Outside today

Cloudy Saturday with chance of snow developing towards evening, high in the low 30s. Snow Saturday night becoming mixed with sleet and freezing rain Sunday before changing to rain. Low Saturday night in the 20s. Winds Saturday northerly 10 mph, becoming northeast 10 mph to 15 mph during the afternoon, northeast to east 10 mph to 20 mph Saturday night.

Summary

MADRID, Spain (UPI) — A bus carrying 59 young Spanish marines on New Year's Eve collided head-on with a 22-ton grain truck on a rain-slicked highway Friday, killing 24 persons and injuring 30.

The bus split in two, spilling dead and injured along the roadway.

Police said 22 marines and the drivers of the bus and truck were killed. Thirty marines were injured, seven critically.

HARTFORD (UPI) — Rep. Toby Moffett, D-Conn., said Friday governors from Oklahoma to Florida have been writing to him in response to his warning on potential home insulation hazards.

Moffett sent letters to officials in all 50 states, warning of potential health, financial and fire hazards, along with metal pipe and structural beam corrosion, inherent in the use of poorly installed or inadequately treated insulation materials.

OCEANPORT, N.J. (UPI) — Residents along the New Jersey shore were startled Friday by what they thought was a new round of mysterious explosions off the coast but this time there was an explanation — the Army was doing a little practice cannon firing.

Police switchboards in Oceanport and neighboring communities were swamped by calls from residents reporting the series of four explosions shortly after 9 a.m.

ATLANTA (UPI) — Influenza is cropping up in every section of the nation, but flu deaths so far this season have not been exceptionally high, federal health officials said Friday.

The national Center for Disease Control said flu had been reported in 17 states and Puerto Rico and that in four states — New Jersey, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and Tennessee — the outbreaks have been widespread.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Talks aimed at ending a nationwide soft coal strike collapsed Friday and the chief federal mediator said prospects of ending the 25-day-old walkout were very discouraging.

Negotiations began as usual at 10 a.m. but ended abruptly at midday. A spokesman for the Federal Mediation Service said the talks "recessed indefinitely" with no date set for resumption.

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Apparently trying to placate an angry Anwar Sadat, President Carter said Friday he would consider meeting the Egyptian president during his six-nation trip if it is "mutually convenient and desirable."

Reiterating he has no intention of imposing a Middle East settlement on Arab and Jew, Carter told a historic news conference there is no present plan to meet Sadat in Cairo, but "We will try to keep our schedule flexible. If it is mutually convenient and desirable, we would certainly consider it."

KANSAS CITY, Kan. — A federal judge cleared the way Friday for President Carter to return the Crown of St. Stephen to Hungary without the approval of the U.S. Senate. District Judge Earl O'Connor threw out a suit filed last week by Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan, the 1976 GOP vice presidential nominee.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — A Public Utilities Commission investigation into the economics of nuclear energy will be in-depth and unbiased, Chairman Edward F. Burke said Friday.

"We want to make sure the study will cover all aspects of the economics of nuclear power and give all recognized experts in the field an opportunity to present testimony," Burke said at a news conference.

Water sidetracked for construction

Water gushes from a pump system being used to divert water from the White Brook storm drainage project at Robertson Park. Jay Giles, director of public works, said that water has been flowing into the newly installed pipes because of the high water level in the area. The pump system helps remove the water from the pipes so that work can continue. The water problem has caused some delays, but work should be finished by the end of next week, Giles said. J.C. Penney to move fill from park site

The J.C. Penney Co. wants to have about 200,000 cubic yards of soil removed from its proposed 162-acre site in Manchester.

The firm plans to locate a two-million square foot catalog distribution center in town. The building would be the major one in the town's proposed industrial park.

Jay Giles, director of public works, said that the firm feels there is about 200,000 cubic yards of soil that is unsuitable for development at the site.

This will have to be removed, Giles said. J.C. Penney will take care of the bidding process for the removal, he said.

The company also will pay for the actual removal of the material. The soil may be stored on other property at the industrial park site, Giles said.

Or, the Town of Manchester might decide to use it as fill at the sanitary landfill. If this happens, the town will pay the cost of transporting it from the J.C. Penney site to the dump.

The town also has an agreement with the Town of South Windsor that would permit that town to acquire some of the fill for its landfill, Giles said.

If this happened, South Windsor would pay the transporting costs, he said.

Park to testify, gets immunity

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Korean businessman Tongsun Park has agreed to return to the United States under full immunity from prosecution to give evidence in the Capitol Hill payoff scandal, the Justice Department announced Friday.

Assistant Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti, announcing the agreement at a news conference, said he will interrogate Park in Seoul next week and that Park may testify at the trial of former Rep. Richard Hanna, D-Calif., in connection with the scandal.

Civiletti also left open the possibility that Park could be subpoenaed by the House Intelligence Committee for its investigation of allegations that Park and others paid off some present and former members of Congress for their votes favorable to South Korea.

Civiletti, who has handled the Justice Department end of negotiations to bring Park back, said he plans to leave for

Civiletti, who has handled the Justice Department end of negotiations to bring Park back, said he plans to leave for Seoul about Jan. 6 for questioning of him expected to last about two weeks.

The negotiations, needed because the two countries do not have an extradition treaty, have been going on about four months and have strained relations between Washington and Seoul.

Civiletti said Park would testify under oath in the presence of both American and Korean Justice Department officials, and that lie detectors would be used if necessary.

Civiletti insisted that the understandings signed late Friday would not preclude the congressional committee from subpoenaing Park. But he expressed hope that this would not interfere with the criminal investigation and trial.

"We would contemplate Mr. Park's appearance in the trial of Richard Hanna, should we feel it is necessary and his evidence is probatory and important," Civiletti said.

Park also could implicate other present and former lawmakers. One of his close associates has said these could number 15 to 20.

Civiletti said he had no idea how many congressional figures might be involved in any cases resulting from Park's testimony. "I don't know the answer to that," he said. "It would be inappropriate for me to be speculative as to the number."

But he said if any indictments were forthcoming as a result of the interrogation or grand jury action, Park would be available to testify in any court action if necessary.

The agreement signed in Seoul and made available in Washington said prior to his interrogation Park and Justice Department officials would sign a memorandum of understanding in which Park agreed "to give

Leonard says probe going on two years

HARTFORD (UPI) — State Police Commissioner Edward P. Leonard Friday said his department has been investigating alleged corruption by Stamford city officials for more than two years.

The statement was made in response to newspaper reports that Leonard had called off the investigation despite pleas by his detectives to continue.

A state police spokesman said a federal grand jury has been convened in New Haven to investigate the charges and the state police has given information to that grand jury.

The spokesman distributed a statement containing Leonard's explanation.

The spokesman said the detective division of the state police was, indeed, told by Leonard to stop an investigation it started in 1975. The spokesman said, though, that Leonard told two other divisions to take over.

The spokesman said Leonard believed the other two divisions were better equipped to handle the long-term investigation. The investigation

Town poll shows Killian favored

A "preference poll" taken of Manchester's Democratic Town Committee has shown that 75 percent of the members support Robert Killian as the party's gubernatorial candidate in 1978.

The poll was by Paul Phillips, town committee treasurer. Phillips said that the poll asked members whether they prefer Gov. Ella Grasso or Lt. Gov. Killian as the party's candidate for Governor in 1978.

Three out of four members said that they prefer Killian. There are 80 members on the Town Committee.

Nine out of the 10 district chairmen who conducted the survey also preferred Killian.

Grasso is expected to seek reelection to the Governor's post.

Killian has not yet announced that he is running for Governor, but he is expected to do so.

Mayor Stephen Penny said, "I'm kind of leaving my options open." But he also said that when the survey was taken he leaned towards Killian. "I'm probably still in that same position."

Another prominent local Democrat, who preferred not to be identified, said he indicated a preference for Killian in the poll.

Ted Cummings, Democratic Town Chairman, did not take a stance and was not involved in the polling.

Holiday closings

The Town of Manchester's Municipal Building will be closed Monday in observance of New Year's Day. Emergency telephone numbers for the day are as follows: highway, 649-5070; refuse, 649-1888; and sanitary sewer and water, 649-9697. The Herald will not be published Monday. Have a happy new year.

Finnegan's two foul shots gives Indians win on road

Stepping up calmly to the 15-foot foul line with just three seconds remaining and the score deadlocked, Bill Finnegan dropped in both ends of a one-and-one situation to propel Manchester High to a thrilling 56-54 decision over Wethersfield High last night in Wethersfield.

The points were the only two Finnegan scored in the CCLL meeting which saw Coach Doug Pearson's team stage a fine uphill battle in the second half to notch the road success.

Each team entered play with identical 2-2 records in CCLL warfare. Manchester is now 3-3 overall and the Eagles skidded to 2-5.

Big gun for the rejuvenated Indians, whose starting lineup was shuffled in an attempt to get back on the winning track, was John Haslett. The rangy sophomore led the scoring parade with 18 points, including seven baskets.

