Congress Offered Olive Branch

Judge Shea Honored At Testimonial Fete

FLOYD LARSON (Herald Reporter)

It was officially called a testimonial dinner, and to the extent that John F. Shea's past achievements as a citizen, attorney, public servant, Republican party worker and family man was concerned, this was true.

But to the more than 400 persons attending the fete Saturday night in the Colony Club in Talcottville, it was a tribute to a man from friends and neighbors representing Manchester, a state of fieldwork and both political parties. It was a send-off of Shea and a vote of confidence of greater things to come to a man who was recently appointed a Superior Court judge.

Reference to Shea as "your honor" or "judge" was few because to those present he was and he has been for most of his life in Manchester, a "favorite son" who obviously preferred to be referred to as John or Jack.

Heading the list of dignitaries present was Gov. Thomas J. Meskill, who appointed Shea to the bench which he assumed Sept. 3. Gov. Meskill's appearance was brief as he had another commitment to honor former Gov. Raymond Baldwin. He lauded Shea for his community, public and family service and expressed full confidence that Shea would bring high honor and integrity to the court.

Another political figure who had to cut his appearance short was Rep. Robert Steele, R-Conn., who had "lauding Shea, noted that he had "passed the site of the banquet and was the appearance was brief as he had another commitment to honor former Gov. Raymond Baldwin. Tax Increase, Deficits Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a major new effort to put Watergate behind him, President Nixon told the Democratic-controlled Congress today that he is ready to compromise on solutions to our national problems.

Submitting a special 15,000-word State of the Union message, Nixon urged action this year on his priority legislation and stated new actions he opposes: a tax increase, red-ink spending bills, and a veto of school children to achieve racial balance.

Mingling compliments with criticism, Nixon said he welcomes "a congressional renaissance" and is "ready to find workable compromises wherever possible on solutions to our national problems."

While making repeated pledges of cooperation, the President emphasized that if Congress votes more money than he wants, he will not hesitate to veto spending bills and impose appropriations.

He also said he "will continue to oppose all efforts to strip the presidency of powers it must have to be effective" — an apparent threat to veto any legislation that would limit his war powers.

Nixon displayed the olive branch more prominently than the willow switch, however. Asserting as well as a strong presidency, he said, "There can be no monopoly of wisdom on either end of Pennsylvania Avenue and there should be no monopoly of power."

If we proceed in a spirit of constructive partnership, our varying perspectives can be a source of great creativity rather than a cause of deadlock," Nixon said.

While saying Congress has yet to act on more than 50 of his proposals, Nixon focused attention on selected bills he said would meet "many pressing problems which must be solved with dispatch."

Nixon added: "There are, of course, certain principles of vital national concern which cannot be compromised — the need for budgetary discipline, for a strong national security posture, and for the preservation of the legislative powers of the executive branch. But within these limits I stand ready to find workable compromises."

The President ranked some congressional Democrats last week when he said at a news conference that Congress had compiled "a very disappointing record" in dealing with his legislative initiatives.

In today's message, Nixon said congressional action on his proposals "has been far less than I had expected" but added: "Commendable progress has been made on some fronts, and I have signed into law several bills which were the result of constructive compromise between the Congress and the administration."

Turning to specific areas of concern, Nixon said "the battle against inflation must be our first priority for the remainder of this year... and nothing we could do at this time would be more effective in beating inflation than to... balance the federal budget."

Nixon said Congress has passed or is considering legislation which would add $6 billion to its budget ceiling of $28.7 billion for the fiscal year that began July 1. In addition, Nixon said Congress has failed to make some $1.5 billion in budget cuts that he has recommended.

He threatened to veto spending bills he considers excessive or to impose funds appropriated.

Nixon said he was "fully prepared to work fully with the Congress in determining the best ways to control outlays and in discussing the particular programs that should be cut back."

Local Beef Price Impact Slight

BETTY RYDER (Woman's Editor)

Now that the ceiling on beef prices has been lifted, as of midnight last night, it's anybody's guess with just a few days to go, up or down.

