Patient is improving

Britain, the sick man of Europe, if not exactly chasing the nurses through the corridors is at least sitting up in bed and feeling much better, thank you.

Consider these symptoms of returning economic health:—A record balance of trade surplus in August of $650 million. This was the difference between what Britain sold to foreigners and what is bought from them.

—An inflation rate down to 14.4 per cent—still horrendous by U.S. standards but a vast improvement over the 30 per cent rate of two years ago.

—A bull market that has propelled shares of stock on the London exchange up by 270 per cent in 32 months.

—An official interest rate of 6 per cent, compared with 15 per cent a year ago, that is attracting foreign investors.

—A perky pound that is becoming so strong the government is debating whether to let it continue to rise in relation to foreign currencies. An appreciating pound would push up the price of British exports, but it would also cut the price of imports and help reduce inflation. The basic reason for Britain's optimistic prognosis is North Sea oil, which is now flowing in at the rate of 4800,000 barrels a day and will eventually go to nearly double that amount, promising to make Britain the only Western industrial nation completely self-sufficient in energy.

On the cautionary side, however, much of the country's newfound prosperity exists in the expectations of stock market speculators. Industrial production has been stagnant for a year, unemployment is at a postwar high and the trade unions, which agreed last year to curb wage demands, are becoming restive again.

But thanks to that North Sea oil, Britain has been given a new lease on life of perhaps 10 years' duration, enough time to put its economic house in order. As Prime Minister James Callaghan remarked the other day, rarely in history has a nation been given a second chance like this.

We trust the British will make the most of it.

Other editors say:

Concorde ruling

The decision by the United States to allow the Concorde supersonic airliner to continue flying there—provided it meets certain noise standards—is widely reported. It is only the Yorkshire Post, however, which comments upon the decision. The Post says that the ruling, which allows inland cities to ban the plane, seems like good news especially—as the paper puts it—when the patient is on his death-bed. It writes:

"But it is really a diplomatic sidestep. The catch is that any of the cities can ban the plane provided that the criteria they use do not discriminate against an unfairly compared with any other aircraft. The ruling itself gets the Carter Administration out of an embarrassing corner. It can now smile, shrug, and say it has done its best and so it has. Many xenophobes on this side of the Atlantic fail to realize that Washington is the Federal Capital of what is, in effect, 50 different countries, each with separate laws on such domestic matters as pollution and noise abatement."

Post goes on to consider what effect the latest news will have on the French who, the paper says, have invested immense prestige capital in Concorde. It writes:

"It has been trumpeted in France much more than here. Indeed, there are still plenty of Frenchmen who believe it to be a wholly French aircraft, so little has the British contribution been emphasized."

"So Paris is appalled at the outcome and is urgently looking round for a scapegoat. Mr. Carter has wisely declined to become any such animal. It is probably only a matter of time before the French start saying that but for the very noisy British engines, the plane would have been a commercial success."

Thought

Be reminded: God is love

A few days ago I saw this powerful prayer by David, and it encouraged and gave strength for that important day: "Let me hear in the morning Thy steadfast love, for in the morning I put my trust. Teach me the way I should go, for to Thee do I lift up my soul. In Thy righteousness bring me out of trouble!"

I'm reminded of a situation confronting the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in the early stages of the civil rights' movement. Dr. King wrote: "After a particularly strenuous day, I settled in bed at a late hour. My wife had already fallen asleep and I was about to doze off, when the telephone rang. An angry voice said, 'Listen, we've taken all we want from you. Before next week you'll be sorry you ever came to Montgomery.' I hung up, but I could not sleep."

Dr. King continued: "In this state of exhaustion, when my courage had almost gone, I was determined to take my problem to God. The words I spoke to God that midnight are still vivid in my memory. At that moment I experienced the presence of the divine as I had never before experienced him. It seemed as though I could hear the quiet assurance of an inner voice saying, 'Stand up for righteousness. God will be at your side forever.'"

What a comfort to be reminded of God's love and concern at a time when we need it. May we hear Him say "Fear not, for I have redeemed you; I have called you by name, and you are mine. When you pass through the waters I will be with you; and through the rivers, they shall not overwhelm you. When you walk through the fire you shall not be burned, and the flame shall not consume you. For I am the Lord your God, your Savior."—Isaiah 43:1-3.

Eurocommunism remains a threat

WASHINGTON — "Too many in the free world tend to forget that Communists are Communists—regardless of differences here and there... In present-day international politics—especially insofar as the promise of Eurocommunism goes—daymares are the shortest road to nightmares."

So says Jay Lovestone, called by AFL-CIO President George Meany "the most effective anti-Communist in America." Lovestone's encyclopedic knowledge of communism stems from firsthand experience: Nearly 30 years ago he was a founding member of both the Comintern (Communist International) and the Communist Party of the U.S.A.

Lovestone went to Russia in 1929 to discuss ideological differences with Joseph Stalin, was expelled from the Communist Party, and barely escaped with his life. Eurocommunists, they'll never criticize the Soviet system itself. They uniformly support the basic foreign policy of the Soviet Union. And the basic objective of Soviet foreign policy today remains world domination.

"The only thing that stands in their way is the United States, so the key to their strategy is to get rid of the American presence in Europe and get rid of our strongest ally there, Germany."

Lenin's dictum In attempting to achieve this through their Eurocommunist patriots, says Lovestone, the Soviets are following this dictum of Lenin: "If you are not able to adapt yourself, if you are not inclined to crawl in the mud on your belly, you are not a revolutionary but a chatter-box."

Lovestone is critical of the Carter administration for its "positive attitude" toward Eurocommunism, which he says contrasts badly with President Ford's more realistic stance. The administration has granted a visa to the head of Spain's Communist Party, Santiago Carrillo, who will be the first Western Communist leader allowed to enter the United States since the start of the Cold War.

To lecture at Yale Carrillo—who Lovestone says was responsible for the killing of thousands of Spaniards who didn't follow the Community party line—is scheduled to lecture at Yale University for a week in November. The respectability thus being accorded him will no doubt raise the Communists' stock in Spain and throughout Western Europe.

Carrillo's visit is possible because of a recent amendment by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., to the 1952 McCarran Act. This is the same McGovern lately seen teasing his Cuban friend Fidel Castro, and who the other day suggested the United States enter direct negotiations with North Korea and refuse to give South Korea extra arms when U.S. troops are pulled out.

The Carrillo visit should be conditioned on one thing: that he agrees to take George McGovern with him when he returns to Spain. Where could he find a better Minister of Eurocommunism Propaganda? • SCRIPPS LEAGUE NEWSPAPERS

The uninformed buyer

By Martha Angle and Robert Walters

Kass not only arranges for a full range of settlement services, at costs lower than prevailing market rates, for home buyers and sellers. He also repeatedly has gone into court to file lawsuits, several of them successful, seeking reform of real estate practices.

