Massage parlors fight new curbs

By GREG PEARSON

Herald Reporter
Owners of two Manchester massage parlors have filed for an injunction against the town's massage ordinance, which they say is unconstitutional. Legal papers, filed Wednesday in Hartford's Court of Common Pleas, ask for a temporary and permanent injunction against the ordinance, which was passed by the Town Board of Directors on Aug. 9. Hartford County Sheriff Joseph Rubera issued summons Wednesday afternoon and this morning to several Manchester town officials who are named in the action. The plaintiffs in the action are Paul O'Bright, doing business as Cleopatra's West, 455 Main St., and Country Investments Inc., doing business as Velvet Touch, 525 Main St. Defendants are Town Manager Robert Weiss, Health Director Dr. Alice Turek, Police Chief Robert Lannan, members of the Board of Directors and the Town of Manchester. A similar action was also filed against a Hartford ordinance by seven owners of massage parlors in that city. The action taken against the Manchester ordinance says that the new law "interferes with, or will interfere with, or impairs, or threatens to impair, the legal rights of the plaintiffs to engage in, or carry on, their business." Several sections of the ordinance—including ones dealing with requirements for a permit and prohibiting contact with the genital area—are "overbroad, vague and arbitrary, (and) fail to set

Water meeting tonight, large crowd expected

A public meeting to discuss the recent water problem in the southwest section of Manchester will be held tonight.

The meeting, expected to draw a large crowd, will begin at 7:30 in the Manchester High School Bailey Auditorium. Residents of the southwest section of town were required to boil their water for a 12-day period earlier this month because of high bacteria counts found in the town water supply in that area.

Many were angered that they were not notified individually when the problem was first discovered. The Water Department said that it followed notification procedures outlined by the state by announcing the problem through the local news media.

Residents also complained of the inconvenience, and most have signed a petition seeking damages from the town for the 12-day period. The problem was traced to a valve on Diane Dr. that was closed and should have been open.

Members of the Water Department will be at tonight's meeting to answer questions about the matter. Present members of the Board of Directors and candidates running in this year's election have been invited to attend.

Mayor Matthew Moriarty had been expected to moderate the meeting, but he will be out-of-town on a business trip.

The moderator duties will be handled either by Town Manager Robert Weiss, who is just returning from vacation, or Director of Public Works Jay Giles.

Moriarty did send a letter to Weiss that he would like to have read at tonight's meeting.

He wrote the letter on behalf of the Democratic majority as well as Democratic candidates for the board.

In the letter, Moriarty said, "The communications between the town and our water customers were unacceptable and must be improved. We must be more responsive to our citizens during emergencies of this nature."

He said that the town should contact each person individually, even if it means using all town employees to accomplish the job.

"Let me say that none of the problems that we face are insurmountable," he said. "We know that we must have better communications with our citizens, and we will have them. We know that the quality and distribution of our public water supply can be improved, and it will be improved."

WINDSOR LOCKS (UPI)—The world's inventor and largest producer of teabag paper, the C.H. Dexter Division of the multinational Dexter Corp., today outlined a $15 million plant expansion. Division President Ralph H. Martin said the expansion program will result ultimately in 85 new jobs and, through a new machine, boost production by 25 per cent of teabag paper and the division's line of non-woven surgical fabric.

HARTFORD (UPI)—Gov. Ella T. Grasso has indicated if an audit shows Bridgeport jail alibi has been making too much money and the gaming commission doesn't propose giving the state a larger share, she may do so herself. Mrs. Grasso Wednesday received a letter from gaming commission Chairman Beatrice Kowalski who said, "Regardless of what criteria of measurement is used, the profitability of the operation appears unreasonably high."

BRIDGEPORT (UPI)—Two young girls were raped before they were stuffed inside the abandoned refrigerator in which they died, a medical examiner said Wednesday. "My present conclusion is they were raped before being placed alive in the unused refrigerator. Death was due to suffocation," Dr. George J. Molnar said. He said the girls, Jaimeria Croom, 2, and Michele South, 5, were not bludgeoned, and their bodies showed "just superficial bruises and abrasions."

GREENWICH (UPI)—The Federal Aviation Administration and state aeronautics officials are investigating the crash of a single engine plane that killed two Pennsylvania men. The craft crashed Wednesday in a wooded area of Greenwich shortly after taking off from nearby Westchester County Airport in New York. The pilot, Oswald Duane Johnson, 58, of Clifford, Pa., and his passenger, James J. Tallman, 36, of Clifford, Pa., were thrown from the plane on impact, police said.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—Gov. J. Joseph Garrahy and corrections officials have agreed the lockup at the state prison will end in stages but have not set a timetable. The governor also apologized for Assistant Corrections Director William Laurie Jr.'s refusal to testify before a special Senate Commission investigating the Adult Correctional Institutions about the incident which led to the lockup.

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI)—Upset with regulatory delays, an anti-nuclear lawyer says she may ask the 1st Circuit Court of Appeals in Boston to halt construction at the Seabrook nuclear power plant until all appeals are processed.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Wholesale prices rose a slight 0.1 per cent in August, reflecting the fourth consecutive monthly decline in farm prices, the Labor Department reported today. Although August brought the first wholesale price increase in three months, it was little cause for concern. Wholesale prices, a harbinger of consumer price trends, have declined at an annual rate of 2.6 per cent in three months.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The district attorney's office said Wednesday it has no objection to Sirhan B. Sirhan's request to return to the hotel pantry where he shot Sen. Robert F. Kennedy to jog his memory of the assassination, which Sirhan says he cannot recall. Superior Court Presiding Judge William F. Hogoboom was scheduled to hear arguments today on a motion by Sirhan's attorney, Godfrey Isaac, to return him from prison to the scene of the slaying.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Country singer Waylon Jennings and an assistant to his business manager have been ordered held for a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to possess and distribute cocaine. The 40-year-old entertainer, who has been called an "outlaw" for defying traditional country music, appeared at a probable cause hearing Wednesday wearing black boots, jeans, a leather vest and a shirt unbuttoned to his stomach. He made no comment following the ruling by U.S. Magistrate Kent Sandidge III.

CHICAGO (UPI)—Foods common to "Western-style" diets may boost the body's production of cancer-causing agents and increase the risk of cancer of the colon, a Canadian researcher reported today. However, he theorized that increased consumption of fiber, large doses of vitamin C and reduced fat intake could curb the cancer risk.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Carter is setting aside three days next week for talks with Latin American leaders and ceremonies involved in the formal signing of the Panama Canal treaties. Carter is pulling out all the stops to dramatize hemispheric solidarity for the controversial agreement, with some 15 to 20 Latin American heads of government and Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau traveling to Washington for the big show Wednesday evening.

