Wrong thing, worst time

There's a small school of thought that believes most governments don't know what they're doing and when they do something, it's the wrong thing at the worst time.

One can find some support for this gloomy theory in a recent action by the House of Representatives. It whipped through, 386 to 11, a bill to let American travelers abroad bring home more goods duty-free.

At present a returning traveler can bring in $100 in foreign purchases without paying any duty. The bill, which now goes to the Senate, would raise the allowance to $250 per person.

Now all this comes at a time when U.S. foreign trade is a record $30 billion out of balance. As a result the nation's international payments are deep in the red and the dollar is slumping on foreign exchange markets.

What a brilliant time to encourage Americans to travel abroad and buy more foreign goods. Bravo Congress, you'll get the value of the dollar down to 10 cents yet.

Risky stunts

There should be a warning to coaches and gym teachers in the injury suffered recently by 11-year-old David Paterno in State College, Pa.

David, the son of Penn State football coach Joe Paterno, was seriously hurt when he fell off a trampoline in an elementary school and struck his head on the floor.

This was not the first such accident. Nor will it be the last. The American Academy of Pediatrics, in fact, has recommended that the trampoline—which is a kind of was springboard—be banned from gym classes and from use in competitive sports.

Studies by doctors have identified numerous cases of temporary or permanent paralysis caused by trampoline accidents—many of which occur on the trampoline itself rather than as a result of falling to the floor.

Doing stunts on a trampoline is hard enough for experts. For youngsters like David Paterno it's a risk they'd be better off not to take.

VIEWPOINT

'Children's lib' coming next

By LEE RODERICK
 WASHINGTON — In 1975 the supreme court for the state of Washington upheld a juvenile court decision which, in effect, awarded a 15-year-old girl a "divorce" from her parents on the grounds of "incompatibility." The girl's request to be placed in a foster home was granted even though her own parents had been found legally fit by the juvenile court.

Since then, the U.S. Supreme Court also has handed down several decisions which go far toward establishing the right of children to be treated legally as adults. Rather than freeing children from odious discrimination, the decisions continue a dangerous trend which threatens to destroy traditional protections accorded juveniles in our society.

The high court last year struck down a Missouri law (in Planned Parenthood v. Danforth) which required parental consent to an abortion on an unmarried minor except when the abortion was required to save the life of the minor. And earlier this year the court voided a New York statute prohibiting the sale of contraceptives to persons under 16 except on a physician's orders.

"In both cases the court expressed a constitutional right of privacy of minors," explains Bruce C. Hafen, a law professor at Brigham Young University. "It's very significant when the court says there is such a right of privacy, which could eventually make it very difficult for states to restrict questionable activities by juveniles," he added in a telephone interview.

The growing concern over children's rights is perhaps a logical extension of the movements in recent years to eliminate discrimination affecting such groups as racial minorities and women. While those human rights concerns have been largely healthy and productive, there are good reasons why the logic applied in those cases doesn't extend to children.

In an article prepared for publication in the American Bar Association Journal, Hafen notes that "Some forms of discrimination are wise and appropriate, precisely because they lead ultimately to greater individual liberty for those temporarily subject to the discrimination."

"There is no better illustration of this truth than the way in which a preparatory and protective period of minority with the walls of family life provides the essential educational opportunity that is prerequisite to a meaningful participation in a

He dislikes photo choice

To the editor:
 The renewed tensions in the Midwest, the raging controversies in Africa and our own serious economic difficulties are only a few of the issues of great concern to most citizens, as new revelations come to light daily.

It was therefore surprising to find that the only item on the front page of the Nov. 10 Herald worthy of a captioned photo was the "news" that the Parkade was conducting an early sale, as a public service to the harried shoppers of Manchester.

Since that was the only significant news item on the front page, I read no further in the paper and cast it aside, secure in the knowledge that all must be well in the world if the only news item on the front page that warrants a picture, concerns a clothing store having a sale.

You would be remiss if you did not hurry down to the local grocery store as well, for rumour has it that the contents of the Nixon tapes would pale by comparison to the special they're having on English muffins.

Sincerely,
 R. Segal

Thought

The Flood
 The rain — it came with gentle peace —
 The people wished it would not cease
 Too soon — the soil did need it —
 Would in abundance make crops grow
 The rain in its answer showed its strength
 Soaked well the land — its breadth — its length —
 And for good measure poured its blessing
 The rivers swelled — with might they roared
 The banks that could not hold them no more;
 Like scolding monsters wild with roar
 They swept with fury — cities — towns —
 One horrid terror that kills and drowns.
 I watched their faces — mute — so still
 With horror — people on the hill
 They saw the shambles the flood made —
 They looked so helpless — so afraid!
 A young man shouted: "Where is God!"
 I saw hands motion — saw heads nod,
 An aged woman took him by the hand —
 She knelt with him on the muddy sand;
 "My son — lift up your heart and pray —
 God in heaven will show us the way!
 Remember God gave his only begotten son
 The will of God — it must be done!
 The grief — the sorrow we must bear;
 If the scars of Christ we be worthy to wear!"
 The people moved by what she said —
 They raised their eyes blurred with tears —
 The chant of prayer now stilled their fears.
 Then sudden like — a church bell rang
 Where dark clouds like steeds did hang
 A piercing light of sun came through
 In glorious blaze from skies of blue!
 Then in a rumble of thunder — God on high
 Spoke to the people from his sky:
 "Suffer all — with faith — to come unto me —
 Of sorrows — fears you will be free;
 Pray to the resurrected Christ —
 In trails of life be not untrue —
 Your life on earth is to prepare
 To live in God — be in his care;
 Eternal life is but in heaven
 To people of faith it is given!
 Startled — the people scanned the skies —
 A flashing light blinded their eyes!

Up at 229 E. Middle Turnpike, behind the Manchester Police Station, there is a junior high school that is a junior high school and then graduated his high school and then earned a degree at Wesleyan.

He taught in New London, and Stonington where he was high school principal, before coming to Manchester in 1930.

After two years at the Franklin Belling in the old high school down on Main Street, he was promoted to assistant principal of the high school.

Then in 1935, he became Manchester's second superintendent of schools, succeeding Fred Ayer Verplanck.

Manchester was showing unusual growth during those years, and it became Illing's responsibility to chart the educational growth, including new schools—Bowers, Verplanck, Waddell, Buckley, Kenney Street, Manchester High, Iling Junior High and expansions at South and Washington. Several older buildings were also renovated.

Heck, no, Art didn't do it all. He had lots of fine people in his school system for assistance—like Ed Bailey, Chet Robinson, Tom Bentley, among many others.

Art Illing served in the Manchester school system until 1969 when he retired.

More than 1,000 persons attended the dedication of Iling Junior High School on Sunday, Jan. 8, 1961.

Illing was a member of all the education associations.

But he was equally a civic leader. He was the charter president of the Manchester Rotary Club, a charter member of Lat Junior Museum, where he has been most active, the Manchester Historical Society, a president of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, and he has held responsible posts within the Congregational Church.

Well, that's only a thumbnail sketch of a person who helped to develop a fine educational system in Manchester. Take another look at the picture; you might run into him on his walks about Manchester. Not all the time, though, because he has become a traveling man over the years, and he just might be on one of his planned sabbaticals.

World waits new wisdom of Guinness

LONDON (UPI) — Sandy Allen, the world's tallest living girl, has finally stopped growing and Brian Beattie, riding a motorized tricycle, covered 1,286 miles on one gallon of gasoline.

So says the 1978 edition of the Guinness Book of Records, that annual bible for bettors, arguers and triviaophiles.

The new edition has updated, replaced or revised about 35 percent of its old entries.

"This is due to records being broken, trees growing higher, moustaches growing longer, the effects of inflation and the now quieter population explosion — in brief, the restlessness of man in creating or just measuring things in, on and beyond the earth," the book's publishers said.

Sandy Allen, 22, of Shelbyville, Ind., has finally stopped growing at 7 feet 7 1/2 inches.

Beattie set what the publishers call "the ultimate in petrol economy" in Chesley, England, on July 5, 1977. Beattie added 147 miles to "the 10 miles in an hour four stroke 3 wheel record" he and Brian Tott set in June 1976, using a 50cc Honda-engineered sawed down tricycle.

The 350-page book, now in its 24th edition, has thus far sold more than 32.5 million copies around the globe.

Human achievements are but one category covered. There are also the largest, smallest, rarest, fastest, longest and shortest records for human beings, the animal and plant kingdoms, space and the universe, the scientific world, the natural world, the arts and entertainments, world structures, the mechanical, business and human worlds plus sports, games and pastimes.

The human achievements section ranges from habitat racing and cucumber slipping to spitting and yo-yoing. Grape catching, apple peeling and golf ball balancing all have their world champions.

Some other nuggets in the 1978 edition:

- P. Zyzewski, formerly the last entry in the United Kingdom telephone directories, has been made penultimate by Shamsu Zaman.
- Bob Speca recaptured the Domino Tumbling record he lost in 1976 by knocking down 50,000 in 17 minutes, 46.27 seconds at the University of Pennsylvania on June 21, 1977.
- Lang Martin, 16, balanced six U.S. size golf balls vertically without adhesive at Charlotte, N.C. on July 18, 1977 to break the record of five set in 1974.
- The longest recorded distance for catching a thrown grape in the mouth jumped to 231 feet, by Paul Tavila in Dedham, Mass., on July 19, 1977. Tavila surpassed the mark set in May 1977 by Arden Chapman at Northeast Louisiana University.
- Paul Wilson of New Zealand ran 100 yards backwards in 13.3 seconds on April 10, 1977 to beat the time set nearly 70 years earlier by tap dancer Bill (Bojangles) Robinson.

4-H congress to include three area teen-agers

Two South Windsor and one Manchester teen-agers will be among 25 teen-agers from Connecticut who will join 1,600 other 4-H members from across the nation for the 26th National 4-H Congress.

The congress will start in Chicago the weekend after Thanksgiving and will continue for five days. The theme will be "The Freedom To Be."

It will highlight the opportunities 4-H offers young people for personal, social, life-skills, and career development.

Chris Nelson of 25 Summit St., Manchester, is involved in the wood science program. Donna Bancroft of 1117 Main St., South Windsor, is involved in consumer education; and Vicki Nowicki of 22 Hollis Road, South Windsor, in photography.

Accompanying the Connecticut delegation will be Ronald F. Aronson, assistant director for agriculture programs, and Diane C. Lis, extension 4-H agent, both with the University of Connecticut Cooperative Extension Service; and Richard Woolam, volunteer 4-H leader in South Windsor.

