By SUSAN VAUGHN

Federal and local officials toured W. Middle Tpke. Friday to work out a compromise on the parking ban on the street which was protested by residents.

A request sent in June by Police Chief Robert D. Lannan, the town's traffic authority, for a partial ban on parking on the street was rejected by the Federal Highway Administration.

Federal officials, led by Dan Altobelli, district administrator of the Federal Highway Administration, was agreeable to working out a compromise plan after urging by Lannan, U.S. Rep. William Cotter (D-First District), State Rep. Ted Cummings (D-12th Assembly District) and Manchester Mayor Matthew Moriarty.

Federal, state and local officials will try to work out a monitored traffic study for six months to a year which would allow parking at certain periods of the day and week.

The monitored system would include a continued survey of traffic problems and accidents that arise on the street.

The main concern of the federal officials is the traffic flow, which was one of the main purposes of the reconstruction of the road under the federal Urban Systems Project.

Original plans for the project showed the "no parking" restrictions on both sides of the four-lane street, however, when the construction was completed in June, residents protested the ban, citing inconvenience, difficulty in exiting driveways and concerns for safety.

Lannan agreed Friday that some restrictions will have to remain in view of the heavy traffic on the road at certain times of the day on weekdays and Saturdays.

Lannan will meet early next week with federal and state officials to work out the details of the plan.

In the meantime, the local police are not enforcing the "no parking" signs on the street from the northwest exit of the Manchester Parkade to the intersection of New State Rd.

Industrial park trial

Plaintiffs rest; Weiss testifies

By GREG PEARSON

Herald reporter The plaintiffs in the trial affecting Manchester's proposed industrial park rested their case Friday afternoon, and the defense attorneys called their first witness, Town Manager Robert Weiss.

Weiss talked about events that led to Penney coming to Manchester. He will continue testifying when the trial begins again at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

The plaintiffs' final witness Friday testified that traffic generated by Manchester's proposed industrial park would have an impact on air quality. His statement marked the first direct link made between the park and air quality during the trial.

Defense attorneys questioned the witness on the finding and the research that led to the conclusion.

The witness, Dr. Thomas Sharpless, associate professor of chemistry at the University of Hartford, was called to the stand Friday by Atty. Anthony Pagano, who represents the plaintiffs.

The plaintiffs say that Edward Stockton, state commerce commissioner, did not weigh properly the environmental effects of the proposed J.C. Penney Co. catalog distribution center. The Penney facility would be the major one in the planned industrial park.

Pagano asked Sharpless what the impact of the park would be on air quality. The question drew objections from defense attorneys, but Superior Court Judge T. Clark Hull overruled the objections.

"My opinion is there would be a significant impact," Sharpless said. "There would be an increase in traffic at the site."

He said that he was reasonably certain that most trips to the industrial park would be ones that otherwise would not be made. Thus, they would result in an increase in photo-oxidants, an element in air pollution.

Atty. Bernard McGovern, assistant attorney general who represents the Department of Commerce, asked Sharpless if he knew the amount of increase in photooxidants that would be created. Sharpless said that he did not.

PUCA staff suggests NU get part of hike

HARTFORD (UPI) — A Public Utilities Control Authority staff report suggests Northeast Utilities

$90 million rate hike request be slashed from $18 million to $36 million, State Consumer Counsel David Silverstone said Friday.

The staff recommendations are contained in an agenda for PUCA meetings next week that will begin to decide the fate of the largest rate hike in Connecticut history.

A PUCA spokesman emphasized the draft was just that and had not been examined by the three commissioners who will decide the case, and it cannot be assumed they will find the recommendations either reasonable or unreasonable.

However, the draft is the first indication of any attitudes toward the increase by the PUCA.

Consumer groups have vigorously fought approval of any rate hike.

Northeast officials have said unless the full $90 million increase is given to its subsidiaries — Connecticut Light & Power Co. and Hartford Electric Light Co. — the giant utility will face severe financial problems.

The draft recommends rates of return of 9.35 per cent for HELCO and 9.05 per cent for CL&P as contrasted with the company's request of 10.19 per cent for HELCO and 10.03 per cent for CL&P. Silverstone said. A PUCA spokesman said HELCO is now collecting 9.22 per cent and CL&P is getting 8.38 per cent.

"I did some quick analysis and that amounts to at least $18 million, but it could be as high as $36 million," said Silverstone. He said that refers to the amount recommended by the staff that should be cut from the $90 million requested.

Temporary injunction barred in massage parlor ordinance

By GREG PEARSON

Herald Reporter

A temporary injunction will not be issued for the massage parlor ordinances of the Town of Manchester and the City of Hartford, except for sections prohibiting Sunday openings, Judge Joseph Goldberg of Hartford's Court of Common Pleas ruled Friday.

Owners of massage parlors in both communities had sought the injunction until there is a ruling on the constitutionality of the ordinances. The plaintiffs feel that the ordinances are unconstitutional and they plan a further legal challenge on that point.

A spokesman for Atty. Joseph Fazzano, who represented the plaintiffs, said Friday that there will be no comment on the ruling from Fazzano until he speaks to all his clients. The spokesman said that the suit challenging the legality of the ordinances will proceed as planned.