Monday is not usually considered a big shopping day, but several store managers contacted felt that Wednesday they should have some indication as to whether beef prices would rise or decline.

Spokesman for Frank's Supermarket said, "It's a little too early to tell. Later in the week, we should have an answer."

At Highland Park Market, the prices today are the same as they were last week.

"We will have to wait and see what the cost is from our suppliers, then we will know how it will effect the prices to our customers," the meat manager there said.

"We should know better by the end of the week just which way they are going," he added.

A slight decrease in the price of bacon and some pork products was noted at Top Notch, but the manager there agrees that mid-week should tell the story.

The meat manager at Pathmark said, "We won't know a thing at least until Wednesday — we just have to wait and see."

Since indications are that Wednesday may be the magic day, homemakers will have to wait a little longer before they'll know whether or not they will have to tighten their purse strings on beef buying dollars.

Nixon Files Appeal

A 100-page brief said Shea acted utterly without precedent when he ordered Nixon on Aug. 29 to turn over for his private inspection tape recordings which White House conversations on Watergate.

At the White House lawyers pressed the historic legal battle, they contended that Shea reached his decision "by casting the Constitution in the mold of Watergate rather than by applying constitutional practices and restraints to the facts of the case."

"As recently as a year ago such a ruling would have been viewed as a change in the universal view of the legal community was that the courts should not review the actions of the President to produce such confidential material. But the lawyers said Watergate had brought a change in the view of legal and popular opinion, and added:

"The hydraulic force arising out of that sordid and unhappy episode has led men of great distinction to suppose that the Constitution means something different today than it meant throughout all of our history and to contend that the need to exhaust every avenue of fact-finding inquiry concerning Watergate ranks so high in our national priorities that it must be waived. We believe the cost to our country of such a precedent would be too high. We believe that the ability of every President of the United States from this time forward to perform his duties in the interest of his country is vested in him."

The two victims of a plane crash in New Milford Saturday afternoon remained unidentified early today. Police in New Milford said the dentures of the severely burned victims were to be examined by a Hartford doctor and identifications were not expected before this afternoon.

Authorities said the plane was owned by Donald Casazza, 40, who lived near the crash site. The second victim was a woman, police said.

They added that the cause of the crash of the Aronca Flight Two-seater plane was unknown.

Two persons died in a car crash Sunday in Montville. Police said Garret M. Leber, 16, and Thomas Kicher, 15, both of Uncasville, died when the car in which they were riding went out of control and hit a tree. A third rider suffered critical injuries, police said.

Five Killed On Highways

Five Connecticut residents died in car accidents, while a variety of other incidents claimed the lives of six persons in the state during the weekend.

At least six of the victims were younger than 20.

Shea's Judgeship Becomes 'Official'

During the testimonial to John F. Shea Jr., Manchester, honoring his elevation to a judge on the state superior court, there were lighter moments mixed with serious matters, too. Shea sports an "official" British-type wig worn by judges here which was presented him by his former law partner, Paul Martie. Looking on is Harlan Taylor, master of ceremonies. South Windsor
16,000 at Wapping Fair

Continuous entertainment, exhibits, a midway and beer garden all played a part in drawing about 16,000 children and adults to the Wapping Fair this weekend.
There were 7,000 paid admissions; children were admitted free.
The Wapping PTA float, a white mother duck and yellow ducklings with the judges' special trophy, Walter Kupchnos, president of the PTA, said children from the Wapping Elementary School had fashioned the covey of ducks.
"The Wizard of Oz," complete with castle and characters, won first prize for Wood Memorial Library in the float division. Second place went to the Democratic Town Committee, and third place to the Republican Town Committee.

Winners in the antique car division were William Supple, first; Keith Hall, second; and the Manchester Town Fire Department, third.
From the time the fair opened Saturday afternoon until it closed Sunday night, there was continuous entertainment. There were magicians, dance routines by students of the Great School of Dance, a square dance program by the South Windsor Square Dance Club, and music by the Whiskey River Rock Band and the Mice Pace Folk Music group. Sunday's entertainment was a western and country festival starring Kenny Roberts.

