A series of four free lectures on primary health care will begin Thursday in the Whiton Memorial Auditorium at 100 N. Main St. The lectures will run from 7:30 to 9 p.m., and are sponsored by the Auxiliary of Manchester Memorial Hospital.

The series is free and the public is invited. Residents of any of the communities served by Manchester Memorial Hospital may attend any or all of the lectures. Reservations may be made by calling Helen Meister at 466-2020 or Daisy Bell at 466-2000.

The first lecture, "How Your Body Works," will be given by Dr. Edward P. Flanagan, an anesthesiology associate at MMH.

On Feb. 10, Dr. Abraham Kurien will speak on "How To Care For Yourself." Dr. Kurien is an associate in the cardiology department at MMH and chairman of the intensive care committee. He is also a member of the hospital Board of Trustees planning committee.

The final lecture on Feb. 17 will feature Dr. Robert K. Butterfield speaking on "When, Where and How To Seek Medical Help." Dr. Butterfield is chairman of the hospital's department of emergency medicine and a member of the medical staff's executive committee.

Blumenfeld successor sought

HARTFORD (UPI) — U.S. District Court Judge M. Joseph Blumenfeld has retired as a full-time jurist, creating a vacancy sought by at least four Connecticut lawyers.

Blumenfeld, appointed in 1961 by his former law associate — the late Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. — sent his retirement letter last Thursday to President Carter. He began service immediately as a part-time senior judge.

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., will submit the name of someone to replace the retired Bloomfield jurist. President Carter will make the nomination.

Legislator summarizes transportation bills

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter
Several bills affecting transportation have been filed for this year's session of the General Assembly.

A local legislator, Rep. Francis Mahoney (D-13th), is a member of the Transportation Committee and has supplied a list of bills that the committee will hear in the next few months.

Mandate the construction of "turnouts or pull-over stops" on limited-access highways. These stops would be for areas where exits were more than three miles apart and would allow a place for reading maps, switching drivers, and making repairs, the bill said.

Energy crises idle thousands

By United Press International
Energy crises idled a third of a million workers today and government agencies worked to bolster cold-depleted gas supplies and provide economic relief for victims of the worst cold waves in history.

Temperatures have moderated over most of the ice-blast East but a new storm shackled portions of New England with heavy snows.

Florida officials said the immediate concern was housing for migrants — who usually live in housing owned by farmers for whom they work.

Farmers who have lost their crops are telling laborers to leave migrant camps because they can't afford upkeep at the housing areas, a state spokesman said.

Directors set March 15 vote on Buckland park bond issue

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter
The Board of Directors Tuesday night voted unanimously to hold a referendum March 15 on a $15.4 million bond issue needed for the proposed industrial park.

The $15.4 million is the estimated cost for buying and developing the property to be used in the industrial park. The actual net cost to the town, after park property is sold to interested firms and the state pays its 50 per cent share of the cost, will be much less.

Speakers at Tuesday night's meeting were all in favor of the project, although some did have further questions on the park.

James Quigley, vice-chairman of the Manchester Economic Development Commission, said, "Manchester is especially fortunate to have this opportunity to develop the industrial park. The development commission has made every effort to develop regulations for an industrial park that Manchester can look to with pride."

Gov. Grasso to discuss I-84 with Rhode Island governor

WILLIMANTIC (UPI) — Connecticut Gov. Ella T. Grasso says she will meet with the governor of Rhode Island to discuss plans for completing Interstate 84 through eastern Connecticut to the neighboring state.

Mrs. Grasso also pledged to increase staffing at Windham Training School for the mentally retarded, whose staffers recently complained of inadequate money for services.

She also pledged an effort to aid Connecticut's "460,000 senior citizens" through a major increase in funding for the State Department on Aging.

Speaking before an audience of about 150 persons at Windham Town Hall, Mrs. Grasso said she will "have some dollars to expand some important programs and take some new initiatives, even though our state is emerging from the shadows of two lean years."

Tax rebate key element in Carter economic plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter's economic stimulus program, if approved by Congress, would send a check for $50 to $200 dollars to almost every family making less than $17,000 a year.

Budget Director Bert Lance Tuesday revealed more details of Carter's tax-jobs plan, although he did not answer all the questions as to who would get what.

House Ways and Means chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., promised to try to push the plan through the House by the end of February, but the other congressmen he did not promise to accept it without change. There have been numerous calls for a larger program, particularly in the job-creating area.

According to Lance, Carter's program would include rebates plus a smaller permanent tax cut at the lower income level and a slightly larger stimulus for business than originally planned.

Opinion

Thanks

There seems to be agreement that this winter is far worse than most recent ones we have endured, and with it our temperaments are far worse also.

For there is nothing, to our way of thinking, that gets older quicker than a daily task of scrapping windshields, shoveling driveways, and scurrying about for sand or some chemical to make our walks passable.

So it is understandable, perhaps, that we gripe a little more than we normally do and take out our disenchantment with winter wonderland on others.

We complain that the street department boys seem to get to our street last, or they don't do the job right, or they make it worse.

We complain the town fathers haven't planned well enough, so if they run out of snow removal money, it's their fault.

And the list goes on. But, just as we have our problems of coping with winter, so does the town. Men do get tired. Machines do break down. Weather forecasting is never an exact science. And budgets are even less a science when the vagaries of nature are involved.

We know the gripes will continue for it is an all too human trait.

But, for the moment, anyway, we'd like to say a small thank you to the men in the various town departments who have kept things moving despite the weather, despite the need for extra-long days, despite equipment malfunctions, and despite a gripe-prone public.

We know you are trying to do your best and we appreciate it.

Dr. Turek responds to Dworkin statement

The comments attributed to me by Mr. Dworkin in a recent advertisement in The Manchester Evening Herald were taken out of context and do not represent my position.

To set the record straight, I wish to make crystal clear that I fully support the proposed Manchester Industrial Park.

The proposed Industrial Park has a potentially favorable impact on the town by giving it the opportunity to develop a balanced transportation system such as by:

- Improved bus service.
- Expanded use of car pools.
- Further, the town would benefit from the less intense land development than could occur if no park is developed.

In addition, the town would benefit because less land would be used for parking and loading areas and more land would be used for landscaping

Vernon GOP chairman criticizes Mayor Benoit

To the editor: I am following with interest the Mayor Thomas Benoit's lip service to the people in Rockville section of Vernon. His apparent concern for Rockville was a major issue in his campaign yet his administration has failed to accomplish anything, in fact, Rockville has gone backwards under the Democratic Administration. The U.S. Envelope Company is gone, the Southern New England Telephone Company is gone, more stores are empty, the theaters are closed, and the previously empty stores are still empty.

I suppose the town could buy these buildings as the mayor started out to do in the beginning of his administration but if he has a real concern, we should have tenants, more jobs, a healthy outlook, not an endless parade of press releases.

Recently, the mayor was quick to issue a press release citing his accomplishments for his first year in office, however the only accomplishments that employ people and specifically aid in the renovation of downtown Rockville were started by the previous Republican Administration.

The post office was retained in Rockville, the school administration was retained in Rockville, the Memorial Building was renovated, the Senior Citizens Center was acquired, the moving of the circuit court to the administration building was started, the renovation of sidewalks, the sewer program, the sewer treatment plant and a new firehouse, these were accomplishments from a Republican Administration, not lip service.

The Economic Development Commission whose responsibility is to seek out industry and tenants for vacant stores or buildings which in turn provide jobs has had only one meeting in the past six months. If the mayor is all that concerned maybe he should get off of some bottom commissions out of dead his Com-

An owlsh editor's notebook

By FLOYD LARSON

What with the winter weather and other pressing events, we neglected to observe the fact that last Thursday marked 75 days since someone predicted Sen. Teddy Kennedy of Massachusetts would be the Democratic party's nominee in 1980.

The better half has issued an ultimatum: With coffee prices being what they are, it had better be good to the last drop.

Uncle Julius wonders if the coffee houses will try to get around to pricing coffee like the auto companies do cars.

