Who is excited?

It's hard to tell from this picture who was more excited about the conclusion of the Manchester Soap Box Derby Sunday. Aldea Brennan, the winner of the derby is swept off her feet by her proud father, George Brennan, of 140 Forest St., East Hartford, as she was driven across the finish line with the checkered flag. Brennan was undoubtedly the proudest father around on Father's Day. (Herald photo by Pinto)

East Hartford girl wins Soap Box Derby

Number 13 enclosed in a shamrock proved to be good luck for Aldea Brennan, age 10, of 140 Forest St., East Hartford, the winner of Manchester's Soap Box Derby on Sunday afternoon.

Aldea won seven out of eight races to be declared the winner of Manchester's first derby in 30 years. She beat Matt Callahan, 12, of 27 Scarborough Rd. in the last two heats of the nearly four-hour long event. Over 1,000 persons filled the slope of Manchester High School along Brookfield St. to cheer the 33 racers.

Aldea was one of four girls who entered the derby and may be one of the first female winners in Connecticut. She will go to Akron, Ohio for the National Soap Box Derby Championship on Aug. 20, her 11th birthday, with her parents, George and Delores Brennan.

Aldea had to build most of the car herself, with her father helping, under careful specifications outlined by the Soap Box Derby Association.

The sponsors of the derby, Local Union 1579 of the Town Fire Department, held four inspections and several clinics showing the contestants step-by-step how to build a soap box car over the past two months.

Brennan praised the way the fire fighters ran the derby, especially their stress on safety. He said it was a credit to their work that there were no accidents Sunday.

This was Aldea's first soap box derby, but it was not the first for the Brennan family. Her brother James Brennan, now 22, placed second overall in a derby held in East Hartford in 1967. Aldea has three other older brothers.

When her father suggested that she enter the derby, she said, "Sure, but will they let girls enter?"

Girls were not allowed to enter Manchester's earlier derbies in the 1940's.

Aldea is a fifth grade student in the gifted program at Goodwin School in East Hartford. She has also been selected to participate in a special summer program for gifted students.

As a juvenile diabetic, Brennan hopes she will be an inspiration for other diabetics to prove that the illness does not have to be a hindrance. Aldea also enjoyed singing, dancing, drawing and drama.

Supreme Court limits funding for abortions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled 6 to 3 today that neither the Constitution nor the Social Security law requires states to fund elective abortions for Medicaid patients.

The decision was a victory for the federal government, which has taken the position that the right to an abortion does not also imply a right to free treatment.

President Carter opposes use of federal funds for abortions.

In cases from Pennsylvania and Connecticut, Justice Lewis Powell said a state may make a policy choice favoring normal childbirth.

When Congress passed the Social Security Act, non-therapeutic abortions were unlawful in most states, a fact which undermines the contention that the lawmakers intended to require — rather than permit — participating states to fund such abortions, Powell said.

Nor does the state policy impinge on the constitutional right established by the justices in 1973, when it struck down state laws forbidding abortions, Powell said in the Connecticut case.

He said the state's regulation furthers its "strong and legitimate interest in encouraging normal childbirth."

Subsidizing of costs incident to childbirth is a rational means of encouraging childbirth, Powell said, and states have a wide latitude in choosing among competing demands for limited public funds.

Dissenters were Justice Harry Blackmun, who wrote the 1973 opinion, and Justices William Brennan and Thurgood Marshall.

Congress has barred use of federal payments to the states for this purpose and is considering renewal of the ban. They have continued during court challenges.

The 1973 decision said in the first trimester of pregnancy the decision to have a baby is up to a woman and her doctor. After that stage, states may engage in varying degrees of regulation.

In the Connecticut and Pennsylvania cases, lower courts ruled in favor of low-income women who sought abortions under Medicaid. Medicaid plans must meet various requirements to qualify for federal money but the states have considerable leeway in meeting their own individual needs.

The Connecticut case was brought in New Haven by five indigent women seeking abortions, although the state law permits them only if a doctor certifies the procedure is medically or psychiatrically necessary.

Amended suit seeks halt to park land acquisition

By GREG PEARSON

Herald Reporter
Attys. Bruce Beck and Anthony Pagano are seeking to stop condemnation proceedings and park construction by the Town of Manchester and sale of property to the J.C. Penney Co., all of which would be required for the proposed industrial park.

The injunction requests were included in an amendment of a suit filed against the state Department of Commerce for granting approval of the project plan for the proposed park. The attorneys, who represent seven clients, had filed that suit because they said proper reports on environmental effect had not been completed before approval by Edward J. Stockton, commerce commissioner, was granted. The Manchester Economic Development Commission (EDC) was also included in the original suit.

The amendment lists two new defendants — The Town of Manchester and the J.C. Penney Co. Penney would be the major tenant in the proposed park. The firm plans to locate a two-million square foot catalog distribution center in the eastern half of the 393-acre proposed park site.

Beck and Pagano mailed the amended complaint to involved parties on Friday. They represented the same clients in the appeal of a zone change granted for the park. The appeal has been denied by the State Court of Common Pleas and the State Supreme Court, but those decisions can still be appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

Approval questioned

The amendment cites state statute 8-189 and says that it requires that a plan approved by the Department of Commerce "is not inimical to any statewide planning objectives of the

No discrimination found

HRC suggests revoking of test grade changes

Manchester's Human Relations Commission has found no evidence of discrimination because of age in the hiring of a police dispatcher, but recommends the administration use all its powers to invalidate the town's personnel procedure of curving grades after candidates have been identified.

The commission as monitor of the town's Affirmative Action Plan, has been investigating charges of discrimination because of age for the Comprehensive Training Act (CETA) position of police dispatcher filed by Roy Thompson of 369 Birch Mt. Rd. against the town.

During a closed hearing May 17 on the discrimination charge, the commission heard oral testimony from Thompson, Police Chief Robert Lannan, Assistant Town Manager Charles McCarthy and Personnel Assistant Steven Werber.

The commission in a written report to Town Manager Robert Weiss and the Board of Directors, said that during the questioning of Lannan, he mentioned a "lack of response" on the part of Thompson and said that the job called for the ability to act quickly and responsibly. The commission reported that as far as it could determine Lannan's non-hiring of Thompson was not because of age but because of other characteristics.

"However we have a copy of the letter dated April 1, which Lannan sent to Thompson indicating that he 'ranked number two in the eligible list' and would be 'considered for future vacancies,'" the commission reported.

After the hearing, the commission received a letter from the Manchester office of the Comprehensive Manpower Program, which supplied the original 11 candidates for the CETA post, stating that the 25-year-old candidate, Patrick Hogan, who eventually was hired as police dispatcher, had come to its office April 1 to tell the staff "how surprised" he was to have obtained the job since he scored a 68 on the test and understood that 70 was the passing mark.

When a committee of the commission spoke to Town Manager Weiss about the letter, he said that he knew nothing about the statements in the letter. At the request of Weiss, McCarthy, accompanied by Werber, brought a typed list of marks for those who had successfully passed the test for the dispatcher's post. Among them was a mark of 70 for Hogan, the commission reported. The list was dated March 2, as the commission said it recalled, and was signed by Weiss and McCarthy.

The committee questioned the discrepancy between Hogan's remark to the CMP office and the list showing Hogan's test mark as 70. "McCarthy then reported for the first time, even though he had been asked about grades at the original hearing, that after the candidates had been interviewed and identified, the personnel department had used a "curve" on the test scores to upgrade all candidates, including Hogan, so that Chief Lannan would have another candidate from whom to choose," the commission said.

Originally there were four candidates who passed the test. One of the top candidates was disqualified because of background information not acceptable to the Police

State

HARTFORD — State auditors have given a top legislative committee a clean bill of health for its bookkeeping, but recommended the Joint Committee on Legislative Management establish a merit system for legislative employees.

WINDSOR LOCKS — Maj. Gen. John F. Freund says facilities costing about $6 million will have to be constructed at Bradley Airport to accommodate new airplanes due there by 1979. The Connecticut Air National Guard's F100s are to be replaced by A10 or A7 fighters or by F4 Phantoms.

HARTFORD — State auditors say Connecticut lost $55,000 because state employees were so busy implementing a cost-efficiency program they didn't have time to do their regular work.

Regional

BOSTON — The chief bargaining agent for the Alliance, representing the state's 41,000 employees, says he sees no difficulty in getting a three-year contract with the state ratified. Thomas Sharkey said he is satisfied the pact contains everything state workers were asking for when talks started last Friday.

CONCORD, N. H. — Opponents of the Seabrook nuclear power plant project will appeal the use of an ocean cooling system to the U. S. Court of Appeals in Boston. They allege U. S. Environmental Protection Agency Administrator Douglas Costle "lacked data in many areas" when he ruled in favor of the open cooling system last week.

National

WASHINGTON — Commissioner Donald Kennedy says his Food and Drug Administration's plan to ban the use of saccharin may be delayed "possibly a couple months" by the new study linking the sweetener to bladder cancer in men.

LOCUST GROVE, Okla. — In the week since three Girl Scouts were sexually molested and murdered, officers have interviewed more than 100 persons, administered a half-dozen polygraph tests and searched the murder site with trained dogs. No arrests have been made, but one officer said they are getting closer to determining a suspect.

Thousands of weary fire fighters battle flames blackening forest lands in the Southwest; they're gaining on a blaze threatening Los Alamos, N. M., but losing ground on one in Arizona where 30 homes have been evacuated near Sierra Vista. Flagstaff was threatened for a time also.

WASHINGTON — Congress was beginning another busy week today with fights looming over defense and foreign aid bills, whether to enact a federal subsidy for sugar growers, and mine safety legislation.

LAKELAND, Fla. — The Florida Citrus Commission insists it has not stopped using commercials featuring Anita Bryant and says it has no "objective evidence" that her anti-gay campaign makes her an ineffective promoter of orange juice.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Hospital officials have no word yet on when former First Lady Bess Truman may be going home. Mrs. Truman, 92, is being treated for a fall Thursday night in her Independence home and is in satisfactory condition.