Anita speeds up

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—Hurricane Anita roared toward the South Texas coast with 100-mile-an-hour winds today, whipping up 12-foot waves in her westward path across the Gulf of Mexico.

The National Weather Service said a hurricane warning would be issued for portions of the coast today.

At 3 a.m. EDT, the center of the season's first hurricane was located 230 miles east of Brownsville—near latitude 25.9 north, longitude 93.8 west.

Jacobs fights new WINF owner

By BETTY RYDER
Herald family editor

The public's appreciation of "easy listening music" versus "rock 'n roll" became an issue today at a press conference this morning called by Jeff Jacobs, vice president and general manager of Manchester radio station WINF.

Jacobs, in an editorial aired earlier this morning, informed listeners that the new president of WINF, Inc., Victor Levinson of New York, "instructed me to prepare for a change of our programming format to rock 'n roll music."

"While I have no personal distaste for rock 'n roll music, the Greater Hartford area has a surplus of it. A radio listener can tune in to numerous stations that are programming this type of music. WINF radio is the last station of good music on the AM dial."

Commenting on public response to the station's program presentations,

Jeff Jacobs, WINF general manager, calls morning press conference.

Jacobs said, "In the last rating period of the Greater Hartford area, we had the largest audience that WINF has reached in the past seven years."

His editorial further stated that "this tells me that you, the listener, appreciate good music, adult programming, and with this in mind, I have flatly refused the president of WINF his request for a change of music. I have further refused him entry into this radio station while he insists on this futile venture."

Jacobs is seeking the support of every listener and asked that they write to him and show support of what he calls "our good music policy." Letters or postcards should be addressed to WINF, Manchester, Conn. 06040.

Jacobs, who has been the station manager for the past 7½ years, says he is so confident of listeners reaction that he has informed Levinson that if he insists on turning the radio station into a rock 'n roll format, he will resign his position as general manager.

Ironically, Jacobs, who is from England, has no personal dislike for rock 'n roll music.

"When I lived in England, I was involved in agency work where we managed rock 'n roll groups. But in this area, where there are 10 AM stations, we are the only one still presenting easy listening music. The area is saturated with rock 'n roll."

Commenting on WTIC radio station's recent change to the rock 'n roll format, Jacobs said, "When that change came about we acquired such personalities as George Ehrlich, Bob Ellsworth, and Jean Colbert, who had been with that station for years."

"We will be receiving programs from Mutual Radio Network beginning Sept. 5 with Jack Anderson, syndicated columnist, presenting a program every day."

"Our program format is for adult listening. I even fear for the New York Yankee baseball games we currently present. Rock 'n roll is usually a 24-hour format and they may not want to interrupt for airing of the games."

WINF, Jacobs said, hosts a highly successful "Songs By Sinatra" program which airs twice a day.

"We have heard from area radio stations that our ratings for the 4:35 p.m. show are about top in the area," the station manager said.

Previously headed by Robert Charnas through the National Media Corp., the local station, as of today, is owned by WINF, Inc. with Mrs. Edythe Charnas of New York, the former president's mother, as principal shareholder. Mrs. Charnas named Levinson to the presidency.

In closing the press conference at his offices at 257 E. Center St., Jacobs said, "I have great respect for Mr. Levinson; he has come up with a lot of great ideas for the station. I just disagree with the proposed format change and I am determined to let the listeners have a chance to write to me, pro or con, and voice their feelings."

"If it goes (easy listening music), it's gone forever in this area. I'm looking for public support."

MCC to add library to business service

The Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce and Manchester Community College (MCC) announced this week the implementation of the second major component of a co-sponsored Manchester Small Business Services Program.

The Hartford District Office of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) donated material this week to provide a resource library and information service for use by the local business community.

In presenting the material to the college and Chamber, Mike Schulte, management assistance officer for SBA, noted that the publications mark the start of a complete business reference library for local business persons.

Initially, the Small Business Services Program will have about 100 publications in its collection. Of these, 40 of the most popular titles are available in multiple copies and will be distributed by the chamber and college. The 60 remaining publications will be integrated into the college library and will be available on a circulating basis.

In conjunction with the new program, five small business courses are being offered this fall at MCC. The courses include starting a small business, small business management, crime prevention seminar, advertising east of the river, and credit collections.

Registration for the courses or inquiries concerning the materials in the library should be directed to MCC. Copies of the publications may be obtained from either the chamber or the college library. A complete listing of titles has been prepared.

Information concerning the small business program may be obtained by calling or visiting the chamber offices at 257 E. Center St. or the Community Services Division of MCC.

Dianne McHutchison of Manchester Community College Services Division; Jim Breitenfeld, executive vice-president of Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce; and Michael Schulte, management assistance officer for the Hartford office of U.S. Small Business Administration look over new publications donated Wednesday by SBA to the college and the chamber. The availability of the publications for the local business community is one of several facets of a small business services program jointly sponsored by the chamber and the college. Town gets scrap bids

A Hartford firm is the apparent low bidder for approximately 50,000 pounds of scrap materials from the Town Water Department.

Suisman & Blumenthal of Hartford submitted a bid of $217 per pound or a total price of $1,085 based on the 50,000-pound figure.

Only one other firm bid for the materials, which include old pipes and fittings no longer of use to the department.

Maurice Pass, director of general services, said that the $0.00-pound figure is an estimate. The final price paid by the firm will be based on the actual total weight.

Gaming unit will avoid ad frauds

WETHERSFIELD (UPI) — The head of the Connecticut gaming commission says from now on it will try to avoid misrepresentations in its advertisements for the daily lottery.

Beatrice Kowalski, whose panel supervises legalized gaming in Connecticut, said Wednesday that the use of fictional situations as fact in lottery advertising is not meant to be deceptive. But she acknowledged the matter troubled her and said future ads will try to avoid misrepresentations.

"I don't think it was done to deceive anyone, and I'm not actually sure it is a matter of deception," she said. "But I think we can advertise in a different way. We have enough factual success stories we can tell."

At issue is the radio advertising campaign used by the Connecticut Daily Lottery.

The advertisement features music lifted from the old "March of Time" newscasts and a deep-voiced announcer. It describes a Meriden mechanic who won by counting engine bolts and a Bridgeport housewife who watched her children scramble and devised a lucky system that won.

Neither situation is factual, although the mechanic story is loosely based on an actual event.

Account executive Brian R. Magee of the lottery's advertising agency, F.W. Prell Co., of Hartford, said use of such fictional situations is a matter of "poetic license." He said such advertising is permissible so long as there is no intent to defraud the public.

Mrs. Kowalski said she had been unaware until last week of the situations in the advertisement were not based on fact.

