

"Merit Delivers More Taste Than Higher Tar Cigarettes."

—American Institute of Consumer Opinion

Extensive taste testing shows Merit delivers flavor of cigarettes having 60% more tar.

The bottom line was conclusive: In a series of taste tests conducted for MERIT by the American Institute of Consumer Opinion,* smokers from across the country judged MERIT to have more flavor than five leading low tar cigarette brands.

What's really startling — and of major importance to all smokers — is that MERIT has less tar than these five brands.

9 mg. "tar," 0.7 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Less tar. Yet more taste. That's the report on a remarkable new taste process called 'Enriched Flavor.' A way to pack extra flavor into tobacco without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now smoke the cigarette. MERIT.

Unprecedented smoking pleasure at only 9 mg. tar.

Oil price increase could cost state up to $65 million

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Ella T. Grasso says the Connecticut economy may be hit with a $65 million jolt if the price of imported oil rises by 10 per cent as expected. The governor said Monday state officials already have stepped up conservation efforts, but the state nevertheless will suffer if the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries increases oil prices. There have been reports the OPEC nations will raise oil prices by at least 10 per cent when they meet Dec. 15 in the Persian Gulf state of Qatar.

Mrs. Grasso said a 10 per cent price hike on petroleum would have a $65 million impact in the state, $36.4 million from products such as gasoline and heating oil and $28.5 million from residual oil. "This is $65 million too much for the economy of our state and it will work a cruel hardship on our people," Mrs. Grasso told reporters at her weekly news conference. The price hike would translate into an average $7.20 rise in annual heating oil bills; $6 a year for customers of the Connecticut Light & Power and Hartford Electric Light Cos.; and $12 a year for United Illuminating customers. "Energy costs in Connecticut and the northeast are already the highest in the United States," the governor said. "Any further increase in prices at the source of production will work cruel hardships on the already overburdened citizens of our state."

Restaurant burglarized

More than $2,500 in checks and cash were stolen in a Sunday burglary into the Gaslight Restaurant at 30 Oak St., Manchester Police reported today.

The burglary was discovered Monday when the restaurant opened for business, police said. Missing was the restaurant's safe, which contained the cash and checks. Police said burglars entered the front of the restaurant by removing a door window, and they then forced open an interior door to get at the office.

The Gaslight incident was one of several breaks and thefts reported to Manchester Police.

A break into the log cabin at Wickham Park over the weekend. Nothing appeared to be missing and nothing was damaged, police said.

Theft of at least $200 worth of clothing and other laundry from a Packard St. home on the weekend. Police said the theft occurred between 5 p.m. Monday and 6:30 a.m. today.

Theft of a deposit envelope containing nearly $300 in cash from the office of the Shell service station on Tolland Turnpike over the weekend.

A break into a doctor's office in a Main St. building over the weekend. Reported stolen were an electric typewriter, an electronic printing calculator, an adding machine, and several white surgeon's coats.

John E. Drever, 44, of 43 1/2 Village St., Rockville, charged Monday afternoon with driving while under the influence of liquor, after a two-car accident at Center St. and Olcott Dr. The other driver, Wayne G. Johnson, 27, of 15 Victoria Rd., was treated for minor injuries. Court date is Dec. 5.

8th District-Town cooperation progress reported by Massaro

By DOUG BEVINS Herald Reporter

The Town of Manchester and the Eighth District are making progress in talks to settle their differences, Eighth District President Michael Massaro said Monday night.

Massaro told district directors he has had two meetings with Town Manager Robert Weiss, and another session — involving each side's fire chief — is scheduled this week.

"We've come a long way," Massaro said. "I think feelings have improved a lot."

Town and district officials have been at odds over several issues, centering on the jurisdictional dispute over the Buckland section of Manchester.

In a related matter, District Director Lawrence Noone asked District Counsel John LaBelle for a legal opinion on the procedure for sewer installation in district-authorized areas.

LaBelle indicated that action by the district isn't necessary until a specific plan is presented by the town.

That provision would not favor the tax credit unless it could be regulated to help only U.S. industry.

The agreement for the foreign work on the engine by Pratt and Whitney was made in order to make the firm's product more attractive to non-American buyers.

Organized labor is reported unhappy with the agreement, charging it is one of the reasons for the layoffs.

Cotter said he wrote President-elect Jimmy Carter asking for a meeting to discuss the job problem in Connecticut.

In his presidential campaign, Carter spoke against using the nation's tax laws to help special interests.

Cotter said since 1969 the state has lost an average of 2,300 jobs per year.

He said it was caused by a general economic decline in the Northeast and Connecticut needed increased federal aid to solve the problem.

Presenting the program are Capt. Paul Gworek, Lt. Chris Marvin, and Glenn Vincent, Bernie Niedzielski and Nick Carr, fire fighters.

A movie on the lifesaving technique will also be shown, and persons attending will also have the opportunity to practice the equipment on display.

All teen-agers and adults are invited to attend. The Heimlich Maneuver is used to save the life of a person who is choking on food. The demonstration will be presented by five Eighth District emergency medical technicians who are also employees of the Ambulance Service of Manchester.

Kaminskas denies war crime charges

WATERBURY (UPI) — Retired janitor and handyman Bruno Kaminskas, 74, Monday has been ordered to return to court Jan. 25 after he denied he was involved in the murders of 600 Jewish adults and children during World War II.

At a brief deportation hearing Monday before U.S. District Court Judge Anthony DeGaetano, Kaminskas denied government charges he helped in the mass killings in Nazi-occupied Lithuania in the summer of 1941.

Kaminskas who speaks little English, mostly nodded his head during questioning and only admitted he was a citizen of Lithuania and lived there when the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service charged the government by a foreign power. A spokesman said it has "several witnesses," most of them Israelis, ready to testify.

Shooting of approximately 200 Jews at or near a location known as the Blium Estate.

Selection of 400 Jews at a location known as the Shukstas Estate for execution in another area known as the Kupras Woods.

Kaminskas lives in a $20-a-week room in Hartford and apparently has no close friends. He pushes a rusty bicycle around the neighborhood and collects odds and ends. Neighbors described him as quiet and calm.

The government claimed Kaminskas violated the Immigration and Nationality Act when he came to the United States in 1947 because he was an alleged war criminal.

He was "a person whose entry would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States," the charges in the hearing order said in part.

Basic information on Kaminskas alleged role in killings near Kraziai and Ralsina, Lithuania, was provided to the government by a foreign power. A spokesman said it has "several witnesses," most of them Israelis, ready to testify.

This season, the best gift of all is extra cash. And cash is what our new Bonus Game is all about. Holiday Cheer will put $500 in the pocket of every winner. With 100 winners drawn every week. That's a total of $50,000 in Bonus cash a week with Holiday Cheer. Plus our regular Double Play game, with more than 10,000 cash winners every week. And a grand prize of up to $200,000. One $50 ticket is all you need for a chance at both Holiday Cheer and Double Play. To get on the Holiday Cheer gift list, and have a chance at a $500 bonus prize, just match the Lucky Color, fill in and return your stub. Buy all four colors, and you're sure of an entry. And of course subscription players play automatically. Then tune in on our weekly drawing show, Double Play, Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. on Channel 3, WFSB-TV, to find out the Lucky Color and weekly numbers and watch the contest for the jackpot worth up to $200,000.

Holiday Cheer. Connecticut Lottery's new bonus game.

Opinion

Upsurge in suits against companies

It isn't only the doctors who are afflicted with lawsuit sickness.

The number of people suing companies for allegedly defective products is rapidly rising, says The Conference Board, and so is the cost of product liability insurance — the manufacturers' counterpart of medical malpractice insurance.

According to an analysis by the New York-based, business-supported organization, total premiums paid for product liability insurance amounted to $1.6 billion in 1975 — twice that paid for all medical malpractice premiums.

Nor are only big corporations feeling the impact. A growing number of small firms report difficulties in obtaining product liability insurance, with the result that many are going "self-insured," which is a synonym for "uninsured." Rising product liability costs are clearly being fueled by the rising expectations of consumers regarding both the products they buy and the responsibility of manufacturers to assure that the products are safe, says The Conference Board.

Cited as another factor is a shift in the judicial climate which is making it easier for persons to collect for product-related injuries. Individuals need not prove that a manufacturer has been negligent or has violated either an expressed or implied warranty.

Even consumers who have improperly used a product have received awards, and the size of awards is steadily getting bigger.

It's a bad time to be an insurer, but a very good time to be a lawyer.

From another source comes the report that "police and sheriffs' departments throughout the United States are staggering under skyrocketing insurance premiums for protection against suits alleging false arrest, false imprisonment and assault."

