

Police seek mutual aid agreement

Manchester Police are negotiating a new mutual aid agreement with other law enforcement agencies in the Capitol Region to provide for mutual aid response in major cases.

Police Chief Robert Lannan said the new mutual aid agreement, expected to be signed in August, would allow the local force to provide and to receive assistance from area police departments. The agreement would not bind the local department to respond to mutual aid calls, however.

Lannan said the local department has had un-written agreements with surrounding police departments, and the new pact, to be considered by the Iowa Board of Directors, will formalize previous arrangements.

Lannan said area police have cooperated with local authorities in routine investigations in recent years, but the new agreement will provide for assistance in major crime cases or other incidents in which more manpower is needed.

Peking residents told not to remain indoors

HONG KONG (UPI) — Police set off sirens in Peking today and warned residents to evacuate homes and office buildings because of possible new quakes in the same area hit Wednesday by the world's most powerful tremor in 12 years.

As more than a million relief workers spread through the densely populated Heph province searching for dead and injured, there still was no official word from the Chinese government on the extent of casualties from the first quake or a strong aftershock 15 hours later.

However, the city of Tangshan, 100 miles southeast of Peking, was reported almost demolished. Members of a French delegation visiting there said nearly every building in the city of 1 million had been flattened.

Peking residents said news of possible new quakes came before dawn when sirens sounded in some parts of the city and police and public security officials went into buildings in other areas.

They said security authorities warned residents to leave their homes and office buildings and join the hundreds of thousands who spent the past two nights outside in temporary shelters.

These sources said they believed similar warnings were issued in Tientsin, 75 miles to the southeast, and other cities and towns in the quake area.

The Peking correspondent of Japan's NHK Radio and Television network said he was talking with Tokyo at the time the warning came. He reported that he was ordered to cut off his conversation and leave the building immediately.

The NHK report said a dense fog engulfed the city as people poured into the streets, gathering in parks and other public places.

Other Peking sources said many people stayed in the center of some of the city's wider streets. Tents and temporary shelters already lined the sidewalks and streets and filled many vacant lots and other open spaces.

Meadows talks at impasse, union will ask mediation

By JUNE TOMPKINS

Herald Reporter

The Meadows Convalescent Home management and the union representing nursing home workers reached an impasse Thursday during contract talks which resulted in union representatives announcing their intentions to seek intervention from a federal mediator.

Fred Joslyn, vice-president in charge of operations of the Geri-Care nursing home chain based in Springfield, Mass., said there were about 11 issues which were the subject of controversy during the hour-long session.

Union organizer Alvin Levie of District 1199, National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees, said the union today will request the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) to assign a federal mediator to intervene in the contract talks.

One of the main proposals which Geri-Care refused to accept concerned union shop. Joslyn said the union demands that all employees at the Meadows must be a member of District 1199, whether they want to or not. About 70 of the 240 employees at the unit voted against membership in an election held last May. Joslyn feels management owes some consideration to these employees.

Levie said another major barrier in the negotiations included the management's desire to exclude part-time employees from the contract. He said the part-time employees had all voted in favor of the contract last May.

Another controversial issue had to do with promotions at the home. Geri-Care agreed that employees should be promoted at the home, but there was disagreement as to what should happen to an employee who does not succeed in a higher position.

Geri-Care's position is that it is not fair to fire the person who has replaced the promoted employee in order to return that person to his former position, Joslyn said.

Levie said there are many possibilities where the new employee could be absorbed within the nursing facility. "It's a very big operation," he said.

Also, Levie feels that seniority right should be considered and because an employee who has been with the nursing home several years does not succeed in a promotion, that person should be retained in the system and not fired.

Opinions also differed on management's ability to hire subcontractors to perform jobs such as housekeeping, dietary and laundry work.

Joslyn said Geri-Care is insisting on the same clause which is in the Royal Crest nursing home (also a Geri-Care nursing home) contract which involves management's rights.

The union objects to subcontracting for a maintenance service for which the employees may work without benefits and non-union wages.

If necessary, negotiations would have to go to arbitration, Levie said.

Levie and Joslyn both said they hoped for the best during the federal mediator's study of the contract and his suggestions.

The party also picked two political newcomers, Walter H. Joyner and Mart H. Bray Jr. to run for the 12th and 13th Assembly District seats.

Mrs. Mercer was nominated by M. Adler Dobkin, who said, "Organizational ability and enthusiasm are two main qualities needed for a registrar and Marion possesses these."

"We are in a new era that calls for a new approach," Dobkin said.

David Odagard nominated Peck and said, "His experience as a registrar does mean something." He called Peck "very capable."

Before the secret ballot vote was taken, Republican Town Chairman Thomas F. Ferguson announced that he was resigning from the office Wednesday night to endorse Mrs. Mercer.

Mrs. Mercer said, "I'll put all my energy and enthusiasm into this job. My time is my own and I will be a full-time registrar."

She mentioned that Democratic Registrar of Voters Herbert J. Stevenson had said he hoped the Democrats will have a 3,000 plurality over Republicans by November.

"We can't let this happen," she said. "We have to get out there and lead the pavement and get the Republicans registered."

Doris Coughlin asked for a round of applause for Peck and his work as registrar.

After the meeting, Peck said of the outcome, "Naturally, I feel bad." He said he had figured the vote would be much closer than it was.

He now has until Aug. 13 to petition for a primary if he wishes. He must obtain signatures of five per cent of the town's registered Republicans to qualify for a primary.

Syria and PLO sign truce

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Syria and the Palestine Liberation Organization have agreed to end their bitter fighting in Lebanon and announced a landmark peace plan for all the country's warring factions.

In a reconciliation accord signed in Damascus late Thursday, Syria and the PLO promised to "cooperate" in seeking a new Lebanese peace and called for "the declaration of acceptance of the cease-fire in all Lebanese territories by all parties."

The new peace initiative had yet to be felt in the Lebanese capital where fighting flared today along the confrontation lines of the eastern and southern suburbs.

Renewed clashes also broke out around the besieged Palestinian camp of Tal Zaatar in southeastern Beirut and the Red Cross said it was postponing an evacuation of the camp's wounded for 24 hours.

A Red Cross spokesman said he had won assurances from militant Christians, who fired on five previous rescue convoys, they would honor a new cease-fire around the camp beginning at 7 a.m. Saturday.

But he said only about 40 or 50 of the 1,000 wounded would be evacuated as a "trial run." If it works, "then we will be able to take out more on Sunday."

There also was a resurgence of the kidnappings in the capital. In the latest such incident, Khalil Salem, the director of Lebanon's defunct Finance Ministry, was abducted today while driving down the main street of Moslem-controlled west Beirut.

Syria and the PLO said a supreme Syrian-Palestinian-Lebanese committee would be formed to fix the date for a new truce and oversee an end "to all armed military presence" within 10 days after that.

The agreement called on Arab League peace-keeping forces to enforce the move.

It made no mention of leftist demands for the withdrawal of Syrian forces but newspapers reported a secret clause pledged a limited withdrawal after the other provisions of the accord are implemented.

Christian rightists and Moslem leftists in Beirut refrained from announcing acceptance of the peace plan. But an ultra-rightist Christian leader whose militiamen sabotaged previous fighting halts in the 16-month civil war expressed "room for optimism" a truce would take hold.

