Day care center will get school space

South Windsor

School Supt. Robert Goldman is expected to recommend that the Board of Education tell the South Windsor Community Service Council that some space will be made available to house the town's day care center next year.

The Community Service Council requested permission to use some school space for the day care operation, following the termination of their contract with St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Students at the high school have worked with day care youngsters on a regular basis as part of the childhood development curriculum.

Arts meeting The South Windsor Cultural Arts Committee will hold its last general meeting of the year tonight at 8 at the Timothy Edwards School Library.

Terrorists seek freedom of 21 jailed comrades

ASSEN, Netherlands (UPI) - Six shots rang out today inside a schoolhouse where 165 youngsters are being held by South Moluccan terrorists demanding a flight to freedom for themselves and 21 jailed comrades in exchange for their hostages' lives.

The Dutch countryside. All was reported quiet at that scene. At lunchtime, two policemen in underwashed pushed food and drinks down a parallel track aboard a hand trolley.

Witnesses said six shots were heard at 9 a.m. this morning inside the elementary school at Bovenamide in the far north of Holland. One of the shots hit the window of a nearby house.

armed with machine guns. Five or six teachers also are among the hostages. No further details were immediately available.

Podgorny relieved

MOSCOW (UPI) - The Soviet Union's powerful Central Committee announced today that President Nikolai Podgorny was being relieved of his duties as the politburo.

Two of the four workers laid off from the Town of Manchester Highway Department have decided to "bump" two employees in the Water Department.

The union contract for the Public Works Department permits a laid-off employee to replace, or "bump," a similarly ranked employee in another department who has less seniority.

McCarthy said that another problem might develop because the laid-off workers in the Highway Department might have "bumping rights" over employees in another department.

HARTFORD (UPI) - Gov. Ella T. Grasso said today she is going to let the state budget take effect without her signature.

acceptable," she said in a letter to the legislative leaders. "I am concerned that any other suggested savings would share the same fate. To veto this document would only prolong the controversy," she said.

Republicans were hoping the governor would somehow cut the budget. "Republicans had promised to uphold a veto of the budget which would have meant the legislature could have made the cuts which the governor says she wants to see made in this budget," Stevens said.

Zoning appeal dropped

An appeal of the second zone change granted for Manchester's proposed industrial park has been withdrawn.

Suzanne Shorts, a Bolton resident who owns a parcel of property in Manchester that would be divided by the industrial park boundary, has decided to drop her appeal, according to Atty. Herbert Phelon, who represents Mrs. Shorts.

But, since she has filed her appeal, the first action has been denied by both the state Court of Common Pleas and the state Supreme Court.

Town Manager Robert B. Weiss said this morning that he is pleased with the dropping of the second zone appeal case.

