"Nan the Mascot" is a comedy drama "Nan the Mascot" is a comedy drama brim full of fun from beginning to penning of the new century, but this is brim full of fun from beginning to end. It is an old story told in such a new and refreshing way that the story itself appears new. It contrasts the simple but sincere ways of honest country people with the shams and foibles of city society. The manage ment tell us that Josiah Allen is fairly outdone by Deacon Smartweed in the play. His visit to his rich relatives in New York throws them into consternation and his rural simplicity leads him into many uprogriously laughable blunders. There is a ridiculous New blunders. There is a ridiculous New York dude, also two scheming mammas and a 'widder' with designs on the The Ludies Auxiliary to the A. O. H.

The piece will be presented in Apel's opera house Tuesday evening, January 2, by St. Bridget's Dramatic Club. In this play many members of the club will appear in new roles. Heretofore the club has confined its efforts to dramas, but as the town has had several dramas and military plays of late, the club has wisely decided to attempt something in a humorous vein.

Home talent will make its next appearance in tewn in the play "Nan the they rendered on Christmas Day, as published in these columns last week.

This midnight mass is allowed by special dispensation of Pope Leo XIII, in honor of the opening of what is known as the "Jubilee" year, a year set spart as one of special solemuity and devotion in order to usher in the new century which will begin January 1, 1900.

It is generally stated in the secular press that the midnight mass has been