This year hundreds of high-risk departments will lose their insurance because of these lawsuits, and more plan to drop their insurance because of its high cost, says the National Observer.

Los Angeles, for example, paid $7,000 for claims against its police in 1965. Last year, claims totaled nearly $1.5 million.

Boulder, Colo., was recently hit by a $180,000 judgment against its police department. Insurance covered the loss, but Boulder will lose its police insurance this year.

The huge increase in lawsuits has produced some profound changes for the better in law-enforcement procedures and policies, notes the Observer, even as it has put the fear of God into physicians and manufacturers. Since all consumers and citizens are ultimately paying the costs of this upsurge in litigation, it can only be hoped that we will all ultimately benefit from better medical care, more professional police work and safer products.

Giant flying boat

The Spruce Goose lives. Not since the late Howard Hughes built this huge wooden flying boat in the 1940s, and the brief heyday of the transoceanic Sikorskis, have seaplanes played much of a role in commercial aviation.

But now a Japanese firm, Shin Meiwa Industry Co., has blundered "the biggest seaplane ever," reports the Japan Economic Journal. It may also be the biggest airplane ever.

Powered by four to eight fanjet engines, the "Type GS" will dwarf Lockheed's CS-A Galaxy, which is currently the world's largest heavier-than-air aircraft, and will carry a cargo of 120 tons or 1,200 passengers at a cruising speed of Mach .85, or just under the speed of sound. It will be designed to take off and land in waters up to 10 feet high.

Shin Meiwa believes the time is ripe for a giant flying boat in view of the problems of noise pollution and the limited availability of land space for building new airports.

Thought

Standing at the base of a towering mountain of layers of different shades of red stone in Red Rock Canyon, California, verses of this favorite Psalm 8 came to mind: O Lord, our Lord, how majestic is thy name in all the earth! When I look at thy heaven, the moon and the stars which thou hast established; What is man that thou art mindful of him, and the son of man that thou dost care for him? Yet thou hast made him little less than God, and dost crown him with glory and honor. Read the rest of this Psalm — give your spirit a lift! Harriet Hiller, Center Congregational Church

Exhuming William McKinley would be a tragedy

WASHINGTON — A real telegram — that is, one that actually got delivered less than a week after it was dispatched — is at hand from a reader in Framingham, Mass.

The sender says he is a conservative and that he is glad Ford lost the election because Ford "betrayed the conservative cause."

It sure takes all kinds. My reader may be the essence of purity and morality, but politically he's a knuckledropper who should have had Pinkerton protection in the polling booth lest he seriously injure himself with the pencil. He also illuminates the reason Democrats win so many elections.

The reason is that Democrats almost always unite behind their party nominees. It explains why the party has controlled Congress for the last 22 years and will continue to do so for the next two. The average Democrat doesn't argue with himself about which candidate he should vote for; he casts his ballot against the enemy, namely, the Republicans. Consider the case of Philadelphia's Mayor Frank Rizzo. During the primaries, Jimmy Carter described Rizzo as "the worst of the machine bosses." But once Carter was nominated, Rizzo went to work for him and eventually delivered the some 250,000 votes that enabled Carter to carry Pennsylvania. Mayor Dick Daley of Chicago privately saw Carter as a dangerous outsider, some kind of a nut. He supported Carter. The only thing New York's Rep. Bella Abzug and her co-conspirator for the Democratic Senate nomination, Dan Moynihan, agreed on was that Ford should be ditched. Liberals and Democratic machine politicians suspected Carter during the primaries and probably still do, but they backed him. In short, whatever their reservations, Democrats vote for the party label and figure that Jimmy Carter will reform once he moves

The tough part comes after election

Ray Cromley

WASHINGTON — For President-elect Jimmy Carter the worst is yet to come.

He is now going to have to pay his political debts — to George Meany and the AFL-CIO, the National Education Association and its politically conscious teachers, Big city and rural blacks, Hispanic-Americans, the over-65s, and a list of other special interest groups.

Mr. Carter says he comes to office with no obligations. Mr. Carter received heavy campaign assistance from voting support from all groups mentioned above. Some gave hefty indirect financial assistance, such as in compliance with the election laws, these funds were spent without direction or control from the Carter organization.

The vote studies to date suggest, indeed, that the work of these groups did put Carter over. But whether they did or not, the leaders and members are firmly convinced that had it not been for their efforts, the election would have gone to President Ford. And what men believe determines their actions and their demands, as we all know full well.

It is now clear, therefore, that the organized teachers, the auto workers, the machinists, the blacks, the Hispanic-Americans, the Italo-Americans, the aging will not present their itemized bills. If Mr. Carter, as president, does not pay off in special-interest legislation and in offices, he may face a backlash of major proportions among his most ardent election supporters. This will not be easy. President Franklin Roosevelt came into office with the same heavy debts. It took all his considerable ingenuity and a most imaginative series of gestures, maneuvers and public relations stunts, year after year, to cement his grip on his variety of special interests. Mr. Carter's problem is complicated, as it is for all presidents, by the fact that — in order to govern — he must also satisfy the interest of those who voted against him, and those cohorts who have interests vitally different from his though they were on his side in the election. Carter must satisfy businessmen, large and small, members of the middle class, and the small investor as well as the big, that he is economically sound and not a wild man, or these citizens will not hold back on investing, buying and employing — causing the economy gradually to drift into a new recession or worse. But most things Carter must do as president to reassure his business-mid-class group will anger the more militant of his supporters. Then there's the bureaucracy, which can, in the end, make or break him by backing, or smothering, whatever executive orders he issues. Because Carter campaigned so heavily, and with such rebuke against the Washington establishment, and because of the example he set in Georgia as governor, there are many in the civil service here who must certainly will look with mistrust on every reorganization step he takes. The militant organizations of government employees will be making strong demands and pushing him to soften his positions. They will demand he show sincerity by giving away. The majority of the men and women in Congress, Democrats of one persuasion or another, are technically on his side. But Carter's record of nonharmony with his legislature as governor, and his promises of sweeping governmental change which inevitably would take power from key senators and representatives and give it to others, has given rise to intense suspicion at Capitol Hill. Some presidents have managed the same delicate walk with dexterity. Others have managed through the sheer strength of their personalities. Most have not managed well, and have succumbed to special power politics in the Congress or to the subtle strength of the entrenched bureaucracy. It remains to see how the novice Carter will do.

Reader takes issue with Msgr. Reardon comments

To the editor: Two letters in "Today's Thought" by the Rev. Msgr. Edward Reardon prompted me to reflect on his viewpoints as a religious leader.

The idea that an atheist is a superstitious, sorrowful, hopeless and despairing person is a common belief held by many religious people. I know many people who have turned away from religion because of the stringent doctrines and unrealistic attitudes. These people are happy, contented, joyful individuals who love their families, give their children good values, treat their fellow man with respect and compassion. They also have a respect for people who do value religion which is not always true in reverse.

The Rev. Reardon does not define who "they" are in his letter, but I think he's referring to doctors, educators and other professional people who have given a lot of thought and research to their conclusions. Alcoholism is definitely a sickness, granted not an acceptable one by many. One need only talk to an alcoholic or a doctor who treats alcoholics to know just how debilitating an illness it is. As many parents find sex a difficult subject, sex education in the schools is sorely needed. If there is concern over moral values, let that be a part of religious training in the church. Welfare is also a controversial issue as many people feel that welfare is a give-away program for lazy people. Of course there are some who take advantage of it, but these are the cases that make the headlines. Most people on welfare are desperately in need of help and I am glad to be contributing to it. Humane treatment of criminals in prison should not need defending. To treat a criminal brutally because he has done wrong has not been my idea of a Christian attitude. Many children are in prison who are forgotten by today's society. Do we turn our backs on them? I would sincerely ask that religious leaders come out into the world today and talk to the people who are having these problems before condemning them. May I quote from something entirely "non-Christian" which I try to live by. It is an Indian proverb. "Great spirit, Grant that I may not criticize my friend until I have walked a mile in his moccasins."

The lighter side Reforming reformers

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI) — Quick now, Mr. Bones, what comes after an election? Surely's easy, Mr. Interlocutor. As that's right follows day, Y follows X and the FBI follows Daniel Ellsberg, an election is followed by demands for election reforms. In the brief period since the 1976 campaign lunched to a close, I must have read a dozen learned treatises on the need for improvements in our electoral process. Which is somewhat over quota. Apparently, there was something about the Nov. 2 election that left people feeling more strongly than ever that there must be a better way of doing it.

