Mediator to help solve Meadows labor problem

A federal mediator will meet with representatives of the Geri-Care nursing home chain, of which the Meadows Convalescent Home is a member, and District 1199, National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees to negotiate contract issues between Meadows employees and the union in the hope of avoiding a strike.

John Morton of the Federal Mediation Board will meet Aug. 13 at 1 p.m. at the Meadows with officials to work on an agreement covering such issues as management's rights, employee promotions, and subcontracting for maintenance service. The convalescent home management and the union representing nursing home workers reached an impasse last week during contract talks. As a result, the union sought intervention from a federal mediator.

Since the temporary employee resignations and threatened quality of patient care at the Meadows a few weeks ago which have since returned to normal, the employee-union morale is up and things are settling down, according to Fred Joslyn, vice-president in charge of operations of Geri-Care. Alvin Levine, union organizer of District 1199, said the employees at the Meadows will have a strike authorization meeting Aug. 11. They will vote by secret ballot whether or not to strike on Aug. 15. Levine said the union is committed to stage a full-scale walkout if a new contract is not signed by Aug. 15. "We might recommend that the negotiating committee have the option to postpone the strike," Joslyn said as he added that the union would

Next Monday we sign up for the Sterling Gardens trip, scheduled for September 8th. The cost is $13.50, and includes the bus ride, a big buffet dinner, free ticket to the gardens, and free shows performed at different times in the gardens. You'll see many beautiful flowers, and they even have a small open electric train to take you around the gardens.

Girl Marines retire trophy

The girls unit of the Young Marines of Manchester again won the first place team trophy at a recent regional field and track meet at Croton, N.Y., thus retiring the trophy. Cpl. Kathy Lewis of 20 Lyndale St. shows the trophy to Pfc. Maria Cappaso, left, of Hartford and Gunnery Sgt. Debbie Hall of East Hartford. Kathy also received a trophy for having a perfect score, and the Young Marines were awarded a trophy for having the best drill team in the Northeast and New England Districts, which covers all states from Pennsylvania to Maine. The evening will consist of a dinner, and then you can relax at the motel, or go swimming if you wish. The next day, after a heavy breakfast, included in the price also, we meet our very popular friend Mrs. Anne Buckwalter who is our special guide.

Speaking of trips, we take friends and neighbors of our members. You can't wait any longer, and here is a last minute chance to go to the Dreamland of America.

Our floor is coming along in great shape, and will be completed and ready for us in September. It will be completed before then, but we have a few things we want to do, and we close the last week of August anyhow.

Things here at the center keep buzzing along and we are getting nice turnouts

Despite many of the shortcomings in other aspects of the recent Olympics, no assessment would be complete without a tribute to the American competitors who gave their best not only in victory but also in defeat, and represented us so well on and off the fields of competition.

Olympics a "national" showcase for our American athletic prowess nor do we care who really won the medals race.

Whether they won gold silver or bronze medals — or none at all, America can be proud of its Olympic contestants. We think their conduct was in the great Olympic tradition, and perhaps, just perhaps, we may be seeing a return to an Olympics where sportsmanship and personal achievement are paramount.

Ultimate TV lawyer

Human nature being what it is, not much can probably be done about "the law's delay" of which Shakespeare complained. Thanks to the computer, however, lawyers are being relieved of the delay and tedium involved in preparing cases.

An outstanding example of computerized legal research is a system called LEXIS.

Law firms, law schools, government agencies and others have central computers. In a typical example, a lawyer using a typewriterlike keyboard, asks the computer what cases it has in its memory on a broad subject, such as civil disobedience in opposition to school busing.

There are, say, 15 of these. On command from the lawyer, the computer next displays the titles of each of the 15 references and if one looks promising, the lawyer asks it to display part of the text. If that seems appropriate for his case, he directs the computer to display the full text. Finally, he can press a key and a high-speed printer will type out the complete text for his use.

LEXIS contains every decision of the U.S. Supreme Court since 1938, all federal courts of appeals since 1959 and all district courts since 1970. It also has comprehensive collections of tax, securities and trade regulation law, as well as corporate annual reports. In addition, it currently has the state court decisions of California, Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas.

Just to keep the service up to date, 850 new decisions are added to the memory bank every week, and the job of adding earlier federal cases and the law of additional states is proceeding as fast as possible.

"No longer must legal research consume hours of a lawyer's time," says Jerome S. Rubin, president of the firm which developed the system. The computer, he says, may even result in smaller fees for lawyers' services by making them more efficient.

If so, that would be the most startling development of all.

United States still debating whether to B-1 or not to B-1

WASHINGTON — "In perspective, the whole purchase of munitions is wasteful. They don't add much to national wealth. War is even worse—a tragic waste of life itself. But the most wasteful of all would be to lose this worldwide struggle, with or without a fight. For then all that we have struggled to protect over these 200 years would be gone."

Lee Roderick
The Herald's

The platform passed by the Democrats in New York City calls for a reduction in defense spending of $5 to $7 billion annually. "We must be tough-minded about the development of new weapons systems which add only marginal military value," says the platform. Two sentences later it gets down to specifics: "In order to provide for a comprehensive review of the B-1 test and evaluation program, no decision regarding B-1 production should be made prior to February 1977."

Secretary Reed, however, speaking for the Air Force, contends that the B-1 already has had considerable testing and evaluation. By November, he said in his briefing, "the B-1 and its systems will have had more development and pre-production analyses and tests than any previous aircraft, military or civilian." There are now three B-1 test planes operating from Edwards AFB in California, and Reed said during the last 20 months they have made 46 total flights, logging 232 hours. Ground testing has also been extensive, including 11,000 hours of engine operation and 22,000 hours in 17 wind tunnels.