International

TOKYO — The cholera epidemic in Japan's port city of Arida that has killed one man and stricken 63 others has virtually immobilized the area's fishing industry, officials said today. The first case in the city of 35,000 was diagnosed last Wednesday.

JERUSALEM — Prime Minister-designate Menahem Begin called on President Ephraim Katzir today to report he has successfully formed a cabinet, the first right-wing government in Israel's history.

DUBLIN, Ireland — Jack Lynch and his Fianna Fail party have ousted Premier Liam Cosgrave's ruling coalition in a stunning election upset, winning the largest parliamentary margin in the history of Irish politics — a 20-seat edge, according to final figures announced this weekend.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Riot police fired teargas at 400 youths throwing stones in the black ghetto of Soweto Sunday, but the end of the four-day anniversary marking last year's riots produced no new casualties, police said.

Realtors announce winners of vandalism poster contest

Heidi Goehring of 97 Princeton St. and Jeff Slater of 189 Porter St. are the winners of the Vandalism Prevention Poster Contest conducted by the Manchester Board of Realtors.

Heidi, a student at Bowers School, was winner in the Grades 1 through 6 division of the contest with her poster "If You Think Vandalism is Cool, You Are Not Too Hot."

Special recognition went to Darcy Plompen of Grade 6, Assumption School; Jon Bourret of Grade 3, Waddell School; Bob Carter, of Grade 9, East Catholic High School; and Grace Jaworski of Grade 10, Manchester High.

The winning posters and those receiving special recognition will be entered in a statewide contest.

The poster of Douglas Janssen, a Grade 11 student at Manchester High School, has been framed and presented to Mayor Matthew Martini Jr. to be hung in the directors' room at the Municipal Building.

Another poster created by Chelly Benca, a senior at Manchester High School, will be presented to Channel 3 for use in its public affairs announcements.

Increasing pornography alarms church group

The board of directors of the Manchester Area Conference of Churches opposes the growing presence of pornographic and sexually explicit material on display and offered for sale in the community.

Miss Barbara Baker, president of the conference, and Mrs. Nancy Carr, executive director, have issued the following statement about the presence of such material.

"We have no wish to deny freedom of choice or freedom of expression to anyone, but we feel compelled to object to a trend which cheapens the quality of life and which offends our sense of the dignity of all human beings.

"We are living in a time when the attitude of many toward the dignity and sanctity of human life has been demeaned. Human sexuality, a precious dimension of human life, has not escaped the cheapening process. It is our belief that pornography is symbolic of this anti-sexual and anti-human trend.

"The pornographic epidemic cheapens our quality of life and our attitude toward other human beings. It also spawns and makes profitable an industry in which vulnerable men and women are enmeshed in a particularly dehumanizing process, namely the degrading business of posing for the sexually explicit material which is peddled on Main St.

"The victims probably don't live here, but they are victimized here each time a person purchases a pornographic magazine. We suggest that the consumers of pornographic material are as morally culpable as those who pose, those who produce, and those who sell it. It is in the consumption of this material that otherwise decent and conscientious citizens contribute to human degradation."

Internships available

The Republican State Central Committee is sponsoring two-week internships at the state party headquarters, Wallace Irish, a Manchester representative on the committee, said Friday.

Irish, a GOP Central Committeeman from the Third Senatorial District, said that the program offers a chance for students who have completed their junior year in high school to work at the Republican state headquarters in Hartford. They will work for two weeks and will receive a small stipend for the work, Irish said.

Anyone interested in the program should contact Irish at his office, 646-6050.

Patching bids opened

The Town of Manchester has received bids for patching town highways.

The apparent low bidder for regular road patching is KAP Paving of Hartford, which submitted a price of $6.60 per square yard, according to Maurice A. Pass, director of general services.

One other firm, Superior Paving of Glastonbury, submitted a bid of $7 per square yard.

The bid also requested prices for a second type of patching—the infra-red method. Pass said this method is used primarily for making patches involving utility lines.

The only firm to bid on the infra-red method was Felix A. Marino of Peabody, Mass., which submitted a price of $9.85 per square yard.

The town is also seeking bids for supplies and fittings needed for the Water Department. The bid will be opened June 30 at 11 a.m.

Sampson-Ledoux

Cynthia Elizabeth Ledoux of East Hartford and Frank Bancroft Sampson of Holden, Mass., were married June 11 at Concordia Lutheran Church in Manchester. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Ledoux of 4 Ave. Dr., East Hartford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sampson of Holden, Mass.

The Rev. Burton D. Strand of Manchester performed the double-ring ceremony. David Almond of Manchester was organist and soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a polyester crepe gown designed with lace bodice trimmed with ribbon. Her mantilla veil was made of matching lace and trimmed in lace. Both the gown and veil were made by the bride's mother. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white and yellow pompon daisies and baby's breath with a white bow and streamers.

Miss Lisa Patten of Niantic served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Denise Ledoux of East Hartford, the bride's sister; and Elizabeth Sampson of Holden, Mass., the bridegroom's sister. Karen Link of 91 Clinton St. was flower girl.

Everett Augier of Nashua, N.H. served as best man. Ushers were Robert Leander of Holden, Mass. and Marc Ledoux and Glenn Ledoux, brothers of the bride and both of East Hartford.

Learning while serving

Each June, millions of new job-seekers spill out of the nation's schools. Many graduates, of course, plan to go on to college or other post-high school training. But many others face bleak prospects in a job market that is becoming increasingly tighter for teenagers who lack special skills. This year, however, the teenage unemployment total will be about 1,000 persons smaller than it might otherwise have been. That is the early report on the number of youths who signed up for a new program initiated by the U.S. Army Reserve.

Under the Pre-Graduation Program, qualified high school seniors could join the Reserve within 90 days of graduation. During this period, they started learning a skill in a job field of their choice - more than 400 choices are available - by attending Army Reserve training sessions for 16 hours a month, usually on weekends. For this training they earned as much as $50 a month.

Now following graduation come a few weeks of basic training and then during the next four months or longer (depending on the job specialty), the reservists will continue their instruction in one of the scores of top-caliber Army schools around the country. Throughout this period of active duty, the recruits will receive full Army pay and benefits, which means $374.40 a month to start.

When active duty is over, the reservist will return home to civilian life and continue learning in his or her chosen field at regular monthly meetings as a member of a unit based at a local Army Reserve Center. While it is too late to sign up for this year's program, members of the class of 1978 might want to look into it.

Legislative shortcomings cited by subscriber

To the editor,
Now that the smoke has cleared, and the echoes of the Connecticut General Assembly putting itself on the back has subsided, we should pause and ask why the will of the people was not considered on two vital pieces of legislation; that being the Bottle Bill, and the substantial pay raise the lawmakers gave themselves.

Manchester better appreciated

To the people of the Town of Manchester,
This past weekend, I had the "opportunity" to spend time in Union City, N.J. If you have never been to Union City, I will tell you that it is just 10 minutes traveling time from New York City, and if you ever have the chance to visit this town, you will feel the same way I do right now. I am glad to be back in Manchester!

Proud of Bennet

Dear sir,
We would like to comment that Bennet Junior High School's "Spring Celebration," Friday, June 10, was a great success in spite of the inclement weather, with very many people coming to see the various exhibits and demonstrations put on by the school. The Town of Manchester has every reason to be proud of its many talented students and dedicated

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON - Yes, it is inconceivable. But it is happening. The Carter administration's new policy on school desegregation is based on a Justice Department finding that some members of the U.S. Senate weren't sure what they were voting for when the anti-busing Byrd Amendment was passed last year.

All right. You never heard of the Byrd Amendment? Well, as enacted into law, the amendment - sponsored by Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd, D-W. Va. - specifically prohibits the Health, Education and Welfare Department from withholding funds as a means of forcing school districts to bus children past their nearest school.

To me, that's a pretty good example of legislation saying clearly what it means. But hold on, HEW Secretary Joseph Califano, backed by the Justice Department, says the government could, too, withhold funds from school districts that refused to use "pairing" or "clustering" to end segregation.

the Cocoon Grove fire in Boston Nov. 28, 1942, took nearly 500 lives in one of the greatest tragedies in New England.

We were in Boston that day, and we were very near the holocaust; probably only a salout at the dinner club prevented us from being in the club.

Our visit that day was for the football game between Holy Cross and Boston College at Fenway Park. We were accompanied by another Manchester fellow, but he will remain nameless because I had not previously told him I would write this column.

Rabbi Leon Wind Temple Beth Shalom

It was some football game! Boston College was one of the better teams in the country, and they figured to win. As often happens in traditional rivalries, toss out the statistics and let them play it on the field.

He had seats right on the field on the Holy Cross side, at ground level. Those aren't the best seats in which to see a game; you would rather be in the stands.

Holy Cross pulled a major upset, if you can call a 55 to 12 licking a major upset. We won't even go into details of the game. Boston was Holy Cross town that night.

Back in 1942, we had a female acquaintance in the Boston area and had made previous arrangements for dinner that evening; she had provided a date for my traveling companion. She had dated one of the Boston College football players who had suggested we might meet them at the Cocoon Grove.

The place was mobbed! We went elsewhere to dine, and then to a movie, not far away from the Grove.

After the show, outside on Tremont St., we heard sirens, and a passerby said something to the effect that "there's a fire somewhere nearby."

Since we had to deliver our dates to interpreted the amendment to include all types of busing. Califano claims the amendment doesn't apply when students are bused out of their neighborhoods to attend certain grades that - by government fiat - no longer exist in their nearest school. I had thought better of my old softball team mate, but trying to desegregate schools is enough to make a man climb walls.

Anyway, under the Ford administration several districts around the country began to turn back to neighborhood schools, even though in some cases it meant re-segregation.