Typical suit A typical civil suit successfully challenged the tradition under which savings and loan associations, banks and other mortgage holders in the District of Columbia were not required to pay interest on the money deposited monthly by the home owners and earmarked for annual or semi-annual payment of property taxes, insurance and other fixed fees.

But interest payments on such escrow accounts are now required only in this city and five of the 50 states. That is only one aspect of a situation which recently led a spokesman for the Washington-based Housing Research Group to offer this discouraging analysis of current real estate industry practices:

HUD criticized "Consumers spend over $7 billion a year on real estate brokers, title companies, lawyers and other settlement agents. Yet HUD has largely failed to meet its legal responsibilities to protect millions of Americans from overcharges and anti-competitive practices."

Because of HUD's inaction in the almost two years since the law was passed hapless consumers continue to parade into title company offices where they sign a sheaf of legal documents they barely understand. When the settlement process is concluded, most people don't know whether they've bought a house or sold their soul.

Law weakened But only a year later, the politically powerful "settlement industry," realizing that its lucrative fees were endangered, pressured Congress to rewrite and drastically weaken the law.

Eliminated in the January 1976 revision, for example, were key provisions (requiring a) that both buyers and sellers be informed in advance of the settlement of all fees to be imposed, and b) disclosure of the price paid the last time the house changed hands.

"They passed a very strong law, then gutted it a year later. It was the fastest repeal since prohibition," says Washington attorney Benny L. Kass. "There's no effective consumer lobby dealing with housing, while the industry undoubtedly has one of the strongest lobbies in Washington."

A rare example A 41-year-old native of Chicago and a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School, Kass is a rare example of a lawyer specializing in the real estate field who actually cares about saving money for his clients.

Reflections Hal Turkington, Managing Editor

Although Manchester has yet to provide a governor for Connecticut, two Manchester men achieved that distinction in other parts of the country.

Frederick Walter Pitkin was elected governor of Colorado in 1879 and John A. Gurley was appointed the first territorial governor of Arizona in 1863 by Abraham Lincoln.

Pitkin was born in Manchester on Aug. 31, 1837, the son of Eli and Hannah Pitkin, in that section of town known as Manchester Green. He was chief executive of the state of Colorado from 1879 to 1883 and was the ninth governor of that state.

Gurley never did function in his appointed office. Death overtook him before he could reach the territory and assume his duties.

Gurley was born in the west part of the town Dec. 8, 1813, and was U.S. representative in Congress from Ohio at the 36th and 37th sessions. Early in life he had entered the ministry and served a pastorate at Methuen, Mass., from 1834 to 1837. He then went to Cincinnati and edited and published "The Star of the West." He died Aug. 16, 1863.

Col. Frank W. Cheney was a candidate for lieutenant governor in Connecticut on Nov. 8, 1862, but was defeated at election.

In 1892, Col. Cheney was elected the delegate from Manchester to the Constitutional Convention.

Nate Agostinelli, in 1970, announced he was a candidate for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket. He didn't get that nomination in the Meakill administration, but he was chosen to run for state comptroller and won.

Rate did campaign for governor in 1974 in the weeks and then withdrew in favor of Robert Steele. But the party chose him as Steele's running mate; the GOP lost that election to present Gov. Ella Grasso.

Radical changes suggested in state parole system

HARTFORD (UPI) — A panel that studied the Connecticut sentencing system asked today for radical changes in the way paroles are handed out.

The commission, which for nine months studied Connecticut's system of sentencing criminals, also recommended severely restricting bargaining between prosecutors and defense attorneys.

Thomas C. Clark of Farmington, a lawyer who was chairman of the commission, said the proposals demonstrate the commission's belief that sentencing must be done "up front where people can see what's happening."

The group was commissioned by the state Legislature to do the study. It will make its report to the Legislature's judiciary committee Oct. 17.

Mandatory minimum sentences, urged by some who testified before the commission, are not endorsed in the report which was made public today.

Instead, the commission recommends a formula for judges to use in deciding how long to put a criminal behind bars.

The formula takes into consideration the type of crime committed, the criminal's prior record and the length of sentences being served by others who committed similar crimes.

The formula would significantly change the state's present system, Clark said, because it sets guidelines for judges who have the primary sentencing responsibility. It also requires longer prison terms in certain circumstances, such as for repeat offenders.

The average prison time spent by Connecticut criminals is 52 percent of the time ordered by judges, Clark said. He added a sentence of five to 10 years means the criminal will actually serve about two years in prison.

Clark said the parole board holds the power to release criminals before their sentence is up and grants freedom to 60 percent of the prisoners who have served the statutory minimum amount of their sentence.

But, Clark said, the parole board is not an "up front" part of the decision-making process of an inmate's future.

The commission would still allow some reduction in sentence if a prisoner was on good behavior while in prison, but a prisoner could only earn up to 20 percent "good time" instead of the present 33 percent.

The commission recommended if a suspect pleads guilty in return for a promise of a lighter charge and sentence, he would not be able to withdraw the guilty plea if the judge decided the plea bargain was too lenient.

Clark said the recommendation could reduce the power of prosecutors. Part of the state's sentencing process now requires professionals to make a prediction of the chances every prisoner has of being rehabilitated. The commission said there is no way to make an accurate prediction and recommended an end to that requirement.

Comment session set

The Manchester Board of Directors will conduct a public comment session Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. in the directors' office in the Municipal Building.

The sessions permit town residents to talk with a member of the Board of Directors about any matter related to town government. The sessions are held the first Tuesday of each month from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and the third Thursday of each month from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Models show new sweaters by Roosevelt Mills.

Roosevelt Mills develops new knit

Joseph Carter, president of Roosevelt Mills of Rockville, announced recently the development of a new thermal knit process with high insulating qualities.

The Roosevelt Mills Insulnit process is a double layer knit. This construction causes air to be entrapped between the layers, establishing an insulative pocket that helps keep the wearer warmer than conventionally constructed sweaters. The process has been patented. The sweaters will be marketed under the registered name of "Carter-gan."

Results from an independent testing laboratory, Monsanto's Decatur Laboratories, shows the "Carter-gan" Insulnit to have up to 58 per cent more warmth capability than other acrylic fabrics of equal weight.

Manufactured by Acrilan, the sweaters are machine-washable and durable. A wide choice of styles for men and women have been designed by Roosevelt Mills.

Carter said he had been working on development of this process for many years, and to his knowledge, Roosevelt Mills is the only manufacturer in the United States making these sweaters. The plant at the present time, is making a limited quantity for distribution throughout the United States and its own outlet stores.

