Posse captures Ray

PETROS, Tenn. (UPI) — James Earl Ray, confessed assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was run down by bloodhounds and captured before dawn today by a posse of lawmen.

About seven hours later, Donald Ray Caylor, another of the convicts who escaped with Ray Friday night, surrendered.

Ray, 49, exhausted from his ordeal, vainly tried to cover himself with some leaves as the haying hounds—Sandy and Little Red—approached his makeshift hiding place. Sandy reached him first on a leash by prison guard Joe Chapman about 2 a.m. EDT.

"James, are you all right?" Chapman asked.

"I'm okay," Ray replied, his face wet with sweat and his sweatshirt and pants muddied.

Forty-five minutes later, Ray was back behind the stark walls of the prison. Later, a prison spokesman said Ray had eaten a "good breakfast" and was being held in the infirmary. There was no indication, however, that Ray was injured or ill.

He was examined by a doctor who reported Ray suffered only a few scratches.

A Tennessee corrections department spokesman said Caylor, 24, of Knoxville, Tenn., "gave himself up" between Brushy Mountain State Prison, where the breakout occurred, and Oak Ridge. Exact details of Caylor's surrender were not disclosed by the official.

Caylor was serving a 51-year prison term for armed robbery and assault with intent to commit murder.

Ray's attorney, Jack Kershaw of Nashville, said he called the prison to see how Ray was and to find out if Ray wanted to see him.

"He does want to see me. I will see him as soon as I can contact the warden," Kershaw said, adding he understood Ray was in good physical condition.

Only one convict now remains at large—Douglas Fhelt, 32. Prison officials said they believed they had him cornered in the same area Ray was arrested.

Ray was captured about 10 miles from the prison near a gold mining camp called Coyote.

Earlier announced plans by Tennessee officials to deploy 150 national guardsmen were canceled when word of Ray's capture was announced.

Rep. Walter Fauntroy, chairman of a House subcommittee investigating the assassination of King, said he was happy and relieved at Ray's capture. Fauntroy said he would not discount the possibility Ray's escape was engineered as a conspiracy to stifle the investigation. But he said there were no signs of outside accomplices when Ray was apprehended.

"My major concern was getting him back into custody and having the opportunity to question him about this and the assassination of Dr. King," Fauntroy said.

The full House Select Committee on Assassinations was to meet today to discuss Ray's escape.

Tennessee Public Safety Commissioner Joel Plummer said Ray had exercised vigorously in the prison yard to prepare himself for the coming ordeal.

Some of the escapees wore themselves out in the initial dash from the prison, Plummer said. "But Ray, being older and fairly cunning, didn't move as much."

The convicted assassin stayed with his escape plan until his trail was picked up by the fresh bloodhounds early today. Then, he ran as hard as he could until he couldn't run anymore. He surrendered without a struggle.

Warden Stonney Lane said Ray had tried to cover himself with leaves but could not escape the bloodhounds, who picked up his fresh trail three hours earlier when three men fled as prison guards approached them.

Ray's Brushy Mountain cellmate, convicted murderer Earl Hill Jr., 34, was among the three. He was captured almost immediately, but it was another three hours before Ray was trapped.

"Gentlemen, we have Mr. Ray in custody," prison spokesman Jim Henderson announced over a police radio at 2:35 a.m. EDT. A blue and white state Corrections Department car wheeled through the prison gates with Ray in the back seat just a few minutes later.

"We are extremely pleased at the capture of James Earl Ray," Gov. Ray Blanton said in a statement read to newsmen by prison officials. "This concludes one of the largest manhunts in the history of Tennessee."

Newsmen were unable to talk to Ray when he returned to the prison.

"He doesn't want any pictures taken and he doesn't have anything to say," a state trooper said.

Ray was handcuffed and his head shifted from side to side as he was escorted along a 30-foot long sidewalk at the prison. He said nothing.

Another of the fugitives, David Lee Powell, 27, of Chicago, serving a 100-year jail term for murder, was recaptured Saturday and bank robber Larry Hacker, 32, whom authorities believed masterminded the escape, was found earlier Sunday in tiny Beech Grove Baptist Church, about six miles from the prison.

At the height of the search, some 200 state and local police, prison guards and FBI agents, aided by bloodhounds and helicopters, were pressed into service through a search area 25 miles around the prison.

Tired, muddy and handcuffed

James Earl Ray, the convicted killer of civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr., is escorted in handcuffs back into Brushy Mountain State Prison, near Petros, Tenn., by Warden Stonney Lane, left, and Deputy Warden Herman Davis, right after his capture early today. EPA expected to give okay to Seabrook nuclear plant

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration is expected to give the go-ahead soon for construction of the controversial Seabrook, N.H., nuclear power plant, a number of sources said today. But environmental chief Douglas Costle ordered aides not to comment on reports that a decision already has been made.

Seabrook, halted by the government until a decision is made on whether its cooling system would harm the environment, became a national symbol for the battle over atomic power recently when more than 1,400 protesters were arrested while occupying the power plant construction site.

Industry and government sources said they expect the Environmental Protection Agency to approve the Seabrook cooling system, clearing the way for the Nuclear Regulatory Commission to let construction resume.

The Washington Post quoted Cos-tle, chief of the EPA, as saying in an interview he has "made a final decision" to allow the plant to discharge 1.2 billion gallons of heated water from its cooling system into the Atlantic Ocean each day.

The newspaper also reported Costle said he was delaying announcement of his decision in order to "go through the record one more time and make absolutely sure."

Aides told UPI that Costle had ordered them not to discuss the interview report. "He said no decision has been made. 'He said no to either confirm or deny it,'" one aide said.

Environmentalists contend dumping the heated water threatens marine life and they made the battle a symbol for thousands of persons across the nation protesting nuclear power plant construction. At one demonstration May 1, a total of 1,414 persons, including five reporters, were arrested during an occupation of the proposed plant site.

The planned 2,300 megawatt, $2 billion nuclear generating station was considered the second big test of President Carter's nuclear policy.

Carter has indicated he will discourage the use of plutonium, which can be used for the proliferation of nuclear weapons, but encourage construction of conventional nuclear power plants.

Last month, in an early indication of Carter's stance on nuclear plants, Interior Secretary Cecil Andrus refused to take steps to block construction of the Baily Nuclear Power plant at the edge of the Indiana Dunes National Lake Shore, a national park along the southern tip of Lake Michigan.

The plant proposed for the marsh behind the southern end of New Hampshire's 18-mile coastline was proposed in 1972 by the Public Service Co. of New Hampshire, which supplies 90 per cent of the state's electricity.

Carter seeks GOP help to stop water projects

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In an atmosphere already strained by controversy between congressional Democrats and President Carter, the White House expects help from House Republicans this week in a showdown over eliminating water projects.

But first the House and Senate were taking time out in mid-afternoon to return to British officials the Magna Carta lent to America for the Bicentennial Year.