One example was Dade County, Fla., which broke up the high schools into seventh, eighth and ninth grade centers, in addition to pairing elementary schools. Officials found that the pairing process was "educationally disruptive"; some districts were forced to attend five different schools before reaching the 10th grade - and you can look that up.

Pairing also has been eliminated in elementary schools in Pasadena, Calif., returning them to Manchester's Democratic Registrar Herbert J. Stevenson did not attend a state registrars' conference held earlier this week and, instead, returned the money to the town.

The town was to have paid $42,500 each for Stevenson and Republican Registrar Frederick E. Peck to attend the two-day conference held in Meriden.

Democratic Mayor Matthew Moriarty recently requested that the town curb all non-essential spending for the rest of the year. The town may face a budget deficit for the 1977-78 fiscal year, which ends June 30.

Because of this, Stevenson said he returned his amount and did not attend the seminar.

The first organizational meeting of the Manchester Young Republicans will be Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the First Federal Savings and Loan office, 344 W. Middle Tpke.

Patty Lucas is in charge of forming the organization, which is aimed at younger members of the Republican party.

Anyone interested in joining is invited to attend the meeting.

Today is the entry deadline at Connecticut Lottery ticket agents for entry into the final "Free Wheelin'" bonus game drawing.

Any weekly ticket stub in the Free Wheelin' game that matched its week's lucky color must be filed out and returned to any one of the 3,300 lottery outlets across the state.

The deadline for mailed entries is Thursday. Matching stubs may be mailed to: Lottery Bonus, Box 1000, Hartford, 06101.

A 10-week, color-match bonus game, "Free Wheelin'" offered a total of 10 new 1977 Dodge Aspen and $35,000 to lottery players.

A final drawing June 30 in Wethersfield will determine the last group of seven players to win the car and $500 cash prize.

Tickets for the lottery's newest bonus game, "Lucky Seven," are on sale now at lottery outlets. The color-match game features three grand prize drawings of $77,000 ($7,700 each year for 10 years).

Car radios weren't the best in 1942, and the range wasn't far. We listened to Boston radio stations on the way home, and learned then that a major tragedy was unfolding.

In Worcester, we changed stations, and found a local station broadcasting on a hookup with a Boston station.

There was at least one Manchester resident who was in the Cocoon Grove that Saturday night; he described the scene for The Herald as a side-by-side to the major story on Monday night.

Few remember the fact that Holy Cross defeated Boston College 55-12 that afternoon; Nov. 28, 1942, is best remembered in Boston as the Cocoon Grove tragedy.

First Soap Box Derby
Mrs. Mary Asadoorian was determined that she would find the date of the first Soap Box Derby in Manchester, and her determination paid off.

The first derby was on Keeney St. Oct. 28, 1944.

She found the date by reading microfilm until she discovered a story, because other records had been lost.

So, we researched our microfilm, and this is what we learned about the 1944 race:

The winners: Group 1 (10-12), Doug Wise; Group 2 (12-14), Ed Hadden; Group 3 (14-16), Bob Kaminski.

More than 2,000 saw the races on a Saturday afternoon under Rotary Club sponsorship.

Mt. Nebo rest room to open in mid-summer

The refreshment stand-rest room facility at Manchester's Mt. Nebo Field will probably not open until at least midsummer, town officials have said.

Passacantell said that he expects the crew to install doors and windows by next Friday. This will permit locking the facility at night so that plumbing installation work can begin. He said that some vandalism problems developed last year at Charter Oak Park when the plumbing work was started before the refreshment stand could be locked at night.

Herbert J. Stevenson, construction inspection supervisor for the Department of Public Works, said that the Mt. Nebo work is a "fill-in job" for the town maintenance crew. The

Two die in fire

BRANFORD (UPI) — A house fire that took the lives of two men started in an overfueled chair on the front porch, fire officials said Sunday.

Police said Michael Shay, 19, and Gregory Graham, 20, were killed in the blaze early Sunday. Eight other persons managed to escape injury, although one was forced to jump from a second story window, officials said.

Police said 10 persons, seven of them guests, were spending the night in the house on South Montewese Street when the fire broke out shortly before 4:30 a.m.

About town

Pratt & Whitney Aircraft and Research Center employees and their children who are participating in the New England Relay Saturday and Sunday are asked to advise Vern Hauschild, 365-6708 or 689-4482, so that preparation for coverage by the company's paper can be made.

Temple Chapter, OED, will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Masonic Temple. Diane Bernard and James Nichols, worthy matron and patron, respectively, will preside during the degree work. Officers will wear white. Refreshments be served. Mrs. Carolyn Nelson and Mrs. Eunice Bernard will be hostesses. Paul Bernard is in charge of serving.

Softball record

PLAINVILLE (UPI) — Two softball teams named Champs and Chumps set out Sunday to break the current record for a marathon softball game listed in the Guinness Book of World Records. It looks as if they succeeded. The players, employees of the Plainville Convalescent Home, started their game at 8 a.m. and ended it 12 hours, 67 innings and 185 runs later. The record listed in the Guinness Book of World Records is 7 hours, 23 minutes.

Huge suit begins

HARTFORD (UPI) — After four years of preliminary preparation, a jury trial opens today in U.S. District Court in one of the largest private lawsuits in history — a $1.5 billion suit against the Xerox Corp. for antitrust violations.

The SCM Corp. of New York filed the suit in 1973 against the Stamford-based Xerox, charging the firm had monopolized the plain paper copying market illegally. Since then, hundreds of sworn statements from corporate officials in the United States, Japan, Switzerland and elsewhere have been taken and sealed from public scrutiny in Hartford U.S. District Court. SCM has submitted more than 11,000 pages of documents. Xerox has turned over roughly 33,000 pages of testimony. More than 50 pretrial decisions have been handed down by U.S. District Court Judge Jan O. Newman.

The trial, which gets underway today with jury selection, is expected to take anywhere from five to eight months to complete.

Twenty confirmed

A class of 20 young people recently was confirmed at Emanuel Lutheran Church. Class members are Debbie Anderson, Karen Benson, Lynn Beno, Scott Christensen, Susan Dreisbach, Elaine Fuss, Leslie Haney, Russell Jensen, Janie Johnson, Karin Johnson. Also, Paul Johnson, Sue Lutsen, Carole Mackenzie, Gary Margelony, Jeffrey Porter, Robert Stokes, Lorraine Stratton, Anita Tychem and Lori Wirta. Seven members of the Emanuel Confirmation Class of 1977 participated in the service and communion as a group.

They are Clifford Anderson, Herbert Bengtson, Leonard Bjorkman, Everett Johnson, Lennart Johnson, Roy Johnson and Ralph Swanson.

Alaska pipeline starts operation

PRUDHOE BAY, Alaska (UPI) — The "black gold" of Alaska's North Slope begins its long-awaited trip to the American consumer today.

With monitors watching every inch of the 800-mile pipeline that took nine years and $9.9 billion to construct, oil was to begin flowing toward the ice-free port of Valdez today at the initial rate of 300,000 barrels a day. It will take 30-40 days for the oil, oozing southward at 1.1 miles per hour, to reach Valdez on Alaska's south coast, from where it will be shipped by tankers to West Coast refineries.

Within the year, officials of the controversial project expect 1.2 million barrels a day to be flowing through the pipeline, supplying about 15 per cent of America's domestic crude oil requirements.

ZBA to conduct several hearings

By GREG PEARSON Herald Reporter Manchester's Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) will conduct seven public hearings tonight, including one for a variance that would permit the Army Tavern at 306 Main St. to sell hard liquor as well as beer.

The ZBA session will be held at seven o'clock in the Lincoln Center Conference Room. The variance for the Main St. tavern is being sought by Robert J. Armentano, one of the permittees. A variance is also being sought from the zoning regulation that establishes a 1,000-foot minimum distance between liquor outlets with the same type of liquor license.

The ZBA will also hear a request from the B.J. Warehouse Outlet, which is seeking a special exception to permit use of its front yard at 274 Broad St. for storage and display of gymns and swimming pools. Charles A. Mozzer and William Safarik are requesting a variance to realign the boundary between 26-30 and 34 Stone St. which would reduce the frontage of 34 Stone St. to 68.5 feet. The property is in a Residence A Zone, which requires a minimum

Manchester police report

Three teenagers were treated for minor injuries and discharged at Manchester Memorial Hospital Sunday about 8:20 p.m. after an accident on Carter St. Treated for injuries were Richard V. Tierney Jr., 17, of 46 Wedgewood Dr., driver of the car, Wayne Gryk, 18, of 59 Wetherell St. and Susan Lanni, 18, of 220 Scott Dr. Tierney was charged with reckless driving. Police said the car he was driving went out of control, spun around on the road, struck a tree and a road bank before coming to a halt. Tierney was released without bond for court appearance July 5.

In an accident early Sunday morning, Ronald J. Smith, 23, of Vernon, was charged with failure to drive right after the car he was driving went out of control and struck a utility pole, causing it to break. A passenger in the car, Debra Craig, 19, of 31 Delmont St., was treated for a minor injury at Manchester Hospital and discharged. Other motor vehicle arrests over the weekend included Michael J. Matre, 20, of 113 W. Center St., charged with reckless driving on W. Middle Tpke. Saturday night.

Robert P. Warner, 37, of Vernon, was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and passing through a red light. Nelson Martin, 48, of East Hartford, was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor on W. Middle Tpke. Sunday night. Jeffery Fagan, 17, of 56C Ambassador Dr., was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor Sunday morning on W. Center St. Other arrests included Gary J. Martin, 22, of Rockville, charged with criminal mischief and breach of peace in connection with a reported fight with a Margaret Rd. resident at the resident's home early Sunday. He was released on $200 bond for court June 27.

