Dr. Kennedy addresses Manchester teachers

School system defended in face of uncertainties

By JUNE TOMPKINS

Herald reporter

"The Manchester school system is a good, solid school system," School Superintendent James P. Kennedy told Manchester school teachers today.

It was standing room only for several hundred teachers in the town's public school this morning in the cafeteria at Manchester High School as they attended an orientation session before school opens Wednesday.

Kennedy said there are more uncertainties than certainties in the teaching profession, "probably more this year than in the recent past."

"I am here to discuss the uncertainties," he said. "Our business is a business of attitudes and expectations and if we expect that they (students) will perform, they will perform."

Kennedy listed several positive facts before he approached the uncertainties.

"The Board of Education is certain to continue curriculum revision, to improve assessment and evaluations, to continue the personnel evaluation system, and to continue having strong parental support and interest in the school system (which was shown strongly this past year)."

High on the list of uncertainties was the effect of declining student enrollment in the school system and on the community.

"We are not sure of the implication of the enrollment declines," he said, "but it hinges around the idea that while some problems will undoubtedly arise, we will have some unique opportunities to serve a larger population. As the decline in high school enrollment continues, there is a challenge to enlarge our service to the community. We can open our schools to the community. We are community service oriented."

Kennedy also referred to change in leadership roles in town and school government which will take place in the November election.

"Their responsibility is awesome," he said explaining that the new people in office will be facing new responsibilities and challenges.

Another uncertainty arises in the negotiations which will occur this year with teachers' and administrators' professional contracts. Contracts will be negotiated under a new law this year, Kennedy said.

Referring to the possible major deficit which the Town of Manchester faces, Kennedy said, "We are not sure what the fiscal implications will be on the school budget."

The mission of the school's educational program for the next decade is also uncertain.

There have been suggestions, Kennedy said, that the system "go back to basics." Other suggestions are that there be more emphasis on career education and special education, and even programs in fields that will take the students away from the school.

Although these are uncertainties that the school system will have to face up to, Kennedy said that if the school staff members adhere to the system's high and positive expectations, "We will have sense enough not to change for change's sake."

He told the teachers that he hopes to visit each one in the classroom during this school year.

In his introductory remarks, Wilson Deakin Jr., assistant school superintendent, said there had been a "flurry" of resignations and interviews within the school system this past year with the biggest turnover being in special areas and secondary schools. "We're looking forward to a good year," he said.

Deakin also introduced Ms. Judy Rohlf, president of the Manchester Education Association, and Joseph P. Senna, 22, of 331 Griswold St., Glastonbury, died at Hartford Hospital early Monday morning.

State Police said Lopez suffered extensive head injuries when he was thrown from his motorcycle after he collided with a pickup truck on Rt. 44A in Bolton.

The truck was driven by Robert L. Anderson, 56, of Wildwood Rd., Vernon. Police said Anderson was eastbound on Rt. 44A, and had stopped for a red light. When the light turned green and the way looked clear, he started to make a left turn onto Quarry Rd., police said.

Police said the motorcycle came over the crest of the hill at a high rate of speed and hit the left front of the truck. The accident is still under investigation.

East Hartford Police said Senna was hitchhiking on the roadway in front of 389 Main St. when he was

Lance rejects call for resignation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Embattled Bert Lance indicated today he has no intention of quitting as federal budget director despite calls from two powerful senators for his resignation.

Lance spoke briefly to reporters en route to work as two congressional committees prepared to meet today on his controversial personal bank loans and reports he and his family overdraw their checking accounts by $450,000.

He said he would appear before the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee Thursday, then "get back about the business of running OMB (the Office of Management and Budget)."

"I believe the American people believe in a sense of fairness," Lance said.

Sens. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., and Charles Percy, R-Ill., met with President Carter Monday and said Lance should quit because of new "serious...allegations of illegalities." Ribicoff chairs the Governmental Affairs Committee.

A spokesman for Lance said today that Carter's longtime personal friend had hired prominent Washington attorney and former Defense Secretary Clark Clifford to represent him at the committee hearings.

A House banking subcommittee was to meet at mid-morning to consider changes in banking laws which allowed Lance to borrow some $6 million from banks in New York and Chicago while he headed two Georgia banks.

The Governmental Affairs Committee scheduled an afternoon meeting to discuss the new allegations of wrongdoing against Lance — allegations which Ribicoff declined to discuss Sunday. The committee opens public hearings Wednesday with Lance scheduled to testify Thursday.

"I'm going to appear before the Senate committee and answer any and all charges that have been leveled at me," Lance said today.

"I think the American people believe in a sense of fairness. They want me to have my chance to answer the charges and that's exactly what I intend to do — and get back about the business of running OMB."

"It would be wiser for Bert Lance to resign," Ribicoff told Carter Monday.

Ribicoff and Percy, the ranking

GOP member of the Governmental Affairs Committee, met with Carter for 45 minutes at the White House to discuss "serious...allegations of illegalities" against Lance that were turned up by the panel's staff during the past two weeks.

It was the first mention of possible illegal actions. The comptroller of the currency's recent report said Lance's banking practices may have been "unsafe and unsound" but that he had done nothing criminally wrong.

Industrial park trial to be started Sept. 15

By GREG PEARSON
 Herald Reporter

Superior Court Judge Thomas O'Sullivan this morning set Thursday, Sept. 15 as the starting date for the trial of the case that affects the proposed industrial park in Manchester.

The case — the Manchester Environmental Coalition vs. Edward Stockton et al. — was on this morning's trial list.

O'Sullivan, after hearing opening remarks and meeting for 30 minutes in the court's chambers with attorneys who represent both parties, set the Sept. 15 date. He also said that any motions to be made in connection with the case should be filed before that date.

The case involves a suit filed by the plaintiffs, who say that Stockton, the state commerce commissioner, granted approval of the J.C. Penney's proposed catalog distribution center without properly weighing its environmental effects.

The Penney facility would be the major occupant in the town's proposed industrial park, planned for a 393-acre site in the Buckland section.

Atty. Anthony Pagano, who, along with Atty. Bruce Beck, represents the plaintiffs, argued against the scheduling of the trial for next week.

He said that placing the matter on the trial list was "untimely" and neither he nor his partner found out about it until last Friday.

"I feel putting us on trial on Sept. 15 would act as a violation of our due process rights," Pagano told the judge.

