Public Notice.

To all whom it may concern.

Upon the application of the Hartford, Manchester and Rockville Tramway Company, to the selectmen of the town of Manchester, Connecticut, for the approval and acceptance of the application and plans of said company for the location of its tracks upon certain portions of the public highways of said town, to wit: on, through and over certain parts of each of the following described streets, namely: Middle Turnpike, Adams street, Olcott street, Center street and Main street, the particular portions of each of said streets being more particularly described in said application and the plans accompanying it.

Notice of said hearing shall be given to all persons interested therein, and to the selectmen of said town, at said time and place and be heard relative thereto, by publishing this order in a newspaper having a circulation in said town of Manchester, at least 5 days before the day of said hearing.

Dated at said Manchester, June 27, 1894.

JOHN M. WILLIAMS, Selectman of JOHN M. WILLIAMS, Manchester, Ct. JOHN M. WILLIAMS, Manchester, Ct.

BROWN-GRISSWOLD. It was a great surprise to many neighbors and friends to learn that Anselm M. Brown of Pine Street and Miss Esther Griswold, were married Wednesday June 21.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph White, pastor of Trinity church, at his residence 188 Albany ave. Hired. It was entirely informal. There were no cards, and very few persons knew anything of the event until it occurred. Miss Griswold has been housekeeper for Mr. Brown for several years, and the latter has been a widower some 32 years.

SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT. The entertainment given by the young people of St. Bridget's church in Apple's opera house last Wednesday evening was largely attended and passed off very pleasantly, smoothly and successfully.

The little ones did remarkably well, and evoked rounds of enthusiastic and generous applause. The "Fan drill", "umbrella drill", "ten little girls" and performances by the Sacred Heart Cadets were given special mention and won the admiration of the audience. Much credit is due Miss E. Keating for the faithful and painstaking work she performed in training the little ones, and also Captain John Moriarty for the excellent showing made by the cadets.

Fathers Doolan of Southington and Furlong of Rockville were present, as were also Father O'Connell and Flanagan of this town. A large contingent from South Manchester enjoyed the entertainment and dance. A good sum of money was realized for the orphans.

TRAMWAY COMPANY'S APPLICATION.

The Tramway Company made formal application to the selectmen June 27, for an inspection and acceptance of the proposed route, as shown in the plan and map accompanying the application.

The selectmen went over the ground yesterday, to ascertain what the Tramway Company intended to do, where it wanted the tracks laid, where sidings were to be put in, the power-house located and the numerous other details that attach to the project as a whole.

Their findings will be made known at a public hearing to be held Friday July 6, where all interested can come forward, state their grievances, if any, and then the selectmen will be enabled to act on the matter intelligently and with a full knowledge of all the facts in the case.

BE NOT ALARMED.

If you should be rudely awakened next Tuesday night by unseasonably noisy neighbors, do not be alarmed.

It is stated that a strong wind, blowing in the direction of the town, will give vent to your neighbor's spirits on the approach of the exuberant birthday of something of the same character. We would imply to our neighbors, do not carry the fun too far.

A PHENOMENAL RECORD.

It is stated that a strong wind, blowing in the direction of the town, will give vent to your neighbor's spirits on the approach of the exuberant birthday of something of the same character. We would imply to our neighbors, do not carry the fun too far.

THEY WERE SHOT AT.

Thomas Hahn and his brother in law August Sinkbeil, who live in the double tenement a little east of the corner of Spruce and Wells streets, have been annoyed very much recently by persons prowling about their premises evenings and peering in at the windows.

On Saturday evening last they were on the look out for visitors, of two or three persons was discovered in the bushes close by, and Messrs Hahn and Sinkbeil gave chase, and at the same time fired several pistol shots at the intruders.

None of the shots took effect, but the event stirred up quite an excitement in the neighborhood.

Mr. Hahn says he has been pestered in this manner for some time past and proposes to make matters very interesting for any person or persons he may find engaged in this practice hereafter.

CARD OF THANKS.

I hereby wish to publicly express my grateful gratitude to my neighbors and friends for their kindly assistance, and expressions of sympathy and condolence in the dark hour of my sad and sudden bereavement, in the unexpected death of my dear husband, Charles A. Hayes.

And also to the members of Oxford Lodge No. 58, A. O. U. W. for good services and substantial aid which they have afforded me, this tendering to Mr. J. M. Williams, of Manchester, Ct. for providing for my immediate wants and enabling me to support my fatherless children. To all of whom I owe a deep debt of gratitude that I shall never be able to sufficiently repay.

My affectionate daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Hayes, South Manchester, Conn., June 23, 1894.

HIGHLAND PARK SCHOOL.

A large number of voters attended the special meeting of the Third School District last Monday evening, at the creation of putting up a new school building, and the probability of changing the location had considerable interest for many in the district, and a full expression of opinion was expected to be made.

On motion of E. C. Stanley, the vote passed at the previous meeting authorizing the building of a new school house was rescinded, and it was then voted to relocate and repair the present school building in as much as was required to meet the needs of the district, and make ample accommodations for another teacher.

Mr. Wells came withdrew from the committee, as he had not time to attend to the duties of same and M. J. Maguire was appointed to fill the vacancy.

The committee has full power to go ahead and do whatever is necessary to erect a sufficient school room in the way of adding to the present building, and will proceed to have it placed in readiness by the beginning of the fall term.

The New York & New England Railroad will sell excursion tickets at greatly reduced rates from Willimantic and intermediate points including Rockville on Eastern Division and from Waterbury and intermediate points on Western Division to Hartford and return, July 4th, on account of the great celebration given by the city of Hartford, that date.

LAYING OUT A NEW HIGHWAY.

A petition was presented to the selectmen last week, asking them to call a public hearing to take action on the proposition "to open a new highway from Adams street, running west to a point about five hundred feet from the west end of Love Lane, according to a survey and map made by Engineer Olanoff, and the proposed route, as shown in the plan and map accompanying the application.

The selectmen went over the ground yesterday, to ascertain what the Tramway Company intended to do, where it wanted the tracks laid, where sidings were to be put in, the power-house located and the numerous other details that attach to the project as a whole.

THE NEED OF AN ACTIVE AGENT.

Everybody's business is nobody's business. It is an old saying that applies very well to town building. If every man is expected to look after his own business, the town will be sure to depend upon his neighbors to do the work.

Business methods are needed to build up a town the same as in other enterprises. Every business man should have a paid secretary whose business it is to see that the town is well advertised, and that all inquiries concerning its advantages are answered promptly, courteously and intelligently.

Such a secretary may be secured for a moderate amount, especially if some bright young man is chosen who has other business that does not fully engage his time. In addition to conducting the advertising of the town, the secretary will often hit upon very clever schemes for attracting attention to the town, and if he is particularly bright, he will be able to suggest a medium of the ever ready local press, start paragraphs about the town's advantages and have them widely copied and meet the eyes of many who are looking for a place to locate.

If there are certain industries in the town, it is fitted for, and is particularly anxious to acquire the best of the kind, by investigating the subject, learn where many of these industries are located and enter upon a campaign of advertising, by mail that will produce good results. For example, if the town is in the vicinity of large forests of valuable timber, a pamphlet describing the character of the timber, its cheapness and the ease with which it may be brought to the town by wagon or rail, will often be materially assisted in securing a planing mill, or a chair factory, or some other kind of manufactory that uses vast quantities of natural woods. With the benefit of trade's business in the hands of a paid employee, building up the place will be much more of a success than if it were left to the town's own efforts in its endeavor to secure the location of new industries.