But I'm not sure the reforms proposed thus far articulate the public's discontent. Current reform movements feature these arguments: — The constitutional provision that created the electoral college system is unconstitutional. — Present election laws discriminate against third party candidates. Also against fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh party candidates, ad infinitum. — Although these points may be well-grounded, may indeed be nearly bursting with well-groundness, they are not directed at the defects that trouble what you call your basic, average voter.

The basic, average voter I have talked with since the election seem primarily vexed by the ballot limitations that make it impossible to vote against one candidate without voting for another candidate. This is the type of reform that grips many basic, average voters in their inability to vote for a vice presidential candidate without voting for the presidential nominee of the same party. As a hypothetical, if unlikely, example, a voter this year might have wanted to vote for Senator Dole and Jimmy Carter. The obvious reform here would be a law or constitutional amendment barring the two major parties from nominating vice presidential candidates. In other words, the Democrats and Republicans would only have presidential nominees. That would throw the vice presidency open to the various minor parties that are now denied an effective voice in the electoral process. Do you see the beauty of it? If not, try to imagine a bona fide national race among Eugene McCarthy, Lester Maddox and assorted Socialist, Abolitionist, Libertarian and Vegetarian candidates, ad infinitum. Now there's a reform that could restore one's faith in democracy.

Three area women, Lil Hunter and Joanne Vitale, both of Manchester, and Marty Mason of Vernon, are busy trimming trees for the 1976 Holiday Festival of Trees, sponsored by the Women's Committee of the Wadsworth Atheneum in Hartford. The festival will be formerly opened with a Pate de Noel and preview party on Dec. 2 for museum members and their guests. After that date, the exhibit of Christmas trees decorated in a variety of ways will be open to the public during the holiday season.

In he popped armed with a dozen yellow roses and a card which read "To Mom, Love Dave." I just looked at him in amazement, since it wasn't my birthday, and as far as I was concerned he wasn't in any sort of trouble.

I said, "Thanks hon, but what's the occasion?" He just smiled on his way out the back door, and said, "The florist was having a special."

In he popped armed with a dozen yellow roses and a card which read "To Mom, Love Dave."

I just looked at him in amazement, since it wasn't my birthday, and as far as I was concerned he wasn't in any sort of trouble.

I said, "Thanks hon, but what's the occasion?" He just smiled on his way out the back door, and said, "The florist was having a special."

Set a pretty table Age and custom have made turkey, cranberry sauce and pumpkin pie the basics of a festive Thanksgiving menu.

If you're entertaining for the holiday, you'll want to make your table setting as inviting and seasonal as the dinner.

Use a cluster of inexpensive baskets, each filled with a different autumn fruit. Fresh apples, oranges, pears, bananas and bunches of grapes make a colorful display and do double duty as snacks or a light dessert.

Another edible centerpiece can be made by using various kinds of breads and muffins. Loaves of French or Italian bread, cornmeal muffins, herbed loaves, cranberry nut bread and some holiday breads set on a big carving board make an interesting centerpiece.

If the center of your table is reserved for Tom turkey, you might decorate each place setting individually. Small votive candles, napkins swirled attractively in colorful rings or fanned out to resemble the gobble's tail, and tiny vases with a single flower, one for each guest, look pretty and special.

So, Mr. Florist I thank you for your special which made me feel special.

Motherly Behavior Read an interesting fact from the Medical and Pharmaceutical Information Bureau, Inc. Did you know that early experiences may make Japanese babies passive and agreeable and American babies assertive and exploratory.

Dr. Nancy Shand-Kovach of the University of Utah College of Medicine says preliminary research shows Japanese mothers do more touching and soothing of their babies, while American mothers stimulate their babies more with sights, sounds and objects.

The researcher is following up these findings by studying and filming mother-and-child pairs in both cultures.

Peragallo-Albert

Donna Marie Albert of Manchester and Thomas Anthony Peragallo of Waterbury were married Nov. 13 at St. Bridget Church in Manchester.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Albert of 19 Oakland Ter. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Peragallo of Glastonbury.

The Rev. William J. Stack of St. Bridget Church celebrated the nuptial Mass and performed the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with chrysanthemums. Mrs. Clara Dubaldo of Manchester was organist and soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported polyester knit chiffon designed with scoop neckline with shoulders of peau d'ange and Chantilly lace, sheer full long sleeves with cuffs trimmed with lace, and cathedral-length wateau train trimmed with lace. Her fingertip veil was edged with lace and attached to a caplet of lace. She carried a bouquet of white and pink roses.

Miss Nicole Laverdiere of South Windsor was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Debbie White of Manchester; Mrs. Linda Albert of Ashford, the bride's sister-in-law; Miss Joan Peragallo of Glastonbury, the bridegroom's sister; and Miss Laurie Price of Brewster, Mass. Miss Michelle Albert of Manchester, the bride's niece, was junior bridesmaid. Miss Deryelle Albert of Manchester, the bride's niece, was flower girl.

James Peragallo of Kokomo, Ind., the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Ushers were Peter White of Manchester; Dave Caron of Danbury; Peter Albert of Ashford, the bride's brother; and Timothy Moore of Narragansett, R.I. A reception was held at The Colony in Talcoville, after which the couple left for Lake Tahoe, Nev., and California. They will reside in Waterbury.

Mrs. Peragallo is employed as a registered nurse at Hartford Hospital. Mr. Peragallo is employed as a soil scientist for the Soil Conservation Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Council tables motion on seeking road grant

Coventry

The Coventry Town Council tabled a motion to apply for a federal grant for a new road in the Coventry Industrial Park. The controversial issue was the major item discussed on the agenda Monday night.

The proposed road was presented to the council by Town Planner Gregory Padrick and Town Manager Frank Connelly. The Planning and Zoning Commission had approved the road in its meeting earlier Monday evening.

The road was to be funded by a federal grant. The 1,700-foot road was estimated at $127,000.

Padrick and Connelly presented the plan for the project and the grant rules and regulations. Connelly said the road was chosen as the project because of time restrictions. The grant requires the project to be completed within 90 days after approval.

Padrick said the road project met all other requirements. There are no environmental problems, the town has clear title to the land, and the project has been properly budgeted.

James Ladd, Coventry Development Corp. president, said, "The cost per lot in the park would be reduced by $15,000 if the road were federally funded."

Several residents spoke against the project. They were concerned about the federal funding of private business and not giving priority to other town roads.

Dr. Joseph Kornfeld said, "Providing dollars for private business through federal funds could lead to special zoning and tax treatment. If we provide money for the project, we should provide money for Guido's and other businesses."

Funds approved for sewer work

South Windsor

JUDY KUEHNEL
The South Windsor Town Council Monday night unanimously approved an appropriation of $15,000 from the Revenue Sharing Trust Fund for sewer laterals.

James Thorne, sewer commission chairman, said the majority of the money will be spent immediately for laterals for lots on Foster St., Ellington Rd., Pleasant Valley Rd. and Chapel Rd.

Some of the laterals, which are the connections between the main sewer pipe and the property line, will be put in by the Public Works Department. Others, according to Thorne, will go out to bid.

Thorne said the revenue from Chapel Rd. assessments alone will more than cover the cost of the laterals.

Friendship bowl games end in ties

Bolton

The first annual friendship bowl games played in Bolton Sunday ended in friendship — both games tied at 6.

The Tigers midjet football team A squad and B squad played the respective squads of the Everett, Mass. Huskies.

For the A squad, Vinnie Morrone scored the lone touchdown on a 20-yard run.

Diggs wants temporary housing scrapped

East Hartford

SHEILA TULLER
School Supt. Dr. Eugene Diggs presented a plan to eliminate temporary housing to the Board of Education at Monday night's meeting.

The portable units Diggs wants eliminated are at seven schools in town. The units were purchased in 1969 when the school enrollment totaled 12,650 students.

Rham District

Formation of a 12-member Regional School District 8 Board of Education was approved by residents of Andover, Hebron and Marlborough in a referendum vote Monday.

The question passed overwhelmingly in Hebron, 1947, and also in Marlborough, 1167, in Andover, the vote was 70-35.

If the reorganization plan had been rejected by any of the three towns it would have had to be submitted to another referendum.

Reapportionment okayed

The regional board will consist of three members from Andover, four from Marlborough and five from Hebron. The actual reorganization will take place after the member towns elect their representatives.

The Board of Education is now made up of three members from each of the three towns. The new plan complies with a U. S. Supreme Court decision ordering one-man, one-vote representation of school boards.

Vernon fair housing plans outlined

Vernon's fair housing problems have been outlined by Town Planner John Loranger who said the problems are divided into discrimination in marketing existing housing and the lack of housing for all economic groups.

Loranger will discuss his plans to a road in the privately owned Norwich Industrial Park under the same federal grant.

In other business, the council voted to authorize the town manager to acquire drainage rights and install a culvert parallel to the existing culvert on Rt. 31.

