Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., long an opponent of the SST, said the administration proposal should be sent "back to the drawing board." The plane is too noisy, "guzzles fuel ..., is far too expensive for most Americans to use, and ... presents serious dangers to the atmosphere."

Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., welcomed the proposal and suggested Las Vegas be "considered a prime possibility for Concorde service, opening up southern Nevada to potentially lucrative European Concorde service to other U.S. cities must await the final policy ruling in early 1978, after a series of public hearings, Adams said. But he made it clear that Carter favors letting the controversial Anglo-French SST land wherever it can win local approval and meet such safety requirements as runway length.

Adams said airports serving four places - Dallas-Fort Worth, Newark and Philadelphia - already have told him they want the Concorde. Newark would be ruled out because of inadequate runways, he said. Carter's proposed rules were designed "to protect the health and safety of the American people, set a fair and reasonable noise standard for SST operations and strike a balance between legitimate domestic and international interests of the United States," Adams said.

Carter's proposed rules would: Let the 16 Concordes now built or under construction fly throughout the United States "provided their noise levels are not increased above present levels and they do not operate over the United States at supersonic · Require any additional Concordes to meet 1969 U.S. noise standards for subsonic aircraft. No additional Concorde production is scheduled, but designers are working on ways to make future versions to fly more quietly.

· Create a national SST curfew, prohibiting supersonic jetliners from landing or taking off at U.S. airports between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m.

· Allow individual airport operators to set "reasonable, nondiscriminatory noise rules" that could ban the SST so long as they applied equally to all types of aircraft.

· Require any second-generation SST, American or foreign, to meet noise standards "at least as stringent" as those for subsonic aircraft, a condition that would be impossible to meet with existing Con-

A draft of a CBO report draws "a substantive conclusion that rail rapid transit offers little aid to the nation's efforts to save fuel ... .. indicate that new rapid rail systems actually waste energy rather than save it."

The study said, "Buses appear to offer the greatest promise in terms

A copy of the draft, to be published and given Congress next week, was made available to UPI. The CBO took into account all energy costs involved in various modes of transit. The high construction costs of rapid rail systems accounted in large part for the relatively low rating, as did the fact that many people use cars to get to subway stations.

Rated slightly better than buses, but less practical were van pools. "Of all the urban transport modes, van pools can probably make the greatest contribution to energy savings on a per-mile basis," the report said.

The study will be the subject of hearings next month before the Senate transportation subcommittee. Subcommittee Chairman Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., said the findings upset conventional wisdom about the value of concentrating large amounts of federal money on new rai systems" such as the ones in Washington and San Francisco and one planned for Atlanta. "It may well cause Congress to rethink its transportation priorities," said Bentsen, who asked for the report. Measuring "the combined energy needed to construct transportation facilities, manufacture and propel vehicles, operate stations and maintain all parts of the system," here are CBO ratings, expressed in terms of British Thermal Units expended per mile: Van pool 1,400 Bus 1,420 Commuter rail 1,540 Old subways 2,320 Carpool 2,390 Trolleys 2,590 New subways 3,080 Dial-a-ride

> Major votes on the issues were expected Monday, although the Senate set more business for today. The battle in the Senate has > become a last stand for natural gas producers seeking to keep federal controls out of the lucrative intrastate market. The House already has passed the Carter proposal to boost the ceiling price of natural gas and to expand federal pricing authority into the intrastate market - gas produced and sold within state lines.

Debate has split the Senate into three camps - backers of the Carter plan, those who want controls removed, and those who want prices no higher than current ceilings.

Paraprofessionals win pension suit

Superior Court Judge Thomas O'Sullivan has ruled in favor of four paraprofessionals who had sought to make retroactive payments to the Town of Manchester pension

The paraprofessionals - Helen Diehl, Carmella Brennan, Marianne Chambers and Marilyn Miller - all are employed in the school system. The plaintiffs said that they were erroneously left out of the pension plan when they began work in 1970. They have been members of the plan since 1973 but sought to be included from the starting date of employment. This would have required that the four make back payments for the time that they were not included in the Town Counsel Victor Moses had ruled that such retroactive payments, which are normally prohibited by the town's pension ordinance, would be permissible in this The Pension Board, however, disagreed with Moses and ruled against the back payments. The board cited the pension ordinance and said that a change in the ordinance would have to be made to permit the four to make the The Board of Directors also decided not to make any change in the ordinance for this case Thus, the four paraprofessionals filed suit against

"Under these circumstances, there is no bar to the town treasurer accepting the contributions now offered." O'Sullivan said in his decision 'Because the problem was not caused by the plaintiffs, and the ordinance provides no way to solve it, the quoted language deprives the plaintiffs of their property without due process." he said. For the plaintiffs, the language is unconstitutional, he

WASHINGTON (NEA) - Although the nation elected a new President more than 10 months ago, the first of the detailed studies seeking to explain what motivated the voters has only recently been made public and it shatters a number of popular political myths.