Mrs. Butterfield to speak on state's historic glass

Connecticut Glass Houses and Their Products" will be discussed by Mrs. Virginia H. Butterfield at the meeting of Gibbons Assembly, Catholic Ladies of Columbus, Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the KofC Home.

Highlighting the program will be an exhibit of pieces made at the former Pitkin Glassworks in Manchester.

Mrs. Mary Fraher is chairwoman of the program. Co-chairwomen are Mrs. Bernard Fogarty and Miss Beatrice Sweeney. Others assisting with the event are Mrs. Peter Fagan, Mrs. James Farr, Mrs. Willard Law, Mrs. Richard Post, Miss Catherine Shea and Miss Mary Shea.

Refreshments will be served after the program. A business session will conclude the event.

Panel to discuss vandalism at program by Waddell PTA

Five local persons concerned with youth and vandalism will compose a panel to discuss the problems and prevention of vandalism at a program sponsored by the Waddell School PTA Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

The program will begin with a film entitled "Vandalism Why?" from the Manchester Board of Realtors. The film has been shown to students in several local elementary schools since it was purchased by the Realtors last May.

The Board of Realtors has been working with MOTION, the youth task force of the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce and Manchester High School students, in presenting the film in the schools.

The panel discussion will follow the film and will include Mrs. Norma Marshall of the Board of Realtors, Mrs. Jennie Talbot, assistant coordinator of Youth Services Department, Officer James Moore, community relations officer for the Manchester Police Department, Dale Bauer, manager and director of investigation for Santos Security Services of Wetherfield and Mrs. Shirley McCray, chairwoman of MOTION.

Mrs. Marshall has been active in work on vandalism prevention as co-chairman of the "Make America Better Committee" of the Board of Realtors. The local program has been in cooperation with the National Association of Realtors to develop public awareness on the vandalism issue.

Mrs. Talbot has been with the Youth Services Department since 1973, counseling youth from elementary through college age and their parents in efforts to prevent delinquency. She also administers an emergency Shelter Care Program and the Big Sister Program.

McCoye has been with the Manchester Police Department since 1957 and was appointed Community Relations Officer in 1975. He regularly presents programs on vandalism, crime prevention, home security, drug awareness, bicycle safety and related topics to local organizations and school groups.

Bauer is a Manchester resident who lectures regularly for the Law and Order class sponsored by Manchester High School and the Manchester Police Department. He has been involved with security investigations in several capacities for many years.

Mrs. McCray has been active in the Manchester Jaycee Wives and the Chamber of Commerce. The MOTION committee recently sponsored Amenity Days for the second year in Manchester, during which many items of stolen public property were recovered.

The evening's program will also include a display of vandalism posters drawn by students of Waddell School. The program is geared for adults only. The public is invited to attend the program which will be in the Waddell School cafeteria.

Travel Club plans luau on Wednesday

A Hawaiian Luau, a Mexican Fiesta and a Calypso party headline the social calendar for members of the local Adventure Travel Club. The luau will be held Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Hu-ke-lau Restaurant in Rocky Hill. Following dinner and a floor show, a movie of Hawaii will be shown and Forest Carter, former resident of Hawaii, will talk about the islands.

Party plans for the Mexican fiesta and the Calypso festival are being coordinated by Myra Weiss of East Hartford, social chairman, and her committee. They are planned for after the holidays.

Jane Olson of Manchester, director of the travel club, said that plans are under way to organize club branches in Manchester and in other parts of New Hampshire. This came about last month when Ms. Olson vacationing in the West Indies met travelers from each of these towns which has resulted in plans for expansion of the club. Soon vacationers from the three towns of Manchester, will be traveling together on "Friendship in Fun" flights.

The club was organized earlier this year and now has more than 100 members. To date they have combined group trips to Montreal, Mexico, and the Bahamas.

Club membership is geared to people who enjoy travel. With a stress on budget tours, club members are currently planning trips to Hawaii, Acapulco, Rio de Janeiro and a London show tour. One advantage for single members is that the club arranges for roommates, thus reducing the penalties charged to those who travel alone.

For information about membership, call Jane Olson at 849-2115 or write Adventure Travel Club, 7C Ambassador Dr.

Shopping by mail? you're protected

"Beat the rush and order now." "Orders received by Nov. 30, knock off 50 percent." It's the time of year that early shoppers start ordering and the seller must return your money.

If you do ask for your money back, the seller must mail your refund to you within seven work days after you cancel your order. If you charged the item, the seller has one billing cycle to correct the account.

There are some mail order services where this rule does not apply: Photo finishing, magazine subscriptions (other than the first issue), mail order seeds and growing plants, e.d. orders, and credit orders where the buyer's account is not charged before shipment of the merchandise.

And if merchandise is mailed to you without your ordering it, don't worry about it. If you get something you didn't check, you can keep it as a gift. You don't have to pay for unsolicited merchandise, and it's illegal for the person or firm sending it to pressure you to pay for it, or to ask for its return.

Workshop set for couples

Natural family planning will be the subject of a weekend workshop conducted by the Couple to Couple League at the Cathedral of St. Patrick in Norwich on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 3 and 4.

The method taught by the Couple to Couple League is a system of fertility awareness in which several symptoms of female fertility are used in a cross-checking way for the greatest reliability and confidence. According to the League, this system (called the sympto-thermal method) can achieve an effectiveness rate at the 90 percent level in actual practice. The League also states that its method assumes that every woman has irregular cycles.

This weekend workshop will be conducted by John F. Kippley, co-founder of the Couple to Couple League and Bill and Kathy Siddons of Manchester, CCL certified Teaching Couple.

The purpose of this weekend workshop is twofold: 1) to provide adequate training for personal use of NFP and 2) to begin the training of couples, who will later share this NFP information with others.

Sessions will begin at 9:30 a.m. and conclude at 4:30 p.m. Childcare will be provided. Interested married and engaged couples are asked to register by phone with Bill and Kathy Siddons, 89 Tanner St., 640-4908; Rich and Paulette Lemieux, 15 Blacksmith Drive, Ledyard, 538-4553; or Jerome and Diane Elber, Lester Drive, Central Village, 564-8891.

This workshop is being co-sponsored by the Family Life Office of the Diocese of Norwich.

Health

Gas can be controlled

DEAR DR. LAMB—I've had trouble with gas on my stomach for about a year now. My doctor says I eat too fast. I have always been a slow eater. I do not have a problem with constipation but do have trouble passing gas and having a bowel movement. I don't think it's what I eat, it's anything, about an hour after I eat anything. It's very uncomfortable, and my stomach makes very loud noises which are very embarrassing. I've told my doctor this, too. My stomach doesn't hurt, just swells up and does a bowel movement. Is there anything you can tell me that will help?

DEAR READER—This is a fairly common complaint. Every one has some gas or air in the digestive system. You can't eat or drink without swallowing some air. The way a person eats can add to swallowing air. Most people pass the air they swallow readily and they are not even aware that it has happened. Others have real problems with it— at least 10 percent of the population. Fermentation in the digestive system is another cause for gas. The classic example here is mature bean seeds. They contain a triple sugar that cannot be broken down by digestion and this carbohydrate ferments releasing gas. This also happens in people who cannot digest lactose, the double sugar in milk. These people find that milk and milk products are a major cause of gas and sometimes more distressing symptoms.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 8-8, Controlling Gaseousness, which will give you a complete review of the various causes of gas, gas pains and what you can do about it. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of the Manchester Evening Herald, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10109. By following a few simple rules, you may be able to help yourself. You can identify whether or not you swallow air, and perhaps break the habit.

The loud noises you describe in your stomach are caused by forceful contractions of your digestive system. The whole tube from mouth to rectum contains a middle layer of muscles that contract and relax to move the food along for digestion. The over-active bowel sounds suggest that you may have some element of a spastic colon. When the colon goes into spasm from the over-contraction of the muscles in it, the spasm shuts off the opening. The food, liquid, and gas behind the spasm is literally trapped, and nothing will happen until the spasm is relieved. This can cause severe pain either from the spasm which acts like a muscle cramp or from distention and stretching caused by the trapped gas. It doesn't matter whether the gas is from swallowed air, fermentation or both. It hurts just as bad.

That suggests that you may need some treatment for spastic colon. One of your best helps here is to add bulk in the form of cereal fiber as found in bran foods. Also try to establish regular habits. I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-8, Spastic or Irritable Colon, to give you more information on what to do about an over-active colon.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I need information and help with a condition called transient cerebral ischemia. I am 61 years of age. I momentarily blacked out and my left leg was paralyzed momentarily. Now I am having muscle spasms in my right possible benefits of aspirin, since it has an anti-clotting action, too.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-5, Stroke: Cerebral Vascular Accident—Cerebral Thrombosis, which includes a short discussion on TIAs. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of the Manchester Evening Herald, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10109. Meanwhile, your cholesterol level sounds fine. Keeping your cholesterol down, your blood pressure down, and avoiding cigarettes is the best program a person can do on his own.

I don't know whether your muscle spasm in your leg is related to your TIA or not, or for that matter, even to disease of the arteries, but your doctors will know on the basis of their examination. The medicines containing quinine are often very helpful in controlling muscle spasm or leg cramps.

Connecticut summary

Taste of winter

Connecticut got its first taste of winter this weekend, but it was the northwestern part of the state that really got a mouthful.

Between three and five inches of snow fell Sunday in the Litchfield County towns of Goshen, Cornwall and Falls Village. Residents in Torrington, Bethel and New Milford were treated to about an inch of snow.

Most of the rest of the state was spared, with only brief flurries throughout the day which did not accumulate.

Strike expected

MERIDEN (UPI) — Another 100 workers were expected to go on picket lines today at the Rolling Mill Division of Miller Co. while talks between management and union officials have been postponed until Tuesday morning.

Lawrence David, president of Local 859, Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO, said talks scheduled for this afternoon have been postponed so Robert McCarthy, a national union representative, can attend.

A handful of workers from the 124-member union set up picket lines Friday night after negotiations broke down. David said Sunday he expects about 100 more workers to picket today.

Killer sought

SOMERS (UPI) — State police and prison officials were expected to continue their search today for the killer of an inmate found strangled in a laundry basket at the Somers state prison.

Auto insurance

HARTFORD (UPI) — Two Democratic legislative leaders said today auto insurance should be based on a driver's record and not where someone lives.