Andover
The Andover Congregational Church fair will be Nov. 20 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the church.

Booths and their chairmen are: Christmas decorations, Ruth Munson; handicrafts, Janet McCall and Chris Reese; country store, Lucy Higgins; books, Carol Johnson and Esther MacDonald; baked goods, Doris Hutchinson and the remnants; produce and cheese, Elver Housington; publicity, April Dean.

Also jewelry, Fran Miller; tag sale, Don and Ivy Richards; children's corner, Nancy Parker and Margie Johns; plants, Thoda Johnson and Esther Erickson; kitchen, Wheeler Hess and Barbara Campbell; and cashier, Gerry Adams.

There will be a raffle of a hand-made quilt depicting scenes of old Andover. Betty Shaw and Mary Taylor are co-chairmen of the project.

The music of the junior choir's music will be sold. The tapes contain seven songs.

Advanced orders may be placed by phone at 742-8573 or Carol MacKay, 742-8598.

Town shopping list made

Vernon

Town Planner John Loranger has prepared a list of capital improvements recommendations for meeting the various capital improvements needed in the areas of police, fire, and public works.

Loranger said the planning has been going for some time. He said earlier in the year the Town Council's subcommittee recommended that the town file an application under the federal Public Works Act for a new police station.

He said the subcommittee's report also indicated that the fire needs, both space and equipment, could be addressed by a phased program. Loranger said in his opinion public works space and equipment can be treated in the same way.

Early this year the town submitted a list of projects for funding under the then proposed State Public Works Act. Loranger said the priority for these requests was fire, public works, drainage and police.

Police station funds
He said the reason for that order was based on the assumption that a relatively small amount of money would be made available by the state.

The state, however, chose to ignore the priority requests and allocated $90,000 toward the police station in January of this year.

Loranger said he added that funding is now available.

Last month, on instruction of Mayor Thomas Benoit, Loranger contacted the state Department of Commerce to determine if the $90,000 allocated to the police station could be transferred to another project, specifically an addition to Co. 1 firehouse in Vernon.

He said that although the fire will have to go through the State Bonding Commission, all indications are that this change can be made.

Loranger said there is another source of "new found" money which can be made available to the town for meeting capital needs.

His second recommendation is to determine the priority of equipment needs under the Act providing revenue-sharing type funds, depending on national and local unemployment rates.

He said he would estimate that Vernon will receive between $50,000 and $100,000 over five quarters from July 1, 1976 to September 30, 1978.

Halloween spooks raise funds

Hebron

William Ruth, church school superintendent of the First Congregational Church which sponsored the national UNICEF Day program in Hebron, announced $90 was raised during the Halloween collection.

She said Hebron children and adults who worked on the campaign "have every right to feel proud." She said many pitched in to make UNICEF Day meaningful and significant for "our own citizens and for lots of others all over the world."

Housing violations up

Vernon

During the month of October, John Darcey, housing code inspector, inspected 23 structures and 24 dwelling units. There were 120 violations carried forward from the month of September.

Darcey said much time went to the housing rehabilitation program. Under this program the report states that 83 violations were carried forward from the month of August and 153 from September, a total of 236.

State gives much less

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — A steady growth in Connecticut's state budget over the past six years contrasted to a sharp drop in state aid to cities during the same period, the Connecticut Conference of Municipalities said Sunday.

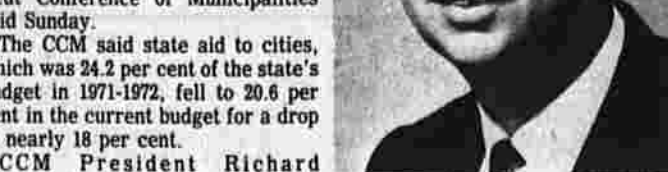

The CCM said state aid to cities, which was 24.2 percent of the state's budget in 1971-1972, fell to 20.8 percent in the current budget for a drop of nearly 18 per cent.

CCM President Richard Blackstone, mayor of East Hartford, said that reflected "a sloughing off of responsibilities to the towns and cities and their taxpayers at a time when local governments need state aid more than ever."

Blackstone added that aside from failing to keep up with the growth in the state budget, state aid to towns also failed to match the increases in the prices municipalities must pay for goods and services.

Rockville man wounded in shooting fray

David White, 22, of 38 Elm St., Rockville, was treated at Rockville General Hospital Monday night for a gunshot wound in the arm and Douglas A. Corson, 21, of 40 Elm St. was charged with first-degree assault in connection with the shooting.

Vernon Police said four shots were fired from a 22-caliber rifle through an apartment door but they have been unable to determine the reason for the shooting.

Sgt. John Stodd and Officer Thomas Phelps responded to the complaint shortly before 8 p.m. and saw a man leaving 38 Elm St. and enter the apartment at 34 1/2 Elm St. The officers drew their service revolvers and on request of the resident of the apartment wanted to see if Corson could be talked into leaving.

Police said they finally entered the apartment and found Corson on the floor. Earl Firtl, the resident at 34 1/2 Elm St., said he was in the building of Corson. No shots were fired between Corson and Corson, police said.

Voter input in zoning discussed by Schwartz

By JUNE TOMPKINS
Herald Reporter
Legislation with provisions for an overrule of a zoning ordinance now permitted in Connecticut may one day be passed in this state.

State Sen. Joseph Schwartz of Easton, D-28th District, told the town Democratic Executive Club Monday night that there is legislation in other states which provides for a voter's input into zoning decisions, and it should be in Connecticut.

Schwartz supported the eventual possibility of such a bill by referring to similar bills which have "been kicking around for the past four years." "The longer an idea germinates, the greater its chances are of passage," he said.

Sen. Schwartz authored an unsuccessful bill in the last General Assembly which would allow zone changes to be overruled in public referenda.

He introduced the bill, he said, in response to a problem in Fairfield involving a small parcel of land which, if rezoned, might affect the zoning of an adjoining larger parcel making property values plummet as a result.

'It's Tony and Joey'
It's Tony and Joey. They're the key to the success of our 'Season,' Deo Rowe told members of the fourth estate yesterday at the annual pre-season University of Connecticut basketball luncheon at Storrs.

Tony is Tony Hanson, the talented senior from Waterbury, and Joey is Joe Whelton, the quick, sunbaked junior out of East Catholic High and East Hartford.

Rowe, starting his 22nd season as a coach, seventh at UConn, guided the Huskies to the ECAC New England championship last season, when 19 wins were recorded.

"We have great pride and satisfaction in our basketball program," he said, pointing out that his cagers have averaged 18 victories for the past four seasons.

"This is a Connecticut team. The farthest away among the five starters could be Waterbury," he added. The 14-man squad numbers 11 players from state schools, two out of New York and one each from New Jersey and Massachusetts.

"Our strengths will be better court and savvy, and we'll play less heller-skeller ball. We'll concentrate on team speed, defense, better shot selection."

"Hanson is great one-on-one and he'll have to have a great year," Rowe said of the 6-4 team captain and leading scorer with a 19.1 game average last year.

Whelton says he's six-foot tall, with high heels. He's the triggerman. He's worked hard to improve his defense and he's running the team again. "The 5-10 backcourt was a 14.6 point scorer in 29 games a year."

"Our sophomores have to play like juniors. Jeff Carr, Jim Aromaitis and Randy LaVigne. All three got in plenty of varsity time as first-year men."

Among the newcomers, much is expected from 6-10 Al Lewis, 6-3 Nick Stefkovich and 6-4 Al Johnson, all freshmen.

"Our style of play will be more deliberate, a pattern team. We'll play some pressure defense but will shift defenses as necessary."

Challenging state
"We have the most challenging schedule in Connecticut history. Thirteen or 14 teams that we play have been in tournaments the past few years."

"We also have 11 games in major arenas, five at the Hartford Civic Center. During a span of 12 days we didn't make any recommendation, but he said local officials are aiming toward a proposal which would encourage employe "rollover" and reduce salary costs.

Cowboys still struggling but boast 9-1 standard

IRVING, Tex. (UPI) — In successive games the Dallas Cowboys have struggled to New York Giants and Buffalo Bills and suddenly the NFC East's leading club is looking nothing like the potential Super Bowl challenger it believes itself to be.

But Cowboys Coach Tom Landry wishes to point out that no other team in the NFL has better record than the one he runs.

"You may recall," Landry said following the Cowboys' 17-10 decision over Buffalo Monday night, "that last year when we did not play so good we lost some games."

The wins do continue to pile up for Dallas. There are now nine of them and that is more than the Cowboys have ever had in a 16-game season. Dallas also continues to own a one-game division edge over St. Louis.

