TOWN NEWS.

Don't forget the matinee at Apol's opera house Tuesday January 1, 1895. McCarthy from Mayo, will make his first appearance in true Irish style.

Christmas day was mild and balmy. A rain on the night previous made the streets muddy and temporarily spoiled the skating, which was fine just before.

Alexander Munro of Boston, surprised his brother, Wm. C. Munro, by unexpectedly calling upon him on Christmas day. He was as welcome as unexpected.

Our butchers report an unusually large sale of turkeys here this Christmas. It is an indication of returning prosperity that so many people had the means to indulge in this very pleasant Christmas luxury and we are happy to be able to record the fact.

For the remainder of this month I will sell the latest style of Boston black Derby hats, best quality, for 25 cents less than regular price. I have a large stock, want to dispose of them at once, and will give you the benefit. Robert J. Weldon.

John and Mrs. Malone of Avon, spent Christmas with James Rutledge and family on Birch street. Some 30 years ago Mr. Malone and his brother Peter conducted a grocery store in the building now occupied by Hugh Moriarty as a store.

Work is being pushed along quite briskly at the Mather factory and the outlook for plenty of business during the remainder of the winter is very promising. It is a pleasure to us to be able to chronicle this fact, and we trust that the tide of prosperity may continue to rise.

The leaves given by the papermakers in Apol's opera house Christmas night was largely attended and proved an excellent financial success. It passed off very pleasantly and afforded all ample opportunity for having a very merry Christmas. The next in order will be the calico ball of Herrmann's Sons on New Year's eve and then the masquerade on the 9 of January 1895.

Mrs. Foster, better known as Mrs. Munro Babcock of Hebron, died in Weston, Vermont this week and her remains were brought here last Wednesday for interment in Gilead. She was a sister of G. D. Strickland and J. J. Strickland of this town and was 84 years of age. She leaves one daughter, Watkins Brothers had charge of the funeral.

LEIDHOLDT-BENTLEY. Gustave Leidholdt and Miss Lonnie M. Bentley were united in marriage last Friday afternoon, by Rev. J. A. Bidelle. The ceremony took place at the residence of the groom's sister, Mrs. Otto Schneider, formerly known as Miss Emma Leidholdt. The young couple left town on a brief honeymoon.

FERGUSON-HALL. Thomas Ferguson and Miss Lizzie Hall were united in marriage by Rev. James Trogaskis on Christmas eve. An excellent wedding supper was served and a most delightful time was enjoyed by all.

The young couple are very popular and have many warm friends who wish them unbounded success in their new departure.

TAKEN SUDDENLY ILL. Miss E. Keating, organist in St. Bridget's church was taken suddenly and violently ill on Christmas morning, and as a result, could not play. Her brother, Wm. M. Keating, organist at St. James church, hastened over north, after completing his duties here, and reached there in time to play for the benediction. Miss Keating is very much better now.

NARROW ESCAPE. Mario Loomis, son of John Loomis was kicked in the face by a horse last Saturday, and had quite a close call for his life. His face was very much bruised and cut, requiring several stitches. Dr. Bradley dressed the wounds. It was a fortunate thing that the horse was not shot, or the injury would have been much more serious.

AN UNUSUAL OCCURRENCE. Rev. Richard C. Gragan said mass in residence of Patrick Sullivan in Vernon on Christmas day. This is the first time that such a ceremony has been performed in a private house hereabouts in many years. It can only be done by special dispensation.

It is said that there are now about 100 Catholic families in Vernon, and the probability is that a mission will be established there in the near future. Most of them attend St. Bridget's church.

A well made, neat fitting, nice looking and serviceable suit of clothes can be procured at Peter McParlane's for a very reasonable sum of money. These are good strong points and worthy of your serious consideration. Go there and be convinced.

WELL REPRESENTED.

The hen that laid the golden eggs was represented in the entertainment given in Cheney hall last evening, by the stuffed coat of a handsome Plymouth Rock hen that was recently served at the table of Wm. C. Munro, who is quite a taxidermist and did this particular piece of work very nicely.

Few would have been able to tell, from the floor of the hall, but what the hen was a reality.

RATHER DISCREDITABLE.

A game of football was played in Woodland Park on Christmas day between Buckland and Rockville players, the latter winning by a score of 2 to 0.

It is said that a number of scores were made on eyes, noses and faces of players and spectators alike at the corner of a general melee ensued. They played handball for a time, so to speak, instead of football.

NORTH M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

The Christmas entertainment Monday evening reflected credit on the superintendent, E. A. Lydall and his committee. The bible class of the pastor, Rev. James Trogaskis, presented him with a handsome clock, and the converts showed their appreciation of his efforts in their behalf by donating a good purse.

The class of young ladies that is under the direction of Mrs. Trogaskis made her a Christmas present of a pretty framed picture.

