GROTON (UPI)—More than 60 survivors of one of the worst disasters in American naval history were to be present at today's launching ceremonies for the high-speed nuclear attack submarine Indianapolis. The survivors were aboard the cruiser Indianapolis when it was torpedoed by a Japanese submarine exactly 32 years ago today.

NEW BRITAIN (UPI)—The Board of Trustees for State Colleges has elected a new chairman because Gov. Ella T. Grasso said she will not reappoint Bernice C. Niejadlik to the board. Mrs. Niejadlik, board chairman for the past 10 years, has been accused of keeping the board in the dark about criticisms of building plans at Western Connecticut State College in Danbury.

HARTFORD (UPI)—In a U.S. District Court lawsuit the state is charging 13 major paper companies with conspiring to fix prices in meetings around Canada and the U.S. since 1965. Attorney General Carl J. Ajello said Friday the state is seeking triple damages for the state and local governments of 46 other states that use commercial printing supplies produced by the companies.

MIDDLETOWN (UPI)—A 40-year-old forensic psychiatrist from Montreal has been chosen director of Connecticut's prison for the criminally insane. Dr. Colin C. Anglicker, now at McGill University in Montreal, will take over the White Forensic Institute in Middletown at a reported salary of $46,000.

BOSTON (UPI)—The state of Massachusetts has awarded a $120 million state employees health insurance contract to Blue Cross-Blue Shield which will provide reductions in premiums in most major categories of coverage. The Group Insurance Commission, composed of the heads of most of the state's major agencies, voted 8-0 Friday to accept the Blue Cross bid. It earlier voted against continuing the group coverage now supplied by the Aetna Life Insurance Co.

MILLINOCKETT, Maine (UPI)—The rain officials hoped would quell a fire Friday at the nation's largest state-owned park never came, but the National Weather Service predicted showers for today. The NWS said the rain would end tonight, and anticipated a one-quarter to three-quarter inch downpour in the Baxter State Park area, where flames have scorched 3,500 acres. A spokesman for the Forestry Bureau at the scene said the sky was overcast and "it looks like rain." The spokesman said the fire was contained and was considered stable, "but not under control."

National

WASHINGTON (UPI)—New experimental drugs have rekindled the sex drive in impotent men and created it in women "who never had an erotic feeling in their entire lives," scientists report. In the new issue of its weekly magazine, Chemical and Engineering News, the American Chemical Society says the drugs have relieved a wide variety of sexual disorders in clinical experimentation carried on in Italy, West Germany, the Netherlands and Sweden.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Cyrus Vance says his Middle East trip, beginning Sunday night, may not produce the common ground between Arabs and Israelis needed for a reconvening of the Geneva conference. Asked Friday at a news conference if his trip will draw together the loose ends in the way of a peace conference, Vance said, "I don't know. That remains to be seen."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The second-ranking House Republican says top Justice Department officials should stop hinting at a Ford administration cover-up of South Korean influence-buying or produce some evidence of one. With allegations of the widespread payoff scheme yet to be proven, GOP Whip Bob Michel of Illinois told reporters Friday that Carter administration was guilty of "cheap shots" against its predecessor by insinuating the investigation never really got going until Gerald Ford left the White House.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Republican leader Howard Baker says the week-long filibuster against public financing of Senate elections may not only kill the bill, but also defeat a White House power play against congressional Republicans.

International

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union is accusing President Carter of doing "nothing or very little" to improve U.S.-Soviet relations, and in some cases even reversing progress achieved by previous administrations. The hard-line commentary by political observer Yuri Kornilov, carried on an urgent basis by the official Tass news agency Friday, also warned that relations now are entering a "decisive" period.

Brush fire threatens suburb in California

CORONA, Calif. (UPI)—A force of 500 firefighters fought back a brush fire "at the doorstep" of suburban homes that were saved by an airdrop of water mixed with fire-retardant chemicals.

The fire, ignited Thursday by an illegal campfire, continued to burn out of control through Friday and into today over 3,000 acres of high brush in the canyons of the Cleveland National Forest, with erratic winds threatening to drive it into the city for a third time. Firefighters, many of them rushed in straight from the Santa Barbara disaster 160 miles to the north and going into their fifth day on the lines, got a break Friday night. Winds sank to 5 miles an hour, and the temperature, which hit 105 during the afternoon firestorm, dropped into the 60s.