Dallas' latest triumph came as a result of the Cowboys' aroused defense — which kept O.J. Simpson from breaking the long one — and the only good thing that happened to the offense all night, a series of Roger Staubach-to-Drew Pearson passes.

Staubach was forced to throw 34 times because Buffalo's running man shut down Dallas' eight-minute attack and he could complete only 13 of those throws because of an almost constant blitz. But nine of the completions were to Pearson, totaling 135 yards.

And the biggest plays of the night turned out to be two of those efforts in the dying seconds of the first half. "They went for 40 and 21 yards — the second one resulting in a touchdown, which put Dallas in front, 14-7."

Until then Staubach had completed only four of 12 passes and Buffalo had Four obstacles to clear for Pats in playoff bid

BOSTON (UPI) — Only four more obstacles to clear. Cincinnati and Denver for the wild card spot in the conference.

"We knew before the game that we had to win the next five to assure us of the playoffs," said Mike Hayes.

"We won and that's a big plus," said the rookie cornerback, whose two second-half interceptions spearheaded a Patriot defense that buried the Colts and their star quarterback Bert Jones, allowing them a paltry 36 total yards in 29 plays in the half.

"The defense played extremely well," said coach Chuck Fairbanks, who handed out a game ball to every member of the team for the second time this season. "It was the best defensive game since I've been here. They are executing better and that is significant."

"They've given up just 27 points in their last three games," Fairbanks continued. "We'll need that same kind of performance the rest of the way because every game now is like a playoff game."

"That's a big hurdle," said Don Calhoun, who had his biggest pro day after Sam Cunningham was injured. "That's the first step to the playoffs," continued the third-year running back, whose 141 yards on the ground was very important personal.

"We have a good chance to make the playoffs," said Calhoun. "But we've just got to take it game by game."

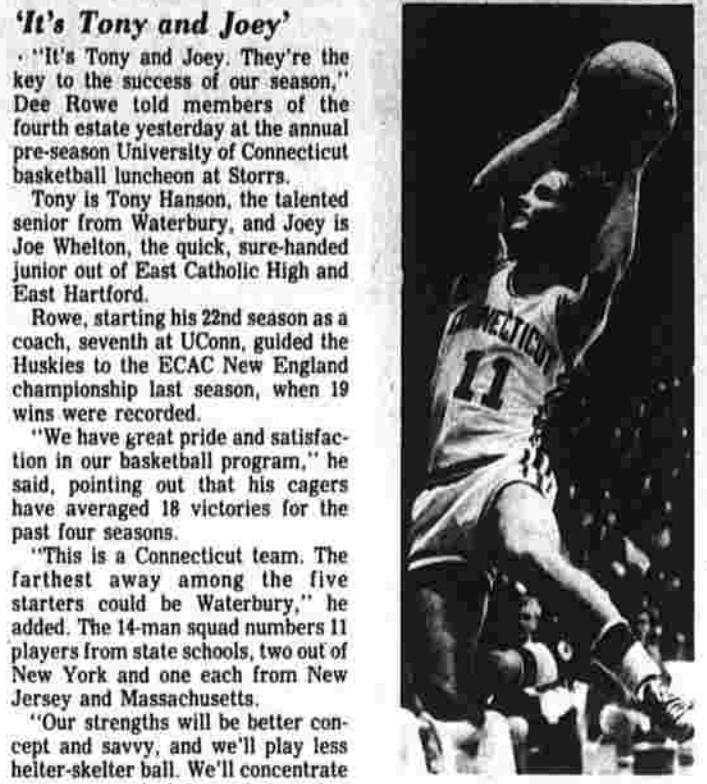

Sugar Bowl
NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — As Southern Conference champions, Georgia will have a ticket to the Sugar Bowl, but the bowl committee still is undecided about who else to invite.

Jimmy Hogg, Sugar Bowl information director, said Monday the committee is looking at the nation's top-ranked team, Pittsburgh, Maryland, the runnerup in the Big 10 conference, the Pac 8 runnerup of Notre Dame. "If Pittsburgh is leaning to the Sugar Bowl I'm sure I know a lot of Sugar Bowlers who would be pleased," Hogg said.

Celts appear destined to be just good team

BOSTON (UPI) — After so many years of greatness, it seems the Boston Celtics are destined to become just another good team.

Any conversation about the defending NBA champions must start with Dave Cowens, whose absence is immeasurable. He is one of the team's three cornerstones, along with Jo Jo White and John Havlicek.

Without Cowens to hold up his share of the load, the Celtics are indeed in danger of falling back into the pack.

The Celtics went through a crumbling stage after Bill Russell retired in 1969 but Cowens came on two seasons later to give Boston the aggressive, fast break-oriented center that is a necessity for their style of play. Without him, their running game is slowed down.

"We have to adjust our style without Dave because we can't get the break going as quickly," said White. "We have to wait longer for the outlet pass off the boards before we can start running downcourt."

Without Cowens or Paul Silas to break the motion, the Celtics have become a different team. They still try to run and work to the inside but a disturbing number of long, outside shots have infiltrated their game plan over the past few seasons, even when Cowens was playing.

If Cowens decides to quit the game permanently, we can expect Red Auerbach to come up with another of his coups, picking up a high caliber, mobile center through the draft or trade route. He will have a tougher time finding a replacement for Havlicek, the last remaining link with the Celtic dynasty days.

Even at 38, Havlicek provides the constant motion on offense that is so vital to Boston's game. It used to be two or three Celtic players were cutting constantly in front of the basket. Now only Havlicek moves without the ball.

When Havlicek leaves, he is after this season or next, only White will remain as the "class" of the team. Havlicek and maybe Tom Boswell and clutch shooter. Somewhere Boston must find the quick forward who can play both guard and corner, another defensive forward in the mold of Gatch Sanders or Silas and who can restore the movement on offense.

Charlie Scott is rounding into his best form yet. He still appears to prefer long-bomb shots to back door passes that set up sure baskets. Curtis Rowe and Sidney Wicks still are new, but they must adapt to the fast-paced, two-way style of basketball that led the Celtics to eight straight titles and 13 in 20 years.

The contention here is that the brand of player now being manufactured in the college ranks is unsuitable to the Boston style. And more one-on-one players are emerging while fewer team players are coming into the pros.

If the right type of players are out there, though, Auerbach will find them as he did Havlicek and Cowens. These men understood the team concept and brought the Celtics back to greatness in just five years after Russell's departure.

But even Havlicek has to get old sometime. And Cowens is entitled to do as he wishes with his own life. Maybe Fred Saunders can become the new swingman to replace Havlicek and maybe Tom Boswell and Jim Ard can continue to plug the hole at center. But somewhere the Celtics are going to have to uncover another defensive forward in the mold of Gatch Sanders or Silas and who can restore the movement on offense.

Such players not only gave the Celtics their pride but they still have a stilling pride in every other member pass of the team.

If they lose that pride, then look for a fall.

Montreal cops 14th NHL win

MONTREAL (UPI) — The Montreal Canadiens' 4-2 victory over St. Louis Monday gives the defending Stanley Cup champions 14 wins — and no other National Hockey League team can say as much.

The Canadiens also have 31 points, better than any of the other 17 teams. And they opened up an 11-point margin over the Los Angeles Kings in the NHL's Norris Division in the only league game of the night.

"There were no games in the World Hockey Association.

"It was a big victory for us," claimed Canadiens' Coach Scotty Bowman. "We've been playing very well lately, but we only managed to get our last two games before this one."

Dough Risebrough scored what proved to be the winning goal with just two minutes left in the second game as Montreal went ahead, 3-1. It was Risebrough's sixth goal of the season — four of them have been game winners.

"Sometimes statistics are deceiving," said Risebrough. "I may have four game-winning goals but you can't read too much into that, because when I score them we have a big lead, only the other team comes back to get more goals."

Steve Shutt's 19th goal of the season, an NHL high, on a rebound at 10:16 in the final period gave Montreal a 4-2 lead.

"I guess I'm back on the pace after being shut out in two games," said Shutt.

Mario Tremblay and Yvan Cournoyer scored for Montreal in the second period, while Larry Patey replied for the Blues. Former Canadian Chuck Leyfer scored for the Blues at 8:06 of the third period.

St. Louis goalie Eddie Johnston was forced out of the game at 18:10 of the middle session. A hard shot by Shutt hit Johnston in the mask, injuring his jaw. Ed Stanivskis finished out the game in the St. Louis net and gave up the final Montreal goal.

Buys out contract

Ex-USC star Davis jumps to Buccaneers

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Former Southern California All-American Anthony Davis "decided Tampa was where I belonged," bought his way out of Toronto and met with Buccaneers officials about a possible multiyear contract to play under his old coach, John McKay.