For instance, it's widely assumed that the two contenders' position on various domestic and foreign policy issues was the most important aspect of the four nationally televised debates between Democrat Jimmy Carter and Republican Gerald R.

Care of the skin

DEAR DR. LAMB - I would be thankful if you could write something about the salve, 5-Fluorouracil. I was told by a dermatologist that I have actinic keratosis and very powerful drug and am uneasy and worried about using it. I would have to put it all over my face. Could you give me your opinion?

DEAR READER - It is a well recognized and effective treatment for actinic keratosis, those little gray or brownish scaly spots that develop on the skin. Thes changes in the skin are the result of damage from solar radiation. Some people are more susceptible to the sun's damaging rays than others. It is important to treat these spots as some of them can become skin cancer and require more drastic treatment. I might add that skin cancer, other than malignant melanoma, can usually be completely cured. If you don't treat it early though the treatment may increase any dis-

Franco American figurement that might be caused by removing the malignant area. The salve you mention is a prescription item so readers needn't expect to go to the drug store and buy it for home use. It is a powerful salve and one must be instructed in its use. It is important to not get it in the eyes.

It will cause areas of the skin that have already undergone changes that you can't see with the naked eye to turn red, and eventually scale off. Completely normal skin tissue will not be affected by the salve. In this way it literally identifies areas that have been damaged or undergone changes compared to healthy skin.

Because the face is exposed so much more to the su than the body it is frequently the main location for solar keratosis. The backs of the hands are also often involved You can help prevent these changes in the skin by protecting the skin properly from the sun. I am sending you the Health Letter number 7-10, Your Skin: Sun Aging, Spots and Cancer, to give you information on taking care of your skin and how to prevent solar damage of the type you now have. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, sel addressed envelope for it to P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y., 10019. People who do not care for their skin properly are more apt to have an "old skin" earlier in life. The suntan ritual is a frequent factor as is cigarette smoking.

The effects of skin damage may not show up for year afterward. Young people want a nice tan but when age 40 rolls around they want look 25. The two are not compat

It is important to realize that the sun affects the skir all year round. People with exceptionally fair skin should use protection all year, in winter as well as summer. You can use one of the chemical screening agents mentioned in The Health Letter as a simple lotion each morning before being exposed to the sun.

47 Punched out

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: It seems that more and more parents of teenage children are being divorced these days. I struggled with that decision for nearly two years, and finally joined their ranks. I received the following letter, which was signed by each of my children. Their ages are 17, 15, 13 and 12.

I hope you will think it worthy of your column.

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR DIVORCED PARENTS: We love you both for different reasons, so please don't feel that because we love one of you, we cannot love the other. Try to understand hat even though you no longer love each other, we still love both of you.

We cannot be expected to know what went wrong with your marriage, nor do we want to know the details of who did what to whom, so please don't try to tell us your side of it. Don't ask us to judge either one of you, just help us to accept your parting so that we can build a life of our own though our parents live apart. We still need to be loved by both of you, so please don't allow your resentment, however justified, to destroy our relationship with our grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins on both sides. We know you both love us, so please let us love you both.

YOUR CHILDREN DEAR ABBY: I'm 19, female and this is my first office ob. There are eight girls and two men in this office. The hours are 8 to 5, and we get an hour off for lunch, plus two 15 minute coffee breaks, one at 10 A.M. and the other at 3

Every morning, one of the girls brings in a box of Danish, and someone makes a pot of coffee. Everyone (except me) has coffee and Danish, and nobody settles down to work until 8:30. At 4:30 P.M. everyone starts putting their work away, retouching their make-up and combing their hair. At precisely 5 P.M. they are all out the door. I told them that it's like they're stealing an hour's wages from the boss every day. They laughed at me, and now they call me "oddball." I'd like your opinion. ODDBALL

DEAR ODDBALL: If you're an "oddball," more offices should have oddballs with your integrity. DEAR ABBY: I am a clerk-typist in the registrar's office at a small midwestern college.