Both communities passed the ordinances in August. The ordinances establish several regulations to govern massage establishments, including schooling requirements for employees.

Goldberg's full decision was written for the Hartford case — Aristocrat Health Club of Hartford Inc. et al vs. Norton Chaucer MD et al. The Manchester case — Paul O'Bright, doing business as Cleopatra's West vs. Alice Turek MD et al — was heard as a companion case at the Sept. 19 trial, and Goldberg said that his ruling applies to both cases.

He said that the Manchester and Hartford ordinances are "very similar. If there is any difference, it would be that in some areas the Manchester ordinance is less stringent than Hartford's regulations."

The judge denied the claims of the plaintiffs except for their challenge of the sections of the ordinances that prohibit Sunday openings.

The plaintiffs had challenged sections that limited operation hours, required a customer sign-in book and required training for employees.

Goldberg wrote, "Such regulations of massage parlors have been deemed to be a legitimate exercise of police powers and ordinances requiring specific training, limiting the hours of business and the maintenance of customer records have been upheld."

He said that the definitions of massage and massage parlors included in the statutes are almost identical to those upheld in a challenge of the East Hartford ordinance for massage parlors.

The judge also ruled that advertising limitation to prohibit misleading or deceptive advertising is permissible.

On the issue of Sunday closings, Goldberg referred to testimony by Dr. Norton Chaucer, Hartford's health director, who said that the Sunday closing was included in the ordinance to prevent excessive traffic.

"This basis was totally without foundation," Goldberg said.

Columbus Day closings

Shopping and relaxation will be the order of the day for many Manchester residents Monday as Connecticut observes Columbus Day.

Others will be at work as usual.

Manchester's public and parochial schools will be closed for the day, but Manchester Community College has scheduled its regular classes on Monday.

Manchester's Municipal Building will be closed. Emergency telephone numbers for the day are as follows: highway, 649-5070; refuse, 649-1886; and sanitary sewer and water, 649-9697.

The Manchester Post Office will not be open nor will mail be delivered Monday, which is a nationwide postal holiday.

All Manchester banks will be closed Monday. Heritage Savings & Loan Association, including its branches, will also be closed today to allow its employees to have a long weekend.

The Manchester business office of the Southern New England Telephone Co. will be closed Monday for the holiday.

Today's question: Do you think there is too much violence on television?

Scott Gaffney
24 S. Hawthorne St.
"Yes, I do. I don't think it's right for little kids. They are innocent when they are born and then they see all that violence and grow up with violence and are more inclined to violence when they grow up."

Bob Blanchard
52 Princeton St.
"Yes. Most of the violence programs, in my opinion, are too early in the evening and should be scheduled for 9 or later."

Patrolman James McCooe
"There's a lot of violence on television which could be replaced with something else. Parents should have something to say about what TV programs their children watch. But that would be difficult to regulate when the parents are away from home."

Andrew Anderson
106 Kennedy Rd.
"No, I really don't think so. Young people have grown up with it and accept it. Violence can be found in toys, books and almost anything, even Mother Goose."

Norman Paulter
24 Courtland St.
"Yes, there is. In my opinion most police shows have a lot of violence."

Mrs. Helen Lynch
94 Spruce St.
"Oh yes, we could do with less. I think children are affected by the violence they see on television."

Mrs. William Lull
93 Hemlock St.
"No, I don't think so. I don't think television is to blame for today's violence. Parents should have more control of their children. I don't think television has anything to do with the violence in our society."

By JUNE TOMPKINS
Herald Reporter
The Army's largest source of new recruits is from the high school ranks. Although juniors and seniors in many high schools are contacted annually in recruitment programs presented at the schools, one of the greatest assets to a recruiter is the annual list of graduates.
"We feel we have trouble getting contact from the high schools in giving us completed lists," Sgt. Daniel LaFratta, station commander of the Manchester recruiting station, said recently.
Young men and women in high school have the opportunity of enlisting in advance of their graduation under the Delayed Entry Program (DEP) which means that they can complete their high school education before going into military service. But it is the follow-up of the hundreds of graduates with which the local recruiters are concerned.
"Ordinarily, we have to depend on the newspaper listing of the graduates," he said. It takes about 50 per cent of a recruiter's time trying to locate the names on the list.
There are other obstacles to the Army's recruitment program.
"We're labeled as 'head hunters,' but we do not get a commission for those we enlist," LaFratta said. He explained that the Army is not just looking for people. "The Army is for those who have the desire, for those who want to learn, and for those who meet our qualifications." This dispels the theory that anyone can get in the service, he added.

PUCA using outside expert in phone rate deliberations

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Connecticut Public Utilities Control Authority is using services of an outside expert for the first time in its deliberations involving telephone rates.

