PRESIDENT BORNAL SHOT.

The Chief Magistrate of Uruguay Falls by an Assassin's Hand.

KILLED BY A MILITARY OFFICER.

The Celebration of the Independence of the Republic Was in Progress—Crime Committed as the President Was Leaving the Cathedral.

Montevideo, Uruguay (By Cable).—The assassin, President of the Republic of Uruguay, was assassinated just a few minutes after the Chief Executive left the Cathedral, where he had listened to the Te Deum sung on the occasion of the anniversary of the independence of Uruguay.

Following the assassination, and while the immediate members of the President's family were still bending over him when he had fallen, there was a forward movement of the crowd which had gathered in order to witness the dying President.

His military escort attacked the crowd and succeeded in driving it back, only a few persons had been wounded but several killed.

The assassin is Avilino Arredondo, an officer in the Uruguayan Army. He is a native of Uruguay and only twenty-seven years of age. It is reported that he is in contact with the assassin, and that his crime was inspired by anything more than a personal hatred.

Montevideo was in gala attire to-day in celebration of the independence of Uruguay. The day was proclaimed on August 25, 1825. The day, according to the programme which had been mapped out, was to be a day of feasts and sports.

The first bullet which hit the second struck President Bernal in the left breast. He fell backward into the arms of his military escort and sank to the ground.

Of the official coronation, the Bishop of the Diocese of Montevideo presided. Hundreds had gathered in front of the cathedral, and the President was carried as he passed out of the door. He walked only a few steps when Arredondo stopped forward and fired over his head and raised a pistol. Before any one could stop him he had fired two shots at the President.

For an instant there was a swirl about the fallen man, and the crowd poured forward with cries and shouts, and the president's body was carried to the hospital. The other troops were thrown into line to keep the crowd from transgressing the limits of the military police.

The President was carried to the hospital, and he died in a few minutes. The body was then wrapped in the flag of Uruguay and removed to his late home, Tambores, where it was placed in a casket and carried to the Chamber of Deputies.

The Chamber of Deputies met in session at 10 o'clock, and the President's body was placed in a casket and carried to the Chamber of Deputies.

REBEL TRIBESMEN VICTORIOUS.

Landi-Kotal, the Most Remote of the Forts in the Hills, Falls Before the Afridis—300 Men Driven Out and the Fortification Destroyed—The Fight Lasted About Twenty-four Hours.

SIXLA, India (By Cable).—Port Landi-Kotal, a British outpost, situated at the extreme end of the Khyber Pass, and garrisoned by 300 men of the Khyber Rifles, has been attacked and burned by the rebels.

The Afridis attacked Landi-Kotal Tuesday. The garrison held its own until, after sharp fighting, in which the native commander of the garrison was killed while gallantly leading his men, the enemy gained an entrance.

The fight was continued two hours inside the fortification by the Khyber Rifles in the towers at the angles of the fort, which were strongly built of stone. The Afridis were driven back, and the fort was captured, a quantity of supplies, and then burned.

The famous Khyber Pass, leading from Afghanistan into India, has now fallen into the hands of the rebel tribesmen, who have risen against the British oppressor. The pass is the key to the north-western frontier of India.
