Teachers get preschool briefing

Manchester schools begin new year on 'relatively well-budgeted' basis

By DOUG BEVINS
Herald Reporter

Manchester public schools begin a new school year tomorrow, "relatively well-budgeted" but facing future problems in gaining resources, School Supt. James Kennedy told returning teachers today.

Speaking to more than 500 school employees at the Manchester High School cafeteria, Kennedy warned of the anticipated decline in student enrollment and sought the teachers' help in determining the future of local schools.

Kennedy said town schools begin the 1976-1977 year in good shape, with peace between the Board of Education and most labor groups and with nearly enough money in the budget.

"We're relatively well-budgeted," Kennedy said. "I'm not saying we should be content, but we're not facing any traumatic cutbacks this year."

But in the next five years the local schools will face a critical test, Kennedy said, which will determine what the future of education in Manchester will be.

The critical test, he said, will stem from substantial declines in student enrollment and the accompanying difficulty in maintaining resources.

It becomes more difficult to gain necessary funding every year, Kennedy said, and the anticipated drop in student enrollment will make it even tougher to win town approval for school budgets.

"We'll have to look at the way we organize our elementary schools," Kennedy said, indicating that fewer students and less money may mean closing of more schools and possible abandonment of Manchester's neighborhood school concept.

Kennedy also warned that school staff may have to be reduced, but he said administrators hope to keep on the staff and beef up some educational programs that have been weak in the past.

Kennedy said educators have met with limited success in recent attempts to expand special areas of elementary education such as art, music and physical education.

"Maybe we can do more," he said.

Kennedy also mentioned the possibility of future expansion of alternate education programs at the secondary level, although the community may not be ready for such programs now.

He said administrators had thought of using South School, which was closed this year to cut costs, as an alternative junior high school. The idea was discarded, though, because educators haven't made the community aware of the need, he said.

Noting that fewer high school graduates go on to further education, Kennedy suggested a re-examination of the high school's mission and a strengthening of career-oriented programs.

"We have to be sure we are providing the kind of schooling necessary for graduates to survive in the world," Kennedy said.

"We have to look at how we're doing our job," Kennedy said. "I think we're doing well," he said, but he added that many people in the community think otherwise.

Among areas of special attention in the coming year, Kennedy said, will be a school personnel evaluation program, revision of secondary school curriculum, and a greater focus on services for the gifted and for the handicapped.

Kennedy's remarks to teachers were the most serious discussion this morning. The one-hour session included brief comments by other administrators, with the usual announcements of teachers' social activities, professional association meetings, and scheduling of the first school year payday.

Hanoi lists 12 fliers killed during war

PARIS (UPI) — In another gesture designed to improve relations with the United States, Hanoi has given Washington a list of 12 American fliers it says were killed during the Vietnam War.

Washington welcomed the information but said the United States had no intention of normalizing relations with the newly reunited country before Hanoi had accounted for all the 795 missing U.S. servicemen in Southeast Asia.

Another 1,710 were killed but their bodies have not been returned, according to the Pentagon.

Vietnam, which has been showing increasing willingness to patch relations with the United States, announced Monday through its Paris embassy it has sent the U.S. Embassy a list of 12 men missing in action. It said all were dead.

A press statement accompanying the move expressed Hanoi's desire to restart at the earliest possible date the stalled talks on U.S. aid to war-damaged Vietnam.

The statement said Vietnam wants to normalize relations with the United States as well as enter into

African peace shuttle to be launched Monday

HAMBURG, West Germany (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will fly to Africa Monday at the latest to begin a shuttle diplomacy designed to avert a racial warfare in Rhodesia and South West Africa, a senior American official said today.

With an invitation already in hand from South African Prime Minister John Vorster, Kissinger today received an invitation to open the Middle East-style diplomacy from Tanzania, a senior U.S. official traveling aboard the secretary's plane told reporters.

"It looks as if we are going," the official said.

Apparently the only development that might now block Kissinger's flight to Africa is a negative report from Assistant Secretary of State William Schaefele, dispatched by Kissinger to survey the atmosphere at Dar es Salaam Tanzania.

Southern African black leaders of countries bordering white-ruled Rhodesia and South West Africa and of the liberation movements in the two nations ended a two-day meeting in the Tanzanian capital today.

The senior U.S. official said Kissinger was expected to fly from Washington no later than Monday.

He said it was possible the secretary might pause in Dakar to consult with some African leaders not directly involved in the Southern situation.

The senior U.S. official rated Kissinger's chances of success on his forthcoming African shuttle as about even.

Kissinger won Vorster's agreement for the negotiations in weekend talks in Zurich, Switzerland. He then spent Monday conferring with British and French officials, awaiting a signal from Dar es Salaam that his African shuttle would be welcome by blacks. He got the signal in a message from Tanzania's foreign minister.

Soviet pilot given asylum

TOKYO (UPI) — A Soviet air force officer who defected and landed his top secret MIG25 Foxbat fighter plane in Japan will be flown to the United States Wednesday, the Tokyo Metropolitan Police Agency announced today.

1st Lt. Viktor Ivanovich Belenko, 29, was whisked secretly to Tokyo Tuesday in a Japanese military transport aircraft, escorted by fighter planes of Japan's Air Self-Defense Force.

Police said he was in a secret hideout in the Tokyo area awaiting a flight to the United States.

Belenko, who outwitted Japan's radar screens to land his plane at Hakodate City 500 miles north of Tokyo, won permission earlier in the day to seek political asylum in the United States.

(In Paris, U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told reporters he believed the United States would grant asylum to the defecting pilot.)

The Japanese government also refused a Soviet request to immediately return the MIG25, considered to be the world's most advanced aircraft.

Foreign Minister Kiuchi Miyazawa said the Japanese government approved the pilot's request from a "humanitarian standpoint."

The Foreign Ministry said one of its officials interviewed the pilot and confirmed he made the decision voluntarily.