The pact also pledged Syria to "safeguard the Palestinian presence" in Lebanon, guarantee the country's sovereignty and "introduce" warring factions to "introduce the reforms they deem necessary" to bring about a settlement.

In addition, the two sides urged the formation of a national unity government and called on Palestinians to honor earlier agreements restricting their movements and forbidding them from carrying arms in the streets.

Third kidnap suspect caught

By DONALD B. THACKREY
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — With the three "primary suspects" in the Chowchilla bus kidnap case in jail, California authorities today pursued other leads they say may lead to additional arrests.

The FBI, however, said as far as it was concerned, its investigation into the alleged $5 million ransom plot was closed with the apprehension of the last known suspect.

Fred Woods, 24, was captured Thursday by Royal Canadian Mounted Police in Vancouver. His friend, James Schoenfeld, also 24, was seized by police 1,000 miles to the south, near his home in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Schoenfeld's brother, Richard, 23, who surrendered to authorities earlier, was arraigned Thursday on 43 counts of kidnaping and robbery. He pleaded innocent.

The arrests of the elder Schoenfeld and Woods came two weeks to the day after the school bus with 26 children and their driver was seized by masked gunmen. Some 29 hours later, the drivers and children dug their way to safety from a buried moving van in a quarry owned by Woods' millionaire father.

The suspects are in custody. We have other criminals to chase," FBI agent Frank Perrone said Thursday night. "It's in the hands of local authorities now."

The case is not closed as far as we're concerned," said Jack W. Baugh, chief of the criminal division of the Alameda County Sheriff's Office. "The search for known suspects is over (but) we are pursuing other investigative leads."

Baugh said that the leads could result in other arrests, but added "the primary suspects are in custody."

While Baugh refused to elaborate, various published reports in recent days said authorities were also looking for older men and, according to one report, three women.

With the Schoenfeld brothers and Woods in custody on $1 million bail each, residents of Chowchilla relaxed for the first time since the empty school bus that was returning the 19 girls and seven boys from a summer outing was found in an abandoned drainage ditch.

"We all feel better," said waitress Ruth Stewart, one of 250 townspeople who turned out for Thursday's 15-minute arraignment of the younger Schoenfeld.

The older Schoenfeld was picked up by Menlo Park police near his home after a tip from an alert motorist. An attorney for the Schoenfeld family said the son was on his way to surrender when he was captured.

About five hours later, shortly before noon, Canadian police captured Woods as he was leaving the main post office in Vancouver.

Marion Mercer

Mercer elected to replace Peck

By GREG PEARSON

Herald Reporter

Frederick E. Peck, Republican Registrar of Voters since 1960, was defeated Thursday night in his bid for reelection by Marion Mercer, a town constable and former vice-chairman of the Republican Town Committee.

The town committee voted 4-18 for Mrs. Mercer, who, unless Peck is able to beat her in a primary, will be the first woman registrar in Manchester's history.

A third announced candidate for the post, Barry W. Botticello, withdrew before his name was placed into nomination. He said the decision to withdraw was made "in the interest of party unity."

The party also picked two political newcomers, Walter H. Joyner and Mart H. Bray Jr. to run for the 12th and 13th Assembly District seats.

Mrs. Mercer was nominated by M. Adler Dobkin, who said, "Organizational ability and enthusiasm are two main qualities needed for a registrar and Marion possesses these."

"We are in a new era that calls for a new approach," Dobkin said.

David Odagard nominated Peck and said, "His experience as a registrar does mean something." He called Peck "very capable."

Before the secret ballot vote was taken, Republican Town Chairman Thomas F. Ferguson announced that he was resigning from the office Wednesday night to endorse Mrs. Mercer.

Mrs. Mercer said, "I'll put all my energy and enthusiasm into this job. My time is my own and I will be a full-time registrar."

She mentioned that Democratic Registrar of Voters Herbert J. Stevenson had said he hoped the Democrats will have a 3,000 plurality over Republicans by November.

"We can't let this happen," she said. "We have to get out there and lead the pavement and get the Republicans registered."

Doris Coughlin asked for a round of applause for Peck and his work as registrar.

After the meeting, Peck said of the outcome, "Naturally, I feel bad." He said he had figured the vote would be much closer than it was.

He now has until Aug. 13 to petition for a primary if he wishes. He must obtain signatures of five per cent of the town's registered Republicans to qualify for a primary.

Peck said this morning he has not yet decided whether he will attempt to petition for a primary.

The two nominees for state representative will both be making their first run for political office.

Joyner, who will run against Democratic incumbent Theodore R. Cummings in the 12th District, told the audience, he is running for first time and said, "With your help, I am sure and confident, we have a splendid chance to take the seat."

Joyner, 54, is president of Colonial Empire Inc., a building maintenance business.

"I've got quite a job to tangle Ted, and I realize that," Joyner said. He plans to go door-to-door with his campaign.

Bray, 57, ran a doughnut shop in East Hartford for eight years. He said he is now semi-retired and feels this will be an asset in his bid against Democratic incumbent Francis J. Mahoney in the 13th District.

"If I make out in this race as I hope to do, I'd be a full-time legislator," Bray said. He also said he plans to run a "person-to-person" campaign.

Bray said he was first contacted Wednesday night about running for the assembly seat.

Town Chairman Ferguson was not concerned that both of the candidates for state representative are running for the first time.

"A guy who's run before is probably a guy who's lost before. When you're the out party, it's natural to run a man who has never run before," Ferguson said.

He also said local elections can be very unpredictable during a presidential election year.

What if Carter doesn't appeal to Connecticut, and our candidate, I think will be President Ford, appeals very strongly and sweeps the state?" Ferguson said. "We could take the 1st Congressional District, never mind just Manchester."

The Republicans also selected four justices of the peace at the meeting: Three incumbents, Mary Joyce Crandall, Mary E. Fletcher and Elsie L. Swenson, were renominated, and a new justice, Ed Snyder, was also picked.

The Republicans won a coin toss last week that gave them four of the seven justices for the next four years.

The justices of the peace will not appear on the ballot this year, so, unless the four Republicans are challenged in a primary, they will automatically fill the posts.

News Summary

State

HARTFORD (UPI) — The state's economic development programs attracted more than 10 times as many jobs as were lost through closures and relocations last year, according to Commerce Commissioner Edward J. Stockton.

He said Thursday 12,000 jobs were created and 8,400 were retained while 1,980 jobs were lost. Retained jobs are provided by firms given state money to stay open or stay in Connecticut, Stockton said. New and retained jobs rose 7,800 compared to the year before, he said.

HARTFORD (UPI) — A spokesman for the Candlewood Lake Defense Association is calling a "major victory for ecology" a Federal Power Commission decision to assume jurisdiction over four dams in western Connecticut.

Fred Benedikt said the decision means the FPC will oversee the Connecticut Light and Power Co.'s hydroelectric projects at Bull's Bridge in Kent, Rocky River and Shepaug Dams, both in New Milford, and Stevenson Dam in Derby.

HARTFORD (UPI) — A 20-to-40 year prison term was ordered Thursday for a Hartford man with a history of attacking women, who was convicted of raping and robbing a 64-year-old woman.

Alfred Forbes had been on parole only 32 days from a conviction for attempted rape when he raped the older woman in 1975, authorities said. He was convicted in Superior Court July 16 on charges of first degree rape and first degree burglary in connection with the attack on the 54-year-old woman.