Saturday's doo-dle draw continued for hours and was watched by hundreds of interested spectators. One doo-dle was a converted South Windsor fire truck and another was built 16 years ago from parts of junked trucks.

Savings Banks Offer Group Life Insurance

Two Manchester area savings banks today started offering low-cost group life insurance, up to $25,000, to eligible depositors at the banks.
The new service, called Savings Bank Depositors Group Life Insurance, is being made available to eligible depositors by the Savings Bank of Manchester and the Savings Bank of Rockville, Group policies for both banks are being written by the Connecticut Commercial Travelers Mutual Insurance Co. of New Haven, in cooperation with the Savings Bank Life Insurance system of Connecticut.
Savings bank depositors between the ages of 18 and 50 are eligible to apply for the group insurance. Monthly premium rates, payable to the banks, are fixed for various age groups and increase as the depositor advances in age.
Presidents of both the Manchester and Rockville banks emphasized that requests for group life insurance are voluntary, and enrolling in the program doesn't affect the depositor's savings account.
Savings Bank Depositors Group Life Insurance offers a level term insurance coverage, up to age 60, in a choice of four amounts — $10,000, $15,000, $20,000, and $25,000.
The plan provides financial protection against death from any cause, except suicide, occurring within two years after the issue date of the policy. Death benefits are paid directly to the named beneficiary.
The insurance plan doesn't offer dividends or retirement income, however.
Everett Livesey, president of the Savings Bank of Manchester, said, "We believe that by making this protection available at low group rates we are doing a service for those depositors who may feel that extra protection for their families will be beneficial to them during the intervening years until age 60."
Charles Pressler, president of the Rockville Savings Bank, described the program as an "innovative new service" which is "particularly attractive to younger people on smaller incomes."

Insurance Vs. Prevention?

Before a Congressional committee there is an interesting proposal to drop medical expenses as a tax deduction for federal income taxpayers.
As we understand it, the scheme would use the estimated $7 billion accruing to the federal coffers to sweeten the kitty for a compulsory federal health insurance plan.

The concept, at this stage, has some merit if: 1, no fiscally feasible alternative to compulsory national health insurance can be formulated and 2, what controls could be imposed to keep medical costs from continuing to skyrocket should such a plan be implemented.

It is the latter area which concerns us the most. We have not had the time, nor the manpower, to research it thoroughly but it appears there has been more than a coincidental parallel in the rise of medical care cost and the institution of government-paid or government-subsidized health programs such as Medicare and Medicaid.

It is of concern to us that the quality of medical and health care in America should be the best possible and ways and means to insure this to make careers in health fields financially attractive. But there has to be some reasonable limitations somewhere along the line.

For many decades the medical profession, on an "ability to pay" basis, charged fees which insured them an adequate income befitting their profession and covered the expenses of care for those who were unable to pay or pay in full for services rendered. This was in the highest tradition of the Hippocratic Oath.

With the taxpayer assuming the medical cost burdens of the poor, one would think costs could presumably decrease or at least level off a bit since the so-called "bad risks" are all but eliminated.

Now we concede that fees charged by doctors and specialists are not the sole cause of rising medical costs. Obviously the health industry has been hit by inflationary costs of materials,

The thing that nags us a bit about a mandatory and presumably universal system of providing for health care costs through any program is the fact, as evidenced by so many federal aid programs, that it is easier to raise more money to pay rising costs than take the more difficult avenue of finding the means and ways to hold costs down.

With insurance picking up the tab, there is no doubt the health care needs of many now unable to afford them or who are being forced into bankruptcy by catastrophic illnesses could be helped, and should be helped.
But there is also the danger of over use of our health facilities and personnel for those who now feel some minor ache or pain the back is tolerable compared to the pain its treatment might have on the pocket-book.

The challenge before the Congress and the American people is achieving a balanced medical and health care program to insure early and prompt care for those who are in need of care and yet avoid the possible pitfalls of over taxing and thus downgrading health care quality by making it a "costly" right for all by virtue of mandatory insurance.