"Normally, a case of this complexity might take years. We're not asking for that. We're asking that we be given adequate time to prepare our case," he said.

Atty. Bernard McGovern, assistant attorney general representing the Commerce Department, replied, "Never in my ten years of practice have I seen a plaintiff so strategically try to delay a case."

"We've been ready to go to trial since July. We will be ready to go to court next Thursday," McGovern said.

Atty. Rolland Castleman, who represents the Manchester Economic Development Commission (EDC), the planning agency for the park, said, "This is not your normal private litigation where delays are common. This is a matter of utmost importance to the Town of Manchester."

"Any substantial delay, in and of itself, means that the project will come to an immediate halt," he said.

Penney has signed a contract with the town that was contingent upon property being available by Sept. 1.

The company has said that it is willing to extend that deadline because of the court case, but it has not indicated how long it is willing to wait for completion of the case.

Two die in area accidents

Two area persons were among four who died from injuries suffered in accidents over the holiday weekend in Connecticut.

Scott Lopez, 21, of 140 Vernon Rd., Bolton, died at Manchester Memorial Hospital Sunday. Michael P. Senna, 22, of 331 Griswold St., Glastonbury, died at Hartford Hospital early Monday morning.

State Police said Lopez suffered extensive head injuries when he was thrown from his motorcycle after he collided with a pickup truck on Rt. 44A in Bolton.

The truck was driven by Robert L. Anderson, 56, of Wildwood Rd., Vernon. Police said Anderson was eastbound on Rt. 44A, and had stopped for a red light. When the light turned green and the way looked clear, he started to make a left turn onto Quarry Rd., police said.

Police said the motorcycle came over the crest of the hill at a high rate of speed and hit the left front of the truck. The accident is still under investigation.

East Hartford Police said Senna was hitchhiking on the roadway in front of 389 Main St. when he was struck by a car driven by Dennis Majkowski of Glenview, Ill. Police said the car was traveling north on Main St. in the right lane. The accident is still under investigation.

Elsewhere in the state, Georgios Lazaridis, 27, of Bridgeport was killed Saturday night in a multi-car accident on Rt. 7, New Milford. The fourth death is an apparent drowning. John Eldridge, 17, of Darien apparently fell into the water on Long Island Sound when he tried to help a water skier into the power boat in which he was riding. The search was called off Monday night.

Today's news summary

Compiled from United Press International

State

MILFORD — The Coast Guard and area police today remained on the lookout for missing Milford plumber Walter Bunnell, 51, despite reports he was seen hitchhiking on Interstate 95. His wife reported him missing Friday after he failed to return home from what he said was a fishing trip with two other men she did not know and a search was made of a 100-square-mile area of Long Island Sound, New Haven Harbor and the Housatonic River.

NEW BRITAIN — Robert Barrows, 20, was scheduled to be arraigned today on charges he threatened to kill his wife and young son while holding police at bay for 2 1/2 hours early Sunday. His father talked him into surrendering before he harmed the two, who had been doused with lighter fluid.

HARTFORD — State auditors believe a corporation set up to handle Connecticut's stock investments was never given required approval by the legislature, but State Treasurer Henry Parker and a series of pending changes in the securities market make it inappropriate for specific legislative action now concerning Nutmeg, which operates on the Philadelphia Stock Exchange.

BOSTON — Extended outlook for Southern New England, Thursday through Saturday: Clearing and turning cooler Thursday. Fair weather Friday and Saturday. High temperatures will be mostly in the 60s Thursday and in the 70s Friday and Saturday. Overnight lows will be in the 50s.

WEST GREENWICH, R.I. — About 3,000 marijuana plants, flourishing on state-owned land leased out to families, has been confiscated by Rhode Island state and local police. Six persons face charges in connection with the drug bust.

BROOKSVILLE, Maine — Former Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox says any attempt to wipe out the Maine Indian land claims without providing adequate compensation would violate the U.S. Constitution and be a moral outrage.

PASADENA, Calif. — A "flawless" launch sends the Voyager 1 spacecraft hurtling toward Jupiter and Saturn, loaded with cameras and scientific measuring equipment to explore the secrets of the outer planets.

PONCHATOUA, La. — One of several tornadoes formed by the remnants of Hurricane Babe cuts through a southeast Louisiana town, destroying homes, scattering cars and wiping out electrical power.

SAN FRANCISCO — Police say the Golden Dragon restaurant massacre early Sunday, which left five dead, was an attack by a Chinatown youth gang seeking revenge for the slaying of one of its members on July 4.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — A black girl was injured by a thrown brick, three bonfires were set near a high school, some passing cars were damaged and several motorists harassed Monday night in the biggest anti-busing demonstration here in several months.

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A Labor Day rally sponsored by the Ku Klux Klan on the steps of the Ohio State Capitol ended in a brawl Monday in which eight persons were injured, including five children. Police arrested five persons in connection with the disturbance.

Travelers heading home from Labor Day trips clogged the nation's roadways and added steadily to the weekend traffic death toll. It appeared the toll would be close to — and possibly short of — the lower end of the National Safety Council's projection of 470 holiday traffic deaths. With late reports expected to add to the toll, the UPI count was 435 late this morning.

LONDON — A week-long strike by British air traffic control assistants is causing less and less problems in the air, but other strikes on the ground were going strong today. Involved in walkouts were electricity workers, printers at two newspapers and 25,000 car factory workers.

NAIROBI, Kenya — Ugandan President Idi Amin today ordered that 12 high-ranking officials and businessmen die in a public execution for plotting to overthrow his government. He set the executions for 5 p.m. Friday.

Congress returning to face crowded calendar of bills

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress returns Wednesday from a monthlong summer recess to a crowded calendar, a burgeoning scandal, a Panama Canal controversy and enough contentious issues to keep House and Senate in session until January.

But they hope to adjourn in mid-October.

Several pressing matters must be acted on as soon as possible. A 1974 law says the budget resolution must be in effect by Sept. 15 for the new fiscal year which starts Oct. 1, and that is the major item of business for both bodies in the first week back.

At least three hearings were planned this week, beginning today, on the banking and financial transactions of Budget Director Bert Lance.

Chairman Abraham Ribicoff and ranking GOP member Charles Percy of the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee went to the White House Sunday, asking President Carter to request Lance's resignation because of "illegalities" their investigators had found.