"What we have now is a calm creeping fire" in the hills and canyons over the city, said U.S. Forest Service spokesman Tom Hooser. He said the blaze was fueled by tall brush "more like trees" that has not burned since the Forest Service began keeping records in 1919. Firelines contained only 20 per cent of the perimeter, leaving wide open stretches of flame that could blow back into city's outskirts if the wind shifted, duplicating the Santa Barbara blaze that destroyed 234 homes.

Such a thrust Thursday forced evacuation of 25 homes that eventually were saved, and another sent flames racing to within 100 yards or less of the Village Grove housing development at the mouth of Mabey Canyon Friday.

As patrol car loudspeakers blared orders to evacuate the area, many residents mounted their roofs with garden hoses, spraying blowing embers and battling to save their new $75,000 to $150,000 homes. Others piled keepsakes and valuables in their cars and prepared to flee.

Under a sky described as "a mass of reddish brown" from boiling clouds of smoke, firefighters hacked at the brush and called for reinforcements as 30 m.p.h. wind gusts hurled the fire toward the houses. "The firefighters halted that blaze at the doorsteps of the development," said U.S. Forest Service spokeswoman Debbie Gool. Firefighting helicopters swooped in on a "bombing run," hovered over the street and, aiming through the smoke, let loose 30,000 gallons of fire retardant. The dull red liquid splashed down on the flames—and on the houses, cars, residents and firemen.

"It was just a fluke that the air drop hit the houses. We don't like to get that stuff on houses, but it was a godsend," said a spokesman for the state Forestry Department. "It saved the houses."

When the wind shifted again, the houses on Mabey Canyon Road were a colorful sight—their fresh paint splattered black by smoke, scorched yellow by the heat and streaked with the red fire retardant. But they were still there.

PANAMA CITY, Panama, (UPI)—Panama has rejected the latest U.S. proposal for a new Canal treaty but says it will submit a counter-proposal that will bring the two nations closer to a final settlement.

Panama's chief treaty negotiator, Romulo Escobar, said Friday the new proposal being offered by his government will cut the payment Panama has demanded from the United States—a major stumbling block in the talks—from about $1.3 billion to about $600 million.

Escobar also gave reporters copies of a letter from President Carter to Panamanian leader Gen. Omar Torrijos, which said the payments and future land and water rights were the key issues remaining to be settled. Carter said none of the problems was insurmountable, but cautioned that the United States "has made a number of important concessions on the land and water issue, and any other important modifications would be an unacceptable block."

Carter gave the letter to Escobar earlier Friday when he met with Panamanian negotiators in the White House in what was seen as an attempt to expedite agreement on a new treaty.

The President told them they have made "good progress" and said he was "eager to conclude an agreement for the treaty itself."

Taxi firm seeking to serve Manchester

Dial-A-Ride of Connecticut, Inc., of 134 E. Center St., has filed an application with the State of Connecticut to provide taxi service in the towns of Manchester and South Windsor.

The application for the service has been submitted to the state's Public Utilities Control Authority (PUC).

A hearing for the Manchester firm's request has been set for Aug. 8 at 10 a.m. at the authority's office, 165 Capitol Ave., Hartford, a PUC spokesman said.

Dial-A-Ride is seeking licensing for three taxis to provide service in both Manchester and South Windsor. If the license is approved, it would permit the firm to provide service both within the towns and from the towns to any other area.

Manchester has been without an in-town taxi service since the East Hartford-Manchester Cab Co. closed.

Two killed in South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI)—Police killed two youths in the black ghetto of Soweto and unleashed attack dogs on hundreds of others as mounting student protests against inferior education erupted into violence.

Police, protecting themselves from a crowd of 200 rock-throwing youths outside a high school, opened fire, killing a young woman, and a black policeman killed a young man who allegedly was trying to rob a milk truck.

More than a dozen blacks were injured during the day's disturbances—six of them when they crashed in panic through windows while running from police and the dogs. Others suffered dog bites.

Opinion
Fair weather felons

The FBI reports the crime rate in the United States dropped by nine per cent in the first three months of this year, compared with the same period in 1976.
It was the biggest quarterly drop since the FBI began issuing reports 19 years ago.
Not coincidentally, it also was the coldest quarter in more than 19 years.