For example, a basic cup of coffee would be 15 cents, plus local delivery, dealer preparations and taxes. Local delivery is a 10-cent tip for the gal at the counter, dealer prep would be another nickel and then the sales tax.

The total would be 35 cents. The option of cream would be 3 cents and sugar another four cents making it 40 cents.

Undercoating (a saucer) would be another nickel and the straight stick (spoon) another five pennies. So you end up with a 50 cent cup of coffee without any help from the Brazilians.

Seriously, though, we have a friend who says the only way for a coffee boycott to work is to apply the same principle as the progressive income tax.

Give the customer the first cup free and charge him a dollar for the first refill, two for the second, etc.

Again, it seems no matter how well intentioned a plan might be, there is always a detrimental side-effect. This week, The Wall St. Journal reported a Scranton, Pa., diner raised the price of its coffee and consumption of coffee dropped; but, the muffin, toast and pie business also dropped off.

This may not be of much solace to the confirmed coffee addicts who needs his java hourly and in as strong as vodka as his ceramic cup will tolerate. But, do not despair, your problem will be solved by the miracle of science. Someone will find that coffee can be grown while rats, and some government agency will ban it.

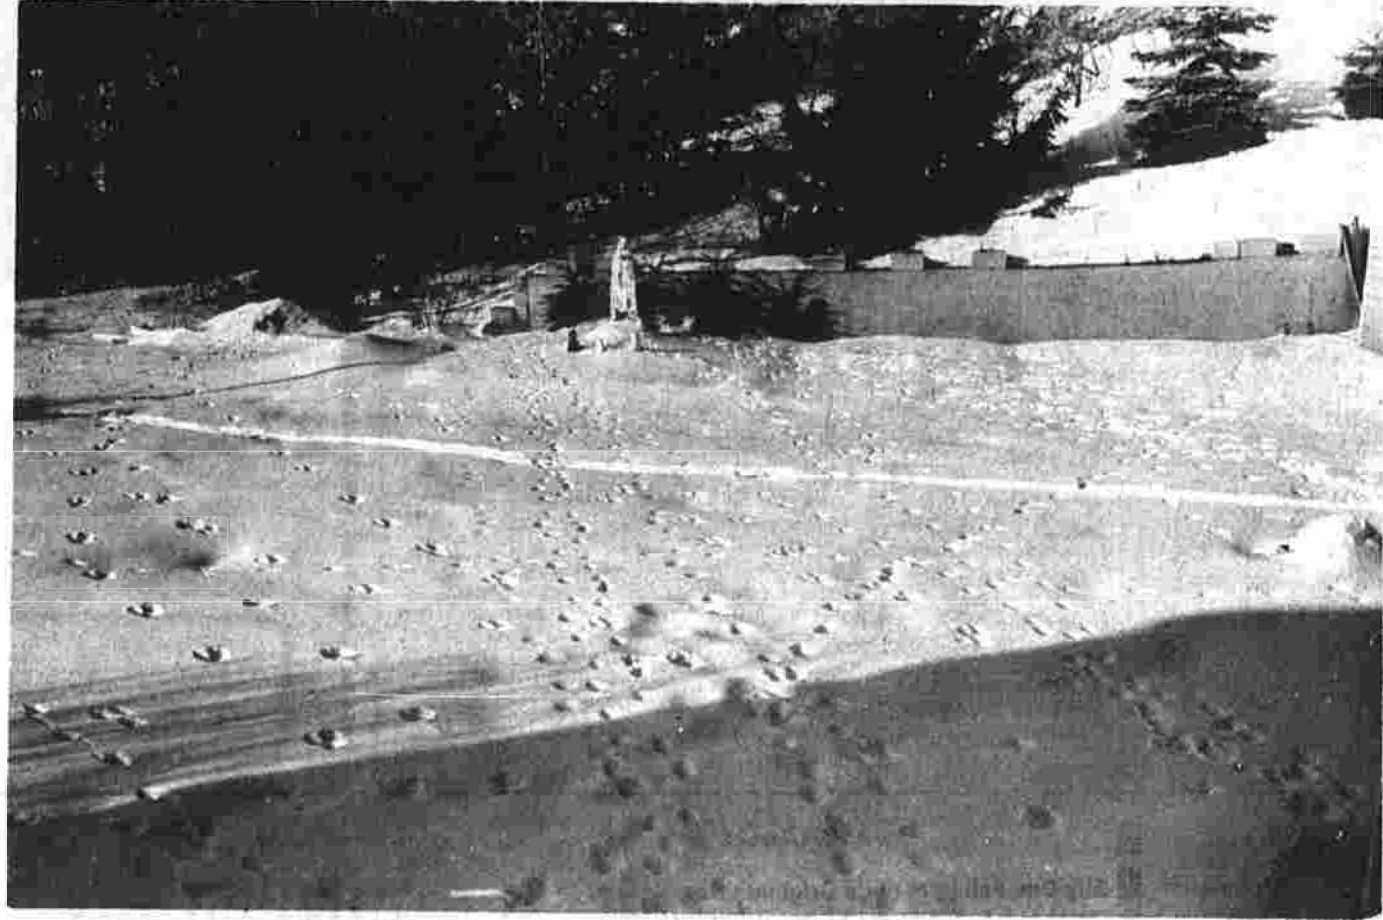

employed baker in Hometown, U. S. A., for every bean picker in Brazil. And while the politicians don't care too much what happens to that bean picker, they know votes are made out of butchers, bakers and candlestick makers.

Cousin Juniper wants the last word in this rambling discussion of coffee prices. He says he has to be the unluckiest guy in town. He read where a freeze caused the high price of coffee. He read where orange juice was just as cheap as coffee to drink. He switched last week to orange juice. And now, this week, he read where a freeze is going to drive up the price of orange juice. He says its enough to drive a man to drink — water that is.

Our prediction is that as the coffee boycott progresses, there will be economic dislocations in Scranton, Pa., Hungry Horse, Mont., and Scogham, Ga. When it hits Georgia, you can bet your chichory roots the government will take some action.

This may not be of much solace to the confirmed coffee addicts who needs his java hourly and in as strong as vodka as his ceramic cup will tolerate. But, do not despair, your problem will be solved by the miracle of science. Someone will find that coffee can be grown while rats, and some government agency will ban it.

This week's cornpatch special: The trouble with staying home from work is that you have to drink coffee on your own time.

A cheer-and-a-half for food stamps

WASHINGTON — Annie, who cleans people's houses for a living, has bought the first ever television set for herself and her four children. She bought it on the installment plan from "a man," to whom she pays a $4 week.

"I can afford it now," Annie explains. "I'm getting food stamps, so there's a little more money to buy things."

Annie is a member of the so-called working poor. In her case, she works hard six days a week. "These stamps," she says, "they're a miracle. They're the only help I get from the government. We can buy more clothes, too."

The difference is definition. The difference is produced by the definition of income. The Census Bureau counts only cash income. The CBO includes other "income," too—the dollar value of such benefits as Medicare, Medicaid and food stamps and certain forms of government housing assistance. These benefits raise the recipient's standard of living just as surely as a like amount of cash.

Food stamps do more than help the families of Washington, D.C. buy their first television set. They reduce the disparity in the welfare income of the living just as surely as a like amount of cash.

These figures come from a study by the Congressional Budget Office, which among other things concludes that food stamps are "the only national program providing assistance to all needy families."

The report calls the stamps the government's "premier" welfare program, the only one in which the only test is that recipients be below certain income levels.

Costs $5.6 billion
The food stamp program now costs $5.6 billion a year, a 20-fold increase since 1967, when the cost was mere $250-million. Is today's cost horrendous? I suppose so, but its impact is small.

Thought
Maybe it's only a little thing — like the good air to breathe or a smile from a child. Just thinking God for it brings joy to many — to him, to you, and to others.

The poor may still be poor, but there are fewer of them, and as a whole they're better off than some of us feared. Even those economists behind corporate desks can find cheer in the CBO's report, because when Annie bought that TV set she became part of that consumer demand so beloved of American private enterprise.