Heads of state or other high-ranking representatives from 24 Latin American countries were arriving in Washington, meanwhile, for gala ceremonies attendant to the signing of the two new Panama Canal treaties, which face a tough fight for Senate ratification.

Sen. James Allen, D-Ala., chairman of the Senate Judiciary separation of powers subcommittee, will open hearings on the treaties Thursday with former Gov. Ronald Reagan, a foe of the pact, as the first witness.

All but four of the 13 regular appropriations bills needed to keep the government operating in the new fiscal year have been sent to the White House. Under the 1974 budget law, work on the remaining four must be completed by Sept. 12.

The bills contain emotional issues which leaders have so far been unable to resolve — government-financed abortions, B1 bomber construction money, and whether to ban aid to nations not meeting recognized human rights standards.

Speaker Thomas O'Neill has pledged to push through the House this year the bill to increase the minimum wage from its current $2.30 an hour to $2.65 an hour and include automatic annual increases. The measure faces heavy GOP opposition.

O'Neill and Byrd also are under heavy pressure from consumer groups to call up the Consumer Protection Agency bill, which has spotty Democratic and overwhelming GOP opposition in both bodies and could prompt a filibuster in the Senate.

The question of halting construction of new nuclear fuel plants must also be resolved in order to get funding for the Energy Research and Development Administration programs. The fight centers on the Clinch River, Tenn., plant nuclear proponents want funded and Carter said should be shut down.

The same ERDA bill has authorization to develop the neutron bomb, the new weapon that could kill people but have objects like buildings or tanks intact. Carter asked approval of the project in the event he decides to carry it out after an in-depth study.

MCC offers credit courses at area high schools

The Community Services Division of Manchester Community College is offering credit courses evenings this fall at area schools. The courses are part of a special five-semester sequence.

At Vernon Center Middle School, the courses include Accounting II, human anatomy and physiology, principles and methods of marketing, introduction to economics II, and Teen pageant.

NEW FAIRFIELD (UPI) — The Miss Connecticut Teenager pageant, preliminary to the 18th annual Miss American Teenager pageant, has been scheduled for Oct. 3.

Girls aged 13 to 17 will participate. State winners from throughout the United States will compete in the national contest in Miami Beach Oct. 11-15.

At South Windsor High School, courses will be offered in accounting, astronomy, business law, economics, composition, history, fine arts and statistics.

Classes will begin Monday and will continue weekly through Jan. 14.

At East Hartford High School, courses will be offered in business law, management, composition, literature, modern math, oceanography, psychology and social problems.

Class will begin Monday and will continue weekly through Jan. 15.

MCC also offers a weekend college program. Weekend courses are scheduled in five time periods — Friday evenings, Saturday mornings, Saturday afternoons, Sunday mornings and Sunday afternoons.

Students may take as many as five courses each semester and complete an entire degree program through weekend classes.

Walk-in registration will be held for any of the above courses Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon at the Bidwell St. campus of Manchester Community College.

Cure worse than disease

Over the years the U.S. Civil Rights Commission has performed valuable service in the struggle against discrimination and deserves good marks from the public. However, the commission now wishes to change the way women and minorities are portrayed in television dramas, and this could violate one of the nation's cherished rights: freedom from censorship. In a 181-page report the agency claims that the television industry is perpetuating racial and sexual stereotypes and it calls on the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to do something about it. For example, the commission complains that on "All in the Family" Edith Bunker "scoots into the kitchen to fetch Archie a beer and rarely fails to have dinner on the table by 6 p.m."

FCC Chairman Richard E. Wiley made a brief but cogent response to the civil rights group's report. "It seems difficult to conceive of how a federal agency would deal with stereotyping without becoming inevitably drawn into a role of a censor."

The commission was upset because the television shows it monitored showed men as more independent and more likely to hold prestigious jobs. Women were often unemployed and more "family bound."

This really is an unwitting compliment to TV for showing life more or less as it is, not as the commission would like it to be. Because of the social history of the country and the advantages males had, they hold most of the higher ranking jobs. The current situation is not training more women for so-called men's jobs, opening up opportunities for them and treating them fairly at promotion time.

But the answer is not to skew the content of television shows to show women in roles they rarely fill where the commission would have them. That is not programming, it's propaganda, and we shouldn't accept it, even if it comes labeled as civil rights.

Vote may herald new urban politics

S.F. neighborhood's new found clout

SAN FRANCISCO — (LENS) — On the surface, the recent referendum in San Francisco may seem trifling politics: Only half the summer-lulled electorate turned out to decide whether to choose their local councilors through city-wide races, as in the past, or through a number of separate neighborhood contests.

Such matters of government structure are not the stuff of electoral passion; but the question, and the answer given, mark a significant movement in American urban politics. By a margin of more than two to one San Franciscans plumped for the idea that future elections should be held at a neighborhood level. This was a victory for those who have struggled for four years to wrest the political control of San Francisco from the "downtown" power blocs that had been built up by the system of city-wide elections where money and contracts have counted for more than local neighborhood support.

The vote will give increased political power, instead, to San Francisco's many minority or special-interest groups: Blacks, Mexican-Americans, Chinese, Japanese and homosexuals who, taken together, make up a majority of the city's 650,000 population. Moscone trumped his plan: 64 per cent of the electorate voted against it, leaving him in fact with a stronger political base than he had before. "The Economist of London

Grand Jury receives surgical attention

By NEA/London Economist News Service WASHINGTON — (LENS) — Much as the founding fathers may treasure the idea of kingship, an institution designed to increase the power of kings still operates, if far from smoothly, in the United States. Now it may be reformed. The American Bar Association, at its recent convention in Chicago, suggested that the grand jury system should give less power to prosecutors and more protection to witnesses.

Their support reinforces as many as seven bills on the issue now being considered in Congress. The grand jury is the direct descendant of Henry II's 12 good men and true, grafted on to the American legal system as a body of 16 to 23 citizens who weigh the evidence for a criminal prosecution to decide whether or not a case should go to trial.

Has its place Although the grand jury has a place in the constitution, as part of the fifth amendment, states often make little use of it. Even a federal grand jury does not consider all criminal prosecutions, but only those where conviction will mean a year or more in jail. The jurors are chosen at random from the voter-registration rolls. They consider evidence presented to them by the prosecutor alone in secrecy, and by the witnesses he brings in to testify.

Acting through the grand jury the prosecutor can subpoena witnesses and offer them a limited immunity from prosecution which they will lose if they refuse to answer. Except in nine states, the witness is on his own, with no lawyer and no independent judge to keep an eye on the prosecutor.