The other day, about half an hour before lunch, the registrar asked me if I would like to have lunch with him. We went to lunch, he picked up the tab, and I thanked The next day, his secretary took me aside and told me in a very confidential tone that the registrar was mortified when I didn't offer to pay for my own lunch as he had only $10 with him and my lunch came to $3.50! Then the secretary said she was asked to "hint" to me that whenever anyone goes to lunch with the boss, it's "dutch." I felt humiliated and upset to have been criticized behind my back for a wrong I didn't commit. Am I wrong to assume that when a gentleman asks me to have lunch with him, I am his guest? I thought he would have been insulted had I offered to pay for my own lunch under the ircumstances. Please set me straight.

DEAR PERTURBED: Had you offered to pay for your own lunch, you would not have offended a gentleman, because your boss isn't one. Furthermore, a man who asks his secretary to "hint" to you that all his invitations mean "dutch" is both cheap and gutless. Relax, dear. You

Coventry Democrats won't set platform

The Coventry Democratic Town
Committee has decided not to have a
The group formal platform for the upcoming municipal election. Town Chairman Richard Cromie said local candidates would speak on specific issues over the next few weeks instead of issuing a platform.

Platform Committee Chairman Alvah Phillips, former chairman of the town committee, said a platform would commit all candidates to a stand and expose the party to criticism from the opposition. Daniel Manley, an unsuccessful candidate for the Town Council two years ago, said it was a dangerous mittee to recommend no platform.

The platform committee - comprised of Phillips, Betsy Patterson, Robert Walsh, Ruth Benoit and Patricia White - has held five meetings, but apparently did not draft a platform.

Crash fatal to woman

A Hartford woman suffered fatal injuries in a three-vehicle crash in South Windsor early today, police

The 12:02 a.m. accident - at Rt. 30 (Ellington Rd.) and Pierce Rd. - involved a station wagon, a car and a tractor-trailer truck.

Laura Rose, 31, a passenger in the station wagon, was dead on arrival at Hartford Hospital. The driver and three other passengers were injured.

Area police report

Vernon Gary Fluckiger, 18, of Ellington was arrested Friday on a Common Pleas Court warrant charging him with first-degree larceny and seconddegree burglary.

Police said the charge stems from a Sept. 5 incident at a home on Davis Ave., Vernon.

Fluckiger was being held on a $5,-000 bond and is scheduled to appear read books about animals."

Mrs. Rose's daughter, Tiffany, age about 2, was admitted to Hartford Hospital. She was in serious but stable condition today.

David Abbott, 24, of Hartford, driver of the station wagon, was treated at Hartford Hospital and released. Deborah Santos, 22, and Glen Sorgio, 25, both of Hartford, were also treated and released.

The truck driver, James W. Donan, 40, of Berwick, Maine, wasn't hurt. Nor were the two occupants of the other car, William Davison, 41, and Marcia Davison, 41, both of 423 Felt Rd., South Windsor. Police said the station wagon stopped at a stop sign at the Rt. 30 and Pierce Rd. intersection and then proceeded from Pierce Rd. onto Rt. 30, into the path of the truck.

The two vehicles collided, police said, and the westbound truck jackknifed and collided with the oncoming, eastbound Davison car.

Abbott will be issued a summons charging him with driving while his license was suspended and driving and unregistered motor vehicle, police said.

The accident is still under investigation and other charges may be lodged, police said.

...I can't just take the money and run

"When I first came into this business I was thrilled just to be working as an actor," Jack Klugman was saying. "To get paid on top of it was almost too good to be true.

"Where I come from they pay you to paint a house or dig a ditch, but they don't pay you to act.

"I can remember when I got $10 for my first television show and it seemed like a lot of money," said Klugman, who stars in NBC-TV's "Quincy," Fridays at 10 p.m.

Now, the star of the mystery-drama series which has popularized forensic medicine's role in solving crimes, is making all the money he needs but money doesn't concern him," he says.

What does concern him is the quality of scripts for

"Quincy."

"As Paddy Chayevsky had William Holden say in 'Network,' 'I'm closer to the end than the beginning.' I could just stroll through my part and grab the money, but I can't just take the money and run," he said.

"I want quality in my role. I want relevance in my show. I don't care about the money. It's what's being said to the audience that's important to me," said Klugman, who spends much of his spare time rewriting scenes.