The following provides information about three state representatives whose districts include parts of Manchester.

The three — Reps. Francis Mahoney, Abraham Glassman, and Marjorie Yacovone — make up half of Manchester's delegation to the General Assembly. The other half — Sen. George Hannon and David Barry and Rep. Ted Cummings — was featured in last Wednesday's column.

Rep. Francis Mahoney
District — 11th Assembly District, made up of four of Manchester's ten voting districts.

Years in state legislature — Mahoney is beginning his fifth consecutive term as a state representative.

Committee assignments — Appropriations, Transportation, and Environment.

Where to reach him — He can be reached at home (643-7182) and suggests calling in the early evening.

Objectives — He said that he is interested in gaining support for bills he has submitted, particularly one that would reduce the state sales tax from seven to five per cent.

Mahoney mentioned that Gov. Ella Grasso's state-of-the-state message presented a strong economic outlook.

Adult school reports some course openings

Limited openings still exist in the free classes offered in Adult Basic Education, pre-high school review, high school equivalency preparation, and English for the foreign born in the Manchester Evening School which opens Monday.

Courses will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 9:30 for the spring semester. Adults who have not preregistered may do so on the first night of class, Feb. 1 in Room 110.

The pre-high school review class will be offered for adults who have not yet obtained an eighth grade education and for those who need additional help in the fundamentals of reading, mathematics, spelling and grammar before entering high school equivalency classes.

Middle Tpke. ($41.10) have brought the total fund to $1,233.78.

The money is divided equally between the families of Mrs. Lorraine Goss and her three children, and Mrs. Dorothy Merovonich and her two children. The families lost all their possessions when the two-story duplex that was their home was levelled by a natural gas explosion. Tanya Merovonich, 17, was the only occupant at the time of the disaster, and suffered a broken ankle and leg, and second-degree burns on her face and arms.

Hospitalized since the blast occurred, Tanya is expected to be released from Newtonington Children's Hospital this week, according to her mother. Even though Tanya will be able to return home, she will be confined to an ankle and partial leg cast for the next six months, her mother said.

Fred Peck, chairman of the fund drive, said the advantage of a small community is that everyone pitches in and helps in times of an emergency. What began as a neighborhood project mushroomed until the entire community and even some outsiders, gave money and personal belongings to the destitute families, he added.

CRCOG role defined at chamber session

By SUSAN VAUGHN

Herald Reporter

The Capitol Region Council of Governments (CRCOG) is not a major force in the region now, Richard Suisman, CRCOG chairman told the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce board of directors today.

CRCOG is not a regional government and Suisman said he does not expect it will have the powers of a regional government as some regional councils do in the West and Midwest.

Connecticut and New England are too steeped in tradition and too small an area to make way for such a change, Suisman said. He does not see a need for another level of government if the government at the State Capitol remains "responsive and bold."

Suisman attended the breakfast meeting of the directors at their invitation to explain the functions of CRCOG and the reasons behind a request from CRCOG of 18 local chambers for $800 contributions to help support regional programs.

The Greater Hartford Chamber of Commerce, the Greater Hartford Corporation and the Greater Hartford Process led off the support of CRCOG recently with a contribution of $50,000. Two other towns, Glastonbury and Bloomfield have also contributed $500 each and several other chambers are considering the allocation, Suisman said.

The principal source of CRCOG funding is from federal grants which are designated for specific programs, Suisman said. The other 10 per cent of CRCOG's $1 million budget comes from dues from the 29 member towns based on population, grand list and square miles of a town.

The additional funds are being asked, Suisman explained, to implement the following programs: more lobbying for the towns at the state legislature; a study of the structure of CRCOG; a review of the economic development of the region to make it more viable for the business and industry and hiring a staff of lobbyists and consultants.

CRCOG has already taken one step in the new programs by hiring a full-time lobbyist, Matthew Burke of Vernon, Tuesday.

Current legislation which CRCOG is supporting in the General Assembly includes: requiring a financial impact statement on legislation that affects municipalities; state takeover of welfare system from towns; increase in welfare benefits; and proper reimbursement of state tax exempt properties; business tax relief and additional monies for towns and cities for roads.

Commenting on a current controversy in CRCOG over a proposed change to a one-man-one-vote on certain issues has been "blown a little out of proportion," Suisman said. A vote on the change was expected today at noon. CRCOG will have to first ask the legislature to allow the change in the voting system, according to a legal opinion of the CRCOG attorney Tuesday.

The present system of voting which would be retained for most votes, gives each town one vote and Hartford four. The new change would give the larger town a more voting power and the smaller towns less based on population, Suisman said.

Urging the local chambers' contributions, Suisman said, the Hartford Chamber grant won't be productive if the other towns do not share in the funding. He also stressed that CRCOG is "not Hartford dominated."

Mayor Matthew M. Moriarty Jr. and Town Manager Robert B. Weiss also gave brief remarks at the meeting indicating their support of CRCOG.

The Chamber's executive board will meet next Thursday to discuss the contribution proposal and present a recommendation to the entire board at next month's meeting.

Welfare reform proposals aired

HARTFORD (UPI) — Most members of the legislative Human Services Committee agree Connecticut should reform its current welfare system. What they're not unanimous on is how it should be done.

The committee wrestled with a variety of welfare reform proposals Tuesday, agreeing to let some continue through the legislative process, while killing others.

Throughout the meeting, various committee members expressed their dissatisfaction with the present welfare system, which they termed inadequate and inequitable. But different members had different ideas on the method of reform.

"What we really have to do is change the whole welfare system," said the committee co-chairperson, Sen. Betty Hudson, D-Madison. "We all know the (present) system doesn't work."

"No one can live under the present standard (82¢ a week for a family of four). It is really unconscionable," she added.

Rep. Joan Kemler, D-Hartford, said the committee would recommend a 20 percent increase in the state's welfare system.

West Hartford, said reform is needed badly and suggested the committee instruct the Office of Legislative Research to do a comprehensive study of the state's welfare system.

"We (the committee) don't know enough about it or how to make the change," she said. The meeting adjourned before any action was taken on her proposal.

Two of bills the committee allowed to live would raise welfare payments by amounts Gov. Ella T. Grasso has said are unacceptable.

The governor recently said she would ask for an increase in welfare payments in her Feb. 8 budget message. However, Mrs. Grasso said her proposal would not be as large as the $35 million figure Social Services Commissioner Edward Maher has requested.

Maher's proposal, designed to bring general assistance checks in line with the 1974 cost-of-living index, would raise welfare benefits by 21 per cent. This would mean a family of four, currently receiving $4,200 a year under the 1971 cost-of-living index, would get $5,076 a year. The Human Services Committee, by a 8-5 vote with one abstention, agreed to send Maher's proposal to the Legislative

Business accused of deception in urging tax rate slashes

HARTFORD (UPI) — Labor says business groups have been able to deceive lawmakers and Gov. Ella T. Grasso into believing a cut in corporate taxes is the best way to help the state's ailing economy.

Francis Lemieux, president of the Connecticut United Auto Workers Community Action Program Council, said Tuesday industry's arguments that cutting business taxes would help the economy was untrue.

"There is no necessary connection between a reduction in the cost of doing business through tax incentives and the creation of needed jobs in Connecticut," he said.

Commissioner's Office to be drafted into bill form. By the same vote, the committee also agreed to have a bill drafted which would raise welfare benefits by 41 per cent to 1976 cost-of-living levels. After a bill is drafted, public hearings will be held on the measure before the committee and the legislature act on it.

Lemieux said the UAW believed surplus state funds set aside to give business a tax break could be better spent on public services.

He said talk of tax cuts were a "clever smoke screen" behind which business can "reward itself with windfall profits, evade public responsibility and purchase of new

Supreme Court accepts sick pay rights issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court announced Tuesday it will decide whether employers can deny ordinary sick pay and possibly seniority rights to women on maternity leave.

The two cases from Tennessee and California differ from the recent General Electric case where the court held exclusion of pregnancy from employer disability insurance plans is not a violation of federal law.

