Mrs. Helen S. Smith
Mrs. Helen Stewart Smith, 80, of Manchester and Sebago Lake, Maine, died Saturday at Manchester Memorial Hospital. She was the widow of Frank W. Smith.

A private funeral was held Monday at the Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St. Burial was today in Eastern Cemetery, Gorham, Maine.

The family suggests that friends wishing to do so may make memorial gifts to the American Cancer Society, 237 E. Center St., or to a charity of the donor's choice.

Mrs. Smith was born June 5, 1897, in Malagash, N.S., Canada. She lived in Sebago Lake and Manchester for many years.

Survivors are a son, Dr. James W. Smith of Troy, Pa.; a daughter, Mrs. William (Lois) Thornton of Manchester; a brother, Edward R. Stewart of Yonkers, N.Y.; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Miss Rachel L. Torrey
Miss Rachel L. Torrey, 73, of 333 Bidwell St. died Sunday at a Manchester convalescent home.

Miss Torrey was born July 11, 1904 in Williamstown, Mass., and lived in Hartford before coming to Manchester 11 years ago. She formerly was employed as a house mother at Newton Children's Hospital. She was a member of the Christian Science Second Church, Edifice of Hartford.

She is survived by two cousins, Jason Torrey of Easthampton, Mass., and Claire Torrey of Springfield, Vt.

Dial-A-Ride representatives said they wanted to charge fares comparable to those charged by Yellow Cab of Hartford. Yellow Cab has received a gasoline cost adjustment up to $1.05 for the first sixth of a mile and Dial-A-Ride representatives said they would seek such an adjustment. They said at first that the fare would be 85 cents for the first sixth of a mile and 10 cents for each additional sixth.

A PUCA spokeswoman said there is no set time limit for a final decision on the application. The three PUCA commissioners making the final decision are Gerald McCann, Thomas Standish and David Harrigan.

Mrs. Lionel W. Bernard
ANDOVER—Mrs. Margaret Wright Bernard, 52, of 3 West St. Ext., died Monday at Hartford Hospital. She was the wife of Lionel W. Bernard.

Mrs. Bernard was born in Piedmont, Ala., and had lived in the Willimantic area most of her life. She was employed at the registrar's office of the University of Connecticut, Storrs, and formerly was manager of the Capitol Theater in Willimantic for more than 10 years. She was president of the Willimantic Soroptimist Club.

She is also survived by a son, Christian Mortensen of California; two stepsons, Larry Bernard of Andover and Lonny Bernard of Ft. Devens, Mass.; four daughters, Karla Mortensen of Andover, Mrs. Leas Gryls of Willimantic, Mrs. Linda Gossweiler of California and Mrs. Laurie Turner of North Carolina, and a brother and four sisters in Alabama.

The funeral is private. Burial will be in Rose Hill Memorial Park, Rocky Hill.

Rose Hill Funeral Home, 580 Elm St., Rocky Hill, is in charge of arrangements.

There are no calling hours.

Mrs. Anna S. Dziadul
ELLINGTON—Mrs. Anna Sawasko Dziadul, 86, of 120 Middle Rd., died Monday at Rockville General Hospital. She was the widow of Joseph Dziadul Sr.

Mrs. Dziadul was born in Poland and had lived in Ellington for 55 years. She was a communicant of the Church of St. Luke. She was a member of the Polish Women's Alliance.

She is survived by 4 sons, Anthony Dziadul and John Dziadul, both of Ellington, and Joseph Dziadul Jr. and Frank Dziadul, both of Rockville; 4 daughters, Mrs. John Lech of Ellington, Mrs. Joseph Olender of Rockville, Mrs. Cyril Miklinska of Britain and Mrs. Adolph Radesky of Strasburg, Pa.; 37 grandchildren and 41 great-grandchildren.

The funeral is Wednesday at 8:15 a.m. from Burke-Fortin Funeral Home, 76 Prospect St., Rockville, with a Mass at the Church of St. Luke at 9 a.m. Burial will be in St. Catherine's Cemetery, Broad Brook.

Friends may call at the funeral home today from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Harold E. Lehmann
Mrs. Esther Ann Bond Lehmann, 79, of 31 Carol Dr., died Monday at her home. She was the wife of Harold E. Lehmann.

Mrs. Lehmann was born in New Bedford, Mass., and had lived in Manchester for 38 years. She attended Community Baptist Church.

She is also survived by a son, Edward R. Lehmann of East Hartford; a brother, William B. Bond of Madeira Beach, Fla.; a sister, Mrs. Florence Bowker of East Hartford; four grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Local officials back Dial-A-Ride

All but the final decision from the Public Utilities Control Authority (PUCA) is needed before a taxi service will be provided in Manchester and South Windsor.

Government and local business officials supported an application from a local transportation company, Dial-A-Ride of Connecticut Inc., wishing to provide taxi service in Manchester and South Windsor during a public hearing Monday before the PUCA.

Considering the immediate need for taxi service in the two communities, Hearing Examiner Fred Matz said the authority would try to reach a decision as soon as possible.

The application seeks authority to operate three Checker taxicabs from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. seven days a week.

Speaking in favor of the application were Alan Mason, human services director, and Susan Hebert, executive secretary of the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce. Ms. Hebert presented a list of more than 20 persons who have contacted the chamber in support of such taxi service.

The chamber started a poll to seek local residents' input about the need for such service. No one present opposed the application.

Since the East Hartford Manchester Cab ceased its operations last month, the elderly and low-income residents have experienced transportation problems. They also traveling from Hartford to Manchester to work but have missed the taxi service which would take them to their destinations.

Dial-A-Ride representatives said they wanted to charge fares comparable to those charged by Yellow Cab of Hartford. Yellow Cab has received a gasoline cost adjustment up to $1.05 for the first sixth of a mile and Dial-A-Ride representatives said they would seek such an adjustment. Neortheast plans new stock issue

BERLIN (UPI) — Neortheast Utilities plans to issue $60 million worth of new common stock in a public offering scheduled for the first three months of 1978, according to a company official.

The company also plans to raise $10 million in additional capital by a new preferred stock issue in 1978, according to its annual financial forecast.

Vice President and Treasurer Leonard O'Connor Monday said the company has no intention of working for a change in U.N. Security Council resolution 242, which refers to the Palestinian question only as a refugee problem.

PLO denounced

Begin in good mood after Vance meetings

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Prime Minister Menahem Begin said that in five hours of talks Secretary of State Cyrus Vance applied "not one word" of pressure on Israel to accept of the Palestine Liberation Organization in Middle East peace efforts.

Begin said in the meetings in a "good mood," Begin said after a 3 1/2-hour morning session with Vance and his aides and top Israeli officials. "Various problems were raised, but there is no confrontation," he said. "We're all optimistic. Jews are optimistic by nature."

Begin said it was clear the United States had no intention of working for a change in U.N. Security Council resolution 242, which refers to the Palestinian question only as a refugee problem.

The Israel prime minister said the next step toward a peace agreement would be parallel talks in New York in September between Vance and Dayan and between Vance and the Arab foreign ministers.

Begin said news reports of U.S. pressure were far from reality.

"Despite the stories, there was not one word of pressure that we agree on the participation of the organization of murderers known as the PLO," Begin said.

Begin repeated his denunciation of the PLO as a Nazi-like group and said Israel would have nothing to do with

It despite reports that its leaders are thinking of adopting a more moderate position. Begin said Vance brought both American and Israeli elites to the Arab leaders. "We have their replies and now we'll meet again," Begin said. "The momentum is going on. The next step will be in September."

He said he thought the Geneva peace conference could be reconvened in October or November — "we'll see in next stage."

Begin also repeated his statement from a state dinner Tuesday night that Vance had accomplished a "great achievement," but he said it had been decided not to reveal it now.

Israeli newspapers said today that Vance told Israeli leaders there seems to be no chance of any Middle East peace talks without participation by the PLO.

Begin, however, said after the first day of talks "it feels great. There's a terrific abyss between newspaper stories and reality."

Chat at pool party

Two French students to sojourn here

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter
Two young Frenchmen will be spending the month of August as guests of Manchester families.

Alain Denoray will stay with Sam and Sandy Hamilton of 309 Kennedy Rd. Philippe Poustoly will stay with Carol and Tom Nash of 53D Ambassador Dr.

They are two of about 140 students from France who are taking part in the North Atlantic Cultural Exchange League. They arrived at Kennedy Airport in New York last Thursday and will stay until Aug. 31.

Their stay in Manchester was kicked off last week with a pool party at Kennedy Rd.

In France, we don't have many swimming pools," Poustoly, who comes from the town of Beauchamp, said. Most of the pools in his country are public rather than private ones, he said.

Both said that they enjoyed their swim, which provided some relief from a hot, muggy summer night. Their flight from France took about eight hours. It was the first time both Poustoly and Denoray had flown.

"The trip was a little long," Poustoly said.

Denoray comes from Versailles, he and Poustoly will return to school next month. They are in grades comparable to the first years of college.

Both of the young men have actively participated in several sports in France, including soccer, tennis and rugby. They hope to practice some while they are staying here and may also at least be spectators for a game like baseball, which is much more common in this country.

Both agreed that they have found Americans friendly.

"The people are very good and very welcoming," Poustoly said.

Testing of water in the southwest section of Manchester on Tuesday showed good results, but residents of the area still must boil water until further testing is completed, Frank Jodanis, water and sewer administrator, said today.

Testing is being done daily. Results of today's tests were not available when The Herald went to press.

Jodanis and Bob Young of the Water Department met with the Board of Directors Tuesday night and said that it will probably be at least Thursday before the residents of the testing area can return to normal water use.

Residents presently must boil water for five minutes before using it for drinking or food preparation. Although Tuesday's tests showed a drop in the bacterial count that led to the boiling order, Jodanis said that the state requires at least a couple of days of good tests before such an order is lifted.

"Based on the type of facilities we have, I'm not greatly surprised it happened," Jodanis said of the contamination at Tuesday night's directors meeting.

The town is in the process of studying the present system to make improvements in the water distribution and treatment systems.

Young also said that the town now has testing capabilities that it did not previously have. He said that such a problem could have occurred in the past and gone undetected, but the present testing work helped discover the extent and nature of the problem.

The state Department of Health has been looking into the possibility that the contamination came from a mixing in of sewage in the water supply.

Jodanis said that the department found no permanent cross-connections between the two systems. It is possible that a temporary cross-connection might have caused the contamination.