This is the first time outside experts have been used in telephone rate cases, but PUCA has used such

Cummings allegation brings GOP response

Republican Town Chairman Thomas F. Ferguson said Friday "In reply to the fulminations of Ted Cummings concerning politics of fear and fright, I must say that there is a certain degree of truth. We sure fear the results to Manchester if the town must face another period of his starchy, uncaring leadership and we are frightened at the prospect of budgets with million dollar shortfalls, engineered to force a electorate into believing that things are rosy."
"It is constantly amazing to me," said Ferguson, "that Mr. Cummings views everything with alarm but the shortcomings of his own lacadaical, shortsighted, 'let Bob do it' town government."
It is also amazing to me that the Democratic party has made a habit of taking credit for buildings and schools which should be accomplished by any government, but conveniently ignores the vast sums mis-spent on the Cooper Hill Water Treatment Plant and the arrogant pending of funds for the Burnside Firehouse while its legality is still being adjudicated."
"It seems to me," said Ferguson, "that Cummings would be well advised to give his own people a course in ethics rather than criticize one of the hardest working Directors in the history of Council-Manchester government in Manchester. When it comes to having the facts at his fingertips, nobody is better than Carl Zinsser, certainly none of the inexperienced Democratic slugs."
"Everything that has been said and one in the past year by Mr. Cummings and his lame-duck board indicated that Manchester, for its own good, needs a Republican majority in November."

Speaker named for anniversary services

The Rev. Dr. Carl Elgena, eastern Sunday school consultant for the Regular Baptist Press, will be guest speaker at the third anniversary services of Faith Baptist Church Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. at Orange Hall, 72 E. Center St.
The Rev. Dr. Elgena will also speak at the 9:30 a.m. Sunday School program. The public is invited to attend the anniversary services.
It was three years ago this month that Faith Baptist Church began conducting services in Orange Hall. The church recently bought property at Lake St. and New Bolton Rd. and plans for building a church have been drawn by Thomas Whipples, a Newton architect. Site plans and engineering work are being done by Charles Button, a Manchester engineer.
The church is seeking to raise enough money for the construction of the church edifice.

New home prices go up by 6%

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The average price of new homes sold in the United States between April and June increased by 6 per cent to $54,700, the largest quarterly jump in four years, the Census Bureau said Friday.
The new government statistics also said the price index for new, single-family homes rose to 158.3 during the second quarter on a 1972 base of 100. That means a new home purchased in 1972 for $50,000 would have cost $79,150 during the April-June quarter of this year.
The $54,700 average price during the second quarter compared with a $51,600 average cost during the first three months of the year, a 6 per cent increase.
The last time new home prices increased that much during one quarter was the April-June period of 1973, when they went up 7 per cent.
The housing industry has been experiencing a building boom during 1977.
New home construction was started at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of slightly more than 2 million units during August, the latest figures available. That was 32 per cent higher than the year-earlier rate.
The nation's homebuilders have been extremely pleased by the rapid construction pace this year, although some have voiced recent fears that the pace may ease because of the high prices and shortages of building materials.

Cynthia Stansfield named library group's secretary

Miss Cynthia M. Stansfield of 91 Green Manor Rd. has been elected secretary of the national church and Synagogue Library Association (CSLA).
Miss Stansfield, who served as second vice-president of the national organization last year, has also been elected president of the newly formed Connecticut Chapter of CSLA.
The non-profit organization was formed in 1967 to provide educational guidance in the establishment and maintenance of library service in churches and synagogues throughout the country.
Miss Stansfield is chairman of the library committee of St. Mary's Episcopal Church and a cataloger at the University of Connecticut, Storrs.
The Connecticut Chapter will have its first meeting of the year Oct. 15 at St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church in Kensington. Dr. Robert J. Fitzsimmons will speak on "The Missing Piece: Finding God in Children's Literature." More information may be obtained by contacting Miss Stansfield.

Hollywood finish win for Dodgers

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — In a finish their own Hollywood couldn't equal, the Los Angeles Dodgers overcame their earlier wildness and rallied for three runs with two outs in the ninth inning Friday to shock the Philadelphia Phillies 6-5 and move to within one victory of the National League pennant.

The Dodgers, who nearly threw the game away with a pair of wild throws in the eighth inning and three successive bases-loaded walks by Burt Hooton in the second, waited until their final out to snatch the game — and perhaps the pennant — away from the Phillies.

Dodger manager 'talked to God'

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Los Angeles Dodgers Manager Tommy Lasorda said he didn't talk to his players about making a dramatic comeback Friday, he "talked to God."

But it was several mortals in blue uniforms who snatched a 6-5 victory away from the Philadelphia Phillies and took a commanding 2-1 lead in the best-of-five National League playoffs.

The Dodgers had gone into the ninth inning trailing 5-3 because according to starting pitcher Burt Hooton, "We gave them five runs."

Hooton was referring to the second inning, when he walked four straight batters, including pitcher Larry Christenson, to give the Phillies three runs, and the eighth, when two Dodger errors gave Philadelphia two more runs.

But after two were out in the top of the ninth, pinch-hitter Vic Davalillo beat out a drag bunt and pinch-hitter Manny Mota doubled with Davalillo scoring on Ted Sizemore's error.

Lopez beat out a controversial one-infield hit, went to second on pitcher Gene Garber's wild pickoff throw, and Bill Russell singled in the winning run.

Lasorda was asked if he had said anything to Davalillo or Mota before they went up.

"No," he replied, "I just talked to God."

State colleges busy

Eight of Connecticut's nine college varsity football teams will be playing in the state Saturday, with only Central Connecticut away in New Jersey for a night game with Montclair State.