Senate President Pro Tem Joseph Failliotto, D-Hartford, and Senate Majority Leader Joseph Lieberman, D-New Haven, were expected to testify today at a state insurance Department hearing on auto insurance rates.

In a prepared statement, the Senate leaders said the current system of fixing rates based on where a driver lives is unfair.

"But we feel that the territorial aspect of the rating structure may just be one of several inequities," they said. "The existing rate structure may just be one of several inequities, such as sex and age, a driver falls into."

John Driscoll says an example of the way jobs have been disappearing quietly in the past decade is the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Group of United Technologies, with plants in several Connecticut communities.

He said it has cut about 10,000 blue collar jobs from its payroll through attrition in the past decade. "They're careful to avoid layoffs, but they are into attrition," Driscoll said.

Other jobs lost HARTFORD (UPI) — The president of the State Labor Council, AFL-CIO, says not all the job losses in Connecticut grab headlines.

John Driscoll says an example of the way jobs have been disappearing quietly in the past decade is the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Group of United Technologies, with plants in several Connecticut communities.

He said it has cut about 10,000 blue collar jobs from its payroll through attrition in the past decade. "They're careful to avoid layoffs, but they are into attrition," Driscoll said.

Shipyard in court HARTFORD (UPI) — Officials from the smallest of three unions at Electric Boat were to appear in court today to ask a federal judge to give back off union members their old jobs.

The Marine Draftsmen's Association filed suit two weeks ago, claiming Electric Boat officials either today or Tuesday. Saturday, former Hartford Corporation Counsel Alexander Goldfarb said there were "massive and serious" irregularities in the recount.

"I've never seen anything like it in my 25 years of experience as counsel to the Democratic Party," he said. He said Democratic State Chairman William O'Neill had asked him to take the matter to court.

Mrs. Sims, former president of the Connecticut League of Women Voters, was declared a six-vote winner over incumbent Vernon in last week's municipal elections. But in a recount two days later, Vernon was awarded the victory by one vote after three previously uncounted absentee ballots were submitted, all for Vernon.

A Democrat had not been first selectman of the affluent Fairfield County community since 1965.

Mrs. Sims said Saturday she has retained Goldfarb to handle her court battle. "I am bringing action on the basis of what we've seen and approval of the legal, and improper factors in the casting and handling of the absentee ballots," she said.

Friday, seven Republican officials were discovered in the town Registrar of Voters Office, Joseph Carotta, the Democratic registrar of voters, said he discovered the GOP officials going through voting records in the unit office which was closed for the Veterans Day holiday.

Carotta conceded GOP registrar Nelson Anderson had a legitimate right to be there. Carotta said he was checking with party leaders to find out whether to take any action in connection with the incident.

Weather to allow the search to resume. Six state troopers were forced to turn back Sunday after hiking for more than four hours to reach the site at 3,300 feet on the western exposure of the mountain, five miles south of the Vermont-Canada border.

"We could have walked within 100 feet of the wreckage and missed it," said State Trooper Sgt. David Reed.

Mayor notes Youth Week

Manchester Mayor Matthew Moriarty Jr. has proclaimed the week of Nov. 14-20 as "Youth Appreciation Week."

Optimist International has for the past 23 years promoted and conducted such a week, Moriarty said.

"The citizens of Manchester have indicated a desire to join with the Optimists in expressing appreciation and approval of the contributions of youth," he said.

Unico chapter planning car raffle in December

The Manchester Chapter of Unico National, the largest Italian-American organization in the United States, will hold its annual car raffle Dec. 21 at the Manchester Country Club. Raymond F. Damato is chairman and his co-chairman is Sam Crispino. Free cocktails and snacks will be served from 7:30 and the raffle will be held at 9.

Proceeds of the raffle will be used for the scholarship fund, to promote mental health, fight mental retardation and for other charities Unico supports.

This is the fourth annual raffle the chapter has held. The car, a 1973 Lincoln Continental, was purchased from Moriarty Brothers and will be on display in their showroom bearing the Unico banner.

The winner of the car need not be present at the time of the raffle. All Connecticut state sales tax information, please call one of the following: Chairman Raymond F. Damato, 646-1021; Co-chairman Sam Crispino, 646-8100; Jeff Gentile, 646-8881; Tony Pietrantonio, 646-8161; Atty. Barry Botticello, 643-1943; Loren Andros, 646-2460; Sam Filloramo, 646-6068; or Manchester Unico President Paul Rossetto, 646-2462.

College gallery presents exhibition by two men

The Stairwell Gallery of Manchester Community College will present a two-man exhibition by Robert Dente and Stephen Wood Friday, Nov. 18.

Robert Dente will exhibit paintings, assemblages, collages and mixed media works. Stephen Wood will construct an installation piece in the upper gallery space.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. with a showing of the 1967 French film, "King of Hearts." After the film at 9:15 p.m., a reception with refreshments will be held in the gallery. There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

The exhibit will remain on display until Dec. 2 with gallery hours from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays and 9 a.m. to noon Saturdays.

The gallery is located in the college's 146 Hartford Road building. Dente received his bachelor of fine arts degree from the Hartford Art School, and is currently that school's director of evening studies.

Wood has both his bachelor and master of fine arts degrees from the Hartford Art School. He is currently serving as artist-in-residence at Trinity College in Hartford.

MACC news

Next Sunday evening people will fill the United Methodist Church to overflowing in a great outpouring of thanksgiving as we gather as a community in the annual Inter-faith Thanksgiving Service.

Representing almost every religious tradition and heritage in Manchester, we will come from varying historical and theological understandings. One thing above all will we share as we join together in this celebration — grateful hearts and voices lifted to God in praise and thanksgiving.

We most warmly invite each of you to join in the theme of this year's celebration presented by Judge John F. Shea will focus on human rights. Also joining in the inter-faith worship service will be Barbara Baker, Concordia Lutheran, president of MACC; the Rev. James Archambault, St. James; Dr. James McLaughlin, Second Congregational; the Rev. Neale O. McLean, Church of the Nazarene; Cantor Israel Tabatsky, Temple Beth Shalom.

Musical, always so much a part of this joyous evening, will begin at 7 with the playing of the cantillon followed by the Salvation Army Band, combined bell choirs of Center Church and Emanuel Lutheran.

During the service our MHS Round Table Singers, wearing the robes of their many differing churches, will fill the church with the hymns of thanksgiving.

During the offertory, worshippers will bring to the altar with their gifts of non-perishable food to be shared through Thanksgiving and Christmas banks and the MACC Emergency Pantry with their less fortunate neighbors.

Proceeds from money collected will go to the Human Needs Fund to assist those Manchester families and individuals trapped in crisis situations and unable to obtain or ineligible for aid elsewhere.

Come and join us in raising "A joyful noise unto the Lord" and in preparing a banquet table for our brothers and sisters in need.

Because many of us have come to treasure this community celebration, we would urge you to come early. Parking is available across the street from South Methodist.

Food collection It is still too early in the collection to give a final tally on the Parkade Food Collection sponsored by us by the Manchester Parkade Association and WINF, but we do want to thank all of you who are volunteering your time and effort to make this a success.

Food baskets Those individuals and groups planning to provide a Thanksgiving turkey or basket of Hot Meal for a shut-in are urged to call the MACC office — 646-2093 so that we may plan to use your generous offer where it is most needed.

At the present time, some 86 families have been identified by community service agencies as most benefiting from the gift of a Thanksgiving basket. This is almost double the number of families, either unemployed, or welfare, or suffering some family crisis, with whom we share Thanksgiving last year.

In addition, we are hoping to provide over 15 shut-ins who have indicated they will not have a Thanksgiving dinner, with a hot and festive turkey dinner. If you know of anyone who will be alone on Thanksgiving and needing a hot meal, please call us.

Warm thanksgiving Some of our families with children are still suffering from last winter's fuel bills and have not been able to get their gas turned on or will have not been able to scrape together enough money for the year's first oil delivery. If you would rather see that a family is warm on Thanksgiving Day than full, please send your check to MACC Human Needs Fund, Box 773, Manchester.

If your generosity stretches far enough, perhaps we can provide for at least the families with throughout both the United States and Ireland for their peacekeeping efforts.

The Rev. David Bowman, S.J. of the National Council of Churches and the Rev. Dr. R.D. Eric Gallagher will be with us at an ecumenical service Saturday night at South United Methodist Church. They will share with us their inside insights on the conflict there.

You are all most welcome.

If you've got a little money, why not get a lot of bank?

Think big. You need a bank you're not about to out-grow. A bank that can provide you with every financial advantage you'd ever need. Even if all you need right now is a friendly place to put your savings.

At Hartford National, we say: today a savings account, tomorrow the world.

But back to the savings account. Because everyone's different, we offer quite a range of savings plans, as shown on the chart. One or more of them should give you the exact combination of earnings and flexibility you need.

Savings Plan	Annual Interest Rate	Effective Annual Yield*	Interest Compounded	Minimum Balance
Regular Passbook	5%	5.095%	Quarterly	$ 0
Regular Statement	5%	5.127%	Daily	$ 0
NOW Account	5%	5.116%	Monthly	$ 500
Preferred 90 Day	5 1/2%	5.614%	Quarterly	$ 100
Choice 1-2 1/2 Year	6%	6.183%	Daily	$ 100
Choice 2 1/2-4 Year	6 1/2%	6.175%	Daily	$ 100
Choice 4-6 Year	7 1/4%	7.519%	Daily	$1000
Choice 6-10	7 3/4%	7.788%	Daily	$1000

Savings deposits up to $40,000 are insured in full by F.D.I.C. *Effective Annual Yield when savings and interest remain on deposit for one year. Interest of less than ten cents will not be credited. Federal Law and Regulations prohibit the payment of a time deposit prior to maturity unless three months interest thereon is forfeited and interest on the amount withdrawn is reduced to the passbook rate.

If you skipped over the chart, go back. And take a look at the minimum balance required for our Choice 1-2 1/2 Year and 2 1/2-4 Year Certificates of Deposit: $100.

That's not a typographical error; it's a deal. Most banks require at least $500, and more often $1000, to open this type of high-interest account. It's one way

A big break for the small investor. The rich get richer. And it's one you can easily get in on at Hartford National.

We have another savings plan that's custom-made for the big spenders of the world—those of us who are just not savers by nature. It's our automatic savings plan, and it lets you build a nest egg with absolutely no effort at all.

