dent of the Cuban republic. He is little Venancio Verona, or "Veronita." than 12 years old rode into the insurgent camp in Najassa. He had escaped from the city of Puerto Principe the night before. Halting in front of President Cisneros' headquarters, he said: "I have come to join the 'insurrectos.' The Spaniards have killed my father, and I am the only one left in our family old enough to fight. If I can have a gun I would like as far as possible to take my father's place and fight for Cuba." He got the gun, and with it the love and protection of Salvador Cisneros, that grand old man who gave up all to battle for his country's freedom. A special order was sent to the United States for one light rifle for a young soldier of 12 years. When the gun was placed in Veronita's hands he was undoubtedly the proudest boy in Cuba. The president became very much attached to him, and T. R. ADAMS. each night had a pile of sarones (large bags made of palm leaves) placed under his tent for Veronita's bed. Mrs. Henry Porter of 12 William street Manchester, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for pain in the back and lameness across my lions. It was a dull dragging aching and I did not feel as if I had any energy left. It hurt me to walk, and the kidney secretams annoyed me. We frequently heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured some from W. B. Cheney, the druggist. There is no question, but they greatly benefited me. They stopped my back, ache and removed the lameness from my hips. I have an idea that they were also the cause of hives leaving me so much quicker than ordinarily. I advised acquaintances—to try them and those who did were benefited. I can conscientiously recommend Doan's Kidney Pills from personal experience and from what others have fold me of the effects upon themselves.

As the din grew it gave one the impression of a battle, and a faint idea was gained of what the mild-mannered craiser really was when in action. The two captured Spanish gunboats seemed to be pourling a raking fire over her decks from either side, while the several shore batteries and mortars apparently were directing every energy toward sinking her. The guns of the cruiser could be heard above the roar, remarkable for the regularity with which they spoke in answer to the seattering fire of the others. OUR CASH SYSTEM

Our system of requiring payments in cash, at least every thirty days, is meeting with very general approval and our customers find that it gives much satisfaction. They realize that it is but fair that we should have our pay at least once in thirty days, when most of our patrons rehave our pay at least once in thirty days, when most of our patrons receive their wages once a week. We also wish to call attention to the fact that our prices, considering Adams Express business, as R. M. Rood now at house cleaning time. There are quality, are the very best that can be obtained in town, We have had many expressions of approval of our cash system and a man of his own choosing on the team vise those of our readers who are in we are fully convinced that the better our customers become acquainted and Frank K.
