Tonight's debate may be decisive

By CLAY F. RICHARDS
United Press International
President Ford and Jimmy Carter go to the colonial capital of Williamsburg, Va., today for the final, perhaps decisive, debate of the Bicentennial presidential election before a television audience of up to 100 million people.

With 11 days to go in the campaign, the two will battle it out in a William & Mary College hall devoted to the gentlemen and scholars of Phi Beta Kappa.

The final debate will have no set topic — unlike the first two, which were devoted to domestic issues and foreign and military policy.

The wide open format, the narrowing gap between the two candidates in the polls, and the imminence of the election, could produce a more lively slugfest than formerly between the President and his Georgia challenger.

Ford will use the debate as a launching pad for a barnstorming cross-country trip ending in his adopted home town of Grand Rapids, Mich., on election day.

Carter, ahead in the polls; will follow his usual campaign schedule of returning to Plains, Ga., for a weekend of rest before launching a similar hectic last-week hop by jet across the nation.

On the eve of the debate Ford and Carter appeared on the same stage — but not at the same time — at the annual Al Smith dinner for Catholic charities in New York City. Both men addressed the gala dinner with somewhat gentle humor, an election year tradition.

The debate tonight is a 90-minute affair moderated by ABC-TV's Barbara Walters. Neither man seemed to be devoting the time to study that both did before the earlier confrontations.

"I'm having to do less studying of statistics and history since I've covered the gamut of domestic and defense and foreign affairs in preparation for the first two debates," Carter said. "I feel good about it."

Presidential press secretary Ron Nessen said Ford would study some briefing papers Friday afternoon but had no plans to change his debating style. "He'll be himself and answer the questions," Nessen said.

The setting is William & Mary's Phi Beta Kappa Hall and a stage barren except for the same two podiums, two chairs and the panel's table used in the first two encounters.

An audience of about 500 persons, about half journalists and half Women's League of Voters guests, will attend. The ground rule for them is to maintain respectful silence.

The auditorium seats have been oiled, lest they squeak.

Economic outlook issue may dominate campaign

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The statistical picture of the American economy on the eve of the presidential election shapes up as comfortable if you can afford it, but gloomy if you're sick, poor or jobless.

The economic outlook is almost certain to become a hotly debated issue in the closing days of the campaign.

All of the pre-election statistics now are in, and the indicators for prices, jobs and production show that healthy, educated Americans with jobs are holding their own, perhaps advancing. But the ill-educated, those in bad health, and the poor and jobless are losing ground.

The Census Bureau says the gap between America's rich and poor increased in the two most recent years surveyed, 1974 and 1975. At the same time the number of Americans living in poverty increased, reversing a trend of an ever smaller percentage of impoverished Americans.

The Labor Department said Thursday the cost of living increased a moderate 0.4 per cent in September.

But despite the 4.8 per cent annual rate of inflation—less than half the rates of 1974 and 1975—Americans who earned less than the median income of $264 per week lost ground.

The department said real spendable earnings—after adjustment for inflation and deductions for taxes and social security—for a working class family of four dipped 0.5 per cent in September and was 0.8 per cent less than a year ago. These are Americans whose gross weekly earnings are $179.19.

State, local offices to be open Monday

Manchester, along with the rest of Connecticut, will not observe Veteran's Day Monday, Oct. 25, the day designated by the federal government.

All town offices will be open as usual Monday.

Manchester and the rest of the state will observe Veteran's Day on its traditional date, Nov. 11.

Manchester's Sheltered Workshop supported by your United Way

Tall and slender in appearance and outgoing in manner Connie Schultz enthusiastically showed her room at home to a supervisor from the Manchester Sheltered Workshop. She fairly bubbled over with excitement as she pointed out snapshots of friends, posters of television and recording idols, her record player and record collection. Her tastefully furnished room reflected her interests and her attachment to friends and relatives.

The snapshots, which were in evidence everywhere, had been taken by Connie with her own camera. She displays these pictures proudly for they are a symbol of Connie's new life. These are her friends — friends made in the last two and a half years at the Manchester Sheltered Workshop, run by the Manchester

Association for Retarded Citizens, Inc.

According to Miss Judith Schultz, Connie's sister, this is a happy contrast to Connie's life a few brief years ago. Connie stayed home all day in their Manchester apartment with an aging grandmother as her only companion.

Judy explained, "Connie is 38 years old. We grew up in a small town in Pennsylvania. There were no facilities at all to give Connie the special type of schooling she obviously needed. After she completed the sixth grade, my mother was told to send her back."

Judy, who is employed at Aetna Life & Casualty Co. in Hartford, has made a home for Connie since they lost their mother several years ago. In February 1974, a close family friend urged Judy to attend an open house at the Manchester Sheltered Workshop. The friend felt it might be a place where Connie would be accepted.

Judy was very impressed on that visit and subsequently sought an appointment with Mrs. Clifford Sullivan, workshop supervisor. After the necessary interviews and evaluations had been completed, Connie became a client at the Sheltered Workshop on April 1, 1974.

Connie was trained to do simple tasks such as collating, folding letters, preparing mailings, packaging, and engaging in various other phases of the services performed by the Sheltered Workshop under sub-contract to local industry. Connie is paid for her work each Friday, as are the other clients.

According to Judy, "Connie takes her work very seriously. It is her 'career.' She saves her pay check for her own necessities and also little luxury items."

Judy continues, "I will always make a home for Connie and see that she has a happy and full life within the limits of her capabilities. I find it difficult to adequately express my gratitude to the Sheltered Workshop staff for the patience, the dedication and the loving kindness they have shown toward Connie."

Connie now has a host of friends, gainful occupation, new interests, a social life. She joined the Young Adult Recreation program sponsored by the MARC and has enjoyed many new activities and cultural pursuits. Not to be overlooked is the relief it has given Judy knowing that while she is working, her sister is not sitting idly at home.

"Our lives are different because of the Sheltered Workshop," says Judy. The MARC, which operates the Sheltered Workshop, is a United Way agency. Lewis Stein is the executive director and may be contacted at 494 Main St. for information concerning the association's many programs.

Candidate makes a point

Young journalists grill state senate candidates

By GREG PEARSON

Herald Reporter

David Barry and David Cohen, candidates for the Fourth Senatorial District seat, were grilled by 25 young journalists Thursday morning. Questions ranged from "How would you get more jobs for the state?" to "Why are you against a state income tax?" The candidates sat in front of the room, flanking the moderator for the session, Dayna Peck.