Davis and his agent, Mike Trope, met with Tampa Bay Operations Director Ron Wolf late Monday after Davis paid to buy out his contract with the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League.

Results of the talks, which took place at a resort complex near the Bucs' training center, were not revealed. Wolf was unavailable early today and a Bucs' spokesman said he could not comment on the situation.

"Let's just say that we'd like it. The contract is for more than one and less than 10 years," Trope said. "Anthony's previous professional contracts have been too highly publicized, so I don't want to get into specifics."

Under National Football League rules, Davis cannot play for the puncheless Bucs this season, but would be available next year. The expansion Bucs are winless after 10 games.

McKay, who has often spoken of teaming Davis with USC star Ricky Bell, said, "The only thing Anthony lacks is size, but he is quick and strong. He always played hard for me in practices and games. He needs a lot of work to get his timing down,

'Great article'

Dear Len,

In truth, I jumped up and down and shouted loud "My God, he's done it!" Both my wife and daughter thought I'd finally lost my marbles until I told them of your article (Nov. 4 issue of The Herald) about the various sports of high school athletics at MHS.

Two things, Len. Thanks for the simply great article you did. Now don't let it die. Keep it before the public (and here I ask all you sports minded Manchester people... Write your support of Len's article and let's get the situation changed).

As for football, I don't make all the names but am there when I can be. I love sports and of course was there most of the time for the prior three years of football and track when my son, Jeff Joy, was participating. I still go, and will continue to do so.

I'm looking forward to the basketball season, too.

Apathy and lack of understanding on everyone's part is slowly but surely destroying high school athletics. And the "shot in the arm" it needs can come from all of us. The Board of Education should be educated on the importance that high school sports has in character building for our young impressionable people.

Thanks, too, to Bill Hayes for his letter expressing in clear, concise factual terms such great understanding and knowledge of the whole situation. He's one of the best.

Len, thank you again.

Pittsburgh retains narrow poll lead

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pittsburgh's unbeaten and untied Panthers retained a narrow lead in ratings by the United Press International Board of Coaches today in its bid to become the first Eastern team since 1959 to be declared the nation's college football champion.

The Panthers (10-0) were chosen No. 1 by 22 of the 62 coaches, who comprise the UPI board, and received a total of 389 points. That gave them a nine-point margin over UCLA (9-0-1), which got 15 first-place votes and an 86-point lead over Southern California (6-1), which received one first-place vote.

No Eastern college has been declared the national champion by the UPI panel since Syracuse was accorded the honor in 1959.

UCLA's chances to win the final honor improved impressively this week, however, after a 45-14 victory over Oregon State. Pittsburgh struggled to beat unranked West Virginia — nevertheless a traditional and usually tough rival — by a narrow 24-16 margin.

Eight more coaches voted for UCLA as the No. 1 team as had done the previous week when Pittsburgh was the No. 1 choice of 30 coaches. Rounding out the top 10 in this week's ratings were fourth-ranked Michigan (8-1) followed by Texas Tech (8-0), Georgia (9-1), Maryland (10-0), Ohio State (8-1-1), Oklahoma (7-2-1) and Iowa State (8-2).

Michigan received three first-place votes and Maryland got one.

Last Friday night's loss (44-14) to St. Paul did have several bright spots for us. While the Patriots' backs had our defensive people grabbing for this air during much of the game, our pass defense was fairly good and our offense which is predominantly underclassmen put on two good drives for scores.

We discovered that St. Paul was not that people said it was and Scott Demont and Brian McCutcheon were probably the best QB and running back we have seen in two or three years. What destroyed us defensively and what beat all their other opponents was the maximum effort which each player on St. Paul's offensive team carried out. His assignments. Even our best defensive players were frustrated in their attempts to get to ball carriers because of downhill blocking.

As far as our personnel was concerned, Bob Caffrey did a great job fighting through the waves of blockers to make tackles. QB Ken Brasa had a run for a TD and threw to flanker Dave Kistner for another. Arnie Carter and Bob Frank ran the ball well and Brian Siros caught a key pass during one of our drives. The whole offensive line blocked well and showed that they are steadily improving.

An apology must be made to our faithful followers. Even though the schedules given to the media listed our game at 7:30 p.m. as to our policy on night games late in the season, we agreed with St. Paul to play at 7:00. When the error was discovered, Coach George Pleau of St. Paul agreed to make the start of the game to 7:15. I felt this satisfied our obligation for good sportsmanship and also did not inconvenience our fans too much.

This week and on Thanksgiving we will be playing two very hungry, frustrated teams, Bloomfield and Manchester. This week we play Bloomfield and it is what I consider a sleeping giant. They have big linemen, fast backs and a QB that can throw. We have kept them from winning has been mistakes and there have been fewer and fewer as they go on. We expect a tough physical battle game that will be decided by the play of the linemen.

East JV's triumph in season finale

Led by the passing of Ken Brasa and the running of Arnie Carter, East Catholic's jayvee football team upended its counterparts from St. Paul, 21-14, yesterday in Bristol.

East opened the scoring on the first play from scrimmage with Brasa passing to Mike Freiheit who romped 37 yards for the score. Brasa added the extra points on a run and the young Eagles led, 8-0.

St. Paul struck right back with a 70-yard scoring bomb. East held on the extra points to maintain an 8-6 edge.

East drove 85 yards in the second half with Carter doing the bulk of the carrying ripping of chunks of yardage in gains of 16, 10, 18 and 12 yards. Brasa then passed to Jim Dakin for a 20-yard TD. Dakin booted the PAT for a 13-6 advantage.

The fired-up East

East frosh skein ends

Seeing its two-game winning streak snapped Friday was East Catholic's freshman football team, 14-4, by Rockville High at Eagle Field. The Eagles wind up the season with a 5-4 record.

East got on the scoreboard early on a 38-yard scamper down the right sideline by quarterback Tony Pacheco. Joe Tebeico added the two-point conversion with a run for an 8-0 advantage.

Steve Cohen scored for Rockville late in the second period and the Rams won it as Rusty Oeser plunged in from six yards away with five minutes to go.

Indian-Fermi jayvees play to scoreless tie

Manchester High's jayvee football team battled hard but could only come away with a 0-0 tie with Fermi High yesterday at Memorial Field. The young Indians now show a 1-4-3 record for the season.

Sophomore quarterback Doug Ogden completed 12 of 18 passes and combined with the running of Brian Benito and Ray Diana to produce a powerful but scoreless offensive attack. The offense constantly drove but couldn't convert its scoring opportunities.

The offensive line led by Ken MacDonald and Al Elgner provided fine blocking and Scott Linsenbiger had a fine game at wide receiver.

Defensively, Bill Stokes, Dave Eigner, Jeff Strider and John Rocha played well as did Andy Darna and Dave Marshall.

Manchester had an apparent touchdown in the third quarter on a pass interception return of 50 yards by Strider but it was called back by a pass interference infraction.

Yale gridders support Cozza

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — Yale University football players made their sentiments known. They don't want Carmen Cozza to give up coaching.

Cozza, 46, agreed last June when he took over as athletic director that he would give up coaching and devote his time to his new job. However, it appears he is doing so reluctantly.

"I've never wanted to leave," Cozza told the annual football dinner in Yale's Woolley Hall Monday night.

"I've loved the administration and the young men I've been associated with."

Cozza's followers responded at the dinner with the chant "one more year." It was the same chant the football players made last Saturday when Yale defeated Harvard University, 21-7, and won a share of the Ivy League crown with Brown.

Yale President Kingman Brewster Jr. read a statement from the Yale Corporation which said Cozza would step down when the season ended.

The 8-1 followed by Michigan Tech (8-0), Georgia (9-1), Maryland (10-0), Ohio State (8-1-1), Oklahoma (7-2-1) and Iowa State (8-2).

The site is on Interstate 64 in Putnam County.

Ceremonies set

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (UPI) — Ground-breaking ceremonies for the National Track and Field Hall of Fame will be held at the Hall of Fame site at 10 a.m., EST, Nov. 27, the board of governors announced Tuesday.

The site is on Interstate 64 in Putnam County.

Winn named

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — All purpose back Tommy Winn has been named Harvard's most valuable football player. Winn, a 5-foot-8, 170-pound back from Framingham, was awarded the 28th Frederick Crocker Award Monday night.

Cozza's teams won the Ivy League crown outright once and shared it four other seasons.

The 46-year-old native of the Cleveland, Ohio, suburb of Parma Heights came to Yale in 1963 as an assistant to head coach John Pont, succeeding Pont two years later.

Among standout players coached by Cozza at Yale was Calvin Hill who was the Dallas Cowboys' No. 1 draft choice in 1969 and the NFL rookie of the year.