Just tell us how much and how often, and we'll transfer the money from your checking account to a Statement Savings Account and send you a monthly statement showing how much money you've socked away. It's that easy. No trips to the bank, no chance for procrastination, no trouble at all.

One more way to save, and a very important one, is for your retirement. If all you've got waiting for you is your Social Security, it's time you looked out for yourself.

We'll help you set up an Individual Retirement Account that allows you to set aside up to $1500 a year, earn our top rate of interest, and enjoy considerable tax benefits during your working years.

We hope you'll take advantage of one of our savings plans to start your money growing with us.

And if you act now, you can also take advantage of this special offer: just deposit $100 or more in a new or existing Hartford National savings account and you can get a Fuel Gard home energy-saver for just $10 (free with a deposit of $5000 or more).

The Fuel Gard is a new energy-saving device that automatically adjusts your thermostat when you're asleep or away from home to save you money on your heating bills.

And the more money we can save you on your heating bills, the more money you'll be able to save with us. Why not start today.

Just tell us how much and how often, and we'll transfer the money from your checking account to a Statement Savings Account and Hartford National If you've got a little money, why not get a lot of bank?

Police report

Police arrested three youths

Police arrested three youths in connection with an incident at Manchester High School about three weeks ago in which a drinking fountain was blown up with a firecracker.

Norman T. Bouthille, 21, of Springfield, Mass., charged with operating a motor vehicle while under suspension.

Richard A. Terrio, 39, of 689 Main St., charged with operating motor vehicle while under suspension.

Michael D. Armstrong, 139 Hilliard St., charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor in connection with an accident on Lydell Street Friday night.

Robert S. Kelley, 24, of South Windsor, was charged with third-degree assault in connection with a reported assault of an East Hartford woman on Spencer Street Sunday night.

Three juveniles were arrested last week in connection with a break and entry and vandalism at Bennett Junior High School Oct. 31.

A 15-year-old East Hartford youth was arrested Saturday night for driving on a road by the name of David E. Chaszczak on West Center Street. Police said the boy was observed hitchhiking and yelling at drivers passing by.

Another woman was reported assaulted in her car Friday night while stopped at the intersection of Wadwell Road and West Center Street.

Other arrests over the three-day weekend included the following: Gary M. Demko, 17, of 74 Rock Road, charged with breach of peace in connection with abusive actions toward police at McDonald's near Center St. Saturday.

Russell L. Meacham, 41, of Vernon, charged with operating a motor vehicle while license is suspended.

Raymond E. Myette, 50, of 140 Spencer St., charged with disorderly conduct in connection with an attempted entry into a home on Cornell Street. Court date is Nov. 28.

Gregory J. Demsky, 22, of 110 Congress St., charged with breach of peace in connection with an incident on North Main Street Saturday morning.

Other arrests over the three-day weekend included the following: Douglas A. Coleman, 39, of New Haven, charged with operating a motor vehicle while license is suspended.

Christopher H. Feigl, 26, of Vernon, charged with reckless driving.

Police issued about 175 all-night parking bus tickets Sunday and will continue parking March 1 and 2.

Thelma included the 1977 Chevrolet van owned by the town Civil Defense Department.

Other items included a motorcycle trailer from a Ridge Street yard, a snowmobile motor from a Walker Street yard, a motorcycle from an Adams Street home, tools from a truck parked in the Parkade, a motorcycle from a Garden Street residence and a mini-bike from a Walnut Street residence.

Several incidents of vandalism were reported over the weekend, including a plate glass window smashed at the front entrance of the Manchester Herald Saturday night.

There was no entry into the building, including a plate glass window smashed at Pete's Grocery, 464 E. Center St. Sunday, with no apparent entry gained.

A burglary at a Chestnut Street home resulted in the theft of a camera valued at $250 and other camera equipment.

Gov. Ella T. Grasso is now the only Democratic candidate, but speculation persists she may not run or will face opposition for renomination.

The party's liberal wing and some of its conservatives are shopping around for another candidate, and Lt. Gov. Robert K. Killian may be the person they're focusing on.

Kevin has agreed to be interviewed by a liberal group looking for a challenger to Grasso. He and Mrs. Grasso are not close, and he has been doing a great deal of speaking around the state.

However, he has refused to publicly say he will challenge Mrs. Grasso.

Democratic sources indicate he is waiting for results of town opinion polls. Sarasin, from the Naugatuck Valley town of Beacon Falls, this autumn gave in to heavy pressure.

Sen. George Gunther, R-Stratford, is the only announced GOP candidate. But he is given little chance by party insiders.

Although there is unhappiness with Mrs. Grasso in various parts of the Democratic Party, those leading the insurgency have not found a candidate.

Hartford City Councilman Nicholas Carbone, one of Mrs. Grasso's key backers in 1974, has pledged to field one against her for the Democratic nomination.

One problem the anti-Grasso forces appear to face, however, is that in many cases the only thing they agree on is that she must go. Some of the liberals who think the governor hasn't been progressive enough admit they are uncomfortable with Killian, who is thought of as a party regular.

The regulars unhappy with Mrs. Grasso are not expected to agree with the liberals on many issues, with much of their discontent stemming from her handling of patronage matters.

Friendship Circle of the Salvation Army will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Citadel for a League of Mercy packing session.

Hostesses are Doris Howard and Mrs. Brig. Jean Seaver.

Town Manager Robert Weiss and the newly elected Manchester Board of Directors will meet in an informal session Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

The board, elected Tuesday, and Weiss will discuss general topics concerning the town and local government. The public may attend the session.

Items for holiday bazaar

Maybelle Cunningham, left, and Bernice Topfiff look at the stuffed skunk and a crocheted doll that will be among the various dolls and animals available at the Second Congregational Church Holiday Bazaar Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the church.

Hearings and subdivisions on PZC's agenda tonight

The Manchester Planning and Zoning Commission tonight will conduct three public hearings and consider plans for two proposed subdivisions.

One public hearing will be held for a zoning regulation amendment that would prohibit the Manchester Zoning Board of Appeals from approving variances for non-permitted uses.

The ZBA now is permitted to grant a variance for uses not permitted in a particular zone. This would be eliminated if the PZC approved the public hearing item.

Municipal elections over so state race is the focus

HARTFORD (UPI) - Now that municipal elections are over, Connecticut leading Democrats and Republicans will soon begin their quest to win next year's prize - in the governor's chair.

On the Republican side there are several candidates, with everyone acknowledging Rep. Ronald Sarasin, R-Conn., as early favorite for the 1978 GOP nomination.

Gov. Ella T. Grasso is now the only Democratic candidate, but speculation persists she may not run or will face opposition for renomination.

SOUTH WINDSOR - Robert G. Marshall, 64, of 48 Heritage Drive, Windsor, formerly of South Windsor, died Friday at his home. He was the husband of Mrs. Anna Tebbitts Marshall.

Mr. Marshall was born in Hardwick, Vt., and had lived in South Windsor for 20 years before moving to Windsor a year ago. He was a Navy veteran of World War II. He had been employed at Pratt and Whitney Division of United Technologies Corp. before retiring in 1973.

He is also survived by four sons, Claude Marshall of East Windsor, Keith Marshall of Granby, James Marshall of Montpelier, Vt., and Robert Marshall of Goose Creek, Vt. Three daughters, Jane Griswold of Stafford Springs, Betty Ann Lewis of Easthampton, Mass., and Kathleen Chioakis of Portsmouth, N.H., a brother, Carruth Marshall of Simsbury, three sisters, Lena Murray of Craftsbury, Vt., Isabelle Miner of Albany, N.Y., and Pearl Weston of Cabot, Vt., three step-sisters, all in Vermont, 18 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The funeral is scheduled for 1 p.m. today at the United Church of Hardwick, Vt. Burial will be in Sanborn Hill Cemetery, Hardwick. The Carmon Funeral Home, 6 Popponesset Ave., Windsor, was in charge of local arrangements.

The family suggests that any memorials may be made to the American Cancer Society, 670 Prospect Ave., West Hartford.

William Wood

William Wood, 81, of 26 Woodland St., commander of Manchester Barracks, World War I Veteran, died Sunday at Manchester Memorial Hospital. He was the husband of Mrs. Esther Hatch Wood.

Mr. Wood was born in Darwen, England, and had lived in Hartford before coming to Manchester 44 years ago. He had been employed for many years at the Merrow Machine Co. of Hartford before retiring in 1961. He was a veteran of World War I. He was a member of Second Congregational Church, Manchester Senior Citizens and the American Association of Retired Persons.

He also belonged to Mt. Hope Lodge of Masons in Fall River, Mass., Tunxis Forest, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, of West Hartford, and Sphinx Temple Shrine, Hartford. He also was a member of the Sphinx Temple Drum Corps.

Other survivors are a stepson, William G. Brown of Manchester; a brother, John Wood of West Hartford; and two sisters, Mrs. Henry Moore of Hartford and Mrs. Arthur Boisseau of West Hartford.

The funeral is Wednesday at 11 a.m. at Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St. Burial will be in Rose Hill Memorial Park, Rocky Hill. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

About town

The family suggests that any memorials gifts may be made to the Shrine of Children's Hospital, Springfield, Mass.

Part-time night student wins MCC poetry contest

John Stanizzi of 9 Ridgewood St. is the winner of the 1977 Manchester Community College (MCC) student poetry contest. He was one of 13 entrants in the contest.

A part-time student in the liberal arts and sciences curriculum, Stanizzi attends college at night and works full time as a meter reader for the Rockville Water Company during the day. He has been writing poetry since he was a child. He has studied poetry at MCC and is a member of the MCC poetry workshop. He has given poetry readings at MCC, Foot Prints Gallery in Manchester, the Book Emporium in Willimantic and the Hartford Arts Festival.

German students honored

Three Manchester High School juniors were honored recently at a dinner in West Haven sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of German (AATG).

Photographs by Mark Brendel of McKinley Street are currently on display at the Picture Place at the Hartford Road campus building of Manchester Community College. The exhibit will remain there weekdays from 9:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. for the rest of this month.

Auto emission clinic scheduled Saturday

A free auto emissions clinic will be held Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon at Dwoin Chevrolet, Connecticut Boulevard in East Hartford. The clinic is sponsored by the conservation and safety committee of the Manchester and Junior Women's Club in cooperation with the Connecticut Lung Association.

As part of a program called "Project Smog," the emissions clinic will consist of motor vehicle emissions tests which will tell each motorist how efficiently his engine operates.