Noting that the sharpest drops in crimes occurred in January and in regions hardest hit by the winter, the bureau theorizes cold weather could have discouraged criminals from venturing out to burglarize, mug, steal, murder, etc.
Are we becoming a nation of softies?

Pipes across the border

It looks as though Canada and the United States are about to link pipes, as it were, in one of the most extensive construction projects ever undertaken.
The National Energy Board of Canada has approved an application by three Canadian companies and an American company to pipe natural gas from Prudhoe Bay in Alaska across three Canadian provinces to the American Midwest and West Coast.

was considered a long shot but now has strong backing in both Washington and Ottawa.
Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau is expected to endorse the Alcan route over a competing proposal to build the pipeline across the Arctic National Wildlife Range. And it now seems likely President Carter will recommend the Alcan route to Congress by Sept. 1.
The Alcan route is favored by most environmentalists for the very good reason that it follows existing roads or pipelines over much of its 2,800-mile journey from Prudhoe Bay to the U.S. border.

This should be good news to thousands of commercial and residential gas customers in the Great Lakes states, who've been shivering in their boots during cold-weather fuel shortages.
It makes more sense, certainly, to pipe the gas across Canada than to go through the expensive, wasteful and risky process of liquefying it and shipping it down the West Coast by tanker.

Thought

I love the thought of Christ's second coming. My heart is thrilled when I think that this may be the year of the Lord's return for His own. Over and over Christ said, "Watch." What He meant was, watch your Bible. Watch world developments. Watch what's happening to the elements and the drama of the end time and its unfolding.
The clouds are lifting and the dawn is breaking. Let us learn to hold lightly to the things of this world. If we are ready when Christ returns, then we shall all rise to meet Him in the air, but if we fail to be ready, we will be left behind. Let our minds be daily centered on Jesus — looking for His soon return.

He may come today. He may come tomorrow. Let us be filled with new possibilities. Tomorrow is another great opportunity to enjoy the blessings of God.
I arise every morning looking around the corners of life to try and discover what good thing God may have in store for me and to be glad. He made for me, and told me to be sure and rejoice in it and be glad.

Corporate theft is a booming growth industry

White collar crime is out of control

By Saul D. Astor
Do you know what will cost the American economy more than the entire defense budget authorized by the 94th Congress for 1977?
Crime.
Congress authorized $104.3 billion for defense. Crime, says the Joint Economic Committee, cost $123 billion, including $2.7 billion for criminal justice. And what's the largest single element of the $123 billion cost of crime? White collar crime, which costs $44 billion, twice the size of the entire cost of the criminal justice system.

Opinion

White collar crime is of such dimensions that we cannot conceivably stamp it out. The probability of its reduction does not truly exist. Gerald Caplan, the Director of the National Institute of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice, states that one of the conclusions of $100 million dollars worth of research into crime, is that government cannot eliminate or significantly reduce crime because the origins of crime lie largely outside of government authority.
More police useless
Another conclusion, says Caplan, is that a larger police force is useless because the courts and jails are unable to keep up with the present volume of arrests and in short, there is little point of increasing arrests.

Still, a third conclusion is that anti-crime technology is not the answer. Government investment in hardware has not borne fruit, says Caplan. Crime does not seem to be the kind of problem that is amenable to solution by the expenditure of money. There is no imminent solution — and that is because a crime is property or money is a financially rewarding activity. To many, it is even an exciting activity. To others, it is a necessary activity.
We have seen local thugs hired as "security" personnel by frightened retailers who hope such blackmail payments will permit survival.
We have seen organized crime plant one of their men as a receiving clerk on the dock of a department store, and arrange during Christmas, to make off with a truckload of goods.
We have seen employe conspiracies involving as many as 30 employes in one store, all of whom engaged collusively in dishonest refunds, fraudulent voids, unauthorized discounts and outright theft — and all of whom belonged to a club — a theft club, the initiation rites of which were theft.
Way of life
Meanwhile, back at the old U.S. of

Neither side has had the wit to so conclude

WASHINGTON — "Nothing in this bill will cause the emotionalism of other proposals," said Labor Secretary Ray Marshall in unveiling President Carter's proposal to bolster Big Labor's organizing efforts.
"This is not an anti-union bill, it is a pro-worker proposal," said Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, as he introduced a bill he said would eliminate compulsory union representation.