Muff buff rebuffed

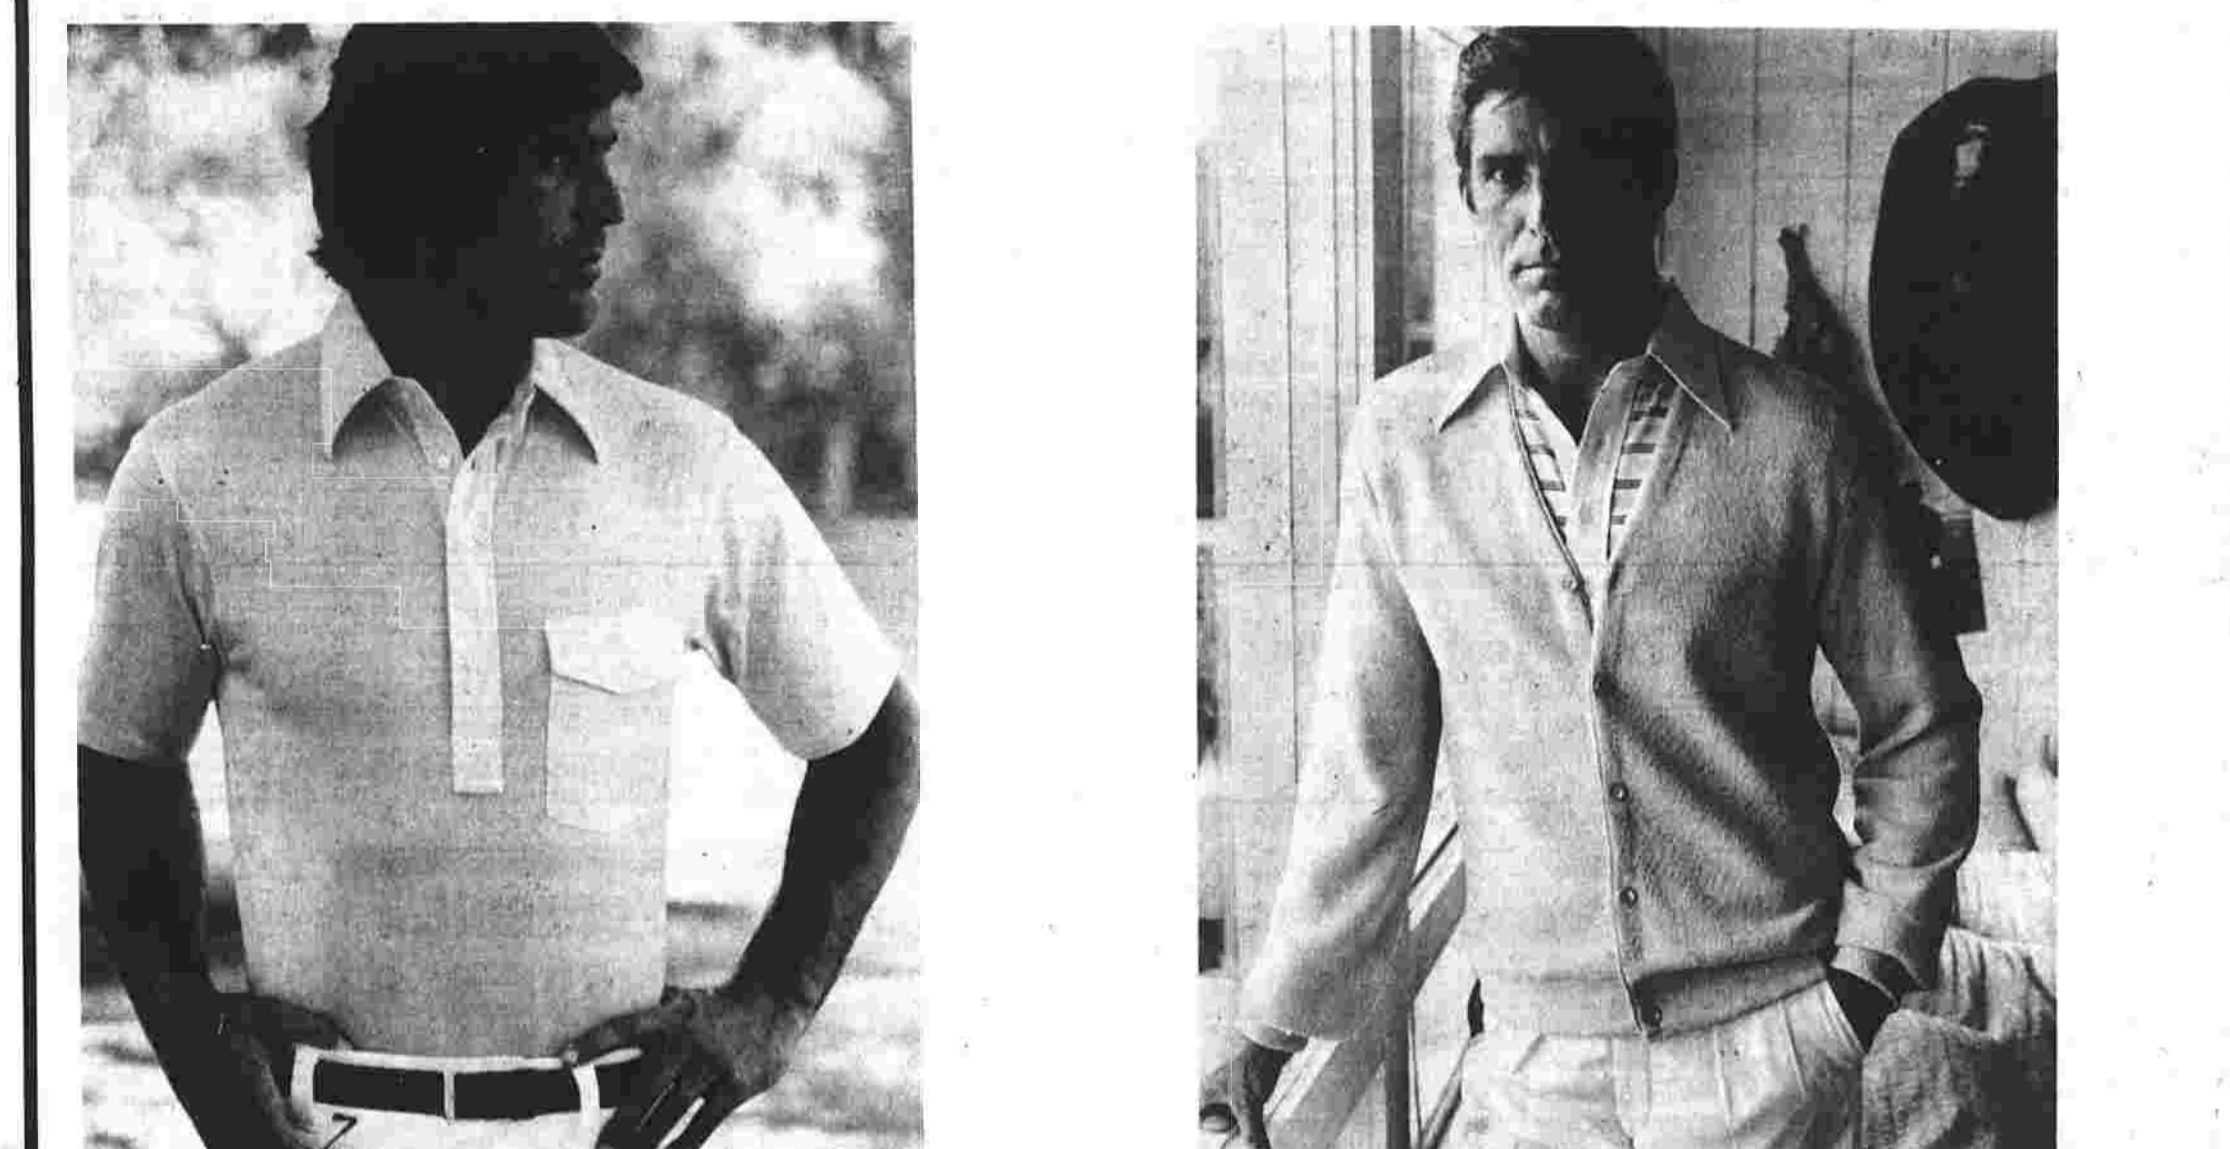

AUGUSTA, Maine (UPI) - The question of whether Maine should celebrate the first day of winter as Chester Greenwood Day returned to the House today.

The Senate voted 16-13 Monday to kill the bill which would provide an annual commemoration on Dec. 21 to honor the Farmington inventor known as "the father of the earmuff."

The House gave final approval to the measure last week. The bill's sponsor, Rep. Richard G. Morton, R-Farmington, and a number of other lawmakers had argued it would provide good publicity for Maine's winter resorts.

Representatives from Penney will attend the commission's June 2 meeting. The firm is required to provide the EDC with a site plan, landscaping plan, building plan and statement of the intended use of the site.

The MTS Daphne sailed into New York harbor Monday morning, and while I wasn't on hand as she moved into berth 3 at the West 55th Street Cruise Terminal I did catch up with the festivities on board about mid-morning.

The MTS Daphne, the Carras luxury liner, was making its first visit to New York and concluding the first voyage of an American-based cruise ship to Havana, Cuba since 1961.

Gregory P. Leventis, executive vice president of the Carras cruise line, said the first Daphne tourists were greeted last week by "friendly, cheering crowds, which we hope will signal an era of improved relations between the people of the United States and Cuba."

The first Americans to return to New York from Havana by cruise ship in 16 years included three young women chefs, Sara Moulton, Sandra Gottlieb and Joyce Keolian. During the voyage, they worked with the Daphne's chefs as part of a scholarship program established by Les Dames d'Escoffier.

The ship was a little tense as it approached Havana, but on arrival the warmth and friendliness of its people just took over.

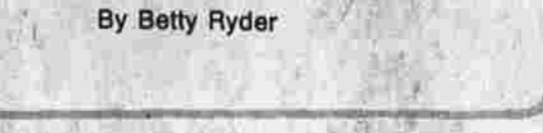

"Old Havana was dirty and the paint was peeling, but New Havana is a beautiful, modern city."

"I don't believe we have in New York or in fact in the entire country. It was comparable to our housing for the elderly, except it's for low-income people of any age. The workers built it themselves in their spare time with the financial aid of the government," he said.

"The music was the best. The combination of jazz and Cuban music was the unreal and we are hoping many of the Cuban musicians can come to the United States and join us in concert."

Smith, who says he is not a musician, but does play the bongos drums, said the news media assembled in the ship's main lounge and the

Mrs. Schardt to serve on child services board

Mrs. Walter H. Schardt has been elected to the Board of Directors of Child and Family Services.

Mrs. Schardt, a graduate of Hofstra University, Hempstead, New York, has served in many volunteer capacities at Child and Family Services, most recently as chairman of the Children's Services Horse Show and Country Fair for the past two years; chairman of the Central District Committee and chairman of the Manchester Auxiliary of Child and Family Services.

Mrs. Schardt is vice president of the Urban League Guild of Greater Hartford and is chairman of the board of the newly formed Manchester Early Learning Center and Finance Chairman of the Manchester League of Women Voters.

Officers re-elected to the agency board include Samuel C. Hamilton of Manchester, district of equal opportunity at Aetna Life and Casualty, Assistant Treasurer; and Woodrow W. Gator of East Hartford, assistant to the manager of the City of Hartford, a vice-president. Robert I. Beers was re-elected executive director of Child and Family Services.

Community Baptist Church to mark 25th anniversary
A dinner on Sept. 17 will be followed by comments from some of those who contributed leadership to the growth of the church.

Opinion

State reorganization is necessary now

For the first time in many decades, Connecticut appears on the verge of embarking on significant restructuring of its executive branch of government.

Debate on the so-called Filer plan was conducted Monday. We hope the legislature will see fit to adopt the plan pretty much as presented by the committee; which took into consideration all the views — in and out of government — in drafting the bill presented to the legislature.

Thomas Alva Edison once said, "There's a better way, find it."

This is appropriate to state and local government today as the demands for services seem to continue unabated and the wherewithal to pay the costs reaches limits the taxpayers will bear.

Government reorganization will not cut taxes; but, it can through more efficient delivery of state services ease the pressure in the future. This is important in the view of projected shortfalls in the revenue picture for fiscal 1978-79.

But the main feature of the reorganizational plan is pinpointing of responsibility and accountability.

As distress as some special commissions and agencies may be in identifying a specific special interest problem too often today in Connecticut that is where it ends. In effect the problem is identified but because of diluted authority, responsibility and conflicting priorities little if anything can or is accomplished.

The goal of good government is not in building a bureaucracy of special interest agencies; but performance for the people.

By concentrating more of the accountability in the hands of the governor, we can demand and expect to get improved services instead of being mired down in redtape.

One major concern is that reorganization will cut the state job list. Experience in other states where reorganization has taken place, has not borne this out. Instead employ morale has improved because people in government become free to help the people they are to serve.

We think Connecticut can no longer afford a government which like Topsy, just grew and grew, with much of the powerless to act and other parts of it too independent to respond to legitimate demands of popularity elected officials.

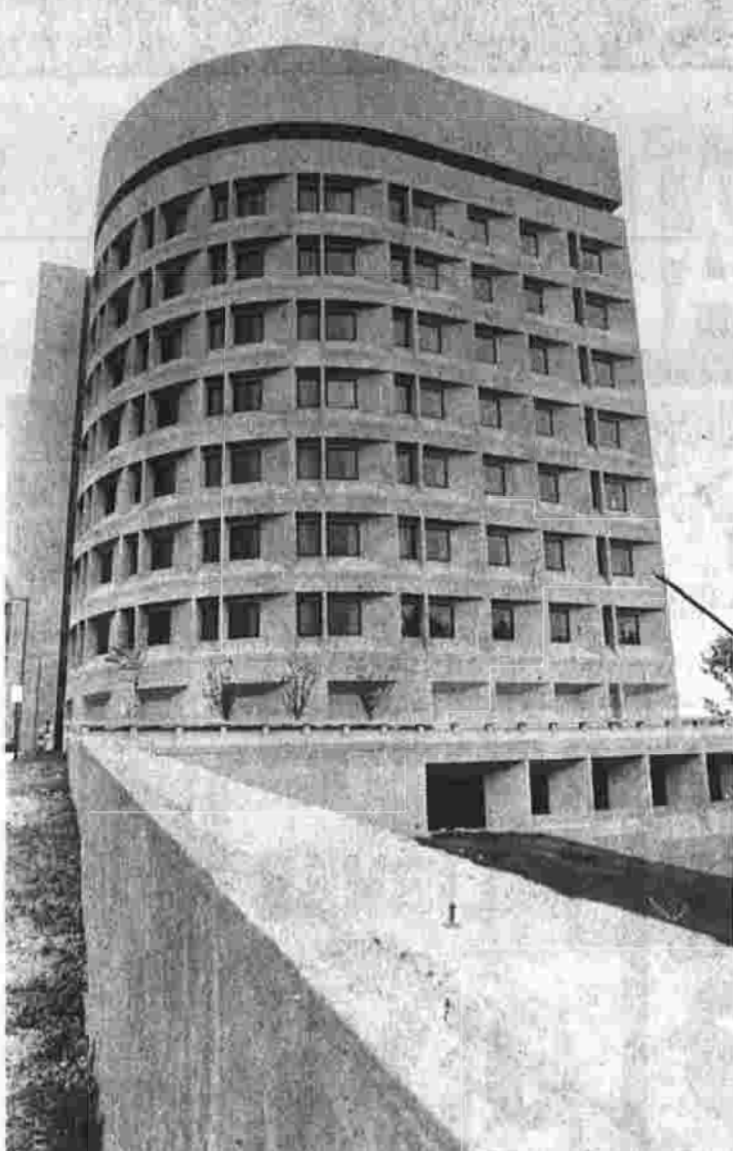

We urge the legislature to adopt the reorganization plan not as the final act toward modernizing and improving state government efficiency, but as a very important first step in that direction.

Good management in government means better government because more of the tax dollar winds up helping those who need government's services.

Call to one body, one hope, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God (Eph. 4:1-6). How can we today have the unity Christ prayed for? The scriptures provide the method to achieve this end as summarized by three principles:

- 1. Take the Bible as the only creed, rather than man-made creeds (2 Tim. 3:16, 17)
2. Maintain a Christ-centered message. He is the only one on whom believers can unite (John 12:32)
3. Be instilled with a desire for unity. We must be willing to seriously communicate with one another (Ephesians 4:1-6)
Thanks be to God for His Son.

