TOWN NEWS.

AARON JOHNSON'S NEW STORE. The carpenter and painter are now busily engaged in finishing the work on Aaron Johnson's new store building, and he expects to have his opening the latter part of next week.

The store is located on Chestnut street near the corner of Linden, the building is 22 1/2 feet high and a half story high.

The store itself is a room 22 1/2 feet finished in Southern yellow pine, and the natural color of the wood.

It has all modern conveniences for a first class grocery store, the best material of the kind that money can buy has been used.

All the fixtures were made right on the premises by and under the personal direction of S. E. Johnson, the builder.

There are two large display windows, 7x8 feet front, with sides six feet each, making 20 square feet of glass in the window alone, besides the door and transom, so that taken as a whole it is finely finished, as the front faces to the south, and makes a very comfortable, bright, roomy and cheerful store.

In the northwest corner he has a small storage room that is set apart for meats, fish, and butter, and the like and can be shut off from the main store.

There is a fine dry cellar under the whole building.

The store floor is double one, with a maple surface.

Mr. Johnson has bought most of his goods from Austin Nichols & Co. of New York and the new stock is arriving daily, and he wishes hereby to inform the public that they are first class in every particular, and that he will carry on as fine a line as can be found anywhere and invite all to call and see for themselves and thus be satisfied that the statements are correct.

Since starting in for himself his trade has been constantly increasing, and people who have tried have found that his goods are just as represented, and he purposes to continue on in this satisfactory way for every dollar's worth brought in his store.

The upper part of the building is arranged in a fine basement of five large rooms with both hot water closets and all modern conveniences.

There are front and rear stairways and spacious hallways, double parlors, kitchen, dining room, bedroom and pantry. The rooms are nearly three feet square.

Conductor Lawrence O'Dowd will occupy these apartments and will have a very pretty and comfortable home.

There is a large attic in the building with double dormer windows that could, should occasion require, be divided up into two chambers fourteen feet square and eight feet high.

The upstairs apartments have plastered walls which will be papered, the ceilings are of white wood, moldered, and of the same excellent workmanship as the lower part.

The building as a whole is a good and substantial one and Mr. Johnson hopes to do a prosperous business in his new store, and in the public patronage.

GRIPPEY COLIC. Grippey colics are epidemic and are promptly "broken up" by Dr. Humphrey's Specific for Colic and Grippe. For sale by all druggists.

ULLIE AKERSTROM.

This talented actress is to appear in The Army Wednesday evening Nov. 13 and will present a new and valuable comedy entitled "Melinda's Woes."

In order to introduce our readers to the several characters connected with Miss Akerstrom's new comedy, Melinda's Woes, we shall be compelled to ask them to draw upon their imagination sufficiently to enable them to accompany us up two flights of stairs and into the office of Charles Dobbs, attorney and confessor at law. There we find Mr. Levy, confidential clerk, and general utility man about the office. He is very much annoyed concerning the actions of Mr. Dobbs; of late he seems to be hiding something from him. A very elegant lady, Mrs. Matilda Gordon, and a very peculiar gentleman, Mr. Blister, have just passed into his sanctum, and Mr. Dobbs having cautioned him to say that he is not to tell others, has advanced his curiosity to such a pitch, that it gets the better of his judgment, and he applies his ear to the key hole in the door of the sanctum. What he hears causes him to rub his eyes, and he is not to tell others, has advanced his curiosity to such a pitch, that it gets the better of his judgment, and he applies his ear to the key hole in the door of the sanctum.

A MIDDAY FIRE.

People coming from the mills to their dinner last Monday, saw huge volumes of white smoke and sparks, and on enquiry found that the carriage repository of George F. Day was in flames.

They rushed to the rescue from all directions, and messengers were sent to call the church bell and Frank Abbey took a team and drove down to the mills to have the horse carts gotten out.

Meanwhile the fire had held of back and carriage, and was now in the lower part of the building and were then to a place of safety, while others got pails and ladders and began throwing water on the barn adjoining to prevent that from getting on fire, and by their faithful work they saved the building until a horse cart arrived and a stream of water was brought on.