Both houses scheduled a brief recess for a ceremony in the rotunda, for congressional leaders to hand the precious document over to a British official.

The House Ways and Means Committee was resuming work today on Carter's energy program, considering taxes on business use of fuels. A House subcommittee was working on utility rate reform and industrial conversion to coal — also part of the energy package.

Carter's plan to stop work on 18 of the politically popular water projects around the country was greeted with less than enthusiastic support on Capitol Hill, and the issue is one of three on which he has threatened vetoes if Congress swings too wide of his spending targets.

The others are a new farm bill and the big appropriation for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

All three measures come up on Capitol Hill this week, on the heels of the major blows Carter suffered on his energy program, the angry White House response and the admonition of Senate Democratic Leader Robert Byrd to Carter to "cool it."

The vehicle for a House showdown on the water projects is the $10.2 billion public works appropriations bill — a bill which also carries funds for research on a neutron bomb designed to kill people but leave structures and equipment undamaged.

Republicans will try to delete funding for 16 water projects and modify another — the Central Utah project. The GOP is expected to rely heavily on Carter's claim the projects eventually would cost more than $2 billion.

Carter has hinted a veto awaits the bill if the water projects are funded, and indicated that a similar fate may await the $61 billion HEW money bill which exceeds his budget by $1.4 billion and is scheduled for House consideration Wednesday. The agriculture appropriations bill is set for floor action Thursday.

The House will pause Tuesday to mark the 200th anniversary of authorization of the official American flag with singer Johnny Cash leading the salute.

Long session faces Board of Education

A long session is expected at the Board of Education's regular meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the board room at 45 N. School St.

Included on the agenda is adoption of the school budget and the school calendar for the coming year.

The board must also take action on a recommendation by School Supt. James P. Kennedy for a freeze on hiring of a psychologist, a social worker and a reading specialist, all existing positions and a new elementary vocal music teacher, an improvement priority in the new budget.

Dr. Kennedy told the board last week that the freeze was being reluctantly recommended as a precautionary measure for the first half of the school year because of a recent United States Labor Department audit. The audit resulted in a recommendation that five custodial employees and three female coaches receive four years back pay and an immediate raise in pay to comply with the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The board, in executive session, authorized Dr. Kennedy to refer the Labor Department recommendation to the Hartford law firm of Sullivan, Lettick and Schoen, specialists in school law. The firm handled the related case four years ago.

At least one board member has announced his opposition to the superintendent's recommendation for the hiring freeze. In a letter to the board, Earl B. Odum, who will not be able to attend tonight's meeting, said he is opposed to filling two new positions while keeping three existing positions vacant. He said the recommendation is a reversal of the board's long standing policy of satisfying the needs of existing programs before implementing new programs.

The new positions proposed are a program for the gifted and a coordinator of volunteers.

Board members Albert Harris and Eleanor Colman also expressed concern at leaving the positions vacant at last week's meeting.

The school calendar will be set after about two months of compiling surveys of parents, teachers and students. Three choices were given to parents in the most recent survey.

Dr. Kennedy will also give a report on the 1977 school census which was recently completed.

Clowning it up at Heritage open house

William Hale, president of the Heritage Savings and Loan Association, accepts a balloon from Tobie, the clown. Tobie entertained at the grand opening Saturday of Heritage's addition. About 15,000 persons attended open house and viewed the association's new quarters. Tobie, by the way is Wesley Hale, Bill's father, who dons the clown outfit from time to time as a hobby. How do you get to Apian Way from Milky Way?

CUNEO, Italy (UPI) — Angry dairy farmers headed motorists off at the pass Sunday — with milk.

About 1,000 farmers blocked traffic to and from France as they hosed the pass south of Cuneo with thousands of gallons of milk to protest lack of attention to cow breeding problems.

When fist fights between the farmers and motorists nearly erupted, the protesters changed tactics and began giving out 5,000 free glasses of milk.

Lincoln's Estate
Upon Abraham Lincoln's death in 1865, his estate was appraised at $10,974. Most of this had been saved from his salary as president, at that time $50,000 a year. The salary of a president of the United States currently is $500,000 annually.

Estate earns $8.74 million

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The estate of oilman J. Paul Getty has earned $8.74 million since he died little more than a year ago. The income was disclosed when Superior Court Judge Neil Lake authorized payment of $4 million to the museum Getty founded and made the residual beneficiary of his estate at nearby Malibu. The executors, son Gordon Peter Getty and Title Insurance and Trust Co., requested the payment and also reported a partial inventory indicated the estate is worth about $714 million which will be increased shortly to $720 million with new investments.

MACC news

by Nancy Carr Executive Director

By Nancy Carr Executive Director
Several years ago, clergymen and secretaries of MACC member churches established a checking system between themselves and the MACC Office both to prevent abuse of aid giving in order to ensure that real need was met as rapidly and thoroughly as possible. This system which was provided as a general "clearing house" for requests from non-member persons unknown to the church has circumscribed the occasional transient who knocks on every church door on his way through town, the local "user" who sees the church as an easy touch and recently proved most helpful when the publicized members of a regional con-game group became active locally. Very few if any of the clergy of our local churches fell for those particular sad tales though many reported receiving such requests.

Such cooperation among the churches assures that a needed meal is provided or a tank full of gas for a stranded family but also assures that the fast talker has not managed to partay a sad story into a few dollars here and a few dollars there resulting in a satisfying windfall for the day.

The individual clergyman or his secretary has several options when approached by an unknown. The request may simply be referred by the church to the MACC office.

Church Women United

Church Women United (CWU) will hold its annual meeting Tuesday from 9:30-11:30 a.m. at Emmanuel Lutheran Church. All Christian women of the community are cordially invited to attend this session and share in what we are in and can do together. Refreshments will be served and babysitting provided.

Urgent need
Volunteers to staff the Emergency Pantry during the summer months. If you can serve just for one session call Irene Goss, 646-4256 or MACC Office, 646-2063. The Pantry hours are: Monday 9:30-11:30 a.m., Wednesday-Friday 1-4 p.m.

Clothing Bank
Free men, women and children's clothing is available to any Manchester resident at the Clothing Bank every Thursday afternoon between 1 and 3 p.m. at South United Methodist Church on the corner of Main and Hartford Rd. parking lot.

Please come and take what you need. Women from the Outreach Center will staff the Clothing Bank during June and July. Clothing for elderly persons is available. Friend or neighbors may pick up what is needed.

Old Habit
The rate of driving on the right in the United States originated with pioneers of the West. As Conestoga wagons traveled west along the National Road, the teamster sat astride the left wheel horse. On meeting another wagon, he passed along to the right in order to watch the space between the wheel hubs.

Outreach program under way

The Town of Manchester's Outreach program to contact elderly and handicapped residents in town has been started and will be coordinated by Diane Wicks.