We believe in preventive medicine and if it is the desire of Congress to improve the health of this nation perhaps it might consider using the estimated $7 billion to be saved by eliminating the medical cost deductions to pay for mandatory annual physical examinations of all our citizens.

The cost of a cancer discovered at an early curable stage could be thousands of dollars less than terminal care for a person who found out too late. And this can be said of many of our major diseases which can be cured if diagnosed early enough.

Maybe the answer to much of the health problem in America today is not in who or how we pay the costs of hospitalization, medications and specialized care; but how to get each of us who feel fit as a fiddle to visit a doctor once year and stay that way.

Agreement

To the editor:
I agree wholeheartedly with Frank Lupien's comments in The Herald (8-29-73) pertaining to the restoration of Cheney Hall.
Spending $500,000 of the taxpayers money to refurbish a run-down decrepit old building merely to benefit someone financially, or to sentimentally capitalize upon some gullible local residents, is a sad use of funds which are so badly needed to restore "downtown Manchester" (a topic which has been discussed for many, many years as a way of competing with the shopping centers which are springing up all over the state), or to apply to many of Manchester's worthy charities, or to improve the deplorable "roads" leading into or exiting from the magnificent facilities in Charter Park, or apply to the expensive school plans of our fair city, or to many of Manchester's other worthy projects, etc.
The point I am making is that there may be considerable merit in retaining historical landmarks (even though they serve no real useful purpose), but the financial burden should be borne by those to whom fond memories and sentimentality have a genuine significance, which they are willing and able to financially support, rather than to penalize some of Manchester's less fortunate or to impose an additional financial burden on our town's taxpayers.

The Herald frequently mentions problems, projects, and many other worthy causes for which no funds are available. Once again, costly restoration of broken-down properties for "so-called" historical or sentimental reasons should be sponsored by the interested few, rather than forcing the cost on the uninterested many.

Oliver J. Minney

Constructive Thinking

Dear sir:
I heartily endorse your strong stand on the need to take positive action to reduce vandalism that is so prevalent in Manchester.
I would also like to endorse the sentiments of the new manager of Burton's as expressed in his letter to you of recent date. My wife and I moved to Manchester late November as new residents, although we lived here for a year in 1966. We returned here because we liked Manchester, and since we live in close proximity to downtown Manchester, we are particularly concerned with its future.
We have lived in many cities and I have requested many more cities on business trips. Having once been involved in retail merchandising for a period of 15 years, I have always been interested in

Nine On The Tapes

WASHINGTON — When the Cox subpoena for the Nixon tapes reaches the U.S. Supreme Court the nine judges will have the toughest decision to make their judicial careers. The Burger court has already had some big ones — on abortion, capital punishment, pornography, the Pentagon Papers. But in one sense this tops the others: It carries with it a sharp constitutional crisis affecting the powers of the Presidency and the courts, and modern shopping malls. The merchants of downtown stores that progress with the time and offer what people want, when they want it, and at a price they are willing to pay, will still prosper as is evident with a few of the more progressive stores of downtown Manchester. The rest of the merchants should stop grumbling and take a more positive attitude.
Every effort should be made to get responsible tenants for the few vacant stores on Main Street. The owners of the vacant property on the corner next to the newly-enlarged Hartford National Bank should be encouraged to demolish the building which is certainly an eyesore to the otherwise presentable area.

I have walked a great many miles of downtown Manchester and I have been appalled at the evidence of vandalism that you mentioned in your editorial. In addition to the windows broken in the schools, there is considerable damage done to vacant properties in the area. The former Cheney Mills buildings that have been thrown on private property or in parks. The Center Springs Park has bushes of broken glass in the paths and roadways. One thing that particularly irritates me is to see grocery store shopping carts dumped in brooks and gutters. This is an expensive cost to the stores that is passed along to customers as an overhead cost and it should be a misdemeanor that could be better controlled by law enforcement. I would like to see a law that would make anyone liable to arrest for taking a shopping cart from store property unless they had written permission from the store manager.