The justices refused to reconsider the GE decision. In another case important to women, the court rejected Indiana's request that it reconsider last term's ruling denying parents the right to veto abortions for their minors.

In lawsuits involving school desegregation and housing — from Indianapolis, Ind., and Toledo, Ohio, respectively — the justices ordered more proceedings in lower courts to determine whether there was intentional government discrimination.

Catholic paper asks bishops to open meeting to public

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's Roman Catholic bishops should open their deliberations on such issues as ordination of women and eased restrictions on birth control, according to the National Catholic Reporter.

In an editorial scheduled to appear in the Jan. 28 edition of the influential publication, the newspaper said there was "an element of tragedy" in the forthcoming sessions of bishops' committees, from which the public will be barred.

"At issue is the procedure planned to deal with resolutions from the bishop's Bicentennial 'Call to Action' conference last October in Detroit.

"In thousands of parishes, hundreds of thousands of Catholics were made to feel that what they had to say mattered," the paper said, referring to the questionnaires that made up the preliminary work of the "Call to Action" conference.

The resolutions which resulted, however, were only recommendations to the bishops and Archbishop Joseph L. Bernardin of Cincinnati, president of the

Sunday closings urged to conserve energy by Blue Law backers

HARTFORD (UPI) — Democratic legislative leaders today urged businesses in Connecticut to close one day a week to conserve energy.

Senate President pro tem Joseph Paulino of Hartford and Senate Democratic Majority Leader Joseph Lieberman of New Haven, who have pushed hard for re-institution of restrictions on Sunday sales, made the request.

"Business and industry here cannot continue to use energy seven days a week while severe cold weather causes fuel shortages in other parts of the nation," they said in a statement.

They said the current fuel crisis "accentuates" their point that Sunday commerce should be curtailed.

Connecticut's centuries-old laws regulating Sunday sales were struck down by a court last spring and Paulino and Lieberman have been in the forefront of the effort to pass new restrictions.

They said those who have argued for the right to open seven days a week should "put aside this concern because of the current energy problem."

GOP offers discount to Senior Citizens

The Republican party has announced it will offer a ten per cent discount to the annual Lincoln Day Dinner-Dance for senior citizens who own a gold card.

The affair will be held Saturday, Feb. 19 at the Manchester Country Club.

Any senior citizen seeking more information should get in touch with Frederick E. Peck, Republican registrar of voters, who is on the organizing committee.

Guest skaters named for Winter Carnival

The two guest skaters for the Winter Carnival at Union Pond Annex on Sunday have been named by the carnival committee.

Gary Enos of New London and Lisa Vaughan of Manchester will be the dancing skaters scheduled to appear on the program at 1:30 p.m.

Enos is a member of and an instructor with the Evelyn Koska Dance Co. of New London.

Miss Vaughan, 20, has been skating about eight years. She turned professional last year after she auditioned for the Ice Capades and was accepted. She was a member of the ice Capades corps de ballet during their engagement at the Hartford Civic Center last year. She is presently on leave from the Ice Capades.

Miss Vaughan, who lives at 226 Ludlow Rd., was a member of the Charter Oak Figure Skating Club for several years. She studied with Hugh Seaman and Ann Adair, both of West Hartford.

Auto show prize winner

Mike Scudieri's Duster, which won several prizes in last weekend's auto show in Hartford, is shown in a wheels-up start during the 1976 drag racing season. The auto is able to cover a quarter mile in ten seconds at speeds over 135 miles per hour.

Manchester men win awards at Hartford automobile show

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter

Two Manchester High graduates, one present student, and a teacher at the school were among those who captured awards at the Frank Maralta Auto Show, held last weekend at the Hartford Civic Center.

St. Bridget registration will be Feb. 4

St. Bridget Junior High School will hold its registration Feb. 4, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the school office on 72 Main St. For information please call 649-7731 between 11:30 and 2:30. Any student presently attending Grade 6 may apply regardless of race, religion, color, national or ethnic background, and will be accepted on the basis of an entrance test to be given later in the year.

His former teacher, Adrian Groot III, who still teaches automobiles at MHS, won "most outstanding" auto and second place in the competition car class. (The "most outstanding" competition car carried a $25 prize, while Scudieri's best-in-show award in the same category was worth $100.)

The big local winner at the event was Mike Scudieri, who lives at 111 Cooper Hill St. He won best-in-show in three different categories — Competition cars, interior for competition cars, and drag racing cars. He is a 1971 graduate from MHS.

About town

The Couples Club of Center Congregational Church will have a military whist and set-back Friday at 8 p.m. in Woodruff Hall. Games will be directed by Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKeever. There will be prizes and refreshments. The public is invited. For further information, call Mrs. Carol Seavey at 649-4229.

Town redrafting ordinance on sidewalk-road repairs

Director of Public Works Jay J. Giles is working on ordinance changes that would affect sidewalk repairs and construction on roads not owned by the Town of Manchester.

The change in the sidewalk ordinance would eliminate the option of repairing with bituminous material, Giles said.

State audit of towns sought

HARTFORD (UPI) — The state should assume responsibility for auditing all of Connecticut's 169 towns and cities, according to Rep. William J. Scully, Jr., D-Waterbury.

Scully proposed legislation Tuesday which would create a special tax auditing division within the state Tax Department to handle the bookkeeping chore of auditing city accounts. Municipalities currently do their own auditing.

concrete usually cost about 30 percent more than bituminous repairs.

Members of the Board of Directors, at a recent meeting, were concerned about the appearance and results of bituminous sidewalk repairs.

"Basically, the main objection is the attractiveness," Giles said. He also said that, after a long period, the bituminous patch might settle differently than the remainder of the walk.

Cancer deaths

HARTFORD (UPI) — The overall cancer rate between 1970-74 was nearly twice as great in women as in men, the state Health Department said.

In its Connecticut Health Bulletin, the agency said lung cancer has taken the lead over colon-rectal cancer as the number one cause of cancer-related deaths in the four-year period. Lung cancer accounted for more than 19 percent of all cancer deaths for the period, the report said.

Police report

Police reported the theft of $504.50 from a safe at the Keeney St. School Tuesday.

Police said that an employee at the school had unlocked the safe at 4:45 p.m. to remove some items, but he is not sure whether the safe was locked after that time.

Six employees who have access to the safe will be questioned and given polygraph tests, police said.

Police probe robbery of gasoline station

Manchester Police are investigating the Tuesday morning robbery at a Deming St. Texaco station, where $2,022.02 was taken by a man carrying a knife, police said.

"We're working on a couple of things," Detective Captain Joseph Sartor said this morning.

The robbery was reported to police at 10:42 a.m. Tuesday. The station attendant told police that a man drove into the station in a green vehicle with a black vinyl top.

Another theft reported Tuesday was from a motor vehicle parked at the Burr Corners commuter lot. Police said a CB radio and a camera, total value of $310, were taken from the auto. The theft was called into police at 8:13 p.m. Tuesday.

Other arrests made Tuesday by Manchester Police included:

• Stephen A. Ellis, 23, of Coventry, charged with evading responsibility in connection with a Jan. 19 accident. Court date is Feb. 8.

It's Morra against Ryba in Bolton election

Caucus of Republicans decides two contests

Richard P. Morra, who served as Bolton's first selectman for 12 years until 1975, was nominated for the position again by Tuesday night's Republican caucus.

Morra was unchallenged in his bid for the nomination. There were only two contests at the GOP caucus—a five-way competition for four selectman endorsements and a two-way race for a Board of Finance nomination.

Nominated by the caucus for other slots on the Board of Selectmen were incumbent Norman Preuss, Ernest Shepherd, Norma Tedford and Douglas Cheney. Mary Lou Lemaire, who also sought a nomination, polled the fewest ballots in the caucus.

The tally for selectman candidates was: Preuss, 46; Shepherd, 46; Mrs. Tedford, 44; Cheney, 33; and Mrs. Lemaire, 28.

In the contest for the Board of Finance for next term nomination, incumbent Morris Silverstein polled 29 votes to newcomer Paul Edverg's 27 votes. Richard Barger was unopposed in his bid for nomination for a two-year Board of Finance term.