Andrew Tully

Both should go seek their heads. The right-to-work people in Congress will not accept Carter's bill, and the lobbyists for Big Labor will scoff at Hatch's.
Battle over unionism
Man and boy, I have watched both sides in the battle over unionism, and I still don't understand why neither can accept the fact of life that some things are impossible. Labor unions are here to stay, and so are those who believe in the right of a worker not to join a union to get and keep a job.
Yet, Carter's young men have come up with a program to strengthen union organizing efforts by eliminating company efforts to delay unions' seeking recognition before the National Labor Relations Board. They would for the first time allow the government to bar a firm from obtaining government contracts for three years if the company is found guilty of violating the labor laws.
New powers
Moreover, the proposed legislation would also allow the NLRB to pay employees wages that were lost during periods of delay in negotiating an initial contract after union recognition was granted. The board could also order double back pay to employes illegally discharged before the initial contract.

Hartford mourns policeman's death

HARTFORD (UPI) — Hartford Police today are mourning the death of a fellow officer who accidentally shot himself while running for cover from a man who had fired a shotgun.
Police said John F. Daley, 29, tripped on a curb as he ran to his car where other policemen were huddled.
A bullet from his own revolver entered his right side and exited on his left, police said.
Daley, a seven-year veteran of the force, was rushed to St. Sinal in a police cruiser, but died after emergency surgery.
Hartford Police Chief Hugo Masini was at the hospital with Daley's wife, Donna, when the officer died. His parents were on their way to the hospital from Massachusetts.
When police arrived at the scene, they saw a man, later identified as Robert Donahue, 45, of Hartford, enter a house with the shotgun in his hand, the spokesman said.
Daley was standing beside the house when Donahue appeared at the doorway and made a threatening gesture with the shotgun, police said.
At that point Daley ran across the street.

Work to start on new prison

CHESHIRE (UPI) — Construction of a $17 million Connecticut prison for youthful offenders is scheduled to begin next week — about 10 years after plans for reorganizing the state's prison system were announced.
John R. Matson, Corrections Department commissioner, says the new facility, to be located near the existing prison in Cheshire, will be one of three sections in a proposed complex designed to ease overcrowding and cut operating costs in the state's prisons.
Plans for the buildings are being redrawn to conform to energy conservation building in code requirements.
The state will probably advertise for bids for the other two sections in late fall and construction should begin in the winter or spring, depending on the weather, according to Harlan Judd, of the state Public Works Department.
Eventually, the complex will have separate fenced sections for young men, women and adult men serving up to one-year sentences.
A 1966 study of the state's prison system determined the present Cheshire facility "is not desirable for any purpose," Matson said.

Never quite the same

Things are never quite what they seem, are they? Henry Kissinger, I am told, enormously enhanced his image as peacemaker when he recently became a consultant to the Washington Zoo. In one case, he had a lion lying down with a lamb. Zoo visitors have been marveling at this miraculous exhibition, but the zoo keeper told me that the exhibition still has, as he put it, one "small imperfection."
He has to change the lamb every day.
Well, our anti-crime programs have one "small imperfection." The program leaders sometimes resemble the crooks. It gets harder and harder to distinguish the cops from the robbers. The good guys steal as much as the bad guys. And today, the

Envoy to Vatican prompts protest

By DAVID E. ANDERSON
Religious Writer
President Carter has named David M. Walters, an active Roman Catholic lawyer from Miami, Fla., as his "personal representative" to the Vatican.
Not so sooner was the ink dry on the press release announcing the appointment than the strict church-state separations began criticizing the appointment.
In addition, Congress appears to be on the verge of passing legislation that would allow the government to appoint a full-fledged ambassador to the Holy See.
Walters, is a Master Knight of the Order of Malta in the Knights of Columbus and a member of Serra International. He has practiced law in Miami since 1950 and before that was with the Department of Justice.
Carter's Southern Baptist co-religionists, however, were very unhappy with the appointment.
The Rev. Jimmy Allen, elected only weeks before as the new president of the 12 million member Southern Baptist Convention sent Carter a telegram expressing distress at the appointment.
James E. Wood, executive director of the Baptist Joint Commission on Public Affairs blasted the appointment as "ecclesiastical" and reiterated the historic Baptist position against "special recognition of a religious body by the government."