MYSTIC (UPI) — A parade of nearly 60 antique and classic boats will cruise the Mystic River Saturday as part of community bicentennial celebration.

The parade will pass through Mystic's Rt. 1 bridge at 3:05 p.m., proceed downriver as far as Nook and return through the bridge at 4:15 p.m.

The bridge openings will be about 25 minutes long.

MANSFIELD (UPI) — Extra staff has been assigned to the Mansfield Training School to help deal with an outbreak of hepatitis which has stricken 43 persons at the institution for retarded and handicapped persons.

Supt. Roger MacNamara said six of the 16 new workers are registered nurses and the others will be trained as food handlers.

ROCKY HILL (UPI) — Local residents are trying to renew interest in saving the dinosaur tracks at the now-closed Rocky Hill Dinosaur Park.

The park, which has many tracks, has been shut down since a windstorm last spring blew away a protective bubble protecting the tracks.

National

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ronald Reagan's running mate, Sen. Richard S. Schweiker of Pennsylvania, may visit Connecticut next month in an attempt to pry loose some of the 35 state GOP delegates committed to President Ford.

An aide to the liberal Republican said the senator "will probably be getting up to Connecticut in the next few weeks or so."

Martian soil taxes testing devices

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Viking 1 scientists are puzzled by the physics makeup of Martian soil, which may have been too thick to filter into the opening of a biology instrument.

Dr. Ronald Scott of the physical properties team said Thursday the sampling arm scoop dug a small trench in the surface and dumped soil in three instruments for three experiments to see if there is some form of life on Mars.

But one of the instruments indicated it did not have a sufficient sample.

Scott compared the soil to lunar dust, which he said would act like Martian soil if it had more moisture.

"This material has a little bit of cohesion," he said. "It's quite different from dry sand."

"But there certainly are fine grains everywhere, and certainly something must have gotten through."

He said sample trenches were dug at Jet Propulsion Laboratory with a "sampler" arm from a Viking lander exactly like the one on Mars. Samples were compared with sand, with lunar dust and with sand particles containing some moisture.

The Martian soil appeared from photographs sent back from Viking and from laboratory experiments to have a consistency like wet sand. But Scott emphasized that did not indicate there was water in the soil.

Lon Kingland, deputy mission director, said the sand, which may have clogged the instrument, called a chromatosaph mass spectrometer, could be "extremely cohesive."

"I don't like this comparison," he said. "But something like wet clay would appear to be what it's like. We would expect if it were loose sand it would not stick."

SUMMER YOUTH SCENE

Compiled and Written By Summer Activities in Manchester (SAM).

That's the way it was??

With a flourish and a bang, a whimper and a bark, SAM theater kicks off its tour of town parks this coming week. Wednesday, Thursday, and again today, the show "And That's the Way It Was???" has been produced at convalescent homes in the area. With that experience and weeks of rehearsal behind them, the players are now ready to go public with the highspirited production.

The play is a hilarious spoof on early Revolutionary history. It involves Betsy Ross' problems with her boyfriend, her boyfriend's problem of drinking too much root beer, a British spy's problem that his accent sounds East European, and the dog Bunker Hill's problem that he likes to jump on people.

SAM actors, together with their director, Bill Brindamour, dreamed up the ridiculous plot and added their own improbable embellishments. Every actor has developed his own lines and added in his own acrobatics. Even the kids who hang around the Bennet Quadrangle where the play has been rehearsed have contributed their part to the production.

It is a very portable production, made to be set up in the twinkling of a Bicentennial eye on the grass of playgrounds all around Manchester. SAM is bringing theater to the people, to the children, to the streets of town. SAM players and their audiences will not be penned up in

Group seeks to save park

Two women from Manchester have been elected to offices in an association designed to preserve the dinosaur tracks in Rocky Hill.

They are Mrs. Josephine Newton, president, and Mrs. Edward Stakpole, secretary.

An organizational meeting was held this week in Manchester; another meeting will be announced later.

The group plans to petition Gov. Ella Grasso and state representatives in an effort to raise funds to preserve Dinosaur State Park in a permanent structure to be used as an educational center.

Anyone wishing to donate may send their checks to: Dinosaur Track Fund, c/o Henry Parker, State Treasurer, 20 Trinity St., Hartford, 06105.

SAM bikes to overnight in Granby

The next SAM bike trip will go to East Granby and bikers will spend the night on Peak Mountain along the Metacomb Trail. The group will visit such places as Old Newgate Prison, right next to Peak Mountain, the Joel Clarke House, which was built in 1727, and the Spoonville Bridge. An important item on the agenda is swimming in the Tariffville Gorge, about two miles away from the mountain.

The bike group will meet Saturday, Aug. 14 at 10 a.m. here in Manchester and pedal 55 miles to the trip's goal near the Massachusetts border, crossing the Windsor Locks Bridge to get there. Trippers will return to the City of Village Charm once again the next day, Aug. 15, at five in the evening.

Anyone interested should call John Roach (646-3128). Riders will hold a meeting to decide what everyone should bring and to plan meals.

SAM unites youth and years

SAM is planning to make a major leap across the generation gap a week from Sunday as it holds the third annual SAM Senior Citizen Youth Field Day. The union of the two extreme ages will take place Aug. 8 from 1 to 3 p.m. in Center Springs Park, at no charge to participants.

The event is meant to promote understanding between the two groups, and although middle-agers may feel slighted, there is much to be said for uniting the vigor of youth with the wisdom of years. SAM's day should show that youth can be mature and respectful, and senior citizens can be as fun and lively as their youthful counterparts.

SAM's celebration of the ages will include a recreation period when volleyball, Frisbee, and Ping Pong balls will fly, live entertainment, a cookout, a scavenger hunt, and a raffle. A light lunch will be whipped up at the cookout.

Manchester merchants are donating gift certificates to be used as prizes in the scavenger hunt and the raffle. The names of those donating prizes will be listed on the SAM program for the day.

SAM hopes to help get rid of stereotypes of senior citizens as "over the hill" and of youth as dangerous drug abusers. The field day has been an enjoyable success the past two years, and SAM wants this year's day to again spur on continuing efforts for the two groups to communicate.

Welcome, all.

Overspending state aides face rebuff

HARTFORD (UPI) — The heads of 15 state agencies that overspent their budgets in a year-end buying spree will be called on the carpet, according to the lawmakers in charge of the state pursestrings.

It is disturbing that agency heads did not view that budget as the law directs they must, as a limit to the obligations they could incur," the chairman of the Appropriations Committee said Thursday.

"We can assure you that it is our intention to bring this practice to a halt," Sen. Robert D. Houley, D-Vernon, and Rep. John G. Grupp, D-Windset, said in a letter to state Comptroller J. Edward Caldwell. Caldwell complained Wednesday the 15 agencies overspent part of their budgets by $34,000 in the final days of last fiscal year knowing the bills would not have to be paid until this fiscal year. The fiscal year ended June 30.

The result was a distortion of the state's financial picture, Caldwell said. He said the bills would be paid out of the agencies' budgets this year.

Caldwell said most of the year-end overspending spotted by his staff in an unusual round of checks involved supplies, outside services and the like.

