

PUCA to look hard at rate hike request

HARTFORD (UPI) — The chairman of the regulatory board that has made things tough for Northeast Utilities recently says the firm's request for the largest rate hike in Connecticut history will be carefully scrutinized.

Albert J. Kieban, chairman of the Public Utilities Control Authority Tuesday opened hearings on the $90 million rate increase request. If approved, it will cost the typical residential customer an additional $3.50 per month.

Consumer groups opposing the increase picketed the State Office Building where the hearing was held, shouting slogans and singing songs, and then jammed the hearing room.

Northeast reiterated its contention that failure to get the requested increase for its electric and natural gas customers would subject the firm to financial ruin and consumers to possible service curbs.

Northeast, Connecticut's largest utility, serves 850,000 customers and 75 per cent of the state. It covers almost all of Connecticut except the Bridgeport-New Haven area, which gets its power from United Illuminating.

Prosecution takes rare steps in Avcollie verdict dispute

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — The prosecution has taken two rare legal steps to try to get the Connecticut Supreme Court to review the acquittal of former legislative leader Bernard L. Avcollie, accused of strangling his wife.

In the first tactic, the state has served Avcollie with a "writ of error." It requires him or his lawyer to file a written explanation of what led Superior Court Judge Simon S. Cohen to forgo the prosecution from presenting several pieces of evidence during the trial.

In the trial, the state maintained Avcollie, a 45-year-old Naugatuck attorney, strangled his wife, Wanda, on Oct. 30, 1975 so he could move in with a lover. On July 20, after six weeks of testimony, a jury found the ex-state representative guilty.

But moments later Cohen rejected the verdict, saying the evidence did not justify conviction.

The state immediately asked Cohen to allow an appeal. Initially, he refused, but later said he is reconsidering his decision.

Prosecutor Francis McDonald filed the writ of error Monday in New Haven.

CSEA allegations are denied

HARTFORD (UPI) — State Tax Commissioner Gerald J. Heffernan disputes the claim of the Connecticut State Employees Association that a team of efficiency experts is "creating chaos" in the Tax Department.

Heffernan said he would be better off if the team were to disappear. He said he has no objection to the team's work, but he said he would be better off if the team were to disappear.

Registration under way for new MHS students

New students who will be attending Manchester High School next year should report to the high school administration office for registration and to the guidance office for programming of courses any week day between 8:30 and 11 a.m. and 1 and 2:30 p.m.

Students must present a year-end report card or have a transcript forwarded to Manchester High School before programming. A transcript is required for students entering Grade 12.

Students entering Grades 11 and 12 will be tested on Tuesday, Sept. 6, at a time to be announced.

Students entering Grade 10 will be assigned, by mail, to one of the orientation and testing sessions on Aug. 31 and Sept. 1.

Q — I am 55 years of age and have been awarded Social Security benefits because of a recent severe disability. I still have my World War II NSLI and have been told that I may not have to pay any more premiums.

A — You may be eligible for waiver of premiums if you have not been able to work for a minimum of six months. Contact the nearest VA office for assistance.

Q — I have a 50 per cent service-connected disability. Am I eligible for treatment for any nonservice-connected condition?

A — Congress passed a law in October 1976 that provides for medical services for any condition for a veteran who has a service-connected condition rated 50 per cent or more. Previously, this benefit was available only to veterans whose service-connected disabilities were rated at 80 per cent or more.

Q — I was discharged in 1953. Am I eligible for educational assistance under the current GI Bill?

A — No. To qualify under the present law you must have had service after Jan. 31, 1955.

Q — Who is eligible for VA hospitalization?

A — A veteran with one day of active duty who was separated under conditions other than dishonorable is entitled to VA care.

Tall Cedars will conduct their 13th annual Memorial Service on Sunday, Aug. 21, at Cathedral-of-the-Pines in Ridge, N.H.

Dean Cronkite of East Hartford, a past Grand Tall Cedar of Nutmeg Forest in Manchester, originated this service and has been its chairman ever since. He will deliver the welcome address.

Mrs. Shirley F. Cronkite, his wife, will again be the organist and soloist, and other music will be provided by Michael J. Carelli of East Hartford, a concert violinist.

The guest speaker will be the Rev. James R. Bennett III of Wilmington, Del.

Frank Gworek of Manchester, the district deputy supreme Tall Cedar, will introduce Supreme Tall Cedar officers.

Roy B. Rhoads, Supreme Tall Cedar of North America, will give the Memorial Tributes.

After the service, Tall Cedars and their families will have a picnic at Annett State Park.

Cronkite said he has seen the service grow from 350 people 13 years ago to more than 1,000. The Supreme Forest has originated this New England Tall Cedars weekend as a major event. This year, busloads of Tall Cedars from Pennsylvania and New Jersey will visit, Cronkite said.

One way to protect property values in a residential neighborhood is to have deed restrictions on the use of the premises. But whatever the language says, there may still be room for argument.

Consider a typical restriction: That no "structure" will be allowed except for the dwelling and the garage. What does that mean?

It means, said one irate homeowner in court, that his neighbor's dog house would have to go.

The neighbor protested that a mere dog house was too insignificant to be classified as a "structure." But according to the evidence, it measured five feet by five feet by seven feet and was built of concrete blocks.

The court said anything that solid and that permanent must indeed be classified as a structure — forbidden by the deed restriction.

In another case the argument centered on a new swimming pool. Here, the pool was equipped with a plastic bubble top and was surrounded by a high, continuous wooden fence.

Evaluating these items as a whole, the court decided this too was a structure, hence could not be tolerated under terms of the deed.

But a man who put in a tennis court with a chain link fence had better luck. When neighbors filed an objection, the judge decided that whether or not the tennis court and fence were a structure, at least they were not the kind frowned on by the deed restriction.

The purpose of the restriction, reasoned the judge, was to keep the view clear and the area uncluttered. Since neither the flat court nor the open fence was in conflict with that purpose, he said, the neighbors had no grounds for complaint.

The judge added that in case of doubt, the law prefers to let a home owner do as he pleases on his own property.

Institutionalizing inflation

The most astonishing thing about inflation today is not that it is high or low, galloping or creeping. It is that we seem to have come to accept inflation as a permanent and inevitable fact of life, and more and more are adjusting our lifestyles and workstyles to accommodate it. Much of the current boom in new housing is attributed to young couples who are mortgaging themselves to the hilt in the thought that housing will never be "cheaper" but dollars will be. The contracts of most major unions have long had automatic cost-of-living escalator clauses. Social Security recipients now enjoy the same "inflation insurance." So does Congress — although its members are valiantly foregoing a scheduled cost-of-living supplement this year in favor of making do with a $12-900 increase in their basic salaries. Now, if Congress passes an administration-proposed and labor-backed bill, the minimum wage will be "indexed" to the cost of living by being permanently pegged as a certain percentage of the average wage in manufacturing. With each such step this country is institutionalizing inflation and weaving it more deeply into the social fabric. With each such encouragement to the self-feeding aspects of inflation, Americans are forfeiting a little more control over their individual and collective destinies.

Insufficient postage

The 16,000 members of the National League of Postmasters are suing their boss, the U.S. Postal Service, to prevent the agency from making their salaries public. The Postal Service has been releasing statewide lists of postmasters and their salaries to various newspapers, and this, the league contends, is a violation of the Privacy Act of 1974. What the postmasters are really upset about, of course, is that people are discovering that their friendly local postmaster is very often a handsomely remunerated gentleman. In small towns, especially, salaries on the order of $17,000 put the postmaster right up there with the president of the bank. As the old saying goes, he who pays the piper calls the tune. In this case it is the American taxpayer and mail user who has every right to know what his public servants are earning. The League of Postmasters' suit should be sent to the dead letter office.

Thought

"A still more excellent way" — "If I give away all I have, and if I deliver my body to be burned, but have not love, I gain nothing." — "Once again the Apostle Paul is probing deeply into what motivates everything we have. Suppose we do inflict some self-inflicting injury upon ourselves. Why? Pure pride? To get attention? If that's the case, our motives are showing. We become transparent. Nothing is gained. We're on an ego trip. However, if what we do is done with Love, like God's Love for us, then we gain a superb appreciation for what God's Love is like. "With us," someone wrote, "the more you give away, the more you have." Submitted by Newell Curtis, Center Congregational Church

Almanac

By United Press International Today is Wednesday, Aug. 3, the 215th day of 1977 with 150 to follow. The moon is moving from its full phase to the last quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury and Saturn. Those born on this date are under the sign of Leo. Famed World War II correspondent Ernie Pyle and actress Dolores del Rio were born on Aug. 3 — he in 1900 and she in 1905. On this day in history: In 1492, Christopher Columbus set sail from Spain for the "New World" with a convoy of three small ships — the Santa Maria, the Nina and the Pinta — and fewer than 100 men. In 1914, Germany declared war on France. The following day Britain declared war on Germany and World War I was under way. In 1938, the American nuclear submarine "Nautilus" completed the first voyage under the North Pole. In 1975, a chartered airliner carrying workers from France crashed in a thick fog in southern Morocco, killing all 188 persons aboard. A thought for the day: Ernie Pyle was one of America's best-read correspondents during World War II. A battlefield example of his style: "If you go long enough without a bath even the fleas will let you alone."

An owlsh editor's notebook

By FLOYD LARSON

They got the oil flowing through the trans-Alaska pipeline just in the nick of time. Another week or so of delay would have had widespread ramifications. The bay at Valdez would have been plugged with tankers and at the other end, they would have to stop taking crude oil out of the ground. But the millions of dollars delay was costing the oil industry was only peanuts. For example, it is rumored that the almanac publishers who are now closing the books on their 1978 editions, would have had to stop the presses until they found out if the 800-mile-long pipeline was to be entered as the world's longest pipeline or the world's longest oil barrel.

President Carter's support for a bill requiring that 9.5 per cent of all imported oil be carried on U.S. tankers with American crews is creating quite a stir because the de-sion runs contrary to recommendations of the Pentagon, the Commerce and Treasury Departments, and Carter's trade negotiator, Robert Strauss. Of course, the more than $100,000 in campaign contributions from the maritime interests had nothing to do with. We all know public financing of presidential campaigns has eliminated the corrupting influences of big campaign contributions from business, unions, and "fat cats." Anyway, we were told it would and as this week started off, the Senate was trying to stop a filibuster against a bill to federally finance senate elections. Who says you can't have your cake and eat it too?

Uncle Julius still thinks public financing of political campaigns is discriminatory since it does not bar contributions over $5 which he feels is about what the average man can afford to give — and more important, the probable limit in view of the general low repute of major political parties. Instead of a checkoff on your income tax for either or neither, the federal government ought to send each taxpayer $5 to spend on either party, a favored candidate, or at Ye Olde Bar and Grille's nightly political forums. He'll bet the latter will be hands down choice of the great unwashed and understanding of American political issues will increase immeasurably more than it does from the public money now going into billboards and boob tube debates.

Recently The Herald published a list of delinquent property taxpayers. The list is a matter of public record and the public has a right to know. However, this apparently does not apply to lawyers — who write most of the laws. It was reported over the weekend that more than 100 lawyers in the state have not paid their occupational tax. However, the law prevents their names being published. While the law is being challenged on the basis it is an unconstitutional tax, no one apparently seems to care that tax delinquent lawyers are protected from publicity about their penuriousness while the property taxpayer is not. One of the fascinating additions to Fenway Park is the big scoreboard. Before the game starts, the words of good old-time songs like, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," are flashed and the crowd is invited to participate. The only thing missing was the bouncing ball to help set the beat. But then it was the bouncing ball that was giving the Red Sox some trouble with other teams earlier last week before the Beantowners settled down behind some good farm club pitching.

Cousin Juniper has a dilemma. He doesn't know whether to show up at the company picnic in his Star Wars or Pabst Blue Ribbon T-shirt. His missus says she's more worried about what shape he will show up at home after the picnic. Congress is being asked to deal with the illegal alien situation. It seems that we can't keep 'em out, and we don't know how many there are here already, but the fact is that we know we can't deport all of them even if we could catch them. So the President has come up with a scheme to make citizens out of those who came here before 1970, and make those who have come in since, non-deportable with five-year work permits. To cut down on future illegal migrations, mostly from Mexico, Carter would impose $1,000 civil fines on employers for each illegal alien hired. The problem is how to categorize the legal illegal aliens from the illegal aliens with a work card which civil liberty groups object to.

We hope there is quick solution because if the minimum wage goes up to $2.65 an hour there will be increase in the stampede from south of the border. This week's corrupt special: One little boy to another. "I didn't spoil my record at summer camp. I underachieved there too."

Carter's young men counted wrong

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — To me, an appreciation of President Carter's style is mandatory. He has reduced much of the Presidency's imperialism, and he comes off mostly low key in his public utterances and his approach to domestic problems. But Carter's trouble is that, on too many issues, he can't count politicians. Time after time, notably in his uncharacteristically grandiose presentation of his energy plan, he has ignored the truism that a President must organize a constituency in Congress before he sends a program up to Capitol Hill. Plan is dead. Now Carter has been forced to abandon his proposal for instant Election Day registration. Nobody at the White House puts it that way; action, it is said, has merely been postponed until fall. But the plan is dead, for this year at least. It is dead because Carter and his young men counted wrong. In the face of little enthusiasm on The Hill, they persisted in believing that the votes would be there at showdown time. As one Carter aide said, "We thought we could sweet-talk those Democrats in the House who opposed the bill to change their minds at the last minute." Few last-minute changes. But you don't change many votes at the last minute. Carter needed 44 votes to obtain a majority in favor. Even Sts. Peter and Paul would have asked for a couple of months to work that miracle of mind-changing. Carter's people didn't get around to it until a week before the bill was to go to the House floor. So they did something dumb — a something that revealed Carter's weakness. They made the ultimate concession of giving states the option of adopting Election Day registration in 1978. Waited for surrender. "That tore it," said Rep. John Rhodes of Arizona, the House's GOP leader. "All we had to do then was wait for Tip O'Neill to surrender his sword." A few days later, Speaker O'Neill announced that the bill would be postponed "in view of the fact the schedule is so heavy." Rhodes spoke to the logic of the situation. "Why bother to vote to make the registration optional?" he asked. "States already can do it on their own." And indeed, that was the fatal flaw in the Carter proposal, which he hailed as an effort to "open up the election process" to the many millions of citizens who never bother to vote. A federal law states' rights, with no guarantee that it would bring voters to the polls, give or take those ineligible rounded up by larcenous politicians. Few really wanted it. Anyway, how many people outside Washington wanted the bill passed? Apparently very few. Members of Congress were not deluged with mail demanding its passage. Many in the House said they didn't get a single letter, either favoring or opposing the proposal. And the reason is that people who don't register just don't give a damn. They are not the staff of which a groundswell of grassroots opinion is made. One more thing. Carter's people admitted that the instant registration bill could not prevent fraud. It could only (sometimes) detect it too late to do anything about it. That being so the House response was the horse-sense "Who needs it?" Back to your adding machine, Mr. President.

A Carter embarrassment

By Martha Angle and Robert Walters

WASHINGTON — (INEA) — President Carter's effort to reward a controversial political supporter with a $50,000-a-year job in a federal regulatory commission already has produced embarrassment in the White House and probably will lead to rejection of the nomination in the Senate. There has been previous Senate resistance to a handful of Carter nominees, but each of those cases involved substantive differences over public policy. The new case, however, represents the first time the personal integrity of a Carter nominee has been called into question. When grim-faced committee members emerged from the 70-minute meeting, they refused to discuss what transpired except to announce that they had scheduled a public hearing on the Tucker selection for Sept. 13. The Democratic-dominated Senate has quickly and routinely approved almost all of Democrat Carter's previous nominations. The requisite committee hearings invariably are cut-and-dried affairs, seldom lasting more than a few hours.

Committee, which must confirm the nomination, took no action on it for almost a month. Secret session. At the request of Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., chairman of the committee's aviation subcommittee, the full committee met in an extraordinary secret session on July 14 for the sole purpose of examining the results of the Federal Bureau of Investigation probe of Tucker's background. According to one account, a land development partnership in which Tucker was a member received preferential treatment in obtaining a $200,000 bank loan in May 1975 while Tucker was maneuvering the Florida House into approving a previously stalled bill to permit branch banking. Leading the lobbying for the legislation was the Florida Bankers' Association, whose president at the time also was president of the bank which granted the disputed loan to Tucker's group.

Another newspaper story disclosed last autumn that Tucker had purchased for his new office in the State Capitol a $4,429 desk and matching $4,002 credenza. After that revelation, Tucker almost was defeated in his bid for re-election by an unknown Republican. Tucker's current financial statement indicates that he converted to his personal use more than $70,000 collected at a political "appreciation dinner" last year — a practice legal in Florida but hardly reflective of the high ethical standards Carter repeatedly has insisted upon for all federal officials. Members of the White House staff who normally are highly loyal to the President already are privately expressing chagrin about the Tucker selection and are pointedly referring to it as "the President's nomination" to personally repay a political debt. The St. Petersburg Times, one of Florida's most respected newspapers, summed up the case against Tucker in an editorial opposing his confirmation: "Tucker has made himself a reputation in Tallahassee (the state capital) as a wheeler-dealer politician."