Who were the young people asking the tough questions of the two senate hopefuls? Members of the sixth-grade class of Michael Norman, a teacher at Buckley School.

Norman had invited both men to come to his class and answer questions from the students.

Shortly after 10:15 a.m., Barry and Cohen entered the room together. When they did, the heads turned and the eyes widened.

Two members of the class, Karen Scata and Guy Trombly, introduced the candidates. Miss Peck, who is president of her class, then called on other members to ask questions.

Each student had thought up his or her own question, which had previously been reviewed in class to make sure there were no duplicate or inappropriate ones.

Barry, who is the Democratic incumbent, responded to one question on how to reduce crime by saying, "We have to have flat sentences where, if you are sentenced to four years, you are in jail for four years."

Cohen, answering a question connected with state spending, said, "We have got to get back to a balanced budget."

He told the class that he has a daughter in the sixth grade who gets her allowance every Friday. She recently asked him for part of her allowance on Thursday, a day ahead of time.

"My answer to her — and I know you're not going to like it — was,

"Tracey, I don't believe in deficit spending. The purpose of her allowance is to teach her to live within a budget. That's also what our state government has to do," Cohen said.

Barry told the class he supports the bottle bill, which would outlaw disposable bottles. He also said that he would not favor returning the drinking age to 21.

"It would be very difficult to move the (majority) age for one item — the consumption of alcohol — and I don't think it will happen," Barry said.

One student asked Cohen if he

Flu clinic open until 9 tonight

There is a flu clinic today from 3 to 9 p.m. at Manchester High School. The monovalent vaccine form which appeared in yesterday's Herald may be used at today's clinic. DO NOT detach the registration from the entire information form. It MUST be kept intact.

A flu clinic will also be held Saturday, but the site has been changed. It will be at Iling Junior High School on E. Middle Tpke. behind the Manchester Police Station. The form which appeared in yesterday's Herald can also be used tomorrow by non-high risk persons between the ages of 25 through 59.

For high-risk persons ages 25 and over and those 60 years old or older, another form, a blue one, appears on page 9 of today's Herald. Other clinic information can also be found on page 9 of today's Herald.

Today's news summary

Compiled from United Press International

State

BRISTOL — About 30 of the roughly 300 persons working at the New Departure-Hyatt Bearings Division of General Motors walked off the job early today in an apparently unauthorized wildcat strike, company officials said. The dissidents are said to be protesting failure of the union local to come up with a new local contract.

HARTFORD — The death of the Hartford Times has brought almost 100 job offers from newspapers across the country seeking experienced journalists. Times Editor William P. Pike said the offers came from areas that included California, Delaware and Indiana.

HARTFORD — The city's effort to reduce budget deficits by charging admissions to its showplace rose garden in Elizabeth Park has cost Hartford $248 after paying ticket sellers. Attendance dropped from 100,000 a season to 3,000 when the $1 fee was imposed last spring.

Regional

AUGUSTA, Maine — A private instate bond sale by the Maine Municipal Bond Bank has been added to the grab bag of alternatives to raise money for communities whose normal financing routes have been blocked by an Indian law suit clouding title to much of the state's land area.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — Republican vice presidential candidate Robert Dole, seeking to boost GOP chances in southern New England, will fly in and out of Groton, Conn., and Providence Monday during a Veterans Day campaign swing. President Ford is given a slight edge in Connecticut and is slightly behind Jimmy Carter in Rhode Island.

BOSTON — Richard Picariello, wanted for a series of terrorists bombings during the Fourth of July weekend, was arrested Thursday night in Fall River and arraigned in Boston. Bond was set at $1 million.

National

CHICAGO — Author Saul Bellow is out there, looking for "dream space" today, so he can resume writing the novels that won him the Nobel Prize for Literature.

LOS ANGELES — Two planes collided over a residential neighborhood yesterday, scattering burning wreckage and pieces of the two pilots over a wide area, including an elementary school.

DETROIT — The first "grassroots conference" of U. S. Roman Catholics debated abortion, divorce, birth control, homosexuality, capital punishment and expanded church roles for women in a prelude to historic votes on those issues. Regardless of the outcome of voting today, the conference has set in motion machinery for rank-and-file Catholics, especially women, to exercise a voice in setting social policies.

WASHINGTON — The Nuclear Regulatory Commission ejects advice of a reactor engineer who recommended shutting down 36 nuclear power plants where over-pressurized water cooling systems could lead to serious accidents.

DESTREHAN, La. — A thick fog settled over the Mississippi River today and delayed the search for bodies entombed in 31 cars tossed from the deck of the ferryboat George Prince by a collision with an oil tanker. Twenty-two bodies have been recovered and at least 56 others still are missing.

International

HONG KONG — The widow of Mao Tse-tung and other key radical elements in the Chinese Communist party have been "liquidated," the official New China News Agency reports.

GENEVA — Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith says he does not consider the British-American plan for black majority rule negotiable. Formal talks between Smith and leaders of four feuding black factions will open here Oct. 28, chaired by Britain's U. N. Ambassador Ivor Richard.

Grasso addresses 700 at Hadassah luncheon

By BETTY RYDER
Family/Travel Editor
"Goals are to be met, so that new goals can be set," Gov. Ella Grasso said addressing more than 700 members of the Connecticut Region of Hadassah and guests on Wednesday, Oct. 20 at the Hartford Hilton.
The women, assembled for Hadassah's "Hand of Healing" luncheon, heard Mrs. Grasso lead the work of the organization and the stirring efforts on behalf of Hadassah University Hospital at Mt. Scopus and the Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center at Ein Karem in Israel.
"It was just one year ago that the hospital was dedicated," she said. "Hadassah in the country and Hadassah in Connecticut has performed so many great and outstanding tasks."
Connecticut's first lady cited Hadassah's great humanitarian accomplishments and said, "The hand of healing represents respite from pain."
In welcoming Mrs. Grasso, Mrs. Lester J. Palkus, chairman of the luncheon, said, "If you want a job done well, give it to a woman. And we did."
"What we give to others, we cannot keep. If we give inspiration, we are inspired. And in this sharing, we grow. We must light the way and give of our enthusiasm and bring glory to Hadassah."
Mrs. Samuel Blank, president of the Connecticut Region of Hadassah, presented the governor with a "Hand of Healing" citation in recognition of her service to countless charitable, religious, and cultural organizations.
In the presentation, Mrs. Blank said, "In our midst is a woman who has become a success in the political arena. She has the administrative abilities to chart and steer the courses of our state."
Among the list of honorees presented by Mrs. Aaron Weisman, National Board member, was Mrs. Helen Solomon, a founding member and second president of the Manchester Chapter of Hadassah.
She has been a member of the Temple Beth Shalom Sisterhood for many years and served as auditor for the Manchester Hospital Auxiliary's