Yale is playing unbeaten Dartmouth in an Ivy League battle at Yale Bowl. Its the gateway game for the Elis who have compiled a 2-1 record in their first three games at home. They next play at Columbia.

Dartmouth has lost close games the past three years in the Bowl. The University of Connecticut and Southern Connecticut State College, both with four losses and the only state teams without a win, will try again at their respective homes.

UConn. still without a cohesive offense and plagued by a shaky defense will tangle with Rutgers, winner of its last three games.

The Owls will host Northeastern, a team that stunned Rhode Island 21-12 in the season opener but has since lost two and tied one.

In intrastate game of wide interest takes place in Middletown where the Coast Guard visits Wesleyan, which has won its first two games of the season. The Cadets, 2-2, will try to bounce back from a 30-18 loss to Norwich last week. Trinity, also with a 2-0 record, will entertain Williams at the Hartford campus.

The University of New Haven, idle last week, will carry its 1-1 record against Bridgewater State in a game at West Haven. Western Connecticut will be looking to improve its 2-1 record in a game with William Paterson at Danbury.

NFL football
those games, San Diego sacked the quarterback five times.

San Diego's offense has been charged up lately by the play of quarterback James Harris, who passed for two touchdowns against Chicago last Sunday in a 42-24 victory.

The quarterback draw play gives our offense an added dimension," says Manning. "Other teams use it with fellow like Roger Staubach and Ken Stabler. But there are good and bad things about it. The first thing that popped into my head was the injury factor. But we weren't worrying about injuries against the Bears. We really needed that first win."

Observers thought Manning would

Davalillo scored and Mota went to third on the error. Still leading by a run, the Phillies seemed to get a break when Davey Lopes' grounder bounced off the heel of Mike Schmidt's glove, and was scooped by Larry Bowa, who fired across the infield.

Lopes subsequently moved up to second on a wild pickoff throw from Garber and the Phillies relived, obviously distraught by his own misacc and the Phillies' sudden misfortune.

Royals within game of title

One game away from winning the American League's Eastern Division are the underdog Kansas City Royals.

Last night the Royals trimmed the New York Yankees, 6-2, to gain a 2 to 1 game edge in the best of three series at Kansas City.

Twenty-game winner Dennis Leonard silenced the New York bats scattering four hits in going the distance.

Yankee starter Mike Torrez absorbed the loss with Sparky Lyle coming on in relief in the sixth.

The series resumes this afternoon in Kansas City.

Female runners to get awards

Female runners will officially be recognized in the 41st Five Mile Road Race Thanksgiving morning in Manchester.

Will Hadden, general chairman for the sponsoring Nutmeg Forest, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, said the awards' list will include three for the first three female runners to cross the finish line.

Announcement that the fairer sex will be called front and center at the awards' ceremony is another breakthrough.

For years, 37 to be exact, females were not allowed to compete as official entrants. The bars were lifted for the 1974 race and last year in the field of 1,093 there were approximately 50 women running.

Back in 1950, Julia Chase of New London showed up at the starting line and was told by Race Director Pete Wigen she could not compete. She accepted the turn down but has since lost two and tied one.

Huskies changes
STORRS (UPI) — Coach Joe Morrone is making some changes as a result of his University of Connecticut soccer team upset loss to Wesleyan. The loss was the fourth in nine games for the Huskies who face a 3-1 Boston College team here Saturday.

"We have a young team and all it seems that each of our young players is making mistakes offensively and defensively," said Morrone.

Catholic booters bow 2-1 to Prince

Despite enjoying tremendous territorial advantages, East Catholic soccer squad dropped a 2-1 verdict to Prince Tech yesterday in Hartford. It was the Eagles' fourth loss in a row by a one goal margin and pegs their over-all ledger at 1-5.

Mike Gherdji put the 2-3 winners in front at the 3:31 mark of the second half with a great score off a one-and-one situation into the upper left corner of the goal.

Juan Garcia made it 2-0 for the Techmen at 5:27 off a scramble in front of the goal as the East fullbacks failed to clear the ball.

East finally got on the board at the 13-minute mark as Matt Tobin took a shot and was told by Race Director Pete Wigen she could not compete. She accepted the turn down but has since lost two and tied one.

Bacon blanks Tech in COC soccer 4-0
Cheney Tech, with high hopes after an upset win over Coventry, suffered its second straight shutout loss and fell under the 500 mark in the process yesterday. The Beavers were blanked, 4-0, by potent Bacon Academy in Charter Oak Conference soccer action at the local field.

Top performances noted in four-school run here

When you run the best, top performances normally come about. That was the case yesterday at Center Springs Park as host Manchester High clashed with Xavier of Middletown, cross-town East Catholic and South Windsor, the latter somewhat a forgotten entrant.

Xavier ran its dual meet winning streak to 43 with triumphs of 23-35 over South Windsor. The Indians topped East, 24-33 and the Bobcats, 15-48. East came away with a 19-38 duke over South Windsor. The latter left the brunt of three potent thin-cladded outlaws.

The setback and two leaves Manchester at 7-1 while East is now 5-2, having won its first four. The top competition was borne out as the top three individuals snapped the course record held by Windham High's Art Switchenko of 13:42. Xavier's Tom Jolie turned in a 13:35 clocking for the 2.52 mile layout with East's John Clifford second and Manchester's Ed Lemieux third. Each was timed in 13:41.