K. O. T. M.

The newly elected officers of the Knights of the Maccabees will be installed Thursday evening January 3, 1895, and are as follows: Past commander, J. C. Carter; commander, Samuel S. Herli; lieutenant commander, Michael O'Connell; physician, Dr. J. T. Dooley; record keeper, A. L. Brown; finance keeper, Charles I. Balch; preacher, Thomas J. Shaw; secretary, Everett L. Mansfield; first master of the guard, Henry S. Porter; sentinel, John Charter; picket, Walton W. Grant.

LIKELY TO LIVE.

The latest advice we have from the Hartford hospital where Maggie, Katie, Mamie, Fannie and Johnnie Reid of South Glastonbury are lying with typhoid fever, is to the effect that there is a reasonable good chance that they will all pull through safely.

Many people here who knew the late Mrs. Annie Reid, of the same family, will be pleased to hear this good news, and trust it may be verified and substantiated by the facts. Some of them have had a weary struggle for their lives, but with the very excellent care accorded them, it is believed and hoped they will survive.

FINE MINSTREL PERFORMANCE.

Comstock's minstrels played in the Armory last evening and gave a good minstrel show as one could wish to see. They fulfilled every promise made for them in their advertisements. Some fully up to their own high standard in every particular, and delighted their audience for two hours and a half.

The play was high grade throughout, the audience retired highly pleased, and the management is to be commended on having secured so fine an attraction. The attendance was not so large as could have been expected, but there was an advertisement in Cheney hall for the benefit of a paper house for St. Mary's church, which drew a number away from the Armory and then the weather was unpropitious.

CHRISTMAS IN ST. JAMES.

St. James church was well filled at both masses on Christmas day. The altars were prettily decorated with evergreens and flowers and gleamed with lighted tapers, and on the right, a manger was erected, having a roof, and covered with vines of holly and evergreens. A small lamp was suspended in front, and with hay and straw and containing a statuette of the child Jesus, and one each of the Blessed Virgin and St. Joseph in kneeling posture, offering up their adorations as it were to "The New Born King."

It was very prettily arranged, and many of the worshippers came forward after the benediction and knelt there in prayer.

The principal attraction of the day in St. James was the fact that Father Maguellig sang his first high mass, and many of his friends, not of the Catholic faith, were present.

The music was given by the ancient, well known but ever new, "Kiliste Fiddles." Farmer's "Gloria" and "Jambillotte's" "Credo" were exceedingly attractive numbers, and were played and sung in a truly inspiring manner full of life and vigor and spirit, and joyousness, filling the hearts of all listeners with pleasure, and stirring every chord with soulful, melodious rejoicing.

The selections for mass and benediction were standard works, well executed, highly appreciated and admired, and very creditable to organist and choir.

TOWN NEWS.

One of N. T. Puffer's handsome hackney colts got out last Sunday and scrambling around on the frozen snow, fell and cut a long gash on his shoulder. A veterinary surgeon was brought out to sew up the wound.

Some thirty young people assembled at the residence of Alexander Trotter last Monday evening and enjoyed a New Year's party. Music, singing, dancing, a beautiful collation and merry social intercourse made up the festivities of the evening, which were heartily enjoyed by all. They welcomed the new year in merry mood.

John McCann, Jr. and Miss Annie Kerr were united in marriage last Saturday evening. It was a complete surprise to their friends and was entirely informal. Mrs. McCann returned to her work in Steinway, and after a few weeks will return and take up house keeping here. Rev. J. A. Bidde, performed the ceremony.

Misses Nellie and Katie Moriarty and Eugene McDonough, were the guests of the Amyrills whist club at the meeting with Miss Margaret Moriarty on Pine street, last week. The club will next meet at the residence of Wm M. Keating, Wednesday evening January 9.

The new year was ushered in with a delightful winter weather. Clear, cold, no wind, good sleighing, skating and coasting, full of sunshine, bracing and health giving air. It was a model winter day, a glad harbinger, let us hope, of a happy and prosperous new year.

Miss Eva Marshall of Hartford, while visiting with Miss Grace Watkins this week had the misfortune to have her thigh broken by being thrown against a tree while coasting. The accident occurred near the Watkins home. The young lady was taken to her home in the city.

Johanne Bedd of South Glastonbury died in the Hartford hospital of typhoid fever last Sunday, and two of his sisters, Fannie and Katie, are scarcely expected to live, at this writing. The four remaining sisters are in the hospital. Johanne's remains were taken to Middletown for burial, in the family plot.

In a runaway last Monday evening a "new" belonging to Robert Humford had the shaft of a sleigh driven in through his front to the length of three feet. The horse that did the mischief belonged to Henry Forbes and had been hired by Daniel Curran and Joseph McGowan, who he got away, and crashed into the other sleigh with the above result. The horse had to be killed. The Forbes horse was unharmed, but the sleigh was demolished.