Other nominations by the

Newcomers nominated in Democratic caucus

Henry P. Ryba was unanimously endorsed by the Democratic caucus Tuesday night to seek the position of Bolton's first selectman in the May town election.

Ryba's bid for the nomination was unchallenged. There were no contests for any of the seats at the caucus.

Four newcomers were endorsed by the caucus to seek the other seats on the Board of Selectmen. Nominated were John Carey, Allan Hoffman, Aloysius Ahern and Judith Miner.

Newcomers Wallace Kelly and Daniel Harris won nomination for Board of Finance terms. Kelly will seek a four-year seat and Harris will seek a two-year seat.

The Democratic caucus did not name candidates for town clerk, treasurer and tax collector. The Democratic Town Committee was empowered by the caucus to fill the vacancies if candidates could be found before the election.

Remaining nominations by the Democratic caucus at the Community Hall were:

- Board of Education: Incumbent

You would think by now the refrain would be tiresome but one thing — it hasn't changed. For the fifth time last night, East Catholic and Manchester High met on the hardwood and for the fifth time the Eagles came away the winner, 50-47, in a well-played game before a paid crowd of 1,485 at Clarke Arena. There wasn't much to decide between the local quintets.

"We played our best game over this season but damn it, we didn't get any breaks. It seems when we play there is no luck on our side," disappointed Manchester Coach Doug Pearson intoned. "I set up a final shot for (Scott) Hyde so what happens; he slips and begins to fall on the designed play.

The Indians, however, on point, 48-47, by virtue of a three-point play by Pete Thompson at the 1:17 mark, set up a play for Hyde at the left baseline. But the junior, who had been in balance on the slippery hardwood, where spectators intermittently without being challenged walked, and he took an off-balance shot. There was a long rebound which the 5-10 Thompson grabbed, passed to a streaking Mark Dumais, and the latter dashed three-quarters of the length of the court for a clinching 9-4 and is one win away from post-season play.

The Silk Towners did lead by six, 28-22, with 1:20 left in the third canto on two rebound hoops by Steve McKenzie and Hyde and a baseline jumper by John Pisch snapping a 32-all tie. That luxury, however, went by the boards as Carlson pumped in two short hoops and Mike Donnelly two free throws sandwiched around two Manchester turnovers to tie it again going into the final period.

It was an extremely close first half with Manchester leading after one, 15-13, and it being deadlocked at 28-28 at the intermission. There were six ties in the second canto while Manchester held the lead five times and East twice. Statistically, East was 11 for 19 from the floor in the half along with a high turnover rate of 12 while the Indians were 13 for 33 from the field with just four giveaways.

Carlson led all scorers with 15 points with Dumais adding 14 markers. Carlson, 6-5 senior tri-captain, also had 13 of East's total 25 rebounds. The Eagles wound up 20 for 42 from the field along with 18 turnovers, just one in the final stanza.

Pisch, who fouled out with 30 seconds left, had a team-high 13 points for Manchester with Kiernan and Hyde contributing nine markers apiece. Kiernan, 6-7 pivotman, was a terror on the defensive backboards and had a very unofficial total of 19 rebounds — it appeared he hauled in at least 15. Manchester was 20 for 50 from the floor and turned the ball over 16 times.

East's jayvees also made it two straight over Manchester, 60-50. Mark Murphy and Pete Kiro led the winning 8-4 Eagles with 28 and 12 points respectively while Jim Shelton had 13 points and Ron Apter 12 for the losing 6-7 Indians.

East Catholic (50) — Carlson 47-10, Lindberg 4 0-8, Heim 1 0-2, Dumais 7 0-14, Thompson 4 1-4, Donnelly 0 2-3, Holland 0 0-0. Totals 20-45-50.

Manchester (47) — McKenzie 3 0-6, Hyde 4 1-4, Kiernan 3 2-4, Pisch 6 1-3, 13, Wynn 3 2-8, Sherman 0 0-0, Beaupre 1 0-2, Marshall 0 0-0, Kelly 0 0-0, Finnegan 0 0-0. Totals 20-34-47.

Cheney scores 94 points in trouncing Rham High

Placing five performers in double figures and getting line efforts from everyone, Cheney Tech scored a resounding 94-73 Charter Oak Conference basketball victory over Rham High last night at the Beavers' gym.

The win was Cheney's second in its last three starts and third in five outings and left the Beavers with a 3-5 COC mark and 3-8 aggregate ledger. The triumph also avenges an earlier 65-58 setback inflicted by Rham over the Techies. The Sachems slip to 3-5 in the conference and 3-7 overall with the loss.

Cheney returns to action tonight in a makeup tilt against unbeaten conference leader Cromwell High at the Panthers' Lair. Cromwell is 9-0 overall.

The Techies raced to an early 11-2 edge and held that margin after the first turn at 19-8. The Beavers got the offense rolling in the second canto putting 27 points on the scoreboard for a 46-27 advantage at the intermission.

The offensive thrust slowed down a little in the third quarter and the Beavers had a 53-42 edge going into the final eight minutes but there is when coach Gerry Blanchard's quintet exploded for 31 points to salt away the decision.

Senior captain George Prasser led all scorers for Cheney with 24 points along with eight rebounds before fouling out with 5-8 junior backcourt performer Brian Brown adding 22 points along with accounting for seven steals and 16 assists along with junior Jim Boudreau, who tacked 15 points onto the Cheney total. Kevin Tyler popped in 15 tallies and Dave Gustamachio 10 in the winning effort.

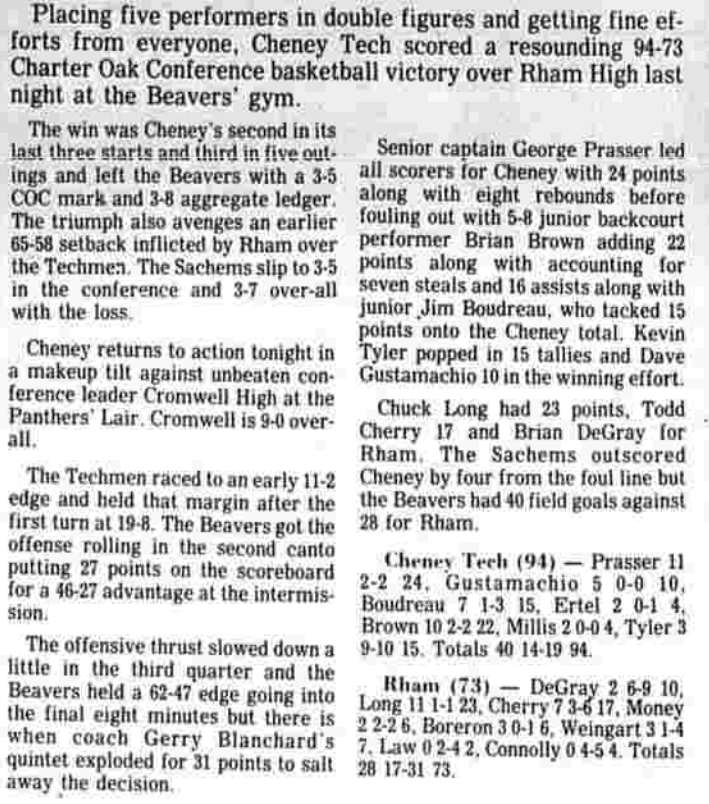

Chuck Long had 23 points, Todd Cherry 17 and Brian DeGray for Rham. The Sachems outscored Cheney by four from the foul line but the Beavers had 40 field goals against 28 for Rham.

Cheney Tech (94) — Prasser 11 2-2 2-4, Gustamachio 5 0-0 10, Boudreau 7 1-3 15, Ertel 2 0-1 4, Brown 10 2-2 22, Mills 2 0-4 7, Tyler 3 9-10 15. Totals 40-19-94.

East-Manchester remains classic

By EARL YOST

Five times Manchester High and East Catholic High basketball teams have gone to the post over the past three seasons and the result has been the same East winning, but each game has gone down to the wire.

