the good fight none has accomplished official has done so much as Governor Flower. Too much praise cannot be given Mr. Flower for lifting the matter of forest-preservation out of politics. It is to his efforts alone, it may be said, that the "Forest-Preserve Bill," recently passed by the New York Legislature, received the serious consideration it merited. He alone, of all in political power, appeared to grasp the necessities of the case, and in doing so he responded to the carnest desire of those who want to see the forests perpetuated in good order.