Series warm-up

Time for Republicans to stop brawling

WASHINGTON — All right, don't shoot. I'll go quietly to the 22 window and put a Deuce on Jimmy Carter to win the Presidency. But let the record show that I did so under duress.

Put another way, I think Carter should be favored, as of today, to go all the way. But he is not a show-off while they still have to count the votes. Anything can happen in the next three months and, anyway, the Republicans are not exactly defenseless.

Gerald Ford, for instance, could run simultaneously on the GOP's record and against that of the Democrats. In the euphoria with which the Democrats presently are seized following the endorsement of Jimmy Carter in New York, they have forgotten that Gerald Ford took office under trying circumstances and has done a pretty good job. They have forgotten that things were tough all over during the tenure of the last Democratic President, Lyndon Johnson.

If I were Ford, I would swiftly dispose of the Nixon business. I would not be a gentleman about it. I would note without passion that Nixon turned out to be a twister, and that recent Republicans in Congress helped lead the campaign for his impeachment. I would not permit Carter or any other Democrat to associate me with my predecessor merely because he chose me as his Vice President after Agnew fled ahead of the posse.

Indeed, looking back on my brief administration, I would suggest with some modesty that the country was lucky Nixon fingered me because I had restored honesty and decency to the White House and had given a measure of openness to operation of the government.

As the noise in Madison Square Garden showed, the Democrats will zero in on Ford's pardon of Nixon. I would meet it head-on, saying in speech after speech that it was the right thing to do in a country already wracked with pain and that it would only have further divided the nation to haul Nixon into the dock. Anyway, Nixon suffered the worst possible punishment: his forced resignation.

I would remind the voters of the permissiveness of the States under John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson:

of the unrest and rioting, the chaos on college campuses, and the rise of the drug culture.

The high cost of living? Ford inherited from Lyndon Johnson, who fought a major war without bothering to fund it. I would point out that the inflation rate had declined during my brief residence in the White House.

Speaking of war, I would recall that Harry Truman, Democrat, got us into the Korean War and the Democratic Congress, and ask whether the electorate wanted to elect to the Presidency a willing accomplice of those spendthrifts on Capitol Hill.

As I said, Jimmy Carter — backed by a united Democratic Party — is the favorite on the morning line. But the Republicans can make it a horse race if they stop brawling and start running.

Vet proves handicaps can be overcome

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Veterans Administration officials and university authorities told James L. Womack it would be impossible for a virtually blind, nearly deaf, man without hands to study law.

But Womack went on to graduate from Louisiana State University's Law school with honors, fourth in his class. That was more than 20 years ago, but the Winfield, La., attorney has again been selected for honors. This time he was named the outstanding disabled veteran of the year by the Disabled American Veterans, meeting in their 50th national convention on Miami Beach.

Womack lost his entire left arm, his lower right arm and his right eye on March 2, 1945, when he stepped on a German land mine while serving in the Army's 83rd Infantry Division. Both his ear drums were punctured and his remaining eye so damaged that he had only faint vision.

"For a while I was scared and I felt a little sorry for myself," said Womack. He went on to open a law practice at Winfield, where he also served as president of Industrial Development Corporation, a patriarch of the Church of Latter Day Saints for the Shreveport area, a former state chairman of the Easter Seals campaign and a leader of Cub, Boy and Explorer scout troops.

The point we should keep in mind, we think, is that we have a candidate-candidate in a race with two candidates to the incumbent, there are many disadvantages too. The main one is, of course, the President cannot say one thing to one group today and something else to another tomorrow. Everything a President says in public has impact and too many — especially abroad — cannot do not make a effort to distinguish what a President might say for domestic consumption as opposed to what he is saying as President.

The irony, we think, is that if President Ford were to become a candidate-candidate, his candidate-candidate opponent for the nomination and the Democratic candidate-candidate, if either should be the ultimate winner in November, might have to live with the results of such pronouncements.

The President's problem isn't that he wouldn't like to respond in kind to some of Reagan's and Carter's pronouncements; but because he is President he cannot speak as freely as they can.

We are not downgrading the advantage of incumbency; but we think each of us should remember — and perhaps be thankful — most of our recent Presidents, including Ford, have tried to keep the job of being President above that of being a candidate.

human needs than the more businesslike Republicans. But I'd look back all the way to Woodrow Wilson and Franklin Roosevelt and wonder aloud whether the Democrats should be known as the "war" party.

Finally, I would warn the voters against the fiscal danger of giving one party too much power. I would recall that I had saved the taxpayers billions of dollars by vetoing lavish spending bills passed by the Democratic Congress. And ask whether the electorate wanted to elect to the Presidency a willing accomplice of those spendthrifts on Capitol Hill.

As I said, Jimmy Carter — backed by a united Democratic Party — is the favorite on the morning line. But the Republicans can make it a horse race if they stop brawling and start running.

Too many people think of Christianity as if it were essentially a set of dos and don'ts, and the dos being things that are idealistic but impractical and the don'ts being the things that make life fun. This is about as great a misunderstanding of Christianity as it is possible to fall into.

In the first place, Christianity is not a set of rules at all. At heart, it is gospel which spreads to us from God. Christianity begins and ends with God, what He has done, what He is like, and what He is doing and what He will do.

The heart of the teaching of Jesus, consists of His salvation, memorable statements about eternal life, God and the world.

If you believe them to be FACT, you will not need to be urged by anyone to live differently. Christ did it all for us at Calvary, and it's for us to follow and Believe.