Cozza played quarterback and defensive back at Miami University of Ohio under Ira Parasegian and Woody Hayes. He graduated in 1962 and, after a baseball tryout with the Cleveland Indians, returned to his alma mater as a freshman backfield assistant.

Last June the Yale Corporation asked me to let Carmen that he should not accept the athletic directorship unless he was willing to make this his last season as football coach. He agreed to that," the statement read.

Keelan purchases ailing Foxboro Baystate Raceway

BOSTON (UPI) — Tracks in New Hampshire, Connecticut and Kentucky. The Midwest track, located in Henderson, Ky., was purchased by Keelan only a month ago.

At the same time the sales agreement was announced, state Racing Commission Chairman Paul Walsh disclosed his panel voted earlier in the day to award 144 racing dates to the Foxboro track for the coming year.

The figure represents a 14 day increase over last year due to a bill approved by the legislature earlier this year.

Though Walsh said the commission will not formally act on the transfer until it is finalized, he left little doubt the transfer will be approved.

Calling Keelan "a fine fellow and an old friend," Walsh said "we welcome Ed Keelan back to Massachusetts."

The chairman said he was confident Keelan and other new owners would restore the track and boost revenues up to and beyond their past levels. Walsh said annual state revenues from the Foxboro track dropped off recently by $750,000 from the normal figure of $4 million.

Keelan's partners in the deal are sports broadcaster Edward "Eddy" Andelman and Thomas and Joseph Carrey.

Two baseball free agents to sign contracts today

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two of baseball's more prominent free agents will sign contracts today in a culmination of 12 days of bargaining since the unprecedented re-entry draft, UPI has learned.

Jerry Kapstein, agent for 10 of the 22 free agents taken in the re-entry draft Nov. 4, said he reached final agreement on contracts for two players Monday night — the second and third to come to terms since the draft — with the second player's pact only hammered out in the early morning hours today.

"They were only resolved in the last 12 hours," Kapstein said in an early morning call. "I just finished the second one."

Bill Campbell, a 17-game winner as a relief pitcher with the Minnesota Twins last season, was the first free agent to sign with another club. He agreed to terms with the Boston Red Sox.

Kapstein said the two players — whom he would neither name nor say which club or clubs the players would be signing with — will hold news conferences this afternoon in Providence, R.I., where Kapstein has his office.

The first player will be present at a 2 p.m. EST news conference and the second at 5 p.m., both at the Rhode Island Hospital Trust National Bank Building.

Kapstein represents Don Gallett, Rolfe Fingers, Gene Tenace, Joe Rudi, Bert Campanella, Don Baylor, Wayne Garland, Doyle Alexander, Dave Cash and Bobby Grich.

Controversial Barnes may wind up in jail

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — Pro basketball star Marvin Barnes may wind up in a Rhode Island jail if a judge finds the wayward forward violated probation in a 1972 assault case.

Superior Court Judge William Mackenzie signed an arrest warrant Monday sought by city police who contend Barnes' Oct. 9 arrest on a gun charge was a probation violation.

The former American Basketball Association rookie of the year was charged with having an unloaded handgun in his luggage when it was checked at the Romulus, Mich., airport.

The court could order Barnes to serve a one-year prison term which was suspended in an assault case two years ago. He faces criminal charges in connection with the Michigan case.

In May 1974 Barnes pleaded guilty to assaulting a former Providence College teammate with a tire iron in 1971. He was given a one-year suspended sentence and three years probation.

Barnes, a Providence native, later contended he did not assault Lawrence Keltvirts but felt the state had enough evidence to convict him.

square feet for the apartments. "I think the request is excessive. It's cutting it (the apartment) way down," Johnson said. The board unanimously agreed, defeating the request.

A request by Stone Enterprises for a sign on the side of a building at 321 E. Middle Tpk. was also denied by the board on a 5-0 vote.

The board asked for consolidation of signs on the building. There is already one there.

"We're concerned about the building being plastered with signs," Johnson said.

The ZBA also took the following actions:

- Unanimously approved a request

by Crestfield Realty Inc. to create a lot with less area and less frontage than is required in a Rural Residence zone. This will allow the corporation to extend, which has been in effect since 1952, gives Lutalippe the right to store vehicles and equipment used in excavating business at 780 Vernon St. It was approved by the board.

- Approved, by a 4-1 vote, a free-standing sign of about eight square feet for Donald Pet at 645 Birch Mt. Rd.
- Approved a request by Otto and Julia Belchunas to reduce the frontage and area of 75 Autumn St. and add this to 78 Autumn St. This change, approved 5-0, would allow for construction of a garage.

The request was granted by a 5-0 vote.

- Granted a five-year extension of a permit to Normal Lutalippe to excavate, which has been in effect since 1952, gives Lutalippe the right to store vehicles and equipment used in excavating business at 780 Vernon St. It was approved by the board.
- Approved, by a 4-1 vote, a free-standing sign of about eight square feet for Donald Pet at 645 Birch Mt. Rd.
- Approved a request by Otto and Julia Belchunas to reduce the frontage and area of 75 Autumn St. and add this to 78 Autumn St. This change, approved 5-0, would allow for construction of a garage.

House select committee opens new probe of assassinations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It was 6:01 p.m. when the sniper's bullet hit Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. in the neck as he leaned over the second floor railing outside his room at the Lorraine hotel in Memphis, Tenn., April 4, 1968.

Pictures taken moments later showed him sprawled on the balcony with his hands raised and kneeling beside him.

Those and other pictures were shown today to the House Select Committee on Assassinations, which held its first formal meeting Monday.

At the closed portion of the Monday session, 11 committee members silently watched a now-famous film clip taken in Dallas, 13 years ago next Monday, when President John F. Kennedy was shot and killed as his motorcade passed beneath the Texas Schoolbook Depository building.

Vietnam U.N. membership vetoed by United States

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The United States, in vetoing U.N. membership for Vietnam Monday night, told Hanoi that relations between the two countries could be normalized quickly if Vietnam will account for 800 American missing in the Indochina war.

in action and to return the remains of those killed in the recent conflict in Indochina, despite repeated efforts by the United States to persuade them (sic) to do so," Stanton said.

"I appeal to the current applicant to give attention to the human rights provisions of the Charter, to abandon trading on the sorrow of families to attain its ends. Normalization of relations could then flow swiftly."

But Rep. Thomas M. Downing, the committee chairman, told reporters later, "I didn't see any people on the hill."

The Warren Commission, which first investigated the Kennedy assassination, concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald was the sole assassin and it found no signs of a conspiracy involving other persons.

Vietnam said the demand for such information "could not be met."

The veto was 14-1 in favor of membership for Vietnam, but the single veto was enough to kill the resolution.

It was the 18th U.S. veto in the Security Council since the world body was formed.

There are tens of thousands of Vietnamese who are surely suffering because of missing servicemen two years after the war," he told the Council. "Hundreds more have been killed by the mines left behind by the aggressor."

There is a maneuver, cunningly pursued by Messrs. Ford and Kissinger, demanding to be given a complete list of those missing in action—a demand that could not be met, and which does nothing but obstruct normalization of relations."

U.S. and Vietnamese diplomats met in Paris Friday to discuss the issue of improved relations.

U.S. Ambassador William Scranton told the Council the United States does not doubt Vietnam's ability to meet the obligations of the U.N. Charter but questioned its willingness to do so.

Only a few days before the panel met, the Washington Post said a memo has been found in which FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said a highly reliable source had told him that Oswald told Cuban officials of his plans to kill the president.

Washington has maintained steadily that Vietnam must account for the missing American servicemen before the United States will agree to its U.N. admission.

U.S. and Vietnamese diplomats met in Paris Friday to discuss the issue of improved relations.

Downing said that the committee was forming a task force of 170 persons to conduct its investigation.

"It sounds like a lot of people," he said, "but Congress mandated us to do a thorough job."

Burr Corners state lot joins Park-Ride program

The state-owned Burr Corners commuter parking lot, beginning Wednesday will be included as part of the Civic Center Park-Ride program.

The parking lot off I-86 on Tolland Tpk. is replacing the Park-Ride lot formerly operated at Founders Plaza, East Hartford, which was unavailable for the program this year.

The Burr Corners lot accommodates 200 cars and is located primarily the towns of Manchester, East Hartford, Vernon, South Windsor, Tolland, Coventry, Glastonbury and Bolton.

Arizonan faces drug charges

NORWICH (UPI) — Robert G. Albert, 26, of Tucson, Ariz., surrendered Monday in connection with the shipment of 80 pounds of marijuana confiscated by state police at a home in Salem.