Moscow, which also demanded the return of the pilot, said it wanted one of its diplomats to interview Belenko.

The request was denied on grounds the pilot did not want to see his countryman and had sought asylum voluntarily.

The national police agency quoted Belenko as saying he had been planning for two years to seek asylum in the United States.

"Life in the Soviet Union today is like that of the czarist regime and there is no freedom," he was quoted as saying.

Belenko said he flew out of a Soviet air base in Siberia Monday, intending to fly into Chitose, a Japanese airport in northern Japan used by domestic airlines and Japan's Air Self-Defense Force.

Carter holds rally at Groton shipyard

GROTON (UPI) — Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter flew to the scene of his naval training today for the first of what is expected to be a number of campaign appearances in Connecticut.

Carter flew in and out of Groton's Trumbull Airport for a noon rally outside the main gate at General Dynamic's Electric Boat Division, which makes the nuclear submarines he once skippered.

The former Georgia governor officially opened his campaign with a Labor Day speech at the home of President Franklin D. Roosevelt in Warm Springs, Ga., aimed at reuniting the coalition that gave FDR four terms in the White House.

He came to Groton to carry his message to organized labor — one of the blocks on which the Roosevelt coalition was built — with a lunchtime speech to the thousands of workers at one of the nation's largest defense plants.

Virtually the entire state Democratic leadership, including Gov. Ella T. Grasso, was expected to attend the rally in this community which bills itself as the "nuclear submarine capitol of the world."

The visit was a homecoming of sorts for Carter, who went from relative obscurity a year ago to a first-ballot win in the Democratic National Convention in July.

Carter, an Annapolis graduate, was stationed in the Groton area in 1948 when he spent six months taking a special Officers Training School program dealing with nuclear submarines.

Republicans voting today on town registrar of voters

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter

Voting booths opened at noon today for Manchester's registered Republicans, who will select their party's registrar of voters.

Today's primary — the first in Manchester for a registrar's position — is between Frederick E. Peck, the Republican registrar since 1960, and Marion Mercer, the party-endorsed candidate.

Peck and Mrs. Mercer both spoke optimistically this morning about the outcome.

Mrs. Mercer was selected for the registrar's position by a 44-18 vote of the Republican Town Committee on July 30. She also received the unanimous endorsement of the party's executive committee.

Peck, however, decided to petition for a primary. He received almost twice the total number of signatures he needed by the Aug. 13 deadline.

All ten voting districts will be open from noon until 8 p.m. today. All registered Republicans in Manchester are eligible to vote.

The ten polling places are: District One, Buckland School, 1075 Tolland Tpke.; District Two, Robertson School, 45 N. School St.; District Three, Church of Christ, 394 Lydall St.; District Four, Martin School, Dartmouth Rd.; District Five, Buckley School, 250 Vernon St.; District Six, Nathan Hale School, 160 Spruce St.; District Seven, Waddell School, 163 Broad St.; District Eight, Verplanck School, 126 Olcott St.; District Nine, Keeney Street School, 179 Keeney St.; District Ten, Manchester High School, Brookfield St.

State

NAUGATUCK — The 3,600 striking members of the United Rubber Workers at Uniroly Rubber Co. here, in Beacon Falls and Waterbury were to vote today on a three-year contract which could end their 20-week strike. Locals 45 and 218 planned to vote on the pact worked out Friday in New York City by the company and the union.

HARTFORD — Stanley A. Macbeth, a Simsbury building contractor, was named today to the Commission on Special Revenue by Sen. Lewis Rome, R-Bloomfield. Macbeth will replace Francis X. Hennessy who has been appointed a Juvenile Court judge.

Regional

BOSTON — Hundreds of taxi drivers boycotted Logan International Airport Monday night, but a spokesman for the airport said that didn't cause any serious problems despite the holiday crowd. The cabbies protested an increase in competing limousine service and a proposed hike in the fee paid by taxis to the airport for authority to pick up passengers. A spokesman for the cab drivers said the boycott will continue.

BOSTON — Members of the Boston Teachers Union voted today to reject a city contract proposal, but at the same time they voted not to go on strike at this time.

About 4,000 teachers gathered at a downtown hotel early today to take "appropriate action" on the latest contract offer from the School Committee one day before public schools were scheduled to open.

The union did not immediately release the vote count.

National

DETROIT — Ford Motor Co. indicates plans to sweeten its original contract offer in hopes of avoiding a strike by 170,000 United Auto Workers next week.

WASHINGTON — Retired Supreme Court Justice William Douglas is in serious condition after undergoing surgery for a hip fracture.

International

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — A commuter train and an express collided near Johannesburg, killing at least 31 persons in one of South Africa's worst rail disasters.

MEXICO CITY — A spokesman for more than 600 American prisoners said a move by President Luis Echeverria to allow them to serve out their terms in U.S. jails did not alter their plans to begin a hunger strike to protest what the prisoners aid were inhuman conditions in Mexican jails.

Candidates check voting machine

HONOR COURT
The Manchester Honor Court celebrates the completion of its third year in operation Sept. 15.

who have a problem with alcohol to be referred through the court system, the Family Relations Office or by family or friends. The Honor Court program is carried out through the cooperation of the circuit court judges, Alcoholics Anonymous, the Family Relations Office, and the churches and other groups who provide not only refreshments but community support.

Courts in operation in the state. The Hartford Honor Court, being the oldest in the state, celebrated its 14th anniversary in June. Although the session is conducted by a member of the Family Relations Office, Pathfinders, it is not a regular AA meeting but an introduction to AA. They hope to make AA attractive enough to encourage participants to attend other regularly scheduled meetings.

Dave, one of the regular leaders, stated that those attending Honor Court have less record of repeat offenses in the court. He has arranged for Honor Court to have 90 different speakers over a period of a year. When I spoke to Dave in July, he related that 13 persons were attending who had been referred through the court system. He felt this shows they are taking a positive step in choosing Honor Court over the court room.

