TOWN NEWS. CHARACTERISTICS OF HUNTSINGER'S BUSINESS COLLEGE. It will not advertise. It does not do not. It will not promise what it cannot fulfill. It will not count the same pupil twice to swell published numbers. It will not teach for temporary results. It has the exclusive right to use "Patented Actual Business Practices from the Start," which saves one half of the time usually bestowed upon an interesting imaginary transactions from a text-book. It is safe to say that it trains two thirds of all the pupils who pursue a business or shorthand course in Hartford. Actual count at any time last year would have shown this statement. It is not generally known that Mr. Huntsinger teaches from three to four hours per day. It trains pupils to be honest and usually. It teaches all the branches on the basis that the education is to last for a lifetime. Mr. Huntsinger has been teaching for twenty-two years, and believes his school meets all the requirements for a business and shorthand training.

UPSET THE BEER WAGON. During the progress of the band concert last night, W. H. Martin's beer wagon was serving patrons on Charter Oak street, when word was conveyed to the driver that the officers were on the war path, and he immediately prepared to beat a hasty retreat. In turning the wagon around, he made a short career, upsetting the vehicle with entire contents into the street and breaking most of the bottles. He did not wait to gather up what was left, or give up the damage, but put the whip to his horses and got out of sight as rapidly as possible. It was a close call, but a successful one. The friendly tip did the business. The episode was the subject of general discussion on the street this morning.

BAZAR SEPT. 17. Rev. D. A. Haggerty announced last Sunday that the usual church festival would be held in the Armory this year, beginning Sept. 17. These events usually last eight or ten nights, as circumstances may warrant. The ladies will set to work preparing necessary articles of fancy work etc. for the occasion.

LAST YEAR'S APPLES. It seems a little late to tell about last year's apples at this time, but E. T. Carrier of Charter Oak street, has a barrel full of Roxbury russets that are as sound and as hard to lay as when they were housed last fall.

BASE BALL TOMORROW. The Unionville will toe the scratch at 3:15 tomorrow afternoon on the diamond at Soho, in opposition to the local team who will be somewhat stronger than last Saturday and may be expected to play up to date ball.

A GOOD THING. PUSH IT. The Truancy Company has issued communication books with 27 round trip tickets good for passages between Manchester and Hartford at the rate of ten cents each way, or $3.40 for a book.

LAST CONCERT. The closing concert by Pope's band last night attracted an unusually large audience to the square at Cheney's store. Bandmaster Schultz favored his hearers with the Hunting Scene that was so well received here on a previous occasion and received generous applause. The number was not on the program and was altogether unexpected. The series as a whole has been quite successful. The weather last night was perfect for an open air concert.

WORKMEN ON THE MOVE. Orford Lodge, No. 38, A. O. U. W., is pushing heavily on in its good work and last night the following persons were received into membership: F. L. Dutton, Samuel Anderson, Richard Manning, John Gilman and Loren A. Hanning.

WILL ERECT HORSE SHEDS. Horse sheds are to be built back of St. James church for the accommodation of members who live at a distance and drive to church.

IMPROVING THE PROPERTY. Dr. T. H. Weldon is going to have the apartments lately occupied by the Great Families thoroughly overhauled, decorated and renovated in general, will have them heated by steam, place hot and cold water in the rooms and all modern comforts, and furnish them up in any style for his own use. He expects to occupy them a month hence. Hugh Moriarty will do the plumbing and steam fitting.

SHORTHAND AT HUNTSINGER'S COLLEGE.
The success of Huntsinger's Shorthand Department rests upon a thorough knowledge of the subjects taught, and a wide and successful experience, a full appreciation of the requirements of the professional office, an intimate knowledge of the wants of the modern counting-room, as well as upon an unwavering determination to render faithful, skillful, conscientious and acceptable service. It is a pleasure and but just to say that the Department has long since won a reputation for thoroughness and efficiency that is indeed of a substantial and gratifying character. The training is thorough and comprehensive and in full touch with the modern and progressive ideas concerning proper stenographic qualifications. Satisfying success are positively not tolerated. The newly superficial fads no advocate here. To attain a high order of efficiency is the one aim and controlling purpose of this Department. The Department travels the widest field of dictation work from the easiest and simplest in thought and construction to the most varied and difficult literary or technical expressions. This fact having the pupil with a vocabulary of the widest reach, as well as acquainting him with every variety of legal, commercial, and literary phrasing. To still further emphasize the character and dignity of the profession, the Department has secured the best of the best of the leading mercantile and manufacturing houses in Hartford and other cities.