The problem affects a total of 42 streets in southwest Manchester. The homeowners in the area have had the inconvenience of boiling water, but no serious problems have developed. A Manchester Memorial Hospital spokesman said that there have been no patients admitted with problems developed because of the contaminated water.

Public works plan revised

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter
The Town of Manchester has revised its plans for use of Public Works Employment Act monies to include storm drainage work at Thompson Rd. work.

One of the three projects that had originally been funded—a water tank at the Nike Site—has been dropped.

Jay J. Giles, director of public works, told the Board of Directors Tuesday night that the town's appropriation through the program has been sliced by $133,000 to $1,774,000. He said that Weston & Sampson, the Boston engineering firm that is studying the town's water distribution system, has recommended that the water tank not be built until the distribution study is complete.

The town cannot borrow in anticipation of state funds without the voters' approval. Thus, if the funding and referendum question are approved, the town would borrow the money and have it reimbursed later through the state government. The total cost to the town would still be $133,000.

If the funding is not approved, the town would not go forward with the project.

Giles said that he will check whether the state will fund the project if final approval is not given until a November referendum.

Republican Director Carl Zinsner expressed concern that the state might not take such a step.

The directors also discussed a referendum question for four road improvement projects that would be primarily funded through federal turnback funds.

The referendum question would seek approval to permit the town to borrow $1,560,000 to pay the town's share of the work. Some of that cost is also refundable, so the town total expense would be about $1.1 million, he said.

Both requests for referendums will be acted on at next week's board meeting.

Opinion

Suffer the little children

Abortion and adoption would seem to be two quite different subjects. The two are inevitably going to be linked together, however, when Congress takes up a Carter administration plan for reform of the child welfare system.

Along with general expansion of federal services in this field, the proposal calls for families to be paid to adopt otherwise unadoptable children - older children, physically or mentally handicapped children, minority children.

At present, the federal government spends about $1,000 a child a year to help support 117,000 children in foster care - about a third of the 350,000 children the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) estimates are in foster homes or institutions.

But if a child is adopted by his foster parents, all payments stop.

This is not only unjust. It is, HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. told a Senate subcommittee, a "viciously anti-family" system.

Under the proposed reform the government would pay something like $2,000 annually to families willing to adopt hard-to-place children. Payments would continue until a child reached 18, provided the family's income stayed below a certain level.

But with President Carter under pressure to offer some alternative to the abortion he opposes, Califano assured that the administration also wished to guarantee the medical expenses of pregnant women who agreed to give their babies up for adoption.

By all means, adoption of children who would otherwise spend their entire childhoods in foster care should be encouraged - provided there are safeguards to prevent creation of a new welfare ripoff racket.

But the administration's plan also seems to encourage the production of tens of thousands of new orphans, new wards of the states and the United States. The taxpayers deserve to be told a little more about what the President has in mind for their futures - and how much it would cost.

Darkest Cambodia

What little news has filtered out of the prison-nation of Cambodia since the end of the Vietnam war in April 1975 has been unbelievably horrendous.

It now appears that the early reports of the extent of the suffering being inflicted on the Cambodian people by their Communist Khmer Rouge masters were, indeed, exaggerated.

Rather than upwards of 15 million Cambodians having been executed by the Khmer Rouge, as stories carried by refugees indicated, the latest estimate is that the toll was around 200,000.

It is not that the Khmer Rouge have not tried. But as one Cambodia-watcher explains it, because of the small size of their army, "the mechanics for executions on a more massive scale are just not there."

Not deliberately executed - but dead all the same - are another 800,000 or so who Cambodian observers believe died of disease or malnutrition, many of them on forced marches out of the cities and towns or from forced labor in the fields.

That brings the total of deaths in a little more than two years to around a million human beings, or about 12 per cent of Cambodia's estimated 1974 population.

That is tragically massive on anybody's scale of reckoning.

Springboard for discussion

What do you think should be done to improve the organized recreation programs, including baseball, in Manchester?

The editors were surprised that this topic did not produce more than the four letters published today.

In the past we have had numerous vocal complaints about the Manchester recreation programs, and fear the small sampling printed here does not address all the concerns many Manchester residents may have about the program.

Perhaps once summer is over and vacations and other distractions are out of the way, readers will have time to

More involvement by residents needed

Dear Sir:
Before one suggests improvements, we must recognize that there is probably no town anywhere that provides as many activities as Manchester does through its recreation department. Our combination all season indoor-outdoor program is designed to involve most of our residents if they wish to participate.

However, we can involve more through expansion of existing programs. In softball, we must reconsider the use of out-of-town players. Our team won two games by forfeit this year and two common excuses that are offered every year are: "It was raining in my town so I didn't think we would play" or, "My other team had a game at home."

This problem was quite evident this year as several teams folded. We should consider the establishment of an "over 35" softball league in the immediate future. Too many men feel that they must "retire" as those in their 20s become part of the league. It is my feeling that there are enough men over 35 to begin an eight-

An owlsh editor's notebook

We noticed a report the other day that there are mice in the White House. Could this explain the missing 17 minutes in the Nixon tapes?

Congress got real busy last week so it could take the rest of the month off and return refreshed so it can get real busy in September so it can recess early in October.

But they are not doing anything foolish - yet.

Last week they rejected President Carter's proposal for a five cent a gallon increase in the federal gasoline tax. They knew things would be hot enough at home in August without having to defend a tax like that.

But the tax isn't dead. As a matter of fact, few taxes ever die.

Our new energy secretary, James Schlesinger, is working energetically to revive the tax measure.

In the meantime, Transportation Secretary Brock Adams said the price of gasoline could hit $1 a gallon "very soon" if proposed energy taxes take effect and imported oil costs rise.

This is somewhat embarrassing for some politicians in that we are also being told that Alaska is producing more oil than we can refine on the West Coast.

This should mean a holding down of the price since it would appear supply exceeds demand - but the problem in Washington is that they do not have faith.

The only argument for higher gasoline prices - by taxation or by lifting price controls - is that it will encourage conservation - by those who can't afford the higher price.

In effect, we would have rationing by taxation.

Now, we know it has been proposed that the money collected be rebated back to those who pay it. The administration has a commitment to curtail gasoline use through artificial created high prices via taxes.

The irony is you don't hear a peep out of those who would cry profiteering if an oil company raised its prices 10 cents a gallon to "encourage conservation."

The day of reckoning may well be when the increased federal gas tax plus other tax revenues may have to be used to stimulate exploration and

More publicity needed

Gentlemen:
In my opinion, the organized recreation programs in Manchester, especially softball, could be improved by giving them more, complete publicity.

For instance, at times a schedule of games to be played is not published, and when they are publicized it is not clear as to whether they are men's or girls' games or if they are local or tournament games. Then, many times the results of the games played are not published.

It seems that it would help matters if a schedule of games to be played for a certain week be published at the beginning of the week, including postponed games to be played off, even to the expense of repeating

Lighted pools urged

To the editor,
I wish to make a couple of comments as to recreation improvement in town.

I believe recreation should be available to all who wish to participate especially in baseball. I think should do away with Little League and have town teams and town playoffs. Every boy and girl who wishes should be able to play, and I mean play, not sit on the bench.

I would also like to see the town put lights at all the swimming pools in town, including Globe Hollow. Allow swimming every night when the temperature is over 65 or 70 degrees to all 13 and over until 10 or 11 o'clock at night. They should also install spray showers at each entrance 10 or 12-feet long that swimmers had to go through to enter pool.

I would also like to see the town use Case Mountain and put the money into more usable neighborhood playgrounds.

Fifty years ago I was able to enjoy a town lighted swimming pool on nights like this. The people in Manchester should be able to in 1978.

Martin fields need work

Dear Sir,
Each summer, at Martin School, over 300 girls ages 9-16 participate in the Little Miss and Senior Girls Softball Leagues. The Little Miss program was started 17 years ago and the Senior League, for girls ages 13-16, has just completed its fourth year. Both leagues play independent of the town Recreation Dept. but do receive permission each year from the Board of Education for use of the fields at Martin.

There are three softball diamonds, with good backstops, that have the potential of being put into at least playable condition with some labor and a little money. Over the years

Battling the Bottle

Hatchets in hand, Carry Nation and her temperance troops stormed saloons on search and destroy missions a hundred years ago. The enemy was booze.

Smashing bottles in public took courage and helped focus attention on alcoholism, but it didn't solve anything. Alcoholism is more prevalent today than ever. It is wrecking families, health, careers, and lives.

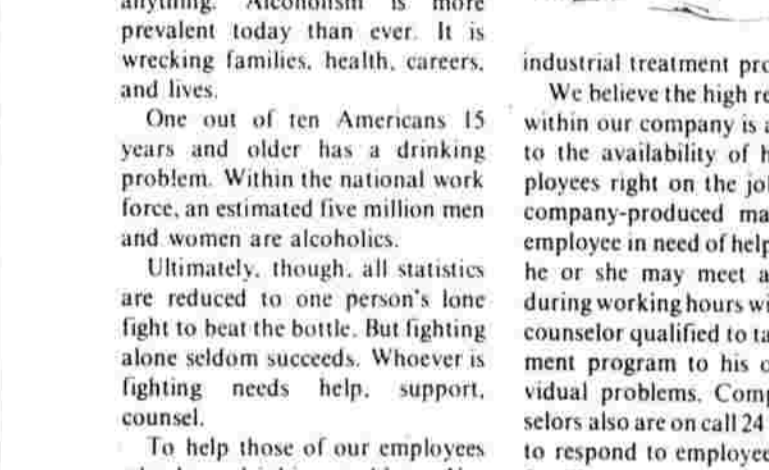

One out of ten Americans 15 years and older has a drinking problem. Within the national work force, an estimated five million men and women are alcoholics.

Ultimately, though, all statistics are reduced to one person's lone fight to beat the bottle. But fighting alone seldom succeeds. Whoever is fighting needs help, support, counsel.

To help those of our employees who have drinking problems, United Technologies has developed in-plant alcoholic treatment programs.

Unlike Carry Nation, who viewed alcohol as evil and anyone who imbibed as morally debased, we recognize alcoholism as an illness, and a treatable one. What we're trying to do is motivate troubled employees to seek and accept treatment.

Initiated in 1975, our special program has proved highly successful. That compares with the 10% to 20% recovery rates achieved by non-industrial treatment programs.

We believe the high recovery rate within our company is attributable to the availability of help to employees right on the job. Through company-produced materials, the employee in need of help learns that he or she may meet at any time during working hours with a trained counselor qualified to tailor a treatment program to his or her individual problems. Company counselors also are on call 24 hours a day to respond to employees and their families.

