The Russian War Office has decided to use hencoths exclusively for horses for artillery purposes, the reason given for the innovation being that animals of this color have been found by experience to be stronger and more enduring than the brown ones now used.

Liverpool has been thoroughly aroused by the effort of Manchester to capture its trade by means of the ship canal. The former city will build a great landing stage to debar passengers without the use of tenders, and expects to thus accommodate steamers of the future 1,000 feet long making the voyage from America in three and a half days.

The St. Louis Star-Sayings maintain that business in New England this year has really been more promising than anywhere else in the United States. There are thirty per cent of the workmen of the country out of employment today, but only twenty-five per cent are out in New England. Wages in general have fallen off forty-four per cent, but in the happy district they are only thirty, and the wage-rate has fallen off only ten dollars in two years.

The phenomena of history, says Mr. J. W. Powell in Science, are studied from five great classes of records, which may be called the Stone Book, the Run Book, the Tomb Book, the Folk Book and the Scripture Book. From these sources are derived the materials to be used in discovering and formulating the development of the industries, pleasures, institutions, and opinions of mankind. The oldest of these, the Stone Book, records the events of the world, but its postscript, devoted to mankind, contains facts of profound interest.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is about to award the contract for equipping the Burlington branch of the Amboy division with the trolley system. This branch connects Burlington and Mount Holly, N. J., and is between seven and eight miles in length. Should the experiment prove successful, other branches of the Pennsylvania will be operated by electricity instead of steam. The intention is to give frequent service at high speed. The change of motive power will not prevent the use of steam locomotives on the branch, and they will probably be used, as at present, for hauling freight.

Steam and had men are likely to develop into deadly enemies in the future, predicts the New York Dispatch. Concerning the application of steam to the defense of river-attacking tugs, it is a wonder that the situation has not been met with such energy as has been bestowed upon the boiler of the locomotive has not been thought of before. Under the new defense scheme, steam pipes are run along the locomotive, one on either side, from the cabin forward. The ends of the pipes are perforated with small holes, and the steam will put a man in a perpendicular at a distance of a hundred feet or more, and knock him over at sixty feet. Similar pipes run down each side of the train, and at intervals are placed, so that in the case of emergency the whole train could be kept in a mass of hissing vapor. This scheme will probably be extended to the protection of bank vaults against thieves.

The Chicago Herald relates that one of the spicy incidents of the recent election in Philadelphia was the challenging of the vote of John Wanamaker. The ex-postmaster general was highly amused, particularly when he learned that his challenge had been in this country but four months.

While several States are at present busy voting for a State flower Florida is out after a State song, says the Chicago Herald. The Teachers' Association of that State in an annual convention, resolved that the State name a patriotic State song and offered a prize of $25 in gold for the best song of this description.

The Boston Journal of Commerce says: "The increase in the cotton mills at the present time seems to be in the direction of the South, and is perhaps as large as it should be for their good. There are already over 450,000 new cotton spindles projected for different sections, all of which will probably be running inside of one year. In this large increase there is a great danger of the help supply being short in certain sections."

An American in Germany was arrested and a number of articles seized from the celebrated college professor, among them a watch of fine quality, among makes them famous the world over. One Berlin professor is wheeled into his lecture-room every day, and there are others similarly thought for the most part less painfully afflicted. This is due partly to the fact, explain the New Orleans Picayune, that the military regime of Germany when a boy is disqualified for the army he is trained for science or the law.

OUR FOREIGN RELATIONS

The State Department Never Had So Many Complications.

MONROE DOCTRINE TO THE FORE.

The Attention of the Whole World Concentrated on Washington and the Possibilities of Hostilities Between This Country and Several Transatlantic Nations.—The Policy of Non-Interference.

The extraordinary number and rapid succession of foreign complications of a more or less serious nature which have suddenly come upon the State Department have presented a situation in which the United States Government has not been placed before for a great many years, and the opinion of foreign diplomats in Washington is that the attention of all Europe has been, in a remarkable short interval of time, transferred from international affairs and rumors of war in the Old World to the alleged possibility of hostilities between the United States and several of the European Nations.