Photographer Frank L. Hale and Miss Hattie Skinner were united in marriage by Rev. James Tregaskia, pastor of the North M. E. church, Wednesday January 2, 1895.

Wesley D. Porter and Miss Ora A. Capen were united in marriage Wednesday evening last. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride on Wells street. Rev. Julian S. Wadsworth officiated. A number of relatives and friends were present, and a pleasant home wedding was enjoyed.

CLEARED SIXTY DOLLARS. The series of lectures on Gutzburg given in Cheney hall recently, under the auspices of Drake Post No. 4 G. A. R. by Guide Luther P. Minnigh, added $60 to the Post's funds, after defraying all costs. Individual members of the Post met with a ready sale for the tickets and thus insured the above result.

"HAWLEY" NEXT. Remember that Professor Winchester's next lecture will take place in Cheney hall Thursday evening January 10, 1895, and that his subject will be "Hawley." Any person who is an admirer of the work of the great poet cannot afford to miss these lectures. They are a great intellectual treat. Single admissions are 50 cents. "Antony and Cleopatra" and "A Winter's Tale" will follow next in order.

GEORGE F. DAY'S FATHER DEAD. Joseph Day, father of George F. Day our well known Charter Oak street merchant, died at his home in Montague, Mass. last Sunday morning, in his 86th year. He was buried on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. George F. Day attended the funeral. He leaves a widow, three sons and one daughter.

FIFTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY. The Swedish Lutheran church choir and a number of relatives and friends assembled at the residence of Gustav and Mrs. Bonham, 5 Sunset avenue, recently and celebrated the fifth anniversary of their marriage. Professor Ross of New Haven was present, and a delightful time was enjoyed. Congratulations were expressed and music and song and a beautiful collation were among the attractions.

Diaries, almanacs and calendars for 1895, Cheney's Sons. Florida oranges and peaches at B. F. Hall's.

BUCK-WEIR.

Sherman Buck and Miss Sallie Weir were married on Christmas eve by Rev. Julian S. Wadsworth. The ceremony took place in the parsonage. Clinton and Mrs. Buck, who were married at Thanksgiving and are sister and brother to the bride and groom, respectively, were witnesses at the ceremony. The wedding party repaired to B. F. Ball's where a wedding supper was served. Mrs. Ball is Mr. Buck's sister. The newly wedded couple are residing in their own house at Highland Park.

WILL REPEAT THE PERFORMANCE. The entertainment given in Cheney hall last week, for the Sunday school children of St. Mary's church is to be repeated tomorrow evening, and a small admission fee will be charged.

The hall was filled at the first performance, which was so pleasing and satisfactory, that requests have been made for its repetition, so as to give others an opportunity to see it. It will also help to raise funds for the new parish house which is to be built as soon as possible.

DIED AT 97. Mrs. Anna Wells died in Bolton Jan. 1, 1895 at the ripe old age of 97. She had a fit the day previous, but rallied from it and went to bed apparently all right and never arose. She slept the sleep of death. Her remains were taken to Marlborough yesterday for burial. She resided with her son Cortland Finley. He was also the mother of Mrs. H. L. Shurtliff, Mrs. Geo. W. Bidwell and Carter Finley.

VAN BLARCOM-FALLOW. An informal wedding took place at the residence of James S. Fallow, 63 Main street on New Year's day. The contracting parties were, Miss Jennie Fallow and Samuel Van Blarcom. Rev. James Tregaskia performed the ceremony. George Fallow was best man and Miss Mamie Bidwell bridesmaid. A wedding feast was served and with the warmest congratulations of all the bride couple took their departure for Patterson, N. J., where they will take up their abode.

ASSIGNED TO WILLMANTIC. Father Magneil was officially notified by Rev. D. A. Haggerty, of Cheney evening, that he had been appointed to serve as curate to Father DeBruycker of Willmantic and he left here yesterday, leaving the best wishes of a host of admiring friends, to sleep upon his new duties.

He is delighted with the appointment, as it is near home, he is personally acquainted with the pastor, and the place is of a suitable size to give him a fair opportunity to get hold of the details of the practical part of the ministry.

IT WAS A GOOD PLAY. Dan McCarthy and a good company presented "The Bride of May" in Apell's opera house on New Year's afternoon and evening, and gave a performance that is spoken of very highly by those who witnessed it.

The matinee did not bring out many people, but the evening performance attracted a very fair sized audience who came away well pleased with the entertainment.

"WATCH NIGHT SERVICES." It is estimated that the "Watch Night services" in the South Methodist church were nearly 50 well attended as this year. The bell sounded the call at 8:45 p. m., and the services lasted through until after the birth of the new year which was awaited for five minutes before and past the event in breathless silence. A pin could have been heard drop in any part of the room.

A deep interest was manifested in the service throughout, which were pleasingly varied and appropriate to the solemnity of the occasion.