Outside agencies are called on, too. The services of Alcoholics Anonymous, as well as Al-Anon and Alateen for family members, play an important part in the program. It is conducted, of course, in strict confidence.

Our approach works well. We think that's because it's helping employees solve their problems on the job. They retain good jobs, and we retain good employees.

Chocolate Toffee Creme Squares

Your neighbor's kitchen By BETTY RYDER

Cooking for two, whether it be newlyweds or senior citizens, can pose a problem, if you let it.

Preparing smaller portions and finding recipes for two can be a problem.

Some time ago when shopping, another shopper was fascinated by the low cost of turkey, but, alas, they were much too large for her and her husband.

Another good recipe for two or more, which keeps well refrigerated is Chocolate Toffee Creme Squares.

On second thought By Jan Warren

The other day my 18-year-old daughter called me old-fashioned. Before I had recovered from that blow, she went on to say that I was also old conservative, and a little bit behind the times.

"I don't mean this as an insult, Ma, but you are sort of a period piece." With that she patted me on the top of the head and vanished, leaving me to ponder her remarks.

"What else?" probed Sara. "What was the worst thing you ever did?"

"Well, I passed lowering my voice to a whisper. I've never told anyone this before, but during graduation week in college, my roommate and I sneaked out of our dormitory window and went to a late night party at the beach."

"You're grandmother? Nonsense." "I'm serious," said Sara with a grin. "You've just never sounded her out. Why back in 1919, grandma was the first girl in her entire county to muster up the courage to have her hair bobbed!"

VA news

Q - How long do I have to convert my Servicemans Group Life Insurance to Veterans Group Life Insurance?

A - SGLI coverage continues for 120 days after separation from active duty. A veteran may apply for conversion to VGLI without evidence of insurability within that 120-day period.

Q - My husband was killed on active duty and I receive dependency and indemnity compensation. If I begin working, will my benefits be reduced?

A - No. Income is not a factor in determining eligibility for DIC.

Q - When I purchase a home using VA loan guaranty, will my wife's income be considered?

A - The veteran's and the spouse's income is considered in determining ability to repay the loan.

Bar group elects Diana

At the annual meeting of the Manchester Bar Association at the Garden Grove Aug. 3, Vincent L. Diana was elected president for a one-year term. Allan D. Thomas was elected vice president, David M. Barry was elected secretary and William B. Collins was elected treasurer. Outgoing president Francis J. Shea stated that the problems facing lawyers in the immediate future are concerned with advertising. Thus far, the Connecticut Bar Association has not adopted any rules or changed the Canon of Ethics to allow advertising. After a short business meeting, dinner was served. Guests included Jay E. Rubinow, John J. Shea Jr., Eugene T. Kelly and Harry Hammar, all judges in the state system. Other guests included Police Chief Robert Lannan, Deputy Chief Richard Sartor, former Police Chief James Reardon, Town Clerk Edward J. Tomkiet, Town Clerk of South Windsor Charles N. Enes and Chief Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, G.A. B. Thomas DeRosa.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jackson, Vernon St. A graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Petry received her medical degree from Albany Medical College. She is board-eligible in general surgery. Before coming to University Hospital, Petry completed a five-year appointment as surgical resident at New England Medical Center Hospital. Petry is married to Bennett M. Petry, director of fiscal administration, Department of Youth Services, Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The couple lives in Wollaston, Mass. University Hospital, founded in 1855, is a major teaching hospital of Boston University School of Medicine and a member of Boston University Medical Center.

Sales up

Caldor, Inc., Norwalk, a major northeast discount department store chain, reports a record 46 percent increase in sales for the four weeks ended July 30, 1977 of $26,563,000 versus last year's $17,550,000. For the second quarter ended July 30, 1977 sales advanced 40 percent to $92,523,000 as compared with $66,104,000, a year ago. Six months record sales were up 38.1 percent to $166,222,000 against the previous year's $120,350,000. Val Rossetti, treasurer, attributed the increase to a continuing upward trend in consumer demand, evidenced by strong gains in May and June, and the addition of 10 new stores opened last fall and this spring. Two more units are scheduled to open before Labor Day in Enfield, Connecticut, and Springfield, Mass., which will bring the chain up to 46 stores. Caldor stock is traded on the American Stock Exchange.

Sidney Green

promoted

Century 21 Jackson Avante Real Estate announces the appointment of Sidney Green as sales manager. Green is a past president of Charter Oak Lodge Bnai B'rith and member of Temple Beth Shalom. He has been a resident of Manchester for 19 years and lives at 27 Milford Rd. Green will be in charge of recruiting and training of new personnel and of the entire sales staff.

Home loan volume increases

Savings and Loan Associations in Connecticut issued an aggregate $268 million in new mortgage loans during the first six months of 1977, according to a report from Lawrence K. Green, executive vice president of the Savings and Loan League of Connecticut. Home mortgage loans are considered to be a major economic indicator both nationally and statewide. These additional home buying funds bring the statewide total mortgage loans to $2.75 billion at the states Savings and Loan Associations. Bolstering this upward trend is over $74 million in mortgage commitments (mortgage money reserved for applications received) as of June 30, 1977 as compared to $55 million in January of 1976. Many Connecticut economy watchers feel that this increase in mortgage loan availability is a definite sign of an ebbing recessionary tide. As Savings and Loan Associations throughout Connecticut continue to pour hundreds of millions of dollars into home investment, housing starts continue to rise. "It's like a biological chain," comments Green, "countless industries and jobs are dependent upon new households, new households are dependent upon mortgage loan availability and these, in turn, are dependent upon savings capital held by the Savings and Loan Associations. With savings capital at its present high, we are now able to proceed down the road toward more and more home financing. The ball is definitely rolling and the effects are happily evident. Housing starts are up, unemployment is down and more people than ever before are obtaining mortgage loans through Connecticut's thirty-six Savings and Loan Associations."

In looking at where this additional mortgage money has come from, we find that personal savings held in Connecticut's Savings and Loans are over the first six months of this year have increased 5.8% - aggregating a total of nearly $1 billion. Interest paid to Connecticut savers on savings investments alone amounts to an unprecedented $100 million for this six month period. It is felt by many that this reported gain in Connecticut home financing has been the most important economic news for the state in recent years.

Fighting algae in lake

Vernon gets housing rehab aid

Vernon's application for a federal grant of $270,000 for a housing rehabilitation program has been approved.

The announcement of its approval came Tuesday afternoon from the office of Connecticut Congressman Christopher Dodd.

The application was approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and the money is provided through the Housing and Community Development Act.

The funds will allow absentee landlords to rehabilitate some 400 rental units in the Rockville section of town.

The town's application stated that the program will provide decent housing for low and moderate-income families by encouraging landlords to bring the housing up to local housing code standards.

The program could involve the demolition of some deteriorated houses. It will also involve revising the town's housing code and stronger enforcement efforts.

The town has previously received a grant for rehabilitation of owner-occupied housing and this program has been under way for some time in the Rockville section.

Homeowners are loaned money at a low interest rate.

July fire calls

The Vernon Fire Department responded to 32 calls during the month of July, a slight decrease from June but more than the same period last year.

The breakdown of calls was one grass fire, three box alarms, three mutual aid calls, three emergency standbys, seven structure fires, one car fire, one dryer fire, one oven fire, two trash fires and one gasoline washdown.

Also, the rescue squad had six auto accident standbys, two extractions and one medical assist.

Charge of poultry

Chairmen and booths are Marian Narkiewicz, American kitchen; Lottis Ziemia, Helen Koniar, Polish kitchen; Mr. and Mrs. James Erickson, Wanda Satkiewicz, booth personnel; Carol Hopewicz, rides personnel; Joseph Rasulis, Frank Nowak, Edward Jan-ton, Big Six; Stan Bloniarz, Mike Beardson, Ben Anthony Dowgiewicz, Clarence Suchecki, bingo.

All and Lou Wagner, bicycle raffle; Jean Kurtz, golumpki and potato pancakes; Al Wagner, Clarence Suchecki, Frank Nowak, Max Sadlak, poster distribution; Peter Dureiko, money runner; Helen Bloniarz, cake; Mr. and Mrs. John Gill, car raffle.

Dan Skiba, stock; Dureiko boys, electrical maintenance; Bob Benware, Donald Fortuna, soda.

Dog damage case

Frank Connolly, town manager, has asked the Town Council for permission to refer to the town attorney a recent case of dog damage amounting to $465.

"We had an incident in town where several sheep were killed by a dog," Connolly told the council.

The dog's alleged owner is denying ownership, the town manager said.

Rt. 85 paving scheduled

Traffic men will be on duty to direct traffic through the work area. Motorists are asked to use caution and keep alert for men and equipment on the roadway when passing through the work area.

The Board of Education will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Bolton Center School Library. Board members will hear the final report of the Committee to Study Town and School Intramural and Interscholastic Programs. It will be presented by Harvey Harpin, committee chairman.

Board members will discuss the 1976-77 budget report and the guaranteed tax base funds.

Ellington firm gets more aid

An Ellington firm will get extra help in its expansion plan as a result of financing approved Tuesday by the state Department of Commerce through its financing arm, the Connecticut Development Authority.

The authority voted approval of $245,000 for the Rice Packaging Co. The sum represents an increase of $10,000 over the $235,000 which was approved in May.

The Rice expansion financing was one of 10 projects given the authority's go-ahead Tuesday. The authority okayed financing a total of $2,920,175 in expansion projects.

The state Department of Transportation will start work Thursday on a concrete overlay of Rt. 83 in Ellington. The project begins at Rt. 285 and runs about three quarters of a mile to Rt. 140.

The work is to be completed in one day, between 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Traffic will be directed by flagmen and signs. Motorists are asked to use caution while passing through the work area.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Three cheers for LIVING A LIE—the woman who was honest enough to admit that she did not enjoy sex, but had "faked it" in the bedroom for 30 years...

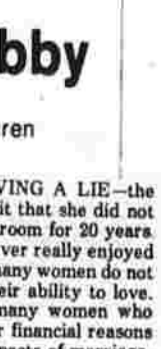

DEAR ABBY: I have been reading, with pleasure, your column containing the letters from the 50-year-old and the 36-year-old, both of whom seem to value love above sex...

DEAR ABBY: When I was young, I thought of sex as being a dirty game. I never really enjoyed it. I just put up with it. You can be kind, loving and good to a man without having sex...

DEAR ABBY: Why will no one ever come right out and say that sex can be uncomfortable, sometimes painful and often messy? Sex isn't always that heavenly delight we have been told...