The dedication of the Family Relations Office, Thomas Elliot, and Assistant Family Relations Officers, Joseph Gust and William Caramanis, is evident in their continual attendance at the sessions and their compassionate approach to the problem of alcoholism.

The recent legislation making intoxication no longer a crime has raised questions by the public with regard to the effective operation of Honor Court. However, court referrals are still made as persons are arrested on alcohol related charges, such as breach of peace or disorderly conduct.

As of July 19, Honor Court has been meeting at the East Hartford court room due to renovations taking place at the Manchester Police Station. We are pleased to report that the change in location does not appear to be presenting a problem to any of our 28 church related groups participating in the MACC Honor Court Volunteer Program. These groups provide milk, sandwiches and desserts for every Monday night meeting throughout the year. East Hartford churches will be contacted this month in order to enlist their support in the program.

Each September for the past three years, I have taken the opportunity to thank those participating in the program. Somehow I feel this is not adequate, however, after reports from these groups, I believe many of them take home much more in educational value in the area of alcoholism than can be realized. Again, a hearty "thank you" from myself as the MACC coordinator for Honor Court and Dave, the leader from AA. God bless you all for your cooperation over the past three years.

Bulkeley Bridge gives memories

By SHEILA TULLER
Herald Correspondent

A pink marbled ball of Stony Creek granite stands on a small pedestal in the hallway of the Jacob Sutter home on South Hawthorne Street in Manchester.

The ball and a book Sutter treasures, "The Hartford Bridge Souvenir Number" are souvenirs of the Bulkeley Bridge opening and dedication.

The book was published by The American Enterprise of East Hartford, a former community newspaper. The book contains biographical sketches of the leading citizens of the five towns comprising the bridge district, East Hartford and Manchester were part of the district.

Other also includes many pictures of parks, public buildings, and homes of the citizens included in the biographies.

First to cross
The book, edited by James A. Martin, publisher of The American Enterprise, pictures Sutter, his sister Margritha, and his brother Lewis seated in a goat cart.

Sutter recently added a few more details to the two line entry in the souvenir edition.

Sutter's father, Jacob Sutter, owned a hotel on the corner of Connecticut Blvd. and Pleasant St. This area is now part of the highway approach to the Bulkeley Bridge.

Christopher Stobbs, foreman of the bridge stone cutters, boarded at the Sutter Hotel during the years the bridge was being constructed.

"Greatest stone arch bridge in the world," said The American Enterprise in 1908 had to stop often on their trip across the Connecticut River.

Other firsts were the first woman, the first man on horseback, the first automobile, the first motorcycle, first pony cart, first buggy, first sleigh, first hearse, and first horse company to cross the bridge.

Fireworks every night
There was a great celebration when the bridge was formally dedicated in October 1908 and the festivities lasted for a week with a fireworks display every night.

Another fire that changed Jake Sutter's early life was the burning of East Hartford High School when it was a wooden structure located on Main St.

Sutter had just started his first year of high school in September 1915. On Halloween Eve that year, the school building burned down.

After only a month at the high school, the freshman class was relocated at Burnside School in the new brick section that had just been added to Burnside's wooden schoolhouse.

The sophomores were housed at South Grammar School which is also still in use. The juniors and seniors went to school at the Masonic Temple.

It was several years before the new high school, now Center School, was completed. Sutter completed his second year at South Grammar and transferred to Morse Business School.

He also attended East Hartford's Meadow School. Sutter said this school was built from a large supply of lumber left over from the bridge construction.

On one of his Main Street trips, he shared his book and memories. His recollections of the building and dedication of the bridge that has served so many cast of the river people for 77 years provided a fascinating story.

No doubt Sutter thought of his goat cart trip each time he crossed the bridge and he used it many times.

He still travels across the bridge on occasion to go to meetings of the Hartford Veteran Fireman's Association, a social organization he's belonged to for 27 years.

That "first ride in the goat cart" will always be a vivid memory when Sutter crosses the Bulkeley Bridge.

Sidewalk inspector
As much as he enjoys reminiscing, Sutter finds much to keep him busy in his retirement years. He says he is a self-appointed sidewalk inspector of Manchester.

On one of his Main Street trips, he shared his book and memories. His recollections of the building and dedication of the bridge that has served so many cast of the river people for 77 years provided a fascinating story.

Rash of burglaries reported

Thousands of dollars worth of goods and cash was stolen in a rash of Labor Day Weekend burglaries in Manchester, police reported today. Aside from the many burglaries and thefts, the holiday weekend police report appeared light. There were a few accidents, none of them serious, but no major criminal arrests.

Manchester Police issued more than 30 summonses over the three-day period for traffic violations throughout town. Most of the charges were speeding and court appearance aren't required.

The biggest burglary haul of the weekend appeared to be a break into a real estate firm in which a safe containing between $1,000 and $2,000 was removed.

Police said the break into J.D. Real Estate Co. at 618 Center St. was discovered by a company employee reporting for work Sunday. A rear window had been broken, office files and desks ransacked, and the safe was missing.

Police said the safe, which weighed about 600 pounds, also contained two handguns.

In another burglary into a local business, the Norton Electric Co., 71 Hilliard St., reported that $88 in cash was missing from an office desk. The break was discovered Monday.

Other burglaries over the weekend included incidents at homes on S. Main St., Tracy Dr., Timrod Rd. and Vine St., police said. Homeowners reported a variety of items missing, ranging from cash to stereo equipment, television sets and furniture. Scattered reports of thefts throughout town over the weekend include items such as Citizen Band radio equipment, bicycles and house plants.

There were half a dozen complaints received by police about attempted burglaries, in which homeowners found broken windows or pry marks on doors. Entry wasn't gained in those cases.

Weekend vandalism reports included complaints of windows broken at Bennett Junior High School, Verplanck School and the Nike Site Rifle Range.