Rec Needs scraps for craft projects

The Manchester Recreation Department women's programs are collecting scrap materials for use in women's craft programs. Materials may be dropped off from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the West Side Rec, 110 Cedar St., from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. There is no charge for the class.
Items needed include coffee cans, egg cartons, gallon jugs, detergent bottles, plastic lids, cardboard tubes, buttons, READER — Yes, fabric, pine cones, and scrap fabrics.
Contributions of scrap materials helps the programs keep miscellaneous costs down and will be used, mainly, for a Christmas craft workshop which will be conducted from Nov. 30 to Dec. 14 on Tuesdays from 12:30 to 2 p.m. There is no charge for the class.
Participants will receive instruction on making yoyos, wreaths, a patchwork wreath, an egg carton cross or tree, stuffed felt characters, and styrofoam characters.
Participants must bring their own scissors, ruler, pen, marking pen, calico fabrics, needle and thread, one pound coffee can top, wire wreath in a choice of size, etc.
Currently the class is filled, but an additional class may be started on Fridays if there is enough interest. For more information call 645-8796.

Green School Fair Saturday

The Raggedy Ann hanging being admired by Jean Norton is one of many attractive items available at the Yankee Harvest Fair at the Green School on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Admiring the article and holding others are Diane Schaller, left, and Sandra Dunn, committee members of the fair. There will also be candy, plants, attic treasures, thumb prints and a children's area. Special features include Stuart Jones, charcoal artist, a blacksmith and a 50-50 raffle. Refreshments will be available and there'll be a clown for enjoyment. (Herald photo by Dunn) would like to see more picnic stops and rest areas along Connecticut highways.

Cohen replied, "Before I spent money on that, I would want to see state money spent on making sure people have jobs and that industry stays in the state. That (the rest areas) is a frill we really can't afford."
In answering another question, Cohen continued on the money matter.
"I would like to bring in a sound fiscal policy, which I don't think the Democrats have even thought about in the last ten years. We have to exercise restraint," he said.
Near the end of the hour-long session, Barry said he supports equal rights for women.

"It's very fundamental to me. I'm pleased you've elected a young lady as president of your class in the spirit of the equal rights amendment," he said.
In a final statement, Cohen said that he asked his daughter what subject she thought the class would be interested in.
"She said boys," Cohen said, and then went on to tell the students why he is opposed to a state income tax.
At the end of the session, both candidates praised the class for their intelligent questions.
"I think we should lower the voting age to 17," Barry said. "You're well informed, and you obviously read the newspapers."
As Barry and Cohen left the room, they were surrounded by the young journalists seeking autographs from the two men.

Today's thought

A singlemindedness
The teachings of Jesus carry a unique vividness and lack of compromise, but one of his clearest statements may leave some people cold. "If your hand should cause you to enter into life crippled, than to have two hands and go to hell." (Mark 9:43)
With metaphorical language Jesus pins us down to the need for sacrifice and singlemindedness. What is important in your life? Anything worth cutting off your hand for? What are your priorities? Can you say "yes" and mean it?
I think Jesus would say, "If your business causes you to sin, get another job." You cannot be all things to all people. Affirm Christ as Lord, not just on Sunday, but daily. If you do this, some things will have to go. Count on it being costly, but be singleminded.

Methodist women to meet

All United Methodist Women of the Connecticut Valley District churches will gather Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at North United Methodist Church for their fall meeting.

The theme of the meeting is "The Spirit Moving." Ms. Helen Hawley of East Providence, R.I., mission coordinator for "Christian Personhood" for the Southern New England Conference of United Methodist Women, will be guest speaker. Her topic: "Holy Spirit in Christian Experience."

District officers will be elected and installed during the afternoon. The Rev. Owen Oslund of Barnside United Methodist Church, East Hartford, will lead a communion and pledge service.

Also participating in the service will be the Sacred Dance Group of Center Congregational Church. The group will interpret "How My Soul" by Sister Miriam Therese Winter of the Medical Mission Sisters.

After the service, refreshments will be served during a fellowship period.

Registration will take place at 2 p.m. and is open to all women and friends of area Methodist churches.

About town

The Catholic Graduates Club of Greater Hartford will have a Sunday social Oct. 24 from 3 to 7 p.m. at Podunk Mill, Sullivan Ave., South Windsor. Prospective members are welcome.

Center Congregational Church eighth graders will meet Saturday noon at the church to decorate pumpkins and take them to the Newton Children's Hospital.

The Organization of the Handicapped will have its monthly social Monday from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in Cronin Hall of Mayfair Gardens, Main and N. Main Sts. All people who are handicapped, whatever the nature of their affliction, under the age of 65 and living east of the Connecticut River, are invited to attend the social.

John Trumbull

The smart people still save at Hartford National Connecticut's first writer was pretty astute. After all, his politics helped shape a state, his writing pioneered American poetry, and by 1792, his money was working for him in Connecticut's first bank. The bank was Hartford National. John Trumbull's bank. John Trumbull kept his money in a Hartford National account, right where he could borrow, get financial advice, and take advantage of the 1792 version of checking, all at once. It added up. Trumbull saw the advantage of putting his money in

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT SWINE AND VICTORIA INFLUENZA (FLU) VACCINE (BIVALENT)

The Disease
Influenza (flu) is caused by viruses. When people get flu they may have fever, chills, headache, dry cough or muscle aches. Illness may last several days or a week or more, and complete recovery is usual. However, complications may lead to pneumonia or death in some people. For the elderly and people with diabetes or heart, lung, or kidney diseases, flu may be especially serious. It is unlikely that you have adequate protection against swine flu, since it has not caused widespread human outbreaks in the past 45 years. You may or may not have adequate protection against Victoria flu, although many Americans had this flu last winter. It was responsible for over 12,000 deaths.

The Vaccine
The vaccine will not give you flu because it is made from killed viruses. Today's flu vaccines cause fewer side effects than those used in the past. In contrast with some other vaccines, flu vaccine can be taken safely during pregnancy.

One shot will protect most people from swine and Victoria flu during the next flu season; however, either a second shot or a different dosage may be required for persons under age 25. If you are under 25 and a notice regarding such information is not attached, this information will be provided to you wherever you receive the vaccine.

Possible Vaccine Side Effects
Most people will have no side effects from the vaccine. However, tenderness at the site of the shot may occur and last for several days. Some people will also have fever, chills, headache, or muscle aches within the first 48 hours.