Manchester's Wes Fedorchuk took fourth place with a time of 13:50, the fifth fastest clocking ever on the local course. Fifth thru 13th places was a traffic jam as only 12 seconds separated this pack.

Xavier's Steve Virgadula was fifth with a traffic jam as only 12 seconds separated this pack. Manchester's fifth finisher was sophomore Paul Johnson in 21st place with a 15:03 clocking. East's third finisher was sophomore Pete Kiro in 18th place with Dave Kirtledge 23rd and Jim Kane 25th.

Town gets $1.3 million for clean water needs

Manchester is one of several towns in the state to receive federal funds for municipal water treatment construction projects.
 The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has committed $163.88 million to Connecticut for water treatment projects. Manchester will receive $1,305,000.
 Other towns and their allotments for water projects are as follows: Ellington, $267,000; Glastonbury, $983,000; Metropolitan District Commission, $366,000; South Windsor, $2,957,000; Tolland, $63,000; and Vernon, $1,553,000.
 Gov. Ella Grasso commended Commissioner Stanley J. Pac and the water compliance unit of the state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) for its intensive effort to meet the deadline of Sept. 30 for commitment of all money that was available as of Sept. 30, 1976.
 The effort was launched at Gov. Grasso's direction last February when the DEP reported that $137 million of the original $153 million had not yet been committed. To assure that all available funds would be used to meet pressing clean water needs throughout the state, the governor announced a major policy decision that all federal dollars for the construction of lateral sewers.
 By meeting the Sept. 30 deadline, Connecticut also became eligible to share in the reallocation of funds not obligated by other states. There is no estimate at the present time of the amount of additional funding that might be available from other states.
 The grants cover facility plans, contract plans and specifications and construction of interceptor sewers, lateral sewers, treatment plants, pump stations and other water treatment facilities.
 In addition to new construction, projects may involve modifications or additions to existing facilities, a spokesman from the governor's office said.

Cassano says restart Youth Commission

Stephen Cassano, Democratic candidate for the Board of Directors, is calling for the re-establishment of a youth commission to deal with youth interests and problems in the community.
 He said, although Manchester has occasionally provided programs for youth, their success has been limited for a variety of reasons.
 The highly successful SAM program, he noted, only runs during the summer. Other programs, such as indoor roller skating at local schools, have been eliminated. Cassano said only the Recreation Department programs for athletically inclined youths remain, he said.
 Cassano noted a recent request in the Herald's Open Forum for a Teen Center to be reopened. He said such interested youth need a chance to follow through on their ideas by inviting them to participate in a Youth Commission.
 Cassano proposes that the commission be composed of high school and college students and non-student members of the community.
 Continuous requests for after school programs and skateboard parks, bicycle trails and community centers could be some of the topics for a commission, Cassano said.
 Other ideas could include a film series in local schools or helping youth find employment.
 In addition, he said, the community will benefit from the input of students relative to increasing crime and drug use among juveniles, and with their help, work to reverse this spiraling trend.

From your neighbor's kitchen

Mrs. Irene McCaughey of 309 W. Center St. invited me over one day last week to taste "Pistachio Cool Whip Dessert" and it was delicious.
 Irene loves to cook. In fact, she said, "I could stay in the kitchen all day."
 She and her husband live in a comfortable yellow ranch with huge wagon wheels marking the entrance to the driveway and sturdy hedges framing their property.
 Irene was a member of the Homemaker Services in Manchester when it started, but is now content to stay at home. With two grown sons married and three grandsons, food, especially desserts, is popular when they visit.
 Irene, herself, says she has to shy away from many foods to which she is allergic. She used to belong to WATERS, and was its 1973 queen.
 A Manchester native, she lived in town 27 years before moving to Glastonbury then to East Hartford. The McCaugheys returned to Manchester in 1961. Mr. McCaughey has been employed at Pratt & Whitney Division of United Technologies Corp. in East Hartford for 31 years.
 Here are a few of Irene's recipes.

Pistachio Cool Whip Dessert
 1 1/2 cup flour
 1/2 cup chopped nuts
 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese or whipped cream cheese
 1 cup confectionary sugar
 1/2 cup large container of Cool Whip
 3 cups milk
 Mix flour and margarine until crumbly, add nuts and press into 9 by 15 pan. (Irene says this size pan is often difficult to find and that a 9 1/2 by 12 1/2 pan works equally well.) Bake 15 minutes in 375 degree oven.
 Cool.
 Beat sugar and cream cheese until fluffy. Fold in Cool Whip and spread over crust. Combine pudding mix and milk and beat until thickened. Spread mixture over cream cheese mixture. Take remaining Cool Whip and spread over pudding mixture. Sprinkle chopped nuts on top. Refrigerate for at least 3 hours or overnight. Keep in cool place. Use largest size of Cool Whip.
 Here's another recipe Irene calls "Lazy Day Bars."
 2 eggs
 1/4 cup water
 1/4 cup soft margarine
 1 package German Chocolate Cake mix