DEAR ABBY: I have been denied an outlet for real affection all my life. Affection to my husband has always meant sex. For my part I've come to hate even the thought of it...

News for senior citizens

Hi! We registered for the Valley Train Ride this past Monday and need seven more to fill the bus.

By the way, tomorrow morning the bus for Banner Lodge will be leaving our center around 9:30 and you folks going should start arriving here shortly after 9.

Might as well continue about trips and remind you that the final payment for Brown's is due this week.

Setback

Here at the center, the action started with last Friday afternoon when we had 42 players for our setback games and the winners were: Lillian Rutchik, 131; John Phelps, 129; Violet Dion, 128; Mike DeSimone, 126; Catherine Cappucchi, 124; Paul Schuetz, 123; Lee Miller, 123; Archie Houghtaling, 123; Sam Schors, 119; Betty Jesanis, 118.

Pinochle

On Monday, even with all the hot and humid weather, we had a decent turnout for our kitchen social games in the morning and in the afternoon we had 60 players for our pinochle games and the winners were: Lee Steimmeyer, 838; Martin Bakstan, 809; Martha LaBate, 785; Marie Hebenstreit, 768; Sue Kerr, 767; Mabel Wilson, 765; Mike Haberman, 763; Bess Noonan, 754; Archie Houghtaling, 749; Esther Anderson, 743; John Gally, 742; Marie Burke, 739; Felix Jesanis, 736; Andrew Noske, 734; Roy Durey, 733.

Golf

We had 41 players out on the golf course in the morning and the low scores for the day were: Irvin Gartside, 41; Merrill Dickinson, 43; Russ Nettleton, 44; Vince Porter, 44; Parky Parmakian, 45; Raymond Bidwell, 45; Jim Fee, 45; Albert Bolis, 46; Ernie Segerberg, 46; Hector Provost, 46.

The big picnic in Center Park was canceled last Sunday due to threatening thunderstorms. So come Sunday, SAM will try it again, same time, same place. They apologize for any inconvenience caused some who did make the trip; however, it was debatable for a while, and when they received the weather forecast, they felt it was best to cancel.

Charges are dismissed

NEW LONDON (UPI) — Disorderly conduct charges have been dismissed against five antinuclear demonstrators dressed in black robes who had refused to tell officials their names.

The five, who had identified themselves only as "Death" and "Last Tango," were arrested over the weekend for blocking the entrance to Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics in Groton. The firm makes nuclear submarines.

The charges were dismissed Tuesday in New London Court of Common Pleas.

Back to trips, and one that many of you really like is the Penn Dutch trip. It's a three-day deal and will be around the end of October. So start thinking about it and we will have more information for you real soon.

Condolences

Our sincere and heartfelt condolences to our good friend Harold Lehmann on the death of his wife, and also Joseph Grigolet on the death of his brother George. Also Adele Grigolet is a patient in Mt. Sinai Hospital in Hartford and Carl Swanson is in intensive care at the Manchester Memorial Hospital. Let's help cheer them up with cards and, if possible, visits.

We received word that another of our members, Marianne Herdic, is now coming along very nicely as she is recuperating in the Vernon Convalescent Home. She really enjoys receiving cards and can also have visitors. While we are at it, don't forget also that our oldest member, Nellie Moran, is a patient at Manchester Manor and she also wishes to thank everyone for their cards and would love to have a few visitors.

About town

The Manchester Senior Citizens Pinochle Group will sponsor a game Thursday at 9:45 a.m. at the Army and Navy Club. All senior citizens are welcome.

The Prayer Group of Emanuel Lutheran Church will meet Thursday at 10 a.m. in the church library.

South United Methodist Church will have a fair workshop tonight at 7 in the education wing of the church.

Police report

East Hartford

Two men robbed a woman attendant at the Gasland service station at 609 Main St. of $78 in cash Tuesday at about 6:20 p.m., police said.

They drove into the station, parked, and the driver went to the men's room while the other man wandered around, police said. The driver then asked the woman for toilet paper. She went to the storage area, got a roll, and tossed it to him.

The driver grabbed her, pushed her back into the storage area, and began to choke her, police said. He demanded money and she gave him the cash she had in her pocket, police said.

They were last seen heading south on Main St.

Stephen Leonard, 16, of 4 Lincoln St., East Hartford, was arrested on warrants Tuesday charging him with a series of burglaries dating from April.

The charges are third-degree burglary, third-degree larceny (two counts), second-degree larceny (two counts), conspiracy to commit third-degree larceny (two counts), and conspiracy to commit third-degree burglary.

Leonard appeared in Common Pleas Court 12 Tuesday where his case was continued to Aug. 16. He failed to post a $500 surety bond and was sent to the state jail in Hartford.

A home on Bay Path Dr. was broken into through a rear door sometime Monday night. It was ransacked. Police are unsure yet if anything is missing.

Call-A-Ride

For a free, door-to-door ride on East Hartford's Call-A-Ride vehicle, call 528-4411. Those eligible are over age 65 or are handicapped.

Watching a thriller

Steve Lavoie (left), 11, of 7 Columbus Circle, East Hartford, and Toby Hilton, 10, of 1110 Pleasant Valley Rd., South Windsor, watch a men's slow pitch softball game Tuesday night at McAuliffe Park's stadium. Steve's Little League coach, Don Brozowski, was the ump. Toby's father, Larry White, was covering first base for the Eastview Cafe team. It doesn't show on Toby's face, but at this point Eastview was ahead. The other team, Yesterlaid Egg, laid a bomb signed by its catcher, Terry Clark, over the stadium's fence later in the game to lead Yesterlaid to an 8-7 victory. (Herald photo by Barlow)

Maps adopted for wetlands

By MAL BARLOW

East Hartford Reporter
East Hartford's new maps of its inland wetlands made by COMSIS Inc. of Glastonbury were adopted Tuesday night by the Inland Wetlands Commission.

"They are current and more accurate," said David Killian as he made the motion to adopt. "They will give us better protection of a valuable resource."

The vote to accept was unanimous. "We've been looking for something like this for quite a few years," said William Dailey.

The maps will help town boards such as Zoning Board of Appeals in deciding applications for use of wetlands, Dailey said.

John Finnegan added that the map making will also ease boundary disputes.

Ken MacGregor, a COMSIS worker who has been with the project since the town hired his firm in January, showed some emotion as he spoke Tuesday before the maps were accepted.

"Tonight we're delivering the final product," he said waving his hand to all the maps covering the walls of the Council Chambers at Town Hall.

"We know a lot more about East Hartford now. It's been a fun project. I hope you find the final product useful."

"They (the maps) are the most useful I've ever seen. I look forward to watching in the newspapers how East Hartford uses them."

"Thank you for the opportunity to work with you."

The town paid COMSIS about $8,000 for the whole project. It got maps of 127 wetland units scattered around town.

Each unit is measured three ways: Value in a flood, value to wildlife, and value in the town's general plan.

Only 30 of the units won COMSIS' highest flood plain value. Only 9 won its top score for wildlife. And only 5 won its highest score for planning.

COMSIS also prepared a manual for use with the maps.

Town Engineer Charles Sheehan has said of the maps and manual, "The commission is now going to have a tool for making its decisions. It will greatly assist us."

Clerk warns candidates

All the candidates for town office got a warning this week in the mail from East Hartford's town clerk, John Barry Jr.

"Congratulations," his warning began.

Then it listed what the candidate must do to obey state election laws on campaign financing.

If the candidate does not raise or spend a single dollar, he does not have to file "designation of a treasurer" form or any treasurer statements with the clerk.

But if the town committee spends more than $500 on behalf of a single candidate, that candidate must file the forms. This is true even if the committee files its own statements.

Also, if the candidate does raise or spend up to $500, he or she must file the above forms and a "designation of a principal campaign treasurer" form.

If the candidate spends more than $500, he or she must designate also a bank depository.

First filing date is Sept. 13, he added.

In the 1975 mayoral race, Republican Anthony Donatelli reported raising over $3,000 and Democrat Richard Blackstone over $9,000. The same men square off again this Nov. 8.

Burnside Center group will consider problems

"Let's get together and do something," says the flyer passed out Tuesday in the Burnside Center neighborhood.

The flyer proclaims the first meeting of a Burnside Center neighborhood association will be tonight at 7 p.m. at the Wickham Library in the second floor community room.

The formation of the association is being helped by the East Hartford Citizens Action Group (EHCAG). This group was formed with help from the Connecticut Citizens Action Group (CCAG).

Problems for the group to consider doing something about are many, the flyer says. It lists traffic control, overnight parking, vacant lots, waste near the side of the Hockanum River, flooding, speeding, crossing Burnside Ave., dogs, dim street lights, and vandalism.

"Do these problems bother you?" it asks. Residents wanting to know more about the meeting can call Michael Gleason of Moore Ave. at 528-3405.

East Hartford bulletin board

Reading challenge

The 28th annual Connecticut Reading Conference will be held Oct. 1 all day at Penney High School.

Speakers and panelists will include Dr. Margaret Early of Syracuse University, Dr. Helen Murphy of Boston University, Joan Haines of South Connecticut State College and Margaret Musgrove, author of a Caldecott Medal Book.

Conference theme is "Challenging Reading Competency." Hundreds of teachers, librarians, and principals are expected.

Druggist loses pounds

Harry A. Egazarian, owner of Pat's Medical Pharmacy on Main St., carried 225 pounds on his 5-foot, 10-inch frame six months ago. Now he is down to 190. He blames the loss on a new diet plan he sells in his pharmacy.

For satisfaction

Henry J. Genga said his first two years in elective office as a member of the Town Council gave him enough satisfaction from service that he will run again for the office on the Democratic ticket.

His main sources of satisfaction come from two programs he helped start. One is the Call-A-Ride vehicle. It gives free rides to the elderly and handicapped. The other is a method for local police to take calls from the deaf over the phone.

Caused own death

Hartford County Coroner Henry Ramenda ruled the Feb. 26 death of a Hartford man on I-84 was caused by the man's own acts.

Joseph Boscarino, 65, had been driving a car on I-84 when he ran out of gas. The man had been drinking, Ramenda ruled. Boscarino was running across the highway at 7:10 p.m. that day when he was hit by a car driven by Jeffrey H. Douglas, 25, of New Britain.

To attend meeting

Lori Factor and Donna Belisle, both of East Hartford, will attend the 34th

National Junior Achievers Conference at Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind.

During the past school year, they learned how business runs by running their own small businesses in the local Junior Achievement Center.