Pierce-Bernard

Diane Eunice Bernard of Manchester and Theodore B. Pierce Jr. of Coventry were married Oct. 1 at St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Manchester.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bernard of 170 Scott Dr. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Pierce of Cedar Swamp Rd., Coventry.

The Rev. Stephen Jacobson of St. Mary's Church, assisted by the Rev. Robert Cronin of St. Maurice Roman Catholic Church in Bolton, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with gladioli and carnations. Kenneth Woods of Manchester was organist. Frederick and Martha Salmone of Enfield were soloists.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of tulle with organza overlay appliqued with Alencon lace and designed with hi-neckline, lace-trimmed bodice and full organza sleeves with lace appliques. Her two-tiered, elbow-length veil was fastened to a lace band and trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses, miniature carnations, and statice.

Miss Connie Sherrock of Manchester was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Laurel Pierce of Coventry, the bridegroom's sister; Mrs. Christine Pierce of Coventry, the bridegroom's sister-in-law; Miss Teresa Landry of Bolton, the bridegroom's cousin; Miss Linda Hilsinki of Tolland, the bride's cousin; and Miss Nancy Renohl of Storrs.

David Pierce of Coventry was his brother's best man. Ushers were Richard Peacock of Rockville, the bride's cousin; Donald Bernard of Manchester, the bride's brother; Richard Pierce of Coventry and Arnie Palmer of New Haven, both cousins of the bridegroom; and Michael Capral of Willimantic.

A reception was held at the Garden Grove Caterers in Manchester, after which the couple left for Williamsburg Va., and Washington, D.C. They will reside in Mansfield.

45th wedding anniversary

Dr. and Mrs. Kingston S. Wilcox of Londonderry, N.H., formerly of Manchester and Andover, recently celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary at a surprise dinner-dance at Willie's Steak House in Manchester.

The party was hosted by their children, Charles E. Wilcox of Vermont, Mrs. Kenneth (Nancy) Battista of Bolton, Idaho, and Jean Sherrill (Mrs. Joseph Tenney) of Fullerton, Calif., and five grandchildren.

The couple was married on Aug. 13, 1932 in Ridgewood, N.Y.

Seventy friends and relatives from Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Florida and California attended.

Their son-in-law, Maj. Joseph R. Tenney of Fullerton, was master of ceremonies and the champagne toast was delivered by the best man, Ralph Pierpont of Waterbury.

Orchids, anthems and an orchid lei were flown for the party by several friends in Hawaii who were unable to attend. The cake was made by Mrs. Ernest Chapman of Keeney St. and decorated by Mary Levitt.

Music was provided by the Al Jarvis orchestra.

Dr. Wilcox is former chief of the State of Connecticut Public Health Laboratories in Hartford and New Haven and was active in the Hartford County 4-H Fair Association in the 1950's. Prior to his retirement in 1969, he served for nine years as director of the Public Health Laboratories of the State of Hawaii. He and his wife, Rachel, lived in Tillamook, Ore. for seven years before moving to New Hampshire a year ago. (Naylor photo)

Confusion about diet

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have no medical background. My concern is to keep my family healthy and happy, but when I read articles pertaining to health care, I am sometimes confused. Please help!

Is it true that taking zinc as a supplement tends to decrease the symptoms of arthritis? If arthritis is neglected will it lead to bone cancer?

With all the controversy over estrogen and uterine cancer, can vitamin E be taken, not as a substitute, but at least to alleviate menopausal symptoms?

Does a high protein diet add cholesterol to the body? I take gelatin capsules to solve the nail splitting but do not want to risk another problem.

DEAR READER — There is a lot of misinformation in print, particularly by those hawkling vitamins, minerals and food supplements for pay and quasi health magazines that depend upon revenues from advertisements in firms marketing such items. I am not surprised that you are confused.

Zinc in limited quantities is important to the body and a deficiency in zinc can be responsible for the loss of taste and smell. There are some inconclusive studies of its use in arthritis. The place to get proper guidance for the treatment of arthritis is from your doctor or a rheumatoid specialist. Wasting time and money on highly advertised so-called arthritis cures may delay or even decrease your opportunity for getting proper treatment.

Incidentally, we know that people feel better if they take almost anything and think it will help. This is true even with a serious disease. Hence, unscientific testimonials prove absolutely nothing.

The New England states involved, with the approximate money the government is seeking plus the amount withheld from each state (the second figure where given), are:

Connecticut, $44.2 million and $38.2 million withheld; Maine $2.2 million in each category; Massachusetts, $162.4 million and $141.5 million withheld; Rhode Island, $1.2 million and $20.0 million withheld.

The money was intended for day care, homemaker assistance, child protection, family planning and other social services for needy persons.

Grievance hearing granted to MCC faculty member

A grievance hearing in behalf of a Manchester Community College professor will be held Wednesday at the state offices of the Board of Trustees of Connecticut Community Colleges.

Robert C. Vater, associate professor of music at MCC, who had been coordinating the music program at the school since 1969, is protesting his removal from that position as of Aug. 1, 1977. He is also protesting the manner in which he was notified of the change in responsibility.

Vater said today he received a letter on Aug. 8, dated Aug. 1, from Dr. Ronald H. Denison, MCC president, which stated that Dr. Alden Baker, humanities and communications arts division director, was appointed coordinator of the music program at MCC.

The letter was addressed to Dr. Robert Fern, dean of faculty, Dr. Baker and four professors in the humanities division. They included the following: Robert Chirico, director of the English department and Charles Gigliotti and Vater of the music department.

Richardson, who was director of the MCC summer pops orchestra and Chirico has been named to the MCC jazz band.

The letter stated that "there is a need to clarify the responsibilities of the music program. To do so necessitates a reorganization of the music program's responsibilities, thinking and activities."

Baker was named coordinator of the program, with the four professors responsible in his stead. Denison's letter also stated that "no other person will have a formal or informal responsibility as a coordinator of the music program."

Vater began as coordinator of the music program when there was only one music course offered at the college. He helped develop several levels of the program, curricular and extra-curricular, including the chorus, jazz band, and Big Band and various instrumental and vocal ensembles.

MCC is now only one of two community colleges which offers a music major as part of the humanities program. Dr. Denison could not be reached for comment today as he was attending an all-day president's council meeting. However, he was interviewed by the college's newspaper, the "New College Press," which was released Friday regarding the music department decision.

According to that interview, Denison said there was "nothing new or different or bad" in rearranging the music department.

He told the student paper that "sometimes someone will get the credit for the co-ordinator when it is not his. When that someone is asked to coordinate a program, in actuality, there is not a program. It actually is that person's mind."

MCC does not have department heads. Denison said Vater was hired as a member of the teaching staff.