"I've heard these ads and had never realized they were untrue," she said. "I would prefer they (the ads) are based on a realistic situation. We have enough factual success stories."

She said she planned to look into the advertising campaign and meet with State Lottery Director John Winchester about it.

The board of Christian education of Center Congregational Church will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Federation Room of the church. The property committee will meet at the same hour in the Robbins Room.

The Organization of the Handicapped will meet Monday, Sept. 12 from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the Mayfair Gardens Social Hall at Main and N. Main Sts. All people over 18 who are handicapped and living east of the river are invited. For further information, call 646-7798, 646-7807 or 528-0574.

Merchants to offer views on plan for Main St. work

If borrowing is approved to fund the reconstruction of Main St., a group of merchants will be formed to provide input and receive information about the project.

The group may discuss several questions about the future makeup of Main St., including whether parallel parking will replace the existing diagonal parking. Reconstruction of Main St. from Charter Oak to Ford St. is one part of a referendum question on road improvements. Four projects, including the Main St. work, have received federal funds that will pay 70 per cent of the cost.

The remainder of the funding, estimated at $1,560,000 for the projects, will be provided by the town. Thus, a referendum question on the November ballot will ask voters to approve borrowing the town's share for the projects.

The idea of a committee of Main St. merchants was proposed to Jay Giles, director of public works, by James Breitenfeld, executive vice president of the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

"My concern was that we would spend several million dollars renovating Main St. and not get any input from the merchants," Breitenfeld said.

Giles agreed with the proposal.

"We're not going to proceed with the project without having involvement from the merchants," he said. Breitenfeld mentioned a plan that has been developed by the chamber's environment and beautification committee to plant trees on a Main St. block. The committee has already been assured that the proposed reconstruction will probably not interfere with the trees if they are planted.

"The merchants need to know what's coming. I think it (the committee) has to happen," he said.

Giles said that there has been no discussion yet about the Main St. project, but highway engineers for the state and federal government generally favor parallel parking.

He said that when the state paid for and constructed a new lighting system on Main St., it wanted parallel parking on the street.

He said that the engineers favor parallel parking because they feel it is safer and causes less traffic interruptions such as those caused by persons backing out of a diagonal space.

Parallel parking, however, would result in fewer on-street spaces. Some drivers also prefer to diagonal park.

The committee of Main St. merchants might have input into the parking issue, if it develops. If the parallel con-

'Lawyer relief act'?

Rooting out crime and corruption will be more difficult than ever if Congress goes along with a change in the grand jury system proposed by the American Bar Association. The ABA House of Delegates has overwhelmingly endorsed permitting witnesses called before grand juries to bring their lawyers into the grand jury room while answering questions. This is contrary to current federal law and to the law in most states, where grand jury witnesses are required to leave the room if they insist on talking to a lawyer. The ABA says lawyers would be present only as advisers to their clients, not as active participants. But prosecutors are afraid — as well they should be — that lawyers will disrupt the proceedings by raising objections of all kinds. The presence of a lawyer could be particularly damaging in racketeering cases because it might cause a witness to clam up, knowing his statements were being relayed back to the mob. It also would be harder to expose conspiracies if a lawyer were able to sit in on grand jury testimony and prevent nervous witnesses from contradicting each other. Small wonder that Attorney General Griffin B. Bell calls the ABA proposal a "lawyer relief act" — another way to keep lawyers busy and prosperous — and promises to lobby against it on Capitol Hill. The grand jury system, like any other law enforcement tool, has been abused from time to time — primarily by overzealous prosecutors trying to make a name for themselves. On balance, though, the system has worked well, especially in cases involving political corruption or organized crime. Why destroy its effectiveness by turning it into a pale imitation of a criminal trial?

Energetic beginning

Anyone who thinks the energy crunch hasn't affected the job market just hasn't been paying attention lately. Young petroleum engineers are being hired off college campuses this summer at an average starting salary of $18,144 a year.

CRC has more important things to do

WASHINGTON — While I was breathing real air on Cape Cod, the silly Civil Rights Commission (CRC) came up with another fatuity. It charged the television industry with "perpetuating racial and sexual stereotypes in programming." The implied suggestion in this singularly presumptuous report was that if TV's dukedoms didn't mind their manners Big Brother in Washington would be forced to turn censor. Well now. My esteem for TV's programming falls somewhat short of that I hold for the average loan shark. Much of the stuff on the tube is not only tasteless but an incitement to mayhem and voyeurism. But the CRC's contention that it violates equal rights is preposterous. Chides poor Mary Consider the slap on the wrist administered to Mary Tyler Moore, hardly one of TV's villains. The CRC chides poor Mary for calling her boss, "Mr. Grant." This said the CRC, demeans womanhood and therefore commits the crime of stereotyping the prettier sex. I don't know about the determinedly way-out civil rights crowd, but I would be somewhat taken aback if Mary addressed her boss as "Old Buddy" or "Grandy-Wanty." This would seem unseemly to life as it is lived by 99 per cent of employees everywhere — female and in-between. Bosses are not to be mistaken for God, but I do not expect them to preside over good-natured anarchies in which they are treated as just one of the boys, or girls. Similarly, the CRC faults Edith Bunker because she "scolds into the kitchen to fetch Archie a beer and rarely fails to have dinner on the table by 6 p.m."

Denuding sit coms What would the CRC do, denude sit coms of personalities, decree that all performers emerge as bland newters incapable of arousing interest? "All in the Family" may have its faults, especially in its contempt for blue collar workers, but it presents a cer-

We need honest leaders

To the editor:
In this coming election, I won't be looking at a person's political affiliations. I want an honest politician, dedicated to the interest of the people of this town. This year our Board of Directors worked hard to give us only a small increase in taxes. Yet I was disappointed that each town department budget wasn't checked over line-by-line. Published town budgets didn't list individual salaries and break down other expenses enough so that citizens could examine budgets more carefully. I'm not against spending money when there is a need to achieve greater efficiency within a depart-

Skilled services

To the editor:
This is a letter of thanks to have been fortunate enough to have been the recipient of the skilled services of your nursing staff. (South Windsor Public Health Nurses). After an extended stay at Manchester (Memorial) Hospital, I have at some time met all of your staff and was greatly impressed by their skills and their genuine concern for their patients. I would also have to rate all of them as top shelf people. More people should praise more of our community town services. As I have many more visits to be made to the hospital, I will be looking forward for more visits from their staff. My best wishes to all of them. C.E. Bissell

Thought

"Watch out for false prophets. They come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ferocious wolves. By their fruit you will recognize them. Do people pick grapes from thornbushes, or figs from thistles? Likewise every bad tree bears bad fruit, and a bad tree cannot bear good fruit. Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. Thus, by their fruit you will recognize them."