Sewer maintenance crew's work often goes unnoticed

By GREG PEARSON

Herald Reporter Sewer lines are like baseball umpires — you don't notice them until they start to do a bad job. Because of this, a crew of seven town of Manchester employees is trying to make sure that sewer lines in the town remain unnoticed and the subject of no one's disgruntlement. The crew, headed by Darrell Hovey, works on sewer maintenance, a daily routine that includes cleaning lines and replacing manhole covers. The program was formed in August 1976 to provide full-time maintenance for sewers that are under the town's jurisdiction. (The Eighth Utilities District provides service for sewers located within its boundaries.)

Before the full-time crew was established, sewer lines were maintained in a less-than-regular fashion. "We mostly did monthly cleaning on lines that were giving us trouble and responded to emergencies. That was the extent of the cleaning," Hovey said. In August 1976, Hovey sought volunteers from the department to form the sewer maintenance program. Six workers stepped forward, and the progress has been in high gear ever since. A total of 80 miles of sewer lines has been cleaned since the maintenance program began, Hovey said. The year before the program started, only 4 1/2 miles of lines were cleaned. And with the accelerated cleaning program, the number of complaints and problems concerning sewers has dropped. Hovey reports that there have been 62 blocked mains since the program began. Last year, there were 82, and ten years ago there were 91. "We have had less main blockage this year, therefore, less calls to clean and less law suits," he said. Hovey said that every sewer line is cleaned at least once a year. Many trouble spots — older lines, lines affected by tree roots — are checked and cleaned about once a month. Equipment used by the crew includes a sewer rodder, which is equipped with 550 feet of line to clean mains, an air compressor, two utility trucks, one backhoe and one sewer jet, which cleans lines by air pressure. In some areas, it is impossible to clean the entire line with the equipment. In these cases, chemical compounds are used. "It's not as thorough as the machines, but in hard-to-get spots, it gets the job done," Hovey said of the chemicals. Along with the daily line maintenance, the crew also works on repair and replacement of manhole covers. In the past 11 months, the crew has handled more than 200 jobs connected with manhole-cover work, Hovey said.

The members of the maintenance crew are Dennis Armstrong, Cliff Carlson, John Hovey, Vic Salcius, Dave McNally, Charles Barria, and Darrell Hovey.

Moon Shots and Garbage Bags

Technology gives people the tools to get a job done. The job can be as complex as putting a man on the moon or as simple — at least in theory — as hitting a golf ball down the middle of a fairway. Moon rockets and golf clubs are both products of modern technology. Technology enables us as a nation to meet complex challenges such as space exploration, national security, and development of alternate energy sources. It also helps make people's leisure hours more enjoyable and their daily lives more convenient.

Many of the humdrum things we use every day — often without giving them a second thought — are based on recent technological developments. A few years back, they were laboratory curiosities. Today they're part of our lifestyles. To prove the point, visit your local sporting goods shop. You'll find golf club shafts made of graphite fibers, shafts made of aluminum honeycomb, and camping gear made of aircraft-grade, alloy steel tubing. These high-strength, lightweight materials are the stuff of aircraft and spacecraft. They are the products of aerospace technology brought to earth. Or browse through the displays of $10 electronic calculators and $20 digital wrist watches at a department store. Sophisticated electronic technology, in the form of tiny circuit chips, is responsible for the remarkable accuracy and low price of these popular items. Maybe you've used one of the new "money machines" that provide round-the-clock banking services. When you push the buttons to withdraw cash from your checking account or deposit a loan payment, you're actually talking to a computer. Looking at it another way, you're benefiting from computer technology.

Or consider the contributions of chemical technology, including synthetic fabrics, super-strength glues, and plastics tough enough to mold into football helmets. Even the humble plastic garbage bag and the ubiquitous foam-plastic coffee cup are the products of technological innovation. When you get down to basics, technology is nothing more than a continuing response to the needs of life. As we see it, this includes trimming a stroke or two off your golf score and helping you balance your check book.

U. S. aid offered Lebanon

BEIRUT, LEBANON (UPI) — Secretary of State Cyrus Vance today offered Lebanon up to $100 million in military assistance over a three-year period to help get its national army back on its feet following the country's devastating civil war.

Vance arrived in war-shattered Beirut hours after the capital suburbs were rocked by a series of four bomb blasts and a fifth explosive charge was defused just before it could blow up a key bridge. The explosions caused no casualties and it was not immediately known whether the bombings were connected with Vance's visit.

Vance flew to Lebanon from Egypt where he and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat proposed that Middle East foreign ministers meet in the United States next month in what could be the first direct Arab-Israeli negotiations in 30 years.

Vance and Sadat announced the plan Tuesday after failing to reach agreement on American proposals for a full-scale resumption of the Geneva peace conference.

U.S. officials said Vance's 13-day

Judge denies motions in Shelton arson case

BRIDGEPORT (UPI) — A Superior Court judge has denied pretrial motions to dismiss charges against two officials of the Ohio company that owned the Sponge Rubber factory in Shelton.

The Shelton plant, firebombed in March 1975, was owned by the Ohio Decorative Products Co.

Its president, Charles D. Moeller and the firm's secretary-treasurer, Lowell D. Powell, were charged with conspiracy to commit arson in state Superior Court bench warrants last May.

Moeller, of Cridersville, Ohio, was acquitted in January 1976 of arson-related charges by a jury in U.S. District Court in New Haven.

Moeller and Powell had asked for the dismissal of charges claiming their constitutional rights were violated because so much time elapsed between the firebombing and their arrests on state charges.

Judge Irving Levine ruled Monday, should indicate a desire to join with these responsible citizens in expressing our appreciation and approval of their contributions," he said.

The funeral is Friday at 9:30 a.m. from the John F. Tierney Funeral Home, 219 W. Center St., Manchester, with a Mass at the Church of the Assumption, Manchester, at 10. Burial will be in West Cemetery, Bristol.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Amy L. Tinklepaugh

ANDOVER—Amy L. Tinklepaugh, infant daughter of Leonard H. and Carolyn King Tinklepaugh of Village Hill Rd., Lebanon, died Tuesday shortly after birth at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

She is also survived by two brothers, Jeffrey Alan and Matthew John Tinklepaugh, both at home; her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Tinklepaugh of Manchester; her maternal grandparents, Mrs. Shirley R. DiNardo of East Hartford and Albert L. King Jr. of Bellows Falls, Vt.; and her maternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Patton of Bellows Falls and Mrs. Albert L. King Sr. of Charlestown, N.H.

The funeral is Saturday with a graveside service at 11 a.m. in East Cemetery, Manchester.

Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St., Manchester, is in charge of arrangements.

There are no calling hours.

Mrs. Joy Estabrook of Fitchburg

ANDOVER—Mrs. Joy Estabrook of Fitchburg, a brother, Rodney Burnap of Ashby, Mass.; three sisters, Mrs. Norma Lockhart and Mrs. Evelyn Lockhart, both of Fitchburg, and Mrs. Jenny Annis of Wareham, Mass.; two granddaughters and three great-grandchildren.

The funeral is Friday at Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St., at a time to be announced. Burial will be in Lunenburg Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m.

The family suggests that any memorial gifts may be made to the Diabetes Association.

Policemen buried

WETHERSFIELD (UPI) — More than 500 policemen from four states attended a funeral Tuesday for Hartford policeman John F. Dale, who accidentally shot himself Friday.

The uniformed policemen stood at rigid attention and saluted as members of Dale's family arrived for the service at Trinity Episcopal Church.

The uniformed policemen stood at rigid attention and saluted as members of Dale's family arrived for the service at Trinity Episcopal Church.

Daley's wife Donna, pregnant with their first child, was steadied by relatives as Rev. John Findlay, pastor of Trinity Church, delivered the eulogy.

"He was a good cop," he said.

The patrolman was running for cover across the street from the house where a man was seen wielding a shotgun. The revolver in his hand went off when he stumbled and a bullet passed through his body, police said.

Sunday is proclaimed Senior-Youth Day

Sunday has been proclaimed "Senior-Citizen-Youth Field Day" by Manchester Mayor Matthew Moriarty. Field Day programs and activities will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday at Center Springs Park.

"The senior citizens and the young citizens of Manchester have been outstanding contributors to our great community," Moriarty wrote in his proclamation.

"We, the citizens of Manchester, should indicate a desire to join with these responsible citizens in expressing our appreciation and approval of their contributions," he said.

Senior Citizens Boston starts crackdown on parking law violators

Hello! Well, we just knocked off another trip registration, this one for the Red Sox-Indians game, and at this writing we filled our two buses and will now start a waiting list.

Now come next Monday morning, we will be signing up for the Valley Railroad ride out of Essex. This will end the long stretch of Mondays that we get up long before breakfast, and for myself who had to tumble in too, too early for an old coxer like myself.

This trip includes an old fashion train ride and a chance to see some of the old time trains. The day will end with a luncheon at the Dock and Dine Restaurant where you will have a choice of Boston Scrod or Yankee Pot Roast. The complete package is $12.50 and the trip is scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 25. We start registering Monday morning around 8 o'clock and are limited to two buses.

Meanwhile, here at the center we start with last Friday afternoon when we had 42 players for our set-back games and the lucky winners were: Sam Schors, 136; Ada Rojas, 133; John Phelps, 130; John McGinnis, 124; Lillian Rutchik, 122; Felix Jassanis, 121; Mabel Loomis, 119; Lee Miller, 117; Bess Noonan, 117; Grace Windsor, 115; Paul Schuetz, 115.

On Monday afternoon it was pinocle games with 14 tables and the following winners: Michael Haberman, 818; Ernestine Donnelly, 776; Archie Houghtaling, 765; Arvid Peterson, 764; Martha LaBate, 758; Rene Maire, 740; Violet Dion, 739; Michael DeSimone, 737; Bess Noonan, 734; George Last, 731; Mabel Loomis, 730; John Kluck, 729; Floyd Post, 722; Josephine Schuetz, 720.

Our Senior Golf League had 37 players and the low scores were: Vince Porter, 42; Tom Halenan, 45; Russ Nettleton, 45; Wentworth Johnson, 46; Jack Dupont, 46; Raymond Bidwell, 47; Merrill Dickinson, 48.

Our sincere condolences to Mary Jessica Hayes on the death of her sister, Monica.

Tomorrow morning, two buses will be leaving our center at 7 for a day in Rockport. The building will be open for business as usual and also the outdoor shuffleboard courts will be ready for action.

Another reminder for you folks who signed up for Browns: your final payment is due by Aug. 10.

Don't forget, Sunday is the Senior-Youth Picnic at Center Springs, 1 to 5 p.m. Be sure you come and please bring your own chairs.

Summer school serves 56

Bolton
The Title I summer school program for Bolton children is serving 56 students from preschool age through Grade 6 this year.
The purpose of the program is to give individualized remediation in math and reading. The program will end next week.
Included in the program's events were a cooking experience for each class, family open house, model rocket and train demonstrations.
Students participating in the program visited the Bradley Air Museum and the Trolley Museum. The students will go to the Valley Railroad and Steamboat in Essex next Tuesday.
Each Tuesday the students went to Bentley Memorial Library for special activities.
The program was coordinated by Laura Szczepowicz. She said, "The program is moving along very well. Students are enjoying their learning experience."
The program teachers are Gloria Finnegan, Karen Rosano, Susan

Soccer signup scheduled

The Bolton Youth Soccer Association will have final registration Thursday from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. at Herrick Memorial Park.
The program has been expanded to provide for all boys and girls who will be entering Grades 3 to 8. In addition, there will be a program for girls entering Grades 9 to 12 if at least 15 register.
Practice will start next Wednesday. Play in the Northeastern Soccer League will run from Sept. 10 to Nov. 10. There is a small fee for insurance.

Selectmen make 13 appointments

Bolton
The Bolton Board of Selectmen made several appointments at a meeting solely for that purpose Monday night.
Three and a half hours after the meeting began, 13 appointments had been made. Several other appointments were deferred to another meeting, Aug. 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Hall.
Many persons appointed Monday were simply reappointed to positions they had held for a number of years. However, several newcomers were appointed.
Among the new appointees is Craig Potterton, as recreation commissioner for a two-year term. Potterton, 23, is the youngest person to hold such a position in Bolton. He succeeds Henry Ryba, the new first selectman.
Potterton is employed by the State of Connecticut. He is a 1972 graduate of Bolton High School and attended Hartford State Technical College. Potterton has been active in sports for many years.
Aldea Savva was appointed welfare director for two years. She has lived in Bolton since 1969. Mrs. Savva holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Connecticut and a master's degree from Central Connecticut State College. She has been a teacher and is now an insurance agent.
Other appointments made by the selectmen:
• Building Code Board of Appeals, Harold Webb.
• Park Director, Stanley Bates, two years.
• Assessor and building official, Calvin Hutchinson, four years.
• Public Building Commission, Walter Treschuk and Ronald Soares, four years.
• Tree warden, Donald Massey, two years.
• Town clerk records checkers, Sandra Pierog and Catherine Peterson.
• Jury Committee, Shirley Riley, Elma Dimock and Donna Holland.
Most of the appointments were unanimous.
The selectmen still have a number of mandatory and optional appointments to make. Interested residents are asked to write the selectmen saying which appointments they are interested in and why. The address is 222 Bolton Center Rd.
A few persons have expressed an interest in serving on the Public Building Commission and the Board of Fire Commissioners. There is still a vacancy on each board. Anyone who is interested and has not yet expressed an interest should do so as soon as possible.
The selectmen will ask all persons interested in either position to appear before them to discuss their interest, experience and qualifications. Other necessary appointments that must be made are:
• Conservation Commission, one position.
• Board of Health, seven positions, four-year terms.
• Senior Citizens Committee, five positions. One member will serve as municipal agent for the elderly.
• Constables, Selectmen Aloysius Ahearn and Ernest Shepherd are reviewing the qualifications.
Optional appointments to be made if possible are for the Bolton Scholarship Fund, Northeast Regional Mental Health Board, Catchment Area Council No. 15, Capitol Region Planning Commission, demolition officer, Health Systems Agency, Park Committee, Regional Forum representative to the Capitol Region Council of Governments, Rockville Public Health Nursing Associa-

New official from Hebron

'Not everyone sees energy crisis'

By KAREN BISKUPIAK
Herald Correspondent
"The biggest problem is that the average person doesn't believe there is a genuine energy crisis," says Richard Keefe, the new deputy commissioner of the state Department of Planning and Energy Policy.
In a recent interview, Keefe expressed the difficulties of his new position. Keefe, a Hebron resident and building official for the town, was sworn in by Gov. Grasso at the Capitol last month.
His appointment is in conjunction with the state's new energy enforcement policies.
Keefe said although he hadn't been fully briefed on all his responsibilities, he was confident that he will manage the department office while Commissioner Lynn Brooks is on the road.

Keefe, also chairman of Hebron's Democratic Town Committee, has lived in Hebron all his life.
He is a graduate of Windham High School and has attended the University of Hartford and the University of Connecticut. He served in the U.S. Air Force as a staff sergeant and instructor flight engineer with more than 1,000 flying hours.
As building official, zoning agent and sanitarian for Hebron from 1970 to the present, Keefe said this experience "gained through this exposure has been most rewarding."
Keefe also served in the State

Coventry appoints principal

Dennis E. Joy of Bennington, Vt., has been appointed principal of Coventry High School. He will succeed Milton Wilde, who is retiring. Joy will assume his duties Aug. 22.
The new principal has 11 years' experience in education and holds a master's degree from the State University of New York, where he is enrolled in the doctorate program.
Joy taught physical education in Vermont and Massachusetts and was building principal and assistant superintendent at Hartford Central School in Hartford, N.Y.
He will settle with his wife, Dibbon, and their two children in Coventry.

Adult education

Teresa Williams, Coventry High School art teacher and acting director of the town's Adult Education Program, has been named adult education director by the Board of Education.
Ms. Williams received the board's permission to create a "community adult education council" of about 30 residents to identify educational needs, raise funds, and unite various local organizations such as the Senior Citizens Club and recreational groups.

Self-supporting

Ms. Williams was asked to head the adult education program last year on a volunteer basis after funding was cut from the education budget. She ran the spring program on a self-supporting basis, charging $15 per course.
Ms. Williams said 165 students were enrolled last spring, with a minimum of eight students per class. She said at least 12 students are needed to pay the teachers' salary at $7 per hour, but some teachers agreed to smaller reimbursement.
About $150 was spent for supplies, refreshments, films, phone calls, postage and the like, she said.
One of the areas Ms. Williams hopes to develop is high school equivalency courses which will be eligible for federal funding.
Arnold Elman, school superintendent, agreed to help the new director get office space at the high school.
The board granted her an annual payment of $800 to run the program. The courses will continue on a self-sustaining basis.