It is a very rare occasion for me to write a letter to the editor of a newspaper, but in this instance, I would like to express my sentiments in the hope that it might help generate some constructive thinking of benefits to "The City with Village Charm."

Reliable signs are important to us. We depend upon them when we are new in a community to find the places we as a family need. We look for the signs indicating local food stores, pharmacies, and schools, and only stop looking for these signs when we know our way to each of the buildings which offer us the services and items we need for our daily lives.
In summer time we find ourselves looking for reliable signs again. We need restaurants, service stations, clear maps, properly marked roads, and adequate motels. To find them we look for these signs.
God knows our needs for reliable signs, and He also provides them. In His word He has provided the reliable signs we need for life. He has provided signs for how we ought to feel toward Him, toward our families, our friends, others in life and even ourselves.
His signs are so proven and reliable that they will never require alterations or change. In a time of shifting values His signs are reliable and trusted. Many of them are listed in The Bible, Romans, chapter 12. Read them for reliable signs for your life. They are not only reliable, they are enjoyable as you practice them.

The Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) will hold a public meeting tonight at 8 in the Town Office Building on the petition of the Coventry Development Corp. for a change from River Zone to Light Industrial Zone for 52 acres of land on the east side of Rt. 31.

The PZC approved this zone change on Aug. 14, 1972, but the decision was appealed by Richard Hayes on the grounds that the change would devalue his property next to the Coventry land fill area which he proposed to subdivide for residential purposes, and that the mandatory requirements of Section 8-3 of the General Statutes were not complied with in the PZC decision.

On July 6, the Court of Common Pleas denied Hayes' appeal and ruled that failure to comply with Sec. 8-3 rendered the 1972 PZC decision null and void. The court decision did not bear the remaining grounds of appeal. The case is being retried by the PZC to cure the procedural defects.

Also scheduled for action are the proposed Hayes subdivision on Plains Rd. and the Gutterman subdivision on Parker Bridge Rd., provided supplemental reports are received prior to the meeting. It is anticipated that action will also be taken on the proposal to rebuild five bridges which has been referred to the PZC by the Town Council.

In regard to the petition submitted by Dorothy Goodrich, Richmond Rd., opposing the use of a home on Richmond Rd. by residents of Mansfield Training School, Steve Lozynn, chairman of the PZC said, "Insofar as the petition is concerned it will have no effect on the action of the PZC. The use of residential purposes for educational purposes is provided for in our regulations. The only way this application could have been denied would be to petition PZC to change its regulations."

Lozynn said that after listening to the statements of Joseph Seigle, administrative director of the school, concerning precautions taken in the selection of the residents to use the house, he felt the residents were "fairly concerned."

Lozynn felt that Mrs. Goodrich's statement that the residents didn't know of the application and hence didn't attend the PZC meeting was invalid because there were three newspaper stories in addition to the required legal notices.

Lozynn said if the residents felt his strongly about the decision they should have contacted a lawyer and appealed the decision within 15 days, which is their right by law.

Leaves skin beautifully smooth, free from hair... without shaving, waxing, using smelly creams or foams or resorting to electrolysis.

There is now a way to remove unwanted hair from face, arms, legs and feet, and keep it off longer. Use a gentle, odorless, organic compound, called D-L, and the results are simply great.

D-L actually lifts out the whole hair from the follicle... leaving your skin beautifully smooth and free from hair for weeks.

The little extra time D-L may take at first won't matter once you find you can really forget about hair removal... yes, for weeks.

There are no blunt ends. No prickly stubble, no nicks or cuts. And there's no quick grow back as there is using razors or creamy or foamy depilatories. When hair eventually comes in, it seems sparser and baby soft.

D-L™ Natural Organic Hair Remover. Ideal for teenagers, too. $5.95 at our cosmetic counter.

Kasko Gambled, Lost

BOSTON (AP) — The second-guessers quick to put the knob on Eddie Kasko had more ammunition today in the wake of the manager's weekend moves with his Boston Red Sox.

Southern Bill Lee and Curti have had some success this year at Fenway Park, long noted as a burling ground for left-handed pitchers. However, Kasko appears to have gone to the well once too often.