Vincent White, 31, of Rockville, was charged on two rearrest warrants with fourth-degree larceny and disorderly conduct. The original arrest was April 2. He was released on a $500 surety bond for court June 27. Robert S. Pillard, 16, of 18 Lodge Dr. and Andre Deiron, 16, of 88C Ambassador Dr., were charged with second-degree criminal trespass. Police said the youths were reported in a building on private property on Forest St. Saturday night. They were both released on $100 bonds each and scheduled for court July 11. William C. Avery, 17, of 122 Bissell St. and Randy A. Cooley, 17, of 449 Main St., were charged with possession of alcohol on town property. A 15-year-old juvenile file was also arrested and referred to juvenile authorities in connection with the incident at Globe Hollow Reservoir. The youth were released without bond for court appearances June 27.

Three breaks were reported to police Sunday. A camera valued at $200 and an undetermined amount of cash were reported missing from the Windsor St. Exxon station. A window was broken to gain entry, police said. The front window of the Village Package Store, 172 W. Middle Tpke, was also broken, but the thief escaped with only one pint bottle of brandy, police said. A man was seen running from the store, but was not apprehended. Mama Mia's Caterer's at 748 Tolland Tpke. was reported broken into sometime Sunday morning. Some dishes and glasses of undetermined value were stolen.

Escapée apprehended

Manchester police apprehended Richard A. Foss, 21, of 59 Birch St. early Sunday morning, about two hours after he had escaped from the custody of Glastonbury police while being treated at Hartford Hospital. Foss was arrested at Ellison's Arco station, in Glastonbury about 2 a.m. while a burglary was in process, Glastonbury police said. He was being presented in court today on the charges.

Penney to seek zone exceptions

Representatives from the J.C. Penney Co., which is seeking a special exception to cover three items for its catalog distribution center, will appear at tonight's meeting of the Manchester Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC). The PZC will meet at 7:30 in the Municipal Building's Hearing Room. Penney plans to locate a two-million square foot catalog distribution center in the town's proposed industrial park. Such a large proposal, however, will require a special exception to cover parking and property size. The firm also needs an exception for outdoor storage, which it has proposed for one area of its site. The firm's entire parcel will cover about 162 acres and will include 1,775 parking spaces. A special exception is needed for any development that has more than 60 parking spaces or covers more than four acres. A public hearing will be held on the Penney request for the special exception.

Penney will also meet Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. with the Manchester Economic Development Commission to review its plans for the center, which would be the major tenant in the proposed park. The PZC will also conduct a public hearing for a seven-lot subdivision on Vernon St. requested by Joseph Swanson Jr. The planned development would be located on the east side of the street at its intersection with Richmond Rd. The commission's agenda includes two old business items of particular interest—the proposed Residence AA Cluster Zone on the Lenti Farms tract, and the request from the First Baptist Church of East Hartford to build a church at the northwest corner of Hilltown Rd. and Woodside St. Public hearings for both items were held one week ago. The commission may make decisions on both tonight or may postpone action to consider further the requests.

Builder claims state can't pull his license

SOUTH WINDSOR (UPI) — A South Windsor homebuilder under investigation by the FBI claims the state Real Estate Commission doesn't have the authority to deny him his license. It was reported Sunday that Clarence Nicholson, president of U.S. Homes Inc., has asked the Court of Common Pleas to overturn a state agency's decision not to renew his real estate license. In recent years, Nicholson has landed federal fines for selling federal lands from the Farmers Home Administration to build low to moderate income housing for low and middle income families in Connecticut and Massachusetts. Earlier this year, several purchasers of Nicholson-built homes complained they did not receive what they were promised. The Real Estate Commission held hearings in May on the complaints and came to the same conclusion. The panel denied Nicholson renewal of his real estate license because he had made "false promises" to prospective homeowners, failed to pay subcontractors, and sold land he didn't own.

Principal among grads at Coventry ceremony

By LINDA LOVERING
Herald Correspondent

As skies threatened rain Saturday afternoon, the Class of 1977 and Principal Milton Wilde graduated from Coventry High School. The ceremony was held on the front lawn of the school. About 300 people watched the 113 graduates receive diplomas.

Wilde is retiring this year after 14 years as principal of the high school. Donned in cap and gown, he was given a gift and diploma by class leaders.

Lisa Halloran, class co-president, said of Wilde, "You have given each of us a little part of yourself. It will be a forever learning student and a respected principal at the same time and two qualities only you (Wilde) could possess," she said.

Edmondson talked about sharing. He said people sharing with one another is what helps to shape each person as an individual.

Dear Abby By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: DESPERATE wrote that his recently deceased wife had loved the song of the mockingbird that had sung in their yard each morning...

DEAR ABBY: For DESPERATE who wishes to "shoo" away the mockingbird that perches on his wife's grave...

DEAR ABBY: In regard to the man who wanted to get rid of the mockingbird because it was bringing back memories of his deceased wife...

DEAR ABBY: Please tell DESPERATE that the pain he feels is within himself, not from the bird...

DEAR ABBY: Please tell DESPERATE I had a similar experience. A pair of cardinals made their nest under our window...

Obituaries

House fire burns fatal to Miss Fitzgerald, 72

Miss Julia Fitzgerald, 72, of 23 Brainard Pl., died Saturday in Manchester Memorial Hospital from burns received in an April 23 fire at her home.

The early morning fire was confined to the chair in which she was sitting when she fell asleep while smoking, authorities said. The upper half of her body was burned.

Miss Fitzgerald was born April 5, 1905, in Manchester and she was formerly employed by the Travelers Insurance Co. in Hartford.

Mrs. Marguerite W. Sweeney ELLINGTON - Mrs. Marguerite West Sweeney, 78, of 100 Ellington Ave. died Sunday at a Vernon convalescent home.

Mrs. Sweeney was born Feb. 2, 1901, in Ellington and lived most of her life in Manchester until moving to Ellington 10 years ago.

Before her retirement in 1965, she was employed as a stenographer for the Family Service Society of Hartford for 40 years.

She was a member of the Senior Citizens of Manchester, American Association of Retired Persons, Northeast Chapter No. 604. She was also a member of Second Congregational Church in Manchester.

Survivors are a son, Ralph E. Pauloff of Wapping; a daughter, Mrs. George (Jane) Christiansen of Ellington; two brothers, Lyle West of Illinois and Percy West of Coventry; seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

The funeral is Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St., Manchester. Burial will be in Wapping Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. The family suggests that those wishing to do so may make memorial gifts to the Second Congregational Church in Manchester.

John F. Doyle EAST HARTFORD - John Francis Doyle, 73, of 132 Holland Lane died Saturday at Manchester Memorial Hospital. He was the husband of Mrs. Ann Secor Doyle.

Mr. Doyle was born in Hartford and lived in East Hartford all his life. From 1928 to 1935, he worked for Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Division of United Technologies in East Hartford. He was then employed for 12 years by Dunham and Bush Inc. of West Hartford until his retirement eight years ago.

He was a communicant of St. Rose Church, East Hartford. Other survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Norine Gilmore of Springfield, Mass.; two sisters, Catherine Doyle of Norwalk, and Mrs. Anna Browne of Newington; and three grandchildren.

The funeral is Tuesday at 8:15 a.m. from the Callahan Funeral Home, 1602 Main St., East Hartford. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, East Hartford.

Friends may call at the funeral home today from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

HRC suggests

Department, and another, a young woman, refused the job when she found out about the rotating hours. This left Thompson and a woman, both of over 30 years of age, who had to live for three places.

According to the commission, Langan indicated to McCarthy that he would like to see more candidates. McCarthy went to the Manchester CMP office to ask it to supply more candidates, and was told that the whole process would take six to seven weeks. McCarthy told the commission that Chief Langan was "on his back" for a hire because the dispatchers job was being done by policemen who were not experienced and were overpaid for this duty.

McCarthy then told the commission that he decided to go the route he indicated was allowed him of using a code to upgrade all candidates, bringing Hogan up to 70 and allowing him consideration for the job.

The commission has condemned the procedure used by the town's personnel department in upgrading candidates to qualify for eligibility for hiring after testing, interviewing, identification and awaiting decision on that testing and interviewing as was done in this case.

"While using a code on tests is permissible in some instances of personnel procedure, we do not believe it is a fair practice to do so after the entire go-around of testing and interviewing, when candidates are awaiting decision. This is quite different from curving grades on a written examination before identifying the persons to whom they belong," the commission reported.

The commission not only recommended that the town manager and Board of Directors utilize all their administrative powers to invalidate the town's personnel procedure of curving grades after candidates have been identified, but "to take such other action as, in their judgement, seems necessary in the light of the facts" presented by the commission's report.

McCarthy then told the commission that he decided to go the route he indicated was allowed him of using a code to upgrade all candidates, bringing Hogan up to 70 and allowing him consideration for the job.

The commission has condemned the procedure used by the town's personnel department in upgrading candidates to qualify for eligibility for hiring after testing, interviewing, identification and awaiting decision on that testing and interviewing as was done in this case.

"While using a code on tests is permissible in some instances of personnel procedure, we do not believe it is a fair practice to do so after the entire go-around of testing and interviewing, when candidates are awaiting decision. This is quite different from curving grades on a written examination before identifying the persons to whom they belong," the commission reported.

The commission not only recommended that the town manager and Board of Directors utilize all their administrative powers to invalidate the town's personnel procedure of curving grades after candidates have been identified, but "to take such other action as, in their judgement, seems necessary in the light of the facts" presented by the commission's report.

Amended suit

development project plan." Atty. Roland Castleman and Jules Karp, who represent the EDC, have also filed an answer to the now amended suit that had been filed by Beck and Pagano. In the answer, they deny most of the 22 claims made. The original suit had centered on Stockton's approval, and had not included injunction requests.

Gov. Ella Grassie has signed a bill passed this legislative session that includes an amendment validating any action taken by the Department of Commerce in its approval of the industrial park project plan.

Pagano said that the next step is for him and his partner, Beck, to seek court approval for the amendment. Such approval, which he called routine, is required if an amendment is made 30 days after the return date on the original complaint.