Open to abuse For a body so patently open to abuse, the grand jury has received almost no surgical attention. Officials in the Justice Department remain its most committed supporters. It is still the best safeguard, they say, against a criminal prosecution being unfair. They also cite the example of the Watergate hearings where a grand jury subpoena, Mr. Nixon would not have been obligated to surrender his tapes.

Use or misuse Think back on the changes during your own lifetime. If you're in your mid-40's or older, you will remember that the dominant ethical message in our society once went something like this: "Acquire more only if you have the cash to pay for it...and don't waste anything."

Some time during the years since World War II, a shift occurred, so that the dominant ethic for consumption in now more like this: "If you can pay for it in the future, you have a right to it now — and if you want it, you need it...don't worry too much about waste, because waste leads to growth in the economy and jobs for more people."

A new ethic is needed badly, and it is starting to emerge. It includes these elements: "Ability to pay for something does not equal the right to possess it, nor is its availability or my desire identical with need; the lessening of waste is a good place to start in our restraining of consumption."

Reflections

Hal Turkington Managing Editor European Girl Scouts paid visits to Manchester and to Troop 1 in 1959 and 1960. In 1959, it was Girl Guides from Scotland. There were four girls and their leader, Miss Dorothy Robertson, says Emily Smith, and they stayed four weeks.

That visit was considered a first for Manchester, possibly the first in the state and probably a first in the nation for European scouts to visit the U.S.A. First report of the impending visit was made in 1958 while Troop 1 Scouts were in Europe. They encouraged their counterparts abroad to make a return visit.

Mrs. David Starrett was chairman of the parents' group of Troop 1 and they had a problem to solve. You see those visiting girls were limited in the amount of money they could take out of their national funds. The Scottish group, with assistance of other members of the Ranger Company in Cupar, Fife, Scotland, raised enough money to pay for their air passage. Troop 1 Scouts went back to work, serving more suppers, raising funds, and finding the money to

Town directors to discuss issues

Controversies that affect two Manchester neighborhoods are among the items on tonight's agenda of the Board of Directors. The matters concern the acceptance by the town of a subdivision of the streets and the renovation work at a school playground.

The board has been asked to accept five streets — Briarwood and Nutmeg Drs. and Strawberry Huckleberry and Curry Lanes — that are part of the Manchester West Sub-division off Keeney St. Residents of the area protested the proposed acceptance at an August meeting of the board. They said that repairs are needed to the streets.

The directors tabled the matter at last month's meeting. Residents of the area are expected to present a petition tonight protesting the acceptance.

Another item on the agenda requests an amendment to the town's Community Development Block Grant to include $20,000 in funding for renovation work at the Nathan Hale School playground.

The $20,000, which would pay part of the project's cost, now is expected to come from a Bureau of Outdoor Recreation grant. Director Carl Zinsner, however, recently expressed some concern because the BOR grant will not be approved until about the first of November. He said that the town had promised to begin work on the playground in September.

Thus, he has requested that the town use $20,000 from Community Development to fund the project. Work could be started at an earlier date if the step is approved. The town has already appropriated $20,000 in CD funds for the work.

Survey indicates arts are alive

STORRS (UPI) — Despite all the fanfare surrounding sports, the arts are alive and well, according to a survey of incoming University of Connecticut freshmen.

Only about half of the incoming freshmen said they consider themselves "well informed" on international news but nearly 65 per cent said they are up on current national news.

Of about 1,500 students who answered the survey questions, 51 per cent said they got most of their state news from newspapers, 28 per cent said they listened to the radio for state news and 21 per cent cited television as their main source.

For national news, the freshmen were almost evenly divided with 37.5 per cent reading newspapers and 35 per cent watching television. Twenty-seven per cent said they read the primary medium through which they kept informed on national issues.

More freshmen attended symphony orchestra concerts and the legitimate theater than pro baseball and football games, according to the results of a questionnaire distributed during this summer's orientation programs to incoming students.

The survey showed 986 freshmen attended professional theater while 980 freshmen said they went to professional baseball games. It showed 597 first year students attended serious concerts as opposed to 555 who went to pro football games.

Politically, about 46 per cent said they considered themselves "independent" while 31 per cent labelled themselves Democrats and 24 per cent cited a preference for the Republican party. There will be about 2,347 freshmen at UConn this fall.

Obituaries

Ronald L. Boyd BOLTON — Ronald Louis Boyd, 47, of 453 Lake St., formerly of Newington, died Sunday at Manchester Memorial Hospital. He was the husband of Mrs. Carolyn Clark Boyd.

Mr. Boyd was born in Newington and lived in the Hartford area most of his life before moving to Bolton in 1953. He was a foreman at Jet Air Inc., East Hartford.

Betty's notebook

By Betty Ryder

Hope you all had a safe and happy weekend. The weather was great and we enjoyed a family cookout in Ellington and watched the daring parachutists float down.

The backyard of my son and daughter-in-law's home backs up almost to Ellington Airport and we really enjoyed the colorful chutes as they drifted down. Oh, a few landed in a corn field, which is sort of a buffer zone between the yard and the landing strip, but for the most part they had good control of their chutes.

Funny, I like to fly, but jumping out of a plane never appealed to me. Must be old age, though, come to think of it, it never appealed to me when I was younger—yesterday.

Anyway, I ate all the things I'm not supposed to, and much more than I should—but, gee, that's what a cookout is all about.

Thanks
Thanks to all the nice people who called about the PEOPLE page feature on Karen Crane of Andover and Buttercup Anne.

It really seemed to touch the hearts of many people; and of course, it was a story I enjoyed writing.

We have a super photographer in Steve Dunn and without his fine pictures I don't believe the story alone could have carried the message.

There's an old saying among feature writers: "If you write about children or animals, you can't go too far wrong."

Thanks for the many calls and personal contacts. It makes working almost fun.

HELP
I need the help of some readers. Several weeks ago I wrote in this column about pictures I had found of Donald Ward, who was the arresting officer in the Charles Manson case in California.

Finally, a reader called me and she knew Don's sister who lives in East Hartford. Eventually, the sister called me and was interested in having the pictures of her late brother. Well, she never gave me her last name.

Her name is Ruby and she lives off of Long Hill Rd. in East Hartford. If anyone knows how I may contact her, please give me a call. I would like to pass the photos along to her, but don't know how to reach her.

