place of some veteran soldier whose memory was to be publicly honored by the ceremonials of the afternoon. Upon one of the mounds thus designated was standing a fair little girl dressed in white. Her eyes were large and blue, and waving masses of vellow hair fell about her shoulders, half veiling the delicate rose of her rounded cheeks. Around her on the grass was scattered a profusion of cut grass was scattered a profusion of cut flowers mingled together without distinction of species or color. With the late daffodils and early roses, the purple pansies and spotless lilies-of-the-valley, the drifting lavender and white snowballs, were heaped buttercups and dandelions from the field and dewy violets from the brookside. The child's fingers were so busy with the blossoms that she did not notice the slow approach of light footsteps which hesitated and advanced

He went to the war with his regiment and was present in every battle in which the regiment fought thirty-six in all. Old Abe was carried into battle on a perch beside the color-bearer, but would soon spread his wings and soar above the smoke and strife, hovering over his regiment and screaming at the top of his voice. When the battle was over he would return to his perch and rest contentedly. He was wounded several times, and on a number of occasions he rendered valuable services to the army by announcing the approach of the enemy long before the scouts had time to reach headquarters, it is said. IVORY SOAP PASTE.

In fifteen minutes, with only a cake of Ivory Soap and water, you can make a better cleansing paste than you can buy.

Ivory Soap Paste will take spots from clothing; and will clean carpets, rugs, kid gloves, slippers, patent, enamel, russet leather and canvas shoes, leather belts, painted wood-work and furniture. The special value of Ivory Soap in this form arises from the fact that it can be used with a damp sponge or cloth to cleanse many articles that cannot be washed because they will not stand the free application of water.

DIRECTIONS FOR MAKING .- To one pint of boiling water add one and one-balf ounces me-quarter of the small size cake) of Ivory Soap cut into shavings, boil five minutes after the soap is thoroughly dissolved.
