married man usually gets the job.

Why? Not because the single man may be a homosexual, but because without a wife, family or roots, a man is more apt to quit his job. Not so with a married man. His family obligations make it necessary for him to stick with his job.

Training employees is very expensive, so you can't fault businesses for giving preference to the applicant who is more likely to stay with the job.

J.M.C.

DEAR J.M.C.: Thank you for giving the other side of the picture.

Obituaries

David J. Longobardi
David J. Longobardi, one-month-old son of Anthony J. and Susan Johnson Longobardi of Hamden, died Thursday at Yale-New Haven Hospital.

He was the grandson of Clarence and Mary Rhodes Johnson of 86 Columbus St., Manchester, and the great-grandson of Mrs. Mary Marley Rhodes of Manchester and the late Thomas Rhodes.

Private graveside services were today in Beavertown Memorial Park, New Haven.

Spence M. German
HEBRON — Spence M. German, 75, of Portland died Thursday at Cobalt Lodge in East Hampton. He was the father of David F. German of Hebron.

Other survivors are his wife, two other sons and six grandchildren.

The funeral is Monday at 11 a.m. at the Church of the Holy Trinity in Middletown. Burial will be in Pine Grove Cemetery, Middletown.

There are no calling hours. The family suggests that friends wishing to do so may make memorial gifts to the Church of the Holy Trinity Memorial Fund.

The Doolittle Funeral Home, 14 Church St., Middletown, is in charge of arrangements.

Suicide causes two other deaths

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (UPI) — A woman committing suicide by running her car in a closed garage inadvertently killed an elderly couple living next door.

Odorless and colorless carbon monoxide fumes from the car seeped through the attic into the adjacent duplex apartment Thursday, killing both the woman in the garage and her neighbors.

That afternoon, Dr. Christian Stehr went to visit his parents living in the other half of the duplex. When he got no answer, he entered and found his parents dead.

Dorothy Stehr, 66, was lying on a bed in the back bedroom and Wolfgang Stehr, 77, was on a hospital bed in the front room.

Lottery number

HARTFORD (UPI) — The winning Connecticut lottery number drawn Thursday night was 58-Red-699.

Emanuele Milardo, 67, a retired mail clerk from Durham, won the special drawing and bonuses totaling $101,000.

Safety of tranquilizers questioned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Food and Drug Administration believes the nation's most widely used tranquilizers — Valium, Librium, Miltown and others — may cause birth defects.

FDA Commissioner Alexander Schmidt, citing recent studies, said Thursday his agency has ordered manufacturers to provide bold-face warnings on their packages that the drugs could be hazardous during early pregnancy.

"These studies do not demonstrate conclusively that these drugs, taken during early pregnancy, can cause cleft lip or other birth defects," Schmidt said. "But use of these tranquilizers during pregnancy is rarely a matter of urgency, and their use during this time should almost always be avoided."

"The warning label we are now requiring will provide physicians with the information they need to prescribe these drugs safely."

Hoffmann-La Roche Inc., manufacturer of Valium and Librium, said the FDA ignored two more recent studies, which cleared the tranquilizers of any link to birth defects. The company does not dispute the FDA's statement that pregnant women may not need tranquilizers, a Hoffmann-La Roche spokesman said, but the agency is "strongly casting aspersions on Valium that are inconsistent with the scientific facts."

Affected are a group of drugs called benzodiazepine, the most popular brands of which are Valium and Librium.

Valium, the single most widely prescribed drug in the country, is sold at the rate of 3 million new and refilled prescriptions every month. Librium sells at the rate of 1.5 million new and refilled prescriptions a month.

Also affected are a class of drug called meprobamates, the best known brands of which are Miltown and Equanil.

"These drugs are widely prescribed for the relief of anxiety and tension," the FDA said. "The warning will be required in the labeling of generic and brand-name versions of these drugs."

The warnings will specify that the drugs should not be used during the first three months of pregnancy. Doctors also will be warned to check the possibility of pregnancy before prescribing such drugs to any woman of child-bearing age.

About town

Miss Carol James, a member of Manchester Grange, has been selected to represent Granges in this area in the Fair Queen Contest at the Connecticut Grange Fair this weekend at the Durham Fair Grounds. The fair, which opened this afternoon, will continue Saturday from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 8:30 p.m.

Carter inspires job bill changes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House sponsors of a bill aimed at creating "full employment" plan substantial changes to bring it in line with the views of Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter.

The amendments also will make the bill conform more closely to the platform adopted by the Democratic convention last week, and help deal with criticisms by some economists against the measure.

The changes have been endorsed by Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins, D-Calif., the chief House sponsor of the bill; by the Carter campaign; the AFL-CIO; the Black Caucus; freshman Democrats; House Democratic leaders, and by Senate sponsor Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., although Humphrey's office said they were not necessarily the final revisions.

Sponsors hope to bring the revised "Humphrey-Hawkins" bill to the House floor for its first test early next month.

The changes have been widely circulated but not publicly announced.

Meanwhile, Congress Thursday enacted over President Ford's veto a $3.95 billion public works and aid to cities authorization bill which Democratic sponsors said would create more than 300,000 jobs.

The House voted 310 to 96 to override Ford's veto, after the Senate earlier voted 73 to 24 to override.