1 package (6 oz.) butterscotch bits
 1/4 cup packed brown sugar
 1/4 cup chopped nuts
 Grease and flour jelly roll pan. Beat eggs, water, butter, and brown sugar and 1/4 cake mix till smooth. Stir in rest of cake mix. Spread in pan. Sprinkle with butterscotch bits and nuts. Bake about 20 minutes at 375 degrees. Cool and cut into bars or squares. Do not overbake. Makes about 30 pieces.
 Another tasty dessert is "Lemon Mist Torte."
 Make chiffon cake in 10-inch tube pan, either mix or your own. Cool and split into 3 layers. In small bowl chill 1/2 cup lemon juice. In another bowl mix 2 cups whipping cream and 1 teaspoon vanilla at least 1 hour. Add lemon juice. Spread over pudding mixture. Bake in moderate hot oven, 400 degrees for 30 minutes or until top is golden brown.
 Here's the last super-sounding recipe Irene gave me.
Velvet Cream Cake
 Bake your favorite chocolate cake in 9-inch layer pans. Cool. Split to make 4 layers.
 In small mixer bowl chill 3 cups chocolate frosting mix. 2 cups of whipping cream and 1 teaspoon vanilla at least 1 hour. Add chill beater.
 When ready, beat frosting mix till stiff; fill layers. Make this icing with remaining frosting by mixing 3 to 3 tablespoons hot water and 1 tablespoon light corn syrup. Beat till smooth. Add 1 to 2 more teaspoons water if necessary. Spread on top of cake and let drizzle down sides. Garnish with nuts. Refrigerate.

Orange Pumpkin Pie
 1 cup unsifted flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 1/2 cups Fleischmann's Margarine
 2 to 3 tablespoons ice water
 3 tablespoons Fleischmann's Margarine
 1-1/2 cups strained cooked pumpkin
 2 1/2 cup sugar
 1 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice
 1/2 cup evaporated skim milk, undrained
 1/2 cup Egg Beaters Cholesterol-free Egg Substitute
 1 package 1-ounce Royal orange gelatin
 1 cup boiling water
 1 1/2 cup finely chopped pecans

Old-fashioned Molasses Cookie
 1/2 cup (1 stick) Fleischmann's Margarine
 1/2 cup sugar
 3/4 cup molasses
 1 cup (1 1/2 container) Egg Beaters Cholesterol-free Egg Substitute
 2-1/2 cups unsifted flour
 1-1/2 teaspoons ground ginger
 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 2 teaspoons baking soda
 1 1/2 cup water

Chocolate Cake with Peppermint Stick Frosting
 2 cups sifted cake flour
 1/2 cup cocoa
 3-1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 3/4 cup (1-1/2 stick) Fleischmann's Margarine
 1-1/2 cups sugar
 1 cup skim milk
 3/4 cup Egg Beaters Cholesterol-free Egg Substitute
 1 cup vanilla extract
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
 Peppermint Stick Frosting (Recipe below)

Sift together flour, cocoa, baking powder and salt.
 In a large mixer bowl, cream together margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Combine milk, Egg Beaters, Egg Substitute and vanilla, add alternately with dry ingredients, beating well after each addition. Pour into greased and floured 9-inch round cake pans.
 Bake at 350°F for 30 minutes, or until done. Cool 10 minutes. Remove from pans, finish cooling on wire racks. Fill and frost with Peppermint Stick Frosting (recipe below).
Peppermint Stick Frosting: In a small deep mixer bowl, gradually cream 1-1/2 cups confectioners' sugar into 1/2 cup softened margarine. Blend in 1/4 cup skim milk and 2 tablespoons crushed red peppermint candies. Beat in an additional 1-3/4 cups confectioners' sugar as enough to make a smooth spreadable frosting. Makes one 9-inch layer cake.

Apple-Raisin Pudding
 1-1/2 cups skim milk
 3 tablespoons Fleischmann's Margarine
 1/2 cup dark seedless raisins
 1 cup bread cubes
 3/4 cup Egg Beaters Cholesterol-free Egg Substitute
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 1/2 cups dried pared apple
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 1/8 teaspoon ground nutmeg
 1/8 teaspoon salt
 Brandy Custard Sauce (recipe below)

Heat milk, margarine and raisins in saucepan until margarine melts. Pour over bread cubes in 1-1/2 quart greased casserole. Combine Egg Beaters, sugar, apples, vanilla, cinnamon, nutmeg and salt. Pour over bread mixture; stir. Bake at 350°F for 35 minutes, or until apples are tender. Serve warm with Brandy Custard Sauce. Brandy Custard Sauce: Combine 1/2 cup Egg Beaters, Egg Substitute and 1 teaspoon sugar in top of double boiler. Stir in 2/3 cup scalded skim milk. Cook mixture over hot, not boiling water, stirring constantly, until thick enough to coat spoon, about 8 to 10 minutes. Pour at once into bowl. Stir in 1 tablespoon brandy. Cover and chill thoroughly. Stir before serving. Makes one serving.

"Just Desserts"

Eating sensibly does not mean eliminating desserts, just selecting them more carefully. Desserts—simple or elaborate—can balance a meal nutritionally and calorically. If you are having a salad main dish, follow it with a rich-tasting dessert made with yogurt or cholesterol-free egg substitute. No fruit in the meal? Put it in the dessert. And if the menu does not feature potatoes, rice or macaroni, serve a cake or pudding made with bread or rice to round out the meal.