Area briefs

Zoning amendments take effect Aug. 25
The Planning and Zoning Commission has set Aug. 25 as the effective date for changes and amendments to the zoning regulations, map, town plan and land use plan map, under consideration since early spring.
The changes established written descriptions of the zoning districts that became effective last Dec. 1. Also included is the deletion of the neighborhood business district which was located on the northeast corner of the intersection of Rts. 94 and 65 in Gilead, and the addition of a general business zone located on the Stula, Hills and Coates property east of Blackman Rd. on Rt. 66 west of Hebron center.
The town plan and the maps have been revised to reflect these changes.
The commission will have copies of the amended maps made and the amendments to the zoning regulations will be incorporated in a supplement to the regulations and reproduced for sale.
Atty. Bruce Kalom and Engineer Harry Megson presented a plan of development for Nicus Takouades who is attempting to gain approval of a business development on the Glady's T. Miner property south of Rt. 66. Takouades plans to construct a 60-by-80-foot building to house Lebron Pizza House and an unidentified retail establishment.
Several questions were raised concerning the parking and traffic flow on the property, the location of the building, the location of the existing septic system for Mrs. Miner's house which she will continue to occupy, and the adequacy of the existing well.
A final plan for the proposed business development will be brought to the first meeting in September when the commission expects to set the date for a public hearing on the proposal.
The first meeting in September will be held on the first Wednesday rather than the second Tuesday because of religious holidays in the second week.
It will be a special meeting and therefore will have a limited agenda.
Persons having items they wish included on the special agenda should contact Commission Chairman John Hubbard prior to Sept. 1 or send a written notice to the Planning and Zoning Commission at the Town Office Building by that date.

Chicago fans just wild about White Sox

NEW YORK (UPI) — The White Sox called it "just another game" Friday night before their encounter with the Kansas City Royals.

Chicago started the winning rally by loading the bases in their half of the seventh and got a break when Fred Patek misplayed. Eric Soderholm's grounder, allowing Oscar Gamble to score, Brian Downing's sacrifice fly tied the score and after Ralph Garr beat out a bunt to load the bases Bannister singled to right for the winner.

Kite after repeat victory in Philadelphia classic

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Tom Kite is going for his second PGA tournament in the only PGA tournament he's ever won and he's going through high fairways and rough and trees to do it.

138. Diehl fired a 65 Thursday but shot a 73 Friday. The 26-year-old Kite, who defeated Diehl in a five-hole playoff here last year, was philosophical as he scrambled, up-and-down record.

PGA "Everybody has rounds like this," he said. "It may sound funny, but this is the type of round you have when you're playing well. It turned what looked like an over-par round into a decent round and almost a real good one."

PGA Kite's round featured a drive on the seventh hole that crept halfway up a pine tree, three approach shots that flew over greens and some unusually bad lies in fairways that are being kept higher than normal because of recent hot weather.

"It was not a very classical round, needless to say," he said "Just eight pars — what a day!"

Close leaves MIT for Tufts position

Former Manchester High track and cross country standout and a member of the 1960 United States Olympic squad, Pete Close has moved from Massachusetts Institute of Technology as track coach to head coach of men's track and cross country at Tufts University.

Close served as head cross country coach at MIT the past five years where he also doubled as director of sports information and assisted in track during the same period.

The Manchester man carved out an enviable record at both Manchester High and St. John's University in Brooklyn where he was selected to the All-America Cross Country teams in 1958 and 1959, the All-America Cross Country squad in 1959 and the Metropolitan New York Track Athlete of the Year in '59.

Close won the 10K mile championship in 1958 and 1959 and competed in the 1,500 meter run in the '60 Olympic Games in Italy.

Close is now residing in Newton, Mass., and will begin his new duties in September.

Three charged, two hurt in disturbances at bars

A bottle-throwing incident early this morning at a Spruce St. bar and a second disturbance at an Oak St. night spot resulted in the arrest of three persons and injuries to two others, Manchester Police reported.

The first incident occurred shortly before 1:30 a.m. at the Golden Spigot, 119 Spruce St., police said. Two men began wrestling in the bar and were asked to leave.

They left, but returned a short time later and began throwing rocks and bottles, police said.

Two persons at the bar were cut by flying debris and taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital.