Special Precautions
As with any vaccine or drug, the possibility of severe or potentially fatal reactions exists. However, flu vaccine has rarely been associated with severe or fatal reactions. In some instances people receiving vaccine have had allergic reactions. You should note very carefully the following precautions:

- Children under a certain age should not routinely receive flu vaccine. Please ask about age limitations if this information is not attached.
- People with known allergy to eggs should receive the vaccine only under special medical supervision.
- People with fever should delay getting vaccinated until the fever is gone.
- People who have received another type of vaccine in the past 14 days should consult a physician before taking the flu vaccine.

If you have any questions about flu or flu vaccine, please ask.

REGISTRATION FORM

I have read the above statement about swine and Victoria flu, the vaccine, and the special precautions. I have had an opportunity to ask questions, including questions regarding vaccination recommendations for persons under age 25, and understand the benefits and risks of flu vaccination. I request that it be given to me or to the person named below of whom I am the parent or guardian.

Judge declares mistrial

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — The trial of John Adamson on charges of murdering investigative reporter Don Bolles will have to start all over again because a prosecutor talked too much out of court. A judge declared a mistrial Thursday on grounds of "massive prejudicial publicity" caused by the public comments of Maricopa County Attorney Donald Harris, who said — while jury selection was going on — murder charges were near against a half-dozen other persons in the cat-bomb slaying. Gov. Raul Castro, simultaneously with the mistrial ruling, dismissed Harris, head of the prosecution team, from any further connection with the trial.

Flu clinic data

Today's flu clinic is at Manchester High School from 3 to 9 p.m. for non-high risk ages 25 through 59. Monovalent vaccine only will be administered. The registration form appeared in Thursday's Herald.

Another clinic will be Saturday at Illing Junior High School from 8:30 a.m. to noon. Both bivalent and monovalent vaccines will be administered to the following groups: People age 60 and over, high risk ages 25 and over, non-high risk ages 25 through 59.

Forms appearing in Thursday's and today's Herald may be filled out beforehand by those attending the clinic. DO NOT detach the registration form from the rest of the information form. IT MUST be kept intact.

The BIVALENT, blue, form is to be filled out ONLY for people age 60 and over and for high risk ages 25 and over. The MONOVALENT form, white, is to be used ONLY for non-high risk ages 25 through 59.

Entrance to Illing is the driveway east of the police department. However, because of the limited parking space, Patrol Capt. Henry Minor of the Manchester Police Department strongly recommends car pooling and walking from nearby areas. There will be policemen monitoring traffic in the area.

No local senior citizen has had any ill effects so far after taking the flu shot, according to Wally Fortin, director of Senior Citizen of the Manchester Police Department. Volunteers serving at Saturday's clinic are asked to meet in the Illing cafeteria at 8 a.m. that day for instructions.

Dr. Alice Turck, town health director, said that volunteers will be needed for the three remaining flu clinics on Oct. 27, Nov. 10 and Dec. 8. Anyone wishing to volunteer may call the Town Health Department at 648-5281.

Redlegs classiest team in all sports

NEW YORK (UPI)—Hailed by their manager as the classiest team in all sports, the Cincinnati Reds are champions of the world for the second straight year and are baseball's obvious dynasty of the future.

The winners of four pennants in seven years and the first National League team since the 1921-22 New York Giants to win two straight World Series, the Reds will be even stronger in 1977 than in 1975, according to Manager Sparky Anderson.

Reds now compared with best
NEW YORK (UPI)—To have his team compared on the same level with the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees is not a satisfaction enough for Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson after the Reds completed a four-game sweep of the New York Yankees and became the first National League team in 54 years to win back-to-back World Series.

East's offensive backs

Set to face Xavier High tonight are East Catholic offensive backs, top, (l. to r.) Bob Frank, Fred Cecchini, Mike Furlong, and front, Dave Kisner (11) and Ken Brasa (5).

Manchester home Saturday

Low-flying Eagles test Xavier tonight

By LEN AUSTER
Herald Sportswriter

Out of the frying pan and into the fire goes East Catholic's football team as tonight at 7:30 at Dillon Stadium the winless Eagles tackle perennial state power Xavier High. Manchester High, 0-4, after a tough opening part of the schedule hopes to see some daylight Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at Memorial Field taking on equally winless Wethersfield High.

The only lineup change for East is at defensive end where freshman John Karzar will start for injured Steve Knicic. Coach John LaFontana indicated he'll start sophomore Ken Brasa at quarterback with junior Dave Kisner, a transfer student from Xavier, in reserve.

Xavier is 4-0 to date and while it can't boast great personnel, what there is solid. "There's a lot less variety to their offense than in the past but what they do they do very well," LaFontana stated. Two Falcon standouts to watch out for are quarterback Jim Camasta and halfback Rich Stanton.

East is 0-4, appears overmatched, but is more than willing to take up the gauntlet. "We love to play Xavier and vice versa. Ever since we beat them (in 1965 and 1966) to spoil perfect seasons they've been ready for us," mused LaFontana. Xavier leads the series between the clubs, 6-2.

Each passing Saturday, Manchester creeps closer and closer to that elusive first win. If the Silk Towers can maintain the momentum built in the second half last week against Conard, they'll be in business.

"People are starting to settle into positions and we've been improving each week," mused rookie Coach Jack Holik. "The execution in the line and in the backfield is getting better and our secondary has been getting better."

Manchester's defensive backfield will get a severe test as Wethersfield likes to air out the football. The Eagles in the last two weeks have attempted over 40 aerials each week.

Their score 43 points against Penney last Saturday but still lost as the Knights notched a lofty 71 tally. Bill Rumley led the offense with 13 touchdowns and Gerald Desrosches his favorite target.

"If we come ready to play Saturday, we shouldn't have many problems. But we have to be ready and determined to play 48 minutes of football," Holik said.

"Our players have been giving it all they can and we have to be patient. You can't expect miracles overnight. But the defeatist attitude here is being overcome and our players have come off the field after games with their heads high. The eventual clincher is winning a few and I feel we have good opportunities (to do so) in the last six games," the Trinity grad concluded.

Colbert golf leader

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI) — Jim Colbert, clothed in "two two-ply cashmere sweaters, a vest and rain pants," braved the cold weather Thursday and shot a three-under-par 67 to take the first-round lead in the $125,000 Southern Open golf tournament.

Colbert, one of the early leaders, saw his score hold up throughout the day. Cold, wet weather and slick greens at the Green Island Country Club took their toll on his opposition.