Campaign law consensus

By Martha Angle and Robert Walters
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Three times during the 1970s, Congress has amended the law governing the financing of campaigns for federal office — and on each occasion the changes have generated an emotional response of extraordinary intensity. The attack from the left side of the political spectrum has been led by former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., embittered by revisions which he believes represent "a major attack on the Bill of Rights" and an example of political repression. On the right, the American Conservative Union has been equally virulent in criticizing the statute, alternately describing it as so repressive that it is "a blow to civil liberties" or so ineffective that it "has been reduced to an unworkable heap."

Living with it

But now there is evidence that the people most directly affected, the candidates for seats in the House and Senate, not only can live with the law but also believe it has brought significant benefits to the political process. These conclusions emerge from an in-depth nationwide survey financed by the Federal Election Commission and conducted by two polling firms, Decision Making Information of Santa Ana, Calif. and Harto Research Associates of Washington.

Vested interest

The commission obviously has a vested interest in promoting support for the law because it was created by a series of 1974 amendments, and repeal or radical modification of the statute could lead to abolition of the agency or diminution of its authority. But the two survey research organizations — politically balanced because one serves Republicans exclusively and the other works only for Democrats — are among the most highly regarded in their field. There is good reason to rely upon the integrity of their work.

Broad survey

The survey, conducted earlier this year, is based on the views of 850 campaign managers and candidates in the 1976 contests for seats in Congress. The respondents included Republicans, Democrats and in-

YWCA fall events to start

The fall activity program for adults will be starting at the Nutmeg Branch of the YWCA of the Hartford Region at 78 N. Main St. the week of Sept. 19. Registration is now being taken for these fall classes of physical fitness and arts and crafts. Tennis instruction for all skill levels from beginner to advanced intermediate will be taught for 10 weeks by Peg Withner. There will also be creative cereal and needlepoint design, instructed by Cynthia Tribelhorn for six lessons. Chair caning and rushing with Dorothy Annelli will provide participants with a kit of supplies and the basic techniques of seat weaving; this class will meet for five weeks. An informal arts and crafts group for adults is the Koffee Crafters, which meets two Wednesday mornings each month to work on different craft projects. Other adult groups include the Book Discussion series, the Newcomers Club, and the Young Wives Club. These activities, as well as personal effectiveness classes for adults, are held at the branch at 78 N. Main St. For more information, call the YWCA office at 647-1437.

Artillery group to reunite

The 7th Field Artillery Association will hold its 10th annual reunion Sept. 23 and 24 at the Lord Cromwell Motor Inn and Lodge in Cromwell. Former members associated with any unit of the 7th Field Artillery Regiment, at any time, and their wives and friends are invited to attend what officers say should be the largest attended reunion since the association's inception in 1968. At the reunion in Washington, D.C. last year, 137 members, wives and daughters were present. For further information write to: George J. Spadolini, president, 456 East St., New Britain; or Charles R. Nash, vice president, 203 Long Hill St., East Hartford.

Handicapped need parking stickers

Handicapped persons who wish to use the designated handicapped parking stalls in town are reminded that they must have special stickers on their vehicles, said James McCooe, community relations officer for the Manchester Police Department. He said handicapped persons who do not have the stickers are subject to arrest for using the parking stalls. The stickers can be obtained from the state Motor Vehicle Department. McCooe also noted that persons who are temporarily incapacitated from an injury are not qualified to use the special parking stalls.

50th wedding anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Almet E. Sullivan of 216 E. Middle Tpk. were honored Aug. 27 at a celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Swain Jr. of 39 Candlewood Dr.

More than 70 friends and relatives attended the open house hosted by the couple's children and their spouses.

Among the guests were Mr. Sullivan's sister, Mrs. Dorothy Whitlock of Springfield, Mass., who was honor attendant at the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan were married June 16, 1927 at St. Rose's Church in East Hartford.

Mr. Sullivan was self-employed in Springfield, Mass. for several years, and in 1940 the couple moved to Manchester. He worked at Cook's Garage for 25 years and then went into business at the former Sully's Esso Service Station. He is now semi-retired, working at the Manchester Sheltered Workshop at Lincoln Center.

Mrs. Sullivan works for the Manchester Bus Co. and is treasurer of the workshop.

The couple has another daughter, Judy of Manchester; three sons, Daniel Sullivan of Enfield, Almet Sullivan of Orange City, Fla., and John Sullivan of Atwater, Calif.; nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Also present at the celebration were five generations, Mrs. Olive

Wilson, mother of Mrs. Almet Edward Swain III, whose two sons (Dorothy) Sullivan; her daughter, Edward Swain Jr., mother of Mrs. Edward Swain Jr., mother of Dunn

Gardening

By Frank Atwood

Joseph Barre can't tell you what kind of tomatoes he grows. Since he saved his own seed, nobody else could tell you either. Anybody could say they are beautiful tomatoes, of uniform size, red all through, with an unusually heavy set on each blossom stem.

The fruits, as many as eight on a stem, are so heavy Mr. Barre ties each stem separately with a strip of cloth anchored somewhere on the stake that supports the vine.

He pollinates each blossom as it opens, using an artist's paint brush and moving from blossom to blossom as a bee would do. Last year he purchased seed of two varieties—Pritchard, one of the older ones that is still good, and Fantastic, an excellent tomato that has been on the market for a few years.

Mr. Barre tries to keep his plants to a single leader by breaking off the "suckers" as they appear, but some plants have two main stems. The plants he has pictured were set close to the house in what was once a hot bed. The soil has abundant nutrients, reinforced each year by the addition of compost.

The compost pile built last year at the back of the lot under some spruce trees has been used on the garden this year and another pile has been started. Lawn clippings from the Barre lawn and some from the neighbors' lawns go on the pile, with vegetable waste from the garden and the kitchen.

He adds water to the pile when rain is scarce and he has two lengths of drainage pipe, in which extra holes have been bored, standing upright in the pile so that air can reach the center of the pile.

December golfer

Mr. Barre describes himself as a "strictly organic" gardener. He uses no commercial fertilizer. He does relax the organic gardening rules enough to spray occasionally when insects threaten his plants.

Retired as a supervisor after 37 years at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, Mr. Barre finds ways to spend much of his time outdoors. He loves to garden. He likes fishing and hunting and he plays golf at the Manchester Country Club, starting in early spring and counting until winter is here again.

When Reggie Pinto arrived to take Mr. Barre's picture in his garden, he took Mr. Pinto into the garage and showed him a picture cut from The Manchester Evening Herald in December 1966, pasted on the wall and fading after nearly 11 years. It showed a lone player putting on the eighteenth green and was titled "December Golfer."