MHS-Wethersfield booters in deadlock

By LEN AUSTER
Herald Sportswriter

It was an evenly played CCIL soccer III Saturday morning between Manchester High and host Wethersfield High with the game ending in a 2-2 score. The deadlock didn't help the Indians in the league standings. Conard at 5-0 and 25 points leads with the locals next at 4-1 and 22 points. Hall is third at 4-1 and 20 points with Wethersfield, two-time defending champs, in fourth at 3-1 and 17 points.

Manchester's next encounter is a big one as Tuesday in West Hartford it takes on the league-leading Chiefs, who've yet to surrender their first goal. The Silk Towners applied early pressure but it was the host Eagles who scored first, on a 23-yard rocket by sophomore left wing Jeff Lombardo by sophomore left wing Jeff Lombardo at the 13:02 mark of the first half. Indian netminder Mark Copeland appeared partially screened on the blast up the middle through a maze of players.

Two goals in the second period by sophomore left wing Jeff Lombardo gave Manchester a 2-1 halftime lead. The first goal was as a result of a pass from inside Bill Fimmgan and the second, his sixth of the season, was a chip shot which went up and over goalie Bill Kolowski nesting into the right corner of the net. As much as Manchester had the advantage the first half, Wethersfield controlled play the second half. A Ray Reynolds header off a corner was just directed out by fullback Ed Kennison in the third quarter.

Catholic remains winless bowing to Windsor Locks

By LEN AUSTER

Neither incessant rain nor blackest night could stem the tide as East Catholic suffered its third consecutive football setback, 14-6 to Windsor Locks at rain-swept Mt. Nebo Saturday night. The footing, surprisingly, appeared pretty good however as in only a couple of places was it a quagmire. Each side fumbled the pigskin away three times with the Eagles coming up with one interception also. The visiting Raiders, 1-2, scored twice early in the first quarter and then held on. Quarterback Ron Pepin, on Locks' second possession on an option keeper, made the big play, a 43-yard scamper. He was able to get around the left corner as the defensive end closed too quickly and there was no support. Pepin a few plays later bulled his way three yards for the TD with the conversion failing. A few minutes later, tailback Guy Jubery exploiting the same left side dashed 19 yards for the score, hurdling the final would-be tackler. Bob Calusine's two-point conversion made it 14-0. East, meanwhile, wasn't able to generate anything of an offensive thrust. It didn't chalk up its first first down until the fourth quarter, that on a six-yard run by Brian Sirois. Late in the fourth period, with just under four minutes to play, the Eagles received a big break as John Anderson pounced on a fumble at the Raider 20. On the next play, Sirois, on a pitch, darted down the left side and with a good cut back covered the distance. The Raiders failed to move and with 2:05 had to punt. But punter Mark Gould's boot was mishandled by Jim Dakin with Raider Bill Farmer falling on it ending any remaining East hopes.

Tribe encouraged despite 38-14 loss

By LEN AUSTER

You have to look at the score, a 38-14 victory for East Hartford High, but Manchester High football followers had to be encouraged by Saturday afternoon's performance in East Hartford.

The Hornets in 5-8, 155-pound senior quarterback Jim Ogle and talented receiver 6-2, 195-pound Grabowski had just too much firepower. But the high schoolers offered Manchester Coach Jack Holik, much happier than after the opening game performance. "The kids can be proud of themselves. I thought we had them at the start of the second half."

East Hartford, 2-0, held a 26-8 halftime edge with two touchdowns set up by blocked punts and a third by a fumble recovery. Grabowski had one of the blocks and the recovery. Manchester took the second half kickoff and in nine plays marched 62 yards. Fullback Mike Linsieberger ate up 28 yards with quarterback Gary Marineau on a rollout to the left corner with end Ray Tilden for a one-yard TD aerial. The conversion failed.

The Hornets on the next possession had one first down but a holding penalty made it third-and-22 from their own 44. But on a double reverse, Ogle handed off to halfback Scott Chadwick on a five-yard run. Jeff Scanlon on a three-yard burst, Mike Marinez on a one-yard plunge and a 34-yard triple reverse pass play from Ogle to Grabowski.

Ogle completed 12 of 17 passes for 272 yards with Grabowski, an honorable All-American selection as a junior, latching onto nine for 202 yards and two TDs. The latter also blocked three punts to his credit. Manchester's first half score, capping a 63-yard drive on which Marineau completed eight passes, was on a 13-yard aerial from Marineau to halfback Kearney who made a juggling catch of the throw over the middle in the end zone. Tilden gathered in a two-point conversion loss from Marineau.

It should be interesting in the weeks ahead to see what the new owners come up with in strengthening the season corps.

Notes off the cuff

It looks like another long season for both East Catholic High and Manchester High football teams. The Eagles are winless in three starts while the Indians have been scalped twice... Bill Newell, 59, a member of the Hartford Courant sports staff for 38 years, the last four as sports editor, died yesterday after a short illness. National League showed its "superiority" again with six pitchers winning 20 or more games this season compared to three in the American League. Barber's PGA win not shared by wife NAPA, Calif. (UPI) — Miller Barber had only one disappointment in Napa this past weekend. That came on Sunday afternoon, about 5 p.m. local time, when he called his wife at home in Texas and she wasn't in. The reason he wanted to tell her about 5 p.m. local time, when he called his wife at home in Texas and she wasn't in.

Barber was plainly disappointed when he hung up the phone. He had just won a tournament in three years and this was a big moment for him. How he won was worth telling. Going into the final round at Silverado's North course, Barber was six strokes behind front-running George Archer, who had tied for course record in the third round with a 63 and seemingly was on top of his game. "I knew I had to shoot a good round and I knew I had to back up a little for me to catch him," said Barber, "and that's what happened."

He shot a 7-under 65 while Archer had a 73 — and when it was over the man they call Mr. X had a 72-hole score of 16-under-par 272 and a two-shot victory. As things turned out, Archer had all he could do to save second place from young Howard Twitty, who set a course record 62 in the final round. Twitty had a card that read 30-32 and won $14,200. Archer finished at 14-under 274 and won $2,800 while Twitty was at 275.

Red Sox and Orioles second best, reflect on season after washout

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox and Baltimore Orioles, who knocked each other out of the American League East race, have split their difference and gone home all wet.

Rain washed out the final game of the season between the two teams and left them tied for second place, 1 1/2 games behind the New York Yankees. The Red Sox and Orioles will split second and third place money, which should amount to about $1,500 on the World Series revenues are divided up.

"I'm really disappointed about finishing second but I would have liked to play today to break the tie," said Boston relief ace Bill Campbell. "I would have liked to finish first and I'll think all winter about the eight games we lost this year that I thought we should have won," said Weaver, who has been given a new three-year contract.

Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver, whose Orioles have finished in the first division in each of his nine full seasons, said the Orioles "deserve a gold star for finishing second." "Sure, I would have liked to finish first and I'll think all winter about the eight games we lost this year that I thought we should have won," said Weaver, who has been given a new three-year contract.

But I don't regret the forfeit we lost at Toronto on Sept. 15, when Weaver pulled his team from the field because a tarpaulin was not removed from an open bullpen. That's one loss I won't regret."

There were no regrets, either, from 40-year-old Brooks Robinson as he pulled off his grey uniform with orange and black trim for the final time. "There's really nothing emotional about playing for the last time because I retired a month ago and I haven't changed much at all this year," said the Hall-of-Fame bound third baseman. He plans to go into business in the Baltimore area.

"I played in so many games that when you don't play, that's it. My fun in this game always came from playing. I never wanted to manage or coach," he said. The 38-year-old Baltimore manager has retired, Boston Captain Carl Yastrzemski plans to keep playing. "The talent on this club has been young," said the 38-year-old manager before leaving for his Boca Raton, Fla., home. "I can still play this game."

Yastrzemski, who ended the season with a .296 batting average, 28 homers and 102 runs batted in, is 276 hits short of 3,000 career hits. Jim Rice, who batted in front of Yastrzemski, gave the veteran left-fielder plenty of run scoring opportunities by garnering 206 hits on the season. Rice, who led the club regulars with a .320 batting average and 114 RBIs, won the American League home run title with 39.

The Baltimore leader was Ken Singleton, like Rice a Most Valuable Player candidate. The Orioles' right-fielder finished with a .327 batting average, 24 homers and 99 runs batted in. Rookie Eddie Murray also had an eye-opening year, batting .283 with 27 homers and 88 runs batted in. Murray and Singleton will return next year but outfielder Elliott Maddox and pitchers Dick Drago and Ross Grimsley may not return. The three became free agents today.

The lone free agent on the Boston squad is Rick Miller, who has said he will return to the Sox unless he is assured of a starting outfield position. A number of other Boston players also expected they were making a final appearance Sunday in a Red Sox uniform. Starting pitchers Rick Wise, Bill Lee and Ferguson Jenkins all had mid-season fallouts with Boston Manager Don Zimmer. Jenkins last week accused Zimmer of mismanaging the mound corps, a complaint echoed by Lee and Wise throughout the year.

"The Orioles staff had a 3.74 earned run average to Boston's 4.11 mark. But the Red Sox fashioned their 97-65 season's record with a .281 batting average that included a major league high, 213 homers, while the Orioles hit .261 with 148 home runs. Rick Dempsey, Baltimore's reserve catcher who danced and cavorted in the rain Sunday to delight the Fenway Park fans, summed up the two teams' seasons. "The Yankees won the pennant but they were very businesslike. They all were coming off big years and making a lot of money. They were expected to win. But they couldn't have had as much fun as our teams did," he said. But today the Red Sox and Orioles are on vacation while the Yankees are preparing for the Kansas City Royals' start of the American League playoffs.

Dr. Franz Behler, Assistant Director: The Audi 5000 is the largest German car for the money. Yet for all its size, it is also surprisingly light. At about 3,500 lbs, we feel there is no other car with our combination of form, handling, acceleration, and comfort.

Cougar booters suffer 2-0 loss

By DAVE ROBACK
Correspondent

On paper and on the field both teams were almost equal except for one detail, a forward named Herman Mello. Mello scored two goals as Rhode Island Jr. College shutout Manchester Community College 2-0, in soccer action Saturday in Warwick, R.I.

MCC now 3-2 over-all, and 2-2 in the NCAA, will face Eastern Connecticut State College's sub-varsity Wednesday at Conard Field. The Knights first score came 10:51 into the second half with a tripping violation on MCC's Gary DeGiacomo setting up the penalty kick.

Mello's first attempt failed as the ball caromed sharply downward after hitting the crossbar but Cougar goalie Mike Gerber was called on a movement violation with Mello receiving another chance. The second attempt was good as it eluded a leaping Gerber and slammed into the right side of the goal. Moments later the Cougars couldn't capitalize on a scoring opportunity when Sal Garcia's shot bounced in front of Knights' goalkeeper Bud McLachlan and deflected off his chest. A charging Roberto Cicero barged into McLachlan jarring the ball loose, but out-of-bounds.

The insurance goal came with 10 minutes left as Rhode Island's Al Benites' chip sailed toward the left-hand side of the goal. Gerber, in an attempt to punch the ball out, only hit a piece of it and the awaiting Mello imprinted the score.

Rhode Island, 4-0, edged MCC in the shot department, 24-23, with both goalkeepers accounting for 13 saves.

Ferdinand Pich, Project Director: I designed racing cars before coming to Audi. But the Audi 5000 was a bigger challenge. A racing car can be designed to last for a few races only. That is its job. A passenger car has to do much more. Besides performing well, it must last a very long time. I knew we had assembled remarkable engineering talent. But they surprised even me.

Werner Schaefer, a high-performance car doesn't Interior Design: have to have an interior like the cockpit of a fighter plane. Super year for Pirates but...

NEW YORK (UPI) — That "other" National League team — the Pittsburgh Pirates — has enjoyed a superb year in 1977 and finished in high style Sunday with a 5-1, 3-2 double-header sweep of the Chicago Cubs.

The Pirates ended their season with a 96-66 record — their best mark since 1971 when they finished 97-65 and went on to win the World Series.

Though Pittsburgh finished 5 1/2 games behind the Phillies who completed the best record in the National League — Manager Chuck Tanner offers no excuses.

"We have to tip our hats to Philadelphia," Tanner said. "They played 800 baseball in September and we only played 700. That's good, but not good enough."

In Sunday's opener, rookie Mike Easter drove in three runs with a pair of singles and his first major-league homer. Tim Jones, making his first major-league start, scattered four hits over seven innings.

In the second game, Easter led off the ninth in three runs with a double and scored on Ed O'H's single to center. Rookie right-hander Ed Whitson yielded four runs in the first six innings but was not involved in the decision.

Elsewhere in the National League, Philadelphia topped Montreal, 5-3, Atlanta defeated Cincinnati, 6-3, New York beat St. Louis, 6-4, San Diego downed San Francisco, 3-1, and Houston took Los Angeles, 6-3. Phillies 5, Expos 3. Jay Johnstone drove in two runs with a sacrifice fly and a home run to lead the National League East champion Phillies to their 101st victory. Larry Christenson stopped the Expos with three hits through seven innings to pick up his 19th win. Braves 6, Reds 3.