None of the 15 agencies necessarily overspent their overall 1975-1976 budgets, he said, and predictions of an overall state surplus of $22 million for last fiscal year should still stand. State regulations prohibit agencies from spending more money each

Bruce Jenner of U.S.A. heaves shot
Debutante in second after first day event

Thoughts ApLeNTy

By Len Auster

Hue and cry

The Olympic Games in Montreal will be ending soon. When they are completed, the hue and cry about the performance of the United States in track and field will be continuing. Everything indicates that East Germany, that little country no bigger than the state of Ohio, will finish second in the medals standings. This fact hurts our national pride tremendously so something should be done about it, right? Why? Dr. Leroy Walker, immensely talented U.S.A. track coach, feels a national team should be selected two years prior to the Olympics. His suggestion, however, does also allow late bloomers to be added and those whose performances taper off to be dropped.

Healing hands

Team doctor for Antigua (?) at the Games is Dr. Leroy Perry of Pasadena, Calif. He is a chiropractor who many athletes swear by. Many of the U.S. team wanted him on the medical staff, but USOC officials rejected him. But, he paid his own way to the Games and has helped athletes from over 21 countries — including Americans who refuse to go to medical doctors for their aches. He heals, he soothes, he "keeps us athletes competing in the Olympic Games," one performer stated. Doc Perry is known by many as "Doctor Magic Fingers." He just has the right touch.

Bits and pieces

Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox recorded his 1,000th RBI in Wednesday's game against Cleveland. Fleeting fame: Remember Dorothy Hamill who won the gold medal at the Winter Olympics in figure skating? She signed with Ice Capades and is making big money. Too big it seems. The show is scheduled to appear at the Cumberland County Recreation Center in Portland, Me. early next year and for her to appear it would cost an extra $25,000 overhead. She, the figure skater, is being turned out here like they are in East Germany. Mac Wilkens won the discus and said he did it for himself — not the U.S. That's the way it should be. Yes, you do feel good when an American wins but it shouldn't be everything. There is too much concern about winning and not enough about the competition itself. American athletes try out for the Olympics and compete because they want to. The basketball team is the best example possible. Let's not have tests for 12-year-olds to see what sport they'll be best in. Keep it free and easy.

American boxers set pace, six in running for gold medal

MONTREAL (UPI) — With all due respect to the track and field troops, if the United States manages to march out of the Olympics with a smile this weekend it will be thanks to the collective efforts of a gallant group of young boxers. Sure, there may be another gold medal or two waiting in the main stadium during the final two days of the 21st Summer Games, starting with Bruce Jenner's expected victory over the decathlon winds up today. But it will be on Saturday night, the final full day of competition, that the Americans can make their big haul when six of them shoot for gold in their respective divisions of the boxing championship. Not since 1904 in St. Louis has a country placed more than five fighters in the finals. Cuba, which also enjoys a rich boxing heritage, will have six men in the finals as well, with Americans and Cubans squaring off in three of them. "It shouldn't be a surprise to anyone," said light welterweight "Sugar" Ray Leonard about the U.S. representation in six of the 11 final bouts. "It's really beautiful. Every boxer on the team deserves it.... The simple reason is we strike them, we train hard, we sacrifice a lot and we're the most beautiful people in the world." The only American to be beaten in Thursday's semifinals was Big John

Tate, who fell victim to the lethal right hand of Cuban Teofilo Stevenson. The 6-4, 225-pound Tate was stunned by the first serious punch thrown by Stevenson and was a quick knockout victim at 1:29 of the first round. Stevenson, the winner of more than 500 bouts, is an overwhelming favorite to defeat Romanian Mircea Simion in Saturday's final and become the first man ever to win the Olympic heavyweight title twice. All of the other six Americans to appear Thursday were winners, although middleweight Michael Spinks got through to the final by a walkover against Romanian Alex Nastac, who suffered an injury in a previous bout. Advancing with him were his older brother Leon, a light heavyweight from St. Louis, Leonard, of Palmer Park, Md., lightweight Howard Davis of Glen Cove, N.Y., bantamweight Army Sgt. Charles Money of Fayetteville, N.C., and flyweight Leo Randolph of Tacoma, Wash. Win or lose, and despite the pleas and pressures from promoters, Leonard is retiring from the ring after Saturday night's bout with Andres Aldama of Cuba. "I'm finished," he said. "I've fulfilled my dream.... I want to set an example for kids who want to follow my footsteps." Even with the haul of six medals at Munich, won the long jump with a leap of 27 feet, 4 1/4 inches. Fellow Californian Randy Williams, the gold medalist at Munich, finished second in 26-7 1/4. The outstanding performer on the track Thursday was Cuba's Alberto Juantorena, who became the first person to complete the 800-400 double in Olympic competition by winning the 400 meters in 44.26 seconds. A pair of Americans, Fred Newhouse and Herman Franzer, were second and third. "I am not Superman," commented Juantorena. "I am just an athlete who works hard every day to try to win for his country." In other final events, Irena Szewinska of Poland won the women's 400 meters in a world record time of 49.23, Evelyn Schlack of East Germany won the women's discus with a heave of 222 feet, 4 1/4 inches and Johanna Schaller of East Germany won the women's 100-meter hurdles in 1:27. That gave the East German women seven golds in 10 events. Either Rot, the only Israeli athlete here who was involved in the Munich Massacre, placed sixth in the 100-meter hurdles. A 24-year-old mother, she was the first Israeli athlete ever to reach an Olympic final. "I'm very satisfied," Rot said to the Israeli newspaper Yedioth. "You know better than I do that sixth place is enough for me."

Gets club ready with runner-up Joan King

Narkon defeats King to take women's title

Only 26 holes were needed by Nancy Narkon yesterday to take the Women's Club Championship at Manchester Country Club over Joan King. It was the first title for the June Manchester High graduate. Narkon's winning performance of 11 and 10 over King included a record of 76 for the first 18 holes. Narkon had two birdies and eagled the 18th hole as she went seven-up after the opening round. She took just 27 putts while King played to save 35 which opened the large margin. In the afternoon round, Narkon was one under par through eight holes and eagled the 18th hole as she won the championship on the eighth. She was two over par for the 26 holes played.

Zimmer sees hope as Red Sox hit

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox have won two out of their last three games and manager Don Zimmer sees an improvement. Boston defeated the Cleveland Indians 6-4 Thursday. Zimmer, who took over from Darrell Johnson recently when the Red Sox were plummeting to the bottom of their division, noted Boston has been showing some offensive punch lately. "I'm glad we're getting a few hits now," Zimmer said. "We've been hitting the ball better the last few games.... I just hope we beat the Yankees," Zimmer said. The Yankees, leading the East Division and 16 1/2 games in front of the Red Sox, come to Boston tonight. Luis Tiant (10-9) will go for Boston against Ed Fingers. Bob Montgomery, subbing for injured catcher Carlton Fisk, scored the winning run on a wild pitch in the sixth inning and drove in an insurance run in the seventh inning. Montgomery led off the sixth with a single. Rick Burleson singled and Dickey Doyle's sacrifice advanced the runners, Cleveland reliever Don Hood struck out Fred Lynn for the second out of the inning. Hood then threw the figure everything was rejected. "We don't need her," center general manager Paul Whitehead stated. "The ice Capades are good enough to fill the center (without Hamill)," Poor Dorothy. Pat McNally, a Harvard graduate, showed up at the Cincinnati Bengals training camp bringing along Shakespeare and Dumas and some James Bond books for light reading in between his attempts at reading a job as free receiver. McNally is rooming with Marvin Cobb, a national merit scholar at the University of Southern California. "The discussions in the room might get pretty deep," McNally stated. "But we'll be talking football, too," he added.