The golfer's back was toward the camera and Mr. Barre did not know the picture had been taken until he Tomatoes hang heavy in Joseph Barre's home garden at 175 Princeton St. Mr. Barre pollinates the blossoms by hand and five to eight fruits grow on a stem. (Herald photo by Pinto)

he saw it in the paper. His friends recognized him from the way he stood to make a putt.

The lot where the Barre home was built and ready for occupancy in 1938 was in the woods and the site was selected by Mr. Barre while he was tramping through the woods with a gun. The property was purchased from the late Robert J. Smith. Mr. Barre does his own painting and shingling, other ways "to keep busy."

Grafted apples He clips his own hedge and prunes his own shrubbery and two apple trees, a Golden Delicious and a Red Delicious. He prunes trees also for his neighbors, and for one neighbor he has grafted three kinds of apples on one tree, Golden Delicious, Red Delicious and Northern Spy. The root stock was a wild apple tree.

He has managed to keep a hemlock hedge below waist height by close and frequent clipping. A hemlock hedge that is not pruned regularly can shoot up to unmanageable height and eventually has to be removed.

A row of parsnips in the garden has luridly turned green tops and should produce large roots. Mr. Barre saves parsnip seed, which takes two years to produce, by letting a couple of small parsnips stay in the ground for a second year and send up flower stalks. When the seed is ripe he shakes it into a paper bag.

Pepper plants are large and green, with large peppers forming, but not in large numbers. The plants do not get enough sun, Mr. Barre thinks. His early onions, from seed, were a failure because maggots found them. A second planting has escaped damage but may lack time to reach full size.

Mr. Barre has kept his own lettuce seed for 15 years and the lettuce he raises now has no variety name. It produced some heads this year that weighed two pounds.

Susan Carlson of Manchester and Herbert Rusk of Killington, Vt., were married Aug. 20 at St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Manchester.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evert Carlson of 27 Hackmatack St. The bridegroom is the son of William Rusk of Atlanta, Ga., and the late Mrs. Rusk.
The bride wore a white princess-style dress trimmed with heirloom lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, white carnations and baby's breath.
Ann Carlson of Manchester was her sister's maid of honor. David Rusk of Killington, Vt., was his brother's best man.
A reception was held at Willie's Steak House in Manchester, after which the couple left on a wedding trip. They will reside in Killington, where Mr. Rusk owns and operates the Alpine Inn Ski Lodge.
Guests were present from Georgia, Maryland, Virginia, New Jersey and Massachusetts.

Childbirth Group plans meeting

The International Childbirth Education Association Connecticut State Meeting entitled "Humanization of the Growing Family" with Dr. Tom Brewer as the main speaker will be held Saturday, Oct. 8.
It will be conducted in conference rooms A, B and C of Manchester Memorial Hospital from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
Dr. Brewer, president of the Society for the Protection of the Unborn through Nutrition (SPUN) is author of "Metabolic Toxemia of Late Pregnancy: A Disease of Malnutrition" and 40 papers in the field of pregnancy nutrition and malnutrition. He is a former instructor with the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco, and a former clinic physician with Contra Costa County Health Services in Richmond, Calif.
Also on the program will be Dr. Philip Sumner of the Manchester Obstetric Group and Marilyn Hull, R.N. of Manchester Monitrice Associates discussing family bonding; Barbara Pittsch, educational psychologist discussing effective parenting; and a panel on Caesarean births with Dr. Gerald Sandier of Windham Hospital, Litchfield and a maternity ward will be provided.

Private funeral held for Frank DeCorleto

Private funeral services were conducted this morning in Hartford at the D'Esopo Funeral Chapel for Frank DeCorleto.

DeCorleto shot himself Tuesday morning after a 16-hour siege by police. He was the father of Mrs. Thomas Fleeter and the brother of James Emonds.

Other survivors are a sister, Mrs. Benjamin SanGiacomo of Andover; a son, 2 other daughters, another brother, 3 other sisters, 11 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren.

Survivors are his parents, Richard and Maureen Sullivan Kacinski; a brother, Kevin Kacinski; three sisters, Kathleen Kacinski, Teresa Kacinski and Kelly Kacinski, all at home; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan of Manchester; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kacinski of Manchester; his maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Plocharczk, also of Manchester.

Christian H. Olesen III EAST HARTFORD

For the past six years, he had been part-owner of C. D. Prima Products of East Hartford. He was a member of the Manchester group of the Coast Guard Power Squadron and the Windsor Lodge of Elks.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Jacqueline Norrie Olesen; a son, Christian H. Olesen IV, and a daughter, Tamatha Marie Olesen, both at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Olesen Jr. of Hartford; and three brothers, Martin C. Olesen of Manchester, Raymond H. Olesen of Atlanta, Ga., and Edward N. Olesen of Hartford.

The funeral is Friday at 10 a.m. at the Carmon Funeral Home, 66 Poquonnock Ave., Windsor. Cremation will follow in Springfield.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9. A service will be held at the funeral home at 8 p.m.

The family suggests that friends wishing to do so may make memorial gifts to the First Congregational Church, Coventry, or the South Coventry Volunteer Fire Department.

Mr. Little was born in Coventry, where he lived all his life. He was employed by the New England Engine Co. of East Hartford.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren K. Little Sr.; two brothers, Allan Abram of Windsor and Warren K. Little Jr. of Coventry; a sister, June Bisson of Coventry; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Little of Willimantic, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Adaline Hoff of Florida.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Birch Mrs. Elizabeth M. Birch, 96, of 118 Main St., died Wednesday at a Manchester convalescent home. She was the widow of Culburt Birch.

Mr. and Mrs. Birch operated the Pinhurst Soda Shop at the corner of Main St. and Middle Tpk. for many years.

Mrs. Birch was a graduate of the former Danas School of Music, now part of Youngstown University (Ohio), and she attended New York University.

She was a member of St. Mary's Episcopal Church. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Daudel, with whom she made her home.

The funeral is Saturday at 11:30 a.m. at St. Mary's Episcopal Church. Burial will be Wednesday in Oak Hill Cemetery, Youngstown.

The family suggests that friends wishing to do so may make memorial gifts to the Book of Remembrance at St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Ex-patients plan to picket hospital

By JUNE TOMPKINS Herald Reporter

Former patients of Manchester Memorial Hospital who are members of the Connecticut Citizen Action Group (CCAG) will begin picketing Manchester Memorial Hospital Friday in an effort to collect reimbursement for their hospital bills.

At the August meeting, the complainants contended that there was no such information known to them at the time of their admissions. Because of the lack of posting, they claim that they were unable to apply for the special funding which may have paid their hospital bills.