Tennis tourney

The East Hartford Department of Parks and Recreation will hold a men's tennis tournament to begin Aug. 22 at McAuliffe Park. Semifinals will be Saturday, Aug. 27, and the finals Sunday, Aug. 28.

Deadline for registration is this Friday. Signup sheets are at the department office.

Fair housing

The Human Rights Commission has asked the Town Council to support the Urban League's fair housing program. The town's share of its cost would be $4,000. Hans DePold, chairman of the HRC, said the program takes a positive tack.

Instead of using testers to seek out violating landlords, monitors are used only to check out complaints. The staff would work with Realtors and apartment owners to head off complaints, DePold said. Two-family and owner-occupied units would not be affected.

"It would save us money in the long run," DePold said. The program would allow the town to put off hiring a director for the HRC, he explained.

Low bidder is local

Mechanical Maintenance of 41 Thomas St., East Hartford, was the apparent low bidder Tuesday to put air conditioning in the remodeled Youth Services Center on King Court, said Purchasing Agent Jack Martin. The firm bid $2,700 and said it could start in eight weeks and complete the project in five days.

Scientific Refrigeration of Bloomfield bid $2,850 but gave no timetable. Connecticut Oil Heating of Hartford bid $3,481 and can start right away and finish in 14 days. ACMAT of East Hartford bid $4,185 and said it could start in five days and finish 10 days later.

Parking lot lease confusion persists

HARTFORD (UPI) — An alleged state lease on a seemingly insignificant parking lot is still causing a lot of confusion and Gov. Ella T. Grasso today said a Republican call for an investigation might be a GOP campaign tactic.

State officials and real estate developer Allan Schaefer Tuesday told conflicting stories about whether he had offered to lease a parking lot at Greater Hartford Community College for $1 a year to the state.

Schaefer denies making the offer, while state officials say he did so through an intermediary. Mrs. Grasso said today she will meet with Schaefer, who has alleged he is being discriminated against by the state, once the issues have been clarified in writing so they are sure of what they are discussing.

House Minority Leader Gerald F. Stives, R-Milford, Tuesday asked for an investigation by the legislature's Appropriations Committee, claiming the conflicting statements showed someone was lying.

"It certainly appears someone is not telling the truth," said Stives, who is campaigning hard to unseat Democratic Gov. Ella T. Grasso in next year's election.

Mrs. Grasso told a news conference today she didn't think a legislative investigation was needed.

New ways sought to cope with teacher strikes

HARTFORD (UPI) — Lawmakers, education officials and teachers are making an effort to find a new way to handle teacher strikes in Connecticut, but so far the only thing they agree on is that they face the same old problems.

A member of the legislature's Education Committee Tuesday called a meeting to see if someone could suggest "innovative" methods for resolving such walkouts without either teacher strikes or binding arbitration.

Both proposals have been rejected repeatedly by lawmakers and even supporters, but chances for passage have not dramatically improved.

"We want something innovative, something a little bit new," said Rep. Abraham Glassman, D-South Windsor, chairman of the committee. "Binding arbitration and the right to strike have proved to be unacceptable."

School administrators, union officials, parent representatives and local government officials pondered the problem, but reached no consensus.

Weinstein issues statement on conflict-of-interest

Richard P. Weinstein, a Republican candidate for the Board of Directors, has issued a statement concerning the recent conflict-of-interest controversy.

"An apparent conflict can be just as damaging as a real conflict. Public officials occupy a position of trust, and anything which diminishes that trust, and which is harmful," Weinstein said.

Welfare fraud allegation investigation under way

HARTFORD (UPI) — State officials said today an investigation is under way of charges that the Department of Social Services is displaying the extent of welfare fraud and not doing enough to eliminate it.

Finance Commissioner Anthony Milano said his staff is beginning to look into the charges, which allege the state is losing up to $1 million a year.

He said two full-time workers will probe the department and will get help from other department staffers if needed.

Last weekend, Eugene Bagnoli, a state policeman with the collections division of Milano's department, said Social Services Commissioner Edward Maher is suppressing word about the extent of welfare abuse.

Bagnoli also said the department was not pursuing all reported cases of suspected fraud.

"We've been reviewing it for a while and have been discussing the matter with Commissioner Maher for several weeks," Milano said.

Consumer Concern

Sometimes door-to-door salesmen will try to get you to buy a product by offering you a cash rebate on the purchase price or credit for every friend you can recommend to them as a prospective purchaser.

This practice may be in violation of a provision of the Conn. Home Solicitation Sales Act. Sec. 42-140 of the General Statutes reads as follows:

"No seller in a home solicitation sale shall offer to pay a commission or give a rebate or discount to the buyer in consideration of the buyer's giving to the seller the names of prospective purchasers or otherwise aiding the seller in making a sale to another person. If the earning of the commission, rebate or discount is contingent upon an event subsequent to the time the buyer agrees to buy."

Be wary of those who use home sales referral tactics. Keep in mind that it is practically impossible for anyone to have enough qualified friends to get a significant refund, even if it were legal. Not only you, but also your neighbors will all be referring names to the salesmen, and those referred will in turn refer other names. Consequently, any given area is quickly exhausted of possible references. As with a chain letter — after which this practice is patterned — participants inevitably lose.

If the fact that referral selling of this type may be illegal doesn't discourage you, remember that in many cases you don't get a rebate or refund unless those you refer actually buy the product.

Another factor — products sold under a referral selling scheme on a door-to-door basis may be overpriced to make up for even the smallest rebate or commission that is promised by the salesmen.

If you have reason to believe a door-to-door salesman may be violating the Home Solicitation Sales Act check with the Frauds Division of the Consumer Protection Department before you buy.

Answers to questions of general interest will appear in this column. Address questions to: "Of Consumer Concern," Department of Consumer Protection, State Office Bld., Hartford, Conn. 06155.

Opinion

Suffer the little children

Abortion and adoption would seem to be two quite different subjects. The two are inevitably going to be linked together, however, when Congress takes up a Carter administration plan for reform of the child welfare system.

Along with general expansion of federal services in this field, the proposal calls for families to be paid to adopt otherwise unadoptable children — older children, physically or mentally handicapped children, minority children.

Under the proposed reform the government would pay something like $2,000 annually to families willing to adopt hard-to-place children. Payments would continue until a child reached 18, provided the family's income stayed below a certain level.

But with President Carter under pressure to offer some alternative to the abortion he opposes, Califano assured that the administration also wished to guarantee the medical expenses of pregnant women who agreed to give their babies up for adoption.

By all means, adoption of children who would otherwise spend their entire childhoods in foster care should be encouraged — provided there are safeguards to prevent creation of a new welfare ripoff racket.

But the administration's plan also seems to encourage the production of tens of thousands of new orphans, new wards of the states and the United States. The taxpayers deserve to be told a little more about what the President has in mind for their futures — and how much it would cost.

At present, the federal government spends about $1,000 a child a year to help support 117,000 children in foster care — about a third of the $30,000 children the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) estimates are in foster homes or institutions.

But if a child is adopted by his foster parents, all payments stop.

This is not only unjust. It is, HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. told a Senate subcommittee, a "viciously anti-family" system.

Darkest Cambodia

What little news has filtered out of the prison-nation of Cambodia since the end of the Vietnam war in April 1975 has been unbelievably horrendous.

It now appears that the early reports of the extent of the suffering being inflicted on the Cambodian people by their Communist Khmer Rouge masters were, indeed, exaggerated.

Rather than upwards of 1.5 million Cambodians having been executed by the Khmer Rouge, as stories carried by refugees indicated, the latest estimate is that the toll was around 200,000.

It is not that the Khmer Rouge have not tried. But as one Cambodia-watcher explains it, because of the small size of their army, "the mechanics for executions on a more massive scale are just not there."

Not deliberately executed — but dead all the same — are another 800,000 or so who Cambodians observers believe died of disease or malnutrition, many of them on forced marches out of the cities and towns or from forced labor in the fields.

That brings the total of deaths in a little more than two years to around a million human beings, or about 12 percent of Cambodia's estimated 1974 population.

That is tragically massive on anybody's scale of reckoning.

Springboard for discussion

What do you think should be done to improve the organized recreation programs, including baseball, in Manchester?

The editors were surprised that this topic did not produce more than the four letters published today.

In the past we have had numerous vocal complaints about the Manchester recreation programs, and fear the small sampling printed here does not address all the concerns many Manchester residents may have about the program.

Perhaps once summer is over and vacations and other distractions are out of the way, readers will have time to

More involvement by residents needed

Dear Sir:

Before one suggests improvement we must recognize that there is probably no town anywhere that provides as many activities as Manchester does through its recreation department. Our combination all season indoor-outdoor program is designed to involve most of our residents if they wish to participate. However, we can involve more through expansion of existing programs. In softball, we must reconsider the use of out-of-town players. Our team won two games by forfeit this year and two common excuses that are offered every year are: "It was raining in my town so I didn't think we would play" or "My other team had a game at home."

This problem was quite evident this year as several teams folded. We should consider the establishment of an "over 35" softball league in the immediate future. Too many men feel that they must "retire" as those in their 20's become part of the league. It is my feeling that there are enough men over 35 to begin an eight-

An owlsh editor's notebook

We noticed a report the other day that there are mice in the White House. Could this explain the missing 17 minutes in the Nixon tapes?

Congress got real busy last week so it could take the rest of the month off and return refreshed so it can get real busy in September so it can recess early in October.

But they are not doing anything foolish — yet.

Last week they rejected President Carter's proposal for a five cent a gallon increase in the federal gasoline tax. They knew things would be hot enough at home in August without having to defend a tax like that.

But the tax isn't dead. As a matter of fact, few taxes ever die.

Our new energy secretary, James Schlesinger, is working energetically to revive the tax measure.

In the meantime, Transportation Secretary Brock Adams said the price of gasoline could hit $1 a gallon "very soon" if proposed energy taxes take effect and imported oil costs rise.

This is somewhat embarrassing for some politicians in that we are also being told that Alaska is producing more oil than we can refine on the West Coast.

This should mean a holding down of the price since it would appear supplying it exceeds demand — but the problem in Washington is that they do not have faith.

The only argument for higher gasoline prices — by taxation or by lifting price controls — is that it will encourage conservation — by those who can't afford the higher price.

In effect, we would have rationing by taxation.

Now, we know it has been proposed that the money collected be rebated back to those who pay it. The administration has a commitment to curtail gasoline use through artificially created high prices via taxes.