Other business

In other business, the school board voted to ask the Town Council for favorable action on its request for CETA personnel. The CETA Act established funds to hire unemployed people for various town projects.
Board member Gary Dopsiaff reported that school administrators had filed a complaint with the state Labor Board. He is awaiting a hearing date on the complaint.
Elman plans to add a half-time reading aide to the Robertson School staff this fall. The board transferred money for this purpose.
Harrlette Cromie was appointed as a home economics teacher at the high school to replace Patricia Zimmer, who has resigned for family reasons. Julia Ruth Sherman of Mansfield Center was hired to teach earth science, biology and math at the high school.

Wells C. Dennison, 62, dies, was active in community affairs

Wells C. Dennison, 62, of 37 Highwood Dr., retired president of Case Bros. and actively interested in community affairs for many years, died Tuesday evening at Manchester Memorial Hospital. Mr. Dennison was president of Case Bros. Inc. from 1954 to 1967 and general manager from the time of its merger with the Boise Cascade Corp. of Idaho about nine years ago until his retirement in 1970.

Wells C. Dennison

With Mr. Dennison's retirement, the last tie between the Case family of Manchester and Case Bros., a paper manufacturing company with a local history of over 100 years, ended. The firm was established in 1861 by its maternal grandfather, Alfred Wells Case, and Albert's twin brother, Albert Willard Case. He was born Sept. 25, 1914 in Montclair, N.J., son of the late Robert S. and Carol Case Dennison, and had attended Montclair Academy. He later was graduated from the Taft School in Waterbury.

After his graduation in 1937 from Union College, Schenectady, N.Y., where he majored in economics, he joined Case Bros. He worked primarily in sales for the firm until 1941, when he was called into active service for World War II with the local Anti-Tank Co., 189th Infantry, 43rd Division, in which he had enlisted as a private in 1940. By the time he left the military in 1945, he had achieved the rank of captain and had served in four European campaigns. He rejoined Case Bros. after his discharge.

Involved in both sales and accounting, Mr. Dennison was elected vice-president of Case Bros. in 1946 and served as both vice-president and treasurer from 1949 to 1964. A benefactor of Manchester Memorial Hospital, he also contributed widely to other groups, campaigns and enterprises devoted to public welfare. He was active in various fund raising drives including Boy Scout fund-raising programs and was chairman of the 1964-65 Initial Gifts Division of the local United Fund drive.

He had served on the town School Building Committee and was 1962 chairman of the Manchester Permanent Memorial Day Committee. He formerly served for two years as chairman of Manchester Chapter of the American Red Cross. He was chairman of the historical committee for Manchester's Sesquicentennial celebration in 1973. Mr. Dennison was a member of South United Methodist Church and a former member of his board of trustees, serving as chairman of the board for about 20 years. He was a former member of the board of directors of the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce and served as chairman of its industrial division for two years.

Donatelli challenges Blackstone

By MAL BARLOW
East Hartford Reporter
"It's time for the pendulum to swing over to the Republicans," said Anthony Donatelli Tuesday night after the Republicans of East Hartford nominated him for his third consecutive try for the mayor's job.

No one opposed Donatelli for the job of challenging Democrat Richard Blackstone who is now completing his fourth two-year term.

The Democrats caucus tonight at 8 p.m. at the Common Pleas Court on Tolland St. They are expected to nominate Blackstone to run for his fifth term.

Donatelli said he has gotten much closer to Blackstone in the last two campaigns.

"Now, I think I can catch him," the 68-year-old retired service station operator said.

The vote in 1973 was Blackstone, 8,860, to Donatelli's 5,696. But in 1975 Blackstone had 8,145 to Donatelli's 6,379.

Donatelli refused to say how he would run his campaign or what tack he would take.

"I'll play it by ear," he said. "If elected, he said there would be changes."

"People are asking for changes. The voice of the people must be heard. There's a lot of changes to be made."

GOP Chairman James Mirabile said he has high hopes for the Nov. 8 election.

"Tony knows what to do. He knows where he made mistakes in the past and he won't make them again," Mirabile said.

"The Democrats have a tired administration. They're running all the same people. After four straight terms, they get set in their ways."

"It's time for fresh blood."

Mirabile praised the balanced slate the GOP present the voters.

The GOP candidates are: • Running for Town Council—Mrs. Esther B. Clarke, John Finnegan and James Cordier, all incumbents, and Robert Ryan, John Grottole Jr. and Walter Forrest.

Abortion issue now up to Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House has put it up to the Senate: Accept subsidized abortion only where the life of the woman is at stake, or continue a legislative stalemate on the issue while a compromise is sought.

By a vote of 238 to 182, the House approved language for the fiscal year 1978, beginning Oct. 1, identical to the so-called Hyde amendment which Congress enacted a year ago for the current year.

Welfare recipients are still receiving abortions paid by Medicaid while that provision is being tested in the courts. Federal Judge John Doolee in New York scheduled a further hearing on it today.

If allowed by the courts to take effect, it would halt most of the 300,000 abortions which the federal government finances each year for poor women.

The House June 17 voted 201 to 155 to deny federal funds for abortions under any circumstances. The Senate voted June 29 to allow such funds when a doctor says an abortion is "medically necessary," or in cases of rape or incest, or to save the mother's life.

Both votes were in connection with a $60 billion appropriations bill for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare.

House and Senate negotiators couldn't agree on language and sent the abortion issue back for further voting in each house. The House voted late Tuesday night to substitute the Hyde amendment language as a compromise.

The Senate in June rejected the same language 65 to 33. If the Senate rejects it again, negotiators from the two houses would continue to try for acceptable compromise language. Congress is scheduled to start a month-long recess Friday.

The Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce is taking the lead in attempts to restore intra-town taxi service to Manchester.

The town has been without the cab service since the East Hartford-Manchester Cab Co. applied for a suspension of its operating license earlier this month. The situation has caused transportation problems for many elderly persons, it has been their only means of transportation.

Jim Breitenfeld, executive vice-president of the Chamber, said the office has received several calls during the past three weeks from persons affected by the situation.

Breitenfeld said the chamber has been talking with public leaders, transportation companies and concerned citizens in an effort to resolve the transportation problem.

One local company, Dial-A-Ride of Connecticut, Inc. at 134 E. Center St. has applied for authorization from the state's Public Utilities Control Authority for three taxis. A hearing on the request has been set for Aug. 8. If approved, the firm would provide service for Manchester and South Windsor, both within the town and from the towns to another area.

In order to better document the need for taxi service, the chamber is asking those persons affected by the situation to call the chamber office at 646-2223. Persons calling will be sent a survey that will ultimately be used as a basis for more concrete action.

Weather contrasts noted

By United Press International
The month of July in Connecticut was a paradox of record highs and lows, with residents enduring a nine day heat wave and later smogging before blankets for three straight evenings.

The two daily record highs of 99 degrees and 101 degrees on the 19th and 21st occurred during a heat wave that began on July 13 and ended with a sudden plunge in the thermometer.

On the 23rd, the overnight reading at Bradley International Airport was a record 49 degrees. The same reading was recorded on the 27th and 28th and it warmed up to a record 51 for the date on the 29th.

The National Weather Service said the highest temperature for the month was the 101 reading reported on the 21st of the month.

The average temperature for the month was 74.7 degrees or two degrees above the normal for the month.

Rainfall for the month was near normal at 3.37 inches.

Lastly, the NWS said July ended as it began with a daily high temperature of 90 degrees.

Thoughtful arsonist
HARTFORD (UPI)—An unknown arsonist who set fire to a Hartford apartment house is being given credit for warning tenants by knocking on doors while running through the building's hallways.

Two tenants, however, were injured when they leaped from a fourth-floor window to escape the flames Friday.

James Orbach, 27, the building superintendent, said Tuesday he is convinced the arsonist rapped on doors while running through hallways.

McCoy to head Republican slate

Vernon
 Vernon Republicans adopted a slate of candidates for the fall elections at a party caucus Tuesday night. The slate will be headed by former Mayor Frank J. McCoy, the three-term mayor who is seeking the office for the fifth time.

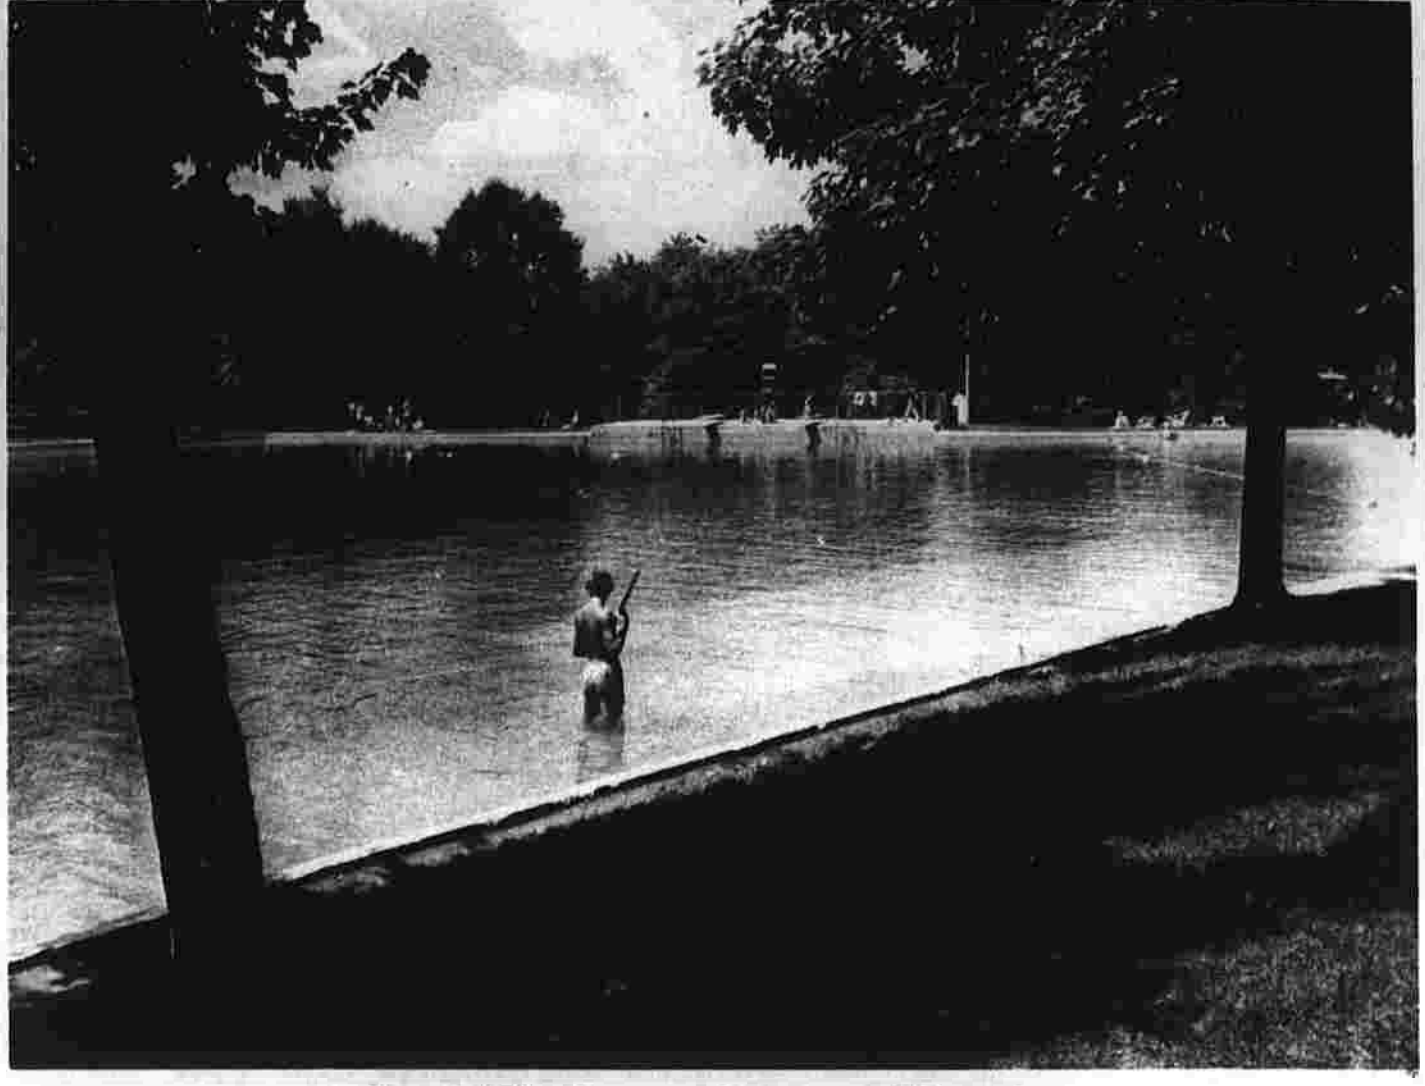

McCoy will probably run against Democratic Mayor Thomas A. Benoit, who is expected to receive his party's endorsement for a second term Thursday.

The list of candidates was endorsed by the Republican Town Committee before the caucus which drew about 70 persons.

The nominees for the town council will include incumbents Morgan L. Campbell, seeking a fifth term; John L. Guilletti, seeking a third term; and Robert Wehrli, seeking a fourth term.

The other council candidates seeking office for the first time are Carl Anderson, Wayne Besaw, Robert B. Hurde, Jane S. Lamb and Robert Homojko.

The Republican candidates endorsed for re-election to the Board of Education are Harold Cummings and Russell McPadden. McPadden is

Worker uses vacuum device to clean pool at South Windsor's Veterans Memorial Park on recent hot day. The pool, closed Tuesday and today due to high acidity in the water, is scheduled to reopen Thursday. Town officials said a change from liquid to gas chlorine caused the problem, and many swimmers complained of a burning sensation in the water. Sodium hydroxide was added to cut the acidity. The pool has had problems throughout this season — with unclear water and with equipment. Last week, three of the pool's six filters broke down. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Workload up 10% for Coventry Police

The Coventry Police Department answered almost 7,000 calls in the past fiscal year, according to the annual report released by Chief Robert Kjelquist. This represented a 10 per cent increase in the workload.

During the year a patrolman was assigned to make crime prevention surveys of dwellings and commercial establishments to recommend specific steps to improve individual security.

The Neighborhood Watch Program, which was federally funded, provided crime prevention material to 3,000 homes. About 300 persons toured the department's mobile display.

The police placed special attention on a crime prevention program for senior citizens which included the distribution of whistles. Kjelquist plans to concentrate on female sexual assault and juvenile delinquency this year.

Thirteen persons responsible for 138 burglaries were apprehended, breaking a locally based burglary ring that operated throughout North and West Connecticut.

In-service training was initiated for departmental personnel under the auspices of the Connecticut Justice Commission. Joseph Deslauriers, Patrolman Arthur Redford, and Dispatcher John Culpin received associate degrees from Manchester Community College.

Membership drive

The annual membership drive of the Coventry Junior Women's Club will be opened Aug. 9 at the home of Joyce Knowlton, High St., at 8 p.m.

A tea will be held, and committees headed by the club will be open to area women between the ages of 18 and 40.

The organization engages in community service and holds social events throughout the year.

Candidates selected in Coventry

By CLAIRE CONNELLY
 Herald Correspondent

Coventry Democrats and Republicans chose their candidates for the fall municipal election Tuesday night. The Democrats met at Capt. Nabun Hale School and the Republicans had their caucus at the Town Hall.

The Town Council, the Democrats nominated incumbent Jack Myles and newcomers Dick Giggey, Karen Nash, Pat White and Harold Crane. Joyce Carrilli was nominated from the floor but didn't get enough votes to become a candidate.

The Republican candidates for the Town Council will be incumbent Chairman Jesse Brainard, incumbent members Leonard Giglio and Douglas Whipple, and newcomers Robert Krontz and Alwin Broderson. James Hackett dropped out of the race for business reasons.

Fuel aid program is ending

HARTFORD (UPI) — A $3-million federal giveaway program in Connecticut ends Aug. 31, but only $100,000 has been paid out so far. Officials fear the money will have to go back to the federal government.

The main reason for the delay in getting the money into the hands of those who need it, according to officials working with the program, is a lack of communication and coordination.

The money has to be used up by Aug. 31 or it goes back to the federal government.

Thomas Fitzpatrick, of the Connecticut Department on Planning and Energy Policy, said the federal money is being paid to those who cannot pay fuel bills and those who paid the bills but with a great hardship.

Up to $250 will be paid to a utility company for unpaid bills of those eligible under the program. Up to $50 will also be paid to eligible persons who paid last year's bills but can prove hardship.

A single person whose income is $10 month or less is eligible, regardless of other assets, Fitzpatrick said.

For each additional person in the same household, the income restrictions increase $100. Therefore, a family of four with a combined income of $400 or less per month is eligible.

He said those who feel they may be eligible should call 1-800-942-9551, a toll-free number, and get more information.

