STRAIT—SHURTLEFF.

George W. Strait and Miss Rose B. Shurtleff daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey L. Shurtleff of 16 Laurel street, were united in marriage on Thanksgiving Eve at the residence of the bride's parents, the ceremony being performed by Rev. C. H. Barber, pastor of the North Congregational church. The ceremony was entirely informal. The young people received a number of very fine presents. They will reside with the bride's parents for the present and about January 1st will take up their abode in their own house on Church street.

FAMILY REUNION.

Cheney hall was very attractively decorated for the annual Thanksgiving reunion of the Cheney families. The parlors and festoons of evergreens were hung about the hall, set in with the products of the garden and farm, such as cornucopias, hush and ears, sets in the sheaf, pumpkins, squash, apples, cabbage, carrots, etc. Long rows of tables were arranged the full length of the hall, where the Thanksgiving dinner was served. The stage was also decorated in similar fashion and large clusters of golden chrysanthemums and other equally handsome flowers added to the beauty of the ornamentations. The decorations were quite unique and arranged with much care, labor and artistic taste.

LECTURES IN CHENEY HALL.

Two years ago Prof. C. T. Winchester of Wesleyan University gave a few parlor lectures here, which were very much enjoyed by all who heard them, as has always been the case when he has spoken in Hartford. His style is so graceful, and his subject matter so varied, entertaining, and adorned with humor, that it is always a delight to listen to him.

MAN'S SUBTLE MASTER.

Miss Fanny Munster of Fingert, O., who is not 30 years old, has perfectly white hair. The effect is said to be charming.

Mrs. Sarah B. Cooper of San Francisco has a Sunday school class of more than 100 intelligent men and women. She has taught a Bible class for more than 40 years.

Mrs. Adria Stevenson of Denver is a little, fragile looking woman of cultured mind. She was reared in a literary atmosphere, being the daughter of a college president.

Miss May L. Hammond recently completed the seventh year of her continuous service as a teacher, and the whole 80 years' service was in one room of one building in Watons, N. H.

Cinderella's real name, it seems, was Rhodope, and she was a beautiful Egyptian maiden who lived 670 years before the common era and during the reign of Psamtichus, one of the 12 kings of Egypt.

Lucy Booth, the youngest daughter of General Booth, is now in India, at the head of the Salvation Army work among the women there. Her mother was the first of the native women clad in garments like their own and lives as they do.

Mr. Parson is one of the best women what players. She has the hair at her finger tips, and during a game she can be seen to be pulling at it. She is a member of the South N. H. club, where what is a crowd, not a game.

Miss Jennie Young, an American woman, who spent several years in Cuba and Mexico, will bring over several thousands of dollars worth of goods to the hands which she has been getting by the Mexican government.

Little Ruth Crawford has her mother's eyes and beautiful smile, but her father's head and hair. She is a fascinating, while the presence of her hair, says the president's wife is greatly beloved by all who have known it. Miss Anthony regarded this as a compliment.

Edgar Selden is at work on a new Irish comic which will be produced next season. It has not yet been named.

Miss Palmer is thinking of becoming a star again next year in 1901, and only very great success, "My Sweetheart."

Henry F. Dixey will probably start next season in a new series of his old play, which will be called "Adonis the Second."

Opal Tyler, the wonderful boy soprano, will soon go to England, where he will sing only at private entertainments and residences.

Edward "Crucifixion" Rice's latest extravaganza, "1487," is booming almost merrily at Palmer's New York theater, where it is booked for a run.

Most of the English critics declare that many of the epigrams in Oscar Wilde's new play, "A Woman of No Importance," are fully strained.

It is understood that when John Drew, so much Charles Frohman it will be for the purpose of being fitted to a play by a foreign author.

"The Last of the Purperts," the travesty of "The Wild Withered Fan," is withdrawn from the New York theater, where it will be shelved. The skit has not been a great success.

"The Hivings" will be given in the United States next year, written by a company composed of Mrs. John Drew, McKee Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew and other well known actors.

RAILWAY RUMBLERS.

The United States have about 1,700 different and distant railroads.

Both the Northern Pacific and Great Northern are said to have decided on maintaining their coal rates at 75 cents.

Minnesota now gets more coal from the great earnings of railroads $1,500,000 a year, and the amount increases every year.

The Indianapolis, Decatur and Western railroad has been reorganized and its name changed to the Indianapolis and Haven. In Illinois it will be known as the Decatur and Springfield.

The management of the New York Central railroad feels that the managers in the employ of the corporation can leave its service at any time if those and can be discharged at any time.

General Superintendent H. F. Royce of the Rock Island, who resigned on account of an advisory capacity, is being regarded as a very able railway man.

WAVES OF WATER.

The Dakota river is the longest navigable river in the world—over 1,000 miles.

A wave a quarter of a mile in breadth and 40 feet high is not sensibly felt at the depth of 100 fathoms.

When the German ocean storm waves are blowing spray over the Hull Roads the pressure of 4,720 pounds per square foot.