Penney status unknown in environment reviews

The State of Connecticut's elimination of the indirect source permit program and amendments to the federal Clean Air Act have created an uncertain state about environmental reviews for large development projects such as the J.C. Penney Co. center proposed for Manchester.

Earlier this year, the state dropped the indirect source permit for all development projects except highway projects and major airport improvements. The program originally had been established to weigh the effects on air quality from traffic generated by development.

Amendments to the federal Clean Air Act, however, were approved in August. Brian Kenny, of the state Department of Environmental Protection, said.

A letter from John Hinderger of the federal Environmental Protection Agency said that the EPA will not be able to approve a state plan revision unless it maintains the federal air quality standards.

"In those instances where state indirect source review regulations are not implemented, we would advise that a state or indirect source developers certainly risk possible litigation brought by citizens groups and others," Hinderger wrote in his letter to other departments of the EPA.

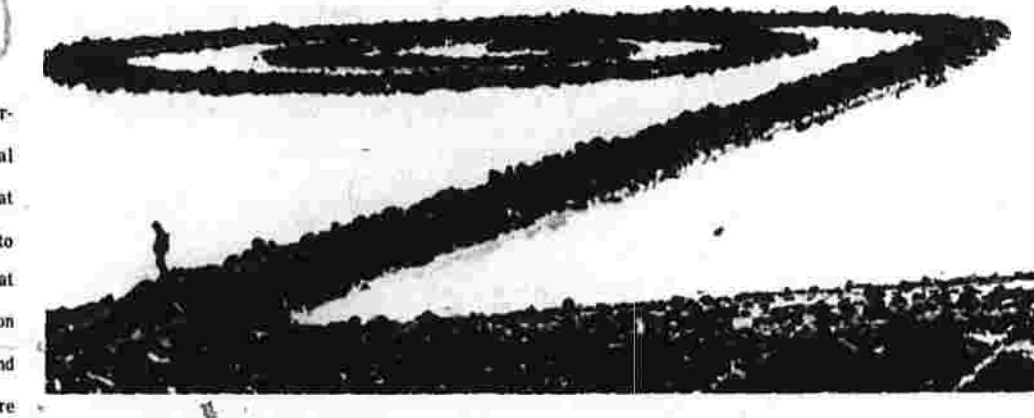

The federal government, however, has not provided funding for the implementation of indirect source programs.

Kenny said that the state will continue its present operation, not requiring indirect source permit reviews, except for highway and airport projects.

"We don't anticipate any changes in the program," he said. Bruce Beck, an attorney who represents clients in the state case concerning the proposed Penney project, said that he could not comment on whether federal action would be taken. He and his clients are waiting for the outcome of the state case in which they said the state Department of Commerce did not provide an adequate environmental review of the Penney project.

Earth-moving art

The Smithsonian's Hirshhorn Museum has opened an exhibit of art works which involved moving tons of rock and earth to create an effect. On display are models, photographs and drawings of 12 massive "land art" projects - structures which are built into the landscape and which integrate themselves with sun and moon, light and shadow.

One of the photos is this "Spiral Jetty," a 1,500-foot coil of earth and rocks which extends into the Great Salt Lake. It was created by the late Robert Smithson in 1970. (Photo copyright by Gianfranco Gorgoni/Contact via UPI)

Council sets hearing on Vernon insurance

A public hearing to consider an appropriation of $50,000 for the Municipal Insurance Account will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Memorial Building, Park Place.

The public hearing will precede the organizational meeting of the newly elected Town Council on Wednesday. The council budgeted $130,000 for insurance in the current budget but when the bills came in they were much higher than expected.

At its last meeting, the council voted to set Nov. 15 for the public hearing. The hearing will be followed by a special meeting to act on the additional appropriation.

The money, after approval of the town meeting, will be transferred from the debt interest account.

During the regular council meeting, the newly elected mayor, Frank McCoy, and council members, as well as those elected to the Board of Selectmen, will be sworn in by Town Clerk Henry Butler.

McCoy, who previously served three terms as mayor, will make his inaugural speech and then recommend a mayor pro tem for approval of the council. It is expected that long-time Republican Councilman Morgan Campbell will be named. He was highest vote-getter of the council candidates and also received more votes than McCoy.

The housing code inspector will discuss his monthly report and the council will hear a request from the director of social services, for a full-time social worker.

Jean T. Pearsall, director, is asking to have Kathleen Shotwell's hours expanded from a four-day week to a five-day week.

Mrs. Pearsall said that with the economic situation the way it stands in the Vernon area, Mrs. Shotwell's time is totally involved with the office.

She said the additional day will enable Mrs. Shotwell to spend time in the field, which was one of the original reasons for hiring a social worker.

Mrs. Pearsall said that when Mrs. Shotwell was hired in late October of 1976, the case load in Vernon totaled 39 which included 84 persons. She said the case load for October this year was 63 and involves 133 persons.

Mrs. Pearsall said a portion of the administrative cost is covered by the Title XX contract.

The Stone Age teams play Wednesdays and Thursdays. The A League is restricted to players 25 or older and the B League to those 30 or older.

All players in the Stone Age Leagues must be residents or taxpayers in Vernon or must work full time for the team sponsor.

Those wishing to join teams in any of the three leagues should attend the Tuesday meeting.

Artists will meet

The Tolland County Art Association will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Lottie Fisk Building, Henry Park. Guest speakers will be the artist and art teacher, Mrs. G. J. Goss.

Mrs. Sessions is a member of the Connecticut Artists' Guild, Connecticut Women Artists, the Connecticut Watercolor Society and the Connecticut Academy of Design and was recently elected to the American Watercolor Society. She has had her work exhibited in numerous shows.

Lecture series

Jerry W. Dabbs, senior advisor for the Connecticut Venereal Disease Control Program, a Vernon resident, will present a free lecture series in the Green Lecture Hall, University of Hartford, Nov. 22 at 11:30 a.m. He will discuss lesser known sexually transmitted diseases as well as major venereal diseases.

Dredge-fill program

The Tolland County Soil and Water Conservation District will sponsor a public informational meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Tolland Agricultural Center, Route 30, Vernon. The meeting will discuss the dredge or fill permit program of the Corps of Engineers. There will be a question and answer session.

South Windsor library to show cookie making

Cookie Capers, a cookie making program, will be presented by the South Windsor Public Library in conjunction with the Friends of the Library Thursday at 8 p.m. at St. Margaret Mary's Church, Hayes Rd.

The program will feature demonstrations of making fancy cookies, cookies for the holidays, and cookie specialties.

The making of cookie sleighs and turtle cookies will be demonstrated. The use of a cookie press will be demonstrated, and fun and fanciful cookie containers will be displayed.

The nutritional aspects of cookie making will be discussed by home economist, Jody Sievers and nutritionist, Linda Gades.

An "ethnic table" with favorite cookies from many countries will be highlighted. A demonstration of the use of special kinds of "cookie irons" or the making of cookies of Scandinavian and Italian origin will be given.

The library staff with the assistance of the Friends will compile the "Cookie Capers Cookbook," which will include recipes for all the cookies brought to the program. The cookbook will be a souvenir edition of the program and will be sold by the Friends of the Library at a later date. Anyone wishing to include a favorite cookie recipe in the cookie book need only bake a batch of cookies for the program and submit the recipe.

There is no admission charge and it is not necessary to bring cookies to attend the program.

received $889, which he split with an assistant, Joe Kukevich, who has since resigned.

Some of the complaints allege improper feeding of animals, dirty conditions, and mistreatment of dogs. However, resident Thomas Wells appeared at the council meeting and defended Schefisch, who said he had founded the state of a pack of dogs on Flanders Road.

In other business the council appointed Richard Cromie, Harold Crane, Donald Davis, David Roppie, and Gary Dogalet to the Insurance Advisory Committee. Cromie and Roppie are lawyers, and Dogalet is a member of the Board of Education.

The council also authorized Connolly to sign an agreement with the Highway Department's union, Local 1903 of the State, County, and Municipal Workers, AFL-CIO. The contract provides for a 30-cent-per-hour increase, which represents a 5.4 percent the second year.

Two children die in Thompson fire

THOMPSON (UPI) — Two small children died today when a smoky fire destroyed their third-floor apartment bedroom, volunteer firefighters said.

The ages and names of the children were not immediately available. They appeared to have been no more than four years old, authorities said.

James Kenyon, one of the firefighters at the scene in the North Governor Dale section, said the fire was reported about 9:30 a.m.

First indications suggested the fire may have been started by an electrical system failure. Damage was confined to the bedroom in the apartment, he said.

Kenyon said firefighters battled heavy smoke to get to the bedroom where the youngsters were found. He said the children were rushed to Day-Kimball Hospital in Putnam, and were given oxygen during the trip, but were pronounced dead on arrival.

Wall Street mergers increasing

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you knew the name of your brokerage firm yesterday, better call again — the company you were doing business with may have changed.

What the industry's trade group calls a "strong, persistent and dramatic increase in concentration" in Wall Street has been reflected in a number of recent securities firm combinations notable not only for their size but what they indicate for the future.

Robert Baldwin, newly elected chairman of the Securities Industry Association and head of the investment banking house of Morgan Stanley & Co., predicts five major brokerage firms will be involved in mergers in the next six months.

"I think it's scary because stocks have gone up and down so much," says Richard H. Jenrette, chairman of the Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette Inc. brokerage, about the reduction in securities firms.

"There will be less people out beating the bushes for new business and when there are few people out selling stocks, the stock market does poorly," Jenrette says.

Mergers, of course, are nothing new and are viewed by some as a healthy weeding out of the weak to produce a stronger industry overall.

There are 484 member firms of the New York Stock Exchange doing business with the public, but the number of firms has declined steadily in recent years, as has the securities industry workforce.

In 1969, personnel of NYSE members peaked at 185,000 and ended 1976 at 133,000. The number of NYSE organizations peaked at 681 in 1961.

More than these numbers though, the issue is the clumping among the industry giants, making the big bigger. Dean Witter Organization Inc., for example, recently announced the proposed acquisition of Reynolds Securities International Inc. that would produce the nation's second biggest brokerage behind Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith.

Loeb Rhodes & Co. and Hornblower, Weeks, Noyes & Trask Inc. also announced a merger that will put the new firm among the top five brokerages. And

Other merger factors have been the lackluster performance of the stock market and the possibility, dreaded by the industry, that the Securities and Exchange Commission will overturn rules requiring trades be made in exchange auction markets. This would mean securities firms will need large capital pools to compete in dealer markets.