Directors approve funds for environmental aides

By GREGG PEARSON
Herald Reporter
The Board of Directors approved a $20,000 appropriation to the General Fund budget for the salaries of two environmental assistants who will work in the Town Health Department. The money for the salaries will come from federal block grant resources.

The two positions will deal primarily with housing code inspections. Town Manager Robert B. Weiss told the board.

Also approved by the board was $25,000 in federal funds to extend the CETA program through Sept. 30, 1976. Weiss told the directors that the town finished the 1975-76 fiscal year with a surplus of $50,000. This figure includes $126,000 in accounts receivable funds, which are expected to be collected.

In other action, the directors tabled approval of an updated Police Mutual Aid Compact. Weiss said area police chiefs and administrative officials will meet next week to discuss the pact, which asks for cooperation between area police forces. It will be brought to the board in September.

Also to be placed on the docket in September is a public hearing on the City and Town Development Act. Weiss said the town development committee has recommended the act be voted on in a fall referendum. For this to happen, the Board of Directors would have to decide on it in September.

The directors also approved the following appropriations and allocations:

- $10,745 to Educational Special Projects. The money will come from

Department of Community Affairs and Health, Education and Welfare grants and will be used to pay for transporting 75-80 children involved in the Head Start program.

- $11,500 from the Revenue Sharing Fund to pay for improvements to the Municipal Building's heating system.
- $9,000 to Data Processing for payment of a systems analyst. $500 to this year's General Fund Budget to help pay for meals at the Senior Citizens Center. The money will be financed from donations already received from UNICO.

- $145 to Fire District Special Fund to help pay for equipment for the fire rescue truck.

Athanson to request concert cancellations

HARTFORD (UPI) — Mayor George A. Athanson said Tuesday he will ask the City Council to cancel all remaining rock concerts at Colt Park 5-minute bottle-throwing brawl at a concert by the Grateful Dead.

The concert Monday night ended in 41 arrests, numerous injuries and drug overdoses, and the death of a New York youth in a car accident in Meriden. About 22,000 paying spectators described as the worst incident so far in the summer rock concert series.

She said she was surprised at how quickly the violence broke out and spread. "If it can happen that fast, then it's all through for me," she said.

She said she will recommend a re-evaluation of the city's lease with the promoters of the concerts.

The 41 arrests were made on various charges such as assaults, disorderly conduct, possession of weapons and possession of drugs.

Ford signs housing bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford today signed legislation extending a nationwide housing program through fiscal 1977 with provision for $50 million in additional rental subsidies for low income projects.

The bill would lower the present interest rate from 9 to 7.5 per cent on loans financing development of rental housing for the elderly or handicapped.

It also provides the minimum interest rate for certain rural housing loans.

Other provisions of the measure would:

- Insure mortgages which provide interest reduction payments on behalf of lower income families.
- Authorize $100 million for the rehabilitation loan program which finances one improvements or repairs in slum areas.

Allow the Department of Housing and Urban Development to insure or make loans to homeowners who have been unable to make mortgage payments for at least three months.

Authorize an additional $2.5 billion of loans for housing for the elderly or handicapped.

- Provide $576 million for public housing operating subsidies and $100 million for a comprehensive planning grant program.

Gloria bussed

HARTFORD (UPI) — Democratic Senate candidate Gloria Schaffer says she met presidential candidate Jimmy Carter Tuesday and came away with an endorsement and a kiss.

"I got a very strong verbal endorsement. He not only endorsed me but he kissed me on the cheek as I was leaving," Mrs. Schaffer said upon returning to Connecticut from a New Hampshire meeting with Carter Tuesday.

Freedom Train to visit Meriden

The American Freedom Train which is traveling throughout the United States during the Bicentennial will visit Meriden Friday through Sunday. This is the closest to the Hartford area the train will come.

The 25-car Freedom Train carries a varied collection of historic documents, priceless objects and memorabilia that have never before been displayed together in one place.

Visitors to the American Freedom Train exhibit view the display cars on a moving walkway.

The following is a synopsis of the displays aboard each car:

- Car No. 1 — The Beginning. The saga of America's achievements, spanning two centuries, is recalled in this display containing documents written by our founding fathers.
- Car No. 2 — Exploration and Expansion. Highlighting America's expansion from the days of the westward movement to our space program, this display includes the original 1818 treaty with the Illinois-Peoria Tribe, Amelia Earhart's flight goggles, and a piece of moon rock.
- Car No. 3 — Growth of a Nation. This car's display is devoted to the transformation of America's landscape from the wilderness of frontier days to the skyscrapers of today.
- Car No. 4 — Origins. The highlight of this display is the use of "talking heads" to represent the broad cultural mix of America.

Friendly year away; may expand its menu

The Friendly Ice Cream Corp. is eyeing a Center St. site for a third Manchester store because of the central location and potential of the town, Franklin D. Feiler, director of public relations for the company, said.

The new restaurant is proposed for a site facing Center St. between Dougherty and McKee Sts. If the store becomes a reality, it will not be opening for at least a year, however.

Feiler explained that Friendly's already has stores lined up for openings through the next 12 months. The company opens a new store every four days, Feiler said.

"We are constantly looking for new sites," he said.

Feiler also said the proposed Center St. restaurant may be one of the company's stores which offers an expanded menu including steak, chicken, shrimp and chef's salad. Items not now served at Friendly's.

A pilot store, opening in Eastford on Aug. 30, will feature the expanded menu. Seventeen other stores opening in the next year will also include the new items.

Feiler said if the expanded menu proves to be successful, it will be considered for the proposed Center St. restaurant.

A preliminary plot plan of the restaurant was filed with the Town Building Department. The building would cover 4,000 square feet and a surrounding parking lot would include 78 spaces.

