Ford in happy mood after Southern tour

By ELIZABETH WHARTON
United Press International

President Ford, pleased by the friendly crowds that greeted his 150-mile, three-state motorcade across the southern Gulf states, prepared to give a speech and order a speech for Miami today and Democrat Jimmy Carter mined for votes on the West Coast.

Ford was in happy mood after Sunday's trek during which White House officials said he drew some 113,000 supporters and spectators. Alabama Gov. George Wallace, a Carter supporter, was at the Mobile, Ala., airport to greet him.

Later, aboard Air Force One, his chief of staff Richard Cheney said late GOP polling shows the President possibly could carry the Southern states of Virginia and Mississippi, running well in important Pennsylvania and Illinois, but doing less well in the border states of Tennessee and Kentucky and in the traditionally GOP farm belt. In prepared address to Miami conference of the National Association of Chiefs of Police today, Ford said: "I serve notice today that top priority of the first 100 days beginning with Inauguration Day of the Ford administration next January will be the rallying of America behind federal anticrime legislation."

He also said that he would recommend "strict controls and more stringent penalties to stamp out the threat of political terrorism, which is totally alien to American ideals."

Carter, who wooed surprisingly small crowds in Mexican-American sections of southern California Sunday, flew to Portland today for another address on the economy.

In speech before regional labor meeting, Carter linked President Ford to the recessions of Richard Nixon and the Great Depression of Herbert Hoover, and suggested he would pick up where the New Frontier of John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson's Great Society left off.

Carter said 2.5 million Americans fell below the poverty line last year, the largest increase in 17 years.

"Mr. Nixon and Mr. Ford have made these people poorer in the same way as Mr. Hoover in the 1930s — by denying them the choice to work."

The two vice presidential candidates also held working Sundays — on opposite sides of the country.

Walter Mondale lauded the civil rights record of Lyndon B. Johnson to audiences in black neighborhoods of Washington and Baltimore, in an obvious effort to counteract and bad feeling generated by Carter's criticism of Johnson in Playboy interview.

Robert Dole worshipped Sunday at the Garden Grove Community Church, "the world's first walk-in, drive-in inspirational center." Dole's wife, Elizabeth, recently contributed $500 for window in memory of her grandmother.

About 800 attend pipe band concert

Five Manchester-based pipe bands march into Center Park for a concert Saturday which drew about 800 persons. The massed bands marched up Main St. into the park and performed there separately. The events was the bands' Bicentennial Salute to Manchester. Profits from a dinner-dance by the bands Saturday night will go toward the fund for construction of the band shell off Wetherell St. (Story on Page 8) (Herald photo by Bevins)

New England Jaycees honor Steve Cassano

Stephen T. Cassano of 71 Cushman Dr. has been selected as one of three Outstanding Young Men of New England by the area chapter of the Jaycees.

Cassano and the two other recipients, John P. Liljeberg of Nashua, N.H., and Richard M. Alegria of Bristol, R.I., were honored Saturday night at the New England States Jaycee Convention held at the Marriott Hotel in Providence, R.I.

Cassano, an associate professor at Manchester Community College, was selected for his work in community affairs.

He is one of the founders of the Manchester Organization of the Handicapped and has been its advisor since it was formed in 1972. He was a member of the Manchester Community Service Council.

He was associated with the juvenile court from 1973 to 1975 and has also served on the town's Human Relations Commission.

An assistant registrar of voters from 1972 to 1975, Cassano is chairman of the town Alternative Housing Committee, which is attempting to establish a group home to serve Manchester youths.

In 1972, he organized a marathon softball game that raised about $1,200 for Crossroads. He is also founder and advisor of the Manchester Community College Civitan Club, the first collegiate chapter in New England.

Cassano received the Manchester Jaycees' Distinguished Service Award in January. Then, in March, he was selected as one of five recipients of Connecticut Outstanding Young Men awards.