The irony is you don't hear a peep out of those who would cry profiteering if an oil company raised its prices 10 cents a gallon to "encourage conservation."

The day of reckoning may well be when the increased federal gas tax plus other tax revenues may have to be used to stimulate exploration and production of oil because the industry does not have the profit incentive to do it anymore.

The energy crisis is for real — but we are afraid the politicians have not realized this fact. President Carter and the Democratic-controlled Congress should prepare for the day that is coming when you can turn the thermostat up or down to no avail — because conservation only makes existing supplies of fuel go further — it doesn't create energy.

Speaking of heat, we wish some scientist would come up with a heat-transfer system that would blend August with January to the benefit of both months.

The current talk is that Carter is the first true television president in that he doesn't pass up many opportunities to use it and he uses it quite effectively.

For example, against the advice of some of his fellow party members in Congress, he announced his proposals to reform the national scandal called welfare.

It shows the difference between a conservative and populist approach to government. The conservative makes a proposal and concentrates on it until it is adopted or rejected. The populist, on the other hand, proposes, proposes and proposes not waiting to see if proposal one will get off the ground, or proposal two, or proposal three. But the people, in this country at least, seem to thrive on promised proposals almost better than those adopted.

The late Franklin Delano Roosevelt did this for over 12 years — and only a constitutional amendment stands in the way of Jimmy Carter doing the same.

More publicity needed

Gentlemen:

In my opinion, the organized recreation programs in Manchester, especially softball, could be improved by giving them more, complete publicity.

For instance, at times a schedule of games to be played is not published, and when they are published it is not clear as to whether they are men's or girls' who wishes should be able to play, and I mean play, not sit on the bench.

I would also like to see the town put lights at all the swimming pools in town, including Globe Hollow. Allow swimming every night when the temperature is over 65 or 70 degrees to all 13 and over until 10 or 11 o'clock at night. They should also install spray showers at each entrance 10 or 12 feet long that swimmers had to go through to enter pool.

I would also like to see the town sell Case Mountain and put the money into more usable neighborhood playgrounds.

Fifty years ago it was able to enjoy a town lighted swimming pool on nights like this. The people in Manchester should be able to in 1978.

Lighted pools urged

To the editor,

I wish to make a couple of comments as to recreation improvement in town.

I believe recreation should be available to all who wish to participate especially in baseball. I think we should do away with Little League and have town teams and town playoffs. Every boy and girl who wishes should be able to play, and I mean play, not sit on the bench.

I would also like to see the town put lights at all the swimming pools in town, including Globe Hollow. Allow swimming every night when the

Martin fields need work

Dear Sir:

Each summer, at Martin School, over 300 girls ages 9-16 participate in the Little Miss and Senior Girls Softball Leagues. The Little Miss program was started 17 years ago and the Senior League, for girls ages 13-16, has just completed its fourth year. Both leagues play independent of the town Recreation Dept. but do receive permission each year from the Board of Education for use of the fields at Martin.

There are three softball diamonds, with good backstops, that have the potential of being put into at least playable condition with some labor and a little money. Over the years the base paths, home plate and the pitching area have been worn down to the point of being 4 to 5 inches lower than the rest of the infield. Rain causes puddles so long and deep the fields are unusable for 2 or 3 days. Each year the condition of the fields gets poorer.

I think that the 300 plus girls who use the Martin fields deserve to play on diamonds that have been regraded and brought up to the standard of other school fields being used for slow pitch or Little League activities.

Yours,

On second thought By Jan Warren. The other day my 18-year-old daughter called me old-fashioned. Before I had recovered from that blow...

On second thought (continued). "I don't mean this as an insult, Ma, but you are sort of a period piece. With that she patted me on top of the head and vanished, leaving me to ponder her remarks."

On second thought (continued). "I hate to have you think of me as an old fogey," I said to her later. "It's too bad daughters never know their mothers as they really are."

On second thought (continued). "You ARE? Well...let's see. I was the first girl in my class to pluck her eyebrows. I bleached a blonde streak in my hair. I used to wear Tabu perfume, and smoked with a long black cigarette holder. I ridged the icebox in the college cafeteria, and once I joined a group of kids who were picketing the college president's house. I forgot what we were picketing for, but it must have been a good cause."

Bar group elects Diana

At the annual meeting of the Manchester Bar Association at the Garden Grove Aug. 5, Vincent L. Diana was elected president for a one-year term. Allan D. Thomas was elected vice president, David M. Barry was elected secretary and William B. Collins was elected treasurer. Outgoing president Francis J. Shea stated that the problems facing lawyers in the immediate future are concerned with advertising. Thus far, the Connecticut Bar Association has not adopted any rules or changed the Canon of Ethics to allow advertising. After a short business meeting, dinner was served. Guests included Jay E. Rubinow, John J. Shea Jr., Eugene T. Kelly and Harry Hammar, all judges in the state system. Other guests included Police Chief Robert Langan, Deputy Chief Richard Sartor, former Police Chief James Richard, Town Clerk Edward J. Tomkiel, Town Clerk of South Windsor Charles N. Jones and Chief Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, G.A. 19, Thomas DeTusa.

Dr. Petry appointed resident

Manchester native Judith Jackson Petry, M.D., recently was appointed chief resident of plastic surgery at University Hospital in Boston. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jackson, Vernon St. A graduate of Hensseler Polytechnic Institute, Petry received her medical degree from Albany Medical College. She is board-eligible in general surgery. Before coming to University Hospital, Petry completed a five-year appointment as surgical resident at New England Medical Center Hospital.

Petry is married to Bennett M. Petry, director of fiscal administration, Department of Youth Services, Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The couple lives in Wallaston, Mass. University Hospital, founded in 1855, is a major teaching hospital of Boston University School of Medicine and a member of Boston University Medical Center.

Sales up
Caldor, Inc., Norwalk, a major northeast discount department store chain, reports a record 48 per cent increase in sales for the four weeks ended July 30, 1977 of $28,563,000 versus last year's $19,250,000. For the second quarter ended July 30, 1977 sales advanced 40 per cent to $82,523,000 as compared with $58,104,000, a year ago. Six months record sales were up 31 per cent to $166,222,000 against the previous year's $120,350,000.

Val Rossetti, treasurer, attributed the increase to a continuing upward trend in consumer demand, evidenced by strong gains in May and June, and the addition of 10 new stores opened last fall and this spring. Two more units are scheduled to open before Labor Day in Enfield, Connecticut, and Springfield, Mass., which will bring the chain up to 46 stores. Caldor stock is traded on the American Stock Exchange.

Home loan volume increases

Savings and Loan Associations in Connecticut issued an aggregate $268 million in new mortgage loans during the first six months of 1977, according to a report from Lawrence K. Green, executive vice president of the Savings and Loan League of Connecticut. Home mortgage loans are considered to be a major economic indicator both nationally and statewide. These additional home buying funds bring the statewide total mortgage loans to $2.75 billion at the states Savings and Loan Associations. Boosting this upward trend is over $74 million in mortgage commitments (mortgage money reserved for applications received) as of June 30, 1977 as compared to $55 million in January of 1976. Many Connecticut economy watchers feel that this increase in mortgage loan availability is a definite sign of an ebbing recession. As Savings and Loan Associations throughout Connecticut continue to pour hundreds of millions of dollars into home investment, housing starts continue to rise. "It's like a biological chain," comments Green, "countless industries and jobs are dependent upon new households, new households are dependent upon mortgage loan availability and these, in turn, are dependent upon savings capital held by the Savings and Loan Associations. With savings capital at its present high, we are now able to proceed down the road toward more and more home financing. The ball is definitely rolling and the effects are happily evident. Housing starts are up, unemployment is down and more people than ever before are obtaining mortgage loans through Connecticut's thirty-six Savings and Loan Associations."

In looking at where this additional mortgage money has come from, we find that personal savings held in Connecticut's Savings and Loans are over the first six months of this year have increased 5.84% - aggregating a total of nearly $3 billion. Interest paid to Connecticut savers on savings investments alone amounts to an unprecedented $100 million for this six month period. It is felt by many that this reported gain in Connecticut home financing has been the most important economic news for the state in recent years.

Fighting algae in lake

Vernon gets housing rehab aid

Vernon's application for a federal grant of $270,000 for a housing rehabilitation program has been approved. The announcement of its approval came Tuesday afternoon from the office of Connecticut Congressman Christopher Dodd.

The application was approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and the money is provided through the Housing and Community Development Act.

The funds will allow absentee landlords to rehabilitate some 440 rental units in the Rockville section of town.

The town's application stated that the program will provide decent housing for low- and moderate-income families by encouraging landlords to bring the housing up to local housing code standards.

The program could involve the demolition of some deteriorated houses. It will also involve revising the town's housing code and stronger enforcement efforts.

The town has previously received a grant for rehabilitation of owner-occupied housing and this program has been under way for some time in the Rockville section.

Homeowners are loaned money at a low interest rate.

July fire calls

The Vernon Fire Department responded to 32 calls during the month of July, a slight decrease from June but more than the same period last year.

The breakdown of calls was one grass fire, three box alarms, three mutual aid calls, three emergency standbys, seven structure fires, one car fire, one dryer fire, one oven fire, two trash fires and one gasoline washdown.

Also, the rescue squad had six auto accident standbys, two extractions and one medical assist.

Church prepares for bazaar

Vernon

The 19th annual St. Joseph's Church Outdoor Bazaar will begin Monday at 6 p.m. at the church grounds. The bazaar will run Monday through Friday from 6 to 11 p.m. and Saturday from noon to midnight. There is no admission charge.

On Saturday, Aug. 20, there will be a kiddie matinee beginning at 1 p.m. It will feature kiddie rides at reduced prices and Disneyland characters.

Raffle tickets for a 1977 automobile and two other major prizes are being sold. The drawing will be Aug. 20 at 11:30 p.m.

This year the midway will feature 30 prize booths and 10 major rides. Parishioners and friends of the church staff the booths.

Bingo will be held nightly under a large tent on the grounds. There is also a large tent for refreshments.

The St. Joseph Sweethearts, parishioners, have been busy making golumpki and pierogi for the bazaar and there are thousands of them.

The two kitchens at the fair will have Polish and American foods. There will be a variety of beverages, including cold beer.

For 18 years money raised by the bazaar helped pay the church mortgage, built a convent for the church sisters, operate St. Joseph School and serve as a cushion for increasing operational expenses and improvements.

The Rev. Aloysius Kislik, church pastor, is honorary chairman of the fair. Chester Bloniarz is general chairman. Co-chairmen are Bernice Gill, Marian Narkiewicz and Wanda Saktiewicz.