Phils' Allen fails to show

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Dick Allen did the one thing he said he would never do again — he walked out of the Philadelphia Phillies. Allen, who pulled his disappearing act several times when he played for the Chicago White Sox and in his previous stint with the Phillies, did not show up for Philadelphia's game with Chicago Thursday afternoon. The Phillies beat the Cubs, 3-2, in 11 innings and after the game, Phillies' Manager Danny Ozark said he would dock the controversial first baseman two games' pay. "We're going to take two days' pay away from him," said Ozark. "If he doesn't show up tomorrow, it'll be the same thing." Philadelphia General Manager Paul Owens criticized the moody slugger, who holds the distinction of being one of the most traded superstars in modern major league history. "It is not our responsibility to contact him if he is being paid to play. We're disappointed, because he has contributed so much to the team, but I can't see him leaving when he has spent his career trying to be with a winner." Ozark said he told Allen, injured in a first-base collision with Pirates' pitcher John Candelaria, to rest Wednesday night and be ready to play on Thursday. He said he didn't understand how his message could be misconstrued. Ozark said he was sincerely afraid Allen's absence could be a dangerous blow to the National League East-leading Phillies, who have grown to admit, and respect Allen's leadership.

Fidrych doesn't get help

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rookie pitching sensation Mark Fidrych has done all that can be expected of him—he has won every game he's pitched in which his Detroit teammates have scored. An unearned run in the fourth inning was all the Baltimore Orioles needed to prevent Fidrych from gaining his third victory as he beat the Tigers, 1-0. Fidrych, however, reduced his American League-leading ERA to 1.80, gave up six hits and equaled his previous strikeout high of eight while walking only one. Fidrych was stonical in the face of Detroit's drought, saying, "Well, you can't get runs every day. They (the Orioles) just lucked out on me this time. I guess I'll have to go home and beat the hell out of my stereo set." Rudy May earned the victory and evened his record at 7-1. He allowed six hits and permitted only two Tigers to reach third base. He was aided by three double plays. Twins 2, Rangers 1. Glenn Borgmann drove in the winning run with a fourth-inning single to back the combined eight-hit pitching of Eddie Bane and Bill Campbell, and led Minnesota over Chicago to reach third base. He was aided by three double plays. Pirates 2, Mets 1. Rennie Stennett scored the tie-breaking run on a double play in the 10th as Pittsburgh won its 12th straight game. New York's ninth-inning run was the Mets' first in 25 innings. Reliever Kent Tekulve was the winner, while Skip Lockwood was the loser.

Schlee shares golf leadership

SUTTON, Mass. (UPI) — Maybe it's finally in the stars for John Schlee to come up with a stellar performance. The 37-year-old astrology buff, with just one victory in 11 years on the professional golf tour, tied a course record with a 65 Thursday to share the first round lead in the $200,000 Pleasant Valley Classic. Lanny Wadkins, whose last win came at Sutton in 1973, also fired six birdies and no bogeys to finish with a 66. Al Geiberger birdied the first five holes and finished with a 66 to tie second place. Five players were knotted at 67, including former Pleasant Valley winner Dave Stockton, Lee Eldar, Mac McLendon, The Leonard Thompson and Rex Caldwell. Of the 156 starters 69 tied or broke par 71 on the 7,119-yard layout. "It's been a long, long time since I have tied for the lead in a tournament," said Schlee, a Gemini, who consults the stars to learn about other golfers rather than himself. "It's funny that I shot this round six weeks to the day after having a cartilage operation on my left knee. The last time I shot 65 was five weeks to the day after I had a disk operation on my back in January 1975. "I have been trying to figure out the horoscopes of good golfers and I think I've finally found the key," said the former skydiver from Dallas, Tex. "You determine what kind of mind and body a golfer has through astrology, but it's the coordination of the two that makes a good player." Schlee said his mind and body just now are coming into coordination. "The last six weeks I have had the mind of the $6 million man sending messages to a Don Knotts' body. "Sometimes my mind thinks my body is still 20 years old and it tells the body to hit the ball 350 yards like I used to be able to do. The body just can't do that anymore," he said. For Wadkins, his body

Rumor won't stop Bulls' selection

CHICAGO (UPI) — Rumors to the effect that Artis Gilmore has a bad heart will not deter the Chicago Bulls from selecting the 7-foot-2 shot-blocking center as the first pick in the National Basketball Association's dispersal draft of former ABA players. The Bulls, who announced their intentions Monday, will have to pay $1.1 million into a league pool in order to draft Gilmore, who five times has been named all-ABA. Earlier in the week, NBA deputy commissioner Simon Gourdine said he had been notified that Gilmore was suffering from a minor heart condition. Gilmore's agent, Herb Ruddy, called the Browns' host rumors "vicious, without foundation, ridiculous and unbelievable." Ruddy wants to renegotiate a contract Gilmore, whose salary was an estimated $200,000 annually with the Kentucky Colonels. Gilmore was ABA rookie of the year and in 1972 was named most valuable player. He came to the Colonels from Jacksonville University, where he was a two-time All-American. "I've been trying to figure out the horoscopes of good golfers and I think I've finally found the key," said the former skydiver from Dallas, Tex. "You determine what kind of mind and body a golfer has through astrology, but it's the coordination of the two that makes a good player." Fire reported in trailer kitchen

Vernon

A fire began in the kitchen of the house trailer of Mrs. Pamela Bozio of 18 Middle Terrace, High Manor Park, Rt. 30, Vernon shortly after she left it this morning about 7:15 a.m., police said.

Town women run puppet workshop

South Windsor

The South Windsor women, Jean Bourke of 531 Griffin Rd. and Debbie Cummings of 88 Ash Rd., will present an eight-session puppet workshop for the Indian Valley YMCA beginning Wednesday. This past year they wrote a puppet opera which was presented at the University of Connecticut.

GOP committee seeks members

Bolton

Robert Morra, chairman of the Republican Town Committee, said the committee has three vacancies. Morra said the only qualifications are to be a voter and registered Republican. "Absolutely no previous experience is required or necessary."

Dog classes

SOUTH WINDSOR-The Indian Valley YMCA will sponsor a course in dog care and obedience for young pet owners starting Aug. 10 at 166 Clinton Dr. Children 8 and older may register. The six-session program will run Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10:30 to 11:15 a.m. Muriel Parker of Vernon will be instructor. Each dog must have a collar and short leash. Those interested must register at the "office," Vernon Circle prior to the first class. There will be a registration fee.

Colonials needed

HEBRON-People interested in colonial events in Hebron are invited to meetings Tuesday and Wednesday nights at 7:30 at Phelps Hall, Rt. 85. People are asked to furnish their own costumes. Children are also invited. Horses and caris are "desperately" needed. To learn more, contact Judi Babin of 414 Pab Circle or Penny Sibon of East St.

Tennis clinics

SOUTH WINDSOR-The Recreation Department will hold a three-week tennis clinic for advanced beginners and intermediates on Mondays and Wednesdays from 9 to 10:30 a.m. starting this Monday. To learn more, call Karen Fellows at 644-2511.