The only weekend arrests reported by Manchester Police today involved two juveniles charged with shoplifting Saturday afternoon at a Parkade department store. The two girls were referred to Juvenile Court and released to their parents.

Firemen check damage to garage. Town of Manchester fire fighters examine interior of garage at Pine and Pleasant Sts., scene of early morning fire today. Fire fighters found tremendous heat and smoke but contained the blaze in about 45 minutes. (Herald photo by Dunn)

Serious fire controlled quickly

Town of Manchester fire fighters examined the interior of a garage at Pine and Pleasant Sts. today. Fire fighters found tremendous heat and smoke but contained the blaze in about 45 minutes. The fire started in a large, wood frame garage at the intersection of Pine and Pleasant Sts. The cause of the fire has not been determined. Fire Capt. Joseph McCoo said the blaze was contained to a small area of the old garage, at Pine and Pleasant Sts. The cause of the fire has not been determined.

System attacked

HARTFORD (UPI) — Senate Minority Leader Lewis B. Rome, R-Bloomfield, plans to sponsor legislation to block microphone security systems, which he said should not be installed in state buildings. A plan to install the devices in 11 state buildings was "grossly abused" and should never have been considered, he said.

Thompson Rd. entrance to Verplanck closed

The Thompson Rd. entrance to Verplanck School is closed off because of storm drainage installation work taking place on the road. Students who normally use this back entrance are asked to take a detour route by going north on Trebbe Dr. to Olcott St. and then east to the front of the school.

Betty's notebook

By Betty Ryder

In these hectic days of increased fuel bills, sprouting children who outgrow their clothes, food prices that refuse to fit into my budget, and a family which has become accustomed to eating, I'm all for saving a dollar.

Suddenly, on one issue I'm confused. Well, it seems the Public Utilities Control Authority wants us to hold down our cost of electricity and other utility services. Hey, I'm all for that. It's the way they suggest we do it that confuses me.

Now, they explain that the "peak" hours usually occur on weekdays after 8 a.m. and before 10 p.m. when the electric company must have enough power facilities to handle those hours. That's understandable.

But, then they suggest shifting some of the electric usage to early morning or late evening hours, ideally before 8 a.m. or after 10 p.m. Well, I comply, in part, cause I'm at work four days and can't utilize the dishwasher, or the washing machine during the daytime.

They suggest that if we run our major appliances before 8 a.m. or after 10 p.m. we'll save money. But, gee folks, if I do and you do, we'll just be changing the time of the "peak" hours.

I'd really do it, if I thought it would help. But don't you do it too, or we're going to be right back where we started - paying.

Hi folks

When Keith Jason Liebman decided to surprise his parents early in the morning on Aug. 28, he did. At what's more he gave his dad, James P. Liebman of 108 Daly Rd., Hebron, the distinction of not having to see him first through the window in a hospital nursery.

Well, as the story goes, Keith was running about 11 days overdue, and when he decided it was time to be born he gave his mom, the former Suzanne Janelle, very short notice.

Luckily, his mom and dad had taken the Lamazne course at Manchester Memorial Hospital when their first child, Lance, now 2, was born.

And so it was, that James J. delivered his own son five minutes before a fireman down the street arrived to lend an assist.

Keith is fine. Mom and dad survived and Lance is tickled to go with a new brother.

Mrs. Liebman is employed in the medical records department at MMH.

Goldwasser to address retirees Wednesday

Richard Goldwasser, a school psychologist in Manchester and instructor in psychology at Manchester Community College, will give a lecture and demonstration on Wednesday at the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Club in East Hartford.

He is conducting research in the field of biofeedback. Using electronic equipment he has been successful in teaching people to relax by training them to voluntarily control a particular brainwave called "alpha". Alpha has been found to be a substantial component of the meditative state and is described as a calm and tranquil state of being.

Births

Repta, Nicolas Evan, son of Richard J. and Jo Ann Kiefer Repta of 88 Union Ave., East Hartford, was born Aug. 27 at Manchester Memorial Hospital. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George F. Kiefer of Greenfield, Mass. His paternal grandmother is Mrs. Charles Repta Sr. of Northfield, Mass. He has a brother, Richard J., 5.

Berrill, Shannon, daughter of David and Patricia Harris Berrill of 559 Hillard St. She was born Aug. 30 at Manchester Memorial Hospital. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George F. Kiefer of Greenfield, Mass. His paternal grandmother is Mrs. Charles Repta Sr. of Northfield, Mass. He has a brother, Richard J., 5.

Never too old

In a recent "Growing Old" column by Harold Blumenthal he told a story about an elderly couple. It seems this 84-year-old Lohario was invited by an 88-year-old to her apartment for tea and cookies. Still feeling, as well as remembering, the passions of his youth, he became amorous.

"Oh, no," she said. "I can't because of my mother and father." He looked at her quizzically and asked, "You mean you still have a mother and a father?"

"Oh, yes," she answered. "Mother Nature and Father Time."

Indian summer, with its glorious, balmy days and cold, frosty nights, is a phenomenon of the Northern Hemisphere. It's called "after summer" in Germany, "peasant women's summer" in Russia, and the ancient Greeks called it the "halcyon days."

Actually, no one seems to know why Americans use the term Indian summer, but it was in our vocabulary in the Northeast in the late 1700s and Webster's Dictionary made it official by listing it in its 1841 edition.

For a while "While the earth remaineth, seed-time and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease." The Holy Bible.

Albee-Roberts

Mrs. John P. Albee

Karen Lee Roberts of Newtown and John Pitkin Albee of Manchester were married Aug. 28 at Newton Congregational Church in an outdoor ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Roberts of Newtown. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton H. Albee of 31 Duncan Rd.

The Rev. John Buttrick of Newton officiated at the ceremony. A large cross made by the bridegroom and the bride and her father marked the wedding site. Baskets of flowers were placed on either side of it.