Hebron Democrats want Reid for a fifth term

By KAREN BISKUPIAK
 Herald Correspondent

Only 30 residents attended a brief Democratic caucus in Hebron to nominate candidates for the Nov. 8 municipal election.

Numbered among the candidates are 11 incumbents, which include First Selectman Aaron "Steve" Reid for a fifth term in office. Incumbent Selectman Cynthia Wilson was also nominated for a second term of office, as was Joan Rowley for tax collector.

Marian Celio, an unaffiliated voter, was endorsed for a third term as town clerk. She is also being recommended by the Republican party.

Leo J. Tierney is the Democratic candidate for town treasurer and agent of the Town Deposit Fund. Incumbent Richard M. Grant will run again for the Board of Finance. Grant now serves as the finance board chairman.

Recent appointees to the Board of Education, Marilu DeCarvalho and Edith Long, will both be running for six-year terms, from 1977-83, on the local board.

Board of Education Chairman Robert E. Owens will be running for a four-year seat, from 1977-81, and incumbent member Robert Nickels will be running for a two-year term, from 1977-79.

James M. Lynch is the candidate for the Board of Tax Review, for a four-year term.

Incumbent and recent appointee Edward J. Gregory Sr. will be running for a five-year term on the Planning and Zoning Commission, as will Joseph F. Morrocco.

The incumbent alternate for the Zoning Board of Appeals, David L. Morruff, will be seeking a seat for a five-year term on the same board. Ronald Weil will also be seeking a five-year term on the board.

In the event of a vacancy on the ticket, it was unanimously voted by the caucus to have the Democratic Town Committee officers fill the vacant slot.

Arrangements for a headquarters have not yet been announced.

GOP to caucus Thursday

Hebron
 Hebron Republicans will caucus Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Town Office Building to select candidates to run in the November municipal election.

Raymond J. Burt is being recommended by the party's nominating committee for first selectman and Marilyn Horton for the position on the Board of Selectmen.

This will be Mrs. Horton's first try at political office. Burt was defeated in a bid for first selectman in 1973.

The GOP is expected to endorse Marian Celio, incumbent town clerk, for a third term in office. Mrs. Celio is an unaffiliated voter and has been endorsed by both parties in the last two elections.

Incumbent Town Treasurer Marion Foote is also seeking re-election to that office as agent of the Town Deposit Fund.

Janet VonDeck is being recommended for tax collector.

For the Board of Finance, the committee is recommending incumbent Roger Terranova, Charles Schaeffer and Casey McPartland.

Recommended for the Board of Education are Judith Gregory, Alan F. Ramsey and P. Mulligan.

Robert Dixon will be recommended for re-election to the Board of Tax Review.

David Maricelli is being recommended for a five-year term on the Planning and Zoning Commission, beginning in November, and Henry Snider for re-election to a five-year term beginning in 1978.

Recommended for the Zoning Board of Appeals are Paul DuFour and Andrew Johnson. DuFour is recommended for a five-year term beginning in November and Johnson for a five-year term beginning in 1978. Johnson is now on the ZBA as an alternate and will resign that position if elected as a regular member.

The Republicans are expected to conduct a Town Committee meeting after the caucus.

Bolton selectmen find more money for roads

By DONNA HOLLAND
 Herald Correspondent

There are times when pleasant surprises outweigh the time and work it takes to get a job done — or at least makes the time involved in getting the job done worth your while.

Bolton's not-so-new Board of Selectmen has been meeting diligently week after week since it took office July 1 in an effort to get the town's business straightened out and up to date.

At its meeting Tuesday, First Selectman Henry Ryba said the town has more money for its roads than anyone had originally estimated.

Ryba said Bolton has $77,158. Of that amount, $65,970 is from the State Town Aid Road Grant, $21,188 from the grant's 1976-77 balance, and $20,000 in the town's budget.

From figures estimated for the town by past administrators it was thought the town would have about $73,000.

And with the condition of Bolton roads to consider, the extra $24,000 is a "pleasant surprise."

The first phase of the town's oiling program got under way last week. The estimated cost to oil the roads is: Brandy St., $3,185; Loomis Rd., $1,500; Stony Rd., $900, and South Rd., $2,200. Labor for all roads is estimated at $1,250.

Roads are being moved at an estimated cost of $1,281 and swept at an estimated cost of $4,000. Catch basins are being cleaned at an estimated cost of $4,250.

The town is to have High Meadow Rd. and Sunset Lane resurfaced and drain pipes installed at an estimated cost of $27,000.

When all the work is done the selectmen expect to have a balance of $48,297 in the road accounts.

Road Foreman Donato Rattazzi told the selectmen Monday that work he had done on the road at Herrick Memorial Park.

The selectmen took action on one piece of correspondence that has been in town since March. The Connecticut Sewage Disposal Association requested information about a dumping area for septic wastes generated within town.

The association said it originally asked for the information in May 1975.

The selectmen referred the matter to Calvin Hutchinson, sanitarian, who will report to the board at its next regular meeting in 1978.

At the request of Hutchinson, the selectmen will seek a legal opinion from Jerome Walsh, town counsel, as to a right-of-way on Brandy St.

The right-of-way is on property belonging to Willard and Audrey Grenon. Hutchinson said Mrs. Grenon's lawyer investigated the situation and said right-of-way belongs to the Grenons.

The selectmen were informed by the state Department of Transportation that the center line markings at the intersection of Rt. 6 and Stony Rd. will check the timing of the traffic signal at the intersection and right-of-way belongs to the Grenons.

The DOT reviewed the situation after receiving a complaint from John Verfallke at Stony Rd. The DOT said the markings at the Stony Rd. intersection were revised.

EDA wants minority jobs

HARTFORD (UPI) — The state has launched a major effort to line up minority businesses for jobs to be done with $76 million in federal Public Works Employment Act funds expected by the state and 81 cities and towns.

The U.S. Economic Development Administration (EDA) requires 10 per cent of the money must go to businesses at least 51 per cent owned by blacks, Spanish-surnamed or Indians.

Commerce department representatives are holding meetings with municipal officials to brief them on how to meet EDA requirements.

Deputy Connecticut Commerce Department Commissioner Charles J. Duffy said he sees no problem in meeting the quota.

the apparent theft of $700 to $900 from the treasury of the Parent Teacher Organization at Capt. Nathan Hale School.

Former PTO Treasurer Laverne Gordon said the money was taken from her while she was at the University of Connecticut.

The cash was the receipts of a spring talent show sponsored by the PTO.

Vernon
 Mark E. Patton, 21, of 24 Talcott Ave., Rockville, was arrested by Vernon Police Tuesday night on traffic and criminal charges.

Patton was stopped for alleged speeding and was charged with failure to obey a traffic sign and driving while his license was suspended. After he was stopped, police served a warrant charging him with criminal mischief and breach of peace.

The criminal charges stem from a Feb. 28 incident on School St., police said.

Patton was released on a $1,000 non-surety bond for court appearance Aug. 24 in Rockville.

Rockville
 Raymond Hatch, 30, of 52 Village St., Rockville, was charged Tuesday night with driving while under the influence of liquor, disobeying an officer's signal, and driving without a license. Court date is Aug. 24 in Rockville.

Legion nips Windsor with two-run sixth

Snapping a 3-3 deadlock with two runs in the sixth inning, Manchester's Legion baseball team wound up its home Zone Eight slate with a 5-3 decision over Windsor last night at Eagle Field. The winning rally was started by Frank Livingston with a solo single, Mike Gierres, pinch-running, moved up a base on a wild pitch and when Pete Kiro's fly ball to rightfield was misplayed, the runner scored, Kiro winding up on second. Skip Blake sacrificed after Howie Furling walked and Dave Bottaro's single up the middle netted the second run. Livingston was again the most consistent hitter with two in three trips. No other Manchester player had more than one hit. Kiro went the route and spaced seven hits. He passed four and fanned seven. Windsor threatened in both the fourth and fifth innings but Kiro escaped when his mates first executed a twinkling and when he exhibited some gutsy pitching.

Moriarty's in lead on Riordan homer

By EARL YOST Sports Editor

Man of the hour last night for Moriarty's in Twi League baseball play at Moriarty Field was Rich Riordan.

The versatile local athlete found a Ray DeMaio high fastball to his liking with two mates on base and deposited it over the fence to provide the home team with a 5-4 edge over Hartford Jan-Alai in a battle for first place in the American Division.

The season's largest crowd, which contributed a season-high $105.92, saw the MB's climb past the visitors in the standings by one half game. The locals are now 13-7, Hartford 12-7 and the two clubs will battle head-on again Friday night at St. Thomas.

Thursday night the MB's meet Volkswagen at St. Thomas. League play ends Friday night with the playoffs starting Sunday.

Tall, gum-chewing, bespectacled Dave Bidwell went the route, setting down the hard-hitting invaders on just five hits. The Assumption College ace walked one and fanned four batters. DeMaio, out of Central Connecticut, was reached for a dozen hits but managed to stay out of trouble until Riordan unloaded. The southpaw struck out seven and issued one pass.

The Moriarty's took a 1-0 lead on doubles by Fred Flynn and Jim Dumont, the latter's to the opposite field in the first inning but Hartford came back in the second to tie matters on a hit batsman, an infield out and John Zdrozny's single.

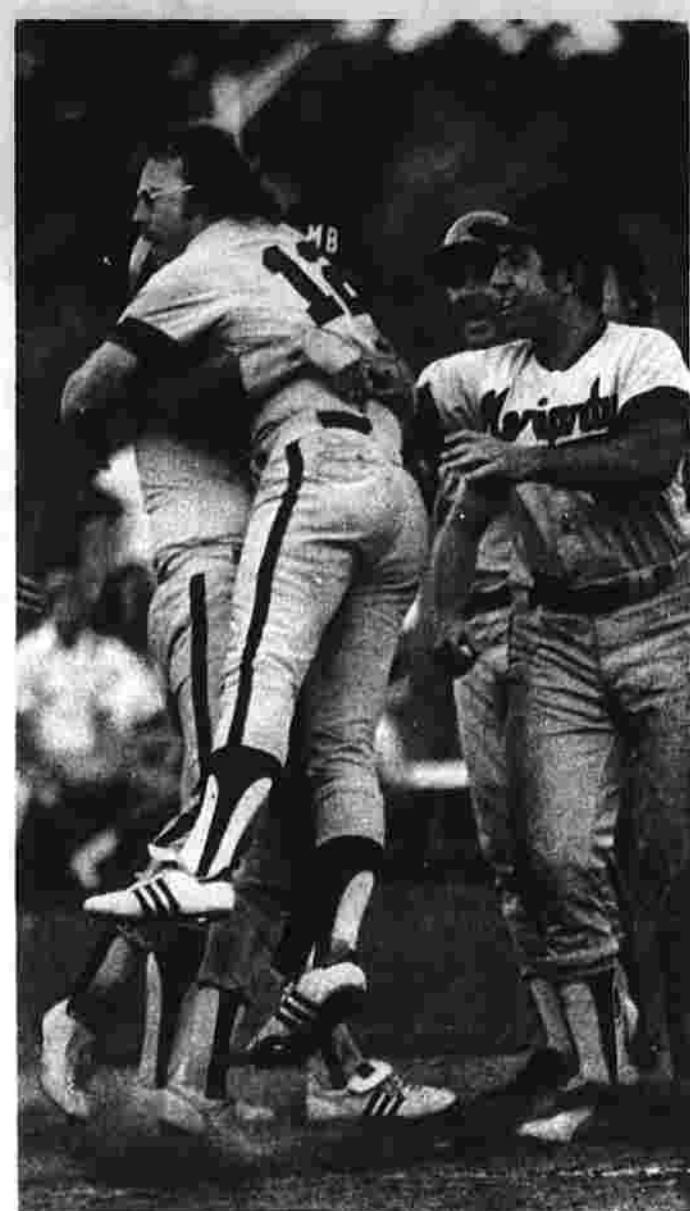

The MB's moved to a 2-1 edge in the third. Dumont's single off third baseman Craig Griffin singled and a wild pitch and Mike Griffin's single produced the marker.

Not to be outdone, Hartford came back in the fifth when Ron Krough boosted Zdrozny's low line and the batter reached second. With one on, the base runner stole third and scored on Pinney's single to center.

Dumont and Griffin singled and with two outs in the MB fifth, Riordan, who had looked bad in his first two trips, tied into DeMaio's pitch and it sailed over the leftfield fence. Riordan was so happy he waltzed, jitter-bugged, throp-scoloped around the bases, threw his helmet into the air and jumped into his teammates and struck poses to grin him at home. It was a touching site.

The visitors were far from dead and Bidwell, who was now fielding, gave up two runs in the sixth and needed all the outfield help he could get in the ninth to seal the decision.

With one out in the Hartford seventh, Pinney skied deep to center-field, and Paul Placido's bid for a two-run homer was taken by Riordan at the fence in deep right center for the final out.

RSox lead by .001 over idle Orioles

SEATTLE (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox made the Baltimore Orioles pay for their day off.

The Red Sox slipped into first place in the American League East Tuesday night with a 3-2 victory over the Seattle Mariners while the Orioles remained idle.

The heavy duty work was provided by George Scott, who belted his 26th homer, and Fred Lynn, who knocked in the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the 10th inning.

Boston's margin over Baltimore is .001. Rick Wise, winner of his last three decisions, pitched eight strong innings and Bill Campbell earned his 11th victory by pitching the last two innings. For Campbell, it was his 44th relief appearance of the season. Boston catcher Carlton Fisk said Wise's pitching was as good as any game he has pitched this year.

"He pitched well the whole game and had the Mariners popping up," Scott said.

Seattle Manager Darrell Johnson said, "I thought the pitching on both sides was outstanding."

He reminded reporters that Boston's team batting average is .283 and that the Red Sox had 146 home runs going into the game.

Seattle starter Tom House yielded Scott's two-run homer. John Montague relieved House in the sixth inning and seemed to be in complete control until Denny Doyle opened the 10th inning with a single. After Rick Miller flew out, Rick Burleson singled Doyle to third.

Johnson then called on left-handed Bill Laxton. Lynn greeted Laxton with a drive that sent Lee Stanton to the right field wall and Doyle came in on the sacrifice fly.

Seattle's runs came in the sixth inning when Steve Braun singled and scored on Bob Simson's fifth home run of the season.

Johnson lamented the fact that Seattle had the bases loaded with none out in the fourth inning but couldn't get a run across.

"That would've given us the ballgame in regulation time," he said.

John one reason Dodgers leading

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two years ago Tommy John's chances of ever pitching again in the major leagues were considered remote by the nation's medical experts, but today he is a major reason the Los Angeles Dodgers are on top of the National League West.

With his pitching arm rebuilt at the elbow after he had ruptured a ligament, the 34-year-old left-hander is the most consistent starter on the Dodgers' staff — notched his 12th victory in 16 decisions Tuesday night with a 10-strikeout, eight-hit performance in the Dodgers' 7-2 victory over the New York Mets.

"Tommy John is a better pitcher now than before he got hurt," said Mets Manager Joe Torre after watching John battle his troops.

John's message was relayed to him. "But actually, my elbow is better than any other pitcher in baseball because I've got larger ligaments than what God gave me."

The Cubs benefited from rookie Mario Soto's wildness and the ineffectiveness of reliever Dale Murray to score five runs in the eighth inning and defeat the Reds.

American League

Yankees 9, Angels 3 — Thurman Munson drove in three runs and Reggie Jackson snapped a 2-2 tie with a two-run single in the fourth inning as Mike Torrez pitched a seven-hitter for his 10th win for the Yankees. Chris Chambliss also homered for the Yankees while Bob Bonds and Don Baylor connected for the Angels. Paul Hartzell was the loser.

Indians 9-7, Brewers 2-4 — Buddy Bell had four singles and knocked in two runs and Dennis Eckersley pitched a seven-hitter for the Indians in the first game. Andre Thornton homered for Cleveland and Sal Bando for Milwaukee. Bill Melton hit two doubles and a single, scored three runs and drove in three and Wayne Garman scattered 11 hits for the Indians in the second game.

Don Gullett cleared in marijuana case

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — New York Yankees' principal owner George Steinbrenner said Tuesday night he "never had any doubts" about pitcher Don Gullett's innocence after Kentucky state police found some 800 marijuana plants growing on his Kentucky farm for six months.

In a prepared statement issued by the Yankees' publicist during New York's game against California, Steinbrenner pointed out Gullett, reported to the Yankees' Ft. Lauderdale camp in February and had been away from his farm for six months. "In my 25 years dealing with athletes as a coach and an owner," Steinbrenner said, "I have never met a finer young man than Don Gullett. If there is a modern day Jack Armstrong, Gullett is it."

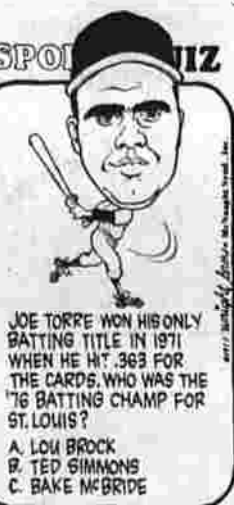

"Anybody who has played with him knows that and will say the same things about him. We're happy that he's been completely exonerated."