Swim classes

SOUTH WINDSOR-The Recreation Department still has openings in the fourth session swim classes. They run Aug. 9 through the 20th. People can register at the office daily from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. until next Friday.

Annual Water Carnival

SOUTH WINDSOR-The annual Water Carnival will be

A neighbor saw the smoke and called in the fire.

The Vernon Fire Department responded and quickly put out the small fire. There were no injuries and only moderate damage, said police.

Mrs. Bourke has held puppet workshops at the South Windsor Public Library. Miss Cummings is a music major at UConn.

The YWCA program will be at the United Methodist Church on Grove St. in Rockville Wednesday and Friday mornings. Children seven through nine years of age will attend the 9:30 to 10:30 sessions. Those 10 and 12 will attend from 10:45 to 11:45.

All you need is a sincere interest in the town government and its workings.

Anyone interested should call Morra or any member of the RTC. The potential candidates will be discussed at the next meeting of the RTC Aug. 17.

Saturday, Aug. 14 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Veterans Memorial Park. Swimmers between ages 4 and 16 can sign up now at the park for the many events.

VERNON-Area residents interested in a closed circuit television program on "Sewing Machines-Spools to Bobbins," should register with Esther W. Shoup, Tolland County Home Economist by calling the extension office 875-3331. Viewing centers will be the University of Connecticut branch at Hartford, Room 217, School of Business Administration at the university in Storrs.

TOLLAND-Warren S. Summers of 50 Kozley Rd. has been awarded four major prizes by the North American Lily Society. He won the prize for best lily in the show with his entry "Nutmegger." For the same flower he also won a silver medal given by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society for the best registered Asiatic hybrid lily. For his "Copper King," he was given the Michigan Lily Society award for the best stem of a named strain. Another entry, "Mildred," won him the New England Regional Lily Group award for best stem of a named lily of New England origin.

TOLLAND-Those interested in taking a National Rifle Association (NRA) home firearms course should contact NRA instructor Nickolas Servotte of Tolland. Servotte said the course will be designed for persons who own guns but don't know how to handle them. The time and place of the classes will be determined after it is known how many persons are interested.

Wanted: Civic leaders

Vernon

Residents, especially ones newer to the town, are shying away from membership on town boards and commissions because they are not affiliated with a political party, Mayor Thomas Benoit said. He would be happy to forward the names to town chairmen of both parties. Benoit said Thursday it is getting more and more difficult to get people to serve on town boards. He wants low-income people interested in the growth of Vernon and having some special interest to let him know about it. Resumes may be sent to the mayor at his office in the Memorial Building, Park Place, Rockville. Anyone 18 or older is eligible to serve on a town board.

Sewer charges said too high

Vernon

The Town of Vernon is trying to work an agreement with the Town of Ellington on sewer user charges. Vernon feels it is owed it but Ellington does not. A few months ago Vernon, by ordinance, raised the charge to Ellington residents from $84 to $95, but did not raise the charge of $16

Thursday, "We feel the money is justifiably coming to us and should be paid, but Ellington feels the opposite." He said the neighboring towns should come to an equitable agreement without bringing the matter to court. He said bringing in a "third party" may help the towns come to some "non-binding" agreement. This person or persons would be asked to determine whether or not the increased charges are "fair and reasonable."

Court lease signed

Vernon

Mayor Thomas Benoit signed a lease today to rent the former Administration Building to Common Pleas Court 19. The leasing price is $150 a square foot but the mayor left the door open for further upward negotiations for the price. The state still has to review the lease and it is expected Stanley Roesler, the town's director of administration, will meet with Robert Humphrey, chairman of the council's sewer panel, to discuss the lease contents.

As proposed, the lease calls for the renting of the 5,776-square-foot building to the state for use of the court and its offices for a period of one year, with an option to extend the time. The yearly rental charge would amount to $18,816 payable in quarterly payments of $4,704.

Pageant dancer

Beth Perusse, 18, of 74 Saunders St., East Hartford will represent Connecticut at the Miss Dance of America Pageant Thursday in Washington, D.C. She won the title of Miss Dance of Connecticut at the Dance Teachers Club of Connecticut Pageant in April. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Perusse, a June graduate of EHSIS, holder of the title Junior Miss Dance of New York in 1974, and a senior member of the Mary Morlock Jazz Company in East Hartford. She plans to attend college in Virginia to be a veterinarian assistant. Wyn Marmadoc of Manchester is the convention delegate from Connecticut.

At caucuses this week Patricia Rudy (R) and William Houle (D) were unanimously nominated registrars of voters by their respective parties.

They will be on the ballot at the November elections.

The Republican caucus was attended by 12 people.

Robert Morra was chairman and Dorothy Miller, secretary.

Elected justices of the peace were Douglas Cheney, John Harris, Norma Tedford and Laura Tomney, all incumbents.

Also elected were Mrs. Miller and Morra.

The Democratic caucus was attended by eight people.

Elected justices of the peace were Aloysius Abear, Maura Anne Houle, Joann Neath, Pamela Shores, Marilyn Moonan and Norma Licitra.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Suppose you had a friend who had a tooth missing right in the front of her mouth, and she kept saying she plans on getting it fixed, but it costs too much money. This friend is always buying presents for others, but she keeps putting off getting a new tooth. Everyone keeps urging her to get that missing tooth replaced, but it's been years and she still hasn't done it.

Abby, how do you tell a person that even though she may be using to good with a tooth in front, those who have to look at her can't get used to it, and they wish she'd get it fixed?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: If the sight of a missing tooth bothers you, that's YOUR problem and it's up to you to handle it. I.P.S. Perhaps if enough friends can't stand to look at it, they'll take up a collection for the dental work. Since you seem so concerned, I nominate you to head the project.

DEAR ABBY: A ring is not positive proof of anything. I am a single woman who wears a wedding ring to work. Why? To keep the married managers from bothering me. Pass the idea along. It works.

PROTECTED

DEAR PROTECTED: There's only one drawback to your idea. It keeps the SINGLE men from bothering you, too. But if you don't want to be bothered by anybody, it's a good idea.

DEAR ABBY: One of the girls who works where I work is getting married next Saturday. Everyone else who works here received a printed invitation to the wedding and reception three weeks ago. They all gave her gifts. She gave me an "Envelope" this morning by mouth, and I can't make it. Must I give her a gift?

SLIGHTED

DEAR SLIGHTED: Give her a gift "by mouth." Say, "Best wishes."

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were kidding around, and we agreed to tell each other our fantasies. First I told him about mine, and he got so mad he started to yell and call me all sorts of names. After he calmed down, I asked him to keep his part of the bargain and tell me his, and he said all his fantasies were about me. (Do you believe that?)

I don't really have a problem, Abby. The real reason I wrote in this: If a married woman ever writes and asks you if she should tell her fantasies to her husband, tell her not to. It's the dumbest thing I ever did.

For Saturday, July 31, 1976 ARIES (March 21-April 19) Conditions that affect your well-being are pretty well in balance today. Don't do anything out of character to disrupt this harmony.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) Select labor of love today. You'll be amazed at how much you'll accomplish. Don't do too much fun you'll have doing it.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You're entitled to relax today, after a very hectic week. Choose some nearby place where you and a loved one can have fun.