Even the Japanese-Chinese war, which is still in progress, is believed to be in the way to a harmonious termination by the peace negotiations and the attitude of the United States Government with regard to the interests, in opposition to the behavior of European Nations on this side of the world, is virtually absorbing attention across the ocean.

The State Department has never, within the experience of man now living, had so many difficult foreign complications as it has at present. It has been interested in so many countries, and the number of its diplomatic representatives is so large, that it is difficult to keep track of all the complications which are being developed.

The dispute with Spain about the Albatross and the status of Cuba, quarrels with Great Britain about Honduras and Alaska, are direct commercial interests in the threatened complications in the Venezuelan question and the Salvadoran revolution, the hostile position of Argentina and the rebellion in Colombia, all of which are of special concern to the commercial and political interests of this country, have virtually concentrated the attention of the whole world on the State Department in Washington.

The necessity of maintaining the policy of non-interference by European powers with the United States has become a subject of controversy known as the "Monroe doctrine," by diplomacy, if possible, if necessary, and the protection of our interests, particularly in the case of Venezuela, where the United States has a special interest, and the Hawaiian middle side, which was regarded as settled, is revived by Secretary of State Olney's demand for Minister Thurston's withdrawal. The outcome of any and all these matters will be of great importance to the United States, and it is not surprising that the attention of the whole world is so fixed on the State Department.

OUR FOOD PRODUCTS ABROAD.

The Exclusion of American Goods Also a Cause of Friction.

In addition to all of these acute foreign complications which confront the State Department, the administration has a very grave problem to deal with in the action of the various foreign governments in excluding American food products. The President and Secretary Olney are still very much concerned with this question, and are very anxious to adopt retaliatory tactics for the reason that it would injuriously affect the foreign commerce of the United States, and reduce the revenue from customs. HONORING BISMARCK.

The Beginning of the Celebration of His Eightieth Birthday.

Princess Bismarck received at Friedrichsruh the members of the Prussian Landtag and many members of the Reichstag. There were three special trains, with nearly four hundred guests, which arrived at Friedrichsruh on Monday, March 29, 1895. The visitors were received at the villa by the Emperor, the Empress, the Crown Prince, Prince Bismarck, Count von Bismarck (husband of Princess Bismarck's daughter), and by Count von Bismarck's other relatives.

The attention of the whole world concentrated on Washington and the possibilities of hostilities between this country and several transatlantic nations. The policy of non-interference.

The extraordinary number and rapid succession of foreign complications of a more or less serious nature which have suddenly come upon the State Department have presented a situation in which the United States Government has not been placed before for a great many years, and the opinion of foreign diplomats in Washington is that the attention of all Europe has been, in a remarkable short interval of time, transferred from international affairs and rumors of war in the Old World to the alleged possibility of hostilities between the United States and several of the European Nations.

Even the Japanese-Chinese war, which is still in progress, is believed to be in the way to a harmonious termination by the peace negotiations and the attitude of the United States Government with regard to the interests, in opposition to the behavior of European Nations on this side of the world, is virtually absorbing attention across the ocean.

The State Department has never, within the experience of man now living, had so many difficult foreign complications as it has at present. It has been interested in so many countries, and the number of its diplomatic representatives is so large, that it is difficult to keep track of all the complications which are being developed.

The dispute with Spain about the Albatross and the status of Cuba, quarrels with Great Britain about Honduras and Alaska, are direct commercial interests in the threatened complications in the Venezuelan question and the Salvadoran revolution, the hostile position of Argentina and the rebellion in Colombia, all of which are of special concern to the commercial and political interests of this country, have virtually concentrated the attention of the whole world on the State Department in Washington.