Two summer interns and a VISTA volunteer will assist Ms. Wicks in the program. The interns — both Manchester residents — are Doreen Gagnon, a senior at the University of Connecticut, and Nancy McCooe, a senior at Eastern Connecticut State College.

Mary Lalush is the town's new VISTA volunteer, a position previously held by Ms. Wicks. The program will attempt to locate some of Manchester's elderly and handicapped residents and see what their needs are and if they can be assisted by any existing programs.

The work will begin in the areas between W. Middle Tpk. and Hilliard St., east of Broad St.; between E. Middle Tpk. and Oak St., east of Spruce St.; and in the entire Main St. section.

Opinion

The dangerous indoors

It has been known that there's no place like home when it comes to accidents. On a percentage basis, a person is more likely to be injured in or around the house than at work in a factory or cleaning skyscraper windows.

Now, it seems, the home may be hazardous to the health in another way. According to researchers at Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory, air pollution indoors is frequently worse than pollution outdoors and may even be more harmful because the majority of people spend far more time indoors than outdoors.

The laboratory, which is operated by the University of California for the Energy Research and Development Administration, lists these typical household pollutants: Carbon monoxide, nitric oxide and nitrogen dioxide from gas stoves and furnaces; carbon monoxide and other substances in cigarette smoke; vinyl chloride and flourcarbons from aerosol spray cans, and organic compounds from products used in cleaning and cooking.

The importance of indoor air pollution, only now being recognized, may ultimately have a large impact on energy conservation strategies, say the scientists.

These strategies call for sealing up buildings more tightly, they note. But if indoor air is significantly polluted from indoor sources, then the need for exchange with the outside air will be in conflict with energy conservation measures that would restrict this exchange.

To put it in more "homely" terms, sometimes you can't win for losing.

The stability specialists

Having "stabilized" the political situation in Angola—that's how U.N. ambassador Andrew Young describes it, anyway—Cuba seems intent on doing the same favor elsewhere in Africa.

The U.S. State Department has issued reports that about 50 Cuban military advisers, and possibly several hundred troops, have been or are being sent to Ethiopia. They can't be sure, since Ethiopia's new Soviet-backed regime is in the process of kicking out just about every American in the country.

The Communists, of course, are the world's best stabilizers. They have stabilized Eastern Europe, whether the people there want to be stabilized or not. They would dearly love to stabilize everybody.

It is indeed noteworthy that little Cuba, which for its size has stabilized more people than any nation on earth—usually by putting them in prison—has enough energy left over to help out the cause in Africa.

Celebration of the 50th anniversary of Charles A. Lindbergh's epic flight across the Atlantic continues. As part of it, his cross country barnstorming tour, undertaken in the "Spirit of St. Louis" shortly after his triumphant return to the United States, will be recreated by the Experimental Aircraft Association Foundation.

Lindbergh's 1927 tour was completed in three months and three days and included stops in 22 cities in each of the 48 states. According to aviation historians, it did nearly as much to launch the nation into the new age of commercial aviation as did his solo transatlantic crossing.

Beginning with a June 15 takeoff from Long Island, N.Y., the 1977 tour, using a replica of the "Spirit of St. Louis" built by the foundation and piloted by members of the Experimental Aircraft Association, will take four and a half months. Although 20 extra stops have been added, the commemorative tour will closely approximate Lindbergh's original route around the country.

An interesting footnote, especially in view of Lindbergh's lifelong interest in the environment, is the fact that the original "Spirit" was powered with lead-free gasoline. Appropriately, the replica flight will also use lead-free fuel.

There is one thing the foundation could not duplicate, however: Lindbergh and his backers invested $15,000 in the original "Spirit"; its modern-day counterpart cost approximately $100,000 to build.

Gone with the turtle

Lee Roderick
The Herald's Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—A million was reached at our house a few nights ago. With Father's Day approaching (mothers really are the only ones deserving such recognition), perhaps I will be forgiven for musing on it in this column.

My son Eric, soon to turn 6, had finally surrendered to bed after a day at second grade and an evening of neighborhood soccer. As I tucked him in and bent over to kiss him goodnight, he turned his head toward the wall and, with a bit of groan, said, "Do you have to?"

This is the same quiet, sensitive child who for years has delighted in a bedtime game we've shared. I would twist his ear to turn on the "kissing machine" and, robot-like, he would kiss anything I pressed to his lips: my cheek, forehead, elbow, nose, an assortment of stuffed animals and whatever other toys were within reach.

Has to work harder
Eric has had to work harder than his two siblings at finding a comfortable place in our family constellation. His 9-year-old sister is naturally gregarious and quite aware of her charm. His 4-year-old brother of the blond hair and impish smile quickly melts hearts.

Tough competition for any middle child—especially one whose natural bent has been a preference for locking the door of his second-floor bedroom and doing his homework in the solitude of his room rather than get stuck in tiresome family discussions.

The signs of change within Eric had been coming all right. My wife had mentioned that he seemed acutely embarrassed whenever he spotted her at Falls Mead Elementary (delivering the lunch he forgot, etc.). I didn't think much about that until a few weeks ago when I walked to school with my daughter, who delights in her parents' attention.

As I left school I met Eric, our perpetual dawdler, heading toward me. We cross the school sidewalk and I could see the pained expression on his face. With a straight-ahead look that would have done credit to a Buckingham Palace guard, he murmured in clipped phrase: "Don't look at me. Don't turn your head. Don't say anything."

Then he marched into school. But as he entered the door, he gave me a glance backward. And I've got to believe he would have been disappointed in spite of himself if I hadn't still been standing vigil where he'd passed.

What has caused him from childhood into boyhood? Perhaps it has been some unusually discerning teachers Eric has been fortunate to have this year. Perhaps his soccer coach who hasn't complained that our boy seems equally as happy, win or lose, as long as he gets his share of the orange halves furnished by parents afterwards. Most likely, however, it has been his neighborhood chums who just now have taught him such infinite pleasure as collecting baseball cards.

Perpetual dawdler
An interesting footnote, especially in view of Lindbergh's lifelong interest in the environment, is the fact that the original "Spirit" was powered with lead-free gasoline. Appropriately, the replica flight will also use lead-free fuel.

There is one thing the foundation could not duplicate, however: Lindbergh and his backers invested $15,000 in the original "Spirit"; its modern-day counterpart cost approximately $100,000 to build.

How to face the crisis in our lives

To feel safe, live without fear, is one of our main desires. Yet so many of us live in constant fear.

The crisis of fear from time to time assails every one of us. Fear can be a good thing and could save our lives. But fear can be a curse, too. It can haunt and cripple us spiritually—fear of death, fear of sickness, fear of crime and unknown future.

"Don't be frightened," our Lord says. Out of His daily experience He spoke of God as a Father to His children and He knew that the child who puts his hand in the hand of God's powerful love, you do not have to be frightened. You can overpower every crisis of fear and say with Paul the apostle:

"I have strength for anything through Him and who gives me power" (Phil. 4:13).