CANCER (June 21-July 20) Bring pressure you want to do business with to your place today. More can be accomplished in a honny atmosphere.

Leo (July 21-Aug. 22) If you can break away for a short pleasure trip, today's the day to do the road. Do what the beautiful people and the bright lights are doing.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Friends who truly believe in you are your strongest support tomorrow. Their financial counsel should be heeded.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) It's not likely anyone in your group has the knack for organizing the fun that you have today. Get busy. Plan something everyone is sure to enjoy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) If your ears are ringing, it's because people are saying nice things behind your back. You have more boosters than you realize today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) *It's with people from whom you can learn something today. You'll not enjoy those you can't look up to intellectually.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Major goals can be achieved over the next few days if you work for them. Put trivial things aside. Concentrate climbing the highest mountain.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Winning people keep can be easy today if you use a sincere approach. Just be your warm, spontaneous self.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) If you've been thinking of asking someone for a job, today's the day to do it. Do what the beautiful people and the bright lights are doing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) It's not likely anyone in your group has the knack for organizing the fun that you have today. Get busy. Plan something everyone is sure to enjoy.

Obituaries

Mrs. Lolita V. Nosce

Mrs. Lolita Valdehuesa Nosce, 65, of 27 Pitkin St. died this morning at Hartford Hospital. She was the widow of Luis V. Nosce.

Mrs. Nosce was born March 31, 1911 in the Philippines and came to this country six years ago. She was in the process of moving from West Hartford to Manchester at the time of her death.

Survivors are 5 sons, Dr. Luis V. Nosce Jr. of Manchester and West Hartford, with whom she made her home, Victor Nosce of Vernon, Reynaldo Nosce of New York City, Miguel Nosce of Colorado and Nestor Nosce of California; 3 daughters, Miss Maridel Nosce of Manchester, Mrs. Gilda Carnama of Long Island and Mrs. Josefina Fernandez of the Philippines; a brother, Jaime Valdehuesa of the Philippines; 4 sisters, Mrs. Fe Punao of California; Mrs. Azucena Pallo, Mrs. Humildad Anisco, and Mrs. Mercedes Abiad, all of the Philippines; and 17 grandchildren.

The funeral is Saturday at 8:15 a.m. from the John F. Tierney Funeral Home, 219 W. Center St., with a Mass at St. James Church at 9. Burial will be in St. James Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9.

The family suggests that any memorial gifts may be made to the Heart Association of Greater Hartford, 310 Collins St., Hartford.

Harry Kowalsky

Harry Kowalsky, 84, of 81 Milford Rd. died today at a Manchester convalescent hospital.

Mr. Kowalsky owned and operated a tailor shop at Manchester Green for 18 years before his illness earlier this year. He was born in Russia and lived on Staten Island, N.Y., before coming to Manchester 19 years ago. He was a member of Charter Oak Lodge of B'nai B'rith.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Kudlow of Manchester; and four grandchildren.

A graveside service will be Sunday at 11:30 a.m. in the New Montifiore Cemetery, Pinelawn, L.I., N.Y.

His family suggests that any memorial gifts may be made to the Israel Emergency Fund in care of the Hartford Jewish Federation, 333 Bloomfield Ave., West Hartford, or to B'nai B'rith.

The Weinstein Mortuary, 640 Farmington Ave., Hartford, is in charge of arrangements.

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

Daughters of Liberty were patriotic groups of women throughout the colonies who took part in the Revolutionary War. During the "nonimportation campaign," groups of women worked to provide the colonies with cloth and other articles which had formerly come from England. And on Oct. 24, 1774, The World Almanac notes, 52 women in Edenton, N.C., signed a resolution in support of their provincial deputies who had pledged not to drink tea or wear British cloth.

Motorist reports bear in roadway

Manchester Police are still investigating and haven't discounted a Thursday night report about a large bear confronting a motorist on Jefferson St.

John Laskey, of 24 Jefferson St. called police at about 10:45 p.m. and said he was on his way home when a dark brown bear appeared in the middle of the street.

Laskey, apparently shaken by the incident, said he saw the bear enter the road on all fours. He flicked on his car's high-beam headlights and saw the bear stand up on its hind legs, facing the car.

Laskey told police the bear was seven to eight feet tall.

"The bear then came down to all fours again," according to the police report, "and started toward Laskey's vehicle, rapidly."

"Laskey backed up, rapidly, until he reached his home to call the police."

The bear was last seen heading into St. John's Cemetery on Jefferson St., police said.

Police said the area was searched but the bear wasn't found. Police said there were large areas of trampled and matted grass in the cemetery, though.

Police said there was no reason to question Laskey's integrity, although officers found it difficult to believe such a bear would be in Manchester. "Anything is possible, though," one officer said. "We'll go back and check for tracks."

Dog litter complaints concern town officials

Town officials seem to be getting concerned about the large amount of so-called dog litter piling up in Manchester, but no one is sure whether the problem is increasing or whether there are just more complaints being received.

There are more than 4,000 dogs in Manchester—a total of 4,153 are now licensed and the town clerk's office has no idea how many more are unlicensed.

The dog litter has to go somewhere and, according to police who receive most of the complaints, a lot of it is going on private lawns, school grounds and park lands.

Dog owners are responsible for their pets, police constantly remind townspeople, and dog littering can be interpreted as a violation of Town Ordinance 37-2, according to Dog Warden John McClelland.

The town's anti-litter ordinance, adopted in 1968, provides for a $20 fine for violators. No official could recall, though, if anyone had ever been arrested for dog littering.

Town health officials say dog littering poses a large health hazard as well as an inconvenience. Dogs can carry a variety of diseases, which are easily transmitted to children who play in areas where dogs have littered.

Dr. Alice Turek, town health director, said her department receives many inquiries about the effect of dog litter. She said one disease carried by dogs is salmonella, and there have been local reports of children with salmonella although the illness hasn't been specifically linked to dog litter.

Problems occur, Dr. Turek said, when dogs litter in parks and playgrounds. That's not the only problem, though. She said litter washed from sidewalks and roads is polluting the town's storm sewer system.

Most of the health complaints are handled by others in the health department, including Sanitarian John Salcius, who said most of the calls come from residents complaining about their neighbors' pets.

"There's not much we can do," Salcius said, "except to try to get the owners to clean up the litter."

"The toughest problem is making people realize that dog litter is a problem," Salcius said.

Salcius recommended that dog owners clean up after their pets and dispose of the litter by placing it in a bag for refuse collection or burying it. Dog litter could be flushed down a toilet, he said, but sand and dirt accompanying the litter causes problems in sewage treatment facilities.

Employees file grievance over buying safety shoes

A decision will be reached Monday by the Public Works Department on a grievance concerning the purchase of safety shoes filed by the union representing public works employees.

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 991, which represents over 100 employees of the town Public Works Department, filed the grievance following a July 14, notice from Public Works Director Jay J. Giles that employees who work in potentially hazardous areas will be required to buy their own shoes by Aug. 1.

The union feels that the town, rather than the individual employees, should buy the shoes.

"We feel they (the town) should pick up part or all of the tab on the shoes," a union member, who asked not to be identified, said.

He said several towns in the area pay part or all of the price for the shoes.

As of July 1, 1976, the shoes, which are steel-toed, are required by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) for employees working in potentially hazardous areas.