The latest meeting was last night before a less than capacity crowd of 1,485 at the Clarke Arena. The score was 50-47.

Each side had golden opportunities to win, the more disciplined Eagles of Coach Stan Ogorodnik making the most of breaks down the stretch to snatch the decision away from the left and right to the dismay of the majority in attendance.

While the overall play was not the best exhibited by either camp this season, it was a game in which there was a lot of squirming in the seats and vocal displays of the highest kind, especially by the Indian supporters.

Few got off and left before the final second ticked away.

Each side registered 20 baskets and as it happens so many times, the winning margin came from the free throw line. East made the best of 15 tries, hitting 10, while Manchester was just 500, seven for 14. The offficiating was tight and when the game was hectic in the final period when not more than four points separated the rivals, the coolest men in the arena were Lou Filippetti and Joe Perotta.

One audience member asked for a more even game.

Coach Doug Pearson's Indians held a 15-13 first period lead but at the 1:17 mark the score was deadlocked, 28-28 at intermission and 38-38 entering the final eight minutes.

East's biggest margin was three points, 23-20, while Manchester was up by six in the second canto, 38-32.

In the end, it was East's deliberate style play, waiting for the good shot, that told the story.

A three-point play by Peter Thompson turned the game around. The left handed two-popper went either left and fouled on the play, converted to erase a 47-40 Manchester margin. Mark Dumais' clinching hoop with eight seconds left led the verdict after a Manchester basket try missed.

No one went away dissatisfied if he or she was a fan.

One of these years, the shoe is going to be on the other foot, with Manchester celebrating victory.

The difference between the two clubs in the five games played has been wafers thin, all decision could have gone the other way.

Thrilling double overtime triumph scored by MCC five

As fireworks were bursting in an arena across town, Manchester Community College's basketball team created its own excitement as the Cougars netted 17 out of 21 from the foul line in the second overtime for a 92-84 defeat of Eastern Connecticut State College's jayvees last night at East Catholic High.

The win halves the locals' two-game losing streak while increasing the aggregate record to 4-9. The Cougars host Tunxis Community College effectively stalled but it didn't pan out as two late shots missed and no points were tallied in the period.

A tip-in by Mike Robinson with 5:45 left in the second half gave MCC a 61-55 lead but quickly thereafter Eastern Steve Zocco and Mark Bolasovich, along with Robinson, fouled out. Cougars a big psychological hit needed to subdue Eastern's lead.

From then on, it seemed Eastern lost its poise as the Cougars capitalized on excessive violations. Eastern's jayvees last night at East Catholic High.

Penney needs rally, downs Glastonbury

By BILL McAVOY

Despite a poor shooting performance from the floor, the Penney High Knights were able to stay close to a surprisingly tough Glastonbury High basketball team and hang on for a 59-57 overtime victory on the Tomahawks' hardwood last night before a crowd of 400.

It was tied at 10-10 after the first turn before Glastonbury, now 1-11 overall, ripped off eight unanswered points at the outset of the second quarter for its largest lead. Penney didn't score until 3:43 remained in the period when Tom Francis notched two free throws.

The Knights made a small comeback with Brent Young and Tom Jaworski putting home inside shots. Bernie Vogel and Jeff Goodwin kept Glastonbury ahead with 20-foot jump shots, leading 24-20 at the intermission.

The second half saw the Tomahawks maintain a slim lead until there was less than a minute left when Jaworski scored on a layup for a 51-50 Penney lead. Vogel put Glastonbury ahead with 30 seconds left on a three-point play but Jaworski, grabbing a rebound of his own missed shot, knotted it with the last second before no good sending the tilt into overtime.

In the extra session the Knights drew first blood on a Lindsey James layup. Vogel countered to Glastonbury at the outset of the second quarter for its largest lead. Penney didn't score until 3:43 remained in the period when Tom Francis notched two free throws.

Sports briefs

Two goal star
VANCOUVER (UPI) — Rick Martin, perhaps the deadliest shooter in the National Hockey League, says neither of his two goals in the NHL All-Star game were calculated shots.

Martin's play on the wing led the Prince of Wales All-Stars to a 4-3 victory over the Clarence Campbell Stars and also earned the Buffalo area the game's Most Valuable Player award.

Buffalo deal backfires
NEW YORK (UPI) — Buffalo Braves' owner Paul Snyder has been running his club as if auditioning to replace Monty Hall as emcee of "Let's Make A Deal."

Snyder seems to have an incredible knack for choosing the wrong curtain was exemplified by the New York Knicks' 106-91 victory over the Chicago Bulls Tuesday night.

Bob McAdoo, who led the National Basketball Association in scoring three straight years for the Braves, was shuffled off from Buffalo, along with Tom McMillen, for John Giannelli and a large portion of uncounted cash.

McAdoo scored 34 points, had 15 rebounds and seven assists in a second-round match of the U.S. Pro Indoor Tennis Championships and later declared he was through with doubles play.

Suspension stands
ATLANTA (UPI) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn has ordered Atlanta Braves' owner Ted Turner suspended immediately, a spokesman said for the team said Tuesday.

Kuhn upheld Turner's suspension "from management or advising in management of the affairs of the Atlanta Braves or engaging in any association whatever with any major league club or its personnel in the absence of prior authorization from this office."

Easy win
PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Jimmy Connors is going at it alone from now on, so the keepers of tennis records were glad to better beware.

Connors, the top seed and defending champion, easily defeated Fred Mottram, 6-3, 6-2, Tuesday night in a second-round match of the U.S. Pro Indoor Tennis Championships and later declared he was through with doubles play.

MCC women triumph

By Gary Grabowski

The MCC Women Cougars came out of the starter's gate a little languid last night but finished with a flurry in throttling the Connecticut College Camels of New London, 53-33 in a basketball encounter at East Catholic High School.

Connecticut grabbed the early lead, 6-2 at the 18:37 mark as the Camels were able to work for the good shot. Cougar Bonnie Kilgore, pumped in four points and with 15:23 remaining in the half the score was knotted at six apiece.

Neither team was able to put the ball through the hoop from that stage and with nine minutes left the Cougars owned a slim two-point advantage, 14-12. From there, MCC now 1-2, went to a fast-breaking offense with Kilgore and Laurie Christiansa leading the break and the decision paid off handsomely as the Cougars led 11 points at intermission, 27-16.

At the start of the second half, Connecticut's Celyne Hill popped in a pair of 15-footers and Kit Schaeffer followed with a three-point play as the Camels slashed MCC's lead to four 27-23 at the 15:46 mark.

The Cougars kept their composure beautifully holding their opponent at bay, however, before busting the contest wide open down the stretch for their 52-33 verdict.

MCC coach Sandy Sawicki said after the contest, "We moved the ball well and were able to stay with what we wanted to. We forced them to play our type of game."

Ginny Petersen led the victors with 14 points while teammate Bonnie Kilgore contributed 12 markers and 10 rebounds. Velma Toney led the 1-1 losers with 14 points.

Qualify for tourney

Moving ahead at each turn, Manchester High's girls' basketball team turned back Enfield, 53-41, yesterday in Enfield.

The victory pushes the Silk Towners' record to 10-3 and qualifies them for CIAC State Tournament play. This is the first time Manchester has qualified for post-season action in three years.

The locals jumped to an 11-8 advantage after the first quarter and extended the margin to 25-19 at the half. The edge was built to 37-29 going into the final period of play.

Nancy Downing led the Manchester attack with 23 points and 26 rebounds with Kathy Strand adding 10 markers and Ellen Donadio, slowly getting back into form after an injury, chipping in with eight tallies. Miss LaVigne had a team-high 11 points for 5-7 Enfield.

Manchester's jayvees upped their record to 9-4 with a 24-20 win with Cindy Millis and Sharon Maher sharing scoring honors for the Indians with five points apiece.

A favorite souvenir is a sandalwood elephant with ivory tusks.

Susan wears a sari a gift from her host mother. At right, is a ceremonial mask and Indian money.