I know she was on vacation during the United Technologies Corp. shutdown the first two weeks in August, so I am hopeful the first caller will call again.

Heading North
The Manchester Women's Club is planning a trip to Montreal over the Columbus Day weekend.

I was especially interested since I recently spent a week there.

The trip coordinator, Rose Menasian, told me that after reading my column, the group is planning on having dinner one night at Le Festin de Gouverneur, which is the banquet I enjoyed so much. Makes me wish I were going.

Happy birthday
Just have to say "Happy Birthday" to a dear friend, who is 73 years young today—Eddy Reed, well-known pianist at Cavey's Restaurant.

Eddy has played the piano there for many years, about 17 I believe. I'm sure many of his friends will be on hand tonight to wish him many more happy and healthy years.

I know I will.

50th wedding anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Kelley of 24 Drescher Rd. were honored on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary at a cocktail party and dinner in Holderness, N.H., on Aug. 17.

The dinner was hosted by their sons, Thomas G. Kelley of Manchester, David R. Kelley of Alexandria, Va., and William M. Kelley of Windham, N.H., and attended by family members from Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut, New York, Virginia and Florida. Mrs. Thomas G. Kelley made the three-tiered anniversary cake.

The cocktail party, during which the Kelleys received many gifts, was hosted by Mrs. Kelley's nephew, George C. Alvord of Litchfield, Conn., and Holderness, N.H.

The couple was married on Aug. 17, 1927 in a private ceremony. Both are graduates of Bates College in Lewiston, Maine, where they met.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelley were also feted at a dinner party in Meredith, N.H., on Aug. 15 by many of their friends vacationing in the Lakes Region of New Hampshire. They were presented with a cake decorated with 50 one-dollar bills.

Before retiring in 1967, Mr. Kelley was athletic director and coach and for 42 years a teacher at Manchester High School. He officiated collegiate football for the Eastern College Athletic Conference for a number of years.

Mrs. Kelley taught school in New Haven prior to their marriage.

The couple has three granddaughters, Betty Lynn, Kathleen and Megan; and three grandsons, Michael, Timothy, and William Jr.

Children's programs planned at YWCA

The fall program activities for children and youths will be starting the week of Sept. 19 at the Nutmeg Branch YWCA of the Hartford Region. Registration is now being taken for the following classes:

For preschoolers: The Tiny Tots group, arts and crafts, games and songs, for children aged 3; Tiny Tots Plus group, for children 4 and 5. Each group meets one afternoon a week for two hours.

Kiddie Kalisthenics: Preschool exercise, meets morning or afternoons.

Preschool dance: For the 3 to 5 age group.

Classes for elementary school-age children include creative macrame and a Red Cross baby-sitting course. There will also be a number of physical fitness classes.

including duckpin bowling, gymnastics for girls, outdoor sports and games, modern ballet, self-defense, and tennis instruction. These classes meet on weekday afternoons after school.

Programs for teen-age participants include Hatha Yoga and body conditioning classes on weekday evenings. Tennis lessons and Red Cross baby-sitting will be offered afternoons in October.

There will also be rap sessions for teens on Wednesday afternoons, as an informal group interaction focusing on issues which concern young people.

A new YWCA Teen Club will also be developed for girls ages 15-17, involving both social and service projects.

For further information, call the YWCA office at 647-1627.

All-day workshop on psychotherapy set

Dr. Albert Ellis, of New York City, an expert in the field of Rational-Emotive Psychotherapy, will present an all-day workshop at the Education Community, 645 Birch Mountain Rd., Saturday, Sept. 10 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The workshop, which is being cosponsored by Rockville General Hospital and the Educational Community, will include a discussion of philosophy and techniques of Rational-Emotive Psychotherapy, as well as live demonstrations of these techniques. This treatment approach holds that emotional disturbance is essentially caused by irrational attitudes and beliefs about the nature of one's self and the social environment.

Dr. Ellis is director of the Institute for Rational Living and Institute for Advanced Study in Rational Psychotherapy in New York. He received his B.A. degree from City College in New York and an M.A. and Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology from Columbia University.

He has published over 350 papers in related journals, and has written and published 31 books, some of which include: "A New Guide to Rational Living," "How To Live With A Neurotic," "Reason And Emotion In Psychotherapy," "The Art And Science Of Love," "How To Raise An Emotionally Healthy, Happy Child," "Sex Without Guilt," and "Growth Through Reason."

For further information and registration, call The Educational Community, 646-0711.

Man injured in car crash

Patrick O'Garra, 19, of 48 W. Middle Tpke., was in a satisfactory condition today at Manchester Memorial Hospital recovering from internal injuries received in an auto accident Sunday night at W. Middle Tpke. near 158.

O'Garra had surgery immediately after the accident which occurred about 10:07 p.m. Police said O'Garra was alone driving east on W. Middle Tpke., passed another vehicle in a no passing zone and lost control of his car which fishtailed, then spun completely around. It came to rest on the highway and down an embankment at the side of the bridge over 158 after striking guard rails and a utility pole.

The Town Fire Department was called to the scene to aid with the rescue operation. O'Garra was pinned in the vehicle for about 20 minutes. Investigation of the accident was incomplete and no arrest has been made.

Other survivors are his wife, a son, a daughter, his mother and a sister.

Woman missing

Friends and relatives of an East Hartford woman who disappeared from a fishing area in Andover Sunday, are being contacted by State Police to see if they know her whereabouts.

Police said Betty Sergeant, 51, was reportedly fishing in the area around Parker Bridge Rd. and Rt. 6. Police said her male companion said he went to fish downstream and she was returned. Mr. Sergeant was not around.

He notified State Police, who, with the aid of townhounds and firemen from areas of lowlands, conducted a search of the area.

Police said the search was called off about noon on Monday when the 300 searchers failed to find any trace of the woman.

Other survivors are his wife, a son, a daughter, his mother and a sister.

Nation marks Labor Day in traditional ways

By KENNETH R. CLARK
United Press International
Labor Day was 600,000 people at Ocean Island, 1.5 million on the beaches of Southern California and an uncounted swarm on the nation's highways.

But it also was sniper fire in North Carolina, violence at a Ku Klux Klan rally in Ohio and mighty winds along the Gulf Coast where Hurricane Bebe breathed her destructive tail.