Kasko gambled with Lee and Curti against the Detroit Tigers, who are loaded with right-handed power. The manager lost as Lee was belted in a 4-1 loss Saturday and Curti lasted less than three innings in a 5-4 defeat Sunday.

"Starting two left-handers in a row in this ball park against Detroit is crazy," one veteran baseball observer said. "It's just too much of a gamble. Look what Detroit's record is against left-handers, 28-16. They're 100 against right-handers."

After right-hander Marty Pattin won the series opener Friday night, the Red Sox went with Lee, 16-9, and Curti, 12-13. Kasko held out Luis Tiant, giving the veteran right-hander an extra day's rest to have him ready to face the Orioles in Baltimore tonight.

"Sure, you have to look ahead to the Baltimore series and all the others, but you can't afford to look past the team you're playing," the observer said. "I don't do much good to beat Baltimore and lose to Detroit at this stage."

N.E. Grid Campaign Picks Up

By The Associated Press
The 1973 New England college football season picks up in tempo this week with Holy Cross and Maine seeking to prove that stunning upset victories were not flukes.

Holy Cross, a surprising 30-28 victor over highly rated Massachusetts, launches its home campaign against Northeastern Saturday.

Maine, a 14-0 winner over Vermont, makes its debut at Orono as host to Boston University, officially bidding for the Yankee Conference championship for the first time.

In games Saturday, Massachusetts tries to rebound as host to Villanova, Lehigh invades Connecticut, American International travels to take on Vermont, and Bridgewater, winner of 21 games in a row, hits the road to take on Alfred.

Other games include Cortland State at Springfield, Coast Guard at Southern Connecticut, Maine Maritime at Curry, Brockport State at Bridgewater State, Norwich at Millersville State, Central Connecticut at Edinboro State, and New Haven at Trenton State.

Holy Cross, a two-touchdown shocker, checked Massachusetts, the Yankee Conference champion admitted shooting for the No. 1 ranking in New England this year.

Senior quarterback Pete Vass got the Crusaders rolling, after Massachusetts took a 13-0 lead on two touchdown passes by Peil Pennington. Vass hit on 18 of 24 passes, including two for touchdowns on Tom Rock.

Vass also scored once on a keeper. Holy Cross' margin of victory was 21-14.

Lee was hit hard, allowing 11 hits before being relieved in the ninth. Curtis was targeted for six hits and all Detroit runs before rookie right-hander Dick Pole relieved in the third and blanked the Tigers the rest of the way.

"Tony greeted Curti with a homer leading off the game with many in the crowd of 28,244 barely seated. A walk, a couple of singles and a sacrifice fly made it 3-0 in the second.

The Red Sox got back in the game with a pair of runs on singles by Orlando Cepeda and Danny Cater, a double by Bob Montgomery and Doug Griffin's sacrifice fly in their half of the second.

Curti issued a walk with two out in the third and then was the victim of a little tough luck. The Brown, a right-handed batter, got an automatic two-run homer when his drive struck the right field foul pole, just 302 feet from the plate.

The Red Sox picked up a run in the eighth on a walk, a single by Reggie Smith and a double play grounder Montgomery homered for his third hit and Boston's other run with one out in the ninth.

The loss left the Red Sox 5 1/2 games behind the Orioles, who split a doubleheader with Cleveland.

Tiant, 16-12, edged Baltimore's Jim Palmer 2-1 in 13 innings in his last start last Tuesday night. He is due to be opposed on the mound by Jesse Jefferson, 4-4, tonight as the Red Sox open a brief trip to Baltimore and New York.

Trail By Three Games Mets Capitalize

MONTEAL (AP) — The Expos lost a numbers game Sunday as the numbers two and 13 both came up unlucky for the Expos.

The No. 2 was most costly as two errors in the fifth inning broke up a scoreless ball game with the New York Mets and two doubleplay ground balls snuffed out a couple of Montreal rallies in a 3-0 loss.

The number 13 represented a strong hitting attack by the team but also demonstrated why the Expos lost. They also left that many runners stranded.