Kentucky police cleared Gullett and members of his family Tuesday of any involvement in the growing of the marijuana on his farm.

Franks rewarded

CHICAGO (UPI) — Manager Herman Franks, who Chicago Cubs have led the National League East division since May 28, was rewarded Tuesday with a one-year extension of his contract through the 1978 season.

"We are extremely pleased with the job he has done on the field this year and wanted to give him this vote of confidence," Vice President Bob Kennedy said, announcing the extension.

GLORIA STEVENS HAS BECOME A WAY OF LIFE FOR ME....

I never took off those extra pounds and inches since the birth of my last child, which was seven years ago. Then I started putting on more weight during the last year. I decided to do something about it and that is when I joined Gloria Stevens. I'm certainly much happier with myself now that I've lost 10 lbs. and 16 1/2". I never could have done it without the help of the technicians. Also the freedom at Gloria Stevens allowing us to come in at our convenience works out just great too. Frequently, I stop in to do my exercises on my way to or from something else. To top it off, I feel great too — lots more energy than I've had in years.

Frank checks out the Ford's engine

When you remember "the good old days" does your memory stray to sporty wood-paneled beach wagons heading for the beach with surf boards tied on top? If so, Frank Findlay of 151 Hartford Rd. has a car that will warm the cockles of your heart.

Frank has a 1948 Ford beach wagon which he has been restoring for the past five years and now it's just about in mint condition.

A car collector for the past 20 years, Frank also has a 1950 Jeepster, a 1948 Packard, a 1940 LaSalle, and two Cadillacs, a 1956 and a 1960.

When he can spare time from his business, Garner Rug Upholstery Cleaning Co. at 14 High St. (rear), Frank says he enjoys refurbishing the old cars.

"Some people purchase them already restored, but I enjoy doing the work myself. I made all new leather coverings for the seats in the beach wagon, and a friend of mine who refinishes boats in Mystic helped me with the wood work," he said.

Finding the right wood for the side panels of the wagon proved to be an easier task than Frank thought it would be.

"I went into a local building supply company and, you know, most of the paneling today seems to have lines down it giving it a look of separate boards."

"I asked the clerk for some plain paneling. He was puzzled for a moment and then said, 'Gee, I have a few pieces out back, but it's the kind they used to use in old beach wagons. Well, it turned out to be Philippine ribbon mahogany — just what I wanted.'"

Frank and his wife, Loraine, have covered lots of flea markets looking for specific parts for their cars.

"I figure it took about $1,500 and five years to get the wagon in shape. I purchased it in 1969. At the flea markets, you find people are very congenial and really go out of their way to help and trade parts that you need."

Clark-Mitrowski

Margaret Ann Mitrowski of Bolton and Gilbert Newell Clark of West Willington were married July 29 at Wapping Community Church in South Windsor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Mitrowski of 116 South Rd., Bolton. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln P. Clark of West Willington.

The Rev. James R. Hansen of South Windsor officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Sue Shoefelt of Manchester was organist and Bonnie Lukas of Manchester was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory silk organza gown designed with fitted bodice of Alencon lace with English net illusion insert, lace mandarin collar and long fitted traditional sleeves with lace cuffs, and a full circular skirt edged in scalloped venise lace and terminating in a chapel-length train.

A reception was held at Veterans' Memorial Clubhouse in East Hartford, after which the couple left for Virginia. For traveling, Mrs. Clark wore a beige pantsuit. The couple will reside in Durham.

Mr. Fitzpatrick is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Fitzpatrick of Harrisburg. The bride-elect was graduated from East Catholic High School in 1973 and from Mount Saint Mary's College in Emmitsburg, Md., in 1977.

Her fiancé was graduated from Mount Saint Mary's College in 1976 and is employed in the Department of Physiology at Harrisburg Hospital, Harrisburg. The couple is planning a spring 1978 wedding. (Nassiff photo)

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Watch high cholesterol

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have high cholesterol, 336, and was given no medication. I have since heard that lecithin is sometimes prescribed for this condition. Is this a harmless medication? Would you recommend it for this condition?

DEAR READER - It is both harmless and useless. Your digestive system will digest the lecithin before it ever gets through to the intestinal wall into your blood stream.

If you were choline deficient the resulting choline could be used by your liver to manufacture the lecithin that is in your blood stream. The chances are that if you are eating anything like a normal diet you will already be getting plenty of choline.

If your cholesterol is persistently that high you do need to make some changes. Your doctor may not have wanted to do anything about it because you are a woman and women are less prone to heart attacks and fatty-cholesterol deposits than men - until a few years after the menopause. But I think it would be a good idea not to let you run that risk.

Your first step would be to reduce, if you have any tendency to be overweight, and go on a low-fat low-cholesterol diet. I am sending you two issues of The Health Letter that can help you, number 1-3, Diet, Preventing Atherosclerosis, and number 4-7, Weight Losing Diet. Others who want either can send 50 cents for each plus a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing to P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. If these measures are not successful then your doctor may want to consider medicine but it is proper to try to adjust your living habits first.

You should also try to increase your physical activity if you are not already fairly active. That will also help you with your weight control diet. While I am in favor of the low-fat low-cholesterol diets for this purpose I should add that no diet is successful in this regard unless excess body fat is eliminated.

Social Security

Q. I have a wife and two minor children. I understand they will also be entitled to Social Security benefits if I retire this year. Will this reduce my check?

A. No. Each of them is entitled to an amount equal to 50 per cent of your Social Security payment, up to the family maximum. Your wife and children's payments may be proportionately reduced to fall within the family maximum, but not yours.

Q. I'm a painter, but I only work from November to about March. Can I get checks during those months even though this is my regular work schedule and I'm not really what you would call retired?

A. Even if your earnings exceed $3,000 for the year, you can still get your full monthly payment for any month you don't earn over $250 and don't do substantial work in your own business.

Q. If I earn over the limit, will this affect my wife's Social Security check also?

A. Yes, if she is receiving her check as your wife based on your work record.

Q. How much work do I need to do under Social Security? I'll be 62 this year and plan to retire this year.

A. You need 8 1/2 years of work covered by Social Security.

Enjoys restoration

While the garage is smaller than at their former home on Avery St. in South Windsor, Frank says the yard area is tremendous and he can always add to a couple more garage stalls if needed.

The Findlays have four children: Craig, Jayson and Melony at home, and a married son, Mark, who lives in Vernon.

It gets 18 miles to the gallon," Frank said proudly. "I took the car to Pennsylvania for a show recently and the only problem was a flat tire. It has taken first place and two third places in competition."

Incidentally, the Horseless Carriage Club meets the third Saturday of each month at 6 p.m. at the Elks Club on Bissell St. and Frank says one doesn't have to own an old car to be eligible for membership.

Frank contends that people interested in collecting cars needn't feel that they have to travel to old farms in Maine and Vermont to make a find.

Looking at the nifty beach wagon, and reminiscing to "the good old days" I asked Loraine if she ever drove that car.

Corcoran-Lefebvre

Mrs. Thomas K. Corcoran Jr.

Joan Carol Peila and Dennis Michael Moran, both of West Springfield, Mass. were married July 30 at Second Congregational Church chapel in Manchester.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Peila Sr. of 359 Bidwell St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Moran of West Springfield.

Dr. James MacLaughlin of Second Congregational Church officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Herbert Chatzky, church organist, played for the service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory organza over tulle with scoop neckline, accented with pearl buttons, long lace sleeves, and ruffled hemline. She wore a matching picture hat and carried a bouquet of white carnations, strawflowers and baby's breath.

Ms. Marjorie Peila of Norwich was her sister's maid of honor.

Roger Beaulieu of West Springfield, Mass., the bridegroom's brother-in-law, served as best man.

A reception was held at the Podunk Mill Tavern in South Windsor, after which the couple left for Vermont. For traveling, Mrs. Moran wore a Kelly green knit dress with print scarf and beige accessories. They will reside in Greensboro, N.C.

Mrs. Moran is an instructor in Child Development and Family Relations and the director of the Carter Child Study Center at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. Mr. Moran, a veteran of the U.S. Navy, is an electrical salesman.

O'Neill-Pickens Sarah Jane Pickens and David Patrick O'Neill, both of Alameda, Calif., were united in marriage on June 25 at Twin Towers Unit Methodist Church in Alameda.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Pickens of Manchester. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bernard N. O'Neill of San Leandro, Calif.

The Rev. J. Donald Zerbe performed the double ring ceremony. More than 125 guests attended.

L. Connie L. Pickens of Oxnard, Calif., was her sister's maid of honor. Mrs. Maureen Wheat of Alameda was bridesmaid.

Frank Wheat of Alameda was best man and Robert Silver, also of Alameda, was usher.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. A reception was held at the Commissioned Officers' Club, Naval Air Station in Alameda.

Mrs. O'Neill recently resigned her job as flight attendant with World Airways in Oakland, Calif. Mr. O'Neill is a sergeant with the Alameda Police Department.

Five in family earn M.A. degree

A former Manchester family has proved that education pays off and it's never too late to give it a try.

Col. Charles A. Pinney, a native of Manchester and now executive vice-president of the Hermosa (Calif.) Chamber of Commerce, and his wife, Miriam, along with two daughters, Gayle and Ann, and son, Chuck Jr., all have received master's degrees.

Col. Pinney, after retirement from the U.S. Air Force, returned to college at CSU at Northridge, Calif., earning a B.A. in political science in 1968 and an M.A. in public administration in 1970.

His wife, also returned to the campus in 1969, earning a B.A. degree in 1971 and an M.A. in 1972 from New Mexico State University.

His daughter, Ann, also graduated from New Mexico State University, receiving a B.A. degree in 1973 and her M.A. in 1974. Both Ann and her mother chose psychology for their field of study.

Another daughter, Gayle, received her B.S. in biology from the University of New Mexico in 1968 and a graduate degree in occupational therapy from Texas Women's College at Denton in 1970.

The newest recipient of a master's is Chuck Pinney Jr., who recently received an M.S. degree in aeronautical engineering from California Institute of Technology.

An honors graduate of the U.S. Air Force Academy, class of 1975, he received a Guggenheim Fellowship for graduate study at CIT. He has been assigned to the U.S. Air Force Armament Laboratory at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

Summing up the family's scholastic accomplishments, Mrs. Pinney said, "This kind of wraps it up for dad and me. We just managed to get our master's degrees before the children obtained theirs. It wasn't easy, but highly rewarding in terms of personal satisfaction—not to mention a great sense of relief."

"I would like to pass on one thought to other parents who may be considering a return to school for themselves. That is, that we feel strongly that the constant study my husband and I devoted toward our degrees created a home environment which influenced the attitudes and study habits of our children. They accepted school and study as a way of life; education became a family project and the degrees just evolved naturally as a matter of course."

Col. Pinney's sister, Mrs. Flavia Dutchin resides at 56 Doughtery St.

Zahner's opens in new Rockville site

Zahner's Men's Shop opened Monday in larger quarters on Main St. in Rockville where the Grant's store was located.

According to the Zahner family, in spite of opportunities to move the business elsewhere, they decided to stay in Rockville and work to bring the central business area back to life.

The move will nearly double the selling space of the store and will allow expansion of several departments.

Edward and Emanuel Zahner have been involved in the Rockville community for more than 60 years. Their sons, Craig, Curt, and Scott plan to keep the business in the area for a long time to come, the family said.

"We're committed to staying. We hope it's the beginning of a trend among our business community," Scott Zahner said.

Designer for Cheney

Cheney Brothers, Inc. has recently employed Miss Cameron Taylor as a stylist and designer in its Jacquard Division.

Miss Taylor was born and raised in central California, where she attended and received her B.A. degree from the University of California at Berkeley, majoring in both designing and liberal arts. Miss Taylor continued her studies at the Philadelphia College of Textiles and Science, receiving her B.S. degree in textile design in May of 1977.

Miss Taylor's duties at Cheney Brothers, Inc. will be creating new and artistic designs in the field of jacquard upholstery, which Cheney's has manufactured for a great many years in the Manchester Mills.

Officials at Cheney's have expressed confidence in Miss Taylor's ability to create new and better designs for the Jacquard Division, so that Cheney's will be able to meet the demands of the industry.

Lois S. Barlow

Director

Mrs. Lois S. Barlow has been elected to serve a three-year term on the board of directors of People's Savings Bank, according to Frederick S. Winkley, president of the Rockville-based bank.

Born and raised in Hartford, Mrs. Barlow is office manager at Barlow Motor Sales, Rockville. She graduated from Hartford Hospital School of Nursing and still remains active in the medical field as medical history nurse for the American Red Cross Blood Program and as a member of the Board of Directors of the Nathan Hale branch as Nursing Service Representative.

Mrs. Barlow is also a member of the Tolland Library Association, Tolland Historical Society, and serves on the Board of Deacons of the United Congregational Church of Tolland.

Winkley also announced the re-election of the following officers for the forthcoming year: Frederick S. Winkley, president and treasurer; Malcolm M. Thompson, vice president; John S. Mason, vice president; J. Robert Lessard, secretary and assistant treasurer; and Frank J. Jaworski, assistant secretary.

In new post

Diane Dearington, a native of Manchester, Conn., has been named marketing assistant for Bromley Ski Area in Manchester, Vt. It was announced by Bob Paron, vice president and general manager.

A former University of New Hampshire student who completed a one-year secretarial course at Katherine Gibbs School in Boston, she has held a variety of positions at Bromley since joining the staff in 1970. For the past four years she has been group sales coordinator and executive assistant to Paron.

In her new position, she will assist in handling advertising as well as public affairs and publicity programs for Bromley.

Your neighbor's kitchen

By BETTY RYDER

Take a break from cleaning chores — be sociable!

Invite a few of your closest friends for a luncheon that's as easy to do as it's pretty. A cool soup and an open-faced sandwich go on a single plate. Your beverage may be either hot or cold.

Let the pastel shades of green reflect the season in a delightful Potato-Pea Soup, prepared with a base of chicken broth and milk plus quickly cooked potatoes and frozen green peas.

The open-faced sandwiches are inspired by what the Danes call smørrebrød; in fact, they are considered the national dish. These are not so much a sandwich as they are a meal on bread. It is always covered with butter, in this case seasoned with a spicy mustard and a smidgeon of onion.

Danish Sandwiches

(12 open-faced sandwiches)

- Mustard Butter:
 3/4 cup (1-1/2 sticks) butter
 2 tbs. spicy brown mustard
 1 tbs. finely grated onion
- Sandwiches:
 6 slices whole wheat bread, crusts removed
 6 slices rye bread
 Lettuce
 12 slices corned beef
 6 slices Swiss cheese
 12 sliced tomatoes
 Sliced radishes
 6 slices Colby cheese
 6 slices baked or boiled ham
 6 green onions
 6 ripe pitted olives
- For mustard butter, cream butter until light and fluffy. Stir in mustard and onion.
- To assemble sandwiches, spread mustard butter generously on whole wheat and rye bread. On each slice buttered rye bread, place lettuce, 2 slices corned beef, 1 slice of Swiss cheese, cut in half, 1 tomato slice and 3 radish slices.

On each slice buttered whole wheat bread, place lettuce, 1 slice of Colby cheese, cut diagonally and 1 slice of ham rolled around 1 green onion. Garnish with olive secured with wooden pick. Serve 1 of each sandwich for each serving.

Chilled Potato-Pea Soup

(Yield: 5 3/4 cups)

- 2 tbs. butter
 1/2 cup chopped green onion with tops
 1 can (10 3/4 oz.) condensed chicken broth
 2 cups pared cubed potatoes
 1 package (10 oz.) frozen peas
 2 1/2 cups milk
 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
 2 tbs. lemon juice
 1/4 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. dill
- Melt butter; add onion and saute. Add chicken broth and potatoes. Cover; bring to a boil. Simmer 10 to 15 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Add peas, cook 5 minutes. Cool slightly. Puree in blender. Stir in milk, lemon peel, lemon juice, salt and dill. Cover and chill. Serve with sour cream and sprigs of fresh dill, if desired.

Another cooling entree was given to me by Barbara Richmond of The Herald staff. Her daughter, Mrs. Barbara Mattes of Sea Cliff, L.I., N.Y., had prepared it recently and our staffer says it's delicious.

Turkey Salad à la Suisse

- 4 cups, skinless, boneless turkey meat cut into small pieces
 1 egg yolk
 1 tsp. Dijon-type mustard
 Juice of one-half lemon
 Salt to taste

Soup and Danish sandwiches

- 1 tbs. drained green peppercorns or fresh ground pepper to taste
 1 cup corn or vegetable oil
 1 cup diced celery
 1 1/2 cups peeled and diced apple
 1/2 cup walnut pieces
 2 tbs. finely chopped parsley

Prepare meat and set aside. Place the egg yolk in a mixing bowl and add the mustard, lemon juice, salt and pepper. Add oil gradually, stirring rapidly with a wire whisk. When blended and smooth, add remaining ingredients and fold in turkey. Serve on lettuce leaf.