Floral arrangements were by Mr. and Mrs. John Swinger of Hartford. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory organza and Cluny lace gown designed with high neckline, lantern sleeves, Empire waistline, and A-line skirt with attached train. Her hairpiece and mantilla were of matching lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, sweetheart roses, chrysanthemums, stephanotis, orange blossoms and baby's breath. Mrs. Robert Tripp of Waterbury was her sister's matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Miss Constance Roberts of Newtown, the brides sister; Miss Marianne Albee and Miss Elizabeth Albee, both of Manchester, sisters of the bridegroom; Miss Mary S. Colwell of New Haven and Mrs. Munson Dolan of Houston, Tex.

Donald Paine of Boston, Mass. served as best man, ushers were Peter Albee of Manchester, the bride's brother; Edward Landsberg of Manchester; Roger Mellen of Concord, Mass.; and Christopher Roberts of Danbury, brothers of the bride.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple will reside in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Albee is employed as a teacher at the Harvard Law School Child Care Center in Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. Albee is operations manager at Arzip, Inc. in Chelsea, Mass.

Lutz Junior Museum reopens Saturday

The Lutz Junior Museum at 126 Cedar St. will reopen Saturday and Sunday after having been closed since Aug. 1 for exhibit renovations.

On Saturday, the museum will host a members-only preview party between 12:30 and 4 p.m. During this time, museum members will view the new displays, participate in a medieval dance demonstration given by Joy Van Cleef and Peter Garnick, and watch a medieval arms and combat demonstration performed by Balin the Fairhaired (Dale Plummer).

Members planning to attend this event are reminded to notify the museum.

Refreshments will be served. On Sunday, the public is invited to visit the museum between 2 and 5 p.m.

Among the new "do touch" displays are "The 1900s General Store" where visitors can view slides through a stereoscope, try on Victorian clothing and play checkers, "Simple Machines" where one can construct a pulley system, and "Rug Braiding."

Visitors can play the president's game, put on their own puppet show, and have fun in the color exhibit.

Other displays include rocks and minerals, alphabet drawers and motion teasers, and better safe, a checklist for safe toys.

Anderson says Maddox can't get on ballot

Tom Anderson, American Party candidate for President, claims Lester Maddox "has already lost any chance to get a large conservative vote because he can't get ballot position for his splinter American Independent Party in enough states."

Anderson said the ballot deadline has passed in such states as Texas, Florida, North Carolina, Kansas, Massachusetts, Utah and North Dakota "where we in the American Party are already on the ballot and Maddox is locked out."

"Our American Party, which is not connected in any way with the abortive but widely publicized AIP meeting in Chicago recently, also has ballot position in Mississippi, South Carolina, Kentucky, Delaware, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio, Idaho and New Hampshire, and we're on the verge of making the ballot in an additional 18 to 20 states."

"We therefore have informed the League of Women Voters that we are the logical spokesman for conservatives in a national television debate with Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter."

Anderson said the break-away AIP was formed after the 1972 general election when its chairman, William K. Shearer of California, found he could not control the American Party.

"Shearer has been claiming his AIP got a million votes for presidential candidate John Schmitz in 1972, but that is completely false, since Schmitz was our American Party candidate and the splinter AIP wasn't even organized until December of that year," Anderson said.

"Then in 1975 a handful of people connected in any way with the abortive but widely publicized AIP meeting in Chicago recently, also has ballot position in Mississippi, South Carolina, Kentucky, Delaware, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio, Idaho and New Hampshire, and we're on the verge of making the ballot in an additional 18 to 20 states."

"We therefore have informed the League of Women Voters that we are the logical spokesman for conservatives in a national television debate with Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter."

Manchester Arts Council seeks new members

The Manchester Arts Council, recently formed to assist and promote the artistic and cultural enrichment of the community, is seeking new members.

The council has four membership classes. They are participating members, for art organizations, associate members, for businesses, associations or groups supporting the arts, individual memberships and town appointed members.

Membership forms for individual and associate members are now available at Manchester Post Offices, banks, libraries, the Community Y and Municipal Building.

Five members of each membership class will be elected to the council's board of directors at its regular meeting. Members may be called upon to assist the directors in specific projects throughout the year.

Directors face full agenda

A change in town disability pension and a sale of land for the Main Street mini-mall, and a fact-finding report concerning the town's fire fighters will be among the items the Board of Directors will be asked to approve at their meeting tonight at 8 p.m.

The present change in the pension ordinance would mean disability pensions would be calculated on the basis of an average of the last five fiscal years. All other town retirement benefits and disability benefits for police are now paid based on the average of the last three calendar years.

Other matters the board will act on tonight include:

An application to the North Central Connecticut Agency on Aging for an additional Outreach Worker for the elderly. This would be funded through Title III monies offered by the Older Americans Act of 1965.

An additional appropriation of $87,282 to the Educational Special Projects. This money will be used for a remedial reading program to be set up in seven elementary schools and will be provided by a state grant.

The directors will be asked to approve a fact-finding report about labor negotiations between the town and Manchester fire fighters.

The report, released last Friday, recommends that the fire fighters receive a four per cent wage increase in each year of a two-year contract. The report also recommended for the town in several areas, including exclusion of dental insurance for fire fighters.

The proposed change would have the disability pension calculated on the salary for the last three calendar years. If approved, the change in the ordinance would take effect retroactively to July 1, 1975.

Phils lead reduced to 5 1/2 games, up by 16 1/2 games two weeks ago

NEW YORK (UPI) - The way the Philadelphia Phillies played Labor Day, they might just as well have taken the day off.

The Pittsburgh Pirates swept a doubleheader from the faltering Phillies, 4-3 and 5-1, to move to within 5 1/2 games of Philadelphia in the National League East.

The Phillies had led by 16 1/2 games just two weeks ago, before their current slide started Aug. 25.