The necessity of maintaining the policy of non-interference by European powers with the United States has become a subject of controversy known as the "Monroe doctrine," by diplomacy, if possible, if necessary, and the protection of our interests, particularly in the case of Venezuela, where the United States has a special interest, and the Hawaiian middle side, which was regarded as settled, is revived by Secretary of State Olney's demand for Minister Thurston's withdrawal. The outcome of any and all these matters will be of great importance to the United States, and it is not surprising that the attention of the whole world is so fixed on the State Department.

OUR FOOD PRODUCTS ABROAD.

The Exclusion of American Goods Also a Cause of Friction.

In addition to all of these acute foreign complications which confront the State Department, the administration has a very grave problem to deal with in the action of the various foreign governments in excluding American food products. The President and Secretary Olney are still very much concerned with this question, and are very anxious to adopt retaliatory tactics for the reason that it would injuriously affect the foreign commerce of the United States, and reduce the revenue from customs. DEATH OF MANY MINERS.

Fatal Result of an Explosion in a Wyoming Coal Shaft.

The frightful catastrophe occurred in the Rocky Mountain Coal and Iron Company's Mine, No. 5, at Red Canyon, Wyoming.

Sixty men lost their lives by an explosion in the No. 5 shaft of the Rocky Mountain Coal and Iron Company at Red Canyon, Wyoming.

The explosion demolished the power-house at the mouth of the shaft. About twenty men were in the house at the time, and only one or two escaped with their lives. The explosion killed the most of the men.

Many of the miners had quit for the day and were in the street when the explosion occurred. The death list is not long. Rescue parties were sent out immediately after the explosion.

About three hours later one of the parties which had entered the mine, headed by the chief of the shaft, returned with the bodies of the men who had been killed. The bodies were found in various places in the mine.

The explosion was caused by a gas which had accumulated in the mine. The gas was ignited by a lighted candle which was used by one of the miners.

The explosion was a very serious one, and it is believed that it was the worst explosion in the history of the mine. The loss of life was a great one, and it is a tragedy which will be remembered for many years.

MANCHESTER BOARD OF TRADE.

The meeting of the Manchester Board of Trade was held in Cheney hall last Wednesday evening, but the attendance was rather light.

President R. O. Cheney, who is also a member of the State Board of Trade, and represents that body on a committee appointed by the legislature to look into the matter of having the main high ways of the state placed under state control, explained the details of this committee in behalf of better roads, stating that a bill is now before the state legislature having this object in view, and that hearings have been held thereon, and the matter discussed at some length, and there is also a clause in this bill providing that all new draught wagons to be used in the state shall be made so as to prevent cutting up of the high ways, and that whenever it shall be necessary to have new wheels placed upon draught wagons, it shall be the duty of the manufacturer to conform to the regulation with respect to the width of the tire.

Mr. Cheney explained the bill at some length, and it was generally discussed by members of the board.

On motion of H. Chapman it was voted that the Manchester Board of Trade heartily approves of its passage by the state legislature.

This was the principal topic of discussion at the meeting, but other subjects were spoken of in an informal way.

It was noted, with some surprise, not to say disappointment, that not a single member of the board from over north.

It was voted to hold the next meeting at Manchester two months hence in the merry month of May.

Members from South Manchester will arrive by special train, and they expect to ride back and forth on the trolley cars at that time, without fail.

As that to the jury room with you" was stated at the mock trial here not long since.

TOWN NEWS.

High School Graduation.

The graduation exercises of the South Manchester public high school will take place in Cheney hall Thursday evening April 4, and all adult friends of the school are cordially invited to attend.

It is not intended however to allow children to swarm in and occupy the hall to a large extent, as was the case last year.

There are but three graduates this year namely: Robert Dungan, Charles Hills and Alice Emmons.

Instead of having readings, exercises, etc., as last year, it has been arranged to have President Charles A. Levermore of Adelphi Academy, Brooklyn, N. Y., to deliver a historical address, the title of which will be "Connecticut of Spanish Descent."

The subject is an interesting one, will be treated in a popular manner, and it is hoped will be pleasing as well as profitable to all who hear it.