As of Thursday night, two former patients had received reimbursement. In an accompanying letter to each patient, Controller George J. Roy said he had written off their accounts as free service after having reviewed their financial evaluation forms along with completed pre-admission forms. Roy also said that if anyone in their families should be admitted to Manchester Memorial Hospital in the future, other than an emergency basis, they may fill out financial evaluation forms for financial assistance if necessary.

Although these patients have received reimbursement, they were instructed to remain in conspicuous locations at Manchester Memorial Hospital for admitting patients to see, and the business personnel have been instructed to re-mindeed needy patients that applications for Hill-Burton funds are available.

The hospital has designated that the funds be used in the areas of greatest need - obstetrics and the mental health clinic, or in extreme emergency cases.

At a meeting Wednesday night at St. James Church, CCAG members discussed demands they had made early in August to the hospital. The CCAG accused hospital officials of violating a part of the Hill-Burton Act which states that if anyone in their families should be admitted to Manchester Memorial Hospital in the future, other than an emergency basis, they may fill out financial evaluation forms for financial assistance if necessary.

Hadassah to hear Mrs. Stern

Clara M. Stern

Clara M. Stern of Bridgeport, Golda Meir's sister, will be guest speaker at the opening luncheon meeting of the Hadassah Chapter of Hadassah, Thursday noon, Sept. 8, at Temple Beth Shalom, 500 E. Middle Tpk. Her topic will be "Dilemmas Facing Israel," said Maxine Jaffe, chapter president.

Mrs. Stern was born in Russia, the youngest of the three Mavovitch girls, of whom the most famous was to become Golda Meir. Her father came to America alone, as did many immigrants at the turn of the century. After three years, he was able to send for his family; they joined him in Milwaukee in 1905, when Clara was four years old.

Clara, unlike her older sisters, Sherna and Golda, became, in her own words, "an American kid, Campfire Girls and all." In her book, "My Life," Golda describes Clara as a quiet, shy, undemanding little girl who everyone liked.

Educated in the Milwaukee public schools, Mrs. Stern earned degrees in sociology, psychology and social work from the University of Wisconsin.

After a period as a social case worker in Milwaukee, she married Fred Stern, a graduate of the New York School of Social Work. The concept of an organic Jewish community, the stress of her own professional work has been of finding ways to organize a fragmented Jewish community into a cohesive unit.

Since her husband died, 14 years ago, Mrs. Stern has protracted her annual visits to her sister, Golda Meir, whereby she has become better informed on the Arab as well as the Israeli viewpoint - important, she observes, for an intelligent appraisal of Israel's options.

The luncheon meeting is open to the public. Babysitting will be available. Reservations must be made in advance by calling 646-3879 or 646-4491.

Sister-in-law says DeCorleto threatened kin

EAST HARTFORD (UPI) - Frank DeCorleto's sister-in-law says the despondent convicted murderer threatened to kill his wife a week before he shot her, his four-year-old son and himself in his barricaded second-floor apartment.

Sixteen hours later, DeCorleto took his own life as scores of shotgun-toting policemen ringed his apartment and others listened over an "open telephone line."

Mrs. Kathleen Lounsbury said Wednesday she and her husband visited the DeCorleto one hour before her sister, Sibban, and her nephew, Frank 3rd, were gunned down Monday.

Mrs. Lounsbury said until a couple of days ago, Sibban's relatives didn't know DeCorleto had served 10 years of a life sentence in a Georgia prison for the murder of an ex-girlfriend. Sibban's older sister said "She said he might break up a few times in the house."

The Perelandra, a yacht more than 100 feet long, sinks deeper into Connecticut River mud off the shore at East Hartford. (Herald photo by Dunn)

Perelandra owner says it's sabotage

By MAL BARLOW East Hartford Reporter

"She was deliberately sunk," said Thomas Shafir, owner of the 131-foot yacht Perelandra.

"There's a lot of hate towards the ship," he said. He had posted notices on the yacht where it was moored at the former Gulf Oil pier south of the Founders Bridge in East Hartford. He offered bounties of up to $500 for information leading to the retrieval of pumps, portable covers and other gear stolen from the yacht, he said.

Wednesday morning at 9, someone called Shafir and told him the yacht was sinking. "I couldn't get enough pumps to her. Someone had stolen them from my garage the night before."

"I've also got some personal enemies," he said. The yacht was made in the famous Herreshoff shipyards in Bristol, R.I., and was launched in 1903. One of its many wealthy owners was a Ford of the Ford Motor Co. family, Shafir said.

Its first name was Pathania. Its hull is solid teak. It was powered by sail and a steam engine. The engine is now in Albany, N.Y., being used to generate electricity. The engine's owner has offered to sell it for $40,000.

The yacht's masts were removed to allow it to enter state harbors. "She's the only ship like her in the world," said Shafir.

A New York man had given him $300 as a deposit on the yacht. He was going to buy it for $3,000 when Shafir floated it to New York.

Shafir plans to raise the 150-ton yacht again, he said. East Hartford Police referred the matter to the state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), which referred it to the state Department of Transportation (DOT) and its bureau in charge of state waterways.

That department referred it to Lt. Cmdr. Joseph Tamaritis, captain of the Port of New London.

"If it turns out to be our responsibility," Tamaritis said today, "I'll turn it over to the Army Corps of Engineers. They will remove it."

"He will meet with DOT leaders today to figure out who must deal with the Perelandra."

Smith gets big mandate

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) - Prime Minister Ian Smith, armed with a resounding mandate from white Rhodesians to take a tough negotiating stance, today met U.N. Ambassador Andrew Young and British Foreign Secretary David Owen.

Smith's Rhodesian Front party scored a smashing victory in parliamentary elections Wednesday, giving him the strength to slam the door on the U.S.-British proposal to end five years of racial bloodshed and pursue his own "internal" settle-

Manchester police report

Manchester Police made arrests Wednesday in connection with four separate motor vehicle accidents.

Angel Rivera, 20, of 108 Center St., was charged with evading responsibility, reckless driving, driving without a license, and failure to obey a traffic light, police said.

Police said that Rivera was involved in an accident Wednesday afternoon on Oak St., near Main St., and left the scene. A police officer followed the Rivera vehicle and said that it ran a red light at the Spruce St. intersection, police said.

Police said Doran was driving out of the parking lot and he hit a boat trailer parked in the lot. He then reportedly struck another vehicle and a lamp post, police said.

No court date was listed. An accident shortly after 11 p.m. resulted in the arrest of Dale R. Ferrerau, 19, of 232 Center St., police said. He was charged with evading responsibility in the accident, which occurred in a parking lot off Center St. His court date is Sept. 12.

Police charged Linda W. LaPointe, 24, of 121 E. Middle Tpk., with failure to obey a traffic signal, following a three-car accident shortly after 4:30 p.m. at W. Middle Tpk. and Broad St.