Scott Hyde regained his scoring eye and dropped in 14 tallies. He also led the Tribe with eight rebounds. Offensive standouts for the losers were Joe Grodovick and Larry White with 18 and 12 points respectively.

The Eagles led at the first two buzzer, 16-12 and 32-25, but just before the third period ended, Manchester knotted the count and went ahead only to trail with eight minutes left, 44-42.

It was nip and tuck over the first five minutes of the final stanza before Steve McKenzie's hoop and foul try erected a three-point edge for the Indians.

The home five battled back and tied the count with less than a minute remaining. Stalling for the last shot, Finnegan was fouled with three ticks showing. Wethersfield called two consecutive timeouts in an attempt to force the senior guard but Finnegan was to the situation. Took the ball, dipped and dropped in both tries to snap the tie and send Manchester followers home happy.

Cheney bows in overtime

Rallying from a seven-point deficit after three quarters, Cheney Tech knotted it at the end of regulation only to drop a hotly disputed 58-55 COC decision to Portland High last night in Portland.

The Highlanders now show a 4-0 record while Cheney is 3-3 in the COC and 1-3 in all games.

Cheney led at the end of one quarter, 14-6, only to see Portland knock it out at 28-24 at the half. The hosts marched out to a 40-33 lead after three stanzas only to have the Beavers tie it at 52-52 at the end of 32 minutes of play.

Beaver Coach Gerry Blanchard was greatly incensed at the officiating claiming "they (Portland) beat us to death... We got the short end of the stick. Except for two games, I feel I've been getting the worst officiating I've had in my 12 years of coaching. And I've written a letter and I'm going to get as specific as I can. My players are getting beat up."

Jeff Weiner and Tom Manning paced Portland with 18 and 10 markers respectively while Kevin Tyler (19) and Bernie Ertel (11) paced Cheney.

Matmen score win

Capturing nine weight divisions, Manchester High's wrestling team won Rockville, 51-9, yesterday at Clarke Arena.

The Indian matmen, now 1-1 for the season, took seven victories with pins. Dan Collins, Brian Colbath, Steve Parrott, Chris Lux, Doug Marshall, Bob Gagnon and Tim Wrobel all won by pin with sophomore Keith Ray, back after an injury, winning by decision.

Mike Scholky wrestled well against two-time state champ Bill DiPietro before bowing by a 4-1 decision.

Fifth straight Penney victory

Rolling up its fifth straight win after an opening defeat, Penney High tripped up Simsbury last night at Penney, 48-39.

Once again Lindsay James was the big gun with 14 points. He was the only Penney player in twin figures although the Knights had balanced scoring and a tight defense in the CCLL.

After holding an 11-8 margin at the period, Penney raced to a 25-12 halftime edge. Defense took over for the winners in the third canto with Simsbury being limited to seven points while the home club raced to a commanding 35-19 edge at the buzzer.

Unbeaten South Windsor rolled to its seventh straight victory with a 52-22 duke over East Catholic in girls' basketball action yesterday in South Windsor.

The Lady Bobcats took an 11-4 advantage after the first turn and led 22-9 at the intermission. The winners had a 44-19 edge heading into the final canto.

Jill Snyder and Tracy Fidler each had 10 points for South Windsor with Sue Callahan pumping in a game-high 12. Gretchen Lindberg had 9 markers and Sue Freiheit had 8 for the 3-3 Eaglettes with sophomore Sue Dalley, getting her first varsity start.

Schoolboy attendance off

By LEN AUSTER
Herald Staff Writer

There is a phenomenon going on in this town — and others. It's known as lack of attendance at schoolboy sporting events.

The change has been going on now for some time but only in the last two or three years has it become particularly noticeable.

Football last season didn't meet with success on the field or at the gate either. One explanation definitely is that neither East Catholic nor Manchester offered an attractive product. That's not the whole case, though.

Jeff Weiner and Tom Manning paced Portland with 18 and 10 markers respectively while Kevin Tyler (19) and Bernie Ertel (11) paced Cheney.

Portland (58)
Vargas 3-6-6, Ledoux 3-2-8, Weiner 8-2-18, Clark 4-8-8, Manning 5-6-10, Blesker 9-22, Collier 3-6-6, Totals 36-68.

night at 1,800-seat Clarke Arena was a Youth Night and Toys for Children Night promotion. Despite this the crowd was approximately 500.

Three nights later, admittedly a bad time two days before Christmas, a sparse gathering of 300 watched the Silk Towners battle Concord.

The situation is not isolated to this municipality only. Concord Coach Al Basney discussing the situation offered that of a home game Dec. 20 in West Hartford, there were "17 Concord students," and visiting Windham drew a larger backing.

Why are schoolboy crowds dwindling, even if an attractive team is fielded? There is definitely no one reason but several concepts have been expressed. They include:

- 1) The general populace only has so many dollars for sports entertainment and is opting for the college game instead.
- 2) In the area, the New England Whalers have had an impact with the sports fan, as aforementioned, saving his sports dollar — not going to the schoolboy game(s) — and using it on the pros.
- 3) People now would rather participate than spectate. People want to exercise and get/stay in shape instead of watching others do so.
- 4) Those who used to be a good part of the crowd are now players themselves. There are now girls' basketball teams with these participants formerly spectators. The girls' contests, however, haven't cut into boys' attendances too dramatically inasmuch as they don't cause admission and draw normally 50 to their games.
- 5) The American society has become much more mobile. Rooters to one specific town/city are no longer there and therefore what happens with the high school teams in turn are not a concern.

6) The student body, from which you'd expect to draw a majority of your audience, is too apathetic and loyally school spirit, whatever you want to call it. It is not an overwhelming sentiment.

These are just a handful of ideas raised. And until sentiment turns the corner and heads the other way, schoolboy teams will more and more find themselves performing before empty bleachers.

College football bowl roundup

NEW YORK (UPI) — If folks are a little bleary-eyed Sunday morning, it doesn't necessarily mean they were out Saturday night raising 100 many cups of kindness for Andy Lang Syne. That droopy, hangover look could come just from sitting in front of the television Saturday watching college football games.

There are four post-season contests scheduled for Saturday, and the total TV viewing time should be more than 10 hours. That's a lot of cathode rays for the eyeballs to absorb, but if you can hang in there, you're seeing some of the nation's finest individual talent on display.

All-America quarterback Guy Benjamin of Stanford, star running back Alexander of Louisiana State, passing whiz Doug Williams of Grambling, barefooted place kicker Tony Franklin of Texas A&M and speedy flanker Randy Simmon of Southern California are a few of the standouts who will be in action Saturday.

The Peach Bowl, featuring Iowa and North Carolina State, will start the Saturday action, beginning at 12 noon est., from Atlanta. This game will feature two of the nation's best runners — Dexter Green of Iowa State and Ted Green of North Carolina State — and marks the first bowl appearance in five years for Iowa State. The Cyclones are a three-point choice.

At 1:30 p.m., est., Benjamin and Alexander will oppose each other in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Texas, as both have been viewed as budding punners and trying to keep up with the players...Speaking of hoop officials, Ed Batagovics and George Droppa of the Hartford area will feature their record of 299 winners in a season.

ranked Ohio State, coached by Woody Hayes. Both clubs depend on ball control and strong defense for their success. So don't expect to see much passing in this one. Alabama is a 2-1-2 point favorite.

According to the oddsmakers, neither the Rose Bowl nor the Orange Bowl games are expected to be close. Fourth-ranked Michigan has been made a 13-1-2 point favorite over Washington in the Rose Bowl while second-ranked Oklahoma's matchup with sixth-ranked Arkansas is no longer listed.

Washington may not have as much overall talent as Michigan, but it's not forget that a Big Ten club has won only one of its last eight Rose Bowl games. Also, if lucky, have a fine passer in quarterback Warren Moon and good passing attacks have been known to give Michigan trouble.

Arkansas has been weakened considerably by the suspension of three of its offensive starters, but the Razorbacks' success this season can be more readily traced to its defensive unit which remains intact for this game. Oklahoma, which operates out of the wishbone, fumbles a lot and Arkansas is the kind of opportunistic club that can capitalize on mistakes, especially with a placekicker like All-America Steve Little.

Year-end notes

Confusing Department: How in the world can members of the media select one man as the most valuable player in the UConn Classic and not cite the same player as the best on his squad? For the second straight year in the UConn classic at the Hartford Civic Center, this strange situation developed. Alex Eldridge won the tourney's MVP honor yet teammate Mark Haymore was judged the best player of the championship. University of Massachusetts squad Haymore a 6-4, 225-pound junior from Ohio has all the earmarks of being a high draft pick in the pro. He was the best big man among the four classic entries. No less than six members of the UMass squad hail from New York. Three others are New Jersey products, and one each from New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Ohio, Maryland and Connecticut. This writer cast one vote for Whelton as UConn's top performer but Jeff Carr, on his first game showing, received the most votes. Whelton had a superb first effort against Niagara but rebounded and looked like the sophomore flash who has already generated an armful of award in his first year of riding. Wednesday won Eclipse Awards a better the Outstanding Rookie and Outstanding Apprentice rider of 1977.