Reader alleges violation of constitutional law

To the editor: The citizens of Manchester and other Connecticut towns have been grossly insulted by elected representatives who knowingly and deliberately flew in the face of constitutional law.

It was a shock to learn that our own representatives — Cummings, Mahoney, and Glassman not only voted for but actually sponsored an amendment to a pending Municipal Development bill with the single purpose of bypassing legal proceedings that were already in motion.

Constitutionally, the legislative branch of government cannot interfere with judicial proceedings. These men know this. The Department of Commerce is required by law to include a report on the pollution effects of planned developments before it takes any action. The DOC failed to do this before approving the Buckland Industrial Park plans. This failure led to the suit that has been in progress for some time.

Our three representatives recently proposed and then voted for the

Urges attendance at budget meeting

To the editor: I would like to urge all taxpayers of the Town of Bolton to please come to the next town meeting on May 25 concerning the budget.

Apparently, three members of the Board of Finance, who were elected to the board by the people to represent the people, are failing to carry out their duties. The Board of Finance met after Monday night's budget meeting and voted to resubmit the same budget after the taxpayers had just one hour before rejected the budget, the message was obvious but these three members, Morris Silverstein, Gary Mortensen, and William Riley closed their ears to what the people wanted. I hope it is rejected again!

Sincerely,
Thomas M. Sheridan

Congress' secrets

By Martha Anger and Robert Walter

WASHINGTON (NEA) — One of the practices which not long ago distinguished Congress as a backwater of internal democracy was the privacy of both the House and Senate for transacting the public's business in secret session.

Prior to 1973, between a third and a half of all meetings held annually by congressional committees were conducted in what was euphemistically called "executive session." As a result of reforms in recent years, however, fewer than 10 per cent of all meetings now are closed to the public.

Abuses remain
But behind that facade of reform there remain abuses of the rules which require openness, a problem dramatized by two unnoticed incidents which occurred earlier this year.

Both involved the most frequently exercised exemption to the open meeting requirements — in cases where foreign policy, national security, defense and intelligence matters are to be discussed.

That exception is logical but its application often is not, a disparity best exemplified by a meeting several months ago of the Defense Subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee at which the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Secretary of Defense were to present their annual "posture statements."

Proximate led
That's all quite logical and reasonable, except for one crucial flaw. The hearing was open to the public, and many of the country's major news organizations — including United Press International, the New York Times, the Washington Post and the Baltimore Sun — had reporters in the room.

Both UPI and the Times promptly reported McIntyre's disclosures that a) in the event of nuclear war, our retaliation strategy requires "a percentage of destruction only in one category — economic recovery" and b) the Defense Department is mandated by the White House to wipe out 70 per cent of all Soviet industry.

Despite widespread publication of those revelations, the Senate insists that the material remains officially secret to this day.

Hutchins started many arguments

By Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — The smartest smart aleck I ever knew is dead. Robert Maynard Hutchins, who revolutionized the University of Chicago and drove some of us philistines nuts with his intellectual antics as boss of the boozey Fund for the Republic, bought it the other day at 78.

I was only seven hours in his company and we later exchanged a few letters. But when a man was Robert Maynard Hutchins you could get to know him by spending almost every minute of a seven-hour flight from Washington to San Francisco arguing about everything from Communism to college football.

An intellectual snob
People who called Hutchins an intellectual snob were right. At times, he was so insufferable the urge was strong to punch him in the face. But, as the saying goes, he was entitled. He may not have been right about everything, but he came as close as possible to knowing everything. And although he obviously was not effeminated by the sound of another's voice, he was a pretty fair listener.

Good news of damnation
"Don't be a dot," he replied. "What was accomplished under that football stadium was the good news of damnation. Some day, men will be frightened into banding together to agree on world peace to avoid world suicide."

That hasn't happened yet. But negotiations suggest that world leaders are becoming what Hutchins called "nervous enough" to do something about that awesome problem. "Even the Communists are not insane enough to start a nuclear war in which they would die, too," said Hutchins.

Alumni are dangerous
Hutchins abolished football at Chicago in 1939. Why didn't he let the boys keep the game, but abolish recruiting and the practice of playing for money? Because, he replied, it wouldn't work — "the alumni would start buying players secretly." That, in the final analysis, is what the profession of teaching should be all about.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our 9-year-old daughter, who is in the fourth grade, loves to read. Each week she goes to the library and brings home books, which she devours. She also loves to read your column.

Abby, I can explain murders and riots to her, but how can I explain some of the things she reads about in your column? This week she asked me what "homosexual" was. She also wanted to know how you get a "venereal" disease, and what "rags" was!

I told her that a homosexual was a person who had a problem getting along with the opposite sex, that a venereal disease was a serious infection, and that rags meant overpowering and hurting a woman.

Must I hide the newspaper from my child? Do you really receive a sufficient number of letters of this kind to justify printing them? Or was this just a bad week?

UPSET DAD

DEAR DAD: Yes, I really receive a sufficient number of letters of "this kind" to justify printing them. You are fortunate to have a child who loves to read and doubly fortunate that she asks you to explain things she does not understand.

Very children reach maturity without hearing a good deal about the subjects you mentioned, and what better place than home is there for them to learn the facts? You can "hide" the newspaper from your child, but you cannot hide from her the realities of life.

Children who are old enough to ask are old enough to know. Answer all her questions truthfully.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for four months, and everything is perfect except one small detail. My wife insists that I sleep in pajamas. Abby, I've been sleeping in the nude since I was a freshman in college. My wife says that only animals sleep in the nude.

I don't insist that I refuse to wear them in nightgowns. The other night she gave me a present — a pair of silk pajamas, and when I refused to wear them and told her to return them and get her money back, she became hysterical.

Abby, my wife is not a prude and our sex life is fine, so I can't understand why she doesn't want me to sleep in the nude.

Maybe you or your readers can convince my wife that I'm no animal — that millions of men sleep nude. Thanks. NO ANIMAL.

DEAR NO ANIMAL: What you sleep in is between you and your wife, but some men (women, too) find greater freedom and comfort sleeping in a natural.

DEAR ABBY: I wrote to you six weeks ago asking if the Salvation Army could locate my missing brother, and I still haven't heard from you. You say that you answer all your mail. What happened?

STILL WAITING

DEAR ABBY: I am under no obligation to answer a letter that is not accompanied by a stamped, addressed envelope for my reply.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lusk Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (24¢) envelope.

Win at Bridge

Restricted choice sets course

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, West, and East cards and play sequence.

With the ace and lead a second spade, South wins that in his own hand, enters dummy with a diamond and leads a second heart. East plays the six and South must decide whether to play the nine or the remaining face card.

It looks like a guess, but it isn't. The principle of restricted choice applies here. If West had been dealt both ace and king he might well have won the first heart with the king. Hence the odds are that East holds the king and South should play his face card.

If he does play the face card the rest of the hand is easy and he winds up playing either nine or 10 tricks. If he plays the nine he may still scramble in that ninth trick, and in our opinion, almost always with just eight.

Berry's World

By Oswald & James Jacoby
If today's hand were played thousands of times the chances are that every South player would find himself in three trump against a spade lead by West.

He wins that spade lead in dummy and plays a heart. East follows with the deuce and South plays the queen or jack only to have West win.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Allies are hard to come by today. Keep this in mind when those you can usually count on fail to respond in the way you've accustomed to.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're inclined to make a mistake today you usually don't make — letting persons of lesser ability sway you. Your normal way is better.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Pressing your luck is best enough today, but gambling on others is foolhardy. Don't deal with anything where a risk is involved.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) There's a strong possibility a domestic situation calling for conciliation may cause you to fancy before you invest your time and money. Ascertain that it's a real and vital interest.

Committee gives okay to road priority list

The Transportation Committee of the Capitol Region Council of Governments (CROG) Monday voted to make only minor changes in a recommended priority list of highway projects submitted for $40 million in federal funds.
The federal funds would pay for about 70 percent of the total cost of the work. The town and state would probably split the remaining 30 percent cost. Manchester's top four projects would cost $3,370,000.
Jay J. Giles, director of public works, said that he may recommend a bond issue to pay the town's share of the cost.
Few changes were made in the complete ranking of projects for the funds. But, two local towns did have projects moved from the second priority to the top priority group.
Vernon and South Windsor — had projects moved up by the Transportation Committee.
The full CROG Policy Board will vote on the Transportation Committee's recommendation at a June 15 meeting. This is the final vote needed for approval of the funding.
The $40 million in trade-in funds — money that had been designated for highway projects that have since been disbanded — are to be distributed by CROG to capital region towns.
CROG received applications for about $80 million worth of projects and has grouped the applications into three priority groups.
The Transportation Committee voted to leave four Manchester projects in the top priority group as has been recommended by a CROG staff report. The projects are Reconstruction of the Adams St. Bridge, intersection reconstruction at Tolland Tpk., Buckland Rd., Adams St. and New State Rd.; reconstruction of Main St. from John Alan Szumkowski, 23, of 17 Oak St., was arrested Monday on a warrant in connection with an alleged assault on a 20-year-old man on Forest St. in early March.