Colbert's strongest challenge came from Mac McLendon, whose birdie putt at the 18th hole fell an inch short, leaving him in a tie for second with defending champion Hubert Green and George Archer at 68.

Soccer

MANCHESTER HIGH Manchester High's soccer game with Conard yesterday at West Hartford was postponed because of wet grounds. That game has been rescheduled today at 2:30.

Manchester's contest with Enfield High is not Saturday morning as has been listed in this week's sports slate. The Enfield game has been rescheduled for Thursday, Nov. 4, at 2:30.

Jeff Lombardo scored two goals and Glenn Wilson one in overtime as Bennet Junior High's soccer team played to a 3-3 stalemate with Timothy Edwards, 3-0, yesterday. Bennet is now 2-1 for the season.

Bennet outshot Edwards, 17-7. Danny Collins, Tom Hajbucki and goalie Jim McKay all played well for the Bears.

ILLING JV Two second period goals by Scott Goehring lifted the Illing Junior High jayvee soccer team to a 2-1 victory over Koscusko of Enfield yesterday.

Eric Juttner and Todd Staves helped set up the second illing score. Illing is now 3-4 for the season.

ILLING Breaking out of its scoring slump, Illing Junior High's soccer team scored its second shutout by 15-12 and 15-9 scores.

HARTFORD (UPI) — The New England Whalers of the World Hockey Association Thursday sent rookie Brett Callighen to the Rhode Island Reds of the American Hockey League.

Callighen, 23, was the top scorer with three goals in the Whalers' exhibition season but failed to score in the team's first four season games.

The Whalers, who have lost three games and tied one, open a five-game home stand tonight at the Hartford Civic Center hosting The Houston Aeros.

Whalers General Manager Ron Ryan said Callighen was sent to the Reds to give him more playing time.

NEW YORK (UPI) — A night of goaltending against Montreal can be a frustrating experience.

Toronto netminder Wayne Thomas found that out in the final minutes of a 5-3 loss to the Canadiens Thursday night.

The Maple Leafs had erased a 2-0 deficit Saturday but still lost as the Knights notched a lofty 71 tally. Bill Rumley led the offense with 13 touchdowns and Gerald Desrosches his favorite target.

"If we come ready to play Saturday, we shouldn't have many problems. But we have to be ready and determined to play 48 minutes of football," Holik said.

Volleyball

East Catholic Upended in girls' volleyball action yesterday was East Catholic, downed 15-12 and 15-11 by home-standing Rockville High. The Eagles now sport a 3-5 record.

Brad Farley, Gary Swanson and Frank and Ralph Ley also played well for the young Indians, now 7-1 for the campaign.

Manchester High's girls field hockey team blanked Conard, 1-0, yesterday at Memorial Field. The Indians now stand 4-6-1 for the season with their next start Sunday at Simsbury High against the defending state champs.

Nancy Donadio pushed in the winning goal for Manchester with 15 minutes left in the second half. Conard applied pressure trying to get the tying goal but the Silk Town defense proved up to the occasion. Goalie Lois Diana made several fine stops to preserve the shutout.

Manchester's jayvees battled to a tie with Linda Cheney scoring for the locals. Wendy Kemp, Lisa Schwartz and Suzanne Killian played well for the 2-3-4 jayvees.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Julius Erving, the man they call "Dr. J," sat under the glare of hot television lights after signing a reported six-year, $3 million contract with the Philadelphia 76ers.

The 76ers, in making Erving the highest paid player in pro basketball history Thursday, paid the New York Nets $3 million — the highest sale price in professional sports history — for the right to sign the 6-6 superstar after winning a five-team tug-of-war for his services.

Erving, 26, held out after the Nets refused to renegotiate his contract and club owner Roy Boe says he granted the 76ers, New York Knicks, Los Angeles Lakers, Milwaukee Bucks and Buffalo Braves permission to talk with Erving.

It is hoped Erving can bring a National Basketball Association championship to this long-suffering franchise, the first since 1967 and the other players," he said. "Players set a goal at the beginning of the season to win a championship. If that remains first and foremost, you shouldn't have to worry about this problem."

Coach Gene Shue said he will use Erving tonight in the season opener against the San Antonio Spurs.

Dr. J set to help 76ers

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Julius Erving, the man they call "Dr. J," sat under the glare of hot television lights after signing a reported six-year, $3 million contract with the Philadelphia 76ers.

The 76ers, in making Erving the highest paid player in pro basketball history Thursday, paid the New York Nets $3 million — the highest sale price in professional sports history — for the right to sign the 6-6 superstar after winning a five-team tug-of-war for his services.

Erving, 26, held out after the Nets refused to renegotiate his contract and club owner Roy Boe says he granted the 76ers, New York Knicks, Los Angeles Lakers, Milwaukee Bucks and Buffalo Braves permission to talk with Erving.

It is hoped Erving can bring a National Basketball Association championship to this long-suffering franchise, the first since 1967 and the other players," he said. "Players set a goal at the beginning of the season to win a championship. If that remains first and foremost, you shouldn't have to worry about this problem."

Coach Gene Shue said he will use Erving tonight in the season opener against the San Antonio Spurs.

Havlicek sparks Celtics

NEW YORK (UPI) — Boston Celtics veteran John Havlicek decided to welcome the newcomer Indiana Pacers to the National Basketball Association.

Unfortunately for Indiana and the 16,178 fans, who jammed into the Market Square Arena in Indianapolis to witness the first regular-season NBA game involving a former ABA club, Havlicek made it a rude greeting.

Playing with the enthusiasm of a rookie, the 36-year-old Havlicek, scored 32 points including eight in overtime Thursday night to lead the defending NBA champion Celtics to a 129-122 victory over the Pacers.

"If you don't keep right after them all the time, they'll get to you," Indiana Coach Bobby Leonard said of the Celtics. "And that Havlicek is something else...."

The Pacers went at the Celtics' "right from the start" and opened up an 18-point, second-quarter lead. They still led by 11 at the start of the fourth quarter before Havlicek and the recently purchased Sidney Wicks went to work.

Havlicek then proceeded to hit his next eight shots from the floor and Wicks, who took over at center when starter Dave Cowens fouled out with just seven points and 7:27 remaining, proceeded to take control of the backboards.

The Celtics tied the game, at 113-113, with 50 seconds left when Havlicek sank a running one-hander. The Pacers twice regained possession but a shot by center Dan Rodfield, who finished with 23 points, went awry at the buzzer, the game went into overtime and Havlicek worked his special magic.