The Thoroughbred Racing Association, which gives out the awards, also named Cautchen as the recipient of the Eclipse Award of Merit for "inestimable and far-reaching contribution to Thoroughbred racing." The first time a rider has been named "Man of the Year."

Year was bitter for Frank Lucchesi

He has gotten the reputation of being too easy, too nice, too understanding and there is some evidence these characteristics were at least partially responsible for the Rangers letting him go as their manager last June.

Aware of the reputation he has, Lucchesi firmly feels it's completely unfounded.

"I don't buy it," he says. "I've managed 17 hard years in the minors — you can emphasize 'hard' — and 4 1/2 more years in the majors."

"But when you lose, suddenly they start saying 'he's too easy, he's not tough enough.'"

"Do you have to be a bum to win the pennant?" he asked. "You'll never get me to believe that. Gil Hodges proved you don't have to be hospitalized six days and undergo surgery after getting a working over from his angered employer, which resulted in three broken bones in his face, two broken ribs and assorted back injuries."

Three months later, the Texas Rangers fired him as their manager.

"It was the worst year of my life," he says.

Frank Lucchesi says that without the slightest show of resentment toward Handle, the Rangers or anyone else. He says it probably had the same way he says everything, softly, thoughtfully and moderately.

The last thing anyone could ever say about Frank Lucchesi is he's an extrovert. Other managers often come on strong. He never does, and that has worked to his disadvantage now and then.

He has gotten the reputation of being too easy, too nice, too understanding and there is some evidence these characteristics were at least partially responsible for the Rangers letting him go as their manager last June.

Aware of the reputation he has, Lucchesi firmly feels it's completely unfounded.

"I don't buy it," he says. "I've managed 17 hard years in the minors — you can emphasize 'hard' — and 4 1/2 more years in the majors."

"But when you lose, suddenly they start saying 'he's too easy, he's not tough enough.'"

East Hartford family in bind

Mrs. Mary F. Devorio
Mrs. Mary Foss Devorio, 81, formerly of 109 Spruce St. died Friday at a Manchester Convalescent home. She was the widow of Dominick Devorio.
Mrs. Devorio was born Jan. 10, 1896, in Piage, Province of Pesaro, Italy, and lived in Manchester 47 years.
Before her retirement last July, she was employed as a fostering grandparent at the Mansfield Training School for six years. Before that she worked in the Manchester High School cafeteria.
She was a communicant of the Church of the Assumption.

"It's hard," said Mrs. Barbara Amidon, 21, of 1 Hopewell St., East Hartford.
"We can't get help from anyone."
She and her husband, Roy, 22, had enough food in their home Friday afternoon for one last meal. He has been unemployed since March and cannot find work despite taking training for truck driving, she said.
The son, Joddie, 12-weeks-old, is sick and worries them both.
She asked where they could go for help.

Amidon was working up till March of this year at Cheney Brothers mill in Manchester. They laid him off then and he went on unemployment.
Unable to find work here, Amidon decided to attend the North American Training Academy in Delaware to train to become a truck driver. Mrs. Amidon was pregnant then.
They gave up his unemployment help for him to go to school. They camped outside in Delaware to keep costs down.
Amidon graduated from the academy Sept. 2 and they came back to Manchester to find a truck driving job.

"Everywhere he goes they tell him, 'No experience, no job,'" she said.
Joddie was born in Manchester Memorial Hospital this fall. The hospital bill came to $1,100 and the obstetrician's bill to $400. Neither is paid.
Amidon was able to get back on unemployment in Manchester in the fall. But when he moved his family to East Hartford, the state Labor Department office in Manchester told him his case would be switched to the Hartford office. They mailed his records there Dec. 27.

The Hartford office told Amidon Friday morning they had not received his records. Without them, he could not get a check. He must wait now until next week to see if his records have arrived.
She said she called East Hartford's Social Services Office but was told they could not help them. Amidon's unemployment checks of $187 every two weeks make their income too high for town help.
"I don't know what we're going to do," she said.

Today is Saturday, Dec. 31, the 355th and last day of 1977. This is New Year's Eve.
The moon is approaching its last quarter.
The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Saturn and Mars.
The evening star is Jupiter.
Those born on this date are under the sign of Capricorn.
French explorer Jacques Cartier was born Dec. 31, 1491.
On this day in history:
In 1879, Thomas Edison gave the first public demonstration of the incandescent lamp in Menlo Park, N.J.
In 1946, President Truman proclaimed the official end of World War II, well over a year after the surrender of Germany and Japan.
In 1972, Pittsburgh Pirates baseball star Roberto Clemente and four other persons were killed in a crash of a chartered cargo plane on a mercy mission to earthquake-devastated Nicaragua.
In 1974, gold went on sale to the American public.
A thought for the day: British author Charles Lamb said, "Of all the sound of bells, the most solemn and touching is the peal which rings out the old year."

Digan defines law on assaulting elderly

Manchester Youth Services Coordinator Robert J. Digan has defined the new law pertaining to crimes against elderly, blind or physically disabled persons.
Digan said, "Youth Service's concern is that all persons should be aware that the law is on the books and will be enforced unless a court test finds it illegal."

The main point of the bill which was passed by the Connecticut General Assembly in its last session, is that anyone found guilty of assault on a person 60 or older, or who is blind or disabled, receives a mandatory sentence with no possibility of suspension or reduction.

Anyone guilty of the following crimes faces the mandatory sentence as follows:
• Assault in the first-degree, not less than 10 nor more than 25 years in prison.
• Assault in the second-degree, a minimum of two years.
• Assault in the third-degree with a firearm, minimum of three years.
• Assault in the third-degree (a misdemeanor) one-year minimum sentence.

Digan stressed that young persons 16 years of age or older who are charged and are found guilty of these offenses face actual prison time. snatching or other theft from the person of another. The statute covering it says, "when the property, regardless of its nature or value is taken from the person of another."
Manchester police made the first arrests in connection with the new law in early December. Two 16-year-old Manchester residents were each charged with second-degree larceny in connection with a purse-snatching incident in the Westhill Gardens elderly housing project.
Digan stressed that young persons 16 years of age or older who are charged and are found guilty of these offenses face actual prison time.

Park to testify

The questioning will concern the relationship between Mr. Tongson Park and United States officials and persons, and Mr. Park's actions with respect to them," it said.
Civiletti said his interrogation of Park "provides an opportunity for us to obtain a great deal of facts and information" about his activities. "It certainly will provide a great deal of new missing information about Mr. Park's activities," he said.
But he said it would be "speculative for me to say whether it will or will not yield further prosecutions."

The investigation would certainly not appear to have been terminated, according to his information." Jackson said. Jackson said he was told by the state police that two divisions were still on the case.
The reports the state police had light amid a large federal investigation in Stamford. The FBI has interviewed dozens of individuals in Stamford city agencies during the past several months, and the records of some city departments have been subpoenaed.
U.S. Attorney Richard Blumenthal is orchestrating an investigation of the corruption charges in conjunction with the Public Integrity Section of the Criminal Division of the U.S. Department of Justice.
The state police statement Friday said, "The state police detective division investigation of alleged wrongdoings in the Stamford Police Department was closed because it showed that none of the allegations could be readily corroborated and no evidence that would support an arrest warrant was uncovered."
"Much of the information available was about two Stamford police officers who were arrested by their own department for a burglary into a private residence," the statement said.
"The remainder of the information consisted of hearsay and rumor about other illegal activities involving other officers. These activities included narcotics trafficking, gambling, payoffs by gamblers to department members, illegal sale of weapons, and theft," the statement said.
"The state police investigation did produce repeated references to persons believed to be connected with organized crime. Under these circumstances, investigative responsibility shifted from detective division to the state police Organized Crime Investigative Task Force and the criminal intelligence division," it said.

Police report

Manchester police have charged Thomas Ferrer, 21, of 11 Vine St., with issuing a bad check and third-degree larceny.
Ferrer was arrested Friday, police said.
Police also arrested eight drivers Friday on speeding charges.
Tollard
An accident involving a Tollard fire truck occurred at 9:10 a.m. Friday on Grant Hill Road. The operator of the truck was Richard M. Munchiello, 30, of Columbus Road, Tollard. Police said he was on route from the Gehring Road firehouse to a chimney fire on Route 74 when the two right rear wheels of the truck loosened and two trucks were cut off. The tires went flat and the truck veered off the left side of the road striking a utility pole. There was no injury and the investigation is continuing.
Troop K of the State Police in Andover, Bolton and Hebron said several minor accidents were being reported Friday evening.