The Atlanta Braves capitalized on four Cincinnati errors and Mickey Miller and Dave Campbell to their victory. Mike Jorgensen hit two homers for the A's, who twice cut the Texas lead to one run. Mariners 3, White Sox 2. Dan Meyer singled in two runs and Kevin Pasley drove in one with a single for the Mariners. Eric Soderholm hit his 25th homer leading off the fifth inning — the first hit off winner Glenn Abbot. Blue Jays 2-4, Indians 1-5. Gary Woods scored on Larry Anderson's wild pitch in the 11th providing the Blue Jays with the win. Griffey, Cin 585; Rose, Cin 655; 204; 311. Hendrick, SD 554; 171; 309. Kilmer leads 'Skins to

NEW YORK (UPI) — Both the Washington Redskins and St. Louis Cardinals were considered NFC playoff contenders in the preseason forecasts, but stumbled all over themselves in opening-day losses.

St. Louis recovered with a 16-13 victory over Chicago last week, making the Cards' job favorites in Sunday's game at Washington, since the Redskins had shown their age again last week in a narrow triumph over Atlanta.

But Billy Kilmer, suddenly looking youthful, helped revive Washington Sunday with three touchdown passes in a surprising 24-14 victory over St. Louis.

"We needed a good game," said fullback John Higgins, who caught a 33-yard TD pass to seal the victory. "We couldn't afford to lay another egg." Kilmer completed 12-of-21 passes for 206 yards, including scoring passes of 12 yards to Frank Grant, 27 yards to Jean Fugett and 53 yards to Riggins.

Mark Moseley added a 41-yard field goal.

St. Louis hampered all game by poor field position, scored in the fourth period on Jim Hart's 7-yard TD pass to J. V. Cain, which cut Washington's lead to 14-7 and a 1-yard plunge by Wayne Morris with just 28 seconds remaining.

Two other St. Louis fourth-quarter drives were stopped by interceptions of Hart passes by cornerback Joe Lavender and defensive end Ron McDole.

"We haven't put it together yet," Cardinals Coach Dan Coryell said. "Kansas City hosts Oakland tonight.

Joe Gato, Patriots 27.

Fat Leahy, who earlier missed a key extra point attempt and had a field goal blocked, kicked a 32-yard field goal with 23 seconds remaining to give the Jets' new Coach Walt Michaels his first victory.

Lions 17, Eagles 13.

Greg Landry passed three yards to running back Dexter Busby for a touchdown with 2:47 left in the third quarter to rally the Cardinals.

NFL

Detroit from a 13-10 deficit. The Eagles rallied behind Ron Jaworski, who completed 13-of-24 passes for 207 yards and two TDs.

Steelers 28, Browns 14.

Terry Bradshaw drilled three TD passes, two to Lynn Swann, and plunked for a fourth score to spark a 14-0 victory over the Colts.

Bills' QB Joe Ferguson was 19-of-30 for 234 yards and two TDs.

Saints 42, Bears 24.

Archie Manning ran and passed 53 yards to running back Chuck Muncie for another score in the third period to lead New Orleans to its first victory. He dashed 11 yards through the middle for his third score of the game in the third period.

Cowboys 23, Buccaneers 7.

A 79-yard interception return for a touchdown by Thomas Henderson robbed Tampa Bay of early momentum and sent the Buccaneers to their 17th loss in as many games over two seasons.

Vikings 19, Packers 7.

Fran Tarkenton passed for his 311th career touchdown, a 16-yard toss to Sammy White in the first quarter, and Chuck Foreman and Sammy Johnson plunged for two more scores to give Minnesota Coach Bud Grant his 100th NFL career victory.

Chargers 24, Bengals 3.

James Harris fired a pair of first-half touchdowns and a blocked Tom Winton punt into a 17-point, final quarter. Los Angeles may have lost leading receiver Tom Fears for the year with torn ligaments in his right knee.

Jim Turner's 36-yard field goal later in the period gave Denver the lead for good.

Dolphins 27, Oilers 7.

The Bob Griese to Driel Harris passing combination scored on a 6-yard toss and set up short TD runs by Norm Bilych and Benny Malone to stake Miami to a 21-0 first-quarter lead. The Dolphins added a touchdown with 21 seconds left when running back Leroy Harris scored from two yards out to cap a 48-yard drive.

Rams 34, 49ers 14.

Los Angeles converted two intercepted passes thrown by Jim Plunkett and a blocked Tom Winton punt into a 17-point, final quarter. Los Angeles may have lost leading receiver Tom Fears for the year with torn ligaments in his right knee.

Yale winning streak ends; Nadzak in 'state of shock'

HARTFORD (UPI) — Yale University football coach Carm Cozza said he is not cheered today by the knowledge he knew ahead of time what might happen.

And University of Connecticut coach Walt Nadzak is suffering today from shell shock after watching what happened to his team in Saturday's gridiron battle.

A week before the Elis took on Miami of Ohio, Cozza said if his team made mistakes, they would lose the game. Three second-half turnovers proved his prophetic as the Redskins came from behind Saturday to win 28-14.

Cozza, a Miami of Ohio graduate, said after the game: "This was a very tough game for me. You went to win badly but you didn't want the other team to lose. Miami was darn good, but we could play with them."

In other action Saturday: — Quarterback John Welch hit tight end John Papis with a 12-yard scoring strike over the middle to give Springfield, Mass., a 24-0 come from behind win over Southern Connecticut in a game played in New Haven.

Spoke Coyne's two touchdowns plunged the yard out and the passing and running of John Papa gave the visiting Cardinals a 21-7 win over Colby College.

— Trinity College cornerback Tom McGowan picked off a pass on his 1-yard line and ran it for a touchdown in the third quarter to lead his team to a 14-7 victory over

Eagles and Chargers cop midget contests

The Eagles and Chargers came up winners Friday night in Manchester Midget Football League play at Mt. Nebo.

The Eagles, in their triumph over the Giants scored in the first period, on an 80-yard drive. Runs by Chris Young, Mark Allen, Ted Lauson, and Tracy Strickland highlighted the drive with touchdowns.

The Chargers and Patriots battled through three scoreless quarters until the last four minutes of the contest. QB Sean Fogarty teamed with Sean Debbelino for a 70-yard TD strike with Fogarty, scoring on a 70-yard interception return by Kevin Droppy, injured during the game.

Second score, by Michael Savidakis, Tom Kennison, Mark Duchesneau, Terrence Lauson, and Irvin Hainsey were best for the Chargers and Jim Kibbie, Tom Mikoleit, Percy Almore, and Ned Wells for the Patriots.

Jaycees sponsoring fall foliage tour

The Manchester Jaycees is sponsoring a fall foliage trip for elderly residents Sunday, Oct. 9.

