SWEDISH BAZAR. The Swedish bazar is now on in full swing at the Armory. A large delegation is expected to night from Hartford, and the best program of the event will be presented.

There are a number of useful, hand some and serviceable articles on sale, that the ladies have made and are receiving many calls for.

The weather on the opening evening was stormy, but still there was a fair attendance.

Wm. F. Rice has made a handsome collection of paintings, and a number of them will be presented to one or other of the local Swedish societies, Wana or Seger and a spirited contest is to see which will be the winner. The picture is $1250 and is set in a massive gilded frame.

Miss Mary Johnson painted a lovely winter scene and presented it to the young ladies of the Swedish society. Mrs. Selma Gustafson served and Miss Minnie Bjorklund are the contestants for this pretty picture.

A gold-headed cane is to be awarded to the most popular of three constables, E. L. Johnson, John Crockett and E. L. Johnson and friends of each are bidding to secure the prize.

The bazar will close tomorrow evening and all the awards will be made.

The Laplander's tent has Mrs. Walmo, Annie Mott, Algot Lindell, John Anderson and Aaron Linn, all in costume. The candy booth was in charge of the Misses Mary, Rebecca and the well is represented by Miss Clara Lamborg.

The fancy work booths are in charge of the Misses Annie Johnson and Selma Anderson and Mrs. Natalie Lindell and Selma Olson respectively.

Ice cream, lemonade, coffee, cakes, peanuts etc are on sale tomorrow evening and all the awards will be made.

A fish pond close to a thriving business, and there is sport enough for young and old.

That the fair will be a financial success goes without saying and it is expected that about seven or eight hundred dollars will be gathered in.

Business people in town have contributed very generously to the bazar.

SOUTH M. E. CHURCH NOTES. Rev. J. S. Wadsworth will preach a sermon Sunday on the Thanksgiving season at 10-45 next Sunday.

There will be Thanksgiving service in the morning, but the usual service for revival will be held in the evening. Five converts were received last evening.

The meetings for revival are very successful and the attendance is deep interest is being manifested and it has been determined to continue them through the week.

Mr. Wadsworth is very grateful to the visiting clergymen and others who had so ably and generously given their time, labor and talents to make the meetings a most gratifying success.

Wanted—Two gentlemen or ladies can be accommodated with board at No 16 Elm street. 41-8.

HEARING ON REMONSTRANCES.

The hearing on the remonstrances against granting liquor licenses to Samuel Purnell and Patrick R. Hayes took place before the county commissioners last Wednesday morning and the following report of the proceedings is given by the Hartford Courant.

The Rev. D. A. Haggerty and others of Manchester appeared before the county commissioners yesterday morning in support of the remonstrances against the granting of liquor licenses to Samuel Purnell for the Oxford Hall building and to Patrick R. Hayes for the American Hotel. Both places are located on Main street in the village of South Manchester and the grounds of the remonstrance are that the places are unsuitable and that Mr. Purnell is an unfit man to be licensed. There was no hearing on the remonstrance against the license to Mr. Hayes, as Hugh O'Flaherty and Judge Zwoers also before the county commissioners on the ground that it was not made out in conformity with law and the commissioners sustained the objection. The hearing on the remonstrance against the granting of the license to Mr. Purnell was held, he had no counsel and he had no testimony, but made a statement to the commissioners in which he said that it is the general opinion and belief in Manchester that the remonstrance was for the purpose of having the liquor business, in a general way, controlled by the Roman Catholics.

The Rev. D. A. Haggerty, pastor of the Roman Catholic church, who was the first witness called, who testified against Oxford Hall being licensed. The piece is opposed by the church and the general public to give them a call and a share of their patronage.

They are both young men, are well and favorably known here, have had a large and varied experience in the retail liquor business, keep and dispense, and are thoroughly capable to fit and make clothing in a first class manner.

They solicit a trial order and are sure of giving satisfaction.

They can furnish you custom made clothing on the easy terms of $1 each week. Call and see them about this.

Mr. Purnell introduced no testimony but the commissioners he said that Mr. Purnell and his friends were not the real remonstrants against him, but that a drug store was maintained and run in the name of Father Haggerty's church by a member of his congregation and the piece sold more liquor than all the other places in town and that was where the remonstrance came from. All those who testified against him, he said, were members of Father Haggerty's church with the exception of Carl Bates, and he is a brother in law of the man who runs the drug store in the name of Father Haggerty's church.

He is the general opinion in this town, that it was the Roman Catholic element who were doing the remonstrating, not because they didn't want a hotel but because they wanted to control the liquor business.

