TOWN NEWS. With this issue, THE NEWS enters upon the second year of its existence, and patrons are hereby reminded that their subscriptions are due and payable now. T. F. Moriarty has named his new barber shop 'The Vigilant' and has had this title painted on his shop window yesterday, by D. J. Sullivan. Mr. Sullivan is getting to be quite handy with the palette and brush.

Harry R. Cheney has been spending a week in Fortness Monroe, Elizabeth County, Virginia, and expects to return home the early part of next week. The weather here in Connecticut for the past eight days, has been quite 'velvety'. E. H. Talcott of Livingston, Montana, came to town last week Friday, and on Wednesday, left for the west, where he is president of a national bank. He reports business in Montana as being very good.

Prosecuting Agent John E. Dunn issued complaints against John Spillane and P. O'Connell, and their premises were raided by officers Thomas J. Smith and George H. Hall last week, but no liquors were found. A billiard tournament is now in progress by the South Manchester Wheel Club. They have divided into teams, will play a series of games and the losing team will present some article of furniture to the Club.

Prayer meetings were held by members of the Center Congregational Church at the residences of Daniel Wadsworth and Henry Bidwell last evening, and this evening they will assemble at James Milburn's. John Matcetti the genial blacksmith at Conch's shop on South Main street, is rejoicing over the arrival of his first-born, a bouncing boy, and receiving the congratulations of his friends on the happy event.

Miss Rosie Burke of Manchester Green, is suffering with a severe attack of nervous prostration and has been taken to the Hartford hospital for treatment. She was employed as stenographer in the office of the Glastonbury Knitting Company at the Green. About twenty of Mattie Hayes's little friends assembled at her residence on Wells street last Tuesday evening and gave her a surprise party and candy-pull. Prizes, candies, cakes and other things were furnished in abundance and a very merry time was enjoyed.

Ernest Funder, formerly in the employ of the Peter Adams Paper Company, has been passing through a severe siege of pneumonia at the residence of Mrs. Albert Potter, with whom he is boarding; but is now somewhat better and it is believed that he will recover. Hugh Lyons of Spruce street left town last Tuesday for a visit to Ireland, and intends to remain there until times improve in the United States. Mr. Lyons has crossed the ocean several times already, visiting his native home in County Kerry.

J. J. Brough of the firm of Bissell & Brough sold his handsome house in Oakland to a New York gentleman, who intends to occupy it as a summer residence. Mr. Brough has hired the tenement on North School street formerly occupied by the late E. J. Sison.

Wm. E. Gleason has resumed his duties on his route, serving customers with vegetables. He has had no team on the road all winter, but will go with his rounds as heretofore from this time on. His sister, Miss Mary Gleason, attends the store. Lieutenant W. B. Porter has resigned from the military service, after serving nine years. At this writing his resignation had not been officially accepted, but there is no doubt that it will be, before going through the customary red tape.

The play of Rip Van Winkle was presented in April's open house last Monday evening. It was well handled, but the attendance was light. Those that were there however were well entertained and received the performance very cordially, showing their appreciation by frequent applause.

The newly elected officers of the South Manchester Wheel Club are: A. J. Atwood, president; J. P. Cheney, vice president; B. J. Bartlett, financial secretary; C. E. House, treasurer; Eliza B. Barber, recording secretary. There will be a meeting of the active members this Saturday evening to choose road officers. A special school meeting was called for last evening to take action on certain changes in the plans for the new school building, in accordance with suggestions recently made by the building committee. It was estimated that the proposed changes would save the district several hundred dollars without impairing the strength, beauty, convenience or utility of the building.

Mr. Katie Grogan, formerly Miss Katie Foley of Pearl street, is lying dangerously ill at her mother's residence here. Her speedy recovery or happy death was prayed for by the church last Sunday on an announcement made by Rev. D. A. Haggerty. Pneumonia and other complications exist and it is feared she cannot live through the attack. She is under Dr. Weldon's care.

The pleasant weather of this week has brought out the spring games with the children, and groups of boys playing marbles on every available spot of ground that would warrant it, could be seen everywhere. The girls too were out jumping rope, and the bright and happy sunshine, their joyous shouts of laughter ringing out merrily and gladdening the hearts of persons of matured years. A brave wheelman ventured out on Main street near Cheney's store last Wednesday.

The east end of Oak and Maple streets has been almost impassable for pedestrians during the past week. There is an opportunity for the proper authorities to make some improvement there that would enable residents of that locality to go back and forth with some degree of comfort. At the junction of Birch and Spruce streets, the town has done something this week to improve matters in the direction indicated above. The corner of Vine and School streets also needs attention and needs it badly.

FOR VALUE RECEIVED. R. M. Rood has bought back again the late W. H. Cheney some thirteen years ago, when he (Rood) bought out the express business from Mr. Cheney. This faithful servant has earned for Mr. Rood a great deal of money and now he proposes to take care of her for the rest of her days, for the good services she has rendered him.

PLAYED TO SMALL BUSINESS. The concert given by the Torbett Concert Company in Cheney Hall last Tuesday evening attracted a very small audience, but the performance was excellent in every particular. The latter part of the program, which included several English songs, and Miss Ollie Torbett discoursed heavenly music on her violin. Her playing of 'Dixie' was very much appreciated. Kjalsson, on High street the 15th of April.

A FULL HOUSE. 'A Dark Secret' was presented to a full house in Armory Hall Wednesday evening. Nearly all the best seats were bought up in advance. It was very pleasing to the management to see such a good attendance, but the play in itself did not come up to public expectations. The water tower did not have enough of water in it to allow the audience to see the boats and this of course took away the realistic effect and diminished the enjoyment of the performance very much, making the best rows, which were supposed to be the principal feature of the play, a very tame affair. The troupe of players was exceedingly clever, pleased the audience very highly, and was greeted with a rousing encore. To Rent—Orford Hall ball room for public or private parties. All conveniences, steam heat, gas, lavatories, etc. For terms apply to F. W. Mills, Park Building. Pretty styles wash dress goods at Cheney's store.