Leonard says

was resumed by the criminal intelligence division and the Statewide Organized Crime Investigative Task Force.
The detective division investigation was started with the arrest of two Stamford policemen on charges of bribery. There were allegations that other policemen were involved in a ring that preyed on houses of the wealthy in the northern part of the city.
The detective division said it uncovered allegations that other city departments were corrupt.
The state police issued a report on its investigation in 1975. But the report was kept private until the Stamford Advocate last Friday disclosed its contents. The Advocate said the investigation had been stopped by Leonard.
On Thursday the New York Times said Leonard had terminated the 1975 investigation despite repeated pleas by investigators in his department for follow-up inquiries.
The state police investigation, which began July 16, 1975, and ended Oct. 3, 1975, was conducted out of the offices of the Internal Revenue Service in Stamford.
The report outlined a scenario of alleged police involvement in several illegal activities, including sale of heroin, gambling and gun sales.
Friday's statement was the first comment by the state police on the newspaper articles.
Gov. Ella T. Grasso ordered a study of the allegations against Leonard, who has been the subject of much controversy this year. Several newspapers earlier demanded Mrs. Grasso fire Leonard for statements he made in the Peter A. Reilly case. Leonard hinted Reilly should still be prosecuted even though a judge permanently cleared the Falls Village man of any further prosecution in the Sept. 28, 1973, slaying of his mother, Barbara Gibbons.
Jay Jackson, Mrs. Grasso's aide, said Friday he is satisfied the reports Leonard stopped the Stamford investigation were not accurate.

"The investigation would certainly not appear to have been terminated, according to his information." Jackson said. Jackson said he was told by the state police that two divisions were still on the case.

Nation to greet the coming year

United Press International
Americans will greet the New Year with a half ton of coffee in one place, a tenth of a ton of gunpowder in another and seas of champagne all around but "Auld Lang Syne" will be played to the beat of a different baton.
At the stroke of midnight, the Royal Canadians will regale New Year's Eve celebrants at New York's Waldorf-Astoria with the traditional year-end song.
But for the first time in nearly three decades, Guy Lombardo won't be conducting. Lombardo died in November and the orchestra now is under the direction of his two brothers.
Couples who paid as much as $150 will dance in the New Year to the beat of the Royal Canadians in the Waldorf, and across town, thousands will crowd into Times Square to watch the traditional lighted ball drop to earth in observance of 1978's arrival.
But New Yorkers won't be feasting with the traditional New Year's parade and fireworks — both of which were canceled because of the city's financial woes.
Cherryville, N.C., residents plan to welcome the new year as Cherryville residents have for the past 200 years — by walking around town firing muskets.
Lloyds Group said town 200 pounds of black powder has been bought for the musket-firing celebration.
"I don't know if we'll have enough," he said.
In Boston, "First Night" will be marked by a variety of outdoor merry-making made to order for those let unspired by traditional New Year's tipping.

CHINESE GINGER-SAUCE FISH
1 package (1 lb.) frozen North Atlantic Cod filets
Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/4 cup vegetable oil
1/4 cup rice vinegar or white wine vinegar
1 to 2 teaspoons finely grated, pared ginger root or 3/4 to 1 teaspoon ground ginger
1/4 cup sliced almonds, toasted

2 tablespoons chopped green onion
Chinese pea pods, trimmed, steamed
Diagonally sliced carrots, steamed

Place frozen fish on greased aluminum foil. Sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Dot with butter. Wrap securely. Place in shallow pan. Bake at 450 degrees for 35 minutes or until fish flakes with fork. Meanwhile, combine oil, vinegar, ginger and almonds in saucepan. Open foil carefully to avoid losing liquid. Transfer fish to serving plate. Pour fish juices into ginger sauce. Heat sauce quickly. Stir in green onion. Spoon some sauce over fish; pass remainder. Accompany with steamed vegetables. Makes 4 servings.

People/Food

Neighbor's kitchen
By Betty Ryder

Mysterious sounding appetizers such as Homas and Baba Ganooj, followed by aromatic entrees of Kaftu or Lahim Labia are all prepared by Muhammad Ibrahim of the Magic Carpet in East Hartford.
Muhammad, who recently catered an Arabian afternoon for the ladies of the Manchester Racquet Club, comes from Jordan and has lived in this country seven years.
From his homeland, he came first to Brazil and then to the United States and is settled in Connecticut, where he opened his restaurant at 386 Prospect St. five months ago.
Prior to opening the Magic Carpet, Muhammad worked for five years at the Steak Out Restaurants in East and West Hartford and was a chef-manager trainee at Valle's Steak House in Hartford.
The restaurant, located at the corner of Prospect St. and Governor's Highway, is attractively decorated with tapestry wall hangings, booths and center dining tables. It accommodates 100 people and a larger downstairs room will be opened soon to accommodate 120 for parties and receptions.
Open seven days a week, it serves lunch daily from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and dinner from 4 to 11 p.m.
I had a chance to taste some of the Arabian dishes at the Racquet Club luncheon and they were delicious.
Kaftu, for instance, is a mixture of lean ground beef and lamb roasted with onion, tomato and potato and served on a bed of rice.
Lahim Labia is tender green beans and chunks of lamb in tomato sauce served with rice.
A combination plate may contain eggplant stuffed with ground meat plus squash filled with meat and rice cooked in a special sauce and served with rice.
For appetizers, try Homos — chickens ground and blended with Tahini (sesame paste) and aromatically flavored with lemon juice and olive oil.
Or, Baba Ganooj, which is smoked eggplant embellished with lemon juice, olive oil and Tahini.
The Middle East medley offers a salad, rolled and stuffed cabbage and baby grape leaves, stuffed squash and eggplant cooked in a special tomato sauce, and a mound of rice crowned with a slice of lamb.
There are also American selections such as beef, seafood, baked shrimp and filet mignon.
Muhammad said the restaurant should have a liquor license soon, but in the meantime, patrons are invited to bring their own liquor or wine.
One of the questions the tennis ladies had was "Where does one purchase grape leaves?"
"Most Italian grocery stores carry bottled grape leaves," Muhammad said. "In the summer, we get fresh ones and freeze them."
He gave me a few recipes you might like to try in your own kitchen.
A stuffed squash
Small yellow summer squash is cored and washed and then stuffed with seasoned, uncooked rice.
Squash is then placed in a pan of simmering tomato sauce (prepared to your own taste) and cooked until squash is tender.
Baklava
Peel eggplant, cut in half and butter top. Cook in moderately warm oven till tender. Make a ridge down center of eggplant and fill with cooked (scrambled) beef and lamb mixture. Place filled eggplant halves in tomato sauce and heat thoroughly.
For Baklava, Muhammad uses phyllo (which is very thin dough). He says there are 20 layers on the bottom and 20 layers of the dough on top. In the middle is a combination of walnuts, sugar and a little cinnamon. Bake until browned, top with syrup.
For a hearty sandwich use the Arabian punch bread available in most supermarkets and stuff them with salad and meat combination of your choice.
But, for the best taste of all, let Muhammad do it.

FOREIGN INTRIGUE with FISH and ALMONDS

As travelers know, fish and almonds are two of the world's favorite foods. In this country, they rank high as convenience foods, too.
California almonds are sold in more ready-to-use forms than any other nut, and fast-frozen fish filets from the North Atlantic, skinless and boneless, couldn't be easier to prepare. High in protein, low in fat and calories, they are flavorful and succulent.
For easiest-ever, plain-but-fancy fish, use the no-haw method from our Chinese-style recipe, top with sautéed sliced almonds and serve with lemon wedges.

MID-EAST STUFFED FISH

1 cup water	1/8 teaspoon cinnamon
1/3 cup rice	2 tablespoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt	3/4 cup chopped natural unblanched almonds
1/3 cup chopped onion	1 package (1 lb.) frozen North Atlantic Haddock filets, thawed
1/4 cup chopped dates (loosely packed)	2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
1/2 cup minced parsley	Seasoned salt or paprika
1/2 teaspoon marjoram, crumbled
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon ground cumin

Bring water to boil. Add rice, salt and onion. Cover and cook over low heat for 25 minutes or until rice is tender and water absorbed. Mix in dates, parsley, marjoram, pepper, cumin, cinnamon, lemon juice and almonds, stirring lightly just until mixed. If filets are large, cut in half lengthwise. Arrange filets in spoke pattern in 8 or 9-inch round shallow baking dish or 9-inch pie plate. (Half of each fillet should hang out over edge of dish.) Spoon rice mixture into center. Fold filets over top. Brush filets with butter. Bake uncovered at 375 degrees for 15 minutes or until fish is done. Sprinkle with a little seasoned salt or paprika. Makes 4 servings.
*Thaw filets overnight in refrigerator or remove packaging, place in covered baking dish and cook at low or defrost power in microwave oven for 7 minutes or until thawed, but not cooked.