How many more Wall Street marriages of convenience or necessity will follow also hinges on the Justice Department. An antitrust action is considered an ironic possibility in light of the government's unfixing of commission rates that spurred many mergers in the first place.

A backlash to mergers also may be in the works.

Some Wall Streeters not wishing to get lost in giant combinations have given signs they will strike out on their own and give birth to a new generation of small firms.

Today "Pancho" is a graduate of the National University of Mexico law school and the militant leader of a poor people's pressure group struggling for its share of land and public services in this teeming capital.

In 1962, Pancho was living in a shantytown on the city's undeveloped eastern fringe with 32,000 other families who paid two or three pesos a month to rent a scrap of land. Then the city government expropriated the entire area to build a housing project.

But Pancho refused to leave, and so far he has managed to foil government attempts to displace him and his neighbors.

"I used to tell them, 'Don't let anyone push you around.' And they said, 'We want you to go to school so you can be our leader.' I wanted to study medicine, but they told me they wanted me to be a lawyer so I could defend them."

In his long battle for the land, Pancho has survived two attempts on his life and a disastrous fire that burned his entire neighborhood to the ground. He has been thrown in jail at least 30 times.

He says he has also refused offers to join the system — including a seat in the chamber of deputies and a lucrative job with the state oil company.

Pancho holds forth in a working class neighborhood called the October 2 Campground, a slum of dusty streets and tin shacks near Mexico City's International Airport.

The campground is organized along semi-communal lines, with a cooperative brick factory, a community kitchen to feed volunteer workers, a clinic where consultations cost about $1.85, and a primary school named after Mao Tse-tung.

The whole area has been rebuilt since it was destroyed by fire in WASHINGTON (UPI) — In Washington, there seems to be Holiday Inn on every corner.

Indeed, there are 27 inns in the District of Columbia and the suburbs of Northern Virginia and Maryland.

"We haven't figured out how many there are per square mile," said Ann Wilson of Holiday Inn, Inc. in Memphis,

"But Washington has one of the highest numbers of inns for a metropolitan area."

Only Los Angeles and New York City — including Long Island — outnumber Washington with 29 inns each.

But there is good reason for the proliferation of inns in the nation's capital. It is a premium market because of the "economic and demographic variables which make up a good market are growing — such as the large number of trade association meetings and conventions taking place, office space absorption rates, extensive business and international business traveling," she said.

The district area was one of the top eight cities showing significant gains in sales, increase in room rates and room occupancy.

Poor people's hero fighting for land

By AROL COOK

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Francisco de la Cruz was an illiterate peasant from Oaxaca state who had failed at bullfighting and boxing when he decided — at age 32 — to become a lawyer.

Today "Pancho" is a graduate of the National University of Mexico law school and the militant leader of a poor people's pressure group struggling for its share of land and public services in this teeming capital.

In 1962, Pancho was living in a shantytown on the city's undeveloped eastern fringe with 32,000 other families who paid two or three pesos a month to rent a scrap of land. Then the city government expropriated the entire area to build a housing project.

But Pancho refused to leave, and so far he has managed to foil government attempts to displace him and his neighbors.

"I used to tell them, 'Don't let anyone push you around.' And they said, 'We want you to go to school so you can be our leader.' I wanted to study medicine, but they told me they wanted me to be a lawyer so I could defend them."

In his long battle for the land, Pancho has survived two attempts on his life and a disastrous fire that burned his entire neighborhood to the ground. He has been thrown in jail at least 30 times.

He says he has also refused offers to join the system — including a seat in the chamber of deputies and a lucrative job with the state oil company.

Pancho holds forth in a working class neighborhood called the October 2 Campground, a slum of dusty streets and tin shacks near Mexico City's International Airport.

The campground is organized along semi-communal lines, with a cooperative brick factory, a community kitchen to feed volunteer workers, a clinic where consultations cost about $1.85, and a primary school named after Mao Tse-tung.

The whole area has been rebuilt since it was destroyed by fire in

Churches back Panama treaty

By DAVID E. ANDERSON
UPI Religion Writer

Almost without exception, the national leadership of America's religious groups — Protestant, Catholic and Jew — have lined up in support of ratification of the recently negotiated Panama Canal treaties.

But whether that support can be translated into any sort of substantial support among grass roots Christians and Jews is yet to be seen.

It is an important question because it is on the grass roots level where the treaties are in trouble and most polls show that 90 per cent of the people are against any loosening of U.S. control over the waterway.

In addition, there has been a continuing gap since the Vietnam War between liberal religious executives and their more conservative constituencies on political positions.

Nevertheless, top executives from across the religious spectrum have announced their support, including the National Council of Churches, the American Jewish Committee, the United Methodist Church, the Friends Committee on National Legislation and the U.S. Catholic Conference.

Several of these groups have sent representatives to the Senate to testify on behalf of Senate ratification of the treaties.

One of the most interesting of the religious community witnesses to appear before the Senate committee holding hearings on the treaties was Roman Catholic Cardinal John Krol, archbishop of Philadelphia.

Krol is generally regarded as a conservative within the ranks of the Women's movies making comeback

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — For two decades now actresses have lamented the passing of romantic movie love stories or "women's pictures" while the screen has been filled with the hijinks and macho antics of leading men.

As a result, the dulllest category in the annual Oscar derby has been the Academy Award for best actress. Either the entries were desultory or foregone conclusions for the lack of competition.

Instead of boy meets girl, audiences have been barraged with pairs of roistering or contending males.

Paul Newman and Robert Redford were sure fire where once it was Bogart and Bacall or Gable and Turner.

The result has been disastrous for actresses. The list of top Hollywood female stars has been reduced to Barbra Streisand, Liza Minnelli and Jane Fonda, all of whom are Oscar winners.

The sexual revolution left producers in limbo. What to do with leading ladies?

Nobody would believe the passive fragile flowers of old, being thrown away for a prince charming. Movie-goers weren't prepared for women in action-adventure epics. Strident feminist roles appealed to neither sex.

"The Godfather," "The French Connection," "Towering Inferno," "Patton" and "Rocky" held marginal roles for women.

The recent obsession with violence left women in the roles of victims or possibly accessories in a New Yorker dramatic part for women in disaster epics.

And where was there room for a femme fatale in "Jaws" and "Star Wars"?

War pictures, science fiction and costumed romances were the only roles in decorative or marginal roles.

More often than not, when women did have prominent parts they were exploited as sex symbols. Nude scenes became de rigueur. While the feminist movement gained independence, dignity and rights for women all over the world, females became almost obsolete in movies.

In the past three Academy Awards the Oscars were won by Faye Dunaway ("Network"), Louise Fletcher ("One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest") and Ellen Burstyn ("Alice Doesn't Live Here Anymore").

All were outstanding performances and all were odds-on favorites. Also the actresses managed to keep their clothes on. Still, there simply were too few roles that warranted academy nominations.

This year, however, the ladies are enjoying a dramatic turnaround. Not since 1968, when Streisand and Katharine Hepburn tied for the Oscar, has the competition among leading ladies promised to be as keen or exciting as this year.

At least eight actresses are in the running for nominations, and not all of the best films of 1977 have been released.

Two pictures, "Turning Point" and "Julia," include outstanding performances by a pair of leading ladies. Shirley MacLaine and Anne Bancroft are stunning as a pair of ballerinas who choose different lifestyles in "Turning Point." Jane Fonda and Vanessa Redgrave share rave reviews for their poignant roles in "Julia."

Curiously, the males in both films are inconsequential — a complete reversal of a 20-year trend.

Newcomer Kathleen Quinlan is being touted by critics for a nomination for her sensitive role in "Never Promised You a Rose Garden."

Sophia Loren has weighed in for a nomination in an old-fashioned love story, with some new twists, in "A Very Special Day." She is teamed for the ninth time with Europe's darling of the boudoir, Marcello Mastroianni, who plays a homosexual in the story.

Sissy Spacek is another hot potential nominee for her role in "Three Women." In this picture, aimed at the distaff audience and in which the actors are little more than spear carriers.

Diane Keaton, long a foil in Woody Allen pictures, comes into her own as a dramatic star in "Waiting for Mr. Goodbar." Once again, the leading man takes a back seat.

Marthe Keller has won plaudits for her role as the dying beauty in "Bobby Deerfield." In this picture, however, the male lead, Al Pacino, provides something more than a sounding board for feminine histrionics.

While there appears to be no organized effort at appealing to the feminist movement or to social consciousness among movie producers, Hollywood is more responsive than ever to the boxoffice.

Whether the rebirth of "women's pictures" portends more such films in the future depends on what "Julia," "Three Women," "A Special Day," "Turning Point" and "Waiting for Mr. Goodbar" do at the turnstiles.

If they don't show big profits, there's still Jimmy Caan, Burt Reynolds, Newman, Redford, Hackman, Beatty, Bronson, Eastwood — and any combination of the above — waiting in the wings.

AT LAST, A PRECISION ENGINEERED GERMAN LUXURY CAR WITHOUT THE LUXURY PRICE.

If you've always wanted to own a fine German luxury sedan, but haven't felt like paying the high price, you now have an alternative. The Revolutionary new Audi 5000. Like the Mercedes 280SE ($21,687) and the BMW 530i ($13,620)* the Audi offers all the precision engineering, luxury and craftsmanship American drivers have come to expect from fine German sedans. But unlike Mercedes and BMW, the Audi 5000's price is a modest $9,195*.

On top of that, the new Audi gives you engineering features you just can't get from the other two. Like front-wheel drive for superb traction under any driving condition. And the world's first five-cylinder gasoline engine — a unique powerplant that combines the smoothness and performance of six cylinders with the economy of four. Can an automobile with such a modest price ever hope to seriously compete with such fine machinery as Mercedes and BMW? Well, consider this: In Germany (The home of Mercedes and BMW), the Audi 5000 is already the best-selling car in its class.

Fran Tarkenton's injury-free record shattered along with bone in his leg

NEW YORK (UPI) — Of all the records Fran Tarkenton holds, and there are at least a locker room full of them, the most remarkable may be his record against injuries.

After missing only one game because of an ailment, in 16 1/2 years in the National Football League, Tarkenton injured Sunday was sacked for a 12-yard loss by defensive end Gary Barley that resulted in a fractured tibia, the smaller of the two bones between his right knee and foot. He likely will be out for the remainder of the season.

His injury took much of the satisfaction out of Minnesota's important 42-10 victory over the Cincinnati Bengals, which kept the Vikings two games in front in the NFC Central.

