The fourth-seeded Dibbs, of Miami Beach, Fla., beat thought that was the only match of turning points. In the second, third and fourth sets, Fibak had opportunities to put Dibbs finals of the Canadian away.

But the feisty Dibbs battled back and forced monday.

"For one thing, I played better today," said Orantes. "I played today like I wanted to play."

By the middle of the second set, Orantes had Fillol so baffled with his precise shot placement he was able to push Fillol back from the net at will. With Fillol back toward the baseline, Orantes kept him from getting too comfortable by tossing drop shots into the match.

Campbell's pitch Rooster ruined Rice's show crowing

BOSTON (UPI) — No sooner had Boston's Jim Rice reached hitters' heaven when one bad pitch from Red Sox teammate Bill Campbell turned Fenway Park into Paradise Lost.

Rice's three homers and four runs batted in went for naught Monday night as Oakland rookie Mitchell Page clubbed his second home run of the game, a ninth-inning solo drive off Boston's relief king, to give the A's an 8-7 win in a nationally elevised contest. The loss, coupled with New York's

JUNE BRIDE

DEAR ABBY: We built a lovely patio, bought furniture and a grill, and planned for a pleasant summer. But whenever we cook out, two neighbor children come over, stand around and watch us eat!

Once I gave them each a slice of watermelon and told them nicely to run along home, but they came back with some other children, forming a ring around the grill and remarking on how good the barbecued ribe smelled!

I like children and don't want to be unkind or petty, but

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR BRIDE: Not if his mother picks up and delivers. DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for Abyears, and not once has he bought me a gift or flowers.

On special occasions when he thinks I should have a greeting card, he hands it to me in the same paper sack from the store where he purchased it. When I ask him what it is, he says, "Open it and you'll find out." And when I do, I find a plain card without his signature or my name

I have told him repeatedly that if he can't take the trouble to put my name on the card and sign it, he shouldn't bother getting me one.

My birthday just passed, and that morning he told me that if I was going out, to buy myself a card. I told him I wouldn't do it, so when he came home, he handed me another unsigned card in a paper sack.

As I write this I'm not on speaking terms with him. Can you blame me? He is so inconsiderate and thoughtless. Are there other husbands like him? I doubt it.

DEAR UNHAPPY: It will probably be small consolation for you to learn that I've heard from hundreds of women who would be thrilled if their husbands bought them a Stayed at the luxurious Ritz Carlton Hotel located just a few blocks from St. Catherine's St. which is full of fabulous boutiques, department stores, and art galleries. Louis Bergeron, public relations director for the City of Montreal, provided us with a charming escort, Francois Lauze, a law student at McGill University working for the city for the summer. He drove us all over the city where we visited many scenic and historic spots.

We caught the breathtaking view from Mount Royal, which is located in the center of Montreal, visited Expo 76, stood in awe at the paintings and altars in the spec-tacular Notre Dame Cathedral, and dined in a lovely French restaurant in Old Montreal, Auberge Le Dieux Saint Gabriel. On the second day of our visit, François picked us up at 10 a.m. and we toured the Olympic Stadium. I couldn't believe that the structure, vast as it is, cost $900 million and additional monies are needed to complete the 12story tower from which a retractable roof will open and close the top of the stadium. The Olympic Village, which housed more than 9,000 athletes during the 1976 Summer Olympics, was not open to the public as it is currently being converted to housing

BOSTON (UPI) - No sooner had Boston's Jim Rice reached hitters' heaven when one bad pitch from Red Sox teammate Bill Campbell turned Fenway Park into Paradise Lost.

Rice's three homers and four runs batted in went for naught Monday night as Oakland rookie Mitchell Page clubbed his second home run of the game, a ninth-inning solo drive off Boston's relief king, to give the A's an 8-7 win in a nationally televised contest.

The loss, coupled with New York's 5-3 triumph over Kansas City, left the Red Sox three games behind the

DEAR ABBI: My husband and I have been married for 46 years, and not once has he bought me a gift or flowers. On special occasions when he thinks I should have a greeting card, he hands it to me in the same paper sack from the store where he purchased it. When I ask him what it is, he says, "Open it and you'll find out." And when I do, I find a plain card without his signature or my name Win at Bridge

I have told him repeatedly that if he can't take the trouble to put my name on the card and sign it, he shouldn't bother getting me one. My birthday just passed, and that morning he told me that if I was going out, to buy myself a card. I told him wouldn't do it, so when he came home, he handed me another unsigned card in a paper sack.

As I write this I'm not on speaking terms with him. Can you blame me? He is so inconsiderate and thoughtless. Are there other husbands like him? I doubt it.

DEAR UNHAPPY: It will probably be small consolation for you to learn that I've heard from hundreds of women who would be thrilled if their husbands bought them a greeting card. Yes, even in a paper sack-unsigned.
