TOWN NEWS.

John McGann of Maple street has made quite a neat, substantial and attractive job in raising up the sidewalk in front of his property and W. J. Carr has done likewise. Felk' Hendron, formerly of this place died at the Hartford hospital last Wednesday night. He was 63 years of age and had been at the hospital some four weeks.

R. O. and Mrs. Cheney returned from the South a few days ago, after placing their son and daughter at Asheville, North Carolina, the climate of Summerville proving too enervating at this season of the year. The attention of our readers is directed to the large advertisement of George F. Day's store, which appears elsewhere in this paper, and gives an account of the various lines of goods which he carries.

Wm Collins and Miss Anna Dowd were married by Rev. Thomas Simms last week. Mr. Collins is a prominent member of the Salvation Army and both he and his bride are very popular, and have many friends in this place. Advertiser letters, Manchester, Conn. April 11, 1895. Charles A. Beal, A. J. Benavise, Miss Stanislasa Bonina, Tim Fitzgerald, Lowell F. Field, Eugene Higgins, G. M. L. Spencer, J. F. Warren, CHARLES L. BALCH, P. M.

A gentle springlike rain set in last Monday afternoon and continued through the night, doing a world of good, as it was very much needed. This was the first genuine touch of spring we have had.

John Tamm of 99 School street returned from Baltimore last Tuesday afternoon, where he has been attending the Baltimore Medical College. He will have a vacation until next September, when he hopes to return and pursue his medical studies.

One of W. H. Grant's horses ran a way last Monday with the result of breaking the wagon considerably, but the animal escaped unhurt. In his wild course he came in collision with the veranda of The American House and knocked out one of the posts.

Don't forget that Professor D. M. Bristol's trained horses will be exhibited at Apell's opera house tonight and tomorrow night, and that there will be a matinee tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, admission to the matinee being 25 and 50 cents for adults, and 15 cents for children.

The town teams have dumped a lot of gravel all the way through the center of Vine street. It was used very much as the street is very low, but some arrangements should be made for carrying off the water which lodges there, particularly at the corner of Vine and School street.

Miss Harriet Wing Cowles and Charles William Holman were married by Rev. C. H. Barber last Wednesday afternoon, the ceremony taking place at the residence of the bride's parents, Clinton W. and Mrs. Cowles. The affair was entirely informal. The bride couple will reside in Bridgeport.

The east end of Eldridge street is being raised up like the west-end, and the improvement is much appreciated, as it was badly needed. Residents on Maple street would like very much to have that thoroughfare attended to in like manner, as in wet weather, it is "a hard road to travel."

Watkins Brothers report having had an unusually lively trade in carpets, oil cloths etc. during the past week. O. E. Mannell, the well known meat dealer on Charter Oak street, lost a valuable driving horse, that he raised himself, last Saturday night. The animal was but five years old, very sound, healthy and strong in wind and limb, and was taken with colic and in spite of the best efforts of a veterinary surgeon, died after suffering for two days.

WILL HAVE FOUR SECTIONS. The electric light plant in this place is being divided into four separate sections, instead of two sections as heretofore, so in case of an accident in any one part of the service, but one fourth of the lights will be disabled, thereby this important and very desirable improvement necessitates putting in more poles and wires and a general rearrangement of the service.

WORKMEN WILL DANCE.

Manchester Lodge A. O. U. W. is making arrangements to give a dance in Apell's opera house May 7. By that time the trolley cars will be running and a delegation from Oxford Lodge A. O. U. W. will surely be there, as well as many others who live at the south end. The electric cars will help local entertainments very much, as people can then be carried back and forth more frequently and conveniently.

THE FROST WENT DOWN.

Cheney Brothers are rejoining the old and putting in new and larger drain pipes from their tenements on School street, to connect with the sewer. The old pipes were three inches in diameter and the new ones are four inches. It was found that in several instances they were full of solidly frozen ice and all broken. They were set three feet deep in the ground, but that was not protection enough to save them from the long continued and far reaching frosts of this winter, which sank as deep as four feet, as has been ascertained recently by the plumbers in their excavations for repairs. Not in many years has the frost been known to be so deep, far beneath the surface, right in our streets here.