AFI-CIO President George Meany marked the day by calling President Carter "a friend in the White House, despite the fact that he's not perhaps doing all the things we think he should do."

In a Labor Day interview on CBS Morning News, Meany also said:

"When working conditions were very bad, you could get a lot of favorable comment on unions," he said. "But we're paying the price of success... it's pretty hard to get people excited about the problems of a worker who's doing all right himself."

In Michigan, Gov. William Milliken made his annual trek across the five

State plans hearing on Rt. 31 curve job

Coventry
The efforts of Coventry residents on Rt. 31 to have a dangerous curve between Daley Rd. and Liscie Beach realigned have finally paid off. In response to numerous complaints and a petition drive last year by people in the area, the state Department of Transportation (DOT) has promised a public hearing sometime in November on a proposed realignment.
Highway Engineer Jack Scott said elimination of three dangerous curves would be undertaken by next summer. According to local police, almost 60 accidents have occurred at the site in the past five years, including 2 fatalities.
Rt. 31 is a state highway, but 70 per cent federal funding will be available for the renovations. In the past few months warning lights and signs were added and the road was surveyed by DOT personnel.
Scott said rights-of-way must be obtained from property owners to allow for the road straightening. Because residents are in favor of the work, no delays are anticipated.
Last year's petition drive was spearheaded by Sharon Kendall, who has been prodding state officials for a timetable for the realignment.
PTO sets meetings
Bobbie Woods, vice-president of the Capt. Nathan Hale School Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO), said the organization's monthly meetings will begin Sept. 14.
The meetings will be held on the second Wednesday evening of each month, she said. She invites all interested parents to attend. News bulletins will be sent to parents periodically by way of children in the school.
The PTO recently elected Dorothy Grady Burrell president. Fran Goodale is secretary and Karen Barnes is treasurer.
There will be two leaders for each grade. They are: 5th grade, Elaine Cohen and Stephanie Motyka; 6th grade, Lois Goodin and Sue McKillen; 7th grade, Dorothy Turner and Mara Ayer; and 8th grade, Rose Fowler and Gloria Africano.
The program committee will be headed by Jean Seymour and Carol Benjamin. The building needs committee representative to the Board of Education is Sandra Ashley.
The ways and means committee is headed by Joan Lewis, Priscilla Doyle, Ann Bradley, Ritva Wisenall and Daisey Parent. Mrs. Woods will handle publicity.
Annual meeting set
The annual meeting of the Coventry Public Health Nursing Association will be Sept. 14 at the University of Connecticut Faculty-Alumni Center, Storrs.
The meeting will start with a social hour at 6 p.m., followed by a Spanish dinner at 7, and the business meeting at 8 p.m.
The program is open to the public. There will be election of officers and distribution of annual reports, followed by a talk on regionalization by Richard DiPentima, director of the Northeastern Regional Health District.
The regular monthly meeting of the association will be Sept. 21, 7:30 p.m. in the board room of the Town Hall.

Burn center, uniforms goal of fire Explorers

Vernon
The recently formed Explorer Post of the Rockville Fire Department is selling giant coloring books. Part of the proceeds will go to buy uniforms and part will be donated to the Shriners' Burn Center in Boston, Mass.
The Explorer Post was started in April. It is affiliated with the statewide Explorer program and the Boy Scouts of America. The group is made up of 21 boys and girls.
Scott Shepard and Beverly Pigeon, representing the post, said the oversized coloring books are being sold for $3. Twenty cents from each donation will go to the burn center in memory of David Skiba, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Skiba of Rockville.
The baby died at the burn center last May where he was taken with massive burns suffered in a fire in his home.
The Explorers would also like to raise enough money to buy uniforms so they can appear in area parades.
While the members do not actually work at fires they do help with cleanup after fires. They do such things as wash and roll the hose.
The coloring books come in two varieties, "Blazer the Firebug" and "CB Rabbit".
Besides the giant pictures to color, the books also contain removable transfers that can be put on T-shirts.

Regional police radio proposed

Vernon
Vernon Police Chief Herman Fritz and a representative from the Capitol Region Council of Governments (CRCOG) will discuss a proposal for a regional police communications system at the meeting of the Vernon Town Council, Monday at 7:30 in the Memorial Building.
The regional system has been developed over the past six years to allow individual police departments in the Capitol Region to communicate with each other via radio.
CRCOG officials said reasons for the system are the need for responses to emergency situations that require the attention of more than one police department, and to provide long-term investigative efforts that would require too much time of radio frequency or that require two departments working together.
As the Emergency Medical Service communication system is developed in the Capitol Region, of the Vernon Town Council, Monday at 7:30 in the Memorial Building.
Manchester, Hartford, Wethersfield, Newington and East Windsor have full or partial capability to use a UHF radio system that can broadcast anywhere in the Capitol Region.
Officials said this new project is intended to enhance that capability in four of these towns and to provide basic UHF equipment to an additional eight towns, including Vernon and Glastonbury.
The cost will be discussed tonight. Other items on tonight's agenda:
• A public hearing and Special Town Meeting asking for an appropriation of $1.1 million for building a new police station. A grant has already been approved for this amount.
• Consideration of an amendment to the proposed ordinance to extend sewer lines in the Tunnel Rd. area.
• An agreement with the state to conduct written exams for a police sergeant vacancy.
• An agreement renewing the W. Main St. playground lease.

Abductor sought

BLOOMFIELD (UPI) — Police today searched for a man who allegedly kidnaped a woman shopper, then released her unharmed and drove off with her car.
Police said a woman in her 50s, who they declined to identify, was in the parking lot at Westfarms Mall Saturday night when she was confronted by a young man with a gun. She told police he ordered her to get inside and then drove her around for about 30 minutes.
Besides the giant pictures to color, the books also contain removable transfers that can be put on T-shirts.
"Playing everyday against all pitching has been a big help. That way you get to know the pitcher and that's helped a lot," said Bochte. "I got two homers in one game against Seattle but getting five runs batted in against New York is really something."
Bochte's two-run double and Rico Carty's run-scoring single gave the Indians a 3-0 lead in the seventh inning of the nightcap before the Yankees bounced back with four runs in the eighth to take the lead.
Orioles 7-5, Tigers 8-0
Rudy May, backed by Al Bumbrey's three-run double, earned his 15th victory and second shutout this season in helping the Orioles rally to win the nightcap. The Orioles seemingly had first game won when Andres Mora singled in a run in the top of the 10th inning. However, with two out in the bottom of 10th, Orioles manager Earl Weaver yanked Tippy Martinez after a single by Mickey Stanley and Dick Drago proceeded to give up two more singles to tie the score before yielding a game-winning homer to Rusty Staub, his 19th, in the 11th.
Royals 8, Mariners 7
Frank White's two-run single and George Brett's two-run homer capped a six-run second inning, which carried the streaking Royals to their sixth straight victory and 7th in the last 20 games. Jim Colborn, 16-13, went the distance as the Royals increased their AL West lead to six games.
White Sox 7-2, A's 8-1
Wilbur Wood and Leron LaGow combined on an eight-inning to the nightcap to keep the Chisox' fading pennant hopes alive. In the opener, the A's belted Chisox starter Ken Kravec for seven runs in 1-13 innings to nullify three RBI by Oscar Gamble.