Town Engineer Walter J. Senkow will have to approve parking an

New bids sought for rescue truck

The town has decided to place a fire rescue truck up for rebid. Town Manager Robert B. Weiss told the Board of Directors Tuesday night.

The decision was made after the low bid in the first bidding round came in $1,847 higher than the $10,000 that was appropriated for the vehicle.

Weiss said a study of the approximate cost of the truck had been made before the $10,000 was appropriated last April by the directors. It was felt this sum would be enough to cover the cost.

No exact date has yet been set, but the rebidding process should begin during the next two weeks, Rivoso said.

Legislators consider means to monitor city-town budgets

HARTFORD (UPI) — A kind of reporting. At some point we may have to give some power to the state legislature to force local governments to furnish the state with data to help officials spot cities and towns headed for financial trouble.

Sen. Audrey Beck, D-Manfield, the co-chairman of the Finance Committee said Tuesday she thought it was likely such a bill would be presented to the legislature when it convenes in January.

"I definitely favor a law that would require some kind of reporting. At some point we may have to give some power to the state legislature to force local governments to furnish the state with data to help officials spot cities and towns headed for financial trouble."

"We may also have to come across with some aid. In a number of cases towns get into trouble only because we tell them to do things they can't handle," Mrs. Beck said.

The concept of the state monitoring such reports, prescribing uniform procedures and overseeing town budgets was debated at a gathering of committee members, representatives of local governments, banks and state officials.

Many Connecticut communities such as New Britain and Waterbury have financial troubles which have forced large hikes in their tax rates.

State Tax Commissioner Gerald Heffernan said his department currently only has one man assigned to reviewing the financial situation in the 169 towns in the state.

Rep. Abijah U. Fox, R-Greenwich, said if legislative action wasn't taken some towns might find themselves in dire straits.

"The problem exists and if something isn't done about it many communities are not going to be able to fund their necessities," he said.

William Reynolds, the comptroller of Greenwich and an executive officer of the National Municipal Finance Officers Association, said such a statute was called for.

"I firmly support not only the right, but the obligation of the state to take some action in this matter," he said.

Rep. Richard Martin, D-New London, said however, he thought the state — which in the last year has had some fiscal problems of its own — was in no position to tell the municipalities how to run their financial affairs.

"I think the state of Connecticut has a long way to go before it can tell local governments how to pat their houses in order," he said.

6% of budget spent in July

During July, the first month of the new fiscal year, the town spent slightly more than six per cent of the general fund budget for the 1976-77 year.

Expenditures for the month were $1,407,757. Total adjusted general fund appropriations for the year are $23,062,978.

The largest expenditure was by the Board of Education, which spent $483,351.10 during July. Town Controller Thomas S. Moore said this was for regular salary payments and equipment expenditures. The school board has a total budget for the year of $13,875,000.

The miscellaneous category listed $399,767 in expenditures for July. Moore said $120,000 of this was for principal payment of bonds and $104,708 was used to pay off interest on bonds.

Another $97,672 of the miscellaneous expenditures was for insurance payments and $53,655 was for Social Security payments.

Other expenditures during the month included: Police, $161,654; highway, $50,795; recreation, $48,666; library, $36,337; and park $35,720.

Liberty Torch relay cited

Mayor Matthew M. Moriarty Jr. has sent a proclamation citing the Liberty Torch relay to Rudra Tamm of the Connecticut Liberty Torch Committee.

The Liberty Torch relay involves 30 people, using a lighted torch as their baton on an 8,800 mile relay run through all 50 states. The run began with ceremonies at the State of Liberty on June 28 and will end Aug. 13 in Washington D.C.

One-third of the participating runners are from Connecticut, and the mayor or first selectman of each town in the state was asked to send a proclamation about the event.

Comment session

Two couples from Coolidge St. were among those who participated in Tuesday morning's Board of Directors comment session. Mayor Matthew M. Moriarty Jr. represented the board at the session.

The two couples asked that sidewalks along Coolidge St. be repaired and that road surface and drainage problems be corrected.

Two Cumberland St. residents complained of excessive commercial traffic on their street. They said the trucks of a nearby oil company should use Electric St. rather than Cumberland St.

The two also wanted a missing dead end sign for their street replaced.

Another man suggested the town or the Manchester Parking Authority purchase property at the corner of Oak and Cottage Sts. He said he had already talked to the parking authority, and they told him they do not have sufficient funds to buy the land.

A woman felt several more summer jobs could be created in Manchester. She suggested workers be hired to uproot weeds in crevices of sidewalks and curbs, to cut shrubs at in-

Arts grant

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Connecticut Trust for Historic Preservation has received a $20,000 grant to begin a statewide program aimed at preserving historically and architecturally significant structures.

The money came from the National Endowment for the Arts, according to Connecticut Trust chairman Henry F. Miller, who said the organization is seeking a $20,000 matching grant from private sources.

The 1975 legislature created the trust as a quasi-public, nonprofit organization. It is the second statewide preservation organization of its kind in the nation.

Final zone game

Final play for Manchester's American Legion baseball team in Zone Eight is scheduled tonight at Eagle Field and the locals will be out to get over the 500 mark against Enfield. Hard-throwing Bruce Ballard, one of the standout performers all season, will get the starting mound job. The latter will soon put aside his baseball gear and take out the heavy pads in preparation for his first season as head football coach at Manchester High. One man's opinion: Being an outsider (outside the system) could work against Holik. The latter is a security guard in the junior high area. This corner has long felt that the football coach who works in the physical education department has a big advantage over a classroom teacher as he would be in closer contact with the students and not only during the sport season. Ron "Red" Smith, former Manchester golfer, now head pro at Kennebunk, Maine, copped the New Hampshire Open last week. Smith was an assistant pro at Manchester for several years. Playoffs between the American League's divisional winners to decide a World Series representative will start Saturday, Oct. 9 in the park of the Western champion. After the first two games, the scene will shift to the Eastern winner's ball park. It will be a best of three set. The World Series opens Saturday, Oct. 16 in the home park of the National League champion. Popular news and sportcaster on Cape Cod is Jimmy Horvath Jr., former local man and a fine golfer. Enjoying full retirement in Waquoit on Cape Cod is Walt Snow, for many years a topflight baseball umpire and duckpin bowler.