NOW FOR THE MASQUERADE.

The masquerade ball and concert to be given by Company G. in the Armory next Wednesday evening is attracting a good deal of attention and no pains are being spared by the committee of arrangements to make it the nicest and most pleasant masquerade. The Company orchestra will furnish music and J. A. Campbell will prompt. The band will give a concert on Depot Square on the evening of the 14th.

The Pittsburgh coal men say they are not afraid of the long-distance transmission of electricity generated by water power, as they can send a ton of coal by water a thousand miles at a cost of twenty-five cents.

Under a recent law foreign dogs are no longer admitted in Iceland. The measure is due to the fact that in 1893 a foreign dog was proved to have introduced a deadly malarial fever which killed the greater part of the shepherd's dogs on the island.

Some idea of the extent of the trade in working men can be gained from the statement recently of three cars of one kind of gum to Louisville. The shipment was of one single order and was not considered especially noteworthy by the firm making the shipment from Chicago.

The competition of electric cars in Connecticut causes the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad so much apprehension, says the American Agriculturist, that statistics are being prepared to show the legislature how the great road will suffer if electric roads are allowed to parallel it. The New Haven road will already be in the courts to shut out electric roads.

The distance which derelicts traverse is much greater than is generally supposed. A careful record of observations has resulted in the preparation of a chart which shows that the bulk of the schooner Fannie E. Weston has drifted, during the last five years, more than 10,000 miles. This calculation is based on forty-six reports of its having been sighted. Another derelict, which began its wanderings in 1891, drifted about 3,500 miles up to the time it was last seen, when it had about 615 days. The W. L. White, another floating terror of the sea, roamed over the North Atlantic for 313 days, covering in that time about 6,000 miles.

Statistics are demonstrating that embezzlement, like suicide, is chronic, laments the San Francisco Argonaut. It has its periods of epidemic, when it seems to be almost universal, and then again it subsides, and assumes a sporadic form, when a single case attracts general attention. The figures are quite curious. During the eleven years beginning with 1884 and ending with 1894, the total amount of bank embezzlements footed up $127,000,000. Prior to 1884, they averaged about $2,000,000 a year. But in 1884 the Grand A. Ward embezzlement raised the total above $20,000,000 and the footing for the year was $22,154,000. It then fell back to an average of about $3,000,000 until in 1889 when it jumped to $4,000,000 and hung round that figure till 1892, when it nearly reached $20,000,000 and 1894 when it amounted to $25,234,112. Statistics now figure that for every man, woman or child there will be safe to reckon on $45,000,000 a year. Of the $25,234,000 paid for defalcations in 1894, $9,147,000 were lost in New York, the banking centre of the country. The next state in the list, strange to say, was Tennessee, where the leading banks had been seasonal for years, and legislation long postponed led to a disclosure of defalcations amounting to $4,161,000. Illinois, with defalcation amounting to $1,813,000, fills the third place; here the losses and frauds may be traced to speculations connected with the World's Fair. Iowa, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Michigan and Ohio follow in order, and California joins the procession with defalcations amounting to $622,000. The other States figure for comparatively small sums. It is manifest that the heaviest embezzlements are taking place in the cities, where clerks handle large sums, and where the opportunities of speculating with stolen money are most frequent.

From Times comes a queer story of an insult offered to the French flag by an Italian innkeeper who had a couple of pigs killed at the public slaughter house, and then removed in a cart which was decorated with French flags. The French Vice-Consul lost no time in interfering, and the offending innkeeper was admonished after he had written a humble letter of apology.

Some one once said of the Philadelphia, that he lived to prove by his actions the necessity of an umbrella. This leads a great deal to the fact, continues the New York Tribune, that he caught the cold that caused his death by going out on a raw cold day without an umbrella. The utility of the overcoat is thus vindicated by the sacrifice of a brilliant man's life.

"Guilty," pleaded a prisoner in an English court recently. "Stop a minute," said the clerk of the court. "I'm afraid there has been a little mistake here. The indictment seems to have been mixed up. With respect to the prisoner at the bar, the grand juror in this case is the bill." The prisoner was discharged, "said the judge after a pause caused by his astonishment. The prisoner lost no time in getting away from the court room.