SWISS FISH AMANDINE

1 package (1 lb.) frozen North Atlantic Haddock filets	1 cup ground almonds
1/4 cup flour	2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
2 eggs, beaten	Yogurt-Caper Sauce

Allow filets to thaw for about 1/2 hour. Slice block of fish crosswise into 12 slices, holding knife blade at slight slant. Using two forks, pick up each slice of fish; dip in flour, then eggs, then almonds. Place in well-greased shallow baking pan. Drizzle with melted butter. Bake at 450 degrees for 10 minutes or until cooked through. To serve, spoon some Yogurt-Caper Sauce over fish. Accompany with hot, cooked chard or spinach, sliced tomatoes and whole ripe olives if you like. Pass remaining sauce.
Yogurt-Caper Sauce: Combine 1 cup yogurt, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 2 tablespoons drained capers, 1 tablespoon dry white wine (optional) and 1 medium clove garlic, minced. Makes 4 servings.

Dybka-Fisher

Mrs. Michael E. Dybka

JoAnn Marie Fisher of Manchester and Dr. Michael Edmund Dybka of New Haven were married Dec. 30 in an evening ceremony at St. Francis of Assisi Church in South Windsor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford H. Fisher Sr. of 247 Burnham St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael K. Dybka of Escondido, Calif. The Rev. Eugene Kilbride of St. Helena's Church in West Hartford celebrated the nuptial mass and performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Qana gown designed with Empire waist, mandarin collar, Bishop sleeves and full skirt. She wore a matching hood and carried a colonial bouquet of red roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Margaret Fisher of South Windsor, the bride's sister-in-law, was matron of honor. Bruce Treichler of Columbus, Ohio, served as best man. Users were Clifford Fisher Jr. of South Windsor, the bride's brother, and Dr. David Markowitz of Manchester. John Fisher of South Windsor, the bride's nephew, was ring bearer.

A reception was held at the Ramada Inn in East Hartford, after which the couple left for the West Coast. For traveling, Mrs. Dybka wore a three-piece pantsuit. The couple will reside in New Haven.

Mrs. Dybka was formerly employed as a registered nurse at the Ear, Nose and Throat Group in Manchester. Dr. Dybka is director of the New Haven Hearing and Speech Center. (Nassiff photo)

CB Convac

By INK DIPPER

Any news writer comes across a story, now and then, that is made up of loose ends. That's a CB and the United States Coast Guard. The Coast Guard is having a very tough time trying to figure out what to do about CB. All districts admit CB exists. They are aware of the usage factor. They just can't seem to make a decision about it. Sometime ago, in this column, it was reported that District 8, which is the Gulf of Mexico region, was planning to put CB units in their Search and Rescue stations as they could monitor the emergency channel. They hoped to have it done by the summer of 1978.

After talking with no less than six Coast Guard officers in various districts, as well as the headquarters in Washington, D.C., it is obvious that there are a lot of memos being sent around, no "yes, we will" and no "we won't" types—and that the Coast Guard still opts for very expensive VHF-FM gear that is traditional.

It is reported that there are 9,000,000 leisure craft on the inland waters and surrounding oceans of the United States. It is also pretty obvious without too much research that most of these crafts are not yacht type. They are boats that a guy tows behind his car, slips off the trailer and gets ready to go for a spin. It is equally understandable that he picks his CB out of his car and takes it with him to the boat.

The Coast Guard says that's a correct assumption. However, it says that CB has too many problems.

"The limitations of CB originally recognized in an exhaustive study by the Coast Guard remain unchanged," a spokesman in Washington explained. "CB signals bounce around, they're affected by atmospheric conditions, and their range is limited."

There is no question about the reliability of VHF-FM. But, there is the difference between 950 and 1,600 in the price of the respective units. And, that's a substantial difference.

It took two lieutenants and a captain in Washington to finally say the Coast Guard made up its mind. Lt. Gabriel Kinney in St. Louis said that because he was in District 2 they had no plans for CB. He explained that District 2 covers all inland waterways and, therefore, it was not deemed necessary to monitor CB through Search and Rescue stations. District 8 related that its primary monitoring station would be in Southern Louisiana which also serves as a Coast Guard radio link into the Gulf of Mexico. Lt. Tom Pearson, of 8th, said "we're basically doing it as a service because so many people have them."

After hearing the way in which the Coast Guard has divided the country into districts, you get the feeling that this may be one of the holdbacks. The East Coast comprises the 1st, 3rd, 5th and 7th districts; the 8th is the Gulf of Mexico, the 11th, 12th and 13th are the Pacific; the 17th is Alaska; the 14th is Hawaii; 9th is the Great Lakes; and the 2nd covers inland waterways and, therefore, it was not deemed necessary to monitor CB through Search and Rescue stations. District 8 related that its primary monitoring station would be in Southern Louisiana which also serves as a Coast Guard radio link into the Gulf of Mexico. Lt. Tom Pearson, of 8th, said "We're basically doing it as a service because so many people have them."

In September a news release was sent to all districts stating that the Coast Guard was cognized of the widespread use of CBs and would attempt to develop a limited monitoring program. No Coast Guard vessels would be equipped in the plan. Channel 16, the international emergency channel, would be the channel monitored.

So, boaters with CB's: don't count on the Coast Guard. And, this advice is directed to the Coast Guard. They do not want boaters to get the idea a CB call will bring them skipping. For the CG, it's 10-4 and out. At least for right now.

News for senior citizens

Well, you folks have one more big celebration coming and that starts later tonight as you blow out the old year, and bring in 1978. We want you all to enjoy the evening, but ask one favor that you don't take that home because we want you to get last one safe and sound. We have a big year coming up and need you.

On behalf of myself and the staff, we extend our sincere best wishes and good health for not only the New Year but many more to come.

News about our big dance of this past Thursday will be told in our Wednesday's column.

The happenings here at the center start with the Tuesday afternoon scores of our Senior Bowling League at the Parkade Lanes: Class A high triple: Mary Chaves, 403; Al Bolls, 566; high single, Mary Chaves, 151; Norman Lasher, 214; Class B high triple, Marion Gouin, 379; Al Christensen, 494; high single, Marion Gouin, 159; Russ Nettleton, 300.

On Wednesday morning we had 36 players for our pinocle games and the winners are Gladys Seletar, 643; Lillian Lewis, 585; Ed Scott, 579; Bob Hill, 564; Joe Windsor, 558; Ann Thompson, 556; Sam Schors, 555; John Gally, 544; Robina Carroll, 553.

In the afternoon, it was bridge games and the lucky prize winners were: Martha Rockwell, 5380; Nadine Malcolm, 4910; Mary Tharall, 370.

This coming week we begin to get back into action on Wednesday morning we will have our Friendship Circle meeting. This is a chance for you folks who don't care too much for card playing or bingo to join this group for a good old fashioned chit-chat. All sorts of ideas are exchanged and everyone just enjoys mixing together. Anyone is invited and all you must do is drop by on Wednesday morning and the action starts at 10 a.m. This is a good way for newcomers to meet.

In the afternoon our craft class will start again and we're hoping for some new ideas that will make the class more interesting and in this column, it was reported that District 8, which is the Gulf of Mexico region, was planning to put CB units in their Search and Rescue stations as they could monitor the emergency channel. They hoped to have it done by the summer of 1978.

At 10 a.m. an advanced class will start and, because this class will be open to those who have been working on ceramics before, they can get started and Gloria will work closely with them from 10:30 a.m. until 11:30 a.m.

We will be serving a delicious roast beef dinner at noontime and our guests will be members of the Board of Directors. In the afternoon, starting around 1 p.m. you will all get a chance to meet the directors, hear from them and then chat with them. We hope you'll join us for lunch and stay for the entertainment.

In a week or two we will be starting our Social Dance Class with our good friends,

Guest speaker at Trinity

The Rev. Robert DeValve will be the guest speaker at the 8:15 and 10:30 Sunday morning worship services at Trinity Covenant Church, 1746 Boston Turnpike, in West Hartford, N.Y., and a 1966 graduate of Fuller Theological Seminary, Pasadena, Calif. He has done graduate study at the University of Pennsylvania and at Seattle Pacific College for certification in education and taught at a private Christian high school. In 1968 the DeValve family went to Nigeria to serve with the Sudan Interior Mission for three years. DeValve then attended Hartford Seminary and in 1973 obtained his PhD in Islamic studies. The family is living at 118 Prospect St. while he is teaching at Berkshire Christian College.

Indians need religious freedom

According to Abourezk, it generally has been less a matter of deliberate interference as a "lack of knowledge, unawareness, insensitivity and neglect...".
"This state of affairs is enhanced by the perception of many non-Indian officials that because Indian religious practices are different than their own that they somehow do not have the same status as a 'real' religion," according to Abourezk.
Problem areas which inhibit Indian practice of their traditional religion include such things as lack of access to sacred sites, restriction on the use of sacred objects, such as peyote or eagle feathers and actual interference with religious rites and ceremonies.
Commenting on the latter, Abourezk said that "even today, certain symbolic portions of the Sun Dance which deal with fertility and the cycle of life are banned."
"The prejudice involving officials' belief that it was 'sinful' in Christian terms," Abourezk said. "Such mis-

Films due at churches

"He Leadeth Me" a documentary film featuring concert singer Ken Medema, will be shown Sunday at 7 p.m. at Faith Baptist Church, which meets in Orange Hall, 72 E. Center St., Manchester. The public is invited.
Medema, who has been blind from birth, is a young singer, pianist, composer and recording artist. The film, featuring Medema in performance and in intimate moments with his family, is a testimonial as to how God can use handicaps as occasions to bless us and to change the world.
"The Gospel Road," a film with a blend of especially written songs and scripture-based narrative, will be shown Sunday at 6 p.m. at the Manchester Church of the Nazarene, 238 Main St.
The film was conceived and produced by Johnny Cash and his wife, June.