Delbert Hersh, 27, of 91 Birch St., was treated for a cut above his right eye and released, a hospital spokesperson said. Frederick Perry, 34, of 476 1/2 E. Middle Tpk., was taken to the hospital, but did not want to be treated for a cut finger.

Shortly after 2 a.m., police received a call concerning a disturbance at the Gas Light Restaurant, 30 Oak St. Police were told that two suspects from the earlier disturbance were involved in the second incident on Oak St.

When they arrived, police charged Thomas Ferrer, 21, of 136 Bissell St., and Jeffrey Fazzina, 21, of East Hartford, in connection with the Golden Spigot incident.

Ferrer was charged with first-degree assault, reckless endangerment and two counts of breach of peace.

Fazzina was charged with first-degree assault, reckless endangerment, third-degree criminal mischief, breach of peace, and resisting arrest.

Both are being held on $5,000 bond, Manchester Police said.

When Fazzina was arrested, his brother, Ronald S. Quinn, 29, of East Hartford, became disruptive, according to police. He was charged with interfering with a police officer and breach of peace. He is being held on $1,000 bond, police said.

Taxes due by Monday

East Hartford's mayor warned late taxpayers Friday they have until Monday night to pay and avoid penalties.

Richard Blackstone said taxes on the Grand List of Oct. 1, 1976 are now due and payable by Monday for the first installments. The taxes cover real estate, autos, and personal property.

After Monday, they must pay a minimum interest of $2 or 1 percent per month or fraction of a month.

The office of the tax collector, Raymond S. Slanda, will be open Monday until 7:30 p.m. for people who must work during the day.

Character you love to hate

NEW YORK (UPI) — Martin Mull wrote a comedy album called "I'm Everyone I Ever Loved," which just about sums up the character he now plays in "Fernwood 2-Night."

Mull, who had cut records and worked the night club circuit for seven years, suddenly became a familiar television face in millions of homes when he played the late wife-beater Garth Gimble on the late "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman" show.

Norman Lear, who followed up his "MH, MH" soap opera spoof with this summer's "Fernwood 2-Night" take-off on talk shows, decided to bring Mull back as Garth's identical twin brother, Barth Gimble, and make him host of the show, using the same kind of tacky furniture on stage that Mull used in his night club act.

The show is set to run through October, a matter of 65 chapters, which is equal to five years of an ordinary half-hour situation comedy that gets time off for reruns, summer replacements and pre-emptions.

"Barth Gimble is a character who almost totally lacks reflection, sensitivity, inner thought," Mull said, summing up the vastly egocentric character he plays. "He's also very avaricious. But he has that same redeeming quality that almost everyone has — given his limited supply of sensitivity and talent, his goal is to better his life without really meaning to hurt anybody."

Ask Kleiner
By Dick Kleiner

DEAR DICK: Could you please tell me if there is any truth to the rumor I read about the Captain and Tennille, that love hasn't kept them together and they have gone their separate ways in their personal lives. I saw them here less than a month ago and everything seemed very lovey-dovey. C.M. WEAVER, Tucson, Ariz.

It's still lovey-dovey. In fact, Toni says they are closer than ever. They're now off on a 92-city tour, and you have to be more than just friends to do that. Toni says she's heard the rumors, they disturb her, and she asked me to tell everybody that it isn't true. OK, you've been told.

DEAR DICK: What became of Groucho Marx' daughter? She used to be on his show some times when she was a young girl. MARIE BASCOM, Stockton, Calif.

Groucho has two daughters, Melinda and Miriam. It was Melinda who used to be on his show when she was a tot. But she quit show business entirely when she grew up, and now is a practicing housewife and mother, living in Malibu, Calif.

DEAR DICK: The Marx Brothers are my favorites and I've seen their movies over and over. I read where Gummo died and the article said he never appeared with his brothers in the movies. Is this true? I feel as if he was in some of the movies with his brothers. MRS. R.M. STAGGS, Baldwin Park, Calif.

No, Gummo was out. He'd worked with Groucho, Harpo and Chico on the stage for a while, but quit the act years before they came to films. Zeppo was in a few movies, and perhaps you're thinking of him.

DEAR DICK: I heard Peter Marshall has artificial legs. Is this true? R.F., Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

No.

DEAR DICK: Could you please tell me what kind of car Kris Kristofferson drove in the movie, "A Star Is Born." L.L., Billings, Mont.

It was a Ferrari.