He was charged with third-degree robbery and assault and second-degree larceny. He was released on a $1,000 surety bond for court June 6.
The victim in the incident was treated for minor facial injuries at Manchester Memorial Hospital and released.
Ronald F. Johnson, 29, of East Hartford, was charged Monday with operating an unregistered motor vehicle and misuse of registration plates while driving on Spencer St. He was released on a non-surety bond for court June 7.
James E. Kralik, 26, of 134 Maple St., was charged Sunday with operating under the influence of liquor and unreasonable speed. He was released on a promise to appear in court June 7.
A break-in was reported at Pizza House, 500 W. Middle Tpk. Over $70 in cash was taken in the break which occurred sometime Sunday night or early Monday, police said.
About 40 cartons of cigarettes were reported missing from the Cumberland Farms store on Green Rd. Monday. There appeared to be no forced entry, police said.

A 1974 Volkswagen was reported stolen from Downey Dr. Monday morning.

PZC reviews draft of zoning changes

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter

Manchester's Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) Monday night reviewed a set of regulations that would govern housing for the elderly and handicapped in town.
The commission took no action on the proposed regulations, which were written by Town Planner Alan Lamson. The PZC approved the zoning change for the 48-acre tract earlier this year.
The apartments would be segregated to the south end of the tract with the homes spread among the remaining acreage.
Lamson suggested that an access road between the two sections be included in the plans. Such a road might be required for fire fighting, he said.
O'Neill said that he will work with the town to discuss straightening and improving Parker St. in the area of the proposed development.
In other matters, the PZC approved a subdivision requested by Joseph Swenson for a 1.7-acre intersection of Porter and Highland Sts.
Swenson also said that he will submit another application to waive setbacks and curbs at the two-lot site. He said that he does not feel the items are needed, but PZC members indicated that they would not support such a waiver.
Several in-lot-weddings permits were approved by the PZC. One is for Mal Tpk., which is seeking to build a warehouse at its Adams St. site.
The Town of Manchester was granted similar permits for three projects — the dredging of Center Springs Pond, the trunk sewer from Union Pond to Tolland Tpk., and New State Rd.-Adams St. sanitary interceptor.
An inland-wetlands permit sought by Jack Goldberg and Robert Stone, who have plans to develop the Lenti Farms tract off Gardner St., was not acted on. The item will be scheduled on the June 6 agenda when the commission will conduct a public hearing on the entire 79-unit development.

Zinsser responds

Asserting that Manchester Director Phyllis Jackson "cannot stand to have anyone question her judgment or say no to her," Director Carl Zinsser today replied to her recent criticisms of him in the aftermath of town budget approval.
The two directors, Mrs. Jackson a Democrat and Zinsser a Republican, are at loggerheads over the budget approval. Republicans say they were left out of the final deliberations and Democrats deny it.
Today Zinsser said the revenue side of the budget is unrealistic and out of balance. Zinsser has asked that Town Manager Robert Weiss submit an analysis of the impact the budget will have on town departmental operations.
Mrs. Jackson called that demand "pure political hogwash." She argued that the budget approved by the Democratic majority calls for an increased tax rate of only .36 mills more than the 2-mill increase suggested earlier by the Republicans.
"I can not figure out why Mrs. Jackson is so upset over my request for a budget analysis in view of the fact that she has already approved a budget, which has been clearly reported in the press. It seems that no matter what any other member of the Board of Directors suggests, especially if it is a Republican member, Mrs. Jackson labels 'political'; but when she does it, it is for the 'good of the community.'" In reference to a final meeting on the budget which Mrs. Jackson said Zinsser refused, he said Mrs. Jackson had a town employee phone him on the morning of May 6, asking him to meet at 12:30 that day.

Area HSA group to meet tonight

Penney hearing delayed to June 20

A public hearing for a special zoning change for the J.C. Penney Co. has been postponed until June 20.
The hearing had been set for June 6, but Penney does not feel it will be ready by that time. Town Planner Alan Lamson told the Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) Monday night.
The firm, however, does not want to wait until the PZC's next scheduled meeting on July 11, he said. Thus, the June 20 meeting date has been set. Lamson told the PZC there are also a couple of other items that could be heard at the June 20 session.
Penney plans to locate a two-million-square-foot catalog distribution center in Manchester. The PZC has already approved two zoning changes needed for the town's proposed 393-acre industrial park, which would include the Penney facility as its main tenant.
But, Penney must also obtain a special exception to cover three items — outdoor storage, parking and property size.
A special exception is needed for any development that has outdoor storage, has over 60 parking spaces,

Panel fails to select successor

Board okays plans to rent vacant school

The Board of Education gave School Supt. James P. Kennedy approval Monday night to investigate the possibility of renting a portion of Buckland School.
The Methodist Lutheran Church of South Windsor inquired about renting three rooms in the vacant school on N. Main St. for use for their full-time school during the coming school year.
The school is presently used only for school equipment and voting machine storage.
Dr. Kennedy said, in considering the proposal, the schools can hope to recoup all the maintenance costs and have an occupied building which will remain in better condition.
School Board Chairman Allan D. Thomas said his only concern was for the board's responsibility and liability.

Hitchhiker is injured

Steven C. Luz, 15, of 96 Pine St., who was struck by a car on Keeney St. Friday night, was still in serious condition today at Manchester Memorial Hospital.
Luz was suffering from a broken leg and facial lacerations hospital officials said.
Police said Luz was hit by a car driven by Anthony Squillacote, 63, of 11 Strickland St. about 9:41 p.m. on Keeney St. north of Leland Dr. Luz was hitchhiking on the road, police said.
No police action has been taken.

Hike was an 'adventure'

A Sunday afternoon trip to Manchester's Cape Mountain turned out to be a little more adventuresome than expected for an East Hartford family might have expected.
While hiking along one of the mountain trails, three youngsters, Carl, Amy and Richard vonBurg, became separated from their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jackson of Graham Rd., East Hartford.
"The kids missed a turn," Mr. Thompson, who patrols Cape Mountain for the Town of Manchester, said.
Thompson said that the three children, ages 13, 10 and 8, were reported missing shortly after 2 p.m.
The children apparently became lost and ended up as far away as the Glastonbury fire tower, which is about five miles from the park, according to Thompson.
"That's a long way to miss a turn," he said.
Manchester Policeman Jonas Seaton was called to the scene and eventually found the three children about two miles from the park on Coop Sawmill Rd. in Glastonbury. They were found at about 7:30 p.m., more than five hours after the hike up the mountain started.

Education board okays pacts

By SUSAN VAUGHN

The Board of Education approved the two contracts Monday night with the paraprofessionals employees and with the custodial employees.
This action was taken without discussion after Wilson E. Deakin, assistant superintendent for personnel, reported on successful negotiations with both groups, which have already voted in favor of the contracts.
The agreement with the Local 3175, the paraprofessionals' union of about 60 employees, will include a 5 percent pay raise in the first year and 4 percent in the second year with 2 percent increments each year. There will be no increase in fringe benefits, Deakin said.
Deakin said the third year of the contract for Local 991, the custodial employees group, was discussed with its new leadership. Negotiations were reopened and the membership voted overwhelmingly in favor of a 25-cent-an-hour raise for 1978-79, a 5 1/2 percent increase, Deakin reported.

The board also voted final approval of the bus contract with the Manchester Bus Service. The board previously waived bids for the three-year extension of the single largest contract.
There are about 100 custodial employees for the schools.
The board also voted final approval of the bus contract with the Manchester Bus Service. The board previously waived bids for the three-year extension of the single largest contract.

The contract will be $514,783 next year, a $29,000 increase over the current appropriation. The increase for the second year will be $10,000 with no increase for the third year of the contract.
The bus service has provided buses for the Manchester schools for 17 years.
In other action, the board tabled final review of three existing policies to allow board members more time to read the documents. The policies being reviewed are those relating community relations, business, and personnel. They include such items as transportation, affirmative action guidelines and ground rules for dealing with the media. School Supt. James P. Kennedy said.
The board will act on the policies next month.
Leo Kwash, chairman of the town's Data Processing Committee, reported to the board on the committee's recommendations for purchasing the existing data processing equipment and computers which are used by the town and the Board of Education.
Under the two-year purchase plan, Kwash said the Board of Education would save at least $6,500 in its use of the computer for compiling student records.
The total cost of the computer is $291,000. The Board of Directors is expected to act favorably on the purchase at its June 14 meeting, Kwash said.
He said the present equipment has adequate capacity to take care of the town and Board of Education's needs for years to come. It is presently being used at 35 to 40 percent capacity, he said.

Geriatric clinics to begin Thursday

The local geriatric clinics and health screening program sponsored by the Manchester Public Health Nursing Association will begin Wednesday, June 1.
Mrs. Phyllis Saich, MPHNA staff nurse who is heading the program said that the agency is making appointments for the elderly to attend the clinics. The first clinic will be held at the Senior Citizens Center from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and every Wednesday thereafter.
Other clinics will be held Thursdays from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. at Herrman Hall, Westhill Gardens.

MHS art sale is Thursday

The Manchester High School art department will sponsor its annual spring art and craft show and craft sale Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. in the school cafeteria.
The event is free and the public is invited.
There will be student demonstrations in lapidary, painting, metalsmithing, ceramics and enameling.
There will be many items of jewelry, pewter and ceramics for sale.

Houley says critic should resign Post

HARTFORD (UPI) — The lawmaker harshest to change Connecticut's liquor laws today answered accusations that he is "grandstanding" and "doesn't know what he's doing" by suggesting his chief critic resign.
Sen. Robert Houley, D-Somers, and Rep. John A. Giordano, D-East Haven, are feuding and that fight could jeopardize the progress of legislation aimed at lowering Connecticut's liquor prices.
Houley has led the attack on the current liquor pricing system.
Giordano has vowed to oppose Houley's bills, saying his primary motive is "personal." He said Houley is "grandstanding" and "doesn't know what he's doing." Houley said today, "Mr. Giordano's use of his leadership position this way demonstrates terrible immaturity and is a gross disservice to the people of Connecticut."