Appraisal delays grant request

Vernon
The state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) and the Vernon Planning Department are awaiting completion of an appraisal of the Bray property before submitting an amendment to a grant application.
In April the town planner asked the Town Council to make an appropriation to match an open space grant. The request was denied.
Town Planner John Loranger said that because Dec. 31, 1977, was the deadline for use of the grant for buying open space land, it appeared that the $235,000 in federal funds would be forfeited.
However, Loranger said that since that time several developments occurred to provide a more optimistic picture.
On May 19 the town asked for a six-month extension of the expiration date from DEP. Then on June 3, Stanley Bray of Manchester offered to give the town a parcel of land in the Walker Reservoir plus an additional 8.63 acres.
The request for an extension was then followed by a letter asking DEP if the offer of land could be used as credit against the required local share in using the open space funds.
The DEP told Loranger that the value of the land gift would have to be added to the total project request of $470,000 before it could be used as a part of the local share. This required an amendment to the original request. The value of the Bray property has to be determined by a state-approved appraiser, then reviewed and approved before the gift value could be added and used for matching purposes.
Loranger said he has also been told that the town can't take title to the Bray land before receiving approval of the land gift and the project amendment.
The Planning Commission and the Conservation Commission recommended that the town accept the land gift. The Town Council adopted a resolution to accept it for open space purposes and to spend not more than $75 for real estate appraisals. Loranger said, the town, if the project amendment is approved, should be able to obtain authority to spend federal funds in the amount of the value of the Bray land.
Loranger said if the land is worth $40,000 the town would obtain $40,000 in federal money and buy one of five parcels of land it listed in the original grant application.
He said selection of the land to be bought would depend on how much money there is to spend. The decision would rest with the Town Council, with advice from the Conservation and Planning Commissions and the council's open space subcommittee.

Assistant fire chief resigns

Vernon
G. Nelson Skinner, a member of the Vernon Fire Department for the past 23 1/2 years, has resigned as assistant chief of the department, effective Oct. 1.
Skinner, in a letter to Chief William Johnson and Mayor Thomas Benoit, said his business is demanding more of his time and he doesn't feel he can devote the time to the department that he has in the past.
Skinner has his own insurance business in town and in his letter he said being in business in town and being available 24 hours a day does have its drawbacks.
Skinner said being a member of the department for more than 20 years and a chief officer for more than half that time "is not easy to give up" but he can devote the time to the department that he has in the past.
He said he has to attend a program at Harvard Business School from September to mid-December and would be unable to attend commission meetings.
He said this situation was not anticipated when he accepted his appointment to the commission.

Myette working hard for Sept. 15 primary

South Windsor
South Windsor Deputy Mayor Robert Myette, bounced off the Democratic ticket at the Aug. 4 caucus, has been working to gather support in his effort to regain his place on the slate.
Myette forced a Sept. 15 primary, charging that a small faction within the Democratic party planned his defeat at the caucus. There are seven candidates, including Myette, and only six spots for the November election.
The party-endorsed candidates are John Archer, Edward Haves, Arthur Champagne, Wayne Gerit, Joseph Krabala and Jacqueline Smith.
Democratic Town Chairman Robert Hornish said the committee will continue to work at the endorsed candidates until the Sept. 15 primary. If the slate changes after the primary and Myette is back on the ticket, Hornish said the committee will then work for the new slate.
Democrats will be able to select up to six candidates for the ticket. Those six candidates will then run for the Town Council in November.
The party's primary campaign manager is Leon Mainelli, a former councilman. State Rep. Abraham Glasman is the party's campaign manager for the November election.

Bolton welcomes pupils

Bolton School Supt. Raymond Allen said he welcomes all students back to school and wishes them happiness and success during the 1977-78 school year.
Allen said he would like to send parents the following message: "The teachers and administrators are here to serve your children and any concerns or problems you have, anything."
This year Bolton students will be brought to school with five buses instead of seven. As in past years two minibuses and one wagon will be used. The reduction of two buses will save the town $18,144.
Because of the high capacity use of the buses, Allen said special requests for students to change their scheduled bus on the way home from school cannot be honored. He said it is not known if students will be allowed to change buses later in the year.
"The bus routes are tight but we hope we can hold to the use of five buses," Allen said.
He said copies of the bus regulations will be sent home as soon as school begins. He asks all parents to review the regulations with their children.
Allen asks all parents to have their

December tax bill

Tax Collector Elaine Potter said persons who purchased a motor vehicle between Oct. 2, 1976, and June 30, 1977, will receive a tax bill in December. It will be payable in January.
Mrs. Potterton said the state Motor Vehicle Department says towns should collect about 25 per cent of their Oct. 1 motor vehicle list. Bolton's list was $100,000 so the town should expect about $47,500 in additional revenue.
The tax collector said she wanted the town to see what is collected before it uses the funds in a budget figure. No money was estimated in the 1977-78 budget for the new taxes.