Ford said he was "keenly disappointed" and urged Congress not to appropriate money for the bill, which he contends will lead to bigger deficits, higher inflation and in the long run higher unemployment.

The revised Humphrey-Hawkins bill would set a goal to reduce the national unemployment rate among persons 20 years and older to 3 per cent within four years.

Previously the 5 per cent goal applied to all persons 16 and over in the House bill and 18 and over in the Senate version, which would have meant finding jobs for many more people.

The new goal would be the equivalent of an overall unemployment rate of 4 per cent, including everyone over 16, compared to 7.5 per cent last month. It would be easier to achieve and less inflationary than the original, according to sponsors.

The revised bill calls for reducing teenage unemployment, recently 18 per cent, "as rapidly as feasible" but sets no goal.

O'Neill says election

He said DNC staffer Maura McKenna, who issued the opinion his election was illegal, "had no authority to rule on this or any other issue or make any kind of statement at all."

O'Neill defeated Kelly in a bitter meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee, which acts as the state party's board of directors. O'Neill received 40 votes, Kelly got 28 and New Haven County Sheriff Henry Healy got four.

Kelly and several of his supporters could not be reached for comment after O'Neill released the DNC ruling.

Kelly was backed by Gov. Ella T. Grasso, who was neutral in public but behind the scenes lobbied so intensely for Kelly that some O'Neill backers complained they were threatened with political reprisals.

O'Neill of East Hampton said he hoped the ruling clearing his election would end the political tug of war between himself and former Gov. John Dempsey on one side, and Mrs. Grasso and Kelly on the other.

"Let's just say the waters are becoming calmer, the storm is subsiding," he said when asked to evaluate the effect of the DNC ruling on the bitter contest.

O'Neill said his defeat of Kelly and Mrs. Grasso — governors traditionally hand-pick state chairmen — was a sign of the growing independence among Democrats.

"The party itself has come of age," he said, using nearly the same words Mrs. Grasso used in describing the election at a news conference Wednesday, her first since O'Neill's victory.

"There's more independence in political people than there ever was before," he said, noting the 1975-1976 Democratic-controlled legislature failed to adopt several budget balancing plans proposed by Mrs. Grasso. O'Neill also said he had not decided whether to seek re-election as House majority leader. Mrs. Grasso opposed O'Neill because she didn't think one person could effectively be both majority leader and state chairman.

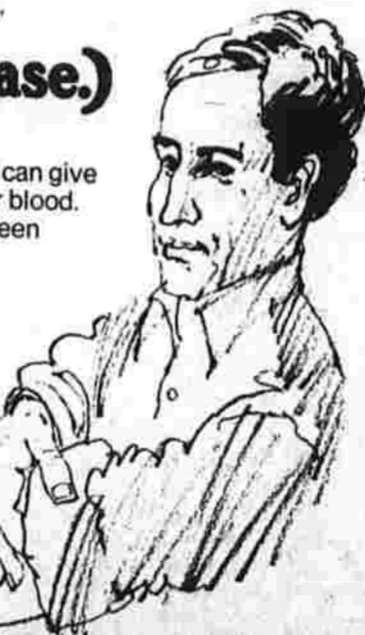

"If they tell me that I'll be happy to listen," said O'Neill, referring to the State Central Committee and lawmakers.

BEST BUYS BY BELFIORE...

THE TWENTIES
Six room older home. Low twenties.

THE THIRTIES
Immaculate 3 bedroom Ranch with wall-wall. Split rail fencing. Seven room Cape. Clean and neat. Over one acre nicely landscaped. Six room Ranch! Wall-wall everywhere. Aluminum sided. One acre! Big six room Colonial, aluminum sided, central location. Real Value!

THE FORTIES
Six Family brick construction. Ask for Joe Lombardo. Ansdli built 3 bedroom Ranch. Brick front, parklike yard. Two fireplaces!

THE FIFTIES
Elegant Colonial. Walk to several schools. Modern kitchen with appliances, 2 car garage. Immaculate is perhaps an understatement. A plethora of features plus several extras. Allow time for a thorough inspection. This is truly an unusual property complete with formal garden!

An older Two-Family that is completely new! No explanation will suffice. Let Alex Matthew show it to you.

Drive by 20 Coburn Rd., then let us explain the myriad of features included in this eight room, four bedroom Colonial. Just two of these features: Nappanee kitchen cabinets and 24' swimming pool. Priced to sell immediately.

Authentic Ansdli Colonial. Plastered walls. Extremely lovely, first floor library room! Two car oversized garage. Seven spacious, gracious rooms plus finished family room AND finished den! Large treed lot.

THE SIXTIES
Store, two apartments, owner anxious. Ask for Joe Lombardo. Immaculate Main Street property. Ideal for professional offices, or homeoffice combination. Close to hospital.

We dare and defy you to compare this Raised Ranch in lovely Forest Hills (first time on market) with anything else in the sixties! Almost everything stays except the family dog! Ask for Alex Matthew.

THE SEVENTIES
What do you know! We're out of listings in this price range. Will be happy to list and sell yours - in any price range!

THE EIGHTIES
Fourteen rooms and four fireplaces. Find almost 3 acres almost in the center of town, then duplicate (as far as you can) the majestic Colonial for about $169,000 OR buy this authentic beauty in the eighties!