DEAR DICK: I have asked everyone I know and even consulted the local library. No one can remember. Could you possibly tell me the name of Dudley Doornight's horse, if it had a name? You remember, the cartoon character. DIANA MOODY, Warsaw, Ind.

Maybe the reason nobody remembers is because it is such an unusual name. Dudley called his horse "Horse."

DEAR DICK: I was watching American Bandstand the other day when I saw the Keen Brothers. All I know about them is that one is 12, the other 13, one plays drums, the other piano. Can you tell me anything more about them? J.S., Galesburg, Mich.

A few things. First, they spell their name Keane. Second, they are 11 and 12. John is 11 and he's the drummer, but also plays guitar, trumpet and vibes. Tom is 12, the pianist, also a singer, guitarist, drummer and vibist. He wrote "Amy," the song about President Carter's daughter. And you'll be seeing more of them — they'll have their own show in August, for four weeks, on CBS.

DEAR DICK: Will you please tell me if Alistair Cooke is living in the U.S., and if he is married. He turns me on. He is a superb narrator. T.D., Columbus, Ohio

Yes, Cooke is here and has been for many years. He first came to America as a newspaper correspondent, and stayed, and he is married. But keep getting turned on; it's good for the soul.

DEAR DICK: What is the name of the TV program of the '60s that starred Ann Sothern? The program featured a white-haired boss and his secretary. SALLY SHALHOUB, Appleton, Wis.

That was Private Secretary, and Don Porter played the boss.

DEAR DICK: I would like to know something about Ken Berry. Is he any relation to Fred Astaire and did he learn his dancing from Astaire? I'm assuming there could be a relationship because of his build and his style of dancing. DORIS M. WOODRING, Corawell Heights, Pa.

No relationship, not by blood. But they are artistic kin. Berry grew up worshipping Astaire, seeing all his films, imitating him at home. He's patterned his dancing style after Astaire's and his proudest possession is an actor's chair, with Astaire's name on it, that his wife found and gave him one birthday.

DEAR DICK: Who played Maxwell Smart on Get Smart? My wife and I have a bet on it. JOHN CAMPBELL, Tucson, Ariz.

It was Don Adams. And I bet you lost.

Stamps honor painters

By RUSS MacKENDRICK

The Republic of Maldives has gone in for couth with a set of stamps to commemorate the birth dates of Gainsborough, Rubens, and Titian. It happens that this year makes a good round figure for each of them.

Thomas Gainsborough was born in England in the spring of 1727. By the age of 14 he had sketched every fine tree and picturesque cottage near his home and persuaded his father to let him study in London. He later became popular at Court and painted George III eight times. In 1768 he was elected to be one of the original 36 members of the Royal Academy. Perhaps his picture most familiar to us is the "Blue Boy," now in the Huntington Museum in California.

Peter Paul Rubens would be having his 400th birthday this year. He was a Flemish painter and diplomat. In the course of negotiating for a truce between England and Spain he spent nine months in Madrid, meeting Velazquez and studying the works of Titian.

He later went to England and was knighted for his diplomatic successes.

He had so many orders for paintings that he set up an assembly line of artists, a kind of factory where he did only the sketches, principal figures, and finishing strokes.

Russia is also honoring Rubens with 5 stamps and a miniature sheet.

Tiziano Vicellio (the stamp here has his name on backwards) was called Titian. His life span was 1477 to 1576. That is not a typo — he began painting when he was ten years old and was still busy at it when the plague carried him off at the age of 99. He was among the greatest color artists of all time. "No other painter excels in so many lines and none gives the impression of so dominant and triumphant a personality" (From E.R. Abbot's "The Great Painters").

The stamp issue features a souvenir sheet with a self-portrait of Titian.

The Maldives Islands are down and to the left of the southern tip of India. The country is composed of 18 atolls with some 2,- 000 islands. The population is about 120,000; the main industry is fishing. They have been a member of the UN since 1965.

They have had many attractive stamps — approaching 700. The only expensive ones are the first half dozen in 1906. These were stamps of Ceylon overprinted Maldives.

This new set is in eight values, 1 laree to 10 rupees, plus the souvenir sheet (5R). A laree (pl. larin) is a hundredth of a rupee. The present equivalent in U.S. money has not been revealed to me.