LEND AN ARM

A Public Service of this newspaper & The Advertising Council

We don't want it for long.
We do want it for life. For the life of some patient in a hospital here or in a nearby community.
You see, it's more than your arm itself that's important to us. It's what can come from your arm.
That's blood. Blood that can mean life to an infant, a student, a parent, a retiree. Or maybe all of them.
We're not fussy whether it's your right or left arm you prefer to lend us. We're looking for the arm that stretches out to hug people back to health. You can help us find it.

LEND AN ARM

We don't want it for long.
We do want it for life. For the life of some patient in a hospital here or in a nearby community.

Take peace — take joy
 One of our Christmas greetings contained these profound words from Fra Giovanni, written in 1513: "I salute you! There is nothing I can give you which you have not. But there is much, that, while I cannot give, you can take. No heaven can come to us unless our hearts find rest in it today. TAKE HEAVEN. No peace lies in the future which is not hidden in this present instant. TAKE PEACE. The gloom of the world is but a shadow, behind it, yet, within our reach, is Joy. TAKE JOY. And so, at this Christmas time, I greet you, with the prayer that for you, now and forever, the day breaks and the shadows flee away."
Too much weight on Christmas?
 The greeting of Fra Giovanni suggests that we have a responsibility to help this season achieve what we want. Too often we vaguely and vainly hope that the mere coming of Christmas will satisfy our longings. We hope that it will heal the breach between father and son or bring mother and daughter closer together. We long for it to cover up the misunderstandings between husband and wife. The true celebration of the birth of Christ is not simply the passage of time. It requires an act of will. Expecting that the arrival of Christmas will, by itself, heal our hurts and mend our divisions leads to disappointment. We put too much weight on Christmas if we do not do our part.
A stern law in the prophecy of hope
 When the angel appeared to the shepherds they heard the good news "Be not afraid." The story continues in Luke 2:13:
 "And suddenly there was with the angel, a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying, 'Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men with whom he is well pleased.'"
 A more familiar reading ends "peace among men of good-will." Too often this has been interpreted as a promise from God that merely with the passage of time peace will come. But there is a condition to that peace. We must please God. We must be men of good-will. It says in Isaiah (32:17) "the work of righteousness shall be peace." The hope for peace carries with it a stern underlying requirement. God calls us to work with him in the strengthening of his kingdom.
New Year's resolutions
 Our resolves for the new year may well come from our determination to work with God, to do our part and fulfill our responsibilities. Often resolutions are made lightly and come to nothing. However we can make a new start if we have a determined will, a fervent prayer, and the acceptance of forgiveness. The very word for the first month comes from Janus, the two-faced deity that looked both ways. We look back with some regret at the mistakes we have made. "those things we have done that we ought not have done and those things we ought to have done which we left undone." For these we ask God's forgiveness and the slate is wiped clean. We look ahead with hope and determination, knowing we will continue to make mistakes but also knowing that God is with us to guide and forgive. You recall the words of the hymn:
 "Standing in the living present,
 Memory and hope between,
 Lord, we would with deep thanksgiving
 Thank thee more for things unseen."
 The Spirit is unseen.
"Tomorrow will be different"
 "God is not only 'Father', who gives identity and destiny. He is not only 'Word', who calls to new life. He is also 'Spirit' who empowers us to become more fully human. There is an inexhaustible creativity alive in men, and in others, so that tomorrow will be different from today. Man is not trapped in the world. God as Spirit is at work in men producing the new creation. We are alive, and other people are alive thanks to a mystery that takes place at the core of our being... giving courage, producing growth, making us capable of love, creating insight, calling life out of death. Faith evokes in men the new consciousness that they are alive with a life that triumphs over death."
 —from Gregory Baum "Faith and Doctrine"
The pope and the rabbi
 One day nuncio Angelo-Giuseppe Roncalli (later Pope John XXIII) met the chief rabbi of Paris and used the occasion to show him his respect. It was at a diplomatic reception which included the heads of all the different religious communities in Paris. In a long conversation which followed between the two, they discovered that they had many things in common, especially in terms of their human sympathies. When they were finally summoned to dinner they found themselves standing side by side directly in front of the entrance to the dining hall.
 Nuncio Roncalli did not permit the ridiculous game of "alter you, no, alter you" to drag on. He gently steered the chief rabbi before him saying: "The Old Testament before the New!"
 —from Kurt Klinger, quoted in "Ecumania"

Collectors' Corner

By RUSS MacKENDRICK

"The fog comes on little cat feet. It sits looking over harbour and city on silent haunches and then moves on..."

This is from Carl Sandburg's first book, "Chicago Poems," published in 1916. The title poem, "Chicago," which had won a prize earlier in a magazine contest, begins:

"Hog Butcher for the World, Tool Maker, Stack of Wheat, Player with Railroads and the Nation's Freight Handler; Stormy, husky, brawling, City of the Big Shoulders."

Sandburg was born 100 years ago come January 6th, and will be honored by a stamp that on that date. The first-day ceremonies will be held at the place of his birth, Galesburg, Illinois.

The stamp was designed by a close friend of his, and it is based on a drawing by the same artist made from life in 1922. It will be printed by the Intaglio press in brown and black on a white surface.

First-day cancellations may be obtained if postmarked no later than Jan. 21. Get the stamp at the local post office and put it on an envelope—perhaps one with a cachet of your own devising.

Carl Sandburg was the son of a Swedish immigrant blacksmith and started work while he was attending school at the age of eleven. He was in the Spanish-American war and directly afterwards began working his way through Lombard College and writing poetry.

He was one of the pioneers of free verse. His work without worrying over rhyme or metrical pattern and he just wrote what he felt.

He also wrote history; his "Abraham Lincoln: The War Years" won a Pulitzer Prize in 1940. Later, in 1951, he took another Pulitzer Prize with "Complete Poems."

While strumming on a guitar he would give recitals of his poetry and sing folk songs to various audiences. He collected his favorite songs and published them as "The American Songbooks." He also wrote books for children such as "Rootabaga Stories." His first novel was "Remembrance Rock" in 1946. His autobiography, "Always the Young Strangers," was published in 1953.

We are fortunate that the Mary Cheney and Whiton libraries are well supplied with Sandburg material. Book collectors in search of something of his for keeps should try the Book Corner at 409 Main St.

BRASSPEX chairman Ed Karpinski, an out-of-town member of the Manchester Philatelic Society, is the chairman of the BRASSPEX at Waterbury on Jan. 15.

A feature of this show will be a reproduction of the famous Rumming Chicken fancy cancellation which originated in that city. A cover with the real cancellation (1869), brought $45,000 at a recent New York auction.

Souvenirs and covers may be obtained by mail from Vic Russ, Box 1998, Waterbury, Ct 06720. The card with the cancelled stamp costs $1.25; the covers are 50 cents each or $1 for 25. Please send a SASE if covers are ordered.

No January show Gerry Gerash wants to remind collectors that there will be no first Sunday Stamp Bureau at the Ramada Inn in January. The next one will be on February 5.

Click meets Jan. 3 The Central Connecticut Club will meet at the KoC Hall, 138 Main St., Manchester, at 7:30 p.m. on Jan. 3.

Sheldon Adler will demonstrate a coin camera. Members may bring any coin they want photographed. The cost is 60 cents for the Polaroid film.

Happy New Year Collectors' Corner wishes its readers a Happy New Year of fabulous finds.

Campbell County, Knights of Columbus, will sponsor a series of eight free polka lessons beginning Thursday at the KoC Home, 138 Main St., Manchester. The free lessons will be from 7:30 to 9 p.m. on each Thursday.

Lessons will be conducted by the Johnny Frykto dance team and will cover the basic polka, modern polka and a variety of figure dances. The series is open to the public.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR READERS: Four years ago I published JUST FOR TODAY and suggested that it be used as "New Year's Resolutions." Since that time I have heard from a surprising number of readers (ages from 12 to 82) telling me that they read the rules every day, and are trying to live by them.

I am repeating them for those who may have missed them. These rules are not original. I paraphrased them from the credo for Overeaters Anonymous—an organization of loving, caring, compulsive overeaters who have regained their self-esteem by losing weight, feeling better, looking better and helping others to do the same.