Cuts in Vernon

Board shuffles school budgets

By BARBARA RICHMOND Herald Reporter

Some programs in the Vernon school system, scheduled for abolition due to a $250,000 cut in the recommended Board of Education budget, were reinstated by the board Monday night.

But the board did not take a final vote of approval on the cut because it had to have new totals and the work on the revisions didn't end until midnight. The board still had other items to cover before the meeting ended.

Items that were reinstated that were previously scheduled to be deleted include: $9,700 for another social worker; $9,000 for a teacher for the Research and Independent Study Program (gifted) and $1,175 for supplies for the program; $2,605 for curriculum development; $950 for the Lutz Junior Museum; $15,726 for a dental hygienist, plus $500 for supplies; and field trips, $12,115.

Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, presented a list of areas he recommended be cut to accommodate the $250,000 budget reduction. His recommendations totaled $292,512, which gave the board $42,500 to work with to reinstate.

Charles Brisson, the board's business manager, will go over all the figures and come back with a final one for board action June 20.

The reduction calls for an overall cut of $5,180 in teacher aides but doesn't eliminate any positions. It also eliminates two half-time secretarial positions at $3,076 each, but the superintendent hopes these positions will be funded by Comprehensive Employment Training Act funds.

The cut also reduces the position of supervisor of physical education from 12 months to 10 months and eliminates director of athletics as a separate position. Also eliminated is the Girl's Athletic Association advisor position, for a total of $4,674.

A total of $5,500 was cut in the area of school library books. This covers all schools, with Rockville High School being cut $1,500 and all other schools, $500.

All major maintenance programs, emergency repairs and painting will be budgeted but the following items were deleted: $5,280 for floors and tile at the Middle School; an alarm system for one of the schools, $600; grounds maintenance at Middle School, $400; and Lake Street School, $500, and $1,500 for ventilators at the high school, a total of $8,280.

Some small reductions were made in other areas which will probably balance the amount to reach the $250,000 cut.

The board has an estimated surplus of about $80,000 in the current budget. Of this, it had previously said it will return $65,744 to the general fund. But last night action was tabled on this item.

The board went through a lengthy list of proposed uses for the surplus. The items, including the $65,744, totaled $135,563.

The board tentatively eliminated such items as $400 for a sewing machine and cabinet and $400 to replace a microwave oven stolen from the home economics department; $600 to convert the gang shower in the girl's locker room to storage area; and instead of $2,500 suggested to be held in escrow for possible purchase of the former Rockville Post Office, the board instead $1.

In other business, the board:

• Approved leaves of absence for Mrs. Madeleine Champion, a Grade 3 teacher at Vernon Elementary School, and Mrs. Janette Peracchio, home economics teacher at Rockville High School.

• Approved the resignations of Mrs. Elizabeth Strycharz, business office, Administration Building; Lawrence Franzen, Grade 7 social studies teacher, Middle School; Mrs. Arlene VanBuren, math teacher, Rockville High; Mrs. Gail Benson, math teacher, Rockville High, and Mrs. Martha Strohsahl, Grade 3 teacher, Maple Street School.

• Ratified the contracts of Mrs. Clare Albom, physical education supervisor, K-6, health education coordinator, K-12, and intramural coordinator, K-12; and that of Richard Tingley, physical education supervisor, 7-12, and director of interscholastic athletics.

• Authorized Martin Fagan, principal of the high school, to "disseminate awards from any and all trust funds."

• Approved an increase in tuition fees for special education students from other towns.

Petitions in Bolton

Budget referendum due

No action will be taken on the 1977-78 budget at Bolton's Wednesday night Town Meeting because a group of petitioners have collected the necessary signatures to bring the budget to a referendum.

The petitioners attempted to have the referendum from 12 to 8 p.m. (by state law the minimum hours the polls could be open), but learned a 1967 local ordinance mandates the polls be open from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m.

On May 16, a Town Meeting rejected the $2,205,278 budget as recommended by the Board of Finance. That Town Meeting recommended that $22,000 be restored to the Board of Education budget.

The finance board met after the Town Meeting and voted to resubmit the same budget that had been rejected.

The proposed budget will increase the town's tax rate by 0.4 mills, from 61.4 to 61.8 mills.

The Town Meeting is at 8 p.m. at the Community Hall.

Educators meet At a special meeting Monday, the

Bolton Board of Education, discussed its budget for 1977-78, state revenue, program changes and, in executive session, a request from an attorney.

Board member Barbara Smith said the board held a general discussion of how to go about approaching the budget at Wednesday's Town Meeting.

In its budget for the coming year, State Guaranteed Tax Base (GTB) revenue is estimated at $18,272. If the legislature approves a revised distribution on funds, Bolton will receive $36,772, which is $18,500 more than estimated.

With the money, towns have the option of increasing school expenses, reducing local property taxes or a combination of both.

Board members discussed program changes for next year but took no official action.

School board members voted 3-2 to drop charges against a Glastonbury resident accused of siphoning gasoline from parked school buses. The person's attorney asked the board to drop the charges so the person could enter a two-year rehabilitation program for first-time offenders.

Senior citizens Bolton senior citizens will meet Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Community Hall. Mrs. Valdimara Kupris, local resident, will be the guest speaker. She will talk about her native Latvia and her new country.

After the business meeting, the group will discuss its day trip. Reservations will be taken. Ruth Kern, visiting nurse, will attend to check blood pressures and for counseling.

Nursery school The Bolton Cooperative Nursery School Association will meet tonight at 7:30 at the Bolton Congregational Church Chandler Hall. All new members are invited to attend.

The school is accepting application for the 1977-78 school year. For further information, call Susan Carreiro, membership chairman, 649-3060, or Anne Hicks, 742-6831. Applications may also be picked up at the school at Chandler Hall.

GOP will host Lufkin for South Windsor talk Dan W. Lufkin, former commissioner of Environmental Protection for Connecticut, will speak at a meeting of the South Windsor Republican Town Committee Thursday at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held at Society for Savings, Buckland and Ellington Rds.

Mrs. Jean M. Gezelman, GOP town chairman, said the Republicans also will vote on a nominee for alternate to the Conservation Commission and Wetlands Agency.

The Republican Town Committee has approved a donation of $65 to Laurel Girls State. Mrs. Gezelman said.

Democratic women The Democratic Women's Club of South Windsor will hold a membership meeting at the home of Cle Decker, 91 Berle Rd., Thursday

Renovation plans out, truck okay

Andover

At its last meeting, the Andover Board of Finance voted to appropriate $70,000 for a new fire truck, refused to appropriate $40,000 for renovation of the Town Hall, and did not discuss the purchase of a bulldozer for the disposal area.

By a 4-1 vote, the board refused to appropriate funds for renovation of the Town Hall. The request for funding came from Lawrence Bates and Stanley Sroka.

Voting against appropriating the money were Raymond Houle, Valdis Vinkels, Robert Little and James Hohlman. Voting for the appropriation was Charles Phelps. Chairman John Yeomans did not vote. A motion by Phelps to appropriate $5,000 for a feasibility study of the structure did not get a second.

Heated words ensued between those requesting the funds and the finance board members before the vote was taken. The Annual Town Meeting earlier this month supported having the structure renovated.

Finance board members questioned whether the renovation would conform to state building codes and health regulations. The less-than-one-half-acre site made it appear doubtful.

The board voted to recommend that a town meeting be asked to appropriate $70,000 for a new fire truck. The request was from J. Russell Thompson, fire commission chairman.

Thompson said specifications by the fire department estimated the cost at $69,000. He said delivery would take about 18 months.

If purchased, the new truck will replace one that is 20 years old. Thompson said the present vehicle is operational but replacement parts are hard to obtain.

The town has a fire engine fund to which money is added each year. By the time the vehicle is delivered the fund will have just barely enough to cover the cost.

Voting in favor of the purchase were Yeomans, Vinkels, Phelps and Houle. Voting against was Hohlman. Little abstained.

The meeting adjourned before board members finished the business on the agenda. A request by the Board of Selectmen for funds for a bulldozer was not discussed. No date was set for the board's next meeting.

5 Ways To Look Good... With One Outfit.

ROYAL PALM BEACH FASHION FIVER BY Palm Beach®

This handsome outfit combines fashion and versatility. The glen plaid suit alone, with its patch and flap pockets and wide self stitching on collar, lapels, and pockets would be a smart purchase. But Palm Beach adds an extra pair of solid color slacks and two belts... one for each look. You even get a choice of fabrics... both with wrinkle resistant, light weight polyester. One is a domestic fabric of 100% Dacron, polyester, the other a fine imported 80% polyester and 20% nylon blend. Either fabric is a great look and value.

Suit, plus extra slacks and two belts, in 100% Dacron, polyester, only in a blend of 80% polyester and 20% nylon, only $145.

Occupation rules changed

Coventry

The Coventry Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) revised the home-conducted occupation regulations at Monday night's meeting. Town Planning Greg Padick said the changes expand and strengthen the present regulations and are designed to eliminate home occupations in locations not suitable for them.

New requirements are for increased parking spaces, plot and floor plans, and a restriction that only 25 per cent of the dwelling may be used for this purpose.

The revised regulations also allow the zoning agent to revoke the permit, if the home occupation fails to comply with the regulations, and order the operator to cease the occupation.

During the public hearing, Roland Green of Ripley Hill Rd. complained about a home occupation in his neighborhood. He said the steel recycling business there is a "junk operation."