Rooting for Phillies

George Frost, retired Manchester banker, is rooting for the Philadelphia Phillies to get into the World Series. Frost is the godfather of Jay Johnstone, the hard-throwing outfielder with the National League's Western Division leaders. Johnstone was born here Nov. 20, 1946. The most consistent performers in the

Booters drop finale

Closing out the season on the wrong foot last night at Cougar Field, Manchester dropped an exciting 4-3 decision to Coventry in the Connecticut Junior Soccer Association.

Coached by Chris Saunders and Blaz Simac, the locals posted a 9-5 won-lost record, while scoring 52 goals to 26 for the opposition. Five of the nine wins were via the shutout route.

Darrell Hooy and Tom Orlovski tallied first-half scores and Jack Madzia added the final Manchester marker in the second half. The latter was a standout along with Joel Malinski, Bob Normi and Orlovski.

McRae sparks Royals to win

NEW YORK (UPI) - Despite the fact that Hal McRae, the Kansas City Royals' designated hitter, has been suffering with a variety of injuries all season, he is hitting .351 and Tuesday night sparked the Royals' to their biggest run-scoring outburst since July 18, driving in two runs with a double and a homer to lead Kansas City to a 7-1 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

The victory gave the Royals a 9 1/2 game lead over the second-place Twins in the American League's Western Division.

"Getting McRae back in the lineup really seems to make us go," commented Marty Patten, who went eight innings to earn his fourth victory.

George Brett added three hits to the Royals' 10-hit attack and raised his league-leading average to .354.

New York defeated Detroit, 4-3, California beat Texas, 4-0. Milwaukee topped Baltimore, 4-2, and Oakland downed Chicago, 7-3, in the other American League games.

Indiana 1, Red Sox 0. Dennis Eckersley pitched a three-hitter for his seventh win and got the game's only run in the bottom of the 10th when pinch-hitter Tommy Smith's sacrifice fly drove in Ron Pruitt. Luis Tiant shut out Cleveland for the first nine innings but was not involved in the decision which went against reliever Tom Murphy.

Angels 4, Rangers 0. Paul Hartzell pitched four-hitter and Tommy Davis drove in two runs for California, which handed Texas' Jim Unburger his

Yankees clip Bird's wings

NEW YORK (UPI) - Detroit's rookie pitching sensation Mark "The Bird" Fidrych proved he was indeed flappable Tuesday night when the New York Yankees stopped him and the Detroit Tigers 4-3 with the help of some careful littering by third baseman Graig Nettles.

Nettles sprinkled Mexican black beans on the mound while running off the field between innings and Fidrych, a meticulous grounder, spent much of his time manuring the hill before 44,909 fans.

But did Fidrych get rattled? Nope, as Yankee manager Billy Martin pointed out. "Birds can't talk."

Fidrych, who talks to the ball to move up or down, discovered the ball didn't listen when Oscar Gamble slammed a two-run, seventh-inning homer to pin Fidrych with his fourth loss in 15 decisions.

"The Bird was trying to get me to hit the ball on the ground," Gamble said. "He was throwing it low and away. He made a good pitch and I hit it out. He keeps the ball down low, has good control and good stuff. You have to be able to hit a pitcher's mistake to beat him and that's how we

Bill King lines up short putt at Country Club. He went on to whip Mike Cooney for Club Championship.

Arthur Ashe upset

NORTH CONWAY, N.H. (UPI) - His shoulder feels fine, but Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia says his confidence is still suffering from a severe injury that knocked him from the ranks of the world's top tennis players four years ago.

Franulovic's ego got a big boost Tuesday when he upset third-seeded Arthur Ashe in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4, to move into the third round of the $100,000 Volvo International tournament.

"This is a very important match to me," said Franulovic, 29, who was among the top 10 in the world until a shoulder injury in 1972 sidelined him for almost two years.

In other second-round matches, defending champion and top-seeded Jimmy Connors whipped Hans Kary of Austria, 6-1, 6-3; second-seeded Manuel Orantes of Spain ousted countryman Juan Guzman, 6-3, 6-3; and Ken Rosewall of Australia overpowered Alvaro Benacour of Columbia, 6-4, 6-1.

Fourth-seeded Raul Ramirez of Mexico beat John Bartlett of Australia, 6-0, 6-3; and Eddie Dibbs of Miami, seeded fifth, eliminated Nick Saviano, Los Altos, Calif., 6-0, 6-4, in first-round play.

Class A softball tourney schedule

Playoffs in the Silk City and Candlelight Softball Leagues will get under way Monday night at Fitzgerald Field and Robertson Park. The league champion and runner-up in each circuit will qualify for the post-season double-elimination warfare. The winner will be declared the town Class A softball champion.

Two games will be played Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. Trudon and Bogner will be the Silk City representatives with Holiday Lanes one of the winners. Dave Bramnick, John Barry, Collins Judd and Joe Quaglia each lashed out two hits for the Marketmen, one of Branick's a homer.

Although outfit, 17-14, Allied Printing put more runs on the scoreboard in beating Fogarty's 5, 13-8.