Overeaters Anonymous is patterned after Alcoholics Anonymous and Gamblers Anonymous. Both organizations have had extraordinary success in rehabilitating compulsive drinkers and gamblers when all other methods have failed:

JUST FOR TODAY

1. Just for today I will try to live through this day only, and not set far-reaching goals to try to overcome all my problems at once. I know I can do something for 12 hours that would appeal to me if I felt that I had to keep it up for a lifetime.
2. Just for today I will try to be happy. Abraham Lincoln said, "Most folks are about as happy as they make up their minds to be." He was right. I will not dwell on thoughts that depress me. I will chase them out of my mind and replace them with happy thoughts.
3. Just for today I will adjust myself to what is. I will face reality. I will try to change those things I can change, and accept those things that I cannot change.
4. Just for today I will try to improve my mind. I will not be a mental loafer. I will force myself to read something that requires effort, thought and concentration.
5. Just for today I will exercise my soul in three ways. I will do a good deed for somebody—without letting them know it. (If they find out I did it, it won't count.) I will do at least two things that I know I should do but have been putting off. I will not show anyone that my feelings are hurt; they may be hurt, but today I will not show it.
6. Just for today I will be agreeable. I will look as well as I can, dress becomingly, talk softly, act courteously and speak ill of no one. Just for today I'll not try to improve anybody except myself.
7. Just for today I will have a program. I may not follow it exactly, but I will have it, thereby saving myself from two weeks' hurry and indecision.
8. Just for today I will have a quiet half hour to relax alone. During this time I will reflect on my behavior and will try to get a better perspective on my life.
9. Just for today I will be unafraid. I will gather the courage to do what is right and take the responsibility for my own actions. I will expect nothing from the world, but I will realize that as I give to the world, the world will give to me.

It makes sense, doesn't it? And so does the Overeaters Anonymous program. It's free. For information about this wonderful organization, write to Box 34854, Los Angeles, Calif. 90034.

P.S. Have a happy, healthy New Year. And pray for universal peace!

Your Birthday

Jan. 1, 1978

A rise in status is likely for you this coming year, but there could be some roadblocks. If you have your sights set on something, don't despair. Second efforts will get it.

CANCER (June 21-July 21) Some people are "takers" by nature. The more you give, the more they want. You might find one among your guests when you're serving the potatoes.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 23) Back your copy of Astro-Graph. Letter Mail 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 483, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10101. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A financially troubled pal may come to you today. Think twice before you jump in, because you may jeopardize yourself while bailing him out temporarily.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Permit no one to do your thinking for you today. Others may recommend what's good for them but unless for you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) In things that require judgment today, you're optimistic. That's fine. Trouble is, you see only two good sides and that can be bad.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Use a light touch if you're selling a story today. You have a tendency to exaggerate. You could trip on your tongue if you carry too far.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Something that looks like an interesting proposition may not hold water in the cold light of dawn. Stop on it before you commit yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Unfortunately, you can rely on promises made to you by another today. The ability to deliver may be lacking.

A New Mexico reader wants to know if we have ever seen the ace, king, queen and jack of a suit played on the same trick.

The answer is that it has happened many times. The lead to trick one is the jack from jack-10, etc. declares plays the queen from dummy, third hand the king and declares the ace.

BERNIE'S TV & APPLIANCE

Name Brands and Reliability; Bernie's Trademarks

Bernie's TV and Appliances located in the Manchester Parkade has been noted for years as a dealer in the finest lines of name brand appliances and TV's. Some of the brands sold and serviced by the firm are: General Electric, Frigidaire, RCA, Motorola, Amana, Zenith, Kitchen Aid, Hoover, Maytag, Eureka, Westinghouse, Whirlpool, Panasonic and many others. Bernie's has also gained, over the years, the reliability of a reputable service dealer. They assure quality service by factory trained technicians for as long as you own the appliance or TV purchased from them. To show their gratitude to many long standing customers, Bernie's conducts several promotional sales events each year. "It's our personal way of saying thank's to the many loyal customers who have supported us over the years," says John Vigeant, manager at the Parkade.

OPTICAL STYLE BAR

Optical Style Bar - "25 Years of Service"

We have created one of the most respected, dependable and most complete optical laboratories and visual care centers in Connecticut. For many years our motto was "If It's Made of Glass We'll Grind It." With the advent of plastic lenses it became necessary to amend our motto to include plastic. We fully intend to incorporate our laboratory to accommodate additional lens materials as they are developed. We stay on top of research and development in the field of visual care. We have patterns for over 3,000 different shapes of frames, plus over 1,500 eyeglass frames on display, hard and soft contact lenses, sunglasses galore, plus hearing aids. Optical Bar has two convenient locations to serve you: 763 Main Street and 191 Main Street, both in Manchester. Between the two stores, one store is always at your service six days a week.

Be a show-off

Don't develop color pictures, then put them away!

Get them developed with 3M Brand Photo-Protective Coating... then put them on display!

Carry them in wallet or purse... mail them... let children, relatives and friends handle them all they want.

Or, frame them without glass as a special decoration in home or office.

Your protected prints will resist scratches and sunlight fade—even in the sunniest room! And if they ever smear or smudge... get fingerprints or food stains... a wipe with a damp cloth wipes them away.

And the just-developed freshness stays for years!

Be sure and ask for 3M Brand Photo Protective Coating on all your Holiday Pictures.

A BRIGHT NEW YEAR lay ahead for the Americans who gathered in New York's Times Square on Dec. 31, 1944. Allied victory was just months away, and many of the nation's fighting men would celebrate their next New Year's Eve at home.

Lauren Tewes

On Friday, Oct. 1, 1976 Lauren Tewes, who plays Julie McCoy in ABC-TV's hit series "The Love Boat," gave up her part-time job as a Sunset Strip coffee shop waitress to become a full-time actress. Prior to that memorable date, the spunky young actress had served up countless short orders to a wide assortment of characters to finance her dramatic training and pay her share of the rent on a small West Hollywood apartment. She takes a certain amount of pride in the fact that she has never collected unemployment compensation and has been self-supporting since she was 17 years old.

Miss Tewes was born in Trafford, Pa., one of four children. (The name Tewes, incidentally, was originally German and is pronounced "tee-zee.") When she was eight, the family moved to Whittier, Calif., where she attended Ada S. Nelson Elementary School, Los Nietos Junior High and Pioneer High.

She studied theater arts for a year at Whittier's Rio Hondo College before becoming the first recipient of the Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Theatre, a one-year scholarship which enabled her to attend the University of California at Riverside. At the end of that year, she continued training at the Pacific Conservatory of the Performing Arts in Santa Maria, Calif., and worked for a time at Knott's Berry Farm's Birdcage Theatre.

The first big break came to Miss Tewes in mid-1974 when she was selected to appear in a Lipton's ice tea commercial. The job enabled her to join the Screen Actors Guild and to sign with a talent agent. Although she went out on dozens of interviews, it was more than a year before she worked again, except at the coffee shop.

Then in September 1976, it all began to happen—a bit part here, a small role there. Producer Aaron Spelling gave her a part in a "Charlie's Angels" segment and a guest-starring role in a "Starsky and Hutch" episode. An outstanding dramatic performance as a beautiful but disenchanted Pasadena debutante followed in an episode of "Family." Her sense of humor was effectively displayed in the TV-movie "The Love Boat III," the pilot for the series which introduced her character.

The blue-eyed, ash blonde actress is married to director John Wassel.

Nashville news
The career-long affiliation between actor Robert Redford and director Sidney Pollock ("This Property is Condemned," "The Way We Were," "Jeremiah Johnson," "Three Days of the Condor") continues. The two will take off for Nashville, Tenn., in March to begin filming "A Place to Come To" in and around Vanderbilt University.

Travelogue at Goodspeed

Philip Walker's personal narration of the color film "Journey in Denmark and Greenland" will open the 12th Goodspeed Opera House (East Haddam) winter travelogue series. There will be presentations Jan. 7 at 2:30 and 8:30 p.m., and Jan. 8 at 4 p.m.

Subscriptions for the series are still available. Single tickets are also available. (873-8668)

Theater events

• "Past Tense" completes its current run at the Hartford Stage Company, 50 Church St., Hartford, tonight at 8:30 and Sunday at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. The next performance at HSC will be the French farce by Georges Feydeau, "A Flea in Her Ear," which will open Friday and play through Feb. 12. The French comedy master's most popular bedroom romp will also be the Stage Company's most elaborate production to date, involving two complete set changes and sumptuous turn-of-the-century costumes. Directing the production is Norman Ayrton, British director and teacher who has worked with such groups as New York's Juilliard School, the Bristol Old Vic, London's Royal Opera House at Covent Garden, and the Dallas Theatre Center.

• At the Long Wharf Theatre in New Haven, "The Recruiting Officer" by George Farquhar, a comedy of manners from the Restoration period, is currently in production through Jan. 29. (787-4282)

At the Bushnell

• Jury's Irish Cabaret of Dublin comes to Bushnell Memorial Hall in Hartford Jan. 7 at 8 p.m. The Ancient Order of Hibernians is sponsoring the program of Irish dancers, traditional Irish music and stories of old.