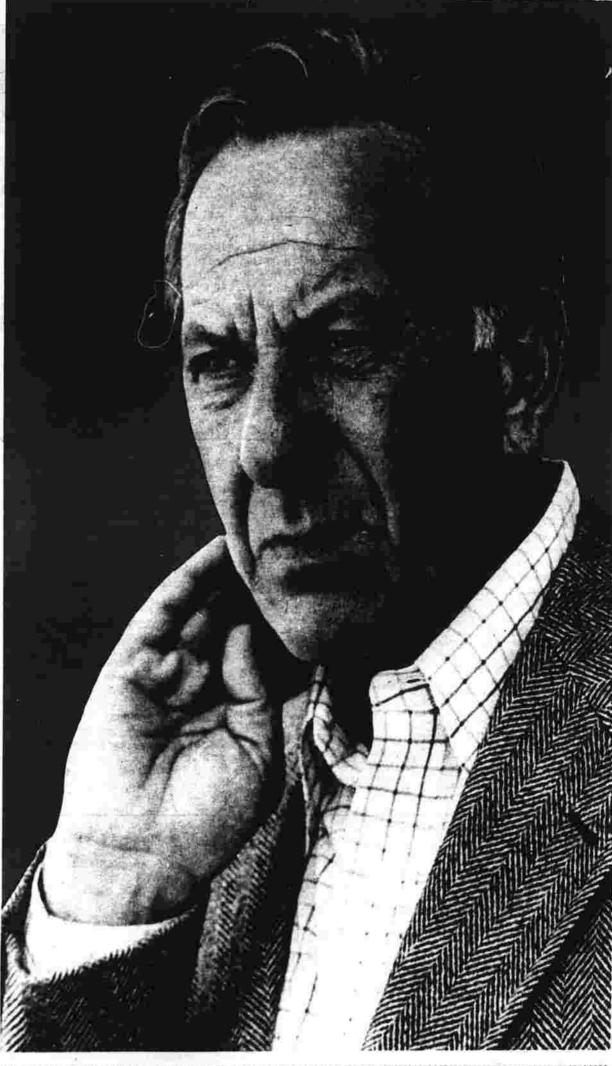

"Sure I spend my weekends and 12 or 13 hours a day working with the producers, going over the scripts. But if I can't get quality on television, I'd rather get out."

What's the driving force for this three-time Emmy Award winner?

"Relevancy adds depth to the show," Klugman explained.

"Our shows this season will be as entertaining as any show. We'll have mystery, humor, drama and they'll educate the audience. Forensic medicine is fascinating and I get letters from viewers about how they never knew about it until 'Quincy.'

"But more important, I want to say something to the audience. When you're a member of a community, you participate in elections, the heart fund, cancer fund, all those. If you don't you're just a breather!

DEAR DICK: I would like to know about the guy who played Sammy Golden in the movie, "Dark At the Top of the Stairs." Who was it and what is he doing now? SANDY M., Sierra

That was Lee Kinsolving, who is still around, acting when he DEAR DICK: I'm 12 years old and I think The Kids From Caper is terrific! What is Doc's real name? And does he do the singing, or is it someone else? PAT THOMAS, Reno. Nev. more than 12 and I've never seen The Kids From Caper, but I did find out that Doc is played by a young actor named John Lansing. He is a singer - he was in "Grease" on Broadway - and does his own singing.

DEAR DICK: I would like to know what kind of a guy Danny Most of Happy Days is. How old is he, is he interested in girls, what kind of food does he like and does he drink beer? BECKY

Danny is in his early 20s, and they tell me he's "a funny guy," although I've never met him. I'm told he like girls and is currently playing the field. He's not much of a drinker but is a bble-gum-blower. He's been working since he was 15, mostly as a singer, and has just cut his own album of pop

DEAR DICK: My friend and I have a bet. Who composed the song, "I Want to Be Loved," from the 1966 movie, "The Swinger?" He says it was Billy Rose, but I think it was Sammy Kahn. Who is right? MRS. M. LARSON, Eureka, Ca. According to ACAP, "I Want to Be Loved" was originally written in 1933 by Billy Rose, Edward Heyman and Johnny Green. I assume that was the same song used in the picture, so DEAR DICK: I saw a movie called "The Emperor of the North Pole," with Keith Carradine. Would Keith happen to be

David Carradine's brother? KIM ONUFRECHUK,

Yes, and they're both sons of John Carradine, who seeme to have an endless supply of talented sons.

to debut in Coventry

Requests for first-day cancellations should be addressed to "Nathan Hale Card. Postmaster, Coventry, Ct. 06038." Single cards are 9 cents and double reply cards 18 cents. Personal checks are accepted up to a total of $18.