Charlie Scott scored 23 points and JoJo White 23 for the Celtics. Billy Knight led the Pacers with 29 points while Wilbur Jones added 21.

Knicks 102, Lakers 97

Bill Bradley and Jim McMillan combined for 32 second-half points to lead point of Milwaukee and give new Coach Yates Locke a successful start. Ernie DiGregorio, added 24 points and Johnny Neumann scored 21.

Adrian Dantley scored 15 points and hauled in a game-high 19 rebounds.

Rudy Tomjanovich, held to six points for three quarters, scored 14 fourth-quarter points, including 11 in a row, to help Houston and former ABA Coach Tom Nissulke overcome a 12-point deficit and down Atlanta. Mike Newlin led the Rockets with 33 points while John Drew topped the Hawks with 29, all in the first three quarters.

Candidates debate in Vernon

BARBARA RICHMOND
Herald Reporter

More jobs and tax reform are the prime concerns of Democrat and Republican candidates.

Candidates for congress from the Second District, 55th Senatorial District candidates and those running for representative from four districts spoke at a "Meet the Candidates" night Wednesday sponsored by the Vernon League of Women Voters.

Candidates list

Sitting in for Congressman Christopher Dodd, unable to attend due to other commitments, was Mark Warner of Vernon. Warner is on leave from college to work with Dodd. Dodd's Republican opponent is Dick Jackson, a CPA from Willimantic. Senatorial candidates are incumbent Robert Houley (D) of Somers and Peggy Roch (R) of Mansfield. Candidates for State Representative are: Morgan Campbell (R) and Chester Morgan (D) both of Vernon, 56th District; incumbent Teresale Bertinoun (D) of East Windsor and Daniel McKeever (R) of Ellington, 57th District; incumbent Aloysius Ahearn (D), of Bolton and Dorothy Miller (R) of Bolton, 58th District; and incumbent Robert Walsh (D) of Coventry and Malcolm Harris (R) of Willington, 53rd District.

Congress

The candidates and some of their remarks:

- Warner (about and for Dodd) - He has attacked the issue of getting jobs and bringing new industries to this area. He supported laws to put people back to work. He is morally opposed to abortion but doesn't feel a constitutional amendment is the right vehicle as it would create a number of legal problems. He opposes blanket pardons for draft dodgers and evaders. He is for some kind of work-off period.
- Jackson - Our government hasn't been responsive to our problems. He said the solution to economic problems is to get the government off the backs of the taxpayers and put money back in their pockets. He also is opposed to blanket pardons for draft evaders and questioned if blanket amnesty is given, then with what will we pay the veterans. He supports the pro-life amendment and doesn't see any problems it would create.

57th District

- Bertinoun-Introduced legislation would improve accountability and get the best returns on the tax dollars; is happy to see the flat grant for education challenged; is fighting for the ban on nonreturnable bottles; wants to see legislation to preserve farmland; and is concerned about controlling government spending.
- McKeever-Concerned about high rate of unemployment in the area, 9.4 per cent in Vernon and 6.6 per cent in Ellington. He would like to see the legislature develop and adopt long-range plans to correct this and would like to do away with the flat grant system.

56th District

- Morgan-His major concern is people and jobs and job security. He is for tax reform, expansion of vocational-education programs and is against the "Bottle Bill."
- Campbell-Is an advocate of a balanced state budget, is against a state income tax, and is for the Bottle Bill. He wants to see the unification of the plan to use instant judgments are made on a clustered basis. Thinks all persons under one party banner shouldn't be lumped under one thought. He said he represents the people in his district (Coventry, Tolland and Willington) and is interested in serving them.
- Walsh-Said he has no political record to go on. She is a widow but her husband was a country doctor. She was a school principal and active on many local committees. Asked the voters to consider the tax raises approved by the last general assembly when considering returning them in November. Is tired of errors in state financing, talk about completing 1984.

53rd District

- Harris-Termed the past fiscal year the worst ever is working a people-oriented campaign, is upset because taxes went up last fiscal year and questions some educational programs mandated and dominated by the state.
- Walsh-Thinks a lot of judgments are made on a clustered basis. Thinks all persons under one party banner shouldn't be lumped under one thought. He said he represents the people in his district (Coventry, Tolland and Willington) and is interested in serving them.
- Roch-Said she has no political record to go on. She is a widow but her husband was a country doctor. She was a school principal and active on many local committees. Asked the voters to consider the tax raises approved by the last general assembly when considering returning them in November. Is tired of errors in state financing, talk about completing 1984.

55th District

- Miller-Has served a total of five terms in the legislature and wants to go back. Doesn't feel the state's Democratic government has done every board and commission to see if they are really needed.
- Ahearn-Is just completing his first two-year term. Said he hoped he would be vocal and hardworking "and I was." Said he got 16 bills passed and worked hard

South Windsor parents charge Grade 6 course is 'morally sick'

By JUDY KUEHNEL

A group of South Windsor parents are up in arms this week, their target being a Grade 6 social studies program called "Man, a Course of Studies" (MACOS).

The newly organized parents group, Citizens for Better Education, met this week in hopes of bringing attention to the program they accuse of having "detrimental effects" on their children.

Coinciding with the meeting was the release of an 18-page booklet to members of the Board of Education, Supt. Robert Goldman, the Manchester Herald, as well as a parents group and other media.

The booklet is entitled "Survival." It is signed by "Mary, a Concerned Parent."

"Mary" said she is a parent of a child now taking the course of study and felt she must remain anonymous because she feared losing her job in the South Windsor school system.

The lengthy booklet charges the social studies course is "a negative, one-sided, dishonest picture of man. It is presently very cleverly, is well executed and is very lethal."

"Mary" continues to state that "MACOS undermines the traditional American way of life and tradition. The lessons describe average practices of primitive cultures. The MACOS tests are morally sick and would alienate students from belief in moral values of their parents and local communities."

The fact sheet presented by Citizens for Better Education states MACOS deals with violence and survival. It states the books never leave the classroom and there are no homework assignments.

Children, according to the fact sheet, study the baboon for three months with emphasis on human beings descending through the ages as animals, therefore intimating that human beings are animals.

The fact sheet states moral questions such as "Under what circumstances are human lives expendable? When a society is in danger, which members can be sacrificed?"

Goldman's answer

Supt. Dr. Goldman was not in his office this morning. However, a spokesperson for his office read a statement in which Dr. Goldman explained the reason for the study of the gull, salmon, and baboon cycles is to give contrast to the starkness of primitive life as compared to our complicated society.