In a related matter, Beck and Pagano have also sent a letter to the administrator of the federal Environmental Protection Agency that says the attorney feels the administrator and Stanley Pac, commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection, will also be involved in a suit.

Pagano said that the letter is "prerequisite" to a federal action that the attorneys will take on behalf of their clients. Such notification is required 60 days before such action is taken, Pagano said.

The ordinance also includes provisions requiring a permit to practice massage and a limited massagist permit for those who cannot meet the requirements for the permits to practice massage. The limited permit would allow the holder to practice massage in the presence of a full permit holder.

The ordinance establishes several requirements that must be met by anyone seeking such permits.

Moses also recommends that the permits would have to be renewed every year and that hearings be granted if a permit is denied or is not renewed.

The ten-page ordinance takes several steps to tighten control over local massage parlors.

Students in East Hartford's special education classes will have their own summer program offered by the Parks and Recreation Department. It will have arts and crafts, games, swimming classes and special trips. It is free to any child in a special education class in town. Busing is offered children who need it. It begins Monday, June 27. A child must be a town resident between the ages of 5 and 21, toilet trained, and able to communicate his needs. Applications are due at the department's office at Town Hall by Tuesday. To learn more, call the office at 289-2781.

Builder claims state can't pull his license

SOUTH WINDSOR (UPI) - A South Windsor homebuilder under investigation by the FBI claims the state Real Estate Commission doesn't have the authority to deny him his license.

Earlier this year, several purchasers of Nicholson-built homes complained they did not receive what they were promised. The Real Estate Commission held hearings in May on the complaints and came to the same conclusion. The panel denied Nicholson renewal of his real estate license because he had made "false promises" to prospective homeowners, failed to pay subcontractors, and sold land he didn't own.

Realtors announce winners of vandalism poster contest

Heidi Goehring of 97 Princeton St. and Jeff Slater of 183 Porter St. are the winners of the Vandalism Prevention Poster Contest conducted by the Manchester Board of Realtors.

Special recognition went to Dorcy Plompen of Grade 6, Assumption School; Jon Bourret of Grade 3, Waddell School; Bob Carter, of Grade 9, East Catholic High School; and Grace Jaworski of Grade 10, Manchester High.

The board of directors of the Manchester Area Conference of Churches opposes the growing presence of pornographic and sexually explicit material on display and offered for sale in the community.

Miss Barbara Baker, president of the conference, and Mrs. Nancy Carr, executive director, have issued the following statement about the presence of such material.

"We are living in a time when the attitude of many toward the dignity and sanctity of human life has been demeaned. Human sexuality, a precious dimension of human life, has not escaped the cheapening process. It is our belief that pornography is symbolic of this anti-sexual and anti-human trend."

The board's Vandalism Prevention program will continue in cooperation with the MOTION Youth Task Force of the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce during the coming year with the showing of the film "Vandalism, Why?"

Norma Marshall, co-chairman of the Manchester Board of Realtors' Make America Better Campaign, and Heidi Goehring will be guests Tuesday on the "This Morning" television program on Channel 3.

Project Interrupt report agency cooperation it was an unqualified 100 per cent success. School personnel, both principals, counselors, and youth services people represented of the church worked side by side to affect a change. Everyone involved invested much more time into the program than was visualized as each student became impatient and cared about. Each individual failure was a source of concern and answers were sought as to why and "what could we have done." Each success was a matter for rejoicing. Over and over the assessment group was faced with the complexity of the problems with which student, school and community are dealing.

For about 25 per cent of the students there will have been a significant behavior change probably attributable to participation in the program. By behavior change, we will mean he has been getting to school regularly and on time, his counselor has noted a more positive attitude, and his grades may even have perted up. The student has been regular in his attendance at the job and job site supervisor is pleased with his performance. In other words - his new atmosphere - school balanced with positive work experience and time for assessment with the counselor has provided these particular students with an opportunity to make a new start, find a place for themselves and achieve a taste of success (and perhaps the feeling of "I can make it after all.")

Another 25 per cent of the students are doing fairly well at school and work but the program has been judged not to be the active agent in the change. An additional 25 per cent of the students have a questionable record. They have not achieved any particular success either at school or in the program. Some considerable time has already been invested in identifying cause - program breakdown, poor choice of job site, home conditions, not enough communications with counselor, etc.

Perhaps those who "learned" the most were some of those involved in the governing board. Project Interrupt was an attempt to provide support to children who were not "making it" within the regular school system and as a trial project in inter-

Learning while serving

Each June, millions of new job-seekers spill out of the nation's schools. Many graduates, of course, plan to go on to college or other post-high school training. But many others face bleak prospects in a job market that is becoming increasingly tighter for teenagers who lack special skills. This year, however, the teenage unemployment total will be about 1,000 persons smaller than it might otherwise have been. That is the early report on the number of youths who signed up for a new program initiated by the U.S. Army Reserve.

Under the Pre-Graduation Program, qualified high school seniors could join the Reserve within 90 days of graduation. During this period, they started learning a skill in a job field of their choice - more than 400 choices are available - by attending Army Reserve training sessions for 16 hours a month, usually on weekends. For this training they earned as much as $50 a month. Now following graduation come a few weeks of basic training and then during the next four months or longer (depending on the job specialty), the reservists will continue their instruction in one of the scores of top-caliber Army schools around the country. Throughout this period of active duty, the recruits will receive full Army pay and benefits, which means $374.40 a month to start.

When active duty is over, the reservist will return home to civilian life and continue learning in his or her chosen field at regular monthly meetings as a member of a unit based at a local Army Reserve Center. While it is too late to sign up for this year's program, members of the class of 1978 might want to look into it.

Legislative shortcomings cited by subscriber

To the editor,
Now that the smoke has cleared, and the echoes of the Connecticut General Assembly parting itself on the back has subsided, we should pause and ask why the bill of the people was not considered on two vital pieces of legislation; that being the Bottle Bill, and the substantial pay raise the lawmakers gave themselves.

With an overwhelming majority of the citizens in favor of passage of the Bottle Bill as reflected in Sen. David Barry's shoe box survey, it was defeated by a minority of special interest groups with big money and an easy access to legislators.

The gruesome fact is that we are being buried in litter, not only from bottles, cans and paper, but paper, wrappers, candy ice cream and lolly pop sticks, and paper bags.

The question is not, do we ban

HEW acts on what it thinks Senate thought

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON - Yes, it is incomprehensible. But it is happening. The Carter administration's new policy on school desegregation is based on a Justice Department finding that some members of the U.S. Senate weren't sure what they were voting for when the anti-busing Byrd Amendment was passed last year. All right. You never heard of the Byrd Amendment? Well, as enacted into law, the amendment - sponsored by Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd, D-W. Va. - specifically prohibits the Health, Education and Welfare Department from withholding funds as a means of forcing school districts to bus children past their nearest school.

To me, that's a pretty good example of legislation saying clearly what it means. But hold on. HEW Secretary Joseph Califano, backed by the Justice Department, says the government could, too, withhold funds from school districts that refused to use "pairing" or "clustering" to end segregation. "Pairing" involves altering the

Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Monday, June 20, the 171st day of 1977 with 194 to follow. The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn. Those born on this date are under the sign of Gemini. German composer Jacques Offenbach was born June 20, 1819. On this day in history: In 1898, the U.S. Navy seized Guam, largest of the Marianas Islands in the Pacific, during the Spanish-American war. The people of Guam were granted U.S. citizenship in 1950. In 1963, the United States and Russia agreed on a so-called "hot line" communications link between Washington and Moscow. In 1967, the American Independent Party was formed to back George Wallace of Alabama for president.

interpreted the amendment to include all types of busing. Califano claims the amendment doesn't apply when students are bused out of their neighborhoods to attend certain grades that - by government fiat - no longer exist in their nearest school. I had thought better of my old softball team mate, but trying to desegregate schools is enough to make a man climb walls.

Anyway, under the Ford administration several districts around the country began to turn back to neighborhood schools, even though in some cases it meant re-segregation. One example was Dade County, Fla., which broke up the high schools into seventh, eighth and ninth grade centers. In addition to pairing elementary schools. Officials found that the pairing process was "educationally disruptive"; some students were forced to attend five different schools before reaching the 10th grade - and you can look that up.

Pairing also has been eliminated in elementary schools in Pasadena, Calif., returning them to kindergarten-through-eighth grade schools next fall. It is being noted that the Pasadena district won a landmark case in the Supreme Court last year when the Court lifted a requirement to racially balance its schools each year.

Can he get away with it?

I don't see how Califano can get away with his curious new policy. The 14th Amendment simply says that no one may be denied equal protection under the law. There is nothing on the books that prohibits Congress from establishing a neighborhood school pattern so long as the educational quality is the same for both blacks and whites.

In this context, neither Califano nor the Justice Department even suggests that the Byrd Amendment is unconstitutional. They simply have decided they are more competent to interpret the amendment than its author and the U.S. Senate. That's a little like saying that the First Amendment applies only to individuals whose opinions are respectable.

The Pentateuch
The first five books of the Bible are referred to in Biblical scholarship as the Pentateuch, a word derived from the Greek word for number five. In Hebrew it is known as Humash, a name derived from the Hebrew word for that number. However, the most popular Hebrew word for these five books is TORAH.

Torah is often translated as The Law. In its strictest sense, it refers to the scroll which is kept in the Ark in the Synagogue and which contains the Five Books of Moses. But, in its

Side glances

By GILL FOX

"I'm very responsible. I live well within my borrowings!"

How tragic was that fire in Southgate, Ky., which cost at least 161 lives in the Beverly Hills Supper Club on May 28.

Many people thought about other tragedies like that. They did in New England - especially in Boston. And we were among them.

The Coconut Grove fire in Boston Nov. 22, 1942, took nearly 300 lives in one of the greatest tragedies in New England. We were in Boston that day, and we were very near the holocaust; probably only a seat at the dinner club prevented us from being in the club.

