The Song I Never Sing.

As when in dreams we sometimes hear, A melody so faint and low, And usually sweet and clear, It favors all the atmosphere With harmony divine.

So, often in my waking days I hear, more softly than in sleep, Like fairy voices whispering To me the song I never sing.

Sometimes when brooding 'o'er the years I find my youth has thrown a veil, When all the glowing past appears, But as a mirage that vanishes, Have crumbled to decay.

I find the old and new are one, As forward bent and listening, I hear the song I never sing.

A murmuring of rhythmic words, A drift of music soft and low, Melodious with the thrill of bliss, And far-off loving of the lips.

In lands of long ago, And every voice so true and low, Comes to me like the voice of doves, When first in the blooming fields of spring.

I hear the song I never sing, I hear the song I never sing, I hear the song I never sing, I hear the song I never sing.

It, and I'll come around some other time and tell you another one.

"Well, if it isn't any better than the one you started, you needn't come, said I. And he, why he laughed and said he'd never told me such a more interesting story.

"What! did you tell him all about it?" "Well, that's the second time I didn't know what 'keep quiet' meant.

"What! did you tell him all about it?" "Well, that's the second time I didn't know what 'keep quiet' meant.

Too Late.

My boy stood up, my threshold mild and fair, With lines in his hair, I bade her enter as she turned to go, And she said, "No."

Fortune once halted at my ruined porch, And it was with her torch, I bade her enter as she turned to go, And she said, "No."

The First American Patent.

First among the 600,000 or so of "Letters Patent" that have so far been granted in this country for new and useful inventions was that issued by the General Court of Massachusetts to Joseph Jenks, March 6, 1646, for an "engin of mills to go by water."

Right here we see an interesting difference between British policy and American. In England the "monopoly" was granted to favorites of the court, or to any one who offered the greatest benefit to the state.

After years of practical use and a trial of many brands of baking powder (some of which she recommended before becoming acquainted with the great qualities of the Royal), Marlon Harland finds the Royal Baking Powder to be greatly superior to all similar preparations.

The testimony of this gifted authority upon Household Economy coincides with that of millions of housekeepers, many of whom speak from knowledge obtained from a continuous use of Royal Baking Powder for a third of a century.

THE LITTLE MEDIATOR.

"And the young Prince married the Princess and lived happily forever after."

A girl of probably twenty, in a big chair, by the light of a bright hearth fire, was reading to a younger girl, a much younger girl—in fact, a little girl.

"There, dear, how does that story please you? Don't you wish you knew such an interesting handsome, noble Prince as the one of whom I have just read?"

"This interjection from the older girl the younger girl mechanically ignores for a time. She is dreaming. Her big, blue eyes are staring vacantly into the red embers, which have fallen from the logs on the hearth.

"Yes, what you said, that Prince reminds me of Mr. Mercer? But Mr. Mercer is handsome. And he's brave, too, 'cause he saved my dollie when it fell into the lake last summer. Only"

TOWN NEWS.

"From Sir to Son" enjoys the distinction of playing to crowded and delighted audiences in all the principal cities of the United States, has stood the test of four seasons and now possesses more popularity than ever. It will be presented at the Armory Tuesday evening, Feb. 14.

Ferris Brothers have just finished a large order for tin cylinders for the Crosby Mfg. Co. of East Glastonbury, and have now secured an order to place a galvanized iron ceiling in the picker room, for the same company, and also the contract to put a tin roof on a portion of the Crosby residence.

NOTICE.

The bills given out for the Y. M. C. A. conference, designate that the union service to be held Sunday evening will occur in the Methodist church.
This is wrong. It will occur at Charter hall and the appointed hour is 7:30 and not 7:00 p. m. as stated on the bills.

STOCKMAN-MURPHY.

Edward G. Stockman, our energetic young tailor, and Miss Rebecca Murphy, were made man and wife last Tuesday morning by Rev. Richard C. Grogan.
The ceremony took place in St. Bridget's church, and was witnessed by many friends of the happy couple.

MANCHESTER SCHOOL OF DANCING.
The class in dancing, under the direction of Mr. L. J. Doolittle, will be held at Armory Hall, Tuesday evening, February 12, 1895, at 8 p. m.
Those who intend to join should be present at the time. Round dances will be the principal feature and special attention will be given to the waltz.

OLD BOREAS AT WORK.
A high wind prevailed all night Tuesday and all night as well. The weather was clear and the cold unusually intense for this season. On Wednesday morning thermometers about town registered anywhere from 8 to 14 degrees below zero, according to location. It was the coldest weather of the season. The dry snow drifted considerably.

NORTH M. E. CHURCH NOTES.
Rev. E. Tirrell will hold a quarterly conference at the church Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. He will preach at 11 o'clock on Sunday morning.
Three persons united with the church last Sunday.
The two choirs here will exchange next Sunday morning.

MOVED TO HARTFORD.
Rev. F. Ottman, Jr. has moved to Hartford and taken up his abode at No.
25 Capitol Avenue.
He will attend to his ministerial duties in this place the same as heretofore. He made the change of residence last Saturday, and will drive out on Sunday mornings to hold services, and also make his usual calls during the week.

COMMISSIONER OF SUPERIOR COURT.
Judge Frederick Hall has appointed John M. Shewry of this place as a commissioner of the superior court for Hartford county, for the term of two years.

