"IF YOU LOVE ME, TELL ME SO."

Eager lips grow oft so dumb, hen youth's arders have departed, And, alas! too quickly come ays when love is hungry-hearted. How our tears in secret flow. And we long to whisper, yearning,

'If you love me, tell me so.' Though we doubt not, deep within, Still that wistful pain besets us, And we wonder-is it sin?-If the worshipped one forgets us. Dh, for one dear little token, One endearment, acted, spoken!-"If you love me, tell me so."

Why, O dearest, put away These should be the same for ave. As love grows to its completeness. Sweeter every year they grow.

Ab! the thrill of lips on tresses!-"If you love me, tell me so."

> Tell me so by day and night, And forever, knowing, surely, Ne'er the fount of love's delight Overbrimmed it, welling purely, Deep, ah, deep the wells o Out of God's own heart they flow, Living wells, forever moving--James Buckham, in Harper's Weekly,