There has been a lot of years between the fourth and fifth Soap Box Derby in Manchester. The fourth was on Oct. 5, 1947; the fifth will be on June 19, 1977.

Sponsorship of the races this year will be by Local 1579 of the Town Fire Department union.

When the union announced its plans a few months ago for the races, it sent several of us into research about the Soap Box Derby in Manchester. They started here in 1944, but the records are vague; we can't find a date for that year.

We do know that races were held on Oct. 2, 1945, Sept. 7, 1946, and Oct. 5, 1947.

Records tell us that Manchester Rotary Club was the sponsor, and we have photos to prove it, too. Mrs. Mary Asadorian of 67 Hilltop Dr. has been researching the races and came up with a lot of photos.

She has a copy of the 1947 program, and photos from the scrapbooks of Rotary.

We'll confine our commentary to the 1947 race.

There were two groups—Group A for plain bearing racers and Group B for ball bearing racers.

Those entered in Group A were Douglas Delaney, Jack Robinson, Franklin Creber, Thomas Sistiem, Robert Pitcher, Donald D'Batista, Alfred Tario and Harold Moore.

In group B were Richard Jurtz, Roger Hall, Leigh Ferguson, William McCollum, Ralph Hazen, Harold Crozier, Donald Cassells and Eugene Pinto.

That last name must be familiar to you. He was the town champ in 1947. Later on, when he got behind the wheel of a car, he was a road-racer champ.

Judging was for mechanism, styling, and speed. The first categories were judged in advance. In Group A, the winner and runner-up in mechanism and style were Moore and Robinson. Cassells was first in both in Group B and McCollum was second in mechanism and Hall in styling.

The races were held on Keeney St., and more than 4,500 witnessed them. Pinto completed the course in 29.4 seconds.

The cars got a start from a ramp. They had to meet specifications in order to enter. They could only be so high and so wide, and could only weigh so much. Rotary photos show

Pipers entertain at Meadows

Three pipe bands marched and performed together and separately at a band concert Sunday afternoon in the parking lot at the Meadows Convalescent Home. Residents, their families, and friends sat on the lawns and watched the colorful Manchester Pipe Band, the Sphinx Temple Highlanders of Hartford and the St. Patrick's Pipe Band of Manchester. The Manchester Pipe Band makes its first appearance this summer in competition in Scotland. (Herald photo by Tompkins)

Mrs. White attends conference on diabetes in New York City

Deborah White of Manchester was a delegate to the seventh annual conference of the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation this weekend at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York. Mrs. White is vice-president of the Hartford Chapter in charge of fund raising.

The conference consisted of a work session for delegates and a public session conducted by the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation (JDF) with demonstrations of various types of insulin, emergency procedures and research seminars.

Mormon's to conduct meet on genealogy

Genealogy, or "Finding your Roots" is the theme of a free public meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Federal Savings Bank, 344 W. Middle Tpk.

The meeting is sponsored by the Manchester Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon).

A film will be shown about the Mormon church's involvement in genealogy. The genealogy instructor and librarian of the Manchester Ward, Mrs. Joyce Boyce, will discuss basic genealogy and resource material available at the church library.

A three-member panel composed of Donald Mathewson, Richard Budge and Mrs. Boyce, all church members, will answer questions on genealogy. Some completed genealogies will be on display.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints has accumulated one of the largest genealogical libraries in the world. The church's Genealogical Society has millions of volumes of birth, marriage and death records as well as other vital statistics contained on microfilm available for genealogical research. The microfilmed records are stored in a spacious storage vault carved out of a solid granite mountain in a canyon near Salt Lake City.

Rikers wed 50 years

Mr. and Mrs. A. Lawrence Riker of 680 Spring St. celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Wednesday, June 8, at a party reminiscent of the '20s with a garden party tea dance at their home, "Lawrelia."

Music was furnished by their grandson, James Van Riker of Concord, Mass., Richard Riker of Grant's Pass, Ore., and Mrs. Phillip John Crosby of Annapolis, Calif., and the Rikers' eight grandchildren.

Mr. Riker is a former state legislator, inventor, antique car enthusiast and a retired quality engineer at Pratt & Whitney Group, East Hartford.

Mrs. Riker, formerly Eleanor Deuel, was a dancing partner with her sister, the Deuel Sisters, as they were known, appeared in many Broadway musical shows during the '20s.

A room of the Riker's home was arranged as a memory lane with Mrs. Riker's show costumes and memorabilia of Mr. Riker's hobbies and inventions on display. Movies of the Rikers' family life from their courtship days to the present were shown continually during the party.

Also attending the party were the

Lofstrom-Petroski

Susan I. Petroski and Peter Scott Lofstrom, both of Manchester, exchanged wedding vows April 15 at the Church of the Assumption.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Petroski of 137 Dixcut St. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Lofstrom of 37 Wedgewood Dr.

The Rev. Paul Tringco, assistant pastor of the Church of the Assumption, performed the double-ring ceremony and was celebrant at the nuptial Mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her mother and father, wore an Empire gown of ivory Qiana accented with embroidery and designed with Vee neckline, and chapel-length train. Her waist-length veil of silk illusion was arranged from an embroidered headpiece, and she carried a cascade bouquet of ivory colored roses and baby's breath.

Cindy A. Lamb of Chestnut St. was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Joanne E. Petroski of Olcott St., sister of the bride, and Carole A. Lofstrom and Linda A. Lofstrom, both of Wedgewood Dr. and sisters of the bridegroom.

William B. Lofstrom of Manchester served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Mark J. Petroski and Michael W. Petroski, both of Manchester and brothers of the bride; and Russell P. Norton, also of Manchester.

After a reception at Willie's Steak House, the couple left on a motor trip to Canada and Northern New York State. They are now living in Manchester.

Mr. Lofstrom is employed by the Lofstrom Co. of Manchester. His wife is employed at the Savings Bank of Manchester. (Nassiff photo)

HEALTH
Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Safety of combined drugs

DEAR DR. LAMB - A year ago I had open heart surgery (four coronary artery bypasses). A vein was taken from my leg and used to bypass the obstructions in the arteries to my heart.

When I left the hospital I was given a rather rigid fat-free, salt-free diet program which I have followed for a year.

Then I had a checkup and my cholesterol level was up to 220. For several years before I had my surgery I was taking Atromid-S three times a day. After surgery I was put on a blood thinner (Coumadin). Now because of my high cholesterol my doctor has put me back on Atromid-S and reduced my Coumadin.

I have reduced my weight by 20 pounds and weigh 160. I'm 5 feet 8 and am 62 years old.

What I need to know from you is will the combination of Atromid-S and Coumadin reduce my serum cholesterol level and is it safe to take these two medications at the same time?