John S. Cheney, as president of the board of school visitors, will present the diplomas. Coates' orchestra will furnish music, and a pleasant event is anticipated.

Cheney's Drug Store, South Manchester, and Chas. H. Rose, Manchester, Drug Store, expect to publish the following extract from a letter of Chas. M. Hurd of Rockville, Fresno Co. Cal., as they handle the remedy, referred to and sent their customers to know what a splendid medicine it is:

"It is with pleasure I tell you that one day's use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy relieved me of a very severe cold. My head was completely stopped up and I could not sleep at night. I can recommend this remedy. A cold never always starts in the head and after several days of suffering with it, I was relieved by using this remedy. I feel as if I could have been completely cured if it were not for the cold at once and prevent it from extending to the lungs."

LEAGUE WILL FURNISH LIGHT.

Taber Chapter Epworth League has decided to have electric lights placed in the South M. Church, and also to pay the bills for same.

It is estimated that such labor and material as they will have to pay for will cost about $175.

Most of the work will be done by members of the league and will not be charged for.

The following gentlemen have volunteered to give their skill and services free in this good cause: George W. Ferris, Howard Taylor, E. G. O'Brien and Fred Taylor. Piers Barber, W. E. Keith and John Ginnack, the whole to be under the direct supervision of Elizabeth Loring N. Hoebner.

The following committee has been selected to take of gathering in the necessary funds to cover the cash outlay: George W. Ferris, Lawrence Case and Wm. E. Keith.

In order that all may have an opportunity to hear this brilliant and distinguished orator, the admission has been placed at 20 cents, including a reserved seat.

An extra train will run to North Manchester after the lecture. Those purchasing seats in advance will be entitled to a free ticket on the train.

Tickets will be placed on sale at the ticket office, Cheney Hall, on Tuesday evening, April 2, from 8 to 9:30 o'clock, and after that at C. H. Rose's, Manchester, and J. A. Alford's, Manchester, Green, Watkins Brothers, and C. Tiffany's, South Manchester.

We are under obligations to William C. Mowry, secretary of state, for a copy of the "Register and Manual" of the State of Connecticut, for 1895. In addition to the usual statistics furnished in the "Register and Manual," it contains the votes for representatives in the general assembly. This is the first time this feature has been given. It also contains the numerous changes made in important officers by the present general assembly, and shows on the whole a valuable work to have.

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM.

ALABAMA CURE CO., Ocala, Nov. 10, 1894.—I wish to inform you of the great good Chamberlain's Pain Balm has done my wife. She has been troubled with rheumatism of the arms and hands for six months, and has tried many remedies, but found no relief until she used this Pain Balm; one bottle of which has completely cured her. I take pleasure in recommending it for that trouble. Yours truly, C. A. BULLOCK, 50 cent and $1.00 bottles for sale by Cheney's Drug Store, South Manchester, and Chas. H. Rose, Manchester, Druggists.

CHENY'S DRUG STORE.

Cheney's Drug Store, South Manchester, and Chas. H. Rose, Manchester, Drug Store, expect to publish the following extract from a letter of Chas. M. Hurd of Rockville, Fresno Co. Cal., as they handle the remedy, referred to and sent their customers to know what a splendid medicine it is:

"It is with pleasure I tell you that one day's use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy relieved me of a very severe cold. My head was completely stopped up and I could not sleep at night. I can recommend this remedy. A cold never always starts in the head and after several days of suffering with it, I was relieved by using this remedy. I feel as if I could have been completely cured if it were not for the cold at once and prevent it from extending to the lungs."

TOWN NEWS.

The S M W C T U will meet in the library building Tuesday, April 3, at 2:30 p. m. "After the Ball" was presented in the opera house last evening to a fair sized audience, and gave very general satisfaction. The performance was a good one, and those who attended were well entertained.

Advertised Letters, South Manchester, Conn., March 29, 1894. Mrs. Dorothy, Mrs. Solo Kneen, Rev. E. P. McGee, Mrs. John Smith.