Our visit that day was for the football game between Holy Cross and Boston College at Fenway Park. We were accompanied by another Manchester fellow, but he will remain nameless because I had not previously told him I would write this column.

There was at least one Manchester resident who was in the Coconut Grove that Saturday night; he described the scene for The Herald as a sidebar to the major story on Monday night.

Few remember the fact that Holy Cross defeated Boston College 55-12 that afternoon; Nov. 28, 1942, is best remembered in Boston as the Coconut Grove tragedy.

It was some football game! Boston College was one of the better teams in the country, and they figured it was. As often happens in traditional rivalries, loss of the statistics and let them play it on the field.

We had seats right on the field on the Holy Cross side, at ground level. Those aren't the best seats in which to see a game; you would rather be in the stands.

Holy Cross pulled a major upset, if you can call a 55 to 12 licking a major upset. We won't even go into details of the game. Boston was Holy Cross town that night.

Back in 1942, we had a female acquaintance in the Boston area and had made previous arrangements for dinner that evening; she had provided a date for my traveling companion. She had dated one of the Boston College football players who had suggested we might meet them at the Coconut Grove.

The place was mobbed! We went elsewhere to dine, and then to a movie, not far away from the Grove.

After the show, outside on Tremont St., we heard sirens, and a passerby said something to the effect that "there's a fire somewhere nearby."

The winners: Group 1 (10-12), Doug Wisse; Group 2 (12-14), Ed Hadden; Group 3 (14-16), Bob Kaminski.

More than 2,000 saw the races on a Saturday afternoon under Rotary Club sponsorship.

Mt. Nebo rest room to open in mid-summer

The refreshment stand-rest room facility at Manchester's Mt. Nebo Field will probably not open until at least mid-summer, town officials have said. The stand-rest room will be built on a part-time basis. Herman Pascantelli, construction inspection supervisor for the Department of Public Works, said that the Mt. Nebo work is a "fill-in job" for the town maintenance crew. The crew works on the project when there is a light load of their daily maintenance work, he said. Pascantelli said that he expects the crew to install doors and windows by next Friday. This will permit locking the facility at night so that plumbing installation work can begin. He said that some vandalism problems developed last year at Charter Oak Park when the plumbing work was started before the refreshment stand could be locked at night. He also said that if the maintenance crew was working steadily on the job, it would still take about a month to complete. Jay J. Giles, director of public works, said it will be at least mid-summer before the facility is finished. "We haven't made any promises," Giles said about the opening date of the combination refreshment stand-rest room building. Last fall, the Advisory Recreation and Park Commission approved the transfer of $10,000 in federal funds from the project to dredge Center Springs Pond to the Mt. Nebo project. The Board of Directors also approved the transfer. Dr. Alice Turek said last year that the old rest room facilities at the site would have to be shut down. Thus, the town boards decided to make the transfer of funds to permit work to begin at Mt. Nebo and ensure a facility for this year. Other federal funds have since been appropriated to fund the Center Springs work.

Registrar eschews meeting

Manchester's Democratic Registrar of Voters Herbert J. Stevenson did not attend a state registrars' conference held earlier this week and, instead, returned the money to the town. The town was to have paid $42.50 each for Stevenson and Republican Registrar Frederick E. Peck to attend the two-day conference held in Meriden. Democratic Mayor Matthew Morarty recently requested that the town curb all non-essential spending for the rest of the year. The town may face a budget deficit for the 1978-79 fiscal year, which ends June 30. Because of this, Stevenson said he returned his amount and did not attend the seminar.

Young GOP to meet Wednesday

The first organizational meeting of the Manchester Young Republicans will be Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the First Federal Savings and Loan office, 344 W. Middle Tpk. Patty Lucas is in charge of forming the organization, which is aimed at younger members of the Republican party. Anyone interested in joining is invited to attend the meeting.

Bonus game deadline is today

Today is the entry deadline at Connecticut Lottery ticket agents for entry into the final "Free Wheelin'" bonus game car drawing. Any weekly ticket stub in the Free Wheelin' game that matches its week's lucky color must be filled out and returned to any one of the 3,000 lottery outlets across the state. The deadline for mailed entries is Thursday. Matching stubs may be mailed to Lottery Bureau, Box 1000, Hartford, 06101. A 10-week, color-match bonus game, Free Wheelin' offered a total of 70 new 1977 Dodge Aspen and $35,000 to lottery players. A final drawing June 30 in Wetherfield will determine the last group of seven players to win the car and $500 cash prize. Tickets for the lottery's newest bonus game, "Lucky Seven," are on sale now at lottery outlets. The color-match game features three grand prize drawings of $77,000 ($7,700 each year for 10 years).

Two die in fire

BRANFORD (UPI) — A house fire that took the lives of two men started in an overstuffed chair on the front porch, fire officials said Sunday.

Police said Michael Shay, 19, and Gregory Graham, 20, were killed in the blaze early Sunday. Eight other persons managed to escape injury, although one was forced to jump from a second story window, officials said.

The players, employees of the Plainville Convalescent Home, started their game at 8 a.m. and ended it 12 hours, 57 minutes and 185 runs later. The record listed in the Guinness Book of World Records is 7 hours, 23 minutes.

East Hartford girl wins Soap Box Derby

Number 13 enclosed in a shamrock proved to be good luck for Aldea Brennan, age 10, of 140 Forest St., East Hartford, the winner of Manchester's Soap Box Derby on Sunday afternoon.

Aldea won seven out of eight races to be declared the winner of Manchester's first derby in 30 years. She beat Matt Callahan, 12, of 27 Scarborough Rd. in the last two heats of the nearly four-hour long event. Over 1,000 persons filled the slope of Manchester High School along Brookfield St. to cheer the 33 racers.

Aldea was one of four girls who entered the derby and may be one of the first female winners in Connecticut. When her father suggested that she enter the derby, she said, "Sure, but will they let girls enter?"

Supreme Court limits funding for abortions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled 5-4 today that neither the Constitution nor the Social Security law requires states to fund elective abortions for Medicaid patients.

The decision was a victory for the federal government, which has taken the position that the right to an abortion does not also imply a right to free treatment. President Carter opposes use of federal funds for abortions.

In cases from Pennsylvania and Connecticut, Justice Lewis Powell said a state may make a policy choice favoring normal childbirth.

When Congress passed the Social Security Act, non-therapeutic abortions were unlawful in most states, a fact which undermines the contention that the lawmakers intended to require — rather than permit — participating states to fund such abortions, Powell said.

Nor does the state policy impinge on the constitutional right established by the justices in 1973, when it struck down a state law forbidding abortions, Powell said in the Connecticut case.

He said the state's regulation furthers its "strong and legitimate interest in encouraging normal childbirth." Subsidizing of costs incident to childbirth is a rational means of encouraging childbirth, Powell said, and states have a wide latitude in choosing among competing demands for limited public funds.

Dissenters were Justice Harry Blackmun, who wrote the 1973 opinion, and Justices William Brennan and Thurgood Marshall.

Amended suit seeks halt to park land acquisition

MANCHESTER and sale of property to the J.C. Penney Co., all of which would be required for the proposed industrial park.

The injunction requests were included in an amendment of a suit filed against the state Department of Commerce for granting approval of the project plan for the proposed industrial park.

The amendment lists two new defendants — The Town of Manchester and the J.C. Penney Co. Penney would be the major tenant in the proposed park. The firm plans to locate a two-million square foot catalog distribution center in the eastern half of the 38-acre proposed park site.

Beck and Pagano mailed the amended complaint to involved parties on Friday. They represented the same clients in the appeal of a zone change granted for the park. The appeal has been denied by the State Court of Common Pleas and the State Supreme Court, but those decisions can still be appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

Approval questioned. The amendment cites state statute 8-189 and says that it requires that a plan approved by the Department of Commerce is not inimical to any statewide planning objectives of the state.

HRC suggests revoking of test grade changes

MANCHESTER'S Human Relations Commission has found no evidence of discrimination because of age in the hiring of a police dispatcher, but recommends the administration use all its powers to invalidate the town's personnel procedure of curving grades after candidates have been identified.

The commission as monitor of the town's Affirmative Action Plan, has been investigating charges of discrimination because of age for the Comprehensive Training Act (CTA) position of police dispatcher filed by Roy Thompson of 369 Birch St. during the town.

During a closed hearing May 17 on the discrimination charge, the commission heard oral testimony from Thompson, Police Chief Robert Lannan, Assistant Town Manager Charles McCarthy and Personnel Assistant Steven Werber.

The commission in a written report to Town Manager Robert Weiss and the Board of Directors, recommended that the town "lack of response" to the part of Thompson and said that the job called for the ability to act quickly and responsibly. The commission reported that as far as it could determine Lannan's non-hiring of Thompson was not because of age but because of other characteristics.

"However we have a copy of the letter dated April 1, which Lannan sent to Thompson indicating the 'ranked number two in the eligible list' and would be considered for future vacancies," the commission reported.

After the hearing, the commission received a letter from the Manchester office of the Comprehensive Manpower Program, which supplied the original 11 candidates for the CETA post, stating that the 25-year-old candidate, Patrick Hogan, who eventually was hired as police dispatcher, had come to its office April 1 to tell the staff "how surprised" he was to have obtained the job since he scored a 68 on the test and understood that 70 was the passing mark.

Washington — State auditors have given a top legislative committee a clean bill of health for its bookkeeping, but recommended the Joint Committee on Legislative Management establish a merit system for legislative employees.

WINDSOR LOCKS — Maj. Gen. John F. Freund says facilities costing about $6 million will have to be constructed at Bradley Airport to accommodate new airplanes due there by 1979. The Connecticut Air National Guard's F105s are to be replaced by A10 or A7 fighters or by F4 Phantoms.

HARTFORD — State auditors say Connecticut lost $55,000 because state employees were so busy implementing a new efficiency program they didn't have time to do their regular work.