Two hits rattled off the bats of Duke Hutchinson, Bob Greene, Bob Plaster, Bill Morgan and Mark Deval of the Printers.

The 20-hit Insurance offense was paced by Jim Barron and Ted DeDone, each with four hits. Ernie

Moriarty's bow to East Hartford

Playing before the largest crowd of the season last night at Moriarty Field, the end of Moriarty's domination in the Hartford Twilight Baseball League moved a step closer.

East Hartford's American Division Jets lacked a 10-4 defeat on the perennial league and playoff kings and just about put the nail in the coffin for any post-season activity. Moriarty's show an 11-8 loop mark.

The Jets held a 2 1/2 game edge and the loss dropped the MB's farther back in third place. Volkswagen is a game up on the locals.

Veteran southpaw Pete Sala entered with the best earned run average, less than one run a game, but the Jets exploded for three first inning runs, added two more in each of the third and fourth frames and finished up with three runs in the fifth. Sala was shelled in the fourth inning and Dave Bidwell was also hit hard in his inning and one-third of relief. John Seranine finished up, working the last two innings, but the

Griffey big gun in Reds' attack

NEW YORK (UPI) - On a team so prominent the players must compete among themselves to reach new heights, Ken Griffey is currently leading the pack.

The 28-year-old Cincinnati Reds' outfielder is leading the National League in batting with a .341 average.

Griffey showed San Francisco why he is one of the brightest stars Tuesday night. He stroked three hits, scored two runs and drove in two others to power Cincinnati to a 9-0 victory over the Giants.

"The reason I'm hitting well is because I get pitches; batting between Rose and Morgan is a good place to be," Griffey said modestly.

Griffey had two singles and a triple. He scored one run and drove in another in the fifth inning, when Cincinnati scored three runs and then tripled in the eighth, when the Reds scored four more.

But Griffey was not the only star for the Reds. Dave Concepcion had three singles and drove in three runs and Jack Billingham evened his record at 9-9 with a three-hitter.

Ed Kranepool's eighth-inning, two-run homer - the 100th of his career - lifted New York over Montreal, 7-4. The all-time Mets' home-run leader, blasted his homer following a Felix Millan single.

Braves 7, Padres 3. Cito Gaston, a former Padre who had been to bat only 40 times for Atlanta this year, batted home five runs with home runs on each of his first two at bats to give Andy Messersmith, 11-9, and the Braves a victory over San Diego.

Dodgers 2, Astros 0. Lou Aquino's Bill Buckner singled Dave Lopes home from second base twice and Bert Houston pitched a two-hitter to down Houston. Houston raised his record to 7-11 with his first win since July 8. He allowed only two first-inning hits.

Tom Bombardier led the Sportsmen with three hits and Don Fay and Ed Bombardier added two more each. Rob Roy had the only home run.

Each side tallied once in the final inning but the marker for Turpike TV gave it an 11-10 nod over the winner, Dave Bramnick, John Barry, Collins Judd and Joe Quaglia each lashed out two hits for the Marketmen, one of Branick's a homer.

Although outfit, 17-14, Allied Printing put more runs on the scoreboard in beating Fogarty's 5, 13-8.

Special ed program in 5th year

Five years ago only nine teachers were involved along with a small number of students. The program has now grown to 28 teachers and 133 students ranging in age from preschool to Grade 6. The program is run with federal funds but each teacher involved also pays about $300.

The children involved need a continuing program or they have to be taught all over again when they return to regular school in the fall. He said the two-month summer hiatus sometimes sets them back. The children involved are referred by their regular teachers. The only requirement to being accepted in the program is that they have been through a meeting with the town's Planning and Placement Team.

Mmmmm-good, say John Lillis and Sheralyn Ritchie as they take a taste of molasses cookie batter during an outdoor cooking lesson at Vernon Elementary School. The cookies were later baked over an open fire as was done in colonial days.

Another article tells about the 'Word Rich Environment' program which correlates all the academic area and enriches sight and oral vocabulary. All-in-all it's been a truly enriching program for the student teachers, directors and the students.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There is a divorcee in my husband's office who has a small child and lots of problems. I really blew my stack when Paul told me that he lent her $1,500 so she could have (are you ready for this?) silicone implants to increase the size of her breasts!

DEAR ABBY: A year ago I married a children widower. He had been happily married for over 20 years until his first wife died five years ago. I was a widow with grown children. Everyone told me how lucky I was to get him because he was very well-to-do.

DEAR ABBY: Although my wife is reasonable most of the time, she refuses to acknowledge that it is her duty to hop out of bed first in the morning and get the coffee going. We have a double bed and established routines make it impractical for us to arise simultaneously.

DEAR VIC: You rattled the wrong cage. By whose decree is it your wife's duty to hop out of bed first? I think you should compromise and alternate.

DEAR ABBY: I have a double bed and established routines make it impractical for us to arise simultaneously. I hope you will admonish my spouse for her unwisely and stubborn non-compliance.

Cherrone family's business

Three generations span 41 years

It's a sentimental moment for Joseph Cherrone as he locks the door on the package store he operated for 37 years.

By Betty Ryder Family/Travel Editor A business, purported to be the first of its kind in Manchester, which was begun just after prohibition was repealed, has remained in one family through three generations of Cherrone's.

Joe and Angela Cherrone look over picture of the original Cherrone Package Store which opened in 1935 on E. Middle Tpke. (Herald photos by Dunn)

All smiles as they look over the plans from which their new store was built are, from left, Louis Cherrone, his father, Joseph Cherrone, and Linda and David Rood. The store was designed by Americo Mastrozuzio of Glasgow, Louis and Linda's cousin.

