At last he reached a higher bluff than any before, and from it he could see a succession of lower bluffs, and then again a high one behind. He sat on his horse for some time and then rode toward the other big bluff, and so high it was he could not see its summit even from the hollows, with the other bluffs between. He rode along, slowly now, for his horse was not so fresh, and was in one of the hollows, when suddenly far in front of him there came to his ears a strange sound-the long, ringing notes of a cavalry bugle. Ned stood in his stirrups to stare about, plunged all at nce into a high state of excitement. But his horse; never had that patient and docile animal behaved in so extraordinary a way before. The American presentation was a refutation of the Spanish allegation that because and the white mates were chatting and the words "possession," "ownership" or "cession" do not occur in the protocol clause touching upon the Philippine Islthe islanders drew knives from under their | ands, the Peace Commissions have no right eits and attacked the crew furiously. The Americans also answered Spain's claim for the restitution to her of public money and customs collections taken by the United States officials since the capitulation of Manila, and they also made reply to Spain's claim for an indemnity on account of the alleged imprisonment by the United States authorities of Spanish troops ! Mantia, and for their consequent restraint from being of service to Spain in the suppression of the insurrection and the preservation of property.

The American Commissioners hold that there was justification, under the term of he protocol for the discussion of the future of the Philippine Islands, and they also claimed that the occupation of Manila is a military occupation, which justifies the United States in collecting the revenues, administering the government and exercising all the functions of possession. FORMAD TERMS OF OUR REPLY.

L. I., spring, P th Diplomatically Asswered. Squabs, # doz. WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).-The Ameri-Hay-Prime, P 100 lb or suggested in general terms from Washington. It deals with three vital points: First, the assumption of sovereignty by Straw-Long rye

Second, the Spanish contention that, the protocol having been signed before the surrender of Manila, the status of the precise moment of the mutual signatory act should e restored as a condition precedent to negotiations for peace, so far as it relates to the Philippines. Third, that Spain assuming the surrender

! Manila to be eliminated as an incident of war by reason of the antecedent signing of the protocol, all revenues accruing to America since the surrender should be regarded as a proper subject of indemnity to As to the first proposition, this is tha view of this Government, as maintained by the President: When Spain consented to the terms "disposition and control of the Philippines" she made the United States at least an equal power in the settlement of the abdication of unqualified sovereignty as now set up by Spain. As to the second propostion: The proto cannot affect operations in Manila.

Spain has been offered the opportunity of re-establishing the cable which had been cut by Rear-Admiral Dewey. This she deelined and voluntarily deprived herself of the opportunity of being promptly informd f the acts either of Spain or the United tates. And again, the military status is to be determined by the moment in which the news of the protocol was delivered to the contending parties. The third proposition of the Spaniards is untenable if the second contention of he Americans is valid. If the protocol does not interfere with the surrender of Mantia, then that city, and in fact the hilippine Islands, surrendered to the American army and navy. The question of the right to the revenues after the surburned, including the new postofice render has been tacitly acquiresged in by structure and some of the best houses in Spain in the case of Santingo, where sho has not attempted to question all of the rights which inure to a military occupa-

The Anti-Germ Barber Shops.

Even barbering is becoming scientific. The germ theory now comes to the aid of a man who is getting his chin reaped or his bair cut. Chicago barbers are introducing "antiseptic shaves" and "sterilized razors" and "hygienic" brushes. In many of the first-class shops all the towels, shears, razors, combs and brushes used on a customer are subjected first to a bath in an antiseptic fluid. The operator likewise washes his hands in a solution warranted to destroy germs. Every customer is furnished with a separate cup, which is kept for his individual use. It is claimed that by this method infection is impossible. Under the Mountain ranges and plains gradually arose, casting forth the waters and leaving the monsters to die and bleach in tertiary suns. As the water remained divided into smaller tracts they gradually lost their saline stability. The stronger mensters gorged on the weaker tribes until they, too, stranded on rising sand bars or lost vitality and perished as the water freshened. In imagination we can picture the strongest, bereft of their food supply at last and floundering in the shallow pools until all remaining mired or starved.