Patricia Cedor is secretary. John Deptula Jr., William Roguski and Lois Mateczak are treasurers. Max Sadiak and Ms. Cedor are in charge of publicity.

Chairmen and booths are Marian Narkiewicz, American kitchen; Lottie Ziemba, Helen Koniar, Polish kitchen; Mr. and Mrs. James Erickson, Wanda Saktiewicz, booth personnel; Carol Hopowicz, rides personnel; Joseph Raszala, Frank Nowak, Edward Janon, Big Six, Stan Bloniarz, Mike Heard, bingo; Anthony Dowgievicz, Clarence Suchecki, bingo.

Al and Lou Wagner, bicycle raffle; Jean Kurr, golumpki and potato pancakes; Al Wagner, Clarence Suchecki, Frank Nowak, Max Sadiak, poster distribution; Peter Dureko, money runner; Helen Bloniarz, cake; Mr. and Mrs. John Gill, car raffle.

Dan Skiba, stock; Dureko boys, electrical maintenance; Bob Benware, Donald Fortuna, soda.

Dog damage case

Frank Connolly, town manager, has asked the Town Council for permission to refer to the town attorney a recent case of dog damage amounting to $455.

"We had an incident in town where several sheep were killed by a dog," Connolly told the council.

The dog's alleged owner is denying ownership, the town manager said.

Board will meet

The Board of Education will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Bolton Center School Library. Board members will hear the final report of the Committee to Study Town and School Intramural and Interscholastic Programs. It will be presented by Harvey Harpin, committee chairman.

Board members will discuss the 1976-77 budget report and the guaranteed tax base funds.

Ellington firm gets more aid

An Ellington firm will get extra help in its expansion plan as a result of financing approved Tuesday by the state Department of Commerce through its financing arm, the Connecticut Development Authority.

The authority voted approval of $245,000 for the Rice Packaging Co. The sum represents an increase of $10,000 over the $235,000 which was approved in May.

The Rice expansion financing was one of 10 projects given the authority's go-ahead Tuesday. The authority okayed financing a total of $2,201.75 in expansion projects.

Road work planned. The state Department of Transportation will start work Thursday on a concrete overlay of Rt. 83 in Ellington. The project begins at Rt. 285 and runs about three quarters of a mile to Rt. 140.

The work is to be completed in one day, between 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Traffic will be directed by flagmen and signs. Motorists are asked to use caution while passing through the work area.

PLO denounced

Begin in good mood after Vance meetings

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Prime Minister Menahem Begin said that in five hours of talks Secretary of State Cyrus Vance applied "not one word" of pressure on Israel to accept of the Palestine Liberation Organization in Middle East peace efforts.

"I emerge from the meetings in a good mood," Begin said after a 3 1/2-hour morning session with Vance and his aides and top Israeli officials.

"Various problems were raised, but there is no confrontation," he said. "We're all optimistic. Jews are optimistic by nature."

Begin said it was clear the United States had no intention of working for a change in U.N. Security Council resolution 242, which refers to the Palestinian question only as a refugee problem.

The Israeli prime minister said the next step toward a peace agreement would be parallel talks in New York on the Palestinian question only as a refugee problem.

In the last half-hour of the meeting, Vance, Begin and Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan talked alone.

Afterward, Vance said, "We continued our talks this morning morning over a wide variety of subjects. They were good talks."

Begin said news reports of U.S. pressure were far from reality.

"Despite the stories, there was not one word of pressure that we agree on the participation of the organization of murderers known as the PLO," Begin said.

Begin repeated his denunciation of the PLO as a Nazi-like group and said Israel would have nothing to do with it.

It despite reports that its leaders are thinking of adopting a more moderate position.

Begin said Vance brought both American and Israeli ideas to the Arab leaders.

"We have their replies and now we'll meet again," Begin said. "The momentum is going on. The next step will be in September."

He said he thought the Geneva peace conference could be reconvened in October or November "we'll see in the next stage."

Begin also repeated his statement from a state dinner Tuesday night that "Vance had accomplished a 'great achievement,' but he said it had been decided not to reveal it now.

Israeli newspapers said today that Vance told Israeli leaders there seems to be no chance of any Middle East peace talks without participation by the PLO.

Begin, however, said after the first day of talks: "It feels great. There's a terrific abyss between newspaper stories and reality."

Public works plan revised

By GREG PEARSON

Herald Reporter

The Town of Manchester has revised its plans for use of Public Works Employment Act monies to include storm drainage work at Thompson Rd.

One of the three projects that the police station (unchanged), $779,000 for sidewalks and $245,000 for Thompson Rd. work.

In another matter, the board voted 6-0 (Directors Robert Price, Phyllis Jackson and Pascal Prignano were absent) to approve $315,000 in funding for the sewer project in the Baldwin-Concord Rd. area. This represents the town's cost for the street sewers and a trunk sewer from Union Pond to Tolland Tpke.

Referendums

The town has applied for state funds that would pay $1,288,000 of the project's cost.

But, the water tank construction will be postponed. The directors voted to appropriate $750,000 for the police station (unchanged), $779,000 for sidewalks and $245,000 for Thompson Rd. work.

Two French students to sojourn here

By GREG PEARSON

Herald Reporter

Two young Frenchmen will be spending the month of August as guests of Manchester families.

Alain Denoray will stay with Sam and Sandy Hamilton of 309 Kennedy Rd. Philippe Poustoly will stay with Carol and Tom Nash of 65D Ambassador Dr.

They are two of about 140 students from France who are taking part in the North Atlantic Cultural Exchange League. They arrived at Kennedy Airport in New York last Thursday and will stay until Aug. 31.

Their stay in Manchester was kicked off last week with a pool party on Kennedy Rd.

"In France, we don't have many swimming pools," Poustoly, who comes from the town of Beauchamp, said. Most of the pools in his country are public rather than private ones, he said.

Both agreed that they have found Americans friendly.

"The people are very good and very welcoming," Poustoly said.

Both said that they enjoyed their swim, which provided some relief from a hot, muggy summer night.

Their flight from France took about eight hours. It was the first time both Poustoly and Denoray had flown.

"The trip was a little long," Poustoly said.

Denoray comes from Versailles. He and Poustoly will return to school next month. They are in grades comparable to the first years of college.

Both of the young men have actively participated in several sports in France, including soccer, tennis and rugby. They hope to practice some while they are staying here and may also at least be spectators for a game like baseball, which is much more common in this country.

Coventry plans rules on events

The Coventry Parks and Recreation Commission in preparing recommendations for an ordinance to regulate special events in town. Public Chief Robert Kjelquist prepared the original draft.

The recreation commissioners feel any town gathering attracting more than 200 people should be covered by the ordinance. A valid license would have to be obtained from Town Manager Frank Connolly at least 30 days in advance.

The new rule would require Connolly to make public disclosure of the event within seven days of receipt of the application. He would have to either grant or deny the application within 14 days.

The application must include a description of the event, its location, a facilities plan including portable toilets, and the date and hours, and must meet state and local health standards.

The license would be valid for three days after it is issued.

The nonrefundable fee for the license would be $100, but Connolly would have the option of waiving the fee for groups which have provided social or cultural services to the town.

This would exclude most local organizations from the fee payment.

The final ordinance must be weighed by the Town Council and a public hearing before it is approved.

The commissioners also plan to begin work on an ordinance which would regulate private use of the town's parks. A recently passed ordinance applied only to Sandy Shores, Lisick Beach, and area adjacent to these beaches.

The town will involve the section of Rt. 85 beginning at Rt. 6 and running south. Work will be performed daily between 7 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. The job will take about three working days and is scheduled to be completed, weather permitting, by Monday.

Message parlor ordinance gets unanimous approval

By GREG PEARSON

Herald Reporter

The Board of Directors Tuesday night unanimously approved an ordinance to govern message parlors that operate in the Town of Manchester.

All six directors who attended (Democrats Robert Price, Phyllis Jackson and Pascal Prignano were absent) voted for the proposal, despite a request from Caesar Rositto that the ordinance be tabled.

Rositto, owner of the Adam & Eve Lounge at 55 Oak St., said he is considering indications for conspiracy because of "private meetings" that were held concerning the ordinance. He said that he supports a regulatory ordinance and had offered his help in drawing up a proposal at last month's public hearing, but he was not consulted.

Vivian Ferguson, who had met with Town Counsel Victor Moses to discuss changes to the first draft of the ordinance, said, "There were no secret meetings. The press knew of the meeting. I think we should continue."

The hearing did continue, and most of the speakers supported the proposal. Some requested tighter restrictions.

Frank Lapin, of 21 Sunset St., said that inspections of the parlors should be conducted "at least twice a month and maybe twice a night" rather than the twice a year that is listed in the ordinance.

Several representatives from the Manchester Area Conference of Churches and local parishes asked the Board of Directors Tuesday night to amend the ordinance, including personnel rules, budgeting and purchasing methods.

WHA officials to reheat bidding war with NHL

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stung by the National Hockey League's abrupt veto of a merger agreement, World Hockey Association officials have promised to reheat the bidding war which prompted both sides to seek an accommodation.

"We are going ahead with plans for an eight-team league," said New England Whalers' president Howard Baldwin Tuesday. "Let the NHL come to us in the future."

The NHL's board of governors rejected the proposed expansion plan to accept six WHA teams into a separate division of the NHL next season.

After very careful consideration," said NHL president John Ziegler, "the prepared plan of expansion failed to receive the required majority necessary. There will be no expansion for the 1977-78 season."

The announcement may have signaled the end of the WHA, which five years ago began luring superstars and talented amateurs to its ranks, initiating a costly and often bitter rivalry.

"They were obviously disappointed," said Ziegler. "But there is nothing to prevent them from applying again next year."

Bitter WHA officials insisted this would not happen. Suffering in attendance and recognition, they had accepted terms from the NHL. Now they indicate they may use their last resources trying to establish themselves at the expense of the older league.

"There is no way I would recommend to my board of directors that the Cincinnati Stingers ever again apply for a National Hockey League franchise," Cincinnati Stingers' president Bill DeWitt Jr. said.

"We believe that the NHL was afraid of the high caliber of our on-ice product," Jacques McKeague of the Winnipeg Jets said. "We opened our books to them... what has happened here today has turned us off completely."

The merger needed 14 of 18 votes in the NHL and there was considerable sentiment toward the plan. But the minority included Toronto Maple Leafs' president Harold Ballard and outgoing league president Clarence Campbell.