"I felt like I was pitching uphill all afternoon," Mets' starter George Stone said. "Every time I looked around there were men on base but clutch defensive plays helped us pull it out."

Stone lined a sharp grounder into center field and two were involved in a scoreless game when errors opened the gates for New York in the fifth.

Jerry Terrell led off with a ground ball to Ron Hunt but Montreal's central second baseman booted it for an error.

Don Hahn and Teddy Martinez then loaded the bases with singles before Montreal shortstop Tim Lincecum batted the Expos out and then gave the Mets a pair of runs on consecutive plays.

N.L. New Dance Step Called Title Tap Out

NEW YORK (AP) — Introducing a new dance step for those who enjoy wonderful folks in the National League's East Division. It's called the Title Tap-Out. You take one step forward and then two backwards.

That kind of tremulous pace has created a five-team scramble for the division title with the St. Louis Cardinals holding the lead only because they're the only team in this silly division able to play 500 baseball. Barely 500, but in this division, you can't argue.

The Cardinals dropped their third straight game Sunday, bowing to Chicago 5-4. But they remained on top of the division because Pittsburgh managed to blow a six-run lead and lose to Philadelphia 8-7.

Elsewhere in the NL Sunday, Houston edged San Francisco 5-4, Los Angeles edged its nine-game losing streak, beating San Diego 5-3, and Cincinnati swept a doubleheader with Atlanta, taking the first game 14-4 and winning the second 7-0.

As a result of the Title Tap-Out, the Cards are still first despite a three-game losing streak and a mediocre record of 72-71. Pittsburgh is second, one game out. Montreal is third, 2 1/2 behind while Chicago and New York are tied for fourth, a mere three games behind.

The batter won. "I'm a low ball hitter and he's a low ball pitcher," said jmay. "It's tough on him. That makes his best pitch my best pitch, too."

Stottlmyre tried his best pitch, a sinker, and May ripped it for his second career grand slam. The Brewers to a 10-3 victory over the Yankees.

May's shot came in a seven-run second inning. Stottlmyre, the pitcher that put the Brewers in command, Darrell Porter added another Milwaukee homer and Billy Chamblin, 5-7 coasted to the easy victory.

It wasn't the first time May and Stottlmyre have locked horns. May tagged the pitcher as a two-run homer that beat New York 2-0 at Milwaukee earlier this season.

Sunday's shot was May's first homer in two years at Yankee Stadium. He hit three homers in 1971 and claimed that said him, "I started to go for homers and as a result, didn't get any last season."

Kask Leads Open

There's something about the Manchester Country Club golf course that Fred Kask of the Wetherfield Country Club likes. Saturday, for the second straight year, the fine player paced a field of 217 amateurs in the 27th Manchester Open Golf Tournament.

Kask turned in a 73 score, one stroke higher than his first day leading total of a year ago. Today, part two of the Open will find professionals and low handicappers and low handicappers amateurs, three or under, taking over the course. The field is expected to number close to 200.

Defending champ, pro Jim Goshdigian of Hartford leads the field today. The pros will be shooting for a top prize of $1,000. Henry Bontempo, a four-time champ, will be in the Senior's Division after a $100 bill while the amateurs will be shooting for merchandise awards.

Recording the second hole-in-one of her golfing career was Mrs. Edna Hillinski of East Germany, who won the 270 total to defeat Forrest Fezler by one stroke and win the $100,000 Southern Open Golf Tournament.

AKRON, Ohio — Tom Weir pulled away from Jack Nicklaus in the stretch drive and scored a three-stroke victory with a final round 68 in the World Series of Golf.

PORTSMOUTH, Va. — Sam Snead shot a 26-foot birdie putt on the fifth hole of a sudden death playoff to defeat Australian Ted Nield and win his second straight World Senior's golf championship.

DALLAS — Kathy Whitworth won the $25,000 Dallas Civitan Women's Open golf title for the second time by beating Mary Mills with a par on the second hole of a sudden death playoff.