Black leaders balk on Rhodesian plan

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith said today the partial rejection of American majority rule proposals by black African nations may mean that "the Communists are calling the tune in those parts."

Smith's spoke to reporters outside his office came one day after the five presidents of southern Africa's so-called black "front line" states turned down a proposal to convene a constitutional conference inside Rhodesia to discuss the transfer of power to majority blacks. This appeared to represent partial rejection of a six-point plan laid down last week by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and accepted by Smith's government Friday.

Communists are calling the tune in those parts," Smith said. "We will have to wait and see what the free world is going to do about it now."

Rhodesian Foreign Minister P.K. Van Der Byl said Sunday it was now up to the United States and South Africa to patch up the American-negotiated agreement.

The five presidents said in Lusaka, Zambia Sunday the proposals "if accepted, would be tantamount to legalizing the colonialist and racist structure of power" and reaffirmed their commitment to "the cause of liberation" and "the armed struggle."

But their statement did not reject the proposals and Britain, hopeful of salvaging the plan, offered to organize a constitutional conference on the future of Rhodesia.

The dispute appeared to center on the location and makeup of a conference to set up a transitional government for Rhodesia, until black majority rule is established within two years.

The key proposal in Kissinger's six-point plan called for representatives of the government to meet with black Rhodesian leaders to create an interim government. Smith had said he hoped to have such a meeting this week.

The interim government would have been ruled by a council of state, made up of an equal number of blacks and whites, charged with drafting a black majority rule constitution within two years.

Smith, in accepting the principle of majority rule, said one positive aspect of his acceptance was that the new constitution would be drafted in Rhodesia by Rhodesians. That stipulation, though, does not appear in the actual Kissinger proposals.

Town Meeting '76 workshop leaders are announced

Seven local residents will lead workshop discussions about problems facing Manchester and their solutions during the Oct. 2 Town Meeting '76 at Manchester High School.

Leading the morning and afternoon workshops will be Rockwell H. Potter, of 26 Gardner St., administrator of public records for the state of Connecticut; Mrs. Ruth Kahn of 105 Ferguson Rd., a social worker at Iling Junior High School, Atty. John Fitzgerald of 45 Battista Rd.

Also, Mrs. Bernice Maher of 63 Church St., a former history and social studies teacher at Bennet Junior High School; Louis Halpryn of 167 Sunnybrook Dr., executive director of the Connecticut Association of Health Care Facilities; Mrs. Eleanor Colman of 125 Colman Rd., coordinator of the public service career program at Manchester Community College and a member of the Board of Education; and Mrs. Marjorie Kravitz of 32 Wyllys St.

Town Meeting '76 is a forum for all town residents to express their feelings about town problems.

The entire program will be free, with no charge for lunch or for child care.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served during the registration period beginning at 9 a.m. in the high school cafeteria. People may attend either or both of the morning and afternoon workshop sessions.

Child care will be provided at Center Congregational Church. FISH will provide transportation for elderly needing such a service.

Mrs. Alice Foote 108 years young

By JUNE TOMPKINS
Herald Reporter

In spite of the fact that Mrs. Alice Foote dreaded "the doin's" a couple of days before her 108th birthday celebration, Sunday's party in her honor at The Meadows Convalescent Home brought her pleasure and about 60 visitors.

Messages from President Ford and other public officials were displayed on the bulletin board at the home. Local and state public officials were among her visitors.

The grand old lady who was born Sept. 21, 1868, on West St. in Hebron said one day last week that she has had so many parties during her lifetime that she was too old for any more. But she was a happy guest of honor for over two hours.

Family members attending included her son Robert, 85, and his wife, from Hebron. Her other son, Arnold, 77, lives in Florida and was unable to attend. Others in Mrs. Foote's family include 7 grandchildren, 22 great-grandchildren, and 6 great-great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Foote's reminiscences are like a voice from a history book. She described her wedding dress.