Red Sox win pair, Yanks lose twice

Indians in rally to top New York

CLEVELAND (UPI) — It was "Hankies for the Yankees" Night and with fans waving handkerchiefs inscribed with "I Hate The Yankees," the Cleveland Indians rallied for 4-3 and 5-4 victories Sunday.
The wins snapped the Yankee's winning streak at seven and dropped their American League Eastern Division lead over second-place Boston to 2 1/2 games.
Cleveland had not beaten New York since July 1, 1976.
"It sure is a good feeling," said Cleveland Manager Jeff Torborg. "The fans gave us the lift that we needed."
Torborg sent two left-handers against New York, a team that had not lost to a southpaw since Aug. 1. With the score tied 2-2 in the seventh, Duane Kuiper led off with a single, took second on a sacrifice and scored on Andre Thornton's triple down the left field line that chased Cathin Hunter, 2-8. Sparty Lyle entered and Bruce Bochte, who had five RBI in the twilight, greeted him with a line single to left to score Thornton.
"Playing everyday against all pitching has been a big help. That way you get to know the pitcher and that's helped a lot," said Bochte. "I got two homers in one game against Seattle but getting five runs batted in against New York is really something."
Bochte's two-run double and Rico Carty's run-scoring single gave the Indians a 3-0 lead in the seventh inning of the nightcap before the Yankees bounced back with four runs in the eighth to take the lead.

Aase, Cleveland record shutouts

TORONTO (UPI) — Rookie Don Aase and veteran Reggie Cleveland gave the Boston Red Sox the pitching they'd been searching for all season Monday as the Sox gained a shutout sweep in their doubleheader against the Toronto Blue Jays, 8-0 and 6-0.
The Boston victories moved them to within 2 1/2 games of the American League East Division-leading Yankees, who dropped a doubleheader to the Indians.
Aase burlied a three-hitter in the first game, striking out four and walking two, to run his record to 4-1. And Cleveland scattered five hits and struck out five in the nightcap to raise his record to 9-7.
"Aase continues to give us the lift we've needed all season," said Boston Manager Don Zimmer. "And Cleveland pitched like hell in the last five innings; his sinker ball was really working. I tell you, when he keeps the ball down, he's as good a pitcher as there is in baseball."
Boston's pitching staff, which does not show a starting pitcher with more than 10 wins, had not recorded two successive complete games since Aug. 4 and 5, against Oakland.
Manager Zimmer was pleased he did not have to call on relief ace Bill Campbell, who has shouldered up Red Sox pitching all season.
"It was very good that I didn't have to use him," said Zimmer. "He's pitched the last two games in a row I know he needed rest. It was good that we got those early leads."
When informed the Yankees had dropped their doubleheader to the Indians, Zimmer said, "This race is there to be won. We've just got to get on a big winning streak. This is a big lift, a big lift."
In the first game, Jim Rice's three-run homer and Carlton Fisk's single, double and triple led the Sox' hitting attack. Rice hit his 35th homer of the season in the fifth inning to move into first place in the league's homer race. Graig Nettles of New York was 34.

Williams speaks up on report

MANCHESTER, N.H. (UPI) — Former Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams says he hasn't decided about joining a group headed by Red Sox General Manager Dick O'Connell that is thinking of buying the ball club from the estate of the late Thomas Yawkey.
"I am not interested in buying the Red Sox, or being an investor, but if there is something which I could do to maintain the dignity and respect which Mr. Yawkey built into the operation through more than 40 years of ownership, I would listen," Williams said in the interview.
Williams said O'Connell contacted him to find out if he would be interested in becoming part of a group which would make an offer to buy the team.
Williams said he would be "willing to talk matters over with Mr. O'Connell's interested party. My part in the operation, however, would have to be on a limited basis," Williams said.

Popular 'watering hole' for gridders

With the temperature over 90 degrees almost daily, and a rugged practice schedule, when a break was called the Manchester High gridders headed for the portable water cooler.

Ted Turner convinced fate will be on his side

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) - After a Labor Day weekend spree of bad luck, millionaire sportsman Ted Turner is convinced fate will be on his side of his 12-meter yacht Courageous in defending America's Cup against Australia.

UConn grid lineup set

STORRS (UPI) - "We are definitely going to start" Junior Robin Anderson of Cambridge, Mass., at fullback and senior captain Roger Kings of Ansonia, at tailback, said Nadzak.

Healthy Orantes semifinals

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) - Manuel Orantes, after two years with a bad back, arm surgery and a fight to regain his form, will try to move one step closer to another championship today when he takes on 18-year-old John McEnro of Douglass, N.Y. in a quarterfinal match.

U.S. Tennis Open

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) - It's always nice to play well and to win this tournament. Orantes says in his characteristic soft-spoken way. "For me, it's special not because this is the last one at Forest Hills but because I had an operation and I missed all the big tournaments. This is maybe the last chance I have to do well in a big tournament."

DeNicolo ties mark

Five times a record 65 round has been recorded at the Manchester Country Club and on three occasions the feat was turned in by Ralph DeNicolo. The current lead club pro fashioned a 34-31-65 round Friday while playing in a foursome with Ken Gordon, Ray Gordon and Carroll Maddox.

Ump asks Foli be suspended

ATLANTA (UPI) - Umpire Bruce Froemming says he will recommend to National League President Chub Feeney that shortstop Tim Foli of San Francisco be suspended for the rest of the season.

Stacy breaks mark in win

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) - Hollis Stacy has broken an LPGA record, adding $15,000 to her bank account and chalked up her third victory of the year, all by shooting 10-under-par golf at the $100,000 Rail Muscular Dystrophy tournament.

Carlton gains 20th, curt with fans, press

NEW YORK (UPI) - Steve Carlton seems to be an unknown quantity and often is curt with both fans and the press.

National League

"I'm real happy about the 20th win. I feel that I've been a consistent pitcher this year. But the big thing now is to win the division race."

Second win in month for positive thinker

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) - Lanny Wadkins is a positive thinker. Even when Tom Weiskopf was making a record turn at his five-shot lead Monday during the early part of the final round of the $300,000 World Series of Golf, Wadkins wasn't really worried.

PGA

Wadkins was right. He followed the birdie on the ninth with another on 10, tucked on another on 12 and, when he birdied the 14th, he had a four-shot lead over his closest rival, Jim Furyk.

19th hole

PHILADELPHIA - Announced the retirement of veteran corner back Al Clark.

Country Club

BEST 14 Class A - Tom Wall 54-45, Stan McFarland 53-7-48, Jim Moriarty 57-9-49, Roy Riggotti 57-9-49, Frank Klerman 54-8-41, Class B...

said, "I thought of it all day. It kept me going, it gave me something to shoot for."

Dillon Ford Introduces FIESTA

Imported from Germany by Ford.

The Ford Fiesta. It's outsold every new car nameplate ever introduced in Europe, based on sales in the first six months, even surpassing the most popular cars from Volkswagen, Renault and Fiat. Behind that success is Fiesta's dramatic level of automotive performance.