Isn't Mr. Hayes a member of Father Haggerty's congregation? asked Mr. O'Flaherty.

Is he? asked Mr. Haggerty.

Yes, he is. He is a member of Father Haggerty's congregation, but he is not a member of his church, he is a member of the Roman Catholic church.

Well, it did a flourishing business. The commissioners reserved their decision on the remonstrance.

When the Hayes case was called Mr. O'Flaherty said the remonstrance objected to the application on the ground that Mr. Hayes had not complied with the law. Patrick Mooney of Manchester, one of the signers of the application, although a taxpayer, is not an elector of the town and could not legally sign the application. In support of the claim that the application had no standing, counsel read section 5 of the general statutes and cited Judge Baldwin's opinion in Bear's appeal from the commission of the Board of Health in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety five. The reason given for the refusal was that he is an unfit man to be licensed.

I escaped being a confirmed dyspeptic by taking Ayer's Pills in time. This is the experience of many. Ayer's Pills, whether as a cathartic or as a remedy for liver complaint, indigestion, flatulency, splinter rash, and various ailments, are invaluable.

FELL FROM A TROLLEY CAR.

As the last car was on its way out from Hartford last night and coming down Main street, passengers in the car were thrown out of the car by a fellow who was quite badly cut about the head and more or less bruised about the body in general, from his collision with the trolley car.

He gave his name as Wm. Sinker and said he was employed by Contractor Ley, on the tramway extension here. His wounds were dressed, restoratives given and he was taken home.

It will be several days however before he will be able to work. The man had a large supply of liquor on board and Contractor Ley tried to have him come inside of the car, but he was too obstinate to take the advice, so he now has to take the consequences.

John Barleycorn is getting in his work on the boys' leveaux with a vengeance. Some are paying dearly for their "fun."

Medical Examiner Parker found that the man's neck was broken and propped up as having been the cause of his death.

His face was somewhat out of the position as it was known from the report, with the result noted above.

It is stated that he had been in this town on the day of his death, that he started for home about 10 o'clock, and the presumption is that he was intoxicated, as a bottle of liquor was found on the street when taken in charge.

FOUND WITH HIS NECK BROKEN.

Samuel and Mrs. Andrews, proprietors of the confectionery store on Depot square, were driving into Hartford last Wednesday morning, and when near the East Hartford bridge, or just beyond the third crossing of the New England road, they saw a man lying in the field, face downward, some thirty or forty rods from the crossing and to the south of the road.

On investigation it was found that he was dead, and Mr. Andrews proceeded to Medical Examiner J. N. Parker of this place forthwith, and notified that official of his discovery.

He met Walter W. Cowles on the way, told him what he had found and Mr. Cowles, on looking the body over, saw at once that it was that of Thomas McCallin and drove to Burnside to get the body.

Dr. Parker and Selectman Watkins drove to the scene, and found Mrs. McCallin and Mr. Cowles there.

A horse which was wound about the dead man's legs and a horse whip lay close by.

Medical Examiner Parker found that the man's neck was broken and propped up as having been the cause of his death.

His face was somewhat out of the position as it was known from the report, with the result noted above.

A FATAL GRAPE SEED.

Chas. Knoss the only son of Frank and Mrs. Knoss of Lyallville, met with a peculiar accident last Friday, from which he died yesterday at 5 a. m.

While at work at Pratt & Whitney's, he was given some grapes by a fellow workman. Just as he had put one in his mouth, another fellow workman came up and hit him on the back, so that he fell and the grape seed struck him in the stomach.

This made young Knoss draw in his breath quickly and he drew the grape seed into his left lung.

At first he did not seem to realize any inconvenience, but soon a pain seized him and it became hard for him to breathe.

He worked during the morning, but the pain became worse in the afternoon and he left for his home by trolley car.

When he reached the north end terminus he was so weak that he had to be carried home in a team. Dr. Taylor was called and he found that symptoms of pneumonia had set in.

Dr. Whitton was also called in consultation and did all possible but he failed rapidly. It was hoped that he had coughed up the grape seed, but it was not.

GOOD SPORT LAST NIGHT.

The New Jolly Company played to a moderate sized audience in Apoll's opera house last evening and demonstrated beyond any question that they are capable entertainers.

They carried out every promise made in their advertisements and should have packed the house.

Every thing went with a rush and snap that were truly refreshing, one surprise followed another in quick succession and the audience was kept in a continuous roar of laughter from the rising of the curtain until the going down of the same.

There was not a weak spot in the whole performance.

They certainly are a combination of clever musical and dramatic specialists and they furnished one of the best entertainments that has ever been seen in this city.

They should call again and have an audience that they well earned last night.