Dr. Hart of Easton does not believe that a chemical food will ever be invented which will take the place of old-fashioned beef steaks, potatoes and pie. But his doubts have called out the assertion from Dr. Austin of the Polytechnic that a Swedish chemist has made a feed out of sawdust that is entirely digestible. To prove it the Swedish chemist kept his wife's mother alive on it for five weeks. That's right. But that's not all. That's not all. It isn't enough to pillory her in the comic Press. She is now fed on sawdust.

Speaking of the late M. Worth, the Baltimore American says: "It was a curious career that made an English printer's devil the greatest authority on fashion in the world. The St. Louis Post Dispatch observes: "Worth was a noble genius, and like all men of genius, he dignified and ennobled his work. He found dress making a trade and elevated it into an art. 'Worth was a genius, an artist of the constructive type,'" declares the New York Press. "To the world he gave a great deal of beauty. He did not borrow; he created.

California has the good roads fever, and probably no state contains more effectively dated and neglected highways, states the New York Post. Among other plans for road construction proposed is the laying out of a macadamized boulevard, fifty miles in length, between San Francisco and San Jose. The country through which it would run is one of the most picturesque in the state, and many wealthy San Franciscans have built country houses there. The cost of such a road is estimated at $250,000, and would be borne by San Mateo and Santa Clara counties, the project was over realized. Redwood City, San Mateo, San Jose and other cities that would be benefited are all favorable to it, and their local papers are swelling the agitation. The Burlingame, a local county club, is also canvassing residents and taxpayers to obtain their support. It is already in the construction of the road to the summit of Mount Hamilton, which affords one of the finest drives in the state.

REVOLUTION REPORTED ENDED

A pitched battle in which the rebels were severely defeated by the Spanish Regulars.

A cablegram from Havana says: Cuba's case is lost. Crombet has on the battlefield of Palmarito and Mexico is in chains. In a desperate battle the insurgents were defeated and several officers were killed. Others were captured. The Spanish authorities, as soon as the news was received, hastened to post it on their bulletins, and the loyalists in Havana celebrated the ending of the revolution. There will, of course, be some ill-considered articles, but without doubt Cabaret and Macao there can be no real war.

General La Chamba, who commands the Government troops in Santiago province, reports that a body of Spanish troops and volunteers attacked a band of insurgents on the mountain side of Palmarito. The rebels were more than 2000 men, while that of the Spaniards was about 3000.

A desperate battle followed. The fighting, according to official reports, lasted about two hours, and at the end of that time the rebels retreated. They were pursued by the Spaniards, and many were killed. His Secretary was also taken, and all the personal and private papers of General Macao were seized.

From Times comes a queer story of an insult offered to the French flag by an Italian innkeeper who had a couple of pigs killed at the public slaughter house, and then removed in a cart which was decorated with French flags.

Some one once said of the Philadelphia, that he lived to prove by his actions the necessity of an umbrella. This leads a great deal to the fact, continues the New York Tribune, that he caught the cold that caused his death by going out on a raw cold day without an umbrella.

Dr. Hart of Easton does not believe that a chemical food will ever be invented which will take the place of old-fashioned beef steaks, potatoes and pie. But his doubts have called out the assertion from Dr. Austin of the Polytechnic that a Swedish chemist has made a feed out of sawdust that is entirely digestible.

"Guilty," pleaded a prisoner in an English court recently. "Stop a minute," said the clerk of the court. "I'm afraid there has been a little mistake here. The indictment seems to have been mixed up. With respect to the prisoner at the bar, the grand juror in this case is the bill."

Mrs. Sarah Bissell of School street, mother of Captain C. L. Bissell, received by express on Saturday last, a box from her son, Edward C. Bissell of Dayton, Ohio, filled with beautiful flowers, such as handsome roses, lovely carnations, pretty colored hyacinths, sweet lily of the valley, double white tulips and the golden daffodil.

IT WAS A PLEASANT EASTER GREETING to the invalid mother, who has been confined to her room nearly two months and is still weak in body and in mind from the effects of La Grippe.

