TOWN NEWS AND NOTES. Professor Timothy Drake will exhibit the Passion Play, as seen at Oberammergau, in Cheney Hall Friday evening, November 12, under the auspices of the Swedish Lutheran church. He will also have a photograph exhibition at the same time and place. The lecture accompanying these exhibitions will be delivered in English, as Professor Drake is an American.

Dr. R. C. and Mrs. Hanson have moved to New York City, where they will reside for the winter. They will be missed by their many friends here, particularly during the social season, as they always took part in all the local festivities and entered into the sports with much zest. Miss Bertha Stays has gone with them. They spent the summer at Varner Park, East Windsor Hill.

Thomas McCloskey of School street resigned his position with Cheney Brothers, as a silk printer and will leave town next week Monday. He is leaving of his own volition, owing to the fact that he has secured a more lucrative position elsewhere. Their household effects will be moved away as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made. Their neighbors on School street are sorry to have them leave, as they were good quiet respectable people, who attended strictly to their own affairs and caused no trouble in the neighborhood.

Dr. Sylvester has joined the South Manchester Military Band as solo cornetist and Lot S. Lacey as bass drummer. The band appointed a committee last Tuesday evening to make the necessary arrangements for giving a dance early next month. Full particulars of which will appear in these columns at a later date. Their series of socials in Wapping during the summer were very successful and they hope to be equally well patronized in their efforts in the same direction during the coming winter, as they intend to give a number of dances.

Eschel Benson's horse tipped over his wagon on Edridge street last Friday evening, near C. Stenberg's livery stable, breaking all the eggs and spilling all the butter he had in his wagon, as well as breaking the shaft and other things, injuring the vehicle. He used one of C. Stenberg's wagons, until he could have his own repaired and this was enabled to fill his orders. He has the horse and wagon that H. C. Charter used in the shoe business. It was rather unfortunate for him to have Eschel meet with this mishap, on entering upon this new work.

The many friends of Fred A. Stays will be pleased to learn that he is progressing finely with his musical studies in New York City, where he holds a good position in the choir of one of the leading churches, and a wealthy gentleman in the metropolis, recognizing the fact that Mr. Stays is the possessor of a voice of unusual sweetness, power and range, has expressed a desire to furnish whatever funds may be necessary to enable Mr. Stays to develop it and undergo such study and training as may be required. People here are deeply interested in his welfare and will be more than delighted to learn of his good fortune.

George E. Pitcher died at his home in Norwich last week Thursday at the age of 70 years. He had been in the employ of Cheney Brothers for 20 years as a blacksmith and was an expert at the business. He left here about three months and a half before his death. He was married to Mrs. Frank and Rash Cheney in Boston some 26 years ago, when they manufactured Spencer rifles for the U. S. government. He had many friends here and a good sized delegation went down and attended his funeral, bringing with them a floral tribute which they placed upon his grave. Choice Concord grapes in large baskets at B. F. Ball's. Sliced ham, bacon, sausages dried beef, Oysters, Geo. F. Day. Millinery and dressmaking. Hats made over and trimmed in the latest styles. Mrs. M. Gleason, 21 Elm street, 914

The D Y's will make their initial bow to the public for this season's festivities at their opening social in the Army next Wednesday evening and have secured Prof. Wm. O. Ryan as promoter for this occasion. This jolly, good natured genius in his line will be heartily welcomed here, as he always is and in turn will make everybody rejoice at having been present. He is the life of the whole event and succeeds admirably in communicating his own bubbling and merry mood to everybody who enters the hall. Keating's full orchestra will furnish music and dancing will continue until one o'clock in the morning.

Forty Four Divisions of Hibernalians in the State of Connecticut voted to hold a State parade of the order May 23, 1898; all of that number but one deciding in favor of the City of Waterbury as the place to have the parade. Five Divisions in the state voted against having such a parade, and among those five is the Division of this town. In view of the strong call for the parade, John M. Murphy of Norwich, the State President, has given official notice to all the Divisions of the State that the parade will be held in the Brass City on the date named above.

Wright & Peterson, the well known stove dealers on School street, have secured the agency for the Majestic Steel Ranges and will have a demonstration of the good qualities of these goods in their store, beginning next Monday and continuing throughout the week. There will be a gentleman present who will explain the merits of the ranges and will be in attendance to cook and serve hot biscuit and coffee, free. A very useful cook book will be given to every lady caller. These are new goods that are being introduced here and can now be seen in Wright & Peterson's. All are cordially invited to call and inspect them.

Did you notice what A. H. Skinner has to say on the floor question in his new advertisement which appears in another column? If you want to buy your potatoes right, read what C. D. Strickland & Son has to say on the subject in their new advertisement which appears in another column. There is no doubt about it. C. E. House has the lead on overcoats this season. He can suit anyone in any variety and price from the cheapest to the dearest. He calls your attention to these goods in his new advertisement and invites all to call and inspect them.

C. D. Strickland & Son are making extensive alterations in their store by removing the elevator entirely, changing the stairway so that it will front towards the dry goods store, arranging new shelving and putting in a refrigerator so that they will be able to take their meat market in the grocery store, thus concentrating their business under one roof and systematizing it in such a way that they will be better able to display their goods than they have ever been. The improvements will make considerable change in the store and enable them to carry on their large business in better form than ever.

P. T. Barnum once said: "If you have $10 to put to a good use, put it in for the article and the other $9 for advertising. I can't talk any man but a printer. The man that strikes type and the next morning talks to a thousand people while I am talking to one, is the man I am afraid of, and want to be his friend."

The Quick Lunch, No 270 Main St., launched an enterprise in the City of Hartford which is refreshingly new. You help yourself and pay the cashier, a very pretty and attractive young lady by the way. The management shows sufficient confidence in the common honor of the patrons to trust them to pay for what they eat. The look of perfect satisfaction depicted on the countenances of the various individuals eating their lunches there, show the public appreciation of a Lunch Room where a meal may be had without the tedious delays of the old style Lunch Room. "You help yourself. No Waiters—No Waiting—Quick" is the happy phrase employed by the management to describe the plan. Their coffee and pastry are out of the usual good.

SO MANY OF THEM. So many of our students this year are brothers and sisters of graduates of other business colleges that we are led to believe that, if other colleges gave what is wanted in actual business training, they would win the patronage of entire families instead of a single member of a family. We can point with pleasure to many families where the father, mother and all the children are proud graduates of