"It was cream-colored with three bands of watered ribbon around the bottom, and a wide ribbon sash with a big bow in the back. Bustles had just gone out of style and mother thought the back of my gown wouldn't look right without a little fullness, so I wore a big bow."

On politics in which she was always interested:

"I was brought up a Republican, but changed my politics when I married because my husband was a Democrat. I think President Garfield was a good president. He was shot, you know."

She thought President Garfield was every bit as good a president as President Franklin D. Roosevelt. "They were both Democrats," she added.

She still likes food, good food, that is.

"When I was president of the women's society for 25 years at the Gilead Congregational Church, we had a lot of chicken pie suppers and I baked a lot of chicken pies."

"You line the bottom of a milk pan with the meat from three cooked chickens. Then cover the meat with gravy. Always make enough gravy to serve. Cover it all with a rich crust and bake till crisp. Then cut in large servings and serve with extra gravy over all."

A milk pan is a round tin pan which was filled with milk and set aside until the cream arose to the top. This was before farmers had milk separators.

Mrs. Foote was a Herald correspondent for Hebron in the 1930s. "I never wrote any big stories, it was just local news. I never used a typewriter. I wrote all my news in longhand."

Mrs. Foote's hearing has become greatly impaired during the past year, but it hasn't hindered her game of bridge, the one activity she still enjoys.

"My son and two granddaughters come and play with me every so often."

According to her granddaughter, Mrs. Edward Foote, she plays a good game.

Her skin is still smooth with a minimum of wrinkles.

"Mother always said you should never use soap on your face because it made wrinkles. I always washed my face with just plain warm water."

Recalling memories of days gone by

Among Mrs. Alice Foote's many memories during her 108 years is the cookie jar held by her granddaughter, Mrs. Marjorie F. Marion of Putnam. During her birthday celebration Sunday at The Meadows Convalescent Home, she talks about the days when she used to bake cookies that kept the jar filled. (Herald photo by Dunn)

Today's news summary

Compiled from United Press International

State

HARTFORD — The two special state police anti-speeding squads in Connecticut each average about 15,000 speeding arrests a year or about 75 motorists every day for doing 71 miles per hour or over. The legal speed limit is 55 m.p.h. and those caught going between 61 and 70 m.p.h. are given a ticket, which results in a fine and "points" against a Connecticut driver's license. Those going over 71 m.p.h. are issued a summons requiring a court appearance and they could face suspension of licenses if caught too often.

NEW BRITAIN — Police today sought the motive, the weapon and whomever was responsible for the death of Brenda Hutchinson, 25, who was found about 1 a.m. Sunday with her throat slit.

Regional

BOSTON — Jimmy Carter carries a sometimes troubled campaign for president to historically Democratic Massachusetts this week to bask in the Kennedy magic. He will spend four hours in a jet tour Thursday side-by-side with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. in an outward indication of the end of the chill dividing the anti-Washington challenger and Kennedy heir to a rich political legacy.

CONCORD, N.H. — State officials are angry about a decision by the U.S. Senate Rules Committee to destroy more than 170,000 paper ballots from the closest Senate election in U.S. history which ultimately saw John Durkin, a Democrat, declared the winner. The committee chairman has been asked to return the ballots to New Hampshire.

National

OAKLAND, Calif. — Patricia Hearst may become a reluctant witness against SIA members William and Emily Harris because of her seven-year prison sentence on bank robbery charges.

WASHINGTON — It's adjournment week for Congress and members face a busy five days with votes expected on foreign aid, possible veto overrides and a House move to expel Rep. Andrew Hinshaw, R-Calif., convicted of taking bribes.

NEW YORK — Detectives want to know why a Chinese family of three jumped from their third-floor apartment after setting fire to a wastebasket containing possibly as much as $100,000.