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Paul Harvey, 43, is quitting after nine years as the resident golf pro at Fiveam Valley Country Club.

Harvey, a part-time player on the PGA tour, said during the week he plans to move to Palmouth to devote full time to his par 3 golf course.

EAST PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Connecticut is the 1973 U.S. State gold champion. Led by Jerry Courville's two-under par 69, Connecticut won the championship Saturday, defeating Rhode Island 14-13.

INGLEDWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Muhammad Ali scaled 212 pounds and Ken Norton was 205 pounds when they prepared for Monday's 12-round heavyweight fight at the Forum.

The two met last March and Norton turned in a stunning upset, breaking Ali's jaw in the process.

Aged Man Wants To Die

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Carl Anell goes to bed every night hoping he won't wake up the following morning. Carl Anell wants to die.

"You've got to have some goal to look forward to go on living," says the 87-year-old Anell, who lives in a nursing home, his days filled with pain and loneliness.

"I have hardening of the arteries. My doctor has told me about it. First you can't use your arms, then your legs go. In the end, if you live long enough, you'll be a vegetable."

Anell, born in Sweden, has lived in Worcester since he was 2 years old. He says he believes in mercy killing and has asked his doctor to "give me a pill, but he won't do it because it would be against the law."

The South Windsor Sewer Commission will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Town Hall with sewer line agreements with Manchester and Vernon, one of the agenda items.

The commission will also discuss the Avery-Sullivan sewer extension: Graham Rd.-Birch Hill area sewer extension; levy of assessments on Governor's Highway (amendment to the developers permit agreement); preparation of assessments; assessment exemption procedures for persons over 65; Macchi easement for Slater Rd. to Imperial Dr.

The commission will also be asked to approve several bills for payment and hear reports of standing committees.

Service Council
The Community Service Council, a non-profit civic organization, is seeking new members for the start of its 1973-74 year.

Formerly funded by the Board of Education and the State Mental Health Department, the council is now supported by the town. It sponsors the Child Care Center and Learning Program for preschoolers, FISH, Volunteer Opportunities Unlimited, NET and maintains an office at 5 Oakland Rd.

The council's primary goal is to provide a healthy and constructive climate for the residents of the town and to establish preventive and corrective programs to further this goal.

The council has representation on the Capital Region Mental Health Planning Committee. It meets on the second and third Thursday of each month at Our Savior Lutheran Church, 229 Graham Rd. The first meeting will be held Sept. 13 at 7:30 p.m.

T & M Building Co., Inc., Torrington, is requesting a subdivision of property at the north end of Norton Lane, consisting of 38 lots.

The town is asking permission for removal of fill from town-owned property on Rye St. to acquire spoil material to continue operation of the sanitary landfill area.

Commission Approves

Town Increases Insurance Benefits

Donna Holland, Correspondent, Tel. 646-0375

Representatives of the Insurance Advisory Board met with the Board of Education to consider proposals and recommendations made and endorsed by the insurance board for school board employees. Outlines of the present insurance plan and a rate sheet consisting of proposals from several insurance companies made up the presentation by insurance board representatives Morris Silverstein and Rudolph DeTuccio.

Unanimously approved by the school board were two policies: One for $4,000 life insurance from Occidental Life Insurance Co. and one for major medical from Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co.

In approving the Phoenix Mutual plan the board increased the major medical coverage from $20,000 to $250,000. The lowest bid received, equal to present insurance replacement, showed a total savings of $1,542.48.

However, the board felt that the money had been appropriated in the present budget under the then effective insurance coverage, and if they could give the employees more benefits and still save money it was the moral thing to do.

With the increased benefits given to the teachers the board's budget shows a yearly savings of $771.96 in the insurance category.

FLOYD LARSON (Herald Reporter) "Father time succeeded where the German Army failed. He decimated our ranks and dulled our enthusiasm so that we became less and less active until the only duty we performed was decorating the graves of more than 50 of our departed members. As there are only two of us still active, Comrade John McDowell and myself, this duty has become a chore, so we decided that we should to paraphrase Gen. Douglas MacArthur, just fade away."