Tarkenton ironically was headed for another record when the injury occurred. He had completed 17-of-18 passes for a 94 percent completion rate. Cincinnati's Ken Anderson once completed 20-of-31 per cent of his passes in a single game, but Tarkenton needed to attempt at least 20 passes to qualify for the mark.

Rookie Tommy Kramer replaced Tarkenton and led the Vikings to three touchdowns in the fourth quarter, including a 6-yard scoring pass to Brent McClanahan, to complete the rout. Foreman rushed 29 times for 133 yards and three touchdowns to help send Cincinnati to its fifth win in six games.

Cincinnati managed only a 94-yard touchdown pass from Anderson to Billy Brooks and a 25-yard field goal by Chris Bahr, both scores coming in the second quarter.

"The Vikings consumed us both ways and there's not a lot more I can say," Cincinnati Coach Bill Johnson said.

Colts 31, Bills 13
Lyell Mitchell ran for touchdowns of five and 15 yards and had a total of 82 yards rushing for Baltimore, 8-1 atop the AFC East. The Colts intercepted three passes from the Colts in the fourth quarter.

place tie with the Browns in the AFC Central. Bradshaw, who left the game with an injured shoulder in the fourth quarter, offset a strong performance by Cleveland reserve quarterback Dave Mays. Mays, who replaced injured Brian Sipe in the first quarter, completed 17 passes for 289 yards and threw four-quarter touchdowns of 5, 13 and 3 yards to Larry Poole.

Atlanta used two fourth-quarter turnovers to rally from a 6-3 deficit. Middle linebacker Ralph Ortega scooped up a Rick Kane fumble and ran 14 yards to give the Falcons a 10-6 lead with 8:02 left. Falcons' linebacker Robert Pennywell added the clincher with 56 seconds left.

Redskins 17, Eagles 14
Mark Moseley kicked a team record 54-yard field goal with 3:41 to keep Washington's flicking play alive. Joe Theismann, who threw for two touchdowns in the second half, engineered Washington's winning drive from his own 36.

Bears 28, Chiefs 27
Bob Avellini threw a 37-yard scoring pass to Greg Latta with three seconds to play to rally Chicago for its victory. Walter Payton, who became the first NFL running back to exceed 1,000 yards this season by gaining 119 yards, scored three touchdowns.

Rams 24, Packers 6
The Los Angeles Rams used a strong running attack and Pat Haden's 6-yard TD pass to Terry Nelson to take a 17-0 halftime lead. The victory was the Rams' first on the road this season.

49ers 10, Saints 7, at
Ray Wersching, who missed two field goals earlier in the game, kicked a 33-yarder with 6:33 gone in overtime to give San Francisco, 4-5, its fourth straight victory. Running backs Wilbur Jackson and Delvin Williams sparked the 49ers' winning drive, which covered 59 yards in nine plays.

Broncos 17, Chargers 14
Craig Morton hit wide receiver Haven Moses with a pair of second-half touchdowns passes, the second with just 1:30 left, to rally Denver tied Oakland at 8-1 atop the AFC West. Denver reduced San Diego's 143 halftime lead when Morton hit Moses with a 33-yard scoring pass.

Haitiers 34, Houston 29
Ken Stabler completed 23 passes for 255 yards and two touchdowns and Willie Brown and Jack Tatum intercepted fourth-quarter passes by Houston quarterback Dan Pastorini.

Bucs blow chances in loss to Giants

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — The inability of Tampa Bay to score despite repeated forays deep into New York Giant territory, combined with mental and execution errors, doomed the Buccaneers early to their 23rd consecutive loss.

"We couldn't score against a strong wind," a disgruntled John McKay said after the Giants pinned a 10-0 loss on the winless Bucs Sunday before 46,518 fans.

"It is absolutely ridiculous for us not to score today," he said.

And while McKay wondered about the lack of offense of the Bucs, his rival across the field, John McKay, had much the same problem. The only Giant touchdown came as a gift from the Bucs and the Giants added a field goal for their only scoring.

Midway through the first period, Tampa's Dave Green stepped back to punt with the ball on the Tampa 20.

NFL

intercepted three Joe Ferguson passes and recovered two Buffalo fumbles with three of the turnovers leading to Colts' scores. Ferguson was also sacked 10 times, a Baltimore record. Steelers 35, Browns 31
Terry Bradshaw passed for 283 yards and three touchdowns, including two to John Stallworth, to lead Pittsburgh back into a first-touchdown rather than a field goal. Bell was stopped at the 3 and the Giants took over.

The Bucs drove to the Giant 10 before Job Blount was intercepted by Brad Van Pelt at the 6; they drove to the 11, only to lose on downs; they drove to the 12 and Allan Levitt missed a 28-yard field goal attempt; they drove to the 11 and after Blount was sacked Levitt missed a 42-yard field goal attempt, they drove to the 10; they drove to the 3 but Anthony Davis fumbled and the Giants recovered on the 7, and as the gun sounded Blount was intercepted at the Giant 7.

"I thought our defense was absolutely spectacular," McKay said.

The Giant's took a lead into the locker room at halftime when Danelo kicked a 43-yard field goal with 38 seconds to play, but then blew two scoring opportunities in the second half.

Danelo's field goal was set up by the passing of Joe Pisarcik, who hit 6 passes for 83 yards while having one intercepted. He hit three of his passes in that drive — a 28-yarder to Gary Shirk, an 18-yarder to Jimmy Robinson and an 8-yarder to Shirk.

The Giants drove to the Tampa 15 in the third period, but Danelo was wide left on a 32-yard field goal attempt, and in the fourth period the Giants got to the Tampa 17 where a Hammond fumble was recovered by Tampa.

Blount far surpassed Pisarcik in statistics, completing 13 of 26 passes for 234 yards. But he was intercepted three times and sacked six times, twice by tackle John Mendenhall.

Jets' coach bitter after latest defeat

NEW YORK (UPI) — It was the sweetest possible victory for the Seattle Seahawks but it left a bitter taste in the mouth of New York Jets coach Walt Michaels.

Jim Zorn threw two touchdowns passes through the swirling, gusting winds at Shea Stadium and Seattle's swarming defense turned in the first period of play when normal strategy would call for running plays to spark Seattle to its club record third victory against six losses.

The Jets, who played without injured quarterback Richard Todd, lost their fifth straight game and fell to 2-7.

Seattle entered the game having allowed the most points in the NFL—241—but the Seahawk defense bottled up Todd's replacement, Marty Domres, and third-stringer Matt

Miami defense stops Patriots

MIAMI (UPI) — The Miami Dolphins played such solid team defense in their 17-5 win over New England Sunday, Coach Don Shula couldn't decide who should get the game ball.

"So be compromised and awarded it to the entire defensive unit," Shula said.

"It's tough to pick out anybody on defense, because it took so many big plays by so many people," Shula said.

The victory kept Miami (7-2) within a game of Baltimore, the leader in the AFC Eastern Division, but dropped the Pats record to 5-4 and all but knocked them out of playoff contention.

"It doesn't make the playoff picture very bright, not only from the standpoint of our record, but from the standpoint of the records of the other teams involved," said Patriot Coach Chuck Fairbanks.

Among the big plays by the Miami defense was a blocked punt by rookie defensive end A.J. Dube, that set up Garo Yepremian's 31-yard, 32-yard touchdown pass from Bob Griese to Nat Moore.

"I noticed earlier on a punt that the guy playing me was responsible for going down on coverage and released his block real quick," Dube recalled.

"I told Shula and he said to me my own judgment, so on the next punt the guy took off, and I got the block."

Another big defensive play came from veteran defensive Vern Den Herder who sacked Pat quarterback Steve Grogan for a seven-yard loss, forcing a Patriot field goal from the 18 in the last quarter. Charlie Babb choked off a promising New England

Talented Dallas next for Cards

IRVING, Texas (UPI) — Dallas may own the leading offense and the top defense in the National Football League, but St. Louis Cardinals coach Don Coryell knows the Cowboys can win with their "third" team.

"They dominate you in every way," said Coryell. "They beat us on the speciality teams when we played them the first time."

Dallas' speciality teams have produced a touchdown in two of the last three games and will be just another annoyance to the Cardinals tonight, in their crucial meeting before the national television cameras.

The Cowboys, 8-0, have a three-game lead on the Cardinals in the NFC East and a victory for Dallas would move the division leaders to within one victory of a division championship. And St. Louis loss would push the Cardinals back into a second-place tie with Washington and give the Redskins renewed hope in their battle for a playoff spot.

A wide open game is in prospect since the Cowboys and Cardinals rank as the top two offensive teams in the NFL.

"When you get the controls for Dallas — quarterback Roger Staubach — is threatening to have his best season ever."

"Roger is my idea of an ideal," Coryell said. "He is a fierce competitor. He is a little surprised." said Zorn, who completed 16-of-37 passes

USC bowl hopes buried in defeat

NEW YORK (UPI) — Since 1967, Southern Cal has dominated college football on the West Coast.

At the start of the 1977-78 football season, it appeared as if USC's supremacy would assert itself again — the Trojans topped the national rankings for the first four weeks, but then came losses to Alabama, Notre Dame — and now to Washington.

Quarterback Warren Moon singlehandedly buried Southern Cal's hopes of gaining their ninth Rose Bowl berth in 11 years as he ran 71 yards for one touchdown, two for another and passed 19 yards to Spider Games for a third, to lead the Huskies to a 28-10 victory.

The Trojans, seemingly despairing, lost three fumbles, had two punts blocked and were intercepted three times.

"We seemed bent on self-destruction," said USC Coach John Robinson. "Every time I looked up the Huskies were on our 20-yard line."

Now it looks as though UCLA has the best shot to win the Pac-8 title and go to the Rose Bowl, which the Bruins have managed to accomplish only twice in the past 12 years.

UCLA Saturday made Oregon State its fifth straight Pac-8 victim, 48-18, and jumped into a first-place tie with Washington with one game left to play.

The Bruins are now in the best position to win the title, however — they have to beat USC in the season-ending game on Nov. 25 to do it and the Rose Bowl is theirs.

Washington, on the other hand, must beat Washington State this Should Ohio State win at Ann Arbor, the Buckeyes are all set. If Michigan wins, however, they will get the nod even though the teams still share 7-1 records.