Five different Pirates drove in a run in the opener to back the combined five-hit pitching of Bruce Kison and Kent Tekulve. Every player in the starting lineup except catcher Duffy Dyer had at least one hit in the 12-hit attack.

In the nightcap, Larry Demery hurled a four-hitter while the Pirates collected 10 hits off three different Philadelphia pitchers.

The Yankees' victory increased their lead in the A.L. East to 11 1/2 games over second-place Baltimore. Newly acquired Cesar Tovar drove in two New York runs with a bases-loaded double and Mickey Rivers brought home another with an infield out in the ninth inning.

Nettles HR leader, R Sox protest blow

NEW YORK (UPI) - Graig Nettles, with a loud assist from manager Billy Martin, took over the American League home run lead Monday night in leading the New York Yankees to a 6-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Nettles hit his 25th homer in the fifth inning, but it took all of Martin's persuasive powers to convince the umpires of it.

With two Yankees on base, Nettles struck a Tom Murphy pitch over the right-centerfield fence, where it slammed a wall about 20 feet behind the field, and bounced back onto the field. The Red Sox put the ball back in play with the approval of second base umpire Greg Kosc and Nettles was stopped at second.

Kingman regains homer leadership

CHICAGO (UPI) - Dave Kingman, who missed 35 games because of torn ligaments in his left thumb, regained the National League home run lead Monday when he blasted his 34th homer to lead the New York Mets to a 7-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The Mets' slugger sustained the injury on July 18. He came off the disabled list Aug. 27 and since then has homered twice.

Meeting set on safety shoe controversy

There will be a meeting Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. between town and union officials in connection with the recent grievance about payment for safety shoes.

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 901, which represents over 100 employees of the town Public Works Department, filed the grievance following a July 14 notice from Public Works Director Jay J. Giles that employees who work in potentially hazardous areas will be required to buy their own safety shoes.

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) — Will the full moon bring Ilie Nastase's fangs? A U.S. Open crowd of "Nasty Watchers" will be out in force tonight to see the Romanian under the lights against Roscoe Tanner and some people are expecting to see blood. "Does Nastase sleep in a coffin?" someone asked Jimmy Connors, Nastase's best friend on the tour. "No, but he has fangs," Connors said. "Maybe he is a vampire." Far from taking reprisal against the black-haired Nastase for his often vicious behavior on court, the U.S. Open is actively promoting him at its ticket windows with signs like "The Nastase is playing tonight." A record crowd for night play of more than 10,000 is expected to turn out. Connors beat Vitas Gerulaitis before 7,152 people Monday night. NFL clubs pare squads, number of 'names' cut

NEW YORK (UPI) — "What though the odds be great or small, old Notre Dame will win over all..." Except on the final National Football League waiver list Monday when two of the greatest players in Notre Dame history were cut as the 28 teams pared down to the 43 and 49 player limits in preparation for the season-opening weekend. Terry Hanratty, the most prolific passer in Notre Dame history, was picked up by the Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers and Jack Snow, who caught 60 passes in one year at Notre Dame, was waived by the Los Angeles Rams. Hanratty and Snow were among a host of high-

Baltimore Colts back Marchbroda

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Baltimore Colts General Manager Joe Thomas, his team disgruntled over the resignation of Coach Ted Marchbroda, has indicated he hopes to have the team's head coaching problem resolved by this evening. Thomas met for 2 1/2 hours Monday with players, led by quarterback Tom Shuman, Jones said he thought Thomas would be demanded that he have a tough time Marchbroda be rehired. After the meeting, Thomas declined to talk with reporters, but team spokesman Barry Jones read a statement. "We hope to have the position of head coach of the Baltimore Colts back together after this resolved by Tuesday evening. We are exploring front office several avenues in our pursuit of a solution. "The coaching staff is currently preparing for our game against New England this Sunday." Marchbroda resigned Sunday after a dispute with Thomas and owner Robert Isray over team control.

Patriots' win was too costly

FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI) — New England Patriots Coach Chuck Fairbanks feels his team might have paid too high a price for its 3-3 preseason record. Fairbanks had to place linebacker Rod Shoute and defensive lineman Greg Boyd on the injured reserve list Monday. Both suffered knee injuries and will be out for the regular season. Shoute and defensive tackle Pete Cusick, injured three weeks ago, will undergo knee surgery. Among the other injured from the Detroit Lions in exchange for a draft pick. The Patriots open their regular season Sunday against the Baltimore Colts. Waived from the Patriots were free agent Tom Shuman, rookie safety Doug Beaudoin, free agent running backs Ricky Lake and Greg Oliver, rookie defensive lineman Perry Brooks, free agent offensive tackle Glenn Hyde, free agent wide receiver Willie Armstead, free agent linebacker Mike McDraw and free agent defensive end Mark Igrizit. "We feel with the problems we have, we need experience at that position," said Patriots

Records broken in swim meet

Vernon
BARBARA RICHMOND
Herald Reporter

The weather was cool and dreary on Saturday but swimmers at the 22nd annual swim meet at Horowitz Pool, Henry Park, Rockville, undauntedly broke 11 past records during the four-hour meet.

Linda Powers, who took the trophy for being the best all around female swimmer the past three years, tied this year with Bridget Anderson while Joe Cristofani recaptured the title he won in 1974 and lost to Dan Lundmark last year.

Each girl won three races and each broke two records.

Matt Rydzewski won an award for being the most improved swimmer of the year.

In the girls 12 and 13 freestyle, Miss Powers broke the record she set last year by swimming the 50 yards in 27.7 seconds. Her time last year was 28. She also broke her own record in the 50-yard backstroke event swimming 1:11 in 32.4. Her previous record was 33.2. She came close to the record she set last year coming in first also in the 50-yard butterfly at 33 seconds. She set a record last year at 32.3 seconds.