International

DAMASCUS — Three pro-Palestinian terrorists, who shot their way into a downtown luxury hotel, took 90 hostages and held off police for four hours with a barrage of machine-gun fire, were hanged today in a public ceremony outside the same building. The three were captured — and their leader killed — by Syrian troops who stormed the hotel Sunday. Four hostages died in the battle and another 74 were hurt.

Drug charges dropped

Drug charges that had been lodged against a court probation officer in Manchester have been dismissed in Common Pleas Court 12, Sas Hartford.

Joel W. Lanier, 27, of Rocky Hill, an adult probation officer in Common Pleas Court 14 of Hartford, had been charged Aug. 19 with conspiracy to violate the state's controlled substances act and the prohibited substances act.

Manchester Police, who made the arrest, said the charges stemmed from alleged forging of drug prescriptions.

Lanier was suspended from his court job when he was arrested and he was reinstated after Judge John Reynolds dismissed the charges this week.

Town Meeting '76
Manchester
On Saturday we will join with the citizens of 5,000 towns across the United States whose work in town meetings will be compiled and merged to create a new and practical vision for our country's next 200 years. Copies of our work here will be presented to the Board of Directors and Gov. Ella Grasso, providing them with directives for the future. Nationally, the combined thought from all 5,000 towns will be given to both the President of the United States and the members of Congress as citizen guidelines.

By working together here we will have developed not only practical proposals for Manchester's future, but - A new sense of confidence in the future - A new belief in the process we call democracy - A new understanding that we care for and can rely on one another - A new commitment to working for and with one another.

An ambitious undertaking you say? Yes, and one with no chance of success unless you yourselves make the day happen.

We have provided for a place - Manchester High School. We will meet in the cafeteria area. The proper setting - Laiz Jr. Museum and the Manchester Historical Society planned the background for the day. Boy Scouts from Center Congregational will set it up.

The process - Trained leaders brought together by the League of Women Voters; working materials from the Institute of Cultural Affairs; women from the Jaycee Wives, who will be working all through the day to put your work in print and in your hand, so you yourself can see what has been accomplished.

The opportunity - Manchester Girl Scouts will be providing complete child care all through the day at Center Congregational Church. There will be games, lunch, and an opportunity for older children to be on their own. TISH of Manchester will be offering transportation to any elderly or handicapped persons. No one need miss out on the day because of little children or lack of a ride. Already two patients from the Meadows have registered and TISH is arranging station wagons for walkers and wheelchairs.

All services are free of charge, provided by citizen organizations so that all citizens may work together.

MACC News
Council has provided matching funds. Registration will be open to all of you all through the day. You may join with your friends and neighbors at any point between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. After the closing, copies of the proposals and thinking of the day will go home with you as a tangible sign to yourself of what we've been able to accomplish together. A number of our directors and legislators will be spending all or part of the day with us. But the really important person Saturday Oct. 2, is you. See you at Town Meeting - 76. Earthquakes Answer to Previous Puzzles

DEAR ABBY: Today begins Fire Prevention Week. I've had so much response to the column I published last year on the same occasion that I thought I'd repeat it.

In 1974 approximately 12,000 Americans perished in nearly three million fires. And in Canada, there were nearly 900 deaths caused by approximately 70,000 fires.

The chief causes of fires, in order of the toll taken, were: 1. Smoking 2. Electrical wiring 3. Heating and cooking equipment 4. Children playing with matches

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) others volunteer to do things for you, by all means let them, especially if they can gain advantages for you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your judgment is quite keen today, particularly in weighty matters. You're able to see things as they truly are.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Protect the interests of those you feel responsible for today. No one will try to antagonize if you take charge.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Check the newspapers and other sources for household sales today. You might be able to acquire something you take charge.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A friend of long standing who is older than you either in age or experience will show you this year. He will be instrumental in furthering your ambitions.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Possibilities for material accumulation are very good today, but you'll have to work for anything you get.

Cancer (June 21-July 22) Concentrate today on situations that mean something to you materially or careerwise.