The safety shoes cost $23.95 to $26, according to one local store. The town has obtained 10 and 15 per cent discounts at two area stores for town employees who have to buy the shoes.

Town Manager Robert B. Weiss said, "The union submitted a grievance essentially saying that if they have to wear the safety shoes, the town should buy them."

Weiss said if the union is not satisfied with the Public Works Department decision, they can then appeal to him.

He said he does not know whether or not area towns pay part or all of the price for employees' shoes. He did say it is his understanding that most private employers that require safety shoes do not pay for them.

Invest in a fancy foreign import.

The PUCH Moped, a whole new kind of European road machine, is here. With more headroom than a Rolls. More legroom than a BMW. More economy, about 130 mpg more, than a VW. And a fully automatic transmission just like a Mercedes. OK, so your luggage room is a little less than an Audi station wagon. And your pick-up (0 to 25 in 60 seconds) is a little less than a Porsche. But your maintenance and upkeep are a whole lot less than anything on wheels, except maybe a Swedish skateboard.

Come in and add up the dividends you get, mile after mile. Invest in a fancy go-between. The new PUCH Moped. Just for the fun of it.

IF YOU QUALIFY AS AN ACTION GUY THERE'S A MAN-SIZED JOB AHEAD
AS A COMBAT SOLDIER IN THE CONNECTICUT ARMY NATIONAL GUARD.
Combat. That's what the armed forces are all about. Since Valley Forge, Gettysburg, and San Juan Hill, the armed forces have had just one purpose: To protect and defend the United States of America.
What does that mean to you? Just this:
As a combat soldier you're it! You're the teeth and claws of the Army. There's no battle, no victory...and no lasting peace without you. Because only you, as a combat soldier, can take and hold enemy territory. Ships can't occupy a ridge line. Planes can't dig enemy guerrillas out of a cave. Missiles can't capture and hold a city. But you can. And you must, if the job needs doing. Because with all our advances in military science and technology, man is still the ultimate weapon.

BEST BUYS BY BELFIORE... THE TWENTIES
Six room older home. Low twenties.

THE THIRTIES
Immaculate 3 bedroom Ranch with wall-wall. Split rail fencing. Seven room Cape. Clean and neat. Over one acre nicely landscaped. Must sell. Must sell. Six room Ranch! Wall-wall everywhere. Aluminum sided. One acre!

THE FORTIES
Six Family brick construction. Ask for Joe Lombardo. Ansaldi built 3 bedroom Ranch. Brick front, parklike yard. Two fireplaces! Lower forties and worth it!

THE FIFTIES
Elegant Colonial. Walk to several schools. Modern kitchen with appliances, 2 car garage. Immaculate is perhaps an understatement. A plethora of features plus several extras. Allow time for a thorough inspection. This is truly an unusual property complete with formal garden! The very, very low fifties. Please call now!

An older Two-Family that is completely new! No explanation will suffice. Let Alex Matthew show it to you. Drive by 20 Coburn Rd., then let us explain the myriad of features included in this eight room, four bedroom Colonial. Just two of these features: Nappanee kitchen cabinets and 24' swimming pool. Priced to sell immediately.

Authentic Ansaldi Colonial. Plastered walls. Extremely lovely, first floor library room! Two car oversized garage. Seven spacious, gracious rooms plus finished family room AND finished den! Large treed lot.

BANK SALE! Lovely stone and frame 8-room, 4 bedroom Colonial. Not quite completed, can be purchased as is or can be finished. Really fast sale wanted, priced accordingly. 2 1/2 baths, 2-car garage. Lovely 150'x200' lot. A unique opportunity, but call JOE LOMBARDO right now!

THE SIXTIES
Store, two apartments, owner anxious. Ask for Joe Lombardo. Immaculate Main Street property. Ideal for professional offices, or homeoffice combination. Close to hospital.

We dare and defy you to compare this Raised Ranch in lovely Forest Hills (first time on market) with anything - anything else in the sixties! Almost everything stays except the family dog! Ask for Alex Matthew.

THE SEVENTIES
Barely in to the seventies is this "Hilltop High" eight-room, four bedroom Colonial with a lovely view of the Conn. valley, yet still in Manchester with all utilities! Try these extras for comparison! Four, yes four air conditioners, electric garage door openers, cement patio. Cable TV, rotor antenna, raised hearth fireplace with gas starter, beamed ceiling, etc. etc. Beautiful first floor family room. All this and much more on a parklike yard dotted with mature shade trees. Quality built by Wendell Reid. Come see the proof of this paragraph!

THE EIGHTIES
Fourteen rooms and four fireplaces. Find almost 3 acres almost in the center of town, then duplicate (as far as you can) the majestic Colonial for about $160,000 OR buy this authentic beauty in the eighties!

HOUSE OF THE WEEK

PLAN OFFERS COUNTRY OR CONTEMPORARY FACE

© By W. D. FARMER

Large group entertainment is easy with this arrangement as the enormous activity room is convenient to the kitchen and dual dining room.

The U-shape kitchen is endowed with cabinets, counter-top and built-ins and the activity room is enhanced by wide open space, two story ceiling area, fireplace, deck access and open rail stair to balcony.

One large bedroom is provided on the first floor. This room has access to powder room and bath area and includes large walk-in closet. Laundry facilities are central and private.

The second floor is endowed with three large bedrooms, master bed room with private powder room bath, the remaining bath servicing the two smaller bed rooms. An open balcony in this area, leads to optional fifth bedroom or balcony library. Closets are in abundance and there are two additional linen closets from balcony hall.

The Plan is Number 2147. It includes 2,194 square feet (add 45 feet for 5th bed room option). For further information write W. D. Farmer, P. O. Box 49463, Atlanta, Ga. 30329.

House Design Affects Costs

Design or plan the house to meet your family's requirements. Too-small a house, for example, would be false economy. Here are some principles of economical design:

- Two-story houses cost less per square foot to build than single-story ones. The main reason is that less roof area is required to cover an equivalent amount of living area.
- Rectangular floor plans cost less per square foot to build than l-shaped, U-shaped, or other irregular floor plans.
- Simple gable roofs are the most economical. Flat and shed roofs are cheaper but have poor drainage and high maintenance cost. Ridges and valleys increase the cost of a roof.
- Basements add low-cost space to a house. If well lighted, well ventilated, and dry, they can be used for living quarters.
- Attics also add low-cost space. And shed dormers, while they may cost a little more, provide more usable space than gable dormers.
- Slab-on-grade construction is cheaper than crawl-space construction.

House Design Affects Costs

Design or plan the house to meet your family's requirements. Too-small a house, for example, would be false economy. Here are some principles of economical design:

- Two-story houses cost less per square foot to build than single-story ones. The main reason is that less roof area is required to cover an equivalent amount of living area.
- Rectangular floor plans cost less per square foot to build than l-shaped, U-shaped, or other irregular floor plans.
- Simple gable roofs are the most economical. Flat and shed roofs are cheaper but have poor drainage and high maintenance cost. Ridges and valleys increase the cost of a roof.
- Basements add low-cost space to a house. If well lighted, well ventilated, and dry, they can be used for living quarters.
- Attics also add low-cost space. And shed dormers, while they may cost a little more, provide more usable space than gable dormers.
- Slab-on-grade construction is cheaper than crawl-space construction.