The operator of one of the other vehicles, Aimee M. Chapman, 19, of Rockville, was treated at Manchester Memorial Hospital for multiple contusions and released.

Police also charged him with third-degree burglary and third-degree larceny in connection with a separate theft that occurred Aug. 8 at the Church of Christ, police said. Ducheneau is presently being held at the Hartford Correctional Center.

Other arrests made Wednesday by Manchester Police included: Robert A. Verranecau, 16, of 232 Center St., charged with breach of the peace. Court date is Sept. 12.

John E. Lance, 25, of 146 Bissell St., charged with third-degree larceny and possession of a controlled substance. Court date is Sept. 12.

A break was also reported at a Princeton St. home, where a coin collection was taken, police said.

Funerals scheduled

HARTFORD (UPI) - The following funeral arrangements were announced Wednesday for the wife and son of an East Hartford man who shot them and himself weeks ago.

Mrs. Sibban DeCorleto, 20, Funeral services will be held Friday in the Cornell Memorial Home in Danbury. She will be buried in the Woodlawn Cemetery.

Frank Corleto 3rd, 4. Funeral services will be held Friday at the D'Esopo Funeral Chapel in Hartford. He will be buried in the Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Funeral arrangements for Frank DeCorleto were incomplete.

Vandals responsible for Salters fishkill

Many fish were left stranded to die recently in the lower Salters Pond between Parker and Mather streets. The area was detected and the water level has built up.

Mrs. Langan said it was unlikely that the fish kill was caused by chemicals because there were many fish alive in the large pond and brook when she and DEP officials visited there.

She estimated that about 2,000 bullheads, pike and bass were collected by her. Lidal employees and DEP personnel and carried to the town landfills in town trucks.

Mrs. Langan said she believes were trapped in little pools which drained when the pond was emptied and surfaced when the water level rose.

Grasso to fight Amtrak cutback

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) - Gov. Ella T. Grasso says an Amtrak decision to cut by 42 percent passenger trains servicing Connecticut could be disastrous and she will go to Congress if necessary to get them restored.

Amtrak, as part of its decision to reduce major rail service throughout the nation, voted to eliminate 42 percent of its traffic in Connecticut, including more than 50 percent of the service along some state routes, Mrs. Grasso said.

Hope seen for ending strike of gravediggers

An agreement may be reached today which would end a six-week-old gravediggers strike against Roman Catholic cemeteries in Connecticut.

After a negotiating session Wednesday between representatives of gravediggers, cemetery officials and state mediators, Labor Commissioner Frank Santiguada said he was hopeful there would be a break in the strike which has virtually halted burials at the state's 26 cemeteries.

A spokesman for Santiguada said the commissioner believed that areas of agreement were reached Wednesday in the first negotiating session since talks broke off three days after the 85 workers walked off the job July 15.

Talks failed earlier when the two sides couldn't agree on a gravediggers' demand for $4 full-time, year-round jobs.

Immediate past president, will be presented with a special award at a meeting of the Manchester Lions Club Tuesday evening at The Steak Out in Talcoville.

Massage parlors

(Continued from Page One) reasonable and readily discernible standards and fail to provide adequate guidance for enforcement," the action says.

The Manchester ordinance also sets a $500 annual permit fee for the parlors and a $159 annual fee for each individual massage. The plaintiffs say that these fees may be unreasonable and unlawful.

The action also questions the constitutionality of several other sections in the Manchester ordinance, including ones that prohibit Sunday openings, prohibit advertising and require a sign-in register for customers of the business.

Atty. Joseph Fazzano filed the action for the plaintiffs. In a related matter, Dr. Turek had an interview with a psychiatrist, a person who specializes in physical medicine.

She said that the town would have to hire such a specialist to do inspections of some of the massage parlors working in local parlors. The person would work on a contract basis, being paid based on the number of inspections.

Mrs. Birch was born in Youngstown, Ohio, and lived in Manchester more than 50 years.

Mrs. Birch was a graduate of the former Danas School of Music, now part of Youngstown University (Ohio), and she attended New York University.

She was a member of St. Mary's Episcopal Church. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Daudel, with whom she made her home.

The funeral is Saturday at 11:30 a.m. at St. Mary's Episcopal Church. Burial will be Wednesday in Oak Hill Cemetery, Youngstown.

The family suggests that friends wishing to do so may make memorial gifts to the Book of Remembrance at St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

The Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St., is in charge of arrangements.

A fresh start, a new attitude, that's what UConn football has going for it.

What makes UConn stronger on the field? It's not the talent or depth to play some of the teams on the schedule.

"When I came in, I didn't let the (carryover) coaches tell me for three weeks of spring practice what they thought.

Bill Leahy
Leahy in fight

Another East Catholic product could be making news in the Ivy League in future years, Kevin Shorey, who packs a solid 210 pounds over a 6-foot-4 frame.

Leahy could be in the starting lineup, though. If Leahy aligns himself as a running back, he'll have the head man candidly stated.

Pro Nettles produces in clutch

NEW YORK (UPI) — Graig Nettles certainly had sufficient cause for celebration Wednesday night, but the Yankees' All-Star third baseman remained totally professional, even in post-game interviews.

Nettles took over the American League lead in home runs by belting his 33rd and 34th of the season, the second a solo shot with one out in the bottom of the ninth inning to give New York a dramatic 5-4 victory over Seattle.

The Yankees' fourth straight victory enabled them to pick up a full game on the Boston Red Sox, who bowed to the Cleveland Indians, 4-3.

Renee Richards to make debut at Forest Hills against Wade

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) — The unpretentious tone of opening day had been set when the honor of playing the first match on the prestigious stadium court fell to two unseeded men, and the soft mud prevailed through 42 matches spread out over 12 long hours Wednesday.

In spirit, at least, the U.S. Open Tennis Championships don't really get under way until today.

MCC forced to cut athletic programs

Because of lack of funds, Manchester Community College has been forced to curtail intercollegiate programs in cross country, golf and a cheerleading program. The announcement was made yesterday.

MCC will still field a fall baseball team but its schedule has been cut from 15 to 10 games and it will have to use volunteers instead of paid umpires.

Different opinions voiced by golfers

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — If you asked the 20 players in this year's World Series of Golf if the $100,000 first prize should be counted as official money winnings, you might get 20 different opinions.

"I have a lot of mixed feelings about the World Series," said PGA champion Lanny Wadkins after his Wednesday practice round. "I think having a championship at the end of the year is a good idea. But I'm not sure all the ways of getting in are good or if the money should be official."

Square dancers swing Saturday

The Manchester Square Dance Club will hold its first dance of the season Saturday, from 8 to 11 p.m. at Manchester High School. Russ and Anita White will cue the rounds. All club level dancers are invited. Jack O'Leary of Wilbraham, Mass., will be the guest caller.