In his statement, Dr. Goldman says there are areas that can be considered controversial. However, to avoid these areas for that reason alone is to admit that certain things are too difficult or repugnant to deal with.

"I truly cannot believe," said Dr. Goldman, "this to be so."

"During the seven-year period this program has been taught," he said,

"The teaching staff has developed the expertise to deal with the complexities of the program. If we accept anthropology as a necessary part of the social sciences, then we have a course that uses primary source materials in an honest and involved manner."

Real meaning

Dr. Goldman said he has observed classes and has seen students struggling with deep questions.

"I have seen students understand the real meaning of being human," he said, "when they discuss the family and parents...and all the classes were enthusiastic and involved."

"I would be less than honest if I said this is the only social studies program that has merit and has good. However to say that this program is evil or bad is false also."

Dr. Goldman said he believes the MACOS program is a valuable curriculum and has served the system well to this point.

The Citizens for Better Education suggested parents look into the MACOS program. It will be reviewed by the board at its meeting Tuesday. Place and time will be announced.

East Hartford thanks its '76 commission

By SHEILA TULLER

East Hartford's American Revolution Bicentennial Commission ended its formal celebration of the country's 200th anniversary with pomp and ceremony Thursday night at Town Hall.

The flags of the United States, Connecticut, and East Hartford were presented by the East Hartford Police and Fire Explorers to open the ceremony.

Mayor Richard H. Blackstone formally welcomed everyone. His aide, Michael Valuk, was master of ceremonies.

The EHTH's brass ensemble and choir entertained. The film "Resolved to Free" narrated by Katharine Hepburn and documenting our country's beginnings, was shown.

The highlights of East Hartford's Bicentennial celebrations during the past two years were shown in a slide presentation narrated by Bicentennial Commissioner Richard Brimley.

Terry Blackstone, chairlady of the commission, presented certificates of appreciation to citizens, groups, businesses, and friends of East Hartford.

Walked 232 miles

Among those honored were two young men, Thomas Fornabi and Thomas Sayers, for their part in the re-enactment of the march of Comte de Rochambeau.

Fornabi and Sayers were two of only three marchers who completed the 232-mile trek from Providence, R.I. to Verplanck, N.Y. on foot.

Fornabi was the official drummer of the army and Sayers carried the flag of East Hartford during the march.

Cathy Dorn of Penney High School's Spirit of '76 Club recognized Mrs. Blackstone as the commission for outstanding programs. Miss Dorn also presented a plaque to commissioner John Larson, advisor to Penney's Bicentennial Club.

At the close of the ceremony, Ralph Secord, vice chairman of the commission, presented a certificate of appreciation to Mrs. Blackstone from her fellow commissioners for her guidance and inspiration over the past two years.

Mrs. Blackstone said, "I wouldn't have missed this experience for the world." She received a standing ovation from the large gathering. She also said the commission still has three more projects to complete. In the past a meeting from the Charter Oak will be planted.

Representatives of the commission will also take part in high school assemblies to formally thank all the students, especially the singing groups and musicians who took part in many of the Bicentennial activities.

In a few days, the commission will bury a time capsule. It will contain memorabilia of all the commission programs, a town report, children's school papers, report cards, a teacher contract and salary schedule, and souvenirs.

These last items, a pewter medallion, Goodwin's history of East Hartford, Huguenot and Goodwin School House note paper, are at Raymond Library.

Neighbors to watch for burglars

Vernon

A Neighborhood Crime Watch Program will be launched in the Skinner Rd. area tonight by William Yetz of the Vernon Police Department. Yetz has been assigned to the fulltime position of community relations officer.

Yetz said the police would like residents to feel that they and their homes and property are always safe and secure from thieves.

"It is being realistic we must at all times consider the possibility, and

Fire fighters kept busy

Bolton

Members of the Bolton Volunteer Fire Department responded to 34 calls in the last three months. There were 10 oxygen calls, four mutual aid, three searches, three car accidents, two car fires, two alarm malfunctions, two brush fires, one chimney fire and four miscellaneous. The BVFD received a number of donations in memory of Frank Fredo who passed away Aug. 17. The money will be used to purchase medical equipment.

The Syndel Production Co. donated a 1953 four-wheel drive Dodge Power wagon to the department. It will be department's brush truck.

Overbrook snagged again

Vernon

The Soil Conservation Service plans to widen the brook bottom and flatten the side slopes to help decrease the velocity of the water flowing through the channel.

It was thought that 20-foot easements would be sufficient but now it is found that 24-feet would be the outside distance of the stream. Szeszney also said he has found out that the federal money will not cover any "damage" claimed by property owners. He said in his opinion permanent, not temporary, easements are needed before the work can be started. He said this will require extensive surveying by a professional. The permanent easements involve the three properties which were to be condemned.

The conservation service will not go ahead with the project until all easements are signed and if there is now a long delay it has indicated it will turn its efforts to projects in other towns.

The council asked the mayor, Szeszney, and the town attorney to get figures together concerning the charges for the survey and such and to report back to the next council meeting.

Chief defends department

Vernon

BARBARA RICHMOND

Defending a department "I am proud of," Police Chief Herman Fritz told the Town Council Tuesday he was responding to complaints made by merchants in the Windsor Ave. shopping area.

Merchants petitioned the council to increase police surveillance there. They made the request "in view of the alarming and increasing crime rate in our area."

Some merchants also charged that police cruisers sat in one spot for several hours and that they heard there was a morale problem in the department.

Chief Fritz said, "It is well known that crime has been escalating at a rapid pace nationally for years. Vernon too, has experienced the same problems as any town or city in the nation."

He said the department has been actively engaged in pilot programs to find new techniques to combat crime and to make the patrol officer more efficient.

He said the hours of shifts have been changed to equalize the workload and shifts are unequally staffed to put more men in the field when activity is highest.

Chief Fritz said in about one month a management study will be done here. The study data will tell supervisors when, where, and what crimes are happening so adjustments can be made in the patrol area.

Chief Fritz outlined some of the work done by the patrol officers citing incidents in the Windsor Ave. area. Mrs. Lois Barlow, speaking for Barlow Motors, said in the past few years no calls had been received from police even though windows were broken, car keys taken, and windshields damaged by gunshot.

Chief Fritz said that on July 26 the bay door at Barlow's was found open, a note left and the building secured. He also mentioned a break found into Cumberland Farms on Sept. 3 although a July 15 break was missed.

Concerning the patrol cars parked for long periods of time, Chief Fritz said that on Oct. 2 from 9 to about 6:15 p.m. two patrol cars were indeed parked at the former Better Val-U (Windsor Ave.) parking lot discussing radar operation procedures.