Mr. Shewry secured the recomen-dation of the Hartford County Bar Association for this position.
He has also been appointed a notary public, by Governor Coffin, for two years from February 1, 1895.

THRALL-BRANT.
Edward M. Thrall of Broad Brook and Josephine E. Brant of this place were united in marriage at 2:30 p. m. on Wednesday, Feb. 6, 1895. The ceremony took place at the bride's home, 219 Main street and was performed by Rev. Thomas Simms. Wm. Grant was best man and Miss Hattie Chase of Winsted bridesmaid. The bridal couple will reside in Broad Brook.

CARD OF THANKS.
We desire, through the columns of The News, to sincerely thank all those who so kindly remembered us in our time of affliction and bereavement.
MRS. ALBERT ABBEY AND FAMILY.

CAR HOUSE FINISHED.
The large car house for the Tramway Company at the Center, is now finished.
George M. Barber, the builder, has withdrawn his forces and Ferris Brothers have completed the tin roof etc. The wiring and other arrangements for the interior can now be perfected, and the next thing in order will be to wait for the opening of spring and the coming of the trolley with the birds that sing.

RESIGNED AS SEXTON.
W. H. Franklin has resigned his position as sexton of the South Methodist church, same to go into effect after next Sunday.
In deference to his health, he finds it imperative to withdraw from the duties which this office imposes upon him.
He has given most excellent satisfaction, kept everything up in fine form, been prompt, punctual and particular about everything connected with his duties, and pastor and people regret his withdrawing very much. A successor has not been chosen as yet, but will be at once.

MORE ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

Electrician Hoebner and a corps of assistants are at work placing electric lights in the ninth district school buildings.
A light will be placed over each teacher's desk in the new group of buildings and chandeliers will be suspended in the kindergarten, and lights will be fixed in the halls.

Most of the teachers have to arrange work for the following day, after school hours, and find it necessary to remain until after it grows dark without, quite frequently.
The introduction of these lights will add another source of comfort and convenience to what is today perhaps the best equipped school to be found in any country town in Connecticut.

FOR BETTER ROADS.

R. O. Cheney attended a meeting at the capitol last Wednesday, of the committee chosen by the state board of trade to prepare a bill to be presented to the state legislature looking to the improvement of the main highways of the state.
It will be remembered that action was taken in this matter at the last session of the legislature, and the measure was defeated by a small margin.
This committee, consisting of 15 persons, and representing all parts of the state, has determined to present the original bill, and Representative Sternberg of West Hartford will bring it before the legislature next week. It has the unqualified approval of the state board of trade.

BIG TAKE OF PICKEREL.

Fred B. Hale, C. L. Dutton and Leslie Dutton braved the storm last Saturday morning and went down to Marlborough lake, fishing.
It was a tough day and the ice was fifteen inches thick, but they got to work in spite of all drawbacks, and by four o'clock in the afternoon, had pulled out seventy of as handsome pickerel as one could wish to see: many of them weighing over one pound each.
They were well satisfied with their day's work and returned home with their treasure in a very happy frame of mind.

The gazette of this article can testify that the fairer the fish were unmeasured, as through the courtesy of Mr. Hale, we were permitted to enjoy some handsome specimens of the catch.

QUITE AN ACCIDENT.

Aaron Johnson loaded up his team with groceries, as usual, last Monday morning, and started his clerk, Axel Nilson, on the route to serve customers.
The first horse stopped at what was Charles Nyquist's on Linden street, and while Mr. Nilson was inside delivering his orders, the horse stepped up to nibble a hough from an overhanging tree there, and losing his balance fell down the steep embankment at that point, dragging the wagon, groceries and all with him.

The wagon, which was a new one, was literally smashed to pieces, the groceries were all spoiled, by kerosene oil, with the exception of a barrel of flour, but luckily the horse escaped unhurt.
This is one of the most remarkable features of the accident, that a horse could possibly pick himself into a pit like that, all encumbered with a wagon and load of groceries and come out of the jangle unscathed; but so it was, much to Mr. Johnson's satisfaction, as he lost enough in the wagon and groceries without having his horse injured.
He hired Herman Lee's sleigh until he can have his wagon put in shape so that it can be used.

AMARYLLIS WHIST CLUB.

The Amaryllis whist club were entertained last Wednesday evening by J. D. and Mrs. McGee. After the usual number of games of whist had been played, the guests set down to a sumptuous collation. William P. Keating and Miss Minnie McDonough received the first prizes, which were two pin cushions, of novel design, and Leo D. Magrell and Miss Margaret Moriarty got the "consolation" prizes, which were two whist brooms.

Dancing, vocal and instrumental music were also indulged in, and the guests left at an early hour, after expressing a vote of thanks to their host and hostess for their kind hospitality.
The next meeting will be held on Wednesday evening Feb. 20.
The Amaryllis whist club went on a pleasure party last Monday evening, Newington was their destination, where they were the guests of the Misses Byrnes. The snowfall of the afternoon made the sleighing excellent and the three-thousand blizzard failed to put in its appearance.
Supper was served at midnight and, after a musical program was rendered, which consisted of singing and instrumental selections, the guests departed for home, having spent a most enjoyable evening, and arrived about 4 a. m.