O'Leary is the club caller for the Glastonbury Square Dance Club and records under the Green label. He was New England's youngest active caller when he graduated from Red Bates' Callers Class. He served on the staff of the National Square Dance Convention in Des Moines, Iowa, and the International Square and Round Dance Convention in Canada.

Committee members for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Ron Jacobs on door duty; Mr. and Mrs. Clint Jerome, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jubenville, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Juttner and Mr. and Mrs. Ari Kaplitke, refreshments.

In the service

Pvt. Jared Tompkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Tompkins of 167 Gardner St., is one of nine Connecticut soldiers now taking part in a nationwide Army recruiter aide program which allows recent enlistees to return home to help recruiters promote military service. He will be assigned to the Manchester Army Recruiting Office at 855 Main St. unit Sept. 16.

A 1976 graduate of Manchester High School, Tompkins enlisted in May as a wheeled vehicle mechanic. He completed basic training and advanced training at Ft. Dix, N.J., where he was selected Trainee of the Cycle and Trainee of the Brigade for outstanding academic and military performance.

Before reporting to his permanent duty station at Ft. Benning, Ga., at the end of September, he will be available to discuss Army training opportunities with local high school students and community groups.

Linda C. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Brown of 29 Turnbull Rd., recently was promoted to Army private first class in Furth, Germany, where she is a records specialist with the 1st Armored Division. Pvt. Brown entered the Army in July 1975. She was graduated from Manchester High School in 1973.

Sister-in-law says DeCorleto threatened kin

EAST HARTFORD (UPI)—Frank DeCorleto's sister-in-law says the despondent convicted murderer threatened to kill his wife a week before he shot her, his four-year-old son and himself in his barricaded second-floor apartment.

Mrs. Kathleen Lounsbury said Wednesday she and her husband visited the DeCorletos one hour before her sister, Siobhan, and her nephew, Frank 3rd, were gunned down Monday.

Sixteen hours later, DeCorleto took his own life as scores of shotgun-toting policemen ringed his apartment and others listened over an open telephone line.

Mrs. Lounsbury said DeCorleto, a 34-year-old unemployed ex-convict, came home Monday "really high, smelling of alcohol, sweating and going 90 miles an hour."

According to Mrs. Lounsbury, Siobhan, 20, told their sister, Patricia, that DeCorleto had threatened to kill her one week before she was found lying dead in her kitchen, shot in the head and the neck.

"Siobhan was never really afraid of him and she never put him down. She said she 'knew he would never hurt us,'" Mrs. Lounsbury quoted her sister as saying.

"She was a big girl, bigger than he was. She seemed to think she could handle him," Siobhan's older sister said. "She said he might break up a few things in the house."

Mrs. Lounsbury said until a couple of days ago, Siobhan's relatives didn't know DeCorleto had served 10 years of a life sentence in a Georgia prison for the murder of an ex-girl friend.

"He seemed happy and nice. She told me that he was very upset when his parents were divorced. He was 13 and highly overactive," said Mrs. Lounsbury, a Danbury native.

DeCorleto met Siobhan in 1976, a year after he had divorced his first wife, Kathy, and won custody of their son. They were married in May 1977.

"It didn't appeal to him. He was always a dreamer. He was going to make millions in the weirdest ways," Siobhan's sister said.

Two weeks before he killed his wife and son, DeCorleto was involved in the theft of a priceless silver collection which had belonged to a colonial Connecticut governor. He tried, but failed, to get a ransom for the stolen goods. Police recovered the silver after DeCorleto shot himself Tuesday.

Autopsies Wednesday revealed Siobhan and Frank 3rd died instantly of gunshot wounds.

Perelandra owner says it's sabotage

By MAL BARLOW
East Hartford Reporter

"She was deliberately sunk," said Thomas Shakir, owner of the 131-foot yacht Perelandra.

"There's a lot of hate towards the ship," he said.

He had posted notices on the yacht where it was moored at the former Gulf Oil pier south of the Founders Bridge in East Hartford. He offered bounties of up to $500 for information leading to the retrieval of pumps, porthole covers and other gear stolen off the yacht, he said. Although he received no tips, he said things were getting hot for the thieves.

"I've also got some personal enemies," he said.

The yacht was made in the famous Herreshoff shipyards in Bristol, R.I., and was launched in 1903. One of its many wealthy owners was a Ford of the Ford Motor Co. family, Shakir said.

Its first name was Pathania. Its hull is solid teak. It was powered by sail and a steam engine. The engine is now in Albany, N.Y., being used to generate electricity. The engine's owner has offered to sell it for $40,000.

The yacht's masts were removed to allow it to enter state harbors.

"She's the only ship like her in the world," said Shakir.

The Perelandra was in the Saybrook harbor two years ago when it was stolen. This is when Shakir first became interested. Later a man in Maine bought it with bad checks, he said.

At an auction, the Oakleaf Marina in Saybrook picked it up. The firm sold it for nearly $10,000 to Ransom Bullard of Radio Station WKSS.

"He neglected her," said Shakir. The ship sunk in Wethersfield Cove Sept. 9, 1975. While sunk, ownership

CB thefts bother caller to Herald

An angry CBER who lives on Connecticut Blvd. called The Herald last week to lament the weekend ripoffs of CBER's radios from the parking lot behind the Sage-Allen store on Main St.

Kids do it, he said.

They wait at the parking lot entrance for a CBER to drive in. The CBER walks to Main St. and the Cinema 1 movie theater. The kids follow. In fact, they follow him right into the theater.

"They want to make sure he's going to stay put for three hours," the caller said.

Then they return to the car, take their time breaking in, and remove the radio and anything else they can get, he said.

Members of the North American CBER group in town do voluntary watch duty at the huge parking lot outside Showcase Cinemas in Charter Oak Mall. They also patrol parking lots at restaurants such as Howard Johnson's on Main St.

But they can't be everywhere, he said.

Midget football game tonight at McAuliffe

The 1977 Midget Football Jam-boree will begin tonight at 6 at McAuliffe Park.

The town's C teams (for players 9 to 11) will play.

Friday at 6 p.m., the A and B teams (11 to 13) will battle it out. There are four teams in town, each with A, B and C teams. All four will play in the same game, two teams each quarter. The Teamsters Joe Kronen, president of the league, said the public is invited.

The losers will play the third and the winners in the fourth.

Lou Palmer, announcer for University of Connecticut football on Radio Station WVIC, will give the play-by-play Friday.

The Jaycees will man the refreshment stand for the East Hartford Midget Football League.

Joe Kronen, president of the league, said the public is invited.