Zoning Agent Ernest Wheeler said the operator has complied with all of the PZC regulations. "I refuse to step into a neighborhood argument," he said.

Padick said the new regulations limit home occupations to those suitable for that purpose. "If the applicant signs the regulations limiting them he should become a commercial business," he said.

Examples of acceptable home occupations include preparation and sale of homebaked goods and preserves, arts and crafts, workshops for skilled craftsmen and offices of recognized professionals.

The PZC also approved a Connecticut Light and Power Co. substation on N. River Rd. The station will serve North Coventry and part of Tolland.

Wheeler reported to the commission that Orris Pratt of Swamp Rd. was granted a building permit on property there. The permit requires an extensive engineered septic system because the lot is located in wetlands.

Custodians join union

Coventry

Custodians and maintenance workers for the Coventry school system have voted to affiliate with Council 4 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME).

In an election conducted by the State Labor Relations Board, the workers voted 8-5 to organize. A total of 15 were eligible to vote in the Friday election, which was the group's first attempt to organize.

AFSCME also represents Coventry's highway workers and some other town employees.

Aaron Reid, Cynthia Wilson and Joan M. Rowley.

In other action, it was voted to contribute $5 to the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary's Boys and Girls State Fund.

The committee will also replace the $100 check pledged for the program last year. It was lost in transit.

Tops at Coventry High

The two top students at Coventry High School are Sean Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bradley of 135 Deborah Dr., and Kristi Kelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelson of 269 Broadway. The seniors will speak at graduation ceremonies June 18 at 2 p.m. on the high school lawn. (Herald photo by Lovering)

Dems stand by suggestions

Hebron

The Hebron Democratic Town Committee voted Tuesday night to resubmit the names of Edith Long and Marilou DeCarvalho to the Hebron Board of Education for consideration in filling two vacancies.

The two names were before the school board at its May 12 meeting but the board decided to ask the Democratic Town Committee for at least three names to fill the positions and to submit resumes of the candidates' qualifications.

The Democrats chose to submit only the two names.

A nominating committee was appointed to seek candidates for municipal offices to be filled in the November's election.

Danny Burns, 13, of East Hartford, and Kim Costello, 11, of Manchester, had fun helping Gretchen Van Why (left) and Mary Deary (right) Saturday at a picnic for about 150 participants in the Big Brothers and Big Sisters program.

Coordinators feted at picnic

The Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Manchester had a farewell picnic for their two program coordinators Saturday at Center Springs Park. Leaving their positions at the end of this month are Gretchen Van Why, of Big Brothers, and Mary Deary of Big Sisters. Ms. Van Why has been Big Brothers coordinator in Manchester since September 1975. Prior to that she worked in the Big Brothers main office in Hartford. Ms. Van Why does all the interviewing, matching and follow-up supervision for the program. It is a full-time job with about 75 big and little brother matches. There are about 75 more boys waiting for "big brothers" in the area covered by the Manchester office. Some wait as long as three years for a match. Ms. Van Why said.

It's concert time for school groups

It's concert time for the instrumental students of the East Hartford schools. Last Wednesday the North program was held at East Hartford High School. More than 250 students in beginning band and beginning strings at Burnside, Center, Langford, Mayberry, Norris, O'Brien, Silver Lane, Stevens, Sunset Ridge and Woodland Schools took part.

The All Town High School Orchestra and the stage band from Sunset Ridge also entertained. This Wednesday, the South program will be held at Penney High School at 7:30 p.m. The public is welcome.

More than 300 students from Barnes, Goodwin, Hockanum, McCarlin, O'Connell, Pitkin, Slye and Willowbrook Schools will perform. Selections by the Junior High All Town Orchestra and the combined band from O'Connell and Hockanum Schools will be in the program.

Donald Hallquist, music supervisor for the school system, is in charge. Concert conductors include music teachers Bruce DeLago, James Kirchmyer, John Parker, Richard Frtor, Bruce Stott, and Burt Mayer.

East Hartford
East Hartford Police said today a rape was reported Monday at 2:05 p.m. which had taken place at about 9 a.m. Monday in the Arnold Dr. area. The reported rape took place in a home and the victim was a young woman, police said.

The rape does not appear to have any connection to the half dozen rapes which took place in the last six months in the Burnside Ave. area, police said.
Police are still investigating the report.

Mayor vexed by city in bid for CDA fund

By MAL BARLOW
East Hartford Reporter
"We are carried to new levels of vexation," East Hartford Mayor Richard Blackstone told a federal Housing and Urban Development (HUD) officer last week.
The source of his vexation this time is the City of Hartford's manner of applying for its third year of Community Development Act funds. The city stands to receive nearly $4 million in block grants.
Blackstone charged the city did not follow the rules with its application. The city spent weeks pouring over the applications of area towns. It criticized East Hartford's severely, he said.
But the city did not offer its own application for area review until May 15, just one day before sending the application to HUD without area comments.
The mayor said the city's excuse for being late - "they forgot" - does not hold water.
The city's large staff had plenty of time to review all the applications from area towns. On March 18 it offered harsh comments on Blackstone's application.
Hartford City Manager James Daken said that East Hartford's application should be turned down. It needed "major modifications," he said. He said the town failed to respond to the needs of low and moderate income people.
Edward Savino, first selectman in Windsor Locks, said he agrees with Blackstone and has also written to HUD.
"The city's application should have been submitted (for area review) by April 1," Savino said today. "I don't know what they're trying to pull."
The city sued HUD three years ago to block funds from reaching seven suburban towns. It said the seven which include East Hartford and Windsor Locks did not fill out their applications correctly. The towns failed to find out just how many low and moderate income people were "expected to reside" in their towns, the city said.
Windsor Locks voters agreed to forget the block grant program. Savino said his town wrote off about $5 million in possible funds through the five-year CDA program.
East Hartford is fighting the first-year application denial in the courts. The case is in the Second Circuit Court of Appeals now.
Blackstone said he does not know what the town will do if HUD approves the city's application this year despite the failure to follow the rules.
A suit similar to the city's suit is possible, he said.
"If the towns must follow the rules even when they aren't clear, then the city must, too," Blackstone said. "And the rules on area review are well established."
Savino and Blackstone addressed their protest letters to Lawrence Thompson, area director of HUD in Hartford. Thompson was not available for comment today.

River searched for $$$

GLASTONBURY (UPI) - Glastonbury Police were searching the Connecticut River today for $50,000 in securities stolen during a teenager's party.
Two men have been accused of the May 15 theft of $100,000 in cash and securities from the home of Paul and Marianna Leary.
Police said Edward A. McDermott, 20, of East Hartford, and Patrick J. White, 18, of Glastonbury, were apprehended Saturday when they tried to cash a $1,000 bill at a West Hartford bank.
After the arrests were made, $104,000 in securities was recovered.
Police said the thieves earlier apparently dumped the other securities in the river when they became frightened by news stories about the case.
Officials said the men hurriedly left the bank after trying to cash the bill, apparently disturbed by the scrutiny of a teller. But their pictures had been taken during the transaction and they were arrested in Glastonbury.
McDermott and White were each charged with larceny and burglary. White was released on $15,000 bond. McDermott was being held at the Hartford Correctional Center in lieu of $100,000 bond.
A strongbox containing the loot and a clock radio were apparently taken during a party held by the Leary's son while his parents were out of town.
Leary is an executive with the Texaco Inc. area office in Newington.

Hike was an 'adventure'

A Sunday afternoon trip to Maestri's Case Mountain turned out to be a little more adventuresome than an East Hartford family might have expected.
While hiking along one of the mountain's three youngsters, Carl, Amy and Richard vonBurg, became separated from their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Graham of Glastonbury Rd., East Hartford.
The kids missed a turn," Roy Thompson, who parks Case Mountain for the Town of Manchester, said.
Thompson said that the three children, aged 13, 10 and 8, were reported missing shortly after 2 p.m. The children apparently became lost and ended up as far away as the Glastonbury fire tower, which is about five miles from the park, according to Thompson.
"That's a long way to miss a turn," he said.
Manchester Policeman Jonas Searle was called to the scene and eventually found the three children about two miles from the park on Coop Sawmill Rd. in Glastonbury. They were found at about 7:30 p.m., more than five hours after the hike up the mountain started.

East Hartford man will manage airport

George M. Roehr of 38 Chapman St., East Hartford, has become the new manager of Trumbull Airport in Groton.
Roehr succeeds Leo Cordier, also of East Hartford. Cordier was recently named manager at Bradley International Airport in Windsor Locks.
Roehr has been serving as an assistant airport manager at Bradley. Trumbull is now averaging nearly 100,000 passengers annually, said William "Bud" Deposition, commissioner of the state Department of Transportation (DOT). This is an increase of 18 per cent over a year ago.
The airport is served by Allegheny and Pilgrim Airlines.
The shipment of cargo through Trumbull between March 1976 and February was 276 tons, 23.2 per cent more than the previous year.
Roehr joined the U.S. Air Force in 1949. He is still in the Air Force Reserve. He joined DOT's Bureau of Aeronautics in 1970 and was manager of Waterbury-Oxford Airport before going to Bradley.
He holds Federal Aviation Administration licenses as a commercial pilot with multi-engine and instrument rating, flight engineer and aircraft and powerplant mechanic.
He is married to the former Ruth Coleman. They have four children.