Fact-finding session fails to achieve settlement

By GREG PEARSON

Herald Reporter
This week's fact-finding meeting between the town and the union that represents workers of the Public Works Department drew opposite reactions from the heads of both sides.

Charles F. McCarthy Jr., assistant town manager, said that he is now hopeful a contract settlement can be reached between the town and the union. The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees—Local 991. But, Robert Fuller, head of Local 991, said that he expects the union's contract negotiations might go to binding arbitration.

Local 991, which represents about 110 blue collar workers in the Public Works Department, has been working without a contract since July 1. They failed to reach agreement with the town in the first two steps for settling Municipal labor disputes, mediation and arbitration.

In the third step, fact-finding, the state appoints a fact-finder, who listens to both sides of the case and then writes a report on what he feels the contract agreement should be between both sides.

The fact-finder is required to make an attempt at mediating between the two sides, and, according to McCarthy, this is primarily what David Weinstein, the fact-finder for 991, did at the meeting Wednesday.

"We didn't have any elements of fact-finding. It was strictly a mediation effort," McCarthy said.

He said that Weinstein has an "optimistic" approach to fact-finding. "He looks at it and says, 'It's possible. You guys can reach an agreement,'" McCarthy said.

Because of this approach, McCarthy said that he is now hopeful of reaching agreement in the fact-finding stage. "The day before the meeting I was not hopeful," he said.

McCarthy said that there was "significant movement on the part of both parties" at Wednesday's meeting.

While McCarthy, who leads the town's negotiating team, sounded optimistic, Fuller, head of the union, did not.

"We're not too far apart, but there are a couple of big issues (of disagreement). Unless the town drops them, I don't see anything except binding arbitration," Fuller said.

Binding arbitration is the final step in municipal labor negotiations. If no agreement is reached in fact-finding, the last best offers of both sides are taken and the arbitrator decides in favor of one side or the other.

The two major areas of disagreement between the town and the union are the "shotgun issue" and the number of accumulated sick days allowed a retiring employee.

The shotgun issue concerns the manning of snowplows. The union wants to maintain two riders, the second known as the "shotgun rider," per snowplow. The town wants to have one man per snowplow.

For accumulated sick days, the union wants a retiring worker to be allowed to take advantage of all the sick days that he has accumulated over the years with a 105-day maximum.

The town wants the retiring worker to get 50 per cent of the sick days he has accumulated, with no maximum limit.

Another meeting with the fact-finder has been scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 28 at 6:30 p.m.

MMH Auxiliary art and craft show starts Sunday

Looking over a selection of art work for the Manchester Memorial Hospital Auxiliary's second annual art and craft show are Mrs. Leo Charendoff and Andre Marmen, hospital development director, co-chairmen of the event. The event, combined with a reception, will be for hospital employees and staff only on Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. in the hospital conference rooms. On Monday, the exhibit will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. All members of the hospital family are invited to exhibit their arts, crafts, and hobbies in the show. (Herald photo by Dunn)

Gov. Grasso may bring suit to block gas rate increase

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Ella T. Grasso says Connecticut may sue to block a price hike on natural gas that would add $60 a year to consumers' bills and drive some industries out of the state.

The price hike approved by the Federal Power Commission last July was originally expected to total $244 billion nationwide, but the FPC recently revealed it would be more like $8 billion.

Mrs. Grasso said the higher than expected increase was "unconscionable." State Energy Commissioner Lyn A. Brooks blamed it on "gross ineptitude by the FPC."

At an emergency meeting of her top energy advisors, Mrs. Grasso said it was decided Connecticut will seek to challenge the rate hikes through the FPC's internal administrative procedures. The increases, however, won't go into effect next Wednesday as originally scheduled because of a decision Wednesday by the FPC to delay the hikes until Dec. 1.

The petition to be recognized as an interested party in the rate hike case was an attempt to exhaust all administrative recourses before going to court, said sources at the meeting in the governor's Capitol office.

Attending the session were Brooks; Public Utilities Control Authority Commissioners Albert J. Kleban and Miriam Butterworth; Attorney General Carl Ajello; and Andrew Nivens, a lawyer working with the utility regulatory agencies in Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

Brooks said the FPC rate hike on natural gas from wells drilled after 1973 was first expected to total $2 billion to $4 billion because natural gas producers had told the FPC only 5 per cent of their sales involved such wells.

The increase was designed to spur the search for new natural gas deposits that in the long run could lead to lower natural gas prices.

But figures presented by the producers to the FPC two weeks ago claimed about 43 per cent of their sales this year involved natural gas taken from post-1973 wells, so-called "new gas."

Brooks and Kleban said they had originally predicted the nationwide hike would raise prices in Connecticut by $6 million to $8 million a year, from an average of $2.73 per 1,000 cubic feet to $2.90.

That would have meant average annual bills for residential consumers would have gone up about four per cent, from $450 to $470, they said.

HOUSE of the WEEK

DIRECT ACCESS TO FAMILY AND FORMAL AREA

© By W. D. FARMER

On entrance to separate slope ceiling foyer, you have access to formal or informal living areas.

The unique living room is L-shape to dining room and includes slope ceiling in living room only. The dining room is separate and adjacent to corridor kitchen and breakfast combination. The kitchen includes built-in appliances plus excellent counter-top work surface. The utility space with storage closet is isolated by bi-fold double door.

The adjoining family room is enhanced by corner fireplace and glass sliding doors to rear deck.

The exterior style is contemporary, accented by extra glass in sloped ceiling area, stone and vertical wood siding. B front (not pictured), excludes slope ceiling area and is of traditional horizontal siding and stone center section.

The plan is number 768A. It includes 1,724 square feet of living area. For further information write W. D. Farmer, P. O. Box 49463, Atlanta, Ga. 30329.

GET QUICKER SERVICE & BETTER QUALITY WORKMANSHIP ON COLLISION DAMAGE!

GOOD NEWS
If you need car repair! We have just installed a CHIEF E-Z LINER Body and Frame alignment system, a completely new concept in body and frame equipment.
NOW YOUR CAR CAN BE AS GOOD AS NEW
With previous methods of frame and body repair it was very difficult to correct frame damage to original factory specifications. But with Chief E-Z Liner, we can actually reverse the angle of impact and restore your frame and body to perfect alignment. Why settle for anything less when your safety is at stake?
We are the only body shop in this area offering our customers the added service of the Chief E-Z Liner, and we take special pride in the quality of our workmanship. We welcome you in for an estimate and inspection of this new equipment.