Thirty-year old refrigerator served the Cherrone's well through the years.

Your neighbor's kitchen

A friend of mine, Nancy Parker of Bath, Maine, always had a way with seafood.

Well, of course, when you live on the coast the supply is ample and along with many visitors to that area, the Parker family's tastes run to lobster and shrimp.

But even when you live by the seaside, prices are still a little high to indulge in some of the higher priced seafoods.

Nancy has a recipe that she serves at company time and it's delicious. One doesn't have to live near the sea shore to obtain flounder or sole fillets; it's a recipe adaptable to most any area and is easy on your budget.

It's called Flounder Rolls with Carrot Stuffing and it tastes as good as it looks.

Beefy Tater Puff 1/2 pound ground beef 1 cup chopped onion 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce 1/2 tsp. nutmeg 1/2 tsp. salt 1/2 tsp. pepper 1 1/2 pounds frozen Southern-style hash brown potatoes 2 eggs, beaten 1/2 cup milk 1/3 cup grated parmesan cheese 3 tbs. butter 3 tbs. flour 1/2 tsp. salt 1 1/2 cups milk 1 egg, beaten 1/2 cup parmesan cheese In a skillet, brown beef and onion. Stir in tomato sauce, cinnamon, nutmeg, salt and pepper; set aside. In a bowl, combine Southern-style hash brown potatoes, eggs and milk and stir in parmesan cheese. Spread half of the potato mixture evenly in the bottom of a buttered 8-inch square baking dish. Spoon on ground

On the road to Mississippi

Manchester never looked better to us than the day we moved away. And, the friends who helped us pack and them said, "America is Indian Territory!"

As we turned onto E. Center St. we marveled at the Garden Club's red, white, and blue garden. And, as we approached the white steeple of Center Church with the sun just beginning to set behind it, we slowed down and looked as if we'd never seen it before.

Then it began. First a few sniffles from the back seat, then a rustling in the Kleenex box. Then some loud blowing and sobbing. "For heavens sake!" I said. "What's wrong with you kids? We're going to come back. We're just having an adventure!"

By the third night we'd reached Tennessee. There we discovered that we were the tourist attractions. Two little girls stood giggling as we un-

Of consumer concern

Credit rights

Consumers have extended rights when they buy something on credit, thanks to a Connecticut consumer credit law.

If the product or service you buy on credit is defective, shoddy or has been undelivered, you have reverse against the lender in many instances. You do not automatically have to pay the finance company for the washing machine loan if the washer breaks down three weeks after delivery, for example.

You can refuse to make payment when the item or service purchased is defective or otherwise unsatisfactory under the following conditions: (1) if the credit arrangement is with the business where you bought the product or service; (2) if your loan is with a lender who was recommended by the business where the purchase was made; or (3) if the business where you buy with a credit card is defective and you cannot get satisfaction from the seller.

You can refuse to pay the credit card issuer if the purchase amounted to $50 or more and was made within the state. If the credit card issuer is the business itself, there are no limitations on the amount of money involved.

There are risks involved in stopping payments. You must give written notice to the credit issuer and then be prepared to defend your action in case you are sued by the lender. When stopping payments you must be in a position to prove you have a claim against the seller that you made an authentic effort to resolve your problem with the business concerned.

Information on credit matters may be obtained by calling the Consumer Credit Division of the Banking Department, State Office Bldg., Hartford. You may reach them by phoning 566-4228 or through the toll-free Information number, 1-800-842-2220.

Answers to questions of general interest will appear in this column. Address questions to: "Of Consumer Concern," Department of Consumer Protection, State Office Building, Hartford, Conn. 06115.

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

George Washington lost a tooth at the age of 22 due to a severe toothache and almost annually underwent an extraction because of pain. Dental care was such during the colonial period that any pain was automatically dealt with by extracting Washington wore dentures from the age of 57 and had at least six pairs. He had "working teeth" of lead and special pairs carved from the ivory of hippopotamus ivory for "show." The World Almanac relates.

Mars has a bad case of sunburn

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—Mars can be pictured as having an extreme case of sunburn, according to a scientist at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Dr. Robert L. Huguenin said this week data returned from the Viking I lander on Mars supports his theory, developed from his laboratory studies at MIT in 1972, that iron-bearing minerals in the surface alter to ferric oxide (rust) and several other substances by direct interaction with ultraviolet sunlight, atmospheric oxygen, carbon dioxide and frost.

"One can visualize the surface as becoming sunburned and peeling as a result of exposure to ultraviolet light," Huguenin said.

The interaction, he said, produces tiny scales on rock and mineral surfaces that are easily dislodged by wind-blown dust and sand. He said the flecks of rusty dust are about 100 times smaller than grains of beach sand, and capable of remaining suspended in the Martian atmosphere.

Huguenin said the Viking experiments confirmed there is enough oxygen present for the process to occur. He said the color images reveal a bright, pink sky and that supports the prediction of extremely small suspended dust particles.

Huguenin is a researcher at the MIT Department of Earth and Planetary Sciences and the author of a dozen papers on the Martian weathering process.

THE FAMILY LAWYER
by Will Bernard

Out-Of-Bounds Shopper

Planning to ship some books to his son at college, Ben stopped at a supermarket for an empty carton. But as he walked into the storage room at the rear, he tripped on a crack in the floor and went sprawling.

In short order Ben sued the market for damages, charging negligence. But the court rejected his claim because he had ventured into a part of the premises where he did not belong.

Most courts apply this out-of-bounds rule to the shopper. In public areas of a store he is considered an "invitee," with a legal right to have the premises kept in good condition for his benefit.