Residents of local convalescent homes will be picked up in buses provided by Eastern Bus Lines between 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m.

The residents will then be driven through several surrounding towns to view the foliage. The trip is expected to last about two hours.

About 130 elderly persons are expected to participate.

Auxiliary honors Gold Star mothers

Several Gold Star mothers were honored recently by the Anderson-Shea Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) at a buffet at the post home.

Those honored were Mrs. Cora Blow, Mrs. Helene Erickson, Mrs. Lucienne Rhuda and Mrs. Annela Korngiebel.

Other guests were Tom Hovey, post commander; Mrs. Lorraine Dupre, district president; Mrs. Theresa Varney, state senior vice president; Mrs. Helen Holmes, past deputy president of Massachusetts; Mrs. Esther Alberti, chaplain; and Mrs. Helen Hovey, president.

Mrs. Florence Streeter, past state president, was chairwoman of the event.

Haunted house plans set

The former Treasure City site at the Manchester Parkade is going to be turned into a Halloween haunted house for local children and adults by the Manchester Jaycees.

The haunted house is scheduled to be open Oct. 28 from 6 to 9 p.m. and Oct. 29 and 30 from 8 to 9 p.m. Tickets will go on sale in Manchester stores the weekend before the event.

Members of the Jaycees will create scary scenes and experiences in the haunted house, which will "scare the hell out of you," Rick Kenny, project chairman, said.

According to Kenny, the club expects more than 5,000 adults and children to pass through the haunted house during the three-day period.

Debris blamed for fire

Apparent cause of a fire in a three-story, frame house at 28-30 Connecticut Blvd. was rags and painting materials, said Fire Marshal John Armstrong Sunday shortly after the fire.

Joseph Schiavone of 120 Governor St., East Hartford told the marshal he owns the building and had been working in it over the weekend. There are three apartments in it, one on each floor.

His tenants had recently moved out of the first and second floors, he said.

He and a friend had been working in the dining room of the second floor when they stopped so Schiavone could take the friend home.

Schiavone was returning to the house when he saw smoke. He called in the fire at 2:37 p.m. Sunday.

John Rival, deputy chief in charge at the scene, said it was a "code red" working fire. His men put a quick stop to the blaze in the second floor.

However, smoke had gotten into the occupied third floor causing extensive damage. Water had poured into the first floor also causing damage.

Schiavone had rushed to the third floor when he spotted the smoke to alert two young women living there. They are Terry Cuchawski and Tarenne Brown. They did not have insurance, Armstrong said.

The young women spent the night at Miss Brown's mother's home in Ellington, he said. Their apartment was not livable.

The marshal is studying the scene today to make sure of the cause.

Local midgets are winners

By SHEILA TULLER

Herald correspondent

All four East Hartford's midget football teams won their games Sunday.

The Cardinals crushed the Enfield Americans 54-0 before a home team crowd at McAniff Park. The A team running back Bob Skrabut set the tone when Brian Barrett returned the kickoff 72 yards to score.

Also scoring were Scott Dineen, Paul Zalkarite, Courtney Lounny, Dave Cashman, Greg Micociti and Tom Sylvester. Sylvester had two touchdowns.

Krabut passed to Ray Schultz for points after. Mark Karpij and Mark LeBrec also scored points after.

Rene Kleef and Mark McCoy blocked punts. Kleef later teamed with Bob Hetta, Doug Hallquist and Mike Bond to block a third Enfield punt.

Ted Maish and Wendell Williams made interceptions. Scott Dickman batted down an Enfield pass.

Coach Ray Micociti commended the defensive play of Dave Actus and Mike Visintainer.

The Vikings edged the Raiders 14-12 behind the power running of Dave Brown, and the tenacious Viking defense.

The Raiders scored midway through the first quarter on a four-yard pass 11 plays after recovering a Viking fumble. Two penalties aided the Raider drive.

The Vikings then drove to the Raider 7-yard line behind Tony Lewis and Joe Del Campo. The B team took over and scored two plays later on a five-yard run by Brown. Bill Ross scored the extra points to put his team ahead 8-6.

With less than five minutes in the half, Brown brought the crowd to its feet with a 24-yard TD.

Penalties nullified two Raider scores in the second half.

Tom Malitsky, Gary Daniewicz and Del Campo played fine defense. The fine B team defense was led by Dave Brown, Matt Mazzoli, Mike Dufresne and Bob Logan who intercepted a pass.

Elks in Vernon

The Elks, who traveled to Vernon, soundly beat the Pioneers 4-0.

Again the first play of the game set the tone when Brian Barrett scampered 40 yards with the ball. A few minutes later, Scott Siros ran the ball in for the first touchdown of the game. Emilio Gilberto, scored the extra points.

A 27-yard pass from Siros to Ken Puchalsky added six more points.

Not to be outdone, the B team started their play with a 47-yard pass from Gary Rodegher to Scott Cassarino for a touchdown. Chris Darby got the extra points.

The defense added points to the lopsided score when Wayne Polansky and Tom Pariente tackled a Pioneer in his end zone for a safety.

The scoring continued in the second half when Wayne Polansky and Tom Pariente tackled a Pioneer in his end zone for a safety.

"Everyone contributed," said Coach Bob Blake after the game.

Blake cited Steve Ciccarello, John Geres, John Rodegher and Brian Barrett.

Barrett kept up his record of an interception a game when he grabbed a Pioneer pass as Vernon was beginning a drive.

Blake also commended B team players Scott Anderson and Keith Reale for blocking.

Close for Mustangs

Frank Driscoll's Mustangs had a 22-18 win over the Jets Sunday in Windsor Locks.

Tony Clark ran 58 yards for their TD of the game. Fitz Davis made the extra points. Davis scored later in the game with an eight-yard end sweep. And then he got the points after.

Larry Mirabile ran three yards for a B team score. Driscoll called Matt Rymkiewicz, Henry Gregoire and Charley Taylor for their defensive play.

Defensive standouts were Jack Sexton, Pete Frasca and Bill Driscoll.

On the B team, Chris Sexton, Steve Grande, Frank Gregoire and Vish Naraine were fine runners Sunday, he said. Blockers Mike Nargi and John Arnon got his approval.

Driscoll said his entire defensive unit led by Kevin McFarlane, who intercepted a pass, gave a total effort. He was pleased with the A team. They completely dominated the second half of the game after a shaky first half.

The B team coaches Ray Varhue and Mike Marino were also pleased despite some mistakes.

School Board to meet

The Board of Education will meet tonight at Penney High School's amphitheater.

The executive session begins at 7:30. The public session begins at 8.

Agenda items include reports on enrollment, theft and damage in the fourth quarter of the last school year, and the proposed trip to Disneyworld by the East Hartford High School Band.