Houley says critic should resign Post

HARTFORD (UPI) - The lawmaker working hardest to change Connecticut's liquor laws today answered accusations that he is "grandstanding" and "doesn't know what he's doing" by suggesting his chief critic resign.
Sen. Robert Houley, D-Somers, and Rep. John A. Giordano, D-East Haven, are feuding and that fight could jeopardize the progress of legislation aimed at lowering Connecticut liquor prices.
Houley has led the attack on the current liquor pricing system.
Giordano has vowed to oppose Houley's bills, saying his primary motive is "personal." He said Houley is "grandstanding" and "doesn't know what he's doing."
Houley said today, "Mr. Giordano's use of his leadership position in this way demonstrates terrible immaturity and is a gross disservice to the people of Connecticut."

Cuts in Vernon Board shuffles school budgets

By BARBARA RICHMOND
Herald Reporter

Some programs in the Vernon school system, scheduled for abolition due to a $250,000 cut in the recommended Board of Education budget, were reinstated by the board Monday night.

But the board did not take a final vote of approval on the cut because it had to have new totals and the work on the revisions didn't end until midnight. The board still had other items to cover before the meeting ended.

Items that were reinstated that were previously scheduled to be deleted include: $9,700 for another social worker; $9,000 for a teacher for the Research and Independent Study Program (gifted) and $1,175 for supplies for the program; $2,600 for curriculum development; $500 for the Lutz Junior Museum; $15,726 for a dental hygienist, plus $500 for supplies; and field trips, $13,115.

Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, presented a list of areas he recommended be cut to accommodate the $250,000 budget reduction. His recommendations totaled $292,512, which gave the board $42,500 to work with to reinstate.

Charles Brisson, the board's business manager, will go over all the figures and come back with a final one for board action June 20.

The reduction calls for an overall cut of $5,180 in teacher aides but doesn't eliminate any positions. It also eliminates two half-time secretarial positions at $3,076 each, but the superintendent hopes these positions will be funded by Comprehensive Employment Training Act funds.

The cut also reduces the position of supervisor of physical education from 12 months to 10 months and eliminates director of athletics as a separate position. Also eliminates the Girl's Athletic Association advisor position, for a total of $4,674.

A total of $9,500 was cut in the area of school library books. This covers all schools, with Rockville High School being cut $1,500 and all other schools, $500.

All major maintenance programs, emergency repairs and painting will be budgeted but the following items were deleted: $5,280 for floors and tile at the Middle School, an alarm system for one of the schools, $600; grounds maintenance at Middle School, $400, and Lake Street School, $500, and $1,500 for ventilators at the high school, a total of $8,280.

Some small reductions were made in other areas which will probably balance the amount to reach the $250,000 cut.

The board has an estimated surplus of about $80,000 in the current budget. Of this, it had previously said it will return $63,744 to the general fund. But last night action was tabled on this item.

The board went through a lengthy list of proposed uses for the surplus. The items, including the $63,744, totaled $135,563.

The board tentatively eliminated such items as $400 for a sewing machine and cabinet and $400 to replace a microwave oven stolen from the home economics department; $600 to convert the gang shower in the girl's locker room to storage area; and instead of $2,500 suggested to be held in escrow for possible purchase of the former Rockville Post Office, the board inserted $1.

In other business, the board: Approved leaves of absence for Mrs. Madeleine Champion, a Grade 3 teacher at Vernon Elementary School, and Mrs. Janette Peracchio, home economics teacher at Rockville High School.

Approved the resignations of Mrs. Elizabeth Strycharz, business office, Administration Building; Lawrence Fransen, Grade 7 social studies teacher, Middle School; Mrs. Arlene VanBuren, math teacher, Rockville High; Mrs. Gail Betson, math teacher, Rockville High; and Mrs. Martha Strouhsahl, Grade 3 teacher, Maple Street School.

Ratified the contracts of Mrs. Clare Albom, physical education supervisor, K-6, health education coordinator, K-12, and intramural coordinator, K-12; and that of Richard Tingley, physical education supervisor, 7-12, and director of inter-scholastic athletics.

Authorized Martin Fagan, principal of the high school, to "disseminate awards from any and all trust funds."

Approved an increase in tuition fees for special education students from other towns.

Petitions in Bolton Budget referendum due

No action will be taken on the 1977-78 budget at Bolton's Wednesday night Town Meeting because a group of petitioners have collected the necessary signatures to bring the budget to a referendum.

The petitioners attempted to have the referendum from 12 to 8 p.m. (by state law the minimum hours the polls could be open), but learned a 1967 local ordinance mandates the polls be open from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m.

On May 16, a Town Meeting rejected the $2,205,278 budget as recommended by the Board of Finance. That Town Meeting recommended that $22,000 be restored to the Board of Education budget.

The finance board met after the Town Meeting and voted to resubmit the same budget that had been rejected.

The proposed budget will increase the town's tax rate by 0.4 mills, from 61.4 to 61.8 mills.

The Town Meeting is at 8 p.m. at the Community Hall.

Educators meet
At a special meeting Monday, the

Bolton Board of Education, discussed its budget for 1977-78, state revenue, program changes and, in executive session, a request from an attorney.

Board member Barbara Smith said the board held a general discussion of how to go about approaching the budget at Wednesday's Town Meeting.

In its budget for the coming year, State Guaranteed Tax Base (GTB) revenue is estimated at $18,272. If the legislature approves a revised distribution on funds, Bolton will receive $36,772, which is $18,500 more than estimated.

With the money, towns have the option of increasing school expenses, reducing local property taxes or a combination of both.

Board members discussed program changes for next year but took no official action.

School board members voted 3-2 to drop charges against a Glastonbury resident accused of siphoning gasoline from parked school buses.

The person's attorney asked the board to drop the charges so the person could enter a two-year rehabilitation program for first-time offenders.

Occupation rules changed

The Coventry Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) revised the home-conducted occupation regulations at Monday night's meeting. Town Planner Greg Pad-dick said the changes expand and strengthen the present regulations and are designed to eliminate home occupations in locations not suitable for them.

New requirements are for increased parking spaces, plot and floor plans, and a restriction that only 25 per cent of the dwelling may be used for this purpose.

The revised regulations also allow the zoning agent to revoke the permit, if the home occupation fails to comply with the regulations, and order the operator to cease the occupation.

During the public hearing, Roland Green of Ripley Hill Rd. complained about a home occupation in his neighborhood. He said the steel recycling business there is a "junk operation."

Zoning Agent Ernest Wheeler said the operator has complied with all of the PZC regulations. "I refuse to step into a neighborhood argument," he said.

Pad-dick said the new regulations limit home occupations to those suitable for that purpose. "If the applicant signs the regulations limiting them he should become a commercial business," he said.

Examples of acceptable home occupations include preparation and sale of homebased goods and preserves, arts and crafts, workshops for skilled craftsmen and offices of recognized professionals.

The PZC also approved a Connecticut Light and Power Co. substation on N. River Rd. The station will serve North Coventry and part of Tolland.

Wheeler reported to the commission that Oris Pratt of Swamp Rd. was granted a building permit on property there. The permit requires an extensive engineered septic system because the lot is located in wetlands.

Custodians join union

Custodians and maintenance workers for the Coventry school system have voted to affiliate with Council 4 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME).

In an election conducted by the State Labor Relations Board, the workers voted 8-6 to organize. A total of 15 were eligible to vote in the Friday election, which was the group's first attempt to organize.

AFSCME also represents Coventry's highway workers and some other town employees.

Dems stand by suggestions

The Hebron Democratic Town Committee voted Tuesday night to resubmit the names of Edith Long and Marlow DeCarvalho to the Hebron Board of Education for consideration in filling two vacancies.

The two names were before the school board at its May 12 meeting but the board decided to ask the Democratic Town Committee for at least three names to fill the positions and to submit resumes of the candidates' qualifications.

The Democrats chose to submit only the two names.

A nominating committee was appointed to seek candidates for municipal offices to be filled in this November's election.

Committee members are chairman Richard Gant, James Lynch,

Renovation plans out, truck okay

At its last meeting, the Andover Board of Finance voted to appropriate $70,000 for a new fire truck, refused to appropriate $40,000 for renovation of the Town Hall, and did not discuss the purchase of a bulldozer for the disposal area.

By a 4-1 vote, the board refused to appropriate funds for renovation of the Town Hall. The request for funding came from Lawrence Bates and Stanley Sroka.

Voting against appropriating the money were Raymond Houle, Valdis Vinkels, Robert Little and James Hohlman. Voting for the appropriation was Charles Phelps. Chairman John Yeomans did not vote. A motion by Phelps to appropriate $5,000 for a feasibility study of the structure did not get a second.

Heated words ensued between those requesting the funds and the finance board members before the vote was taken. The Annual Town Meeting earlier this month supported having the structure renovated.

Finance board members questioned whether the renovation would conform to state building codes and health regulations. The less-than-one-half-acre site made it appear doubtful.

The board voted to recommend that a town meeting be asked to appropriate $70,000 for a new fire truck. The request was from J. Russell Thompson, fire commission chairman.

Thompson said specifications by the fire department estimated the cost at $69,000. He said delivery would take about 18 months.

If purchased, the new truck will replace one that is 20 years old. Thompson said the present vehicle is operational but replacement parts are hard to obtain.

The town has a fire engine fund to which money is added each year. By the time the vehicle is delivered the fund will have just barely enough to cover the cost.

Voting in favor of the purchase were Yeomans, Vinkels, Phelps and Houle. Voting against was Hohlman. Little abstained.

The meeting adjourned before board members finished the business on the agenda. A request by the Board of Selectmen for funds for a bulldozer was not discussed. No date was set for the board's next meeting.

Senior citizens

Bolton senior citizens will meet Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Community Hall. Mrs. Valdimara Kupris, local resident, will be the guest speaker. She will talk about her native Latvia and her new country.