On second thought

By Jan Warren

The A, B, Cs of artichoke eating

I don't know how my husband and I could have spent 14 years as members of hard-eating gourmet club without becoming involved with an artichoke...but we did.

Oh, we ate artichoke hearts, the kind that come neatly packed in a jar, but the whole artichoke in all its leafy splendor never once appeared on our table.

Down here in Mississippi, artichokes abound, and are stacked in great green pyramids in the grocery stores. Yesterday in an effort to cultivate the family's taste buds, I came home with six of them.

"Dum de dum," I sang happily as I thumbed through Julia Child looking for a recipe.

"Dum de dum," I sang later as I placed a perfectly steamed artichoke before each person at the table.

My family reacted exactly as I expected. First they looked at the artichoke in stunned silence. Then they rebelled.

"What is this thing on my plate?" said Tom.

"You've got to be kidding!" said Sara.

"Gross!" chorused Kate and John. My husband poked the artichoke tentatively with his fork. "Well! What have we here?" he said with forced cheerfulness.

"This is an artichoke," I began. "A-R-T-I-C-H-O-K-E. The cookbook says that it is derived from the cardoon, was cultivated in France in the 16th century, and that Rabelais described it as a "dish fit for a wedding banquet."

"How do you suggest we attack this banquet?" asked my husband. "From the top down or the bottom up?"

"Watch me," I said, rather enjoying the little furor my gourmet dish was causing. "Pull off a leaf. Dip it in the melted butter. Then...and this is the tricky part...run the leaf between your teeth and extract the pulp."

I demonstrated, making a satisfied smacking sound.

Sara rolled her eyes to the ceiling and sighed. "Okay," she said, "let's get this over with."

We all concentrated on our artichokes till John broke the silence.

"Help! I'm choking on my artichoke. I'm CHOK...ing, get the pun?" he said looking for approval.

Eventually we were finished and the discarded leaves sat in heaps on our plates.

"Now wasn't that more exciting than eating string beans?" I asked.

"It certainly was exciting," agreed John. "We've been eating for 10 minutes and look," he said pointing at the mountain of leaves on his plate. "There's more artichoke here now than there was when we started."

MANCHESTER
COLLEGE

Community Services

Fall, 1977

Life-long learning in an environment that is comfortable for everyone

Manchester Community College

... serving people of all ages and interests

Manchester Community College was founded in 1963. For two years it was administered and funded by the Board of Education of the Town of Manchester. When the Connecticut Regional Community College System was formed in 1965, MCC was one of the first two institutions to be incorporated into the system. Since that time, it has been funded by the State of Connecticut and administered by the Board of Trustees of Regional Community Colleges. Today, MCC serves more students and offers a greater variety of programs than any other community college in the state.

MCC is a two-year, non-residential college offering a wide range of liberal arts, general studies and career programs that are supported by state funds. Under its Division of Community Services, the college also offers a rapidly increasing number of self-supporting, special interest courses and a variety of non-academic programs that are of social, cultural and recreational benefit to the community.

Manchester Community College is accredited by the Connecticut Commission for Higher Education and is a member, with full accreditation, of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges. It also holds membership in the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges.

In its educational programs and activities, Manchester Community College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, political beliefs, national origin, physical handicap, criminal record, sex, ancestry or age.

The region MCC is chartered to serve includes these fourteen towns: Manchester, East Hartford, Glastonbury, Bolton, Coventry, Andover, Marlborough, Hebron, Tolland, Vernon, South Windsor, Mansfield, Columbia and Willington.

Although its primary mission is to serve the fourteen-town region, unique and outstanding programs at MCC attract students from a much larger area. Today's student body includes students from more than 100 Connecticut towns, from all of the New England states plus New York and New Jersey, and from such foreign countries as Peru, Columbia, Jamaica, Malaysia, Nigeria, Lebanon and Japan.

This year, more than 6,500 students are enrolled at Manchester Community College. Of these, approximately 2,200 are full-time students enrolled for 12 or more semester hours, 2,200 are part-time and nearly 1,600 are enrolled in special interest Community Services courses. Another 500 people are enrolled in special, off-campus programs.

Classes at MCC often contain a mixture of students ranging in age from high school seniors to retirees.

All ages are represented, including youngsters in a special "Typing for Pre-teens" class, high school students earning college credit by special arrangement with their high schools, traditional college-age people, working men and women, and a small but growing number of retirees. Today, there are more than a dozen MCC students who have passed the age of sixty-two years. The informality at MCC and the easy accessibility of the faculty makes learning a comfortable and rewarding experience for virtually everyone.

The college reserves the right to make necessary changes in any of the information published in this catalogue. Fees are subject to change by action of the Board of Trustees.

COMMUNITY SERVICES DIVISION

The Manchester Community College Division of Community Services was established in 1972 to respond to the educational needs of the communities in the region served by the college. Both credit and non-credit courses are offered.

Credit courses are given at times and locations, or in modes or subjects, which are non-traditional, thereby enabling a variety of people who would otherwise be unable to do so to enroll in college courses for credit. Community services students include employed adults, mature individuals who want to explore college for the first time or return to college, people interested in career changes or enhancement, and "college-age" young adults whose schedules do not allow them to take regular weekday classes.

To meet the cultural, personal and vocational needs of people of varying ages and interests, the division also offers a wide selection of non-credit courses.

Through the Community Services Division, MCC offers an extensive number of continuing education programs and services for agencies, organizations, businesses and other special populations. Funded primarily through contractual arrangements or state and federal grants, these programs supplement the fee-supported programs open to the general public. Content, schedules and locations of education and training programs are made to accommodate the needs of participating groups. Program coordinators are available for consultation in two major areas: Human Services and Business and Industry Programs. Existing courses and programs can be altered, or new ones developed, to meet the continuing education needs of agencies, organizations and businesses in the Greater Manchester Area.

Who are the participants in these programs? They are patient advocates for nursing homes, Title XX providers of social services, foremen in small manufacturing companies, apprentices at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Group and a variety of other groups and organizations interested in continuing education.

Program areas range from mini-courses in basic writing, speaking and communication skills to extensive programs combining company-sponsored training and college courses which together lead toward an associate degree. Your agency, organization or business can become involved in the life-long learning process by contacting the Community Services Division of MCC.

STUDENT SERVICES AND FINANCIAL AID

Persons enrolled in campus classroom courses are encouraged to participate in the many and varied college services and student activities. A $15.00 college service fee and a $5.00 student activity fee will be charged to all students enrolled in campus classroom credit courses. Students enrolled for 12 or more semester hours pay a $28.00 college service fee and a $10.00 student activity fee.

Students using the campus parking lots are required to secure parking stickers from the security office on the main campus. A student ID card may also be obtained from the security office.

The college's staff of professional counselors is available to discuss with students their special academic and vocational objectives and to help plan a program of study that will meet individual goals as completely as possible. The counseling office is in the administration building on the main campus. For an appointment, call 646-4900, ext. 221.

Limited financial aid is available for students enrolling in both credit and non-credit courses. Applications should be made well in advance of registration deadlines. Call the financial aid officer in the administration building on the main campus (phone 646-4900, ext. 293) or make an appointment to see her.

Credit Courses

The credit courses listed here include on-campus courses for those who cannot be accommodated by regular class schedules, special interest courses and programs, weekend courses, off-campus courses and convenience courses offered through correspondence, local newspapers and television. They are offered by the Community Services Division on an instructional fee supported basis (not supported by state appropriations) and are, therefore, subject to minimum enrollments. These courses carry the same college credits as regular college courses of instruction and may be applied to appropriate degree or certificate programs offered at MCC.

Students are advised to note those course descriptions which list prerequisites. Enrollment in a course for which one has an inappropriate background can lead to needless frustrations and possible withdrawal or failure.

The math placement exam or completion of Math 100 are prerequisites for several math courses and the college chemistry course. If you have met neither requirement, contact the Director of the Division of Math, Science and Allied Health (646-4900, extension 230).

For information about any community services credit course, call 646-2137.

DATES

Classes begin: September 9-15, 1977
Classes end: January 3-8, 1978
Final exams: January 9-15, 1978
No classes held: October 10; November 8, 11, 23-27; December 24-31; January 1, 2

Evening classes constitute a large part of the class schedule and appeal especially to working adults.

M.C.C. Weekend College

All across the United States, thousands of people whose personal, family or employment commitments have prevented them from pursuing or completing a college degree have found that weekend college programs provide a practical and convenient way to obtain a college education.

Weekend classes are not new at Manchester Community College. For the past few years, several hundred students have enrolled in weekend classes each semester. Starting with the Fall, 1977, semester, students will have a new and unique opportunity — a Weekend College. Students will be able to complete an entire degree program through weekend classes.

Weekend courses are scheduled in five time periods: Friday evenings, Saturday mornings, Saturday afternoons, Sunday mornings and Sunday afternoons. Students may take as many as five courses each semester.

A master schedule for four semesters, which will repeat every two years, has been developed to enable students to plan their programs of study. Included in this master schedule are all the courses necessary to complete all requirements for the Associate in Science degrees in Business Administration, General Studies or Liberal Arts and Sciences. A high percentage of the requirements in most other degree programs available at MCC may also be completed through the Weekend College. Semesters generally consist of 15 weekends (Fall, early September through mid-January; Spring, late January through late May).

You may receive a copy of the master schedule of weekend classes, a complete list of degree requirements for the Associate of Science degrees mentioned above, and information about application for admission to degree student status by writing to the Community Services Division, Manchester Community College, P.O. Box 1046, Manchester, Connecticut 06040, or by calling 646-2137.

Convenience Courses

Courses offered by correspondence, newspaper and television are "convenience" courses which may meet the needs of the student who is interested in a particular subject area, cannot attend classroom courses on a regular basis, or prefers to work at his or her own pace, and is able to work independently. Each course carries three college credits which may be applied to MCC degree programs.

Students who enroll are required to attend an orientation meeting and mid-semester and final examination sessions. Seminar-review sessions will be held on Saturdays on the MCC campus. Special arrangements will be made for handicapped or institutionalized students who are unable to come to the campus. Students will have the opportunity to confer with the instructor in person or by telephone.

Television

In cooperation with Connecticut Public Television, four courses will be offered for college credit. Programs will be broadcast on CPTV Channels 24, 49, 53, 61 and 65. "Developmental Psychology" (child development), "Earth, Sea and Sky" and "Family Risk Management" have 30 half-hour programs. Two are broadcast weekly for 15 weeks. "The Age of Uncertainty" has a single one-hour program each week for 12 weeks. The 13th program is 90 minutes. Convenient repeat broadcasts are scheduled for all programs.

In addition to viewing telecasts and attending the required campus meetings, students will be expected to complete readings and other projects or papers as assigned by MCC instructors. Required textbooks and study guides can be purchased from the MCC book store on the main campus.

Newspaper

The course by newspaper for the fall is "Crime and Justice in America." There are three components: (1) a series of 15 articles that appear in newspapers; (2) a course "Reader and Study Guide" that is available at moderate cost; and (3) campus meetings (orientation, two seminar-reviews and two examinations).

The articles will be published by the following newspapers:

Manchester Evening Herald — Saturdays, beginning on September 10
Willimantic Chronicle — Saturdays, beginning on September 10
Tri-Town Reporter — Sundays, beginning on September 11

Special Interest Courses

Self-supporting credit courses in special interest areas are offered to supplement the basic program of the college. Included in these special interest areas are real estate, gerontology, emergency medical training, secretarial science, lettering and sign painting, aviation, speed reading and psychology.

Real Estate

MCC offers courses required for preparation, for salesperson's licensure and the broker's licensure. The courses offered this semester are real estate principles and practices, appraisal, and problems in real estate brokerages.

Off-Campus Courses

Each year, more students are attending off-campus courses. They are attracted to the once-a-week class scheduling and the convenient locations. College credit courses are offered on a continuing basis at East Hartford High School, South Windsor High School and Vernon Center Middle School. These courses are offered in cooperation with the adult education programs in East Hartford and South Windsor and the Board of Education in Vernon.

In each of these locations, a schedule of evening classes is provided on a five-semester, repeating cycle. These offerings enable persons to satisfy total degree requirements for the MCC general studies program. They also allow students to meet a high percentage of the requirements of over 30 other transfer and career programs.

Further information about the long-range scheduling of MCC courses at off-campus sites may be obtained by requesting an Off-Campus Master Schedule from the Community Services Division.

There are three alternative programs available to real estate practitioners who are seeking to increase and broaden their knowledge of the real estate profession. The programs are: (1) a series of non-credit continuing education courses; (2) a one-year real estate certificate; and (3) a two-year career program in business administration with a real estate option which leads to the degree of Associate in Science. The certificate and degree programs may be pursued on a full-time or a part-time basis. For further information regarding real estate programs, contact the Community Services Division, Office of the Coordinator of Real Estate Education, 646-2137.

Gerontology

The gerontology courses are planned primarily for persons already working with the elderly in convalescent homes and other institutions, for those working in various outreach programs and for others in community organizations. However, anyone interested in the problems of the elderly may enroll in these courses, including students in regular degree programs at Manchester Community College.

There are three gerontology courses offered through the Community Services Division this fall: Introduction to gerontology, aging in the community, and reality orientation. The first two are listed as special interest courses; the latter is listed in the off-campus class schedule.

Health Science 201 Pharmacology (listed as a special interest course) should also be considered by those working with the institutionalized elderly.

AVT Secretarial Science

Eight secretarial science courses are offered for the beginning and advanced student in typewriting, shorthand, stenograph and machine transcription. These courses offer the convenience of scheduling and the personalized instruction of audio-visual-tutorial (AVT) instruction.

AVT instruction is a supervised method of teaching for which equipment and materials are provided for independent study. These have been placed in room 108 at the Hartford Road campus. The AVT secretarial science lab is open Monday through Thursday, from 8:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m., and Saturday, from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

A student may go to the lab as often as he or she wishes and can stay as long as his or her schedule allows, thereby setting his or her own learning pace. The instructor does not hold formal class meetings, but is available for consultation and becomes, practically, a private tutor for each student.

Aviation

To meet an expanding interest in private aviation, two courses are being introduced this fall: aerospace science and private flight training. Both are offered in cooperation with Ellington Airport and are listed in the "off-campus" section of the credit schedule.

Emergency Medical Technology

MCC offers two beginning level courses in Emergency Medical Technology. Students who complete both courses are prepared to take the state examination for emergency medical technicians. Both courses are offered on a "twin-section" basis, allowing students with rotating work assignments to attend either section.

As an update for emergency medical technicians, a new one-credit course is being offered. It will consider recent topics and development in EMT.

Health Science 201 Pharmacology (listed as a special interest course) may be of interest to EMT's.

Credit Course Descriptions

Accounting 101 (Items 604, 656) 4 SH
PRINCIPLES OF ACCOUNTING I
Accounting theory, applicable to single proprietorships, and the successive steps in the accounting cycle.

Accounting 102 (Items 605, 667) 4 SH
PRINCIPLES OF ACCOUNTING II
An introduction to accounting theory applicable to partnerships and corporations.
Prerequisite: Accounting 101

Anthropology 101 (Items 606, 680) 3 SH
INTRODUCTION TO ANTHROPOLOGY
Discusses both physical anthropology — mechanisms and fossil evidence for hominid biological evolution — and cultural anthropology — Homo sapiens' cultural adaptation to his physical, biotal and social environment.

REFUND POLICY

In the event that a community services course is canceled by the college, students will receive a full refund of all fees. A student who withdraws from a course prior to the first scheduled meeting will receive a full refund of fees, provided a written request for refund has been received by the office of the associate dean of community services not later than 4:00 p.m. on the day preceding that on which the first meeting is scheduled (requests must be received by 4:00 p.m. Friday for courses whose first meeting is on Saturday, Sunday or Monday). Ordinarily, no refunds will be made after that time. Any requests for exceptions to this policy must be submitted in writing to the associate dean of community services with a detailed description of the circumstances which might warrant such an exception. Allow at least 30 days for payment of refunds to be made.

Non-Credit Courses

Learning for advancement, enrichment, profit, career development... or because you enjoy it.

Does this sound like a student's dream: no grades, no exams, learning from stimulating teachers about those things that really interest you without being forced to labor through material simply because "it is required?" Perhaps it does, but classes in which nearly all students truly want to learn and where teenager, senior citizen, and men and women of ages in between are equally enthusiastic, are what teachers dream about, too.

The substance of such dreams is more fact than fantasy in MCC's non-credit program. Recognizing that learning is a life-long need that occurs at different times and for different reasons, the non-credit program attempts to provide an increasing number of opportunities for such learning to take place in an efficient manner where most of the distractions of "formal education" have been removed.