Collectors are requested to enclose return labels to be put onto the cards to be sent singly. If you want large batches of the cards send a self-addressed envelope - no postage is required on this envelope as it will get a freebie frank. Note that orders have to be postmarked not later than Oct. 14, the date of issuance. They will not have the usual two-week kitty, such as on recent stamps.

Heaven help the Coventry postal people - first-day orders for the previous six cards have been from 147,522 to 340,000. Happy canceling days!

The center spread in the Sept. 14 "An-sion. tique Trader" is an illustrated story on collecting stamps with pictures of trains. U.S. collectors will think right away of the pallid little blue three-center in the 1869 pictorial series - the one stamp in the group that everybody can afford.

on a stamp, however, as New Brunswick was ahead of it by nine years with a onecent issue having very much the same 5-5-9 locomotive with a smoky funnel-type stack. These both had a cab for the engineer; but a still earlier stamp (a local), issued by the Broadway Post Office in New York in 1848, shows a man perched on a little platform exposed to wind and rain. (The first locomotive with an enclosed cab was the "Addison Gilmore" in 1851)

Patriot

The next United States stamp with a train was the 1901 two-cent Pan-American that depicts the New York Central's Empire State Express. There was a fast mail train shown on the five-cent Parcel Post of 1912, but nothing more until 1944, "The Golden Spike Ceremony," and since then there have been several.

The article (by Stanley L. Baker, author "The Collector's Book of Railroadiana") shows stamps from Peru, Costa Rica and Mexico with the statement that foreign countries have many more train stamps than we do.

The piece shows three claimants for the title of The First Commemorative. 1, The two-cent Columbian of 1893; 2, The cut square from an embossed stamped envelope for the 1876 Centennial Expo. (this has a train on it): 3. Another train picture - the 1871 cinco centavo from Peru, that was actually issued for the 20th anniversary of the first railway in South America. Number 3 should win.

CBing becomes serious business

The interest of this column in the yo-yo pricing of CB units, both mobile and base stations, may seem to many readers only zealous. But keeping you informed on what is happening in the industry and how it may affect you a fellow CBer - is significant in our opinion.

There are indications now that CBing is no longer a hot electronic fad. Rather, it has developed as a genuine communications form that is being productively utilized in a highly personal manner. It is truly serving the purpose for which Citizens Band radio was initially intended

The basis for this conclusion: The FCC reports to us that July CB applications were at their lowest level in two years. They dipped to 293,662, compared with 396,080 last year. Through the first seven months the total was approximately 3.5 million. This means that there is little chance the year will produce the seven million unit sales as predicted.

This means something to you: It is bound to affect pricing at the retail level. If volume falls off, the per-unit manufacturing costs are almost certain to rise. This means that the manufacturer will have to build more into the set and probably give you a better value for your

It certainly means a buyers' market, rather than a sellers' paradise.

There are other indicators lurking around in the background that create this opinion. E.F. Johnson would never have filed its ITC motion to impose quotas and increased tariffs on imports if all was well. All available reports reflect a sluggish market, with a lot of 23s still sitting on the shelf.

The retail pricing being advertised is responsive to this problem and offers buyers some real values, in both 23s and 40s, base and mobile units. The good, well established brands are coming up with refinements in their new sets that offer CBers more sophisticated gear at very reasonable prices. So, all that is happening is not bad.

Even the FCC has been reflective to the mood of the CBing public. They've decided that their rules were vir tually unintelligible to you and me, and have rewritten them. They said they were going to do the rewrite in nonlegal language that we could all understand.

The FCC has also produced a slide-and-sound show. It is entitled "10-4 Uncle Charlie" and proceeds to explain the CB rules. The program has 72 slides and a 10-minute audio cassette. Your club can obtain the program, along with a question and answer sheet, for $15 from the National Audiovisual Center, GSA Order Section, Washington, D.C. 20409.

So, all this adds up to four important points: · The CBers of today are utilizing their radios in an intelligent manner befitting veterans who don't regard it as · They are better informed and more responsive than the faddists of a year or two ago. · Marketing pressures on manufacturers and retailers has resulted in pricing vagaries unheard of in 1975. . The designers and sets of today and tomorrow must build increased value into each unit to survive.

Our mail indicates that the CBers are much aware of what is happening, even when the reasons are not clearly discernible. And they are benefitting from it all.