BOSTON — The chief bargaining agent for the Alliance representing the state's 41,000 employees, says he sees no difficulty in getting a three-year contract with the state ratified. Thomas Sharkey said he is satisfied the pact contains everything state workers were asking for when talks started last Friday.

CONCORD, N. H. — Opponents of the Seabrook nuclear power plant project will appeal the use of an ocean cooling system to the U. S. Court of Appeals in Boston. They allege U. S. Environmental Protection Agency Ad-

Principal among grads at Coventry ceremony

By LINDA LOVERING
Herald Correspondent

As skies threatened rain Saturday afternoon, the Class of 1977 and Principal Milton Wilde graduated from Coventry High School. The ceremony was held on the front lawn of the school. About 300 people watched the 113 graduates receive diplomas.

Wilde is retiring this year after 14 years as principal of the high school. Donned in cap and gown, he was given a gift and diploma by class leaders.

Lisa Halloran, class co-president, said of Wilde, "You have given each of us a little part of yourself. To be a forever learning student and a respected principal at the same time are two qualities only you (Wilde) could possess," she said.

Speaking with great emotion, Wilde said, "You people in Coventry should be proud of your young people, they are great." He asked the graduating class to invite him to its 10th reunion as a former class member.

The two "students with distinction," Kristi Kelson and Sean Bradley, were the principal speakers at this year's ceremony.

Miss Halloran and Paul Edmondson, class co-presidents, gave the farewell address. Miss Halloran compared the graduate to Jonathan Livingston Seagull: "We can lift ourselves out of ignorance and we can find ourselves as creatures of experience and skill."

"You can never say goodbye, because there is always a hello waiting just around the corner. Walk up to that hello, take it in your arms and follow it to happiness," she said.

Edmondson talked about sharing. He said people sharing with one another is what helps to shape each person as an individual.

"We must not forget that a part of me will always be a part of you and you will always be a part of me," he said.

As thunderstorms began to break, the Class of 1977 marched off the lawn of Coventry High School, led by students and class advisers Kristina Elias and George Coon as diplomas were presented by Joan Lewis, M. 14.

School board makes cuts

Bolton

The Bolton Board of Education has approved $31,316 worth of cuts in its 1977-78 budget. The board approved returning about $12,000 to the town from its 1976-77 personnel account, but said it will spend $4,800 from the 1976-77 non-personnel account before the end of the year.

At a referendum June 6, townpeople by a 2 to 1 margin, voted to retain the $31,316 cut made in the school budget by the Board of Finance. Educators objected strongly to the cut and made an unsuccessful attempt to have the budget rejected.

There was also strong objection to the finance board's refusal to accept $2,500 for a "desperately needed lawn mower" for the schools.

School board members said the gentlemen's agreement between the two boards would not be in effect after this year. The agreement is that all balances in the school personnel account will be returned to the town unless there is an emergency.

The cuts from the 1977-78 budget, totaling $31,316, are: Pre-purchases with the 1976-77 budget balance, $4,870; elimination of Grades 7 and 8, $7,733; program, $7,733; miscellaneous salary account, $8,000; improvements to Memorial Field, $2,000; electricity, $2,000; paving at Bolton High School, $1,866.

Also, one-half time aide at the high school, $1,650; math textbooks for Bolton Elementary Center School, $927; math workbooks for Bolton Elementary Center School, $890; staff and supplies for summer school, $750; insurance, $540; paint, $400; office equipment, $225; snow removal, $300; freshman basketball, $277; supplies at the high school, $250; high school yearbook, $250; high school yearbook, $250; custodial overtime, $200; science textbooks at Bolton Elementary Center School, $200; and the high school field trip, $180.

School Supt. Raymond Allen said the $4,870 of pre-purchases include a lawn mower and fees for outside agencies.

Grades 7 through 8 will be discontinued for the summer vacation Wednesday at 1 p.m.

Area police report

Coventry

Final registration for the 1977 Bolton football program will be Tuesday from 5:30 to 8 p.m. at Herrick Memorial Park.

All midjet, pony and cheerleaders must bring a parent or guardian to make a consent signature.

New players must be at least nine years old and have a copy of their birth certificates when registering.

East Hartford

Police charged two young East Hartford men with throwing fire crackers Sunday night in the area of 700 Main St.

Steven P. Singarella, 22, of 29 Raymond St., and Richard S. Davis Jr., 20, of 97 Mill Rd., were both charged with second-degree reckless endangerment. They were released on their written promises to appear in Common Pleas Court 12 July 5.

South Windsor

Christopher Soares, 16, of 12 Quarry Rd., Bolton, was charged Sunday night with speeding in connection with an accident at Rye St. Park. Police said Soares was going into the park and to avoid colliding with a oncoming car, he swerved and rolled his car over. No injuries were reported. Court date is July 12.

Patrick DiStefano Jr., 21, of Cromwell, was charged Sunday with driving while his license was suspended and making a restricted turn. Police said DiStefano was stopped when he was making an illegal U-turn. Police said he attempted to bribe the officer. Court date is July 11.

Vernon

Charlene Jones, 27, of 235 Main St., East Hartford, was charged Saturday with fourth-degree larceny at Calder, Tri-City Plaza. Also arrested on the same charge was Sally Evans, 24, of 235 Main St., East Hartford. Both were released on their promise to appear in court July 13.

Daniel Prince, 16, of 12 Ward St., Rockville, was charged Saturday with fourth-degree larceny. He allegedly took a tape deck from a car parked at Rockville General Hospital.

Craig Clark, 20, of Wilbraham, Mass., was charged Sunday with second-degree larceny. Police said he was apprehended driving a car reportedly stolen in Texas.

Russell Labbe, 20, of 5 Eriel Dr., Rockville, was charged Saturday in connection with two separate incidents. Police said he was charged with driving while his license was suspended. He was released and his court date was set for July 13. Police said he was charged later for the same offense and additional charges were also lodged. They were: Driving without documents, making an improper left turn and failure to obey a stop sign.

New pastor assigned to combined church

Bolton — Vernon

The Rev. Dr. James W. Knorr has been assigned to the Bolton and Vernon United Methodist Churches by Bishop Edward G. Carroll. The announcement was made at the closing session of the Southern New England Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church.

Dr. Knorr will be taking up his new duties on July 3 and will be living in Bolton.

The Rev. David Campbell of the Bolton church has been transferred to the First United Methodist Church of Mystic. The Rev. James Schwartz and the Rev. Francis Schwartz, co-pastors of the Vernon church, will be serving in the Community Methodist Church, Crystal Lake, Ellington, and the First United Methodist Church of Stafford Springs.

Dr. Knorr has been pastor of the Friendship Church in Providence, R.I., for the last four years. Previously he served churches in Pennsylvania, Montana, California, Massachusetts and Florida. For a few years was pastor of the Asbury Church in Glastonbury.

He is married to the former Ida Mae Bryant. The Knorrs have three children and six grandchildren.

Dr. Knorr has traveled extensively and has served aboard a number of cruise ships as lecturer and chaplain. During World War II he served in the Panama Canal Zone as a field director with the Military Welfare Service of the American Red Cross and was later named chaplain for the Montana National Guard. In 1975 he was named brigadier chaplain and to the staff for the re-enactment of the Arnold Expedition to Quebec. He is a 32nd degree Mason.

Local legion receives plaque from Australian counterpart

A mahogany plaque from the Returned Services League in Glenorchy, Tasmania, Australia, was presented to Harold Poil and David Morsey, past commanders of the Dilworth-Cornell-Quey Post of the American Legion in Manchester at the post's annual meeting on June 14.

Making the presentation was Henry R. Wierzbicki, post public relations officer.

An exchange of plaques was prompted when Don Burns, a former Manchester policeman, moved to Australia. In a letter accompanying the plaque, Ken Alexander, Glenorchy Sub Branch president, wrote, "This plaque goes to you as a token of our friendship. A friendship that is based on trust, sincerity, and understanding and one that will never or dim in the years ahead, not only to your members but to all Americans."

The presentation was originally scheduled for Memorial Day but was postponed until the annual meeting. Wierzbicki said it will be hung in the Post's Fireplace Room for all members and guests to view.

Power and Fury weekend edition leaves RSox first, Yankees third

BOSTON (UPI) — The weekend edition of the Power and the Fury has ended with the slugger Boston Red Sox in first place and the wrathful New York Yankees in third place.

Boston finished out a record-setting homestand Sunday by clubbing five more home runs and yielding just three hits behind Ferguson Jenkins to thump the Yankees 11-1, and complete a sweep that has changed the look of the American League East pennant race.

As they head into Baltimore tonight to open a three game series, the Red Sox have:

- Won three straight games, one of the last 10 and 12 of the last 14;
- Set three home run records by clubbing 16 in 204 games against the Yankees (New York had none), 18 in the last four games and 21 in the past five;
- Moved 2½ games ahead of both New York and Baltimore in the AL East;
- Solidified their pitching staff with solid starts by reliever relief pitcher Bill Campbell.

The victim of Boston's latest victory was New York right-hander Ed Figueroa, who yielded the first six Boston runs, including little Denny Doyle's first home run in 204 games.

That homer (into the Boston bullpen in right) was as long as five of my hits," said Doyle, a singles specialist with a lifetime .252 hitting average.

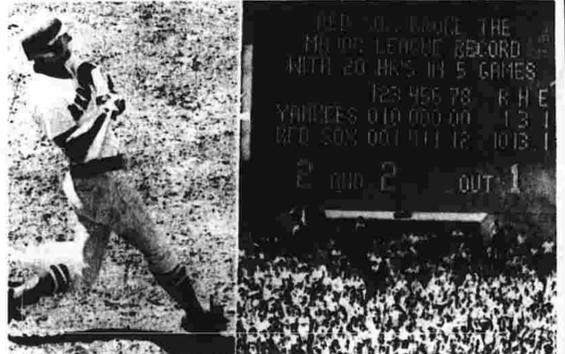

Boston rekindled the home run parade in the seventh inning when Bernie Carbo hit his third solo drive in two days off reliever Ken Clay. Jim Rice, Carl Yastrzemski, and George Scott whacked up just three hits, you're doing something. But Jenkins pitched great.