There is a lake near Chesterwood, Md., called Salt Pond, which is said, has never been troubled by the most violent storms.

Another peculiarity about it is that the water never freezes.

In the Cascade mountains in the Great Salt Lake, the most deeply sunken lake in the world, it is 13 miles long and 4 1/2 wide. It is 2,000 feet down to the surface of the water, but the depth of the water is unknown.

GASTRONOMIC GUIDES.

In south Russia a drink resembling brandy is obtained by distilling the juice of the watermelon.

Molds should be wet with cold water before used for Jellies or cream, as used for a strained mixture, and left with wetting our greasing if they are to be used.

When fish are fresh, the skin and scales will be bright, the eyes will be clear and the gills will be pink. If the fish are old and the scales are dull, the gills are black and the eyes are cloudy.

Puddings which are to have meringue tops should be allowed to cool before the meringue is put on. The meringue should be made of egg whites, sugar and cream, and should be beaten to a stiff froth.

The appearance and taste of the dish.

STARTING A LIBRARY.

SOME PRACTICAL ADVICE ON HOW TO OBTAIN ONE.

Methods to be Pursued in Keeping Up the Supply of Books—Plans Suggested When the People Are Interested—How to Obtain One Without a Public Library.

Every town should have a public library. Young people's societies could do few more useful things than to establish such centers of light and life. It is not at all so difficult to "public Libraries in America," gives practical advice on this point.

In the beginning of its life a library will perhaps be very humble and unpretentious. Some one interested in the project gives the use of a room. Another, with little or no compensation, acts as a librarian for the six or eight hours weekly when the library is open.

Books will be given to the library, and the trustees of the admission is a book for the library, or some similar and occasional effort, maintains the supply of books, and the library grows and prospers.

Such has been the history of numerous American libraries. The way, then, to start a library is to start it in a quiet, unobtrusive way, and to make a beginning from which the library may grow.

It is a fact, it is told, was founded by a meeting at Lynn of a few Connecticut ministers, each of whom brought books for the library from his own collection. These few old volumes were laid together, the library of Yale college began to exist, and only by the aid of the state and the state aid made a beginning from which the library may grow.

Not all our public libraries have thus grown by long process from small beginnings. Occasionally one has been founded by a large bequest, launching it at once upon a grand scale, but the rule has been the other way, and no community can afford to wait for such a windfall. It may well be doubted whether a library can be so much benefited from a library coming in the shape of a gift as from one which has grown out of the efforts of the community. Certainly no community should be without a public library, the process of forming one being so simple and easy.

TOWN NEWS.

They have a very pretty line of Knit goods for babies at the Manchester Millinery and Fancy Goods Store on Depot Square. It will pay you to see them. They make a specialty of these goods and have a fine display. It is expected that John P. Smith will open his new drug store on Depot Square next week. The painters are finishing up the decorations and the bottles and stock are now being placed in position. George F. Day has been in the grocery and general merchandise business in this town for the past twenty years, and reports having had the largest Thanksgiving trade this season he ever enjoyed. This is good news.

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. F. B. Barber, Monday evening, Dec. 3. A large attendance is requested, as there is important business to be transacted. The foundation for the new car house and offices of the tramway company is about ready and as soon as the timbers etc. arrive, George M. Barber will put a gang of carpenters at work erecting the building. T. P. Aitkin bought a piece of land for Mrs. Mary Ernsaw, from the McCaffrey estate on Woodland street near Main, and Mrs. Ernsaw intends to erect a residence there next Spring. The Crescent social club gave a private social in Woodbridge hall Thanksgiving night. Some fifty couples were present. Admission was on invitation only. Paxson's orchestra furnished music. Clinton E. Buck and Miss Grace N. Weir were united in marriage last Tuesday evening at the residence of John W. Gilback, 348 Main street. Sherman Duck was best man and Miss Sadie Weir was bridesmaid.