• The Hartford Symphony Orchestra directed by Arthur Winograd features cellist Harry Clark Jan. 11 at 8:15 p.m.

• "My Fair Lady," Lerner & Loewe's musical, stars Edward Mulhare as Henry Higgins and Anne Rogers as Eliza Doolittle, Jan. 19, 20 and 21 at 8 p.m. with a 2 p.m. matinee Jan. 21. (246-6807)

Dinner theaters

• At the Pine Brook Dinner Theatre in Higganum, "Happy Faces," a musical potpourri, is playing now through Jan. 8. The next show scheduled is "Man of La Mancha" in performance from Jan. 11 to Feb. 26. (525-9865)

• At the Coachlight Dinner Theatre in East Windsor, "No, No, Nanette" is entertaining now through Feb. 5 including New Year's Eve. (522-1266)

Musical events

• The "Enrich Your Lunch" music

series at South Congregational First Baptist Church of New Britain resumes Wednesday at noon with four Wednesday concerts scheduled for the month. Robert Shaw, guitarist, a member of the Hartford Conservatory faculty, will play works by Duke Ellington and other popular composers. Those attending may purchase hot luncheons following each concert, which is free. (223-3691)

Dance events

The Connecticut Ballet will dance "The Nutcracker" today at 2 and 8 p.m. on the stage of the Connecticut Center for the Performing Arts at the American Shakespeare Theatre in Stratford.

The Dance Series at the Stratford theater features the Jose Limon Dance Company Jan. 16 to 22. (375-5000)

Art events

The Wadsworth Atheneum in Hartford recently opened its newly refurbished galleries on the third floor of its Avery Building.

These areas were closed to the public in the early spring for renovations that allow the works of art on display to be seen in a new and more educational manner.

Painting, sculpture, furniture, decorative art objects and textiles have been assembled in an intermixture devoted to the arts of 18th century Europe.

In adjoining galleries, 19th century French paintings are on display, as well as the work of Dali, Munch, Mondrian and other artists.

Representative examples of the work of New York artist Edda Renouf can be seen in the Atheneum's MATRIX Gallery now through mid-February.

"Christmas in Goodwin Parlor" will continue to be on view through Monday.

For information on current exhibitions and events at the Atheneum, call 247-9111.

LTM's new season

The Little Theater of Manchester has scheduled two revivals and a musical for its 1978 season.

The Little Theatre will open with the Lillian Hellman drama, "The Little Foxes" Feb. 24-25 and March 3-4.

First produced in 1939, "The Little Foxes" had a cast headed by Tallulah Bankhead in the leading role of Regina Giddens. "The Little Foxes" is considered to be one of Miss Hellman's finest plays.

Noel Coward's comedy, "Blithe Spirit," will be presented as the second offering May 17 through 20. This happy comedy was first produced in England in 1939 and opened on Broadway in 1941 with a cast headed by Clifton Webb and Peggy Wood.

Since then it has been made into a movie and a Broadway musical titled

"High Spirits."

The final offering of the season is the 1970 musical, "Company," by Stephen Sondheim. Better known as a lyricist for show musicals such as "West Side Story" and "Gypsy," Sondheim established himself as the foremost American composer for the Broadway theater with "Company." The musical will be presented in November at a date to be announced.

Subscriptions for the season of three plays are available. Heading LTM's subscription campaign for 1978 is Robert Martel. Further information is available by contacting Mrs. Karen Hjalmeer, 271 Hillstown Road.

'Nanette' at Civic Center

The 16-member cast from the Broadway hit, "No, No, Nanette," will perform Saturday, Jan. 7, on the stage in Center Court at the Civic Center Shops.

There will be two mini-shows, at 1:30 and 2:30 p.m., lasting about one half hour.

The cast will perform a medley of song and dance numbers from this revival of the 1925 musical. The show is currently playing at the Coachlight Dinner Theatre in East Windsor through Feb. 5.

Dance events

Kathryn Kollar & Company will present "The Sunday Project" at Eastern Connecticut State College, Willimantic, as the opening event for the Innovation I Workshop, Friday at 8 p.m.

"The Project" includes discussion, demonstration and participation illuminating the process of choreography and will end in the performance of the piece, "When They Dress Like That, They're Just Asking for Trouble."

This work was choreographed by Ms. Kollar with music composed by Lee Walkup. The work was made possible by a grant from the Connecticut Commission on the Arts through the Connecticut Foundation for the Arts.

Kathryn Kollar & Company was organized in June 1974. The dancers come from backgrounds representing Graham, Limon and Cunningham modern techniques. They have been faculty members at Albertus Magnus College, Yale University, Housatonic Community College, Quinnipiac College and the University of Bridgeport.

The company has performed in New York and at various colleges and community organizations throughout New England.

Weekend

Weekend, an entertainment and television supplement, is published each Saturday by The Manchester Evening Herald, Herald Square, Manchester, Conn. 06040.

Ask Kleiner

By Dick Kleiner

DEAR DICK: I would like to know if what my mother says is true. What is Anthony Quinn's real name? My mother says his real name is Anthony Quintero and that Quinn is short for Quintero. And she says her father (Filiberto Mora Quintero) is related to Anthony. My mother and I made a bet. She says it's true and I said it's not. MARGIE FERNANDEZ, Tucson, Ariz.

I'm all for motherhood and all that, but this time mother doesn't know best. All the information I find is that Quinn, born in Mexico, had a Mexican mother (Manuela Oaxaca) and a father named Frank Quinn, an Irishman.

DEAR DICK: I watched a TV movie with Lee Majors and James Stacy called "Just a Little Inconvenience." James Stacy played an amputee. Was he in an accident or how did he lose his arm and leg? MRS. L. CROMPTON, Coquitlam, B.C., Can.

Yes, Stacy was in a 1973 motorcycle accident and that's how he lost his limbs.

DEAR DICK: I would appreciate any information you might have on the Indian actor, Will Sampson of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest." My husband and I think he is a fine actor and would like to know more about him. MRS. VIRGINIA SMITH, Vida Lia, La.

Acting is only the latest of Sampson's talents. He has long been recognized as a top rodeo performer and then became a fine artist, with paintings (of Indian subjects) on exhibition at the Smithsonian Institution and the Library of Congress, among other heady places. He's an Oklahoman, a full-blooded Creek, and he's had a life which has had its ups and downs — a few marriages, a procession of jobs, problems, triumphs and, now, a brand new career.

DEAR DICK: I would like to know whatever became of Tom Poston, who used to be on TV a lot. He used to be on the old Steve Allen show and then was on the panel of a quiz show. Also what has become of Curt Gowdy, the sports announcer? Has he retired? FRED SPEAK, Neosho, Mo.

Tom is still working. So is Curt. You can see Tom as a regular now on the new CBS series, "We've Got Each Other" — at least for as long as it stays on. He was one of the last of the hold-outs, refusing to leave New York, but he finally made the switch. Gowdy is still doing sports regularly; you've just been missing him.

DEAR DICK: Recently, I read in the paper that Danielle Spencer — Dee on "What's Happening!" — was in a car accident. Her stepfather was killed and she was in a coma. I would like to know how she is — she's a very good actor. BEN THIN, Schoolcraft, Mich.

Danielle, I'm happy to report, is recovering nicely and is, as a matter of fact, now back at work on the series. She had serious arm and leg injuries, but she's mending well.

DEAR DICK: Some years ago, I saw a movie titled "Imitation of Life" in which a light-skinned black girl passed for white. The movie left a lasting impression on me and I wonder if you could find out who played the part of the mother of the girl. F.N. WOOD, Charlottesville, Va.

There have been two movies by the title, both made from the Fannie Hurst novel. In the original ('34) version, Louise Beavers was the mother, with Claudette Colbert and Warren William co-starred. In the '59 re-make, Juanita Moore was the mother, and the stars were Lana Turner and John Gavin.

DEAR DICK: When we first had a TV, there was a series about Jeanie's adventures in the U.S.A. What became of the entertaining Scottish lassie and what was her real name? MARIE SHELLEY, Port Allegany, Pa.

That was the delightful Jeannie Carson, and the series was called Hey, Jeannie. In 1966, she went back to England, made a few films and then retired. As far as I can learn, she is still retired with no plans for a comeback.

DEAR DICK: You goofed. One of your readers asked about Tarzan and you had most of your information right. But you goofed in saying Elmo Lincoln was the first Tarzan. If you check, you'll find that the VERY first Tarzan was not Lincoln, but Gordon Griffith, who played Tarzan as a child in that first Tarzan movie. THOMAS I. KOSHY, Texas Township, Mich.

Oh, come on now, Koshy. Let's not make a career of nit-picking. When people talk about Tarzan, they are talking of the man, not the boy. But, technically, you are right.