DEAR READER - Atromid-S is often used in patients who do not respond ideally to dietary measures. It does help in some cases. It does prolong the clotting mechanism of the blood to some extent. Since Coumadin is used to prolong the clotting mechanism (thin the blood) there is some caution required in using Coumadin and Atromid-S together. However, your doctor has decreased your dose of Coumadin to compensate for this.

The final word in deciding how much Coumadin is to be given is to use the blood tests as a guide. If the mechanism is too prolonged the medicines have to be reduced. As long as you are followed regularly there is no reason why you can't take both medicines.

Keep in mind that aspirin will increase the bleeding tendency and Tylenol also increases the action of Coumadin. You should be careful about taking any of these medicines on your own.

Single cholesterol determinations often are not too reliable. That is why researchers often like to take more than one test before deciding just what a person's true level is. It can also be affected by stress. Students getting ready for an exam may have a high level which returns to normal after the stress.

I can't say how much benefit you will get from the Atromid-S but it is worth trying. I would also urge you to get rid of every ounce of fat you can. Often the true benefits of eliminating fat are not obtained because people don't lose enough. When there is a clear medical indication for doing so I think a person should get down to the point that there is little or no fat under the skin that you can feel. That is when the real benefits are seen.

To give you more information on cholesterol levels I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-2. Cholesterol, Triglycerides, Blood Fats, Atherosclerosis. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. I presume you do not smoke. It is very important after such heart surgery to

Lenti Farm plan hearing is tonight

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter
The Manchester Economic Development Commission (EDC) will meet Wednesday at 8:30 a.m. to discuss what steps the town has to take before the J.C. Penney Co. begins its planned construction of a catalog distribution center.

The firm is hoping to begin construction this September, and Town Manager Robert B. Weiss said that there is work that must be done before then.

The firm must construct concrete drainage facilities, particularly sediment basins, to permit construction work on the center to begin, Weiss said. This work would have to be started in August, and the town would have to hire a private contractor, he said.

He also hopes that construction of the road can be completed this fall.

"We want the road completed as early as possible so we can block off Burnham St. as soon as possible," he said.

Penney wants to begin construction this fall so that it can open the center in 1980. There are two legal matters concerning the project that have not been resolved.

One is an appeal of a zone change granted for the park. The appeal has been denied by both the State Court of Common Pleas and the State Supreme Court. Those decisions, however, could still be appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

The second is a suit against the state Department of Commerce for not meeting the regulations of the Connecticut Environmental Policy Act. When approving the project plan, the State Legislature took an amendment to a bill that would okay the department's approval, but the suit concerning the matter is still pending.

Manchester police report

Joseph Correia, 20, of Waterbury, was arrested early Sunday in connection with a fight in front of the Gaslight Restaurant on Oak St.

He was charged with breach of peace, interfering with a police officer and carrying a dangerous weapon. The incident occurred about 1:15 a.m. Sunday after police were called to the scene where about 30 persons were gathered.

Correia fled from the scene and had to be chased before he was apprehended, police said.

He was released under $3,500 bond for court June 27.

Ronald P. Cole, 22, of Ford St., was charged early Sunday with carrying a dangerous weapon, which was identified as metal knuckles by police. He was being held on $1,000 bond for presentation in court today.

Richard J. Salaky, 40, of Irvington, N.J., was also being held for court presentation today on a charge of breach of peace. The arrest was Saturday night in connection with an incident at an Oakland St. package store.

Also being held on a $100 bond for court presentation today was Frank Dr. Rockville, was charged Saturday with reckless driving. Court date is June 13.

Kevin Sheehan, 19, of 17 Discovery Rd., Vernon, was charged Saturday with fourth-degree larceny (shoplifting). Court date is June 13.

South Windsor
South Windsor Police are investigating four breaks reported over the weekend. The Cumberland Farms store on Main St. reported a window in the front door was broken and about 80 cartons of cigarettes were missing.

Someone broke a window on the south side of the Pleasant Valley School and raided the ice cream stored in the cafeteria.

Steven Gravelle of Rhonda Dr. reported someone entered his home, apparently through an unlocked door, and ransacked dresser drawers in the lower level of the house.

Roland Sears of 524 Pleasant Valley Rd., reported that someone broke a rear window and removed a watch and ring and about $500 in cash.

Charles Ramonzo, 23, of 138 Candlewood Dr., was charged Saturday with disorderly conduct. Police said Ramonzo was stopped on a motor vehicle violation and gave the police a hard time. Court date is June 30.

Weinberg given SBA post

A Manchester man, active in President Jimmy Carter's campaign from the beginning, has been appointed head of the New England regional office of the Small Business Administration.

Stanley Weinberg Jr., of 157 Pitkin St., has been named to the post and will operate the SBA regional office in Boston.

The office is in charge of state offices and a field office in Holyoke, Mass., Weinberg said. He will be in charge of 229 employees and a $5.4 million operating budget and $16.6 million program budget.

The SBA is established to assist small businesses.

"One way that we hope to do this is through the role of the agency being an advocate for small businesses," Weinberg said. He said that he expects the SBA to take a more active part in examining legislation that could help small businesses.

"Small business has played a major role in the development of this country," Weinberg said. He will soon be heading to Washington D.C. for an orientation period for his new post.

He will maintain his Manchester residence while working in Boston, he said. Weinberg has long been rumored as taking a post in the Carter administration, but he had said that he wanted a job that would not require him to leave the area.

Recreation Department at the Nike Site. Three officers were reported ransacked before Sunday morning in the Rifle Range building. Missions were change, ammunition and a scope, all valued at about $130. The Teen Center and the soccer shed were also broken into, but it had not been determined if anything was missing, police reported.

A break was also reported at the M&R Package Store on Tolland Tpke. Sunday morning. A front window had been pushed out and some liquor and an undetermined amount of cash was stolen, police said.

A Channing Dr. apartment was also broken into Sunday night and some jewelry and a television set were stolen, police reported.

A 1969 brown and white Plymouth was stolen on McKee St. Saturday. Attempted breaks were reported at Bentley School, Fred's Package Store on Spruce St. and the A-1 Gas Station on Oakland St. Entry was not gained in any of the locations.

Dr. Rockville, was charged Saturday with reckless driving. Court date is June 13.

Kevin Sheehan, 19, of 17 Discovery Rd., Vernon, was charged Saturday with fourth-degree larceny (shoplifting). Court date is June 13.

South Windsor
South Windsor Police are investigating four breaks reported over the weekend. The Cumberland Farms store on Main St. reported a window in the front door was broken and about 80 cartons of cigarettes were missing.

Someone broke a window on the south side of the Pleasant Valley School and raided the ice cream stored in the cafeteria.

Steven Gravelle of Rhonda Dr. reported someone entered his home, apparently through an unlocked door, and ransacked dresser drawers in the lower level of the house.

Roland Sears of 524 Pleasant Valley Rd., reported that someone broke a rear window and removed a watch and ring and about $500 in cash.