"The door is still open on the WHA issue," said Campbell. "It's no secret that our league was very widely divided. It is also no secret that my personal disposition was not in favor of a merger."

Ballard, who claimed the WHA would die without the merger, was less restrained.

"Winning's not everything," he said. "It's the only thing."

The NHL will meet again in Toronto in the final week of August. Ziegler, refusing to admit that the vote was a defeat, said, "In my position as chairman of the board and as a member of the fact-finding committee on merger, my only responsibility was to make sure that all of the facts and legalities were presented to the governors here today."

Baldwin disappointed

HARTFORD (UPI) — New England Whalers General Manager Howard Baldwin said Tuesday he is disappointed the National Hockey League rejected a proposed merger with the World Hockey Association.

"It's naturally a disappointment but it certainly is not the end of the world," he said.

"This deal for Hartford does not have the impact it has for some other teams. We do very nicely in Hartford, in the WHA. The fans have supported it and supported it well," Baldwin said.

He said the NHL's board of governors can "give no valid reason for rejecting the application. I can't give you one. They weren't dealing in good faith."

"There is one thing all this has done. It has united the league emotionally and financially," he said.

White Sox get lift from former pitcher

NEW YORK (UPI) — Journeyman right-hander Jesse Jefferson, who exasperated his former manager, Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox, with his wildness last year, gave his ex-teammates a big lift when he tamed their closest rivals, the Minnesota Twins, on four hits Tuesday night.

And while Jefferson and the Toronto Blue Jays were defeating the Twins, 6-2, the White Sox' home run brigade went on a rampage against the AL's other expansion "baby," the Seattle Mariners. The Sox slammed six homers including two by Eric Soderholm to pummel Seattle, 13-3, and increase their American League West lead to two games over Minnesota.

"I'm really glad for them," said Jefferson. "I hope the White Sox win. (Chicago President) Bill Veck is a super guy. I don't have anything against the White Sox. I just didn't get to pitch over there."

Jefferson has harassed some of last year's wildness and after his latest victory, accomplished with the help of homers from Roy Howell and Doug Auld, he's now 7-12.

Meanwhile, the White Sox, who lost seven of eight last week and had their division lead sliced by five games, appear to have regrouped at the expense of the Mariners.

"We're hot again guys, we're hot," said Soderholm, who hit two-run homers in the third and fourth innings of his 18th and 17th this year. "I think we're back on track."

Chet Lemon had a three-run homer in the first inning while Oscar Gamble hit his 22nd and Jim Essian his eighth in the third and Rayle Stillman added yet another in the seventh.

In the only other AL game, Baltimore downed Cleveland, 3-1, and Milwaukee topped Detroit, 6-4, after losing the first game of their doubleheader, 4-2.

JUNIOR LEAGION Turning on the long ball power, Manchester Jr. Legion baseball team romped past Star Sports Baseball School, 16-3, Monday at Loomis in Windsor.

Mike Galberito had four hits including a homer. Dave Bottaro threw three-run roundtrippers. Joe Demio had a three-run double. Freshers, Shawn Spies and Bottaro combined on a two-hitter.

Buckner continues to give first-aid

NEW YORK (UPI) — Despite severe pain in his left ankle from off-season surgery that would force many players to the sidelines, Bill Buckner continues to supply first-aid to the Chicago Cubs.

The left-handed hitting first baseman, who is hitting at a .307 clip, had three hits, including a home run, Tuesday night and drove in two runs to help the Cubs defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-1, and move to within one game of first place.

Reds 4, Dodgers 0 Rookie left-hander Doug Capilla pitched a no-hitter for 6-2-3 innings then combined with Pedro Borbon on a one-hitter as the Reds won their 11th game of the Dodgers in the NL West. Pete Rose homered for the Reds.

Cardinals 1, Expos 3 Nine Expos scattered eight hits and John Milner drove in two runs to help the Cubs defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-1, and move to within one game of first place in the NL East.

Giants 4-5, Astros 3-0 Gene Tenace hit a pair of homers and drove in three runs to guide the Padres. Gary Carter hit two homers and Chris Speier had a solo shot for Montreal.

Mariners 4-5, Astros 3-0 Willie McCovey drove in two runs and Jim Barr picked up his 11th victory as the Giants won the opener and Bob Knepper allowed only four hits in the nightcap in helping San Francisco complete the sweep.

Philladelphia in the National League East. "I have to take five or six aspirins before each game," Buckner said. "It hurts, but I play because I'm trying to earn a living and I'd like to help the team win a pennant."

Buckner's two RBI and a two-run double by George Mitterwald helped Ray Burris even his record at 11-11. Burris went 7-13 in his first game since he hit the last 1-2-3 in his 1976 season. In other NL games, Cincinnati blanked Los Angeles, 4-1, New York defeated St. Louis, 4-1, San Diego downed Montreal, 8-5, and San Francisco swept a doubleheader from Houston, 4-3 and 5-0.

Lobsters defeat Soviets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Boston Lobsters moved within one game of capturing the title in World Team Tennis with an easy 28-21 decision over the Soviets before a fine crowd of 3,482 at the Hartford Civic Center.

The Lobsters swept four of the five matches, only Tony Roche losing to Russian ace Alex Metreveli, 6-3. Six times the two teams met this season and the result was the same in each.

The Soviets, without a "home court," have all 44 starts scheduled on the road.

"The traveling is too much. Often there is no time to eat or sleep. We are always traveling," Metreveli, the No. 1 Soviet player said.

The stars of the night, as they have been all season in the six Hartford appearances, were Greer Stevens and Martina Navratilova. The pair combined to defeat Galina Baksheeva and Olga Morozova, 6-4, the 34th decision in 37 matches, tops in WTT.

Navratilova topped the veteran Morozova, 6-4, and Stevens teamed with Mike Estep to stop Ted Kakuia and Baksheeva, 6-2.

Roche and Estep needed a nine-point breaker to turn back Alex Bogomolov and Metreveli, 7-6.

If a popularity contest was ever held in Hartford, the 29-year-old Stevens would probably win the honor hands down. Navratilova is a better all-around player but Stevens is spectacular with plenty of showmanship and a bullet-like forehead.

What does coming here mean to him? "I'm a simple little thing like signing his name takes practically all the strength and energy Red Ruffing has, but he doesn't mind doing it a bit."

With him, giving people his autograph is a labor of love. "It is painfully difficult, almost excruciatingly so, to go back not that many years ago and recall what a fine figure of a man Charlie 'Red' Ruffing was, pitching for the New York Yankees, and then to see him now partially paralyzed and imprisoned in a wheelchair struggling so hard to write his name."

Charlie Ruffing is happy to do it, though. You could see that by the pleased reaction on his face every time someone came over to him for his autograph here the past couple of days, as so many did.

Elected to Baseball's Hall of Fame 10 years ago, the 72-year-old Ruffing shames many younger and much more vigorous Hall of Famers by coming here from his home in Cleveland each year for the annual induction ceremony.

Without his devoted wife, Pauline, to whom he has been married for 40 years, he'd never make it. Ruffing came to the Yankees in 1950 from the Red Sox, and next to getting Babe Ruth from the same club the Yankees never made a better deal.

"When I came to the Yankees, I was called into the office by the manager, Bob Shawkey," Ruffing said. "He told me you will walk like a Yankee on the field and always act like one off it. I never forgot that."

Now Ruffing lives on a modest baseball pension. Very modest, only $300 a month. His wife works for help out. She gets up 5:30 in the morning to take care of him, puts in eight hours working in a hospital, then comes home to feed him.

"Charles is a wonderful person. He has always given me everything he possibly could and we've had a marvelous life together."

Ruffing was the kind of fellow who never took any nonsense from anybody — even his wife.

"I remember Red Rolfe making an error in a game Charles pitched one day," she said. "I was at the game and made a remark that if Rolfe couldn't play in the big leagues he should go back to Newark and learn how. I don't know it, but his wife was sitting in front of me and she heard what I said."

"I told Charles about it and he was infuriated. He insisted I call Mrs. Rolfe and apologize. The next morning the first thing he did after he woke up was ask me, 'Did you make that call yet?' I told him I hadn't and he insisted that I make it immediately."

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Three cheers for LIVING A LIFE—the woman who was honest enough to admit that she did not enjoy sex, but had "taken it" in the bedroom for 20 years. I too, was married for 20 years and never really enjoyed sex. I have come to the conclusion that many women do not enjoy sex, but this in no way affects their ability to love. Furthermore, I feel that there are many women who have been living a lie and "taking it" for financial reasons and because they enjoy all the other aspects of marriage. Please print this so see if there are other women honest enough to admit this.

ANOTHER AFFECTIONATE LOVER DEAR ABBY: I have been reading, with pleasure, your column containing the letters from the 50-year-old and the 36-year-old, both of whom seem to value love above sex. I am happy to know there are others who feel as I do. I had about given up and decided maybe I was some kind of freak. I value sex highly, but as a fulfillment of love. I am very affectionate, and enjoy being held close, kissed and cared for by someone I love; and the feeling of love between us is what turns me on. I cannot consider frigid because I feel this way, and because I cannot, I have had sex with no love or tenderness involved, and go through all kinds of mattress acrobatics, as if playing a game, and feel I had a wonderful time and complete fulfillment. I am not saying this is wrong, but it is not for me and I resent being considered odd because I feel this way. It is good to know there are others who believe in love. When the sex drive is long gone, love and tender memories will still be there.

DEAR ABBY: Why will no one ever come right out and say that sex can be uncomfortable, sometimes painful and often messy? Sex isn't always that heavenly experience that sex manuals and porno promoters would have us believe. Sometimes it's O.K., particularly if one can bathe luxuriously, get glamorous and beautified, and get into a good and relaxed mood. But how many working women or women with small children can do that? I feel that I have been denied an outlet for real affection all my life. Affection to my husband has always meant sex. For my part, I've come to hate even the thought of it. It could hardly wait until menopause, and have since then just said, "No, I'm too old." But I would like to have said "No" much earlier.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your reputation is so good that your most precious assets—devotion and love—may be used for something where you're not intended to be. Beware of a man who is in an attempt to bamboozle you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Disappointed in their love life if you expect more than you're entitled to. Be satisfied with what you have. Don't let your mind wander to someone else. You can't have it all.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You're not sure today whether you can proudly say it if you send out something shady if it comes to buying household goods and commodities today. However, you could know the budget on a luxury item.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't do things from a sense of duty today. Do them from your heart—or you'll make people uncomfortable. Ambition and effort are also required.