A farewell meeting will be held in the library building on Monday evening, April 2, at 8 o'clock. It will be in honor of Captain and Mrs. Lindsay Pruitt, who will be served and an admission fee of 15 cents a person will be charged.

Many people, with the notion that nature ought to take care of herself, allow a cough to plague them for weeks and months. Whereas, if nature were assisted with a dose or two of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, the cure might be effected in a very few days.

In the debate at the High School last Friday, on the following: "Resolved, that soap is more beneficial than salt," the decision was given in favor of the negative and the disputants were affirmative, Valentine Pulsifer and Gladys Hutchinson; negative, Lillian Holman and Mabel Wolcott.

Joseph Hutson will set sail for his native home in the north of Ireland to-morrow, where he goes to recuperate, his health will probably remain there permanently. He has been in poor health for a long time past. It will be remembered that he buried his wife here something like a year ago.

Bissell street has had some substantial and much needed improvements made on it recently, and teams as well as foot-passengers will find much comfort in passing through there now, as compared with what it has been heretofore. People residing in that vicinity have special reason to be joyful.

Left will be over in a couple of weeks more, and then the customary spring weddings may be expected. In anticipation of this fact C. Tiffany, our well known jeweler, has provided a line of wedding jewelry that will charm the heart of any bride or groom, and in his new advertisement in another column, invites all to step in and see the attractive display.

John M. Tooley of Hudson street, who with his son Maurice J. Tooley, conducts an undertaking business over north, purchased of M. S. Chapman a strip of land at the corner of Main and Hilliard streets. It is announced that the sum paid was $1,200. Mr. Tooley will probably erect a building there in the near future.

MRS. LOUISA FUNK'S DEATH.

Mrs. Louisa Funk of 17 Chestnut street was suddenly taken ill, yesterday forenoon and died yesterday evening. She had been sick more or less all winter and for two months was confined to her bed. She was up last Sunday and feeling much better. She leaves four children, viz: Albert, Annie, Amanda and Arthur. Her husband died eleven years ago. She will be buried Sunday next.

DIDN'T FORGET CHARLIE. A solid delegation from Wadsworth Council Order of United American Mechanics called on Charlie Keeney at his residence on Eldridge street, last Friday evening and gave him a surprise party.

The boys knew that Charlie has been practically housed up all winter, and thus manifested their good fellowship and fraternity by giving him a pleasant surprise and cheering him up. They also took a substantial financial token of their friendship and brotherly love.

LOOKS MORE LIKE TROLLEY NOW. The work of re-laying the trolley wire was commenced last Monday, and it would seem that, with any reasonable sort of weather, it should not take long to finish the work. There is a piece of track to be laid from Watkins Brothers furniture store, to the driveway of the South Methodist church. The power station at Hartford is all ready for business, so that there will be no delay from that source. Whether there will be any delay in the matter of getting across the river at Hartford, remains to be seen.

ELISHA WILLIAMS' DEATH. Elisha Williams of Manchester Green died last Friday at the age of 76 years. The immediate cause of his death being heart disease. His funeral occurred last Monday afternoon, Rev. Thomas Simms officiating.

He was an honored resident of this town and held the office of second selectman for a consecutive period of six years, beginning in 1880. His son, John M. Williams, is serving his second term as second selectman here now.

Another son, A. N. Williams, is traveling adjuster for the Phoenix Fire Insurance company of Hartford, and his daughter, Miss Eunice Williams, is a teacher in the public schools at Hartford. He also leaves a widow.

HIGH SCHOOL MATTERS. The probabilities are that after the new examinations for admission to the high school shall have been taken, that there will be a large increase of pupils. The decision was given in favor of the negative and the disputants were affirmative, Valentine Pulsifer and Gladys Hutchinson; negative, Lillian Holman and Mabel Wolcott.

Joseph Hutson will set sail for his native home in the north of Ireland to-morrow, where he goes to recuperate, his health will probably remain there permanently. He has been in poor health for a long time past. It will be remembered that he buried his wife here something like a year ago.