Charles Ramonzo, 23, of 138 Candlewood Dr., was charged Saturday with disorderly conduct. Police said Ramonzo was stopped on a motor vehicle violation and gave the police a hard time. Court date is June 30.

Twin win encouraging for Red Sox, Cleveland and Tiant hurl distance

BOSTON (UPI) — It was the first doubleheader sweep for the Boston Red Sox in three months of Sundays.

In the American League East, Boston had not won a daytime doubleheader since Sept. 26, 1975, when both Cleveland and Tiant threw complete games.

So the significance of the Red Sox' 3-2, 2-0 victories over the Texas Rangers Sunday should not be passed off with the usual mid-season shrug.

The wins were important, more because both Reggie Cleveland and Luis Tiant pitched complete games than because the victories pulled Boston within a half-game of the division-leading Yankees.

Rod Carew, rookie too much for Yanks

NEW YORK (UPI) — No-hit fame crossed Paul Thormodsgard's mind Sunday but another goal had a higher priority.

White Sox 6, Orioles 4. Chet Lemon, who tied the game 4-4 with a two-run homer in the sixth, dashed home with the winning run on relief pitcher Dennis Martinez' wild pitch in the 11th inning.

Collision path at Fenway Park

Boston catcher Carlton Fisk holds on to ball after making catch and colliding with third baseman Butch Hobson against Texas at Boston.

Wolff joins club

Jack Hunter, who scored a hole-in-one recently at Ellington Ridge Country Club, reports Tom Thormodsgard's exclusive membership last weekend when heaced the par three, 180-yard seventh hole with a six iron.

American League

"I played with Ted Williams and Stan Musial and I don't like to compare myself to them," said Manager Gene Mauch of the Twins.

Second best

Jack Redmond and Charlie Dow teamed up in doubles play in the annual Farmington Open mixed doubles event yesterday but lost in the finals to Nadine Nutter and her brother Ron, of Branford by scores of 6-0, 6-1.

Memorable moment

Sitting in the State Armory last night for the excellent pop concert presented by the talented Manchester City Orchestra under the direction of Jack Heller my mind went back 25 years to the most memorable basketball game played at the Main Street gymnasium.

End of the line

A number of standout high school track stars from Connecticut will stand up the New England Relays in Manchester June 25-26 to take part in the AAU International Meet in Salem, N.H., which matches the top male and female athletes from the six New England states.

Relief ace big reason Cubs leading division

NEW YORK (UPI) — The surprising Chicago Cubs lead the National League's Eastern Division by 3 1/2 games and must be taken seriously as a pennant contender.

The Dodgers' fifth loss in seven games. Tommy John was the loser. Pirates 6-7, Padres 1-4. Jerry Reuss pitched a six-hitter and Omar Moreno hit a two-run single in a four-run fourth inning leading the Pirates to their victory and handing two-time 20-game winner Randy Jones his seventh loss in the first game. Dave Parker hit his ninth homer, knocked in two runs and scored three to lead Pittsburgh's 11-hit attack in the second game.

Ageless and amazing Tiant back in groove

BOSTON (UPI) — Two weeks ago, Luis Tiant was being called old. Now he's ageless and amazing again.

The 31,038 fans in attendance celebrated the revival by chanting "Loee, Loee" as they have in past years for the man who has rebounded from arm trouble in 1971 to win 10 games for the Red Sox.

Tom Seaver pitched a five-hitter for his seventh win and Lenny Randle singled and scored during a two-run eighth inning for the Mets, who dealt rookie Floyd Banister his sixth setback. Seaver struck out six and walked two in raising his record to 7-3.

Helen Nielson, MHS nurse for 17 years, was an honored guest. Each teacher was presented with a pewter bowl filled with flowers. Several members of the Board of Education and the school administration were also guests at the dinner.

CRCOG to meet

A meeting on future land use development in Manchester, East Hartford and South Windsor will be held Wednesday, June 22 at 7:30 p.m. at the South Windsor Town Hall.

The meeting is sponsored by the Regional Planning Commission of the Capitol Region Council of Governments (CRCOG) with the assistance of the Regional Forum.

Members of local boards and commissions have been invited to attend the meeting to provide input concerning future land use in the three-town region. There will be an informal meeting with a slide presentation to discuss the planning areas of housing, transportation, economic development, open space and land use.

The Regional Planning Commission has developed a preliminary series of goals and policy statements which will serve as a guide in developing the Regional Land Use Plan. The revised plans will be used to review future local applications for federal and state funding in the various development areas.

Police report

East Hartford

Three East Hartford women were arrested over the weekend in separate incidents at the Zayro's store at 18 Main St. All were charged with fourth-degree larceny (shoplifting).

They are Sharon A. Lawrence, 32, and Patricia P. Villa, 34, both of 325 Main St., and Bobbie B. White, 36, of 161 Tolland St. All were released on their promises to appear in Common Pleas Court 12 June 28.

Hertz Truck Rental at 30 Charles St. was broken into Sunday through a smashed overhead door. The piece was ransacked. A soda machine was smashed open and an unknown amount of change removed.

Vernon

William Safford, 22, formerly of Delmont St., Manchester, was returned to Vernon this weekend from Nevada, where he was held by Las Vegas Police when they learned he was wanted in Connecticut.

Safford was being held at the Vernon Police station on a $10,000 bond for appearance in court today.

Safford was charged with second-degree larceny in connection with the theft of a horse and saddle last December. The horse and the saddle were later found at the University of Connecticut.

George Cosgrove, 48, of 29 Gem Dr., Vernon, was charged early this morning with failure to drive in the proper lane. His car went off George Dr. and struck a tree. Police said he was injured but didn't go to the hospital. Court date is July 1.

Joseph Willis, 18, of 136 Terrace Dr., Rockville, was charged Saturday with reckless driving. Court date is June 13.

Kevin Sheehan, 19, of 17 Discovery Rd., Vernon, was charged Saturday with fourth-degree larceny (shoplifting). Court date is June 13.

South Windsor Police are investigating four breaks reported over the weekend. The Cumberland Farms store on Oakland Rd. reported a window in the front door was broken and about 90 cartons of cigarettes were missing.

Someone broke a window on the south side of the Pleasant Valley School and raided the ice cream stored in the cafeteria.

Steven Gravelle of Rhonda Dr. reported someone entered his home, apparently through an unlocked door, and ransacked dresser drawers in the lower level of the house.

Roland Sacks, of 524 Pleasant Valley Rd., reported that someone broke a rear window and removed a watch and ring and about $500 in cash.

Charles Ramondo, 23, of 136 Candlewood Dr., was charged Saturday with disorderly conduct. Police said Ramondo was stopped on a motor vehicle violation and gave the police a hard time. Court date is June 20.