Cristofani, first in the boys' butterfly event also broke the record he set last year by 39.9 seconds. He made it in 39.9 this year. He also broke his own record in the breast stroke event finishing in 40.8. He set a record of 42.4 in 1975. And he came close to breaking a long-standing record in the freestyle. He finished 31.2. The record was set in 1963 by Philip Zahner.

The boys' 50-yard freestyle had to be swum twice and the second time it was still close but the judges ruled Dave Simmons the winner and Chris Tuppeny, second, both at 29.4.

In the girls 14 & 15 freestyle event, Miss Anderson broke the record of 28.4 set by Diane Brand two years ago. She finished in 26.8 seconds.

In the girls aged 8 & 9 backstroke event, Lori Neff broke the record set in 1975 by Jeanne Gagnon at 22.2. Miss Neff finished in 21.6 seconds.

In 1965 Zahner also set the record for the boys aged 12 & 13 50-yard backstroke event and no one came close to it this year. The winner in this event, at 36.3, was Dave Neff.

Miss Anderson broke the 1973 record of 34.9 set by Linda Martin in the 50-yard backstroke. She completed it in 34.2.

Scott Simmons came close to meeting another record set by Zahner in 1967 in the boys 14 & 15 50-yard backstroke race. The record is 29.6 and Simmons made it in 30.3.

Liz Rydzewski, swimming the 25-yard breaststroke event for girls 8 & 9, in 22.5, broke the record set in 1974 by Maureen Berger at an even 24 seconds.

Bridget West, swimming the breaststroke in the 12 & 13 age group, broke the record set in 1974, by Colleen Brand. Miss West set records in 1970 and 1975 in the younger age groups.

Rod Neff, in the boys 14 & 15, breaststroke, set a new time record of 33.2. The previous record was set last year by Dan Lundmark, 34.

Wayne Watson, swimming the 25-yard butterfly event in 19.6 seconds, broke the record of 22.6 set by Todd Watson, last year.

Chris Anderson was named the most outstanding male swimmer for the season. He came in first in the 50-yard butterfly, and second in the 50-yard freestyle.

Nineteen girls and 23 boys participated in the events, five of the girls broke seven records and three of the boys broke four records.

Selection of the best all around swimmer was based on a point system. First place winners were given five points, second place, three points, and third place, one point. In addition, a bonus of two points was given for each record broken and one point for each record tied. Diving and relays did not count toward the best swimmer award.

In the diving events, Julie Sadittz, won the junior divers gold medal and Paul Fitzpatrick the boys.

In the intermediate group, Laurie Farrell and Brock Tuppeny won the gold medals.

The Horowitz pool was built in 1955 in honor of William Horowitz, president of Amerbell Corp. Nat Schwedel, representing Amerbell and the Rockville Rotary Club, presented several of the awards. Schwedel is credited with being responsible for seeing that the pool was built.

Mayor Thomas Benoit, was also a judge along with Schwedel, Roger Kenzior, American Legion commander; Tony Wasilefsky of the Jaycees; Michael McElduff, Exchange Club, and Joyce Taylor of the Recreation Commission.

Schwedel, representing Amerbell and the Rockville Rotary Club, presented several of the awards. Schwedel is credited with being responsible for seeing that the pool was built.

Mayor Thomas Benoit, was also a judge along with Schwedel, Roger Kenzior, American Legion commander; Tony Wasilefsky of the Jaycees; Michael McElduff, Exchange Club, and Joyce Taylor of the Recreation Commission.

Mayor Benoit said it was sad that the town doesn't have an indoor pool to learn to swim through the program in the summer.

He said maybe there will be some funding for this purpose in years to come. He expressed the hope that the townspeople will get together and try and find the funds somewhere.

Dr. Ramsdell reminds parents that the times of school openings and bus schedules are estimated and adjustments may be made after buses have been in operation several days. Pupils will be notified of any changes.

Pupils are asked to be waiting near the highway for the buses at least 10 minutes ahead of the published times. Dr. Ramsdell said about 3,752 students will be transported.

Name tags
He suggests that parents of Kindergarten and Grade 1 students put tags on the children with names and addresses to help the bus drivers on the home trip. He said it would be of further help if some landmark is noted on the tag.

The buses are operated by the Windsor Bus Service which has been serving Vernon for several years. The drivers know the area and will travel the scheduled routes several times prior to school opening.

Dr. Ramsdell reminds parents that pupils will be held responsible for any malicious damage to the buses and urges them to impress this upon their children. He said misbehavior will not be tolerated on the buses and lack of cooperation by the students will result in their immediate suspension of bus privileges.

Dr. Ramsdell said parents should be aware of the Board of Education's transportation policy which in general follows the state statutes which call for providing transportation of children "wherever transportation is reasonable and desirable."

In general the board follows the Connecticut Board of Education's recommendation as to distances pupils can walk, provided no exceptional hazards are evident. Grades K-3, one mile; 4-8, 1.5 miles; and 9-12, two miles.

Student accident insurance is available. The rate is $5 for students in all grades for coverage during schooltime only; $25 for 24-hour coverage. Pupils will be given brochure explaining the insurance program.

Swimming is family affair

East Hartford
SHEILA TULLER

Swimming is a family affair in East Hartford. The records of past swim meets and the entrants in the 76 team meet prove that point.

It seems once the eldest child in a family gets swim team fever, it goes right through the family.

Ann Grabowski, the first gold medal winner in this year's meet, was matched minutes later by her twin brother Michael. Mike won a gold in the backstroke race for boys 8 and under.

Drennan's coach John Cuminsky cheered his sisters, Kathy and Karen on. The girls were swimming for Martin.

At an earlier meet this summer when Drennan and Martin met, Mrs. Cuminsky was asked who she was rooting for. "Martin, of course, all my children, including coach John, grew up swimming for Martin," she said.

Sisters Meg Lynn, and Kaye and Dakin won three of the four girls' breast stroke races.

Most valuable girl swimmer, 17-year-old Denise Boudreau, leaves the park swim team ranks this year but leaves sister Charlotte, to carry on Charlotte often took firsts in free style and backstroke races this summer.