Enrollment figures continue their downward trend. Total enrollment as of Sept. 18 was 9,712. This is 449 less than the enrollment of 10,161 on the same date last year.

The smallest class in the system is for kindergartners with 565. The largest is the ninth grade with 910.

The most populous grade school is the O'Brien Middle School with 614. The least populous is Willowbrook with 72.

Damage costs

The total damage reported in all 22 town schools in the last quarter of the last school year was $7,675. Thefts totaled $146.

Windows were the chief targets of vandals. Vandals broke a total of 4409 of them at the Siye School alone. EHS suffered a total of $3,959 in vandalism attacks in the quarter.

Band trip

The EHS Band has proposed a trip to Disneyworld in Florida in order to perform there. They would fly or bus down during the February school vacation. Cost would be $250 paid by each student.

East Hartford police report

Two black men armed with handguns held up the Maxwell Drug Store at 1042 Main St. Saturday at 7:35 p.m. and made off with an undetermined amount of cash, police said.

They walked in the front door, told the patrons to lie on the floor, and then confronted the young woman running the front cash register. She emptied it for them. They went to the rear of the store and found the manager.

One struck the manager on the head with a handgun, police said. He emptied the cash register at the store's rear and also opened the store's safe for the men, police said.

The robbers ordered everyone down on the floor and warned them not to lift their heads for several minutes. The patrons and store workers told police they did just that and did not see if the robbers made off in a car.

Police are still investigating.

Conard downs Penney

By DICK PARADIS

Conard High School's football team beat the Penney High School Knights 21-16 Saturday in West Hartford.

Everything was going according to plan for the Knights. They even won the coin toss at the game's start.

Penney racked up a total offense of 277 yards against Conard's 197. Penney had 12 first downs compared to Conard's seven. Penney even held Conard to a minus two yards in the fourth quarter.

Everything went right. Everything but the score.

Penney couldn't get untracked in the first half. They quickly fell behind. Score at the half was 14-0.

The second half was all Penney.

Tony DeAngelis grabbed himself 120 yards total, most in the second half. It was his game high.

Penney quarterback Gary Courtney just wouldn't quit.

The two combined to bring the score to 21-16 with more than two minutes to play in the game.

After the last kickoff, Penney pounced on a fumble. Penney took the ball to the Conard 25-yard line. But then Penney fumbled. The game was over.

Penney coaches and players and spectators grumbled over four calls by the refs. The calls could have meant the difference in the game. They marred the game.

Hose Co. 3 wins thriller, 12-9

Hose Co. 3's flag football team edged Mad Murphy's 12-9 in a thriller Sunday morning before a large crowd.

Bruce Tracy scored the first TD for Hose. Roger Patria scored the team's second and winning TD.

Ed Sadowsky and Rich Letta both made pass interceptions. Lettao grabbed a total of six flags. Rick Montovani led the fine Hose defense.

Murphy's Pete Anderson grabbed nine flags, six in rushes. One Anderson rush brought them a safety.

Kevin Flanagan passed to Gary Agnew with 15 minutes left in the game to score Murphy's only TD. Flanagan got the extra point.

Bryan White, Dan Jones and Joe Washington all had interceptions for Murphy's.

Eyeballers win

The Eyeball Opticians beat Summit 49-8 Sunday.

Sam Forcucci threw six TD passes. Paul Steiner caught four of them. Brian Mitchell had seven flags and two interceptions, one for a 35-yard TD runback.

Kevin Callahan had seven flags and an interception.

Maple wins

Maple Cafe beat Woodland Auto 66-12.

Pete Bezzini completed 18 of 26 passes, four for TDs. Joe Gietek caught passes for two TDs.

Arden Passaro and Tom Territo had a TD each. On defense, Steve Morrison made two interceptions. Joe Wilcox made one, and Gary Barrett rushed to grab six flags.

No results were available on the Athletic Attic vs. Frank's Willow Inn game.

Next Sunday morning at 10:30 Murphy's meets Eyeball and Hose meets Summit at Martin Park. Athletic Attic hosts Maple Grill and Frank's plays Woodland at McAniff Park.

Langford students travel

Langford School's fourth and fifth graders attended the Eastern States Exposition on Connecticut Day in Springfield, Mass. They viewed farm exhibits, ox pulling, dog training, and bands performing.

The second grade went Sept. 15 for their first field trip of the year. They watched children cook omelets and ate them. They visited the petting zoo where they pet and fed animals. Parents helped teachers supervise.

Jet Banking brings back the day that made borrowing simpler and faster.

LOAN DAY TWO

Until last spring, getting a loan was dragged out routine of filling out applications and then waiting anxiously for the bank to answer.

That's why CBT introduced Loan Day. It was just what people were waiting for: a fast and simple way to apply for a loan. In a very short period, over 10,000 people used our easy Jet Banking ways to apply for loans at CBT.

So if you need a loan this fall we're making it faster and simpler again. With Loan Day Two.

It's Saturday.

Most CBT offices will be open for loan applications on Saturday mornings. From 9AM to Noon, until November 5.

It's everyday.

If weekdays are more convenient for you, Loan Day Two also brings you a lot of ways to make applying for a loan simple, fast and easy. For example:

It's a same day loan.

Apply for your loan any weekday before noon and in most cases, we'll have an answer for you by 3 o'clock that same afternoon.

It's a phone loan.

Maybe you just can't get to the bank at all. So just pick up your phone and dial 1-800-842-2060 (toll free) weekdays 9AM-9PM, Saturdays 9AM-1PM. That'll put you in touch with someone who will be happy to take your loan application over the phone. And call you back with an answer the next business day.

It's a take home loan.

Who said loan applications have to be filled out in the bank? Loan Day Two lets you take an application home, fill it out at your leisure and mail it back to us or drop it off at the CBT branch most convenient to you.

It's hard-to-beat rates.

CBT's loan rates are competitive with most other banks. And it costs you nothing extra for the Jet Banking service you only get at CBT.

It's simple ways to repay.

With CBT's Jet Banking, paying back your loan is simple too. If you want, we'll remember to make your payments for you. If you pay in person, our Jet Deposit Box eliminates standing in line. Or, use Barney, CBT's Alltime Jet Banker, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

We want to give you your next loan

Democrats hold Carnival '77

Lt. Gov. Robert Killian, right, chats with East Hartford's Mayor Richard Blackstone and his wife, Terry, at the Democratic Town Committee's Carnival '77 Friday night. The party's fundraiser drew the party faithful to the Armory in Manchester. Spirits were high with the party's prospects in the Nov. 8 town elections. Blackstone is the party's candidate for a fifth consecutive term as the town's mayor. (Herald photo by Dunn)