Doctor wins nurse dispute

By MAL BARLOW East Hartford Reporter

East Hartford's version of the "age-old confrontation between doctor and nurse" has been decided clearly in favor of the doctor. Miss Carolyn Furness, the town's director of nursing services, agreed in a meeting Friday with Mayor Richard Blackstone to accept civil service termination rights and pay. Her position will no longer exist when the mayor's new budget begins July 1.

The mayor later announced that her foe, Dr. John N. Gallivan of 951 Ridge Rd., Wethersfield, in his appointment to the new position of full-time health director. His duties begin July 1.

Friction developed between the nurse and the doctor more than two years ago, said Miss Furness. He asked her to support his and the mayor's efforts to combine the town's nursing staff with that of the school system. The effort failed and she said Dr. Gallivan has blamed her since.

This winter, Dr. Gallivan, acting in his role of part-time director of health, which he has filled since 1952, declared himself acting director of nurses. He told the Town Council he had to do it because of state and federal regulations. Miss Furness and state health officials said it was not necessary.

"It all boils down to the age-old confrontation between doctor and nurse," said Vic Binkowski, director of economic and general welfare for the Connecticut Nurses Association. He handles labor relations for the nurses.

Ageless and amazing Tiant back in groove

BOSTON (UPI) — Two weeks ago, Luis Tiant was being called old. Now he's ageless and amazing again. The truth is that Tiant has not changed. He still is 36 years old as he was in May.

Twin win encouraging for Red Sox, Cleveland and Tiant hurl distance

BOSTON (UPI) — It was the first doubleheader sweep for the Boston Red Sox in three months of Sundays. The significance of the Red Sox' 2-0 victories over the Texas Rangers Sunday should not be passed off with the usual mid-season shrug.

in the American League East. Boston had not won a daytime doubleheader since Sept. 26, 1975, when both Cleveland and Tiant threw complete games to beat the Indians, 4-0, 4-0.

kind of games. You can't win championships scoring nine or 10 runs a game." The doubleheader produced a total of seven runs and 22 hits by both teams. Less than three weeks ago, the Minnesota Twins had 24 hits in the first game of a Fenway Park sweep.

The Rangers took a 2-0 lead in the opener on single runs in the third and fourth inning. Both Dave May and Jim Sundberg doubled in the third inning and Bert Campaneris tripled and scored in the fourth when Cleveland walked the next three batters.

Wolff joins club

Jack Hunter, who scored a hole-in-one recently at Ellington Ridge Country Club, reports Tom Wolff joined the exclusive membership last weekend when he secured the par three, 180-yard seventh hole using a six iron. Sel Evangelista, Les Baum and Ray Belter witnessed the feat.

Rod Carew, rookie too much for Yanks

NEW YORK (UPI) — No-hit game crossed Paul Thormodsgard's mind Sunday but another goal had a higher priority. "All I kept hearing," said the Minnesota Twins' 24-year old right-hander after pitching a no-hitter for 5 1/3 innings and winding up with a five-hit, 6-1 victory over the New York Yankees, "was you can't go all the way. Now I have."

White Sox 6, Orioles 4. Chet Lemon, who tied the game 4-4 with a two-run homer in the sixth, dashed home with the winning run on relief pitcher Dennis Martinez wild pitch in the 11th inning. "I don't feel 21," Carew added, as if he were 75. "I still see the ball well. But to hit 400 a guy's got to have some going for him. When the weather gets hot in July and August, that's when you separate the men from the boys."

American League

"I played with Ted Williams and Stan Musial and I don't like to compare people," said Manager Gene Muech of the Twins. "But let me say that Rod is absolutely amazing. There's never been anybody quite like him." Carew sent the Twins off to a 2-0 lead with a homer in the first inning and also tripled and scored on an error in the seventh.

A crowd of 52,821 turned out for the "Bat Day" promotion, which incidentally fell on "Puerto Rican Day" in New York City. The loss was the fifth against seven victories for the Puerto Rican-born Figueroa. Elsewhere in the AL, Boston swept a doubleheader from Texas, 3-2 and 2-0; Chicago put away Baltimore, 6-4, in 11 innings; California drubbed Cleveland, 10-4; Milwaukee beat Kansas City, 4-0; and Oakland downed Detroit, 7-1.

Ballard super in Legion win

By LEN AUSTER
Herald Sportswriter

What had been lost can be reported found. Bruce Ballard, who didn't have a curveball in his arsenal the first half of his freshman season at the University of Pennsylvania, showed yesterday he had rediscovered it to join his blazing fast ball.

Manchester has slated an exhibition game Tuesday at East Catholic's Eagle Field against West Hartford with its next zone corner Thursday at home against Enfield. Both games will start at 6 o'clock.

Ballard was masterful and Ellington starter Craig Steuermann, a sophomore at East Catholic High, was outstanding working out of self-made jams as the pitching duel unfolded.

The Manchester hurler issued a leadoff walk in the second, after striking out the side in the first, and then settled down to retire the next two straight. With two outs in the 10th, Tom Ferreri broke up the no-hit bid in the visitor's 10th. Ballard finished in style winding Scott Gagon, his 23rd victim.

Open next stop for Al Geiberger

Little League

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) - Al Geiberger is the only golfer to win a PGA tournament with a 15-under-par score—and he never even shot a round in the 60s.

Geiberger made golfing history in the second round of the Memphis Golf Classic when he shot a 13-under-par 59 on the 7,103-yard Colonial Country Club course.

Geiberger, who left unimpressed by Tulsa and the U.S. Open, said his biggest job today will be forgetting about Memphis and the sub-60 round, and preparing for the Open.

"This was a pretty good warm-up," he said. "I think the hardest thing will be to come down."

"That's where I thought I had lost the tournament," Geiberger said. But things got worse before improving.

"I'll probably relax and come back to reality the night before," said Geiberger, who had par rounds Thursday and Saturday, finished with a seventh.

He watched as Player tied him with a birdie on the fifth hole. Geiberger made a birdie on the seventh, but looked on in dismay as both Player and McGee fired eagles.

The round changed quickly and drastically on the back nine, however. Player bogeyed the 10th hole and Geiberger caught him with a birdie. He then picked up a two-stroke lead when he added another birdie on the 14th and Player again bogeyed.

Player shook his head over the missed putts and the bogeys they caused.

"That was just the icing on the cake," said the South African golfer. "I'd played so well all week, but I just couldn't put it."

Unlike Player, McGee was pleased with his finish. "Of course I wanted to win this tournament, but I'm mighty glad to be second too," he said.

His putt on the 18th earned him an $11,300 share of the $200,000 prize money, compared to the $8,800 which went to Mike Morley and Tom Weiskopf, who tied for fourth at 277. Morley had a 67 Sunday and Weiskopf a 69.

Seattle Slew owners plan to keep racing

NEW YORK (UPI) - Seattle Slew, worth more than any other horse in the history of Thoroughbred racing after becoming the first undefeated Triple Crown champion, will be given the opportunity to add further luster to his brilliant record.