"And the hitting? It's like a series before where my team did not win we against three weeks ago (May 25) against Minnesota," when the Twins had 22 runs and 35 hits in a doubleheader sweep. "We were better off throwing underhand. But baseball's a crazy game and things turn around."

The weekend's crazy events turned this around for the Yankees. New York led their division by a half-game upon arrival in Boston but left town for Detroit in third place, two percentage points behind Baltimore.

"I've never been involved in a series before where my team did not win we against three weeks ago (May 25) against Minnesota," when the Twins had 22 runs and 35 hits in a doubleheader sweep. "We were better off throwing underhand. But baseball's a crazy game and things turn around."

Captain Carl delivers record-setting homer

Three homer records established by RSox

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox have accounted for three major league home run records recently.

One more homer tonight against the Orioles in Baltimore could set a fourth mark.

In the last five games, all at Fenway Park, the Red Sox hit 21 home runs to break a record of 18 set by the 1954 New York Giants and equaled by the 1963 Minnesota Twins. The Red Sox also broke the four-game mark with 18 homers and the three-game mark with 16. Both the four and three-game records were held by the 1963 Twins.

The six-game record of 22 homers was set by the 1954 Giants.

Boston broke the record with the help of six homers

by American League leader George Scott (18 on the season), four each by Carl Yastrzemski and Bernie Carbo, two apiece by Jim Rice and Carlton Fisk and one each by Rick Burleson, Fred Lynn and Denny Doyle.

All three records fell in a three-homer eighth inning Sunday as the Red Sox were finishing up an 11-1 wrecking of the New York Yankees.

Rice, Yastrzemski and Scott hit solo homers, with Yastrzemski's drive breaking the five-game mark and Scott's blast eclipsing the three and four-game records.

The 16-homer, three-game record came exclusively against New York pitching. Boston started the weekend sweep by hitting four first-inning homers in Friday's night game against Catfish Hunter.

New Tribe manager to stress pitching

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Jeff Torborg, who took over as manager of the Cleveland Indians Sunday after Frank Robinson was fired, says he will stress pitching and defense to turn the Indians into a winning team.

"I was born and raised in the Dodger organization and I know how to manage the Tribe through the 1978 season. He says he will stress pitching and defense to turn the Indians into a winning team.

"I was born and raised in the Dodger organization and I know how to manage the Tribe through the 1978 season. He says he will stress pitching and defense to turn the Indians into a winning team.

major. "We felt going into the season we had as good a pitching staff as there was in the league."

"I just wasn't to be," added Robinson. "I have no regrets. I can look in the mirror at myself and know that I did the best I could."

The decision to unload Robinson, according to Indians' President Ted Bonavia and Vice President General Manager Phil Seghi — who has been at odds with Robinson for more than a year — was made primarily because of the recent "uneasiness and unrest" in the clubhouse among the players.

"The Cleveland Indians have decided, for what we consider the best interests of the team, to replace Frank Robinson as manager and Jeff Torborg has been named manager of the team," Bonavia said.

Martin finished as Yank skipper

NEW YORK (UPI) — Billy Martin is all finished with the Yankees.

They'll make it official with a formal announcement in another day or so at which time Yogi Berra will be named the Yankees' new manager.

It will be the second time around for him, having led the Yanks to a pennant the only year he handled them in 1964.

Martin has been skating on this ice for the past five weeks when George Steinbrenner came close to firing him over differences with the front office. Gabe Paul, the Yankees' president, saved Martin's job for him, but even Paul couldn't help him this time.

The final straw was the blowup in Boston between Martin and slugger Reggie Jackson Saturday during a ballgame at Fenway Park seen by millions on national TV. The two men nearly came to blows in the Yankee dugout with Martin having to be restrained from going after Jackson by Berra and fellow Coach Elston Howard.

Sutton likes Los Angeles

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tom is terrific and Cincinnati is a nice place, but Don Sutton likes Los Angeles, thank you.

That sums up the reaction of star pitcher Don Sutton of the Dodgers to the presence of the former four-time 20-game winner of the Mets, Tom Seaver, in the two-time world champion Reds.

Junkyard Gang keeps winning

NEW YORK (UPI) — In an American League the Boston Red Sox are proving to Billy Martin they have a much mightier weapon to offset their lack of pitching, while the Chicago White Sox "Junkyard Gang," keeps winning with "reclamation projects."

The Red Sox completed a three-game sweep Sunday with an 11-1 rout of the Yankees, highlighted by Sox "Junkyard Gang" reliever Bernie Carbo, Carl Yastrzemski, Jim Rice and George Scott.

Meanwhile, the White Sox, who simply refuse to bow to their much-predicted demise, swept a 2-1 doubleheader from the Oakland A's to take a 60 percent lead over Minnesota in the AL West.

Kevin Bell hit a two-run single and Jorge Orta belted his seventh home run to key a four-run, fourth inning in the nightcap for Chicago, while in the opener, Wilbur Wood, who has been slowly making a comeback from knee injury, gained his first victory since May 9, 1975. Lamar Johnson belted two solo homers and Lerroy Loggins registered his 11th save to support Wood.

hitting team. Whatever untily was left on the high-salaried, volcanic-tempered club dissipated Saturday when Martin nearly precipitated a nationally televised fight with Reggie Jackson after yanking the star right-fielder from the game.

Martin, Jackson and Yankees' President Gabe Paul had breakfast together Sunday morning and the manager later reported, "We went over everything and everything is fine. We have no more problems."

Figueroa, a 19-game winner last season, thought he pitched reasonably well but felt, "right now the Red Sox have no weakness. Everything you throw, they're going to hit."

The Yankees may have lost more than just three baseball games to a torrid

Softball Despite threat Green prevailed

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — There was a built-in excuse ready for the Tulsa Green Sox if they had tumbled the U.S. Open championship over in the grab bag and let Lou Graham pluck it out for the second time in three years.

But Green, it is now clear, is made of sterner stuff than that.

Green was faced with the simple task Sunday of making a four-foot putt to win the biggest prize in golf and at the same time to outperform the rest of the field that were somewhere in the huge gallery there in the Tulsa Country Club.

Green was the only one to win his first major championship, an event that he had won in 1964.

But he rolled in the putt to win his first major championship, an event that he had won in 1964.

Hubie Green

They told him that a woman and Tom White, PEH office in Oklahoma City and told a clerk there that three men were planning to shoot him as he played the 15th hole.

Tatum asked Green if he wanted to stop play for a while. Green said he did not and immediately snapped his tee shot on the 15th into the trees. He scrambled for a par, made a birdie on the 16th to open a two-shot lead and survived a shaky series of shots on the final hole to win the title.

As Green walked away from the 14th green, where he had saved par to stay one shot in front of Frank's business (the threat) was no big deal," insisted Green. "There was no big problem and everything worked out. I hope no one makes a big

COLT INTERVIEW

Tom Boland's seventh-inning single keyed the winning rally as the Merchants edged past Crispino's, 3-2, in a battle of Manchester entries yesterday at Moriarty Field. Winning hitter Jeff Berman hit a one-hitter striking out nine. Bob Walker belted a five-hitter in defeat. Chris Vann had Crispino's only hit while Bob Stoker and Al Hutchinson each had two blows for the Merchants.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: DESPERATE wrote that his recently deceased wife had loved the song of the mockingbird that had sung in their yard each morning that she made a recording of it.

Perhaps we are neighbors. A mockingbird has been singing in my area, too. My husband who died last year, loved the song of that bird, but it neither pains nor depresses me to hear it.

DEAR ABBY: For DESPERATE who wishes to shoo away the mockingbird that perches on his wire: Buy a rubber snake to a toy department and twist it around the wire.

DEAR ABBY: In regard to the man who wanted to get rid of the mockingbird because it was bringing back sad memories of his deceased wife, I think I have the solution.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell DESPERATE if he had a similar experience, a pair of cardinals made their nest under our window.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 87700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It behooves you to be on the lookout for any occurrences. Keep them in perspective and you'll see that things actually happen for the best.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your ambition may best be served by something that happens later in the day, regardless of the time, contact people pertinent to your plans.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Someone who needs your attention today might try to grind you on your neck. Stand fast.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Something beneficial that you can do for the family may present itself today. It could come about through evening. Get on it promptly.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) The early part of the day may be a little rough for you, so take a pleasure break tonight. Dining out could recharge your batteries.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) In situations today where something is at stake, don't lose in the lowest early. Your position grows stronger with passage of time.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your insights and hunches today are worthy of serious consideration. You may be able to derive intuitively something you've overlooked logically.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) One whose friendship you've long sought is not easily won over. If you work on this person today, you can finally gain his confidence.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) In areas where you'd like to attract attention, you'll gain more by un-deploying what you do. Then, others will trumpet your accomplishments.

WIN AT BRIDGE Bidder becomes overachiever

There was a reasonable play for game. Oswald: "His first concern was with the trump suit. He wanted to lose just a chance trick and there was a chance he could work it out. He led a trump to dummy's queen. It held. He led back a trump. East played the jack and South ducked. This play is called the compulsory finesse. He didn't gain by covering. He did gain by ducking because West had to play the ace."

Jim: "After this nice ruff South was home. Hearts were continued. South ruffed the third heart, drew the last trump and went after diamonds. The suit failed to break, but South still had his contract."

Ask the Jacobys

Oswald: "Bridge players have lots of allegories. South's was that he was allergic to stopping one trick short of game. So he looked at his sixth spade and decided that he had to go to game after his partner went to game."

Jim: "Maybe that sixth trump was sufficient reason. In an area where you'd like to attract attention, you'll gain more by un-deploying what you do. Then, others will trumpet your accomplishments."