As the lovely flowers sent out their sweet fragrance, they help to cheer and brighten the lonely hours of the sick room. Surely they are one of the best gifts of God to his creatures.

At the same time of the arrival of above, the mail brought another lovely greeting of Easter cards. A cross and cards from a young lady friend in Unionville. God bless the giver.—SIX.

"WE TAKE PLEASURE IN RECOMMENDING

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy because it is praised by all who try it," says J. W. Cox & Son, druggists, Marshfield, Oregon. No one afflicted with a throat or lung trouble can use this remedy without praising it. It always gives prompt relief. It is especially valuable for colds as it relieves the lungs, makes breathing easier and aids expectoration. MARVELOUS RESULTS

From a letter written by Gen. A. W. German of Danville, Va., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Marvel Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last with little intermission, and she was unable to get up. I tried to nurse her, but could not arrive there. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was taken and in a few days she was able to get up. It is a most wonderful medicine. I have used it in my family ever since." Trial bottle free at Cheney's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.00.

TEACHING LATIN IN COLLEGE AT THIRTEEN.

Professor Ryan of Albion college fell and broke a rib and is unable to attend class. The professor has a son of 13 summers who is taking work in the preparatory school. When the Ovid class met yesterday, this young scholar, who is small for his age, stepped upon the rostrum, took the professor's chair and proceeded to call the roll with the delicate composure of a veteran.

When he had finished, he quietly remarked that his father was unable to be present, and had requested him to bring charge. He asked full explanations of the most knotty constructions, which one or two upper classmen were unable to give, whereupon, much to their embarrassment, they were set right by the 13-year-old professor. The boy converses freely in the tongue of the Classics with his father.—Albion (Mich.) Dispatch.

By the provisions of the will of the late John C. Hollister of Glastonbury, his son Wesley will receive $3,000, his granddaughters Alice A. Stanley $500, and his grandson Edward C. Stanley $500.

The full text of the proposed act incorporating the ninth school district, as drawn up by the legislative committee, appears in another column, and its provisions are worthy of the closest reading.

The decorations in the churches on Easter Sunday were very attractive, and the music rendered was of a high order. Not many towns in the state of this size furnish as high an order of music, or as capable musical talent as can be found here.

Prof. D. M. Bristol appeared in Apell's opera house on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week and on the following afternoon, with his trained pupils and gave an excellent entertainment, but the attendance throughout was light. The weather was against him.

The electric light poles from Manchester station to the Center, along Main street, are being removed and the electric light wires are being strung on the trolley poles. Workmen began stringing the trolley wire from the Center over north last Wednesday.

The question has been asked whether, under the new arrangement regarding the ninth district school, pupils from other districts who attend the high school here, will have to pay for tuition, and who are informed on the competent authority that such will not be the case, as long as the town supports the high school.

A musical and literary entertainment will be given in the North Cong. church this Friday evening, the proceeds of which will be used for the benefit of the public library. A supper will also be included. The whole will be under the direction of the King's Daughters.

Owing to ill health, extreme old age and untoward weather conditions, Mr. Ralph Cheney has not been able to get out of doors much for sometime past; but the bright sunlight and balmy air of last Wednesday gave him an opportunity to enjoy a drive, which he gladly embraced. He is very feeble however.

Daniel Atkin, son of T. P. Atkin, injured himself internally while jumping a week or more ago, and has been suffering severely from the effects of the mishap ever since. He is under Dr. Dooley's care. The boy is over 17 years old and a pupil at Hunsicker's business college, Hartford.

As James Dowd's three year old son was playing with a bonfire last Friday his clothing caught fire and but for the timely arrival of his uncle, Edward Dowd, the little fellow would have been burned to death. As it was he is badly scorched about the body. Mr. Dowd had presence of mind enough to wrap his coat about the child and by smothering the flames saved his life. It was lucky that he happened to be about the house.

The pupils of the Highland Park school did not assemble last Monday morning, owing to the fact that it had been the custom of the school to open on Tuesday, whereas the regular day of opening was Monday, excepting in district number nine, which opened on Tuesday.