75's most valuable swimmer Sue Cushman also swam in her last town meet this year. Sue and older sisters Cathy and Debbie won many races for McAuliffe's swim team over the years.

School calendar announced
All Bolton schools will open Wednesday.

Vacations are Oct. 11, Columbus Day; Nov. 11, 180th day; Nov. 25 and 26, Thanksgiving recess; Dec. 24 through Jan. 2, Christmas recess; April 23, Winter recess; April 8, Good Friday; April 25-29, Spring recess; May 30, Memorial Day.

Prior to vacations Nov. 24 and Dec. 23 will be four-hour sessions. Four-hour sessions for curriculum and in-service days are Oct. 6, Dec. 8, Jan. 26, March 2 and May 11.

Schools will close on all Veterans Day, Nov. 25 and 26, Thanksgiving recess; Dec. 24 through Jan. 2, Christmas recess; April 23, Winter recess; April 8, Good Friday; April 25-29, Spring recess; May 30, Memorial Day.

After Allen's talk lunch was provided by the Parent Teacher Organization. The staff will be welcomed by Diana Oviatt, PTO president.

William Vogel, board of education chairman, will address the group.

Improvements announced
Raymond Allen, superintendent of schools, said the educational improvements for the 1976-77 school year include the following:

• Additional skill oriented math materials. • Holt Reading Program will be used in Grades 4-6. Teachers will hold in-service workshops on the use of Holt materials.

• Distar Reading Program will be used for special education students. • Revised procedures for the learning disabilities program will be used.

• Spanish has been added to the Bolton High School offerings. • A fulltime nurse has been added to the staff.

School starts
Wednesday about 850 Bolton students from Kindergarten through Grade 12 will return to school.

Bolton Elementary School and Bolton Center School will be in session daily from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Methodists meet
Sept. 7. The UMC Keeney Drive Association will hold a tag sale Saturday and Sunday.

But only for now

State chairmen agree on leaders in two contests

HARTFORD (UPI) — It's unusual when the state chairmen of the Democratic and Republican parties agree on anything, much less who is leading the race in Connecticut for the presidency and Senate.

As expected Democratic Chairman William O'Neill and his GOP counterpart Frederick K. Biebel made the most of their party's prospects, but agreed that Democrat Jimmy Carter and Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn. were ahead in their respective races for president and senate.

But although O'Neill said flatly "Jimmy Carter will carry Connecticut by well over 100,000 votes," Biebel was conceding nothing.

He said President Ford would turn the tables by November 2.

"I think the President is narrowing Carter's lead," Biebel said. "It will be a real close race in Connecticut."

"I think Carter has hit his peak and I think Ford is just now beginning to get more visibility. I think Ford will overtake him sometime in September in Connecticut," he said.

In 1972 Republican Richard Nixon carried Connecticut by 255,265 votes over Democratic nominee Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, one of the largest margins in state history.

Weicker, Biebel forecast, will defeat Democratic Senate nominee Gloria Schaffer by 250,000 votes.

In 1970 Weicker was elected with a plurality, taking advantage of a split in Democratic ranks.

O'Neill, acknowledging Mrs. Schaffer's polls show her badly trailing Weicker at this point, said he still had some hope for her candidacy.

"I think she has a fair shot. There are many Republicans disenchanted with Weicker," he said.

Both men say they are sure of retaining the congressional seats they currently hold — four Democratic, two Republican.

But each says they think additional seats can be gained, with O'Neill pinpointing Ronald Sarasin in the 4th District as the most vulnerable Republican because of large Democratic registrations there.

Biebel said he thought the Republicans had an "excellent chance" of depositing one or two Democratic congressional incumbents, but he refused to be specific.

Biebel said depending on how well Ford and Weicker run in Connecticut the Republicans could regain control of one House of the legislature.

Several primaries in state today

Fairfield County Democrats went to the polls today to nominate a congressional candidate in a race highlighting an otherwise dull card of primary contests in Connecticut.

A light voter turnout was expected in the race between Charles B. Tisdale of Bridgeport and Geoffrey G. Peterson of Westport for the right to oppose GOP Rep. Stewart McKinney for the 4th District seat.

In addition to the fight for the congressional berth there were 28 primaries — most of them Democratic — for state legislative seats scattered around the state.

Tisdale, a former anti-poverty worker, won the endorsement at the party's district convention in July, despite a strong showing by Peterson, a former top aide to Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Peterson received 20 per cent of the convention vote, which qualified him for the primary.

The district encompasses the wealthiest parts of affluent Fairfield County, including the cities of Stamford and Norwalk in addition to Bridgeport.

Peterson discounts charges by Tisdale that he doesn't know the district and is part of the Washington establishment. He says his Washington experience is his biggest asset.

Whoever wins the primary is expected to be an underdog in the November race with McKinney.

Groups of state legislative primaries faced voters in Bridgeport and other areas in Fairfield County, Waterbury, Hartford and New Haven.

A number of incumbents faced opposition, with Democratic deputy House Majority Leader Natalie Rappaport of Waterbury and Environment Committee co-chairman Francis Ciampi of Waterbury the best known.

Also in Waterbury, incumbent William J. Scully Jr., denied renomination by local Democrats, was seeking to win the designation in a primary.

Klein faces charges for two murders

BRIDGEPORT (UPI) — James Michael Klein, 38, five-in-maid, Martha Lema, 28, of Columbia, South America, was lying on her back at Mrs. Klein's feet. She was shot in the head and the neck.

Police said there were no signs of forced entry nor any indication of a robbery.

Questioned several days after the slayings, Klein told police he met with his former wife to discuss financial matters in their $215,000 home on the day the bodies of the two women were found.

Foundation up STORRS (UPI) — The University of Connecticut Foundation's net worth reached the $1.5 billion mark during the past year, according to the organization's annual report.