People Student enjoys Indian summer

By BETTY RYDER
Family/Travel Editor

It was a Saturday night in June when a special delivery letter arrived at the home of the Lanni family at 220 Scott Dr. and 17-year-old Susan was informed she would be spending two months in Sri Lanka, formerly Ceylon.

Susan, a senior at Manchester High School, had applied through the American Field Service program to serve as an exchange student in a foreign country and had been anxiously waiting for news of her acceptance.

"I was so excited," she said. "When you apply you don't know what country you will be sent to, and being sent to Sri Lanka, which is southeast of India, was great news."

"My letter told me to apply immediately for a visa and on June 28 I was Bombay-bound."

The first leg of the trip took 28 hours and it seemed longer. After reaching Bombay, I took another two flights before reaching Sri Lanka," she said.

Susan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lanni, were pleased with their daughter's acceptance although Mrs. Lanni said, "We had begun to think she wouldn't be going since some of the other students had received their notices a few weeks earlier."

Mrs. Lanni is director of mental health for children in the Children and Youth Services Department for State of Connecticut.

Susan made her home with the Hall family in Sri Lanka. "My host father" is employed by the government as a physical training instructor and inspects the physical education programs at the schools.

Other members of her host family were Mrs. Hall, a sister, Shabnam, 15, and her two brothers, Siraj, 13 and Altaf, 11.

Language was no barrier, Susan said, since Sri Lanka had been a British Colony and many of the people she met spoke English.

During her visit, Susan went to visit Shabnam's school.

Super studios
"They are super-studios. I was more interested in chatting. Later I visited Siraj's 12th grade class and enjoyed it very much."

In this country, Susan said, "Students are given examinations by the government and then there are no classes till the results are made known."

On weekends, the Hall family took her on tours, and she was especially impressed with Sigirya Rock.

"It's a 600-foot high fortress which is now in ruins. It's a holy place for Buddhists and the original capital of Ceylon, where more than 10,000 Buddhist priests once lived."

"We also visited Amurathapura, a relic and a Bo tree grown from a branch of the tree under which Lord Buddha was said to have reclined and received Buddhahood or enlightenment," Susan explained.

"There is also a Dambulla Temple carved in rock which has five very elaborate rooms. Susan kept busy visiting Peradeniya which are reported to be the best gardens in the East."

"It had an orchid house, many trees, and beautiful flowers some of which I recognized. As for the food in Sri Lanka, Susan says "It's HOT."

"I think they put chillies in everything. Spices, coconut and chocolate are big there, as is tea. Meals consist of rice, crepes or string hoppers (thin spaghetti) usually served with a curry made with meat, fish or vegetables, which is eaten with the hands."

Rice rationed
"Actually, rice is the staple but it is rationed," she said. Buddhists are not supposed to eat meat, Susan said, but if a butcher did not kill the animal especially for him, he will sometimes purchase it. The Muslims, do not eat pork."

"I had hoped to go to a movie, but the dialogue was in Sinhalese and someone would have had to translate it," Susan said.

A cheerful, energetic young lady, Susan was impressed with a carnival she participated in during her visit.

It was so different from what we call a carnival in this country. It was comprised mainly of cultural exhibits, displays of new pottery, relics, etc. They also had a rock concert of sorts, nothing compared to ours."

"I was so different from what we call a carnival in this country. It was comprised mainly of cultural exhibits, displays of new pottery, relics, etc. They also had a rock concert of sorts, nothing compared to ours."

"But there, it was a real happening."

Susan witnessed the processions or parades at the Buddhist Temples. "The elephants were all dressed ceremonially, and the Kandy dancers performed. It was very serious event and marked observance of the eshrining of Lord Buddha's canine tooth," she said.

Souvenir shopping was a "must" on her list and Susan arrived home with an Indian nose jewel which clips onto one side of the nostril and appears to have pierced the skin.

Ears pierced
"I also had my ears pierced while I was there," she said. "I figured it would be something I'd always remember."

Among the other items she received were an elephant carved from sandalwood and looking regal with ivory tusks, miniature Kandy dancers in their native costumes, a devil's mask which is a replica of those worn in ceremonial dances, and bangles (bracelets).

"My host mother made me two tops to go with my sarongs and taught me how to fold and drape my sari."

"In Sri Lanka, the young girls wear white dresses to school and save their saris for special occasions," she said.

Susan arrived home Aug. 28 and was warmly greeted by her parents, and her brother, Mike, 20, and sister, Nancy, 18.

She is quite emphatic when she talks of going back one day, although presently school comes first.

"I haven't spoken to any groups yet, but when my Western Civilization class at school goes on the subject class at school goes on the subject of India, my teacher has asked me to tell them of my trip."

Grateful that she was able to participate in such a worthwhile program, Susan said, "AFS is looking for host families in this country. Anyone who is interested may contact Ken Beeson at 643-1670."

In the meantime, it's back to the books in preparation of exams she is currently undergoing. As for the future, Susan would like to study law.

Just what college she will attend is still undecided. "I've found the college; they just haven't found me yet," a smiling Susan said.

Pellagra caused by vitamin lack

DEAR DR. LAMB—Can you tell me something about disease called pellagra? Does it cause the mouth to be sore? What causes it? Is there any cure?

DER READER—Pellagra is a rare disease in our society. It is a good example of how our nutrition has improved over the past 50 years.

Pellagra was widespread among the poor in the United States in the 1930s, particularly in the South. It is a vitamin deficiency caused by lack of niacin in the diet.

Your neighbor's kitchen

By Betty Ryder

At dusk, when island drumbeats signal runners to begin the traditional South Seas torchlight ceremony at the Polynesian Village at Walt Disney World in Florida, visitors can be sure that its executive chef, Johnny Rivers, has prepared a feast for the laus.

Johnny entered the culinary world in Orlando, Fla. at the age of 14 by working as a cook's helper after school and during the summer.

He later worked as a second cook at the Oakmont Room of the Jordan Marsh Department store in Orlando where he eventually advanced to first cook and finally to head chef.

After traveling the state of Florida working at various hotels and country clubs, Johnny accepted an offer from Walt Disney World in 1971 to serve as first cook.

In November of that year he was named a certified executive chef by the American Culinary Association—only the third person so honored in the state of Florida.

In July 1974, he was promoted to his present position of executive chef. Under his control are six restaurants serving more than 5,000 meals a day.

Johnny submitted five individual entries in the regional Food Service Executive Culinary Art Show and, in competition with 50 other chefs, took three first prizes.

A month later, he entered the State National Annual Culinary Show in competition with 125 chefs. The Polynesian Village entries walked away with nine of the 10 first prizes, plus the grand prize.

Johnny was voted "Chef of the Year" and in July of 1975 was nominated for the Academy of Chefs. Married and the father of four children, Johnny continues to make his home in Orlando, Fla.

His laus menu at the Polynesian Village includes Wahine Shrimp Salad served in a coquille shell as an appetizer.

Entrees are Sweet and Sour Pork, Chow Yuk Vegetables, Tomato Beef, Island Barbecued Spare Ribs, Tahitian Fried Rice, which are served individually in half-baked pineapples.

To top off the laus, he serves Passion Fruit Ice Cream.

Here is Johnny's recipe for Sweet and Sour Pork to help you plan your own mid-winter laus. This recipe serves 20, but may be reduced to

For Christmas we gave our son John a tape recorder. It was an expensive item but we felt it would be well worth the cost.

On second thought

By Jan Warren

"It's an educational tool," explained my husband. "John can tape lectures, concerts, and interviews for the school paper."

"Mother! Do something about him," screamed Sara when she found John crouched behind her bedroom door with his recorder.

Every time I opened my mouth John put a microphone in it and said, "Mrs. Warren won't you please say a few words to the studio audience?"

"This kid has got to go," said Kate when John attempted to tape one of her phone calls.

An investment opportunity that seems too good to be true should be looked at with a healthy suspicion. Pyramid schemes that normally attract unsuspecting investors by promising an unusually high rate of return have been declared illegal by state and federal laws. The "pyramid" scheme is a variation of the familiar "chain letter."