After the business meeting, the group will discuss its day trip. Reservations will be taken. Ruth Kerns, visiting nurse, will attend to check blood pressures and for counseling.

Nursery school

The Bolton Cooperative Nursery School Association will meet tonight at 7:30 at the Bolton Congregational Church Chandler Hall. All new members are invited to attend.

The school is accepting application for the 1977-78 school year. For further information, call Susan Carreiro, membership chairman, 649-3060, or Anne Hicks, 742-6831. Applications may also be picked up at the school at Chandler Hall.

GOP will host Lufkin for South Windsor talk

Dan W. Lufkin, former commissioner of Environmental Protection for Connecticut, will speak at a meeting of the South Windsor Republican Town Committee Thursday at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held at Society for Savings, Buckland and Ellington Rds.

Mrs. Jean M. Gezelman, GOP town chairman, said the Republicans also will vote on a nominee for alternate to the Conservation Commission and Wetlands Agency.

The Republican Town Committee has approved a donation of $65 to Laurel Girls State, Mrs. Gezelman said.

Democratic women
The Democratic Women's Club of South Windsor will hold a membership meeting at the home of Cile Decker, 91 Berle Rd., Thursday at 8 p.m.

Clare Nizankiewicz will present slides and discuss President Carter's Inauguration. Cheese and crackers, wine and punch will be served.

Officers for 1977 are Alice Marie Ponderzi, president; Jane Drachenberg, vice-president; Jackie Archer, second vice-president; Virginia Thrope, secretary, and Maureen Foley, treasurer.

Indians top Penney High

Keeping its hopes alive of a State Baseball Tournament berth, Manchester High routed Penney High of East Hartford, 13-5, yesterday in CCLL play at Kelley Field.

Gift left impact
It seemed insignificant at the time but the rocking chair New England Whalers gave Gordie Howe shortly after the all-time great notched his 900th goal had an influence on the Howe family deciding to join the Whalers.

"When Dad scored his 900th goal in Houston, there was no celebration," Mark Howe told the largest press conference in Hartford history yesterday following an announcement that the Howes, Gordie, Mark and Marty would be wearing the green and white Whaler colors next season and for some seasons to come.

When the Howes came to the Civic Center with Houston to play the Whalers after the historic goal last season by the 48-year-old wonder, Howard Baldwin decided to salute Gordie and Tom Webster had the honor of pushing out onto the ice the special gift, which, when unwrapped, was a rocking chair for the 'old man.'

"When the Whalers presented Dad with the rocking chair, it showed real class," Marty Howe said. "The Howes were in Hartford yesterday, all five - the three hockey players, agent Colleen Howe (Gordie's wife) and daughter Cathy Howe, plus the brides-to-be of the brothers.

Gordie's status
Will Gordie Howe play? "I'll go to the training camp and get rid of that kid who says baby fat and see how I feel. If I'm physically fit, it could say more to play another year, but I was never in more pain than I was last year. It was an arthritic condition," he said.

"I don't want to be a drag. There are other challenging areas. Jack Adams in Detroit said if there was one empty seat in the stands someone was not doing his job," he added.

The presence of the Howes in Hartford is bound to spur ticket sales. In Howe's opinion, the Whalers had a lot of talent last year but because of all the trades they resembled an all-star team most of the time.

"There was a lot of talent and if any trouble it was adjusting to one another's style of play," he said. "Howe and his sons really came to the Whalers last season. "We were obligated to play four years in Houston and I refused to be traded last year to New England. I had never been traded," the senior Howe said.

Jack Kelley, director of operations, Coach Harry Neale and Baldwin all hope Gordie will suit up one more time. "I want the Avco Cup now and the Stanley later," Howe said.

The Avco goes to the World Hockey Association winner and the Stanley is what the National League clubs fight for.

Three reasons
"Security, happiness and opportunity - Hartford had it all," Colleen Howe said. "The Howes signed multi-year contracts, with no figures given and no length of time except that the Whalers expect to have the Howes - Marty and Mark - for several years to come."

Now to get those additional 2,400 seats in the Civic Center.

Special meaning in Nicklaus win

DUBLIN, Ohio (UPI) - Although he had captured 62 previous titles, including more major tournaments than any other golfer, Jack Nicklaus says his win Monday in the Memorial Tournament carried a special meaning.

"I was pretty nervous this morning, for a couple of reasons," Nicklaus said after completing the three remaining holes of his final round.

"One, I wanted to win very badly. And second, my father had won a two-shot lead on a course where anything can happen, you've got to be a little wary of it."

Nicklaus, along with nine other players, were run off the Muirfield Village Golf Club course Sunday by the last of three weather delays, forcing them to complete their rounds Monday.

Nicklaus, who had a two-shot lead over Hubert Green when play was under way, had parred his three remaining holes, finishing his final round at one-under-par 71 for a 72-hole score of 281 and became the first to win a $1 million prize.

The 281 was seven strokes lower than the winning figure in last year's inaugural Memorial. Nicklaus in the rugged, 7,100-yard, tree-lined layout.

Boycott of 500 likely

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) - Pat Buterbaugh wanted to drive in Sunday's 500-mile race so Monday, when the time trials completed, his father bought him a race car already qualified for the race.

The move sparked a controversy that led to calls for a driver boycott of the race.

Three veteran Indy drivers, attending an informal drivers meeting in the Speedway Motel, called for a boycott to support racer Bill Puterbaugh, who was outed from the race when the car he qualified was purchased by Walter's father.

George Walker, acting through his racing corporation - Walmore, Inc. - bought the car assigned to

Mature star Jabbar MVP

LOS ANGELES (UPI) - Los Angeles Lakers superstar Kareem Abdul-Jabbar feels he has matured as a player.

"I'm glad that they've outpolled all the other top basketball players - including Portland's Bill Walton - as the 1977 most valuable player in the National Basketball Association.

But the 7-foot-2 center, who led the NBA in field goal percentages with 57.9, finished third in scoring (26.2) and second in both rebounding (13.3) and blocked shots (2.18) thinks he has reached his limit.

"I don't think I can play any better or with any more consistency," he said Monday after being named MVP of the NBA playoffs, which he won after a career-high 159 of the 247 votes cast by the NBA players. Walton, who spoiled the Lakers' chances in the NBA playoffs, came in second with only 29.

"Since I've been in Los Angeles, I believe I've been getting the most out of my potential," Abdul-Jabbar, who recently turned 30, said. "I've matured as a player and that's the most important part of anybody's development."

It was the fifth time in seven years and the second year in a row that he won the MVP award and Abdul-Jabbar said "it was a great honor to be in the company of Bill Russell and Jerry Collier, former player who also won the award five times.

Poorest year ends in loss for Eagles

Some timely hitting and loose East Catholic defense gave Bulkeley High a 9-1 baseball victory yesterday in Hartford.

The victory qualifies the Bulldogs for the State Tournament while the setback ends the Eagles' season at 7-1, the worst record ever compiled by an East diamond nine. Two 10-loss campaigns were the previous worst.

Bulkeley snapped a scoreless tie with three runs in the third. An error, fielder's choice, Pete Poliski single and Tony Priolis single produced

Standings Orioles out front

NEW YORK (UPI) - It is roughly one-fourth of the way into the season and the New York Yankee romp feared by so many American Leaguers has yet to materialize.

"It's too early to tell," says Manager Earl Weaver, whose Baltimore Orioles have a half-game lead over the Boston Red Sox and a 1/2-game margin over the Yankees in the AL's Eastern Division.

He adds: "There is no prospect of an easy win for any team."

The Orioles, who were virtually written off as a contender in pre-season estimates, maintained their half-game lead over the Red Sox Monday night when they defeated the Milwaukee Brewers, 6-1, in 10 innings. The Yankees, who have lost six of their last nine games, dropped a 4-3 decision to the Red Sox.

Pat Kelly, who tied the club at 5-5 with a solo two hits as did Don Leonard, John Sommers and Mark Duval for the Yankees.

Winning for a second time in six starts, Reed upped Fogarty's, 9-7, in the second game.

Bob Mullen stroked three hits and Bob Godin, Norbit Gonswales two each. Rick Marsh led the Oiler with three hits, one a homer, and Jim Flaherty, Ben Grzyb added two each.

Highland Park Market outscored Klock last night at Fitzgerald, 8-3, with Lou Wellington's, three-run homer the big blow.

Jerry Cosgrove, Tom Devaney and Tom MacGregor collected three hits from Ed Litwin, Loui Boutiller and Gary Deluca and each off the bats of Miles Boutiller and Ted Holmes.

Winless in seven starts, Vito's had three singles by Brad Busby and two from Dick Mars.

EASTERN
Loring's record to 3, linking Edli to Nipped the MCC Vets last night at Noho, 9-6.

Bischoff and Stan Alexander spaced seven hits with five runs in the fifth setting the issue.

Blair made a breathing taking catch in the third inning of the Boston Red Sox 4-1 victory over the Yankees Monday night which press box veterans agreed was comparable to the catch Willie Mays made in 1954.

The New York Giants made the West drive in the first game of the 1954 World Series with the Cleveland Indians.

Mays' catch may or may not have been the greatest ever made but it probably is the most famous because of the circumstances - it came in a close World Series game and some 30 million people saw it on television.

Standings Orioles out front

NEW YORK (UPI) - It is roughly one-fourth of the way into the season and the New York Yankee romp feared by so many American Leaguers has yet to materialize.

"It's too early to tell," says Manager Earl Weaver, whose Baltimore Orioles have a half-game lead over the Boston Red Sox and a 1/2-game margin over the Yankees in the AL's Eastern Division.

He adds: "There is no prospect of an easy win for any team."