The newly elected officers of the Manchester Christian Endeavor Society are as follows: Herbert B. Fitch, president; Mrs. G. M. Griswold, vice president; Emily Turnbull, recording secretary; and John McMenemy, treasurer. The silver jubilee fair of St. Bridget's church is in progress in Bissell's hall this week. The probabilities are that it will close Saturday evening. A strong effort is being made by the pastor, Rev. R. C. O'Connell, to clear off the debt of $1,500 that rests on the parish property. Some departments of the silk mills closed down Wednesday evening, and will not start up again until Monday December 3. These branches were employed last Saturday and Monday, so that the net result to the help will be about the same. Dr. John Weldon, who had just recovered from a severe spell of sickness when his wife took sick and died, in Williamstown, is now spending a few days with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weldon on Tolland Turnpike, trying to recuperate. The New Britain Bee celebrated its eighth anniversary last week with a large Thanksgiving number set in green covers. Outside of the covers in this issue, there is nothing particularly green about the Bee or its widely awake editor, T. S. Saech. The King's Daughters will hold a sale of fancy articles and entertainment in the North Congregational church, Wednesday evening, Dec. 5. Refreshments will be served. Proceeds for benefit of a public library. All are cordially invited to take hold and help along the good work. Baffling for turkeys was all the go here on Thanksgiving Eve. Persons could be seen on the streets, from 8 o'clock on, going in all directions with turkeys under their arms and their faces wreathed in smiles, because of their good luck. An unusually large number of birds was disposed of in this way. Misses Esther and Ruth Vikberg will go to Norwich tomorrow to take part in the dedication of a new Swedish Lutheran church there and will be joined by Prof. N. E. Kron and Rev. G. Forsberg in a quartet that will sing at the dedicatory exercises there Saturday and Sunday. A pleasing evidence of returning prosperity hereabouts may be noted in the great increase of weddings at this time. Although winter is coming on, the young hearts are courageous enough to unite their destinies "for better or for worse," something that most of them feared to undertake for many months past. "Our Journey Around the World" contains 200 fine illustrations from photographs from life, that are of unusual artistic excellence and give one an accurate idea of some of the many curious sights met by Dr. and Mrs. Fessie E. Clark, their own recital of which is highly pleasing and instructive. The book is now being introduced here.

The O'Mahoney club met at the residence of Michael Foley, 7 Summer street, to commemorate the anniversary of the execution of Allen, Larkin and O'Brien at Manchester, England. M. A. Moriarty, Dennis Brassill and Patrick Madden constituted the committee of arrangements. M. Moriarty was the presiding officer of the evening. Patriotic addresses were made by members of the club and a collation was served. Some miscreant invaded Mrs. Rose Hutchins' chicken coop last Tuesday night and stole all her chickens. It is to be said that the man who stole the herabouts should be so lost to manhood, shame and decency as to plunder a hard working, industrious, respectable widow of the food she had provided for her own table. She is driving hard, by honest toil and careful management, to bring up her family decently and respectably, and surely the thief might have found some other victim for his pilferings, if steel he must. A well made, neat fitting, nice looking and serviceable suit of clothes can be procured at Peter McFarlane's for a very reasonable price of money. These are good strong points and worthy of your serious consideration. Go there and be convinced. George F. Day, 47-49-51 Charter Oak street, is having a grand run on these Fair Haven ovings. They are also. Try them.

Under the newly revised constitution of the A. O. H., the annual meeting for election of officers will take place Tuesday, Dec. 11. It was the custom heretofore to elect officers in May or June, but the new law goes into effect this year. Members will take due notice thereof and govern themselves accordingly. The installation will occur in January. PRESIDING ELDER TIRRELL HERE. Presiding Elder Tirrell took part in the revival services in the South Methodist church last Sunday, gave some very pleasing reminiscences of his early conversion at the age of eleven and a half years and urged all young people to remember their Creator in the days of their youth. The meeting was a very interesting one, and about 150 persons assembled around the altar and enjoyed a season of prayer. NO CHANGE OF MANAGEMENT. Under the new arrangement regarding the manufacture of government envelopes at Hartford, M. S. Chapman holds complete power of attorney for Contractor Furwell, under whose name the work will be done, but who will have no voice in its management. Mr. Chapman remaining as superintendent for four years more, with full control as in the past. GRAND BALL COMING. Plans are being made to make the coming annual ball of Company G, one of the most swell affairs that the boys have ever given. Cole's full orchestra, from Hartford, will be secured to furnish music, and all the arrangements will be executed on a similar scale. It is expected to hold the ball about the middle of January. THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG. It is expected that Cheney Hall will be well filled on the evenings of Dec. 10, 11 and 12, when Luther W. Minnich will deliver his three illustrated lectures on the three day's fight at Gettysburg. Tickets are on sale at C. Tiffany's Organ, to clear off the debt of $1,500 that rests on the parish property. JOHNSON-JACOBSON.

Fritz H. Johnson and Miss Hanna J. Jacobson were united in marriage by Rev. A. G. Olson last Saturday evening, the ceremony taking place at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Ferdinand Swartz, 3 Sunset avenue. A wedding reception followed and a picnic was given at the residence of the bride. The bridesmaids were, Misses Ann Rydin, Thekla Peterson, Almira Theodor Anderson, Charles Anderson, Thure Sandgren.

THE O'MAHONEY CLUB.

The O'Mahoney club met at the residence of Michael Foley, 7 Summer street, to commemorate the anniversary of the execution of Allen, Larkin and O'Brien at Manchester, England. M. A. LOCAL TALENT IN NEW BRITAIN.

Esther, Ruth and Paul Vikberg and Ingenior Sam Lagerlof sang as a quartet at the Swedish Lutheran fair in New Britain Thanksgiving afternoon and evening, and Miss Esther Vikberg and Mr. Lagerlof took part in an elocutionary contest, as delegates from the "So-ciety Idm". Miss Vikberg recited "Kungens Jagt" and Mr. Lagerlof "Struck vid Svarstolen". There were eight contestants, two from here, two from Hartford, two from Meriden and two from Bristol.