More than 1500 people completed non-credit courses at MCC last year. Some acquired new skills to use in obtaining a job or improving their performance in their present work. Others acquired skills to more creatively use leisure time. While some people sought to learn things consistent with their long-range goals, others sought to learn how to help themselves through the personal crises which they faced because of a recent marital breakup or the imminent death of a family member with a terminal illness. Some people had several needs to meet at one time, and still others simply wanted to "learn about something new."

Most people who have taken non-credit courses at MCC have done so without regard to what their level of formal education has been. More important than the fact that a person who dropped out of high school years ago might be in the same class sitting next to someone with several graduate degrees is the fact that they shared a common desire to learn about the same thing.

Although the "iodine" theory of education (unless it hurts, it can't be very effective) has all too often turned people away from trying to learn something new, others are discovering that learning does not have to be painful. It may not be a very profound discovery that a stimulating class is a lot more satisfying than another evening in front of the television set, or that the cost of taking a course makes it a very inexpensive kind of diversion. It is one of life's finer moments when one learns what a pleasure learning can be.

You are invited to browse through the descriptions of the non-credit courses which will be offered during the 1977 fall semester. If there is something of interest, you are invited to register at your convenience. If your particular interests are not represented, please contact the non-credit office of the Community Services Division of Manchester Community College (646-2137) so that they may be considered in future programming.

Registration

Students may register either by mail or in person. Mail registrations must be received at least three days before the scheduled starting date of any course in order to insure either admission to the course or notification that admission is not possible, and the college reserves the right to cancel any course in which enrollment is insufficient.

IN-PERSON registration: Students may register in person at the registrar's office, administration building, main campus, on the following days and times:

August 22, 23, 24: 9:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon, 4:00 p.m. - 7:00 p.m.

September 3, 10: 9:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon
September 6: 2:00 p.m. - 7:00 p.m.

Non-Credit Course Fees

Fees for non-credit courses vary depending on individual courses and are indicated in the course descriptions of each non-credit course.

Continuing Education Unit

Continuing Education Unit (CEU) is a nationally recognized, standard reporting measure for continuing education activities. One CEU will be awarded for each 10 hours of organized instruction. A permanent record file will be established for each student enrolled in non-credit courses. Transcripts will be provided upon request.

Manchester Community College

... serving the community with a variety of programs and services

In addition to fulfilling its academic mission, Manchester Community College offers programs and activities that are open to the public. You are encouraged to attend and participate in any of these cultural, recreational and public service offerings and, if your particular special interest is not listed here, we welcome your suggestions. For information concerning any MCC community programs, please call 646-2137.

DINNERS: International dinners featuring the cuisine of many foreign countries are offered on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the Student Center building on the MCC campus. You have the opportunity to enjoy representative cooking from Greece, Italy, Germany, India and other parts of the world carefully prepared and properly served by students in the MCC Hotel-Motel and Food Service Management program. Students in the Cook and Baker training program prepare and serve dinners with varied menu offerings on Friday evenings. On both programs, complete dinners cost $4.50. You are invited to bring your favorite wine. Serving begins promptly at 6 p.m. Lunches costing $2 are served on Tuesdays and Thursdays at noon, and breakfast is offered for $1 on Monday mornings.

For dinner reservations and menus for the fall semester, call 646-4900, Ext. 205.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT MOVIES: On Wednesday evenings, movies are offered in the auditorium on the MCC main campus. Included during the fall semester will be such films as "Taxi Driver" (9/7), "Rocky" (9/28), "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" (10/5), "Murder By Death" (10/19), "Network" (11/6) and "Tommy" (11/30). Admission for most films is $1, slightly more for some. In most local papers, the college calendar and entertainment listings will carry each week's movie offering.

THEATER: Each year, MCC offers a variety of theater fare including classics and experimental work as well as popular vehicles. One major production will be presented during the fall semester and two in the spring semester. Casts are selected through open auditions and include both MCC students and community people. You have the opportunity to enjoy good live theater for less than the cost of a first-run movie. A night of improvisation and a play produced and directed by students will also be offered during the year. Watch your local papers for specific dates, times and productions.

CONCERTS: Music lovers will find programs that appeal to a variety of tastes at Manchester Community College. Jazz, folk, contemporary and classical programs are offered at various times of the year and most are open to the public. For specific dates and times, watch the college calendar and entertainment listings in most local papers.

STAIRWELL GALLERY: The Stairwell Gallery, located just inside the main entrance to the Hartford Road building, houses frequent exhibitions of art created by students and professional artists. From Sept. 16 to Oct. 7, paintings by Margaret Mead Bailey and relief sculpture by Richard Olson will be on display. Others to follow are: October 14 - November 4, paintings, water colors and drawings by Kitty Winston; November 11 - December 2, works by Bob Dente; December 9 - January 23, MCC student art exhibition and music program. Admission to all of these programs is free of charge.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS: The college athletic program offers the general public the opportunity to view top-level men's and women's intercollegiate competition in baseball, basketball, softball, volleyball and soccer. Competition against rival schools in the Connecticut Community College Athletic Association as well as schools in other leagues is scheduled for the coming season. Home basketball games are played at East Catholic High School. The baseball games are played at Mt. Nebo field in Manchester. Home soccer games are played at Cougar Field on the college's main campus near Wetherell Street. Admission is free and a schedule of games to be played may be obtained by calling 646-4900, extension 245.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE GAMES: MCC's Hartford Road building is the site of weekly duplicate bridge games that are open to the public. The Novice Game on Friday evenings at 7:45 p.m. offers the opportunity to improve your skills while learning what the excitement of duplicate bridge is all about by playing with other novice players. Come with or without a partner. Open to players with 0 to 20 master points. Admission is $1.50. Location: H-103.

The Manchester Bridge Club meets Friday evenings at 7:45 p.m. The oldest duplicate bridge club "east of the river" has joined Manchester Community College to provide the best in competition along with a friendly atmosphere. All players are welcome. Admission for regular events is $2.00. Location: H-102.

The Manchester Community College Bridge Club plays Saturday afternoons at 1:00 p.m. For the progressive player, this game offers congeniality, good competition and pleasant surroundings. Open to all players. Admission is $2.00. Location: H-102.

SPEAKER SERIES: Under the sponsorship of several MCC organizations, speakers on various subjects of interest are presented. Among those who will appear during the fall semester are Julian Bond and hypnotist James Mapes. The public is invited to attend. For most programs in the series, admission is free. Local papers will carry details about each program.

THE WOMEN'S CENTER at MCC provides programs, workshops, counseling services and resource materials concerning the problems of women in society.

THE VETERANS AFFAIRS OFFICE offers educational and personal counseling and assistance in applying for veterans' benefits.

THE INSTITUTE OF LOCAL HISTORY fosters an interest in gathering, preserving and disseminating local history and to act as a resource and service center for interested individuals, societies and groups.

THE SPEAKERS BUREAU provides qualified speakers on a wide range of general, topical, academic and cultural subjects. Speakers do not require honoraria but do receive reimbursement for expenses.

THE VOLUNTARY ACTION PROGRAM acts as a liaison between agencies requiring volunteer help and individuals interested in serving others. VAP works with agencies and community organizations providing youth services, tutoring, big brothers, and assistance for the handicapped.

Donatelli challenges Blackstone — again

By MAL BARLOW
East Hartford Reporter

"It's time for the pendulum to swing over to the Republicans," said Anthony Donatelli Tuesday night after the Republicans of East Hartford nominated him for his third consecutive try for the mayor's job.

No one opposed Donatelli for the job of challenging Democrat Richard Blackstone who is now completing his fourth two-year term.

The Democrats caucus tonight at 8 p.m. at the Common Pleas Court on Tolland St. They are expected to nominate Blackstone to run for his fifth term.

Donatelli said he has gotten much closer to Blackstone in the last two campaigns.

"Now I think I can catch him," the 66-year-old retired service station operator said.

The vote in 1973 was Blackstone, 8,860, to Donatelli's 5,496. But in 1975 Blackstone had 8,145 to Donatelli's 6,379.

Donatelli refused to say how he would run his campaign or what tack he would take.

"I'll play it by ear," he said. If elected, he said there would be changes.

"People are asking for changes. The voice of the people must be heard. There's a lot of changes to be made."

GOP Chairman James Mirabile said he has high hopes for the Nov. 8 election.

"Tony knows what to do. He knows where he made mistakes in the past and he won't make them again," Mirabile said.

"The Democrats have a tired administration. They're running all the same people. After four straight terms, they get set in their ways."

"It's time for fresh blood."

Mirabile praised the balanced slate the GOP present the voters.

The GOP candidates are:

- Running for Town Council — Mrs. Esther B. Clarke, John Finnegan and James Cordier, all incumbents, and Robert Ryan, John Grottole Jr. and Walter Forrest.

- For Board of Education — Dr. Richard Veltri, Kenneth Carrier and Joseph Visigilo. Mrs. Elsie Whitford is running for an unexpired term to end in 1979.

- For town treasurer — Robert Damaschi Sr.

- For selectmen — Roger Pelletier and James Trail.

- For constables — Charles Clarke, John Lancaster, Carl E. Carlson and Robert Morelli.

Mrs. Clarke, council minority leader for several terms, said she is now back in full gear. She admitted her duty on the North Central Connecticut Emergency Medical Services Council as its president taxed her. She also helped start the town's paramedic program and devoted much energy to it since it began.

She has been digging into other town business recently, she said. She smiled at the prospects of the fall campaign.

East Hartford bulletin board

Voters register

Recent trends in voter registration in East Hartford show an inclination to stay unaffiliated. In July, for example, of the 60 newly listed voters, 26 signed as Democrats, 9 as Republicans and 25 as unaffiliated with any party.

The ratio of Democrats to unaffiliated to Republicans has been about 4 to 2 to 1 for many years in town.

The exact figures as of July 1 were 16,803 Democrats, 8,447 unaffiliated, and 4,628 Republicans. The total is 29,878.

School posts open

The jobs of principal at the Norris School, supervisor of learning disabilities, speech and hearing, and supervisor of special education have been open this summer in the school system.

Dr. Jerry Marcus, assistant superintendent in charge of personnel, plans to fill them by Sept. 1. He is accepting applications now.

Outing for handicapped

Pup Tent 19, Military Order of Cooties and Auxiliary, will hold its annual outing for handicapped persons at Harkness Memorial Park in Waterford Sunday afternoon, Aug. 14.

The local group, based at the VFW Post Home at 3 Bidwell St., depends on local merchants and businessmen for the hamburgers, hot dogs, sweet corn, watermelon, ice cream, soda and more for the program.

Group wants action to stop big trucks

"Residents are tired of sending letters and making phone calls about the trucks on Prospect St.," said Julia Terrel, a member of a neighborhood action group there.

"We want to see some action on this problem. Speeders should get tickets and through trucks should be stopped from using our street as a cut-through to Rt. 5."

The group met for the first time

July 26 with the help of the East Hartford Citizen Action Group. About 42 residents of the Prospect St. area listed their problems.

Their problems include broken glass at the Center School, thefts, potholes and better street lighting, besides the traffic, said Mrs. Ruth Powell, contact person for the group.

They have issued a mandate to Police Chief Clarence Drumm and Mayor Richard Blackstone. Increase police protection and reduce truck traffic, says the mandate.

The group has invited the two men to their next meeting to be held Tuesday, Sept. 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the Raymond Library.

"At our next meeting, the neighborhood will press for an active response from town officials to all the issues we have raised," said Mrs. Powell.

All residents of the Prospect St. and Governor St. areas are invited to the meeting, she said. To learn more, they can call 289-3282 or 527-7191.

Sunshine Special has a sunny day

Sun shone again on the Sunshine Special run for the 35th year Tuesday by the East Hartford Exchange Club at Martin Park.

John Keithline, a long-time member of the club which formed in 1928, said he can't remember rain falling on the Special—but maybe once.

The Special is a full day of games, prizes, hot dogs, swimming and fun. The club invites as many town children as it can who might not be able to have such a good time otherwise. The town's Welfare Department helps choose the kids.

When the special first got started before World War II, the club invited the children living at the state receiving home in Warehouse Point. They drove them all to Rocky Neck at the shore to spend the day.

During the war, gasoline prices ruled out the trip. So the club members invited the children to Martin Park in East Hartford, Keithline said.

With changing times and needs, the kids invited became local residents. The town's visiting nurses had passed out invitations for the club. Recently the Welfare Department took over for them.

The Park and Recreation Department helps supervise the day.

Tuesday there were about 80 or more kids and about 30 adults working and playing with them. William Dunn, chairman of the Special this year, and club members supplied and cooked the lunch over open fires by the park's picnic area.

Keithline said, "We try to give them a nice day's outing."

The sun shone on the Special until the men had given the last child a ride back home.

Call-A-Ride
For a free, door-to-door ride on East Hartford's Call-A-Ride vehicle, call 528-4411. Those eligible are over age 65 or are handicapped.

Police report

East Hartford

Police arrested three young men at Center Cemetery Tuesday at 9:04 p.m. and charged each with possession of less than four ounces of marijuana.

The three are Kevin J. Breton, 19, of 31 Melrose St., East Hartford, David D. Kenny, 19, and John J. Bixby, 22, both of Hartford.

A patrolman said he saw the trio acting suspiciously at the cemetery. On the patrolman's approach, one threw a packet into the bushes, police said. It turned out to contain "joints," police said.

The three were released on their promises to appear in Common Pleas Court 12 Aug. 15.

A home on Alps Dr. was broken into last week while the family was on vacation. Entry was made through a rear door. Missing is $300 worth of jewelry, liquor and stereo.

McCoy to head Republican slate

Vernon
 Vernon Republicans adopted a slate of candidates for the fall elections at a party caucus Tuesday night. The slate will be headed by former Mayor Frank J. McCoy, the three-term mayor who is seeking the office for the fifth time.
 McCoy will probably run against Democratic Mayor Thomas A. Benoit, who is expected to receive his party's endorsement for a second term Thursday.
 The list of candidates was endorsed by the Republican Town Committee before the caucus which drew about 70 persons.
 The nominees for the town council will include incumbent Morgan L. Campbell, seeking a fifth term; John L. Guilietti, seeking a third term, and Robert Wehrli, seeking a fourth term.
 The other council candidates seeking office for the first time are Carl Anderson, Wayne Besaw, Robert B. Hurde, Jane S. Lamb and Robert Wehrli.
 The Republican candidates endorsed for re-election to the Board of Education are Harold Cummings and Russell McPadden. McPadden is

South Windsor pool reopens Thursday

Worker uses vacuum device to clean pool at South Windsor's Veterans Memorial Park on recent hot day. The pool, closed Tuesday and today due to high acidity in the water, is scheduled to reopen Thursday. Town officials said a change from liquid to gas chlorine caused the problem, and many swimmers complained of a burning sensation in the water. Sodium hydroxide was added to cut the acidity. The pool has had problems throughout this season — with unclear water and with equipment. Last week, three of the pool's six filters broke down. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Workload up 10% for Coventry Police

The Coventry Police Department answered almost 7,000 calls in the past fiscal year, according to the annual report released by Chief Robert Kjelquist. This represented a 10 per cent increase in the workload.
 During the year a patrolman was assigned to make crime prevention surveys of dwellings and commercial establishments to recommend specific steps to improve individual security.
 The Neighborhood Watch Program, which was federally funded, provided crime prevention material to 3,000 homes. About 300 persons toured the department's mobile display.
 The police placed special attention on a crime prevention program for senior citizens which included the distribution of whistles. Kjelquist plans to concentrate on female sexual assault and juvenile delinquency this year.
 Thirteen persons responsible for 138 burglaries were apprehended, breaking a locally based burglary ring that operated throughout Northwestern Connecticut.
 In-service training was initiated for departmental personnel under the auspices of the Connecticut Justice Commission. Lt. Joseph Deslauriers, Patrolman Richard Fedor, and Dispatcher John Culpin received associate degrees from Manchester Community College.

Fuel aid program is ending

HARTFORD (UPI) — A $3-million federal give-away program in Connecticut ends Aug. 31, but only $100,000 has been paid out so far. Officials fear the money will have to go back to the federal government.
 The main reason for the delay in getting the money into the hands of those who need it, according to officials working with the program, is a lack of communication and coordination.
 The money has to be used up by Aug. 31 or it goes back to the federal government.
 Thomas Fitzpatrick, of the Connecticut Department on Planning and Energy Policy, said the federal money is being paid to those who cannot pay fuel bills and those who pay fuel bills but with a great hardship.
 Up to $250 will be paid to a utility company for unpaid bills of those eligible under the program. Up to $50 will also be paid to eligible persons who pay last year's bills but can prove hardship.
 A single person whose income is $10 monthly or less is eligible, regardless of other assets, Fitzpatrick said.
 For each additional person in the same household, the income restrictions increase $100. Therefore, a family of four with a combined income of $600 or less per month is eligible.