The fire had meanwhile enveloped the entire upper part of the repository, burst through the roof and was consuming contents and building at a very lively rate.

A second horse arrived some fifteen minutes later, and the two together soon subdued the flames, but not until the repository was completely gutted, all remaining was the lower part, excepting the north end, which was the work of a physician.

DR. CHAPMAN EXPECTED.

A joint meeting of the official boards of the South Methodist and Center Congregational churches was held Wednesday evening in the vestry of the South M. E. church, to consider the advisability of bringing Dr. Chapman, the celebrated evangelist, here next March, so that as early as he can be secured, under any conditions.

He is a man who has a national reputation as an evangelist, is wholly unpretentious, a great revivalist, and no doubt would give a strong impetus to the religious spirit of the community, and act as a powerful antidote against certain influences that are having full swing here at this time.

Both bodies were heartily in favor of the movement and decided to write him and ascertain just what arrangements could be made.

As soon as a definite understanding can be arrived at, ample notice will be given and all particulars placed before the public. The purpose is, if the necessary arrangements can be made, to have one of the greatest events of the kind that has been seen here for many a day, as Dr. Chapman is all man of the Moody type and will be anxious to see and hear him.

"Do you know," said an army officer, "that if Sittling Bull, the old Sioux chief, had been a white man, he would have been called a general."

"Sittling Bull was not a regular chief; that is, he wasn't a war chief. He was a medicine man; what the Indians call a medicine chief. But he had great natural capacity as a commander. His surprise and cutting off of Custer would have been called a great achievement if a white general had in some way performed the feat. It is significant of Indian character that Sittling Bull never left the story of his life, would not say a word about it, although I suppose the question was put to him a thousand times by all sorts of people."

New Way of Evicting Settlers. The Indian police have adopted a new way of evicting settlers from the reservation near Ft. Tule, Nev. Finding Charles Swanson at work in the cornfield with nearly a full load of corn in his wagon, they drove to him in the wagon, and drove to the agency. After unloading his corn they released him and foot, load him into the wagon, and drove to the agency. Had to Wait His Turn.

In the days of General Sam Houston, dueling was much more common than now.

After responding to Texas General Houston having to give offense to a political opponent, who felt his honor disgraced to such an extent that he issued a challenge to Houston.

The bearer of the challenge was received with courtesy and civility. He handed the written challenge to General Houston, who read it and taking up his pen wrote something across the back of the folded paper and placed it in a pigeonhole of his desk.

He then went to entertain the bearer of the challenge with the pleasant conversation for which he was noted. After a time the man began to grow impatient, and reminding the General of the challenge asked him if he was going to reply.

"Oh, yes," said Houston, "I am going to reply."

Last Saturday gave us a variety of hail, rain and snow and on Sunday morning the boys found enough to make their first snowballs of the season.

Rev. J. S. Wadsworth gave his lecture last Sunday evening at a fair sized and deeply interested audience. His observations and descriptions of Calvary and the people as they are today, were very pleasing and of much historical interest.

As Charles Geer was delivering milk at Milo Russell's early last Wednesday morning his horse took fright and ran away. Turning into Maple street he upset the wagon, broke it up considerably, threw himself, smashed milk jars, harness etc. and made a general wreck of the whole business.

Henry E. and Mrs. Thompson, expect to start for Daytona, Florida next Monday, where they will spend the winter on their orange plantation. Building seems to be lively down here now and Mr. Thompson has prospect of a good winter's business. He will not grow any oranges.

R. P. Bissell, secretary of the board of school visitors, is making an energetic canvass of the various school districts of the town, for the purpose of reducing the number of truants from school, and also to see that parents are not knowingly keeping their children away, before the age at which the law permits of their doing.

Robert Edmunds was severely injured while at work on the extension of the tramway over north last Wednesday forenoon, by having a steel rail fall on his shoulder. He was knocked insensible and was taken to Dr. Bradley's office, where his wounds were dressed. It will be remembered that he was hurt by falling from a trolley car a short time ago.

James B. Horton was charged in the town court with assault on Albert J.