His young owners, Mickey and Karen Taylor and Dr. Jim and Sally Hill, reaffirmed their intention Saturday to race Seattle Slew as a 4-year-old, after the colt easily won the Belmont Stakes to become the 10th Triple Crown champion and the first with an undefeated record.

"As long as he stays sound, we plan to continue racing him as a 4-year-old," said Mickey Taylor. "We'll do what's best for the horse."

The victory was the ninth straight for Seattle Slew and brought his career earnings to $707,720. But that sum pales in comparison to Seattle Slew's stud value, certainly in excess of $10 million and maybe as much as $15 million.

Obviously, the breeding industry would love to see Seattle Slew retired from racing immediately to avoid a possible injury and certain the Taylors and Hills are taking a tremendous gamble by continuing to race him.

"How much money can you spend," Mickey Taylor argues. "We've got him insured for $3.5 million."

Besides, we're having fun.

Undoubtedly, Seattle Slew is a bonanza for racing.

The studly bird bay colt is only the 10th Triple Crown champion and the first since Secretariat in 1973. But Secretariat was syndicated before his Triple Crown campaign and retired from racing at the conclusion of his 3-year-old season.

Although the breeding industry shudders at the thought of Seattle Slew ever setting foot on a race track again, the racing industry drools in anticipation of this autumn's envisioned meeting between Seattle Slew and Forgo. Such a showdown almost assuredly will draw a record crowd.

AMERICAN FARM

Scoring army, Army & Navy trimmed Civitan Club, 8-2, Saturday at Buckland. Andy Taylor hurled a two-hitter and pitched for the 81 winners. Brian Matter and Dave Negri played well defensively for the winners while Tom Pritchard and Brian Kost were best in defeat.

NATIONAL FARM

Two five-run frames lifted Carter's to a 16-1 win over Ed's Arco Saturday at the 15th annual "Tractor World" event. Carter, Jim Mahar had five hits including four doubles and Matt Maroutie had four singles in the contest.

LEGAL NOTICE

In accordance with the provisions of Section 7-111 and Section 12-58 of the General Statutes of Connecticut, as amended, and Title 23, Section 128 of the U.S. Code, the Connecticut Department of Transportation will hold the following combined open space and corridor hearing public hearing:

Nathan Hale School Cafeteria, 160 Spruce Street, Manchester, Connecticut, Thursday, June 16, 1977, 7:30 P.M.

South Windsor Town Hall, 1540 Sullivan Avenue, South Windsor, Connecticut, Monday, June 20, 1977, 7:30 P.M.

The hearing will be concerned with the Department's recommended corridor/design plan for Interstate 291 in South Windsor and open space land in Manchester. The open space land affected by I-291 is 6.5 acres of Wickham Park in Manchester.

The Department's recommended plan is shown on a map dated May 1977, entitled "PUBLIC HEARING MAP, INTERSTATE 291, HARTFORD TO ENFIELD AND INTERSTATE 291, WINDSOR LOCKS PUBLIC LIBRARY MANCHESTER". This map is on display for public inspection in the town clerks' offices in Hartford, Windsor, Windsor Locks, East Windsor, Enfield, and South Windsor, Connecticut. The public hearing limits for Interstate 291 are the Massachusetts State line in Enfield, and for Interstate 291, Interstate 91 in Windsor and Manchester. More detailed 20' scale maps entitled "INTERSTATE 291, SOUTH WINDSOR" and "INTERSTATE 291, MANCHESTER" are on display in the town clerks' offices of South Windsor and Manchester, respectively.

Written statements or exhibits concerning this project may be submitted either at the public hearings, or may be mailed or delivered to the Connecticut Department of Transportation - Bureau of Plan and Research, Office at 24 Wolcott Hill Road in Westfield, on July 5, 1977. These written statements or exhibits will be made a part of the public hearing and will be considered in the same way as oral statements received at the hearing. The statements and comments of each hearing will be combined into one public hearing transcript.

Each hearing will be conducted in the following manner: After the Department of Transportation's presentation, the moderator will first accept comments from town officials, area legislators and regional planning agency representatives. Individuals who wish to speak are requested to sign a sign-up sheet when entering the hearing. In order to allow everyone an opportunity to speak, and individual speaking for the first time will be requested to limit their remarks to approximately five minutes. Individuals with lengthy prepared statements are requested to give a summary of their statements not to exceed five minutes and submit a copy of the entire statement, which will be made an official part of the public hearing transcript. After everyone has had a chance to speak once, there will be no time limit for those wishing to speak a second time.

Maps, drawings and other pertinent information developed for the project and written views received as a result of the coordination concerning this project are available for public inspection or copying at the Connecticut Department of Transportation, Bureau of Planning and Research, Environmental Services Division, 24 Wolcott Hill Road, Westfield, Monday through Friday, 9:30 A.M. to 4:30 P.M.

In addition to the discussion of the recommended corridor/design, relocation assistance programs will be discussed at the public hearings.

All persons interested in this matter are invited to attend these hearings.

In accordance with Section 432 (c) (C), Title 42, U.S. Code Section 1681 (f), Title 49 U.S. Code and Section 470 (f) Title 18 U.S. Code, as amended, and Section 5.02 (b) of the Federal Aid Highway Administration's Federal Aid Highway Program Manual, Draft Environment/Section 4 (f) Statement was prepared by the Department of Transportation in conjunction with the Federal Highway Administration. The Section 4 (f) Statement specifically addresses the effect the project would have on park land in Manchester. This document is available for public inspection and copying during normal working hours at the following locations:

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren DEAR ABBY: I am a 64-year-old woman who wants to thank you for the best present I have ever received...

DEAR B. J.: The Living Will is simply a document that reads as follows: To my family, my physician, my lawyer, my clergyman. To any medical facility in whose care I happen to be...

To date more than two million Living Wills have been distributed. (Yes, I have signed one.) I am absolutely opposed to killing for any reason.

A California reader donated $1,000 to my favorite charity for acquiescing him with The Living Will, please be patient. I promise your request will not be overlooked.

June 14, 1977 SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) The sunny budget could be in for a bump today. Whether you nor your better half are very efficient when it comes to handling money...

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Decisions today, don't promise you out aren't the best for you today. Unfortunately, you may be faced with the "no return" route.

CANCER (June 21-July 23) Speak as highly today of the someone when they're not present as when they are. It's not a coincidence that more serious consequences than appear on the duplicity.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 23) Should a well-meaning friend want to spend your cause in a career matter today, try to talk him out of it. His bumping may have adverse effects.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There's a good reason you could use very effective methods to go after it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Sharp salesman could gain on some interior merchandise on you today. You don't pay too much for an attention to warranty or other guarantees or quality.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't have fun today at the expense of another. Such conduct could cause more serious consequences than appear on the duplicity.

TRUMPET Splitfire, 1974. 28,000 miles, am/fm radio, Sharp car. Asking $2500, 646-6008.