Albert's arrest came two days after another Arizona man and a Wisconsin woman were picked up on the truck arrested at the home.

Merit system for judiciary proposed

HARTFORD (UPI) — Legislation allowing judges to be selected by a merit system has been introduced by Rep. Russell L. Ford, R-Canton.

Post ranking military member of the Judiciary Committee, said Monday his proposal would have candidates nominated by an impartial panel with the final choice made by the governor.

Actuaries told the commission CMS would lose $7.3 million next year, or about $6 million more than its contingency reserve fund if the hike was not approved.

AARP sponsoring dinner-theatre trip Dec. 16

Manchester Green Chapter of American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) is sponsoring a trip to the Cochlitter Theatre in East Windsor on Thursday, Dec. 16, to see "The Unsinkable Molly Brown."

Reservations should be made with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Steele, 199 Porter St., before Nov. 26. After that, the trip will be opened to the other two AARP chapters in town, and friends of all three chapters.

For information, call Mr. and Mrs. Steele, or Lillian Juneau, 643-0661.

Industrial output down in September and October

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Factories, mines and utilities cut production of goods and materials 0.7 percent in September and October for the first drop since the economic recovery began, the government says.

"These reductions include the effects of strikes in the farm, electric and automobile industries," the Federal Reserve Board said Monday. "The direct strike effect is estimated to have accounted for somewhat less than one-third of the October decline."

But other production not connected with the strikes also fell. "Output of some goods, such as appliances, carpeting and furniture was reduced (and) production of nondurable goods, particularly clothing, also decreased," the board said.

Production of textiles, paper and chemicals "declined sharply," the board said.

Declines of 0.2 percent in September and 0.3 percent in October were foreboding for the nation's 7.5 million unemployed, since higher industrial production is mandatory for any major improvement in the jobless rate.

In another piece of bad news, the Commerce Department said business inventories increased 0.9 percent in September, largely because of a stockpiling of goods. The reports were sure to spark renewed interest in a tax cut, especially for lower and middle income workers, to stimulate the economy.

President-elect Jimmy Carter said he would ask Congress for a tax cut directed at low and middle income workers if evidence developed that the economy was weakening.

In the past year, the average worker's spendable income after taxes and inflation fell 0.8 percent. The tax rebates in April 1975 pumped $17 billion into the economy, increased spendable earnings 1 percent and ended the worst recession since World War II.

But production improvements that began then ground to a halt in September. Production fell again in October.

The Federal Reserve Board said last month that production was unchanged in September. But the estimate was revised Monday to a 0.2 percent decline—the first fall since a 0.8 percent dip in March, 1975.

The board said production of consumer durable goods such as cars, refrigerators and the like fell 1.7 percent, nondurables fell 0.2 percent, business equipment 1.1 percent and materials 0.5 percent. The only positive sign in the report was construction supplies, up 0.1 percent.

Despite the strike at Ford, auto manufacturers managed to assemble at a 7.7 million unit annual rate—unchanged from September. Production of business equipment dropped largely because of the farm equipment strike.

The board said its index of industrial production stood at 130.4 in October, down from 131.3 in August.

Moderate food price increase predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Only moderate rises in retail food prices will occur next year if predictions of the Agriculture Department analysis hold up.

Experts reported at the department's annual Agricultural Outlook Conference Monday that they tentatively expect retail food prices to rise only three or four percent in 1977.

That's about the same as the predicted for this year — far below the 8.5 percent rise in 1975 and the 14.5 percent gain in each of the preceding two years.

Economist James Donald attributed the continuing slowdown in food inflation to heavy supplies. Donald said the three per cent 1976 increase means food prices are rising this year at only half the overall cost of living gain and therefore "are slowing the increase in the overall cost of living."

For farmers, Agriculture Department economist Rex F. Daly predicted that net farm income will be up from $2.7 billion in 1975 to about $2.8 billion this year and will probably hold in that area in 1977.

Future seasons will be held in the first Tuesday of each month from 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. and the third Thursday of each month from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. in the Board of Directors Office.

Manchester welfare rolls drop sharply in October

Manchester's welfare rolls showed a surprisingly large drop during the month of October.

The number of town welfare cases, and the cost of caring for those cases usually rises in October as colder weather nears. But last month both the case load and the cost dropped.

"I'm surprised. I don't really know what's happening," Mary DellaFera, director of social services, said.

The number of town welfare cases fell to 130 from a year's high of 145 reported in September. Welfare costs fell to $17,388, over $3,000 less than the $20,674 spent in September.

This year's October figures compare favorably to October 1975 when $22,689 was spent on 139 cases. In October 1975, welfare costs increased $4,000 over the previous month.

Miss DellaFera said that the total number of case loads per month may be a little deceiving. Some of those counted in the September roll, for instance, only received welfare benefits once or twice before dropping off the roll in mid-month, she said.

But she did say that five or six previous welfare recipients found jobs during October. Some went on state aid, and a few moved out of the area, she said.

Omar Shrine Club to elect officers at Friday meeting

Omar Shrine Club will elect its 1977 officers when it meets Friday at the Sphinx Temple Mosque in Newington.

There will be a social hour at 6:30 and a dinner at 7:30.

Officers will be installed at the Jan. 21, 1977 meeting at Willie's Steak House when the next officers of Sphinx Temple visit.

Friday night, President Robert Haugh will detail events for Omar during the Fall Ceremonial in Newington on Saturday, Dec. 11.

Reports will be given about the Shrine Circus, which has been moved to February in 1977, during the school winter vacation.

Plans will be started for the Spring Ceremonial next June, which will be held in Manchester.

Assembly voting tonight

Voting for Democratic General Assembly positions will take place tonight, and one area senator has expressed interest in a position.

Sen. George Hannon, of East Hartford and the Third District, is one of the candidates for the deputy senate leader post.

When Hannon announced he was seeking re-election, he also said, "If I win and if the votes are there, I will run for Senate majority leader or president pro tem."

Hannon did win re-election, but said Monday that "the votes aren't there," and he will not seek either of the two top Senate leadership posts.

Fellow party senators vote for the positions. Senate Majority Leader Joseph I. Liberman of New Haven and President Pro Tem Joseph J. Faulso of Hartford are expected to be re-elected to their posts.

Hannon said that he is now interested in deputy senate leader, which is presently held by William R. Strada of Stamford. The East Hartford senator said that he would also settle for an assistant majority leader role.

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

"African Arrows" was a term used in Revolutionary War literature for the ancient technique of setting fire to defended places by the use of flaming arrows. The reason they were called "African" arrows is probably because a West Indian bow, presumably of African origin or design, happened to be available for use at Fort Mott, S.C. on May 12, 1781, when the technique was employed by Frances Marion and "Light-Horse Harry" Lee. The World Almanac recalls.

Take A Walk

An Englishman, John Lees, holds the current record for walking across the United States. In 1972, he walked 2,876 miles from Los Angeles to New York in 53 days, 12 hours, 15 minutes. He averaged almost 54 miles a day.

Zinsser to propose fire protection study

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter

Carl Zinsser, Republican member of the Board of Directors, said today that he will make a proposal to the board that it appoint a committee to study future fire protection arrangements in Manchester.

The request is apparently the result of two recent happenings in Manchester — the Sept. 30 Superior Court decision that gave the Eighth Utilities District the right to fire jurisdiction in Buckland, and the recent development that the town is interested in building an industrial park in Buckland.

The park would cover about 400 acres and is expected to include a two-million square foot J.C. Penney distribution center. Penney has not yet announced that it will locate the center in Manchester, but such an announcement is soon expected.

The town is appealing the Superior Court decision on fire jurisdiction to the state Supreme Court. If the town loses that appeal, the Eighth District would provide fire protection in Buckland.

If the proposed industrial park in Buckland becomes a reality, the amount of fire protection required for the Eighth District might be too much for the volunteer company to take care of, Zinsser said.

"I don't think the Eighth District could handle it," he said. "Maybe they could, but they'd probably need another firehouse."

The town recently opened a firehouse in Buckland where, according to the Superior Court decision, it has no jurisdiction over fires.

On Oct. 5, five days after the decision on Buckland fire jurisdiction, the directors defeated a proposal to appoint a bipartisan committee to investigate other possible uses for the town's Buckland firehouse should the town lose the appeal.

That proposal was also presented by Zinsser on behalf of the Republican party.

The second committee being recommended by Zinsser would apparently look into the firehouse problem, as well as other matters affecting Manchester's fire protection.

"We have to have more cooperation between the Eighth District and the Town," Zinsser said.

He said that the committee could also look into possible future needs in town. One example he gave was that there is no firehouse south of I-84. "We've got to have some long-range planning," he said.