But beyond this safety zone, he is a mere "licensee"—entitled, as a licensee, to his own care, only a minimum of protection.

If the shopper does stay within bounds, he retains his preferred status as an invitee even if not in the process of actually buying something. Thus:

Another shopper skidded on a greasy spot on her way to the pay telephone in a grocery store. The store denied liability, saying she did not qualify as an invitee because she was not there to make a purchase.

But the court granted her claim. The court said management has the same responsibility toward a potential customer as toward an actual customer.

Even stepping out of bounds will not reduce the shopper's rights. If he has been given permission to do so.

A customer at the cleaners could not find the claim check for his topcoat. The clerk suggested that they both go into the back room for a look. There, the man fell through a hard-to-notice trap door.

A court decided later that the clerk's permission had kept the customer in the role of an invitee even in the back room. Result: he won a substantial verdict.

A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the Connecticut Bar Association.

Social Security

Q. I'll be retiring soon, and I want to apply for monthly Social Security payments for my disabled daughter. She's 25 and has been completely disabled since birth. What information should I bring along to apply for payments for her?

A. You'll need proof of her age and her relationship to you—both of these are usually shown on a birth certificate. You'll also need to identify a medical source from whom Social Security can get information about your daughter's medical condition.

Q. After working 12 years under Social Security, I recently accepted a federal job and am now under Civil Service. Do I lose the Social Security protection I built up?

A. Since you have at least 10 years coverage, you're insured for life for Social Security retirement, Medicare hospital insurance, and survivors benefits. However, the benefit amount you or your family might get will gradually decrease in future years as your average earnings covered by Social Security, upon which the amount is based, decline. You will be insured for Social Security disability benefits for only about another five years.

Shortly after his 58th birthday last summer, my son was severely injured in a car accident, and he probably won't ever be able to work. Even though I get monthly Social Security retirement payments, my son couldn't get checks when we applied last year because he was over 18 at the time of the accident. Now, I hear that I should reapply for him because of some recent changes in the law. Is this true?

A. Yes. Now a child severely disabled before 22 can qualify for Social Security payments if one of his parents is getting benefits or died after working long enough under Social Security. You should call, write, or visit any Social Security office to reapply for benefits for your son.

Q. My mother, who was 68 years old, died last month. Since I paid some of her doctor bills, could I receive any payments from Medicare for these bills?

A. You could receive partial reimbursement. You should ask the doctor for a receipt showing you paid the bills in full and the date, place, charge, and description of each service. Call any Social Security office for help in completing a claim for payment.

Q. My sister's vision has gradually gotten worse because of advanced diabetes. She worked steadily under Social Security up until about a year ago. Can she qualify for disability benefits?

A. People whose vision is no better than 20/200 even with glasses, or whose visual field is limited to 20 degrees or less, are considered disabled on the basis of blindness under the Social Security law. Your sister should apply for benefits at any Social Security office. To get benefits, she must be severely disabled and not expected to be able to work for a year or more.

Q. I've been getting disability checks several years and now have a chance for a part-time job with light duties. How would the earnings affect my benefits?

A. If you're still severely disabled, your benefits may continue during a trial work period of up to nine months while you test your ability to work. If after nine months it is decided you are able to do substantial gainful work, your benefits will be paid for an adjustment period of three additional months.

Two named D.C. meeting delegates

Steven Cassano of Manchester and Mrs. Lenore Preble of West Hartford were elected

Everyone had a ball

MIAMI (UPI) — Everyone was invited to the party except the hosts and their guests of honor. But Helene Adler didn't seem to mind. "Everyone had a good time," she said. The Adlers didn't know they were throwing a party Sunday for old friends who just moved to Miami until a friend called saying he would be out of town and unable to attend. "We are having a welcoming party for two lifelong friends, Sherwin and Marilyn Ross. Come by for a day of swimming, tennis, backgammon and general mischief," the printed invitation read. Irwin Adler then called a caterer who prepared a party for 100 people at the Adler's home in the posh Old Cutler Road section south of Miami. Eighty persons had arrived at the Adlers by mid-afternoon Sunday. The Adlers think they know who perpetrated the "rather expensive practical joke," but the man won't admit it.

New student registration

New students who will be attending Manchester High School next year should report to the high school administration office for registration and to the guidance office for programming of courses between the hours of 8:30 and 11 a.m., and 1 and 2:30 p.m. Students must present a year-end report card or have a transcript forwarded to Manchester High School before registration. For students entering Grade 10, a transcript is required. Students entering Grades 11 and 12 will be tested Sept. 7 at a time to be announced. Students entering Grade 10 will be assigned, by mail, to one of the orientation and testing sessions on Sept. 1 and 2.

Marriages With Wings

delegate and alternate recently to represent Connecticut's First Congressional District at the National Congress on Volunteers and Citizenship to be held in Washington, D.C. from Nov. 19 to 23. Cassano is a faculty member and Voluntary Action Program advisor at Manchester Community College. He also works with the Manchester Community Council, Campus Civitan Club and other volunteer activities. Mrs. Preble is involved in several human service agencies and is a board member of the Institute of Living, a member of the Hartford Service Office Committee of the American Red Cross, and a trustee of St. Mary's Home. Cassano and the delegates from the other five districts were elected at the Connecticut Congress on Volunteerism and Citizenship in New Haven last June. The Connecticut Congress was sponsored by the Governor's Council on Voluntary Action in cooperation with the National Center for Voluntary Action to provide citizens with an opportunity to discuss volunteerism. The citizens in District One identified such issues as tax deductions for volunteers, released time for employees to volunteer in their communities, the role of government funding centers, and concerns about the image of the volunteer.