Many desserts can be made from recipes using products having reduced saturated-fat and cholesterol count. These four come from the Test Kitchens of Standard Brands.

Chocolate Cake is an all-time favorite! Use cocoa instead of solid chocolate to add rich flavor with no cholesterol. This moist cake is topped with Peppermint Stick Frosting. Its minty taste is a refreshing complement to the cake.

How about Pumpkin Pie for company or holiday dinners? No need to forego this annual treat when the filling calls for skim milk and Egg Beaters egg substitute to be mixed with the pumpkin, sugar and spices.

There is also Apple-Raisin Pudding, an old-fashioned favorite that is adapted to meet our modern concerns for good health. An economical way to use up stale bread, the recipe uses four cups of bread cubes. Apples and raisins add their natural sweetness. Brandy Custard Sauce tops the warm pudding. This sauce is made without egg yolk, the single highest source of cholesterol in the average American diet.

Prostate cancer warning

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am writing this on the depressing day of my life. This is the first day of an extended sick leave leading to disability retirement. I am a 46-year-old male. A year ago a bone scan showed prostate cancer in several bones. My urologist started me on female hormone when he felt the enlarged prostate. A prostate operation and castration followed. Three months ago I started having nighttime pain in my bones and joints from my hips down to the ankles. The urologist has limited my hormones because of possible side effects such as blood clots.

Would aspirin act as a blood thinner and help prevent the complications of female hormone on forming blood clots? Would it be a good choice for my aches and pins in view of this? My castration and retirement have made it difficult to maintain even the slightest semblance of weight control. What kind of exercise would you suggest? I'd like to give some advice to men over 40. Don't depend upon symptoms you have heard about or your doctor to tell you when you should get your prostate gland checked. The classic symptoms may never occur or come on so gradually that they are not recognized.

Men over 40 should use alone as a guide as to how often the prostate should be examined. Perhaps an annual check is adequate for men in their early 40s by 45 or 50 a semi-annual check or every three months would be a good thing. At the rate my urologist charges for office calls the weekly cost for a checkup every three months would be only $125. To learn you have prostate cancer after it is too late for surgery to cure it is a much higher price. DEAR DR. LAMB - Yours is an all too familiar story. I agree that every man over 40 should have an annual examination of his prostate gland and think it would be wise to have such an examination at least twice a year after age 50. You are absolutely right it is important to find the cancer while it can still be completely cured. Prostate cancer is the third most common cause of cancer deaths in American men largely because this simple examination is not done. It is just as important to find a lump in a man's prostate as it is to find a lump in a woman's breast.

Unfortunately the public has not been made aware of the importance of early detection of prostate cancer. Some cancer literature even suggests that symptoms of prostatic obstruction or some pain should be cause to seek professional help. How shocking! The public need to be told the time of find and cure prostate cancer is before there are any symptoms. I am sending you the Health Letter number 1-6, Prostate Gland, which will tell you more about the gland and its common disorders. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. You might be able to get

Commissioner cites dangers of wood, coal stoves

The major cause of tragic structure fires, frequently with loss of life, during winter months is the unsafe and unimproved use of wood and coal stoves in the home, said Commissioner Mary Heslin of Department of Consumer Protection.

Proper use of the draft controls, as stipulated in directions of a new stove, or recommended by an installer, must be followed in order to keep a fire under control both during the day, and at night when the fire is "banking," Commissioner Heslin points out.

Proper combustion and for the safety of the occupants of the room or home. Charcoal emits carbon monoxide fumes and has been known to cause fatalities in homes with not enough ventilation.

Fire marshals stress that coal and wood stoves require constant attention when in operation, the commissioner says, adding that the necessity of frequent stoking involves much regulating of the draft limiting devices to prevent the hazardous overheating.

Area police join in theft probes

A joint investigation over the past several months by Manchester Police, Vernon Police, State Police and Juvenile Court has led to the arrest of five adults and five juveniles. The arrests were made over the past several weeks.
The Manchester incidents were at the Plaza Department Store, a Walker St. home, the theft of two purses and a wallet, and burglaries at homes on Mountain Rd. and Vernon St., at the Church of Christ and Redfield Rental Center.
Police said the investigation also led to the arrest of persons in connection with $8,000 worth of damage done at the Manchester Drive-In Theater in Bolton.
Also involved were burglaries at Lyndale Food Farm, a home on Lake St., the theft of a motorcycle, and two armed robberies at the Cumberland Farms, all in Bolton.
Also, burglaries on Lake St. and Montauk Dr., the theft of three motorcycles from Lake St., a motorcycle from Phoenix St. and one from Main St., all in Vernon, plus the theft of a motorcycle in Andover.
Police have recovered six motorcycles, a car, a calculator, four purses, radios, tapes, scuba diving equipment, a speaker and gun used in the armed robberies in Bolton.
The investigation is continuing and more arrests and juvenile court referrals are expected, police said.