In other games involving top 10 teams, No. 1 Texas beat Texas Christian University, 44-14; No. 2 Alabama downed Miami (Fla.), 36-9; No. 3 Oklahoma defeated Colorado, 52-14; No. 5 Notre Dame squeaked by Clemson, 21-17; No. 7 Arkansas beat Texas A&M, 26-20; No. 8 Penn State crushed Temple, 44-7; No. 9 Pittsburgh downed Army, 52-26, and No. 10

Three stars???
Some hockey buffs wait around each World Hockey Association game at the Hartford Civic Center to await the naming of the game's three stars — the top trio of players in that particular game.

"Anyone of the 10,351 fans on hand for the New England Whalers' game against the Indianapolis Racers last Saturday night could have made a better choice than the man selected, Mike Antonovich.

"There were at least a dozen members of the Whalers, who enjoyed better games, and at least half that number of visiting players whose performances rated top consideration.

"Dave Keon, in this man's opinion, was by far the top player on the ice. But in the popularity contest, which the three star balloting is, and has been, rated no. 2.

Keon, 37, one of the old guard with the Whalers along with 40-year-old Gordie Howe and 40-year-old Johnny McKenzie, was superb in all his ice appearances.

He scored two of the goals in the hard-fought 5-3 decision before the largest crowd of the year.

Talented Rham pummels Bethel

By LEN AUSTER
HERALD Sports Editor

Talent and plenty of it. Rham High showed its abundance of soccer skills Saturday morning as it routed mercifully pummeled Bethel High, 11-0, at Cromwell High. The victory moved the second-ranked 11-1 Sachems into the semifinals of the Class M Division in the CIAC State Tournament.

Bethel, 10th seed and only in its second year on the varsity level, bows out at 10-4-2. The Wildcats were decisively outclassed by the high-scoring Sachems who have accounted for 77 goals.

Rham, semifinalists in the 5 Division in 1974, will face 11th-ranked Farmington High Wednesday afternoon at 2:15 in the round of four at Cromwell High. The winner advances to the 1977 championship title Saturday against either Valley Regional or Suffield at a site to be announced.

Rham scored at the 2:05 mark of the first half and added four more before intermission. The Sachems, with a sprinkling of reserves, continued the attack until the final whistle marking six times in the closing 35 minutes.

The first goal was a beauty. Jamie Bunker on the right wing sent a left-footed cross to the middle. Scott Cahill settled the ball, stopping it dead, and Tom Gardner with a full head of steam fired a rocket into the back of the cage.

Gardner had two more tallies, bringing his season total of 18. Bunker, Tim Fisher and Mike Ryan each added two goals and Cahill and Chuck Long one each. Sachem netminder Todd Krowman had an easy time with four saves.

"Maybe they (Rham) are trying to build momentum," Bethel Coach Frank Sells stated, not wishing to make an issue, "I can understand it

Fermi scores early to blank Tribe, 7-0

With freshman Claire Viola setting two school and one state record, East Catholic garnered fourth place in the state Class M Girls Swim Championship Meet Saturday night at Foran High in Milford.

The Eagles totaled 121 points as Sheehan High of Wallingford successfully defended with a total of 221 points. Newtown was second at 179 and Weston third at 174.

Manchester High took 10th place in the 15-team field at the Class LL Meet at Hamden High. The CCIL titlists finished with 28 points.

Claire Viola shattered her own and state Class M record in the 100-yard freestyle with a 2:04.8 clocking, eclipsing her previous best by 2.2 seconds. She also shattered the record in the 200-yard freestyle with a 4:06.3 clocking while the 200-yard medley relay quartet of Leslie Scott, Jane Jordan, McArdie and Mazzotta placed 10th.

secured fifth place in the 200-yard freestyle.

Kelli Dakin took seventh place in the 100-yard freestyle for East while Jane Price was seventh in the 100-yard freestyle. Kathy Viola garnered eighth placement in the 100 backstroke. Allison Lanois and Anne Tuller took seventh and 10th places respectively in diving.

The 200-yard medley relay team of Kathy Viola, Dakin, Julie Tucker and Price finished fourth with a 2:04.8 clocking. The 400-yard free relay quartet of Price, Anderson and Kathy and Claire Viola secured third place with a 4:01.8 clocking. Eighteen teams competed in the M Meet.

At the LL Meet, Manchester junior Chris White placed sixth in the 100-yard freestyle with a 58.8 clocking and 11th in the 50-yard freestyle at 27.0. Senior McArdie was 12th in the 100-yard butterfly.

The 400-yard freestyle relay team of Sandy Beupre, Melissa Gagan, Tess Mazzotta and Claire Viola was fourth with a 4:06.3 clocking while the 200-yard medley relay quartet of Leslie Scott, Jane Jordan, McArdie and Mazzotta placed 10th.

Islander arrested
HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (UPI) — Jude Drouin, center for the New York Islanders, was arrested Saturday near his home for allegedly spraying a youth with Mace.

Drouin reportedly pulled over a car carrying a group of college students and sprayed one of the passengers with Mace, because he thought they were trying to harass him when they passed his home.

Bone spurs bother White

BOSTON (UPI) — The pain of bone spurs is more appealing to Boston Celtics guard Jo Jo White than the risk of surgery to remove them.

"The pain is just something I have to live with. It just takes time," said the veteran guard, who left the Celtics Thursday in what he said was a move to join the team, then rejoined the club the next day.

White said he had discussed the bone spurs, which have been a problem for over a year, with Celtics President and General Manager Red Auerbach when the two met Friday to talk. But the nine-year NBA professional said the subject of foot surgery never came up.

Celtics Coach Tom Heinsohn noted bone spur removal is very painful and not a certain cure.

"The scar tissue which develops after the operation is every bit as painful as the bone spur," he said. "That part of the foot is very sensitive and it takes a long time to heal, as well as the endurance of a lot of pain after an operation."

White, who was in the lineup for the Celtics' game Sunday at Milwaukee, said he thinks he did the right thing in quitting the team, although he did rejoin.

Batman and Robin
NEW HAVEN (UPI) — They're the Ivy League's version of Batman and Robin.

Yale halfback John Pagliaro, who's been making life tough for Harvard and the rest of the Ivy League for the past three years, teamed up with hometown sidekick Mike Sullivan Saturday to lead the Eli to a 24-7 victory over Harvard and their first outright league title in a decade.

The Dawky (Conn.) duo stole the show in the 94th edition of THE game. Pagliaro rolled up 172 yards and scored one touchdown in closing out his college career as the second top running back in Yale history.

Plans setback
MUNICH, West Germany (UPI) — World automobile racing champion Niki Lauda of Austria called for cutting back the number of Formula 1 Grand Prix races Sunday, saying that a dozen races a year were enough.

"From a physical and technological point of view, the fact that 17 Grand Prix races are just too many," Lauda said.

Lauda said that although the cars were safe from a technical point of view, "for the drivers, the physical burden is just too heavy."

Havlicek paces Celtics; third on NBA point list

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jerry West into third place on the all-time National Basketball Association career scoring list with 25,193 points.

Havlicek was a key figure in the Boston Celtics' breakthrough season that broke over the Celtics last week with General Manager Red Auerbach claiming his players were "quitters" and the great clutch player of championship teams being beset by injuries.

The problem apparently was resolved Sunday night, however, when Havlicek scored 15 points — four in overtime — and the Celtics scored a 127-119 victory over the Milwaukee Bucks.

It was only the Celtics' first win in six games on the road this season and their third victory in 11 games overall.

Havlicek's performance enabled him to move past Jerry West into third place on the all-time National Basketball Association career scoring list with 25,193 points.

Reaction of crowd angers net champs

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — There was a bit of poor sportsmanship on the part of America's players in this year's Wightman Cup matches.

Here Chris Evert, Billie Jean King and Rosie Casals were combining their vast talents to beat a British team, which included Virginia Wade and Sue Barker, 7-0, for the first sweep in 23 years, and complaining the crowd didn't cheer them long enough or often enough.

The more than 23,000 fans who turned out for the matches at the Oakland Coliseum on three nights last week, seemed non-partisan in their rooting, but isn't that what international play is supposed to be all about?

Who beat Barker on Tuesday and Wade in a classic match Saturday, said, "I just don't understand American tennis fans. Don't they realize that when they cheer it helps our play?"

The way King and Evert, who beat Wade and Barker, and Casals, who beat Michele Tyler and another player with Evert for a concluding doubles match that clinched the contest, played, obviously the crowd's reaction didn't hurt one bit.

Saturday night, as Wade and King battled for two hours and 23 minutes

Islanders in shutout

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Islanders, who love to pick on the Washington Capitals, were shut out 3-0 Thursday, after they clinched the 1-1 series at 4-0, that would play for the sweep. I'm sorry Kirk didn't get a chance to play, but the record means something, too.

About the only regret on the American side was the fact that Shaw never played. JoAnne Russell teamed with King for the other doubles victory.

"I can't understand the crowd," Evert said. "I couldn't believe they rooted for the British.... No matter what, it was the first sweep in 23 years and all of us are proud of the accomplishment. It was a matter of pride for us and we got what we want after."

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 36-year-old virgin who is just about ready to climb a wall. I'm not looking for a husband, but I'm not looking for a wife either. I'm just looking for a man to love and be loved by.

DEAR ONLY: I wouldn't call a 36-year-old virgin a "tramp" for deciding to live a little before she died. It's wrong only if you hurt yourself, someone else, or if you feel it's wrong for any reason.

DEAR ABBY: I have a good friend who is getting on my nerves. She herself doesn't drive, but when she rides with me she insists on telling me how to drive, what to do, when to "stop," where to turn, when to slow down, where to park - and if there's enough room to park. Her sudden warnings to "look out" startle me, causing me to stop abruptly, which could cause an accident.

DEAR FED: Never mind her feelings. Few backseat drivers are aware of their nervous habit, so don't rely on a general warning to let her know to get this important message to your friend. Tell her yourself - and emphatically. The lives you save could be yours and hers.

DEAR ABBY: Is it no longer considered "good etiquette" to call and thank one's hostess after a lovely dinner party?

DEAR OLD-FASHIONED: The well-mannered guest always telephones the hostess within a day or two to express thanks. The expert-practice goes always writes a "thank-you" note promptly. Those who neither call nor write are thoughtless, lazy or ignorant.

Astro-graph

PIGIES (Feb. 26-March 20) Today should be fun and games, but keep an eye on the clock. Too late a night will cause regrets tomorrow.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Big issues won't dismay you today, but more so as a friend than a lover. Don't misinterpret harmless compliments for something serious.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Financial prospects are mixed today. Your gains will outweigh losses, but they could be even greater if your wife were present moneywise.