Candidates selected in Coventry

By CLAIRE CONNELLY
 Herald Correspondent
 Coventry Democrats and Republicans chose their candidates for the fall municipal election Tuesday night. The Democrats nominated incumbent Mayor Jesse Brainard, incumbent Chairman Jesse Brainard, incumbent members Leonard Giglio and Douglas Whipple, and newcomers Robert Kooztz and Alwin Broderson. James Hackett dropped out of the race for business reasons.
 The Republican candidates for the Board of Education are incumbents Joan Lewis, Vincent Moriarty and Patricia Clark, and newcomer Andre Mermen. Roslyn Kornfeld was nominated from the floor but was not selected.
 The Republicans, in their choices for school board candidates, picked incumbent Suzanne Brainard, Gary Dopsialf and Richard Ashley, and newcomer Priscilla Doyle.
 For the Zoning Board of Appeals, the Democrats nominated John Ryan, Donald Young and Edward Rossiter. The Republicans selected David Larry Knight, Robert Ford Jr. and Roberta Manning Falana.
 The Democratic Nominating Committee, the Democrats named Betsy Paterson and Dandra Marrott. The Republicans picked Ray Mathias, Frederick White and Robert Doggart.

WILLIMANTIC (UPI) — Cases against six newsmen charged with first degree trespassing have been continued for a week.
 Lawyers for the newsmen met with prosecutor Terence Sullivan who then asked for continuance of the case.
 The newsmen were arrested July 18 in the law office of Atty. Herbert Lane. The newsmen went to Lane's office to cover what they believed was a meeting of Lane, the mayor and the Commission Council to discuss the town's budget.
 From figures estimated for the town by past administrators it was thought the town would have about $73,000.
 And with the condition of Bolton roads to consider, the extra $24,000 is a "pleasant surprise."

Hebron Democrats want Reid for a fifth term

By KAREN BISKUPIAK
 Herald Correspondent
 Only 30 residents attended a brief Democratic caucus in Hebron to nominate candidates for the Nov. 8 municipal election.
 Numbered among the candidates are 11 incumbents, which include First Selectman Aaron "Steve" Reid for a fifth term in office. Incumbent Selectman Cynthia Wilson was also nominated for a second term of office, as was Joan Rowley for tax collector.
 Marian Celio, an unaffiliated voter, was endorsed for a third term as town clerk. She is also being recommended by the Republican party.
 Leo J. Tierney is the Democratic candidate for town treasurer and agent of the Town Deposit Fund.
 Incumbent Richard M. Grant will run again for the Board of Finance. Grant now serves as the finance board chairman.
 Recent appointees to the Board of Education, Maria DeCarvalho and Edith Long, will both be running for six-year terms, from 1977-83, on the local board.
 Board of Education Chairman Robert E. Owens will be running for a four-year term, and incumbent member Robert Nickels will be running for a two-year term, from 1977-79.
 James M. Lynch is the candidate for the Board of Tax Review, for a four-year term.
 Incumbent and recent appointee Edward J. Gregory Sr. will be running for a five-year term on the Planning and Zoning Commission, as will Joseph F. Morrocco.
 The incumbent alternate for the Zoning Board of Appeals, David L. Mortrud, will be seeking a seat for a five-year term on the same board.
 Ronald Weil will also be seeking a five-year term on the board.
 In the event of a vacancy on the ticket, it was unanimously voted by the caucus to have the Democratic Town Committee officers fill the vacant slot.
 Arrangements for a headquarters have not yet been announced.

GOP to caucus Thursday

Hebron
 Hebron Republicans will caucus Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Town Office Building to select candidates to run in the November municipal election.
 Raymond J. Burt is being recommended by the party's nominating committee for first selectman and Marilyn Horton for the position on the Board of Selectmen.
 This will be Mrs. Horton's first try at political office. Mrs. Burt was defeated in a bid for first selectman in 1973.
 The GOP is expected to endorse Marian Celio, incumbent town clerk, for a third term in office. Mrs. Celio is an unaffiliated voter and has been endorsed by both parties in the last two elections.
 Incumbent Town Treasurer Marion Foote is also seeking re-election to that office and as agent of the Town Deposit Fund.
 Janet VonDeck is being recommended for tax collector.
 For the Board of Finance, the committee is recommending incumbent Roger Terranova, Charles Schaeffer and Casey McPartland.
 Recommended for the Board of Education are Judith Gregory, Alan F. Ransley and P. Mulligan.
 Robert Dixon will be recommended for re-election to the Board of Tax Review.
 David Marnicki is being recommended for a five-year term on the Planning and Zoning Commission, beginning in November, and Henry Snider for re-election to a five-year term beginning in 1978.
 Recommended for the Zoning Board of Appeals are Paul DuFour and Andrew Johnson. DuFour is recommended for a five-year term beginning in November and Johnson for a five-year term beginning in 1978.
 Johnson is now on the ZBA as an alternate and will resign that position if elected as a regular member.
 The Republicans are expected to conduct a Town Committee meeting after the caucus.

Bolton selectmen find more money for roads

By DONNA HOLLAND
 Herald Correspondent
 There are times when pleasant surprises outweigh the time — or at least makes it take the time — or at least makes it take the time involved in getting the job done worth your while.
 Bolton's not-so-new Board of Selectmen has been meeting diligently week after week since it took office July 1 in an effort to get the town's business straightened out and up to date.
 At its meeting Tuesday, First Selectman Henry Ryba said the town has more money for its roads than anyone had originally estimated.
 Ryba said Bolton has $97,158 of that amount, $55,970 from the State Town Aid Road Grant, $21,188 from the grant's 1976-77 balance, and $20,000 in the town's budget.
 From figures estimated for the town by past administrators it was thought the town would have about $73,000.
 And with the condition of Bolton roads to consider, the extra $24,000 is a "pleasant surprise."

EDA wants minority jobs

HARTFORD (UPI) — The state has launched a major effort to line up minority businesses for jobs to be done with $5 million in federal Public Works Employment Act funds expected by the state and 81 cities and towns.
 Commerce department representatives are holding meetings with municipal officials to brief them on how to meet EDA requirements. Deputy Connecticut Commerce Department Commissioner Charles J. Duffy said he sees no problem in meeting the quota.
 At the request of Hutchinson, the selectmen will seek a legal opinion from Jerome Walsh, town counsel, as to a right-of-way on Brandy St.
 The right-of-way is on property belonging to Willard and Audrey Grenon. Hutchinson said Mrs. Grenon's lawyer investigated the situation and said right-of-way belongs to the Grenons.
 The selectmen were informed by the state Department of Transportation (DOT) it reviewed the line markings at the intersection of Rt. 6 and Stony Rd. and will check the timing of the traffic signal at the intersection of Rts. 6 and 4A and Rt. 6.
 The DOT reviewed the situation after receiving a complaint from John Verfaillie of Stony Rd. The DOT said the markings at the Stony Rd. intersection were revised.

Area police report

Coventry
 Two Willimantic residents were arrested by Coventry Police early today on charges relating to alleged siphoning of gasoline from a car on Carpenter Rd.
 Steven A. Briere, 17, was charged with criminal attempt to commit fourth-degree larceny and tampering with a motor vehicle. Susan A. Marcue, 17, was charged with conspiracy to commit fourth-degree larceny and conspiracy to tamper with a motor vehicle.
 Each was released on a $1,000 non-surety bond. Court date is Aug. 23 in Rockville.
 Coventry Police are investigating the apparent theft of $700 to $900 from the treasury of the Parent-Teacher Organization at Capt. Nathan Hale School.
 Former PTO Treasurer Laverne Gordon said the money was taken from her while she was at the University of Connecticut.
 The cash was the receipts of a spring talent show sponsored by the PTO.
 Raymond Hatch, 30, of 52 Village St., Rockville, was charged Tuesday night with driving while under the influence of liquor, disobeying an officer's signal, and driving without a license. Court date is Aug. 24 in Rockville.

Moriarty's in lead on Riordan homer

By EARL YOST
Sports Editor
Man of the hour last night for Moriarty's in the Little League baseball play at Moriarty Field was Rich Riordan.
The versatile local athlete found a Ray DeMaio high fastball to his liking with two mates on base and deposited it over the fence to provide the home team with a 5-4 edge over Hartford Jal-Alai in a battle for first place in the American Division.
The season's largest crowd, which contributed to a season high 1105-92, saw the MB's climb past the visitors in the standings by one half game.
The locals are now 13-7, Hartford 13-7 and the two clubs will battle head-on again Friday night at St. Thomas.
Thursday night the MB's meet Volkswagen at St. Thomas. League play ends Friday night with the playoffs starting Sunday.
Tall, gum-chewing, bespectacled Dave Bidwell went the route, setting down the hard-hitting invaders on just five hits. The Assumption College ace walked one and fanned four batters. DeMaio, out of Central Connecticut, was reached for a dozen hits but managed to stay out of trouble until Riordan unloaded. The southpaw struck out seven and issued one pass.
The Moriarty's took a 1-0 lead on doubles by Fred Flynn and Jim Dumont, the latter's to the opposite field in the first inning but Hartford came back in the second to tie matters on a hit batsman, an infield out and John Zadrozny's single.
The MB's moved to a 2-1 edge in the third. Dumont's single off third baseman Craig Pinney's glove, a wild pitch and Mike Griffin's single produced the marker.
Not to be outdone, Hartford came back in the fifth when Ron Krough batted Zachary's low liner and the batter reached second. With one out, the base runner stole third and a sixth and needed all the outfield help he could get in the ninth to seal the decision.
The visitors were far from dead and Bidwell, who was now struggling, gave up two runs in the sixth and needed all the outfield help he could get in the ninth to seal the decision.
With one out in the Hartford

Davis, Hope spotlighted in Pro-Am

WETHERSFIELD (UPI) — Today's golf course antics by Sammy Davis Jr. and Hope Hightower at Greater Hartford Open at the Wetherfield Club.
Tour pros paired up with the show people and local businessmen to tune up for the 26th annual Jaycees charity event to be played over the 6,583 yard, par 71 course.
The 72-hole event that opens Thursday will find Rik Massengale back to defend the title he won with an 18-under par 266 two stroke win over second place J.C. Snead and Memphis Classier winner Al Geiberger.
Massengale's 1976 win was his second on the tour.
He is currently among the top 10 PGA money winners with more than $120,000 including the $40,000 prize he earned in the Hope Desert Classic over runner-up Bruce Lietzke.
Lietzke, the fast rising golf star who is third on the current money list, could find himself gunning for his third victory of the season in a battle with Massengale.
Stiff competition is expected from Lee Trevino whose antics on the course have made Merry Mex a big favorite over the years in the Connecticut area.
The former U.S. Canadian and British Open champion, who won the 1972 GHO title in a playoff, has been making a steady recovery from a severe back problem that kept him on the shelf for a large part of 1976 and the first three months of this year.
However, his play, especially a 4th place finish in the British Open, has improved and he figures to be a contender for his first tour victory since last year's Colonial Classic.
On hand were other former GHO winners Dave Stockton and Don Bies, George Archer, Bob Murphy and Art Wall.
The annual event at the Wetherfield Country Club began in 1952 as the Insurance City Open. It became the Greater Hartford Open in 1967 and in 1973, Sammy Davis Jr. lent his name to the charity event.
Proceeds from the tournament are used to fund Jaycee halfway houses for the mentally retarded.

Run for Fun tonight

Second in a series of three "Run for Fun" races will be staged tonight starting at 7 o'clock at the Manchester Community College campus. Seven divisions will be offered with competition open to all. Mark Oakman, former Manchester High and Central Connecticut State College football player and swimmer, is now an environmental consultant for the State of North Carolina and is residing in Durham, N.C. Oakman received his B.A. from Wittenberg University and his master's at Duke University. The 31st Old Timers' Day at Yankee Stadium will be Aug. 13 with a salute to the 1927 Yankees. Eight men are still alive from that team of 50 years ago. Waitt Hoyt, Bob Slavsky, George Pippas, Mark Koehn, Joe Pagano, Ray Morehart, Mike Gazella and Bob Muesel. Yankers face California in the regular American League game. Newest Hall of Fame members Al Lopez, Joe Sewell and Ernie Banks will also be honored as well as the 1937, 1947 and 1957 championship Yankees. The Yankees will be at Yankee Stadium on Aug. 13 with a salute to the 1927 Yankees. Eight men are still alive from that team of 50 years ago. Waitt Hoyt, Bob Slavsky, George Pippas, Mark Koehn, Joe Pagano, Ray Morehart, Mike Gazella and Bob Muesel.

Legion nips Windsor with two-run sixth

Snapping a 3-3 deadlock with two runs in the sixth inning, Manchester's Legion baseball team wound up its home Zone Eight slate with a 5-3 decision over Windsor last night at Eagle Field.
The winning rally was started by Frank Livingston with a one-out single. Mike Gierres, pinch running, moved up a base on all reverses received by the middle netted the second run.
Livingston was again the most consistent hitter with two in three trips. No other Manchester player had more than one hit.
Kiro went the route and spaced seven hits. He passed four and fanned seven. Windsor threatened in both the fourth and fifth innings but Kiro escaped when his mates first executed a twinkling and when he exhibited some gutsy pitching.

Trio selected to All-Stars

Three members of Formal's Inn entry in the Central Connecticut Girls' Fast Pitch Softball League have been named to the All-Star squad.
Named were pitcher-thrower Shirley Adams, first baseman Lisa Schwartz and catcher-outfielder Janet Rietche.
The latter made the team for the first time while Adams and Schwartz were a third-time choice. The latter led in batting, runs scored and stolen bases.
Adams paced the team in homers, RBIs, slugging percentage, pitching wins and strikeouts. She was the highest point-getter on the list determined by votes of coaches on the 10 opposing teams.
The three girls were all in their final season as Formal's won 14 of 21 games. Girls ranged from 13 to 16.

Red Sox lead by .001 over idle Orioles

SEATTLE (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox made the Baltimore Orioles pay for their day off.
The Red Sox slipped into first place in the American League East Tuesday night with a 3-2 victory over the Seattle Mariners while the Orioles remained idle.
The heavy duty work was provided by George Scott, who belted his 26th homer, and Fred Lynn, who knocked in the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the 10th inning.
Boston's margin over Baltimore is .001.
Rick Wise, winner of his last three decisions, pitched eight strong innings and Bill Campbell earned his 11th victory by pitching the last two

John one reason Dodgers leading

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two years ago Tommy John's chances of ever pitching again in the major leagues were considered remote by the nation's medical experts, but today he is a major reason the Los Angeles Dodgers are on top of the National League West.
With his pitching arm rebuilt at the elbow after he had ruptured a ligament, the 34-year-old left-hander — the most consistent starter on the Dodgers' staff — notched his 12th victory in 16 decisions Tuesday night with a 10-strikeout, eight-hit performance in the Dodgers' 7-2 victory over the New York Mets.
"Tommy John is a better pitcher now than before he got hurt," said Mets' Manager Joe Torre after watching John battle his troops.
"Joe's being kind," said John when Torre's message was relayed to him. "But actually, my elbow is better than any other pitcher in baseball because I've got larger ligaments than what God gave me."
The Cubs benefited from rookie Mario Soto's wildness and the ineffectiveness of reliever Dale Murray to score five runs in the eighth inning and defeat the Reds.

Goltz gives 'name' to Minnesota staff

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Minnesota Twins' "no-name pitching staff" may wind up the season with a 20-victory celebration.
Dave Goltz, who won 14 games in each of the last two seasons, raised his record to 13-8 Tuesday night when he won 8 2/3 innings in the Twins' 9-4 victory over the Kansas City Royals. It was a struggle all the way because Goltz was recovering from an attack of the flu.
After his triumph, Goltz said, "I didn't know how far I could go. I took it inning at a time. I'm really tired right now."
But he was uncertain about winning 20 games. "I've got a lot of starts coming, but I can't afford to put any pressure on myself thinking about 20 wins."
Butch Wynegar hit a three-run homer and Dan Ford a solo homer leading the Twins' 10-hit attack, which dealt Andy Hassler his fourth loss against six victories. George Brett and Al Cowens had three hits each for the Royals.
In other American League games, Texas rallied for a 9-8 victory over Chicago. New York walked off California, 9-3. Boston beat Seattle, 3-2, in 10 innings, and Cleveland swept Milwaukee, 9-2 and 7-4.

Don Gullett cleared in marijuana case

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — New York Yankees' principal owner George Steinbrenner said Tuesday night he "never had any doubts" about pitcher Don Gullett's innocence after Kentucky state police found some 800 marijuana plants growing on his Kentucky farm Monday.
In a prepared statement issued by the Yankees' publicist during New York's game against California, Steinbrenner pointed out Gullett reported to the Yankees' Ft. Lauderdale camp in February and had been away from his farm for six months.
"In my 25 years dealing with athletes as a coach and an owner," Steinbrenner said, "I have never met a finer young man than Don Gullett. If there is a modern day Jack Armstrong, Gullett is it."
"Anybody who has played with him knows that and will say the same things about him. We're happy that he's been completely exonerated."
Kentucky police cleared Gullett and members of his family Tuesday of any involvement in the growing of the marijuana on his farm.