Republican candidate promises to listen

Vernon
Robert B. Hurd, Republican candidate for the Vernon Town Council, said he will be available and willing to listen to concerns of individual citizens and to weigh those concerns fairly, along with the concerns of more vocal interests.
He charges that for the past two years the Democratic majority of the Town Council has treated Vernon citizens "to most of the trappings of an open government with little of the substance and now this council majority has chosen to campaign heavily on the theme of 'open government,'" he said.
He said open government should be characterized by ready accessibility and cooperative attitudes and must be responsive.
"Open government, in essence, is government of the people as well as for the people. It actively seeks out the concerns of the citizen, rather than passively providing a citizens' forum," Hurd said.
He further said that open government encourages participation by distributing information on a timely basis, not 15 months after the fact, "as with the very recent release of the Vernon Annual Report for 1975-76."
School spending questioned
"Are we getting a return on our education tax dollars? Taxpayers want to know," Lee Belanger, Republican candidate for the Vernon Board of Education, said.
Mrs. Belanger, who is seeking election for the first time, said taxpayers with and without children in the Vernon schools should select Board of Education members with care.
"A strong, active, responsible Board of Education makes the difference in what is happening in the schools and the town," she said.
She said she is now looking for answers to whether Rockville High School graduates are prepared to face the job market, prepared to face higher education, prepared to think.
"A Board of Education member must be willing to question and to listen. Everyone in Vernon is affected by our schools, and all of us, especially our students, deserve responsible school leadership," she said.

Glastonbury chamber sets apple festival

The Glastonbury Chamber of Commerce will sponsor an Apple Festival Oct. 15 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the center of town.
Marching music played by the Nayaug Fife and Drum Corps will open the festival. Entertainment will include an exhibition by the Tomahawk Squares, games and a moon walk for children and an appearance by Ronald McDonald.
Tents stocked with apple-inspired handicrafts, food, cider, cheese and gift items will be set up on Main St. next to the Welles Chapman Tavern.
Senior citizens and chamber volunteers will be busy for two days peeling and preparing thousands of apples to be baked into 1,000 pies. Advance orders will be taken for pies at the chamber office, 633-7154.
Cooperating organizations with the chamber are the Senior Citizens, Woman's Club, the high school vesp department, the H.Y., and the Youth Services Bureau.

At Bolton High School Evaluation plans made

Anthony M. Rodriguez, a staff associate for the Commission on Public Schools of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, visited Bolton High School recently to talk with the faculty and administration.
Rodriguez discussed the commission's evaluation procedures and standards of membership.
Joseph V. Fleming, Bolton High School principal, said to attain membership in the association a school must meet the commission's standards which have been established for accreditation.
The purpose of the 12-month evaluation is to provide the opportunity for the Bolton High School staff to review all of the educational programs to determine the degree to which the school meets the rigorous standards of the commission.
Rodriguez said the standards seek to ensure that the pre-conditions for effective education exist within the school. He said accreditation by the association provides a yardstick by which the public can measure its schools against the commission's standards which go beyond the local district and the state.
Bolton High School is scheduled for a visit from the evaluation team in November 1978.

Vacant seat filled by Hebron board

William J. Casey McPartland is the unanimous choice of the Hebron Board of Finance to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Jeff Odell.
McPartland was recommended by the Republican Town Committee. He has lived in Hebron for one year, is married and has children. He has worked in system and data processing for 15 years.
McPartland was given the oath of office by First Selectman Aaron Reid and has assumed his seat on the board.
The finance board has approved appropriation of $5,000 for updating tax maps. The work was started in the 1976-77 fiscal year. The money will come from federal anti-recession funds that may become available to the town.
Preparation of the Town Report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1977 will be done by Jack Baker and the secretary.
Baker was named liaison to the local school board teacher negotiation sessions. Roger Terranova was named to a similar position with the regional school board.
Note was made of $12,815 available to the town for highway expenses in the town aid and roads account, which is being used to obtain materials paid for by the state and charged against the town's drawing account.
The finance board voted to cancel its Nov. 23 meeting and call a special meeting Nov. 30. The Oct. 26 meeting will be held as scheduled.

Police juvenile officer to handle youth bureau

Vernon
In an effort to keep the Vernon Youth Services Bureau going while the town is searching for a director, Harold DeLisle, juvenile officer of the Vernon Police Department, will probably take over the job, Mayor Thomas Benoit said.
Charles Allen, who has been the director, announced his resignation earlier this week. He will leave Oct. 14.
When Allen was hired the town had advertised the position and received applications from about 160 people. Because of the nature of the position—working with young people—each applicant was carefully screened including a background check by the FBI.
Benoit said that in screening for a replacement for Allen the administration expects to be just as thorough.
"Color Me Christmas"
"Color Me Christmas" might be the theme of the Christmas project the Rockville Area Chamber of Commerce will sponsor this year.
The Retail Committee of the Board of Directors is asking the reaction of all chamber members to plan to order Santa coloring books as its pre-Christmas project.
The chamber will order the books which will have identifying chamber symbols on them. They will be available in multiples of 100 at 10 cents a book to any chamber member.
The coloring books are to be available at places of business, are to be picked up by adults, completed by the children, and returned to be judged for prizes.
Each individual outlet will give a small prize which will be provided by the chamber and the individual contest winners will be eligible for a major prize such as a bicycle.