Beginner's text

"Linn's Stamp News" for July 25 would do for a beginner's textbook on precancels. The occasion for such an issue is the upcoming 56th Convention of the Precancel Stamp Society at Wichita, Kan., Aug. 10-13. They will have a special cachet with covered wagon ("Kansas or Bust") and sunflowers. The covers are 40 cents each or all four convention days for $1.25. Include a No. 10 SASE and send to PSS Convention, Box 1335, Wichita, Kan. 67201.

The first book to get when going into this field would be the PSS "Town and Type Catalog of U.S. and Territories," published in 1976. One thing about precancels is that you don't have to get a catalog every year — some of the catalogs of the 1940's are still good.

For the above one write PSS, 12045 Hickory Hills Court, Oakton, VA 22124 ($15.) It is looseleaf and you will have to scare up a binder.

Maritime provinces, home of sport fishing

Canada's Maritime provinces, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick — "the friendly three by the sea" — are home to some of the best, most varied sport fishing on the North American continent.

From the fighting Atlantic salmon in New Brunswick rivers to the giant bluefin tuna in the seas off Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia, there's a wide range of species waiting for action.

Nova Scotia, like a great double fist, hits out into the Atlantic where salt-water fishing areas abound, and inland fresh water fishing spots can be found by the hundreds.

Nova Scotia's 3,000 lakes, 100 rivers, and brooks without number also are rich in small mouth bass.

Those who prefer the really big fish, rent a boat and head out to sea. The salt water lying off the shores of Nova Scotia is famous for its tuna — so famous that in mid-August the International Tuna Cup Match is held off Wedgeport.

The scrappy pollock is also a worthwhile salt water antagonist and likely to weigh between five and 35 pounds.

Prince Edward Island

A half-hour's ferry boat ride off the coast of Nova Scotia is Prince Edward Island, Canada's "Garden Province." The tiny island province is noted for its lush green landscape and dark red soil, delicious sea foods fresh from the ocean, and flaky white potatoes.

Prince Edward Island is also the home of a contender for the "world record" title. A 1,040-pound monster was caught off the Island community of North Lake in September of 1970.

The devotion of Islanders to lobsters is demonstrated at the Summerside Lobster Carnival and Livestock Exhibition in mid-July. The carnival provides a full week of exhibitions and entertainment designed to furnish a picture of the diversified life of the island, its people and their activities. By four in the afternoon, people are lining up for the delicious lobster suppers.

The island is ringed by beaches of dazzling pink and white sand, sloping gently to the sea, stretching for more than a thousand miles around the shoreline.

This is the warmest salt water bathing north of Florida, and average temperatures in the summer months is usually 70 degrees.

Golf within sight of the sea is another popular sport in Prince Edward Island.

New Brunswick

Another ferry service connecting Prince Edward Island with the mainland crosses over to the third Maritime Province, New Brunswick.

Here, too, visitors enjoy the famous Atlantic cuisine . . . lobster, salmon, oysters . . . delicious berries of every kind, with thick country cream and fresh vegetables grown in rich New Brunswick soil.

But this province claims a special vegetable all its own, the "fiddlehead."

This early season green with the unusually delicate flavor is a type of fern picked before it reaches full growth. The vegetable is at its peak of perfection when it has attained a curled up form resembling the scroll of a fiddle — hence the name fiddlehead. It can be served raw in salad, or cooked as a vegetable.

Another New Brunswick delicacy is dulse, a special type of seaweed rich in iodine, which is now being nurtured as a commercial enterprise.

No trip to New Brunswick is complete without a visit to Fundy National Park — 80 square miles of spectacular vacationland. Along the park's eight-mile shoreline are sheltered coves and towering cliffs buffeted by the giant Fundy tides.

For the true sportsman, New Brunswick offers a wide variety of game fishing and hunting. The province has more inland waters for its size than any other area on the continent. Here sportsmen can do battle with the king of game fish — the Atlantic salmon. Speckled or brook trout, bass, togue, perch and shad can be found in such well-stocked rivers as the Miramichi, Restigouche or the Cains.

Blue Rocks, Nova Scotia, is awash with the type of atmosphere that appeals specially to painters and photographers. Situated on a promontory that juts out into the Atlantic Ocean on the south coast, Blue Rocks can be reached by a paved highway from Lunenburg. (Canadian Government Travel Bureau photo)