Of Consumer Concern

"Pyramid" schemes

"distributorship" they sell and can completely recover their initial $1,000 "investment" by selling only two distributorships. The promoter, however, has received not only A's and B's $1,000 each, but also $500 for each distributorship that A and B sell.

The big difference between the pyramid scheme and a legitimate franchise is that in a franchise operation the investor generally has sole right to a certain territory and his work will consist almost entirely of selling a product or service, not selling other franchisees.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Q. I didn't have any medical bills until October last year, and since then I've only been to the doctor twice. My medical bills for the year total less than $60, so I can't meet the annual Medicare medical insurance deductible. Does this mean that medical insurance won't pay for any of my bills?

A. Before any Medicare medical insurance payment can be made, you must meet the $60 deductible each year. Since you did not meet the deductible last year, the medical insurance cannot pay for any part of your medical expenses. However, any covered medical expenses you have in the last three months of the year that can be counted toward the deductible for that year can also be counted toward $60 deductible for the next year. You should submit a "Request for Medicare Payment" form so that covered medical expenses you had in the last three months of 1976 can be credited toward your $60 deductible for 1977.

Q. I just returned from a visit with my sister in Florida. While I was there, I had to go to a doctor. Should I send my Medicare medical insurance claim to the carrier in Florida or to the carrier in my home state?

A. Medicare medical insurance claims should always be sent to the Medicare carrier for the state in which you received the services. "Your Medicare" handbook contains a list of all Medicare carriers and their addresses. If you don't have a copy of the handbook, you can get one at any Social Security office.

Q. I was going through some old papers recently and came across a doctor bill for treatment I received in November, 1975. Is it too late to send in a bill now?

A. It's not too late to submit this bill, but there are time limits for medical insurance claims. For covered services you received between Oct. 1, 1975 and Sept. 30, 1976 your claim must be submitted by Dec. 31, 1977.

Q. Is it true that a widow may get Social Security benefits even though they've divorced the deceased worker?

A. Yes, provided they are 60 or older and you were married 20 years or more, or you have young children entitled to benefits on the deceased worker's record. Also, if you are disabled, you can get such benefits as early as age 50.

Q. I understand that a widow loses her Social Security rights when she remarries. Is this true?

A. Ordinarily, yes. But if you remarry at 60 or older, your widow's benefits could continue. The amount would be 50 per cent of the retirement benefit you deceased former husband would have been entitled to. But if your new husband gets Social Security, you can take a wife's benefit on his record if it would be larger than your widow's payment.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

With the gown or you don't have to take it."

The dressmaker made the gown and Madge decided, after all, that she did not like it. Underated, the dressmaker filed suit for her money.

"I wouldn't mind if I had done a bad job," she told the court. "But everyone else agrees that the gown is beautiful. Why should I lose out just because she happens to be so finicky?"

However, the court rejected the dressmaker's claim. Having agreed that Madge must be satisfied or else, said the court, she was bound by that agreement.

This is the usual rule in contracts that involves personal taste. If satisfaction is guaranteed, satisfaction there must be.

Still, the customer must at least be honest about the matter. Suppose, for example, that Madge really did like the gown but had merely changed her mind about spending the money.

In that case she could not take refuge in the guarantee as a way of evading her contractual obligation.

Nor does a customer have such leeway if the contract does not involve personal taste. Consider this case:

A house painter agreed to whitewash a man's garage "to your satisfaction."

The man announced afterward that he was not satisfied. Yet, he could not pay up.

"That which a person ought to be satisfied with, the law will say he is satisfied with."

As one judge put it:

At this time, I would like to express our sincere and heartfelt condolences to Mrs. Pearl Frost and daughter, Nancy, whose husband and father Wesley passed away this past weekend.

Also, our heartfelt condolences to Ellen Monesling, whose son-in-law, Theodore Wochoski, passed away this past weekend.

Fun Day

By the way, tomorrow's Fun Day entertainment will find our own members putting on another of their fabulous shows. You'll enjoy it, I'm sure, and why not come for lunch first, because we'll be serving a delicious Chinese dinner.

We have been trying for quite a while to put together a little knick-knack band of all kitchen gadgets, but every time we tried to get a meeting, the weatherman turns us off. Now the thought is that if you'd like to join our little band of noise and fun music, then we can call a meeting. This little band is not a part of the Variety Show but something just for our own use here at the center.

Just another reminder that our good friend John Dornier is lining up a staff of volunteers to come to our center on Tuesday afternoons to help you folks with your income tax. There is no charge for this service, and we certainly are pleased that John will have a staff available. This program will start around the first of February; however, we will have more information for you in Saturday's column. We picked Tuesday afternoon because it is the best time for parking here at the center.

SENIOR CITIZEN NEWS

Hi, there! I guess the first bit of news is to remind all you lucky people who are heading for the sunny but cold south that the bus will be leaving our center at 7 a.m. and therefore you all should plan on being here around 6:30 a.m. Don't come much earlier than that because you might have to wait outside. Oh, yes, the trip starts on this coming Sunday.

Next thing is to start putting your "things" together for our Variety Show because on Sunday, Feb. 6, we will hold our first and only audition. Not only do we extend an invitation to you folks who would like to be in the show itself, but also to any of you who would like to help in any way.

If you come just for some type of working assignment, the chances are you will not have to stay all afternoon. The audition will last most of the afternoon.

Marel and Roger have been working hard and long, putting their ideas together to make this our best show yet, and it will be, providing you all turn out, so we're looking forward to seeing among the turnout, some new faces and talent.

Condolences

At this time, I would like to express our sincere and heartfelt condolences to Mrs. Pearl Frost and daughter, Nancy, whose husband and father Wesley passed away this past weekend.

Also, our heartfelt condolences to Ellen Monesling, whose son-in-law, Theodore Wochoski, passed away this past weekend.

• OPEN SUNDAY 9 A.M. to 4 P.M. • MON.-FRI., 7 A.M. to MIDNIGHT • SATURDAY 7 A.M. to 10:30 P.M.

SENIOR CITIZEN NEWS

Hi, there! I guess the first bit of news is to remind all you lucky people who are heading for the sunny but cold south that the bus will be leaving our center at 7 a.m. and therefore you all should plan on being here around 6:30 a.m. Don't come much earlier than that because you might have to wait outside. Oh, yes, the trip starts on this coming Sunday.

Next thing is to start putting your "things" together for our Variety Show because on Sunday, Feb. 6, we will hold our first and only audition. Not only do we extend an invitation to you folks who would like to be in the show itself, but also to any of you who would like to help in any way.

If you come just for some type of working assignment, the chances are you will not have to stay all afternoon. The audition will last most of the afternoon.

Marel and Roger have been working hard and long, putting their ideas together to make this our best show yet, and it will be, providing you all turn out, so we're looking forward to seeing among the turnout, some new faces and talent.

Condolences

At this time, I would like to express our sincere and heartfelt condolences to Mrs. Pearl Frost and daughter, Nancy, whose husband and father Wesley passed away this past weekend.

Also, our heartfelt condolences to Ellen Monesling, whose son-in-law, Theodore Wochoski, passed away this past weekend.

Fun Day

By the way, tomorrow's Fun Day entertainment will find our own members putting on another of their fabulous shows. You'll enjoy it, I'm sure, and why not come for lunch first, because we'll be serving a delicious Chinese dinner.

We have been trying for quite a while to put together a little knick-knack band of all kitchen gadgets, but every time we tried to get a meeting, the weatherman turns us off. Now the thought is that if you'd like to join our little band of noise and fun music, then we can call a meeting. This little band is not a part of the Variety Show but something just for our own use here at the center.

Just another reminder that our good friend John Dornier is lining up a staff of volunteers to come to our center on Tuesday afternoons to help you folks with your income tax. There is no charge for this service, and we certainly are pleased that John will have a staff available. This program will start around the first of February; however, we will have more information for you in Saturday's column. We picked Tuesday afternoon because it is the best time for parking here at the center.
